Assistants to the Business Staff

Frank Bigley, '35 — Henry Schappert, '35

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Joseph Arthur, '36 — Peter Fasso, '36
Edward Kelly, '37 — Charles Belz, '37
Joseph Mele, '35 — John Mullin, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Edward Kiember, '36
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - MARCH 20, 1934

A TIMELY WARNING

MIDNIGHT tonight will herald in another spring season. Theoretically, winter will no longer be with us. Actually—well, we wonder! During the latter part of last week we had our first real taste of what the 1934 spring season will be like. The change in student activity was quickly noticeable. Interests were immediately turned to the various forms of outdoor pastime. Most important of all, work and books were temporarily forgotten. We are not about to advocate that you immune yourselves to spring fever. Such advice would be futile. At some time or other we all fall victims to the "disease." The only difference is in the degree of preparedness with which we meet it. What we do recommend, then, is that you accept last week as a warning. In a very short time weather such as that, and even much warmer, will be the common thing. Prepare yourselves for that period. Complete as much of your work now as you can while the weather is still comparatively cool and conducive to work. Then when spring comes in to stay and in turn gives way to summer, you will be ready for it. Spring fever will bring you no fears. If your body longs for the great outdoors, or if your heart turns to the romantic side of life, you will not find yourself handicapped by an overabundance of distasteful work. Wise is the man who heeds the warning.

THE MAN IN DEMAND

VERSATILITY and initiative are the qualities most sought by employers today. No longer are they interested in the individual who is so highly specialized that his mind has became single-tracked. This information was revealed recently in a poll covering 29 States and conducted by the University of Wisconsin Bureau of Vocational Guidance. Personality and the ability to get along successfully with others are becoming increasingly important factors. The opportunity to develop these qualities at college should not be overlooked. A college of over 700 students certainly contains individuals of widely divergent characteristics. Meet these persons. Mingle with them. Watch them under different circumstances — in the classroom, on the field at play. Learn how to adjust yourself to their temperaments. As another step in your progress, partake in extra-curricular activities. It will develop your initiative and further test your personality. Likewise, your versatility will be increased. Do these things well, and you will enter the business world prepared. You will be the man in demand. Your employer will most certainly find in you the qualities for which he has sought.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

NOW that the Oasis admits Villanova students to its roller skating rink for twenty-five cents, it is quite the place. One can count Villanovans skating there by the dozen. Like every other business with a large clientele, it has its favorite patron, who, in this case, is "Buck" Taylor.

There is a great deal of speculation as to when the new Monastery will open. None anticipate it more keenly than its future household members, the clergy. Inspection parties, on the sly, have been undertaken by students, morbidly curious. From them do we learn that the building's interior has not been belied by its beautiful exterior.

While ruminating on the past week's events, a funny incident of months gone by flashed to my mind from its resting place, memory. So foolish as to believe it might interest you, I have dusted off its cobwebs and set it down here as tersely as it happened. It all came about after an obstreperous class, awaiting the late arrival of its prof, became so blatant as to bring the prof in the next classroom to it. His appearance quelled the class. After thirty seconds of silence he said, "Shout more quietly," wheeled around and was gone.

These are days that sap one's energy and leave him with that lazy feeling referred to as spring fever. One's only desires are to spend the days under umbrageous trees reflecting on the delightfulness of spring. Of all the seasons, spring is the most beautiful and best loved. It is the renaissance of the year when the world comes to life again, after being dead for many months.

Tony "Snozzola" Cocheo, prominently identified with all that is mischievous and prankish, caused quite a furor, St. Paddy's day, amongst those of Irish descent. He had the audacity to participate in the wearing of the green and in general conduct himself like a true descendant of old Erin would on such an occasion. That such effrontery escaped punishment only goes to show how some people can do the most outrageous things and get away with them.

Ask any junior C & F man if the Hal Keating—Jesse Einhorn tiff isn't the funniest incident of the year. See if he doesn't guffaw and start slapping his sides for minutes before he emphatically tells you it is. This near fisticuff run-in took place in debating class when Keating, for his disorder, was reprimanded by Chairman Einhorn and ordered to apologize to the class and the chair. From the floor Hal complied with the former stipulation, after which he expressed his contempt and utter disregard for the latter. A surge of laughter added to the stumped chairman's discomfiture. But the adage about him who gained the last laugh was as true here as ever before, for Jesse, drawing from his rights as chairman, made it mandatory upon the two huskies, Lee and Cox, acting as sergeants-at-arms, to ease Hal out without further ado.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

A MAN who has gone to college is easily distinguishable from the less fortunate hoipolloi—he always gets up and starts to leave whenever a bell rings.

• • •

Ernest Newman, British writer, says a columnist, is "the American term for the journalist who day in and day out delights, instructs, annoys and bores." We had always wondered the reason for his success.

• • •

Horace Greeley, according to The Daily Californian, always insisted that the word, "news," was plural and once wired to a reporter, "Are there any news?" To which the scribe replied, "No, not a new."

• • •

The puzzle of whether or not there are "canals" on Mars will soon be solved when a 200-inch telescope is completed at Corning, New York.

• • •

This explains a lot of things: "Women require 25 per cent. longer to apply brakes when driving an automobile than men," according to statistics compiled by M. I. T. scientists.

• • •

Smart men wed inferior women because they can shine before their friends and relatives, is the consensus of opinion of a group of coeds in Mexico City. "They prefer the nitwit because they're yellow," said a number of young women questioned. Others asserted that true intellectuals select better halves who are their mental equals.

• • •

The Haverford College News says "The man who can distinguish between 1921 champagne and Napoleon brandy is more to be admired than a total abstainer.

• • •

The co-ed who on graduation lands a good job stands a better chance of attracting suitors than the girl without one, according to a feminine writer in New York City. Young men who write books, sell soap or bonds or need business contacts will woo an executive's secretary to help them "to put over a deal."

• • •

Fred Waring, popular dance maestro, will judge a beauty contest to be staged on the Ohio University campus by that institution's year book.

• • •

A survey at Notre Dame reveals that of the number of students interested in the liquor question, 394 said that they imbibed moderately; 116 admitted that they had never touched the stuff; 9 have stopped doing so; 18 dubbed the habit as foolish, while 68 frankly admitted that they had experienced difficulty at times in staying on top of the sidewalks.

• • •

We hear that it's no excuse to flunk a true and false exam just because your mother didn't teach you the difference between right and wrong.

• • •

Could this be true of someone in Fedigan: "Because I know that sleep will make me healthy, I shall not get up for breakfast?"

The Salt-Shaker

THE IRISHMAN . . . IMPASSIVELY

WHO CAN present impassively a portrait of an Irishman? An Irishman sees an Irishman as a hallowed being who by the plenteous bounty of Providence was born on the Isle of Saints and but awaits his demise to enter the company of saints. Oh, Irishmen have their faults, says he, but after all let our enemies find our faults—we'll not shout them from the house-tops! An Irishman's friend sees an Irishman as a great-hearted soul with a delightful sense of humor and a deep-seated piety. An Irishman's enemy sees an Irishman as a roistering bully, uncouth in his ways, with a passion for power and a ruthless way of using it when it is acquired.

How reconcile these different pictures and draw a true portrait? But why reconcile them? Perhaps your true Irishman is a combination of all these things. Certainly laconically to label the Irishman "the eternal politician" would come as near this mark as to label him "the eternal saint." And his passion for power is quite as evident as his noble national heritage.

And herein lies Britain's great mistake. She says, "The Irishman cannot govern himself so England must take care of him." And the whole world knows that an Irishman can govern everything in existence—and pretty nearly does. In America, at least, his voice in municipal politics is out of all proportion to his numerical strength. From the cop on the beat to the Cabinet member in Washington, the Irishman is in command. And he has made many enemies—enemies who could sympathize with Britain were she to say, frankly, "The Irishman is a bit too domineering for me. If I don't keep some kind of hold on him, he'll not only run himself but he'll run me and then try to run all the neighbors."

Pride and piety deeply color this portrait of an Irishman. Pride of race and deep-seated love of God. It is his triumphant boast that, when his world was smashed into bits by a brutal and un-Christian neighbor, he held fast to the only reality in a horrible sea of persecution—the Rock of Peter. And who will say that a man with such a heritage cannot afford to hold his head as high as any man on earth?

Love of battle is part of the Irishman's make-up also. Love of anybody's battle. The Irishman has been fighting his own fight for centuries and has found time in between to lend a hand in all his neighbor's squabbles. You'll find an Irishman's name on the roster of commanding officers in all the great armies of history. Militant. The Irishman's militant about all his convictions. Wherein his enemies find him unbearable.

And over it all we have this divine sense of humor which has survived trials which would have reduced the ordinary fellow to a whining, complaining puppy. The Irishman has proved that he can take it, but what is infinitely bigger, he can take it and laugh it off. Wherein his friends find him delightful.

To be absolutely unbiased about the Son of Erin is almost impossible. One either likes him immensely or dislikes him intensely. A portrait intended to be neither a phillipic nor a panegyric usually proves but an indifferent sop to the enemy of the Irishman and ruffles the feathers of the Irishman's friend. And who can say—perhaps this is the crowning glory of the Irish character, this impossibility of studying it impassively? The Irishman may inspire hatred or love in others, but he cannot fail to stir the souls of most of those with whom he comes in contact. He is too vital to do otherwise.

---- Dial-Log ----

WE look forward to the development of a new radio network headed by three of the better stations, WOR, WLW and WGN will form the nucleus for this new chain. WOR will pick up the New York programs, WGN the Chicago originations and WLW will handle the Cincinnati presentations. At present this trio is hooked up for only one program, but it is rumored that the group will gradually join up for more programs.

At the present time, only 170 of the 600 stations in the country are tied in with the two great chains, but included in the hookups are the majority of the wide range stations. Unless some of the larger stations withdraw from the big links, the new systems will have to draw from the smaller stations.

It is interesting to note that President Roosevelt appeared before network microphones twenty-six times during his first year in office, President Hoover made thirteen addresses during his first year and Mr. Coolidge made thirty-seven broadcasts during his seven years in office.

When Jack Benny ends his current series with the "Chevy" program, he will be back on the air almost immediately to remind you of a certain make of automobile tire.

It will be interesting to listen to the NBC programs on Friday afternoon which will feature new performers to radio, and see if you can predict stardom for any of them. The program will be known as "Airbreaks."

Playing at the beach grille of one of Florida's best hotels, Paul Sabin claims the song hit down there is "Sand Gets in Your Eyes."

For those of you interested the following is a list of the presentations which began at the Sunnybrook Country Club last Saturday night and which will continue for each successive Saturday till March 31: Bernie Cummins and his band on last Saturday, Mal Hallett next Saturday and Ozzie Nelson at the end of the month.

One of the best arrangements we have heard in a long while is by the arranger of the Casa Loma orchestra. Did you hear "I Can't Forget" when they played it last Tuesday night?

A specified number of tickets have been allotted to the student body for the Alumni Dance on April 6. Because of the large crowd which is expected, it would be wise to signify your intention of purchasing a ticket to Ed Reiley, Lou Marechal or Ray Harter, the campus representatives. The dance, as most of you know, will present two well known bands in addition to a personal appearance of Ben Greenblatt, widely known pianist. The subscription is two dollars.

NEW SPANISH CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS AT FIRST MEETING

Organization's Moderator Is Enthusiastic Over Start; Outlines Program

SPANISH PLAYS PLANNED

The officers of the newly-formed Spanish Club of Villanova College were elected at the first formal meeting of the organization, held recently. Those elected to the various offices were R. Martinez Alvarez, president; Peter P. Kerr, vice-president; Bernard La Rosa, secretary; Edward Michaels, vice-secretary, and George Fox, treasurer. The minor officers are William Farris and Joseph Cavaliere, librarians. The councillors are Luis Guyar, George Collins, R. W. Emmerling and Thomas Whalen.

The moderator of the club, Rev. Basilio Fresno, O. S. A., professor of Spanish in the Arts School, outlined the aims and principles of the organization. The membership of the club is open to those students who are native-born, or who have at least a working knowledge of the Spanish language. The reason for this limitation, Fr. Fresno stated, is that the only language used at the meetings of the club will be Spanish.

Aims Are Cited

The principal aim of the club is to show how the Spanish language should be spoken with form and care, and to teach some of the manners of the Spanish people.

There will be three meetings held each month, and at these meetings four members of the club will speak on the romanticism of Spain, the literature of Spain and Spanish America.

The third aim of the club, as outlined in Fr. Fresno's speech to the members, is to select from the organization, students to debate with Spanish clubs of other colleges in this vicinity, among them being Rosemont, LaSalle and Immaculata.

Program Planned

With the cooperation of the members, it is desired to present a number of Spanish plays in the college gymnasium. There was also a discussion regarding the sending of an invitation to Sidney Franklin, the foremost bull-fighter of Spain, to address the members of the club regarding his experiences at bull-fighting while in Spain. Mr. Franklin has given such a lecture recently at Columbia University.

An invitation to be extended to the son of President Roosevelt, because of his great admiration for the Spanish people, was also discussed, but no definite action has been taken as yet.

The possibility of having a real Spanish dinner at some restaurant in Philadelphia was also brought out in Fr. Fresno's talk to the members.

Gleanings

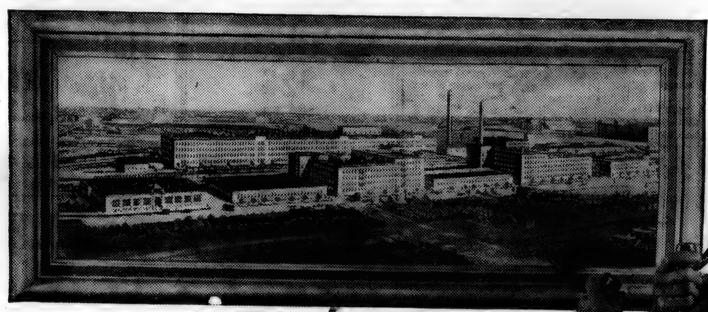
Did you know that: Sir Hubert Gallagher is still chuckling about a bit of misinformation promulgated by this columnist, but more than one canary at Rosemont is secretly tossing what vulgarians call the "horse laugh" in the general direction of Sir Hubert? . . . A certain prof would give plenty to discover just who it was that removed the distributor cap from his car? . . . Those who successfully manage to cut one of Fr. Dougherty's classes as well deserves the Croix de Guerre? . . . If you're able to play bridge past the curfew time in the Pie Shoppe, so-called for want of a better name, you're much better than several embryonic medicos? . . . The chune, "Dancing in the Moonlight" still haunts the memory of this scribbler? . . . Orchids are due "Doc" Curran for the impressive changes he instigated in the infirmary? . . . The face of a member of this staff was reddened more than a little last week when a fellow classman, who was at the time acting as chairman of a debate, tossed the staff member unceremoniously out of the class? . . . Before you laugh too heartily at the Turf and Tinsel chorus, try to do some of the numbers yourself? . . . The galloping dominoes are getting much more exercise than they did in the past few years?

Also, Fred Waring's introduction of the new Berlin tune, "Butter Fingers," pleased more than one listener last Thursday evening? . . . The newest mode for informal wear is a pair of slacks, a contrasting vest, and a Harris tweed coat? . . . Joe Linsalata's description of a certain banquet at Eighth and Christian will panic "youse guys"? . . . Just because Johnnie Stell seems so serious minded is no indication that he hasn't his decidedly lighter moments, and are those moments light? . . . There has been an additional list posted of those unfortunates who forgot and parked their cars on the campus? . . . Coach Stuhldreher must have signed the new contract or why would he be holding spring practice? . . . Al Gagliardi has worn the same hat for the past five years? . . . Tom McFeely gained additional publicity for himself in The New Rochelle Tatler? . . . Dan Harkins traded his girl friend, Gertie, for a little dog, Mac? . . . Fred Wallen is rushing the season a bit by the wearing of his fairly white blazer? . . . Uncle Abe Ulitsky is lost without a surrounding audience? . . . Those of our brethren who were numerers among the suspended are gradually making reappearances? . . . The most famous of the Four Horsemen has just been presented with a third heir, and all he needs is one more to complete a backfield? . . . Four of the intramural volleyball teams are wondering if the Austin Hall sorority girls are going to fulfill their schedule?

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.
Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Established 1832
1218-20-22 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia
DESIGNERS AND MAKERS
of the
1935 VILLANOVA COLLEGE CLASS RING
Also the Villanova Miniature Ring

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

E. Cadwalader, Inc.
Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies
6047 Market Street
Philadelphia
Phone Sherwood 1426



The Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company Plant, St. Louis, Mo.
Manufacturers of fine smoking and plug chewing tobaccos.

"Yes sir.. it just makes your mouth water"

"THE next time you go out to St. Louis, I wish you could just go to this factory and see how they make Granger Rough Cut.

"I tell you it beats anything you ever saw to watch them age and condition that old ripe Kentucky Burley.

"And aroma—well sir, it just makes your mouth water to get a good whiff of that tobacco when it comes out of those hot ovens.

"Everything about that St. Louis factory is just as clean as your own kitchen."

a sensible package 10 cents

Granger Rough Cut

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL
—folks seem to like it

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

A. S. C. E. TO HOLD DINNER TOMORROW

Neighboring Chapters Gather at Engineers' Club for Discussion

A dinner will be held tomorrow night by the Philadelphia section of the American Society of Civil Engineers at the Engineers' Club, Spruce Street near Broad, Philadelphia.

The main purpose of the dinner and meeting is to bring together the neighboring chapters of the Society of Civil Engineers in order that various topics of the engineering world may be discussed and illustrated. The dinner will be held at 6 o'clock. A nominal fee will be charged. The meeting will take place at 7 o'clock.

Talks Will Be Given

The chairman for the evening will be S. M. Swaab, consulting engineer. He will introduce the speakers for the evening at the meeting. Major Mason J. Young, of the Engineers Corps, will have as his subject for the evening, "The Delaware River Report." Colonel Earl I. Brow, formerly district engineer of Philadelphia, will also discuss the same topic. It is hoped that other speakers will also discuss this topic, which is causing a great deal of interest at the present time. The talks will be illustrated.

Various hydro-electrical power and water supply projects will be analyzed in a report, as well as improvements for navigation, flood control, and irrigation.

It is hoped that the members of the Villanova Chapter of the Civil Engineers will avail themselves of this opportunity and represent Villanova at this dinner and meeting in order that they may learn the new phases of engineering and become acquainted with fellow engineers.

Beta Gamma Team Loses in New York

Continued From Page One

lyn orators, before an audience of over 800. Villanova, upholding the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: That the presidential powers should be substantially increased as a settled policy," was represented by a trio comprised of Goggi, Kerr and Donnelly. This trio fell victim to the arguments of the home team composed of Joseph F. Sincer, George O. Doran and Edward J. Hogarty.

Three Prominent Judges

The judges for the occasion were: John P. Maloney, LL. B., vice-dean of St. John's University Law School; Rev. Edward Lodge Curran, LL. B., Ph. D., president of the International Catholic Truth Society and editor of "Light"; Michael F. Walsh, LL. B., prominent attorney and a Past Knight of the Knights of Columbia.

Following the encounter there was a reception and dance in honor of the Villanova orators. Music was rendered by Fred Shork and his orchestra. Mr. Shork, a member of the St. John's student body, is a popular entertainer at fraternity and sorority functions.

Additional musical entertainment was given by the St. John's Glee Club. The members sang during the intermission between the constructive speeches and the rebuttals.

CLAVIN GETS POST

Becomes Chairman of Intra-Mural Committee Upon Hughes' Resignation

With the resignation of John Hughes, senior in the School of Commerce and Finance, from the position of chairman of the Intramural committee Michael Clavin, a junior in the same school, has succeeded to the post.

Hughes, who was formerly varsity football manager, resigned because of the pressure of his class duties. Clavin automatically became his successor since he is the present varsity manager of football.

BOOKS MAY BE HAD

A copy of the book, "Know Your Nerves," will be sent free to each student who sends the coupon in the Camel cigarette ad with the fronts of two packs of Camel cigarettes to the makers of these cigarettes. The student by do doing will not only avail himself of a good book, but will also aid this publication in getting advertising.

In the Limelight

Charley Hurlburt

FOUR years in the Villanova limelight, but this is his first venture in the VILLANOVAN limelight. We refer to none other than Charley Hurlburt.

Football, baseball and ice hockey have aided Charley in compiling a favorable number of athletic awards, and personality has aided him in having one of the largest number of friends of any of the campus celebrities.

Charley saw the light of day in December, 1909, and, like many sterling sons of Villanova, he claims Massachusetts as his natal State. The town, to be specified, is Dorchester.

At the grammar school age young Hurlburt went under the rule in Glendale, L. I. He started his flaming trail of athletics by playing on the school baseball team and culminating his grammar days as the team's captain.

His prep school days were spent in Brooklyn, where Charley really "stepped out" and earned eight letters in three sports. In his last year he captained the baseball and ice hockey teams of the Brooklyn school and spent his spare time as president of the student council.

After his graduation in 1929 the Brooklyn Edison Company had the good fortune of employing "the Hurl" for a brief term until September, 1930, when he entered Villanova.

After demonstrating his wares to Doc Jacobs, Charley was the quarterback on what has come to be known as "Villanova's greatest freshman football team." After football he played on the ice hockey team and won his first letter. The third undertaking of his freshman year was playing a successful season as leftfielder on the frosh nine.

Sophomore year added three more accomplishments along the athletic line. Charley played second string quarterback for the Stuhldreher men, left defense for the last Villanova ice hockey team and tended the left garden for the proteges of Coach Jacobs.

Junior year, "the Hurl" got himself a job as coach of the Junior Varsity football eleven and entered the social field as a member of the Blazer Ball committee. In his second year as a varsity baseball star he will be remembered for some of the timely hits which came through from the "money player" and pulled several games out of the fire for the 'Cats.

The more recent accomplishments, as most of us know, are his work as coach of the 1933 J. V. footballers. This spring the loyal followers of Charley Huriburt watch for and expect him to come through again in the tight pinches which arise during the coming baseball season.

Drums have been recorded as his hobby, but his equally prominent roommate, Jocko Hurley, is reported to have smashed every one Charley has ever brought in, but "the Hurl" still thinks the "Hurley" is a good guy, which is really unusual for roommates.

Contract for Junior Class Blazers Will Be Awarded Within This Week

Continued From Page One

ning, May 4, will go down as the outstanding dance to be held at Villanova," said Banmiller yesterday. "The members of the committee are making special preparations to work out a spectacular decorative scheme for the gymnasium, and the band and favors are to be the best that can be obtained."

Patrons Are Solicited

In order to insure the success of the Junior Prom, the committee voted to conduct a campaign for patrons and patronesses among the parents and friends of the members of the Junior Class. The subscription for this privilege will be two dollars, and it entitles the subscriber to an insertion of his name in the dance program.

Because of the financial plight of the third-year class, the members of the prom committee voted in favor of abolishing all complimentary tickets to the social except to those who could sell ten tickets. This vote was even made applicable to the committee in charge of the affair.

It was decided, however, to award Student Council members tickets to the Blue Blazer Ball, which is held the night before the prom, because of the reciprocal agreement among the campus organizations. The juniors pointed out that they believe that they cannot be expected to award complimentary tickets to each dance because of the burden it would place on the class treasury.

Blazer Price, $6.25

Clavin said yesterday that he believes that a West Chester firm will be awarded the contract for the blazers because the class favored the gabardine coat, which was offered at $6.25, compared to other material which retails for $10 or over.

Engineer Fraternity Initiates Candidates

Continued From Page One

Dunigan, Thomas Fitzpatrick, John Hoey, Joseph Klein, Stephen Kramer, Thomas Malcolm, William Moroney, James Nulty, John Oriold, Frank Connell and Henry Olivares. Those from the Sophomore Class were: Joseph Doherty, Joseph Hooven, Charles Klein, Joseph Kelly and Francis Rogers.

The new freshmen members are Eugene Barr, Edward Casey, Edward Corliss, Joseph Denny, Aloysius Fitzpatrick, Charles Guinee, Gerald Kunz, John McGee, Theodore Oshbar, Michael McNerney, Joseph Shea, Miller Sullivan, Joseph Wallmeyer, Francis Winterer, Edward Wolff and Joseph Carroll.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Today

Lambda Kappa Delta meeting, 210 Mendel Hall	1.00 P. M.
Choir Rehearsal, College chapel	7.00 P. M.
VILLANOVAN resident staff meeting	7.00 P. M.
Turf and Tinsel rehearsal, gymnasium	7.30 P. M.
Swimming Meet, Varsity vs. Hahnemann, natatorium	7.30 P. M.
Lecture on Monetary Situation, C & F auditorium	8.30 P. M.

Wednesday

VILLANOVAN day staff meeting	1.00 P. M.
Holy Name Society meeting, amphitheatre	1.00 P. M.

Thursday

Foreign Relations Society meeting, Mendel Hall	7.00 P. M.
North Jersey Club meeting, 210 Mendel Hall	7.00 P. M.
Turf and Tinsel rehearsal, gymnasium	7.30 P. M.

Friday

Stations of the Cross, college chapel	1.00 P. M.

Monday

Phi Kappa Pi meeting, 215 Mendel Hall	1.00 P. M.
Turf and Tinsel rehearsal, gymnasium	7.30 P. M.
Belle Masque meeting, 204 Mendel Hall	8.30 P. M.

FR. HEALEY TALKS ON TIMELY TOPIC

"St. Joseph, the Just Man," Subject for Regular Chapel Sermon

Rev. Paul F. Healey, O. S. A., A. M., was heard last evening in the sixth of a series of talks as part of the Lenten services delivered in the college chapel before the student body.

Fr. Healey chose for his subject, "St. Joseph, the Just Man." In developing his topic he pointed out the priceless works that the foster Father of Christ performed in practicing the virtues of obedience and prudence in resignation to the will of God.

Sets Example

Fr. Healey stressed the necessity for college students of not merely admiring St. Joseph's works, but of striving to imitate them in order that they, too, may live a life of increasing holiness which the name of Joseph signifies.

The two virtues of obedience and prudence were the two points which Fr. Healey used to bring out his ideas. He continued by saying that these virtues build character and make man more willing to fulfill the will of God. He gave numerous examples to point out the effectiveness of these two virtues.

In bringing out his examples, Fr. Healey referred to Holy Scripture and compared these examples with the works of St. Joseph. He showed in what ways the students may attempt to imitate these works and thus improve their faith.

Fr. Healey is a professor of philosophy in the Arts School and prior of the seminarians in St. Mary's Hall.

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired
It is not how cheap, but how good
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
All new styles now available
Agents: Dick Morrissey, '34 Ed Lahey, '36

Spend Easter in smart Tudor City $2.00 a day

Theatres, shops, and the goings-on about town are just a few blocks away when you stop at Hotel Tudor. And it's in Tudor City, New York's smart residential community. A new hotel—600 rooms—all with private baths.

Single rooms $2; double $3. Special rates by the week.

Hotel Tudor New York
Two blocks east of Grand Central 304 East 42nd St.
MUrray Hill 4-3900
Fred F. French Management Co., Inc.

"WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND"

When you can't draw a pair . . . you can draw pleasure from a pipeful of BRIGGS. Aged in wood for years . . . BRIGGS is mellow, fragrant, bite-free. You can pay twice as much for tobacco . . . not half so good. Won't you let BRIGGS win you in its own mild way?

©P. Lorillard Co., Inc.

Sideline Slants

By the Sports Editor

THE intra-mural athletes broke down last week and named an All-Villanova Intra-Mural Basketball team. We see where Austin and Fedigan shared honors with two players each on the first team, and Alumni trailed with one. That probably turned plenty of Alumni members. Frank Skaff was the lone representative of the Gougers, but what a representative. Frank also received the greatest number of votes from those balloting. This was only for basketball. Think what an asset he would be in football and baseball! Harry White and Joe McGovern represented Austin, while Bill Levis and Steve Kramer are from Fedigan. Now we offer this proposition. Let these five work out a few afternoons and gather some plays and then meet the junior varsity in an informal game. This would be as interesting a contest as could be found anywhere. Not that we want the boys to work overtime. But it would afford some verbal argumentation. The majority would be inclined to back the Jayvees. Who wouldn't, but we firmly believe that the game would prove interesting, and upsets do occur, even in the best of families.

• • •

FIFTY suits were doled out to aspiring football enthusiasts yesterday and from the looks of things it won't be long before all the kinks, caused by dances and other mild forms of debauchery, will be ironed out. Fifty is not a large number, but then we always come out rather well in the end. We remember a time, before we had the pleasure of enrolling in Villanova for four hard years, when we witnessed a Villanova football game. Three complete teams lined up on the field before the game, with enough players wandering around to represent a fair sized college. But those were in the good old days.

• • •

WITH the inception of good weather, the track team will take to the outdoors to stay. The number of aspirants for positions on the team is smaller this year than any season in many years. Coach Bob Regan is without the services of outstanding men in many departments, and this may cause some of the well-established track stars to assume iron men roles. One of the most outstanding of these is Hickey, who will undoubtedly represent the Wildcats in the broad jump, high jump and pole vault. Quite an assignment for such a small fellow, what? Jim Elliott is another member who will probably be called on to do his bit in several events. Quarter, half and mile will see Jim trotting around the track. In our opinion, Jim is one of the best middle distance men in Villanova, if not the best.

• • •

IT WAS quite gratifying to hear that Johnny Shevlin was elected captain of the basketball team for the ensuing year. From his play this year, Johnny proved that he was deserving of the captaincy. He has the rare ability of being a stellar guard and of being always up with the leaders when it comes to scoring. Best wishes for a successful year, triumphs over Temple, Duquesne and Saint John's!

• • •

VILLANOVA'S first year in the swimming world will be brought to a close tonight. The newly formed team has won two meets and lost two for a .500 average to date. The two meets that were garnered by Coach Martin Gill's proteges were both against the same school, namely West Chester State Teachers' College, and the two that were lost were dropped to Osteopathy. Cooperation in a small degree was given to the tank team, but because this was the first year, better co-operation was hardly expected. There was a lack of competitors in each department, but the squad as a whole was well rounded out for its size. No schedule has been released for the coming year, but, because of the progress made in the first year, a fairly large card ought to be given to the team for the ensuing season.

VILLANOVAN
SPORTS
TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING
Tuesday, March 20, 1934 Page Five

BASKETBALLERS WIN 9 GAMES

HAHNEMANN LISTED FOR MEET TONIGHT IN 'CATS FINALE

Last Contest for Natators Will Be Held in the Gymnasium Pool

FUTURE OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR WILDCAT SWIMMERS

Two Seniors Climax Careers as Newly Organized Sport Ends

The Villanova swimming team will give its last performance of the season here tonight when it meets the Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia. The 'Cats, having won two meets and lost two, consider this the most important clash in the campaign. A victory tonight will climax the season with an average of .600, a total of three wins and two losses.

The Wildcats' newly organized team started this season with two heart-breaking defeats at the hands of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy. In the next two contests, however, the local mermen staged a comeback to sink the West Chester Teachers' College twice in succession. It will depend on this evening's encounter whether the wearers of the Blue and White will complete their first season on the long end of the percentage column.

Same Line-up to Be Used

Coach Martin Gill will probably use the same line-up that he used against the Teachers.

Bill Hines and Jim Downey, both seniors, will be the only varsity men to swim their last races for Villanova tonight. With these two exceptions practically the same team will be back again next year. Although forecasts for next year's team may be a bit premature, it is expected that the 'Cats will have a much stronger representation. Among this year's regulars there are three freshmen who show great possibilities. They are John McGee, Jack Hosey and Frank O'Hara. Other regulars who will be available for the following season are Walter Coyle, John Strong, Walter Foley, John LaRosa and Paul Loughlin.

BASKETBALL SEASON

V. C.		Opp.
32.	West Chester Teach.	26
47.	Ursinus	19
47.	Penn A. C.	27
47.	Bucknell	29
29.	St. John's	31
20.	Temple	19
39.	Ursinus	27
25.	Duquesne	36
37.	Albright	39
27.	Temple	22
38.	Dickinson	34
25.	LaSalle	23
367.	Totals	274

INTRA-MURAL SWIM SET FOR MARCH 22

Dayhops Defend Championship Earned in Contest Held Last Year

The intra-mural swimming meet will be held this Thursday evening. The various halls, along with the day hops are asked to organize their teams previous to the date of the meet. The list of contestants should be handed Coach Gill as soon as possible. The events will include freestyle swimming, breaststroke, backstroke and diving.

The program in respect to the order of events will be as follows: 200-yard relay composed of four men, each swimming two lengths of the pool, 50-yard dash; diving; 50-yard backstroke; 220-yard freestyle; 50-yard breaststroke, and the final event of the evening, the 100-yard freestyle.

To Follow College Rules

The meet will be governed according to the Eastern Intercollegiate rules. Each contestant will be allowed to swim two events and a relay. The diving will be limited to six dives, four required and two optional. The required dives consist of the plain front, the back dive, the front jack-knife and the back jack-knife. The optional dives will be left to the discretion of the entrants.

The scoring will be five points for first place, three for second and one for third.

Coach Gill will officiate at the meet which will start at 8 P. M.

THIRD SON BORN

Head Coach Harry A. Stuhldreher and Mrs. Stuhldreher last week announced the birth of their third son. Both mother and child are reported as doing well.

Coach Stuhldreher's Magazine Story To Be Filmed by M-G-M This Summer

Word has come from the West Coast that Harry Stuhldreher's story, "The Gravy Game," which was published in The Saturday Evening Post during the latter part of the month of October, is to be filmed. Needless to say, this news was joyfully received, not only by Mr. Stuhldreher, but also by his intimate friends and those here at the school who have had the good fortune to come in contact with him in any way.

The story is to be filmed by M. G. M., and work will start on it this summer. The leading role, unless the plans are suddenly altered, will be played by Irvin "Cotton" Warburton, the diminutive quarterback from Southern California. He was chosen as All-American quarterback for the year of 1933, and he has been the mainstay of the Trojans for the past two seasons, both defensively and offensively. As the producers feel that his acting is up to the required standards and there being no question as to his talents on the gridiron, he was unanimously chosen.

For those of you who failed to read the story or those who have forgotten the plot, a brief review is given.

The main action of the plot is laid around a small college which meets as its first opponent every year in football a very large college with an equally large name. Of course, this game is just a bit of calisthenics for the latter institution and hence is of no consequence. As fate would have it, one year the coach discovers a sophomore "find," and as the rest of the squad is a formidable array he knows that, if he tried, he could defeat his larger rival. But the guarantee given by the larger institution is so large that it covers the total expenditure for the entire football season, and knowing that

Continued on Page Six

Cagers Beat Temple Twice For Brilliant 1934 Season

St. John's, Duquesne and Albright Conquer Wildcats to Give Jacobsmen Only Setbacks of Current Season

FUTURE PROSPECTS APPEAR BRIGHT

DURING THE past season Villanova's basketball team engaged in 12 games and emerged the victor on nine different occasions. It was a highly successful season, not only because of the .750 average it achieved, nor because the team defeated Temple twice in one season (which marks the first time in many years), but largely because of the creditable showing made by the members of the court squad.

The first game was played against West Chester State Teachers in the home gymnasium. It had been chosen as a warm-up match for the 'Cats, but the game was close and well-contested all the way. Despite the needed amount of team co-ordination, Villanova emerged the victor, 32-26.

Team Hits Stride

In the next contest, against Ursinus, the 'Cats ran wild. Barry scored 14 points, and Geraghty scored 10 as their contributions to the Villanova total of 47 points as compared to the 19 points for Ursinus. The teamwork in this game was perfect, the passing and shooting was almost machine-like in its smoothness, and Geraghty established his right to a place on the first team.

A few days later, against the Penn A. C. team, Geraghty scored 16 markers to take the lead as the high scorer for the squad, a place from which he was not removed for the balance of the season. Hurley, the tiny guard, was a close second with 12 points. The Penn A. C. players were old hands at the game, which was evident from their court play, and it was only the youth and spirit to win that carried the Blue and White to victory.

Lose to St. John's

Bucknell marked the fourth straight conquest, 47 to 29, in a rather slow and unspirited game played in the Villanova gym, but St. John's, Villanova's "Gotham Jinx" for the last nine years, snapped the 'Cat's streak in one of the finest games played on the St. John's court. Both teams played exceptionally well and were perfectly matched. Evidence of that may be had by noting that the score was tied at 26-all and again at 29-all in the last two minutes of play, and that the final score of the contest was only 31 to 29.

Then came the game that had been looked forward to for many weeks, the Temple game. From start to finish it was a fast and rough contest, each team cognizant of the other's ability and each wary of giving the other a scoring opportunity. Geraghty's floor work and dribbling were brilliant features throughout the game, and Johnny Shevlin's last-minute field goals gave the 'Cats a victory by the close margin of 20 to 19.

Fouls Mark Ursinus Tilt

The return match with Ursinus went on record as the sixth win of the season for Villanova. Shevlin and Geraghty scored 13 and 12 points respectively, but much of the interest in the game was lost because of the great number of fouls committed by both teams. Before the end of the game, almost every man on both squads had seen action.

The Duquesne game was Villanova's second defeat of the season by a score of 36 to 25. Previous to this game, Duquesne had split a

Continued on Page Eight

FIVE MEETS CARDED FOR 'CAT RUNNERS

Four Dual Frays Scheduled and the U. of P. Relays to Test Sprinters

Track coach Bob Regan is highly optimistic over the prospects of his harriers during the spring campaign. He is of the opinion that the team will meet with the same success in the outdoor contests as they have on the inside boardways.

Mr. Regan stated that, although the track team will lose many of its mainstays by graduation this year, he hopes that senior members, Captain Joe Fenstemacher, Jocko Hurley, Henry Bobertz, Frank Conway and William Burr will climax their running careers with a winning season.

The team will encounter its most difficult competition at the Penn Relays and the meet with Temple. The annual University of Pennsylvania carnival attracts the cream of collegiate runners, and in order to garner premier laurels the 'Cat dashers will have to exhibit their best brand of fight and ability.

Stiff Training to Start

Because of the quarterly exams, Coach Regan has been less rigid in his training schedule in order to give members of the team a chance to prepare for their studies.

After Easter vacation, he plans to resume the intensive training pace so as to get his squad in top shape for the relays which are scheduled for the end of the month. The Wildcat runners covered themselves with honors last year on Franklin Field, thus Coach Regan sees the possibility of repeating this by capturing at least two victories.

All candidates for the varsity and report tomorrow at 1 P. M. to freshman track teams will please Room 104 Mendel Hall. Coach Regan and Captain Fenstemacher will outline plans for the coming season.

The Schedule

A schedule of four intercollegiate dual meets and the Penn Relays has been drawn up. The list is as follows:

April 27-28, Penn Relays, away.
May 5, Rider College, home.
May 9, West Chester, home.
May 16, LaSalle, home.
May 19, Temple, away.

Duquesne Places Two Men On 1934 All-Opponent Five

Reiter and McDougal Are Awarded Unanimous Selections on Mythical Team; Rosan Is Also Selected

TWO POSTS ARE WON BY ST. JOHN'S

Three unanimous choices for the 1933-34 All-Opponent basketball team marked the balloting by the members of the Villanova squad.

Two members of the powerful Duquesne cage quintet were named on the mythical five without a single dissenting vote, Reiter at forward and McDougal at center. Rosan, Temple's forward ace, was the third player to receive a unanimous selection.

McGuiness, who received the selection a year ago, retained his place on the first team, being named for first place by all but one. A tie resulted between Brown, of Temple, and Kaplinsky, of Saint John's, for the remaining vacancy. As Brown usually scintillated at guard and Kaplinsky at forward, the latter will be an alternate.

Duquesne Praised

Duquesne, appearing on the Villanova schedule for the first time, was rated by the majority as the strongest team met this season, while the minority favored Saint John's. Albright, being the only other team to defeat the Wildcats this year, received no mention, either as a team or individually.

Reiter and McDougal, of the victorious Duquesne quintet, were outstanding for their floor work during the Wildcat encounter. Neither of the two came near holding high scoring honors for the night and were tied with three points apiece. As all-around players they loomed above the remaining members of the Dukes' squad. Birch, high scorer for the game with ten points, was placed on the second team.

Rosan Gets Place

For the past two years, Rosan, of Temple, has been the thorn in the side of the Villanova team, more so than any other Temple courtman, has been outstanding in the annual Villanova-Temple clashes. Named on last year's team, Rosan again made the grade by a unanimous choice. "Reds" first made his Villanova debut in the frosh games two years ago, and in every game has practically outshone any other Owl player.

Another repeater, although not unanimous, is McGuiness, of the sterling Saint John's quintet. Oeding, teammate of McGuiness, received honorable mention. For the remaining place on the first five a tie resulted between Kaplinsky, also of Saint John's, and Brown, of Temple. Kaplinsky was one of the standouts in the Saints' game, but odd as it may seem, Gotkin, who practically won the game with a beautiful shot in the last minute of play that put the New Yorkers ahead, 31-29, was not named.

Teams Are Listed

The first team, as it stands, is comprised of Kaplinsky, Saint John's, and Rosan, of Temple, forwards; McDougal, Duquesne, center, and Reiter, of Duquesne, and McGuiness, Saint John's, guards. Brown, of Temple, is alternate guard.

The second team is composed of the following: Birch, Duquesne, and Wilson, Dickinson, forwards. Oeding, Saint John's, center, and Friberg, Temple, and Murphy, LaSalle, guards.

Stuhldreher's Story To Be Cinematized

Continued From Page Five

defeat would sever connections with the larger school he sits by and watches his team suffer defeat.

At the close of his junior year at the school the youthful star decides to repay the coach in some way to show his appreciation for what he has done for him. He obtains jobs for himself and the rest of the squad at a summer camp where they practice faithfully for the entire vacation with the purpose of beating their larger rival in view. When the football season commences it finds these boys in fine shape and working in precise cooperation.

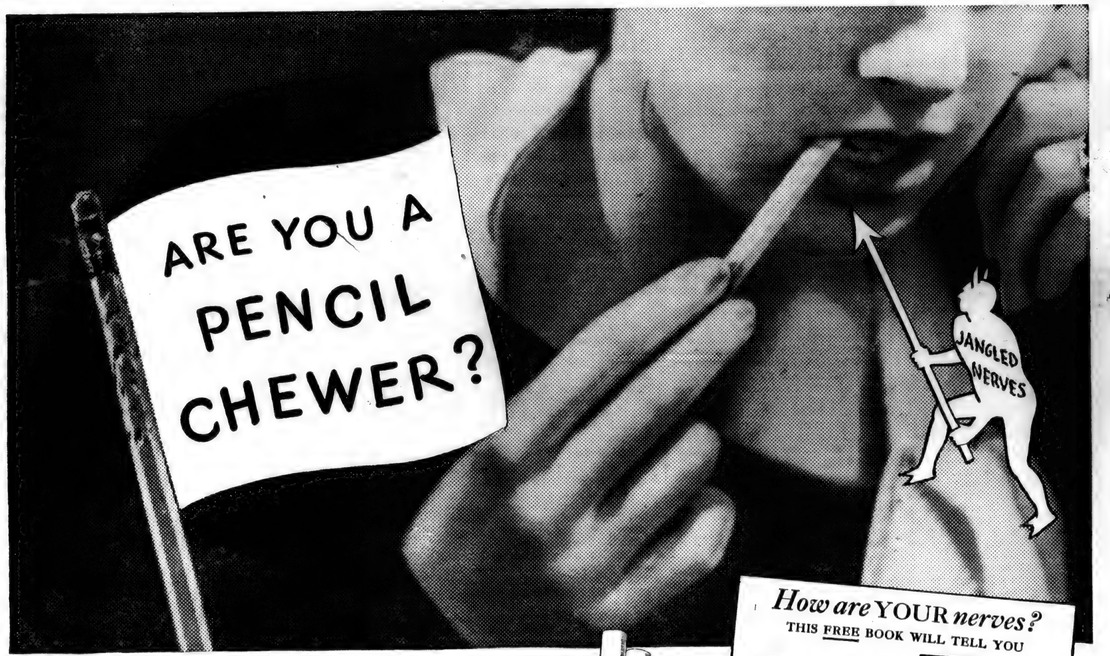
The day for the opening of the season arrives, and the two teams meet—the large and the small—Then comes the greatest upset in the history of football, the underdogs whip the favorites decisively, and all the credit goes to the "find" hitherto unheralded.

The coach, filled with remorse because of his folly in the former years, despairs of his position. His despair heightens when a meeting of the athletic board is called. The climax of the story, when the new contract is awarded the coach in appreciation of his good work, provides a very agreeable and suitable ending for the story.

INTRA-MURAL STANDINGS

The following is a list of the team standings in the intra-mural league and shows the manner in which each of the teams competing earned their points.

Team	Touch Football	First Half Basketball	Second Half Basketball	Boxing	Total
Alumni	10	10	10	1	31
Austin	7	7	5	7	26
Fedigan	3	5	7	5	20
Mendel	5	2½	1	10	18½
Mendel D. S.	1	2½	3	3	9½
C & D D. S.	x	1	x	1	2



Watch out for the telltale signs of jangled nerves

Other people notice them—even when you don't—little nervous habits that are the danger signal for jangled nerves.

And remember, right or wrong, people put their own interpretations on them.

So it pays to watch your nerves.

Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation—and make Camels your cigarette, particularly if you are a steady smoker.

For remember, Camel's costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves—no matter how many you smoke.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

How are YOUR nerves?

THIS FREE BOOK WILL TELL YOU

Shows 20 ways to test nerves—all illustrated. Instructive and amusing! Try them on your friends — see if you have healthy nerves yourself. . . Mail order-blank below with fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Free book comes postpaid.

CLIP AND MAIL TODAY!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Dept. 6-A, Winston-Salem, N. C.

I enclose fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Send me book of nerve tests postpaid.

Name _____ (Print Name)

Street _____

City _____ State _____

Offer expires December 31, 1934

Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

CAMELS— SMOKE AS MANY AS YOU WANT... THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

TUNE IN! CAMEL CARAVAN with Casa Loma Orchestra, Stoopnagle and Budd, Connie Boswell, Every Tuesday and Thursday at 10 P. M., E.S.T.—9 P. M., C.S.T.—8 P. M., M.S.T.—7 P. M., P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network

INTRA-MURAL TEAM CHOSEN BY PLAYERS IN IMPARTIAL VOTE

Austin and Fedigan Place Two on First All-Villanova Basketball Five

FRANK SKAFF ELECTED OUTSTANDING PLAYER

Twenty Participants Named for Honors From Five Active Squads

The first All-Villanova Intra-mural Basketball team was selected last week by an impartial balloting of all the members of the teams which went to make up the Intra-mural League.

A first and second team was chosen, and ten players were given honorable mention.

Austin and Fedigan Halls shared the honors on the first quintet, each placing two men, with one Alumni Hall player completing the team. Harry White, center, and Joe McGoveron, guard, were the Austin contributions, and Bill Levis and Steve Kramer the Fedigan representatives. Frank Skaff, burly forward of the championship Alumni Hall five, received the greatest number of votes for the coveted position of forward in the intra-mural league individual honors.

Second Team Picked

The second team is composed of Bill Gough, Fedigan, and Richard Willis, Austin, as forwards. Walter Korchinski, of Alumni Hall, is the second team center. The guard positions were awarded to Harry Patzsch, of Fedigan, and Bill Sirica, of Alumni.

In the forward division honorable mention is accorded to Morin and Redman, of Mendel, John O'Prey, of Austin, and Frank MacNamara, representing Mendel Day Hops. The guards were Joe Reiley and Mike Clavin, of Austin, Frank Rodgers, of Mendel Day Hops, and John Donovan, Mendel Hall.

Honorable Mention Added

Honorable mention for the pivot position goes to Ray McGunnigle, Fedigan, and John Higgins, Alumni.

The players were selected in the following manner. The managers of each team presented a list of names with a maximum of ten men who had participated in ten or more games and the positions occupied by these players.

Each eligible voter picked four forwards, four guards and three centers from the list presented to them. All voters were prohibited from voting for players on their own team and could not place a man in a position other than that which he played during the season.

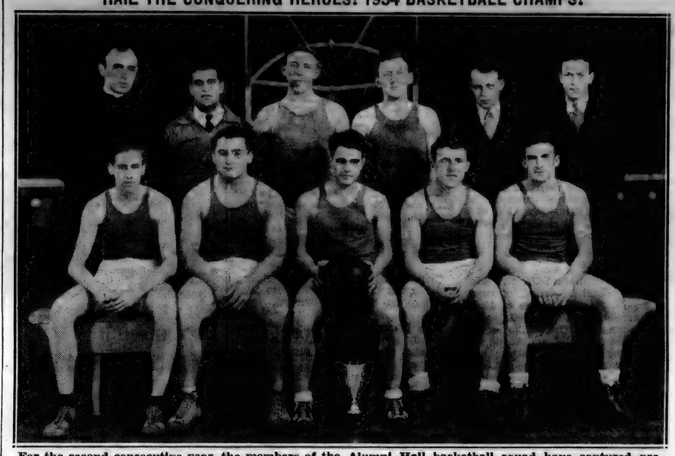
Point System Used

A point system was devised in which players received a specified number of points for a first team selection and a lesser number for second team and a still smaller amount for honorable mention.

Frank Skaff, the Alumni Hall representative on the first team, received the highest number of points, tallying 111 counters.

The selection of an all Intra-mural team is expected to be an annual affair and it is hoped that it will lend encouragement to the participants in the league to display their best brand of ball during the season.

HAIL THE CONQUERING HEROES! 1934 BASKETBALL CHAMPS!



For the second consecutive year, the members of the Alumni Hall basketball squad have captured premier laurels in the Intra-Mural League contests and are proudly wearing their crown after a spirited battle during the second half. Photo shows (left to right, top row) Rev. Francis W. Ludwig, O. S. A., Moderator; Skaff, Searight, Conroy, Coach Arthur Lynch, Manager Hartnett, Voran, Marion, Sirica, Rotys and Higgins.

Alumnus Tells Future Accountants Success Is Measured by 'Attitude'

Members of the senior and junior accounting class in the School of Commerce and Finance heard Augustus A. Baron, Jr., Villanova '27, discuss the duties of a junior accountant during their class period, last Friday morning. Mr. Baron was invited to address the group by professor of accounting, Leo H. Schaefer.

In the course of Mr. Baron's discussion many things pertinent to the careers of a junior accountant were related from his actual experiences in that field for the past seven years. He cited instances where frauds and embezzlements have been divulged by auditors of his firm which seemed almost impossible to detect.

"The attitude of a junior toward his work is a determining factor in the success of anyone entering the field of accounting," declared the speaker.

The adding machine, which has alleviated a great deal of the accountant's mechanical work, was not advocated for use by a novice in the profession. He said that a machine of this kind is often inaccurate, and the practice that an inexperienced person obtains by mental addition is invaluable.

After the Villanova alumnus discussed various types of embezzlements, he mentioned methods and systems used to detect these practices. As a means to discourage such temptations he said, "If an employee is given unlimited access to everything pertinent to the business without a proper check-up, these practices are inviting to a person of weak character. Thus an employer should have an auditor check his accounts periodically."

Turf and Tinsel Club Changes Play Dates

Continued From Page One

tumes to grace the affair. The musical score will mark an innovation in the presentation of rhythmic talent at the college.

Over one hundred students have tried out for parts thus far. Rehearsals are being held and will continue until opening night on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7.30 in the gymnasium.

The tickets, in accordance with the times, will be at popular prices of fifty and seventy-five cents.

SOCIETY TO MEET

A meeting of the Holy Name Society will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Mendel Hall amphitheatre. The resident students, as well as all those day students who are desirous of joining the organization, are urgently requested to be present.

Nelson Maples Had Triumphant Career

Continued From Page One

a triumph that he played for three end a half successive years on the ship with the band listed under his name. After that he went on the road with his orchestra, and Ben Bernie took his place.

While Maples was traveling around the country he became a great hit with many of the colleges, and was featured at a leading dance at Colgate University for four successive years. In addition, he made numerous return appearances at Hamilton and Syracuse Universities.

After his appearance at the alumni dance, the twelve-piece aggregation of Maples' will be featured on the Bucknell University campus. At present he is filling a two weeks' engagement in Schenectady, N. Y.

SHEVLIN CAGE CAPTAIN

Succeeds "Jocko" Hurley as Leader of Basketball Aggregation

John Shevlin, brilliant forward of the Villanova basketball team for the past two seasons, was elected captain of the 1934-35 team at a meeting of the team held last Friday afternoon.

Shevlin is a junior in the school of commerce and finance and hails from Brooklyn. During the past season Shevlin was the second high scorer of the Blue and White five and earned a total of 69 points. He was beaten out for scoring honors by Ben Geraghty, sensational sophomore, who tallied 114 points.

The future captain succeeds "Jocko" Hurley, the only senior member of the current basketball aggregation.

For Your Tonsorial Necessities—

The Campus Barber Shop

Awaits Your Patronage

Popular Prices

Tower Theatre
69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—
Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.

Wed. and Thurs.
"Eight Girls in a Boat"

Fri., Sat. and Mon.
"ALL OF ME"
FREDRIC MARCH
MIRIAM HOPKINS
GEORGE RAFT

ARDMORE
A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11

Today
JOHN BARRYMORE
in "COUNSELLOR AT LAW"

Wed. and Thurs.
EDDIE CANTOR
in "ROMAN SCANDALS"

Fri. and Sat.
MARIE DRESSLER
WALLACE BEERY
Lionel & John BARRYMORE
and JEAN HARLOW
in "DINNER AT EIGHT"

Monday
Ann Harding, Clive Brook
in "GALLANT LADY"

Anthony Wayne Theatre

Today
"HI NELLIE"
with PAUL MUNI

Wed. and Thurs.
"FUGITIVE LOVERS"
with ROBERT MONTGOMERY
and MADGE EVANS

Fri. and Sat.
"GOING HOLLYWOOD"
with BING CROSBY
and MARION DAVIES

Monday
"MASSACRE"
with
RICHARD BARTHELMESS

Seville Theatre

Today
"RIGHT TO ROMANCE"
with ANN HARDING
and NILS ASTHER

Wed. and Thurs.
"MAN'S CASTLE"
with LORETTA YOUNG
and SPENCER TRACY

Fri. and Sat.
"EVER SINCE EVE"
with GEORGE O'BRIEN
and MARY BRIAN

Monday
"ONE MAN'S JOURNEY"
with LIONEL BARRYMORE

THERE'S ONE BEST TIME
To Telephone Home!

YOU'LL agree, once you've tried it, that half past eight is the time to telephone home.

At half past eight the day's rush is over. Your time is free for a leisurely telephone chat.

At half past eight the same is true at home. It's the best time to catch the family all together.

At half past eight (and this is most important) low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. You can then save as much as 40% on your call. For example: If your home is 100 miles away, a three-minute connection will cost only 35 cents!

• • •

TO TAKE ADVANTAGE of the LOW NIGHT RATES ...

Call after 8:30 P.M., and be sure to make a Station to Station call.

That means, ask the Operator for your home telephone, but not for any specific person.

If you've fixed a date in advance, the family will be sure to be there.

Charges may be reversed.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Duquesne Places Two Men On 1934 All-Opponent Five

Reiter and McDougal Are Awarded Unanimous Selections on Mythical Team; Rosan Is Also Selected

TWO POSTS ARE WON BY ST. JOHN'S

Three unanimous choices for the 1933-34 All-Opponent basketball team marked the balloting by the members of the Villanova squad.

Two members of the powerful Duquesne cage quintet were named on the mythical five without a single dissenting vote. Reiter at forward and McDougal at center. Rosan, Temple's forward ace, was the third player to receive a unanimous selection.

McGuiness, who received the selection a year ago, retained his place on the first team, being named for first place by all but one. A tie resulted between Brown, of Temple, and Kaplinsky, of Saint John's, for the remaining vacancy. As Brown usually scintillated at guard and Kaplinsky at forward, the latter will be an alternate.

Duquesne Praised

Duquesne, appearing on the Villanova schedule for the first time, was rated by the majority as the strongest team met this season, while the minority favored Saint John's. Albright, being the only other team to defeat the Wildcats this year, received no mention, either as a team or individually.

Reiter and McDougal, of the victorious Duquesne quintet, were outstanding for their floor work during the Wildcat encounter. Neither of the two came near holding high scoring honors for the night and were tied with three points apiece. As all-around players they loomed above the remaining members of the Dukes' squad. Birch, high scorer for the game with ten points, was placed on the second team.

Rosan Gets Place

For the past two years, Rosan, of Temple, has been the thorn in the side of the Villanova team, more so than any other Temple courtman, has been outstanding in the annual Villanova-Temple clashes. Named on last year's team, Rosan again made the grade by a unanimous choice. "Reds" first made his Villanova debut in the frosh games two years ago, and in every game has practically outshone any other Owl player.

Another repeater, although not unanimous, is McGuiness, of the sterling Saint John's quintet. Oeding, teammate of McGuiness, received honorable mention. For the remaining place on the first five a tie resulted between Kaplinsky, also of Saint John's, and Brown, of Temple. Kaplinsky was one of the standouts in the Saints' game, but odd as it may seem, Gotkin, who practically won the game with a beautiful shot in the last minute of play that put the New Yorkers ahead, 31-29, was not named.

Teams Are Listed

The first team, as it stands, is comprised of Kaplinsky, Saint John's, and Rosan, of Temple, forwards; McDougal, Duquesne, center, and Reiter, of Duquesne, and McGuiness, Saint John's, guards. Brown, of Temple, is alternate guard.

The second team is composed of the following: Birch, Duquesne, and Wilson, Dickinson, forwards. Oeding, Saint John's, center, and Friberg, Temple, and Murphy, LaSalle, guards.

Stuhldreher's Story To Be Cinematized

Continued From Page Five

defeat would sever connections with the larger school he sits by and watches his team suffer defeat.

At the close of his junior year at the school the youthful star decides to repay the coach in some way to show his appreciation for what he has done for him. He obtains jobs for himself and the rest of the squad at a summer camp where they practice faithfully for the entire vacation with the purpose of beating their larger rival in view. When the football season commences it finds these boys in fine shape and working in precise cooperation.

The day for the opening of the season arrives, and the two teams meet—the large and the small—Then comes the greatest upset in the history of football, the underdogs whip the favorites decisively, and all the credit goes to the "find" hitherto unheralded.

The coach, filled with remorse because of his folly in the former years, despairs of his position. His despair heightens when a meeting of the athletic board is called. The climax of the story, when the new contract is awarded the coach in appreciation of his good work, provides a very agreeable and suitable ending for the story.

INTRA-MURAL STANDINGS

The following is a list of the team standings in the intra-mural league and shows the manner in which each of the teams competing earned their points.

Team	Touch Football	First Half Basketball	Second Half Basketball	Boxing	Total
Alumni	10	10	10	1	31
Austin	7	7	5	7	26
Fedigan	3	5	7	5	20
Mendel	5	2½	1	10	18½
Mendel D. S.	1	2½	3	3	9½
C & D D. S.	x	1	x	1	2

Watch out for the telltale signs of jangled nerves

Other people notice them—even when you don't—little nervous habits that are the danger signal for jangled nerves.

And remember, right or wrong, people put their own interpretations on them.

So it pays to watch your nerves. Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation—and make Camels your cigarette, particularly if you are a steady smoker.

For remember, Camel's costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves—no matter how many you smoke.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

How are YOUR nerves?
THIS FREE BOOK WILL TELL YOU

Shows 20 ways to test nerves—all illustrated. Instructive and amusing! Try them on your friends — see if you have healthy nerves yourself... Mail order-blank below with fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Free book comes postpaid.

CLIP AND MAIL TODAY!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Dept. 6-A, Winston-Salem, N. C.

I enclose fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Send me book of nerve tests postpaid.

Name _____ (Print Name)
Street _____
City _____ State _____
Offer expires December 31, 1934

Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

CAMELS— SMOKE AS MANY AS YOU WANT... THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

TUNE IN! CAMEL CARAVAN with Casa Loma Orchestra, Stoopnagle and Budd, Connie Boswell, Every Tuesday and Thursday at 10 P. M., E.S.T.—9 P. M., C.S.T.—8 P. M., M.S.T.—7 P. M., P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network

INTRA-MURAL TEAM CHOSEN BY PLAYERS IN IMPARTIAL VOTE

Austin and Fedigan Place Two on First All-Villanova Basketball Five

FRANK SKAFF ELECTED OUTSTANDING PLAYER

Twenty Participants Named for Honors From Five Active Squads

The first All-Villanova Intra-mural Basketball team was selected last week by an impartial balloting of all the members of the teams which went to make up the Intra-mural League.

A first and second team was chosen, and ten players were given honorable mention.

Austin and Fedigan Halls shared the honors on the first quintet, each placing two men, with one Alumni Hall player completing the team. Harry White, center, and Joe McGoveron, guard, were the Austin contributions, and Bill Levis and Steve Kramer the Fedigan representatives. Frank Skaff, burly forward of the championship Alumni Hall five, received the greatest number of votes for the coveted position of forward in the intra-mural league individual honors.

Second Team Picked

The second team is composed of Bill Gough, Fedigan, and Richard Willis, Austin, as forwards. Walter Korchinski, of Alumni Hall, is the second team center. The guard positions were awarded to Harry Patzsch, of Fedigan, and Bill Sirica, of Alumni.

In the forward division honorable mention is accorded to Morin and Redman, of Mendel, John O'Prey, of Austin, and Frank MacNamara, representing Mendel Day Hops. The guards were Joe Reiley and Mike Clavin, of Austin, Frank Rodgers, of Mendel Day Hops, and John Donovan, Mendel Hall.

Honorable Mention Added

Honorable mention for the pivot position goes to Ray McGunnigle, Fedigan, and John Higgins, Alumni.

The players were selected in the following manner. The managers of each team presented a list of names with a maximum of ten men who had participated in ten or more games and the positions occupied by these players.

Each eligible voter picked four forwards, four guards and three centers from the list presented to them. All voters were prohibited from voting for players on their own team and could not place a man in a position other than that which he played during the season.

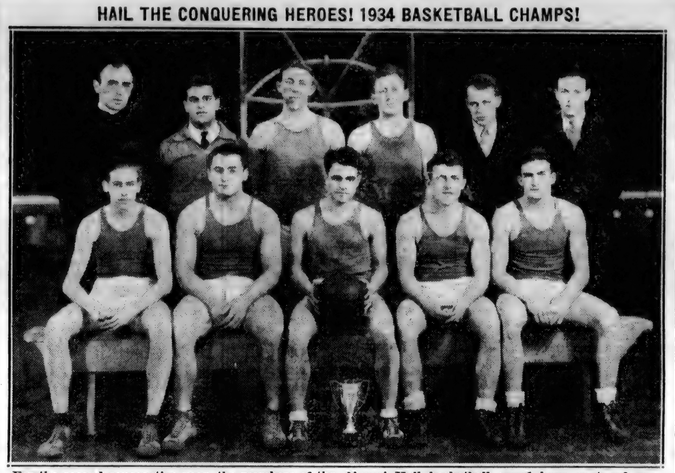
Point System Used

A point system was devised in which players received a specified number of points for a first team selection and a lesser number for second team and a still smaller amount for honorable mention.

Frank Skaff, the Alumni Hall representative on the first team, received the highest number of points, tallying 111 counters.

The selection of an all Intra-mural team is expected to be an annual affair and it is hoped that it will lend encouragement to the participants in the league to display their best brand of ball during the season.

HAIL THE CONQUERING HEROES! 1934 BASKETBALL CHAMPS!



For the second consecutive year, the members of the Alumni Hall basketball squad have captured premier laurels in the Intra-Mural League contests and are proudly wearing their crown after a spirited battle during the second half. Photo shows (left to right, top row) Rev. Francis W. Ludwig, O. S. A., Moderator; Skaff, Searight, Conroy, Coach Arthur Lynch, Manager Hartnett, Voran, Marion, Sirica, Kotys and Higgins.

Alumnus Tells Future Accountants Success Is Measured by 'Attitude'

Members of the senior and junior accounting class in the School of Commerce and Finance heard Augustus A. Baron, Jr., Villanova '27, discuss the duties of a junior accountant during their class period, last Friday morning. Mr. Baron was invited to address the group by professor of accounting, Leo H. Schaefer.

In the course of Mr. Baron's discussion many things pertinent to the careers of a junior accountant were related from his actual experiences in that field for the past seven years. He cited instances where frauds and embezzlements have been divulged by auditors of his firm which seemed almost impossible to detect.

"The attitude of a junior toward his work is a determining factor in the success of anyone entering the field of accounting," declared the speaker.

The adding machine, which has alleviated a great deal of the accountant's mechanical work, was not advocated for use by a novice in the profession. He said that a machine of this kind is often inaccurate, and the practice that an inexperienced person obtains by mental addition is invaluable.

After the Villanova alumnus discussed various types of embezzlements, he mentioned methods and systems used to detect these practices. As a means to discourage such temptations he said, "If an employee is given unlimited access to everything pertinent to the business without a proper check-up, these practices are inviting to a person of weak character. Thus an employer should have an auditor check his accounts periodically."

Turf and Tinsel Club Changes Play Dates

Continued From Page One

tumes to grace the affair. The musical score will mark an innovation in the presentation of rhythmic talent at the college.

Over one hundred students have tried out for parts thus far. Rehearsals are being held and will continue until opening night on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7.30 in the gymnasium.

The tickets, in accordance with the times, will be at popular prices of fifty and seventy-five cents.

SOCIETY TO MEET

A meeting of the Holy Name Society will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Mendel Hall amphitheatre. The resident students, as well as all those day students who are desirous of joining the organization, are urgently requested to be present.

Nelson Maples Had Triumphant Career

Continued From Page One

a triumph that he played for three and a half successive years on the ship with the band listed under his name. After that he went on the road with his orchestra, and Ben Bernie took his place.

While Maples was traveling around the country he became a great hit with many of the colleges, and was featured at a leading dance at Colgate University for four successive years. In addition, he made numerous return appearances at Hamilton and Syracuse Universities.

After his appearance at the alumni dance, the twelve-piece aggregation of Maples' will be featured on the Bucknell University campus. At present he is filling a two weeks' engagement in Schenectady, N. Y.

SHEVLIN CAGE CAPTAIN

Succeeds "Jocko" Hurley as Leader of Basketball Aggregation

John Shevlin, brilliant forward of the Villanova basketball team for the past two seasons, was elected captain of the 1934-35 team at a meeting of the team held last Friday afternoon.

Shevlin is a junior in the school of commerce and finance and hails from Brooklyn. During the past season Shevlin was the second high scorer of the Blue and White five and earned a total of 69 points. He was beaten out for scoring honors by Ben Geraghty, sensational sophomore, who tallied 114 points.

The future captain succeeds "Jocko" Hurley, the only senior member of the current basketball aggregation.

For Your Tonsorial Necessities—

The Campus Barber Shop

Awaits Your Patronage

Popular Prices

Tower Theatre
69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—
Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.

Wed. and Thurs.
"Eight Girls in a Boat"

Fri., Sat. and Mon.
"ALL OF ME"
FREDRIC MARCH
MIRIAM HOPKINS
GEORGE RAFT

ARDMORE
A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11

Today
JOHN BARRYMORE
in "COUNSELLOR AT LAW"

Wed. and Thurs.
EDDIE CANTOR
in "ROMAN SCANDALS"

Fri. and Sat.
MARIE DRESSLER
WALLACE BEERY
Lionel & John BARRYMORE
and JEAN HARLOW
in "DINNER AT EIGHT"

Monday
Ann Harding, Clive Brook
in "GALLANT LADY"

Anthony Wayne Theatre

Today
"HI NELLIE"
with PAUL MUNI

Wed. and Thurs.
"FUGITIVE LOVERS"
with ROBERT MONTGOMERY
and MADGE EVANS

Fri. and Sat.
"GOING HOLLYWOOD"
with BING CROSBY
and MARION DAVIES

Monday
"MASSACRE"
with
RICHARD BARTHELMESS

Seville Theatre

Today
"RIGHT TO ROMANCE"
with ANN HARDING
and NILS ASTHER

Wed. and Thurs.
"MAN'S CASTLE"
with LORETTA YOUNG
and SPENCER TRACY

Fri. and Sat.
"EVER SINCE EVE"
with GEORGE O'BRIEN
and MARY BRIAN

Monday
"ONE MAN'S JOURNEY"
with LIONEL BARRYMORE

THERE'S ONE BEST TIME
To Telephone Home!

YOU'LL agree, once you've tried it, that half past eight is the time to telephone home.

At half past eight the day's rush is over. Your time is free for a leisurely telephone chat.

At half past eight the same is true at home. It's the best time to catch the family all together.

At half past eight (and this is most important) low Night Rates go into effect on Station to Station calls. You can then save as much as 40% on your call. For example: If your home is 100 miles away, a three-minute connection will cost only 35 cents!

• • •

TO TAKE ADVANTAGE of the LOW NIGHT RATES ...

Call after 8:30 P. M., and be sure to make a Station to Station call.

That means, ask the Operator for your home telephone, but not for any specific person.

If you've fixed a date in advance, the family will be sure to be there.

Charges may be reversed.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

BASKETBALL SQUAD ENDS 1934 SEASON WITH GOOD RECORD

Three Losses and Nine Wins Give 'Cat Cage Team .750 Percentage

Continued From Page Five

pair with Pitt, the team that broke Notre Dame's 24-game streak. The 'Cats put up stiff opposition, but the size, weight and superior accuracy of the visitors proved too much for them. The game was close until the last few minutes, when the pace set by the rangy five from Duquesne began to tell on the Villanova team, and offered the opportunity for the visitors to increase their margin. The entire contest was hard and fast, and it was packed with exciting moments from start to finish.

Squelch Owls Again

The Albright game was a complete surprise, being marked down as a defeat for the 'Cats, 39 to 37. The outstanding feature of the game was the last-minute rally staged by the 'Cats, during which they tallied nine points while holding their opponents to a single field goal. But the rally fell two points short of a victory, and Villanova was charged with what proved to be the third and last defeat for the season.

The return game with Temple was another Wildcat victory, 27 to 22, on the Owl's court. It marked the first time in many years that Villanova has twice prevailed over Temple in one season. The Dickinson game, played on the home court, was another victory, 38 to 34.

The final game of the season, against LaSalle, was recorded as the ninth victory for the 'Cats this year. The final score was 25 to 23, and it closed a brilliant game.

Geraghty High Scorer

Villanova had a very successful basketball season, and Coach "Doc" Jacobs can well be proud of every man on his squad. Some of them were more outstanding. Geraghty was the constant star of the season and amassed a total of 114 points. Johnny Shevlin was another outstanding star, and was second high man with a total of 69 points. "Jocko" Hurley, acting captain and stellar guard, shone brightly all season, and closed his college basketball career in the LaSalle game with the feat of sinking a field goal from beyond mid-court in the last 20 seconds of the game. That field goal was the margin of victory for the team, and the final salute of a grand athlete to college basketball.

'CATS' MEOW

ATHLETICALLY speaking, things are kind'a quiet.

—V—

No wins or losses for Wildcat teams during the past week.

—V—

Captain Stan Wronski has yet to give his first command as baseball captain.

—V—

His first command will probably be, "Don't mention my bald spot."

—V—

The old spring sport of lounging outside the dining hall had its 1934 baptism on Friday afternoon.

—V—

The inaugural committee was headed by O'Donnell, Grimberg, Wronski, Travers and Kotys.

—V—

They will petition for Merit Awards for the members in good standing of the "Noonday Lounging Club and Bulling Society."

—V—

The rapid but brief careers of the boxing and wrestling teams are still the cause of much disappointment. The briefness is the disappointment.

—V—

Some of us are still thinking about that long shot of Hurley's which ended the LaSalle game so abruptly.

GREYHOUND LINES

EASTER RATES

New York---
$3.00 Round Trip

Boston---
$7.30 Round Trip

Tickets and Information
David F. Murphy
225 Austin Hall

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits, Topcoats and Overcoats
$24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See
JIM ELLIOTT
237 Austin Hall

5 about Cigarettes

Practically untouched by human hands

WE'D like you to see Chesterfields made. We know you'd be impressed by the absolute cleanliness of our factories.

The tobaccos are the best that money can buy.

Expert chemists test for cleanliness and purity all materials used in any way in the manufacture of Chesterfield cigarettes.

The factories are modern throughout. Even the air is changed every 4½ minutes.

When you smoke a Chesterfield you can be sure that there isn't a purer cigarette made.

In a letter to us an eminent scientist says: "Chesterfields are just as pure as the water you drink."

Inspectors examine Chesterfields as they come from the cigarette making machines and throw out any imperfect cigarettes.

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

The VILLANOVAN Extends Best Wishes To All Students For a Joyous Holiday at This Easter Season.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 6—No. 21 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1934 Price: Five Cents

Don't Forget! Include the Dances Sponsored by Campus Organizations in Your Social Calendar.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR EASTER DANCES BY CAMPUS CLUBS

North Jersey, Wilkes-Barre Clubs Will Celebrate in Home Cities

KEY AWARDS TO BE MADE AT UPSTATE GATHERING

Jerseymen's Formal Features Bob Iven's Ambassadors Next Monday Night

Preparations and arrangements have been completed by two local campus organizations, the North Jersey Club and the Wilkes-Barre Club, for their annual Easter dances to be held during the spring holidays.

These social functions are becoming more popular with the alumni and members and their friends from year to year. The affairs offer the opportunity for a happy and friendly get-together not often afforded them. Both of these clubs have consistently held enjoyable and highly successful affairs and for that reason they predict their spring dances will be their acme of success to date.

Kearney's Band to Play

The Wilkes-Barre group will hold its fifth annual Easter dance at the Hotel Redington on Saturday, March 31, and will feature Will Kearney's Society Orchestra. This band evidently meets with the whole-hearted approval of the organization for it has been engaged quite often by them. Kearney has continually met their demands for the unusual in music and entertainment.

The dance, however, will be preceded by a dinner from 7 to 9, which will be closed to club members and their partners. The Rev. James A. Donnellon, O. S. A., professor of physiology and genetics,

Continued on Page Three

SENIOR ENGINEERS TEST POWER PLANT

Prof. Morehouse Accompanies Group to Homeopathic Hospital, Camden

The senior mechanical engineers conducted their annual power plant test last Friday, at the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, located at Mount Ephraim and Atlantic avenues, Camden, N. J.

This test is conducted every year by the mechanical engineers in order that they may gain the practical experience necessary in running a power plant. Power Plant Design is one of the major subjects that is studied by the engineers in their senior year; hence, the knowledge that is gained while performing this test is of great aid to them. J. Stanley Morehouse, professor of Mechanical Engineering in the School of Technology, accompanied the students and aided them in making the test a complete success.

Readings Tabulated

The students met at the hospital at 7.45 A. M. and were assigned one of the main duties in running the plant. The first reading was recorded in the log books at 8 o'clock, and from then on until 6 o'clock that night readings were tabulated every fifteen minutes. Seven men were necessary to perform the test, as at every fifteen-minute interval, there were seven readings to be taken. Besides this there were

Continued on Page Four

DIRECT THE DESTINIES OF THE VILLANOVAN

Edmond P. Reiley (left) and John J. Stell (right), both members of the Junior Class and students in the School of Commerce and Finance, who have been named to the respective posts of editor-in-chief and college editor, succeeding Raymond J. Harter and Charles P. Goggi, retiring seniors, for the ensuing twelve-month period.

REILEY APPOINTED VILLANOVAN EDITOR

Heads Editorial Staff Which Will Conduct Paper During 1934-35 Season

Edmond P. Reiley, a junior in the School of Commerce and Finance, has been appointed as editor-in-chief of The VILLANOVAN for the season of 1934-35.

This marks the second consecutive year that the paper will be headed by a business student, Raymond J. Harter, whom Reiley succeeds, also having been a member of that school.

With this issue of the paper eight seniors will retire from their offices on the publication and will be succeeded by a staff composed almost wholly of juniors.

New Appointments

The new appointments are: Robert H. McIntyre, managing editor; John J. Stell, formerly copy editor, college editor; Louise P. Marechal, formerly associate sports editor, sports editor; John C. DiJoseph, the only sophomore on the editorial staff, copy editor; Harold J. Keating, formerly sports editor, feature sports editor; Edmond M. Halhame, associate college editor; John O'Connell, columnist; Joseph J. Lin-

Continued on Page Four

BETA GAMMA BOWS IN RUTGERS DEBATE

Closes Season With Defeat in Contest Held at Perth Amboy, N. J.

Villanova's varsity debaters bowed last Thursday night to the representatives of Rutgers University in a contest staged in the Knights of Columbus Auditorium, Perth Amboy, N. J.

The decision, which was rendered by the members of the audience, gave the debate to Rutgers by the margin of 79 to 48. Twenty voters called the debate a draw.

The question which was debated was, "Resolved: That a permanent dictatorship would be for the best economic interest of the United States." The Beta Gamma upheld the affirmative side of the argument, Rutgers assuming the negative side.

Question Closely Debated

Representing Villanova in the contest were Charles P. Goggi, Roberts Bouson and Francois Bigley. The speakers from the New Jersey institution were Louis Hemerda, Stephen Morosi and Paul Trilling.

The question was closely contested by all the debaters, but the affirmative aspect of the dictatorship question has intrinsic difficulties

Continued on Page Four

New York Alumni Secretary Points Way to Successful Alumni Conclaves

By EDWARD V. DUFFY, '27
Secretary of Villanova Club of New York

Just to show you that a college alumni meeting can be something more than a mere gab fest, I am going to narrate an account of the March meeting of the Villanova Club of New York, held at the Centre Club, 120 Central Park South.

The dinner started at 6.30 and consisted of six covers. Before 7 o'clock tables had to be added to make room for 15 latecomers.

It does not take long to get the ball rolling. A name is mentioned. This leads to other names. And so on for an hour the great and near great are reported and catalogued by this Scotland Yard.

The members who arrived too late for dinner, however, are becoming anxious, and so we must be off to the next event. John J. McDevitt, our tall, barrel-chested president (he has grown since Villanova gave him to us), by distributing pressure (he is an engineer) and applying it where it would bring results, has secured a travelogue film from the Cunard Line.

Fifty of us watch the representative take us from West 14th street to Bermuda, seven countries of Europe and back home again without one case of seasickness.

Here is what we believe to be the success of our meetings — a short, snappy business session that does not last more than 45 minutes.

The president, from his high-backed Windsor chair at the head of a long directors'-meeting-type table, calls for order. A spring dance is in the offing. Where will it be held? A committee is appointed, one man from each section, with power to report, at the next meeting, when, where and how much.

Continued on Page Eight

SUCCESS IS PREDICTED FOR GAY ALUMNI BALL TO BE HELD ON APRIL 6

Nelson Maples' S. S. Leviathan Orchestra Will Be Featured Attraction Along With Joe Mele's Midshipmen

PLOT ACTIVITIES FOR JUNIOR GROUP

Third Year Class to Stage Formal Exercises During Week of April 30

Although there are several activities yet to be filled in on the calendar of events planned for the annual Junior Week celebration, which is scheduled to take place this year during the week of April 30, the members of the third year class may anticipate a well-rounded program of activities, according to various committee reports submitted to class president John Hoey.

One of the innovations to be inaugurated during the six-day program is a Parent's Day to be held in co-operation with the college administration.

Probably the climax of the colorful program will be the Blue Blazer Ball and the Junior Prom, which are scheduled to take place on the evenings of May 3 and 4, respectively, in the college gymnasium. The former affair will present the usual music of the Villanovans, and the entertainment for the latter occasion, that of a nationally prominent band, will be announced in the near future.

Program Outlined

The opening day of Junior Week will feature the formal flag raising exercises, the planting of the shrubbery, and the various speeches of presentation and acceptance by members of the class and the college faculty. The class administration believes that classes will be dispensed with during the morning of the opening day.

This year's Junior Week has the greatest sports program ever presented, according to Hoey. In addition to an intra-mural track meet, the varsity baseball club will meet the teams of Temple University and Albright College during the six-day period. The varsity trackmen will vie for honors with the representatives of Rider College, and there will be a round robin tennis tourney.

Assessments to Be Abolished

Instead of the usual assessment imposed on the third year group for Junior Week activities, President Hoey plans to abolish the levy in favor of making early collections for the numerous activities. It is believed by the officers of the class that this means of collection will not be a burden on any of the mem-

Continued on Page Four

SOLEMN HYMNS SUNG

Seminarians From St. Mary's Hall Present Holy Week Music

The Scholastic Choir, a group of thirty-six seminarians from St. Mary's Hall, gave a special presentation of Holy Week music in the college chapel last night.

According to Mr. Ralph J. Handran, O. S. A., director of the choir, the purpose of the concert was to show the real beauty of liturgical music. In selecting the numbers to be sung, Mr. Handran chose from the three sources of liturgical music, Gregorian Chant, Polyphonic and Modern Figured Music, only that music which relates to Holy Week.

The program consisted mainly of songs written by Froentini. The selections rendered were Christus Factus Est, Selections by a Double Quartette, and Examples of Plain and Solemn Chant of the Church.

NAUTICAL THEME

Gym to Be Decorated to Resemble Inside of Ocean Liner

From a financial standpoint a highly successful evening is predicted for the alumni association when it holds its second annual dance on Friday evening, April 6. According to Albert C. Wagner, alumni secretary, "The returns now coming in from the sale of tickets are most gratifying and unless something unforseen develops this will be the most prosperous venture ever undertaken by the alumni body."

An unusual amount of interest is being manifested by the alumni in regard to this dance, commenting favorably on the selection of the orchestras and the entertainment to be provided at the affair are arriving daily. A pleasing number of these letters contain checks while the others signify intention of being present for the big night.

Crowd Expected

That this scheduled social of the grads will also see a representative number of the students present is indicated from the remarks heard on the campus and in various places where they are wont to gather and discuss events of this sort.

With the nomination of Nelson Maples and his S. S. Leviathan Orchestra and Joe Mele and his Midshipmen, as the suppliers of the necessary music for the occasion, those attending are assured of having their favorite melodies played in a satisfying manner.

Maples first attracted attention as

Continued on Page Seven

PRIZE COMMITTEE SELECTS CHAIRLADY

Mrs. P. J. Sinnott Appointed to Lead Her Group at Gala Card Party

At a meeting of the prize committee, held recently in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, in Philadelphia, Mrs. Patrick J. Sinnott, of Rosemont, was elected chairwoman of that committee for the card party which will be sponsored by the Augustinian Guild in the college gymnasium on the evening of April 10.

The meeting was in the form of a luncheon, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Sinnott asked all the members of the prize committee to co-operate with her so that all the prizes for the affair could be assembled not later than April 8. At that date there will be a meeting of the committee in the gymnasium in order that the prizes may be arranged and numbered.

Many Prizes Received

Thus far many beautiful prizes have been received which the committee believes will be very pleasing to those who know the various systems well enough to be the recipient of them. Letters have been sent to many of the business houses in Philadelphia soliciting prizes, and in addition to these the members of the committee have been receiving awards from their acquaintances.

Those present at the luncheon in-

Continued on Page Four

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

RAYMOND J. HARTER, '34 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT A. GEIST, '34 ..... Managing Editor
CHARLES P. GOGGI, '34 ..... College Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Sports Editor
JOHN J. STEEL, '35 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH W. FENSTEMACHER, '34 ..... Business Manager
EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Assoc. College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Assoc. Sports Editor
JOSEPH R. LILLY, '34 ..... Exchange Editor
WILLIAM H. HOLMES, '34 ..... Columnist
WILLIAM F. ZEIL, '34 ..... Literary Editor
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager

Assistants to the College Staff

Robert H. McIntyre, '35 — Edward Kilbane, '34
Joseph J. Linsalata, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35
John F. Butler, '35 — James W. Keeley, '35
Edmond C. Malhame, '35 — Lawrence J. Doherty, '35
John O'Connell, '35 — John C. DiJoseph, '36
Raffaele Violetti, '35 — Carmen Giordano, '36
Phillip Murray, '37 — Pio Goggi, '37
Francis Shealey, '37 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37

Assistants to the Sports Staff

William J. Allen, '35 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chappie, '37 — John B. Geraghty, '37
Edgar H. Cottrell, '35 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37

Assistants to the Business Staff

Frank Bigley, '35 — Henry Schappert, '35

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Joseph Arthur, '36 — Peter Fasso, '36
Edward Kelly, '37 — Charles Betz, '37
Joseph Mele, '35 — John Mullin, '37
John Lauriusnis, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Edward Kiember, '36
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - MARCH 27, 1934

OUR FINALE

IT IS INEVITABLE that all careers come to an end. Accordingly, this issue of The VILLANOVAN marks the end of our careers as editors of the paper. We have served our terms. We hope we have done so well. At times we attempted to interpret student opinion. At other times we strove to guide it. Always we tried to be wholly fair and unprejudiced. We trust our efforts were accepted in that light. Now the reins must be turned over to a group different but not new. Not new, because they have been with us for three years. Our policies have been their policies. Our efforts have been their efforts. They have served their apprenticeship well. They have been tried, and they meet the requirements. In surrendering the destinies of the paper into their hands, we feel not the least apprehension for its future. Our confidence in them is complete. With this, then, we take our leave. We feel we have given our best, and hence we entertain a genuine sense of satisfaction. The training we have received is invaluable. We are deeply grateful for the opportunity to have acquired it, and we sincerely hope our successors will reap the same benefits. We heartily wish them the best of fortune.

HAVE YOU DECIDED?

SCARCELY more than two months from the present our lofty seniors will find themselves abruptly confronted with a new phase of life. For some this change will merely mean a continuation toward the achievement of an anticipated career. But to so many Commencement means worry, indecision, and a questionable future. As freshmen, these students eagerly began a battle toward their life's work. Explicitly what branch of work would claim their future services was not decided. They felt that four years at college would realize for them the necessary opportunity to arrive at this decision. Four years have sped by all too quickly. With many the subject of vocation still remains a question. We realize that some students who felt certain and determined in the matter of their future have been disappointed due to financial or other unforeseen predicaments. But what is going to become of those who don't know? A bitter struggle is ahead. Employment is anything but profuse. Competition will be keen, and pride will suffer. Too numerous to mention are the obstacles to be met and injuries to be felt. Now is the time to be strong. The quest is a battle for happiness and success. If disappointment and indecision persists, try, try and try again. Your life is at stake — you can make it a failure or success.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

JOCKO HURLEY, the diminutive captain of the basketball team, whose doubledecker in the last minute of the LaSalle game turned impending defeat into victory, is high steppin' these days. Afternoon tea and those other indulgences the Vandergilts and the Astorbilts partake of are now routine with Jocko. Besides being able after the approved fashion, to hold a tea cup with the little digit pointing heavenward, he is a second Don Juan and twice as good as the first.

Incredible though it may seem, Frank Dart, the little man from the South, has become quite the ladies' man, having been seen frequently at the Oasis making light conversation with the female patrons there. Grave as this may be, it is trivial as compared with the startling news that Fran has gone so far as to buy one girl a bottle of pop. Seems as if the adage, "if they don't get you now, they will later," is proving itself.

There isn't any use in reminding you tomorrow begins the Easter vacation or that it means six days free of school work. No, that would be in the same category as the latest dog-biting account. All information on holidays and their length is the first bit of college news learned. Ask any student in early October for a list of free days, and without any hesitation you have it. But late as May, the average student would have to go into a trance to tell you what his class schedule is, and then, not without some doubt.

In this country where the written law is that the man pays, though "the wages of him is dearth," it is interesting to know what he does when funds in his purse have become a non-entity and there remain a few obligations to be met before the date is left safely on her doorstep. I know what two seniors in a like incident did when there was a taxi fare to pay and no wherewithal to pay it. They simply explained to their dates it would be a matter of "passing the buck" and that since necessity has no law, their actions were not in discord with Emily P.. The dates paid and everything was hotsy totsy.

Russ Marcouse is to this column what President Roosevelt is to the newspapers of the country, a headliner. This lad, a descendant of the race that has played such an important part in the movie industry, not to forget the pawn brokerage business, again comes to the fore with his actions during the special meeting of the whole C & F school, held in conjunction with the Holy Name Society's drive for membership. Blank paper was passed around to be signed by the applicants. A short speech by the college chaplain, in which he spoke of a free breakfast after the monthly Mass, so affected Marcouse as to cause him to put his John Hancock on the paper. But he tore it up in the next minute when he heard of monthly ten-cent dues.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

WE ADMIT that we had been puzzled as to just what the unusual specimens of manhood seen stalking blissfully about Bryn Mawr's campus in sports trousers had to do with the sudden decrease of the usually large feminine population of the nearby college. It took a columnist from Mt. St. Joseph's College to find out. The girls are permitted to wear trousers on the Bryn Mawr campus, apparently after the mode set by one of their graduate satellites—Katie Hepburn—which puts us in another quandary—as to why "little women" should like long trousers.

* * *

This business of finding something to laugh about is really getting to be almost as laughable as the things we don't laugh at. Two years ago, the Rev. L. H. Mullany, S. J., a professor at Creighton University, started a lecture on "What Are You Laughing At?" and hasn't finished it yet. American humoristsaccording to him, are cynical, sophisticated and bored (-ing?). They are too intent on being clever to be really funny. And most important of all, they have lost all respect for their fellow-man . . . probably paging the beloved W. W. Most people, intimates Fr. Mullany, could have a swell time by laughing at the things that they generally worry about and by eating two cakes of yeast a day.

* * *

The Duke Chronicle suggests that our American girls are the most reasonable dates after all. An American student at a French university writes that, contrary to popular opinion, French dates are not so hot. Going to a cafe recently to meet the girl, he found that she had brought both of her parents along. Or maybe they were hungry too.

* * *

The world's dirtiest window! It is now located in the Main Building of the College of the City of New York. Scrawled in the dust on the pane is "Have these cleaned —Abe Cohen, 1817."

* * *

College graduate CWA workers, painting the exterior of Mitten Hall at Temple University, are being pestered to death by co-eds leaning out the windows to ask them the answers to the questions on their exam papers.

* * *

All-American Montgomery, Columbia quarterback, returned to his high school to give a talk on the need of a thorough college education. The next day the school paper came out with a banner headline, "Cliff Montgomery Shows Need of College Education."

* * *

The students of Wisconsin U. consider the Fourth and Fifth Commandments the most vital of the Ten Commandments upon which a columnist comments that if you love and respect your parents, you will receive a larger allowance, and if nobody kills you, you will be able to enjoy it fully.

* * *

At the University, of Nevada, only seniors are privileged to wear sombreros and mustaches. Still, it's not compulsory.

---- Dial-Log ----

WITH THE approach of our own Junior Prom, we watch with interest the orchestras acquired by the colleges in this vicinity for their own dances. The University of Pennsylvania has booked Glen Gray and the Casa Loma Orchestra for the Ivy Ball; Drexel will present Isham Jones; Temple lists Ozzie Nelson, and St. Joseph's has secured Leo Reisman.

Since we feel that Villanova should be second to none of these schools, we expect a change in the ruling of the authorities concerning the appropriation of funds for the coming prom. The more money that is spent for the orchestra, the greater is the possibility of a successful dance, both from a social and financial viewpoint. The Villanova students expect a band equal to any of those listed above, and from statements issued by the chairman of the prom their expectations may be fulfilled.

Don Bestor and his music will be teamed up with Jack Benny on that new program we told you about last week.

Several weeks ago we received a story about a new device that will permit listeners to protest or applaud directly and immediately to the station to which they are listening. A machine has been invented by a New York University professor which is attached to the radio and is equipped with three buttons. One registers "present," another votes "yes," and still another votes "no." The radio stations, when properly equipped, can record immediately the votes in favor and against the program. This will greatly aid the performers and sponsors in their selection of material.

The announcement that there will be a "Showboat" matinee is interesting. It will present Lanny Ross and the entire Showboat cast. It marks the first time an outstanding evening program has been equaled for the daytime listener. It is possible that the other sponsors will follow this lead, and daytime programs will become more worth while. The regular Showboat program at night will continue. The matinee series begins May 18 and will be broadcast every Friday following at 3 P. M.

Looking for possibilities for the prom, we notice that Freddy Martin goes on a tour starting April 1.

Bing Crosby's Monday night show from Los Angeles has been extended to May 28, and the orchestra problems have been settled with Jimmy Grier and His Band continuing on this spot.

Many of the campus listeners of Mary Small have demanded that we give her some recognition. Most any of her many local fans can tell you when she broadcasts. After you hear her, you won't believe me when I say she is only nine years old.

The Salt-Shaker

THE DEATH OF DEATH

PRE-DAWN shadows linger. The air has the purifying breath of rain in its touch. The fitful wind that cleared the heaven has died away in the hills, leaving the garden at rest. Waiting. In the depths of the place the shadows are deeper. Sombre stillness. And then there in the darkness we behold the birth of light . . . light glowing . . . expanding; dispelling the shadows, revealing myriads of opalescent pearls pendant upon every bush and shrub. Diffusing light warm and joyous: the very rocks are become lucent. All is aglow with a glorious inner radiance.

Startled cries. The Roman guards, roused from their heavy sleep, spring to their feet, then fall to the ground overcome by the dazzling brilliance streaming from the tomb they had been set to guard. In the sudden quiet the heavy seals affixed to the cavern's door crack, splinter and fall to the trodden earth about the door. How memorable is that act! The ponderous stone slab that many straining arms had moved before the entrance to the tomb now trembles. It totters, then rolls aside. Light more brilliant than noon-day, more wondrous than the beauty of the dawn, streams from the open grave. A fragrance envelops us, a fragrance redolent of aromatic unguents and the thousand scents of fields in spring. Our senses are overcome by the magnificence of the setting. Never before was there anything like this. Then the climax! He Whom we have awaited, Whom the whole world has longed for comes forth once more in the overwhelming splendor of His Resurrection. Christ has risen!

Thus can we imagine what once took place in the burial place of a Jew in Palestine long ago. The story is substantially the same though a thousand details may come to add beauty to the incomprehensible truth of the fact. The elements, the earth, all unite in a great setting to herald the resurrection of Him Who gives point and direction to our lives.

Ravished senses, interior joy; the peace of Easter, the whole world kindles to the glory of the coming festival. We are in the shadow of Calvary this week. Everything is moving irresistibly to the drama of the Cross. In the deepest shadows of this Friday, Christ will be laid away in a borrowed tomb, but wait — that promise He made! Beyond the sepulchre looms His word. Light!

Easter. The death of Death. The central drama of Christianity. The Man Whom countless millions in all ages have proclaimed the Son of God has conquered universal death. We believe His word. The resurrection of Christ is the turning point of all history. The turbulent history of men approaches and looks back upon that unique event. This hope-enkindling fact is behind the glamor, the gladness that fills the world on Easter morning. We mark everything from that first Easter.

Hope resurgent! Behold the wondrous harmony of the divine plan. When the winter crabbed, hard and long is spent, when the earth is quickening to life, then, too, the pledge of resurrection is renewed to us. Body and soul share in the renascence of life.

There is in the effulgence of Easter morning an indescribable atmosphere that is vouchsafed us at no other time of the year. On next Sunday the wealth of spring, the pastel color of the world, youth, life and interior joy shall flood the world. It is always so. Amid the many attractions of the season, let the central thought of Easter, the explanation of it all flood our mind and heart. Joy and gladness will be ours if we but let these enter in on us.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR EASTER DANCES BY CAMPUS CLUBS

North Jersey, Wilkes-Barre Clubs Will Celebrate in Home Cities

Continued From Page One

will be the guest of honor at the dinner, and will address the members. The Rev. Bernard M. McConville, O. S. A., moderator of the club, will not be able to attend the functions because of pressing duties which will demand his attention on the campus at the time of the social. However, at a recent meeting of the organization, Fr. McConville was presented with an attractive club key as a token of the members' appreciation for his invaluable aid as moderator.

Keys to Be Given

The seniors in the society will also receive similar keys after the dinner on the night of the dance. The keys are very artistic in nature, set in black onyx which enhances a V, the class year and the initials of the club in gold. The seniors who will receive keys are: James O'Connell, president of the club; Frank Kelly, chairman of the dance; Donald Redington, William McGraw, James Gallagher and Francis Berger.

Attractive favors will also be given at the dinner to the partners of those attending. They will be smart-looking, silver chains with a V, the class year, and name of the club on one side and the name of the girl engraved on the other side.

Members of the dance committee are chairman, Frank Kelly, James O'Connell, James Gallagher, Hubert Gallagher, Charles Betz, John Noll, William Driscol and Charles Bruno.

Jersey Dance, April 2

The North Jersey Club will present Bob Ivens' Ambassadors at its second annual Easter affair to be held at the Hotel Elton, in Newark, on April 2. The hotel was formerly the Newark Elks' Club. It has one of the most elaborate and spacious ballrooms in Newark. It is centrally located and is the best location the club has had for any of its socials.

If the Easter dance is as successful as is expected, it will be held there annually because the organization is anxious to locate at least one of its dances in that city as a regular feature. It was felt that better accommodations and a greater following would be had in Newark so the club changed its original plan of having the dance in Jersey City.

Orchestra Is Popular

Bob Ivens' Ambassadors, of the Mohawk Inn on the Palisades, have established quite a reputation as a dance ensemble.. The North Jersey group was considered rather lucky in obtaining the services of this much-desired local orchestra. Besides presenting much in the way of novel entertainment and arrangements, the irresistible Bob Ivens croons some delightfully pleasing sentimental ballads, which have increased his popularity everywhere he has appeared. Members of the committee believe this will be one of the prime reasons why this social will be the club's most successful to date.

The North Jersey dance will be similar to the Wilkes-Barre affair in that both will be informal, both have a subscription of $2.50, and both will continue from 9 to 1 o'clock.

The committee for the Newark dance is as follows: Chairman, Thomas Delaney; Raymond J. Harter, John Butler, John Erbeck, Daniel Harkins, Frank Connell, James Migliore, John Saclera, Joseph McCabe and John Torpey.

EASTER DANCE CHAIRMAN

Frank Kelly, who heads the committee in charge of the Easter Dance to be sponsored by the Wilkes-Barre Club, Saturday evening, in the Hotel Redington, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

GREYHOUND LINES

EASTER RATES

New York---
$3.00 Round Trip

Boston---
$7.50 Round Trip

Tickets and Information
David F. Murphy
225 Austin Hall

Gleanings

Did you know that: The incoming staff wishes that someone would install a clothes tree or a series of wall hooks in the office? . . . The boys in Fedigan are holding their breath and keeping their fingers crossed in the hope that they will have a phone in the old hall? . . . Bob Feehery has undergone a rather sudden metamorphosis and is wandering around with a rather sheepish grin adorning his physiognomy? . . . It will be well worth the admission price for the Turf and Tinsel club show just to see George Kennedy do his vamping act? . . . We have a feeling that the outgoing staff will be taking it on the chin in the succeeding issues? . . . Dan Harkins is still trying to explain how a cigarette he just finished smoking became covered with lipstick? . . . Bill Clark well demonstrated the fact that he is a C & F man the other week, when he tried unsuccessfully to repair an electric lamp that had gone berserk? . . . Frank Dart spends too much time and entirely too much money buying sodas at the roller skating rink for various canaries? . . . Your beloved columniat received help in filling space in this column this week? . . . They're now calling him "Race Track" Keeley because of the vivid suit he's sporting? . . . Sir Hubert of the Gallagher family, unable to crash the raddio, now does his singing over the Bell Company's phones? . . . We also hear that Cuyar is going to get the synthetic Englishman a guitar so that he can better serenade the Senoritas at Rosemont?

Also, Eddie Kilbane is rushing the season a bit by wearing his gray knickers? . . . The Scoop Keating-Jessie Einhorn match in the debating class panicked the majority of the boys? . . . The choice of the band for the Junior Prom will surprise all of the subscribers? . . . Some of the boys in Alumni Hall apparently know their law quite well because a jury trial was held in that hall last week? . . . Uncle Abe Ulitsky and his nephew, Carrol Cook, are plotting some sort of an adagio dance for the TNT show? . . . Should the juniors choose a gabardine blazer, they may be a bit disappointed? . . . The latest addition to the ranks of Villanova dog owners is Jerry Rocco, who has entered the field with what we believe is a rat terrier? . . . The picture of the new sports editor looks as if it had been taken for the rogues' gallery, doesn't it? . . . Harry Patzsch last week spent his first Saturday night "at home" since he came here? . . . He even surprised himself so much that he went around the hall telling all the fellows about it? . . . "Leaning Tower" Keeley brought Walt Alessandroni down a peg before an older member of the opposite sex upon whom Walt was trying to make an imprint, by hailing him by a flippant name? . . . This is our last contribution to this hyar colyum?

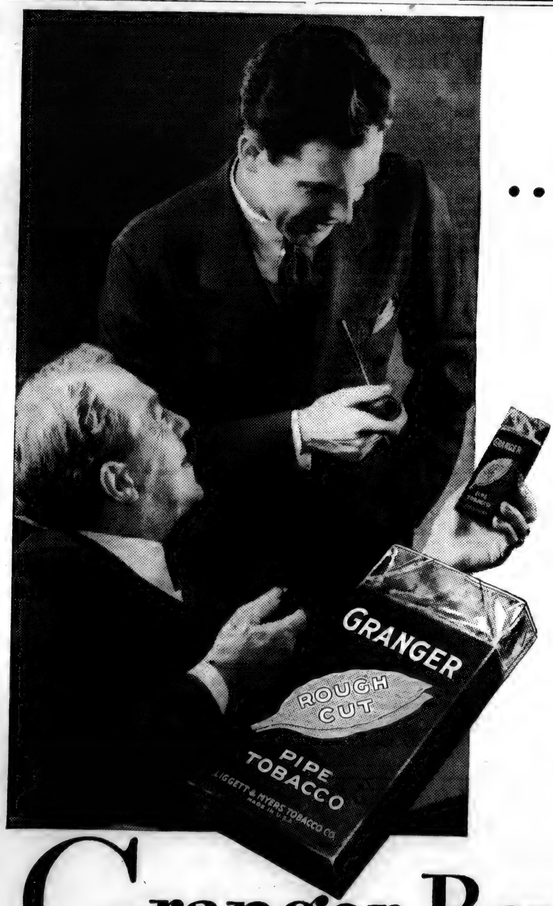
BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO
Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Established 1832
1218-20-22 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia

DESIGNERS AND MAKERS
of the
1935 VILLANOVA COLLEGE CLASS RING

Also the Villanova Miniature Ring

E. Cadwalader, Inc.
Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies
6047 Market Street
Philadelphia
Phone Sherwood 1423

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk



...here it is in a nutshell

"THERE are just about three common-sense questions to ask about pipe tobacco:

"First, is it made to smoke in a pipe?

"Is it cut in big enough flakes to smoke cool and mild?

"Does it have a pleasing flavor that leaves you hankering for more?

"I guess I've been smoking pipes for as many years as you've been born, and when it comes to pipe tobacco . . . here it is in a nutshell. Smoke Granger."

Granger Rough Cut

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL
—folks seem to like it

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

STUDENTS ENROLLED AS HOLY NAME MEN AT CHAPEL MEETING

Fifty-Six Applicants, Mostly Day Students, Participate in Formal Ceremony

PLANS FOR BREAKFAST DEFINITELY UNDER WAY

Fifty-six students, most of whom were day students, were formally enrolled in the Holy Name Society of Villanova College at a ceremony held in the college chapel yesterday. This group, together with those resident students who were enrolled at the first meeting of the society, brings the total number in the Villanova chapter up to 149 and places it among the foremost organizations of the campus.

All of these candidates who participated in the induction yesterday had previously signified their intentions of joining the society at meetings which were held in each of the various schools on Friday of last week.

Will Attend Breakfast

Those day students who have joined have agreed that they will attend the regular Mass which is said for the special benefit of the Holy Name group on the second Sunday of each month in the college chapel and also the Communion breakfast which immediately succeeds it in the college refectory. They will otherwise do everything they can to give the society their wholehearted support.

Plans for the next Communion breakfast of the organization are already well under way. At this gathering, which will be held on Sunday, April 8, several prominent speakers will address the group.

At the present time a reply is being awaited from Carl Rogers, of Narberth, president of the Catholic Lay Apostolate, who has been invited to speak. Efforts are also being made to have Very Rev. Mortimer A. Sullivan, O. S. A., provincial of the Augustian Order in the United States, address the group.

Plan Activities For Junior Group

Continued From Page One

bers, and the treasury will benefit by the action.

Members of the combined Junior Week committees met in Mendel Hall amphitheatre, Friday afternoon, to make returns for the theatre benefit and the chances on Junior Prom tickets. Few benefit tickets were sold because of some irregularity in the price schedule of tickets agreed on by the management.

Blazers Delayed

Blazer Committee Chairman Michael Clavin has been able formally to award the contract for the Juniors' coats because of the delay of a sample blazer. He stated that the hold-up in the proceedings was caused by a change in the tailoring of the coat. Deliveries will be made ten days after the orders for 150 of the coats is received.

There will be a meeting of the Blue Blazer Ball committee this afternoon at 1 P. M., in the Mendel Amphitheatre. Several important questions are to be decided relevant to the dance.

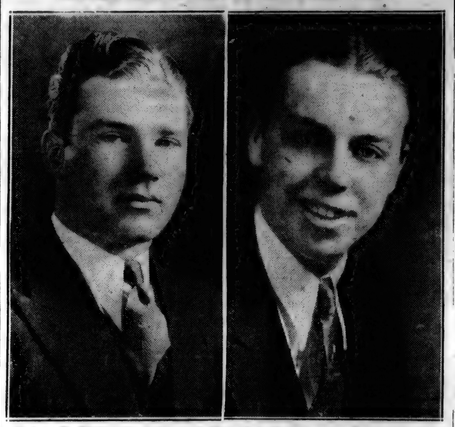
PHONES TO BE INSTALLED

Installation in Fedigan Hall to Take Place During Holidays

Announcement has been made by Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president, that the Bell Telephone Company has agreed to install a telephone in Fedigan Hall. Installation will take place during the Easter holiday period.

While the telephone company has agreed to install the phone, they have laid down certain specifications which must be met by the residents. The first limitation concerns the inserting of "slugs" into the equipment. In such instances, the company will demand that the offending students reimburse the company to the extent of the damage. The second of the limitations states that, in the event of damage to the machines, either of two courses may be followed. The telephone company will demand reimbursement, or they will remove the machines from the dormitory.

ASSUME NEW DUTIES ON EDITORIAL STAFF



Robert H. McIntyre (left), and Harold J. Keating have been promoted to the positions of managing editor and feature sports editor of The VILLANOVAN, respectively. McIntyre has been a member of the staff for the past two years, and Keating received the honor of being sports editor in his sophomore year. At the request of many of the readers he was appointed in his new capacity, so that more of his breezy sports stories may appear in future issues. Both are juniors in the Business School.

Beta Gamma Closes Debating Season With Defeat at Hands of Rutgers

Varsity Debaters Experience Poor Season, Losing Seven Contests and Winning Only Three

Continued From Page One

that were too formidable for the Beta Gamma to overcome.

Each of the speakers presented eight-minute constructive speeches and one ten-minute rebuttal. The debate was in formal attire.

Guests at Dinner

Prior to the debate the members of both the Villanova and the Rutgers teams were guests of the Knights of Columbus lodge at dinner in the Hotel Packer, Perth Amboy.

This contest marked the close of the 1934 debating season for the Beta Gamma. The season's record was far below that which was established by the varsity team last year, seven contests having been lost, while only three were won.

The debate with New York University, held in the amphitheatre, was a no-decision contest. The contest which was held with St. Joseph's College over Station WLIT in Philadelphia was a radio audience decision contest. As yet no word of the decision has been obtained.

The three wins came as the result of victories over Temple University in both ends of a home-and-home contest and over the University of Pennsylvania in one end of another home-and-home debate.

Defeats were suffered at the hands of the University of Pennsylvania in the other half of the home-and-home contest, both ends of a home-and-home debate with La-Salle, Dayton University, St. John's University, Manhattan College and Rutgers.

Place Second In League

The principal speakers for the Beta Gamma throughout the season were Charles P. Goggi, Francis Bigley, Roberts Bouson, Martin Donnelly, Peter P. Kerr, Francis McGinley and R. Martinez Alvarez. Pactrus F. Banmiller had been appointed captain of the debating squad at the beginning of the season, but was later compelled to resign because of his heavy class schedule.

Villanova this year also entered the Philadelphia Intercollegiate Debating League and finished in second place. First place honors were taken by LaSalle.

Four Topics Debated

Questions which were debated included two on presidential powers, one having to do with dictatorship and the other with increasing the president's powers permanently. Socialization of medical aid and the nationalization of American banks were also discussed.

Prospects for the debating team throughout the coming season appear materially brighter. Goggi will be the only member of this year's varsity squad who will graduate this year. The experience which the other members of the team acquired during this year's contests should stand them in good stead for next year.

Senior Engineers Test Power Plant

Continued From Page One

other odd duties such as shoveling coal. It was so arranged that at the end of two hours the students transferred to another post in order that at the end of the test each student had been stationed at every post.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Morchouse the students were served lunch at noon, thus enabling the test to be continued without interruption.

With the readings obtained the engineers will calculate the mechanical efficiency of the plant and other results which will enable them to study the theoretical side of the test.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Today

Lambda Kappa Delta meeting, 210 Mendel Hall ..... 1.00 P. M.
Blue Blazer Ball committee meeting, Amphitheatre ..... 1.00 P. M.

Wednesday

Easter Recess Begins ..... 12.30 P. M.

Wednesday, April 4

Resident Students Return ..... 8.30 P. M.

Thursday, April 5

Classes Resume ..... 8.55 A. M.
VILLANOVAN Dinner-Dance, Pierre's, 69th street ..... 7.15 P. M.

Friday, April 6

Golf Match, Varsity vs. Boston College, St. David's Golf Course 1 P. M.
Alumni Ball, Gymnasium ..... 9.00 P. M.

Sunday, April 8

Holy Name Communion Sunday ..... 8.30 A. M.

Monday, April 9

Junior Prom Committee meeting, Amphitheatre ..... 1.00 P. M.
Phi Kappa Pi meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 1.00 P. M.
Beta Gamma meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8.15 P. M.

Reiley Appointed Villanovan Editor

Continued From Page One

salata, exchange editor, and Paul Ball, circulation manager.

Associate editors will be Harold D. McGrath, James W. Keeley, Lawrence J. Doherty, Raffaele Violetti and John F. Butler.

Eight Seniors Retire

Those who retire, besides Harter, are: Robert A. Geist, managing editor; Charles P. Goggi, college editor; Joseph W. Fentemacher, business manager; Joseph H. Lilly, exchange editor; William H. Holmes, columnist; William F. Zell, literary editor, and Edward Kilbane, assistant to the college staff.

Formal induction of the new editors will take place at the staff dinner-dance to be held at Pierre's on Thursday, April 5. The entire staff has been invited to attend the function. It will begin at 7.15 P. M.

Gold keys will be awarded to each of the retiring editors at the same time.

Guests who have been invited to attend the dinner-dance besides the staff included Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A., moderator of the paper; Rev. John T. McCall, O. S. A., and John Corkill, moderator and editor of The Belle Air; Rev. John J. Vrana, O. S. A., and Paetrus F. Banmiller, moderntor and editor of The Villanova Engineer; Rev. Joseph M. Daugherty, O. S. A., and William McCarthy, moderator and editor of The Mendel Bulletin; Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., college vice-president; Rev. John F. O'Brien, O. S. A., professor of English; Albert C. Wagner, alumni secretary, and Raymond J. McKeon, publicity manager.

Prize Committee Selects Chairlady

Continued From Page One

cluded Mrs. Catherine Starrs, Mrs. James Carroll, Mrs. Charles Ansel, Mrs. John Burns, Mrs. Joseph Costigan, Jr., Mrs. James Calpin and Mrs. Robert Smith.

Several positions are still available for students who desire to make themselves useful at this occasion. All those who are interested in doing some sort of work should see Rev. Francis W. Ludwig, O. S. A., at his earliest possible convenience.

SENIOR ANNUAL RAPIDLY APPROACHES COMPLETION

Individual Photos of Junior Class Remain Chief Obstacle; Final Sitting to Be Held

The work on the Belle Aire, Villanova's annual, is progressing as rapidly as can be expected under the circumstances. The chief obstacle, as in former years, seems to be in obtaining the individual photographs. The seniors responded excellently to the call made by William McCarthy, photography editor. To date only the photos of six June graduates remain to be taken.

The difficulty seems to lie with the Junior Class, for only 35 took advantage of the two sittings. Petitions stating that the signers would guarantee to have their pictures in the annual were circulated in the various schools of the Junior Class. All of these petitions have not been turned in as yet, but indications seem to point to the fact that the number will fall short of the required 70 photos necessary for the junior section.

This will be the first year that all students will receive a Year Book. It is up to the student body to cooperate in making it a representative one. A final sitting for individual photos will be held immediately upon the return from the Easter vacation and it is hoped that the juniors will take advantage of this opportunity.

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired
It is not how cheap, but how good
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
All new styles now available!
Agents: Dick Morrissey, '34
Ed Lahey, '36

"WHEN A FELLER NEEDS A FRIEND"

Cramming is a pleasure—if it's cramming mellow old BRIGGS into your pipe! BRIGGS is aged in the wood for years until it's biteless. No wonder it became a nation-wide favorite before it had a lige of advertising! Won't you let BRIGGS speak for itself, in your own pipe?

KEPT FACTORY FRESH by inner lining of CELLOPHANE

© P. Lorillard Co., Inc.

Sideline Slants

By the Sports Editor

WITH this, the closing issue, it is perhaps customary to sing the proverbial swan song. If you have not already been informed of the fact, this is the last issue of the old staff. We call ourselves old because, after banging out newsprint for a year it seems like an eternity. The old order changeth. A new editor-in-chief, sports editor and the rest will hold sway after Easter. During the past year, a presumably good time has been had by all, and now that the trail has ended, we say adios, or, rather, I say adios. My successor is none other than Lou Marechal. So with the best of wishes, we hand this column to Lou with the hope that he improves the sports department. My finis follows . . . .

EACH year because of the reputation of the column in the former year, the new sports editor changes the title of what we know as the 'Cats Meow. If the names of both of these columns are different in the next issue of this weekly astonisher, you can know that the new guider of its destinies has made sounding tests and found out that the reputation is poor, bad or rotten. So after this, report all your grievances and scoops to the new boss. Possibly he can air them in better style than we did.

LED by Johnny Strong, the swim team closed the season with a record of three wins and two losses, which is not so bad, indeed, for the first time. Johnny won two races and contributed to the relay, which was a rather good afternoon. As we said last week, Coach Gill did a good job in pulling the tankmen out of the doldrums after losing two straight to Osteopathy.

STROLLING across the campus in front of Austin Hall, the other day, we noticed queer looking foot-prints, such as we had not seen since last fall. After inquiring about the same, we came to the conclusion that the gridmen were at work again. Apparently there is no rest for the weary. At the beginning of each spring training we experience the same vague fear that this year will be a most disastrous one. This season is no exception. With the absence of Randour, Cavanaugh, Zizak, O'Donnell and the rest, it always seems as if the oncoming team wouldn't even look good in an intramural game. But somehow it always turns out rather well. The seniors next year, for the first time in several years, will form the nucleus of the squad. This is one strong factor in the well-doing of Coach Stuhldreher's team. When we are sitting in the stands next season and watching Marechal sweating in the press box, we hope that he has something good to write about.

BASEBALL is due to open on April 2 with Princeton. Last year's nine was well rounded out, but hardly the same thing can be said about the coming squad. There is an abundance of infield and outfield material, but a dearth of pitching prospects. Tom O'Donnell has been ailing with a weak arm for some time, and it looks quite doubtful if he will be ready to do any twirling in the opener. Vaughn is probably the best bet for a starter, because of his work on the frosh team last year. That he will be seen on the mound for the majority of the games this spring, is rather a certainty. Another new addition to the squad is that of Mahan, who should have no trouble breaking into the ranks at the initial sack. One could not forget Ben Geraghty either in choosing a starting line-up. These sophomores will be seen in a good many ball games, regardless of the fact that there is an abundance of material in the upper classes. Mahan, Capt. Wronski, Cavanaugh and Skaff ought to be about the best infield reported by a Villanova nine in quite some time. When speaking of the infield it is sometimes customary to include the catcher. Lenzi, although last year a trifle weak with the stick, now stands head and shoulders above the other candidates for the back-stop berth.

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING

Tuesday, March 27, 1934 Page Five

SWIMMERS BEAT HAHNEMANN

BASEBALLERS READY TO MEET PRINCETON IN OPENER, APRIL 2

Villanova Pitching Stronger With Addition of Six Reserves

FIVE SENIORS ON SQUAD

Coach Jacobs Expects Team to Have Good Season if Pitchers Produce

Now that old man Winter seems to have gone back into hiding for another year the baseball team has ventured forth from the confines of the gymnasium and is holding daily practice out of doors. The ground is still soft and treacherous as far as fielding is concerned, but the ball team is making the best of the adverse conditions. The squad is showing quite a bit of enthusiasm and it looks as if "Doc" Jacobs has a promising crop of players.

The opening game of the season is always of the utmost importance, for a team that gets off to a good start faces the ensuing encounters with a feeling of confidence and power rather than one of dejection and helplessness. This year the 'Cats will open their extensive season against Princeton. The Tigers always present a formidable array of talent, and this year will be no exception. They are smarting under the defeat handed them by the 'Cats last year by the score of 8-7, and this year they promise a complete reversal of conditions. This contest is booked for April 2, on the Tigers' home field.

Probable Line-Up

The Villanova rooters will in all probability find the ball club beginning the game with this line-up: "Red" Lenzi will get the call for the backstop position, as he is a veteran from last year and has far more experience than the rest. The pitching duty will rest on Tom O'Donnell. He is nursing his bad arm along, and it is expected that it will respond to treatment and be ready for the grind by the opening date. In reserve there are newcomers in Ed Vaughn, Steve Sylvester, Ray McGonigle, Tom Collins, McGovern and Mooney. All these will be awaiting their chance to see action.

The first base position will be

Continued on Page Eight

JOHN STRONG ELECTED 'CAT SWIM CAPTAIN

Has Distinction of Being First in Villanova History; Brother Was Penn Captain

John Strong, a junior in the Engineering School, was elected captain of the future Villanova swimming team at a meeting of the squad held immediately after the Hahnemann tussle.

Strong has been a consistent winner in the breast stroke and 50-yard free style swim and swam anchor man on the relay team. He was the individual high scorer of the season.

He is the brother of Harry Strong, who was captain of the 1932 natators at the University of Pennsylvania.

Since this was the first season for Villanova in intercollegiate swimming circles, no captain was elected to lead the mermen, so Strong has the honor of being the first captain of a Villanova swimming team.

Gets New Post

Louis P. Marechal, popular member of the Junior Class and manager of the varsity golf team, who has been promoted from associate sports editor to the capacity of executive sports editor, succeeding Harold J. Keating. Marechal, a student in the School of Commerce and Finance, has been prominently associated with campus activities since he came to Villanova.

CANDIDATES REPORT FOR OUTDOOR TRACK

Captain Fenstemacher Talks to Large Number That Reported Wednesday

A large number of athletes responded to the call made for new candidates for the Villanova track and field team. They assembled last Wednesday and were welcomed into the track circle at Villanova with an address by Captain Joe Fenstemacher.

"To win dual meets, it is necessary to have a well balanced team, that is, you must have a few stars to take the first places, but, equally as important in a close dual meet, it is necessary to have men capable of taking second and third places."

Cites Team's Needs

What the track team needs is men capable of taking these second and third places. The new candidates for the team were encouraged to get out and train hard and obtain for themselves a berth on the squad.

At the meeting, emphasis was placed on the meets with Temple and West Chester, which come in the late spring. These teams are the most powerful that Villanova will encounter in dual competition.

Last year the 'Cats were able to beat West Chester only by a narrow margin. The Teachers have many of their seasoned runners back with them again this year, and Villanova is expecting a hard battle.

Point Towards Owls

In all major sports this year, Villanova has been able to subdue Temple. This year the Owls will present to their cinderpath fans, one of their finest teams in recent years. Villanova is out to beat Temple in track this year, in order to equal the fine records made by the other varsity teams in their competition against the Cher-

Continued on Page Eight

Natators Conclude Season With 3 Wins and 2 Losses

Strong Earns Individual Scoring Honors. Winning 50-Yard Free-Style and 100-Yard Breast-Stroke

COACH GILL PLEASED AT SHOWING

VILLANOVA'S swimming team completed its first season here last Tuesday evening with a victory over Hahnemann Medical College, 34-23. Coach Martin Gill's proteges, taking first in four of the six events, submerged the Quaker City aggregation to bring the season to a close with three victories and two losses.

John Strong again led the Villanova natators in point scoring, annexing the 50-yard freestyle, the 100-yard breast stroke events, and swam anchor man on the winning 200-yard relay team.

The Wildcats took the lead from the beginning, placing first and second in the 50-yard dash. Jim Downey, swimming his last race for the Blue and White, was nosed out by his teammate, John Strong. Downey held the lead most of the way, but Strong, making a great finish, won by a fraction of a second.

Hines Takes Feature

Bill Hines, in the feature race of the evening, won his favorite event, the 100-yard free style, by a close margin over Smith, of the Medical College. This race was a nonpareil of swimming thrills. Hines managed to touch the tile ahead of his Philadelphia rival after a thrilling neck and neck sprint down the home stretch.

Villanova showed supremacy in the 100-yard breast stroke, with Strong and Laughlin finishing first and second, respectively. This race saw both Wildcat swimmers matching stroke for stroke up until the last few yards, where Strong literally leaped out of the water to snatch a victory.

Hahnemann Rallies

Hahnemann retaliated in the next two events by taking first and second in the 220-yard grind, and first and third in the backstroke. This was Hahnemann's final but futile effort to turn the tide. Bill Cashman, of the visitors, garnered firsts in both events. Diminutive Jack Hosey, the 'Cats backstroke artist, had to be content with a second place.

The 200-yard relay, the last event on the program, was won very handily by Villanova. The quartet of Downey, McGee, O'Hara and Strong splashed to an easy victory in 1 minute 53.5.

Season Was Good

Villanova concluded its season, according three victories against two defeats, a total of .600 per cent., in the first year of competition. The two setbacks were handed out in the initial contests of the season by the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy. The 'Cats rallied in the next two encounters and outsplashed the West Chester Teachers College twice in succession.

Coach Gill after the Hahnemann meet stated that he was highly pleased with the showing the team made this year. He expects a much stronger representation next year since most of the swimmers will be back again. Bill Hines and Jim Downey are the only varsity men who will be lost through graduation.

Reorganization Helps

The Villanova mermen showed an added improvement in each successive meet as the season progressed. After a rather shaky start losing every first place in the first two

Continued on Page Seven

THIRTEEN MATCHES LISTED FOR TENNIS

Five Pending Contests May Lengthen Schedule to Longest in History

Thirteen matches have already been definitely arranged, and the plans for the season are almost completed, according to an announcement by James Carr, manager of the Villanova tennis team. Besides the matches listed below, five contests are still pending, and, in the event that these contacts are made, this will be one of the longest schedules in Villanova tennis history.

The outstanding feature of the season will be a three-day trip when Bucknell, Juniata and Susquehanna will supply the opposition. This venture will take place during the first week in May.

In addition to the matches listed acceptances are expected from La Salle, Drexel, Gettysburg and Pennsylvania in the near future.

Outlook Is Bright

The outlook for this year's team is considerably brighter than that of last year. The return of Bill Orcutt should go toward adding great strength to the remainder of the men from the 1933 squad.

The season will open with a match with West Chester on the home courts on Monday, April 16. Six weeks will be consumed in completing the engagements.

In 1932 the tennis team had the second high average of the varsity sports. The 1933 team failed to live up to this reputation. Captain Orcutt believes that the 1934 squad will have a most successful term and put tennis back on the high level which it is accustomed to occupying.

The courts will be placed in condition immediately after the holidays, so that the players can get into shape.

The schedule to date is as follows:

April 16—West Chester, home.
" 24—Osteopathy, home.
" 27—Ursinus, home.
" 30—Osteopathy, away.
May 3—Albright, home.
" 4—Bucknell, away.
" 5—Juniata, away.
" 8—West Chester, away.
" 12—Juniata, home.
" 15—Albright, away.
" 18—Ursinus, home.
" 19—Bucknell, home.
" 20—Temple, home.

Day Hops Repeat in Intra-Mural Swim Meet

COMMUTERS SCORE FOR SECOND TIME; AUSTIN IS SECOND

Win Four Out of Six Firsts to Pile Up Total of 28 Points

CAPT. STRONG IS VICTOR; O'HARA SPLASHES TO WIN

Fedigan Saved From Shutout by Bill Hines in Century Dash

The Day Hops, door-mats of the other teams in all other sports, rose up in fury last Friday evening and successfully defended their intra-mural swimming crown in the annual meet held in the college pool. The "Train and Trolley" boys put up a great exhibition and won by a wide margin, surpassing their closest competitors, Austin Hall, by 16 points.

Frank O'Hara, a freshman business man and a Day Hop, was the individual star of the meet, amassing a total of 11 points by virtue of a first place in the 200-yard free style and a second in both the 50-yard breast stroke and the 50-yard backstroke. Paul Loughlin was the best performer for the resident teams. Representing Alumni Hall he won first place in the 50-yard breast stroke and a third place in the 50-yard back stroke.

Austin Leads

The meet opened with the 50-yard dash. Jim Downey, of Austin Hall, left the large field in his wake and navigated the course in 30 seconds flat. Walt Coyle, another Austin Hall representative, was a close second and led Jack Hosey, of the Day Hops, by a slight margin.

The next event marked O'Hara's victory. The event was the 200-yard free style and his time for the distance was 3.25. Chase Riley, of Austin Hall, swam a fine race and finished a good second in the gruelling grind. McAuliffe, of Mendel, the only other entrant to finish, was almost two laps behind the winner but finished and thereby garnered his team its first point.

Hosey Scores

Hosey, of the Day Hops, won another of his team's four first places by leading the field in the 50-yard backstroke. O'Hara was second and Loughlin was third. Loughlin, of Alumni, won the 50-yard breast stroke with the time of 39.8 seconds. O'Hara garnered another second place and John Strong, captain-elect of the varsity swimming team, finished in third position.

Strong came through to win first place in the 100-yard dash in the slow time of 1.06 minutes. Hines, of Fedigan, was second and Walter "Float" Foley, of Austin Hall, was third.

The feature event of the night was last on the card, the 200-yard relay. This race was also won by the buoyant Day Hops and what is even more remarkable was the fact that instead of using the regulation four men with each swimming 50 yards, they used but three men and Strong swam 100 yards. Mendel Hall was a close second with Joe McCabe and Frank Tennyson keeping their quartet close to the ultimate victors.

200-yard relay — Day Hops: Hosey, Strong and O'Hara; second, Mendel: Waymeyer, McCabe, Rodman Tennyson; third, Alumni: Casey, Searight, Morrison and Loughlin. Time, 2.05 min.

50-yard dash—Downey, Austin; Coyle, Austin; Hosey, Day Hops. Time, 30 sec.

200-yard freestyle—O'Hara, Day Hops, first; Riley, Austin, second; McAuliffe, third. Time, 3.25 min.

50-yard backstroke—Hosey, Day Hops, first; O'Hara, Day Hops, second; Loughlin, Alumni. Time 37.2 sec.

50-yard breastatroke—Loughlin, Alumni; O'Hara, Day Hops, second; Strong, Day Hops, third. Time, 39.8 sec.

100-yard dash—Strong, Day Hops, first; Hines, Fedigan, second; Foley, Austin, third. Time, 1.06 min.

Timer, Conroy. Judges, Rev. Bernard McConville, O. S. A., Harry Stuhldreher.

In the Limelight

HI, Antony!" will serve to introduce you to one of the college's most prominent figures. Everybody knows him, and if you don't you ought to go out and hide in a hole. However, for some stooges, he's Stanley Wronski, baseball captain extraordinary.

When he was born in Chicago, on May 15, 1911, the metropolis of the Midwest wasn't the joint that it is now. Al Capone was just getting into long pants, and things were rather quiet. 'Ve are a bit doubtful of Stan's earlier years, but he played baseball while in St. Rita's High and graduated as the team's captain. He then went to Notre Dame, but nothing much happened to him while out there.

'Way back in 1930, Stan strode proudly up the picturesque paths of Villanova dragging two heavy grips. He was welcomed boisterously by the rowdy V. C. and soon became acquainted with the ins and outs of the place. In the early spring when the snow was off the ground, he reported for the frosh nine. In those days, the frosh played the Eastern Pen. When Stan heard that, he promptly handed in his suit. However, Doc Jacobs reassured him that the players weren't fingerprinted, so Stan played again. We won't mention the score of that game, though. The frosh had a great year, however. They lost only two out of five games, so it might have been worse.

The stage bug hit Stan in his junior year and he hied away to join the bouncing babies of the Turf and Tinsel. After many long hours of practice, he got disgusted and quit cold. But he wasn't satisfied. He had to be in some way connected with the club. So he was put in charge of all programs. He has held down that job ever since. For the present Turf and Tinsel, he has devised his masterpiece in program building. Watch for it. He joined up with the big boys in the spring, when he played varsity ball. That year the team made a triumphal tour of New England. They played a number of teams and only lost one game.

Stan Wronski

Next year Stan was eligible for the Varsity Club. He landed in that with both feet and he found himself appointed to the dance committee, the ol' smoothie! He held down his right garden capably, and poled out a goodly number of tallies. He wouldn't tell us much about himself then and this is all we got. "Look Who's Here" was the Turf and Tinsel production for last year, and did you see "Stanley Wronski, Program Committee" in nice big blue letters?

Stan doesn't manicure his nails nor does he eat grass when he's angry. He wants to be a professional ball player when he graduates and if not, he has other verra definite plans. His appointment as this year's baseball captain was practically unanimous. Pretty good choice, too.

'CATS' MEOW

SHUX, fellers, all good things come to an end. This is the last column for the old staff—

—V—

Every dog has its day. The worm will turn, and stuff.

—V—

It is rumored that the next editor-in-chief is a smoothy. What, another one.

—V—

No more talking about Randour's lovely hair, or Grimberg's lack of it, or O'Donnell's curls, or Shevlin's muscles, or Michaels' helmet, or Fenstemacher's girls, or Patzsch's one-yard, or Cavanaugh's ties, or the scoreless $1.50's.

—V—

The days of riding on the floors of buses are ended.

—V—

And also the days of argumentation with Al Severance are (almost) thru.

—V—

Gleanings, by Holmes, will also sing its swan song. Artie Hart and Hubie Gallagher can resume normal life and social activities.

—V—

Fetlock Sholmes will stop giving himself publicity.

—V—

"Simon Legree" Harter becomes the forgotten man.

—V—

"Henpecked Goggi will still be henpecked.

—V—

Temple may still be the Owls, but to us they will be "the team we beat last week."

—V—

All the bright stars of 1933-34 are fading at the same time.

—V—

We list Randour, Hughes and Keating.

—V—

"In other words, we're through.

NO UPSET NERVES FOR HIM

I'VE ESCAPED FROM "NERVES" SINCE I TURNED TO CAMELS. I CAN SMOKE MORE, AND I ENJOY MY SMOKING MORE, TOO!

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS

YOU CAN SMOKE THEM STEADILY... BECAUSE THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES... NEVER TIRE YOUR TASTE!

SUCCESS PREDICTED FOR ALUMNI BALL IN GYM ON APRIL 6

Nelson Maples' Orchestra Will Be Featured Musical Attraction

THEME WILL BE NAUTICAL

Continued From Page One

a member of Paul Whiteman's internationally-known orchestra. The ability possessed by Maples was held in such high esteem by the "King of Jazz," that he featured him in his aggregation for four successive years.

Shortly after this period he was sent by Whiteman to direct various units of his organization that were playing in the leading hotels and theatres throughout the country. Following his success in his initial efforts as a conductor, he struck out on his own, recruited a number of talented musicians and directed them on board the S. S. Leviathan.

One of radio's most popular artists, Morton Downey, began his career with Nelson Maples. He was the featured soloist with Mr. Maples for two years. At the present time the vocalists with the orchestra are Sterling Brant and Mary, Harris.

Pianist to Be Here

Also on hand for the evening will be Ben Greenblatt, widely known Philadelphia pianist. Mr. Greenblatt, who is one of Philadelphia's leading musical teachers and rated among the best pianists of the country, will guard against any dull moments during the orchestral intermissions.

The pictures of ships and sea suggested by the names of the orchestras, will find expression in the decorative scheme to be employed by the alumni for this dance.

The gymnasium will be transformed to resemble the interior of a capital high-seas liner. All the accessories, signal flares, life preservers, ship's bells, foghorns and even oil lamps, have been purchased by the committee in charge of decorations, and will soon be set up in the gym.

BELGIANS CONFER HONOR ON PRIEST

Abbe Georges Lemaitre, 1934 Mendel Medalist, Gets 500,000 Francs

Abbe Georges Lemaitre, 1934 Mendel medalist, has recently been awarded the Francqui Prize of the Francqui Foundation of Belgium. The Francqui Prize has a value of 500,000 Belgian francs, and is awarded annually to a Belgian who has made an important contribution to science in such a way as to increase the prestige of that country.

The Francqui Foundation was established in 1932 to aid the development of higher education and scientific research in Belgium. It receives its name in honor of Emile Francqui, Minister of State, President of the Fondation Universitaire of Belgium and collaborator with Herbert Hoover in the World War relief work in Belgium.

Abbe Lemaitre was nominated for the prize by Prof. Albert Einstein, Baron Charles de la Vallee Poussin, distinguished Belgian mathematician, and Count A. Lemptinne of the Belgian Royal Academy.

The Abbe is professor of astrophysics at the University of Louvain and was visiting professor at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., until February, when he returned to Belgium. His theory of the expanding universe has been hailed by Prof. Einstein as being "the most satisfactory yet presented."

The Mendel Medal was awarded to Abbe Lemaitre on January 15, at a special faculty dinner, held in Mendel Hall, at which prominent men and educators were present. Abbe is the sixth noted scientist to receive the award made annually by the college to a Catholic distinguished service to science.

TWO ATTRACTIVE HOSTESSES FOR ALUMNI BALL

Miss Catherine M. Freney, (left), Rosemont College senior, of Melrose Park, Pa., and Miss Rose Anne R. Richards, of Philadelphia, and member of the class of 1930 at Vassar College, who will be among those in the receiving line at the Alumni Ball to be held in the college gymnasium, Friday evening, April 6.

Current Money Problems Discussed By Fr. Bartley at Alumni Lecture

Dean of School of Commerce and Finance Is Final Speaker in Series of Talks Under Auspices of National Graduate Assn.

The concluding lecture of the current series presented by the Alumni Association of Villanova College was delivered in the auditorium of the School of Commerce and Finance, last Tuesday evening, by the Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., dean of the Business School. Fr. Bartley's topic was "The Present Status of the Monetary Question."

Albert C. Wagner, alumni secretary, introduced the speaker, and at the same time expressed the appreciation of the alumni for the manifest cooperation on the part of the audience during the series. Mr. Wagner also stated that there would possibly be another lecture-series presented by the alumni next year, but of some longer duration.

The lecture presented was divided into three parts. The first dealt with the basic principles of money; the second part traced the relation which money possesses with regard to prices; and the last showed the various legislative acts on the part of the administration during its first year of tenure.

Economics Explained

In his opening address to the assembled gathering, Fr. Bartley explained the complexity of the study of economics and expressed his doubt concerning the interest displayed by the American people with regard to the subject matter of economics. Later he pointed out the various fallacies of the gold purchase plan, which was adopted by the administration in an attempt to raise commodity prices.

At the conclusion of his address, Fr. Bartley requested that those members of the audience who wished to have certain phases of his talk clarified might do so by asking him questions relating to his address.

Immediately previous to the close of the evening's discussion, John A. Freney, president of the Villanova College Alumni Association, addressed the audience, expressing the appreciation of the alumni for the honor granted them by Fr. Bartley through his acceptance of their invitation.

Tower Theatre
69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—
Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.

Today, Wed. & Thurs.
"MISS FANE'S BABY IS STOLEN"
with DOROTHEA WIECK, ALICE BRADY and Baby Leroy

Fri., Sat. & Mon.
"THE CAT AND THE FIDDLE"
with JEANETTE McDONALD, RAMON NOVARRO, CHARLES BUTTERWORTH and VIVIENNE SEGAL

ARDMORE
A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11

Today
"GALLANT LADY"
with ANN HARDING and CLIVE BROOK

Wed. & Thurs.
STAN LAUREL, OLIVER HARDY and CHARLIE CHASE in "SONS OF THE DESERT"
Also short reel with Fr. Coughlin

Fri. & Sat.
"ALL OF ME"
with FREDRIC MARCH, MIRIAM HOPKINS and GEORGE RAFT

Monday
GRETA GARBO in "QUEEN CHRISTINA"

Anthony Wayne Theatre

Today
"MASSACRE"
with RICHARD BARTHELMESS

Wed. & Thurs.
"COUNSELLOR AT LAW"
with JOHN BARRYMORE

Fri. & Sat.
"DINNER AT EIGHT"
with MARIE DRESSLER, WALLACE BEERY, JOHN AND LIONEL BARRYMORE, JEAN HARLOW and others

Monday
"ROMAN SCANDALS"
with EDDIE CANTOR and RUTH ETTING

Seville Theatre

Today
"ONE MAN'S JOURNEY"
with LIONEL BARRYMORE

Wed. & Thurs.
"ANN VICKERS"
with IRENE DUNNE and WALTER HUSTON

Friday
"KING OF KINGS"

Saturday
"BOMBAY MAIL"
with EDMUND LOWE and RALPH FORBES

Monday
"MORNING GLORY"
with KATHARINE HEPBURN

VILLANOVA GOLFERS READY FOR BOSTON

Weather Conditions Postpone Annual Tournament to Select Team

A little more than a week remains before the Villanova golf team will meet its first opponents. The initial contest will be held with the representatives of Boston College, and the match will be held on the St. David's open course.

With weather conditions as they have been, any thoughts of holding a tournament have been discarded until a later date.

The team which will meet the Bostonians will be made up of players who took part in matches last year, and the selection of the team for the first few matches rests with Jim Elliott, who is the most seasoned of the remaining veterans, and manager Lou Marechal.

B. C.'s Second Match

The Boston College team, previous to its meeting with Villanova, will engage the Washington and Lee aggregation down in Virginia. W. and L. has long been one of the leaders in the field of intercollegiate golf, and the Chestnut Hill school must have a strong squad if they intend to come to these parts to engage the southerners.

All the men who have signified their intention of being candidates for the Wildcat links team should, if possible, get in a good amount of practice during the holidays, so that they may be able to give a good account of themselves in any of the matches that they might be called on to play.

The pending match with the Philmont Country Club has been cancelled because the clubmen are not playing any teams outside of those in the club league. The Villanova schedule now lists 13 matches.

Swimmers Defeat Hahnemann Outfit

Continued From Page Five

meets, Mr. Gill reorganized the team and sent in a new combination against the Teachers. This innovation brought about much better results and the Cats did not lose a meet since the change.

Mr. Gill began the organization of Villanova's first swimming team early in January. He had previously planned to have a team last year, but the necessary support for the new sport was lacking in the student body. When the first call for candidates was issued this year very few swimmers reported for the first practice. It was only through the untiring efforts of Coach Gill that this new sport in the Villanova athletic program was realized.

The members of this year's swimming team will receive letter awards for their services.

Summary:

200-yard relay—Won by Villanova (Downey, McGee, O'Hara, Strong); second, Hahnemann. Time, 1 min. 53 5-10 sec.

50-yard freestyle—Won by Strong, Villanova; second, Downey, Villanova; third, Atkinson, Hahnemann. Time, 27 2-10 sec.

100-yard backstroke—Won by Cashman, Hahnemann; second, Hosey, Villanova; third, Smith, Hahnemann. Time, 1 min. 15 6-10 sec.

220-yard freestyle—Won by Cashman; Second, Pratt, Hahnemann; third, O'Hara, Villanova. Time, 3 min. 47 7-10 sec.

100-yard breastatroke—Won by Strong, Villanova; second, Loughlin, Villanova; third, Hafer, Hahnemann. Time, 1 min. 25 6-10 sec.

100-yard freestroke—Won by Hines, Villanova; second, Smith, Hahnemann; third, Coyle, Villanova. Time 1 min. 4 1-10 sec.

A THREE-MINUTE THRILL
For 35 Cents!

HERE'S a thrill to liven the dullest evening—telephone Home. A chat with the Family is just like seeing them. It's a pleasure for them as it is for you.

Call them tonight. After 8:30 P. M. (Standard Time) go to a telephone and give the Operator the number. Then "hold the line" . . . it's as easy as it's inexpensive.

The cost—if your home is within 100 miles—is only 35 cents for a three-minute talk. For further distances and longer conversations, the rates are proportionately low.

• • •

FOR LOWEST COST always REMEMBER . . .

FIRST: The low Night Rates are effective after 8:30 P. M. Standard Time (9:30 P. M. Daylight Saving Time).

SECOND: Night Rates apply only on Station to Station calls—that is, on calls for a telephone, but not for a specific person.

THIRD: Make a "date" to telephone home regularly once a week. Then the folks will be waiting for your call and you'll not waste any of the 3-minute talking period.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

WILDCAT TRACKMEN SHOW INDOOR FORM IN WINTER SEASON

Relay Team Surprised in Meet by Beating Catholic U., La-Salle and Lafayette

MUCH EXPERIENCE EARNED

During the past indoor season Villanova's track team made two appearances in collegiate track circles. Considering the available material and adverse weather conditions that the team had to contend with, it may be said that they had a successful indoor season.

A squad of four men carried the standards for Villanova at Morgantown, West Virginia, on February 10. In this meet, sponsored by the University of West Virginia, Villanova came away with eight medals and finished second in the point scoring.

Fenstemacher Flashes

Captain Joe Fenstemacher carried away the honors in the 70-yard dash, in the good time of 7.3 seconds.

Jim Elliott placed second in a fast half-mile. He was nosed out by inches at the tape.

Carl Hickey came through with the individual honors by virtue of a first place in the broad jump and a second in the pole vault.

A medley relay team made up of Kramer, Hickey, Fenstemacher and Elliott placed third to Michigan State and Pitt in a closely contested race.

Run at Catholic U.

The trackmen made their next bow on February 24 at Washington, D. C., in a meet sponsored by Catholic University.

Elliott ran second to Harvey, of Penn State, in the Ryan 1000-yard run, one of the feature races of the evening. For his first attempt at this distance "Jumbo" turned in a good performance.

Fenstemacher placed second to Widmeyer, of Maryland University, in the 50-yard Abbey Club invitation dash.

Alex Kramer, conceding his opponents' large handicaps in the 440-yard run, ran a brilliant race through a field of 20 contestants to finish in third place.

Relay Wins

The one-mile relay team pulled the major surprise of the evening by defeating the strong teams of Catholic U., Lafayette and La Salle. Those who were fortunate enough to witness this breath-taking race, watched the Villanova Blue and White fight to the front and stay there against stronger competition as the baton was carried in a life and death effort by Kramer, Bobertz, Wrona and Elliott in turn. No one was more surprised than those Villanova rooters at Washington, who knew the comparative strength of the teams and had conceded Villanova but a slim chance of carrying home first place medals.

The running of Jim Downey, Frank Connell, and Art Mahan is worthy of note. While these men were unable to place, they gained valuable experience for themselves and more is expected of them in the future.

Intra-Mural Track Meet

The intra-mural track and field meet, to determine the individual and team champions for 1934, will be held on April 18 and 19. It was decided that the meet had reached the proportions of a two-day carnival as a result of the large number of competitors last year.

Keen competition is expected in all events, and all potential contestants are urged to start light training. After the Easter holidays, coaches will be appointed for the various teams, and equipment will be issued as far as possible.

'Decline of Capitalism' Is Subject Of Interesting Address to Artsmen

An interesting and timely lecture on "The Decline of Capitalism" was presented by Lawrence Goldschmidt, a junior in the School of Arts, at the weekly seminar of that school, last Thursday.

After defining capitalism and pointing out that the capitalism referred to in his talk was the unregulated trial and error method of the past century and a half, the speaker defined the New Deal as a social, political and economic system based on social justice. In the economic realism the New Deal means economic distribution so that the great material progress of the present age will be equitably and justly diffused to all the people.

Goldschmidt then explained how the great inventions of the Industrial Revolution were financed by the increase in wealth from the Colonial possessions of the Old World countries. This brought about a great material progress, but was harmful in creating an unprecedented urbanization of population and in making labor the slave to industry.

Capitalism was based on a theory of economic liberalism and was characterized by a lack of learning so that unequal distribution of wealth, over-capitalization and over-production resulted, not only in industry, but also in agriculture, which likewise felt the great inventions. This is the real cause of the present suffering in lands of plenty. The speaker said that nationalism with its tariffs also resulted, a fact which contributed to the World War.

"In their greed to amass wealth, capitalists formed monopolies," he said. This was only partially controlled by the anti-trust laws. These laws were harmful insofar as they prevented any co-operation between the members of labor and industry. Stock speculation was also cited by the speaker as an evil of capitalism.

"The political theory upon which capitalism thrived was laissezfaire," Goldschmidt said. In order to continue this favorable doctrine capital took a hand in Government, a fact which caused graft and corruption.

The speaker showed how capitalism operates. When a market was sated, the capitalist sought to reduce prices. Eventually, the only alternative was reduction of wages, which caused sweat shops to arise, markets to shrink, and unemployment and depression to follow. Then the capitalists sought foreign markets, but they were closed by tariff walls and quotas.

Baseballers Ready To Meet Princeton

Continued From Page Five

held down by Art Mahan, who starred for the frosh nine last year. Stan Wronski, captain of the team, will play second base. Filling up the hole between second and third, we find Villanova's able field general of the past football season, Bill Cavanaugh. The question of the guardianship of the "dizzy corner" is undecided. It is a toss-up between Ben Geraghty and Frank Skaff.

The outfield is composed of Jim Murphy "Jocko" Hurley, Charley Huribut, and Carrol Cook. Although Cook is a junior, this is his first appearance in varsity togs.

With that crop of seasoned veterans in the infield and outfield, and with any luck at all with the pitching staff, "Doc" ought to have a baseball squad even better than his fine court team that just completed an enviable record.

Candidates Report For Outdoor Track

Continued From Page Five

ry and White. To make this hope a reality, all those able to participate in track and field events must come forth and present their best talents.

On account of the spring football training, Coach Bob Reagan will be unable to give as much time to track for the next few weeks as he did during the indoor season. To offset this handicap, experienced members of the team will gladly offer their assistance in matters pertaining to running during this time.

A large number of freshmen also reported at this meeting. Most of them have had little or no experience.

Alumnus Explains Success of Meeting

Continued From Page One

The dance problem is settled.

The suggestion of holding an annual dinner in New York is proposed by the president. He asks for thoughts of the members on the matter. An agreement is secured to hold it in the fall.

Any further business, old or new? No. Meeting adjourned.

Wait a minute! The score-board in the bowling alleys shows that Villanova dropped a game in Intercollegiate Bowling League to Manhattan. But our best strong-arm men were marooned in Flatbush that night by the "Blizzard of '34." We'll beat them next time.

Now for the bowling alleys and the Tap Room to spend the remainder of a fast passing night. Here, in the atmosphere of an old English tavern, gentlemen of the finest breed drink toasts, back their future against their past and engage between themselves in the sport of ten-pins.

—what it means —to keep on hand 350,000 bales of Turkish tobacco

to add something to the taste

So important is Turkish tobacco in the Chesterfield blend that we maintain a modern up-to-date tobacco factory in the far-off city of Smyrna.

Turkish tobacco adds something to the taste and aroma of a cigarette that no other tobacco can give.

It means something that Chesterfield always has in storage upwards of 350,000 bales of this aromatic Turkish leaf.

This Turkish tobacco is blended and cross-blended with ripe mild home-grown tobaccos to give Chesterfields a taste and aroma that is not like other cigarettes.

Everything that money can buy is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Baseball! Tomorrow Afternoon Wildcats Play Penn At Franklin Field Game Begins, 2.30 P.M.

VILLANOVAN

Card Party-Dance! In Gym Tonight Starts at 8.30 P. M. $25 Door Prize Support the Augustinian Guild

Vol. 6—No. 22 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 10, 1934 Price: Five Cents

AUGUSTINIAN GUILD TO PRESENT SOCIAL IN GYMNASIUM HERE

Card Playing Will Commence at 8.30; Dancing After Leading Event

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT TO BE ALSO FEATURED

Beautiful Prizes Comprising Lamp, Radio and Money to Be Given Away

Final preparations for the mammoth card party dance and entertainment to be held tonight under the sponsorship of the Augustinian Guild, were discussed and settled last Tuesday night at a meeting of the committees in the college gymnasium.

The primary purpose of the conclave was accomplished in formulating the program for the social. It will consist mainly of card playing and dancing interspersed with professional vaudeville entertainment under the direction of Charles B. O'Connor.

Card playing will begin promptly at 8.30 and will continue until 10.00 o'clock. The games will consist of bridge, 500, pinochle and euchre, and the rules for the games will be made up by the players at each table. Besides these, a game of radio, which is somewhat similar to bingo, will also be played by those who desire to do so.

Many Prizes

A huge collection of prizes has been sent in for the affair by various business concerns and individuals and they will all be displayed for inspection by patrons of the social. Two prizes have been allotted to each card table.

Following the games dancing will begin at approximately 10.00 o'clock, featuring the Villanovans and their

Continued on Page Three

OLD GRADS' FROLIC IS WELL ATTENDED

Maples' Orchestra Featured at Annual Dance in College Gymnasium

More than 200 couples attended the second annual ball of the Philadelphia chapter of the National Alumni Association held in the college gym, Friday evening. The group was comprised primarily of members of the local organization and the student body, but many nearby out-of-town chapters sent representative delegates to attend the social.

Dancing started at 10 o'clock and ended at 2 A. M. Nelson Maples and His S. S. Leviathan Orchestra and Joe Melo and His Midshipmen supplied continual music. During brief intermissions, those attending were delighted with a clever presentation of tap dances by a negro entertainer.

The entire gymnasium was gayly decorated to resemble the deck of a steamship. Both orchestras were placed on the dance floor opposite one another. Ship flags were strung from the balconies, and bunting, ship bells, running lights, life preservers and oars were placed in various sections of the gymnasium to give the scene an attractive appearance.

Visitors were impressed with the artistic decorations because it was the first time that the gymnasium had been decorated in that manner. Soon Maples' band proved to be

Continued on Page Seven

Failure to Return Proofs Keeps Photos From Annual

Once again the progress of the Belle Aire is held up by the tardiness of many seniors and juniors. This time it is due to their non-return of proofs. The date for the return of proofs was extended until Thursday, March 5, but as yet many upper classmen have failed in this regard. The representative of the Zamsky Studios will be on hand in the reception room in Mendel Hall tomorrow from 11 A. M. until 3 P. M. All proofs must be returned personally during these hours if the pictures are to be printed in the annual. Failure in this regard will mean the absence of the individual's photo.

Assessments for the pictures of campus organizations and clubs should have been paid on March 20. Edward Ocelus, business manager of the year book, intends to take up this matter with the presidents of the various organizations within the next few days.

Many upper classmen who ordered extra pictures have not called for them. They may obtain them at the room of William McCarthy, the photography editor, in Fedigan Hall.

A. S. M. E. CONVENES IN PHILADELPHIA

Interesting Program Planned for Students Attending This Affair

The annual student conference of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers is again being held at Drexel Institute in Philadelphia. The opening sessions were held yesterday and the concluding meetings will take place today.

A very interesting program has been arranged for the students attending this affair. Yesterday inspection trips were taken to the U. S. Naval Aircraft Factory, the E. G. Budd Body Works and the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society Building. At 2 P. M., there was a technical session in which students from various colleges competed. Due to the large number of colleges attending, the technical session had to be divided into two sections. The first included the following: Polytech Institute of Brooklyn, Columbia University, Cooper Union, University of Delaware, Drexel Institute, Lafayette College, Lehigh University, Newark College of Engineering and College of the City of New York.

In the evening a banquet was held at the Hotel Normandie and later in the evening an informal dance was given. This completed the program for yesterday.

Today there will be another tech-

Continued on Page Three

45 STUDENTS GIVEN RELIEF EMPLOYMENT UNDER STATE GRANT

Improvement of College Campus and Clerical Duties Main Types of Work

SALARIES WILL AVERAGE 20 DOLLARS PER MONTH

By RALPH VIOLETTI

Student employment relief work under the State Emergency Relief Bureau began at Villanova last Thursday, according to Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president. This work will continue during the months of April and May.

Funds for the work which the students are doing is supplied by the State Emergency Relief Bureau at Harrisburg, which is in turn supported by the Civil Works Administration at Washington.

According to Fr. Albers, the number of students that petitioned the relief fund was below expectations. Only 45 were accepted from 63 students who applied. The ineligible 18 men were not accepted because they were not behind in their payments to the college. The purpose of the Federal Emergency Relief Fund is to provide work for only those students who need assistance in paying for their tuition.

Pay Varies

The amount of remuneration for the work varies from 30 to 35 cents per hour. The maximum salary per month has been set at $20, while the average will be approximately $15. These funds, however, will not be turned over to the students in cash but will be used to reduce his financial obligations to the college.

The type of work done by the students is varied in its nature. It includes clerical work in the various offices of the college, general campus improvement, laboratory and library work.

A complete set of records of the relief work will be maintained. The names of students employed, the type of work they do, the number of hours they are employed and the pay they receive must be all carefully kept and filed with the department in Harrisburg.

A list has been posted by Fr. Albers assigning a certain number of students to the separate department heads for instruction. The Rev. Charles J. Melchior, O. S. A., named 18 students for general campus improvement, clerical, kitchen and janitor service.

Raymond J. McKeon, publicity director, was assigned six for mimeographing, clerical work, stories to newspapers and keeping a record of all Villanova College activities.

Albert C. Wagner, alumni secre-

Continued on Page Seven

JUNIOR GROUP SIGNS JACQUES RENARD FOR ANNUAL CLASS PROM

Renowned Columbia Broadcasting Band Has Been Judged One of Radio's Outstanding Musical Ensembles

VILLANOVAN STAFF FETED AT DINNER

Raymond J. Harter, Retiring Editor, Presented Pen by His Associates

Roof Pierre on 69th street, last Thursday evening, was the scene of the first annual dinner dance given in honor of the retiring members of the VILLANOVAN staff. It marked the first time in the history of the college weekly that any affair was tendered to the students in charge of the publication.

Immediately after the invocation, which was pronounced by Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A., faculty moderator of the VILLANOVAN, a filet mignon dinner was served. This took place in one of the private rooms set aside for banquets at the popular 69th street rendezvous.

Marechal Toastmaster

Following the dinner, Louis P. Marechal, the newly-appointed sports editor, gave the assemblage a hint as to his social abilities in the easy manner in which he performed his duties as toastmaster for the evening. In the absence of a gavel, Marechal obtained the attention of those present by employing a spoon and a glass as a means of rapping for order.

Staff Praised

Praise for their fine work on the paper was given the senior staff members by Fr. McKee, the first of the speakers introduced by the toastmaster. "It was due mainly to their efforts that the VILLANOVAN holds such a high position among college newspapers," said Fr. McKee.

He ended his short talk by expressing the opinion that the new staff would keep up the same excellent work that characterized the retiring group.

Raymond J. Harter, the retiring editor-in-chief, was the next speaker. Harter thanked the staff for the fine cooperation that it had given him and concluded by wishing his successors, "the best of luck in the job of keeping the paper up to the worthy standard that it has always enjoyed."

At the conclusion of Harter's speech, Edmond P. Reiley, the new editor-in-chief, was called upon to address those assembled. Reiley pledged his most sincere efforts in his new position, and in the name of the entire staff presented to Har-

Continued on Page Three

BLAZERS CHOSEN

Third Year Men Meet to Be Measured on Thursday

Jacques Renard and his Columbia Broadcasting Orchestra have been selected by the Junior Prom Committee to furnish the music at their dance, May 4.

John Hoey, president of the Junior Class announced that the price for the dance will be $4.50 and dancing will be held from 10 P. M. to 2 A. M. A combination price of $5.50 will include the Prom and the Blue Blazer Ball on the preceding evening. The admission charge for the Blazer Ball has not been decided by the committee.

After much discussion by the committee, the choice was narrowed down to such bands as Smith Ballew, Dorsey Brothers, Emerson Gill and Renard. The first named was declared ineligible because the actual signing of the contract would not go through until one week before the date selected for the dance.

Heard on Camel Hour

Renard received preference over the other orchestras because of his popularity in the New York and Boston areas. For one year he was the accompanist for Morton Downey and Tony Wons or the Camel Quartet Hour. Then he changed his affiliations to the Pontiac Hour with the famed Colonel Stoopnagle and Budd.

Renard is noted for his orchestra in the Boston area where he held sway for three years at the Cocoanut Grove Restaurant in the Hub

Continued on Page Seven

COMMITTEES READY FOR MODEL LEAGUE

Foreign Relations Society Sends Five Delegates to Bucknell University

An Intercollegiate Model League of Nations will convene Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa. The Foreign Relations Society will represent Villanova at the assembly.

The society has formed three committees to discuss current world topics at the conference. The first committee on the "Revision of Treaties," will be concerned with the reconsideration of the Versailles Treaty, the Treaty of St. Germain and the other international pacts with the view of making them more suitable to present-day affairs. This committee will be composed of Charles P. Goggi and Rafael Martinez Alvarez.

The next committee will be the Committee of Twenty-One on the Sino-Japanese Situation, composed of Joseph Arthur. It will deal with the resignation of Japan from the League of Nations. This committee will also see if Japan has fulfilled her international obligations before she resigned from the League.

The third committee, that on "Technical Changes," will discuss minor situations in European countries affected by the war treaties, and establish a Permanent Minorities Commission in the League of Nations. This committee will be represented by Robert A. Geist and Raymond J. Harter.

Plans for Sport Hop Are Concluded By Lambda Kappa Delta Fraternity

Final plans to hold its annual spring dance were made by the Lambda Kappa Delta fraternity at its last meeting. Robert A. Geist, chairman of the dance committee, issued a statement that all matters were well in hand and that the dance should prove highly successful.

Villanovans Will Play

The date set for the dance is Friday night, April 20, and will take place in the gym, which will be decorated in a special spring manner with a false ceiling set up. It is expected that the fraternity colors will adorn the walls and make it distinctive. The Villanovans will supply the rhythms in their own inimitable manner.

Judging from the sale of the tickets there is every reason to believe that the dance will be well attended and that a fine time is in store. These dances have been consistently enjoyable and highly successful affairs and for that reason the fraternity predicts its spring dance will be the acme of success to date.

Favors To Be Given

Novel favors of a new and unusual type will be given at the dance. The edges will be trimmed in the fraternity colors, black and red. The social will commence at 9 P. M. and will end at 1 A. M. Subscription for the dance will be $1.50. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the fraternity.

The dance committee under chairman Geist is working diligently to insure the success of the affair. Those working with Geist are: Tickets: Harold Kornfeld, Gabriel Martyak and Benjamin Maloney; programs: Peter Faso, Mario Trancelletti and John Acompora; orchestra: George D. Gartland and Frank Wixted; advertising: Pio Goggi and William Holmes.

FR. ALBERS SPEAKS

Talks on Many Advantages Offered by a Catholic Education

Before an audience estimated at 600 people, consisting of members of the Bristol Council No. 906 of the Knights of Columbus, and the Bristol, Pa., group of the Catholic Daughters of America, Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, gave an address on "Catholic Education," last night in the Knights of Columbus home in Bristol, Pa.

Fr. Albers spoke of the advantage of a Catholic education, and the special facilities for educational, spiritual, cultural and physical development offered by Villanova. In conjunction with his talk, the movie, "College Life at Villanova," was shown by George Gartland, a junior in the School of Science.

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DIJOSEPH, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager

Associate College Editor Edmond C. Malhame, '35
Associate Sports Editor William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff
Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — Ralph Violetti, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers
Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Flo Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff
Edward Kelly, '37 — Peter Fano, '36
Joseph Mele, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - APRIL 10, 1934

OUR TRIBUTE

IT SEEMED an interminably long time to wait before the present editors of the VILLANOVAN could take over the duties of publishing this paper. But now that the journalistic obligations have actually fallen upon us, it is with a feeling of trepidation that we put out this—our initial edition. It is not that we fear any adverse criticism that may be forthcoming from the general student body. That is the least of our worries. What we are most anxious about is the reaction of the departing staff to the work of their successors. They have been listening to our talk about what we were going to do when we assumed control of the paper. Now that it is actually in our hands we realize what splendid success they attained and what a difficult task we shall have in reaching the standard they have set. That we shall miss them goes without saying. Anyone who has enjoyed their association for as long a period as we have, realizes what a depressed feeling their absence leaves. We heartily bid the farewell, and wish them the best of luck in all of their future undertakings.

DRESS UP

FOR SOME time this paper has refrained from commenting on a subject which has long been literally a thorn in our side. In fact, so widespread has been the comment of late, that we feel the sooner the matter is delivered for the deep consideration of the students, the quicker will be the general reaction. We speak of the marked indifference with which the average Villanova man dresses for attending class or the dining hall. An outsider, riding through the campus and seeing some of those who boast of their membership in our student body, might be struck with the thought of turning back to one of the many entrances to see if by mistake he had come into a shelter for homeless men instead of one of the leading American colleges. Yet the paradox of the whole thing is that those very persons who have an unkempt appearance within the confines of the college are veritable fashion plates when they are preparing to return home or to keep a date with some sweet young thing. Thus we feel it is not for the want of clothing, because with proper application a man with one suit can be well dressed, but rather it is crass neglect and disrespect for the standards of the college. In conclusion we appeal to the sense of responsibility of each man to look to himself and consider that the habits one forms now will have a definite effect on his position later in life. The average person looks to the American college man as a model for correct dress, so why not make an effort to maintain the place he enjoys in the sun?

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

FINIS to the careers of the VILLANOVAN staff. In a manner most fitting were these retiring members eulogized and awarded with tokens of esteem at a dinner-dance at Pierre's given in their honor. Time has robbed the VILLANOVAN writers who would enhance the literary value of any newspaper. They have answered the last curtain call and despite the tumultuous applause of keen appreciation, sadly will not and cannot answer encore! May we, their successors, prove worthy of our charge.

By this time the selection of the Junior Prom orchestra should have been done with and the rumors of the great bands that were to be signed stilled. Although many unpleasantries attended the prom committee's execution of their work, the pleasantries were more in the balance. So long as plentiful excitement and much food for talk was provided the college reveled. Like the boyfriend who called on his girl and asked how her sister was, not that he cared, but it made conversation, appeared to be the attitude of some. There was one lad, woefully gullible, who on hearing, falsely of course, that Hal Kemp was the committee's choice for six hundred dollars, went around claiming they were being rooked. Hal Kemp's band, it is interesting to note, sells for eighteen hundred dollars!

George Covallo, the Somerset Sheik, certainly likes his dates. This column's system of espionage has this to report about George: That of the seven nights home he had seven dates. Why George, that's as many as the average dater has in two months! Perhaps you'd let us in on how it's done? It might make the summer most enjoyable!

Coach Stuhldreher has a new name for Fran Foster, the stocky guard from Chi', the city that has kept the firearms and accessory industries booming for years. Since Fran did not manifest any signs of dislike at the moniker when so addressed by the coach, this column believes it may, without too serious transgression, give you Fran's new handlebar—"Stockyard."

Just to show how true is the Biblical saying, interpreted in the vernacular, "there is no honor for a body in his hometown," do I mention the writeup on the VILLANOVAN appointments given in my city paper. There, on the paper's second page was a picture of our handsome new editor, Ed Reiley. Paragraph upon paragraph was employed to tell of this youth's achievements and abilities. Then, down at the very bottom of the article in an "Oh, yes, somebody or other got some job or other," was my name, the middle initial wrong and the address ancient history. All in all my appointment as columnist caused as much excitement at home as the news that John Nance Garner was successfully elected vice-president.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

HIYAH, FOLKS, meet the new collegiate cameraman, Joseph Lilly, our predecessor relinquished his crank to us last Thursday night at our gala banquet after he received that well-earned VILLANOVAN key. Now it is our turn to spin the reel. Goodby to Lilly and all his humor. He did a good job, but all good things must come to an end. As the new editor we will do the foaming from now until our king, "Simon Legree II," abdicates his throne.

• • •

"Fined six cents for wearing your hat within the school walls!" This is what a group of students at Union College were told by the prefect of discipline because they absolutely refused to refrain from going hatless while on the campus. So what? Last year some students at Villanova College were fined $1 when they were seen walking on the grass.

• • •

Students at Purdue U. seem to be over-enthusiastic over the new prohibition amendment. A flash from that institution assures the fact. A professor entered a class which had all the indications that silence wasn't golden. He ejaculated, "Gentlemen, order," and the reply came lustily enough, "Beer!"

• • •

A collegian's paradise will be found at Olivet College, of Michigan, next year. An educational experiment being performed by the president of that institution abolishes class attendance, hours, credits and other compulsory features of college education. Instead of the usual procedure students will use the mornings for study, afternoons for athletics and evenings for organized debates, discussions and social affairs. Professors will be tutors. The new system, avers the president, puts the business of obtaining an education strictly on the student's own initiative.

• • •

That secret boyhood ambition to be a cop can at last be materialized. According to a statement made by the president of the Educational Press Association of America, college graduates make the most competent policemen because of their sense of responsibility and bribe-proof intellects.

• • •

Reports had come to the president of a famous Eastern college that one of the students was drinking too much, or at least more than his anatomy could stand. Meeting the offender on the campus one morning the university head stopped him and said, severely: "Young man, do you drink?" "Well . . . why," the student hesitated, "not so early in the morning, thank you, doctor."

• • •

From New York University we hear that personality tests for the screen are offered to students at various times during the academic year. The students judge whether a candidate has improved or slumped in magnetism and charm. Some of the Villanova Clark Gables and Don Quixotes would welcome such tests on our campus. Why not?

As We See It

THE GATHERING STORM

THE WORLD once more faces the prospect of war in the not very distant future: Such is the opinion of most serious observers of world events. One may perhaps smile at the trouble over the Chaco; the heightened nationalism of most countries may not be the prelude to war; the domestic unrest in France, Austria, Spain and Mexico may never affect international relations; nothing may come of Japan's defying the world by making Pu-Yi Emperor Kang Teh of Ta Manchu Ti Kuo; the Soviet war preparations along the Amur may never become more than preparations; Mussolini's openly advocating revision of the Versailles and subsequent treaties may mean nothing; Germany's rearmament, and the failure of disarmament proposals may not threaten world peace; the world-wide economic crisis may be solved by each country working its own way out of the morass. But no one, we think, surveying all the facts, can deny the imminent proximity of another world war. Our world observers may differ widely in their guesses concerning the point of breakerage; but that one of the many tense spots will give soon, very few of them doubt.

Our preoccupation with our own plans to get out of the depression tends largely to distract us from the probability of such a war. Domestic readjustments can certainly do much to improve our condition. But there is always the irreducible minimum of necessary foreign trade which must be considered for a lasting solution even of domestic problems. And foreign trade is largely affected by the presence or absence of war.

War, if we were not belligerent, would increase our foreign trade; but only at the price of our probable ultimate entrance into the fray and immense losses in unredeemable foreign loans, to say nothing of the incalculable losses and horrors, the tremendous setback the next war will cause the whole world. For whether we agree with those who predict a war of unprecedented horrors, due to the great development and perfection of aircraft, poison gases, tanks, etc.; or whether we believe that the invention and improvement of defences against these things has kept pace with them; we must say that a war even no worse than the last is a thought terrible to contemplate.

War, we know, is not of itself evil. But an avoidable war, justifiable though it be on other grounds, is evil. A war whose cost in killed and maimed, in suffering and loss and degenerating effect on humanity, outweighs any gain that might result from it, is evil.

We can all do our bit to prevent war. It is said that governments make wars, but nations fight them. Our Government is supposed to reflect and respond to the desires of the nation. We are all, consciously or not, constituents of that intangible but real entity—the mind of the nation, on which ultimately depends our entry into war. Refusal to see anything good in "furriners," fanatic belief in the "destiny" or "mission" of one's country in the world, the false glamour of victory and conquest, prejudice and lying propaganda, are all enemies of a sane public mind, and of peace. The world needs truly educated men who can see through the obscuring veil of prejudice and propaganda to facts and rights; men who will do their own thinking and not be led on by demagogues.

The "doughboys" of the last war vowed that America would never again be tricked into entering such a shambles. They fought a "war to end war"—the "last war. Did they fight in vain?

---- Dial-Log ----

JACQUES RENARD and His Orchestra for the Junior Prom fulfills the hopes of this columnist. A smooth band of musicians, marvelous arrangements, and a good vocalist. Renard and his music scored a big hit at a prom recently at Catholic U. and several other schools in this vicinity. For those interested, in our next issue we will give a brief history of this famous aggregation.

With baseball again coming in for its share of the limelight, the broadcasters are announcing their plans for sending the games to you. When the Boston Red Sox and the Senators meet at Griffith Stadium, April 16, the opening game will be sent out over WABC and the Columbia hook-up. For the scores every evening tune WLIT at 6 P. M.

The NEC system has taken a step in the right direction. They have announced that between the hours of 6 and 11 P. M., no song may be repeated over their networks. The programs must be submitted in advance and the first come will be first served. The life of popular songs will be lengthened and much of the monotony of radio will be done away with. Give a long cheer for NBC!

Summer's arrival brings radio changes, the chief of which are: Joe Penner will sign off for 13 weeks of the summer season; the March of Time goes off for the 1933-34 season with its program this Friday night.

Our advanced news has long been telling us how short the announcements were going to be on the new "Chevvy" program on Sunday night. We listened and believe it or not the brief announcement at the beginning and end were so short that we could almost count the words on our fingers. The radio listeners should appreciate it and possibly the auto sales for this concern may increase if radio programs are of any help.

"Smoothness in music is what makes music." Possibly this sounds familiar to all of you, but we use it to describe a band which returns on WJZ, Saturday afternoon at 2 P. M. Listen to an old-timer, "Tweet" Hogan and His Orchestra. If he is the same as he was a few years back, the introduction fits him perfectly.

After seeing the bands which were offered for the Junior Prom it recalls to mind the many very danceable aggregations which have come and apparently faded. Some swell music is dispensed by orchestras that 99 out of 100 have never heard. See how many of these you have heard: Tommy Christian, Lloyd Huntley and His Isle o' Blues Orchestra; Johnny Hamp and His Kentuckians; Ralph Bennett; Ray (not Red) Nichols, Jack Johnson, Tommy Tucker, Bob Fallon, Happy Felton, Chickie Webb, Barney Rapp, Seymour Simons, and lots more.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY MEETS FOR SECOND MASS - BREAKFAST

Very Rev. M. A. Sullivan, O. S. A., Augustinian Provincial in U. S., Celebrant, Speaker

CARL R. RODGERS SPEAKS ABOUT LAYMEN'S LEAGUE

Catholic Education Discourse Proves Highly Interesting to Student Assemblage

Sunday morning marked the second monthly public appearance of the reorganized Holy Name Society at the college Mass. This was also the first appearance of the newly received day students of the group.

The Mass was said by the Very Rev. Mortimer A. Sullivan, O. S. A., S. T. L., L. L. D., provincial of the Augustinian Order in the United States, who also delivered the sermon.

After the Mass, the members of the society proceeded to Mendel Hall where a short meeting was held and the new members were welcomed into the organization.

The members were then served breakfast in the college dining hall in a section which was reserved for them. Following the meal cigarettes were distributed by the waiters.

League Described

Joseph Bastian, president of the society, then introduced the first speaker, Carl R. Rogers, head of the Layman's League of Narberth. Mr. Rogers described the work of the society, which has for its purpose the dissemination of pamphlets explaining Catholic beliefs and practices to non-Catholics who are interested and to those who have received erroneous information concerning the Catholic faith. Mr. Rogers explained how the league was conceived and described its progress at the present time. He stated that the group has been very successful and has done an untold amount of good.

Provincial Speaks

Fr. Sullivan was the second speaker. His topic was "Catholic Education." The provincial praised the work that the Laymen's League is performing and showed the students what an advantage and a responsibility they have on account of their education. Fr. Sullivan told the members of the society that their parents and guardians are sending them to a Catholic college in order that they may secure a complete education which will develop them spiritually, mentally and physically.

Fr. Sullivan went on to state that due to the advantage which they are receiving, their parents expect them to know their religion thoroughly and to be able to answer questions concerning their faith. Therefore, it is necessary for the students to make the best of the opportunity that is offered them in order that they may take their places in the world as educated Catholic men.

Reading left to right, Raymond J. Harter, Robert A. Geist and Charles P. Goggi, senior members of the VILLANOVAN staff who have retired from the respective positions of editor-in-chief, managing editor, and college editor. Harter and Goggi are students in the School of Commerce and Finance, and Geist is a member of the School of Science. All three have been intimate friends since their coming to Villanova.

BOUQUET SENT

Appreciation Card Received From Family of Leslie Hickey

A card of appreciation has been received by the student body of Villanova from the family of Leslie Hickey, recently deceased younger brother of Carl Hickey, a junior in the School of Commerce and Finance.

The card was sent as a token of thanks for the spiritual bouquet which the student body composed and presented to the Hickey family. Their place of residence is located in Huntingdon, W. Va.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Today

VILLANOVAN staff meeting, office, rear of dining hall ... 1.00 P. M.
Lambda Kappa Delta meeting, 210 Mendel Hall ... 1.00 P. M.
Junior blazer measurements, Amphitheatre ... 1.00 P. M.
Meeting of Day Students, 106 Mendel Hall ... 1.00 P. M.

Wednesday

Spanish Club meeting, Amphitheatre ... 7.00 P. M.

Thursday

A. S. M. E. meeting, 206 Mendel Hall ... 1.00 P. M.
North Jersey Club meeting, 212 Mendel Hall ... 7.00 P. M.

Monday

Phi Kappa Pi meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ... 1.00 P. M.
Junior Prom Committee meeting, 212 Mendel Hall ... 1.00 P. M.
Belle Masque meeting, 206 Mendel Hall ... 8.15 P. M.
Tennis, West Chester Teachers, home ... 2.30 P. M.

Wilkes-Barre, North Jersey Socials Climax to Easter Holiday Vacation

Villanova was well represented in the realm of social activities during the past holidays, with both the Wilkes-Barre and North Jersey clubs sponsoring their annual Easter dances. Both dances were on Easter Monday and were held in the most prominent hotels in the localities embracing the respective organizations.

The Wilkes-Barre Club's dance was held in the attractive main ballroom of the Hotel Redington in the up-State city. The dance which lasted from 9 till 1 was preceded by a dinner which was open only to club members. During the course of the dinner gold keys were given to the Senior members of the club as a memento of the club's appreciation for their loyal services in the past.

The following Seniors were the recipients of keys which were presented by Hubert Gallagher, a Junior member of the organization: Donald Redington, president of the club; Francis Kelly, James O'Connell, William McGraw, James Gallagher and Francis Berger. In the absence of the Rev. Bernard McConville, O. S. A., moderator, the Rev. James Donnellon, O. S. A., was the guest of honor and delivered a short speech to the members of the club.

The music for the dance was played by Will Kearney and His Society Club Orchestra. Kearney, who has been engaged by the club quite frequently for their various affairs, again proved to be very satisfactory in meeting the demands for the ultimate and unusual in music and entertainment.

The members of the dance committee were: Francis Kelly, chairman; James O'Connell, James Gallagher, Hubert Gallagher, Charles Betz, John Noll, Williams Driscoll and Charles Bruno.

The members of the Jersey club held their annual function in the beautiful jade room of the Hotel Elton, in Elizabeth. The dance, like the Wilkes-Barre club's dance, also lasted from 9 till 1. The Hotel Elton was formerly the Newark Elks Club. It is centrally located and was undoubtedly the best location the club has had for any of its socials.

The couples present danced to the strains of Bob Ivens and His Ambassadors who occupy a prominent place in the New Jersey orchestral activities. Besides presenting much in the way of novel arrangements, Ivens, the popular young maestro, crooned some pleasing tunes which met with the unanimous favor of the dancers.

Attractive favors consisting of a conservative blue leather program with an embossed V were presented to each couple who attended the dance. The dance committee which was headed by Thomas Delaney consisted of the following: Raymond J. Harter, John F. Butler, John Erbeck, Daniel Harkins, Frank Connell, James Migliore, John Scalera, Joseph McCabe and John Torpey.

Augustinian Guild To Present Social

Continued From Page One

distinctive melodies. After four dances part of the entertainment will take place.

Vaudeville Acts

This will consist of Mr. O'Connor's professional vaudeville acts, and will comprise popular and Irish songs and dances, comedies, and one of the world's best jugglers.

During the performances, music will be furnished by Thomas O'Connor and his orchestra.

Drawing for the prizes, such as the door prize of $25, a new Philco radio, a beautiful large lamp and an electric clock will follow the amusements.

Dancing will resume again and will be followed by solos rendered by Lawrence Reilly and John Chapple, students of the college. They will interpret in their own fashion some old favorites and some popular ballads of the day. Dancing will then continue until the end of the affair.

Student Ushers

Students, about thirty in number, and under the direction of Rev. Francis P. Ludwig, O. S. A., will assist as ushers and take over other duties to make all guests comfortable. They will be dressed in evening attire.

Master of ceremonies for the social will be Paul Galvin, of Chestnut Hill.

Day Hops Meet Today

There will be an important meeting of all the Day Students in Room 106, Mendel Hall, this afternoon at 1 P. M. Please be prompt.

A. S. M. E. Convenes in Philadelphia

Continued From Page One

nical session with the following colleges represented: New York University, N. Y. U. Evening Branch, University of Pennsylvania, Pratt Institute, Princeton University, Rutgers University, Stevens Institute of Technology, Swarthmore College and Villanova College.

Hied Represents Villanova

Robert C. Reid, a senior engineer, will represent Villanova at this session. He will use his thesis for his topic. It is entitled "Problems Encountered in the Design of a Closed Circuit Pulveriser for Cement." Following the technical session a luncheon will be held at the women's dormitory, Drexel Institute. At this luncheon several important men will speak to the students and then award the prizes to those men who presented the best papers and who offered the most practical and effective solution to the problems considered. Cash prizes of $50, $25 and $10 will be awarded. Brahcar Biographies will also be awarded to students only.

To complete the program of two days the committee in charge arranged for another inspection trip. This time the students will visit the Philadelphia Museum of Arts, the Academy of Natural Sciences and the Franklin Institute.

NEW BASKETBALL HEAD

According to a recent announcement from Coach George Jacobs, mentor of the Villanova varsity basketball team, Hubert Gallagher has been appointed manager of basketball for the 1934-35 season.

Gallagher hails from Forty Fort, Pa., and has been manager of the frosh basketeers for the past two seasons.

Over the Coals

Did you know that: Britain's representative on the campus, Sir Hubert Gallagher, will never guess who is now conducting this column; hence his efforts to control things have proved unavailing? . . . The melody, "Riptide," haunts the memory of this scribe?...The romance of a certain Senior is near the explosion point? . . . Lou Lipshultz didn't get to first base on the "L" the other yawning?...We understand that Fr. Dougherty claims that those who blush are rarely possessed of criminal tendencies?. Is this scribbler's face red?... Among the shows that you shouldn't miss are "The Lost Patrol" and "The House of Rothschild"?... You'll be surprised in more ways than one when you witness the Toif und Glinsel Club show?...Leo Zollo is packing them in in Philly more than any other band; while in merry, mad Manhattan the honors go to the littlest of the Jack Littles?...Casa Loma proves popular only with the so-called sophisticates?...Certain of the users of the Pie Shop, as humorists call it, suspect that there is a communist in their midst?...One former staff member would like to effect a reconciliation with his former flame?. ...The real reason why the Seniors seem daffier than usual is due to the fact that the majority of them are suffering from thesis trouble?

Also, Cowboy Manion is striving hard to drop, temporarily at least, his Midwestern accent and acquire one more Occidental?...If your evening has been rather enjoyable and you still hit the high notes, sing "Good Night, Lovely Little Lady" to your canary just before you leave?...Art Wyzman is Villanova's officially accredited envoy at Bryn Mawr?...Ask Ray Harter why they all called him "Simon Legree" and he'll only smile?...There is a thinly disguised feud being waged between two of the profs?...Cornie McGarrity made a name for himself recently in an ethics class?... They're offering 5-4 odds that there will be no additions to the coaching staff when football season rolls 'round?...Should the Juniors sign a really good band for their party, this scribe would suffer a sudden attack of heart failure? At this moment, thank you, he feels decidedly healthy?...There is no real reason why Villanova shouldn't have a boxing team?...The old Alma Mater seems to get less publicity in the dailies than any other college? Why?...Our prediction, and this is said humbly, is that either "Dodsworth" or "Ah, Wilderness" will land the Pulitzer Prize for the drammer?

For Your Tonsorial Necessities—

The Campus Barber Shop

Awaits Your Patronage

Popular Prices

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.
Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Established 1832
1218-20-22 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia
DESIGNERS AND MAKERS
of the
1935 VILLANOVA COLLEGE CLASS RING
Also the Villanova Miniature Ring

E. Cadwalader, Inc.
Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies
6047 Market Street
Philadelphia
Phone Sherwood 1422

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits, Topcoats and Overcoats
$24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See
JIM ELLIOTT
237 Austin Hall

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired
It is not how cheap, but how good
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
All new styles now available!
Agents: Dick Morrissey, '34
Ed Lahey, '36

Villanovan Staff Feted at Dinner

Continued From Page One

ter a testimonial gift in the form of a fountain pen.

Keys Given

Fr. McKee then gave out the VILLANOVAN keys to the graduating members. Those who received the VILLANOVAN key were: Raymond J. Harter, editor-in-chief; Robert A. Geist, managing editor; Charles P. Goggi, college editor; Joseph W. Fenstemacher, business manager; Joseph H. Lilly, exchange editor; William H. Holmes, columnist; William F. Zeil, literary editor, and Edward Kilbane, a member of the college staff.

Four special keys awarded by the Catholic School Press Association in acknowledgement of outstanding work on a Catholic college paper were presented to Raymond J. Harter, Robert A. Geist, Charles P. Goggi and Joseph W. Fenstemacher.

Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, brought the banquet to a close by saying grace, and the guests then went upstairs to the roof garden where they enjoyed the dancing and entertainment until the early hours of the morning.

The affair was closed, and only those students who have done meritorious work on the staff during the past year were invited, along with Fr. Albers, Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, Dean of the School of Science and faculty moderator of the Mendel Bulletin, the Science School publication, Fr. McKee, faculty moderator of the VILLANOVAN, William McCarthy, editor of the Mendel Bulletin, John Corkill, editor of the Belle Aire and Raymond J. McKeon, publicity director of the college.

DESIGNS NEW MEDAL

John R. Sinnock, designer of the Mendel Medal which is awarded annually by the college to a Catholic for distinguished service to science, has recently designed a bronze medal with the head of President Roosevelt on one side. The medals have been struck off at the Mint in Philadelphia and will be sold to the public.

Copyright, 1934, The American Tobacco Company

LUCKIES ARE ALL-WAYS KIND TO YOUR THROAT

"It's toasted"

"I smoke Luckies because the finest tobaccos and only the clean center leaves give Luckies that better taste. But they don't stop there. For throat protection, 'It's toasted!' Long golden strands of only the center leaves . . . rolled round, and firm . . . no loose ends. That's why Luckies 'keep in condition'—do not dry out. Luckies are all-ways kind to my throat."

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves

NOT the top leaves—they're under-developed—they are harsh!

They taste better

NOT the bottom leaves—they're inferior in quality—coarse and sandy!

Sportorial

by Lou Marechal

THERE is no need for an introductory paragraph on our part after the one which was accorded to us last week by our old boss, "Scoop" Keating. The sports department will miss Keating, who has left us to carry on as feature editor, but from time to time some of his copy will adorn our pages. The new staff promises its best efforts. We request cooperation from the coaches, managers, players, and students, and if it is received we will produce (we hope) a bigger and better VILLANOVAN sports section.

—V—

WE NOTICE, with interest, a change in specifications of the football by the National Rules Committee. The short axis circumference has been reduced from the old measurements of 22 by 22½ inches to 21¼ by 21½. No change was made in other specifications as to weight, general shape, air pressure or the long axis circumference.

William Langford, secretary of the committee, made the following statement on the change: "A nation-wide canvas of coaches and athletic directors was made and we found a popular desire for a change in the ball."

H. Stuhldreher

The reduced size will make for a better grip, especially aiding a team that has a good passing attack. "Pop" Warner, the tutor of "our greatest rivals," when interviewed, stated that he believed that the teams which relied on passing and punting as offensive weapons received too much leeway.

Coach Stuhldreher, when asked what he thought of the change, replied: "All this fuss is for no reason. They are merely making the rule conform to the ball that we have been using for the past four years."

—V—

MUCH discussion has been caused over the apparent slump of one of the best players on the Villanova squad. We refer to Frank Skaff. The Princeton contest started the tongues wagging after the "Slugger" was charged with four errors. Each of these resulted because Frank threw wide of the first baseman after successfully scooping up the hot grounders. We advise the campus critics to curb the chatter and watch for the marked improvement in Skaff. A few days' practice out-of-doors and the "Slugger" will get back his throwing and batting eye.

—V—

THE track team is making ready for its debut in the nationally famous Penn Relays. The half-mile relay team should be able to compare with the best of them. With Jim Elliott, Alex Kramer, Jocko Hurley and Captain Joe Fenstemacher as the quartet, the 'Cats should really go to town in a big way. The squad has as fine a nucleus as any Villanova team has had in recent years, but what it lacks is quantity, not quality.

Every man who has any ability in running or field events should make himself known to Coach Reagan and work out as often as possible. It is these men who will aid the others by gaining seconds and thirds that will give Villanova a successful year on the cinder path and in the field.

—V—

THE following week's sports find the baseballers, the golfers and the tennis team meeting opponents in intercollegiate competition. Tomorrow Coach Jacobs and his men journey to Franklin Field to meet Penn. The golfers meet Swarthmore away. Friday again finds the golfers on foreign soil. Haverford provides the opposition on the Merion Cricket Club course. Next Monday the tennis team, under Captain Bill Orcutt, makes its debut on the Villanovan courts against West Chester Teachers. Follow the teams and give them your support. Some concentrated cheering may aid the baseballers in another victory over Pennsylvania.

—V—

THE Villanova golf tournament to decide the players for the varsity team and to act as the intra-mural tournament, will be held Monday afternoon on the Main Line Open Course. All candidates should report to Manager Lou Marechal not later than 2 P. M. Friday, in the VILLANOVAN office, near the entrance to the dining hall.

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING

Tuesday, April 10, 1934 Page Five

PRINCETON BEATS VILLANOVA

Spring Comes to the Villanova Campus—Jacobs Shows 'Em

(Photos Courtesy of Evening Bulletin)

Head coach George (Doc) Jacobs, is shown in the top photo instructing Capt. Stan Wronski, and other members of the 1934 baseball squad, the proper method of gripping a bat in order to make scorching liners and centerfield drives that are expected to win many games for the team during the current season. Cameraman caught the Wildcat mentor giving Catcher Lincoln (left); Pitcher Eddie Vaughan, a recent acquisition of the team, and utility catcher, John Krajsa, a few pointers on the art of gripping a ball.

LACK OF PRACTICE DUE TO WEATHER IS 'CATS' NEMESIS

Frank Skaff Has Poorest Day as Bad Arm Tallies Four Errors

O'DONNELL PITCHES WELL

Princeton Nine Gains First Victory Out of Two Starts

VILLANOVA was defeated in the season's opening game with Princeton by the score of eight to one. Both teams collected eight hits, but the total of seven errors committed by the Wildcats proved to be their downfall.

In the first inning, the Villanova batsmen fell in one, two, three order. Brown opened the second half with a fluke single and went to second on Perry's sacrifice bunt. Myers' single scored the run, and Wegener struck out. Then Myers was caught trying to steal second. Villanova was retired in turn on three infield outs, but Murphy had the first hit for the visitors.

Second Inning Decides

The balance of the second inning put the game on ice for the Tigers, giving them four runs on only one hit. Follansbee was safe on a wide throw to first, French sacrificed him to second, Gerhart was safe on a wide throw to first, and McCormick was hit by a pitched ball to fill the bases. Gosnell pushed a run across when the throw to first was made too late. Brown singled to score McCormick, and Perry was safe and Gosnell scored on another late throw. Myers was the second out, third to first, but Wegener walked to fill the bases again. Follansbee, up for the second time in the same inning, hit to Skaff, who dove for the ball, caught it, and dragged his foot across the base while falling to force Perry and retire the side.

Wronski Errs

Hurley skied out to center to open the third, and O'Donnell fanned. Lenzi strolled but was forced at second. French was safe on a wide throw to first, and Gerhart sacrificed him to second. Mahan missed a high throw and French went to third. Gosnell was safe on Wronski's error and a run crossed the plate. Brown struck out, but Perry singled to score McCormick. Myers lofted one to Hurlburt to end the inning.

Cavanaugh opened the fourth with a single, Mahan fouled out to third and Skaff popped up to the pitcher. Murphy again singled, but Toby was caught trying to make third. Wegener walked, but the next three went down on infield plays. In the first half of the fifth, the 'Cats scored their only run on Hurlburt's long double to left, Hurley's single, and a fielder's choice on O'Donnell that forced Hurley at second. Lenzi drove a liner to McCormick and O'Donnell was doubled off first to end the inning. Princeton coined their last run in the fifth on singles by Gosnell and Brown and a passed ball.

O'Donnell Replaced

Wronski singled to open the sixth, but was caught on a hard try to steal second. Cavanaugh struck out and Mahan was out on a topped ball. Vaughn, a sophomore, was substituted for O'Donnell. Wegener skied to Cavanaugh. Follansbee beat out the throw to first, and French singled. Gerhart skied to

Continued on Page Six

VILLANOVA GOLFERS BEAT BOSTON COL.

Opening Match Brightens the Outlook as 'Cats Gain Clean Sweep

The Villanova golfers successfully opened their 1934 season last Friday afternoon when they turned back the Boston College foursome by a 6 to 0 score, on the St. David's Open Course.

Although the score indicates a clean sweep for the Wildcats, the match was very close from start to finish, and all the individual matches were decided on the last hole with the exception of Jim McNerney who earned a 3 and 2 victory.

Captain Jim Elliott defeated Ed Fitzgerald, B. C.'s number one man by sinking a long putt on the final green for the 'Cats' first point and Dave Cragg, playing number two for the locals, nosed out Chick Featherstone in a similar manner.

The Elliott-Cragg team earned their third point via the best ball route.

In the second foursome Jim McNerney clinched his match on the sixteenth green by having a 3 to 2 edge on Jim Flaherty. Joe Duffy, the only newcomer to the Villanova line-up made it a clean sweep by his grand finish and nosed out Ed Halligan, the Eagles' number four man.

First Football History Published by Villanovan

Grid Squad in 1904 Won 3 Games, Lost 2 and Tied 1, in First Completely Recorded Year of Villanova Athletics

1905 TEAM HAD UNSUCCESSFUL YEAR

By WILLIAM J. ALLEN

VILLANOVA lost the first game of the season to Bucknell at Lewisburg by the score of 26 to 0. The second game, against Georgetown U., in the Capitol City, was another reverse, 17 to 0. In the third game, played against Fordham U., in New York City, Villanova led for almost the entire game, but a desperate play by two of the Rams' backs tied the score in the last quarter. Pennsylvania Military Academy was our next opponent, and our first victory of the season. The journey to West Chester produced a 23 to 0 win. For the fifth game, we played host to Washington College, and snared an 11 to 0 victory. The final game was also marked up on the debit side, Medico-Chirurgical going down to defeat by the score of 23 to 0.

Fred Croilius' team, captained by Pat O'Connor, had a rather successful season considering the fact that only four regulars remained from the preceding year. They won three games, lost two, and tied one. In the matter of total points scored, Villanova had 63, and its opponents 61. Remember, of course, that these were the days when a touchdown counted for only five points. Another thing that was noticed was the fact that the time of the halves for each game varied from twenty to thirty minutes.

The names of some of the outstanding players for this year should stir the memories of many an old grad. Pat O'Connor at LH, Charlie McGeehan at FB, Joe Walsh at LE, Jack Torpey at RH, and Bill Moore at RG. What a wealth of future greats! Moore, McGeehan and Walsh were captains of Villanova football teams for the three following years, and Jack Torpey made quite a record for himself in semi-pro baseball after his graduation. Charlie McGeehan taught electrical engineering at his alma mater from the time of his graduation until his untimely death last June. He also enjoyed the dis-

Continued on Page Eight

VILLANOVA READY FOR PENNSYLVANIA CONTEST TOMORROW

Game With Quaker City Nine Expected to Test 'Cats' Full Strength

TEAM WORKS ON FIELDING

V. C. Determined to Gain Victory for Second Consecutive Year

Smarting under the defeat handed them by the Princeton nine at the Princeton field last Monday a week, the Villanova ball club stressed more than ever its daily practices in preparation for the game with the Penn A. C. This game was of vital importance as it was to be a sort of forerunner to the game with the University of Pennsylvania scheduled for tomorrow at Franklin Field, Philadelphia. But after a week of good weather, "Old Jupe Pluvius" took time out and the contest had to be called because of wet grounds. This was a bad break for the Main Liners as they had hoped to get in one more game to test their strength before they met the powerful Penn nine. It looks now as if it will be the 'Cat Yanigans who will afford the Regulars their only competition prior to the game with the Red and Blue.

Each Played One Game

Both teams have played one game so far. Penn's scheduled game with Harvard on Saturday was called off because of wet grounds as was that of the 'Cats. Penn, however, has one victory to her credit, that one being over Swarthmore by a score of 6-1. The 'Cats suffered defeat in their only start at the hands of Princeton.

The Red and Blue combine showed a well-balanced team and although they drubbed the Swarthmore nine decisively it was a well-played game on the part of both teams. Three Penn pitchers allowed but two hits, both of which were doubles, while the Quakers in turn rapped out nine safeties in which were included two homers and two doubles. Despite the number of hits he allowed, "Mace" Gowing, the losing twirler, pitched a fine game, turning down many scoring attempts. The losers looked good on the field but they failed to have the needed punch with the stick.

Penn Strong

When the home team meets Penn tomorrow it will meet one of the strongest teams in eastern collegiate circles. Penn has had a banner year in athletics and the baseball team will prove no exception to the rule. Coach Walter Cariss has a strong squad, and he knows how to handle them in order to get the best results.

In the Swarthmore tilt he used his three ace pitchers, Harold Sked, Andy Barton and Vince Harrington, thereby letting each one show his wares to his own advantage. All three pitched great ball and impressed the fans as well as Cariss. On the receiving end of the battery is John Lynch, a sophomore, who has developed into a nice ball player handling himself well behind the bat. At the initial sack is "Big Bob" Freeman, a six feet four inch target to throw at. The veteran Johnny Powell guards the keystone sack, a three hundred hitter.

The dizzy corner post has not yet been fully decided upon. Tommy Mack, Joe Chanda and Ramon Fernandez are the three outstanding aspirants and all three saw action in the Swarthmore encounter. At shortstop is Penn's most versatile athlete of '33-'34, Don Kellett. He stands head and shoulders above all the other candidates and is a permanent fixture with the club. Hen Kozloff, a three letter athlete, plays left field and the veteran Bill Shanahan romps in center. In a marvelous show of ball playing, "Shorty" O'Donnell, the captain of the past season's court quintet, fought his way up out of the Yanigans to win the right field berth.

Strong Hitters

That completes the Penn combine. All handle every chance well and are equally as effective with the willow. The trio of Kellett, Powell and Shanahan are as dangerous a group of hitters as can be found in collegiate competition.

INTRA-MURAL TRACK SETS APRIL 18-19 FOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

Two Days to Be Devoted to the Meet Due to Many Entries

AUSTIN TO DEFEND TITLE

Varsity Members Ineligible to Compete in Any of the Events

Villanova's annual intra-mural track and field championships will be held at the stadium on April 18 and 19, starting at 3 P. M. sharp, on both days. On the former date, all the field events will be contested, and on the latter date the running events will take place. As a result of the great interest which was evidenced along intra-mural track and field lines during the past year, it was decided to make a two-day carnival of the meet.

Varsity Not Eligible

No member of the varsity track team is eligible to compete in this meet; therefore at present there are no favorites to win in any of the events and every entrant has an excellent chance to share in the honors. The winners of each event are to be recognized as intra-mural track and field champions for 1934.

The competition is expected to be very keen in all events, and all contestants are urged to make use of the training facilities which are being provided at the stadium. An innovation will be a daily training schedule which will be posted in a prominent spot at the stadium each day.

Austin Won Last Year

Austin Hall had the highest team score in the 1933 intra-mural track and field meet. This was made possible chiefly through the efforts of "Whitey" Randour and George Wrona, who accounted for four first places. Randour came through in fine style to take three first places. By winning the 100 and 220-yard dashes and scoring a win in the 160-yard low hurdles, "Whitey" emerged the individual high point scorer of the meet. Wrona aided in piling up the team score by winning the 440-yard run.

Austin Hall is fortunate in having most of their men back from last year. They expect to repeat their win of last year and are making preparations in order to make this possible.

The meet provides an opportunity for individual performance as well as team cooperation. This is unique in intra-mural activities. The only other sport that provides this is the swimming team. This angle of the individual effort should prove an added incentive for students to enter the meet.

Previous track experience is not necessary in order to enter this meet. In fact, in previous years most of the entrants had little or no experience.

Princeton Tigers Top Villanova Foe

Continued From Page Five

left, and McCormick forced French at second to retire the side. Skaff was safe on French's fumble of his hard drive, Murphy forced him at second, and Hurlburt and Hurley filed out to wind up the first half of the seventh. In the last half, Perry singled, but three teammates went down on close infield plays.

Vaughn went down, second to first, and Lenzi and Wronski singled, but Cavanaugh and Mahan drove long high fly balls to right field. Princeton fell in order in their turn. In the first half of the last inning, Skaff was passed, and went to second on a balk by Gosnell, but his teammates were unable to bring him home.

Thus the game ended with Villanova suffering defeat in its first game of the season. Up until a week ago, the 'Cats had been seriously hampered in practice by the inclement weather and poor field conditions, and several of the mainstays of the team were suffering from charlie-horses.

The game scheduled with Penn A. C. was rained out and will be played Friday of this week. It is expected that a few changes will be made in the positions.

FIRST TENNIS FRAY WITH W.C. TEACHERS MAY BE POSTPONED

Condition of Tennis Courts May Prevent Opener on April 16

TEAM NOT YET SELECTED

The Villanova tennis team is scheduled to meet West Chester Teachers' College next Monday, April 16. It is probable that this match will be cancelled unless the local courts can be put in playing condition before that time. The workmen have been anxiously waiting for the weather to clear sufficiently so that they can begin putting the courts in shape.

The 'Cat netmen have been forced to confine their practice sessions indoors on the old gym floor in Alumni Hall. The actual lineup has not yet been made up since there is no way to determine the comparative abilities of the players. Captain Bill Orcutt and ex-Captain Sam Miles form the nucleus of the team and they will be surrounded by an array of veteran players. Outstanding among the other leading contenders for varsity positions are Steve Kramer, George Malhame and DeVirt.

Fr. Mauch to Coach

After a year's absence from coaching duties, Rev. Eugene A. Mauch, O. S. A., will again resume his former position as mentor of the Villanova netmen. Last year Fr. Mauch was forced to relinquish his coaching job because of conflicting duties, and the team fortunately obtained the timely services of Sol Berman. The last two seasons Fr. Mauch coached the 'Cats racket wielders, the teams compiled the excellent record of leading all Villanova sports for the two consecutive years.

Captain Bill Orcutt and Sam Miles, both seniors, were the stars in the highly successful 1932 campaign, the last year that the team was under the tutelage of Fr. Mauch.

SPEECH ON REVOLTS GIVEN IN SEMINAR BY ARTS STUDENT

Prevalent Popular Fallacies of Latin Revolutions Are Discussed

CUBAN FRACAS EXAMPLE

In an interesting paper entitled "A Few Sidelights On Spanish America," Raphael Martinez-Alvarez, a native of Puerto Rico, discussed the prevalent fallacies concerning Latin-American revolutions at the weekly seminar of the Arts School last Thursday.

Martinez-Alvarez said his first task was to make clear the fallacies which seem to prevail in the minds of many in reference to the revolutions and their causes. Many people get the idea that Spanish-America and revolutions are synonyms, because they don't care to understand and to learn the conditions that exist and bring on these revolts.

Judgments Are Hasty

They merely pronounce judgment without any consideration of the causes and situations which dominate the countries before the revolutions take place. He cited the recent troubles of Cuba and Nicaraugua as misleading examples.

In Cuba, prior to the revolution, dissatisfaction ran high with the way in which Machado was governing. His methods were worthy only of a bandit chief rather than a protector and ruler of a peace loving and romantic people. The populace would not put up with his high-handed and unsympathetic government so they decided to retire him with full justification.

Misunderstanding Cited

The case of Nicaraugua was represented as a sad situation of misunderstanding and dissension between two political parties. One favored selling a tract of land to the United States Government for the purpose of building a canal. The other party did not agree with the measure. Dissention ran high. A revolt ensued. The marines were sent down to quell the revolt and to help establish a stable government. But the marines, according to Nicaraugauns, were primarily concerned with American capitalistic interests and did not sympathize wholeheartedly with their demand of a good, honest government. When the marines departed the Nicaraugauns peacefully formed a democratic government, and revolutions became a thing of the past.

In discussing this question, Martinez-Alvarez also pointed out that a large part of the misunderstanding is due to misinformed newspapermen and travelers who recount bizarre and untrue tales of Spanish-American conditions. The popular American opinions are based upon these unreliable reports and are therefore not entirely founded but rather very questionable.

Study Necessary

In conclusion, the speaker for the day stated that, "If you would like to form an opinion or make a judgment on Spanish-America and its revolutions, study the real conditions, the underlying causes, and, above all, try to understand the situation and popular feeling prior to the revolutions."

Following his talk, the question was open for general discussion by the assembly, and then Prof. Joseph T. Jonas closed the meeting with fitting comments on the talk.

ADMISSION TO POOL

Physical Examination Is Necessary for Swimming Privilege

With the approach of the warm spring days many of the students have signified their desire to swim in the Villanova pool. For the benefit of those who do not already possess swimming cards, certain requirements must be fulfilled before a student is permitted to enter.

The applicant must appear before the college physician for a thorough physical examination. Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., will inform all those interested when examinations can be had. There is a very small charge attached for this service.

The students who pass the physical test will receive a card which entitles them to the use of the pool every afternoon during the week. No additional charges are made.

NEW AND RETIRING MEMBERS OF VILLANOVAN

Joseph J. Linsalata, (left) a junior in the School of Commerce and Finance, who has received the appointment of exchange editor, and Joseph W. Fenstemacher, a senior in the same school, who has retired from the position of business manager of the publication. Linsalata succeeds Joseph H. Lilly, a senior in the Arts School, who has also retired from the staff of the paper.

Junior Class Picks Jacques Renard And His Orchestra for Annual Prom

Continued From Page One

City. While in Boston he furnished the rhythms for the annual Harvard, Yale and Brown dances.

One of his most triumphant successes was scored at the Catholic University dance in the fall, and since then he has played at some of the outstanding colleges in the country.

The orchestra is composed of 12 pieces, including Renard himself and a featured girl singer, Doris Day. Within a week or ten days he is scheduled to start a new commercial program on the National Broadcasting Company Network, where he will act in the role of a featured orchestra instead of an accompanist.

Society Favorite

A short time ago he and his orchestra concluded a three-year engagement at the Mount Royal in Montreal, where he was the favorite society band.

With the selection of this orchestra, the plans for the dance are almost completed. Favors have already been chosen for the Prom, and in the opinion of the committee they are the best in several years.

The interior of the gymnasium will be decorated but not in the customary manner. It is the belief of the chairman and the supporting members that the decorations have grown tiresome. The ceiling will be in the form of an arch, and tables will in all probability supplant the customary cretonne booths.

The Blazer Committee under the chairmanship of Michael Clavin has decided upon the blazers to be worn by this year's Junior Class. The contract for the coats has been awarded to the John Wanamaker Company of Philadelphia, which supplied last year's blazers.

Optional Blazers

An optional choice of blue or white blazers with or without piping may be had. The price will be $9.50. A deposit of $3.00 is required at the time of measuring.

Since almost three weeks is required to make the blazers, the committee requests that all students who intend to secure the coats be present at the measuring on Thursday, opposite the barber shop, in Mendel Hall, between the hours of 12.30 P. M. and 5 P. M. Students who are not able to place the deposit are asked to have their measurement taken and the deposit may be placed with Clavin before next Tuesday. This will facilitate completion of the blazers before Junior Week. Blazers ordered after next Tuesday will not be promised by then.

Tower Theatre
69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—
Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.
Today, Wed. and Thurs.
"SEARCH FOR BEAUTY"
with
BUSTER CRABBE and IDA LUPINO
Added: Thursday Only
Personal appearance of Anna Imsenik, Philadelphia Beauty Contest Winner
Fri., Sat. and Mon.
"GOOD DAME"
with
FREDRIC MARCH
SYLVIA SYDNEY
and GEORGE RAFT

ARDMORE
A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11
Today
W. F. VAN DYKE'S
"ESKIMO"
Wed. and Thurs.
"It Happened One Night"
with
CLARK GABLE and CLAUDETTE COLBERT
Friday
"The Cat and the Fiddle"
with
JEANETTE MacDONALD and RAMON NOVARRO
Saturday
EDWARD G. ROBINSON
in
"DARK HAZARD"
Monday
CONSTANCE BENNETT
in
"MOULIN ROUGE"

Anthony Wayne Theatre
Today
"MORNING GLORY"
with
KATHARINE HEPBURN and DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, JR.
Wed. and Thurs.
"ALL OF ME"
with
FREDRIC MARCH, MIRIAM HOPKINS and GEORGE RAFT
Fri. and Sat.
"QUEEN CHRISTINA"
with
GRETA GARBO and JOHN GILBERT
Monday
"FLYING DOWN TO RIO"
with
DOLORES DEL RIO, GENE RAYMOND and GINGER ROGERS

Seville Theatre
Today
"HOLD THAT GIRL"
with
JAMES DUNN and CLAIRE TREVOR
Wed. and Thurs.
"MISS FANE'S BABY IS STOLEN"
with
DOROTHEA WIECK, BABY LEROY, ALICE BRADY
Fri. and Sat.
"SONS OF THE DESERT"
with
LAUREL and HARDY
Monday
"MANDALAY"
with
KAY FRANCIS and RICARDO CORTEZ

45 Students Given Relief Employment

Continued From Page One

tary, received five for clerical, current alumni work and to make a file of all former Villanova students.

Four students were assigned to Prof. August K. Kunzenbacher to assist in photographic work, Prof. John McClain, two for general biological work; Prof. Harry S. Bueche, three; the Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., one; the Rev. Eugene A. Mauch, O. S. A., one; Albert Snyder, two; the Rev. John Vrana, O. S. A., one, and Prof. William A. Slavin, two.

The list of eligible students for the relief work are: Michael Acampora, Vincent Ashe, Paetrus Bannilier, John Barlow, John Cappola, Ralph Caprio, Joseph Carroll, Albert Ceruio, Francis Cornell, Joseph Costigan, Walter Coyle, Joseph DeVirgilis.

Armondo DeVittorio, Eugene DeCerbo, Joseph Dugan, Joseph Dunligan, William Farris, Joseph Fenstemacher, Thomas Finan, Daniel Fitzpatrick, Joseph Fuselli, Frank Husik, Stanley Lewandowski, Alex Russell Marcouse, Dominic Marion, Joseph Medoff, William McCall, Joseph McGee, Frank McGinley, Michael McNerny, James O'Connell.

John Parkin, Gerald Racine, Edward Reilly, Frank Scerca, Gerald Searight, John Shevlin, Francis Shealey, Philip Shore, William Sirica, Eric Storms, James Travers, Frank Wixted.

Old Grad's Frolic Is Well Attended

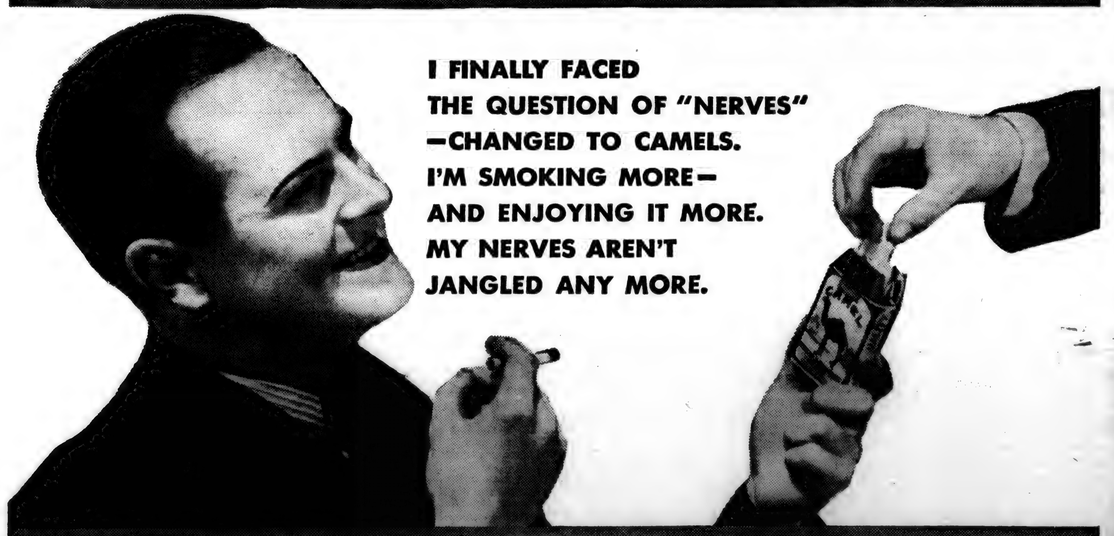
Continued From Page One

the hit of the evening. Frequently a large number of persons gathered in front of the orchestra, which presented many novelties in addition to delightful dance music. Besides a group of talented musicians, the Maples organization presented an excellent trio of male singers and a girl vocalist.

The dancers were also well pleased with the smooth music of Joe Mele and His Midshipmen. Mele, a member of the student body in the college, frequently received the plaudits of the guests attending the affair.

Fraternity, College and Class Jewelry . . .
COMMENCEMENT ANNOUNCEMENTS
INVITATIONS, DIPLOMAS
Jeweler to the Senior Class of Villanova College
L. G. BALFOUR COMPANY
Manufacturing Jewelers and Stationers
ATTLEBORO, MASS.
Represented by W. G. ALLEN
1601 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

FACE TO FACE WITH "NERVES"



I FINALLY FACED THE QUESTION OF "NERVES" —CHANGED TO CAMELS. I'M SMOKING MORE— AND ENJOYING IT MORE. MY NERVES AREN'T JANGLED ANY MORE.

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS
YOU CAN SMOKE THEM STEADILY . . . BECAUSE THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES . . . NEVER TIRE YOUR TASTE!

A THREE-MINUTE THRILL For 35 Cents!

HERE'S a thrill to liven the dullest evening—telephone Home. A chat with the Family is just like seeing them. It's a pleasure for them as it is for you.

Call them tonight. After 8:30 P. M. (Standard Time) go to a telephone and give the Operator the number. Then "hold the line" . . . it's as easy as it's inexpensive.

The cost—if your home is within 100 miles—is only 35 cents for a three-minute talk. For further distances and longer conversations, the rates are proportionately low.

• • •

FOR LOWEST COST always REMEMBER . . .

FIRST: The low Night Rates are effective after 8:30 P. M. Standard Time (9:30 P. M. Daylight Saving Time).

SECOND: Night Rates apply only on Station to Station calls—that is, on calls for a telephone, but not for a specific person.

THIRD: Make a "date" to telephone home regularly once a week. Then the folks will be waiting for your call and you'll not waste any of the 3-minute talking period.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

BASEBALL LEAGUE BEGINS AS AUSTIN AND FEDIGAN WIN

Alumni and Mendel Downed in Opening Games of Intra-Murals

SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Four Games Listed This Week as Day Hops Swing Into Action

The opening date of the intra-mural baseball league found four teams in action. The games were postponed till Sunday because of wet grounds. Fedigan trimmed Alumni by a score of 10-5 in the first game, and Austin beat Mendel in a close game with a score of 3-1.

The first game between Fedigan and Alumni did not begin until 11 o'clock and was interrupted for dinner at the end of the fourth inning when the score was tied at four apiece. In the sixth inning Fedigan, evidently inspired by the meal, scored six runs as a result of four hits off Higgins and several errors by other players. For the rest of the game Alumni vainly tried to overcome this lead.

In the game between Austin and Mendel, Austin jumped into an early lead in the first inning as a result of several errors. Mendel was never able to overcome this lead although they had tying runs on base. The most exciting incident was when eight Mendel players tried to tag Shevlin out as he attempted to steal third, but were unsuccessful.

The games scheduled for this week are as follows:

Day Hops vs. Fedigan, Tues.
Mendel vs. Day Hops, Thurs.
Mendel vs. Alumni, Sun.
Austin vs. Fedigan, Sun.

EXHIBITION DEBATE WILL BE PRESENTED

Beta Gamma Society to Speak in Trenton Auditorium This Evening

The Beta Gamma Society of Villanova College will present an exhibition debate in the auditorium of the Knights of Columbus Building, in Trenton, N. J., at 9 o'clock tonight.

The question under discussion in the debate will be, "Resolved: That a permanent dictatorship is for the best economic interests of the United States."

The affirmative side of this question will be upheld by Francis Bigley, Roberts Bousson and Peter Kerr, and they will be opposed by John Lyons, William Zeil and R. Martinez Alvarez. The chairman of the debate will be Robert McGrory.

Quite a large assemblage is expected at the debate since the student body of Cathedral High School in Trenton has been invited to attend together with the students of Trenton State Teachers' College and Ryder College.

Extensive preparations have been made for the debate as the debaters have already argued on this same question. In these six students Villanova is presenting for the approval of the Trenton audience virtually the cream of the society.

VILLANOVAN STARTS FOOTBALL HISTORY

1904 Gridders Won 3 Games, Lost 2 and Tied 1 for Mediocre Season

HAD POOR YEAR IN 1905

Continued From Page Five

tinction of being the graduate manager of athletics, and coach of varsity baseball at the same time.

1905

This was another dark year in our athletic history. The first game, played against Princeton on their home field, was a reverse, 41 to 0. In the second game, against Carlisle at Carlisle, we suffered another stinging defeat by the decisive score of 34 to 0. The third game, played against the Steelton Y. M. C. A. in Harrisburg, was likewise marked up in the red, five to nothing. Georgetown U., was our next host, and a genial one. The Wildcats marked up their first victory of the season by the close score of six to nothing. Our next scheduled game was with Pittsburgh, but due to a conflict in their schedule, Villanova was matched against Lyceum in the Pittsburgh stadium, and emerged the victor, 23 to 0.

Penn State, our next opponent, defeated us by the score of 29 to 0. Swarthmore, in successive home and home games, defeated the 'Cats twice by scores of 12 to 0, and 11 to 5. Strange though it may seem, the 1905 team counted their year a success by reason of the 34 to 5 victory over Fordham. The rivalry of these teams was greatly sharpened because of their prominence in the then existing Catholic Collegiate League. The next contest, with the Medico-Chirurgical team in Philadelphia, was a real upset. We lost the game 11 to 0. Our next scheduled games were with the Maryland A. C. and Lehigh, but due to changes in their respective schedules, games with the University of Pennsylvania and with Bucknell were substituted.

The Penn game, our first football contest with that institution, was a decisive defeat. The 'Cats were sorely damaged in both body and spirit as the result of a strenuous, though unfruitful, season; and many of our players were not fit to play against such a strong team as that presented by Penn. But they extended their greatest efforts to keep the score at 42 to 0. The Bucknell game closed our season with a 17 to 9 defeat.

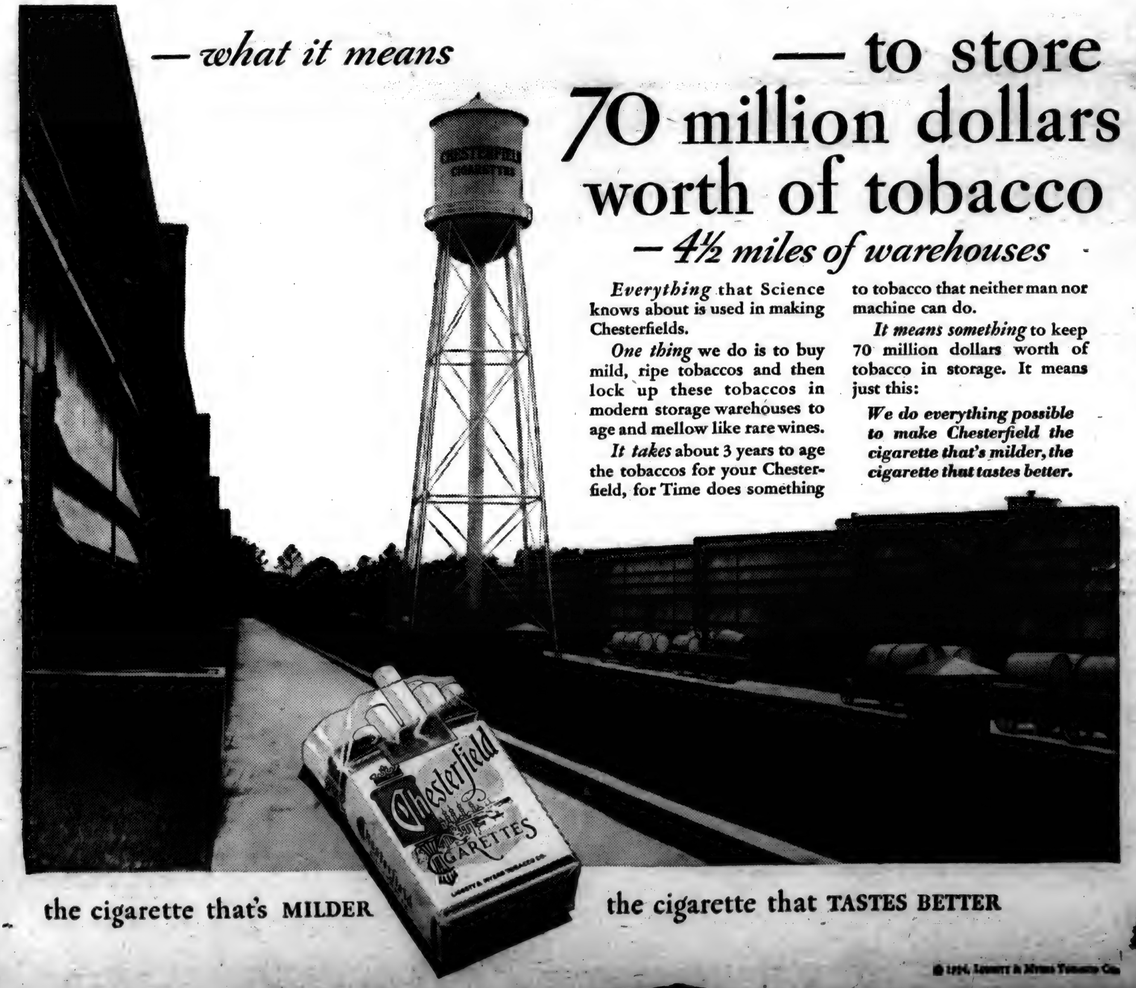
The results for this year were rather depressing, due to the fact that the Wildcats won only three out of their twelve games. In fact, the only bright spot was the Fordham victory, but the intensity of rivalry in that game helped to assuage many a downcast spirit.

Bill Moore, a burly guard, was captain of that team, and he was ably assisted by such outstanding athletes as Bill Spain, "Sal" Slavin, Ernie Lush, Jack Torpey, and George Barr. Barr attended Penn for two years after his graduation, but returned to Villanova to take up the position of gymnasium manager. "Sal" Slavin has also stayed close to his alma mater and has been a professor of electrical engineering at Villanova for many years. "Sal" is reputed to be the only man that ever knocked out Jim Thorpe in a football game.

Football was not considered an important sport at Villanova until 1912 because of the great popularity of our baseball teams, but the men who played football in the earlier years have since ranked as some of our outstanding athletes. Most of our games were played away from home; in fact only one game was played at Villanova in both these years, but as time passed and football took first place over baseball, more and more games were played at home, and more and more men joined the squad. In the years of 1904 to 1910 there was an average of only 15 men on the entire squad.

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

NEW LAUNDRY
REQUESTS YOUR PATRONAGE
•
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED
•
NEW LAUNDRY
VILLANOVA COLLEGE



DON'T FORGET
Support the Juniors
In Their Campaign
For the Sale
Of Prom Tickets
This Week

VILLANOVAN

STUDENTS!
Patronize L. K. D.
Dance Friday Night
In the Gym
Music by
The Villanovans

Vol. 6—No. 23 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 17, 1934 Price: Five Cents

THIRD-YEAR CLASS STARTS EXTENSIVE TICKET CAMPAIGN

Canvass of Entire Student Body to Be Made by the Dance Committees

PREPARATIONS FOR PROM PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

Jacques Renard Will Furnish the Rhythms in Uniquely Decorated Gym

With the selection of Jacques Renard and His Orchestra to offer musical rhythms at the annual Junior Prom on May 4, preparations for the dance have been progressing rapidly.

The campaign for the sale of tickets, the most complete ever to be staged by a dance committee at Villanova, was started yesterday. A thorough canvass of every member of the student body is being made by 29 committeemen representing the Blazer Ball and the Junior Prom groups.

Decorations for the gymnasium on prom night will be unique, according to Prom Chairman Paetrus Banmiller. Copying the style of a New York night club, the ceiling will have a curved effect with the cloth being suspended in the form of an arc.

Printing Contract Awarded

The contracts for the printing of the posters and tickets have been awarded, and special favors for the affair have been selected. The favors are said to eclipse those of last year in their uniqueness.

Renard offers an interesting

Continued on Page Three

AMERICAN ACADEMY CONVENES IN CITY

Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., Represented Villanova at Annual Parley

Villanova College and the American Council on Education were represented at the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science by Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college. The sessions were held in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia on Friday and Saturday.

The general topic of the meeting was "The World Trend Toward Nationalism." Each session was devoted to a subject which had a relation to or a bearing on the main topic.

All of the discussions were of interest to business men and those in the banking, investment and foreign trade fields. Such topics as "American Foreign Loans and the Future," "Foreign Trade and Trade Barriers" and "Can Wars Be Avoided?" were thoroughly treated by prominent men of the United States and foreign countries.

Delegates were present from prominent universities and colleges of America, Asia and Europe and from international, national, civic, scientific and commercial organizations.

Since the topics are of such wide importance and interest, students are permitted to attend the sessions on the presentation of admission cards.

NBC MOBILE UNIT MAKES TESTS ON CAMPUS

(A. K. Staff Photo)

Photo shows Mobile Unit No. 2, owned by the National Broadcasting Company which visited the Villanova Campus last week to make tests for broadcasting a program from a moving train along the Main Line. The students grouped about the unusual vehicle are apparently manifesting great interest in the workings of the equipment inside.

Radio Engineers Conduct Tests on School's Campus

Short Wave Transmitter Set Up Here by NBC Staff for Purpose of Broadcasting Inaugural Run of Burlington Train

Students on the campus were thrilled last week by a visit of Mobile Unit No. 2, a special built GMC trailer-type machine powered by a Buick motor owned by the National Broadcasting Company, which used the college as a point for testing the feasibility of broadcasting a radio program from a moving train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, operating along the Main Line.

According to E. C. Wilbur, one of the NBC field engineers in charge of the investigations, the purpose of the tests is to clear up certain points relevant to broadcast of the inaugural run of the famed streamlined Burlington Zephyr train owned by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad. It will be taken for a trial run over the Pennsylvania tracks from Wayne to Broad street station upon its completion at the E. G. Budd Company, Philadelphia.

Plan Feature Broadcast

The broadcast will be made from the moving railroad train and among its features will be addresses by Mayor Moore, of Philadelphia, W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and other prominent city and railroad officials.

G. O. Milne, who acted in the capacity of operating engineer on the mobile unit is in charge of Radio City operations for the NBC. He permitted many of the students to listen in on a short wave broadcast which he was conducting with a special two-car electric train on the railroad.

On the train were W. R. Brown and F. N. Beecher with a high frequency transmitter operating on the call letters WIEO. Mr. Milne had a high frequency transmitter on the mobile unit with the call letters WMEAF. The latter transmitter was operated by the car's 10 h. p. gasoline engine with a three phase generator, two and a half volts and 220 kilocycles.

In addition to WMEAF, the mobile unit carries two ultra high frequency transmitters, W10XS and W10XV. It is also equipped with two super-heterodyne receivers, 15 meters to 600 meters, and two super-regenerative receivers, 15 meters to four meters, switchboards, and other equipment.

Cost $16,000

Mr. Wilbur said that although the mobile unit has been constructed at the cost of $16,000, the amount of time and money it saves over the period of a year pays for its cost because it gives quick information.

The other unit similar to the one which visited the campus has been sent to make short wave broadcasts on such assignments as the Lindbergh kidnapping, and to the scene of the wrecked navy dirigible, Akron. The new automobile recently broadcast the Easter parade on New York's Fifth avenue.

Built to Specifications

The equipment in the mobile conveyor has been practically built to the specifications of the National Broadcasting Company's engineers. They have also been responsible for

Continued on Page Six

PLAN GROUP PICTURES

Belle Air Staff Announces Final Sittings Tomorrow, Thursday

Class and group photography will be the next step taken toward the completion of Villanova's 1934 Annual. The sittings for these pictures will be held on tomorrow and Thursday of this week.

Notices regarding the exact time of the sittings will be posted on the bulletin boards and the students are urged to be on hand when their class or club photographs are to be taken in order that this year's Belle Air, the first All-Villanova Annual, will be truly a representative one.

Watch for the time and place of your class and group club pictures and show your co-operation by being present.

STUDENT GIVES TALK

Joseph Cavaliere Discusses Beauty of Spanish Tongue

A small attendance marked the second meeting of the newly-formed Spanish Club, held last Wednesday evening in the amphitheatre in Mendel Hall.

Charles P. Bruno, a freshman student in the School of Science presented the speaker of the evening, Joseph Cavaliere, also a freshman in the Science School. Cavaliere presented a speech in which was portrayed the beauties of Spain, and also showed the practical advantages of a knowledge of the Spanish language.

The by-laws of the club were read and accepted by the members.

It was also decided to have a picture taken of the entire group, to be inserted in the Belle Aire.

On behalf of the student body, the VILLANOVAN wishes to take this opportunity to extend its deepest expression of sympathy to William H. McHugh, professor of education in the School of Commerce and Finance, on the death of his beloved father, at Hazleton, Pa., Friday, April 13.

Two Autographed Etchings Auctioned at Card Party

Two persons who attended the card party sponsored by the Augustinian Guild held in the gymnasium, last Tuesday evening, are the proud possessors of steel engraved etchings of the White House, which were personally autographed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. One of the etchings was accompanied by a letter from Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary to a member of the guild, who wrote to the president's wife requesting her autograph so that it might be auctioned at the party. The genial first lady replied with the two autographed etchings, and the letter written by her secretary, Malvina T. Scheider, said: "Mrs. Roosevelt hopes that the enclosed autographed pictures of the White House will be of use at your party, and with them go her best wishes." The pictures enriched the Guild by eleven dollars through the auction.

JUNIORS MEASURED FOR CLASS BLAZERS

Seventy Third-Year Students File Orders for Optional Blue or White Coats

Approximately 70 members of the Junior Class signified their intentions last week of purchasing blazers by filing their orders with Michael Clavin, chairman of the Blazer Committee. A representative of the Wanamaker Store was with Clavin in the display room of Mendel Hall last Thursday afternoon from the hours of 12 to 5 for the purpose of measuring the various Juniors desirous of buying the traditional jackets.

According to present arrangements only those Juniors who were measured on Thursday are absolutely certain of receiving their blazers in time for the inception of Junior Week on Monday, April 30. However, in order to accommodate any other Juniors who desire to be measured for blazers, the fitter from Wanamaker's will again be in the lobby opposite the barber shop in Mendel Hall sometime this week. Notices will be published confirming the exact time that he will be there.

Two Models Displayed

Relative to the style of this year's blazer, there are two models on display from which to choose. Both samples are made of flannel material and can be had in two colors, blue or white. One of the models corresponds exactly to the design of the blazers which were bought by last year's Junior Class.

The other model is quite similar, the main point of dissimilarity being that the new model lacks any piping around the edges. Also, where last year's blazer had a single pleated pocket, the new jacket has a plain pocket. In all other respects the two samples are exactly alike.

White Is Popular

About half of the Juniors who were measured ordered blazers of last year's design, while the other half evidenced a liking for the pipeless model. Irrespective of design, however, the color which was most popular was white, more than half of the total orders having been for this color.

This year, because of the economic conditions, flannel, like other clothing, was more expensive than last year, and for a time the committee was seriously considering the suitability of a gabardine coat.

LEAGUE ASSEMBLY VOTES TO ACCEPT RUSSIA AS MEMBER

R. J. Harter Heads Delegation of Five Representing Views of Canada

GOGGI NAMED SECRETARY OF REVISION COMMITTEE

Also Made Chairman of Group Which Studied Credentials of New President

(Special to the VILLANOVAN)

LEWISBURG, Pa., April 14—Unanimous acceptance of Soviet Russia as a permanent member of the League of Nations to occupy the position made vacant by the withdrawal of Japan was the most important decision reached by the intercollegiate Model League Assembly, which terminated three days of diplomatic meetings at Bucknell University here today.

The delegation from Villanova College, which was representing the interests of Canada, was composed of Raymond J. Harter, head of the delegation, Charles P. Goggi, Robert A. Geist, Rafael Martinez-Alvarez and Joseph Arthur.

"Free Manchuria" Sought

Second in importance was the recommendation of the committee of twenty-one that the Japanese troops immediately evacuate Manchuria and that a special gendarmerie be the only armed force in the territory. This recommendation was adopted unanimously by the League.

Arthur was the only Villanova student who acted upon this committee.

The committee on the revision of

Continued on Page Seven

PRE-MEDS TO HOLD SOCIAL ON FRIDAY

Continual Music for Annual Dance to Be Furnished by the Villanovans

Although many affairs have been struck off the social calendar for this year, there yet remains the Lambda Kappa Delta Spring Hop, which is scheduled for this Friday night.

At a recent meeting of the committee, final plans for the decoration of the gym were made. Several new features will change the appearance of it, and make it appear as if it were a fraternity house. A large L. K. D. banner will be hung on the wall and several other banners will also be placed around the dance floor.

Novel Decorations

In order to bring out the idea that the pre-medical fraternity is sponsoring the dance, the committee has decided to give that impression by placing a skull, painted with phosphorous paint so as to bring out a better effect, on a high pedestal and surround the stand with red paper with red lights under it in order to make it more realistic.

The programs will be of a new and distinctive style. The covers will be in black suede, and the fraternity colors, black and red, will form a border for the programs. The printing will be in gold. This mellow color, in contrast to the dark background, will make a novel and colorful program.

Due to the acoustic condition of the gym, several places for the orchestra have been tried out by

Continued on Page Seven

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the

Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS F. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DOHERTY, '35 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager

Associate College Editor: Edmond C. Malhame, '35
Associate Sports Editor: William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — Ralph Violetti, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Flo Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Peter Faso, '36
Joseph Meie, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - APRIL 17, 1934

SUPPORT THE JUNIORS

STARTING today, one of the most extensive campaigns ever undertaken by a student group to elicit aid for one of its affairs will be conducted by the Junior Prom Committee. In a few days the whole student body will be approached and asked to subscribe to the Junior Prom. To the men of '35 among this group we say, almost from the beginning of your stay at Villanova, you have looked forward to the time when you would be third-year men, when you would be embarking on that round of activities known as Junior Week and culminating in the Junior Prom. It meant to you a period when your college education would be nearing completion, requiring only the senior year to make it presentable for critical worldly eyes. Now that this stage has been reached, let's reminisce. How have you prepared? Can you honestly call yourselves college men? Morally, physically and intellectually you are on a par with any of your predecessors. Socially you have yet to prove capable. Your social ventures in the past have failed. As for the rest of the student body, we suggest that you put yourself in the same circumstances as the juniors. They need your earnest co-operation, and in return they promise you the best Junior Prom in the history of the college.

ACTIVITIES

MANY STUDENTS fail to realize the value of extra-curricular activities until after graduation. The percentage of the student body engaged in such activities is very small. That they do have a value is very evident. Any dean can testify to the fact that the great majority of letters from firms seeking information about graduates contain a query about their extra-curricular work. Employers recognize the fact that a student who has engaged in activities outside of the classroom has learned to rub shoulders with his fellowmen and knows how to amicably associate with others. Such an asset is invaluable. He also has in a small way had the opportunity of assuming executive authority. Therefore, since extra-curricular activities are of such value, it is to be wondered at that more students do not engage in them. Of course, it is possible to take part in too many such activities. Some students do so to the detriment of their scholastic standing and their classroom work. But there is a happy medium, and in order to take advantage to the fullest of the opportunities that are offered by a college education, each one should decide for which activity he has a liking and should enter it with the intention of deriving as much benefit as possible.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

AL RYAN, on hearing that the Junior Prom committee had selected Jacques Renard as their prom orchestra, showed much pleasure at the choice. The reasons for Al's outward manifestations of glee are twofold, firstly, because Renard has a fine band, and secondly, because the presence of the obese band leader means that Al will not be the fattest person at the prom.

Doc Jacobs would do well to hire the cameraman of the Penn A. C.-Villanova game. This worthy's job would be to stand by third base on the pretense of taking pictures and whenever an opposing player started for home plate he could block him out, thus preventing a run. All who saw him trip and knock down the would-be Penn A. C. scorer, legging it from third to home, will testify to his capabilities. This play, by the way, put Scorekeeper Allen in a quandary. It took him the longest time to conclude that the cameraman was not to be credited with an assist.

Thursday some seventy juniors were measured for blazers. Such a variety of shapes and sizes you have never seen. There were tall, lean figures, short, stout shapes, and their opposites, with varying breadths of shoulders, lengths of neck, sleeve lengths, and a wide divergence of opinions as to whether the blue or the white blazer was better, to be recorded, so as to assure every blazer-buying-junior a good fit in the type of blazer closest to his heart.

The usual smiles of achievement and the dour grimaces of disapproval marked the giving out of the quarterly marks. Those who received the good marks had little to say. The unfortunates with the low ones made their alibis known in the old gags about being caught flat-flooted in some test or another, or the one about the unjustness of the prof. In toto, there was nothing remarkable or strange attending the giving out of these marks. Everything was routine and typical.

The appearance of the streamlined National Broadcasting Company truck with all its electrical equipment on the campus last week was the college enigma. What it was doing on the campus, we can't say. Maybe if you'll corner Bill Holmes he might be able to tell you. For when I saw Bill, he was sitting in the truck with a pair of earphones on and looking for all the world as if what he was listening to was as important as the first message sent by Morse on his telegraph, So-o-o-o-h! See Holmes for the real lowdown or the first page of this paper.

Friday the thirteenth, at the evening meal, which incidentally was the thirteenth punch on the meal ticket, was an opportunity for Dick O'Shea to show his utter disregard for this day of ill-boding. With rousing cheers on all sides he put away thirteen poached eggs and would have gone back for more only there were thirteen "gougers" ahead of him.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

APROPOS of the present economic controversy, much has been said in regard to that nefarious, destructive and fearful subject of warfare. Many of the major colleges have pledged non-co-operation in the event of another disaster. A survey taken recently at Haverford College revealed that one-third of the entire student body will not aid their nation in such matters.

• • •

Going back to Brooklyn we find that a freshman at the end of a lengthy history outline wrote, "If you get this far, I'll buy you an ice cream cone." The democratic professor returned the paper with the written comment, "O. K., but I like sundaes better." We wonder if such invitations would be accepted here. Be cautious!

• • •

Foreign statistics divulge the fact that one-third of the university students of Europe die prematurely from the effects of bad habits acquired in college; one-third from lack of exercise, and the other third from governing Europe. Incidentally, the European dictators never went to college.

• • •

At last we come to an answer to that mysterious and clamorous question, "What do college professors do in their spare time?" Some of the Ph. D.'s at the University of Wisconsin's department of agriculture are attempting to discover whether an intoxicated hen will lay more prolifically than a sober one. Now we ask you, what has that to do with the price of eggs? Perhaps this question can be answered by our economics professors.

• • •

We wonder what sort of person is this male student at Wellesley College. He is the only male as against the 1500 co-eds who attend the institution. Local papers please copy!

• • •

For those students who possess that innate faculty of super-intellectual ability, we wish to recommend every course offered at the University of Minnesota. If courses are taken at the rate of 17 credits per quarter, the average would spend 503 years in the institution.

• • •

Vassar, according to a sociology professor at Lehigh, was founded by a brewer who was trying to prove that women really could be educated. Was his face red!

• • •

Our sympathies go to the co-ed at Loyola who wanted to know what kind of powder was contained in the Mayflower compact. She is now taking a course in American history which was recommended by the questionee.

• • •

A despondent waitress in the vicinity of Harvard U., said that students of the school are conceited, inconsiderate and spoiled children. Could this apply to the students attending Villanova?

• • •

"Where is Junior?" is the cry of Kent State College students, who are looking for Ramon Antonio Seguro Llanda y Escandon, Jr. Just call him Ray for short.

As We See It

LET'S HAVE FAIR PLAY

IN PROPORTION as "big business" steps out of its legitimate sphere and attempts to impress its will on the management of a people and on the regulation of its laws and enactments, just so much does democracy lose ground. And so, perhaps, unless prudent counsel prevails, the Government will say to radio station WLWL, "It's no use. You must give in to 'us.' Your station time is desired by 'big business,' and we have no alternative, for it is our dictator."

When the new modern wonder, the radio, was born, men were enthusiastic in their acclaim of it. People in general recognized in this new invention a pleasant means of passing leisure time. Educators and social workers saw in it a means of fostering something generally called "education." The Catholic Church, ever abreast of the times, was not slow to comprehend the full value of this wonderful invention. For a time things went along smoothly and everyone was satisfied. Then radio began to assume big proportions. It was the coming thing, so of course, "big business" promptly stepped in and assumed control. Powerful interests began to buy radio stock. Individual stations were merged into chains of many stations controlled by the men with offices in Wall Street.

It was all wrong to allow this centralization of control to rest in the hands of the few, but it might have been tolerated if they had been fair in their methods. Gradually, however, the stations devoting hours on their programs to religious and social interests found that their time was being limited. Then a powerful chain put a "priest from Detroit" off their network because he was telling the people too much about "big business," its shady deals, its trickery, and its disregard of even ordinary ethics. Now the Paulist station WLWL finds its time being still further limited, and discriminations being made against it. This is surely bad enough, but it becomes appalling when we consider what hours, formerly devoted to decent and instructive programs, are now being used for. It disgusts people with any sense of fitness and propriety even to mention some of the things perverting the minds of our people, and especially the growing generation. Radio programs are full of smutty jokes, suggestive songs, "the hot cha-cha" and "hey nonny nonny" of this modern world of ours. To any casual observer of history what inevitably overtakes a nation that runs amuck morally must be known. And yet to sound the warning, "Beware," is to the sycophants and parasites who are betraying American virility, a sign of weakness and timidity.

And so we see how things stand. That they are in a mess, all will admit. The radio is the mouthpiece of this nation. It can, should, and must be used for the benefit and enjoyment of the whole people. This is democracy working out in practice. The clean recreation of tired minds through the enjoyment of healthy programs is something to be encouraged, but the besotting of innocent minds with all the filthiness of immorality is something to be condemned. Either we build up or we destroy. Religion must be given its due place. No one will deny that we reap tomorrow as we plant today. It surely will be a sad indictment of our age if, 50 years from now, when a new chapter is written in "The Making of America," it will be told how we neglected to instill into the children of our generation a recognition of the value of spiritual things and a realization that we are creatures destined for immortality.

All this brings us back to the question of whether there will be fair play for station WLWL.

Dial-Log

THE BIGGEST radio news to hit our campus up to this time is the broadcast from the new Burlington Zephyr. Wednesday afternoon, from 4 to 4.30 P. M., there will be a short-wave pick-up from this new train as it speeds over the Pennsylvania tracks from Overbrook station to Paoli. The broadcast will be sent from the train to a car which will pick-up the short-wave and re-broadcast it over the NBC system.

There is a possibility that the broadcasting car may be located on our campus, which, the radio engineers inform us, is the best position for such a hook-up. The National Broadcasting Mobile Unit, which was on the campus last week, was making the experimental tests for this broadcast. The speakers will be General W. W. Atterbury, president of the P. R. R.; Edward G. Budd, head of the Budd Body Works; Mayor Moore, of Philadelphia.

For the baseball fans, the first game of the Philadelphia Athletics will be described this afternoon over WIP at 2.30 o'clock.

The second sportscast of interest is the relaying of the famous Boston Marathon over WJZ, on Thursday. The first part of this program will be heard at 11.45 A. M., and will bring a description of the start of the runners as they get away on the 26-mile course from Hopkinton, Mass. The second part is subject to change in time depending on the finish, but it is tentatively set at 2.15 P. M., when the leaders cross the line at the Boston A. A. clubhouse on Exeter street, Boston. Graham MacNamee will be at the mike and the same mobile transmitter will be used as in the Burlington Zephyr broadcast.

Jimmy Durante returns to that coffee program on Sunday night. Rubinoff and his arrangers are working hard on the new theme, "Inka, Dinka, Doo."

Because of the many good American dance orchestras, it is seldom that we hear about the English aggregations, but there is at least one that is so outstanding that it makes the American leaders "sit up and take notice" occasionally. We refer to Ray Noble and His London Mayfair Orchestra. Mr. Noble has recently made a recording of the famous "Tiger Rag" that would make the hottest of our orchestras sound like a funeral dirge. The pleasant part about it is that it is not merely a group of the so-called "hot choruses," but has a real rhythm and swing. A cheer for Ray Noble!

A letter from a friend who attended the dance at Catholic U. which presented Jacques Renard, increases our anxiety to hear him at the Junior Prom on May 4.

THIRD-YEAR CLASS STARTS EXTENSIVE TICKET CAMPAIGN

Canvass of Entire Student Body to Be Made by the Dance Committee

Continued From Page One

study in orchestra maestros, carrying the title of the biggest in the business. 270 pounds in weight, Renard eclipses Paul Whiteman distinctly as far as size is concerned.

In furnishing dance music, Renard is outstanding for the preponderance of strings in his programs. He prefers the so-called dreamy music to the "hotter" rhythms of other well known bands. Renard is a prominent example of the type of band leader whose whole life has been built around a motif of musical study and appreciation. His father was a well-to-do importer in Boston, Mass., and from the time Jacques was six, neither money nor parental persuasion was lacking to promote his musical education.

Has Wide Experience

Before he had finished high school, Jacques had filled his first professional engagement, touring throughout the south with Ann Pavlova. There followed more study, under two prominent Boston symphony concertmeisters, and soon young Renard was playing regularly with two great Boston orchestras.

Deciding that he wanted his own orchestra, he combined business with pleasure and opened the Cocoanut Grove as a dance club. His first broadcasts were made from the Club Mayfair. After his fourth broadcast he was signed to a commercial program. Among his biggest commercials have been Camels Cigarettes, Pontiac and Frigidaire.

LEADS PROM BAND

Jacques Renard, who recently weighed in at a mere 270 pounds, has been chosen as one of this country's most popular orchestra leaders in a poll of radio editors. The famed maestro and his orchestra will be heard at the annual Junior Prom of the class of 1935 in the college gymnasium, Friday evening, May 4. He is now featured on Sunday nights over the NBC network.

WAGNER CONDUCTS GOODWILL MISSION

Alumni Secretary to Journey Upstate to Interest College Prospects

Villanova's ambassadors of good will, Albert C. Wagner, alumni secretary, and August Kunzenbacher, professor of chemistry, will leave next Monday, the 23d, for a five-day tour through the coal region district of upper Pennsylvania.

There are two purposes behind this trip: First, to contact the high schools in the coal regions and thereby secure future students for Villanova; and second, to attempt to organize an active alumni club in the district.

The first school to be visited on the trip will be Summit Hill High School, in Summit Hill. The principal of this institution is a Villanova alumnus, class of '17, Edward V. McCallian, and he will introduce the traveling ambassadors to his students on Monday morning. On Monday afternoon the students at Coaldale High School will hear Wagner's lecture and view the motion picture, "Life at Villanova."

On Monday and Tuesday evenings Wagner and Professor Kunzenbacher will receive students who wish a personal interview in their suite at the Hotel Casey, in Scranton. Tuesday morning they will speak to the students of Pittston City High, and in the afternoon, St. John's High, in the same city, will be the scene of their talks.

Over the Coals

Did you know that: The administration will spank your paddies should you decide to cross the lawn at the wrong time or spot?....Two of America's leading monthly magazines have been banned from sale on the campus?....Some of the Train & Trolley boys can find no better place to sleep than in the Pie Shoppe?....It was apparently necessary for Eddie Walsh to have company with him the night he spent in the infirmary, for Bill McCarthy also spent the night there?....Among the newest flickers just released, Bryn Mawr's contribution to the field of shadow acting, Hepburn, acquits herself admirably in "Spitfire"?....Those of the boys who have sufficient money will find that a trip to Pierre's is well worth the money just to see the "Carioca" danced as the team there does it?....Those with more musical ears than others of the crowd argue that Eddie Duchin rates high among the better bands?....Human anatomy may be dropped from the curriculum next year?....Those citizens who let their money talk for them will give you even odds that the Phillies won't finish in the first half at the end of the season?....Like many of the patients there, Art Noble's love for Bryn Mawr Hospital is dying?....There are churches of more than 27 different denominations in Philadelphia?....When asked a year ago what course he was taking, the captain-elect of the Penn mole-skin team replied that he had no idea?....The honors for the best male acting in recent shows should go to Clark Gable for his performance in "It Happened One Night"?

Also, although the box-score says so, it wasn't Ed Vaughn who lost the Penn game?....The consensus of opinion seems to be that next to Waring, Fiorito puts on the best radio show?....Neither the cold nor classes could drag Fr. McConville, John del Lauro, or Fetlock Sholmes away from the NBC unit on Friday?....When dancing, Art Hart's feet can't seem to decide which way to go?....Several of the songs in the Toif und Glinsel Club show are well worth learning?....What with the repairs and additions being made on the campus, an outsider might easily be led to believe that a course in landscape gardening was being given within these precincts?....Some of the boys take entirely too many trips up to the mountains?....Some of the frosh have already acquired the sublime arrogance of aged seniors?....Not all of the boys receiving help from the CWA for work about the campus really deserve the benefits they are receiving?....If work continues to be piled on the frosh in the arts course, the poor guys will be as book-ridden as are the present seniors?....Sir Hubert Gallagher should be subsidized by one of the sock companies, if he's not already, for the advertising of and the display of his ankle designs?....That Rosemont's prom on the 27th promises to be the best yet?

EXHIBITION TALK HELD

Beta Gamma Society of the College Appeared in Trenton Last Week

About 150 people were present at the hall of Trenton Council, No. 355, Knights of Columbus, of Trenton, N. J., to witness the exhibition debate staged by selected members of the Beta Gamma Literary Society of Villanova College, held last Tuesday evening.

On the question, "Resolved: That a permanent dictatorship is for the best economic interests of the United States," the affirmative side composed of Roberts Bouason, Peter Kerr, and Francis Bigley, gained the judges' decision by a vote of two to one.

SO ROUND and FIRM and FULLY PACKED

Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat. For every Lucky is made of the choicest of ripe, mellow Turkish and domestic tobaccos—and only the clean center leaves—they taste better. Then, "It's toasted"—for throat protection. And every Lucky is made so round, so firm, so fully packed—no loose ends. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—do not have that objectionable tendency to dry out, an important point to every smoker. Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves

NOT the top leaves—they're underdeveloped—they are harsh!

They taste better

NOT the bottom leaves—they're inferior in quality—coarse and sandy!

Copyright 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Card Party of Augustinian Guild Attracts Gathering of Over 1200

More than 1200 people were in attendance at the first annual card party and dance, sponsored by the Augustinian Mission Guild at the gymnasium, last Tuesday evening.

This sets a new record for those present at a social affair held in the gym, and is the result of six weeks of intensive effort performed by the members of the committee in charge of activities.

Bridge, 500, pinochle and euchre, were played by 720 of those attending, while about 75 found more enjoyment in the game of radio. These games began at 8.30 and continued until 10 o'clock.

To enliven the interest of the card players, two prizes were allotted to each table. These gifts, donated by various individuals and business concerns, formed a large portion of the 600 prizes that were distributed at the social.

In addition to the awards mentioned above, four special souvenirs were given out. Those fortunate enough to have the lucky tickets entitling the holder to one of these prizes were: Rose Wilson, of Philadelphia, who won the $25 door prize; William Morris, a junior in the School of Science, received a radio; Elia McDonald, of Villanova, acquired a lamp; John Reichart, of Bala, Pa., won the electric clock.

Two autographed pictures of the White House, together with a letter expressing best wishes for a successful evening, were sent by the wife of the President. These, along with a baseball signed by Jimmie Dykes, star of the Chicago Americans, were auctioned during the entertainment.

After the final tallies made by the card players were presented to the prize committee, and awards made to the teams having the best scores, the Very Rev. Mortimer A. Sullivan, O. S. A., Provincial of the Augustinian Order in the United States, addressed the assemblage.

Fr. Sullivan, in the name of all the Fathers and members of the order, thanked every person, "whose encouragement, co-operation, presence or contribution has assisted in furthering the success of this evening's affair."

Following Fr. Sullivan's talk, a vaudeville troupe under the direction of Charles B. O'Connor entertained with Irish songs and dances, comedies, and a performance by a well-known juggler.

Music for the vaudeville acts was furnished by Thomas O'Connor and his orchestra.

THESES REQUIRED BEFORE EXAM DATES

Deans Set May 14 for Final Consideration of Senior Research Projects

Candidates for the Bachelor's degree should note that a definite form is required for the presentation of their thesis. It is absolutely essential that all work on thesis be completed before the beginning of the senior final examinations.

The date for completion of the thesis has been set for May 14, 1934. Every thesis in final form must be given to the dean of the department before noon on that date. No member of the faculty will be granted authority to extend this time limit.

In regard to the presentation, a special form has been set. All thesis must be presented in the standard form of binder which the college bookroom will carry in stock. these may be procured free of charge. Each department has its distinctive color design. Text must be typewritten, double-spaced, upon one side of white paper eight and one-half inches by eleven inches in size. Amateurish workmanship in the typing will be sufficient cause to require rewriting.

The amount of written material will be determined by the dean of each department. A clear margin of one and one-half inches must be allowed at the left-hand side of each page, and a clear margin of one inch on the right-hand side, the top and the bottom.

Drawing Rules Prescribed

Sketches and drawings inserted in the body of the text shall be carefully executed in India ink or the equivalent. Any drawings which accompany the thesis are to be bound with the text in the same cover. Drawings shall be on the rough side of tracing cloth, except where the faculty advisor has authorized another form. A complete list of references consulted must be appended to each thesis.

In addition, a definite form for the order of presentation has been set. Material should be arranged with a view to its being bound in the following order: (a) One or more blank sheets; (b) Title page; (c) Index, referring to pages by numbers; (d) Historical outline, or a statement of the objectives sought in the investigation; (e) General outline of the design of investigation; (f) Details, in logical order; (g) Complete computations, with results summarized; (h) Statement of conclusions reached; (i) Bibliography.

Title Goes to College

The thesis when presented becomes the property of Villanova College and may not be published by the candidates without the permission of the college authorities. Two copies must be handed in.

In regard to the engineers, a slight variation of form is required. The candidates for degrees should note that on the date of the first required report.

There has elapsed approximately one-third of the period between the opening of the second semester and the date set for the presentation of the thesis, May 14. Three reports have been due, and the final one should be handed in by April 28.

MEETINGS ARE SCHEDULED

Among the important meetings listed for this week are the Villanovan and Lambda Kappa Delta fraternity meetings in Rooms 76 and 210 Mendel Hall respectively, at 1 P. M. today. Tomorrow the Spanish Club meets at 7 P. M. in Mendel Hall.

The Aeronautical Society convenes in 210 Mendel Hall Thursday, at 1 P. M., while Room 210 Mendel Hall will be the scene of the North Jersey Club meeting on the same day at 7 P. M.

Habits that come from jangled nerves are a warning

Perhaps you don't bite your nails—but if you aren't the stolid, phlegmatic type, you probably have other nervous habits.

You may drum on your desk—chew your pencils—

These and countless other seemingly unimportant nervous habits are a warning of jangled nerves.

Why not play safe? Protect your nerves. Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation. And make Camels your cigarette.

For Camel's costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves—no matter how steadily you smoke.

NEW GAME BOOK SENT...

FREE!

Write for illustrated book of 20 nerve tests. See if you have healthy nerves. Have loads of fun testing friends for "jangled nerves." So mail order-blank below with the fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Free book comes to you postpaid.

CLIP THIS COUPON NOW!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Dept. 76-C, Winston-Salem, N. C.

I enclose fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Send me book of nerve tests postpaid.

Name _____ (Print Name)
Street _____
City _____ State _____
Offer expires December 31, 1934

Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

CAMELS—SMOKE AS MANY AS YOU WANT... THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

TUNE IN! CAMEL CARAVAN with Casa Loma Orchestra, Stoopnagle and Budd, Connie Boswell, Every Tuesday and Thursday at 10 P. M., E.S.T.—9 P. M., C.S.T.—8 P. M., M.S.T.—7 P. M., P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network

Sportorial

by Lou Marechal

WE have been asked what we considered the hardest football schedule that Villanova ever played. In our memory there is not one that is particularly outstanding but the students around 1907 would probably say that the team in that year played the toughest opposition. Here is the 1907 list:

Carlisle Indians.
University of Pennsylvania.
Princeton.
Yale.
Swarthmore.
Fordham.

This season closed with Steelton Y. M. C. A., but we omitted it from the above list because it did not seem to fit with those other names. There is another schedule that may be considered to be of an even more difficult nature. We leave it to your judgment which will probably be based on the present football rating of the teams, but remember the athletic status of most of these schools has changed greatly in the past ten years:

Rutgers.
Muhlenberg.
Lebanon Valley.
Catholic University.
Army.
Gettysburg.
Navy.
Fordham.

The Rutgers, Army, Navy and Fordham games would have the weight with their names today to make this as difficult a schedule as any of the teams play in the country. Don't ask this writer about the results of the games, these can be found in the same place which this information came; the sports history published weekly in this paper.

—V—

AROUND the end of March we read an article in the Philadelphia Inquirer, written by Perry Lewis, under the title "The Old Sport's Musings."

The idea the column conveyed was that because Heinie Miller's 1933 Temple team failed to beat Villanova, Mr. Miller was replaced as head coach.

If that memorable day has become a bit clouded in your memory, let us recall it for you. The Temple field was a sea of mud, and after the teams had several scrimmages it was almost impossible to discern who was who and for which team they played. "Whitey" Randour was tackled on the 16-yard line by "Hank" Reese after the whistle had blown, who claimed that he never heard the whistle.

The 15-yard penalty was inflicted and the ball put on the one-yard line and on the second try Harry Patzsch put it over for the only touchdown of the game.

Mr. Lewis summarized the whole thing as follows: "Perhaps the Wildcats would have won in any event, but the fact remains that Reese brought down upon the heads of the Owls a 15-yard penalty that put the ball on Temple's one-yard line with Villanova in possession, first down. From this point, it was carried over in two plays by Patzsch; Villanova won, Temple lost and Heinie was demoted."

To us there is reason to doubt that this was the cause for Mr. Miller's "demotion." Heinie Miller gave Temple wonderful football teams and it does not seem logical that because a team lost a game under such conditions, after a most successful season up to date, a good coach would lose his job.

Having seen Miller-coached teams play many games we believe that he is one of the best coaches in this part of the country today and the loss of this game alone was not reason enough for the school to part with such a splendid mentor.

—V—

THE seventh annual Villanova Interscholastic Track and Field Meet will be held at the Stadium on May 12. It is expected that about a thousand high and prep school runners from the leading high schools of the east will compete in the many events.

—V—

THE intra-mural golf tournament will be held this afternoon on the Main Line Open Course. All those who wish to try for the varsity and have already expressed their desire should report at 2 and 3 P. M. otherwise they will not be allowed to play. The best average scores of the teams will decide the winner. The results will be announced in next Tuesday's paper.

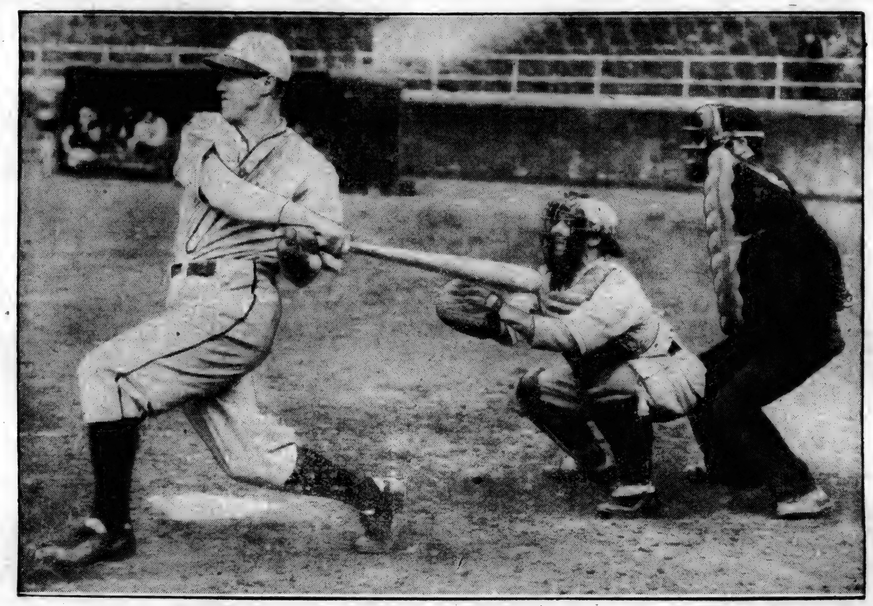
Continued on Page Eight

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING

Tuesday, April 17, 1934 Page Five

Stirring Action in the Villanova-Pennsylvania Game On Franklin Field Last Week



(Photo Courtesy Phila. Record)

The above picture was snapped just as Don Kellett, brilliant University of Pennsylvania all-around athlete, knocked a long home run into center field in the game played on Franklin Field, Philadelphia, last week. Crouched behind the batter is Catcher "Link" Lenzi, of the Wildcats. Penn came out on the long end of a 5 to 3 score and handed the Jacobsmen their second defeat.

WILDCAT LINKSMEN BOW TO HAVERFORD

Victory Over Swarthmore Is Villanova Team's Second Conquest of Season

Old Man Friday XIII turned his wrath on the Villanova golf team on the Merion Cricket Club course last week and the 'Cat team lost their first match in three starts to Haverford College. The score was 5 to 4.

On Wednesday the Wildcat golfers won their second match when they turned back the Swarthmore foursome by a 5½ to ½ score on the Rolling Green course in Swarthmore.

The Swarthmore match was the Cats' second victory. Their first conquest was a brilliant 6 to 0 triumph over the Boston College team.

Elliott Plays Tie

On the Rolling Green course Captain Jim Elliott paired with Dave Cragg to gain point honors from Murphy and Lewine, of the Garnet. Elliott played an 18-hole tie with the Swarthmore No. 1 player, while Cragg eked out a close win in his individual match.

The Villanova first pair took the point lead for best ball by downing their opponents, two up.

The second foursome in this match accounted for three more points. Jim McNerney beat John Findley and Joe Duffy; Villanova's fourth man nosed out John Burt. The Wildcats also won the point for best ball.

Play in Rain

The match was played in the pouring rain and the individual scores of both teams were greatly affected. The 'Cats, however, proved their ability to come through under all hazards.

Villanova's defeat came as a surprise at the hands of Haverford,

Continued on Page Eight

VILLANOVA	ab	r	h	o	a
Wronski, 2b	3	1	0	2	3
Lenzi, c	5	0	0	4	2
Cavanaugh, ss	4	0	0	3	3
Mahan, 1b	4	1	1	10	0
Skaff, lf	4	1	3	1	0
Murphy, cf	3	0	0	3	0
Huriburt, rf	2	0	1	0	0
Geraghty, 3b	3	0	1	1	6
Vaughn, p	2	0	0	0	1
O'Donnell, p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	31	3	6	24	15

PENN	ab	r	h	o	a
Mack, 3b	3	0	0	1	4
Sl'b'jun, rf	2	1	1	0	0
O'Donnell, rf	2	0	0	0	0
Kellett, ss	3	1	2	0	5
Kozloff, lf	3	0	0	2	0
Powel, 2b	3	1	1	1	3
Shanahan, cf	4	1	3	3	0
Freeman, 1b	4	1	1	12	0
Lynch, c	2	0	1	8	0
Bartin, p	1	0	0	0	1
Harrington, p	2	0	0	1	1
Lees	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	30	5	10	27	12

Errors—Vaughn, Lynch. Runs batted in—Kellett, 2; Skaff, 2; Freeman, 3; Geraghty, Shanahan. Home runs—Kellett, Skaff, Freeman. Stolen bases—Shanahan, Kellett, 2; Powel. Sacrifices—Geraghty, Mack, Harrington. Double plays—Cavanaugh, Geraghty, Cavanaugh to Wronski; Harrington, Kellett and Powel; Left on bases—Villanova, 7; Penn, 8. Base on balls—off Barton, 4; Vaughn, 5; O'Donnell, 1; Harrington, 1. Struck out—by Barton, 2; Vaughn, 3; Harrington, 4. Hits—off Barton, 4 in 4 innings; Harrington, 2 in 5; Vaughn, 10 in 7; O'Donnell, 0 in 1.

PENN A. C.	ab	r	h	o	a
French, rf	5	0	2	2	0
Carlsten, 2b	4	0	2	6	2
Haines, cf	4	0	1	2	0
Harwin, c	3	1	1	3	0
McGill, 1b	4	1	3	10	0
Brewster, lf	5	0	1	2	0
Eddowes, 3b	4	0	0	2	2
Dougherty, ss	3	1	0	2	5
Simons, p	1	1	0	0	4
Jauss, p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	34	4	9	27	13

VILLANOVA	ab	r	h	o	a
Murphy, cf	3	2	1	0	1
Cavanaugh, ss	4	0	2	1	1
Lenzi, c	3	0	1	7	0
Mahan, 1b	2	0	0	3	1
Skaff, lf	4	0	0	1	0
Geraghty, 3b	4	0	0	5	1
Huriburt, rf	3	0	2	2	0
Wronski, 2b	3	0	0	3	0
McGovern, p	2	0	0	2	1
aKrajac	1	1	1	0	0
Totals	29	3	7	27	6

a—Batted for McGovern in 9th.

Penn A. C.	0	0	1	0	0	1	1	0	1	—4
Villanova	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	—3

Runs batted in—Carlsten, French, Brewster, Cavanaugh, 2. Errors—Penn A. C., Harwi, McGill, Dougherty; Villanova—None. Two-base hits—French, 2; Brewster. Stolen bases—Lenzi, McGill, 2; Carlsten. Left on bases—Penn A. C., 12; Villanova, 11. Base on ball—off Simons, 3; off McGovern, 9. Struck out—by Simons, 3; by McGovern, 2; Jauss, 1. Hits—off Simons, 9 in 5 innings. Wild pitches—McGovern, 2.

Pennacs Stop 'Cats' Rally To Eke Out Close Victory

Ninth Inning Flareup Fails to Overcome Clubmen's Early Lead, as 'Cats Lose Third Straight Contest

U. OF P. BATSMEN DOWN VILLANOVA

Homer by Freeman, Penn Star, With Two Aboard Clinches Game

Villanova hopes went high last Thursday when Frank Skaff, the Main Liner's heavy stick, blasted out a homer in the eighth inning against Penn to break the 2-2 count that had existed from the third inning on. But the joy was short-lived, for in that same canto, "Big Bob" Freeman, Penn's 6 feet 4 inch first sacker, poled out a similar hit to the identical spot with two other Quakers on the paths. This put Penn in the lead, 5-3, and it was in that state that the game ended.

The game was well played, only two errors marring it. One by the 'Cat's pitcher, Eddie Vaughn, and the other by the Red and Blue's lively little backstop, John Lynch. The losers completed two double plays to one completed by the victors.

Penn Homers Win

All of Penn's scores came as the result of homers. Captain Don Kellett contributed his in the first frame, and not until the eighth did Penn score again. Bill Shanahan led the Red and Blue attack with a double and two singles out of four trips to the plate, and he made a fine job of snaring three balls

Continued on Page Six

McGovern Fans Nine P. A. C. Men; Wildness Causes Defeat

Penn Athletic Club was on the right side of old man jinx on Friday the thirteenth when they handed the Villanova baseball nine their third straight setback of the current season. The final score was 4 to 3.

A sensational rally in the closing half of the ninth inning almost enabled the 'Cats to tie the count, but the spurt fell short by one run. The Clubmen went home with the Villanova scalp as a result of their efforts in their opening game.

French Stars

Cooper French, former Penn State star, spelled the doom of the locals by his mighty work with the bludgeon. Carlsten, Brewster and French are credited with batting in one run each while the Pennac's fourth tally came when Bill McGill stole home on Joe McGovern's long wind-up.

After the Philadelphian's tally in the third inning the Collegians came right back and knotted the count. Jim Murphy and Toby Cavanaugh each poled out clean singles after Joe McGovern had fallen via the strikeout rout. "Red" Lenzi flied out and Artie Mahan succeeded in reaching first after catcher Harwi dropped the third strike,

Continued on Page Six

INTRA-MURAL TRACK BEGINS TOMORROW WITH FIELD EVENTS

Wednesday and Thursday Set for Championships Due to Many Entries

AUSTIN TO DEFEND TITLE

"Fat" Foley Challenges All in His Weight to 40 Yard Dash

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 P. M., the intra-mural track and field championships will get under way at the stadium. All the field events are slated to take place during the course of the afternoon. The campus champions for 1934 will be determined in the following events: high jump, broad jump, javelin, discus and shotput. The present indications, as shown by the entry blanks, point to a record number of contestants.

Running Events Thursday

On Thursday afternoon the meet will be continued, again starting at 3 o'clock. The champions will be decided in all the running events on this day. The following events are to be contested: 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard run, 880-yard run, mile run, 120-yard high hurdles, 160-yard low hurdles, and the 880-yard relay race in which four men will each run 220 yards.

The points earned during both days will then be totalled and the team having the greatest number will be declared team champions for 1934.

Ability Distributed

A preliminary view of the comparative strength of the five contesting teams shows that the abilities in things of a track nature, are evenly distributed, and it would not be surprising to see the meet won by a point or two. This situation brings to mind the close finish of last year's championships.

Those who were fortunate enough to witness the 1933 edition of this meet will, no doubt, remember the excitement which was caused by a tie for first honors between Austin Hall and the Day Hop team at the beginning of the last event, the javelin throw. The performances of Milne and Macek of Austin proved too strong for the Day Hops in this event, and as a result, Austin gathered in the title with welcome arms, and it has, since that afternoon, been resting in the copious title bag of the Austinites. The residents of Austin are prepared to defend this title and fully expect to make the ethereal trophy a two year fixture at least.

The spirit of the intra-mural meet seems to have a certain effect upon the potential "breeze-tails" of both classroom and "bull session." One of these worthy members has gone so far as to proclaim himself a world's champion in a 40-yard dash against contestants of his own, or approximately his own, weight.

Special Dash

Having seen the sprightly Walter Foley step a furlong or so the other afternoon, many were also of the same opinion. In order to start the genial and peace loving Foley upon his path to fame there will be staged a special 40-yard dash for stout fellows of at least one-tenth of a ton weight. This race will take place after the field events have been concluded on Thursday afternoon. All those who fit the tonnage requirements are urged to be on hand to press the "Flying Cloud" to a new record.

Engineers Conduct Tests on Campus

Continued From Page One

the installation of almost every important feature of the machine.

The car which resembles a small motor bus is the latest thing in stream-line design. The entire body has been built from aluminum and the exterior has been given a coating of silver paint trimmed in black to give the car an unusual appearance.

Attains High Speed

The roof of the seven-ton unit carries several antennae, and although its size would apparently be deceptive as to its speed capacity, those in charge of the vehicle declared that the streamlining made it capable of attaining high acceleration.

Pennsylvania Wins At Franklin Field

Continued From Page Five

with running catches from his position in center field.

Skaff was the visitors' best bet and also the best hitter of the day, for he connected for a homer and two singles in four trips up. Besides his round-trip wallop, Kellett also got one single and walked once in four excursions to the rubber.

Villanova got six safeties from two Penn hurlers, Andy Barton and Vince Harrington, while the Quakers found Eddie Vaughn for 10 before he was relieved by Tom O'Donnell, in the eighth, who blanked the victors for the remaining canto.

Barton Retired

After pitching great ball for four frames and with the count tied at 2, Barton went to the showers and Harrington, who relieved him, was given the verdict.

The fielding gem of the day was provided by Hen Kozloff, Penn's three letter athlete and left fielder. He stabbed Art Mahan's sizzling liner with his bare hand after stumbling through the pole vault pit in front of the south stands.

Barton, starting the game, set down the 'Cats in order, but Penn after seeing her first batter go down before Vaughn, watched Steve Slobojun, who played his first game in right field, dispatch a single to center. Kellett then laced out his homer to the west gate and then the side was retired.

V. C. Scores

Villanova found Barton in the second when Mahan led off with a screeching double and then went to third on Skaff's roller to the box. Murphy fanned for the first out, but Barton walked Hurlburt. A sacrifice to center by Ben Geraghty, sophomore star of the court quintet and now replacing Frank Skaff at third base, scored Mahan.

The visitors tied the count in the third with one hit by Skaff scoring Captain Stan Wronski, who had walked.

Villanova defeated the Pennsylvania team for the past two seasons, both games were closely contested with the Red and Blue and each time the Wildcats won out by the narrow margin of one run. This was the first defeat since 1931.

Penn A. C. Victors 'Cats Rally Fails

Continued From Page Five

Murphy crossed with the run on an attempt to get Mahan at first base.

P. A. C. Scores

The Clubmen got their second run in the sixth inning when Jim Dougherty, after being walked and advancing on subsequent out, was batted in by Carlsten's single.

In the seventh inning, McGill put the Clubbers two runs ahead when he scored via the stolen base method.

After the Penn A. C. had scored another run in the opening of the ninth inning, the Villanova team put on steam and staged its rally.

Krajsa Singles

Johnny Krajsa batted for Joe McGovern. After fouling several of Pitcher Jauss' offerings, the Allentown lad poled a clean single over the head of "Swede" Carlsten, the visitors' second baseman. Jim Murphy hit a scorching liner to Dougherty who muffed the ball and the diminutive 'Cats' outfielder rested safely on first.

Toby Cavanaugh caused the 'Cats' hopes to soar when he knocked out a clean single which permitted both Murphy and Krajsa to score. Lenzi and Mahan were both retired on infield grounders and Frank Skaff ended the ball game when he poled a long fly out to left field.

McGill Leads Hitters

Bill McGill, of the visitors had the high batting average of the day with three hits out of four trips to the plate. Charley Hurlburt and Toby Cavanaugh each had two hits for the Villanova team.

Pitcher Joe McGovern at times seemed to have complete mastery over his opponents and sent nine batters down via strikeouts but his occasional shakiness during which times he walked nine men, cost him the game. He is also charged with two wild pitches.

The Penn A. C. team outhit the locals nine to seven. Both teams failed to hit when hits were needed most as is shown in that the Clubbers had twelve men left on bases while the Wildcats left eleven.

The Villanova team's next opponents will be Lehigh. The game will be played at Bethlehem.

In the Limelight

Joe Fenstemacher

A S A thoroughbred prances at the post at the Kentucky Derby, Joe Fenstemacher is tearing up the cinders in preparation for the Penn Relays.

Not being content with his scintillating exhibitions on the track, Joe was most active for the past four years in the circulation and business departments of the VILLANOVAN. He has just retired as business manager of the paper.

Joe first displayed his aptitude as a track burner-upper when he entered Williamsport (Pa.) High School in 1926. He stepped up and up, and to his greater honor and glory he was all at once in his fourth year, a big high school Senior, track captain, had four letters, and ended up by being the 100-yard and 220-yard schoolboy champion of Pennsylvania. Some stuff!

After "Fensty" left Williamsport he descended upon Villanova. A big break for us. Feet first, he landed in the sportlight in his first spring here. The varsity tracksters had a dual meet with West Chester State Teachers, while the Frosh were battling West Catholic High School. Closson, a much-touted Teachers' dash man, had turned in a reasonably fast 100. His time was 10.3 seconds, beating Villanova by one-tenth of a second. After the big boys had run, the lowly Frosh met W. C. Joe was our man in the 100. Crack, went the gun, whoosh went Joe, and snap went the tape across a Frosh jersey. Joe had won. Joe had made the phenomenal time of 10 seconds flat, the best time ever made by a Villanova runner.

The following year Joe crashed through in a double blaze of glory by first lowering the stadium record for the century by a dash of 9.9 seconds. The next Saturday, during a meet with Temple, "Fensty" picked up his feet verra fast and turned in a ticket of 9.8 seconds, very fast time in any man's college. The Penn Relays hold no terrors for Joe. He has torn up the dash track along the south stands of Franklin Field for six years. While in high school he was victorious twice, vanquished once. For Villanova, he ran 1.000, being the winnah three times, running on the Freshman and varsity relay teams, and the invitation 100-yard and 200-yard dash events.

Last year was Joe's banner year. In the carnival he competed in the 100-yard invitation dash, reaching the semifinals against the best runners in the East. He was elected track captain and made a sensational showing in the dual meets.

He holds office as vice-president of the Spiked Shoe Club, the Villanova chapter of a national organization of intercollegiate trackmen. He is also a member of the Varsity Club.

In his seventh year of competition at Franklin Field Joe is expected to go to town in the 100. Watch him go!

Sports History Continues Grid Records of 'Old Days'

Teams of Yesteryear Stressed Power Plays; Football Squads of 1906-07 Vied With Formidable Foes for Season's Title

McGEEHAN BECAME PROMINENT IN '11

By WM. J. ALLEN

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles by William J. Allen, Associate Sports Editor of the VILLANOVAN, who is the first student in the college to compile a complete history of Villanova teams as far back as records were kept. Further sidelights on Villanova's sporting history will be printed in subsequent issues.)

In 1906, the Villanova team fared little better than had its immediate predecessors. The opening game of the season was played against the Carlisle Indians, and the Wildcats came as close to victory over that particular opponent as they were ever destined to come. Although they went down to defeat by the close score of 6 to 0, the 'Cats evidenced great strength after only two weeks of training.

'Cats Meet Tigers

The second contest was played against Princeton on their home grounds, and the Blue and White was defeated by the score of 24-0. The third game gave the same result, this time at the hands of Swarthmore on the 'Cats home field by the score of 4-0.

For the next game they played host to Rutgers and defeated them, 17-0. Having caught onto the idea of winning on their home grounds, the 'Cats again played host, this time to the team from the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital staff, and brought forth their most decisive score of the season. The second victory of the season was achieved by the score of 42-0.

Pass Helps Win

Villanova's squad traveled to Steelton for their next game to engage the Y. M. C. A. team. The game was a scoreless tie until the closing minutes of the fray. Then Steelton put over a long forward pass for the only score of the game.

Ursinus was defeated by the pleasing score of 33-0, and Fordham emerged victorious over the Wildcats by the score of 17-6 to clinch their claim to the Catholic College Eastern championship title for that year. The season was closed with the University of Pennsylvania, and it was charged up as a loss, 22-12.

McGeehan Captains Team

Fred Crolius was still football coach at Villanova; in fact, he remained in that capacity at the Main Line college until 1911, and the captain for that year was the late Charlie McGeehan. After three years of varsity football, the illustrious Charlie had been elected leader by his fellowmen, and he proved himself to be well worth the honor bestowed upon him.

Charlie was to return in later years as football coach and a professor of electrical engineering, but that will be properly considered in future installments.

High Point Scorers

The 1906 team had such outstanding stars as McGeehan, Barr, Daniels, "Topsy" Kane, Rock, Slavin and Spain. Although they won only three games out of the nine played, they scored 110 points as against 69 for their opponents.

One outstanding feature so far noticed in this history is the fact that almost half of the games played each year were shutout victories for one team or the other. As the popularity of the forward pass increased, and new playing rules were introduced to strengthen offensive tactics, such scoreless victories gradually began to disappear.

1907

The 1907 squad suffered a fate quite similar to that of many of its predecessors. "Sal" Slavin was captain in that year, and he led his team against one of the most formidable schedules ever faced by a Wildcat football squad.

They opened the season with Carlisle on the latter's home grounds, and again went down in defeat before the Indians by the score of 10-0. Although Carlisle defeated the 'Cats for six straight years, they were still anxious to "lay them

Continued on Page Eight

'CATS' MEOW

THINGS look a trifle busier these days—baseball (varsity & intra-mural), track, golf and tennis.

—V—

Baseball—A poor start against Princeton and two subsequent wash outs.

—V—

Track—High hopes and expectations for the Penn Carnival.

—V—

Golf—A good team. A good start. A good year?

—V—

Tennis—Players, racquets, balls, nets, sneakers, and even opponents—but no courts.

—V—

Intra-mural baseball—Carrying on the intense rivalry shown in the football and basketball contests.

—V—

Another inopportune rain and "Doc" Jacobs will believe that his team is hoodooed.

—V—

Have you seen John Shevlin's smoke ball? He exhibits it while on the mound for Austin Hall. ....

—V—

Henry Morin, a Mendel Hall representative, didn't see it—he is expected to recover!!!

—V—

In accordance with the intention of obtaining the best results, a coach, in choosing a battery, mixes brains with brawn.—The battery for Fedigan Hall one day last week was composed of Charley Cox and Don Blanchard. Where were the brains in that combination?

—V—

What well-known athlete fouled the last strike into the catcher's mitt in an intra-mural contest last week, and didn't know he was out?

—V—

Who can yell louder, Jerry Scanlon or Don Blanchard, when the umpire calls a raw (?) one?

—V—

Our choice for the bravest man on the campus is Mike Clavin—he umpires the intra-mural baseball games.

—V—

Bob Reagan is still waiting for a good quartet of freshmen to form a presentable relay team to enter the Penn carnival.

—V—

In '32 the freshman relay team won the championship of America. Now their successors seem to be content to rest on their hard earned laurels.

—V—

Jim Elliott, the ace middle distance runner of the school, is a golfer of no mean repute.

—V—

Will "Whitey" Randour repeat his three victories of last year in the intra-mural track meet Thursday?

BASEBALLERS READY FOR LEHIGH GAME

'Cats Determined to Triumph in Contest at Bethlehem; Meet Ursinus

During the next week, Villanova will face both Ursinus and Lehigh University as opponents on the baseball diamond. The Bethlehem nine was not scheduled to open its season until April 11, against Haverford College. This late opening was further delayed by reason of the fact that the game scheduled for that date was rained out.

In their second game scheduled, the Brown and White went down to defeat at the hands of the Michigan team by the decisive score of 11-5. Michigan is the team that, it will be well remembered by many baseball fans, engaged in a hectic 19-15 game with Temple University last week and came out on the short end.

The Lehigh squad played Swarthmore at the latter's field, a few days ago, and emerged victorious by the score of 8-2. In this game they gave evidence of batting ability, and the fielding support given the pitcher was well worth consideration.

As yet, Ursinus has not officially opened its baseball season. Coach "Jing" Johnson called his first practice on the last day of the Easter vacation, and a squad of 35 candidates reported. Many of the positions left vacant by the graduation of several players have been well filled by former freshman players.

STUDENT ENGINEERS ATTEND CONFERENCE IN PHILADELPHIA

Seventeen Senior Engineers, Two Sophomores and One Junior Present

INSPECTION TRIPS HELD

Excellent Programs Offered to Society Members at Gathering

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers held its annual Eastern Student Conference at Drexel Institute in Philadelphia last Monday and Tuesday, April 9-10. The conference was attended by seventeen seniors, one junior and two sophomore mechanicals. In addition to these, professors Morehouse and Barber, as well as other members of the engineering faculty, were present for the two-day conference.

The purpose of these conferences is to bring together student branches of this society in the eastern part of the United States. It is held annually and each year a different college plays as host to its invited guests.

On Monday, after registration, the students visited the U. S. Naval Academy Aircraft Factory and the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society Building (air-conditioning equipment). After lunch a technical session was held in the Drexel auditorium. Victor L. Barr, a senior engineer of Villanova College, acted as chairman. In the evening a banquet and an informal dance was held in Hotel Normandie.

On Tuesday, another technical session was held, followed by luncheon and an inspection tour which included the Philadelphia Museum of Art and Academy of Natural Sciences, and the Franklin Institute.

Results of the contest for the best paper presented were then awarded. The first prize went to Albert F. Faber, Jr., of Princeton University. His topic was entitled, "An Improved Type of Intake Valve Casing for Internal Combustion Engines." Harold G. Abramowitz won the second prize by presenting a paper on "Hydrodynamic Theory and Application of the Magnus Effect." Abramowitz hails from the College of the City of New York. The third prize was won by Hans J. Lang, of the Stevens Institute of Technology. His topic was entitled "Technical Aspects of Recent Developments in the Piano."

Robert C. Ried, of Villanova College, was accredited with honorable mention. His topic was one of the most interesting presented. "Problems in the Design of a Pulverizer for Calcium Carbonate Rock," was his choice.

Barr, president of the student branch at Villanova College, was awarded the Brashear Biography. In addition to these awards, all students were presented with attractive souvenirs which were donated by a number of leading manufacturing concerns in the Philadelphia area and vicinity.

PLAN LACROSSE MATCH

Professional Teams to Stage Tilt in Stadium Saturday, 3 P. M.

Albert C. Wagner, Alumni Secretary, announced yesterday that Jay J. Korson, '31, will stage an exhibition lacrosse match between the professional teams of the Philadelphia Blues and the Philadelphia Golds in the college stadium, Saturday afternoon, at 3 P. M.

Although Korson is the only player in the match who has not starred as a college lacrosse expert, the other members of the respective teams comprise former amateur champion stickmen from the University of Toronto, Harvard, Princeton, Penn State and other leading colleges.

Mr. Wagner has sent invitations to all nearby high schools to witness the thrilling spectacle. There will be no admission charged.

Ursinus Next Game

The baseball team plays its next home game on Saturday afternoon on the stadium. Ursinus College will provide the opposition and the game will start at 3 o'clock.

Major-Domo of College's Employees Prefers Modern Times and Students

"College life has changed materially in the past thirty years. The students have become more serious and apply themselves more diligently to their studies than ever before," said Edward McDermott, major domo of all the working men in and about the campus. Ed, as he is affectionately known by the old timers, acts as superintendent, but his subordinates never think of him as a boss.

Elaborating his opinions, Ed declared, "This change has come mostly in the last ten years. Perhaps it is because a college education is now a stepping stone to a profession whereas a decade ago it was the finishing touch of a man's school life."

Most of the students' faces are now unfamiliar to Ed. He likes to think back to the days long ago when the student body was small. Only a decade or so ago Ed knew every student by his first name and all their troubles were his troubles. No one kept secrets from Ed.

On the whole, Ed feels that the student bodies of today have changed for the better. They seem to better understand and appreciate the opportunities given them.

Naively Ed admits he is over twenty-one, but a good guess of three times that age would be approximately correct.

Ed is a human history book on Villanova events. After telling a few tales of no importance he ultimately reaches the dates of the openings of the first large buildings. Of course, he employs some homemade mathematics to arrive at the exact dates. Qualifying as master craftsman and "Jack of all trades" successfully, Ed finally attained the capacity of superintendent. With his excellent knowledge about all the intricacies of doing things, he efficiently guides his corps of workers.

Contrary to most cases, Ed does not long for the old days. He is a man of the modern age. He is too well satisfied with the wonders of electricity, the radio, the new modes of transportation. Recollection of the gaslight and the muddy roads for travel bring no joy to his heart. Ed would gladly have them remain in the dim past.

Ed says, "Gone are the days of the wisecracker. Humor today displays intelligence, and our sportsmen show better sportsmanship by always aiming to help the other fellow." He declared, above all things, that Villanova turns out some fine specimens, physically and mentally.

SWARTHMORE BEATS FROSH DEBATERS

Garnet Team Gains Verdict in Discussion on Topic of Current Interest

Villanova's freshman debating team met defeat at the hands of their first opponents, Thursday night in the amphitheatre.

Swarthmore College formed the opposition in the persons of George D. Hulst, Charles W. Loeb, and P. Dorwin Cartwright. Villanova's team was represented by Aloysius Fitzpatrick, Joseph G. Denny and Joseph P. Carrol.

The judges gave a unanimous decision for the visiting team. The men representing Villanova were commended by the judges, however, for Swarthmore presented a team of seasoned debaters, having previously met Colgate University and Rollins College, of Florida.

The subject under discussion was a difficult one for the debaters participating in their first college debate. The topic defended by the freshmen was: "Resolved: That the President's Dictatorial Powers Should be Maintained as a Permanent Government Policy."

A misunderstanding prevented the officials originally selected to judge the debate from attending. Three students from the School of Commerce were selected to act in the capacity of judges.

The chairman for the debate was Frank J. O'Hara, a freshman in the Business School.

At the termination of the debate, all those who participated adjourned to the dining hall and were served a buffet supper.

Russia Voted As Member of Assembly

Continued From Page One

treaties, upon which Goggi and Alvarez acted, recommended that when a nation desires a treaty change, the League shall appoint a commission to make investigation and report back to the Council for final action.

The committee on minorities, upon which Harter and Geist were representatives, sugested that a quasi-permanent committee be organized to investigate minorities problems and that an international convention be signed guaranteeing the rights of minorities.

Both the committee reports likewise were adopted unanimously.

When the assembly met in its plenary session on Friday morning, Goggi was appointed chairman of the committee to investigate the credentials of the president. He presented the report of his committee to the assembled group.

Goggi Made Secretary

Goggi was also appointed to the post of secretary of the committee on the revision of treaties and, as such, compiled the minutes of the meetings of his committee.

As head of the Canadian delegation, Harter attended two meetings of the heads of delegations and faculty advisors, at which meetings changes in the constitution of the other clubs. The committee, however, will try to seek a new position for the Villanovans. They will probably be placed either in the middle or at the side of the dance floor. Several tests will be made and the most suitable place will be chosen.

Pre-Meds to Hold Social On Friday

Continued From Page One

Success Predicted

These dances have been consistently enjoyable and highly successful affairs and for that reason the fraternity predicts its spring dance will be one of the highlights of the social calendar.

Robert Geist, chairman of the committee, and its members have worked diligently in order to insure the success of the dance. Dancing will continue from 9 until 1 with the musical strains of the Villanovans supplying the rhythms. Tickets may be secured from members of the committee and from members of the fraternity. The subscription to the dance is $1.50.

Model League were proposed and discussed. No vital changes were made.

The cup, which is presented annually to the delegation best representing its respective nation, was awarded to Rutgers, representing the interests of Poland. Honorary mention was given to the Austrian delegation from Lehigh, to the Swedish delegation from New York University and to the French delegation from Syracuse.

Individual honors for distinguished work went to Harold Silverstein of Lehigh and to Robert Tilove of New York University.

At an informal meeting of the group on Thursday evening, Professor Josef L. Kunz, of the University of Vienna, gave an address on "The Crisis in the League." He said that with the withdrawal of Japan and Germany from the League, the existence of that body was greatly endangered. He suggested, however, that the entrance of the United States into the League would do much to avert the danger.

PRODUCTION HOLDS FINAL REHEARSALS

Theme Unfolds Hilariously With Dash and Glamour of Old Spain

The Turf and Tinsel Club is holding its last rehearsals this week for its second annual production, "Let's Go Places," to be given in the college gymnasium on the evenings of April 26, 27 and 28.

With but a week left in which to polish up the performance, the entire cast is fast rounding into the form that marked the first offering of the club last year.

The theme of "Let's Go Places" unfolds in hilarious fashion with the dash and glamour of historic old Spain as a background. Sixty bewitching "chorines," cast in the role of fascinating dark-eyed senoritas, will lend their masculine bodies to the tune of swaying seductive Spanish musical odes.

Several interpretive dances are also being planned by Miss Helen A. Pfaff, dancing instructress. Mr. Edward A. Keough, director, announced that this year's production will rival any offering ever presented on the campus.

Plans are under way for exotic stage settings and elaborate costumes to grace the affair. The musical score will mark an innovation in the presentation of rhythmic talent at the college.

Although the first endeavor of the Turf and Tinsel Club was purely experimental, the show made expenses and its public reception surprised even the producers.

Popular priced seats at fifty and seventy-five cents are believed to be assurances of large crowds.

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO
Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Established 1832
1218-20-22 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia
DESIGNERS AND MAKERS
of the
1935 VILLANOVA COLLEGE CLASS RING
Also the Villanova Miniature Ring

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired
It is not how cheap, but how good
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
All new styles now available!
Agents: Dick Morrissey, '34
Ed Lahey, '36

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

Tower Theatre
69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.
Today, Wed. & Thurs.
"Six of a Kind"
with
W. C. FIELDS
ALISON SKIPWORTH
CHARLES RUGGLES
MARY BOLAND
BURNS & ALLEN
Fri., Sat. & Mon.
"BOLERO"
with
GEORGE RAFT
CAROLE LOMBARD
and SALLY RAND

ARDMORE
A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11
Today
CONSTANCE BENNETT
in
"MOULIN ROUGE"
Wed. & Thurs.
LIONEL BARRYMORE
in
"THIS SIDE OF HEAVEN"
Fri. & Sat.
WHEELER & WOOLSEY
in
"HIPS, HIPS, HOORAY"
Monday
ANNA STEN
in
"NANA"

E. Cadwalader, Inc.
Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies
6047 Market Street
Philadelphia
Phone Sherwood 1423

Meet your friends at
The Bryn Mawr Confectionery
(Next to Seville Theatre)
Delicious Refreshments
Tasty Sandwiches
Lunches-Dinners-Platters
Expertly Cooked
Reasonably Priced
Music Free Dancing

Anthony Wayne Theatre
Today
"FLYING DOWN TO RIO"
with
DOLORES DEL RIO
GENE RAYMOND
FRED ASTAIRE
Wed. & Thurs.
"ESKIMO"
with an all native cast
Fri. & Sat.
"THE CAT AND THE FIDDLE"
with
JEANETTE MacDONALD
RAMON NOVARRO
CHARLES BUTTERWORTH
and VIVIENNE SEGAL
Monday
CLARK GABLE and CLAUDETTE COLBERT
in
"IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT"

Seville Theatre
Today
"MANDALAY"
with
RICARDO CORTEZ
KAY FRANCIS
Wed. & Thurs.
"FASHIONS OF 1934"
with
WILLIAM POWELL
BETTE DAVIS
Fri. & Sat.
"QUEEN CHRISTINA"
with
GRETA GARBO
JOHN GILBERT
Monday
WILL ROGERS
in
"DAVID HARUM"

Fraternity, College and Class Jewelry . . .
COMMENCEMENT ANNOUNCEMENTS
INVITATIONS, DIPLOMAS
Jeweler to the Senior Class of Villanova College
L. G. BALFOUR COMPANY
Manufacturing Jewelers and Stationers
ATTLEBORO, MASS.
Represented by W. G. ALLEN
1601 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Austinites Trip Fedigan As Mendel Upsets Alumni

Shevlin's Triple With Bases Full Proves Downfall for 'Gigolos'; Pitchers' Duel Staged in Second Game

ERRORS PLENTIFUL IN SECOND TILT

Among the main features of the Intra-mural games Sunday were the arguments resulting from the decisions of the umpires. Both the teams seemed on the verge of drastic action as they dashed out to argue with the umpire. There were, however, several decisions which seemed raw to all concerned.

All games were well pitched, but errors by their team mates robbed the hurlers of any advantage they might have gained for their teams. In the Austin-Fedigan game, Shevlin not only hurled well, but also hit a triple with the bases full in the fourth inning. This brought in the runs which placed Austin in the lead for the first time. They managed to hold this lead throughout the rest of the game. The errors in this game were plentiful on both sides, and the errors resulted in the 8-7 score.

The Mendel-Alumni game saw an exciting pitcher's duel between Sweeney and Maximovich. Shopmeyer got the only two hits off Maximovich and Germack got a scratch hit off Sweeney. The one error on Mendel's team was confined to Morin's wild throw to first in the third inning. This error allowed Alumni to score its only run.

Mendel scored once in the second inning and tallied three runs in the fifth inning as a result of two errors by Searight. The errors in this game were also responsible for most of the runs. The final score was 4-1 in favor of Mendel Hall.

The Intra-mural games during the week resulted in two defeats for the Day Hops, once by Fedigan and once by Mendel.

At the end of the first week the standing of the teams is as follows: Austin is in the lead with wins over Mendel and Fedigan and with no losses. Mendel and Fedigan are tied for second place. They both beat Day Hops and Alumni and were beaten by Austin. Alumni and Day Hops are bringing up the van, both having been defeated by Mendel and Fedigan.

The games scheduled in advance are as follows:

Alumni vs. Dayhops, today.
Mendel vs. Fedigan, April 22.
Alumni vs. Austin, April 22.
Day Hops vs. Austin, April 26.

Wildcat Linksmen Bow to Haverford

Continued From Page Five

but the Haverford school has been noted for its strong golf teams and evidently this year's club is out to keep up the reputation.

The fine work of Allen and Boyle, who scored a clean sweep of three points in the second foursome, provided Haverford with its winning edge.

Captain Elliott and Cragg, playing together in the first foursome, contributed 2½ points to the Villanova cause when they won their singles match and split even with Dutton and MacKee in the best ball point. Elliott took a thrilling 19-hole decision and Cragg won, 2 and 1.

Keating Loses

Ed Burke and Hal Keating were the third Villanova pair. Burke took his match, 2 and 1, over Linton, but Keating lost to Williams by the same score. The best ball point was also divided in this foursome.

The Villanova team's next encounter will be with the Temple Owls on Friday afternoon on the Main Line Open course.

The Intra-Mural Team Standings Are As Follows

	Won	Lost
Austin	2	0
Mendel	2	1
Fedigan	2	1
Dayhops	0	2
Alumni	0	2

Second Episode Of Sport History

Continued From Page Six

again. What a page that would make for the book of valiant spirits.

Played Penn Again

The next contest was with Pennsylvania at Franklin Field. In those days, according to available data, Franklin Field was situated near what is now known as River Field, probably what is now the site of the Pennsylvania Museum. But to return to actual football, the 'Cats were again defeated by the Quakers by the score of 16-0.

The Princeton game, the third contest on the Main Liners' schedule, was a complete rout, 45-5; and the Yale game, played on the Bulldogs' field outside of New Haven, was just a little bit more so. This time they lost by the score of 45-0. Those were the grand old days when the Yale-Princeton game really meant something, and when the results of games with teams that both colleges played were closely watched and highly regarded.

An article printed in the New Haven Register soon after the Princeton-Villanova game stressed that point very much and even went so far as to predict a victory for Yale. If memory serves the writer properly, Yale did defeat Princeton that year—and some people are prone to call that coincidence.

Garnet Wins Again

The fifth game was played against Swarthmore, and, like all its current predecessors, it was chalked against the Wildcats as a defeat by the score of 18-10. The next game, however, seemed to act as a balm for distressed spirits, and Villanova once again felt well paid for all the defeats they had so far suffered that year. The 'Cat played host to the Fordham Ram, and emerged the victor of the fray by the score of 15-11.

It is worthy of note that Villanova, although sorely beset for an entire season, earned a victory over Fordham in several years when the Ram had a much more successful season. As has been previously mentioned, this made the rivalry so much the greater between these two teams.

'Cats in Final Tie

The final game of the season was played against the Steelton Y. M. C. A., at Harrisburg, and wound up in a 12-12 tie. It was the best played game for the Villanova team during the entire year, and a decisive victory was lost to the 'Cats because of two serious fumbles at crucial moments.

During that year Villanova won only one game, lost five, tied one, and managed to score only 42 points against the 157 gathered by her opponents.

TENNIS COURTS READY

Open for Varsity Members Only Until All Are in Playing Condition

The work of conditioning the Villanova tennis courts is rapidly progressing and it is expected that they will be in perfect shape for the match with West Chester.

All nine courts will not be opened to the student body until a later date but the first three which are reserved for the varsity candidates and players will be in good condition.

It has been requested that students other than the members of the varsity refrain from playing until all the courts are conditioned.

Monday Wednesday Saturday
9 o'clock in the evening
Columbia Stations Coast to Coast

—we hope you'll enjoy it

We always try to make Chesterfields as good a cigarette as Science and money can make them—in the hope that people will enjoy smoking them.

—may we ask you to try Chesterfield

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

STUDENTS! "Let's Go Places" Thursday, Friday and Saturday Night in Gymnasium! Curtain Rises 8.20 P.M.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 6—No. 24 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 24, 1934 Price: Five Cents

Social Villanovans! Buy Tickets to Support Your Traditional Annual Junior Prom!

FORMAL OCCUPATION OF NEW MONASTERY STARTED YESTERDAY

Structure to House Fathers of Augustinian Order Cost $250,000 to Build

HISTORIC OLD BUILDING BURNED TO GROUND IN '32

Edifice Has Been Constructed to Cope With Future Needs in Expansion Program

Yesterday marked the formal occupation of Villanova's new $250,000 monastery by the Augustinian Fathers who have been without permanent quarters since fire ravaged the historic old structure on August 2, 1932.

Construction work began during the latter part of last May on the new edifice, and although strikes and one accidental death have been woven into the history of making it the most imposing structure on the Villanova campus, it is in fitting contrast to the rest of the college buildings. The new building was designed by Henry D. Daight Brothers, and the general construction work was under the supervision of Henry F. Batton, Inc., both Philadelphia firms.

Rev. Charles J. Melchoir, O. S. A., procurator of the college, told the

Continued on Page Two

TICKET CAMPAIGN FOR PROM STARTS

Reports on Progress Made at Committee Meeting Held Last Week

Reports concerning the progress of the sale of tickets for both the Junior Prom and the Blazer Ball were made by the respective dance committeemen at a meeting of the Junior Week committees which was held last Friday afternoon in the amphitheatre in Mendel Hall. The meeting was called to order by John Hoey, president of the Junior Class.

Advance Sale Small

At the present time, the advance sale of tickets has not been as encouraging as was anticipated. This is undoubtedly due to the limited time during which the committees have been working, and cannot be considered as a true criterion. However, Hoey said that it could be attributed to a lagging of interest in the dances. Consequently, he urged the members of the dance committees to work doubly hard, in order to dispel this possible disinterest and to make the advance sale of tickets insure the financial success of both the Junior Prom and the Blazer Ball.

Of the total number of ticket sales thus far, the majority are only potential; that is, they have not been fully paid for. However, there is no apprehension felt on that account, inasmuch as no one will receive a ticket until the full amount is paid. The installment plan of paying for the tickets was improvised in order to accommodate the students who could not buy a ticket otherwise.

Placards Posted

With the posting of the placards for the Junior Prom on Monday, Hoey thinks that the sale of tickets will decidedly increase due to the additional impetus given by the publicity. The posters announcing the Promenade this year are very

Continued on Page Eleven

TO ADDRESS CONVENTION

Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college, who will deliver the principal address at the annual meeting of the Catholic Educational Association in Philadelphia on Friday.

JUNIORS TO HAVE INTERESTING WEEK

Present Arrangements Presage Interesting Program of Activities

If current plans are indicative of anything this year's Junior Week promises to be one of the most successful events of its kind. The program of activities arranged by the committee will extend from Monday to Saturday, and will include, among other things, a Mothers' Day reception, a baseball game between the juniors and the seniors, and an intra-mural tennis tournament.

The week's activities will commence on Monday morning with Mass for the Junior Class, followed by breakfast. The traditional ceremonies of flag-raising and tree-planting will wind up the morning program.

Mothers to Meet

Monday afternoon will be devoted to a Mothers' day. The program is as follows: Reception of the Mothers in the Reception Room in Mendel Hall at 1.30 P. M. A tour of the various laboratories will then be conducted by members of the committee.

By arrangement with the professors, special, short and interesting experiments will be performed for the benefit of the mothers. The remainder of the program includes a short tour of the campus and a visit to the chapel and a swimming exhibition to be held in the pool.

Mothers' Day will close with a tea for the mothers in the faculty dining hall at 4 o'clock. Invitations to the mothers of all the students

Continued on Page Six

Belle Masque Society Joins Inter-Collegiate Dramatic Tournament

Villanova for the first time, will enter the Belle Masque Society in the Intercollegiate Dramatic Alliance's one-act play tournament Friday night, May 4, at St. Joseph's auditorium, 17th and Stiles street, Philadelphia.

The purpose of the Dramatic Alliance is to bring together a group of colleges in competition to determine which one can produce the best one-act play. Together with Villanova, St. Joseph's College, University of Pennsylvania, and Drexel have also entered casts.

"Glorious Martyr," by Charles Sumner Pike, will be the one-act play produced by the Belle Masque. The story is based on the notorious affair of Lord Byron with the young and beautiful wife, Contessa Teresa Guiccioli, of the old Count Guiccioli. The scene of the play is laid in Ravenna, Italy, during the year 1819.

Characters in the play will be enacted as follows: Lord Byron by George Malhame; Count Guiccioli by Peter Kerr, and Fletcher by Joseph Carroll.

According to Joseph T. Jonas, professor of oratory, and director of the play, two prizes will be awarded, the first, a large plaque with the Alliance seal engraved on it, will be presented to the group producing and acting the best play, and the second, $10 in cash to be given to the best individual actor.

The plays will begin promptly at 8 P. M. The charge for the affair is fifty cents, payable at the door.

EDUCATIONAL GROUP WILL BE ADDRESSED BY FR. STANFORD

Catholic Organization Holds Convention in Phila. on April 26, 27, 28

D. CARDINAL DOUGHERTY INVITED ASSOCIATION

Fr. Grelis and Prof. McHugh Also Representing College at This Session

At the invitation of His Eminence Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, the 15th annual convention of the Catholic Educational Association of Pennsylvania will be held in Philadelphia, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, in the West Philadelphia Catholic Girls' High School at 45th and Chestnut streets.

Dinner at Bellevue

Thursday will be devoted to a meeting of the executive committee. In the evening following the meeting there will be a dinner in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel at which the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Bonner, D. D., LL. D., Diocesan Superintendent of Schools, will preside. The guests at the dinner will include the presidents of the Catholic colleges of Pennsylvania and the superintendents of the Catholic schools and dioceses of the State.

Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., M. S., LL. D., president of the college, will deliver the principal address of the convention on Friday. Fr. Stanford's subject will be "Catholic Education in a Changing Civilization."

Prof. McHugh Speaks

Fr. Stanford will also preside in the teacher training department for college presidents, deans and college teachers of education. At this session William H. McHugh, Ph. D., professor of education in the School of Commerce and Finance, will deliver a paper on "The Responsibility of the Catholic College in Teacher Training."

Villanova College will also be represented at the convention by Rev. Howard A. Grelis, O. S. A., A. M., professor of Latin in the Arts School, who will deliver a paper before the elementary school section on "A Christo-Centric Method of Teaching Religion in the Grades."

STAFF MEN WANTED

All those interested in newspaper work and who wish to try out for positions on the staff of the VILLANOVAN are urged to present themselves in the VILLANOVAN office at the entrance to the dining hall at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for an interview with members of the editorial staff. Freshmen and sophomores will be especially benefitted.

'Let's Go Places' Has Premiere in College Gym Thursday Night

Second Annual Turf and Tinsel Production Unfolds Hilarious Musical Comedy With Spanish Background; Athletes Star

RECORD GATHERING IS EXPECTED

Thursday evening marks the inaugural performance of "Let's Go Places," the musical comedy which is being introduced by the Turf and Tinsel Club, and this will be followed by successive presentations on Friday and Saturday evenings. All three showings will be held in the gymnasium, and will commence at 8.20 P. M.

The members of the cast have been rehearsing diligently for the past two months in order to insure the finest entertainment for those who attend. Since this is the second production of its kind by this campus group, a large crowd is expected at all three performances of the show.

Has Same Director

Last year's production, "Look Who's Here," was such an hilarious comedy that it is believed the house will be packed because of the reputation the first show made.

As mentioned previously in the VILLANOVAN, the production has been under the direction of Edward A. Keough, who was formerly affiliated with George M. Cohan, well-known actor and playwright. Miss Helen B. Pfaff has been teaching the bevy of husky "chorines" the dance routines.

Spanish Theme

The theme of "Let's Go Places" unfolds in hilarious fashion with the dash and glamour of historic old Spain as a background. Sixty bewitching members of the chorus, cast in the roles of bewitching dark-eyed senoritas, will lend their masculine bodies to the tunes of swaying seductive Spanish odes.

Several interpretive dances have been planned by Miss Pfaff. Plans have been completed for exotic stage settings and elaborate costumes to grace the affair. The musical accompaniment will set a precedent in the presentation of rhythmic talent at the college.

In an effort to insure the success of the show, Coach Harry A. Stuhldreher addressed the members of the student bodies of the respective schools on the campus and urged them to give their whole-hearted support to the affair. He especially asked the day students to sell tickets to their families and friends. The tickets are priced at 50 and 75 cents and all those who took tickets from William J. Conway to sell on the outside are asked to make returns as soon as possible this week.

A 15-minute broadcast from Station WIP yesterday afternoon was the Turf and Tinsel Club's manner of familiarizing the public with the stars of the musical comedy, "Let's Go Places," to be given on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Cast on Air

The program was on the air from 3.15 to 3.30 and six members of this year's cast displayed their talents for the pleasure of the radio audience. The song "Let's Go Places and Do Things" was used as the signature song of the program and the Spanish melody, "Chalita" was softly hummed by a quartet during the announcement intervals.

The students who participated were Arthur Noble, who has the leading role of Captain Jack Lawrence in the show; James Carr, who enacts the role of Fletcher Castoria; Daniel Jarvis (Willie Spriggs in the production); Edward Manion, who plays the role of Oyama; and Lawrence Reilly and John Chapple who enact the feminine roles of Nina and Dolly Dean, respectively.

WHERE TO BUY 'EM

Tickets for the Turf and Tinsel production, Let's Go Places, may be obtained from Rev. Bernard McConville, O. S. A., Moderator of the organization, or from William Conway, general manager. Reserved seats will be priced at seventy-five cents and all others, fifty cents. The curtain-call for the show will be at 8.20 P. M.

SCIENCE FRAT HOP IS SOCIAL SUCCESS

Annual Spring Dance Held in Distinctively Decorated College Gym

The traditional Lambda Kappa Delta fraternity spring hop, which was sponsored by the pre-medical students, took place last Friday evening in the college gymnasium, and it was appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Although the dance was not as successful from a financial standpoint as was expected, it nevertheless did succeed from a social viewpoint. The gymnasium was decorated in the most distinctive style ever attempted by any organization.

Apparently, the spring weather attracted many to the social where the couples enjoyed dancing to the melodious strains of the Villanovans, who proved to be a fine aggregation of musicians.

The orchestra was placed on the

Continued on Page Six

MERIT LIST POSTED

Twenty-Seven Students in Business School Receive Honors

Thirteen students of the school of Commerce and Finance have attained high scholastic honors while fourteen were meritorious in studies for the third quarter of the school year, according to a list posted by Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., dean of the school.

Those comprising the Senior Class honor group were Raymond J. Harter, Joseph Hoenig, Henry Bobertz and Charles Giggi. John J. Stell, Walter Alessandroni and Joseph Lansalata represented the Junior Class in that order while Stell attained highest point honors in the school. At the head of the Sophomore Class were John Carrol, Robert McGrory and Joseph Arthur. In the Freshman Class were William Mink, William Cleary and Edward Jonick were in this group.

SCIENCE MEN HEAR DR. N. M. MACNEILL DELIVER DISCOURSE

Faculty Member of Jefferson Medical College Gives Interesting Talk

DANGERS OF VENEREAL DISEASES FORM TOPIC

Prevalence of Afflictions Said to Be Resultant of Ignorance

Last Thursday the pre-meds had as their weekly seminar speaker, Dr. N. M. Macneill, a member of the faculty of the Jefferson Medical College. Dr. Macneill was introduced by Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O. S. A., dean of the School of Science. His talk was of general interest to the students.

Once a year he takes a number of medical students to the Philadelphia Municipal Hospital of Contagious Diseases so that they may recognize and familiarize themselves with scarlet fever, anthrax, infantile paralysis, mumps, measles and other diseases.

Dr. Macneill delivered an interesting lecture on the dangers of the venereal diseases: syphilis and gonorrhea.

Cites Prevalence

"These diseases are very prevalent, and more dangerous to the individual, community and posterity than other diseases, yet carriers of them go through the community without much restriction because of the ignorance of the common people.

"Gonorrhea infects three to seven per cent. of the community, and 15 per cent. of all blindness is due to the contraction of this disease at child-birth by new-born infants. It has a special affinity for mucous membranes and therefore very easily attacks the conjectivis of the eye, resulting in blindness. Today this high average of gonorrheaopthalmia is being gradually brought down by the State laws which command all physicians and mid-wives to immediately wash the infants' eyes with drops of one per cent. silver nitrate solution.

"Its period of incubation ranges from one to eight days, then a discharge will appear, but the after effects are more dangerous because the infection travels back from the anterior urethra to the posterior urethra, tissues, blood stream, heart and joints.

"In this way the germs travel to various parts of the body and cause many diseases such as heart disease, arthritis, epididymitis, stricture, prostatitis and rhcumatism.

"This disease does not incapacitate the individual; if it did, the disease could be easily handled.

"Syphilis acts in a different way. The micro-organism must get beneath the tissue and then cause a chancre, which is, unfortunately, not painful.

Presents Problem

"This disease causes a great problem to fall upon the community, for the loss and incapacitating of individuals places a great financial burden on society. The City of St. Louis has estimated that $2,500,000 per annum is needed to fight its venereal diseases or $2.20 for every city inhabitant.

"It is believed that five per cent.

Continued on Page Nine

NEWLY COMPLETED MONASTERY ADDS BEAUTIFUL LANDMARK TO CAMPUS

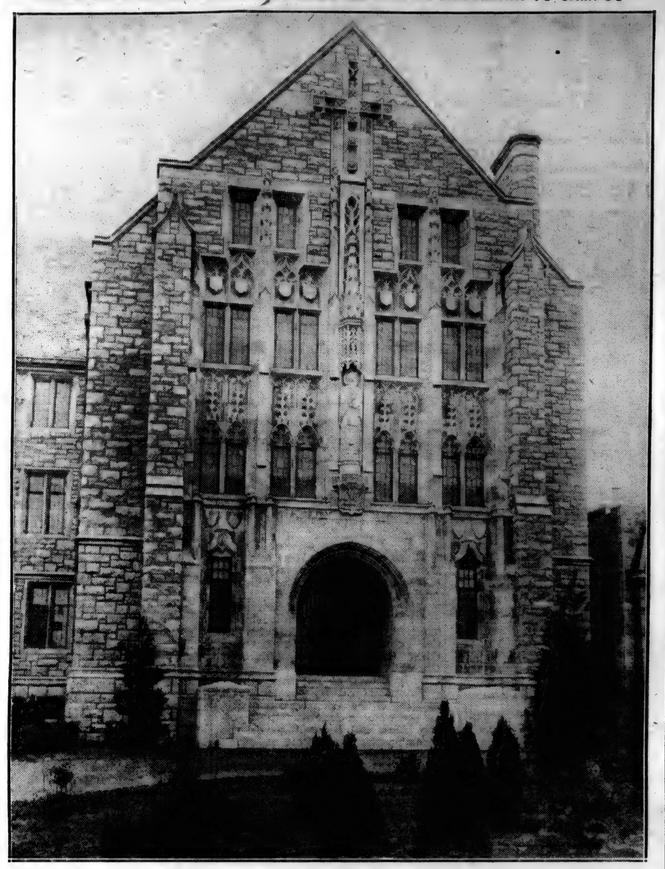

Photo shows the new building which will house the members of the Augustinian order at the college. It was built at a cost of $250,000 to replace the former one which was destroyed by fire on August 2, 1932. The edifice has been constructed so as to cope with the future needs of the college and the proposed expansion program.

Quarters Occupied In New Monastery

Continued From Page One

VILLANOVAN that although the new structure is the latest style of collegiate Gothic architecture, and its appointments are the most practical obtainable, it will be a long time before its traditions will be comparable to the old building. Such prominent personages as President Taft, Vice-President Marshal, former Apostolic Delegate to the United States, Cardinal Biondi, Cardinal Mercier, and other dignitaries of the State and Church have been linked with its activities.

A modern fireproof building constructed of steel and concrete, faced with the traditional gray stone and limestone characteristic of the other Villanova structures, the new monastery is a long rambling type of building containing three stories and ample attic space. The dimensions of the building are 208 feet in length and 54 feet wide.

Structure Is Cloister

With the occupation of the building, the monastery becomes a cloister to the members of the Order. Ample reception rooms are provided, however, on the first floor, where the priests may receive their friends.

Fr. Melchoir said that the accommodations for the priests include 48 suites and one guest room. The first-floor suites have bathrooms attached, while the two upper stories have ample showers and lavatories at the ends of the corridors.

Rooms Are Large

In addition to the spacious private rooms, each of which contain built-in walnut bookshelves and large closet space, the building is equipped with a large community room and a library. The basement has provisions for a kitchen and dining room, but the regular dining room which has been used for some time will be retained as a refectory. In place of the proposed dining hall in the basement, nine altars will be erected for the exclusive use of the priests in the community.

Although the attic of the structure has been left unfinished, it is so constructed that 11 more suites may be added as the demand for them is created. About 25 priests and two lay brothers who have been making the various campus dormitories their headquarters since the conflagration are the only residents of the new structure.

The entire building will be heated from the central heat plant of the college by a vapor system. The radiation throughout the building is built in the walls, and among the features of the structure are the cork floors over 205 steel screened casement windows.

ALUMNI SECRETARY CONDUCTS UPSTATE GOODWILL MISSION

Prof. Kunzenbacher to Show Interesting Picture of "Life at Villanova"

PERSONAL INTERVIEWS TO BE GIVEN BY WAGNER

Attempt to Organize Alumni in Coal Region to Be Made by Envoys

Villanova's ambassadors of good will, Albert C. Wagner, Alumni secretary, and August Kunzenbacher, professor of chemistry, left yesterday for a five-day tour through the coal region district of upper Pennsylvania.

There are two purposes behind this trip. First, to contact the high schools in the coal regions and thereby secure future students for Villanova, and second, to attempt to organize an active alumni club in the district.

"Why Go To College" will be the topic of a series of talks to be given at several local high schools by Albert C. Wagner, alumni representative from Villanova College.

Will Give Counsel

Mr. Wagner will give guidance and counsel to high school students who are looking forward to continuing their education after graduation. In addition to his formal talk in each of the schools, Mr. Wagner will meet individually those students desiring further information about college entrance requirements, about college life in general, or about Villanova in particular.

Mr. Wagner's itinerary includes Summit Hill High School and Coaldale High School, which be visited yesterday; Pittston City High School and Olyphant High School on Wednesday. St. Mary's High School, the James M. Coughlin and the Elmer L. Meyer's High Schools, all of Wilkes-Barre, will be visited

Continued on Page Ten

WHERE you study this summer is of CONSIDERABLE IMPORTANCE

The credits you acquire this summer at New York University can be easily transferred to any other college or university. This is more unusual than perhaps it sounds. At the Washington Square College the same entrance requirements and scholastic standing are maintained as during the college year; instruction is given by the regular faculty. Few summer sessions operate on this high plane. Lower standards mean possible loss of credits.

To the student who wishes to make up deficiencies or shorten college work, elementary and advanced courses, with full college credit, are offered in Biology, Chemistry, Economics, English, French, Geology, German, Government, History, Italian, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Psychology, Public Speaking, Sociology and Spanish.

The Summer Term is given June 26-September 14. For detailed information, address

Director of the Summer Term, Washington Square College

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY

105 Washington Square East New York, N. Y.

HENRY D. DAGIT

Architect

Designer of the New Villanova Monastery

REV. B. M. ALBERS ADVOCATES COLLEGE EDUCATION FOR ALL

Vice-President Says Proper Use of Leisure Time Is Major Issue

MODERN EDUCATORS ARE COGNIZANT OF PROBLEM

Opportunities for Success Are Far Greater Among College Men

Proper use of leisure time is one of the major problems with which the American people have to contend, according to Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college.

Fr. Albers revealed this fact in an address in which he advocated a college education for all who are in a position to avail themselves of this privilege.

The following statements have been gleaned from Fr. Albers' lectures: "With the growing tendency to shorten working hours the problem of utilizing the leisure hours of a man's day becomes of paramount importance. If he does not know how to use his spare time, morale becomes impaired, discontent creeps in as a result, his usefulness as a citizen is lessened.

Work of College Cited

"Part of the work of a college today is to educate a man in the proper use of leisure time as well as equipping a man to earn his livelihood and be of service to his fellow men.

"Villanova College recognizes this duty and so plans its program that its graduates go out into the world fully equipped with a thorough knowledge of what is expected of them as citizens.

"Much has been said in favor of a college education. Statisticians have figured out the actual value of every hour of study and have arrived at the decision that a man with a college education is not only a better citizen but eventually is enabled to enjoy more of this world's goods than one who has never attended college.

"The cultural development of a man alone is sufficient recompense for the four years spent at college. This combined with the knowledge and training acquired sets a man off from his neighbor and places him in a position to be a leader in his community. Of course, there are exceptions to this but on the whole the chance of success among college men is far greater than among those who have never attended college.

"In arriving at a decision to attend college one must ponder seriously over the type of institution he will select. The true Catholic will consider a Catholic college because not only is the educational element important but there is the religious training to be considered.

Duty of Catholic College

"It is the duty of a Catholic college to bring to the student a more intimate knowledge of his religion than he gained in high school. It also affords the student an opportunity to practice his religion by attending the religious services in the college chapel. This influence alone makes for a stronger faith and creates a feeling of religious pride in the mind of the students.

"Villanova College, which is conducted by the priests of the Augustinian Order, has successfully educated men for all walks of life for the past ninety years.

"While we have been building up the religious side of a Catholic education we have not neglected the cultural side. At the present time we have four schools combined under the one head. These schools have gained enviable reputations in the educational field and are rated close to the top.

Schools Praised

"Our Arts school has been one of the leaders in training men for law, teaching, and other professions. Our science school has developed rapidly since it was founded nineteen years ago. Its principal duty is to prepare men for university work in medicine and its allied professions.

"The school of technology has been training engineers of prominence for the past twenty-five years. It ranks among the leaders in the country for this type of education.

MADE LECTURE TOUR

Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, who has recently completed a tour of some of the high and preparatory schools of New England. Fr. Albers spoke on the advantages of a college education and the film, "Life at Villanova," was shown in conjunction with his speeches.

"Our school of commerce and finance, which was established in 1922 trains the student to take his place in the field of banking, transportation, insurance, advertising and accounting.

"We feel, with justifiable pride, that Villanova College is a complete educational institution capable of training young men for whatever course in life they wish to pursue."

During the past two weeks, Fr. Albers has been on a lecture tour. He has spoken before high schools, K. of C. and parish groups. In conjunction with his addresses in various cities in which he advocated Catholic College Education, a three-reel moving picture entitled "Life at Villanova College" has been shown.

Among the places visited by Fr. Albers are the following: Camden and Trenton, N. J., Richmond, Va., Bristol and Philadelphia, Penna., Lowell, Haverhill, Lawrence, Danvers, Newton, Cambridge, Waltham, Somerville, Roxbury and Brookline, Mass.

TRIDUUM BEING HELD

Students Now Attending Devotions to Mother of Good Counsel

In preparation for the feast of the Mother of Good Counsel, Thursday, the students of the college have the privilege of attending a triduum in her honor which started last evening in the chapel under the direction of the Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A.

Services for the three-day devotion consist of the recitation of the Litany of the Blessed Virgin, the novena prayers, and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Subsequent devotions for the triduum are to be held tonight and tomorrow evening in the college chapel at 6.30 P. M. The final devotion for the feast will be held at Mass and the reception of Holy Communion, Thursday morning.

P. K. P. DECIDES ON MEMBERSHIP CARDS

All Seniors in Good Standing Will Receive Keys From Fraternity

At the last meeting of the Phi Kappa Pi, the engineering fraternity, president Eric Storms, '34, thanked all the committees that took part in making arrangements for initiation night when all new candidates were formally accepted into the society. He also announced some new plans which were discussed and settled at the meeting.

Up to this time the members of the organization did not have any means of showing that they were members in good standing of this rapidly growing fraternity. It was decided that something should be done about this matter and the idea of membership cards was discussed and accepted. Joseph Mihalcik, '35, was appointed to secure bids for the printing of these cards which will be given to each member.

Keys to Be Given

The fraternity decided to honor the outgoing seniors this year by presenting to them a key symbolical of the Phi Kappa Pi. All senior members who are in good standing when the last meeting of the year is held will be presented with this key. The design of the key has been decided upon and bids for them have been received from the various companies. The president is taking care of this particular matter himself.

Plans are under way also for an outing to be held on a day when there are no classes at which time all the members will journey to a nearby resort and spend the day participating in various sports and other kinds of entertainment.

William McGough, '35, was appointed chairman of the committee to investigate the nearby resorts and also to select the date for this affair. As yet no definite plans have been settled, although the committee has been working with the chairman in arranging the outing.

Since there are only a few more meetings before the close of the school year, Mr. Storms announced that nominations for the office of president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and sergeant at arms will be in order at the meeting on Monday, May 7th. Elections will be held the following week and the new officers will be installed at the last meeting on May 14th, when the outgoing seniors will receive their keys and one more successful year for Phi Kappa Pi will be brought to a close.

Over the Coals

Did you know that: The two figures on either side of the main entrance to Austin Hall are a source of mystery to most of the inmates of that hall? . . . Ed Manion's imitation of Charlie Chaplin will panic you? . . . At one stage of the game Nick Kotys was a taxi driver? . . . There are so many imitators of Joe Fenner about the campus that his expressions are losing what little charm they ever did have? . . . A spot in Bryn Mawr serves darn good sandwiches for a nickel but we can't print the name of the place 'til they take an ad? . . . Three North Jersey boys are soon to be put on the spot if they don't mend their tactics? . . . A former editor of the Villanovan still writes his personal letters on stationery supplied by this rag? . . . Rus Marcouse will trade most anything for a course in typing? . . . Two new tunes well worth learning are "Once in a Blue Moon" and "Easy Come, Easy Go?" . . . If you want a good laugh, ask either Abe Ulitsky or Johnny de Virgilis about a certain address on Powellton avenue? . . . Graham "Gasaloon" McNamee gave Villanova quite a break on the broadcast of the new streamlined train, the Zephyr? . . . There was more interest evidenced in the intra-mural track meet than any other similar event run this year? . . . About three of the seniors will middle-aisle it in June? . . . "Simon I" Harter is still looking for the so-called nightly prowler of his sanctum? . . . "No Beard" Chappe was bothered more than a little the other e'en by the recitation by one of the campus Romeos of all his secret passions? . . . Bryn Mawr florists profit more than a little by the roses sent from this college to one nearby? . . . Handsome Bill McGraw went dateless the other Saturday night? . . . Jim Downs has joined Art Nobie in making those oft-frequent trips to Bryn Mawr Hospital? . . . Leo "Lippy" Schoppmeyer, if you don't stop him, will bore you to death with his recitation of what he will do when he plays big-time ball? . . . Joe Forkin keeps the mail man busy between this institution and one at Scranton? . . . There was quite a mixup about the finals of the century at the intra-murals; hence, it is still a moot question whether Weisenbaugh or Randour is the faster man? . . . Frank Foster will never hear the end of his defeat by "Snake Bite" Cox in the relays? . . . Though neither of them know it, two seniors are rivals for the hand and affection of, as the old saying goes, one of Darby's fairest? . . . There is a good chance that a certain junior will not get the $50 he asked for to see him through Junior Week?

Also, the following items were garnered at TnT rehearsal: Larry Keilley's voice is still in the same wonderful shape as it was last year? . . . Chollie McGee and Rabbi Fitzhenry will stop the show with their song? . . . Joe Bastian gives Shawlie Miller quite a beating tossing him about the stage, the big bully? . . . The dances that the chorus will exhibit are too complicated for this scrivener to attempt? . . . The other chorines call Barney Lee "teacher's pet?" . . . The scenery for the fiasco was designed under the personal direction of Joe Lilly, though he doesn't receive credit for it on the program? . . . Miss Phan, the dance director, makes the boys toe the line in no uncertain style? . . . George Kennedy, erstwhile pugilist, will prove to be one of the hits of the entire presentation? . . . You'll hear most of the boys humming several of the songs from the production? . . .

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.

Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers

Established 1832

1218-20-22 Chestnut Street Philadelphia

DESIGNERS AND MAKERS

of the

1935 VILLANOVA COLLEGE CLASS RING

Also the Villanova Miniature Ring

E. Cadwalader, Inc.

Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies

6047 Market Street Philadelphia

Phone Sherwood 1423

CUSACK HARDWARE COMPANY

EDWARD J. CUSACK, Pres.

HARDWARE CUTLERY

TOOLS

CONTRACTORS' SUPPLIES

1004 ARCH STREET, PHILA.

Read the

MAIN LINE DAILY TIMES

EVERY DAY

for

all the news happenings along the MAIN LINE

. . . the only daily newspaper covering this area completely and accurately EVERY DAY.

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35.....Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35.....Managing Editor
JOHN J. ETELL, '35.....College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35.....Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35.....Feature Editor
JOHN C. DIJOSEPH, '36.....Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35.....Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35.....Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35.....Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35.....Circulation Manager

Associate College Editor Edmond C. Malhame, '35 — Associate Sports Editor William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '36 — Ralph Violetti, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Gorgi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Peter Faso, '36
Joseph Mele, '35 — Charles Reis, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Post-office, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - APRIL 24, 1934

SUPPORT THE SHOW

THE INAUGURAL performance of "Let's Go Places" on Thursday night will mark the second annual production of the Turf and Tinsel Club. Last year, when the members of the Varsity and Spiked Shoe Clubs revived a custom which started some years ago, that of staging a musical comedy, the venture was for the most part experimental. In order to secure the best talent, the Turf and Tinsel Club was made a campus organization, and trials for parts were open to all students. The attendance at the initial performance was not all that could have been desired. But the good news that a treat was in store for the audience spread, and the second night the show played to a near-capacity house. As a result, the production made expenses. This year plans have been made for a more colorful extravaganza on a larger scale. The musical comedy will be staged on three nights, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. With last year's show as a recommendation, everything points to a grand success. But success is improbable without the wholehearted support of the members of the student body and their friends. Therefore, we can furnish encouragement to the members of the cast who have been practicing untiringly for the past two months and at the same time avail ourselves and our friends of an evening of splendid entertainment by attending a performance of "Let's Go Places."

ANOTHER PHOENIX

OUT OF THE ruins of Villanova's old monastery, destroyed by fire nearly two years ago, has risen the magnificent new structure which is now ready for occupancy. The VILLANOVAN considers it fitting to pay this brief tribute to the Augustinian Fathers for the indefatigable spirit with which they have pursued this and other endeavors to bring Villanova to the fore. It is with this same spirit that they have built a greater Villanova after other disastrous fires, and coincident with their Holy Vows to give up all worldly possessions for fellow men, they have refrained from planning on more adequate facilities for their own comfort in order that other projects of the college might be furthered. This has been also manifested in the fervent zeal with which they have expanded the membership of the Order in this country so that the followers of St. Augustine might be further renowned as great educators. So the good priests will go on laboring in the vineyard of the Lord and others will take their place for the honor and glory of God. But their mission is for fellow men, and greater love than this hath no man.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

THE Keating-Einhorn feud, dormant for several weeks, was resumed in debating class, Tuesday, when Chairman Keating ordered Einhorn out for misconduct. Much gesticulating and the making of a motion that Keating be impeached availed Einhorn nothing. Under his own power without the aid of the burly sergeants at arms, prominent at Keating's exodus, Jesse made his departure. To date, each has succeeded in having the other put out of class. The score now stands one put out apiece with the sergeants at arms credited with an assist.

How Bill Gough and Ben Geraghty involved themselves in an argument over the profusion of "dears," "darlings" and "dearests" contained in their "lettres d'amour," I don't know. However, this I do know: That Gough rashly stated he could almost swear that Ben's last epistle embodied no less than ten of the above-mentioned endearing words. Since "seein's is believin's" Ben trotted out the letter and an actual count revealed only eight of these words present. This should prove conclusively that Ben is not in Bill's class at receiving real sentimental letters.

The taking of Belle Aire pictures Thursday night was an ordeal that belies the smiling countenances exhibited in the developed pictures. Those most prominent in extra-curricular activities were the chief sufferers. One group picture would find them formally attired while the very next informally. The dining hall, the scene of the photographing, showed a backstage picture of what goes on during a change of costumes. He who knew the sartorial art of tying tux-ties was, with the possible exception of the photographer, the busiest man of the P. M.—the unsung hero of the hour.

Gene Sharkey, standing with a couple of companions watching a long freight pass the Villanova station, remarked how easy it would be to board it. One fellow had his doubts about the facileness of the feat and accordingly made them known. Immediately, the two were precipitated into an argument which ended up with a ten-cent bet that Gene couldn't hop the passing freight train. In quicker time than it takes to tell, Gene had boarded the train and was waving mockingly from a freight car roof. Some fellows think of the hardest ways to make money!

Barrel Foley, looking around for a tuxedo to borrow, came across Louie Daoud and asked him if he had one to spare for a few Belle Aire pictures. Louie had not, and the obese Foley, undaunted, left him to continue his quest. He had not taken many steps when Louie called to him and told him he had only one other prospect to see. In answer to Foley's "who?" Daoud replied, "Al Ryan." When I tell you these three are the biggest figures on the campus, that is, in size, you will the more readily see the humor in Daoud's reply.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

SUCCESS of the annual college prom at St. Thomas' College was inevitable simply because of the fact that if only the committee in charge of the affair were present, the attendance would be seventy-seven couples plus those invited free of charge. The committee was divided into nine other special committees, which were the following: Music, publicity, reception, decoration, patron, program, door, student relations and ticket. If any others are needed, please notify the adjustment committee.

• • •

In order to disillusion some of our female readers we must divulge the fact that college students are not members of the idle rich. This is the result of a survey taken at the University of Wisconsin. Over two-thirds of the students' parents there are engaged in occupations under the headings of "trade," "manufacture," and "agriculture." The parents of the students for the most part have not had a college education. They resent being called the prodigal sons of the rich.

• • •

For Sale—Denver University—complete with students, football team and faculty. The institution will be auctioned for non-payment of $136,000 in special improvement taxes. This sure is an "intelligent" buy. Investors please note!

• • •

We heard of pigs going to market and all that—but never have we heard of pigs going to college to further an education. In lieu of payment in full for a year's tuition, St. Viator College, (Kankakee, Ill.) has accepted a trailer of live pigs from one of its students so that he will be able to continue his education. Roast pork was served every day at the school.

• • •

Headline in Temple U. News—"Owl Nine Meets Big Ten Foe," We wonder if their baseball team is so superior that they offer handicaps. May 4 is the day that will answer our question, Temple vs. Villanova. We are not predicting a victory but are we prospicious.

• • •

From The Tower of Catholic U. we are told that a Harvard student reported that he hit a sea serpent or the head with an oar off Woods Hole the other day. At the better schools they don't allow intoxicated students to rent boats.

• • •

A certain professor of biology at LaSalle College obviously is a believer of the Darwinian theory of heredity. In a demonstration lecture he exhibited the skull of one of our supposed early ancestors and at the same time impressed the students by stating that it was a skull of a chimpanzee, a very rare specimen. "There are only two in the country," he explained, "one in the National Museum and the other I have." So the prof made a monkey out of himself.

• • •

In the future women will be seen on the football field engaging in this manly sport. Michigan State College is considering a football course for men and women. The game will eventually have a new name, "Hairpullingball."

---- Dial-Log ----

DURING the past week we noticed from nosing through our mail that the Burlington Zephyr broadcast got us more nation-wide publicity than the playing of the hardest football schedule on record. Mr. MacNamee made Villanova sound more like a country club than a college.

The return of the Sisters of the Skillet is welcomed by this listener. They have an imitation of Amos 'n' Andy that is good, and we mean good.

Paul Whiteman will introduce a "Mystery Singer" on his program the first Tuesday in May.

Little Jack Little will continue to do his CBS broadcasts though he will be touring with his orchestra during May.

Operations have had good and bad effects on radio singers. The latest performer on which one appears to have a good effect is Freddie Martin. As a result of his operation he will start singing with his band.

The Yacht Club Boys, who are famous for their own songs and not the general run of popular ones, return from abroad next week.

Vincent Lopez will take his band up to the roof at the St. Regis the first week in May. Rumors still fly about that he will return in Chicago later in the season.

If you recall, quite a while ago we said that Guy Lombardo was at the parting with his cigar sponsor. The latest report is that Guy will leave his commercial spot in June. He has been with the same sponsor for almost five years.

At this time of the year the colleges are all attempting to book the best bands that they can obtain. Naturally we watch with interest the presentations of other schools. One that attracted us greatly was the announcement from Lafayette. The Lafayette Inter - Fraternity dance presents Richard Himber and His Orchestra. St. Thomas, we hear, has engaged Freddie Martin.

From several Southern schools reports have come that Smith Ballew is their spring prom selection. Little Jack Little also came in for his share of the collegiate bookings.

It sounds funny to say that the comedians have a harder time getting laughs from East coast audiences than they do from the West coast listeners. However, it is supposed to be the truth.

It may be California propaganda, but the reason given is that the weather out there leaves the residents in a happier frame of mind and hence they are more receptive to the comments.

As We See It

WOTAN VERSUS SANITY

IT WOULD appear from the trend of religious events of the new Germany that a wholesale return to the worship of the good old German gods is being most ardently advocated by some of the Nazi cognoscenti. The German people have ever been most pathetically patriotic. Passionate devotion to the Fatherland and obstinate belief in the perfection of that grand and glorious being, "the German," have always been marks of the Teutonic mind.

But the German has always been stolidly religious. He has always feared God and worshipped Him with the dogged devotion so characteristic of the iron firmness of the Teutonic nature—a devotion devoid of anything approaching ecstatic fervor, but none the less deep on that account.

Heretofore the German's simple faith in the greatness of Germany presented no obstacle to his simple faith in God. Indeed, he was quite convinced that on the individual's faith in God must be reared the edifice of national greatness. Even the advent of Nazi-ism loaded as it was with potential bombshells for religion seemed not incompatible with the abiding German love for religion.

There are those who maintain that the German people in their blind devotion to the Fatherland have entrusted their country to the caprices of a madman in the hope of being led out of the pit into which a revengeful world had cast them by means of a set of Carthaginian peace terms. Be that as it may, the move toward national pagan worship cannot be called the religious expression of Nazi-ism, even though the pagan national sterilization law would seem to reflect the pagan mind of the German dictator. It is rather a school of thought which hopes to ride into power on the wave of popular worship of the brown shirt, by hitching its garbage wagon to the Nazi star.

There is this to consider, however. Wotanism (the new movement) has much to recommend it to Nazi-ism, as Nazi-ism seems to be expressing itself. By a worship of pagan German gods, the supremacy of nationality is maintained. German gods for the Germans. Lutheranism and Catholicism, by pointing first to God, then to the common brotherhood of man, and lastly to love of country as ideals for the people, can easily come to be regarded as dangerous to national progress along the Nazi road. And, after all, the fact that Christ was a Jew cannot help but force itself unpleasantly on the minds of political leaders abnormally nationality-conscious and intent on raising a shrine to Aryanism.

Professor Bergmann and Professor Wirth, the prophets of the new-old cult, may succeed in shining up this pagan bauble enough to dazzle the eyes of the Nazi trail-blazers. If they do, it will be interesting to see whether the straight-thinking of a Carl Adam or the straight-from-the-shoulder utterances of a Cardinal Faulhaber will do other than precipitate a crisis for Catholicism and a catastrophe for Protestantism.

But the final decision will rest with the German people. Can the German's patriotism lead him into paganism, or will his faith in God make him reject paganism? In the event of a wholesale Nazi worship of the god Wotan, could Germany be forcibly paganized by Nazi command? These are questions on which it is interesting to speculate because even the stanchest defenders of the Nazi will admit that their growing habit of stifling outspoken religious leaders may be an ominous portent.

Nazi leaders may well hesitate before forcing the Germans to choose between "Gott mit uns" and "Deutschland uber alles."

Student Songs

BALLADE ON MADAM'S BONNET

Oh the ages come and the ages go
And dank of ashes where once was the flare;
To river's end must everything flow
Which ever to the stream of life didst dare.
In majestic march of harvest world hoes
To grain-house to provide for devil's fare.
But one thing Eternity keeps from the tow—
The funny little hat my mistress wears.

Oh prices are high and morals are low
And sounds the trumpet of war midst the blare;
Dark is the outlook as all of us know,
All not so well in our Vanity Fair.
Would'st fain even flee to the depths below
Away from the storm of these strifes and cares
Were not that Charon would leave as he rows—
The funny little hat my mistress wears.

Oh taut does Time draw back its winged bow
To shoot the shaft while man be unaware;
And sore doth Space the world's long burden show
Straining from embrace of harness to tear.
Too soon, too soon is come the fading glow
Which means not but end of life's bubble rare
But never, never, never more to behold—
The funny little hat my mistress wears.

ENVOI

Ah, Princess, thy crown doth go as wind doth blow
And thus how fickle covers fate thy hairs;
How far more secure from stress of such woe—
The funny little hat my mistress wears.

The deed is done
No battle won
But tearing hair
And moaning loud
O weep thou Muse
Hast been betrayed
Ballade is writ
Form is misfit.

SONNET

Too cruel, O Life, with thy buffets harsh
Hast thou dealt the blows without mercy lent
Which luckless left me victim of hollow farce
Decreeing living when all warmth is spent.
And when the morsel meager and so dry
Wouldst bravely dare to humbly suit the taste
What grievous lesson in this breach did lie,
How bitter the cup which washed down my fate.

Now in the night of my darkest despair
When e'en Disgust doth rue her sorry state
And Frenzy, rising futile, flails but air,
As bundled rags do flee, O make thou haste!
Send quick the lash bringing also the breath
Which thus O saves me from that monster—Death.

NE PLUS ULTRA

A sage whose droop of shoulders low
Marked old the weight of learning deep
And lid of eye so heavy showed
Unaltered stare at elusive sweets,
O wept the tear, the bitter tear
As naught from smoky ruins be saved.
In bowed silence forced to hear
But mouthings wide-eyed of a babe.

O Peace where hast thou flown?
O Peace leave me not alone;
O lead me to the kiss of suns
In fields where dark-eyed Susan runs
In fields of poppies blown.

Heigh-ho Heigh-ho Heigh-ho!
Sweet nature again thou bringest
Spring at last
Thru the pavements crack a mighty blade of grass.

Hey nonny nonny-hey nonny nonny
Verily is't not authentic
That Plato e'en was not a eugenic?

Registration for Annual Summer School June 26

Program of Courses to Be Larger and More Varied

AUGMENT STAFF

The 16th annual summer school session will open June 25 and will continue to August 9. Registration for the courses at the college will be held on June 26 and 27.

In order to cope with the demands this year, the program of courses is larger and more varied than ever before. Several new professors have been added to the staff. The summer school faculty has been augmented by the following professors: Rev. Peter J. Paul, O. S. A., A. M., Sr. Mary Frances, S. B. S., Ph. D., Sr. Mary Borromeo, S. M., A. B., Stephanie Herz, Ph. D., Elizabeth S. Kite, Litt. D., Katherine Bregy, Litt. D., Emil Doernenburg, Ph. D., and Madeleine H. Appel, B. S.

Father Paul has majored in history at the University of Chicago for the past three years. He will specialize in the teaching of that subject at Villanova this summer. Sr. Mary Frances will give a course in Latin. Sr. Mary Borromeo, a graduate of Villanova, will offer an interesting course in library science.

Sociology will be handled capably by Stephanie Herz, Ph. D. She has studied mostly abroad and brings with her much practical knowledge. Elizabeth Kite, Litt. D., a writer and an authority on American Colonial History, will augment the number of instructors in history. Courses will be offered this summer by Katherine Bregy, Litt. D., whose lectures on literature and poetry gives her rank and authority.

Emil Doernenburg, Ph. D., the new professor in German, received the doctorate from the University of Pennsylvania. In addition to the regular courses, others of interest are offered. Library science, sociology, and mechanics will be found very educational. and practical.

For the translator of poetry is offered a course in Latin on the Elegaic Poets; the writer, a course on literary criticism and for the philosopher a history of philosophy. These are only a very small portion of the many courses available.

As in years preceding, Villanova will this year again conduct courses at the Hallahan High School as part of its teacher-training curriculum. Primary school classes will be organized and conducted by teachers of the public schools.

Registration will be held at Hallahan High School, Philadelphia, on June 27, 9 A. M. to 1 P. M. Classes will begin June 28 and continue to August 10.

The Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, will officiate as dean of the summer school for 1934.

ASSOCIATE C. E. PROF. DESIGNS FOR COMPANIES

T. Jos. McCormick Doing Technical Work for Two Philadelphia Corporations

Prof. Thomas J. McCormick, associate professor of Civil Engineering in the School of Technology, has once again undertaken another duty outside of teaching his various subjects to the engineers.

This time he is doing some special design and drafting work for two large corporations in Philadelphia, the Kaiman Steel Company and the Concrete Steel Company. Prof. McCormick, who is well known around the campus, often acts as a consulting engineer for many companies which are undertaking large projects. He has had a great deal of practical experience along the construction lines since he received his degree of Civil Engineering.

He teaches Sophomore Applied Mechanics, Concrete and Cement, Senior Hydraulics and many other subjects in the School of Technology.

NEW COURSE TAUGHT

Prof. Morehouse Has Prepared Set of Notes for Engineering Men

A new course entitled Heating and Ventilation has been instituted by J. Stanley Morehouse, professor of Mechanical Engineering in the School of Technology.

The course is being given for the first time this semester. Prof. Morehouse has worked diligently on this course and has prepared a full set of notes for the engineering students. The notes embody a complete, yet simplified, discussion of this subject.

Further details on this new course which has created a great deal of interest among the students, in as much as it is something new in the field of engineering, will appear in the next issue of the VILLANOVAN. Through the courtesy of Prof. Morehouse a complete list of the topics that the senior Mechanical Engineers have chosen as their thesis will be given together with a short, but brief description of their underlying principles.

Tower Theatre
69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—
Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.

Today, Wed. & Thurs.
"Four Frightened People"
with
CLAUDETTE COLBERT
MARY BOLAND
WILLIAM GARGAN and
HERBERT MARSHALL

Fri., Sat. & Mon.
Robert Montgomery
in
"THE MYSTERY OF MR. X"
with
LEWIS STONE and ELIZABETH ALLAN

ARDMORE
A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11

Today
ANNA STEN in
"NANA"
Wed. & Thurs.
FREDRIC MARCH and SYLVIA SYDNEY in
"GOOD DAME"

Fri. & Sat.
"SIX OF A KIND"
with
W. C. FIELDS
ALLISON SKIPWORTH
CHARLES RUGGLES
MARY BOLAND
BURNS and ALLEN

Monday
"BOLERO"
with
GEORGE RAFT
CAROLE LOMBARD
and SALLY RAND

Anthony Wayne Theatre

Today
"IT HAPPENED ONE NIGHT"
with
CLARK GABLE and
CLAUDETTE COLBERT

Wed. and Thurs.
"MOULIN ROUGE"
with
CONSTANCE BENNETT and FRANCHOT TONE

Fri. and Sat.
WILL ROGERS
in
"DAVID HARUM"

Monday
"THIS SIDE OF HEAVEN"
with
LIONEL BARRYMORE and FAY BAINTER

Seville Theatre

Today and Wed.
WILL ROGERS
in
"DAVID HARUM"

Thurs. and Fri.
"ESKIMO"
with
All Native Cast

Saturday
KATHARINE HEPBURN
in
"LITTLE WOMEN"

Monday
"HIS DOUBLE LIFE"
with
ROLAND YOUNG and LILIAN GISH

Books, Informally Speaking

BOOKS on politics are usually dull and seldom interesting. But with that amazing Titan now living in the White House, creating such a stir, it is almost an obligation to know something at least of what it's all about. "The New Dealers," that startling book by the "Unofficial Observer," is the answer to the layman's prayer in this regard. It is really a Who's Who of the New Deal calculated to give plain citizens a clear insight of the President and those men responsible for the innumerable alphabet programs which occupy so much space in the daily papers. The book is written in a breezy and impartial fashion, but with a constant undercurrent of sincere enthusiasm for the Administration, and most of its policies. You will like the portraits of Mrs. Roosevelt and Postmaster General Farley particularly. Of the latter, the Observer says that "as a statesman, he is an excellent chauffeur." But it is impossible to think that he doesn't admire him as well, for in the next breath he adds, "next to Roosevelt, he has the best glands in Washington," thus giving him full honours as a dyed-in-the-wool politician. Just who the "Unofficial Observer" is remains a mystery, but you will be convinced, when you have finished the book, that he is certainly not talking through his hat.

If you like dogs (and they are much more easily loved than politics and politicians) you can't afford to miss Virginia Wolfe's "Flush," the biography of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's famous spaniel. In addition to the story of the dog, Miss Wolfe has given us more interesting sidelights on his poetic mistress and her love for his equally poetic master, Robert Browning. But if you pride yourself on your knowledge of animal psychology, or violently object to the theory that dogs can think, let me warn you not to touch the book, for "Flush" is an exceedingly rational dog with more sense than many of us.

While on the subject of rational creatures, let me say a word about "Peter Abelard," Helen Waddell's newest novel. The press notices have been dubbing it "the most beautifully written novel of the year," and while book advertisements are usually as misleading as those on tooth paste and shaving cream, nevertheless they seem to have spoken the truth in this case. Miss Waddell's knack of using just the right words in perfectly cadenced sentences, makes the book a joy to addicts of poetic prose. She has written a great deal about Abelard and his work, and little about Heloise which is a relief from the usual mawkish discussions about their love affair. If you want to take a medieval sojourn I know of no better way than by reading "Peter Abelard."

In jarring contrast to "Abelard," is that splendid report of the conditions existed in the coal fields of Western Pennsylvania, entitled "I Went to Pit College," by Lauren Gilfillan, a young girl out of college but three years. I guarantee that it will bring you out of that supine, "all's-right-with-the-world" attitude with a terrific jolt. I liked the book for its lack of bias and its straightforwardness. Whether you are interested in sociology or not "I Went to Pit College" will hold your interest.

THE THREE-MINUTE MEN
Will March Tonight!

FALL in tonight at 8:30 P. M. (Standard Time) when the Three-Minute Men go marching home. They are the boys who telephone the Family. A three-minute Station to Station call to anywhere within 100 miles costs only 35 cents at night.

Fall in—enjoy a skirmish with the Home Folks! You can pack a whole week's news in a three-minute telephone chat. With the low Night Rates, it's a weekly custom for thousands of college men. Join this army of Three-Minute Men.

• • •

FOLLOW these EASY MARCHING ORDERS

Telephone after 8:30 P. M. Standard Time (9:30 P. M. Daylight Saving Time).

The low Night Rates apply only on Station to Station calls—that is, on calls for a telephone, but not for a specific person.

Just give the Operator the number you want.

Charges may be reversed.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Science Frat Hop Is Social Success

Continued From Page One

left side of the floor. This allocation of the orchestra improved immeasurably the acoustics of the gymnasium and the music could be heard equally well from all sections of the floor. The Villanovans had a very diversified arrangement of songs, including in their repertoire waltzes, fox trots and novelty numbers.

Varied Repertoire

The slow, enchanting music was replaced at intervals with fast snappy numbers which stirred the couples from their dreamy slow-tempo into fast moving rhythmic feet. The Villanovans presented one of the most delightful programs from a standpoint of both music and entertainment that they have ever given.

The gymnasium was very tastefully decorated. In addition to the false ceiling and lighting effects, which made the dance floor distinctive, there were also numerous banners placed around the floor in addition to the large L. K. D. banner. Perhaps the one object which dominated the appearance of the gym was the skull, tinted with phosphorous paint. It put over the idea that a medical fraternity was sponsoring the dance.

Unique Programs

The programs which were presented at the dance were of an attractive and unique style. Each couple attending the dance was the recipient of one of these programs done in black suede, which bore the fraternity's title in gold printing.

The committee responsible for the success of this annual dance was headed by Robert A. Geist, a senior in the Science School. Assisting Geist on the committee were Harold Kornfield, Gabriel Martyak, Benjamin Maloney, Peter Faso, Mario Troncelletti, John Acompora, George D. Gartland, Frank Wixted, William Holmes and Pio Goggi.

Juniors to Have Interesting Week

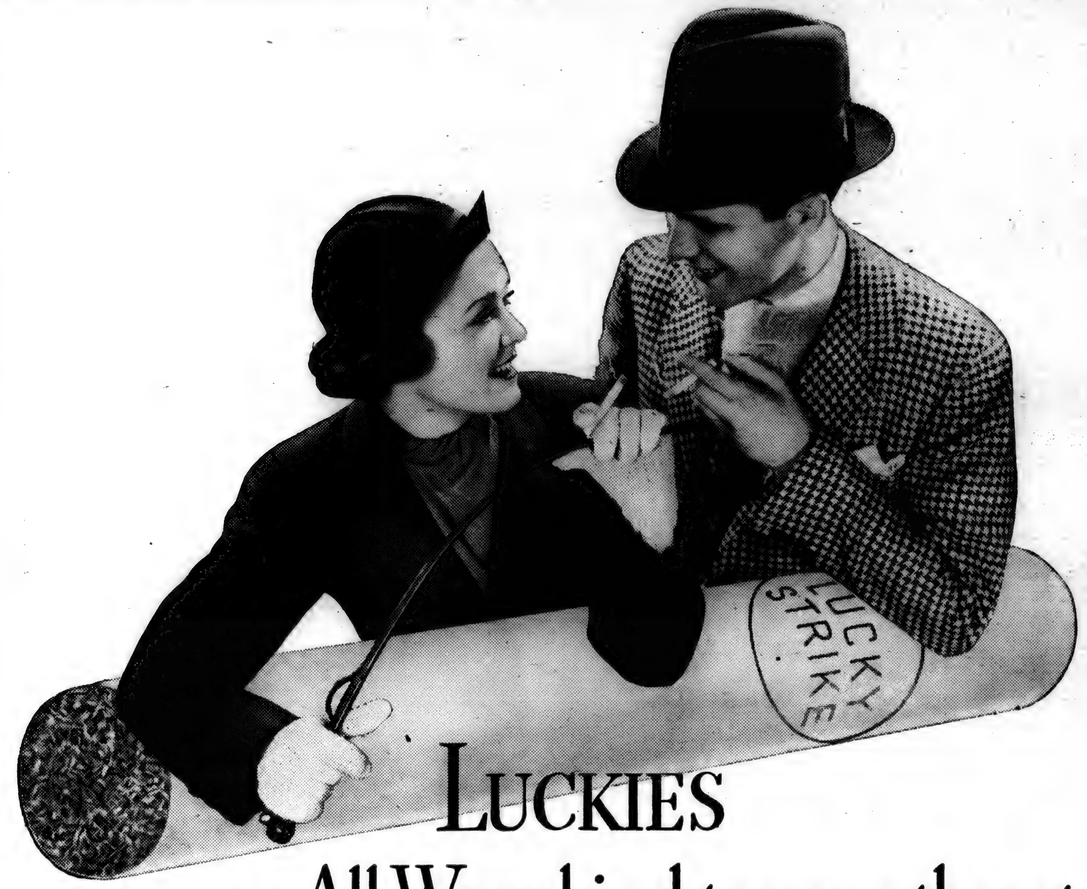
Continued From Page One

have been sent out and a goodly number is expected to be in attendance. Mrs. Harry U. Strong and Mrs. Eugene F. Reilley will receive for the Junior Class.

The Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., L. L. D., president of the college will be the guest of the class at luncheon.

On Tuesday afternoon the varsity baseball team will play Albright. The varsity track team will engage Rider College on Wednesday afternoon at the stadium. The intramural tennis tournament and the baseball game between the juniors and seniors will both be held on Thursday afternoon, followed by the Blazer Ball at night. Friday afternoon will be devoted to a varsity baseball game with Temple.

The committee on Junior Week has been divided by the chairman, John F. Butler, as follows: Opening ceremonies and mothers' day, John Strong, Frank Connell, Joe Mihalcik, William Moroney, Walter Allessandroni and Harold Keating. Baseball game, William Gough, Don Blanchard, William Taylor, David Murphy and Frank Foster; intramural tennis tournament, Alex Kramer, John Laux, Joseph Kline and John Barry.



LUCKIES are All-Ways kind to your throat

so round, so firm, so fully packed—no loose ends that's why you'll find Luckies do not dry out

"It's toasted"

We think you'd be impressed if you saw Luckies being made. You'd see those clean, silky center leaves—and you really wouldn't have to be a tobacco expert to know why farmers get higher prices for them. They are the mildest leaves—they taste better.

You'd be impressed by Lucky Strike's famous process—"It's toasted"—designed for your throat protection. And we know that you'll be truly fascinated when you see how Luckies are rolled round and firm, and fully packed with long golden strands of choice tobaccos. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. And you'll get the full meaning of our statement that Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves They Taste Better

Copyright, 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Sportorial

BY LOU MARECHAL

ALTHOUGH we have no figures on the past basketball season's gate receipts, we know that at Villanova, as in most schools, football is the only sort that really pays for itself. Here is a suggestion that may be food for thought and may eventually prove a reality.

The attendance at baseball games could be greatly boosted if the weekend contests were played on Sunday afternoons instead of Friday or Saturday. With the boosted attendance would naturally follow a larger amount of gate receipts and a greater interest in the Wildcat team.

In discussing this idea with people whose opinions really carried weight with us, we found the chief objection was that it would make the college sport appear too commercialized and appear as though we were only playing for a "gate."

The answer to this brings out the very object of intercollegiate competition. The games are played primarily for the amusement of the players and the spectators and to have the school well represented in the field of athletics.

On Sundays more people are free to enjoy themselves at such athletic events. The clean wholesome sport that is baseball, presents no objection to any viewpoint, be it religious, or any other. Sunday baseball is a good idea for all interested parties. It would be something else in which Villanova could take the lead. Your student opinion in favor of it and your expressed approval to the proper authorities may bring it to a reality.

—V—

THE 'Cat tennis team just can't seem to get started. Last Monday the courts were in no condition for the opener with West Chester Teachers and on Friday they were so wet that to attempt the Drexel contest would have been useless. With about 14 matches still to be played it looks as if captain Bill Orcutt and his racketeers will be playing late into the month of June. The tennis prospects appear fairly bright but the lack of practice may prove costly. The only consolation is that the other teams in this vicinity have had very little opportunity to get in much work, so all opponents will be met on an equal basis.

—V—

WHITEY Randour has come into the campus limelight with his good work in the intra-mural track affair. "Whitey" won three events and set two new intra-mural records. The first of the new records was set in the 120-yard high hurdles when the Austin flash covered the ground in 20.8 seconds. The second record was in the 160 low hurdles for the new time of 18.6 seconds as compared with the old of 19 seconds flat. His third first place of the afternoon, but not a record, was in the 100-yard dash. His time was 10.5 for the century.

"Big Ed" Sullivan was a double winner and besides gaining first place in the 440 for Austin, set a new intra-mural shot put record of 45 feet 9 inches as compared with the former record of 53 feet 4½ inches.

Ben Maloney of Mendel was the only other double winner with first place in the mile and half mile runs. Although the times in both these events were not exceptionally fast, they were good enough to lead the pack.

All in all, the intra-mural track carnival was a huge success and may have helped coach Bob Regan in discovering some varsity timber that will be developed in the future to strengthen Villanova track squads.

—V—

BEGINNING today, the athletes in all the spring sports on the campus, start one of their busiest weeks.

The baseball team meets West Chester Teachers and Fordham. The track men vie in the greatest track carnival of the season, the Penn Relays.

New Jersey Teachers College and Osteopathy engage the golfers while the tennis team hopes to get under way with Ursinus and Osteopathy.

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING

Tuesday, April 24, 1934 Page Seven

BASEBALLERS WIN TWO GAMES

Player	At Bat	Runs	Hits	Outs	Assists	Batting Average
Lenzi, c	12	1	4	22	7	.333
Wronski, 2b	15	1	2	10	13	.133
Cavanaugh, ss	20	0	6	8	11	.300
Mahan, 1b	19	4	4	43	1	.211
Skaff, 3b, lf	19	4	7	3	3	.368
Murphy, cf	19	5	6	15	1	.316
Hurlburt, rf	16	1	7	7	1	.438
Hurley, lf	4	0	1	1	0	.250
O'Donnell, p	7	0	0	2	9	.000
Vaughn, p	6	0	0	3	6	.000
Geraghty, 3b	14	0	1	7	8	.071
McGovern, p	3	0	0	2	2	.000
Krajsa, c	4	2	2	6	1	.500
Team totals	158	18	40	129	63	.253

VILLANOVA TENNIS TEAM IS DELAYED IN OPENING MATCH

West Chester Teachers Game And Drexel Fray Are Set Back

CAPTAIN BILL ORCUTT TO START AT FIRST SINGLES

Because of wet grounds the tennis match scheduled with Drexel for last Friday was postponed. As yet no new date has been set for the playing of the match but it will be announced in the near future.

Because this paper went to press too early it is not able to print the results of the match scheduled with Osteopathy for yesterday afternoon.

The season's opener was originally scheduled for April 16 with West Chester Teachers but the bad weather prevented the playing of the contest.

Team Not Selected

Right up until the last minute the starting team for the Osteopathy match was undecided but it is expected that Captain Bill Orcutt would play in the first singles. Sam Miles, captain of last year's team, was expected to play number two position.

The rainy weather and the poor condition of the courts has made it impossible for the candidates to hold any practice sessions and the showing in the first few matches will be used to regulate the order of the team.

Albright Next Opponent

Following the Osteopathy match, the Albright College team journeys to Villanova on May 2. The Parsons will be met on a home and home basis. The away engagement will be played in Reading on May 15.

On May 4 and 5 the Wildcats play Bucknell and Juniata. Both of these matches will be played away. The next contest with West Chester, scheduled for May 8 is also an away game.

Not until May 12 will the 'Cats be seen on their home courts. On this date they play host to Juniata in a return engagement.

The Villanova home contest with Ursinus is set for May 18, and the following day Ursinus comes to Villanova.

To Meet Temple

This season only one match has been scheduled with the Temple racketeers. This is to be the closing contest of the season and will be played on the Villanova courts May 20.

Because of the bad weather that has been prevailing all over this section of the country, few of the college teams have completed any of their regularly scheduled matches and it is impossible to find out the strength of the coming opponents.

With the many veterans that have returned from the last year's squad, the Villanova team hopes to have a successful year.

TAYLOR IS CAPTAIN

Junior Varsity Basketball Team Elects Former Malvern Star

At a recent meeting of the Junior Varsity basketball squad, William "Buck" Taylor was elected to succeed "Bob" Feehry as jayvee basketball captain during the '34-35 season. Both Taylor and Feehry, are members of the School of Commerce and Finance. Taylor is a junior, while Feehry graduates in June.

Taylor came to Villanova from Malvern Preparatory School, and scintillated in basketball at that institution for two years. His home is Staten Island, New York.

"Buck" was one of the mainstays of the team during the past season, playing practically every game with the exception of one which was due to an injury sustained in the opening tussle against the Penn Jayvees. His position at left-forward was a thorn in the side of many opposing players. With this likeable chap as a leader, the Jayvee team looks forward to a successful season.

'CAT BASEBALLERS TO MEET FORDHAM

Game With W. C. Teachers to Inaugurate New Sport for Old Rivals

This week Villanova's baseball team will meet two of its strongest foes of the season, West Chester Teachers' College and Fordham University.

West Chester Teachers' College will inaugurate a new rivalry when they play the 'Cats at the stadium tomorrow afternoon for the first time. The Teachers apparently have one of the best college nines in local circles for they defeated the strong Michigan team by the score of 11-9. The result of this game shows that they have a heavy hitting club.

Fordham Game Away

On Saturday, Villanova will journey to New York and meet the Fordham baseball team in the afternoon. Fordham, it will be remembered, created quite a turmoil by breaking Villanova's long winning streak last year. The Rams opened their season last week by putting Yale to rout to the tune of 14 to 3. The highlight of this game was the effective pitching of Ed Eatwanick, who held the Bulldogs to four scattered hits, two of which were scratch infield blows. Fordham also displayed a marvelous offense by blasting out 18 hits which included "Babe" Young's home run, the longest blow ever seen on the Yale field, and a triple by Ladroga with the bases loaded.

'Cats in Relays

Villanova will be the defending champion in two events at the Penn Relay Carnival when it takes place on the 27th and 28th of this month.

Wildcat Nine Victorious Over Lehigh and Ursinus

Jacobsmen Commence Winning Ways Taking Two Straight in Contests Played During the Past Week

O'DONNELL AND VAUGHN ON MOUND

During the past week the Villanova baseball team came out of its losing slump and disposed of two of its opponents. The first win of the season was a 6 to 3 decision over Lehigh. The second conquest gave the Wildcats a 5 to 1 edge over Ursinus.

The Villanova nine won its first home game when it downed the fighting Ursinus nine last Saturday.

In the first inning the Wildcats opened right up with a double by Jimmy Murphy. On two infield outs he raced from second to score the initial marker.

Krajsa Scores

In their half of the fourth frame the Villanova team added two more runs. Johnny Krajsa, playing his first game as a regular started off the proceedings with a single. As Cavanaugh bounced one down to Calvert, Ursinus first sacker, Krajsa advanced to second. Two singles by Art Mahan and Frank Skaff sent in the run. Mahan scored on Skaff's hit.

The sixth inning brought two more Wildcat runs. The first was scored by Murphy and the closing tally by Frank Skaff.

Sacks Hits Homer

In their half of the same frame, "Syd" Sacks poled out a long home run which gave the Bears their only counter of the afternoon.

Ed Vaughn striving for his first win kept the Bears' hits well scattered and only permitted six during the entire nine innings.

It was Villanova's splendid baserunning and bunched hits that enabled them to score five runs on the seven hits which they received from pitcher Leon Trumbore.

The Ursinus team had previously defeated Swarthmore with Trumbore doing the pitching honors.

LEHIGH GAME

The Villanova baseball team earned its first victory of the current season over Lehigh, at the latter's field last Wednesday, by the score of 6-3. They bunched seven hits in the first five innings to score five markers, and visited the plate again in the eighth.

Hurlburt, Skaff and Cavanaugh collected three hits apiece from the offerings of Link and Holler. Ocks, first man up in the second for Lehigh, drove a home-run to the press box in the center-field stands. Villanova outhit their opponents by a wide margin. They had twelve hits, three of them good for extra bases, while Tom O'Donnell yielded only five hits, one of them being Ock's round-tripper.

Murphy Doubles

Murphy doubled to center to start the game, moved to third on Cavanaugh's one-base blow, and scored on Mahan's drive to center. Lehigh also scored in the first on a single by Burke, a sacrifice bunt, and Liggett's single. Bodura then hit a double-play ball to Wronski and the side was retired.

Villanova fell in order in the second, but Ocks knocked a long homer with the bases bare to give Lehigh the lead. The Wildcats tied the score in the third on Murphy's walk, a stolen base, and Cavanaugh's double to right center field. In their turn, the first two Lehigh batsmen flied out to deep field, Bodura walked and went to third on a stolen base and an error, and died

Continued on Page Twelve

TWO DOWN!

VILLANOVA

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Murphy, cf	3	2	1	4	0
Cavanaugh, ss	5	0	3	1	2
Lenzi, c	5	1	1	3	1
Mahan, 1b	4	1	1	12	0
Skaff, lf	5	2	3	3	0
Geraghty, 3b	4	0	0	1	3
Hurlburt, rf	4	0	3	1	0
Wronski, 2b	4	0	0	1	5
O'Donnell, p	4	0	0	1	7
Totals	38	6	12	27	15

LEHIGH

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Burke, cf	5	1	2	5	0
Volkmuth, 2b	5	0	1	2	0
Liggett, lf	5	0	1	2	0
Bodura, 3b	3	0	1	1	1
Ocks, c	3	1	1	5	3
Grier, ss	3	0	0	1	3
Kornet, 1b	3	0	0	9	0
McBane, rf	4	0	0	0	0
Link, p	2	0	0	0	2
Holler, p	1	0	0	0	2
xBickel	0	1	0	0	0
Totals	34	3	5	27	15

xBickel batted for Holler in the ninth.

Runs batted in—Skaff 2, Mahan, Cavanaugh, Wronski, Hurlburt; Liggett 2, Ocks. Errors—Cavanaugh 2, Lenzi, O'Donnell. Doubles—Murphy, Cavanaugh. Triples—Skaff. Home run—Ocks. Stolen bases—Murphy, Skaff, Bodura. Left on base—Villanova 7, Lehigh 10. Base on balls—off O'Donnell, 6; Link, 2 in 5 innings. Struck out—by O'Donnell, 3; Link, 2 in 5 innings; Holler, 2 in 4 innings. Hits—off O'Donnell, 5; Link, 7 in 5 innings; Holler, 5 in 4 innings. Balk—Holler.

URSINUS

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Cubberly, ss	3	0	0	0	2
Sacks, 2b	4	1	2	0	3
Shuman, rf	4	0	0	0	0
Fisher, c	4	0	1	7	1
Johnson, cf	4	0	1	2	0
Gensler, 2b	4	0	1	5	0
Calvert, 1b	4	0	0	8	0
O'Donnell, cf	3	0	1	1	0
Trumbore, p	3	0	1	0	2
Totals	33	1	6	24	8

VILLANOVA

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Murphy, cf	4	1	2	4	0
Krajsa, c	4	1	1	6	1
Cavanaugh, ss	4	0	1	1	3
Mahan, 1b	4	2	2	12	1
Skaff, lf	3	1	1	0	0
Geraghty, 3b	3	0	0	1	0
Hurlburt, rf	3	0	0	2	1
Wronski, 2b	3	0	0	0	2
Vaughn, p	3	0	0	1	3
Totals	30	5	7	27	11

Errors — Villanova: Geraghty, 1. Ursinus: Gensler, 1. Two-base hits—Murphy. Home run—Sacks. Stolen bases — Sacks, Mahan. Passed ball — Krajsa. Left on bases—Villanova, 4; Ursinus, 6. Struck out—by Trumbore, 7; by Vaughn, 5. Base on balls—off Trumbore, 2; off Vaughn, 1. Runs batted in—Sacks, Cavanaugh, Mahan and Skaff. Umpires — Powell and Dinsmore.

JUNIORS WILL MEET SENIOR BASEBALLERS

Contest to Be Played as Feature of Junior Week Activities

The latest addition to the Villanova sports roster will be a baseball game between the members of the Junior Class and those of the senior group.

This contest will be played on Thursday afternoon of Junior Week.

The outcome of the game is merely to prove or disprove the athletic superiority of the Juniors over their older rivals. No intramural points will be attached to the game.

Intra-Mural Track Title Retained by Austin Hall

Fedigan in Second Place Is 28 Points Behind the Defending Champions; Mendel Third With 20 Points

5 OLD RECORDS GO IN 2-DAY MEET

The third annual intra-mural track and field championships were held last Wednesday and Thursday at the stadium track and four new records were hung up and one old one equalled. Due to the large number of events and the slow rate at which they were run off last year, two days were set aside this year to prevent friction in any two events.

Austin Hall successfully defended her title of '33, scoring 46 points to the second place Fedigan team's 26. Mendel Hall was third with 20 points while the Day Hops and Alumni Hall totaled 18 and 16 points respectively and finished in that order.

Randour Stars

"Whitey" Randour was the individual star again this year, amassing a sum of 15 points while Ed Sullivan and Ben Maloney tied for second honors with 10 markers each. Randour scored in the century, the 120 high hurdles, and the 160 low hurdles. Sullivan led the field to the tape in the 440-yard dash and he pushed the 16-pound shot out beyond all his competitors to clinch first place. Maloney had an easy day romping home as he pleased in the 880 and in the one-mile run.

The field events were held on Wednesday, and Austin Hall leaped to the front by virtue of Grimberg's winning jump in the pole vault. He cleared the bar at 9 feet 6 inches to take first place and tie the former record. Jack Torpey and Nick Kotys of Alumni tied for second honors.

The Day Hops were brought into prominence by Schelle, a sophomore in the business school, who set the standard in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 4¼ inches, thereby setting a new record. McFadden of Fedigan jumped into second place and Bill Grimsberg of Austin received third honors.

The broad jump found Jack Torpey outdistancing the rest of the competition. His best leap was good for 18 feet 6¼ inches. Douglas, of the Day Hops, was second, and Bill Grimberg third.

The javelin throw went to Macek, of Fedigan Hall, at 145 feet 5½ inches. Johnson, of Alumni, who looked the best in the early stages of the contest had to be content with second place. Coccheo of Austin placed third.

In hurling the iron platter, Bill Sweeney, of Fedigan, showed good form and plenty of ability and received the laurels for first place with a toss of 100 feet. Romano, of Alumni, was second and Coccheo, of Austin, third.

Ed Sullivan, the grunt and groan artist, carried on in that same manner and managed to push 45 feet 9 inches with the iron ball to take the shot put and set a new record. Second place went to Coccheo, and Ed Michaels won third honors.

Although a driving rain threatened to wash out the track on Thursday, nevertheless the speedsters stepped out to show their wares to their fellow students.

The 100-yard dash proved to be the talk of the day for after a qualifying heat was run by three different groups of century men, the announcement was made that no final heat would be run, and that the three fastest times in those heats would be the deciding factor. "Whitey" Randour won his heat in 10.5 and Jim Walsh ran second to him to 10.7.

Fritz Monahan, a freshman, sped the first 70 yards of his heat, and was due for a 10.2 century, but seeing himself leading his heat he slowed up and merely coasted in. Consequently, he was only able to get third place as he did not know there was to be no final heat. This ruling brought about a lot of disfavor from the crowd, but it was to no avail. Therefore, Randour was declared the winner and Walsh was given second place.

However, young Monahan came back in the 220-yard dash and showed his heels to the rest of the field in the very good time of 24.5 considering the adverse track conditions. Jim Walsh of Fedigan ran second, and ran a good race, but he couldn't match the burst of speed put on by the youngster in the closing yards. Carroll Cook, elongated football star, swept into third place in a nicely run race.

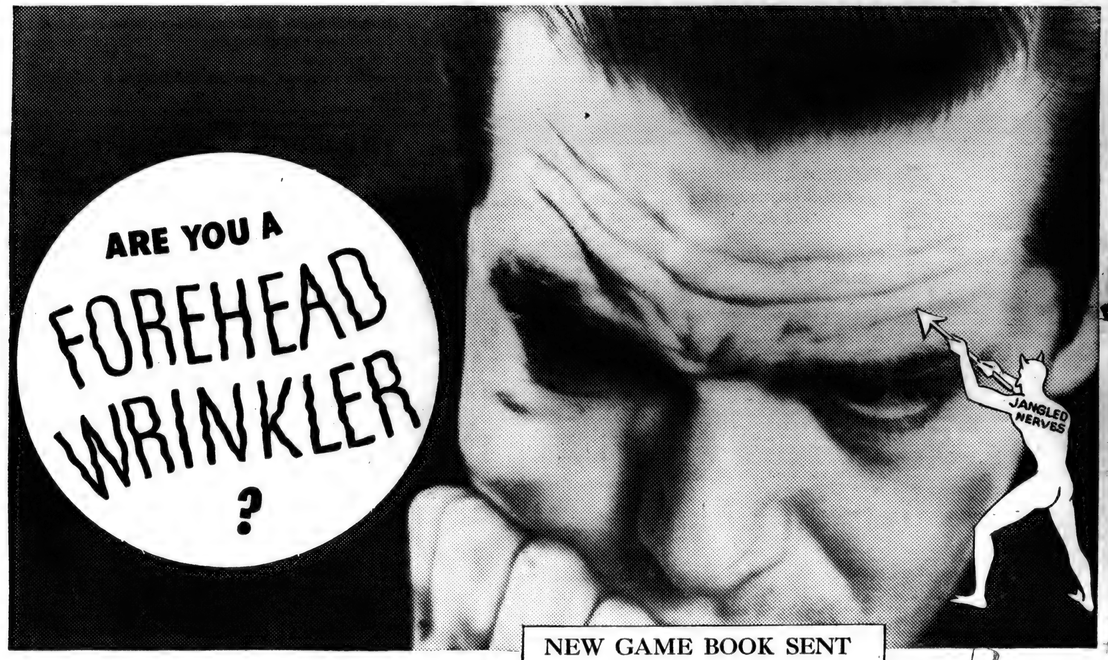
Randour came through again in the 120-yard hurdles and set a new record of 19 seconds in place of the former one which stood at 20.8. Christopher, of Mendel Hall, was second and Bill Cleary, also of Mendel, cleared the timbers to place third.

Randour scored another triumph in the 160 low hurdles clearing the sticks in 18.6, another new meet record. Francis Dart, of Austin, ran second and Horn, also of Austin, was third, making it a clean sweep for that particular hall.

Ben Maloney, a freshman, set the pace at the start of the mile and as no one offered him any competition he set a slow one. Don Blanchard, wishing to pep up the pace, took the lead away from him and established one of his own choosing. This he held for the next lap and a half and then once again Maloney went to the front.

Kane, a Day Hop, challenged Maloney at the beginning of the final lap but the latter shook him off with a terrific sprint that was good for 220 yards and won handily with 30 yards to spare. Kane finished in second position and Don Blanchard took third place. The time of 5.23 was slow but the winner was not forced to bear down.

Twenty minutes later Maloney romped home in the 880-yard run. McGuire, a sophomore Day Hop, took the lead at the gun but relinquished it at the halfway mark to the fast stepping young freshman, who continued to gain yardage, and finished some 30 odd yards in front of Kane, who also placed second in this test.



Jangled nerves show in your face

Of course you don't want to look older than you are. That's one reason it's so important to watch your nerves.

For remember, jangled nerves can mark your face indelibly with lines.

It doesn't pay to take chances with your nerves. Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation. And make Camels your cigarette.

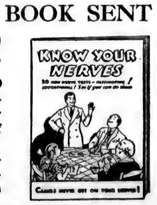
Smoke all the Camels you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

NEW GAME BOOK SENT FREE!

New—illustrated book of 20 ways to test nerves ... Fascinating! Amazing! "Show up" your friends. See if you have healthy nerves. Send fronts from 2 packages of Camels with order-blank below. Free book is sent postpaid.



CLIP HERE...MAIL NOW

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Dept. 76-D, Winston-Salem, N. C.

I enclose fronts from 2 packs of Camels.
Send me book of nerve tests postpaid.

Name ..... (Print Name)
Street .....
City ..... State .....
Offer expires December 31, 1934

Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

CAMELS— SMOKE AS MANY AS YOU WANT... THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

TUNE IN! CAMEL CARAVAN with Casa Loma Orchestra, Stoopnagle and Budd, Connie Boswell, Every Tuesday and Thursday at 10 P. M., E.S.T.—9 P. M., C.S.T.—8 P. M., M.S.T.—7 P. M., P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network

Villanova Golfers Trounce Temple Team, 6-0

'Cats Earn Third Victory Beating Cherry and White

Three Wins in Four Starts Places Golf Team in Local Limelight and Aids Spring Season Prospects

ELLIOTT AND CRAGG UNDEFEATED

The Villanova golf team resumed its winning way last Friday afternoon, when it handed the Temple foursome a thorough trouncing by a 6 to 0 score.

The match was played over the rain-soaked Main Line Open course, which was also the scene of the intra-mural tournament earlier in the week.

Elliott Wins

Captain Jim Elliott, Villanova's number one man, played against the Temple ace, Irving Auerbach. On the first few holes the Wildcat leader's strokes went constantly wide of their mark and at the sixth hole the Cherry and White leader was three up on the 'Cats' captain. However a strong rally evened the count at the tenth hole and Elliott eventually won his match on the sixteenth green. For the eighteen holes he turned in a card of 77.

Dave Cragg at number two position for the 'Cats downed Jack McCarthy, of Temple, on the twelfth hole.

The Elliott-Cragg team won the point for best ball on the thirteenth hole.

Clean Sweep

In the second foursome, Jim McNerney, Villanova's third man, defeated Cliff Barcliffe in a close match 2 and 1. At the end of the sixteenth it was dormie but McNerney settled down and won the match.

Burke Victor

Playing last man for the Wildcats, Ed Burke made it a clean sweep when he defeated Nelson Brown by a 3 and 2 score.

The McNerney-Burke team won their best ball on the thirteenth hole.

This marked the 'Cats' first meeting with the Owls this season. The team also holds victories over Boston College and Swarthmore and was nosed out by Haverford in a six man match by the close score of 5 to 4.

Their next opponent will be New Jersey Teachers College. The match will be played tomorrow afternoon in Trenton, New Jersey.

A cloudy and a soggy course raised the scores of the intra-mural golf tournament held at the Main Line Open Course on Tuesday, April 16.

The meet was won by the Dayhops, with a score of 88.7. Their team was composed of eight men, four of whom were well below the traditional 100. De Persio, with a round of 85 was the star of the tournament, followed closely by Dayhop Barr and Austinite Wallen, both with a tally of 90. Third honors go to Fedigan and McFadden turning in a 94. Mendel failed to enter a team.

Dayhop Results

The results of the meet were: Dayhops—De Persio, 85; Barr, 90; Canali, 96; McManus, 98; Paden, 100; Hub, 100; Bruno 101; Geraghty, 129. Austin—Wallen, 90; Downs, 99; Manion, 102; Cocheo, 108; Foley, 146. Fedigan—McFadden, 94; McDonald, 95; Harter, 108. Alumni—O'Connell, 116; Loughlin, 124; Daoud, 129.

The meet was conducted under the auspices of the Varsity golf manager. Those who signified their intentions as varsity players were considered and their scores will be remembered for varsity reference when new members are needed.

To determine the team totals, each hall with a full team of four or more has its team total divided by one more than the total number of players on the team. Each hall with three or less has its total divided by the number of contestants.

First Tournament

This marked the first intra-mural golf tournament. The points for the teams which scored in this meet will be credited towards their team total in the intra-mural standings.

Following this announcement of the results of the intra-murals, the varsity members will be given cards permitting them to practice on the Main Line Court. Only those with these cards will be allowed on the course free of charge. All other students playing on the St. Davids links will be charged the regular fee.

ENGINEERS' TENNIS TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD JUNIOR WEEK

Hard-Fought Games Expected in Annual Court Tourney By Contestants

BILL LEVIS IS CHAIRMAN

Mounted Trophy, Cup and Gold Tennis Ball Among Prizes to Be Given

The third annual tennis tournament of the Phi Kappa Pi engineering fraternity under the direction of Bill Levis will be held next week, as soon as the courts are in order.

A great number of contestants have entered the tourney, 42 to date. Of these, Jim Allen, a sophomore, and Frank McNamara, a senior, are seeded one and two. They were second and third in the matches held last year. Among the outstanding figures entered are Eric Storms, the president of the fraternity; Paetrus Banmiller, editor of the Villanova Engineer, and Frank Estrata, last year's winner. Of the seven freshmen entered, John McGee and Joe Shea look especially promising, although all the frosh are dark horses.

The array of prizes to be awarded is most imposing. For the winner, a mounted trophy of the figure of a tennis player will be given. A cup, appropriately engraved, will be awarded for the second position, while the third man will receive a gold tennis ball watch charm. A gold medal suspended from a ribbon will be the prize of the fourth best racqueteer.

The committee on the tournament has as its chairman Bill Levis. The other directors are Joe Michalelk, James Tofani, Joe Costigan, Frank Hodgers, Gerald Kunz and Joe Wallmeyer.

Scores of all matches will be published daily on the main bulletin board in Mendel Hall.

The tournament has been a feature of the campus for the past two years. In 1932, John Hickey, now graduated, made a clean sweep of the field and emerged the winner. Last year, in the fraternity's second tournament, Frank Estrata fought a hotly contested match with Paetrus Banmiller, and finished in the third set a winner. This year, no pre-game predictions are available, as the five top men look equally good.

This tournament is open to members of the Engineering school only. The winners receive the individual prizes but no team points are recorded. This is not to be confused with the intra-mural tennis tournament or varsity trials which will be held at a later date. The days which have been set aside for the intra-murals will be announced sometime in the near future.

In former years the varsity trials were held in the fall but weather conditions this year made this practice impossible.

Sport History Continues

Football Team of 1908 Won One and Lost Six Games—1909 Squad Played Only Five Games With Record of Three Wins and Two Losses

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles by Wm. J. Allen, associate sports editor of the VILLANOVAN, who is the only person to compile a complete record of Villanova's prowess in the field of intercollegiate competition.

By Wm. J. ALLEN

Villanova's 1908 football team opened its campaign against the Carlisle Indians at Carlisle, Pa., and as had happened in so many previous years, the Blue and White went down to defeat at the hands of this particular opponent. This time by the score of 10-0. It was, in fact, the closest margin of victory to which the Indians had ever been held by a team from Villanova thus far.

Played With Penn

The second game was played with the University of Pennsylvania on their home grounds, and once again the Wildcat got the worst of it. The score was 11-0. In each of the four years that Villanova played football against Penn, 1905 to 1908, inclusive, the Main Liners became stronger each year although being defeated in every game. After being held to such a close score in this year, Penn would play against Villanova.

The Princeton game, the third of the season, was another close game; the decision going to the Tigers by the score of 6-0. The Wildcat's one chance to "spread his wings" and revel in a scoring spree was in the game against the embryo doctors from the Jefferson Medical School, and the closing whistle stopped the score at 45-0.

Cats Met Navy

The United States Naval Academy played host to the Villanova gridders the following week-end, and took them into camp in more ways than one. The final score was 20-6. And during the next week-end the United States Military Academy was their host, and again the Wildcat was encamped, 25-0. Possibly she couldn't resist brass buttons!

Fordham was the last game in that year, and the Ram managed to eke out a victory by the narrowest of margins—2-0.

Won One Game

The Villanova gridders won only one game that year, and lost six. But what a schedule they played—the cream of the East. The only other two outstanding teams in the East were Harvard and Yale. The former did not play any small Middle Atlantic teams at the time, and the latter would not engage a Villanova team because they "played too rough."

Joe Walsh captained that team, and he was ably assisted by such stars as Barr, Dougherty, "Topsy" Kane, Legge, Monahan, Moore, Jake Neusser, "Sal" Slavin and Casey.

1909 Season

Once again Villanova opened its season against the Carlisle Indians, and were defeated by the score of 9-0. The Main Liners never did manage to defeat the Indians, though they always played a good game against them. Usually, their game was the first of the season, and it was never scheduled later than in third position.

At that time, much attention was not given to such things as spring training, pre-season practice, and training table accommodations. And it will be easily recalled that the Indians' teams of those years were among the outstanding ones in the country. Their greatest star, and the man who has been chosen as the outstanding athlete of all time, was the far-famed Jim Thorpe.

The Wildcat's second opponent was Princeton, and again they were defeated by the score of 12-0 in a game played at Princeton, N. J. But the third game is one that will be long remembered by the Villanova players of that squad. After being defeated in the first two games of that season they journeyed to Annapolis to engage the United States Naval Academy team in what they naturally expected to be another losing battle. But they intended to make it a valiant one.

Defeated Navy

When the final whistle had blown Villanova was victorious over the Navy by the score of 11-6. In the several games played with the Navy, Villanova was victorious on only that one occasion, but it satisfied for all the defeats they had ever placed against the Blue and White.

In the fourth game, the Wildcat was matched against the gridders from Mt. St. Mary's. It presented a situation quite similar to that of

Continued on Page Twelve

HOLE TO BE ADDED TO SCHOOL COURSE

Tenth Cup Will Be Built on Right Side of Spring Mill Road Soon

Golf and tennis will be open for the aspirants of the greens and court.

The nine hole college golf course will be enlarged by the addition of another hole. This new hole will be located on the right side of Spring Mill Road, directly opposite the present course. With this move, it is expected that the students will avail themselves of the opportunity, and there will be created a general interest in this mode of diversion.

The course, as yet, is not conditioned but the delay is caused by the fact that the workmen must finish the lawns in front of the college before they can do anything with the golf course. The work is expected to start next week.

Then, too, the tennis courts with the exception of two which are in very bad condition, will be open to the student body very shortly.

It is the desire of the officials who have gone to the trouble and expense of improving the grounds of the golf course and tennis courts, to grant to all students the opportunity to partake of this favorite sport here at Villanova.

Science Men Hear Talk of Dr. Macneill

Continued From Page Two

of the women in the community have the disease, and 15 per cent. of all blindness is caused by it, while 15 per cent. of all heart and vascular diseases are of syphilitic origin.

"The disease is curable if treated early and thoroughly, but people are under an erroneous idea that it is no more harmful than a mere cold in the head, and usually allow the condition to grow from bad to worse until it is practically incurable.

Fraternity, College and Class Jewelry...

COMMENCEMENT ANNOUNCEMENTS
INVITATIONS, DIPLOMAS

Jeweler to the Senior Class of Villanova College

L. G. BALFOUR COMPANY
Manufacturing Jewelers and Stationers
ATTLEBORO, MASS.

Represented by W. G. ALLEN
1601 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Henry S. Rau

Mendel Assumes League Lead as Austin Bows

Frosh Crush Fedigan Team And Gain First Position

Alumni Bats Spell Defeat for Austinites as First Year Men Shut Out Fedigan Gigolos, 10-0

HIGGINS' CIRCUIT CLOUT WINS

With intra-mural baseball under full sway, and the teams representing the various halls and the Day Hops gradually becoming organized, we find the Mendel Hall nine leading the rest of the clubs with three wins against one loss.

Austin Hall is in second place, having two wins and one loss. Alumni and Fedigan are tied for the third position, each team credited with two wins and two losses. The Train and Trolley boys are fighting a great battle to stay in the cellar and up to date they are surpassing all competition in that respect. Their record to date shows no victories while they have fallen in defeat three times.

It was during the course of the three games played last week that the lead changed hands. Austin Hall, the former league leaders, fell before the potential bats from the old fortress to the tune of 6-3. The slants of Maximovitch proved too much for the Austinites, and they suffered their first defeat of the season. Although Jack Shevlin toiled on the rubber for Austin and he continued to put his famous smoke ball into action, nevertheless the victors got to him handily and soon had the situation well in hand. It was the fourth inning that spelled Shevlin's doom, for John Higgins came to bat with three mates aboard and promptly proceeded to lace out a screeching homer that tallied four runs and proved the deciding factor of the game. The final count stood at 6-3, and spelled the termination of Austin's leadership.

This was the second victory accounted for by the Colonels, for they defeated the lads in the basement, the Day Hops, on Tuesday afternoon, by a 10-2 count. It was a real field day for the Colonels, and served more or less as a form of batting practice in preparation for the tilt with Austin, which was played on Sunday. Voran upheld the pitching duties for the hosts and let down the visitors with a few scattered hits. This was the third consecutive defeat suffered by the commuters, and they have yet to break into the win column.

The fault seems to lie in the fact that they have no definite line-up on which to depend, for some of the players' classes conflict with the hour set for the contest, and hence they have not had much chance to become organized.

The final fray of the week found Mendel Hall tangling with the gigolos from Fedigan Hall in a contest which was expected to be a thriller, but as it turned out it was a complete runaway for the Frosh aggregation. Under the steady pitching of "Schnozzle" Schoppmeyer, they succeeded in shutting out the gigolos by a score of 10-0. Bunny Galazin, the elongated football candidate, applied the Ruthian touch to one of Finelli's pitches and scored a runner ahead of him. The gigolos placed many men on the paths, but they all died there, and not one of them dented the rubber to score even one lone marker. On the other hand the victors made the most of their hits and scored the 10 runs by virtue of smart running on the paths.

The games scheduled for this week show Austin meeting the lowly Day Hops on Thursday, and Sunday's games will bring together Alumni and Fedigan in the morning and Austin and the league-leading Mendel club in the afternoon.

The interest in the intra-mural baseball league seems to have increased greatly, and as it progresses more and more, candidates report for each hall team. With the exception of the Day Hops all the teams have a good chance for the league lead.

DONATION RECEIVED

A donation of $40 has been received from the Class of '26 for the scholarship fund which was established by the administration of the college as a formal tribute to the memory of Charles A. McGeehan, late graduate manager of athletics and professor in the School of Technology.

FROSH BASEBALLERS COMMENCE PRACTICE UNDER COACH LYNCH

Games Pending With Eastern Pen, St. Benedicts' and Two High Schools

LINE-UP STILL UNDECIDED

Twenty-five candidates reported last week to coach Artie Lynch, for the freshman baseball team. As yet no definite game dates have been scheduled but contests are pending with the Eastern Penitentiary, St. Benedicts Prep, St. Katharine's High in Wayne and Lower Merion.

No definite positions have been filled as yet. Pickle and Morin appear to be the leaders in the race for the third base position. Monahan and Galazin are alternating at first.

Joe McCabe seems to have command of the keystone sack but is being pressed by several other candidates. Schoppmeyer looks good at short stop.

MacAuliffe and Germac are outstanding candidates for the backstop job.

The pitching burdens seem to have narrowed down to three frosh, Mulligan, Maximovitch and Sweeney are showing the best form to date.

Four outfield candidates loom as formidable. Walimeyer, Bonetti, Donovan and Murphy have shown possibilities.

In the past years the frosh baseball teams have maintained high averages of games won and the candidates for the 1934 team realize the responsibility that has fallen on their shoulders.

Last year the frosh defeated the Eastern Pen, Norristown A. C. and the Haverford Aces. Their only loss came at the hands of the freshman team of Ursinus College.

The team practices are generally held in conjunction with the varsity in order to accustom the players with a better brand of baseball. There is still room for good material and any freshman who has not already reported for practice should inform Coach Lynch of his intentions to try out for the squad.

Now a Head Coach

"Marty" Gezzer, who was the star center on the 1932 Villanova football eleven and assisted Coach Harry Stuhldreher during the past season, has been appointed head grid mentor at Bloomsburg High School, Bloomsburg, Pa.

INTRA-MURAL SCHEDULES

Three Games Are Scheduled to Be Played This Week in Baseball

The intra-mural baseball schedule for the week finds the Day Hops meeting Austin Hall on Thursday afternoon.

Two games will be held on Sunday. The first will be the Alumni-Fedigan tilt. The second contest will pair Austin Hall and the Mendel Frosh.

The following week, May 2, will find the Day Hops playing Fedigan.

On May 6 the Fedigan team meets Austin Hall in the first game of the day and the Alumni nine plays Mendel.

Alumni Secretary On Goodwill Tour

Continued From Page Two

on Thursday. Friday will be spent at Scranton High School.

The principal of Summit Hill High School is a Villanovan alumnus, Edward V. McCallian, '17, and he introduced the traveling ambassadors to his students yesterday. Yesterday afternoon the students at Coaldale High School heard Wagner's lecture and viewed the motion picture, "Life at Villanova."

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired
It is not how cheap, but how good
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
All new styles now available!
Agents: Dick Morrissey, '34
Ed Lahey, '36

Bryn Mawr Trust
BRYN MAWR, PA.
Organized in 1889
PHILLIP HART, Pres.

'CATS' MEOW

TWO victories for the 'Cats this week. One over Lehigh—baseball—and the other over Temple—golf.

—V—

Austin Hall successfully defended its intra-mural track and field championships to make it two years in a row.

—V—

Four new records were set. One old one was tied.

—V—

Have you noticed that Alumni Hall has been lurking in the background as far as intra-murals are concerned? Looks as if that basketball championship was too much for the boys.

—V—

Bob Regan saw some good material in evidence at the intra-mural track meet the other day in the form of two freshmen runners.

—V—

"Whitey" Randour is no longer the king of the century dash. He was credited with the victory, but there were some differences that show that a certain freshman has him well under control.

—V—

The Owls of Temple had their feathers ruffled again by the 'Cats in a golf match which the latter took to the tune of 6-0.

—V—

Capt. Stan Wronski of the ball club received a bad spike in the middle of the Lehigh game—the job was neatly done.

—V—

Men are like animals—Ed Sullivan finished the 440-yard dash like a thoroughbred race horse at Agua Caliente in that intra-mural event last week.

—V—

Jack Shevlin's only comment on the mile run, in which he participated last Thursday, was, "never again."

—V—

Did you know that all the runners in the aforesaid races were dark horses? That is they were dark horses after the race—maybe it was the mud!

Go your own way on your own ship
TO EUROPE

COLLEGE men and women are discovering that there is something new in Tourist Class on America's new liners, the Manhattan and Washington. You'll find broad, sunny decks high up in the ship; large and beautiful public rooms; modern, well ventilated cabins; tile swimming pool; air-conditioned dining salon. The Manhattan and Washington, the world's fastest cabin liners. With the running mates, the President Harding and President Roosevelt, they offer weekly service to Cobh, Plymouth, Havre and Hamburg.

TOURIST CLASS
$113 (up) One Way
$204 (up) Round Trip
Sailings between June 11 to July 9 rates slightly higher.
See your local agent. His services are free.
UNITED STATES LINES
Roosevelt Steamship Company, Inc., Gen. Agts.
1629 Walnut Street, Philadelphia

H. D. REESE
.. MEATS ..
PHILADELPHIA

CHAPLAIN'S SURVEY REVEALS TENDENCY TOWARD RELIGION

Accumulated Wealth Caused Many People to Forsake Their Faith

A decided trend toward religion is the greatest good that has resulted from the world-wide depression. This was the opinion that students here advanced in a survey completed yesterday.

It was the opinion of a majority of the students that the prosperous days before the 1929 crash, which brought on the depression, people were inclined to foresake religion for the pleasure afforded by their accumulated wealth.

Attendance Dropped

It was also estimated that in these halcyon days the attendance at church services in all religions was at its lowest point. The Catholic religion did not suffer as greatly as other religions, however.

When the depression was at its height the people sought succease from their troubles in religion. This fact was noticed in all religions.

In answer to the question, "What will be the effect of this return to religion upon church service?" the answers were varied. It was estimated that the steady growth in church attendance since 1930 and 31 would be permanent and that those who sought solace in religion have found it so satisfying that they wil l not forsake religion again if prosperity were to return.

Spiritual Good Endures

It was also believed that the spiritual good accomplished by the depression far outweighed the temporal good because the return to religion will have its effect for eternity whereas the pursuit of wealth can only benefit a person during his earthly existence.

AERONAUTICAL CLUB PLANS ITINERARY

Personally Conducted Tour Will Be Made Through Phila. Navy Yard

Due to conflicting dates and other unforeseen difficulties, the Aeronautical Society of Villanova College has been unable to hold any meetings for the past month. However, at an informal meeting last week, President William Hammill announced several plans to be discussed at the next meeting which will be held in the near future.

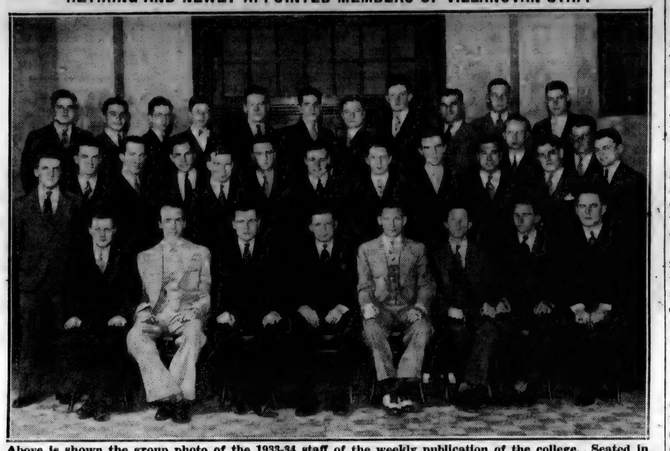
Since the officers of the club do not have any place where they can write up the reports of the various meetings and also prepare articles for the campus publications, it was decided that a room would be obtained, if possible, where they could perform their duties. As yet no definite arrangements have been made, but as soon as the new monastery is occupied, the president announced that he was quite certain of securing a room in one of the old buildings.

An inspection trip is being planned for the near future when the members will journey to the Philadelphia Navy Yard and be personally conducted through the various departments. They will have the construction and design of the various types of planes explained to them in order that they might fully understand the underlying principles of the airplane.

The evening meetings which met with such great approval will be continued as in the past. John Rodgers, of the Flying Dutchman Airport of Somerton, will again conduct the meetings and explain to the members the different types of planes and each week will select a definite topic to talk on. After his talk, the members will ask questions and have an open discussion on that particular topic.

It is hoped that before the close of the school year the society will be able to have a private dance for its members and guests in some nearby hotel or a place to be decided upon by the members. No committee has been appointed but the officers of the club are investigating the various places, and if it is decided upon a committee will be announced.

RETIRING AND NEWLY APPOINTED MEMBERS OF VILLANOVAN STAFF



Above is shown the group photo of the 1933-34 staff of the weekly publication of the college. Seated in the center of the first row is Raymond J. Harter, a member of the School of Commerce and Finance, who has recently retired as editor-in-chief of the paper. Seated on the extreme right is Edmond F. Reiley, a member of the same school, who succeeded Harter for the ensuing 12 month period.

Queries Concerning Seminarians Are Answered by Staff Reporter

Questions are sometimes asked about the black-robed figures of the young men seen in and about St. Mary's Hall here at Villanova. The questioner is given some sort of a vague answer to the effect that they are the seminarians, those who are studying to become priests in the Augustinian Order. But little more than this is known by the average Villanova student. Perhaps the following facts may be of interest to the readers of the VILLANOVAN.

In 1912 Bernard Corr of Philadelphia gave to Villanova a new building for the clerical students. This was at first called the Corr Memorial Hall. Later the name was changed to St. Mary's Hall, in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary, to whom it was dedicated under the title of Mother of Good Counsel. Mary's Hall is taken care of by St. Rita's Hall, formerly the home of the order's preparatory students.

At first these two buildings and their occupants were under the jurisdiction of the Prior of St. Thomas' Monastery, Villanova. In 1921, however, for scholastic reasons it was thought best to erect the study house for the students for the priesthood into a distinct and independent community having its own Prior at the head. At present Rev. John Healey, O. S. A., is Prior of St. Mary's at Villanova. The studies are under the direction of Rev. Francis A. Diehl, O. S. A., and the spiritual direction and discipline are cared for by Rev. Paul Judson, O. S. A. The other priests living in this community are Rev. T. F. Gilligan, O. S. A.; Rev. Thomas Kiley, O. S. A.; Rev. Francis E. Tourscher, O. S. A.; and Rev. Michael O'Donnell, procurator.

Since the close of the World War, in 1918, the Order has been blessed with a notable increase in vocations. From 68 clerical students the number has grown steadily until at present it stands at 143.

This figure does not include the aspirants for the priesthood who are still in the Preparatory Seminary at Staten Island, N. Y. These in number of about 80 are not yet considered as members of the Order although they are preparing themselves for admission when they will have completed their high school course. Of the 150 clerical students mentioned above 26 are in the Novitiate at New Hamburg, on the Hudson River, N. Y., 60 are at Villanova; and 56 are at Washington, D. C.

The naming of the order's four training schools will give the reader some idea of the course of studies required of those who aspire to the priesthood in the Augustinian Order. At Staten Island, N. Y., the aspirant is given a standard four year high school course; on the completion of this course he goes to New Hamburg where he makes a one year novitiate, which consists chiefly in training along spiritual lines and in the spirit and aims of the Order; at the end of the novitiate year he makes his profession of the vows of Poverty, Chastity, and Obedience for the period of three years. As soon as this temporary profession is made he comes to Villanova, to St. Mary's Monastery, to begin his four year college course in the Arts and Philosophy. During this course, that is, at the end of his third year at Villanova, he makes his Solemn Profession of Vows, which bind him until death. Upon the completion of his college course, he receives his Degree of Bachelor of Arts, and is then sent to the Augustinian College in Washington, D. C., to study theology for four years. Here he receives, one at a time as he advances in his studies, the various Sacred Orders that lead up to the Priesthood. During his last year of theology he is ordained to the priesthood, usually at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception at Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

Meeting to Be Held

There will be a meeting of the entire Junior Class tomorrow afternoon in the amphitheatre in Mendel Hall. The purpose of the meeting, as outlined by Hoey, is to inform the class of the advancements which are being made in preparation for Junior Week.

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits, Topcoats and Overcoats
$24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See
JIM ELLIOTT
237 Austin Hall

Ticket Campaign For Prom Starts

Continued From Page One

striking and quite novel. Besides the conventional announcement, each bill consists of a sketch of Jacques Renard playing a violin, which enhances its appearance and makes it more attractive.

Relative to the decoration of the gymnasium for the dances, both the Prom and Blazer committees will decorate the structure in conjunction with the decorations committee of the Turf and Tinsel Club.

It has been decided by the committees of the Junior Week dances that the false ceiling for the Prom and Blazer Ball will be in the form of an arch, in contradistinction to the flat suspension which has become quite effete.

Wasted Energy

Kelly (after having watched a soph-frosh tug-of-war for the first time): "Wouldn't it have been much simpler for them to get a knife and cut it?"

For Your Tonsorial Necessities—
The Campus Barber Shop
Awaits Your Patronage
Popular Prices

ROSEMONT
Feed and Seed Co.
Conestoga and County Line Road
ROSEMONT
Bryn Mawr 2196

HALL BROS. & WOOD
Architectural Wood Work
54th and LANCASTER AVENUE
PHILADELPHIA

Villanova Tossers Snatch Two Games

Continued From Page Seven

there when Ocks went down on an infield play.

Squeeze Play Works

Skaff singled to open the fourth stanza, advanced to second on Geraghty's sacrifice bunt, moved to third on Huriburt's single, and scored on a squeeze play with Wronski at the bat. The play caught Ocks off guard and Skaff was able to score standing up. The Lehigh batsmen fell in order, only one ball being driven past the infield.

Murphy opened the fifth inning with his second walk of the afternoon, Lenzi was safe on a fielder's choice, Mahan singled, and Skaff drove in two runs ahead of him with a smoking triple to deep left. Lehigh again went down in one, two, three order. Hurlburt opened the sixth with a single and was forced at second, and the next two batsmen went down on infield plays.

Ligget was out when he topped a ball to O'Donnell and was beaten to first by a quick relay. Bodura walked, and Ocks walked. Lenzi made a blinding throw to Wronski and caught Bodura off second base. During the mix-up on the bag, Stan Wronski was spiked in the arch of the foot. Time was called until first aid had been administered, and Wronski returned to the field. It was a deep and painful wound, but not serious. Grier was safe on a hard drive to third, but Kornet struck out to end the inning.

Cavanaugh skied to center. Lenzi singled, but was later caught trying to steal second. Mahan fanned. McBane was safe when Cavanaugh overran his slow roller, but the next three batsmen fell in order on infield outs.

'Cats Score

The Wildcats scored their last run in the eighth on Skaff's third bingle, Geraghty's sacrifice, a stolen base, and Huriburt's third safety. Lehigh loaded the bases in their turn, but failed to score. Liggett smashed a low curving drive to Skaff, Bodura singled, and both men were safe when Ocks beat the throw to the bag. Grier popped up to Geraghty, and Kornet filled the bases when his drive escaped Tom O'Donnell. Wronski stopped the rally with a hard stop and quick relay of McBane's drive.

Murphy was thrown out at first after the catcher dropped the third strike, and Cavanaugh garnered his third hit of the afternoon. Lenzi lifted one to centerfield, and Art Mahan was hit with a pitched ball. Skaff drove a hard grounder to deep short and Cavanaugh was forced at third.

Rally Falls

Lehigh's ninth inning rally fell too short to be more than mildly interesting. Bickel was substituted for the pitcher and he walked Burke singled him to second. Both runners advanced on Volkmuth's cut, second to first, and Bickel scored on Liggett's out, pitcher to first. Bodura lifted a high one to Murphy to end the game.

Every Villanova player in that game showed up well enough to prove that he has reached peak condition, and the outstanding improvement was in the batting. In the next two contests they should improve much more rapidly until they become a smooth team.

History of College Sports Continued

Continued From Page Nine

the Jefferson Medical game of the preceding year. The 'Cats did not often get a chance to indulge in an orgy of scoring, but they did utilize those opportunities to their utmost.

It resulted in a 50-0 victory for Villanova, and up to that time it marked one of the largest scores that had ever been made against a team from the Emmitsburg College.

The final game was contested against Swarthmore, and as a fitting close for such a great season the 'Cats won the game by the score of 19-0.

For that season, Villanova won 3 games and lost two and scored 80 pcintsas against the 27 credited to its opponents. Captain Joe Curley led a fighting team that year, and many men that played on that team were destined to become by-words in Villanovan football annals .Some of the more outstanding players were Barr, Casey, Dougherty, Legge, Neusser, "Sal" Slavin, Spillane and Joe Walsh.

In this year, Villanova opened its football campaign with the Carlisle Indians for the last time. In the six consecutive years that these two teams played, the 'Cats did not win a single contest, but every game they won was a hard-earned battle for the boys from the wide open spaces. In this year, their last contest, the 'Cats held the Indians to the lowest score of the series, the final tally being 6-0.

In the second game, against Princeton, the Blue and White was again defeated, and decisively so, by the score of 36-0. The next game turned out to be Villanova's only victory of the year, and that by the narrowest of margins. The 'Cats journey to Gothan to meet the New York Agricultural and Mechanical School, and returned victorious, 6-0.

Continued next week

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

John T. McConaghy
Ardmore

6 about Cigarettes

As to the cigarette paper on Chesterfields

THIS reel of cigarette paper is sufficient to make 42,000 Chesterfield Cigarettes. It is of the finest manufacture.

In texture, in burning quality, in purity, it is as good as money can buy.

Cut open a Chesterfield cigarette. Remove the tobacco and hold the paper up to the light. If you know about paper, you will at once note the uniform texture—no holes, no light and dark places. Note also its dead white color.

If the paper is made right—that is, uniform—the cigarette will burn more evenly. If the paper is made right—there will be no taste to it and there will be no odor from the burning paper.

Other manufacturers use good cigarette paper; but there is no better paper made than that used on Chesterfields. You can count on that!

Chesterfield
the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

IN THE LIMELIGHT! This Week—Blazer Ball Thursday Evening! Junior Prom Friday Night!

VILLANOVAN

STUDENTS! Support the Prom Committee In Its Campaign For Sale of Tickets!

Vol. 6—No. 25 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 1, 1934 Price: Five Cents

TRADITIONAL JUNIOR WEEK OPENS HERE

SUCCESS PREDICTED FOR TRADITIONAL JUNIOR PROMENADE

Music for Annual Class Dance Will Be Furnished by Jacques Renard

COUPLES WILL RECEIVE ATTRACTIVE SOUVENIRS

Interior of Gymnasium to Be Artistically Decorated for Affair

With all the glamour and tradition attendant upon such an affair, the Junior Promenade of the class of 1935 takes place this Friday evening, in the college gymnasium. Plans for this event have already been completed and the committee in charge of the dance feels that it will be a fitting culmination to the festivities of Junior Week.

The Junior Prom, which is the epitome of collegiate socials, has always been recognized as the most outstanding campus dance of the year. If present arrangements may be taken as criteria, this year's Prom will equal if not surpass in color and enjoyment the Proms of the past. Continual dance music by a renowned orchestra, attractive souvenir favors, and an attractively decorated gymnasium are but some of the assurances of a delightful evening.

Jacques Renard to Play

The rhythms for the function will be furnished by Jacques Renard and his famous orchestra, which has been featured over the nation-wide networks of both the National Broadcasting Company and Columbia Broadcasting System. Renard possesses an enviable reputation, not only as an orchestra leader, but also as a musician. He is exceedingly popular in the United States and Canada. At the present time, he is broadcasting with his orchestra every Sunday night, over station WEAF on a sponsored program.

Renard has a musical aggregation which is distinctive in both its arrangements and its tempo. He prefers the smooth, mellifluous music in contrast to the more ebullient style which has reached the nadir of its popularity. Renard will have eleven musicians with him on Friday night in addition to a feminine vocalist.

Artistic Decorations

The interior of the gymnasium will be very appropriately and artistically decorated. The false ceiling will be in the form of a double arch, which besides being a striking and tasteful arrangement, will also add much to the friendly atmosphere of the place. The color

Continued on Page Four

JUNIOR WEEK OPENS WITH FLAG RAISING

Staff Photo—A. H. Lewis

In this picture are shown John J. Hoey, president of the Junior Class, and Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O. S. A., dean of the Science School, at the opening exercises of Junior Week. Hoey presented the flag in the name of the third year class and Fr. Dougherty accepted for the college.

JUNIORS COMMENCE WEEK'S ACTIVITIES

Varied Sports and Social Programme Arranged by Chairman Butler

Yesterday marked a round of colorful activities for the inaugural day of Junior Week with the class of 1935 in the spotlight. Under the supervision of the committee in charge of the general activities for the week, the third year classmen are planning a series of events to make it the outstanding event in the history of the college.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a baseball game between

Continued on Page Eight

JUNIORS WILL GIVE BALL ON THURSDAY

Affords Official Occasion for Classmen to Don Their New Class Regalia

In addition to the Junior Prom, which is to be held on Friday night, Junior Week includes in its program another social function, the Blazer Ball, which will be held in the college gymnasium on Thursday night. Almost all the decorations which will be used at the Prom will be used at this dance, so that from a decorative viewpoint, this function will be on a par with the Prom itself.

The Blazer Ball, which is the initial dance of the week, will be the first official occasion for the juniors to don their new class regalia. The combination of either dark blue or white blazers and

Continued on Page Eight

JUNIORS GET BLAZERS

Third Year Group's Colorful Coat Has Arrived for Celebration

Immediately after delivery, yesterday, the Junior Class blazers make their debut on the campus. Distribution of the blazers was handled by Michael Clavin, committee chairman, with the assistance of a John Wanamaker representative. The coats were distributed in the sales room near the Pie-Shoppe. Each blazer was boxed separately.

Approximately 75 of the juniors placed orders for the blazers. The majority of this number specified white blazers, while the remainder picked the traditional blue.

Officers of Junior Class Predict A Successful Week of Activities

When interviewed recently concerning the expected outcome of Junior Week activities, officials of the class of '35 were unanimous in the opinion that with the loyal support of every junior, and the desired aid of the rest of the student body, the socials listed could not help but be successful.

Praise for the type of orchestra selected for the Prom, and for the inclusion of a Mother's Day program among the activities were expressed by Rev. Bernard McConville, O. S. A., moderator of the Junior Class, when asked for a statement on this matter.

"Junior Week," said Fr. McConville, "should be the biggest social event in a man's college life, and the members of the various committees have arranged things to make this Junior Week the feature that it should be."

John Hoey, president of the third year class, gave his views on Junior Week by saying, "After three years of anticipation, the time has arrived when the class of '35 will be able to see their hopes turn into an actuality. The fundamental plans for this week were laid by the committees in the early part of the semester, and since that time they have been working con-

Continued on Page Eight

President Expresses Great Delight Over Class Demonstration

Large Number Attend Formal Exercises as Mass Celebrated by Fr. McConville Marks First Activity in Group's Ceremonies

FLAG IS RAISED AND TREE PLANTED

KEEN DELIGHT was expressed by John J. Hoey, president of the class of 1935, over the enthusiasm shown by members of the third-year group at the opening of the traditional Junior Week exercises yesterday morning. A goodly representation of the members of the class was present at the formal activities of the first session.

Mass formally opened Junior Week at 9 o'clock in the college chapel, and it was celebrated by the Rev. Bernard McConville, O. S. A., moderator of the Junior Class. It was followed by a breakfast in the college dining hall.

After breakfast the class assembled before the flagpole in front of Mendel Hall. The overhanging dark clouds that were present earlier in the day had disappeared and a radiant morning sun made its belated appearance in the blue sky. The Juniors made a natty appearance in their new blazers.

Science Dean Present

In presenting the class flag to the Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., dean of the School of Science, who represented the college, Butler said: "We are gathered here this morning to inaugurate Junior Week, a week which we have been looking forward to since our matriculation as freshmen at Villanova.

"And what ceremony could be more appropriate on this occasion than the raising of our country's flag, the symbol of patriotism and democracy.

"Nearly a century ago, the Augustinian fathers began their education work at Villanova, namely, the inculcation of Christian ideals into the youth intrusted to their care. Their teaching has a twofold object. First the formation of moral upright character, and second, the inculcation of the principles of American citizenship.

"And now, after this century of labor, they may be justly proud of the noble work they have accomplished in the cause of Catholic Education. We join with them in the hope that they may continue with their noble aims, educational and moral, for God and country."

Fr. Dougherty Speaks

Following Butler's address, Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O. S. A., Ph. D. S. T. L., dean of the School of Science, spoke to the assembled class in accepting the flag for the college. He said, "In raising this flag we are reminded that 300 years ago the valiant soldier, Lord Calvert, founded the colony of Maryland, and this recalls to our memory the ideals embodied in later years by the eminent Charles Carroll of the same colony who was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

"Going further through the pages of history, we can see the brave efforts of those who died at Valley Forge, Gettysburg, Chateau Thierry and Belleau Woods and think of the youth of this country who gave little thought to the sacrifice they made for the same flag."

He declared that the blue found in the national emblem signifies the blue of the sky and that the students should look ever upward to their eternal home.

Fr. Dougherty reminded the juniors that in 1842 the Augustinian Fathers raised the Cross of Christ over the farm at Belle Alre so that those living in the present-day and for generations to come might receive the benefits of the educational training offered here today. He de-

Continued on Page Seven

—HE RUNS THE PROM

Paetrus F. Banmiller, student in the School of Technology, who heads the committee in charge of the Junior Prom which will be held in the college gymnasium, Friday evening of this week, as a climax to the colorful program of Junior Week activities. Jacques Renard and his internationally famous orchestra will be a feature of the social which will be held between the hours of 10 P. M. and 2 A. M.

Junior Week Calendar

Today

3.00 P. M. Varsity baseball game—Villanova vs. Albright.

3.00 P. M. Varsity track meet—Villanova vs. Rider College.

Thursday

3.00 P. M. Varsity tennis match—Villanova vs. Albright.

Baseball game—Junior Class vs. Senior Class.

Intra-mural tennis match.

9.00 P. M. Blazer Ball in gymnasium.

Friday

3.00 P. M. Varsity baseball game—Villanova vs. Temple University.

10.00 P. M. Junior Promenade in gymnasium.

Saturday

3.00 P. M. Varsity football practice game—Villanova vs. Franklin and Marshall College.

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DIJOSEPH, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager

Associate College Editor — Edmond C. Malhame, '35
Associate Sports Editor — William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — Ralph Violetti, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Flo Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Peter Faso, '36
Joseph Mele, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
John Lauriusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Post-office, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - - MAY 1, 1934

JUNIOR WEEK

THIS ISSUE of the VILLANOVAN is proudly dedicated to the members of the class of 1935 in honor of Junior Week because it marks another milestone in the destinies of that group. For some it is the attainment of a much-desired goal probably second only to that of graduation, while others look on the celebration with an indifferent attitude and consider it just one week closer to the end of the semester — or eternity for that matter. Those for whom Junior Week has a deeply imbued significance we greet most heartily. To them we say, "Have a good time!" There is a much hackneyed but nevertheless effective axiom that the good we get out of a project depends upon the amount of effort we put into it. This week can be made to take its place in our lives alongside of other moments that we shall never forget. It is one of those series of events that will give us pleasure to narrate to our heirs years after many other things we now consider important have faded into the dim past, and of which we shall have only a hazy recollection. So enter into the spirit of things, and if after making a clear examination of your conscience, you realize that perhaps you have shirked in your obligations to the class, you can make up for it by your wholehearted support of all the projects during the current week. If there are any within the class who are so unfortunate to look on Junior Week activities with a lack of enthusiasm, and are inclined to sneer at the efforts of their fellow classmen, we can only express deep sorrow for their miserable plight. All of the just arguments relevant to class spirit ever gathered on that subject are of little importance if you set your hearts against them, and yours will be the bitterness of regret in years to come if you fail your classmates now. We feel certain that as far as the rest of the college is concerned, the juniors will be pleased to have every student join them in this pleasurable week, and will be deeply gratified for your support of the Prom and Blazer Ball. In return, if you are a senior classman, you will relive the joys of your Junior Week at Villanova, and if you are among the sophomores or freshmen, you will have a taste of the treat that is in store for you.

JUST THOUGHTLESSNESS

IT IS a deplorable situation that exists when college men have to be asked to take care of property that is not their own. This seems necessary, however, because of the wanton manner with which students have damaged intra-mural athletic equipment during the past few weeks. This should be a sufficient reminder that these activities are provided for your own amusement and that by repeated abuse they will be abolished.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

TOM RYAN, the "Elmhoist" flash, exemplifying the brand of baseball he sees when Brooklyn plays, stole second in the Austin Hall-Day Hop contest with the bases filled. What is more, he got away with it, as the pitcher, so stunned by such unorthodox ball, thought he was having a hallucination and failed to do anything about it until two runners had scored and our hero pulled up panting at third. More comedy was supplied by Ryan when he tried to explain to his roommate, Bill Farris, how come he was using his trousers, without permission, as baseball pants.

Why do they call John Laux, Honest John, you say? Wal stranger, if you'll overlook the theatrics, we'll put you clear on it. The scene takes place in a P. & W. car, eastbound for 69th street. Johnnie and a companion have but a few minutes past boarded the train. Protagonist John, now seated, is seen contemplating the change he holds in his gnarled hand. His friend, puzzled by this study in silver, inquires the whyfor. John unquaveringly replies that the conductor has shortchanged himself. Then, without further ado, John ups and returns the money in point. So, this show of high integrity is the reason why he is called Honest John.

Like the poor, the captious and querulous are always with us. It seems, sometimes, that there is no such thing as a universal act of goodness. The most philanthropic act will have its share of decriers. You cannot hope to undertake any deed which will affect a number of people without trodding on the delicate toes of some individual or individuals. It just cannot be done, for every story has two sides. Take the acts of the Junior Week committees. Not one has been executed without rubbing someone or other the wrong way. Unalterably though it may be, one would think the sufferers could keep their tears for spilt milk off the next person's shoulder, being a bit more philosophical and a little less blatant.

"The problem is one that has no solution," said the professor. Peruse as many books on the subject as you will, but when you have you'll be no further advanced along the road to a clear-cut explanation than you were from the start. This is an enigma that defies an answer. Walt Alessandroni, leaning over to the student opposite, pessimistically whispered, "Dimes to nickels we have it in the final exam."

The thousand eyes the night is reputed to possess will spend much of the Prom evening absorbing the beauty of Billie Gough's girl, who, it is whispered, is none other than Miss New Jersey.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

AN INJUNCTION has been signed by the Amalgamated Association of Dorm Girls of Temple U., in an effort to obliviate unnecessary embarrassment on Saturday mornings. The varsity men, who are working on CWA projects beneath the coeds' windows, insist on beginning work before the fair ones have recovered from their "12 permission" the night before.

Speaking of coeds we hear from the far west at Antioch "the delicate ones" call up for dates, call for them in cabs, take them to dinner and pay the bill. At the new Pennsylvania Railroad Station time tables are distributed free to all students who intend to go west. No! The girls are not Amazons.

Santa Clara University has given us a rather precise definition of something with which we're all only too familiar. Flunk: F—at company; L—ate hour; U—nfinished assignments; N—o study and K—utting classes. Maybe it can be sold to a publisher of nursery rhymes or perhaps used as a reminder in Ye Olde Pie Shoppe. Suggestions accepted.

At the same University students who make a grade of A in a course are to be given a rebate of five dollars. Now I'll tell one.

Phillip Spencer, one of the founders of the Chi Psi, was hanged at sea on a government boat in 1837. He was accused of holding secret meetings. The Secretary of the Navy at that time was his father. This is an ideal example of fatherly love versus fatherland love. This was taken from an old campus album.

All college graduates who are presidents of universities and colleges do not make the best in that coveted position. Dr. Walter Williams, president of the University of Missouri, is the only college president who never received a degree for graduating from a higher school. For our non-college graduate readers this is your golden opportunity to fame. Of course, he has received honorary degrees.

Lambda, Chi and Alpha are the names of the offspring of a butler in the Lambda Chi House at the University of Alabama. We wonder if he is going to have a child named for every letter in the Greek alphabet? You never can tell.

The girls there are in popular demand, simply because of the fact that the men outnumber them five to one. Our sympathies go to these young men.

College students of today are superior (physically) to students of past generations, a Harvard University survey indicates.

---- Dial-Log ----

A FEW NEW programs are making their appearance with the coming of the spring season.

Among the headliners is the addition of Irving Berlin to the Gulf Headliners' program on May 6. Assisting Berlin will be the Pickens Sisters, the Revelers, and Al Goodman's Orchestra.

"A Cavalcade of 25 Years of Words and Music"—with a song for every year, will be the theme of the initial Berlin broadcast. The group will start with "Alexander's Rag-Time Band," and end with the current songs from "As Thousands Cheer." An NBC-WJZ network will air this program.

Luis Russell and His Orchestra will replace Claude Hopkins on the Harlem Serenade after the broadcast of May 5. Hopkins and his boys will go on a dance tour.

Ben Bernie will add the cast of his new picture, "Thank Your Stars" to his program from the coast tonight. Musical scores written by Gordon and Revel will be featured. Among the numbers will be "With My Heart Open Wide, I'm Dreaming," "Take a Lesson From the Lark," "Do I Love You?" and several others from the picture. A new number, written by Al Goering, Ben's arranger, will be played for the first time on the air. It's title, "A Bowl of Chop Suey and Youey," sounds like a typical Bernie introduction.

Al Donahue, whose swell band has been playing in Bermuda during the winter, sends back the following report of dance fads in the southern clime: (1.) Yale students with trousers turned up almost halfway to the knee on all occasions, including dancing; (2.) unidentified collegians and ladies dancing in stockinged feet. These habits are expected to be frowned upon at our Junior Prom, but if your tux is too small, the short pants will be permitted.

The mention of our dance reminds us of those to be held at other colleges. The Dorsey Brothers will alternate with the Casa Loma band at Amherst. In their dance tour the Casa Loma band will also include the Senior Ball at the University of Baltimore, the Green Key Prom at Dartmouth, and the Ivy Ball at Penn. They will return to the Essex House each Tuesday and Thursday for their regular commercial broadcasts.

Incidentally, Jimmie Grier, whose orchestra is heard with Bing Crosby and on the Hall of Fame broadcast, was once assistant director and arranger for Gus Arnheim and Abe Lyman.

Bing Crosby won his own cup in a golf tournament recently at the Lakeside Country Club, in Los Angeles.

The Mills Brothers played in Salt Lake City last week and then flew to New York to catch the S. S. Paris on Saturday for their London engagements.

Lennie Hayton, director of the Hour of Smiles, has started paling around with Walter Winchell on his Broadway wanderings.

Television will add greater enjoyment to any programs which feature the Pickens Sisters.

As We See It

MOVING FORWARD

WE IN AMERICA are marching somewhere, and the whole world is sitting in the reviewing stand watching us. We are engaged in a mighty internal conflict, and all our resources are being utilized to insure that victory which is so vital to our very being. The victory must be one of charity over greed, of justice over injustice, of the honest laborer over the corrupt capitalist, of employment over unemployment. Success must attend this New Deal in American politics or a complete upheaval of existing establishments is inevitable. We are fighting for our homes and for our institutions, and more especially for the injection into our national life of those great ethical principles of Christianity wihch hitherto have been excluded to the great detriment of the common welfare.

The unfolding of American life began when a group of farmers fired a shot heard around the world. That shot was fired for liberty and as it whirred through the early-morning air it carried a message, and that message was that we were big enough to work out our own individual destiny. The drama of our national life began then, and since that time it has gone through many successive acts. From 3,000,000 people we have grown to 125,000,000; from 13 Colonies to 48 States. Gradually our business assumed big proportions. We plunged into the bowels of a virgin continent and exacted its riches. We harnessed the great rivers interlacing the land and demanded that they work for us. Powerful trusts and corporations became established in our big cities, and great skyscrapers, the towering monuments of our modern progress, split the air. We became immensely wealthy and immensely foolish.

A recent act in our national drama was a tragedy. Hunger stalked amidst plenty. Factory wheels did not turn because our mass production had produced more than was needed. In our crowded cities poverty, disease and wretchedness abounded, and all the while the traitors of America rubbed their palms in unholy glee as they visioned for themselves gold and still more gold. We were being "taken for a ride" by politicians whose only aim was power and by capitalists whose only desire was for gold.

Recently the order of events changed. A prostrate nation rose up in wrath; shook itself into life, and acted sensible for once. Franklin Roosevelt was elected President. The next act in the drama of our national life is being staged now, and we entitle it, "Moving Forward."

We Americans are a confident people, and it is fortunate that we are such, for, if anything will liberate us from the throes of economic distress it is confidence plus foresight. We believe that the foresight for this titanic task is possessed by our President and his advisors. The wheels of progress will turn, our factories will be filled with men working a fair number of hours for a living wage, peace and happiness will again be our national heritage, and our children will be reared in congenial surroundings. All this will happen if there is mutual co-operation, which is Christian charity.

We shall move forward only as much as we substitute generosity for greed, and love for hate. Then capital can talk intelligently with labor. Then the old philosophy of get-rich-quick and too-bad-for-the-sucker will be replaced by the Christian philosophy as enunciated by the Great Law-Maker.

A poet once said, "God's in His heaven; all's right with the world." We might go a step further and say: With God in the hearts of men, all will be right.

SENIOR ENGINEERS TO BE GIVEN NEW COURSE NEXT YEAR

Prof. Morehouse Will Teach Subject After Lengthy Period of Research

TO BE OF GREAT VALUE FOR FUTURE STUDENTS

Data Collected From Various Book Sources and From Associate Engineers

By HAROLD D. McGRATH

When the second semester of the school year began a new course was instituted in the School of Technology by J. Stanley Morehouse, Professor of Mechanical Engineering, entitled, Heating and Ventiliating and Air Conditioning, a subject that is important to an engineering student.

It was with the beginning of this new course that Professor Morehouse completed a long period of research work and brought forth a book that is simplified from all other technical books along this line yet it covers every vital point that the student must know.

Former Course Inadequate

Previous to the introduction of this new course, the engineers in the senior class studied heating and ventilating, taking in the theory and simple designs which gradually led up to a design of a heating plan for a small bungalow. This, however, failed to give ventilation a great deal of practical appliance. With the inception of the new course, the students will not only learn what they would have previously but will also undertake the design of a ventilation and air conditioning plan for an office building or manufacturing plant.

Prof. Morehouse has been collecting and revising material ever since he assisted in experimental work on equipment manufactured by the Carrier Engineering Corporation in 1917 and 1918. Three years ago he started to make the new curriculum up. At this time, however, no text book was available and it was not until the past summer that a text on Air Conditioning was written by Morgan and Fritz.

Outside Sources

The minute data and material was gradually collected by the Villanova professor from various book sources, but especially from his associate engineers. Through the ccurtesy of the engineers of the Carrier Engineering Corporation and the York Ice Machining Company, two of the largest companies in that particular technical field, he was able to receive aid and material that was invaluable to him. Other companies submitted data on fans, filters, washers and refrigerating equipment, all of which helped to make the book such a success.

VILLANOVA'S C. W. A. WILL INCREASE BUDGET

Interest Shown by Students Brings About Demand for Maximum Government Allottment

Rev. B. M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president and head of the campus CWA student employment at Villanova stated that because of recent added interest among the student body for employment under the State-aid plan, Villanova College will, in its May budget, ask for the maximum Government allotment. This will enable those desiring positions to obtain them this month.

It is hoped by the administration, that those interested will apply at once. As the positions are definitely limited those who appear first will be given preference.

ARDROSSAN FARMS

"Certified Milk"

Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

DR. DAVID RIESMAN ADDRESSES SEMINAR

Pre-Meds Hear Interesting Talk Dealing With Rise of Universities

David Riesman, M. D., was the guest speaker at the weekly seminar period of the Pre-Meds on last Thursday. Dr. Riesman, a member of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, was introduced to the students by Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, dean of the School of Science.

His talk was very interesting and instructive, dealing with the history of the rise of universities.

"The foundings of modern universities are merely matters of historical facts, but the foundings of the early European Universities are mostly legend. We know that they did originate but as to how they originated we are at a standstill, for we are faced with several reasons, any of which is perfectly plausible.

"The first real schools before the founding of the universities were the Cathedral and the Monastic schools. Between these and the schools of the Roman Empire there existed an essential difference, in that the theory of education by which they were pervaded was in complete contrast to the simple secular theory of the schools of paganism. The Cathedral school taught only what was supposed to be necessary for the education of the priest; the Monastic school taught only what was supposed to be in harmony with the aims of the monk. One of the most famous schools of this type was located at the great abbey of St. Martin at Tours.

"That the earlier universities took their rise to a great extent in endeavours to obtain and provide instruction of a kind beyond the range of the Monastic and the Cathedral schools appears to be very generally admitted, and this general fact has its value in assisting us to arrive at a conclusion with respect to the origin of the first European university,—that of Salerno in Italy, which became known as a school of Medicine as early as the 9th century. One of the many reasons advanced as the origin of the school is that it was founded by the famous Benedictine monastery of Monte Cassino, where the study of medicine was undoubtedly pursued.

"In the course of the 11th century under the teaching of Constantine the African, the celebrity of Salerno became diffused all over Europe."

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe

College Tailor Since 1925

Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired

It is not how cheap, but how good

Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure

$25 and up

All new styles now available!

Agents: Dick Morrissey, '34 Ed Lahey, '36

Turf and Tinsel Presents Its Annual Extravaganza

Second Production of Club Is Amusing and Clever

NOVEL COSTUMES

Featuring pirates, political intrigue and a revolution against the background of a tropical island republic, the Turf and Tinsel Club presented its second annual production, "Let's Go Places," in the gymnasium on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Although this year's show did not attain the mirth-provoking standard set by the club's first effort, "Look Who's Here," it nevertheless was successful from the musical comedy standpoint, and the production more than made expenses.

The attendance was not as large as had been expected, but continual laughter and applause attested to the fact that those present enjoyed themselves immensely.

Ballet Scores Hit

The highlight of the show was the Scarletina Rash Ballet number. When the "dainty" athletes attired as chorines in pink scanties gamboled to the tune of "Glow Worm," the audience almost fell in the aisles from laughter. This number brought down the house last year and was brought from retirement by popular demand.

Under the able and skilful direction of Edward A. Keough and Miss Helen B. Pfaff, the members of the cast went through many long rehearsals, which was quite evident from the manner in which the play was enacted. Mr. Keough was formerly affiliated with George M. Cohan, well-known actor and playwright. Miss Pfaff taught the athletes the dance routines.

Bastian, Miller Star

Some of the highlights of the show were the specialty dances in which Joseph Bastian and Charles Miller were featured and the ballet number, while through the entire production flashy and witty humor prevailed. The singing was very good, especially during the second and third acts when the amplifiers were used.

The musical accompaniments, supplied by the Villanovans under the direction of Paul D. Teel, were exceptionally well administered. The entire production scintillated with many of the popular tunes of the day.

Much of the comedy was supplied by Charles McGee and Joseph Fitzhenry in the parts of the Minister of War and Secretary of State, respectively.

Featured singing parts were taken by Arthur Noble, Lawrence Reilly, Daniel Jarvis and George Kennedy.

Featured acting honors were taken by Edward Manion, Arthur Noble, William O'Prey, James Carr, John Chappel, George Gartland.

Had Large Cast

The "dainty" chorus was composed of Carroll Cook, William Farris, William Grimberg, Frank Foster, William Mulligan, Bernard Lee, Nick Kotys, Carl Hickey, Arthur Hart, Leon Bienkowski, William Fath, Henry Morin, General Kunz, Joseph Cavaliere, Richard Foote, Abe Ulitsky, Glen Robinson, Paul Williams, Fred Myer, William McDonald, Charles Decker, Joseph McCabe, Theodore Osbahr, Robert Guinee and John Burke.

E. Cadwalader, Inc.

Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies

6047 Market Street

Philadelphia

Phone Sherwood 1423

NEW LAUNDRY REQUESTS YOUR PATRONAGE

•

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

•

NEW LAUNDRY

VILLANOVA COLLEGE

Over the Coals

Did you know that: Dan Harkins' recent jaunt to Washington has been the subject of much discussion? . . . Among those present at Immaculata's Junior Prom were Jim Keeley, Luis Cuyar, Rafael Martinez Alvarez and Bill Devenney? . . . Ed Lahey's injured knee attracts many passers-by? . . . Several "hitters" of our varsity nine would do well to ask Tom Collins about how it is done? . . . The Juniors are putting their heart and soul into their attempt to make this prom successful? . . . You, the student body, should help them out? . . . Charley Hurlburt is the undisputed president of the Wayne Club? . . . Johnny Krajsa is the latest advocator of chewin' tobacco? . . . Ned O'Neil has a very extensive wardrobe . . . We wonder why Joe Fenstermacher hasn't been up to the wilds of North Jersey recently? . . . A song for youse music lovers is "Cocktails for Two"? . . . Bob Fitzgerald is a staunch supporter of the "Bayville on-the-map campaign? . . . Toby Cavanaugh's excursion into West Philly have not diminished even to the slightest extent? . . . Ed Mahan can give a good account of a certain New York orchestra? . . . Golf once again reigns supreme as the campus pastime as Stan Wronski will tell you? . . . Ray Shugrue and his henchmen are making elaborate plans for the prom? . . . Art Noble hopes that a certain Bryn Mawr miss was present at the Turf 'n' Tinsel production? . . . If you have not heard of St. Thomas College, Jim Clark will tell you about it? . . . Jumbo Elliott should be entered into the Intercollegiate golf tournament? . . . and Paul Loughlin should most emphatically not? . . . One of our unsung heroes is Tony, guardian of the towels? . . . The new Sax Rohmer thriller in our favorite weekly is a corker? . . . Hen-pecked Goggi is still hen-pecked? . . . Ray Harter is learning ho wto get around in Garrett Hill? . . . Two frosh are still trying to explain the "taxi" service rendered by the local pie wagon Sunday afternoon?

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.

Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers

Established 1832

1218-20-22 Chestnut Street Philadelphia

DESIGNERS AND MAKERS

of the

1935 VILLANOVA COLLEGE CLASS RING

Also the Villanova Miniature Ring

Tower Theatre

69th St., Opp. Terminal

Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30

Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock

Saturdays and Holidays—Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.

Today, Wed. & Thurs.

VICTOR McLAGLEN & EDMUND LOWE in

"No More Women"

Fri., Sat. & Mon.

"Bottoms Up"

with

SPENCER TRACY, JOHN BOLES, PAT PATTERSON & THELMA TODD

Anthony Wayne Theatre

Today

"THIS SIDE OF HEAVEN"

with

LIONEL BARRYMORE & FAY BAINTER

Wed. & Thurs.

"NANA"

with

ANNA STEN

Fri. & Sat.

"HIPS, HIPS, HOORAY"

with

BERT WHEELER & ROBERT WOOLSEY

Monday

"You Can't Buy Everything"

with

LEWIS STONE & MAY ROBSON

PREFECTS APPOINTED

Holy Name Society Assigns Leaders for Twenty-Four Bands

Prefects of the various Holy Name groups were appointed at a meeting of the society held last Wednesday night in Room 110, Mendel Hall. Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., chaplain, made the nominations.

Those present were reminded of the next Communion Sunday, occuring the second Sunday in May, and were asked to pay their dues in order to defray the costs of the society manuals and pins.

The prefects of the 24 bands are: Donald Blanchard, John Hughes, Charles McGee, Joseph Weisenbaugh, James Walsh, Frank Ditchey, William Hamel, William Orcutt, John Butler, Edward Hartnett, William Allen, Frank Perri, Edward Cottrell, Mario Cinquino, Samuel De Matthaesis, James Downs, Charles Ginieczki, Carmen Giordano, William Keffer, Thomas Malcolm, Raymond Mullen, Robert McGrory, Kevin Quinn and Robert Willis.

Go your own way on your own ships

TO EUROPE

COLLEGE men and women are discovering that there is something new in Tourist Class on America's new liners, the Manhattan and Washington. You'll find broad, sunny decks high up in the ship; large and beautiful public rooms; modern, well ventilated cabins; tiled swimming pool; air-conditioned dining salon. The Manhattan and Washington, the world's fastest cabin liners. With their running mates, the President Harding and President Roosevelt, they offer weekly service to Cobh, Plymouth, Havre and Hamburg.

TOURIST CLASS

$113 (up) One Way

$204 (up) Round Trip

Sailings between June 11 to July 9 rates slightly higher.

See your local agent. His services are free.

UNITED STATES LINES

Roosevelt Steamship Company, Inc., Gen. Agts. 1620 Walnut Street, Philadelphia

ARDMORE

A Warner Bros. Theatre

Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11

Today

GEORGE RAFT and CAROLE LOMBARD in "BOLERO" with SALLY RAND

Wed. & Thurs.

"HAROLD TEEN" with HAL LEROY and ROCHELLE HUDSON

Fri. & Sat.

"WONDER BAR" with KAY FRANCIS AL JOLSON DICK POWELL DOLORES DEL RIO FIFI DORSAY and LOUIS ZAZEND

Monday

ROBERT MONTGOMERY in "THE MYSTERY OF MR. X"

Seville Theatre

Today

"HIS DOUBLE LIFE"

with

ROLAND YOUNG & LILLIAN GISH

Wed. & Thurs.

"JOURNAL OF A CRIME"

with

RUTH CHATTERTON & ADOLPHE MENJOU

Fri. & Sat.

"THREE ON A HONEYMOON"

with

SALLY EILERS, ZASU PITTS and JOHN MACK BROWN

Monday

"SIX OF A KIND"

with

CHARLES RUGGLES W. C. FIELDS ALLISON SKIPWORTH MARY BOLAND BURNS & ALLEN

Success Predicted For Junior Prom

Continued From Page One

scheme will consist of an alternation of red and blue, which blends very beautifully into a harmonious whole.

The lighting effects will be novel and imposing. There will be an arrangement of Chinese lanterns and dim colored lights suspended from the false ceiling. Palms and floral displays will be situated about the orchestra and in other appropriate locations, in order to enhance the appearance of the dance floor. Pendants and drapes will adorn the balconies.

Acoustics Improved

The acoustics of the gymnasium have been considerably improved. The orchestra will be placed in a shell, which will be situated on the stage. This allocation of the orchestra will clarify the sound, so that the music may be heard equally well from all sections of the floor without any dissonances or echoes. In addition, the dead spots have been singled out and padded with material which is also expected to aid immeasurably in improving the acoustics.

Favors Secret

In conforming with the president, the committee cannot divulge the exact nature of the favors except that they are very attractive and practical, and sure to meet with the approval of all who attend the Prom.

The dance committee, which is headed by Paetrus Banmiller, chairman, consists of the following juniors: Edmond Reiley, John O'Connell, Joseph Costigan, Edmond Malhame, Lawrence Goldschmidt, Henry Schaeffer, Joseph Caulfield, Carroll Cook, John Shevlin, James Nulty, Joseph Dunnigan, George Gartland, James Murphy, Thomas Delaney, Thomas Malcolm and Augustine Ranieri.

RECEIVES HONOR

Dr. John A. Kolmer, professor of medicine in the School of Medicine of Temple University, and recipient of the Mendel Medal in 1931, was recently elected president of the board of trustees and director of the Research Institute of Cutaneous Medicine, at a meeting of the trustees of the above mentioned institution at 2101 Pine street, Philadelphia.

The clean Center Leaves are the mildest leaves

They Taste Better!

Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

WHEREVER the finest tobaccos grow—in our own Southland, in Turkey, in Greece—all over the world, we gather the very Cream of the tobacco Crops for Lucky Strike. And that means only the clean center leaves. The center leaves are the mildest leaves—they taste better and farmers are paid higher prices for them. These clean center leaves are the only ones used in making Luckies. Then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. And every Lucky is fully packed with these choice tobaccos—made round and firm, free from loose ends—that's why Luckies "keep in condition"—why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. Naturally, Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves They Taste Better

Copyright, 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

ORGANIZED athletics on the Villanova campus has been the cause of much favorable comment both by people connected with the school and those who have heard about them on the outside. Varsity sports and intra-mural leagues have been planned in such a wide range that students interested in almost any form of athletics can find some opportunity of participating in their favorite pastime. We have set out to find the number of students who will take part in sports this week.

Varsity squads in baseball, track, tennis, swimming and golf, intra-mural leagues in baseball and softball, an intra-mural tennis tournament and freshman baseball group will enter at least two hundred and fifty students in organized athletics this week at Villanova.

An approximate entry list finds intra-mural baseball and intra-mural softball each with a minimum entry list of 60 participants. The varsity and freshman baseball squads each add twenty more to the total. Another score will take part in the varsity track meet against Rider College later in the week. Previous tennis tournaments have never had less than thirty-five entrants and the intra-murals this week are not expected to be any exception. About a dozen members of the varsity swimming team took part in the exhibition given yesterday in the Mother's Day festivities. The varsity golf and tennis teams, both with several matches listed for this week, add another dozen to the large total.

If added, this list will total 239. However, the number mentioned is a minimum. In the past, mural baseball games averaged sixteen students from each hall and the Day Hops each week. The conservative estimate was twelve. Of course, some students play in two sports but the average will work out, and when all these events have been completed more than two hundred and fifty different names will be on the list of participants. The definite object of the intra-mural sports program and the varsity sports will have been fulfilled.

—V—

DOWNING Fordham for their fourth straight win has put the Wildcat baseballers back in good standing in collegiate baseball circles. The combined improvement in hitting and pitching as well and fielding will make Villanova a hard opponent for any of the future opponents. Tom O'Donnell turned in his second pitching victory and gave the Rams only six hits. Frank Skaff, with a homer, a double and a single, boosted his already high batting average of .368. "Red" Lenzi likewise raised his mark of .333 with three singles in the game at New York.

A little organized support on the part of the student body this afternoon will go a long way toward aiding the 'Cats in their fifth win.

—V—

THE sportsmen's names that made the news were many during the past week: FRANK SKAFF kept his word about that homer he was going to hit against Fordham . . . JIMMY MURPHY doesn't think the Sunday baseball idea would work here at Villanova . . . JIM FLEMING is setting out to organize the managers (for their own protection) . . . "WHITEY" KORCHINSKI along with the rest of the football squad looks forward to the revenge game with Ursinus next fall . . . JIM ELLIOTT seems to be the confidence behind the golf team, when he's away the golfers can't play . . . JOHNNY STRONG, the swimming captain, was quite worried last week over the success of his group of swimming exhibitors . . . JIMMY CARR, tennis manager, is going to have his hands full trying to set dates for the five tennis matches which have already been postponed . . . CARROLL COOK is now looking for professional dancing engagements . . . "HITLER" WEISENBAUGH is being considered by the German leader to act as a propagandist . . . and so out for a strawberry cone.

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING

Tuesday, May 1, 1934 Page Five

WILDCATS SCORE IN RELAYS

FROSH BASEBALLERS LOSE OPENING GAME TO URSINUS BEARS

Abbreviated Contest Closed at Sixth Inning Allowing Varsity Practice

KITTENS GET THREE HITS

Bill Quay, Cubs' Ace Hurler, Pitches Good Ball, but Errors Allow Scores

Art Lynch's freshman baseball team got off to a bad start last Tuesday afternoon, when they were defeated by the Ursinus Frosh in their first game of the season.

The contest, which was held at the stadium, was an abbreviated affair, lasting only six innings, long enough for the invaders from Collegeville to pile up an 8-4 lead and win the game. Bill Quay, the Cub's ace hurler, limited the Kittens to three single-base hits, two of which were scratch infield blows.

Ursinus Leads

In the first inning Ursinus piled up a comfortable lead when Santora, the Cubs' husky shortstop, singled to center field, scoring Pancoast and Wildanger, who occupied second and third bases, respectively. Ursinus continued their scoring rampage in the third inning, when they increased their margin by putting across five more runs.

In this rally Santora again knocked in two more runs when he doubled, sending Twordzo and Wildanger home. A pair of runs were added to the total through singles by Lamore and Epprecht. Quay's double to left field brought home the visitors' final score. At this point of the game, Coach Art Lynch, of the local nine, sent in his relief pitcher, Maximovitch, who quelled the Ursinus uprising.

Villanova's rally in the fifth frame started when Santora muffed Murphy's sizzling liner to shortstop. Cavaliere reached first by drawing a free pass. Both men advanced on an error by the pitcher. Murphy and Cavaliere scored when Bronskoski, Ursinus' third baseman, fumbled Maximowicz's hot grounder.

Kittens' Bid Falls

In the last inning Villanova made a final but futile bid for the game. Joe McCabe singled, stole second, and reached third on an error. Murphy got to first base on a miscue by the first baseman. The next two batters, Cavaliere and Germack, walked, forcing McCabe across the plate. Murphy brought home the final run on an error by the catcher, as the game ended.

URSINUS

	ab	r	h	o	a	e
Murray, lf	2	1	0	4	0	0
Brant, rf	1	0	0	0	0	0
Twordzo, 3b	1	0	0	3	0	0
Wildanger, cf	3	3	2	2	0	0
Santora, ss	3	0	2	2	0	1
Epprecht, 2b	3	0	1	0	1	0
Fenstermacher, c	3	1	0	4	0	1
Lamore, 1b	2	0	1	1	0	0
Quay, p	3	0	0	0	1	0
Bronskoski, 3b	1	0	1	0	0	0
Edwards, 2b	1	0	0	0	0	0
Armstrong, 1b	0	0	0	1	1	0
Pancoast, rf	2	2	0	1	0	0
Totals	25	8	8	18	4	5

VILLANOVA

	ab	r	h	o	a	e
Murphy, 2b	3	2	1	1	3	0
Cavaliere, 1b	2	1	1	6	0	0
Giermack, lf, c	2	0	0	3	0	0
Schappmeyer, ss	4	0	1	1	3	0
Maximovics, rf, p	2	0	0	1	2	0
Galaxin, cf	3	0	0	1	0	1
Donovan, cf, lf	3	0	0	2	0	1
McCabe, 3b	2	1	1	0	0	1
Mulligan, rf	2	0	0	0	2	0
Sweeney, p	1	0	0	0	2	0
Fickel, 3b	0	0	0	1	0	0
Totals	24	4	3	18	10	1

Villanova	0	0	0	0	3	1	0	0	4
Ursinus	2	0	1	0	5	0	0	0	8

Two-base hits—Santora, Quay. Three-base hits—Wildanger. Stolen bases—Murphy, 2; Cavaliere, McCabe, Murray, Pancoast, Wildanger and Epprecht. Struck out—Sweeney, 2; Maximowicz, 2, and Quay, 4. Bases on balls—Quay, 0; Sweeney, 6; Maximowicz. Umpire—Johnny Gillespie. Scorer—William Allen.

DEFENDED TITLE

Photo Courtesy Evening Ledger

Carl Hickey, who placed third in the Hop, Skip and Jump at the Penn Relays last Friday afternoon on Franklin Field, but failed to retain his title won in 1933.

MURAL SOFT BALL BEGAN YESTERDAY

Twenty Contests Are Listed in Resuming Popular Intra-Mural Sport

Villanova's intra-mural soft ball tournament, originated last year, began yesterday with the first game being played between Alumni Hall, the present defending champs and Austin, on the latter's field.

All tilts, with the exception of the Day-Hops' games, will begin immediately after chapel in the evening. The Train and Trolley boys will play one twin bill a week to make up for their absence during the evenings. The tournament will be under the direction of Mike Clavin, of Austin Hall, chairman of the intramural committee.

With the inception of this sport last year into the intra-mural roster, an interesting campaign was launched by the competing teams, and a successful season is predicted for this year's tournament. Austin copped the soft ball championship after waging a strong fight throughout the tourney.

The game itself has a marked resemblance with hard ball, and conforms to the latter's rules with three exceptions. Ten men are used, an extra short stop being employed. All players are gloveless and the pitching must be done underhand.

Carl Hickey Places Third In Pennsylvania Carnival

Southerner Fails to Repeat in Hop, Step and Jump; Relay Team Forced to Run Against Time to Qualify

'CATS LEAD IN MILE CHAMPIONSHIP

By BEN MALONEY

WITH A BURST of speed that would have done justice to Bill Carr, former quarter-mile Olympic champion, Jim Elliott anchored the Villanova one-mile relay team to victory in the Penn Relay Carnival. Overcoming an eight-yard lead he continued on to win by some four yards over his dusky rival from Lincoln.

This was the only victory registered by the 'Cats in the two-day carnival. They were ousted from the final heat of the 880-yard relay by virtue of their failure to make the necessary time for that distance by one-tenth of a second. Their failure to qualify was because they were obliged to run against time instead of against other contestants, as did all the other entrants.

Hickey Loses

It might have been the weather conditions and then again it might have been an off day, but at any rate, Carl Hickey, Villanova's defending champion in the hop, skip and jump didn't come up to par in Friday's test and his best efforts only won for him third place. On Saturday he set out to make up for the previous day's loss by capturing the honors in the broad jump but again he was due for a disappointment for when the distance was still at 22 feet 4 inches he suffered a painful injury which revealed itself to be a broken bone in his wrist. This stroke of misfortune ended all his chances for success in this year's carnival.

Mile Champions

It was in the one-mile championship relay that the 'Cats showed their heels to the rest of the field in the very good time of 3 minutes, 25 seconds. Joe Fenstermacher, the fleet-footed century king of Villanova and other places, ran the first quarter-mile leg for the 'Cats. He ran a strong race for a converted sprint man and was barely nosed out in passing the baton by his colored rival from Lincoln.

George Wrona took the stick from Fenstermacher and ran a fine leg, but his speed was no match for that of the man running the second leg for Lincoln, and so, when they passed the baton for the third circuit, the colored team had an advantageous lead of some 15 yards. Wrona handed the stock to Kramer after his last futile bid to catch his opponent and it was then that things began to pick up for Villanova.

In fact, they picked up to the extent of nine yards by virtue of Kramer's superb dash. He fed the stick to Elliott, who ran the anchor leg, and the latter set out in chase of his dusky rival who had long since made himself scarce. Elliott clung to the heels of the leader, eating up the intervening space with his smooth strides, and then, as they made the circuit of the final turn and went into the straightaway, he made his bid. He drove to the front, his legs flashing out in front of him and then being drawn back to supply the power for that merciless sprint he unleashed.

Not letting up one mite, he flung himself at the tape, finishing some four yards in advance of the runner from Lincoln who also had a kick that was worth noticing, but not quite the equal of the one with which Elliott thrilled the stands. It was Kramer's third leg in which he cut down the large lead that had been established that enabled Elliot to carry home the baton first for the 'Cats, and give them the one mile relay championship.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT NEXT EVENT LISTED FOR INTRA-MURALS

New Point System to Be Used Scoring Starting With the Quarter-Finals

TO BE HELD ON THURSDAY

Intra-mural rivalry in still another sport will be resumed. This time the scene of action will be the spacious tennis courts. The tennis tournament this year is an innovation in so far as it is being sponsored by the Junior class during its Junior Week program.

Only those students who are not members or who have not heretofore earned a varsity letter in the sport are qualified to participate in this tournament.

The teams will not be limited, all those who wish can enter their respective groups, which will include Fedigan, Alumni, Austin, Mendel and the combined forces of the Mendel and Commerce and Finance day-students. Of all those competing, only 16 will enter the tournament proper.

New Scoring System

The scoring will be as follows. The eight losers will receive one point toward their team scoring. The winners move into the quarter-finals, then, the four losers of the quarter-finals will receive three points and the winners will enter the semi-finals; the two losers receive five points and the two winners go into the final round. Here the winner receives ten points and the loser seven.

The final tally will be made by adding the scores of the various teams, and distributing team points. The highest scoring team will receive ten points, the next will receive seven points, the third highest group receives five points, the fourth receives three and the last place team receives one point.

Candidates Should Report

Everyone interested in participating in the tournament should see their group representatives. They are James Carr, for the day-hops, John Butler for Fedigan, Richard Willis represents Austin and Gene Hartnett represents Alumni.

Villanova Downs Fordham and West Chester

Rams Bow to Main Liners; 'Cats Beat Teachers, 6-0

Skaff Hits Long Homer Against New Yorkers; Lenzi Has Perfect Day at the Plate; Collins, Mahan Are Stars

O'DONNELL TOSSES FOR JACOBSMEN

VILLANOVA took Fordham's measure, 4-1, in a game played on the Rams' field last Saturday afternoon. Previously, the losers had defeated Yale, Princeton and Columbia, and had been marked as one of the outstanding collegiate teams in the East. But Tom O'Donnell's fine pitching and the excellent hitting of Lenzi and Skaff, coupled with smart defensive play, led to the Rams' downfall.

On the preceding Wednesday, Villanova shut out the West Chester Teachers, 6-0. Tom Collins, a sophomore from Massachusetts, pitched a strong game. He walked only three men and fanned eight. He also connected for three of his team's 11 hits.

'Cats Take Lead

Villanova got off to a two-run lead in the first inning of the Fordham game and did not lose the lead for the balance of the game. This margin was narrowed by one run in the third, and it remained so until Skaff smacked a home run in the eighth with one on.

Murphy, first batter of the game, lifted a high infield fly. Cavanaugh walked and went to second on Lenzi's single. Skaff's hard single scored one run and "Link" pulled up at third. Geraghty singled to deep short, and, while the ball was being thrown around the infield on the play, Skaff attempted to score from second, but was nipped at the plate.

The Rams' first scoring threat came in the second inning when Pepper singled to center with one down. The next batter walked, but Sherry hit to O'Donnell. Tom threw to Geraghty at third for the force out, and Ben whipped the ball to first in time to complete a double-play.

Villanova should have scored again in the third, but due to a miscue the 'Cats failed to tally. Cavanaugh singled and went to second on an error. He tried to steal third when signalled to do so and was caught. Lenzi connected for his second safety, Mahan flied out to deep center, and Skaff also hit safely for the second time. Geraghty was thrown out at first when he topped a ball to the pitcher.

Rams' Lone Tally

Fordham marked up an unearned run in their half of the third inning when DePhillips walked. He went to second on a sacrifice bunt by the pitcher and scored without a play when a hard hit grounder escaped Cavanaugh. On the next play Lashua was caught trying to make second. McDermott who had reached first on a fielder's choice, was tagged trying to steal second.

Villanova's half of the fifth inning was uneventful except for Lenzi's third single. Sherry led off for Fordham with a double to left field. Skaff raced after the ball while it was still in the air and made a great attempt to capture it by diving along the ground. The ball escaped being caught by only a few inches, and Sherry reached second before the ball was returned to the infield. He reached third on a passed ball. DePhillips laced a ball to Murphy in center field, and that worthy threw the ball to second to hold Sherry on third. Bristow struck out, and Lashua was thrown out at first by Geraghty to end the inning without a score.

Cavanaugh Stars

Skaff was safe on first when McDermott juggled his fast grounder and on the poor throw to first Frank went to second. Geraghty bunted in an attempt to advance Skaff to third but was thrown out without accomplishing his purpose. The next two batsmen were dismissed on fly balls.

McDermitt singled to open the sixth. Young hit to Wronski who threw the ball to Cavanaugh for a close force play, Young was called safe on the fielder's choice. Ladroga hit to Wronski and both runners were safe on an attempted play at second when Wronski threw the ball too high and Cavanaugh had to jump for the throw. Pepper lined to Mahan and Sarausky lofted to Skaff.

Continued on Page Eight

GAVE 'EM THE "RAMS"

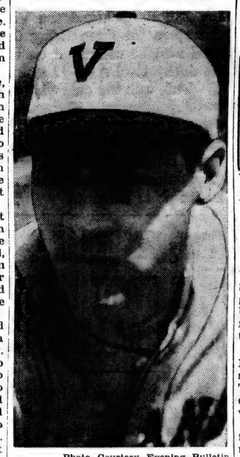

Photo Courtesy Evening Bulletin

Tom O'Donnell, senior member of the Villanova pitching staff, who earned his second victory by pitching a six hit game against Fordham University last Saturday.

TWO DOWN!!

VILLANOVA

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Murgon, cf	5	1	2	0	0
Cavanaugh, ss	5	0	1	1	2
Lenzi, c	4	1	1	10	0
Mahan, 1b	4	1	3	9	0
Skaff, lf	4	0	0	3	0
Geraghty, 3b	3	1	1	1	2
Hurlburt, rf	4	0	0	1	0
Wronski, 2b	4	0	0	1	3
Collins, p	3	2	2	2	3
Totals	36	6	11	27	10

WEST CHESTER

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Messikomer, lf	3	0	0	2	0
Taronis, c	3	0	0	2	1
Gwinn, ss	4	0	1	1	1
Manno, 2b	4	0	2	3	1
Donhart, 1b	3	0	0	8	0
Wilson, 2b	3	0	0	0	1
Moore, rf	2	0	0	2	0
Robinson, cf	4	0	0	5	0
Beboff, p	3	0	0	1	3
Forbes, rf	1	0	0	0	0
xBwisher	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	31	0	4	24	7

xBatted for Wilson in the ninth.

West Chester	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Villanova	0	0	2	0	1	1	2	0	x	—6

VILLANOVA

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Murphy, cf	5	0	0	3	0
Cavanaugh, ss	3	1	1	1	1
Lenzi, c	3	2	3	5	1
Mahan, 1b	3	0	0	6	0
Skaff, lf	4	1	3	2	0
Geraghty, 3b	4	0	1	3	4
Hurlburt, rf	4	0	1	2	0
Wronski, 2b	3	0	0	5	3
O'Donnell, p	4	0	0	0	2
Totals	32	4	9	27	11

FORDHAM

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Lashua, ss	4	0	0	1	1
McDermott, 3b	4	0	1	2	2
Young, 1b	3	0	0	10	0
Ladroga, lf	4	0	0	2	0
Pepper, rf	4	0	2	1	0
Sarausky, cf	3	0	0	2	0
Sherry, 2b	3	0	1	2	4
DePhillips, c	2	1	2	6	2
Bristow, p	2	0	0	0	1
Estwanick, p	0	0	0	0	0
xHarlow	1	0	0	0	0
xLynch	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	31	1	6	27	11

xBatted for Bristow in the seventh.
xBatted for Estwanick in the ninth.

Villanova	2	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	—4
Fordham	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	—1

New England Sophomore Stars as First Baseman for 'Cats

Above photo shows Art Mahan, who hit a triple, double, and a single in the West Chester game and drove in three runs. He is the only left handed batter on the Villanova team, and is hitting above the .300 mark.

Sports History Continues

Balance of Football Results for 1910 Team Recorded—1910 Squad Won One, Lost Four, and Tied One—Wildcats of 1911 Lost Four and Tied One

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles by Wm. J. Allen, associate sports editor of the VILLANOVAN, who is the only person to compile a complete record of Villanova's prowess in the field of intercollegiate competition.

During the following week-end, Villanova visited Pennsylvania State College and played a full game to a scoreless standoff. The United States Military Academy defeated the 'Cats by the score of 13 to 0.

In the final game of the year the Blue and White gridders played against Washington and Jefferson. The Presidents outplayed the 'Cats on that unusually warm day and were credited with a victory, 9-0.

Villanova scored only six points for the entire year, while its opponents collected an even 70, and in the matter of games it did not tally a single victory, but was credited with one victory, four defeats, and one tie. Five of those games were scoreless ones for the 'Cats.

Captain Frank McCormick led a scrappy team composed of such players as Barr, Duffy, Flannigan, Kelly, Kilkullen, McLaughlin, Sheehan, (the real team of "Fighting Irish") Neusser, Slavin and Spillane. Barr completed six years of glorious football playing in 1910, and collected many, many injuries as a reward for his efforts. The following fall he entered the University of Pennsylvania and played football for that institution for two more years.

The Villanova Wildcats opened their 1911 campaign with a 35-0 defeat at the hands of Princeton. In those days, Villanova was only a warm-up game for the larger institution, but it was a great big game for the 'Cats.

The second contest was played with the University of Pennsylvania, and like so many of its forerunners it turned out to be another defeat for the Blue and White. This time by the score of 22-0.

The next game was played with Pennsylvania State College at the letter's field in Bellefonte, and was marked up as another defeat for the Wildcats, by the score of 18-0.

The fourth game of the season resulted in a scoreless tie with Marquette in a game played at Villanova. And in the final game the Wildcat was again defeated by Pittsburgh University by the score of 12-0.

As yet it has not been possible to ascertain the name of the captain of that team. Such a title was not given in any accounts of Villanova's football games, and no mention of it is obtainable from any unknown source. If any reader of this history has any knowledge of who that unknown player was, or of any source of such information, the VILLANOVAN would be greatly indebted to him for the forwarding of such facts.

Some of the outstanding players of that year were Curley, Flannigan, Forst, Gormley, Hogan, McCormick, McLaughlin, Prendergast, Skelton, Sheehan and Spillane. "Dutch" Forst was destined to return a few years later as coach of Villanova's football teams.

Also, this marked the end of Fred Crolius' regime as football coach for the Wildcats. During his years as football mentor at Villanova he put forth many fighting teams, and he matched them against the best teams in the East. He also developed many football "greats" that are synonomous with the word "athlete" on the Villanova campus. Though there may be only a few persons on the campus at this time who may have known him, his fame as a great coach will live on for many years to come.

Glenn S. "Pop" Warner, coach of the Carlisle Indians during the years that Villanova played against them, famous ex-coach of Stanford University, and the present football coach at Temple, has often been credited with the discovery and institution of the forward pass play that is so prominent in the modern game. But none of the notations of this fact that have come to our attention seem to carry any great belief in them.

In fact, it would be nearer the truth to say that Crolius instituted the forward pass. Although we have no accurate and definite knowledge with which to strengthen this controversy either pro or con, several of the men who have played football under Crolius have stated emphatically that their coach was the one who developed that play.

The only positive knowledge that exists about this point is that the forward pass was used for the first time in a game played between Villanova and the Carlisle Indians.

If you have followed this history closely you will have noticed that for many years Villanova played only one or two games at home each year, and that the opponents played were selected from the best teams in the East at that time.

Those were the dark years in Villanova's football history—the years when our football teams toured the East in an effort to popularize their alma mater, when that school was too small to accommodate its much greater opponents on its home grounds.

All that effort, the stinging defeats that were only partly paid for by the few victories they earned over much larger institutions, the long trips, and the countless injuries have not gone for naught. After 1910 Villanova became a changed football team and began to intrench itself into the football niche it ... earned at so great a price ... batters and a heavy sticker to bat.

MENDEL HOLDS LEAD IN INTRA-MURALS

Frosh Downs Austin Hall and Fedigan Beats Alumni in Slugfest

Austin Hall's intra-mural baseball nine made its second bid for the lead of the league when they battled Mendel Hall for that honor last Sunday. They fell in defeat, however, before the bats of the frosh aggregation to the tune of 13-11. They had their chance to go to the front by virtue of their mid-week victory over the Day Hops but they were unable to stop the climbing frosh.

The Frosh, therefore, retained their lead with four victories as against one loss. Austin is in second place with three wins and one loss. Tied with them for second position are the Fedigan Gigolos. The Colonels from the old fortress are just one jump ahead of the last place, Day Hops having two wins and three losses. The guardians of the cellar have yet to break into the win column.

Game Is Fun Fest

The contest between the Day Hops and Austin in the middle of last week proved to be a fun fest for the latter team, as they constantly changed their lineup trying all sorts of combinations so that the game would not be a complete runaway in favor of the Austinites. At the termination of the contest the Day Hops had climbed up from one lowly run to 13. Considering that the players on that winning team lay down while their pitcher toiled on the mound, at no time were the losers potential enough to cause any worry.

In the game played on Sunday morning the Alumni Hall team succumbed to the slants of Ed Verbyla, and now they are holding the third position all by themselves whereas their conquerors are enjoying the feeling a team experiences when in second place.

The game was a bitter one all the way through and more than once Mike Clavin, who did the officiating, came within hair's breadth of being mobbed. Despite "Red" Conroy's triple with the bags loaded in one of the closing frames, the Colonels could do no better than six runs, while the Gigolos scored 18, thereby clinching second place.

Had Few Thrills

Mendel Hall made their foothold on the ground around first place stronger than ever by eking out a 15-13 victory over Austin Hall in the final game of Sunday's doubleheader. The game was a rather dull one all the way through as neither team performed any spectacular plays or rapped out any long hits. The climax of the game came in the ninth inning when Mulligan, pitching for the frosh, walked

Jacques Renard Was Once Mistaken For French Heavyweight Pugilist

Two hundred and seventy-five pounds of flesh ought to make a heavyweight, but in the case of Jacques Renard it composes a musician, not a prize-fighter. This mighty maestro was formerly heard over a WABC-Columbia network on bi-weekly programs with Stoopnagle and Budd and the Sunday broadcasts of "Songs Your Mother Used to Sing."

There was a time when Jacques Renard was mistaken for a boxer. It was at Hot Springs, Ark., and a French heavyweight by the name of Jacques Renault was staying at the same hotel. By mistake the orchestra leader received and opened the fighter's mail.

Renard immediately went to work and melted away sixty-four pounds, just to make sure there wouldn't be any more embarrassing cases of mistaken identity. It required two months for the job, but in four weeks he was his old jovial 275 again.

Several other facts about the portly Jacques, however, are of more importance than these weighty matters. Just when he was learning to play on the floors of his parents' home in Kiev, Russia, Jacques and the family moved to Boston.

Shortly thereafter Jacques was able to hold a violin in his chubby hands and his father saw to it, with the aid of flogging when necessary, that the lad practiced and became proficient with the instrument in case visitors arrived who wanted to be entertained.

Young Jacques not only got his musical start through the urgings of his father, but also learned to speak Italian fluently because of his parents' business. The elder Renard, a former Cossack in the Imperial Army, had become an importer of Italian foods and Jacques had to help handle the foreign-speaking customers.

At the age of sixteen Renard toured South America as a violinist for the famous dancer, Ann Pavlowa. Later he accepted the baton of a Boston dance orchestra. The new position was so interesting that he was inspired to form his own orchestra and to open his own clubs, the Mayfair and the Coconut Grove. Johnny Green, then a Harvard student, and Gordon Graham, Dave Grant and Bunny Coughlin, the Funnyboners, used to play and sing at the Grove.

"Caressing You" and "Just Call on Me" are two of his songs.

Junior Week Opens With Varied Program

Continued From Page One

clared that the same cross could be seen all over the surrounding countryside and that it is the duty of the students to defend this cross just as they would Old Glory.

In concluding his inspiring discourse, Fr. Dougherty said, "It is your duty to keep the stars and stripes always waving over this country instead of the red flag of anarchy, the yellow flag of treachery and the black flag of religious hatred. Under the leadership of our great President Roosevelt, we hope that this flag will presage the ideals which have been imbued in you at Villanova."

The Juniors then proceeded to the north side of the new Monastery building where the president of the class, John Hoey, presented a tree to the Rev. John S. O'Leary, O. S. A., M. S., professor of mathematics, in the name of the group.

Talking to the members of the class, Father O'Leary said: "There is something very fundamental about the planting of your Junior tree. It is symbolic of the seed that is planted by a youth when he prepares himself in college for the world. As a tree proceeds from the seed, so a Villanova student should prepare himself from the training he receives in college. Words worth once said of one of his poetic characters: 'A primrose by the river's brim, was just a primrose to him, and nothing more.'"

The afternoon of the first day was devoted to the mothers of the students. They were received by Mrs. Harry U. Strong, Mrs. Eugene Reiley and Mrs. John J. Keating, who acted as hostesses to the mothers.

A tour of the various laboratories was conducted by the members of the committee. Several special experiments were performed by the instructors for the benefit of the mothers. An interesting trip about the campus followed which included a tour of the buildings, the chapel and the gymnasium.

The members of the Villanova swimming team along with a number of well known swimmers from the Penn Athletic Club, entertained the visiting mothers in the gymnasium pool. The program prepared by John Strong, captain-elect of the swimming team, was presented as one of the features of the day.

Mother's Day was concluded with a tea in the student dining hall at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Edward V. Stanford. O. S. A., welcomed the mothers and thanked them for coming. He expressed the hope that the day had brought them in closer contact with Villanova.

BELLE MASQUE SOCIETY TO PRODUCE FOUR PLAYS

Prof. Jos. T. Jonas Names Casts for Four One-Act Shows Which He Will Direct

During the month of May the Belle Masque Society will produce four one-act plays in the college gymnasium. The dates for the opening has not been made final.

The shows are being directed by Joseph T. Jonas, professor of oratory.

The plays to be produced will be "A Glorious Martyr;" "The Last Drop," "Three Rogues and a Rascal," and "If Men Played Cards as Women Do."

"A Glorious Martyr" is the play to be enacted by the society in the Intercollegiate One-Act Play Tournament to be held May 4 at St. Joseph's Prep Auditorium, 17th and Stiles streets. The characters in the play will be Lord Byron by George Malhame, Count Guiccioli by William Zell, Guiseppe by Peter Kerr, and Fletcher by Joseph Carroll.

Casts for the other plays have been issued as follows: "The Last Drop," Colonel Nell Foster by Paetrus Banmiller, Sam Sheene by John Butler, and Preece by Rafael M. Alvarez; "Three Rogues and a Rascal," a magistrate by John Hallahan, a lawyer by Robert McGrory, a manufacturer by Thomas Kucher.

Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

Watch out for the signs of jangled nerves

You've noticed other people's nervous habits—and wondered probably why such people didn't learn to control themselves.

But have you ever stopped to think that you, too, may have habits just as irritating to other people as those of the key juggler or coin jingler are to you?

And more important than that, those habits are a sign of jangled nerves. And jangled nerves are the signal to stop and check up on yourself.

Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation—and watch your smoking. Remember, you can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle the nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

TEST YOUR NERVES FREE!

Shows 20 ways to test nerves—all illustrated. Instructive and amusing! Try them on your friends—see if you have healthy nerves yourself... Mail order-blank below with fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Free book comes postpaid.

CLIP AND MAIL TODAY!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Dept. 76-E, Winston-Salem, N. C.

I enclose fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Send me book of nerve tests postpaid.

Name _____ (Print Name)
Street _____
City _____ State _____
Offer expires December 31, 1934

CAMELS— SMOKE AS MANY AS YOU WANT... THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

TUNE IN! CAMEL CARAVAN with Casa Loma Orchestra, Stoopnagle and Budd, Connie Boswell, Every Tuesday and Thursday at 9 P. M., E.S.T.—8 P. M., C.S.T.—7 P. M., M.S.T.—6 P. M., P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network

Villanova Downs Fordham and West Chester

Rams Bow to Main Liners; 'Cats Beat Teachers, 6-0

Skaff Hits Long Homer Against New Yorkers; Lenzi Has Perfect Day at the Plate; Collins, Mahan Are Stars

O'DONNELL TOSSES FOR JACOBSMEN

VILLANOVA took Fordham's measure, 4-1, in a game played on the Rams' field last Saturday afternoon. Previously, the losers had defeated Yale, Princeton and Columbia, and had been marked as one of the outstanding collegiate teams in the East. But Tom O'Donnell's fine pitching and the excellent hitting of Lenzi and Skaff, coupled with smart defensive play, led to the Rams' downfall.

On the preceding Wednesday, Villanova shut out the West Chester Teachers, 6-0. Tom Collins, a sophomore from Massachusetts, pitched a strong game. He walked only three men and fanned eight. He also connected for three of his team's 11 hits.

'Cats Take Lead

Villanova got off to a two-run lead in the first inning of the Fordham game and did not lose the lead for the balance of the game. This margin was narrowed by one run in the third, and it remained so until Skaff smacked a home run in the eighth with one on.

Murphy, first batter of the game, lifted a high infield fly. Cavanaugh walked and went to second on Lenzi's single. Skaff's hard single scored one run and "Link" pulled up at third. Geraghty singled to deep short, and, while the ball was being thrown around the infield on the play, Skaff attempted to score from second, but was nipped at the plate.

The Rams' first scoring threat came in the second inning when Pepper singled to center with one down. The next batter walked, but Sherry hit to O'Donnell. Tom threw to Geraghty at third for the force out, and Ben whipped the ball to first in time to complete a double-play.

Villanova should have scored again in the third, but due to a miscue the 'Cats failed to tally. Cavanaugh singled and went to second on an error. He tried to steal third when signalled to do so and was caught. Lenzi connected for his second safety, Mahan flied out to deep center, and Skaff also hit safely for the second time. Geraghty was thrown out at first when he topped a ball to the pitcher.

Rams' Lone Tally

Fordham marked up an unearned run in their half of the third inning when DePhillips walked. He went to second on a sacrifice bunt by the pitcher and scored without a play when a hard hit grounder escaped Cavanaugh. On the next play Lashua was caught trying to make second. McDermott who had reached first on a fielder's choice, was tagged trying to steal second.

Villanova's half of the fifth inning was uneventful except for Lenzi's third single. Sherry led off for Fordham with a double to left field. Skaff raced after the ball while it was still in the air and made a great attempt to capture it by diving along the ground. The ball escaped being caught by only a few inches, and Sherry reached second before the ball was returned to the infield. He reached third on a passed ball. DePhillips laced a ball to Murphy in center field, and that worthy threw the ball to second to hold Sherry on third. Bristow struck out, and Lashua was thrown out at first by Geraghty to end the inning without a score.

Cavanaugh Stars

Skaff was safe on first when McDermott juggled his fast grounder and on the poor throw to first Frank went to second. Geraghty bunted in an attempt to advance Skaff to third but was thrown out without accomplishing his purpose. The next two batsmen were dismissed on fly balls.

McDermitt singled to open the sixth. Young hit to Wronski who threw the ball to Cavanaugh for a close force play, Young was called safe on the fielder's choice. Ladroga hit to Wronski and both runners were safe on an attempted play at second when Wronski threw the ball too high and Cavanaugh had to jump for the throw. Pepper lined to Mahan and Sarausky lofted to Skaff.

Continued on Page Eight

GAVE 'EM THE "RAMS"

Photo Courtesy Evening Bulletin

Tom O'Donnell, senior member of the Villanova pitching staff, who earned his second victory by pitching a six hit game against Fordham University last Saturday.

TWO DOWN!!

VILLANOVA	ab	r	h	o	a
Murphy, cf	5	1	2	0	0
Cavanaugh, ss	5	0	1	1	2
Lenzi, c	4	1	1	10	0
Mahan, 1b	4	1	2	9	0
Skaff, lf	4	0	0	3	0
Geraghty, 3b	3	1	1	1	2
Hurlburt, rf	4	0	0	0	0
Wronski, 2b	4	0	0	1	3
Collins, p	3	2	3	2	3
Totals	36	6	11	27	10

WEST CHESTER	ab	r	h	o	a
Messikomer, lf	4	0	0	2	0
Tarabis, c	3	0	0	2	1
Gwinn, ss	4	0	1	1	1
Manno, 3b	4	0	2	3	1
Dunhart, 1b	3	0	0	8	0
Wilson, 2b	3	0	0	0	1
Moore, rf	2	0	0	2	0
Robinson, cf	4	0	0	5	0
Behoff, p	2	0	1	1	3
Forbes, rf	1	0	0	0	0
xSwisher	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	31	0	4	24	7

xBatted for Wilson in the ninth.

West Chester	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Villanova	0	0	2	0	1	1	2	0	x

VILLANOVA	ab	r	h	o	a
Murphy, cf	5	0	0	3	0
Cavanaugh, ss	3	1	1	1	1
Lenzi, c	3	2	3	5	1
Mahan, 1b	3	0	0	6	0
Skaff, lf	4	1	3	2	0
Geraghty, 3b	3	0	1	2	4
Hurlburt, rf	4	0	1	2	0
Wronski, 2b	3	0	0	5	2
O'Donnell, p	4	0	0	0	3
Totals	32	4	9	27	11

FORDHAM	ab	r	h	o	a
Lashua, ss	4	0	0	3	1
McDermott, 3b	4	0	1	2	2
Young, 1b	3	0	0	10	0
Ladroga, lf	4	0	2	0	0
Pepper, rf	4	0	2	1	0
Sarausky, cf	3	0	0	3	0
Sherry, 2b	3	0	1	2	4
DePhillips, c	3	1	2	6	2
Bristow, p	2	0	0	0	1
Estwanick, p	0	0	0	0	0
xHarlow	1	0	0	0	0
zLynch	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	1	6	27	11

xBatted for Bristow in the seventh.
zBatted for Estwanick in the ninth.

Villanova	2	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0—4
Fordham	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0—1

New England Sophomore Stars as First Baseman for 'Cats

Above photo shows Art Mahan, who hit a triple, double, and a single in the West Chester game and drove in three runs. He is the only left handed batter on the Villanova team, and is hitting above the .300 mark.

Sports History Continues

Balance of Football Results for 1910 Team Recorded—1910 Squad Won One, Lost Four, and Tied One—Wildcats of 1911 Lost Four and Tied One

Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles by Wm. J. Allen, associate sports editor of the VILLANOVAN, who is the only person to compile a complete record of Villanova's prowess in the field of intercollegiate competition.

During the following week-end, Villanova visited Pennsylvania State College and played a full game to a scoreless standoff. The United States Military Academy defeated the 'Cats by the score of 13 to 0.

In the final game of the year the Blue and White gridders played against Washington and Jefferson. The Presidents outplayed the 'Cats on that unusually warm day and were credited with a victory, 9-0.

Villanova scored only six points for the entire year, while its opponents collected an even 70, and in the matter of games it did not tally a single victory, but was credited with one victory, four defeats, and one tie. Five of those games were scoreless ones for the 'Cats.

Captain Frank McCormick led a scrappy team composed of such players as Barr, Duffy, Flannigan, Kelly, Kilkullen, McLaughlin, Sheehan, (the real team of "Fighting Irish") Neusser, Slavin and Spillane. Barr completed six years of glorious football playing in 1910, and collected many, many injuries as a reward for his efforts. The following fall he entered the University of Pennsylvania and played football for that institution for two more years.

The Villanova Wildcats opened their 1911 campaign with a 35-0 defeat at the hands of Princeton. In those days, Villanova was only a warm-up game for the larger institution, but it was a great big game for the 'Cats.

The second contest was played with the University of Pennsylvania, and like so many of its forerunners it turned out to be another defeat for the Blue and White. This time by the score of 22-0.

The next game was played with Pennsylvania State College at the latter's field in Bellefonte, and was marked up as another defeat for the Wildcats, by the score of 18-0.

The fourth game of the season resulted in a scoreless tie with Marquette in a game played at Villanova. And in the final game the Wildcat was again defeated by Pittsburgh University by the score of 12-0.

As yet it has not been possible to ascertain the name of the captain of that team. Such a title was not given in any accounts of Villanova's football games, and no mention of it is obtainable from any unknown source. If any reader of this history has any knowledge of who that unknown player was, or of any source of such information, the VILLANOVAN would be greatly indebted to him for the forwarding of such facts.

Some of the outstanding players of that year were Curley, Flannigan, Forst, Gormley, Hogan, McCormick, McLaughlin, Prendergast, Skelton, Sheehan and Spillane. "Dutch" Forst was destined to return a few years later as coach of Villanova's football teams.

Also, this marked the end of Fred Crolius' regime as football coach for the Wildcats. During his years as football mentor at Villanova he put forth many fighting teams, and he matched them against the best teams in the East. He also developed many football "greats" that are synonomous with the word "athlete" on the Villanova campus. Though there may be only a few persons on the campus at this time who may have known him, his fame as a great coach will live on for many years to come.

Glenn S. "Pop" Warner, coach of the Carlisle Indians during the years that Villanova played against them, famous ex-coach of Stanford University, and the present football coach at Temple, has often been credited with the discovery and institution of the forward pass play that is so prominent in the modern game. But none of the notations of this fact that have come to our attention seem to carry any great belief in them.

In fact, it would be nearer the truth to say that Crolius instituted the forward pass. Although we have no accurate and definite knowledge with which to strengthen this controversy either pro or con, several of the men who have played football under Crolius have stated emphatically that their coach was the one who developed that play.

The only positive knowledge that exists about this point is that the forward pass was used for the first time in a game played between Villanova and the Carlisle Indians.

If you have followed this history closely you will have noticed that for many years Villanova played only one or two games at home each year, and that the opponents played were selected from the best teams in the East at that time.

Those were the dark years in Villanova's football history—the years when our football teams toured the East in an effort to popularize their alma mater, when that school was too small to accommodate its much greater opponents on its home grounds.

All that effort, the stinging defeats that were only partly paid for by the few victories they earned ever much larger institutions, the long trips, and the countless injuries have not gone for naught. After 1910 Villanova became a changed football team and began to intrench itself into the football niche it [illegible] earned at so great a price.

MENDEL HOLDS LEAD IN INTRA-MURALS

Frosh Downs Austin Hall and Fedigan Beats Alumni in Slugfest

Austin Hall's intra-mural baseball nine made its second bid for the lead of the league when they battled Mendel Hall for that honor last Sunday. They fell in defeat, however, before the bats of the frosh aggregation to the tune of 13-11. They had their chance to go to the front by virtue of their mid-week victory over the Day Hops but they were unable to stop the climbing frosh.

The Frosh, therefore, retained their lead with four victories as against one loss. Austin is in second place with three wins and one loss. Tied with them for second position are the Fedigan Gigolos. The Colonels from the old fortress are just one jump ahead of the last place, Day Hops having two wins and three losses. The guardians of the cellar have yet to break into the win column.

Game Is Fun Fest

The contest between the Day Hops and Austin in the middle of last week proved to be a fun fest for the latter team, as they constantly changed their lineup trying all sorts of combinations so that the game would not be a complete runaway in favor of the Austinites. At the termination of the contest the Day Hops had climbed up from one lowly run to 13. Considering that the players on that winning team lay down while their pitcher toiled on the mound, at no time were the losers potential enough to cause any worry.

In the game played on Sunday morning the Alumni Hall team succumbed to the slants of Ed Verbyla, and now they are holding the third position all by themselves whereas their conquerors are enjoying the feeling a team experiences when in second place.

The game was a bitter one all the way through and more than once Mike Clavin, who did the officiating, came within hair's breadth of being mobbed. Despite "Red" Conroy's triple with the bags loaded in one of the closing frames, the Colonels could do no better than six runs, while the Gigolos scored 18, thereby clinching second place.

Had Few Thrills

Mendel Hall made their foothold on the ground around first place stronger than ever by eking out a 15-13 victory over Austin Hall in the final game of Sunday's doubleheader. The game was a rather dull one all the way through as neither team performed any spectacular plays or rapped out any long hits. The climax of the game came in the ninth inning when Mulligan, pitching for the frosh, walked batters and a heavy sticker to bat.

Jacques Renard Was Once Mistaken For French Heavyweight Pugilist

Two hundred and seventy-five pounds of flesh ought to make a heavyweight, but in the case of Jacques Renard it composes a musician, not a prize-fighter. This mighty maestro was formerly heard over a WABC-Columbia network on bi-weekly programs with Stoopnagle and Budd and the Sunday broadcasts of "Songs Your Mother Used to Sing."

There was a time when Jacques Renard was mistaken for a boxer. It was at Hot Springs, Ark., and a French heavyweight by the name of Jacques Renault was staying at the same hotel. By mistake the orchestra leader received and opened the fighter's mail.

Renard immediately went to work and melted away sixty-four pounds, just to make sure there wouldn't be any more embarrassing cases of mistaken identity. It required two months for the job, but in four weeks he was his old jovial 275 again.

Several other facts about the portly Jacques, however, are of more importance than these weighty matters. Just when he was learning to play on the floors of his parents' home in Kiev, Russia, Jacques and the family moved to Boston.

Shortly thereafter Jacques was able to hold a violin in his chubby hands and his father saw to it, with the aid of flogging when necessary, that the lad practiced and became proficient with the instrument in case visitors arrived who wanted to be entertained.

Young Jacques not only got his musical start through the urgings of his father, but also learned to speak Italian fluently because of his parents' business. The elder Renard, a former Cossack in the Imperial Army, had become an importer of Italian foods and Jacques had to help handle the foreign-speaking customers.

At the age of sixteen Renard toured South America as a violinist for the famous dancer, Ann Pavlowa. Later he accepted the baton of a Boston dance orchestra. The new position was so interesting that he was inspired to form his own orchestra and to open his own clubs, the Mayfair and the Coconut Grove. Johnny Green, then a Harvard student, and Gordon Graham, Dave Grant and Bunny Coughlin, the Funnyboners, used to play and sing at the Grove.

"Caressing You" and "Just Call on Me" are two of his songs.

Junior Week Opens With Varied Program

Continued From Page One

clared that the same cross could be seen all over the surrounding countryside and that it is the duty of the students to defend this cross just as they would Old Glory.

"In concluding his inspiring discourse, Fr. Dougherty said, "It is your duty to keep the stars and stripes always waving over this country instead of the red flag of anarchy, the yellow flag of treachery and the black flag of religious hatred. Under the leadership of our great President Roosevelt, we hope that this flag will presage the ideals which have been imbued in you at Villanova."

The Juniors then proceeded to the north side of the new Monastery building where the president of the class, John Hoey, presented a tree to the Rev. John S. O'Leary, O. S. A., M. S., professor of mathematics, in the name of the group.

Talking to the members of the class, Father O'Leary said: "There is something very fundamental about the planting of your Junior tree. It is symbolic of the seed that is planted by a youth when he prepares himself in college for the world. As a tree proceeds from the seed, so a Villanova student should prepare himself from the training he receives in college. Words worth once said of one of his poetic characters: 'A primrose by the river's brim, was just a primrose to him, and nothing more.'"

The afternoon of the first day was devoted to the mothers of the students. They were received by Mrs. Harry U. Strong, Mrs. Eugene Reiley and Mrs. John J. Keating, who acted as hostesses to the mothers.

A tour of the various laboratories was conducted by the members of the committee. Several special experiments were performed by the instructors for the benefit of the mothers. An interesting trip about the campus followed which included a tour of the buildings, the chapel and the gymnasium.

The members of the Villanova swimming team along with a number of well known swimmers from the Penn Athletic Club, entertained the visiting mothers in the gymnasium pool. The program prepared by John Strong, captain-elect of the swimming team, was presented as one of the features of the day.

Mother's Day was concluded with a tea in the student dining hall at 4 o'clock. The Rev. Edward V. Stanford. O. S. A., welcomed the mothers and thanked them for coming. He expressed the hope that the day had brought them in closer contact with Villanova.

BELLE MASQUE SOCIETY TO PRODUCE FOUR PLAYS

Prof. Jos. T. Jonas Names Casts for Four One-Act Shows Which He Will Direct

During the month of May the Belle Masque Society will produce four one-act plays in the college gymnasium. The dates for the opening has not been made final.

The shows are being directed by Joseph T. Jonas, professor of oratory.

The plays to be produced will be "A Glorious Martyr," "The Last Drop," "Three Rogues and a Rascal," and "If Men Played Cards as Women Do."

"A Glorious Martyr" is the play to be enacted by the society in the Intercollegiate One-Act Play Tournament to be held May 4 at St. Joseph's Prep Auditorium, 17th and Stiles streets. The characters in the play will be Lord Byron by George Malhame, Count Guiccioli by William Zell, Guiseppe by Peter Kerr, and Fletcher by Joseph Carroll.

Casts for the other plays have been issued as follows: "The Last Drop," Colonel Neil Foster by Paetrus Banmiller, Sam Sheene by John Butler, and Preece by Rafael M. Alvarez; "Three Rogues and a Rascal," a magistrate by John Hallahan, a lawyer by Robert McGrory, a manufacturer by Thomas Kucher.

Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

Watch out for the signs of jangled nerves

You've noticed other people's nervous habits—and wondered probably why such people didn't learn to control themselves.

But have you ever stopped to think that you, too, may have habits just as irritating to other people as those of the key juggler or coin jingler are to you?

And more important than that, those habits are a sign of jangled nerves. And jangled nerves are the signal to stop and check up on yourself.

Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation—and watch your smoking. Remember, you can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle the nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

TEST YOUR NERVES FREE!

Shows 20 ways to test nerves—all illustrated. Instructive and amusing! Try them on your friends—see if you have healthy nerves yourself... Mail order-blank below with fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Free book comes postpaid.

CLIP AND MAIL TODAY!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Dept. 76-E, Winston-Salem, N.C.

I enclose fronts from 2 packs of Camels.
Send me book of nerve tests postpaid.

Name _____ (Print Name)
Street _____
City _____ State _____
Offer expires December 31, 1934

CAMELS—SMOKE AS MANY AS YOU WANT... THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

TUNE IN! CAMEL CARAVAN with Casa Loma Orchestra, Stoopnagle and Budd, Connie Boswell, Every Tuesday and Thursday at 9 P. M., E.S.T.—8 P. M., C.S.T.—7 P. M., M.S.T.—6 P. M., P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network

Juniors Commence Week's Activities

Continued From Page One

the varsity team and that of Albright College. Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the Villanova track squad will meet the track team of Rider College in the Stadium.

Thursday, as far as a variety in entertainment is concerned, will be a banner day. There will be a varsity tennis match with Albright College, and there will also be the Intra-Mural tennis matches, as well as a baseball game between the Junior classmen and the members of the Senior class. All of the athletic events which are planned will start promptly at 3 P. M. The same night the traditional Blazer Ball, will be conducted in the gymnasium, from 9 until 1 o'clock.

On Friday there will be a continuation of the Villanova-Temple athletic feud, when the Wildcats will take on the Cherry and White baseball team, at the rear of the stadium at 3 o'clock.

As a fitting climax to the Junior Week activities, the Junior Prom will be held in the gymnasium, featuring Jacques Renard and his orchestra, from 10 till two.

There will be an exhibition football game on Saturday afternoon in the stadium between Villanova College and Franklin and Marshall College, which will officially conclude the week's events.

Juniors Will Give Ball Thursday

Continued From Page One

white flannels will afford a most colorful background for this picturesque dance.

The musical refrains for the evening will be very adequately supplied by the Villanovans.

The orchestra will commence its strains of harmony at 9 o'clock and will continue to do so until one

THESE HUSKIES PUT THEM IN THE AISLES AT "LET'S GO PLACES"

Photo Courtesy Phila. Daily News

Those dainty forms pictured here could be blamed as the causes for college men leaving home, but before further damage is done they will be identified. The brutes, (with the exception of Carl Hickey, extreme right) aided in making the second annual Turf and Tinsel production an hilarious success. The other members of the Scarletina Rash Ballet, pictured left to right, are Carroll Cook, William Grimberg and Bernard Lee.

Officers Predict Successful Week

Continued From Page One

tinuously on this project. Every man cooperated with his respective chairman by giving his whole-hearted support in sharing his burden of the work.

"Their plans are now complete and the result of their diligent labor is now being seen. They have planned a complete and eventful Junior Week, including the Blazer Ball, and climaxed by the prom. I wish to commend them on their labors and thank them in behalf of the class for working with me in attempting to make this week an outstanding success."

Then the chairman of the Junior Prom, Paetrus Banmiller, expressed his sentiments regarding the outcome of this dance. He declared, "We think we have the best orchestra by us for the dance. Economic conditions have enabled the subscription price to be low enough so that a large majority of the student body can attend. The decorations will be uniquely different, with none of the gym wall showing. From the advance sale of tickets I feel safe in predicting a very successful dance."

Demonstration Given

Accounting students in the School of Commerce and Finance were enlightened on the intricacies of two mechanical devices in a demonstration by a special representative of the Monroe Calculating Machine

'Cat Baseballers Annex Two Games.

Continued From Page Six

Villanova fell in order. Fordham was likewise ineffective. Sager fanned and DePhillips bounced a ball over O'Donnell's head. Cavanaugh raced to the opposite side of second base and made a wonderful stop of the awkward hit. He threw to first while off balance, and though the throw was perfect it was just a little bit late.

Eatwanick faced the 'Cats in the eighth and was greeted with two runs at his expense. Lenzi drew a free pass to first and Mahan sacrificed him to second with a clean bunt. Then Skaff connected for a gigantic home run. The ball was by far the longest and hardest drive of the game. It travelled all the way to the wall in right field, and Skaff was able to score standing up before the ball was returned to the catcher.

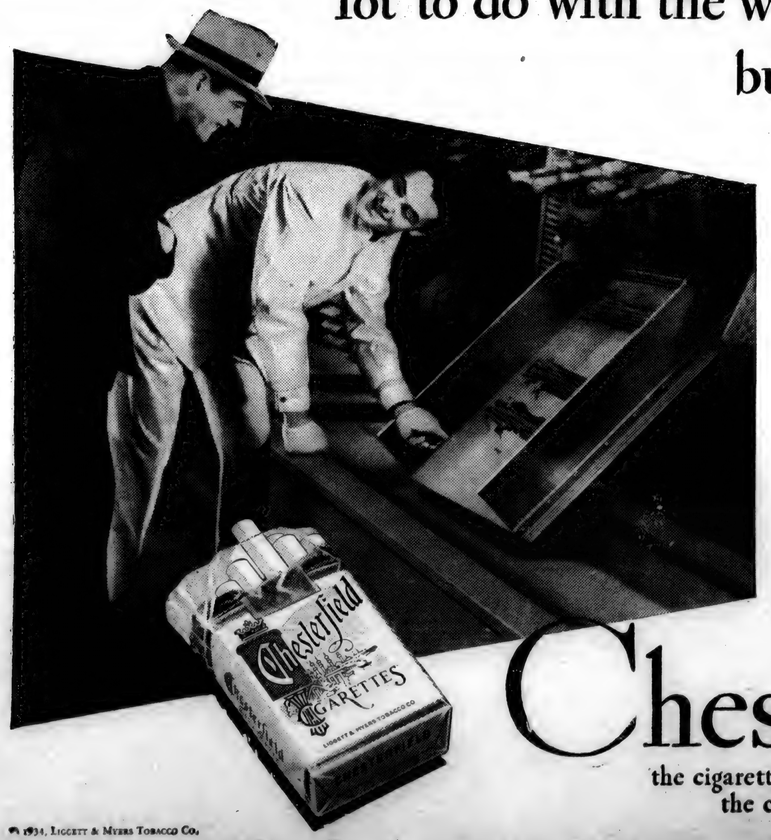
Fordham fell in order in the eighth, and so did Villanova in their half of the ninth. The Rams made their final scoring threat in the ninth. Pepper singled. Sarausky skied to Skaff who held the runner on first with his hard return to second. Sager, batting for Sherry, hit to Geraghty, who threw to second for the forceout. DePhillips singled and Sager pulled up at second. Lynch, batting for Estwanick, hit to Geraghty. Ben tagged Sager as he passed and the game ended.

The Villanova players put on a great game. The cold and windy weather did not affect them in the least. Lenzi connected for three hits and a walk in his four visits to the plate, and Skaff had two singles in addition to his long homer out of four trips to the plate.

West Chester Game

On last Wednesday afternoon, the Villanova nine played host to the West Chester Teachers and came out on the long end of a 6-0 score.

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes



There are many different ways of cutting tobacco.

A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform.

The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds.

The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder . . . the cigarette that tastes better.

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Sophomore Nominations Today
Freshman Nominations Tomorrow

VILLANOVAN

Students! Track Meet With W. C. Teachers Tomorrow In Stadium Support the 'Cats!

Vol. 6—No. 26 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1934 Price: Five Cents

THREE DAY REUNION PLANNED BY ALUMNI BEGINNING JUNE 7

Athletic Activities, Parties and Annual Dinner Are Among Events Listed

WILL ATTEND GRADUATION EXERCISES ON FIRST DAY

Election of Officers Along With Business Meeting to Be Held at Close

For the first time since the formation of an alumni association, the officers of this graduate body have planned a three-day reunion to be held on the campus beginning on commencement day, Thursday, June 7, and continuing 'till Saturday, June 9.

Although most of the events scheduled for the three-day get-together will take place on the campus, there are some listed for hotels and clubs in the vicinity of the school.

Activities Planned

It will consist of athletic activities, parties, the annual alumni dinner, election of officers, and business sessions, with most of the emphasis being laid on those events which in the words of Albert S. Wagner, alumni secretary, "will give the grads one swell time."

On Thursday, June 7, the first day, those present at the Villanova Alumni Week-end, will attend the graduation exercises of the class of '34 to take place in the Villanova Auditorium at 2 P. M.

Then in the evening, "A Night in Heidelburg," as it has been termed by those in charge of the program, will take place. The scene of this

Continued on Page Four

MOTHERS IN THE SPOTLIGHT AT INAUGURAL CELEBRATION HERE

(Photo Courtesy Phila. Daily News)

More than 300 mothers were singularly honored during the first day of Junior Week with appropriate exercises arranged for their enjoyment. The picture shows part of the delegation which was made up of mothers from all parts of the East. The group pictured here is characteristic of a number of similar ones which inspected the campus with sons as proud escorts. Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college, was host to the visiting women at tea in the college refectory at the close of the program.

(Complete story on page three)

COLLEGE GIRLS WIN DRAMATIC CONTEST

Mt. St. Joseph Group Awarded Cup in Intercollegiate One-Act Play Tourney

The Intercollegiate Dramatic Alliance held its fourth annual one-act tournament at the Mount St. Joseph College Auditorium on May 3 and 4. This society was established in 1930 as an organization of the dramatic groups of the colleges in the city and vicinity of Philadelphia, for the purpose of furthering the work of these groups by means of competition in one-act plays and in play writing.

Cup Awarded

Awards are made to the casts representing women's colleges and also to casts representing all men's and co-educational colleges. An award of a cup is made to the cast adjudged best of all the contestants. These annual contests have created a great deal of interest among the various colleges in the Philadelphia area, and in addition to this, furnish excellent entertainment for both those attending and those partaking in the plays.

Win Again

The Mask and Foil Club of Mt. St. Joseph's College was again the winner of this contest. Not only did they win the women's division of the tournament but also

Continued on Page Seven

YEAR BOOK OF 1934 HAS GONE TO PRESS

Campus Views to Predominate in Annual Which Appears at End of This Month

The 1934 Belle Air has gone to press, according to an announcement by John Corkhill, editor-in-chief. It is not definitely known when the annual will make its appearance, but it will probably be about May 25.

This year's annual will be the first All-Villanova year book. In former years only a portion of the student body purchased the Belle Air. This year, however, arrangements have been made so that the entire student body will receive the publication. In this way, all the graduates, as well as those unable to return to school, will carry away with them the happy memories of their college days spent here at Villanova.

Campus Scenes

In view of the fact that this is an All-Villanova annual, the theme of the book will be woven around campus scenes. More campus views than in former years will be the predominating feature. Last year's Belle Air had the best embossed cover seen here in a long time, and this year's edition will be a duplication of its predecessor.

The senior write-ups have always been a constant source of hard feelings. The editor-in-chief has endeavored to eliminate this difficulty by assigning the write-up of each man to the one most intimately acquainted with him. Mr. Corkhill evidently intends to keep the Belle Air shrouded in a little mystery.

AWARDS TO BE MADE NEAR END OF MONTH

List of Qualifying Students Given Careful Scrutiny by Respective Deans

Merit awards will be given the latter part of this month, according to a statement received yesterday from Rev. B. M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college.

The list of those qualified to receive them is being compiled by the various moderators. The deans will be the first to act on the recommendations of these men. If passed they will be sent on to the board of discipline for further approval.

These decisions will depend on scholastic standing and all around conduct. As a result of the vari-

Continued on Page Seven

ENGINEERING CLUB INVITES STUDENTS

Junior Section of Philadelphia Organization Will Honor Senior Group

The junior section of the Engineering Club of Philadelphia is holding another meeting in that city next week. This organization has had many such conventions and they have always proven highly successful affairs. In addition to their entertaining value they are very interesting and instructive. Various inspection trips are taken, and each time, the club makes every effort to secure excursions which will benefit the engineering students.

This year the club has invited the senior members of the engineering class to be their guests at a meeting which will be held on Monday evening, May 7, at 8 P. M. This convention will prove of great interest to the senior students because the club officials have arranged a series of talks to be given by some outstanding men.

"Aviation Has Been Prepared" will be the topic which will be discussed by these men who are experienced in this field of activity. After these men have spoken, several moving pictures will be shown so as to clearly illustrate their speeches and impress upon the minds of the students what sort of work is being done today in aviation.

. . . Prom Outstanding Success . . .

Villanova's Junior Week, with its series of social and athletic events, has become a memory and it has been proclaimed an outstanding success by all who attended. As a climax not only to Junior Week, but to all the social events of the entire year, the Junior Promenade of the class of '35 was the most distinctive and completely enjoyable dance any third year class has yet presented.

No one who had the pleasure of attending the dance in the attractively decorated gym Friday evening will ever forget the gay time, or that wonderful orchestra. The gymnasium itself was so well decorated that it was almost unrecognizable. The false ceiling of blue and red completely blotted out the height of the gym and lent a more formal atmosphere to the dance.

Another dominating feature of this successful prom was the versatile orchestra of Jacques Renard. Contrary to what was expected, Mr. Renard completely astounded nearly everyone by the enviable manner in which he presented his music. He was accompanied by a female singer, who was received in a very enthusiastic manner. The orchestra played from 10 P. M. until 2 A. M.

The favors presented to the ladies were especially worthy of mention. They consisted of a metal holder and pencil, on which stood a statuette of a black scottie dog. To the Eversharp was attached a program. On the pencil was inscribed the words, "Villanova Junior Prom, 1934."

The Prom was attended by a representative group from the Junior

Continued on Page Four

FORMAL NOMINATION OF CLASS OFFICERS OPENED YESTERDAY

Alessandroni, Grimberg and Banmiller Named for President's Post

FEW ATTEND CEREMONIES CONDUCTED BY 'COUNCIL'

Second-Year Men Meet Today at 1 P. M. in Mendel Hall; Frosh Convene Tomorrow

Nominations for important offices in next year's Senior Class were conducted by the Student Council in Mendel Amphitheatre yesterday afternoon. A comparatively small number was present to name men to fill the positions.

Hoey Declines Job

One of the outstanding surprises of the meeting was the request made by John J. Hoey, present leader of the Junior Class, to withdraw his name from the list of eligible nominees. The candidates for the presidency of the senior group include Walter E. Alessandroni, William Grimberg, and Paetrus F. Banmiller. The former men are both students in the School of Commerce and Finance, while Banmiller is a member of the student body in the School of Technology.

Four names were suggested by the attending group for the office of vice-president. Augustine Ranieri was nominated as a candidate from the ranks of the Pre-Meds; Edward Malhame from the Arts School was also suggested as a candidate. From the Business School, John O'Connell and James Murphy received nominations.

For the office of class secretary, George Malhame, an Arts student;

Continued on Page Seven

ALUMNI SECRETARY RETURNS FROM TOUR

Itinerary Included Many of the High Schools in Coal Region

Twenty-seven high schools were visited last week by Villanova's Ambassadors of good will, Albert C. Wagner, alumni secretary, and August Kunzenbacher, professor of chemistry.

Mr. Wagner gave talks at the schools on "Why Go to College," and this was followed by the showing of the film, "Life at Villanova," by Prof. Kunzenbacher.

Visited Many Schools

Mr. Wagner's itinerary included Summit Hill Senior High and St. Anne's High School, Lansford; Coaldale High School and St. Mary's High, in Coaldale, and St. Jerome's High School, Tamaqua.

On Tuesday, his trip combined Pittston City High, Jenkens Township High, St. John's High and West Pittston Borough Senior High School, all of Pittston City; St. Cecelia High School of Wyoming, and Sacred Heart High, of Plains City. Wednesday they visited Carbondale High School and St. Roses High, both of Carbondale; Olyphant High and St. Patrick's High School, Olyphant City; Dunmore Borough High School, of Dunmore. Thursday's trip took in St. Mary's High, Wilkes-Barre; James H. Coughlin High, Elmer L. Meyer High School, Ashley Borough High, of Ashley, and St. Leo's High. Friday was confined to St. Paul's High School, of Scranton, Central High, St. Ann's

Continued on Page Four

Juniors Commence Week's Activities

Continued From Page One

the varsity team and that of Albright College. Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the Villanova track squad will meet the track team of Rider College in the Stadium.

Thursday, as far as a variety in entertainment is concerned, will be a banner day. There will be a varsity tennis match with Albright College, and there will also be the Intra-Mural tennis matches, as well as a baseball game between the Junior classmen and the members of the Senior class. All of the athletic events which are planned will start promptly at 3 P. M. The same night the traditional Blazer Ball, will be conducted in the gymnasium, from 9 until 1 o'clock.

On Friday there will be a continuation of the Villanova-Temple athletic feud, when the Wildcats will take on the Cherry and White baseball team, at the rear of the stadium at 3 o'clock.

As a fitting climax to the Junior Week activities, the Junior Prom will be held in the gymnasium, featuring Jacques Renard and his orchestra, from 10 till two.

There will be an exhibition football game on Saturday afternoon in the stadium between Villanova College and Franklin and Marshall College, which will officially conclude the week's events.

Juniors Will Give Ball Thursday

Continued From Page One

white flannels will afford a most colorful background for this picturesque dance.

The musical refrains for the evening will be very adequately supplied by the Villanovans.

The orchestra will commence its strains of harmony at 9 o'clock and will continue to do so until one

THESE HUSKIES PUT THEM IN THE AISLES AT "LET'S GO PLACES"

Photo Courtesy Phila. Daily News

Those dainty forms pictured here could be blamed as the causes for college men leaving home, but before further damage is done they will be identified. The brutes, (with the exception of Carl Hickey, extreme right) aided in making the second annual Turf and Tinsel production an hilarious success. The other members of the Scarlettina Rash Ballet, pictured left to right, are Carroll Cook, William Grimberg and Bernard Lee.

Officers Predict Successful Week

Continued From Page One

tinuously on this project. Every man cooperated with his respective chairman by giving his whole-hearted support in sharing his burden of the work.

"Their plans are now complete and the result of their diligent labor is now being seen. They have planned a complete and eventful Junior Week, including the Blazer Ball, and climaxed by the prom. I wish to commend them on their labors and thank them in behalf of the class for working with me in attempting to make this week an outstanding success."

Then the chairman of the Junior Prom, Paetrus Banmiller, expressed his sentiments regarding the outcome of this dance. He declared, "We think we have the best orchestra by us for the dance. Economic conditions have enabled us to secure a large hall and have planned a complete and eventful enough so that a large majority of the student body can attend. The decorations will be uniquely different, with none of the gym wall showing. From the advance sale of tickets I feel safe in predicting a very successful dance."

Demonstration Given

Accounting students in the School of Commerce and Finance were enlightened on the intricacies of two mechanical devices in a demonstration by a special representative of the Monroe Calculating Machine

'Cat Baseballers Annex Two Games.

Continued From Page Six

Villanova fell in order. Fordham was likewise ineffective. Sager fanned and DePhillips bounced a ball over O'Donnell's head. Cavanaugh raced to the opposite side of second base and made a wonderful stop of the awkward hit. He threw to first while off balance, and though the throw was perfect it was just a little bit late.

Estwanick faced the 'Cats in the eighth and was greeted with two runs at his expense. Lenzi drew a free pass to first and Mahan sacrificed him to second with a clean bunt. Then Skaff connected for a gigantic home run. The ball was by far the longest and hardest drive of the game. It travelled all the way to the wall in right field, and Skaff was able to score standing up before the ball was returned to the catcher.

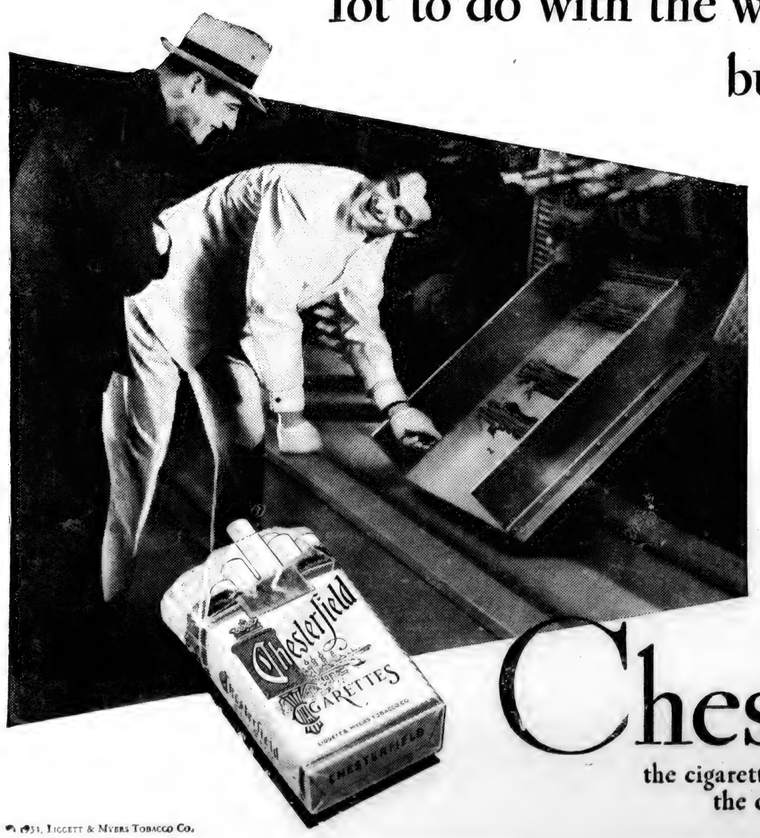
Fordham fell in order in the eighth, and so did Villanova in their half of the ninth. The Rams made their final scoring threat in the ninth. Pepper singled. Sarausky skied to Skaff who held the runner on first with his hard return to second. Sager, batting for Sherry, hit to Geraghty, who threw to second for the forceout. DePhillips singled and Sager pulled up at second. Lynch, batting for Estwanick, hit to Geraghty. Ben tagged Sager as he passed and the game ended.

The Villanova players put on a great game. The cold and windy weather did not affect them in the least. Lenzi connected for three hits and a walk in his four visits to the plate, and Skaff had two singles in addition to his long homer out of four trips to the plate.

West Chester Game

On last Wednesday afternoon, the Villanova nine played host to the West Chester Teachers and came out on the long end of a 6-0 score.

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes



There are many different ways of cutting tobacco.

A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform.

The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds.

The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder . . . the cigarette that tastes better.

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Sophomore Nominations Today
Freshman Nominations Tomorrow

VILLANOVAN

Students! Track Meet With W. C. Teachers Tomorrow In Stadium Support the 'Cats!

Vol. 6—No. 26 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 8, 1934 Price: Five Cents

THREE DAY REUNION PLANNED BY ALUMNI BEGINNING JUNE 7

Athletic Activities, Parties and Annual Dinner Are Among Events Listed

WILL ATTEND GRADUATION EXERCISES ON FIRST DAY

Election of Officers Along With Business Meeting to Be Held at Close

For the first time since the formation of an alumni association, the officers of this graduate body have planned a three-day reunion to be held on the campus beginning on commencement day, Thursday, June 7, and continuing 'till Saturday, June 9.

Although most of the events scheduled for the three-day get-together will take place on the campus, there are some listed for hotels and clubs in the vicinity of the school.

Activities Planned

It will consist of athletic activities, parties, the annual alumni dinner, election of officers, and business sessions, with most of the emphasis being laid on those events which in the words of Albert S. Wagner, alumni secretary, "will give the grads one swell time."

On Thursday, June 7, the first day, those present at the Villanova Alumni Week-end, will attend the graduation exercises of the class of '34 to take place in the Villanova Auditorium at 2 P. M.

Then in the evening, "A Night in Heidelburg," as it has been termed by those in charge of the program, will take place. The scene of this

Continued on Page Four

YEAR BOOK OF 1934 HAS GONE TO PRESS

Campus Views to Predominate in Annual Which Appears at End of This Month

The 1934 Belle Air has gone to press, according to an announcement by John Corkhill, editor-in-chief. It is not definitely known when the annual will make its appearance, but it will probably be about May 25.

This year's annual will be the first All-Villanova year book. In former years only a portion of the student body purchased the Belle Air. This year, however, arrangements have been made so that the entire student body will receive the publication. In this way, all the graduates, as well as those unable to return to school, will carry away with them the happy memories of their college days spent here at Villanova.

Campus Scenes

In view of the fact that this is an All-Villanova annual, the theme of the book will be woven around campus scenes. More campus views than in former years will be the predominating feature. Last year's Belle Air had the best embossed cover seen here in a long time, and this year's edition will be a duplication of its predecessor.

The senior write-ups have always been a constant source of hard feelings. The editor-in-chief has endeavored to eliminate this difficulty by assigning the write-up of each man to the one most intimately acquainted with him. Mr. Corkhill evidently intends to keep the Belle Air shrouded in a little mystery.

MOTHERS IN THE SPOTLIGHT AT INAUGURAL CELEBRATION HERE

(Photo Courtesy Phila. Daily News)

More than 300 mothers were singularly honored during the first day of Junior Week with appropriate exercises arranged for their enjoyment. The picture shows part of the delegation which was made up of mothers from all parts of the East. The group pictured here is characteristic of a number of similar ones which inspected the campus with sons as proud escorts. Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college, was host to the visiting women at tea in the college refectory at the close of the program.

(Complete story on page three)

COLLEGE GIRLS WIN DRAMATIC CONTEST

Mt. St. Joseph Group Awarded Cup in Intercollegiate One-Act Play Tourney

The Intercollegiate Dramatic Alliance held its fourth annual one-act tournament at the Mount St. Joseph College Auditorium on May 3 and 4. This society was established in 1930 as an organization of the dramatic groups of the colleges in the city and vicinity of Philadelphia, for the purpose of furthering the work of these groups by means of competition in one-act plays and in play writing.

Cup Awarded

Awards are made to the casts representing women's colleges and also to casts representing all men's and co-educational colleges. An award of a cup is made to the cast adjudged best of all the contestants. These annual contests have created a great deal of interest among the various colleges in the Philadelphia area, and in addition to this, furnish excellent entertainment for both those attending and those partaking in the plays.

Win Again

The Mask and Foil Club of Mt. St. Joseph's College was again the winner of this contest. Not only did they win the women's division of the tournament but also

Continued on Page Seven

AWARDS TO BE MADE NEAR END OF MONTH

List of Qualifying Students Given Careful Scrutiny by Respective Deans

Merit awards will be given the latter part of this month, according to a statement received yesterday from Rev. B. M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college.

The list of those qualified to receive them is being compiled by the various moderators. The deans will be the first to act on the recommendations of these men. If passed they will be sent on to the board of discipline for further approval.

These decisions will depend on scholastic standing and all around conduct. As a result of the vari-

Continued on Page Seven

ENGINEERING CLUB INVITES STUDENTS

Junior Section of Philadelphia Organization Will Honor Senior Group

The junior section of the Engineering Club of Philadelphia is holding another meeting in that city next week. This organization has had many such conventions and they have always proven highly successful affairs. In addition to their entertaining value they are very interesting and instructive. Various inspection trips are taken, and each time, the club makes every effort to secure excursions which will benefit the engineering students.

This year the club has invited the senior members of the engineering class to be their guests at a meeting which will be held on Monday evening, May 7, at 8 P. M. This convention will prove of great interest to the senior students because the club officials have arranged a series of talks to be given by some outstanding men.

"Aviation Has Been Prepared" will be the topic which will be discussed by these men who are experienced in this field of activity. After these men have spoken, several moving pictures will be shown so as to clearly illustrate their speeches and impress upon the minds of the students what sort of work is being done today in aviation.

. . . Prom Outstanding Success . . .

Villanova's Junior Week, with its series of social and athletic events, has become a memory and it has been proclaimed an outstanding success by all who attended. As a climax not only to Junior Week, but to all the social events of the entire year, the Junior Promenade of the class of '35 was the most distinctive and completely enjoyable dance any third year class has yet presented.

No one who had the pleasure of attending the dance in the attractively decorated gym Friday evening will ever forget the gay time, or that wonderful orchestra. The gymnasium itself was so well decorated that it was almost unrecognizable. The false ceiling of blue and red completely blotted out the height of the gym and lent a more formal atmosphere to the dance.

Another dominating feature of this successful prom was the versatile orchestra of Jacques Renard. Contrary to what was expected, Mr. Renard completely astounded nearly everyone by the enviable manner in which he presented his music. He was accompanied by a female singer, who was received in a very enthusiastic manner. The orchestra played from 10 P. M. until 2 A. M.

The favors presented to the ladies were especially worthy of mention. They consisted of a metal holder and pencil, on which stood a statuette of a black scottie dog. To the Eversharp was attached a program. On the pencil was inscribed the words, "Villanova Junior Prom, 1934."

The Prom was attended by a representative group from the Junior

Continued on Page Four

FORMAL NOMINATION OF CLASS OFFICERS OPENED YESTERDAY

Alessandroni, Grimberg and Banmiller Named for President's Post

FEW ATTEND CEREMONIES CONDUCTED BY 'COUNCIL'

Second-Year Men Meet Today at 1 P. M. in Mendel Hall; Frosh Convene Tomorrow

Nominations for important offices in next year's Senior Class were conducted by the Student Council in Mendel Amphitheatre yesterday afternoon. A comparatively small number was present to name men to fill the positions.

Hoey Declines Job

One of the outstanding surprises of the meeting was the request made by John J. Hoey, present leader of the Junior Class, to withdraw his name from the list of eligible nominees. The candidates for the presidency of the senior group include Walter E. Alessandroni, William Grimberg, and Paetrus F. Banmiller. The former men are both students in the School of Commerce and Finance, while Banmiller is a member of the student body in the School of Technology.

Four names were suggested by the attending group for the office of vice-president. Augustine Ranieri was nominated as a candidate from the ranks of the Pre-Meds; Edward Malhame from the Arts School was also suggested as a candidate. From the Business School, John O'Connell and James Murphy received nominations.

For the office of class secretary, George Malhame, an Arts student;

Continued on Page Seven

ALUMNI SECRETARY RETURNS FROM TOUR

Itinerary Included Many of the High Schools in Coal Region

Twenty-seven high schools were visited last week by Villanova's Ambassadors of good will, Albert C. Wagner, alumni secretary, and August Kunzenbacher, professor of chemistry.

Mr. Wagner gave talks at the schools on "Why Go to College," and this was followed by the showing of the film, "Life at Villanova," by Prof. Kunzenbacher.

Visited Many Schools

Mr. Wagner's itinerary included Summit Hill Senior High and St. Anne's High School, Lansford; Coaldale High School and St. Mary's High, in Coaldale, and St. Jerome's High School, Tamaqua.

On Tuesday, his trip combined Pittston City High, Jenkens Township High, St. John's High and West Pittston Borough Senior High School, all of Pittston City; St. Cecelia High School of Wyoming, and Sacred Heart High, of Plains City. Wednesday they visited Carbondale High School and St. Roses High, both of Carbondale; Olyphant High and St. Patrick's High School, Olyphant City; Dunmore Borough High School, of Dunmore. Thursday's trip took in St. Mary's High, Wilkes-Barre; James H. Coughlin High, Elmer L. Meyer High School, Ashley Borough High, of Ashley, and St. Leo's High. Friday was confined to St. Paul's High School, of Scranton, Central High, St. Ann's

Continued on Page Four

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the

Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DiJOSEPH, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager

Associate College Editor — Edmond C. Malhame, '35
Associate Sports Editor — William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — Ralph Violetti, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Peter Fasso, '36
Joseph Mele, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37
John Burke, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - - MAY 8, 1934

SIGNS OF SPRING

SPRING IS here for sure because yesterday marked the formal opening of nominations for next year's officers of the respective classes. Before the week ends, many names will have been submitted, and immediately the self-styled political spellbinders of the campus will set about their childish business of getting votes for their specially selected candidates to class offices. While it is not the policy of this paper to frown on well-directed electioneering, but rather to encourage this practice, there has been a marked trend to more desirable methods of choosing the right man for the job. Inasmuch as the student council has been assigned the task of conducting the elections, we should like to make a suggestion on a long-needed improvement on the methods of choosing student leaders. Instead of relying on the promises of some factional major domo representing a school, dormitory, or group, better class management would result from learning the personal opinions of an office by making a concrete analysis of his abilities. This could be readily accomplished by conducting a seminar hour in the respective schools on the campus and requiring each candidate for an office to address his fellow classmen. Thus students who are guided by the say-so of some student vote-getter instead of making some effort to discover for themselves the qualifications of an aspirant to an office, would be greatly benefited. As far as the selection of a candidate for office is concerned, we appeal to the logic of the average college man and ask him not to be guided by a group of quasi-politicians who are looking only for political plums which will benefit them alone, but rather to consider the merits of a man, and not whether he is of a particular school, dormitory, nationality, group or religion.

MOTHER'S DAY

SOME immortal writer is responsible for the phrase that the first one to share the triumph and the sorrows of a man is his mother. If we could analyze the underlying thought that inspired these words, we believe that we should not find a group of shallow ideas, but rather a deep feeling from the heart of one who sincerely loved his mother.. Unfortunately, there are few men in this world who have the ability to compose an eulogy on their mothers, but one can show his appreciation of this love by thanking her on the day set aside in her honor. Next Sunday the nation will pay homage to mother, and in what better way could a Villanovan show his appreciation than receiving Holy Communion in her honor, whether she is alive or dead. This is indeed a small way to repay man's best friend for the joys of life she has conferred on him.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

THE practicability of wearing blazers off the campus is a question that two juniors are seriously wondering about. It so happened on a warm day that these two chaps, regaled in blazers, were standing before a State liquor store, passing the time of day. Picture their embarrassment when a lady mistaking the two for employes of the store and asked of them the price of a particular brand of liquor. Anybody may make a mistake but when such a wide gulf of difference lies between the mistaken and the true identity then it is time to do something about it.

Fellow classmates are anxious to know what it is that Bill Allen finds to say to the profs at the close of every class. It is granted, that oftentimes there are pertinent questions about class work to be asked, but this does not always happen, whereas, Bill's little interviews do. So, now that we have reasoned that it is not a question or two that motivates his conversation with the profs, we find an answer is just as far away as ever. Tell us Bill what it is all about and clear up the mystery.

Four girls from Georgian Court College obviously were not so anxious to go to the Prom. Four Juniors we know were in a huff Thursday, when they learned simultaneously that they were without dates for the Prom, which was the following night. The four dates to have been, hail from Georgian Court College. Their breaking of the date does the Court no good and the day hop date fixer much harm. We won't give his name but boy is his face red.

Bucky O'Connor, we noticed, had the same date for the Blazer Ball and Junior Prom. From what we heard he had better have the same date at all like affairs. From what we saw he is crazy if he doesn't.

Joe Mele showed himself to be something of the temperamental when he refused to begin to play Thursday at the Blazer Ball until more than two couples were present to dance. It was not until he was threatened with loss of his pay for the night that he began and, I do not mind saying, did a fine job of it. The selections were well-rendered, and though render can mean to tear apart it was not so in Joe's case.

The biggest attraction of the Prom was Jacques Renard himself. Alongside of him Paul Whiteman would pass as thin. Even without his violin, which he masterfully played, he would attract attention. Besides supplying very good music he was the subject for many a funny joke or crack which sometimes pleased better than a melody. All in all he and his orchestra were a credit to the Junior Prom.

Woe to him who enters the rear of Mendel Hall without first looking up. He will soon have a bucket of water cascading down on his head for his laxity.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

JUNIOR WEEK has passed on like all other college activities that are found in the annals of the college. However, there still remains one chief point of criticism, that is, the admission price to the Junior Prom. To convince those who are still looking at the dance from a pessimistic viewpoint that they received a bargain in comparison with the price charged to attend the Senior Ball at Notre Dame, we will mention that this dance costs $8.25 a couple.

* * *

Ohio State University has added a twelfth position to its football team. This addition to the traditional eleven is known as the "humorist." He wears a uniform at at all practices and sits on the bench during games, fulfilling his job of keeping the team in a good humor, especially before big games. We wonder if our coach will consider this idea. Perhaps the collegiate clowns will volunteer their services free of charge.

* * *

On the night before an English theme was due, a student at the U. of California found, as we all sometimes do, that the old words just wouldn't come. Soo—, in order to avoid losing caste with the prof, he picked a paper marked "E" from the fraternity filing cabinets. The paper was returned to him graded "A," and inscribed thus by the professor: "I always thought this theme should have received an "A." I wrote it myself."

* * *

The men at St. Louis University have revolted. They are complaining because they have to shave too often. Reason: The co-eds demand it. Who said he likes a co-ed school??

* * *

Are you going to college to be a snow sweep? If you are we must divulge the fact that you will never be a success. The New York City department of sanitation reports that men with college educations are poor snow shovelers. Thanks to the Aquin of St. Thomas, St. Paul, Minn.

* * *

Some chemistry wizard when asked for the formula wrote: HIJKLMNO. When asked what the big idea was, he replied: "Oh, that's H to O, isn't it?"

* * *

A Valparaiso University student is being accused of wearing his riding habit to bed instead of pajamas. To this he replies: "It's only an act of preparedness. "I'm subject to nightmares."

* * *

Graduates from the College of Commerce, University of Kentucky, publish a pamphlet called "Bargains in Brains," in which the picture of each graduate, his age, height, weight, chief interest and experience, are listed. This plan was followed last year with the result that all but two graduates were placed, and out of the 41 obtaining positions, only two proved unsatisfactory. The C & F students will welcome such a publication.

As We See It

THE WAR AGAINST THE MOVIES

FOR SOME time past, the Catholic press of the land has been waging a vigorous attack on the film industry in its production of immoral movies. The bishops and clergy, together with leaders from among the laity, have been voicing strong protests against the lewdness of movieland's outlook and against the utter disregard on the part of producers and official censors for all that pertains to cleanness and decency. The battle has been going on for some time; minor victories have been won and the public has been aroused. There remains, however, much to be done.

To one having any sense at all of moral values it is apparent that such a campaign is needed. Movies have an educational value and as such affect the life of individuals and the vitality of a nation just as educational facilities afforded by a country leave their impress upon the individual and upon the nation. Now when movies undertake to picture vice and immorality in a pleasing light—as they do; when law and order are made the objects of a humour-stirring ridicule, and no attempt made to point out the wrongness of the indecencies and lawlessness depicted, the theatre-goers cannot help but be impressed—to their harm.

Each week, according to recent statistics, approximately 80,000,000 people throughout the land attend the movies, and about one-half of this number are youths under 21 years of age. Of the adults we will make but brief comment. Let it suffice to recall that there is involved for all a moral problem. When it is a question of sin being caused by the movies, then Catholics are bound in conscience to refrain from attending them. But it is the youths who interest us more.

When we consider that every week nearly 40,000,000 youths of the country attend the movies and there imbibe the filth and lewdness of filmdom we have much to fear. From the time that the child first begins to frequent the movies until he reaches his 13th or 14th year, he is in what we may term his impressionistic period. He is in that stage of life wherein his ideals are being formed. Hence on to maturity he is in a period of adjustment. He is awakening to the social life about him, and his is the problem of adjusting himself and his ideals thereto. Yet we must remember that all through these years the movies are presenting to him a steady diet of ideals, and ideals that are of the lowest type. He is being introduced by the movies into a society where immorality and lawlessness are applauded, where home, love, marriage and parenthood are scoffed at. And this is the child who is to be the man of tomorrow; these are the youths who are to lead our nation in the near future.

Such, in brief, is the case against the movies. The campaign is being waged chiefly against the producers and against the evils of the block system. The producers have given some signs of faint-hearted amendment. A bill has been introduced into Congress for the abolition of the block system, but it is not meeting with much favor. Protests have been made in some cities, with results against theatres notorious for the featuring of immoral movies. Other minor victories have been won, but the chief conquest so far has been the arousing of the public to the danger. The final outcome rests with the people themselves. So long as they continue to patronize these immoral movies, so long will the producers justify themselves with the excuse that they are catering to the public.

---- Dial-Log ----

THE BAND accompanying Jacques Renard was worthy of real praise. The rumors that flew about the gym on Friday night had the orchestra belonging to the Messner Brothers and to the various broadcasting studios, but no matter whose band it was, the music was swell.

Tonight, Philo Vance, master sleuth, will stalk the NBC Chicago studios in person. Relentlessly tracking down another diabolical criminal, S. S. Van Dine, mystery writer, will make a guest appearance on the Palmer House Promenade over the WJZ network at 10 P. M., E. D. S. T.

Joe Cook, erstwhile star of "Hold Your Horses," has been signed to stay as host of the weekly Colgate House Party over the WEAF network on Saturday night at 9 P. M. The remainder of the cast includes Don Vorhees' orchestra, with Donald Novis and Frances Langford.

Watching for new summer programs we hope for the return of Tommy Christian and His Orchestra over CBS. Snooks Friedman and His Orchestra is to be hoped for over the same system.

Don Bestor, who already has a large number of vocalists, has added another in the person of Joy Lynne. In addition to a good voice, Miss Lynne has won several beauty prizes. Here is another artist who will be more in demand with the appearance of television.

After hearing more than a half-dozen of his broadcasts, we are really convinced that Sleepy Hall and his swell band should be added to the list of the top-notchers. His programs every Thursday afternoon over WJZ provide real rhythm on a somewhat dry afternoon. Smackouts is one other feature that aids Thursday's entertainment.

Some interesting events came to our notice last week. Among them we list the following incidents: Jimmy Durante, star on that coffee hour, was once a piano player in a Coney Island restaurant. He accompanied a big-eyed lad who sang to the patrons. The latter's name was Eddie Cantor.

The siren and bell used on Ed Wynne's program got several motorists in trouble because they had their car radio turned on too loud. While driving Tuesday night turn your radio on loud and watch the other cars pull over to the curb.

Eddie Duchin is credited with making three of the six most popular records during the month of March. The piano tickling of the Central Park Casino maestro and his three broadcasts a week have helped to make him one of the league leaders.

Raymond Knight, conductor of the Ku-Ku Hour, has a hobby of collecting pickles with unusual warts.

PATHOLOGIST GIVES SEMINAR DISCOURSE TO PRE-MED GROUP

Dr. Max Strumia, of Bryn Mawr Hospital, Delivers Lecture on Hobbies

STRAIN OF MODERN LIFE DEMANDS THIS PRACTICE

Shows Pictures of Mountain Climbing and Beautiful Landscape Scenes

Dr. Max Strumia, pathologist of Bryn Mawr Hospital, addressed the science seminar last Thursday, May 3, and spoke on the necessity of a hobby.

Dr. Strumia introduced his topic by saying "that the human brain of the modern people is used much more than it originally was intended to be. We go through life today with pathological nervousness causing mental and physical deficiency. When we succeed in accomplishing the purpose which we set out to do, we feel happy. If an individual has a hobby, he will tackle any problem whether it be large or small, and does it in the easiest way.

Hobby Formation

He continued, saying that a hobby seems to come without consciousness. "It may come in being associated with friends; it might be that geographical location may determine your hobby, that is, being near the seashore may lead one to take up fishing or boating. A hobby will follow you through the rest of your life and it will not abandon you in old age nor in ill health. Your hobby must have the element of universality, regardless of your physical ability."

Dr. Strumia then showed some moving pictures which he had taken up in the Canadian mountains. The pictures portrayed the beautiful scenery which surrounded these mountains and while they were being shown the doctor explained to the audience the struggle and pleasure that he had in climbing the various peaks. Among the mountains that he climbed were the Maccarit Pass and Mt. Oubliette. He gave a short resume of the difficulties he encountered while ascending these mountains.

Dr. Strumia's Hobby

Dr. Strumia's hobby is mountain climbing. Before going to these desolate and remote sections of the world to spend his vacation, he gets the great joy of anticipating the trip, recalling his last experiences in pursuing his hobby. By looking at the picture on the screen he recalls the striking changes in the sky and various phenomenal occurrence of the landscape.

The doctor then told the men why it was necessary to start early in the morning. He said, "due to the fact that avalanches and rock fall occur in the afternoon when the sun melts the snow, it is necessary that the mountain climbers leave early in the morning." He continued, saying that huge cornices are formed by the constant blowing of the wind in one direction. "Mountain climbing is very hazardous, and during the trip one of my friends was hurt by a back rock fall.

Dr. Strumia continued saying that a defeat in your hobby is much more bitter and significant than in an ordinary defeat. A hobby, however, instills confidence in an individual because "if I succeeded before then I can succeed now." This is the recalling to memory of the success that you had in your hobby. In the pictures, Dr. Strumia showed some falling rocks of Mt. Reboutt and the falling ice of Mt. Fraisor. A general view of Amethyay Lake was also shown. Mt. Oubliette was shown from a distance in its full height of 11,000 feet and the doctor remarked "that anything you must look up to is usually desirous in life."

In conclusion Dr. Strumia said that a hobby is necessary in life because it is a complete relaxation of the physical and mental strain of the ordinary life's work. He went on still further to say that he hoped the men whom he was addressing, would, when they enter the professional life, choose a hobby that would bring about this relaxation and in that way take their minds off the world and its troublesome predicaments.

Mother's Day Celebration Proves Highly Successful

Fr. Stanford Greeted Parents Who Were Then Conducted on a Tour of Various Buildings by Students

By JAMES W. KEELEY

Last Monday afternoon, mothers of the students of Villanova were the guests of the class of 1935, at the class' first important social function of Junior Week.

Mothers and their companions came from all sections of the eastern part of the country. Among those who traveled the longest distances were Mrs. Mary T. Murphy, of Salem, Mass.; Mrs. J. J. Reilly, Mrs. R. T. Kennedy, Mrs. Cogan, Mrs. V. Loughlin, Mrs. J. Travers, and Mrs. John Hennessey, all of Brooklyn. From Erie, Pa., came Mrs. Evelyn R. Hamel and Miss Audrey Wittman.

Inspect Campus

The mothers of the students were conducted on a tour of the various buildings of the campus. The tour began from the reception room in Mendel Hall, and continued to the many laboratories in the pre-medical department. Of the many experiments performed by the students, the one explaining the workings of the heart of an animal created the greatest sensation.

After the entourage had visited the laboratories of the engineering department, the group visited, in turn the pie shoppe, the college chapel and the new gymnasium.

Entertained by Students

While in the gymnasium, Lawrence Reilly and Arthur Noble presented a few popular songs and old Irish ballads, immediately following this, members of the cast of the Turf and Tinsel Club's recent production, presented two of the novelty dance numbers. Both the songs and the dances were greatly appreciated by the audience, as was indicated by the great amount of applause which followed.

Next on the program was an exhibition swimming meet staged in the pool. Included were many relay races and medley races as well as demonstrations of the various strokes used by swimmers. The exhibition itself was under the direction of Martin Gill, coach of swimming, and professor of English. At the conclusion of the exercises in the gymnasium, the mothers assembled on the front steps of the gymnasium, where group photographs were taken.

Feted at Tea

The mothers were then conducted to the college dining hall, where a luncheon was served. After the tea, Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college, addressed the gathering. The general theme of Fr. Stanford's address consisted of plans which he is formulating to make Mother's Day at Villanova College an integral part of the Junior Week exercises.

Other speakers included Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, and John Hoey, president of the junior class.

Mother's names: Mrs. W. R. Baines, Mrs. Darmody, Mrs. John Kraft, Mrs. Joseph Dwyer, Mrs. F. J. Donerty, Mrs. Eva Hyde, Mrs. George Hyde, Mrs. G. F. Gallagher, Mrs. Tafro, Mrs. Howard Pickel, Mrs. Frank H. Casey, Mrs. Joseph McManus, Mrs. Daniel McGowan, Mrs. William G. Morris, Mrs. R. Dierwechter, Mrs. John Butler, Mrs. H. J. Reilley, Mrs. D. H. Murphy, Mrs. John W. Cullin, Mrs. W. L. Dethloff, Mrs. Cornelius F. Scott, Mrs. William B. Burt.

Mrs. John T. Nulty, Mrs. M. J. Connell, Mrs. James McGrath, Miss Audrey Wittman, Mrs. C. R. Marcouse, Mrs. S. W. Cook, Mrs. Joseph Delaney, Mrs. J. J. Keating, Mrs. Charles McGough, Mrs. Francis P. Bigley, Mrs. David M. Barr, Mrs. Lawrence M. Goldschmidt, Mrs. A. Boranzano, Mrs. Frank Conway, Mrs. Hilda H. Sullivan, Mrs. Martha DePersio, Mrs. Lawrence Stead, Mrs. Annie Gallagher, Mrs. Helen Kelly, Mrs. Theodore Osbahr, Mrs. Mary Carney, Mrs. William Crooks, Mrs. William Munroe, Mrs. Joseph G. Denny, Jr., Mrs. J. J. Reilly, Mrs. H. N. Hart, Mrs. R. T. Kennedy.

Mrs. A. E. Welsh, Mrs. I. Hooven, Mrs. M. Hooven, Mrs. A. S. Banniller, Mrs. Charles O'Hara, Mrs. Joseph Cogan, Mrs. Mary T. Murphy, Mrs. Louis Marechal, Mrs. James W. Keeley, Mrs. George Mihalcik.

Mrs. Ettore D'Alonzo, Mrs. A. Maier, Mrs. William Devenny, Mrs. Thomas Kennedy, Mrs. E. Schlotterback, Mrs. Daniel Cronin, Mrs. Evelyn R. Hamel, Mrs. Kate Gordisky, Mrs. Samuel A. Frank, Mrs. Henry Mayer, Mrs. John T. Butler, Mrs. Michael J. Kehoe, Mrs. Robert Reid, Mrs. A. A. Flanigan, Mrs. H. Brodsky, Mrs. Gerald J. McGee, Mrs. James V. Loughlin, Mrs. Robert A. Feehery, Mrs. Robert Walley, Mrs. Oscar Shank, Mrs. Onisiuck, Mrs. Charles O'Connor, Mrs. John Mahaffey, Mrs. J. Marcotte.

Mrs. M. Doherty, Mrs. S. De Mattheis, Mrs. J. Grasse, Mrs. J. Travers, Mrs. Francis B. Ward, Mrs. B. Prior, Mrs. Nora Maloney.

Mrs. James McIntyre, Mrs. J. Duffy, Mrs. C. Stahlecker, Mrs. J. Patone, Mrs. Imbriglio, Mrs. J. J. McGuire, Mrs. Evelyn M. Cornell, Mrs. M. A. Fath, Mrs. A. Evangelist, Mrs. Joseph Alessandroni, Mrs. J. T. Lynch, Mrs. Delacova, Mrs. Rudolph Lopez, Mrs. Samuel B. Miles, Mrs. John Hennessey, Mrs. Joseph P. Carroll, Mrs. William P. Tenney, Mrs. C. A. Guinee.

Mother of Student Sends A Letter of Appreciation

Dear Father Stanford:

May I thank you for the privilege which you extended to the Mothers of Villanova students in enabling us to spend an entire afternoon among the boys. They surely were untiring in their efforts to entertain us and to bring us in closer contact with the splendid priests and lay teachers with whom our boys spend four very precious years of their lives.

The beauty of the campus, the magnificent buildings, the equipment of the laboratories, the friendly spirit of the priests and students make an ideal combination to foster a real love for Villanova.

With deep appreciation for being allowed to share it all for one day, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
(A Junior's Mother)

Over the Coals

By HONEST JOHN POTROAST

Did you know that:

Fetlock Sholmes is dead, long may he remain as such? . . . Jimmy Carrol, the bard from Ogontz, is quite the fair-haired lover, not that he has any too much hair? . . . Bill Grimberg used a rough towel in combing his hair for the Prom and lost ten more strands? . . . Going—Going—Gone for good . . . The Prom was a big success, according to the majority? There were in attendance such as that infamous triumvirate, Loughlin, Daoud and O'Connell? The only things they missed were five sparkplugs from Myrtle-Louie's car? Passion-flower Allen was there? He even talked after the dance was over? Getting practice for English on Monday. The three New Jersey pumpkin heads were in attendance? How they ever arrived in Gloucester in that fog, we don't know. "Rachmaninoff" Fitzpatrick, the Chestnut Hill pride and joy, wrestled for a few numbers and then quit? . . . "Beetle Ears" Hallahan, the former's shadow, danced on his own toes for a short while? "Needle Nose" O'Neill and Jazz Suit O'Connor thought it was July? They stayed cool, ennyhew . . . Al Ryan was there in a sweat as usual? . . . The Senator from Spring City got bewildered by the throngs? . . . B. and L. J. Keeley, the swain from West Philadelphia, got his head caught in the false ceiling? . . . "Moon Face" Harter was singing to his date during the dance? . . . Perry Frank, the "Happy am I boy from the banks of the city's reswar, evidently likes blondes? . . . Edgar Cottrell's collar was giving his ears an awful beating? What price popularity . . . It was one of the few dances were one favor and only one was given to each customer? We know. Can you imagine what Jacques would have done to one of these Austin Hall beds? . . . Jazz-Mad Keating was going Calloway to the awe of the sweet young thing? . . . As Temple says, "Wait till next time." John Butler uses a special brand of writing paper when he writes to that frizzle-topped flame of his in Philly? . . . According to the latest returns, Art Mahan is leading in the race for the presidency of the Conshohocken club? . . . We are tired of hearing of the ravishing beauty of Bill Gough's favorite heart throb? . . . Jack Chappel is not on speaking terms with a certain sophomore who would not lend him his coat for the picture taking that took place recently? . . . Joe Caulfield has a good reason for haunting the Georgian Courts? . . . There are three weeks of school still remaining? . . . Allen Evangelist, while he is very calm on the surface, is a talented pianist? . . . While many claim that Leo Shoppmeyer is a bit of a hot air artist, they can't deny that he is a short-stop a-la-Joe Cronin? . . . "Baron" Whelan, along with "Monk" Corsell, is often seen in the vicinity of Conshohocken? . . . Ben Maloney is a splendid 880 and mile runner? . . . "Doctor" Bobertz has one of the most peculiar strides that we have ever seen? . . . Carrol Cook is getting to be quite an all-around athlete? . . . We wonder what Jerry Searight does with his famous bear-skin coat in the summertime? . . . Pete Fasso and John Eck can give you any information you want on the race track? . . . We pick "You're Welcome," Isham Jones latest bit of melody, as a coming big hit?

FR. LUDWIG IS MADE FRESHMEN MONITOR

Present Senior Moderator Is Popular Choice Among Yearling Group

Rev. Francis Ludwig, O. S. A., has received the appointment as moderator for the class of 1937, according to a recent announcement from the office of Rev. E. V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college.

Keen delight was expressed by Father Ludwig upon learning of his appointment. This post is not a new one to Father Ludwig for he holds that same position in the present Senior Class.

Had Experience

The Freshman Class is very fortunate in obtaining the services of Father Ludwig, as the valuable experience he gained through his affiliations with the class of 1934 should do much towards making the frosh class a good one.

Father Ludwig is very optimistic as to the class's future plans in spite of the fact that they are starting out with a twenty-five dollar deficit.

This subject was the main topic of discussion at the first meeting which was held Monday, April 30, in the Amphitheatre. A plan was suggested whereby a voluntary contribution of fifty cents by each of the hundred and sixty members would cancel the outstanding debt and at the same time lay a financial foundation for whatever plans the class might have for next year.

Vigilance Committee

Probably the most important subject of debate as regards the school body was concerning the vigilance committee of next year. Many suggestions were offered as to the manner in which the traditional frosh rules should be enforced. Father Ludwig is anxious to have a well formulated program in which all the members of next year's Freshman Class will be required to uphold these rules. For those freshmen who take it upon themselves to disobey these regulations as laid down by the vigilance committee, Father Ludwig feels there should be a penalty, such as some definite duty to be performed about the school.

In this matter the committee will have both the support of their moderator, as well as Rev. Bernard Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college.

Go your own way on your own ships
TO EUROPE

COLLEGE men and women are discovering that there is something new in Tourist Class on America's new liners, the Manhattan and Washington. You'll find broad, sunny decks high up in the ship; large and beautiful public rooms; modern, well ventilated cabins; tiled swimming pool; air-conditioned dining salon. The Manhattan and Washington, the world's fastest cabin liners. With their running mates, the President Harding and President Roosevelt, they offer weekly service to Cobh, Plymouth, Havre and Hamburg.

TOURIST CLASS
$113 (up) One Way
$204 (up) Round Trip
Sailings between June 11 to July 9 rates slightly higher.
See your local agent. His services are free.
UNITED STATES LINES
Roosevelt Steamship Company, Inc., Gen. Agts.
1620 Walnut Street, Philadelphia

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.
Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Established 1832
1218-20-22 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia
DESIGNERS AND MAKERS
of the
1935 VILLANOVA
COLLEGE
CLASS RING
Also the Villanova
Miniature Ring

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits, Topcoats and Overcoats
$24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See
JIM ELLIOTT
237 Austin Hall

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired
It is not how cheap, but how good
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
All new styles now available!
Agents: Dick Morrissey, '34
Ed Lahey, '36

E. Cadwalader, Inc.
Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies
6047 Market Street
Philadelphia
Phone Sherwood 1423

Junior Prom Proves To Be Great Success

Continued From Page One

class, and by many from the other three classes. There were also many alumni present, both from Philadelphia and New York.

The Blazer Ball, the initial dance of the week, was held last Thursday evening, also in the gym. It was at this function that a number of juniors donned their official regalia. Resplendent in their blazers, white flannels and white shoes, they made a colorful contrast with the attire of their companions.

The official music makers for the evening were the Villanovans. They surprised their followers by rendering a good program.

The prom committee was headed by Paetrus Bannister. He was aided by Edmond P. Reiley, John O'Connell, Joseph Costigan, Edmond Malhame, Lawrence Goldschmidt, Henry Scheaffer, Joseph Caulfield, Carroll Cook, John Shevlin, James Nulty, Joseph Dunnigan, George Gartland, Thomas Delaney, Thomas Malcolm and Augustine Ranieri.

The patrons and patronesses included: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alessandroni, Mrs. Lenor C. Andraca, Dr. and Mrs. Francis P. Bigley, Mr. John F. Butler, Mrs. Joseph Caulfield, Mr. Joseph P. Clavin, Mr. S. W. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Evangelist, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Fath, Mrs. Sadie Forkin, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel A. Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Grimberg, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Goggin, Mrs. Evelyn R. Hamel, Mr. John J. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Keating, Mrs. James W. Keeley, Mr. Joseph A. Klein, Sr., Mr. William La Rosa, Mr. J. P. Laux, Mr. Paul Loughlin, Mr. John J. Mahaffey, Mrs. J. H. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. James McGrath, Mr. and Mrs. Donato Mele, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Mihalcik, Mr. Matthew J. Nichols, Mr. George A. Odewalt, Mr. Giulio Ranieri, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Reiley, Mrs. Drusa Romano, Mrs. Theresa E. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. Margo J. Sheean, Mr. John J. Shevlin, Mr. and Mrs. H. U. Strong.

Alumni Secretary Returns From Tour

Continued From Page One

High, Technical High and Holy Rosary High School. All of the high schools are in Pennsylvania in the up-State coal region.

Forms New Unit

Included in this tour was the organization of a Villanova Alumni Club of Wilkes-Barre. A meeting was held. Jim Dever was elected temporary chairman and Frank Loughran was appointed secretary. The next meeting of the alumni group will be held in Wilkes-Barre on May 11.

Among those present were John A. Feney, president of the national Villanova Alumni Association; Rev. Carl P. Cummings, Dr. James P. O'Boyle, Dr. James A. Nealon, Matthew Leib, Miles Bonner, Joseph P. Gibbon, Joseph P. Nolan, Edward F. McGinty, Charles M. McGreedy, John Nalevinka and William Murray.

Three-Day Reunion Planned by Alumni

Continued From Page One

event, which promises to be the most hilarious of all the activities scheduled has not been selected as yet.

Those who witnessed that perennial favorite in the musical comedy field, "The Student Prince," will have an idea of what the Heidelburg affair will be like.

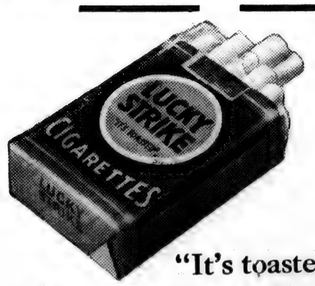
A full day has been made up for Friday, June 8. Five activities have been planned for this day. In the morning, the alumni will be divided into two groups. Some are to participate in the tennis tournament to be held on the college courts, while others will journey to Valley Forge to take part in a golf tournament.

A swimming party in the Villanova pool, in the afternoon, and a night club party in Philadelphia and an old-fashioned "bull" session at Villanova in the evening will bring the activities of the second day to a close.

The annual alumni meeting, election of officers and a baseball game between the Villanova Club of New York and the Villanova Club of Philadelphia will comprise the afternoon activities of the third day. The ball game will start at 1.30, while the meeting and elections are scheduled to begin at 3.30 P. M.

In the evening the annual alumni dinner will take place at 6.00 P. M. in the college dining hall.

Luckies are always in All-Ways kind to your throat



"It's toasted"

so round, so firm, so fully packed—no loose ends that's why you'll find Luckies do not dry out

We like to tell about the finer tobaccos in Luckies—the choicest Turkish and domestic, and only the mild, clean center leaves—they taste better—then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. But we're just as proud of the way Luckies are made. They're so round and firm, so free from loose ends. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—that's why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. Luckies are always—in all-ways!—kind to your throat.

√ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves — They Taste Better

"It's the Cream of the Crop"

Copyright, 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

LAST Saturday the Villanova varsity footballers ended their spring training grind. Even before the finish of these workouts the rumors started flying about the addition of new teams to the 1935 schedule. Several went as far as to say that four new and "tough" teams will be added in 1935.

We will attempt to give sound reasons why the 'Cat schedule of two football seasons hence will not add many new names.

The 1934 team has booked a nine-game schedule. Seven of the nine games are considered as real tests. The other two present good opposition but cannot be ranked as top-notchers. It is the exception when a college team books nine hard games and we do not expect Villanova to be the exception in '35.

Games with Temple, Manhattan, Bucknell and Boston College have become annual affairs and will probably continue through the next two seasons unless something exceptional takes place. With the announcement of games with Detroit and South Carolina followed the fact that these teams are supposed to have two-year contracts on a home and home basis. Therefore, six games listed for '34 will be on the card in '35.

In the event that LaSalle and Ursinus do not provide the early opposition in '35, the teams which will take their place will not be of the caliber of the teams that have been circulated in the rumors. As most of you know, the rumors had Villanova playing Duquesne, Colgate and Holy Cross besides several others too improbable to mention.

Western Maryland, scheduled for '34 is the only spot on the schedule that may be filled the following year with a prominent team. Holy Cross MAY be the opposition but not many students will give odds on it, as yet.

The Villanova schedule in '35 will be almost the same as the '34 list with a possible variation of three names and most likely two of the three teams will not be considered as real tests.

—V—

SPEAKING of football and the spring practice reminds us that the 'Cats made up for that defeat that the Red Roses handed them a couple of weeks ago. We went down to see the '34 edition and what we saw looked fairly good considering the warm weather and the time that has been spent in spring practice. From especially watching the new men, the work of Fox, Baldassano, Mahovitch and Tony Sala is worthy of mention. If not regulars in the fall, these men will make up a good group of reserve material.

Joey Weisenbaugh's eighty-yard run made it seem as though fall was really here and the season was well under way. The swell interference that was right behind him all the way down the field, composed of Lee, Cox and Vidnovic made the 'Cats appear to be well on the way to a banner year. Aspirations fell when our story of the game started "In a spring season contest the 'Cats trounced the F & M team . . ."

—V—

AFTER the football game we journeyed up to the Main Line Open course to see how the golfers were making out against Manhattan. The match was slow getting started and the two foursomes were only on the seventh hole when we arrived. Captain Jim Elliott was shooting very close to par but his Manhattan opponent was also in top form. Elliott finally won out but needed a low medal score of 75 to do it. Cragg, at number two for the 'Cats turned in a card of 77 for the eighteen. As you will find in the fourth column the 'Cats won the match by a half point.

The 'Cat golfers now have four out of seven matches and bold victories over Temple, Boston College, Swarthmore and the Jaspers.

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING

Tuesday, May 8, 1934 Page Five

ALBRIGHT BEATS VILLANOVA

VARSITY TRACKMEN OPEN '34 SEASON TRIMMING RIDER

Fenstemacher, Hickey, Elliott Win Twice to Share Honors in Dual Meet

'CATS SWEEP SIX EVENTS

Rider Takes but Three Firsts as 'Cats Come Home in 11 to Swamp Jerseyites

With a clear sky overhead and a fairly fast track under foot, the Villanova harriers officially opened the stadium track last Wednesday in a dual meet with the Rider College from Trenton, New Jersey. The 'Cats, however, were too strong for the visitors, in fact, they were four times as strong as they, for the score at the end of the meet stood at 100-27. Out of a possible 14 first places, Villanova took 11 and they made a clean sweep of six events.

The role of individual star of the meet had to be divided between three Villanovans, Joe Fenstemacher, Carl Hickey, and Jim Elliott. Each of the above named trio accounted for two first places in his own particular specialties.

First Win by Rider

The meet got under way with the 120-yard high hurdles which was taken by Bierach of Rider who cleared the timbers in 18.8 seconds. Burt, of Villanova, was a close second and McFadden, also of Villanova, took third.

In the century dash, Joe Fenstemacher, Villanova's sandy-haired captain, led the way to the tape closely followed by Jim Walsh, diminutive football star. Hendricks, of Rider, placed third and the time as announced was 10 seconds flat.

Jim Downey, a senior member of the track team and who makes his home in Austin Hall, set the pace at the gun in the mile run. He ran easily and held an advantageous lead of some twenty yards over his nearest rival from Rider, and as the gun barked for the final circuit he seemed to have the race well in mind. But the surprise that nobody looked for came in this last lap. Unleashing a powerful sprint, that quickly ate up the intevening space, Dipple, of Rider, came on to win from Downey by the scant margin of three yards, the now tired 'Cat runner not having enough kick left in him to fight him off and retain his position. The time was good for the track being 4 minutes 49 seconds.

Elliott Wins 440

Jim Elliott chalked up his first victory of the day in the 440-yard dash. Taking the lead at the gun he was never once threatened by any of the runners from Rider. Coming down the backstretch he and Al Kramer, another 'Cat runner, strode easily side by side and breasted the tape in 52 seconds. George Wrona, former intra-mural

Continued on Page Eight

Leading Hitter

Frank Skaff, slugging leftfielder of the Wildcat baseball nine, who is the leading clouter of the current season. Skaff poled out a long home run against the U. of P. team on Franklin Field and hit another against Fordham in the game played in New York. He is also leading in runs batted in.

MURAL TENNS DELAYED

Because of inclement weather, the intra-mural tennis tournament has been indefinitely postponed. Those interested should watch the bulletin boards.

FROSH GAMES SET

Saint Peter's Prep Scheduled for Fray at Villanova on May 19

Two more games have been added to Coach Artie Lynch's freshman baseball roster.

St. Peter's Prep of Trenton will journey to Villanova on May 19 for the next of the Kittens' contests.

The frosh will also play a team representing the Eastern Penitentiary. The location of the game is left to your own judgment. For some reason many good ball players attend Pen and this is expected to be a close contest. The contest is tentatively set for May 23.

INTRA-MURAL STANDINGS

	Alumni	Austin	Day Hops	Fedigan	Mendel
Football	10	7	1	3	5
Basketball—both halves	7	12	4	12	4
Volley Ball	8½	1	8½	3	5
Swimming	4	7	10	1	4
Track	1	10	3	7	5
Golf	3	7	10	5
Boxing	1	7	3	5	10
Totals	34½	51	39½	36	33

Wildcats' Streak Broken After Four Straight Wins

Blue and White Errors Prove Expensive, Enabling Albright Runners to Gain Scoring Positions

'CAT PITCHERS STRIKE OUT TWELVE

VILLANOVA'S four-game winning streak was broken by Albright last week by the score of 6-3. The Wildcats lost the game by reason of walks and errors, though they connected for the same number of safeties as did their opponents. Three of the Parsons' players that received passes to first base subsequently scored, and five of the six men that did score for Albright were advanced on the base paths by errors.

Eddie Vaughn was ill before the start of the game and had to be removed before the completion of the fourth inning because he did not have full control of his pitching.

Woods, first batter of the game, drove a ground ball to Geraghty. Ben played the ball too fast and dropped it. Fittipadi struck out, and DeFranco was safe on a fielder's choice. Wronski missed a ground ball and both runners were safe. Olislo drove a long single to left and DeFranco was safe at home. Hino was caught trying to make third on the play when Skaff made a perfect throw to Geraghty.

'Cats Take Lead

Villanova took the lead in its turn when Lenzi, with two down, singled to center. He stole second and went to third when the catcher made a wild throw. Mahan singled to score the run, and then went to second on an error by the pitcher. Skaff singled and Mahan scored. As Art rounded third on his way home, Skaff over-ran first to draw the throw from the outfield and permitted the run to score.

The Parsons fell in order in the second inning, and so did the Wildcats, with the exception of Hurlburt's double. In the third frame Wenrich struck out and Woods singled. The next batter hit a double-play ball to Wronski and the side was retired.

The Main Liners were again retired without scoring. The first two batters for Albright were walked and Olislo hit a single to score two runs after both men had advanced on a passed ball. Haldeman singled and advanced to second when Hurlburt booted the ball. Vaughn was replaced by McGovern. The latter was greeted with a single that scored one run, and then he fanned the next three batters.

Villanova's turn was again unfruitful with the exception of Geraghty's single. Albright tallied again in the fifth when DeFranco walked with one down, and was advanced to second with a sacrifice bunt. He went to third when Olislo connected for his third single. The latter started for second and when Lenzi threw the ball to second in an attempt to catch him, DeFranco scored on the delayed double steal.

The Wildcats closed the gap by one run when McGovern reached first on a missed third strike, advanced to second on Murphy's single, and to third on Cavanaugh's bunt. Lenzi drove a long fly to left field which permitted McGovern to score standing up.

Albright's pitcher and catcher both struck out, which marked the third time that each had done so. Woods was passed, but was caught trying to steal second. The 'Cats fell in one, two, three order

Fittipadi singled to right, and DeFranco fouled to Lenzi. Hino walked but the next two batters went down on long flies. Krajsa, pinch-hitting for McGovern, flied to third and Murphy connected for a long double to deep center. The blow, though, failed to bring results

Continued on Page Eight

WILDCAT LINKSMEN DOWN MANHATTAN

Delaware Team Defeats 'Cats in Match Played Wednesday at Newark

The Villanova golf team earned one victory and suffered a single defeat in their two matches played last week. The third match, scheduled for last week with West Chester Teachers, had to be postponed due to a two-day rain.

On Wednesday the Wildcat foursome journeyed to Newark, Del., with the University of Delaware acting as host. The Newark team handed the visitors their worst setback of the season. The best that the Blue and White could do was to earn 1-2 point on a split of best ball by the second foursome. Because of a track meet with Rider College, Captain Jim Elliott was unable to accompany his squad.

Cragg Loses

In his absence Dave Cragg played No. 1 position and was beaten, 4 and 3, by Benton, of Delaware. John Wilson, at No. 2 for the home team, downed Jim McNerney by a 3 and 2 score.

The Delaware team also took the point for best ball, 4 and 3.

In the second foursome, Pie, at No. 3 for Delaware, nosed out Ed Burke, of the Wildcats, 2 and 1. Moore downed Joe Duffy, playing last man for the 'Cats in another close contest, 2 and 1.

'Cats Get Only Tally

It was here that the Wildcats earned their only tally with a split on the point awarded for best ball.

In the match with the Jaspers the Villanova team earned a close victory, with the score reading 3 1-2 to 2 1-2.

With Elliott back in the line-up new life seemed to come to the team. Elliott won his match, 5 and 4, and had the low medal score of 75 over the Main Line Open course. Cragg, at No. 2, beat Joe Ryan, 5 and 4.

Elliott and Cragg won best ball over McLaughlin and Ryan, 6 and 5.

John Sweet, Manhattan, downed Jim McNerney, 2 and 1. Ed Burke split in the hole score with Charley Sullivan, of the Jaspers.

Manhattan took the best ball point, 2 and 1.

In the Limelight

ORCUTT with two "t's." Thass the way it has to be spelled, or else! He's one of the slide rule boys, but he forgets all about that when he serves a cannonball over the net. By the way, Bill is one of the two baldheaded captains on the campus—Stan Wronski is the other. Bill's lack of hair sure is ducky!

His home, when he is home, is in Melrose, Mass., where Toby Cavanaugh comes from. When he was born in August, 1908, he looked just the same as he does now, only he was shaved then.

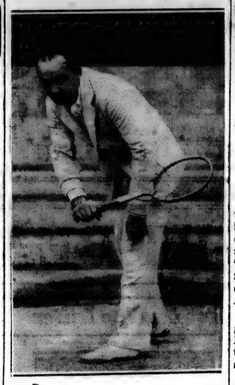
His younger days were spent in St. John's Prep, Danvers, Mass., where he first found himself in tennis. Up thar, ice hockey is an important sport, so Bill bid his mother a fond goodbye and reported out for the Suicide Squad. He ended up at the end of the season in one piece. Later, in his senior year, he progressed so far, that after the loss of a few teeth and a large amount of hair, he was elected captain of the ice hockey team. Spring budded coyly and the verdant green whispered to our hero, and out he went on the courts as captain of the tennis squad.

When a little more bald, he entered Villanova. He was elected treasurer of the Freshman Class. Tennis still wooed him, thus, in the springtime, he was out with the freshman squad.

Sophomore year came around, thus proving the statement, "Everything comes to him who waits." In the rugged days, the 'Cats had an ice hockey team, so following up with the prep school stuff, he played right defense for two years, and with laudable perseverance he was finally elected captain. More prep school stuff.

Entering his third year of tennis, he was on the team that had Penn for an opener. The day dawned bright and clear. Penn came down like a wolf on the fold and, alas, cleaned up Bill and Villanova to the tune of 5 to 2. After this crushing defeat the tennis boys came out with fire in their eyes and egg on their vests and cleaned up the rest of the unfortunate teams on their schedule. The Boston Club was founded with high hopes during Bill's junior year, with him as president, but something happened to Bill and the club mysteriously blew up with a loud noise.

This year Bill is a captain without a game. So far all of the tennis matches have been postponed and Bill is out on a limb. Anyway, we expect great things of the tennis team, after waiting since April 16 to see a match.



BILL ORCUTT

MENDEL TEAM LEADS INTRA-MURAL RACE

Softball League Opens With Mendel and Alumni Taking First Victories

The intra-mural schedule continued on its merry way. The baseball league continued with games Sunday between Austin and Fedigan, and between Mendel and Alumni. The soft ball league opened its first games Monday between Mendel and Fedigan, and Alumni and Austin.

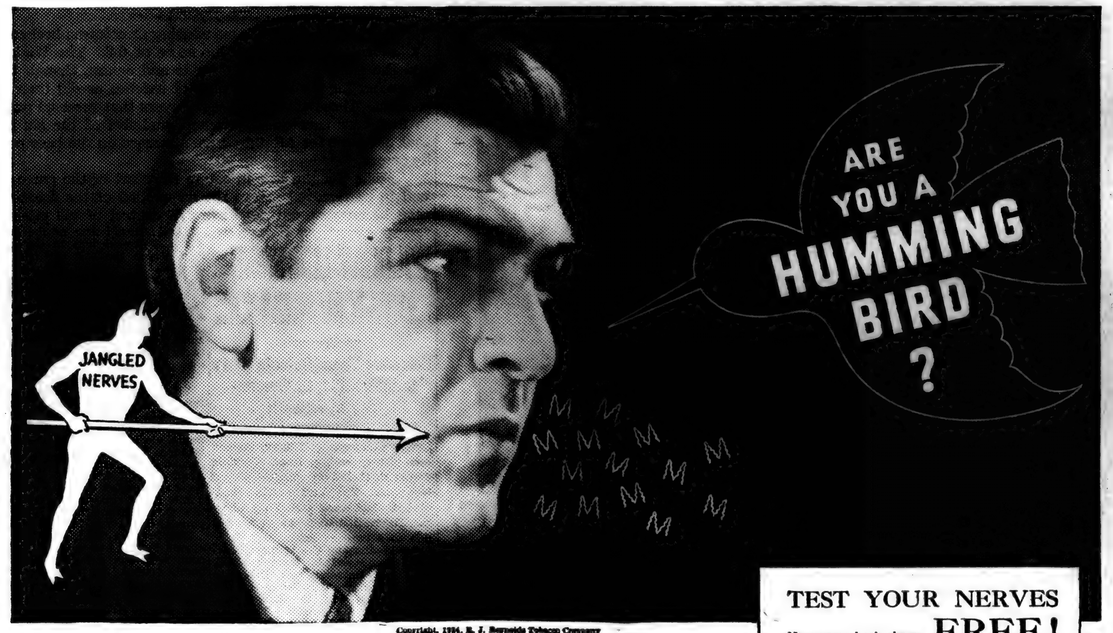
Shevlin pitched a no hit, no run game up to the final inning when he allowed one hit and two runs, in the baseball game between Austin and Fedigan. Austin won, 7-2.

Mendel and Alumni played the first nine-inning game of the intra-mural league. Mendel scored in the first, fourth, fifth and sixth innings to lead, 7-0, at the end of the seventh inning. But Alumni staged a five-run rally in the first part of the eighth and threatened Mendel's lead. Mendel and Alumni both scored in the ninth inning to bring the final score to 8-6. An interesting fact about Mendel's score was that every man with the exception of Wallmeyer scored a run. The only man in the game to score two runs was Tom Hughes, who scored in both the eighth and ninth innings.

The electric light that stands in front of Mendel Hall has finally met its doom. Joe Cavaliere hit a foul ball which broke the lamp. Then, not to be partial, he hit another foul and almost killed Bunny Galazin, the Mendel coach.

The soft ball games were both much more exciting than a game of that type is usually supposed to be. The Mendel-Fedigan game was close, 11-10, but otherwise slow. The Austin-Alumni game although the winning margin was wide, 10-4, was exciting. Whitey Randour, the Austin pitcher, retired from the game after Alumni scored nine runs as a result of four walks and a multitude of errors. Whitey says he quit because of lack of support!

Mendel still holds its lead in the Intra-mural Baseball League with five victories and one defeat. Austin is second with four victories and two defeats. Fedigan and Alumni are tied for third place with three victories and four defeats, while the Day Hops still hold down last place with four defeats.



Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

It's irritating and it means... jangled nerves

Yes, it's irritating to listen to that constant, tuneless humming—and more than that, the humming is a sign of jangled nerves.

If you notice any of those telltale nervous habits in yourself—if you whistle through your teeth—juggle your keys—drum on the table—then it's time to start taking care of yourself.

Get enough sleep—fresh air—recreation—and watch your smoking... Remember, you can smoke as many Camels as you want. Their costlier tobaccos never jangle your nerves.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS than any other popular brand of cigarettes!

TEST YOUR NERVES FREE!

New game book shows 20 ways to test nerves—all illustrated. Try them on your friends—see if you have healthy nerves yourself... Mail order-blank below with fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Free book comes postpaid.

CLIP AND MAIL TODAY!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company
Dept. 76-F, Winston-Salem, N.C.

I enclose fronts from 2 packs of Camels. Send me book of nerve tests postpaid.

Name ..... (Print Name)
Street .....
City ..... State .....
Offer expires December 31, 1934

CAMELS—SMOKE AS MANY AS YOU WANT... THEY NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

TUNE IN! CAMEL CARAVAN with Casa Loma Orchestra, Stoopnagle and Budd, Connie Boswell, Every Tuesday and Thursday at 9 P. M., E.S.T.—8 P. M., C.S.T.—7 P. M., M.S.T.—6 P. M., P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network

HOLD SERVICES FOR MAGISTRATE GRELIS, PROMINENT JURIST

Rev. Howard A. Grelis, O. S. A., Celebrated Requiem Mass for Deceased Parent

CLERGY IS REPRESENTED

Funeral services for Magistrate John J. Grelis, father of Rev. Howard A. Grelis, O. S. A., Professor of Latin in the School of Arts, who died May 1, were held last Thursday, May 3, in St. Columba's Church, 24th street and Lehigh avenue. Father Grelis, celebrated the Solemn Requiem Mass.

Magistrate Grelis was the oldest member of the minor judiciary of the City of Philadelphia, having been elected to that body in 1904. He held hearings at Twelfth and Filbert streets. He had been in for a long period and died Monday in his home at 2608 North Twenty-ninth street.

Dignitaries of the city and state attended the funeral which was held from 1820 Chestnut street last Thursday.

Many Nuns Present

Rev. Dr. Leon Legrain, professor of Syriology, at the University of Pennsylvania, was deacon at the Mass and Rev. John M. A. Sparrow, O. S. A., was sub-deacon. The Rev. Charles J. Melchior, O. S. A., was master of ceremonies and Rev. Dr. William J. Garrigan, rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart, preached the sermon.

In addition to the clergymen who attended, there were more than sixty nuns from the various convents in the City of Philadelphia.

Magistrate Grelis, who was a member of the Marquette Council, No. 89, K. of C., is survived by two other sons besides Father Grelis. They are: John H., Jr., and Edwin J. Grelis, a student of chemistry at the Sorbonne, Paris. The two daughters, Sister Austin Marie, S. S. J., and Mrs. Mary D. Foley, also survive.

Order Well Represented

Among the priests who attended there were present Revs. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college; Mortimer A. Sullivan, O. S. A., Charles Baker, O. S. A., William F. Doyle, O. S. A., John F. O'Brien, O. S. A., Leo J. Riechart, O. S. A., A. Marini, O. S. A., John Hammond, O. S. A., William Decey, O. S. A., J. H. Walsh, O. S. A., Walter Gough, O. S. A., Patrick J. Dundon, O. S. A., James H. Griffin, O. S. A., Eugene A. Mauch, O. S. A., Francis X. Coan, O. S. A., P. H. Keohe, O. S. A., E. J. Murtaugh, O. S. A., William V. Donovan, O. S. A., Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., Michael Hopkins, O. S. A., Paul Healy, O. S. A., and Michael O'Donnell, O. S. A.

College Girls Win Dramatic Contest

Continued From Page One

won the cup for the best performance of all the colleges entered in the tourney. They presented "Heard In Camera," by Essex Lane, which was under the direction of Miss Miriam Davenport Low. The cast included Miss Betina Clemons, Miss Jane O'Donnell, Miss Celeste Wills, Miss Roseanne Cusack and Miss Kathleen Holmes.

The budding actors from St. Joseph's College were the winners in the men's division. The Cap and Bells Club of this institution presented "Submerged," under the direction of Edwin Stanley. J. William Manson, Henry Jones, William Lang, John I. Durkin and Thomas C. Leis were the members of the cast. Norbert A. Conway, who was also in the cast, won the individual honors for the evening. His performance in this short play was very well executed and was deserving of the first prize.

Among the other colleges represented in the tourney were, Immaculata College Players, Beclex, of Beaver College, Marywood Players, the Philomathean Society of the University of Pennsylvania, The Rouge and Robe of Drexel Institute and the Belle Masque Players of Villanova College. Although the Belle Masque thespians did not emerge victors of their division, they nevertheless presented a very well staged and acted performance. They offered "A Glorious Martyr," by Charles Sumner Pike, under the direction of Joseph T. Jonas, professor of oratory. In the cast were George Malhame, William Zell, Paul Kerr and Joseph [illegible].

College Students to be Benefitted By a Career Conference in Newark

(Special to the VILLANOVAN)

NEWARK, N. J., May 7 — Students at Villanova may benefit greatly if they take advantage of the opportunity of attending the first Choosing-a-Career Conference, sponsored by L. Bamberger and Company of this city, which will be held at the company's headquarters June 26, 27, 28. A galaxy of 31 internationally known "Who's Who" men and women in various fields of business will address the assemblage.

Bankers, railroad presidents, dress designers, journalists and others prominent in 31 fields will speak on the career opportunities in their various branches of American affairs. Following each address, personal conferences will be arranged between the speakers and interested students.

Extensive Choice of Fields

Among the career fields to be discussed are advertising, automotive industry, building, government, insurance, journalism, publishing, shipping, steel, beauty culture, secretarial work, literature, magazine photography, radio broadcasting, restaurant management, social service and the theatre.

Law, medicine and other fields requiring three or four years of specialized training have been omitted from the conference, as it was believed that students contemplating these professions make their decisions early and that the greatest benefit to undergraduates would come from discussions of those fields which the graduating students could enter without additional schooling.

Presidents, deans and other officials of 20 Eastern colleges are members of the advisory board which has worked out the plans for the conference. Besides enabling doubtful students to choose their careers, a further aim of the conference is to eliminate the floundering of the student starting out in business.

Among those who will advise the undergraduates in choosing a career are Leonor F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson and director in a score of other railroads and industries; Colby M. Chester, president of General Foods Corporation; Percy Straus, president of R. H. Macy & Co.; S. L. Rothafel, of the entertainment field; Edward L. Bernays, public relations counsel; Amelia Earhart, flier; Neysa McMein, artist; Roy Chapman Andrews, explorer; James P. Warburg, vice chairman of the Bank of the Manhattan Company; Elizabeth Hawes, fashion stylist, and Nancy McClelland, interior decorator. Governor A. Harry Moore, of New Jersey, will open the conference.

The advisory board includes the following:

Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore College; Robert C. Clothier, president of Rutgers University; Margaret T. Corwin, dean of New Jersey College for Women; Albert Beecher Crawford, director of the Department of Personal Study of Yale University; George B. Cutten, president of Colgate University; Harvey N. Davis, president of Stevens Institute of Technology; Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell University; Christian Gauss, dean of the college at Princeton University; Herbert E. Hawkes, dean of the college at Columbia University; Henry N. McCracken, president of Smith College; William A. Neilson, president of Smith College; Marion Edwards Park, president of Bryn Mawr College; Ellen Fitz Pendleton, president of Wellesley College; Josiah H. Penniman, provost to the University of Pennsylvania.

Only 100 tickets for the conference have been assigned to the college. Students desiring to attend the sessions may obtain cards of admission from the president's office, 131 Mendel Hall.

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

For Your Tonsorial Necessities—
The Campus Barber Shop
Awaits Your Patronage
Popular Prices

Tower Theatre
69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.
Today, Wed. and Thurs.
"COME ON MARINES"
with
Richard Arlen & Ida Lupino
A Scream of a Comedy
Starting Friday for 6 Days
"GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS"
with
RUDY VALLEE, ALICE FAY, JIMMY DURANTE
GEORGE WHITE
AND A HOST OF GIRLS

ARDMORE
A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11
Today
ROBERT MONTGOMERY in "THE MYSTERY OF MR. X"
Wed. & Thurs.
CLAUDETTE COLBERT
HERBERT MARSHALL
and MARY BOLAND in "Four Frightened People"
Friday
JAMES CAGNEY in "JIMMY THE GENT"
Saturday
VICTOR McLAGLEN and BORIS KARLOFF in "THE LOST PATROL"
Monday
EDMUND LOWE & VICTOR McLAGLEN in "NO MORE WOMEN"

Anthony Wayne Theatre
Today
MAY ROBSON, LEWIS STONE
in
"YOU CAN'T BUY EVERYTHING"
Wednesday & Thursday
SYLVIA SYDNEY & FREDRIC MARCH
in
"GOOD DAME"
Friday and Saturday
GEORGE RAFT
CAROLE LOMBARD and SALLY RAND
in
"BOLERO"
Monday
Spencer Tracy, John Boles, Pat Patterson & Thelma Todd in "BOTTOMS UP"

Seville Theatre
Today
Charles Ruggles, W. C. Fields, Allison Skipworth, Mary Boland, and Burns & Allen,
in
"SIX OF A KIND"
Wednesday and Thursday
JOHN BOLES & ROSEMARY AMES
in
"I BELIEVED IN YOU"
Friday and Saturday
WALTER HUSTON & FRANCES DEE
in
"KEEP 'EM ROLLING"
Monday
JOHN BARRYMORE
in
"THE LONG LOST FATHER"

Formal Nominations Opened Yesterday

Continued From Page One

Ralph Caprio, of the Science School; Charles Menapace, of the Business School were the nominees.

Candidates for the office of treasurer consisted of two Pre-Medical students and one Commerce and Finance student. Joseph Medoff and Edward Piszek are the Science nominees, and Louis Marechal the Business nominee.

Name Councilmen

The Senior Class is permitted an additional member on the student council. The nominees for this position were James Elliott, Business School; Joseph Dunnigan, Engineer; Martin J. Nichols, Science.

A group of qualifications have been set up concerning eligibility of candidates, and before these names are formally placed on the ballot the names will be subjected to a criticism as to scholastic standing.

Expect Balloting Soon

As yet no date has been set for the voting but an announcement from the chairman of the student council is expected in the near future setting the time and place of balloting.

William Grimberg, candidate for the office of president, is at present the treasurer of the Junior Class and captain-elect of football.

Honor Student Runs

Walter E. Alessandroni, another of the presidential nominees is also a former class officer. In the latest posting of honor students by the dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, Mr. Alessandroni ranked second in the Junior Class rating as well as in the entire school in honor points earned.

The engineers' candidate, Paetrus Banmiller, is present editor of the Villanova Engineer, student publication, and was chairman of the Junior Prom.

At one o'clock this afternoon the Sophomore Class will hold its nominations for Junior Class officers. The scene of the meeting will be the Amphitheatre in Mendel Hall.

Tomorrow at the same time the Freshman Class will conduct its meeting to select the nominees for next year's Sophomore Class.

Awards to Be Made Near End of Month

Continued From Page One

ous eliminations the men who really deserve the awards will receive them. This slashing of candidates who are endeavoring to attain this honor will stimulate the recipients of the honor.

The merit awards are given to those students who devote unselfishly a great part of their time to the furtherance of those activities which have rounded out so successfully student life at Villanova.

These awards are made to convey to those, who devote such a great deal of their time for the benefit of the school, that the college appreciates their loyalty.

New Path Being Made

A gravel path extending from the entrance adjacent to the bookroom, in Mendel Hall, to the outside entrance to the Pie Shoppe on the quadrangle is in the process of formation.

It is believed that the cause for this has been the neglect of the students to obey the signs posted there, with regard to keeping the campus beautiful by taking short cuts to class.

THE THREE-MINUTE MEN
Will March Tonight!

FALL in tonight at 8:30 P. M. (Standard Time) when the Three-Minute Men go marching home. They are the boys who telephone the Family. A three-minute Station to Station call to anywhere within 100 miles costs only 35 cents at night.

Fall in—enjoy a skirmish with the Home Folks! You can pack a whole week's news in a three-minute telephone chat. With the low Night Rates, it's a weekly custom for thousands of college men. Join this army of Three-Minute Men.

• • •

FOLLOW these EASY MARCHING ORDERS . . .

Telephone after 8:30 P. M. Standard Time (9:30 P. M. Daylight Saving Time).

The low Night Rates apply only on Station to Station calls—that is, on calls for a telephone, but not for a specific person.

Just give the Operator the number you want.

Charges may be reversed.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

'CAT TENNIS TEAM BEATS JUNIATA FOE

Varsity Squad Finally Gets Started After Seven Washouts

After seven consecutive delays due to rainy weather the Villanova tennis team finally got off to a good start. Handicapped by lack of practice the team journeyed to Huntingdon, Pa., and handed Juniata College a 4 to 3 setback. The match was played on Saturday afternoon.

The match scheduled for Friday with Bucknell at Lewisburg had to be cancelled.

Orcutt Wins

Captain Bill Orcutt, playing at number one for the Wildcats set an example for his team mates and turned in a 6-4, 6-4 win over Wenger, Juniata's first man.

Sam Miles in second position for the 'Cats earned the second point for the Blue and White when he downed John Settle in two sets. The score in this match was 6-4, 1-3.

Steve Kramer suffered a defeat in his opening struggle when he was downed by Jim Stewart. In the first set Kramer extended his opponent and several games were deuced many times but he dropped the set 8 to 6. The effort used up in the opening set proved too much for Kramer and he lost the set 6-2.

Malhame Victor

Ed Malhame earned Villanova's third point when he downed Ed Burkeholder in easy sets, 6-2, 6-4.

John Batcheler at number five for Juniata had little trouble beating Ralph De Uriarte. The scores were 6-1, 6-1.

Wenger and Settle teamed up in the doubles to down Orcutt and Miles, of Villanova, 8-6, 6-3.

Malhame and Kramer won the deciding set over Stewart and Burkeholder, 10-8, 6-2.

Juniata will come to Villanova Saturday for a return match.

Varsity Trackmen Beat Rider Squad

Continued From Page Five

champ at that distance took third place.

Despite his very recent hand injury, suffered in the Penn Carnival, Carl Hickey was very much in evidence at the meet last week. His was the winning leap in the broad jump and it was good for 21 feet 1 inch. It was by no means the ultimate of his powers but it was plenty good enough to win. The second and third places went to Villanova also as Dibernarden and Pieszech placed in that order.

Fenstemacher Wins 220

The 220-yard dash saw Fenstemacher's final sally against Rider College put to good use as he was home long before the rest in the good time of 23.3 seconds. Some ten yards in the rear, Hendricks, of Rider, had all he could do to keep ahead of Jim Walsh and it was only by a hair's breadth that he beat the latter for the second honors.

The honors in the shot put went to Ed Sullivan, the present intramural champ in that event, and the distance was 31 feet 11 inches. Villanova made a clean sweep in his event also as Wetzler and Blanchard took second and third places, respectively.

In the pole vault the 'Cats again monopolized the laurels with a tie for first place among Bill Grimberg, Burt and Mike Tomasso. The bar was up at nine feet when the last Rider representative dropped out.

Rider Wins Two-Mile

The two-mile run resulted in a literal marathon as all of the runners seemed in no particular hurry to get around the track. Jenkins, of Rider, finally decided to finish and as he got the idea first he received the honors for that position. His time was 11 minutes 43.8 seconds. Kane, a sophomore engineer, did the marathoning for Villanova and as it was his first stab at that distance he is to be excused. At any rate, he finished second and even at the pace he was running, he managed to pass the other man from Rider who finished some five minutes behind the winner.

Carroll Cook, better known on the gridiron or on the stage, won the contest with the iron platter with a toss of 106 feet 7 inches. Dibernardino received second honors and the third place went to Bill Sweeney. Another clean sweep for Villanova.

Kramer Wins 880

The 880-yard run got off to a good start with Dippie, of Rider, setting the pace. He held it for the first three quarters of the race with Jim Elliott and Kramer content to stay in the rear. However, with about 160 yards to go Elliott made his bid and flashed by the weakening runner from New Jersey. This seemed to be Kramer's cue for he too stepped by the visitor in a cloud of cinders and finished second to his teammate who stepped the distance in 2 minutes 8 seconds.

Carl Hickey secured his second triumph in the high jump. The best that the visitors were able to do wasn't even a good jump for a high school jumper, let alone a vaulter in college, so the event went to Hickey at 5 feet 4 inches.

The javelin throw went to Villanova in their last clean sweep of the day. Macek won the event with a toss of 154 feet 6 inches. Korchinski was second and Charley Cox loosened up the old glass arm and threw his way into third place.

Albright Downs 'Cat Baseballers

Continued From Page Five

due to the fact that the next two men fell on infield plays.

Albright fell in order in its turn, and so did Villanova. The Parsons put together another run in the last frame on Woods' single, a sacrifice, a passed ball, and a fielder's choice. The 'Cats went down in turn to end the game.

VILLANOVA

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Murphy, cf	3	0	2	1	0
Cavanaugh, ss	3	0	1	1	1
Lenzi, c	4	1	1	14	2
Mahan, 1b	4	0	1	4	1
Skaff, lf	4	0	1	1	1
Geraghty, 3b	4	0	1	1	1
Hurlburt, rf	4	0	1	0	0
Wronski, 2b	4	0	0	4	1
Vaughn, p	1	0	0	0	0
McGovern, p	1	1	0	0	1
Collins, p	1	0	0	1	0
xKrajka	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	3	8	27	9

ALBRIGHT

Player	ab	r	h	o	a
Woods, cf	4	1	2	1	1
Fittipadi, 2b	5	0	1	0	3
DeFranco, 3b	3	3	0	1	1
Hino, ss	3	1	0	2	1
Olisio, rf	5	1	3	2	0
Haldeman, 1b	3	0	1	12	0
Shipe, lf	4	0	1	2	0
Scholl, c	4	0	0	4	0
Wenrich, p	4	0	0	1	2
Totals	36	6	8	27	11

xKrajka batted for McGovern in the 7th.

Errors: Villanova—Lenzi 2, Geraghty, Hurlburt, Wronski; Albright—Scholl 2, Hino. Doubles—Murphy, Hurlburt. Stolen bases—Geraghty 2, Cavanaugh, Lenzi, DeFranco, Olisio. Left on bases—Villanova, 7; Albright, 8. Bases on balls—Wenrich, 1; Vaughn, 2; McGovern, 4. Hits—off Wenrich, 8; Vaughn, 4 in three innings. McGovern, 3 in four innings; Collins, 1 in two innings. Umpires—Burton and Dinsmore.

—they age good grapes to make rare wines

—and they do something like that to mellow good tobaccos

WHERE THE RARE WINES come from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of ageing in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME in the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden casks.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but it adds something to the taste and makes them milder.

Everything that modern Science really knows about is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Complete and Exclusive Alumni Section Featured on Page 7

Track Meet Tomorrow In the Stadium Villanova vs. LaSalle College

VILLANOVAN

Sophomores! Conscientious Elections Today Mean Successful Jr. Week Dining Hall, 12 to 1

Vol. 6—No. 27 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1934 Price: Five Cents

Alessandroni Elected Head of Class of '35

FRIENDLY RIVALS MEET AT POLLS TO ELECT SENIOR PRESIDENT

(Staff Photo—Clark)

The picture shows Walter E. Alessandroni, of Philadelphia, newly-elected president of the Senior Class and William H. Grimberg, of Williamsport, Pa., rival candidates for the position as they met at the polls in the college dining hall yesterday afternoon to cast their ballots. Left to right are Alessandroni, Grimberg, Harold Hurley, retiring chairman of the Student Council, and his successor, James Walsh.

GOLD ESSAY MEDAL TO BE AWARDED ON COMMENCEMENT DAY

Prize to Be Given for Best Original Paper Presented by Any Student

ENTRIES WILL BE JUDGED BY MEMBERS OF FACULTY

Assign Topics Which Concern Catholic Literature and Prominent Authors

The gold medal awarded annually for the best essay on a topic pertaining to Catholic literature, will be presented at the commencement exercises in June, in accordance with a custom established some years ago.

The practice during the last few years has been to give the award to the student submitting the best essay on a study of Catholic authors. There will be a slight change this year in that only one of the assigned topics pertains to that subject, the others dealing with Catholic literature and periodicals.

Has Good Purpose

The purpose of the contest is to create an interest in, and a knowledge of Catholic literature and authors and their place in the world's literary history. Many people are unaware of the contributions made by Catholic men and women in the field of literature.

Topics assigned for the contest are: "The Outstanding Modern Catholic Author," "Means and Methods for Advancing Catholic Litera-

Continued on Page Three

SOCIETY ADDRESSED BY WM. DOUGHERTY

Head of Holy Name Delivers Talk at Final Meeting of Organization

Through the efforts of Rev. Charles Melchior, O. S. A., William Dougherty, president of the Holy Name Society in the Philadelphia Arch-dioceses joined the reorganized society in their final Communion breakfast and meeting of the year.

Urges Active Service

Mr. Dougherty began his short talk by bringing out the vital importance of the Holy Name Society and by urging all the members to take part in all activities and business matter the society undertakes. He went on to say that the majority of the members of this organization today lacked a good education, and that the younger generation, especially those who have the opportunity of receiving a college education, should carry on the work and not exempt themselves from the tasks of this society.

In addition to this, Mr. Dougherty stated that the society, in the small space of time that it has been organized in the United States, has rendered invaluable service for the betterment of social conditions. The most outstanding accomplishment of the society in the past years has been their vigorous wars and clean-

Continued on Page Three

WALSH IS ELECTED COUNCIL CHAIRMAN

Harry Patzsch Vice-Chairman; Donahue Named Secretary in Close Elections

New leaders of the Student Council were placed in office Tuesday at 7 P. M. James Walsh, retiring secretary, fills the office of chairman. Harry Patzsch has been chosen to officiate as vice-chairman. The office of secretary has been conferred upon Thomas Donahue. Elections took place in 213 Mendel Hall.

Harold Hurley, basketball star, retires from the chairmanship. He had succeeded to this office from the office of vice-chairman through a vacancy.

Balloting Close

Any slight difference of opinion among the voters would have changed the corps of officers entirely. This fact is exemplified by the way in which the results almost coincided with each other. Much is expected of the Student Council as each of these three men going into office has had previous experience as leaders and co-operators.

Mr. Walsh was a member of the Student Council at Catholic High School, before coming to Villanova. He also starred as a football player at the high school and has done likewise at Villanova.

Has Enviable Record

Mr. Patzsch, of Cannonsburg, Pa., was constantly a leader at Cannonsburg High School. In that school he held the office of president of his class for two years. When a junior, Harry was captain of his football team. At Villanova he has been both a star performer on the gridiron and a member of the Student Council.

The new secretary, Mr. Donahue, graduated from Mahanoy City High School.

Junior's New Prexy Had Stormy Political Career

Walter E. Alessandroni, who yesterday was elected president of the incoming Senior Class, has had a stormy political career during his stay at Villanova.

In his freshman year he was nominated by his group for the office of president, but declined and accepted the nomination of secretary, to which he was summarily elected. He was again re-elected in his Sophomore year.

The new president has prominently identified himself with most of the school activities. Scholastically he has made an enviable record in the Business School where he has been among the honor students for the past three years. Last year he ran for the position of Junior Class president but was defeated in a close election.

Mr. Alessandroni is a day-hop hailing from Philadelphia. In that city, he attended the Overbrook High School, where he distinguished himself in scholastic and extra-curricular activities.

SENIORS ADDRESSED

One of Two Plans Offered to the Members of Graduating Class

Two propositions were set before the members of the Senior Class yesterday in a final endeavor to get them to establish the Class of 1934 Scholarship Fund.

Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, first addressed the group and outlined the two plans. He first suggested that the seniors contribute to the college the balances which they now have in the office of the bursar.

The second method is to have the members of the class take out an insurance policy making the college partial beneficiary. This plan was first suggested in the fall. Quite a number of the seniors have already subscribed to policies.

Edward Casey, '23, explained the details of the insurance plan. He was well pleased with the reaction of the students.

STUDENTS SELECTED IN SPEECH CONTEST

Two Members of Senior Class in Each School Named for Valedictory Address

The Valedictorian contest to select the student speaker to deliver the annual farewell address at the annual commencement exercises will be held within the next week, it has been announced by Prof. Joseph T. Jonas, faculty moderator in charge of the contest.

The dean of each school on the campus has selected two men on the basis of scholastic ability and student initiative. The men selected from each school are either members of student publications or have held important posts in campus functions.

The contest will consist of a five minute speech on any topic decided by each contestant. The ultimate winner will be judged by his oratorical ability and arrangement of speech material. The following men have been nominated by their respective deans to participate in the elimination contest: Victor Barr and Joseph Callahan, of the School of Technology; Raymond J. Harter and Charles P. Goggi, of the School of Commerce and Finance; William Ocelus and Frank Ditchey, of the School of Science and William Zeil and Joseph Lilly of the School of Arts.

The neutral judges will have no connection with the school.

A CORRECTION

Because of an error of omission, the name John J. Hoey, Sr., did not appear among the names of the patrons for the Junior Prom in last week's issue of the VILLANOVAN. It did appear, however, on the list of the Junior Class dance program.

ENTIRE NEW GROUP PICKED BY JUNIORS IN LARGE BALLOT

A. Ranieri Is Elected Vice President; Menapace Named Secretary

MARECHAL IS TREASURER; ELLIOTT, COUNCILMAN

Sophomore Elections Begin Today From 12 to 1 P. M. in College Refectory

In one of the closest and yet quietest elections seen here in years, Walter E. Alessandroni, once defeated at the polls for the office of presidency of the Class of 1935 during the past three years, was chosen to lead the group in the senion year over his only rival to the title, William H. Grimberg, captain-elect of next season's football team.

Both C. & F Men

Both are students in the School of Commerce and Finance. Grimberg makes his home in Williamsport, Pa., while his political rival is a Philadelphian. Polling was unusually heavy for the elections and shortly before 1 P. M. when the booths in Mendel Hall closed, Harold Hurley, retiring Student Council chairman, revealed to The VILLANOVAN that 90 per cent. of the classmen had filed their ballots.

The office of vice-president of the class went to Augustine Ranieri, member of the Science School, while the positions of secretary and

Continued on Page Three

VIRGIL M. CORTESE ORATORICAL VICTOR

Annual Contest Held Friday at Hotel Lorraine, in Phila.; Graduation Speaker

Virgil M. Cortese, a junior in the School of Arts, was adjudged the winner of the annual oratorical contest which was held last Friday night in the Lorraine Hotel, Broad street at Ridge avenue, in Philadelphia. Mr. Cortese will receive the Rev. Howard Grelis gold medal for oratorical excellence on Commencement Day, June 7.

The oratorical contest is open to any student who is enrolled in the public speaking course of the Junior Arts Class. The contestants are selected by Joseph T. Jonas, M. A., professor of oratory in the College of Arts.

Varied Topics Chosen

The topic used by Cortese for his oration was one of much importance, namely, "National Preparedness." The other contestants and their topics were: George Malhame, "The Machine Age"; Lawrence Goldschmidt, "Modern Civilization and Catholicism"; Francis Bigley, "The Fallacy of Group and Socialized Medicine," and Paetrus Banmiller, "The Birth of a New Deal."

William Zeil officiated as chairman while the judges were John J. Cahill, Edmund J. Fitzmaurice and James A. Dougherty.

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the

Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DUGSPH, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager

Associate College Editor: Edmond C. Malhame, '35
Associate Sports Editor: William J. Allen, '36

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — Ralph Violetti, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Flo Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Peter Faso, '36
Joseph Mele, '35 — Charles Bets, '37
John Lauriosnis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Frank Aifono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37
John Burke, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Post-office, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Schoiastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - - - MAY 15, 1934

NEW DEAL GRADUATES

IN LESS than a month four years of study will draw to a close for some 200 members of the Class of 1934. What will they derive from their investment of four years of time and almost $5000. Undoubtedly they are more fortunate than those who have graduated within the last four years. Statistics showed that only one out of every five of the country's college graduates in 1932 secured self-supporting jobs, while it was estimated that only one out of every eight would obtain employment in 1933. But the New Deal and the NRA have celebrated their first anniversary, and prospects are considerably brighter. The country seems to have definitely "turned the corner," and that business conditions have improved is admitted by even the worst pessimist. Of course every graduate will not step into the position for which he has prepared himself. That utopian state of affairs which existed before 1929 is still a long way off. But those who will not be fortunate enough to secure employment should not have the long period of discouraging waiting which has prevailed and which has had so devastating an effect upon the morale of some of the country's finest man-power. Whether the opportunity comes now or later, the members of the graduating class will find that their training has prepared them well for it.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

WITHIN a short time another school year will be brought to a close. Then that long-desired vacation period will again be with us. Have you made any plans for this joyous interval, when classroom cares will be forgotten? If so, of what nature are they? Are you one of the many who seek some form of employment with a financial remuneration? Then it behooves you, unless you are among the lucky few who have jobs awaiting them, to start making application for a position now. It would be well to attempt to find something in which the arts and skills of your future profession will be exercised. However, a job is a job, and there will be much valuable experience to be gained from it. To those unable to obtain a position, or whose financial standing frees them from this pursuit, we advise against wasting time. Devote at least a portion of each day to some worth while study. It would be an appropriate time to do all your outside readings for the coming year. It will save the juniors considerable time, effort, and perhaps worry if they start and complete their theses during the summer. It can be done in a leisurely manner, and will have a better chance of meeting with the approval of the faculty.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

OSCAR ZILCH, nee Francis Grow, called upon in Corporation Finance class to relate an anecdote given in the chapter, pleaded indulgence on the excuse of not remembering it. A merry twinkle in the prof's eyes preceded his request, for Oscar to, then, tell a joke of his own. Obligingly, Oscar complied with a funny one. When he had finished, instead of hearty roars of laughter there was only deriding silence. This was culpable to a bit of collusion resorted to by the class, whereby all agreed not to laugh, no matter how side-splitting the joke might be.

Which of the emotional reactions, as shame, confusion, offended modesty, hurt pride or any of the other causes of the blush it was that reddened Jo-Jo Weisenbaugh's face the other P. M. is for a psychiatrist, or Joe to say. All we know is that his face was flushed unduly. However, there are a few clues which, if you are detective enough, might follow through logically to a solution. The clues are: a girl friend, an unwelcome kiss and last, but important, a feminine but hard hand.

Why is it Peter Ball is so anxious to make the Villanovan and Hubert Gallagher so contented to stay clear of its pages? Answer this and you will have arrived at a closer understanding of that determinant which has caused wars to rage, 'either' to be called 'ither,' old junk to be sold at fabulous prices, one's best girl to pass as pretty and the Brooklyn Nat'l's to be known as a threat in their league. All is bound up in that much heard phrase 'difference of opinion.'

A fiendish deed perpetrated just a few days ago on the campus because of its sheer grossness leads one to believe it was unwittingly consummated. This diabolical act was, in short, a thorough wetting of two Rosemont College girls seated in the rumble-seat of a car, parked before Austin Hall. Out of bucket-shot, the distance leveling firehose was employed with most devastating results. In saying the deed was a miscarriage of intention, the meaning is that the water was intended only for the college students talking to the girls. If the culprit's aim had been true all would be fine and no damage done. Since it was not it has turned out to be a sorry mess. One for which Villanova apologizes — humbly.

The college pool has been forsaken these warm days for the sunny outdoor water retreats. Most popular of these is the Malvern pond, though many find the Earle estate and the Montgomery creek great spots to swim. A few cases of sunburn have been spotted, and while it is uncomfortable, has made of the victims nothing short of campus heroes.

The author of 'Over the Coals' is no longer anonymous to this columnist. So-o if he wants to avoid an internal revolution let him go easy.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

MISOGAMISTS at Alabama Women's College have formed an organization called "The United Old Maids of America," with an emblem consisting of a cat sitting in an old maid's lap, over which are the words: "We want better men." What is wrong with the handsome young southern gentlemen that roam those parts unharmed by these "manhaters" in Dixie?

• • •

Of all the "country club" courses that have crept into the various colleges we cite the following as outstanding: Temple U. offers credits for courses in etiquette; N. Y. U. gives a course in personality development; U. S. C. teaches "ancestor chasing" in a course called geneology. Ohio State has in its curriculum a course in how to wait on tables. Villanova has a course in "How to throw water from the second story of Mendel Hall."

• • •

On reading the Georgian Court College newspaper we are confronted with the name of Harold Keating, alias "Scoop." Now, we wonder what took him to that part of Jersey?

• • •

University of Georgia candidates for degrees in education will be given intensive psychological tests in an endeavor to compare them with similar students in other States and to determine the feasibility of instituting policies for excluding inferior candidates. This practice has been adopted elsewhere in the country with excellent results, according to J. C. Meadows, dean of the College of Education.

• • •

An excerpt from the Tower of Catholic U. states that Peru has the smallest Jewish population of any country in the world—about 300. Opportunity knocks but once, so why wait?

• • •

As usual, those movie czars are guilty of maljudgment. Irvine Warburton, University of Southern California's all-American grid star, has been rejected for a role in a football picture because he "doesn't look like a football player." Maybe he doesn't look like one but what right have they to say what kind of appearance a football player should make.

• • •

And then there's the professor who handed back the problems with the words, "Mae West," written on the bottom. Says he, "You done 'em wrong."

• • •

A senior at Washington State College has attended 14,055 classes in the past sixteen years and has not been absent or late once. That's a record many won't try to break.

• • •

At the first class after the holidays, a certain Iowa State College freshman asked his math professor for his exam paper. The professor replied, "I haven't it with me now but it will keep until the next class." "I doubt it," answered the freshman, "it was pretty rotten when I handed it in."

---- Dial-Log ----

THE Max Baer-Primo Carnera battle is receiving the utmost publicity via the radio. Max, the challenger, is heard in a dramatic series leading up to the climax of the big fight on June 14. Graham MacNamee, who has been the NBC eyes at every major prize-fight since 1923 will be at the ringside with a microphone. WEAF and WJZ will combine their networks on that day beginning at 10 P. M., E. D. S. T.

Lanny Ross, popular tenor on the Maxwell House program, will return to Hollywood for his second picture. Besides his Maxwell House hour on Thursday night, he will also be featured on the new Maria Creto's hour on Friday afternoons at 3 P. M. This program will be much the same as the Coffee Hour and will include most of the stars. The name of Ross' new picture will be "Her Master's Voice."

Credit the Columbia network for another find. Their latest discovery is a close harmony group known as the Peabody Brothers. We heard their initial broadcast last Wednesday and can be counted as one of the audience any time they are on the air. Their signature is also worthy of favorable comment.

With the large number of orchestras heard over the eastern networks we began to believe that the radio had picked out all the best dance bands, but after hearing Sammy Liner and his Orchestra from Boston, we feel that the "big boys" have missed out. His band can be compared with the best of the lot with a wide range of instruments and clever arrangements. WBZ-WBZA, the New England Westinghouse stations carry his swell music.

The Hour of Smiles, under the direction of Fred Allen has added another group to its long list of stars. The latest addition is the Marshall Bartholomew singers, a group of eighteen professional vocalists. This is another program which has added the glee club effects originally featured by Fred Waring.

We have long advocated that the radio networks should get together and arrange their programs so that three or four stars of the same type would not all be on the air at the same time. Thursday evening is a typical example of the congestion. Eddie Duchin, Waring's Pennsylvanians and the Showboat Hour are all on the air over the three big networks at the same time. Glen Gray bucks similar competition. Some kind of a prize should be awarded to the individual who could solve this puzzle for the networks and the commercial sponsors.

The Harlem Serenade, featuring Claude Hopkins goes off the air after today when the colored maestro takes his band on tour.

As We See It

AVE MARIA!

HUNDREDS of years ago there was a humble, care-worn man, no longer young, who plighted his troth to a sweetly beautiful maiden and was aware in the plighting that the maiden brought to him a wondrous nearness of God. And the maiden became a mother, but yet remained a maiden. Her Babe grew to manhood and wrought the most stupendous deeds ever recorded in the annals of man. He perished in an abyss of agony to open the floodgates of Heaven and suffuse this world with the sweetness of salvation's grace. For He was God.

But the maiden lived on, and a sturdy and saintly young man guarded her as the jewel-case of God. And he lavished on her all his love and homage and cherished her as his mother. And so she was. For her Son had made Himself brother to mankind and she became the mother of all men.

And then she died, and her innocent soul fled to its place in the heights of Heaven. But God took also her body into that blessed state lest the polluting breath of earthly corruption defile His temple inviolate. For she is the jewel-case of God, and in her are all virtues.

The stream of time flowed past generations of men, and men of all the generations laid their treasures at her feet.

In time there came a shy, awkward, graceless little man whose mind was a fount of exquisite harmonies which filled his soul with the sad sweetness of music. And from the fount of tonal beauty within him he drew a flawless crystal drop and made of it a priceless jewel of art. And with it he saluted the maiden who is a mother.

When an infidel horde rolled itself into a human tidal wave which threatened the world, a young and gallant knight laid his sword at his Lady's service and pitted his young strength against the forces of hell. And the victory he placed in the hands of his Lady. For she was God's mother and his.

There was born an artist whose skill was such that men wondered that a mortal hand could so endow canvas with life. By the magic of his genius he portrayed on a humble barrel-head the most beautiful countenance ever seen by human eyes. The heavenly beauty of the picture could have had but one true inspiration. For he named it "Madonna."

There came in time a man of gigantic intellect. And thinkers of his age hailed him as the champion of truth. He thought profoundly and reasoned deeply, and left to men deep wells of thought in many books. But the great mind and the brilliant pen were possessed by a simple and saintly man. For he wrote mostly of the glories of the maiden and mother.

And now in our generation the maiden still inspires and the mother is still cherished. Youth places its hopes and ambitions before the throne of its mother and age brings its disappointments and heartaches to her for comfort. The Mystical Rose retains her pristine beauty and from her comes the perennial freshness of the odour of heavenly benediction.

Youth cannot be vanquished if it but fight for the accolade of her approval. Age cannot despair if it but raise its eyes from earthly darkness to the light of her smile.

And time flows past, but the maid who is become the mother of all men lovingly clings to her task of comforting, consoling and protecting her charges. And as down through the ages the same cry of praise and thanksgiving dropped from the lips of countless human beings, so today it ascends to Heaven in like volume: Ave Maria!

PRESS APOSTOLATE HAS NOMINATIONS

Geo. Malhame Only Selection for President; Arthur and Grow for Vice-Pres.

Last Tuesday evening, immediately after chapel service, the nomination of the Catholic Press Apostolate officers was enacted.

Those nominated were: President, George Malhame; vice-president, Joseph Arthur and Francis Grow. Francis Grow and Benedict Maloney were nominated for secretary.

Officers of this year were: William F. Zeil, president; Frank Estrada, vice-president; Francis R. Grow, secretary.

The purpose of this society is to encrage among Villanova students the reading of current Catholic literature, by undertaking the weekly distribution of current Catholic newspapers and periodicals, maintaining an appropriate location for a clipping board with items of Catholic interest taken from current papers.

All seniors, juniors and sophomores who are interested in the work of the Apostolate are eligible for active membership. Freshmen are eligible for membership after they have satisfactorily fulfilled a period of probation in distributing Catholic periodicals during one semester. The membership of the Apostolate is limited to only fifty students.

At the meetings pamphlets were distributed among which was "A Promise in the Fulfillment," "Why Not Hear Mass Everyday," and "What Riches in a Single Communion." Three hundred and eighty-two pamphlets were passed among the students.

New York Villanova Club Invites Seniors to Join

May 14, 1934.

The Class of 1934,
Villanova College,
Villanova, Pa.

Gentlemen:

On behalf of the Villanova Club of New York, I want to congratulate you upon the successful completion of your work at Villanova.

Many of you will make your residence in the Metropolitan area after June, and to you men we extend an invitation to associate yourselves with our New York Alumni organization. As you undoubtedly know, Villanova men in and about New York have maintained friendly contacts with one another through the facilities of this club for over twenty years.

Meetings are held on the first Wednesday of each month, excepting July, August and September, at the Center Club, 120 Central Park South. Dinner for those who come to dine at the club is served at 6.30 P. M. We have an average group of fifteen men at dinner preceding each meeting. The regular meeting convenes promptly at 8 P. M. A special feature of general interest occupies the first hour.

Since January the club has been addressed by the following: W. A. Probst, Advertising Manager, Cunard Line; Captain John H. Ayres, Commander of Missing Persons Bureau, New York Police Department; J. T. Thomas, Traffic Manager, American Airways; John A. Freney, President, Villanova National Alumni Association; Albert C. Wagner, Alumni Secretary, Villanova College.

The business meeting follows for the next thirty minutes and at 9.30 the men adjourn to the bowling alleys and the tap room for continued good-fellowship.

Each year a Spring Dance is held. This year it will be held on May 29th, at the Center Club, which marks the close of club activities for the first half of the year. An annual Villanova Alumni Dinner is planned for November.

You are cordially invited to join us and I earnestly hope our October 3rd meeting will find you on hand. You may rest assured of a welcome in the true Villanova manner.

The Villanova Club of New York wishes you every success.

J. J. McDEVITT, JR.,
President.

P. S.—You will meet an average of fifty Villanovans at each meeting.

Students From School of Commerce Predominate Newly-Elected Slate

Continued From Page One

treasurer for next year will be filled by Charles Menapace and Louis P. Marechal, respectively. Both are students in the School of Commerce and Finance.

Another student in the Business School, James Elliott, will represent next year's seniors on the student council.

Sophomores to Vote

Tomorrow at noon, balloting for the election of next year's Junior Class officers will be conducted under the supervision of the Student Council in the rear of the college dining hall.

Nominations for the 1934-35 scholastic year in the Junior Class were conducted by Mr. Hurley last Tuesday afternoon.

Candidates Chosen

The candidates for junior president include Robert McGrory and William Sweeney, of the School of Commerce and Finance; Charles Miller and Lawrence Shea, of the Science School; William Vaughan of the School of Technology.

The vice-presidential nominees are Thomas Kucker, of the School of Arts; Gabriel Martyak, of the School of Science, and John Conroy, Joseph Carroll and John Doherty, of the School of Commerce and Finance.

Seek Treasurership

Four names were suggested for the office of the class secretary. They are Arthur Mahan, of the College of Arts; Milan Vidnovic, of the Business School; John McBrearty, of the School of Technology; Arthur Welsh, of the Pre-Med School.

The following were nominated for treasurer of the next Junior Class: Nicholas Kotys, of the Business group; Raymond McGunnigle and Louis Cuyar, of the Arts group, and Lawrence Shevland and William Keffner, of the School of Technology.

The junior class is permitted three members on the Student Council. The nominees for these positions are: James Downs, John McGrath, of the School of Commerce and Finance; Raphael Alvarez and Leo Mooney, of the College of Arts; Carl Maier, John Delehanty, Robert Fitzgerald and Samuel Walley, of the School of Science; Charles Kain, Joseph Malcolm, William Monroe and Stephen Miller, of the School of Technology.

No Frosh Elections

The freshman class will not hold nominations for their sophomore officers of next year. Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college has stated that because of a precedent here the men who hold freshmen offices automatically retain their respective positions until the close of the sophomore year.

Blanchard Heads Club

Donald Blanchard, varsity football player, was elected president of the Varsity Club for the ensuing year at the club's election yesterday.

The office of vice-president fell to the lot of Jimmy Murphy, varsity baseball player, who was elected to support Blanchard. Jim Elliott, track and golf star, was installed as secretary and treasurer of the organization.

Society Addressed By Wm. Dougherty

Continued From Page One

up of immoral and degrading moving pictures.

In conclusion, Mr. Dougherty sincerely asked the members to continue their work with the society and to not only be active at college but to also work with the organization in later years and spread the word of God.

Election of Officers

Joseph Bastian, retiring president, then called on Rev. Joseph Dougherty, O. S. A., to address the group. Rev. Charles Melchior, O. S. A., and Rev. Howard A. Grelis, O. S. A., also gave short talks to the members.

Immediately after the breakfast, Mr. Bastian called a meeting in the amphitheatre in Mendel Hall for the purpose of electing officers. Charles Theide, a member of the junior class was elected president of the society. Charles Miller, a sophomore, succeeded John Hughes as vice-president. Robert McGrory was elected treasurer and Edward Kelly was elected secretary.

Gold Essay Medal Will Be Awarded

Continued From Page One

ture" and "Advantages of Catholic Periodicals to the Home."

Rules governing the contest are: The judges of the contest shall be members of the faculty; the subjects for the essay may not be used in fulfillment of any class obligation; the manuscript must be clearly written or typewritten on only one side of a page, and must not exceed one thousand (1,000 words) in length; the manuscript proper must be unsigned but must be accompanied by the name and class of the student in a SEALED ENVELOPE. Both manuscript and sealed envelope must be securely clipped together, or enclosed in a second envelope; the manuscript must be handed in at the office of the Director of Studies, not later than Thursday, May 31.

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired
It is not how cheap, but how good
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
All new styles now available!
Agents: Dick Morrissey, '34 Ed Lahey, '36

Meet your friends at
The Bryn Mawr Confectionery
(Next to Seville Theatre)
Delicious Refreshments
Tasty Sandwiches
Lunches-Dinners-Platters
Expertly Cooked
Reasonably Priced
Music Free Dancing

Tower Theatre
69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.
Today, Wed. and Thurs.
RICHARD ARLEN and SALLY EILERS
in
"SHE MADE HER BED"
Fri., Sat. and Mon.
FREDRIC MARCH
in
"DEATH TAKES A HOLIDAY"
with
Evelyn Venable

ARDMORE
A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11
Today
"NO MORE WOMEN"
with
Edmund Lowe, Victor McLaglen
Wed. and Thurs.
"GAMBLING LADY"
with
Barbara Stanwyck, Joel McCrea
Friday
"AS THE EARTH TURNS"
with
Jean Muir
Saturday
"COME ON MARINES"
with
Richard Arlen, Ida Lupino
Monday
"MAN OF TWO WORLDS"
with
Elissa Landi, Francis Lederer

Anthony Wayne Theatre
Today
"BOTTOMS UP"
with
John Boles, Pat Patterson, Thelma Todd & Spencer Tracy
Wed. and Thurs.
"WONDER BAR"
with
Al Jolson, Kay Francis, Ricardo Cortez and Dolores Del Rio
Fri. and Sat.
"MYSTERY OF MR. X"
with
Robert Montgomery and Elizabeth Allen
Monday
"LOST PATROL"
with
Victor McLaglen, Boris Karloff and Reginald Denny

Seville Theatre
Today
"LONG LOST FATHER"
with
John Barrymore, Helen Chandler
Wed., Thurs. and Fri.
"BOTTOMS UP"
with
John Boles, Pat Patterson, Thelma Todd, Spencer Tracy
Saturday
"MURDER IN TRINIDAD"
with
Victor Jory, Heather Angel
Monday
"GEORGE WHITE'S SCANDALS"
with
Rudy Vallee, Alice Faye, Jimmie Durante, Cliff Edwards

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO.
Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Established 1832
1218-20-22 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia
DESIGNERS AND MAKERS
of the
1935 VILLANOVA COLLEGE CLASS RING
Also the Villanova Miniature Ring

E. Cadwalader, Inc.
Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies
6047 Market Street
Philadelphia
Phone Sherwood 1423

IT COSTS BUT LITTLE
To Telephone Home!

MOST pleasures cost money—some too much. No wonder home folks say "go easy" to sons at college.

But you'll never (well—hardly ever) hear that warning when you telephone home. For Father and Mother the pleasure of hearing your voice far outweighs the trifling cost.

After 8:30 P. M. (if you use Station to Station Service) you can telephone a hundred miles for 35 cents. What greater pleasure can such a small sum buy? A "voice visit" home is next best to being there!

• • •

PARENTS ENDORSE these SUGGESTIONS . . .

Keep a regular telephone date with Home. Then you can count on the family being there when you call.

Set the "date" for after 8:30 P. M. to take advantage of the low Night Rates on Station to Station calls.

Just give the Operator your home telephone number.

Charges may be reversed.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

COLLEGE OFFICIAL IN LECTURE SERIES

Vice President Continues on Tour of Cities to Give Several Addresses

Last week Rev. B. M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, was invited to deliver the main discourse at the Catholic District High School at Pittsburgh, and on the following day at the Altoona Catholic High School of Altoona.

In conjunction with the addresses, moving pictures of life at Villanova were also shown. The pictures were those taken on the campus and in the class rooms by Prof. A. A. Kunzenbacher.

Further arrangements are being made to have Fr. Albers speak at other places including Bethlehem, Allentown, Hazleton, in Pennsylvania, and Rochester, Albany and Troy in New York.

The advantages of a Catholic education, and the spiritual, mental, and physical benefits offered by Villanova were explained by Fr. Albers, when he addressed the students of the Salesianum High School in Wilmington, Del., last Friday.

Although plans are not yet complete, the series of addresses will probably be given during the current month. Fr. Albers hopes that through his speeches and the moving pictures that will be shown, the students of these high schools will acquire an insight on the nature of college life.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS FINISH SENIOR THESES

Final Papers Terminate Four Years of Hard Work; Many Topics Chosen

After four years of hard work the senior mechanical engineers have completed their respective theses. The seven men who have experimented with machines and other apparatus have had their papers accepted by the dean.

A. H. Lewis wrote a theses entitled, "A Study of Fuel Injection for Diesel Engines and the Design of a Fuel Injection System for a 700 H. P. High-Speed Diesel." Victor Barr experimented with the "Design of a 100 H. P. Vee Type Automobile Engine. John Anderton wrote on "The Design of a Fractionation Tower."

STAFF KEYS AWARDED

First Time Members of Engineering Publication Get Special Honor

The final meeting of the staff members of the Villanova Engineer, official organ of the School of Technology, took place last Friday, May 11 at 1 P. M., in Room 106, Mendel Hall.

The meeting marked an innovation in that it was the first time in the history of the publication that Engineer Keys were given to retiring staff members who have done meritorious work on this technical magazine. The men who received keys are, C. Eric Storms, William Hines, Frank J. Estrada, Samuel J. Capo, Joseph Maier and John Ukleja, all of whom are seniors.

In his words of farewell, Rev. John J. Vrana, O. S. A., moderator of the Villanova Engineer, congratulated the staff for the excellent work done in the past in raising the calibre of the publication to one of the best in the country. He also congratulated Paetrus F. Bannister, editor-in-chief, the printer, Joseph Donnelly, of the Wayne Suburban Publication, and Raymond J. McKeon, head of the publicity department for their untiring effort and support.

The final issue of the Villanova Engineer will make its appearance May 29.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

Today
Lambda Kappa Delta meeting, 210 Mendel Hall ..... 1.00 P. M.
VILLANOVAN staff meeting, 75 Mendel Hall ..... 1.00 P. M.
Wednesday
LaSalle track meet, stadium ..... 3.00 P. M.
Thursday
A. S. M. E. meeting, Amphitheatre, Mendel Hall ..... 1.00 P. M.
North Jersey Club meeting, 106 Mendel Hall ..... 7.00 P. M.
Friday
Lehigh baseball game, Villanova diamond ..... 3.00 P. M.
Ursinus tennis match, Villanova courts ..... 2.30 P. M.
Saturday
Bucknell tennis match, Villanova courts ..... 2.30 P. M.
Sunday
Temple tennis match, Villanova courts ..... 2.00 P. M.
Monday
Phi Kappa Pi meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 1.00 P. M.
Literary Society joint meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8.15 P. M.

NEW LAUNDRY REQUESTS YOUR PATRONAGE

•

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

•

NEW LAUNDRY

VILLANOVA COLLEGE

Here's why-Luckies do not dry out

why-Luckies are All-Ways kind to your throat

The difference between cigarettes is the difference between what goes into them and how they are put together.

Luckies use only the clean, center leaves, for these are the mildest leaves—they taste better. That's why farmers are paid higher prices for them. And Luckies get the benefit of the famous process—"It's toasted"—for your throat protection.

And every Lucky is round, firm and fully packed. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—that's why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker.

Yes, Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves They Taste Better

Copyright, 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

DURING the past week three Villanova teams engaged in athletic competition with the West Chester Teachers College. The baseball and tennis teams did what the student body expected of them, that is, they were victorious. The track team was defeated and immediately the student body condemned them for losing to a teachers college. Two weeks ago the golf team was beaten by the New Jersey Teachers. They, too, were condemned for losing to a teachers college.

To the average student, an athletic contest with a teachers college is considered as a mere warm-up game, and a victory over one of these institutions is to be expected. No credit is given to the team that records a victory over the teachers, no matter which teachers college it may be.

This article is not meant to be an alibi for the defeats which Villanova teams have taken from the teachers colleges, nor is it to be taken as a call-down to anyone in particular, but we merely hope to convey the fact that teachers schools can produce strong teams because they do not have the rules governing athletic competition that Villanova or other colleges have.

The teachers schools do not have a reputation for strong teams because in most cases their stars are individuals and not teams. If a school is trying to build up prestige in athletics it should not schedule these schools because no credit is given for a victory and a defeat puts the regular college team in a bad light.

Athletic relations between Villanova and West Chester are of the best and, without a doubt, these two teams will have many more meetings, but the student body should realize that the Teachers should not be considered as a "set-up." Many of their athletes are much more experienced than are our own, and especially on teams where individual performance counts most, as in track, tennis and golf, the teachers colleges can compete with teams in any class.

—V—

NOW THAT the tennis team is under way it looks as though they are determined to hang up the best sports record of the spring season. Captain Bill Orcutt, ably aided by Sam Miles, is getting the most out of his men, and with the improvement in the weather and the tennis courts, enabling more practice, we watch for a corresponding improvement in tennis performances.

Likewise, the golfers are piling up more wins on their ledger. Osteopathy, who has one of the best teams in the Philadelphia area, fell before their onslaught on the Main Line Open course last week. Their other meeting was their return engagement with the Owls. The 'Cats had already previously defeated the Temple foursome, sweeping all the points. The second fray took place at the Manufacturers' Country Club course in Oreland, Pa.

Speaking of golf reminds us that the varsity manager is looking for an assistant. Any sophomore or freshman who would like to try out for the position should apply to yours truly on Friday afternoon at 1 P. M. in the VILLANOVAN office.

—V—

IN OUR last issue we published a standing to date of the points earned by the teams competing in the intra-mural league. Through some slip on the part of the intramural committee there were several mistakes. The box which we have included in this issue is the corrected standing of the five teams in the mural league.

This is one of the closest intramural races since the inception of this sports league on the campus. It is hoped that when the students realize the opportunity that their hall has in winning the title they will put additional effort in their team's performance in both the hardball and softball leagues.

With the intra-mural tennis and the two baseball leagues still to be completed, there remains an opportunity for any group to come out ahead. The announcement of the tennis tourney will be posted in the near future.

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING

Tuesday, May 15, 1934 Page Five

BASEBALLERS DOWN TEACHERS

WILDCAT TRACKMEN LOSE TO TEACHERS IN STADIUM MEET

West Chester Captures First Places in Every Field Event

JOE FENSTEMACHER STARS

Jim Elliott Is Also Double Winner, Taking 440 and Half-Mile Run

Villanova's track team was defeated by West Chester Teachers College at the stadium last Wednesday. The honors go to the Teachers, for, with the victory they have climaxed the series with three wins out of five meets. The Purple and Gold athletes tabulated 73 points against 53 for Villanova.

Villanova, as usual, showed its superiority in the running events, capturing four of the six, but failed in the field numbers. The Tutors from West Chester captured all the first places in the field events.

Win Two Events Each

Again Captain Joe Fenstemacher and Jim Elliott continued their pace as point-getters by capturing two events apiece. Fenstemacher garnered his victories in the sprints. In running the 100-yard dash, the Villanova captain equalled the existing meet record. The time was 10 seconds flat. He was clocked in 23 seconds flat for the 220-yard sprint. Incidentally, the 220 was the only event of the meet that the Villanova athletes were able to make all their own.

Walsh and Pisczek aided in this feat, finishing in the order given. Walsh, prior to the running of the 220, had pressed the Villanova captain in the 100-yard dash, finishing directly behind him. Elliott romped off with the 440-yard, winning as he pleased from a teammate, Alex Kramer, in 52 seconds. In the 880-yard Elliott again ran at leisure, finishing ahead of Earl Fuoss, a West Chester contestant, and Alex Kramer. The time in this event was 2 minutes 2.2 seconds.

Injury Hinders Hickey

The Teachers' only double winner was John Geib, a sophomore. His points came as a result of his victories in the 160 low hurdles and the 120 high hurdles.

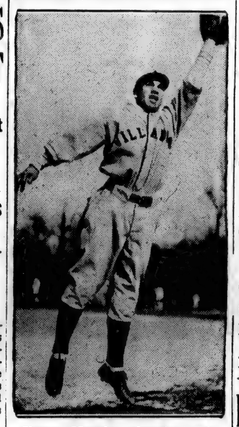
Carl Hickey's broken hand hindered the Villanova ace from continuing his consistent performance, which would possibly have been a great aid to the team. His efforts, however, were rewarded with a second position in the broad jump event, and a tie for third place in the pole vault, along with two other teammates, Burt and Tomasso.

Field Events Down 'Cats

At the offset the Villanova team could forsee a hard-fought affair. The West Chester outfit were placing in all events and with the work of Geib they were holding their own. Then came the fateful field events and the meet was fast drawing to a close with the West Chester contingent also drawing away. They took all three places in the two-mile run and the discuss throw, and garnered eight of the nine points in the low hurdles and the pole vault.

'Cat representatives who did their part by getting points, other than the aforementioned were: Shelley and McFadden, in the high jump; Korchinski, Macek and De Berardino in the javelin throw, and Sullivan, who placed third in the shot put.

Swings Potent Bat



Jimmy Murphy, slugging outfielder of the Wildcat nine, who hit a homer in the game against the West Chester Teacher team last Wednesday. He also garnered two other hits for a total of three in four trips to the plate.

VARSITY TEAMS IN BUSY WEEK

Ten Contests Listed With Baseball, Golf, Tennis and Track Active

A heavy sports schedule faces Villanova this week with two baseball games, two track meets, two golf matches, and four tennis matches. The often postponed baseball game with Temple will be played Wednesday at Temple. Friday the baseballers meet Lehigh here, and next week they meet Ursinus at Ursinus and Drexel home.

Tennis and Golf

The golfers hope to continue their winning streak when they play New Jersey Teachers Wednesday on the Main Line open course at St. Davids and West Chester Teachers on the same course on Friday. These and another game with West Chester at some future date will end the season.

The tennis team has four games on their schedule for this week. They play Albright at Reading, Ursinus, Friday at home. Saturday they engage Bucknell at home and Sunday they meet Temple here.

Temple Track Meet

The track team competes with La Salle here Wednesday and Temple at Temple, Saturday. The Cherry and White has one of its strongest teams in years and is expected to give Villanova its stiffest opposition.

The intra-mural baseball schedule ends this week with two games which will have no effect on the team standings. The intra-mural soft ball league continues with six games. The Day Hops play a double header Wednesday against Austin and Fedigan. Monday Alumni plays Austin and Fedigan meets Mendel. Friday Mendel plays Austin and Fedigan plays Alumni.

Tennis Tournaments Off

No dates have been set for the playing of the intra-mural and the Phi Kappa Pi tennis tournament as yet.

With the approach of the end of the school year and the examination weeks it is highly probable that both of these tournaments will not be held. One or the other may be soon scheduled by the athletic committee.

Jim Murphy Hits Homer; Aiding in 10-5 Victory

Tom Collins Turns in Second Win Over West Chester in Contest Played on Teachers' Field

SKAFF POUNDS OUT THIRD HOME RUN

THE VILLANOVA Wildcats cornered their fifth win of the season when they defeated the West Chester State Teachers for the second time this year. The final score was 10 to 5.

Tom Collins, who had pitched a shutout victory over the Teachers two weeks ago, again faced them. He held them scoreless until the fifth inning, and he now leads the 'Cats' pitchers for consecutive scoreless innings, with a run of 13.

Murphy and Lenzi led the Villanova batsmen with three hits out of four trips each to the plate.

Murphy Hits Homer

Murphy, first man up for the Main Liners in the opening frame, hit a home run to the drop field in right to give Villanova an immediate lead over their opponents. It was, incidentally, his first round-tripper of the season.

Cavanaugh followed this with a double, but was stranded on the bases when the next three men fell on infield flies. The Teachers fell in order.

The 'Cats scored again in the second when Wronski, with one down, hit a clean single to right center. He stole second and went to third on a passed ball. On the next pitch, Springer had another passed ball, and Stan scored without any difficulty.

Collins, keeping up his reputation as the hard-hitting pitcher of the team, connected for a long double. Murphy followed with another double and Collins crossed the plate. Cavanaugh skied out to deep short to end the inning.

Manno walked and went to second on Forbes' single. Wilson topped one to Collins who threw to third for a force out. Forbes reached second on a fielder's choice, but Donharl was thrown out at first by Cavanaugh.

For the third successive inning Villanova tallied more runs. Lenzi led off with a single, and was followed by Mahan's single. Frank Skaff drove a long single to center that scored two runs ahead of him. He was thrown out at the plate later on in the inning.

Messikomer, lead-off man for the Teachers, reached first base by virtue of a pass, with one down. He advanced to third on an error and a fielder's choice, but failed to score.

Five Runs in Fourth

Villanova's big inning arrived in the fourth when they put a home run, three doubles, and an error together to score five runs with only four hits.

Collins was hit by a pitched ball, and Murphy laid down a good sacrifice bunt. Cavanaugh doubled to score the first run, and Barnes, the Teachers' pitcher, was withdrawn in favor of De Hoff. The latter had faced the Main Liners in their former game, and had been defeated easily.

Lenzi greeted him with another double and Cavanaugh crossed the platter. Mahan slammed out a double and Lenzi crossed with the third run of the inning. And to cap the already large scoring spree, Frank Skaff banged out a home run to score Art Mahan ahead of him. The next two batters went down on infield plays.

Although Wilson and Donharl connected for singles in the last half of the fourth, the Teachers failed to score. The only noteworthy point in the 'Cats half of the

Continued on Page Six

FROSH BASEBALLERS DOWN TAYLOR TEAM

Frank Sweeney on the Mound as Kittens Gain First Win of Year

The Villanova Kittens defeated the Taylor Commercial team in a game played at Villanova last Friday afternoon by the score of 4-3. The quality of their team play was a marked improvement over that exhibited by them in their first game of the season. This betterment is so marked that they should develop a perfectly co-ordinated team by the close of their all-too-brief season.

Although Frank Sweeney was nicked for twelve safeties, the good fielding support given him by his teammates averted a loss on several occasions.

Close Game

During the eighth inning, Villanova was ahead by the narrow margin of only one run. Taylor, in their turn, filled the bases with none out. Almost anything meant a run, and a good single was enough to turn the tide of the game.

Germack, at this close moment, caught Holman napping off third base, and after one more pitched ball Sweeney threw to Schoppmeyer and caught Meth sleeping on second. Armbruster fanned to end the inning without a score.

Villanova

	ab	r	h	o	a
McCabe, 3b.	4	0	0	2	0
Morin, cf.	3	1	2	1	0
Carlton, cf.	1	0	0	0	0
Schoppmeyer, ss.	4	0	2	3	5
Germack, c.	4	0	0	13	2
Cavaliere, 1b.	3	2	1	3	0
Wallmeyer, lf.	2	0	0	1	0
Murphy, 2b.	3	1	1	1	0
Mulligan, rf.	2	0	0	1	0
Liscio, rf.	1	0	0	0	0
Sweeney, p.	3	0	0	0	3
Totals	30	4	6	27	10

Taylor

	ab	r	h	o	a
Henry, 2b.	5	0	4	2	1
Armbruster, cf.	4	0	1	3	0
McGlinchey, 3b.	5	1	1	1	3
Murphy, 1b.	5	0	0	7	1
Lewin, ss.	5	1	2	0	2
Laughead, lf.	3	1	2	0	0
Ward, rf.	3	0	0	0	0
Bootiller, rf.	1	0	0	1	0
Holman, p.	4	0	1	0	2
Meth, c.	4	0	1	10	1
Totals	39	3	12	24	10

Villanova Tennis Team Wins Four Straight

Netmen Beat West Chester, Juniata and Drexel Foes

Steve Kramer and Ed Malhame Are Unbeaten in Both Singles and Doubles Aiding Wildcats in Spring Campaign

'CATS PLAY 4 MATCHES THIS WEEK

The Villanova "racqueteers" swept a clean bill in their three tennis engagements during the past week. The conquered opponents were West Chester, 5 to 4, Drexel 5 3, and Juniata, 6-1.

In the West Chester game, both teams played close, hard tennis, and up until the last match of the day, were tied at four all. Kramer and Malhame won their doubles match over Renshaw and Herkner, 6-1, 7-5.

Defeat West Chester

In the singles for this engagement, Orcutt defeated Ostroff in the two best out of three. Miles beat Earle in straight sets and Kramer defeated Herkner in two overtime sets, 9-7, 7-5. Malhame bested Anderson, Groff bested DeUriarte, and Baldwin won over Redington, each in straight sets.

Earle and Ostroff defeated Orcutt and Miles in the other doubles.

Drexel Contest

The Drexel contest was made more intense because of the high wind and dark skies. The velocity of the wind prevented accurate stroking of the ball and caused quite a few unusual shots. The last match of the day, a doubles set, was called off, after both sides had won one set each, because of the steadily increasing rain.

Shaefer and Atchinson defeated Orcutt and Miles, respectively, in straight sets in the first two singles matches. Kramer and Malhame defeated Anderson and Tufts, respectively, in straight sets in the third and fourth singles matches.

In the fifth singles set, Lawrence defeated Redington, 6-0, 6-2, and in the sixth, Estrada bested Rice, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

Orcutt and Miles won their doubles match in straight sets, and Malhame and Kramer duplicated the feat. The third doubles, as previously mentioned, was called after two sets had been played to evens.

Juniata Match

Over a week ago, Villanova journeyed to Huntingdon to meet the Juniata players and barely won out by the score of 4-3. In the return game, played last Saturday, the Main Liners had no difficulty in gaining a victory. The final tally was 6-1.

In the first singles match, captain Bill Orcutt won out over Wegener, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2. Miles defeated Settle in straight sets, 6-0, 6-4. Kramer bested Stewart, 6-3, 6-2. In the fourth singles match of the afternoon, Malhame won out over Burkeholder, 6-3, 6-0, and Batchelor beat Estrada, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2, to give Juniata their only point of the afternoon.

Win Doubles Easily

In the doubles matches, Orcutt and Miles beat Stewart and Settle, 6-4, 7-5, and Kramer and Malhame defeated Wegener and Burkeholder, 6-3, 6-2.

The Juniata victory was Villanova's fourth consecutive win of the current season. Their next games are with Albright at Reading, and then Ursinus, Bucknell and Temple, respectively, at home on the three days of the coming week-end.

In the Limelight

IN this day and age at Villanova it isn't often that a junior is elected to the captaincy of a team. Sam Miles is one of the few who have received this distinction, but then, he's a different sort of fellow. He was well worthy of the honor, because he's a swell tennis player and a capable leader.

Sam is free, white and twenty-three. He has a long record of tennis exploits behind him, as he is the twenty-sixth ranking player in Philadelphia. He entered West Catholic High in 1927 and captained the frosh team, leading them to four victories. In his succeeding high school years, he was awarded three tennis letters. As a forerunner of his Villanova career, he was appointed captain of the tennis team. In his four years of play, he was defeated only once. After his graduation in 1930, he continued his affiliations at West Catholic as coach of the tennis squad. His seasons were most successful.

When he made his debut at Villanova he was the mainstay of the frosh team, playing in every match.

It was in 1932 that the real test came. The team journeyed to Lehigh in early April. When they left Villanova, the weather was fair, although the sky was slightly overcast. With no notion of impending danger, the stalwart defenders of Villanova's fair name disembarked from their equipage and sallied forth to dress. The wind rose. The sky became darker. A swell time for a murder. Villanova came on the courts. Sam opened the match. A stray flake of snow. A vagrant gale. A coupla hunks of hail. Whoosh, the storm began. And Sam Miles and Bill Orcutt and the rest of the Villanova and Lehigh boys played the dainty game of tennis in one of the worst snow and hail storms since the blizzard of '88. After wading through miles of slush, with ice hanging from their moustaches, the 'Cats took the match, and journeyed home, sadder but wiser men.

Sam's worst match was played on a blazing day in May with some

SAM MILES

Owl from Temple. He says that he thought the match would never end, but it did, and he finished victor by 7-5, 6-3, 7-5.

Sam has no definite plans after he leaves school, but he hopes that Bulletin Want Ads will find him a job. (Advt.) Entering pro tennis looks good, but there are difficulties in the offing. He has to graduate first.

Golf Match Pending

No date has been set for the replaying of the golf match scheduled between the Wildcats and West Chester Teachers originally set for May 4.

'Cat Baseballers Down Teachers

Continued From Page Five

fifth was a single by Murphy, his third hit of the afternoon.

With one down, Moore batted for Springer and singled. He reached second on an error and scored when Gwinn doubled to left field. Manno singled to score Gwinn, and was later caught trying to steal second.

Lenzi walked, stole second, and went to third when Robinson fumbled a fly ball. He was thrown out trying to make home when Hurlburt hit a liner to Gwinn.

Robinson was safe when Wronski misplayed his grounder. He stole second, and scored when De Hoff tripled. In the first half of the seventh, Krajsa singled. In trying to steal second, he tore the ligaments on his right ankle and had to leave the game immediately.

Vaughn ran for him, and at the end of the inning, Lenzi moved behind the plate, and O'Donnell went to left field. The next two innings were completely unmarked except for Lenzi's third safety, which came in the eighth.

Villanova

	ab	r	h	o	a
Murphy, cf	4	1	3	3	0
Cavanaugh, ss	5	1	2	1	3
Lenzi, lf, c	4	2	3	5	0
Mahan, 1b	5	2	2	6	0
Skaff, 3b	5	1	2	1	2
Hurlburt, rf	5	0	1	3	0
Wronski, 2b	5	1	1	0	3
Krajsa, c	4	0	1	5	1
Collins, p	3	2	1	1	3
O'Donnell, lf	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	41	10	16	27	9

West Chester

	ab	r	h	o	a
Messikomer, lf	4	1	0	0	0
Springer, c	2	0	0	7	0
Taronis, c	2	0	1	3	0
Gwinn, ss	5	1	1	4	2
Manno, 3b	4	0	2	1	1
Forbes, rf	4	0	1	1	0
Wilson, 2b	4	0	1	2	4
Robinson, cf	3	0	0	2	0
Rees, cf	1	1	0	0	0
Donhart, 1b	4	1	2	7	0
Barnes, p	1	0	0	0	1
De Hoff, p	3	0	1	0	0
x Moore	1	1	1	0	0
Totals	38	5	10	27	8

"The function of the Catholic College is not merely to teach the formulas of the Catholic religion, but to impart in a thousand ways, which defy formularization, the Catholic attitude toward life as a whole.. Catholicism is not merely a creed, but a culture."

Albert C. Wagner
Alumni Secretary
Editor

ALUMNI NEWS

Villanova College
Alumni Association
108 Mendel Hall

ENGINEERING CLUB HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL

Class of '33 Society Obtains Jobs for Many of Its Thirteen Members

Dear Al:

It has been suggested by the club that I send in a little copy for the "News" and let you know how the club is progressing.

When we wrote before most of the members were holding temporary positions. Now, they are gradually being absorbed by industry, mainly because we are cooperating unselfishly with each other and finding out where employment can be had. As you will notice from the enclosed list most of us are now getting the necessary practical experience and training to assure our future.

I might say this, Al, we are thinking of taking in new members in June for the purpose of keeping the engineers united. If you know of anyone among the alumni let me know, or better, tell them to get in touch with me.

Congratulations are in order for Henry McShea, '33, in case you didn't know. He was married April 23. After the wedding breakfast the club members gave him a typical Villanova send-off which was something. He will probably live in Allentown as a Mechanical Engineer for the Penna. Power and Light.

Charles Meyer, '33, is still employed as a student engineer with Westinghouse and doing very well, having recently been placed on Diesel design.

John Callaghan, '33, was recently promoted to engineer in charge of condenser calibration at R. C. A.-Victor. He resigned as recording secretary of the club because of duties in the U. S. Naval Reserve Corp. Required a lot of his time. He built and installed a transmitter at the Navy Yard, Phila.

Harold Nardi was elected to Callaghan's post. Harold has a junior engineer's rating with the Phila. Highway Dept.

We have two production engineers in the club now, Frank Cooney and Paul Brady. Both recently earned their promotion. Cooney claims he has developed a better production system at R. C. A.-Victor's than Brady has at Philco. We just let them argue it out.

Henry Schuck has been working as a traffic engineer. He tells us he is expecting a position with a large Phila. Corp. to come through in the near future.

Thomas Sheridan, who was McShea's best man recently, obtained employment with the P. R. R. as a Signal and Telegraph engineer on the shore route.

Fred Boenesh was elected treasurer of the club when Brady resigned from the executive department. Paul was working at nights and couldn't attend the meetings. Fred is working with Nardi and also has a junior engineer's rating with the Philadelphia Highway Department.

Thomas Kuhn, who was recently voted in, is in the Topographical Mapping Department, City of Philadelphia.

Russel Hurst is rather fortunate in that he has two jobs. He is engineer for the City Planning Commission and also with Isaac S. Walker, Consulting Engineers.

William O'Brien is studying processing at the U. S. Gypsum Co. He has been living in Philadelphia with Hurst.

I have recently been employed in a student capacity with the Gulf Refining Company.

That's about all the news for now, Al. If anything of interest turns up, I'll let you know.

Cordially,
Joseph A. Winterberger, '33.
Corresponding Secretary,
Villanova Engineer Society.

P. S.: I wish to express in the publication, Al, in the name of the club sincerest sympathies to Francis Roche upon the recent death of his father.

Engagement

1931—The engagement of Miss Patricia Kramph to Arthur Harkins was recently announced at Allegheny, N. Y. Art is coaching and teaching at St. Bonaventure's, Olean.

WILKES-BARRE CLUB NEWLY ORGANIZED

Will Replace Northeastern Pennsylvania Club Formed Several Years Ago

The Alumni Association welcomes to its ranks the Villanova Club of Wilkes-Barre. Organized on April 27 at Hotel Sterling, Wilkes-Barre, the coal region group gives promises of becoming one of the strongest of alumni aggregations. In the words of Jim Dever, who was elected temporary chairman, which were followed by a devout "Amen" from Frank Loughran, temporary secretary, "Give us time and we'll show you boys the best Villanova club anywhere."

The words were addressed to National President John A. Freney, who had made a special trip from Philadelphia to attend the meeting, and the Alumni Secretary, who had just completed a week's tour of coal region high schools.

A second meeting for permanent organization was held at the Sterling on Friday, but as the VILLANOVAN went to press no information was available. There were twenty-three men in attendance at the advance meeting and three times as many were expected for the gathering Friday.

Incidentally, the Secretary might take this opportunity to express his appreciation for his very hearty reception in the coal region district. He was cordially welcomed by Ed McCullian at Summithill High; was very much pleased with a visit from Dave Reedy at Hotel Casey, Scranton; and glad to meet John Nalevinko at Olyphant. Principals everywhere, and twenty-seven high schools were visited altogether, could recall names of Villanova alumni, much to the delight of the Secretary, and many pleasant hours of reminiscing.

INTERNES NEXT YEAR

Anthony A. Virgilio, '30, Orange, N. J., St. Mary's Hospital, Orange.

James A. Zewe, '30, Pittsburgh, St. Joseph's Hospital, Pittsburgh.

John B. Sullivan, '32, New York, Bellevue Hospital, New York.

Joseph D. Whalen, '32, Needham, Mass., St. Elizabeth's, Boston.

Patrick J. Romano, '30, Orange, N. J., St. Mary's, Orange.

PHILADELPHIA MEMBERS LIKE WEEK-END IDEA

An enthusiastically cordial endorsement was given the forthcoming Alumni Week-End last week, when, at the invitation of the Villanova Club of Philadelphia, President John Freney outlined the activities planned by the National Association for June. Speaking before the Philadelphia aggregation, Mr. Freney was assured of the attendance of every man present, and assured, too, that the ball club brought down from New York would not have a chance against the club they would assemble in the City of Brotherly Love.

The meeting was held at Hotel Adelphia with President Thomas J. McCoy presiding. In addition to routine business, it was decided that club elections would be held at the club's first fall meeting in September.

NEW YORKERS PLAN SOCIAL ON MAY 29

Freney, Wagner Recent Guests of Villanova Club in Gotham District

The annual Spring Dance on May 29 will climax activities this year for what is undoubtedly the strongest and finest Villanova Club of New York in the twenty years of its existence. Though an annual affair with this organization, the 1934 Dance is being planned with unusual spirit and aggressiveness and bids fair to be the outstanding alumni event in the social calendar. The scene will be the Centre Club, 120 Central Park South; the charge $3.50 per couple; and admittance by prior reservation only.

Each meeting of the club is marked by a special entertainment feature. W. A. Probst, advertising manager for the Cunard Line, spoke at one meeting; J. T. Thomas, Traffic Manager for American Airways, at another; and Capt. John W. Ayres, Commander of the Missing Persons Bureau, New York, at another.

National Association President John A. Freney, the Rev. John J. Vrana, O. S. A., and the Alumni Secretary were guests of the club at their last meeting, May 2. The Alumni Secretary had the pleasure of addressing the 47 members in attendance. A film, "Life at Villanova," was likewise shown the members.

The program for the regularly scheduled meetings of the club consists of, first, dinner in the Centre Club dining room, secondly, the main attraction, an outside speaker, thirdly, a short business meeting, and fourth, bowling and retirement to the Club's bar, or as genial Secretary Ed Duffy has it, "Now for the bowling alleys and the tap room, to spend the remainder of a fast-passing night, where in the atmosphere of an old English tavern, gentlemen of the finest breed drink toasts, back their future against their past, and engage among themselves in the hearty sport of ten pins."

Tall, handsome Jack McDevitt is president of the club; "Mexican Pete" Vize, vice-president; and the irrepressible Dick Daly, treasurer.

ALUMNI, BACK TO '34 REUNION

Father Stanford Extends Alumni Cordial Welcome

Commencement Opens Three-Day Gathering on June 7; Most Extensive Program Planned by National Association

For what the Alumni Secretary believes to be the first time in the history of Villanova, certainly for the first time in the recent history of the old school, the Alumni Association will sponsor this year a three-day Alumni Weekend at Villanova. Hundreds of former Villanova men are expected, the 3824 on the alumni lists are invited.

Festivities will begin (and at a cost that is surprisingly low) with commencement, Thursday, June 7. Have you seen what we still call the "new" gym? If you haven't, here is an opportunity to see it at its best. Thursday night, a good, old-fashioned bull session in the gymnasium lounge, and a "Night in Heidelberg" at the Sorrel Riding Club, Oakmont.

Tennis-Golf

Friday, June 8—Morning: Tennis tournament on the college courts (there are fourteen at our disposal), also a golf tournament at Valley Forge. Friday afternoon: Swimming, a gala party in the college pool, with more than plenty suits in the athletic storeroom to go 'round.

Saturday morning is free of planned activity. Saturday forenoon will find the Villanova Club of New York matching their ball-slugging ability with the Villanova Club of Philadelphia on the varsity diamond, with as many additional games on other diamonds as can be planned.

Meeting-Dinner

Saturday, late afternoon the annual alumni business meeting, with election of officers is on the card. And in the evening, the climax to three days of relaxation and good-fellowship, the annual Alumni Dinner, served up for the boys under the personal supervision of the Rev. Charles P. Meichior, O. S. A., procurator.

The week-end is an event in which the Very Rev. E. V. Stanford, O. S. A., president, is intensely interested and which has been made possible only through his interest and co-operation. The administration intends "open house" for returning alumni.

Meals and rooms on the campus may be had at nominal cost. Four dollars will provide a room and all meals on the campus, excepting the banquet, for the entire period. The cost for men arriving later than Commencement Day will be pro-rated on a meal-room basis. The price of the Alumni Banquet has been set at two dollars.

The Alumni Office will be open all day and until 11 at night during the three-day period for registration of alumni. Each man is urged to return the reservation card which will be mailed him shortly.

"PEOPLE WE WOULD LIKE TO HEAR FROM"

Our dear brother alumnus, champion bell ringer in Harrisburg, none other than Norman Jones. This request comes from his former roommate Mexican Pete. What has happened to the adonis of Stamford, the High School Flash, Brick Dora? And where is Wee Willie Cronin, who wandered south, the Triple Threat from Massachusetts?

Keeping Up With the Classes

1896. James L. Kirsch is General Plant Engineer for Continental Can. Home: 1015 Woodbine Avenue, Oak Park, Ill.

1921. A recent note tells us as how Benito Ortega Cembrero has filed papers for American citizenship. He is with Norman D. Watters and Associates, 1140 Broadway, New York.

1923. Holyoke, Mass.

Dear Al,

Here is the five you have been after. I am very glad that I was present at the home-coming game last year; just to see Matt Lynch and the rest of the '23 class was worth the trip. You can bet that I will be back this year.

Will you kindly send a catalog to Mr. John Macklin, Millers Falls, Mass.? I hope to have his son attend Villanova in September.

Yours,
C. J. McClernan.

A new home address for Ray Maloney is 30 S. Pennsylvania Avenue, Atlantic City. Ray is with the construction department for P. R. R.

1925. Lou Westcott is with Booth and Flynn, contractors, Pittsburgh. According to Jim VanHorn he is the proud father of a daughter, one and a half years old.

William V. O'Neill is with the maintenance department of Abbotts Dairy, Philadelphia. Home: 2263 N. Bouvier Street.

"Campus in the Clouds," a musical satire on modern education, written and composed by Charles R. Walsh, was brought to Philadelphia last week after three highly successful performances in Brooklyn. Mr. Walsh is a professor at St. John's University, and the author of another musical play, "Lucille," which was presented in Germantown in 1931.

1926. John Hoffmeister is marine engineer for the Dravo Construction Company at Sewickley, Pa. He is married and lives at 646 Maple Lane.

Ed Duffy, New York, is authority for the following:

"Jim Trainor is a certified public accountant with Miller, Donaldson & Company, 80 Broad Street, N. Y. C.

"George Higgins (The Country Gentleman) is with the Montana Power & Gas Company at Cut Bank, Montana.

"Stacker Cahill is chief welding engineer at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. We saw a note in the notices of '27 about "Stacker." We saw him first, he belongs to us.

"Lou Memminger is with F. W. LaFrentz & Co., 100 Broadway, N. Y. C., as an accountant.

"Dr. John B. McAneny is now practicing at Johnstown, Pa. Quite a physician, so we hear.

"Jimmie Hartnett is sales promotion manager for the Robbins Co., N. Attleboro, Mass.

"Bill Flynn is doing educational research work at Columbia University in New York."

1922. Thomas A. Jenkins is with the Atlantic Refining Company in Philadelphia. Home: 6344 Haverford Avenue.

Joseph D. Freney recently announced the opening of law offices in downtown Philadelphia: 1401 Franklin Trust Building.

Al Panepinto is the author of "O'Matcho," a syndicated daily match puzzle with circulation in mid-Western States.

1928. William C. Lupsic is a florist in Wilkes-Barre, writing sports in his spare time.

Joe Leitner is the father of a ten-months-old son and teaching at St. Mary's Academy, Perth Amboy, N. J. Home: 235 Grant Street.

John Donnelly is teaching at Girardville High School, Girardville, Pa. He is also assistant athletic director there.

Joseph Giordano, a recent addition to the Alumni Association's flies, is working in the Naval Aircraft Department at League Island, Philadelphia.

Walter J. Reedy, M. D., will become Chief Resident Physician at Scranton State Hospital in June. He is interning there now.

Bill Vincent has recently moved to the Franklin Trust Building, sharing offices with Joe Freney.

1929. A correspondent reports Henry Bygott, Jr., as preparing to take "the long step" soon.

In a consolidation of civil offices last week in Hoboken, N. J., Pat Caulfield became head of the building department. He has been employed as engineer and appraiser in the department. Home: 510 Garden Street.

1930. Charles A. Van Horn is with the N. Y. Board of Transportation in New York City.

1931. Howard Garrity, golf enthusiast, is Relief Investigator, Schuylkill County, Pa.

1932. Jerry Weinhart is manager of one of the Socony Cement Company offices at Rochester.

A new address for Len Crowe is 266 Guy Park Avenue, Amsterdam, N. Y.

A welcome report comes from "Ding" Driscoll:

"Dan Sullivan is a senior at Temple Medical School and after graduation this June expects to interne at Gallinger Municipal Hospital in Washington.

McGEEHAN SCHOLARSHIP

A check from John B. McAneny and Louis M. Memminger, both of '26, for $48.17 with the request that the amount be added to the Charles A. McGeehan Scholarship Fund was recently received at Villanova. This is the first check received from alumni for this purpose.

Mrs. McGeehan was a recent visitor to Villanova on the occasion of Mothers' Day. She and the family are now living in Bethlehem.

ALUMNI TEAM WINS TWO IN BASEBALL

Intra-Mural Softball League Advances With Six Games Played Last Week

On last Monday afternoon, Mendel Hall fell before Austin Hall in a soft ball league game by the score of 7-5. Later on in the same afternoon, Alumni and Fedigan Halls engaged in a regular slug-fest, and before the game had ended, Alumni had scored 20 runs to their opponents' 10.

On Wednesday afternoon, Alumni triumphed over the Day Hops, 9-4, and, on the last half of that double-decker, the Train and Trolley Boys took another lacing, this time from Mendel Hall by the score of 14-12.

The last of the soft ball games for the week resulted in a win by Austin over Fedigan, 7-2, and in Alumni's victory over Mendel, 7-4.

The hard ball league played only four games during the past week. In the first game, Mendel Hall defeated Austin Hall in another slugging contest, 13-11. The second game was a rather one-sided affair, with Alumni besting Fedigan, 18-7.

Fedigan Loses

In the two hard ball games played on Sunday afternoon, Alumni Hall defeated Austin Hall by the score of 9-2, and Fedigan Hall bowed to Mendel Hall, 6-2.

INTRA-MURAL STANDINGS

	Alumni	Austin	Day Hops	Fedigan	Mendel
Football	10	7	1	3	5
Basketball—both halves	20	12	4	12	4
Volley Ball	8½	1	8½	3	5
Swimming	5	7	10	1	3
Track	1	10	3	7	5
Golf	3	7	10	5
Boxing	7	7	3	5	10
Totals	48½	51	39½	36	32

Wildcat Links Team Wins Two More; Jim McNerney Scores Hole in One

Osteopathy and Temple provided the Villanova golf team with their fifth and sixth wins of the season in matches played last week. The Osteopaths journeyed to the Main Line Open course at St. Davids, and were handed a 4-2 setback.

Hole in One

It was in this match that Jim McNerney, at No. 3 for the Villanova team, realized the dream of every golfer and scored a hole-in-one on the ninth. From the tee the drive rose with the oft-mentioned "perfect arc," landed on the edge of the green, rolled slowly across the loam, and dropped into the cup. From then on there was no holding the Plantsville (Conn.) lad, and he made short work of his opponent, winning his match 6 and 5. Gibbs and Ambler, of Osteopathy, and his teammate, Dave Cragg, witnessed the event.

Easy Victory

Jim Elliott, at No. 1 for the 'Cats, defeated Burrows, of the West Philadelphians, 2 and 1. Elliott had a low medal score of 73. Dave Cragg, at No. 2, was beaten, 3 and 2, by Hillzer, of Osteopathy.

The Osteopaths earned the point for best ball in this foursome, 1-up.

Jim McNerney, now known as one of the golfing McNerneys, downed Gibbs, 6 and 5. Ed Burke, playing fourth position for Villanova, had little trouble beating Ambler, 9 and 8.

Villanova's second foursome made a clean sweep in the points, gaining a 6 and 5 edge for best-ball.

Defeats Temple

Last Friday afternoon the Wildcats, led by Jim Elliott, journeyed to the Manufacturers' Country Club for their return engagement with the representatives of Temple. The Villanova team made it the occasion for their second clean sweep of the season over the Cherry and White, the score being 6-0.

Jim Elliott downed Irv Auerbach, 5 and 4. Cragg, in second spot, defeated Cliff Barcliffe, of Temple, 3 and 2. Captain Elliott had a medal score of 75.

The Elliott-Cragg team gained the best-ball point. The score was 6 and 5.

In the second foursome McNerney gained a 4 and 3 win over Joe Clipaham. McNerney's medal score was 77.

Ed Burke made a clean sweep of the proceedings when he beat Jack McCarthy, of the Owls, 4 and three.

SCHOOL IS HOST IN TRACK MEET.

F&M Academy Leads in Prep School Division; Long Branch Also Wins

Records were shattered as the annual interscholastic track meet got under way last Saturday at the Villanova stadium. At 10 A. M. the trials were run off and at 1.30 the finals and semi-finals were started.

Over 40 schools were represented in all. Because of the great number of contestants, many events were run off quickly. The schools were divided into three classes. The Philadelphia suburban high schools were grouped in class A. Class B was composed of all other high schools. All preparatory schools were collected under class C.

Schools Represented

The local schools represented included Lower Merion, Norristown, Radnor, Lansdowne, Nott Terrace High of Schenectady, New York, and Coledale High of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, were the schools who journeyed the farthest to compete.

The scoring was conducted by the point system. First place in any event received 5 points, second place, 4 points. Three points were given to third, 4 to fourth place and 1 point to fifth.

Down where they grow tobacco.. in most places Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette —what does that mean?

—it takes good things to make good things.

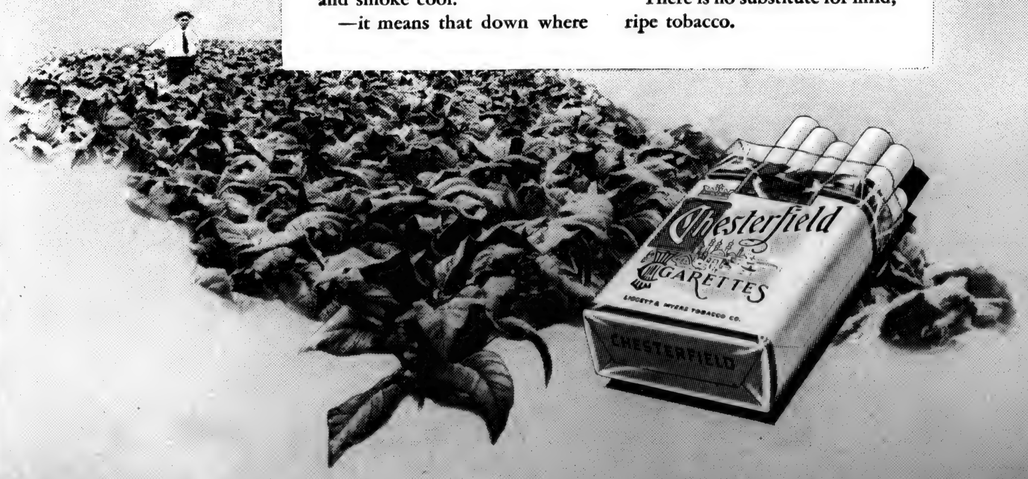
—the mild ripe tobaccos we buy for Chesterfield mean milder better taste.

—the way they are made means Chesterfields burn right and smoke cool.

—it means that down where they grow tobacco folks know that mild ripe tobaccos are bought for Chesterfields.

And because Chesterfields are made of the right kinds of tobacco, it is a milder cigarette, a cigarette that tastes better.

There is no substitute for mild, ripe tobacco.



© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Seniors! Make Plans to Remain For Alumni Reunion After Commencement June 7, 8 and 9

VILLANOVAN

Final Issue Of VILLANOVAN Extends Best Wishes for Success to Class of '34

Vol. 6—No. 28 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, MAY 22, 1934 Price: Five Cents

College to Give Honorary Degrees at Commencement

Awards Go to Men Prominent in Fields of Education and Engineering; Goggi Is Valedictorian

Honorary degrees in science, literature and law will be conferred at the 91st annual commencement exercises of the college, June 7, on three prominent personages in the fields of engineering and education.

The recipients of the honors will be Ferdinand E. Bower, chief engineer of the Buick Motor Company, Detroit, Mich.; Dr. Milo F. McDonald, principal of Bushwick High School, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Thomas J. Condon, superintendent of schools, Waterbury, Conn.

Goggi Is Honored

Last evening, final tryouts for the honor of class valedictorian were held in Mendel Hall, and Charles F. Goggi, senior business man, was declared the winner in a heated contest for the distinctive award.

The presiding officer at the exercises will be Very Rev. Charles M. Driscol, D. D., O. S. A., former assistant general of the Augustinian Order. Dr. McDonald will deliver the principal speech.

Mr. Bower, upon whom the honorary title of Doctor of Science will be conferred, has played a prominent part in the history of the automotive industry. After finishing a course in parochial schools, he entered the automobile business in 1908 by taking a student course at the Olds Motor Works, Lansing, Mich.

Shortly after 1909 he became chief engineer in the Western-Mott Company, Flint, Mich., and after that organization amalgamated with the Buick Motor Company, he served in all divisions of the engineering department of the latter company. He is the designer of the latest model Buick automobile.

Dr. McDonald, who is probably best known for his book, "Progress of Philosophy," which is a standard text at Villanova, has been long associated with the public schools, and was educated at Adelphi College, Columbia University and Fordham University.

Dr. McDonald has contributed several other pieces of literature to the world of education. In addition to one son, Milo, Jr., a graduate of the Business School here, another son, William, a senior in the College of Arts, will have the distinction of receiving a degree at the same exercises as his father. Dr. McDonald will be awarded the degree of Doctor of Literature.

Mr. Condon, one of Villanova's

Continued on Page Four

AIR EXPERT SPEAKS

George Barr Explains Mechanics of Building Air-Conditioning

Members of the senior Heating and Ventilating and Air Conditioning class of the School of Technology had the honor of hearing George Barr, district manager of Aerofin Corporation, at an informal gathering held in place of their regular class a few days ago.

Willis H. Carrier had been scheduled to address the class, but because of a previously arranged speaking tour he was unable to appear, and Mr. Barr was kind enough to come and speak to the outgoing seniors.

His subject was interesting and instructive dealing with the Light weight Heating and Cooling Surfaces.

On Tuesday afternoon, the seniors were privileged to inspect the Heating and Air Conditioning equipment of the thirty-four-story Philadelphia Savings Fund Society Building, requiring the use of one thousand tons of refrigeration in the summer.

BELLE AIR HAS COLLEGE THEME

Year Book Will Contain New Feature in the Form of Oblivion Section

By CASPER GLADFEBBLE

That long anticipated edition of the first all Villanova year book, with John J. Corkill at the helm as editor, is scheduled to make its appearance at the end of the current week, or by next Monday at the latest, according to the editor himself given in a copyrighted statement to the VILLANOVAN Sunday evening.

While the editor, who is believed by many to have taken the parts of the Shadow and Dr. Fu Manchu on the radio, is still maintaining his air of mystery relevant to the person or burned down buildings to whom the book is dedicated, the VILLANOVAN snooping reporter, after lying under his bed for three weeks, heard him mention in his sleep that the theme of the book will be based on campus scenes.

After trailing another staff member for two days the color of the new book was discovered to be blue because of ink seen on the hands of the worker.

In addition to all the members of the VILLANOVAN staff, whose names will probably be inserted after this article is seen in print, a number of campus personalities will be recommended for oblivion in a special section of the book. This was learned by a writer of this paper who went to the printing office disguised as a line of type.

And still no one knows to whom the book is dedicated . . . maybe to the VILLANOVAN staff.

PETER P. KERR ELECTED PRESIDENT OF SOCIETY

Annual Literary Group Elections Marked by Close Voting

Election of the officers of the Villanova Literary Society was held last Wednesday evening in Mendel Hall. Peter P. Kerr, a junior in the School of Commerce and Finance, defeated Harold D. McGrath and Paetrus F. Banmiller in a nip and tuck vote for the presidency.

Francis Bigley, a junior in the School of Arts and Philosophy took over the vice-presidency by a close margin, and Raphael Martinez-Alvarez, a sophomore in the same school, won easily for the office of recording secretary.

For the duties of corresponding secretary, Roberts Bouson, a junior in the School of Technology, also easily defeated his single opponent. John Hallahan, a sophomore in the same school, barely eked out a victory for the office of treasurer. John Fitzpatrick, a freshman Engineer, was elected to sergeant-at-arms in a close vote.

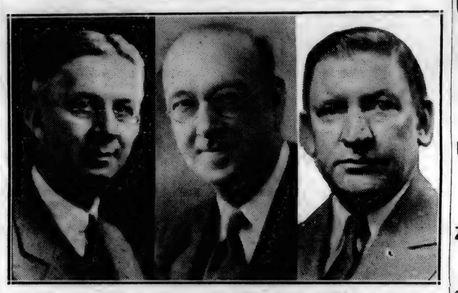
Joseph T. Jonas, M. O., professor of oratory and faculty moderator of the society, appointed Martin Donnelly, a junior in the School of Technology as manager of debate for the ensuing school year.

Last night the final meeting of the year was held at which formal installation of the newly elected officers took place. Plans for a social held at Pierre's in 69th were discussed and a committee appointed to take arrangements.

TO BE ORDAINED

Daniel Falbey, a former student in the School of Technology of the college, will be ordained to the Augustinian Order, on June 12, in Washington, D. C. His home town is Holyoke, Mass., and he will celebrate his first Mass there.

TO RECEIVE DEGREES AT COMMENCEMENT



Reading from left to right, those pictured are Thomas J. Condon, Dr. Milo F. McDonald, and Ferdinand E. Bower. These men will receive honorary degrees in Literature, Science and Law at the exercises June 7. (Mr. Condon's photo by Gualtieri; Dr. McDonald's by Sarony.)

FRESHMAN RECEIVES TESTIMONY, MEDAL

Wins Award for Writing Best Spanish Composition on Life of Cervantes

In a recent contest held by the Instituto de las Espagne of Columbia University, Joseph Cavaliere, a freshman in the School of Science, won the award given by this society. This honor was in the form of a medal with a Spanish inscription. In addition to this, he was presented with a certificate commending his work and accrediting him with the first award.

Under the tutelage of Rev. Basilio Fresno, O. S. A., Mr. Cavaliere acquired an excellent knowledge of Spanish vocabulary and grammar. This enabled him to win the contest in which many contestants from various Eastern colleges had been taking part. Mr. Cavaliere wrote on the works of Miguel de Cervantes, who is the greatest writer of Spanish literature.

Life of Cervantes

With this topic as a nucleus for his theme, Mr. Cavaliere began his composition with giving a light biography of Cervante's life. In this short resume, he wrote in excellent Spanish certain outstanding facts which dominated the life of the greatest Spanish writer.

Mr. Cavaliere said in his theme, "Cervantes is the consumate master of Spanish Letters, and the true originator of the modern novel. His fame has become universal, thanks to his inventions, his truly inexhaustible imagination, his inimitable humor, and, above all, the

Continued on Page Seven

FR. DOUGHERTY SPEAKS

Science School Dean to Be Heard In Radio Interview Over WFI

Through the efforts of Albert C. Wagner, Alumni secretary, Rev. Joseph F. Dougherty, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., dean of the Science school, will be heard in a 15-minute radio address over station WFI, in Philadelphia, Thursday evening, May 31, at 7:30 o'clock.

Fr. Dougherty, who has chosen the topic, "Heredity as a Factor in Human Development," will be interviewed by Miss Helen Gray, head of the station's press relations department. The subject on which Fr. Dougherty will speak is similar to the address he delivered in one of the series of talks sponsored by the Alumni Association, during the past winter.

Prominent personages from all walks of life have been interviewed frequently by Miss Gray.

Registration on June 25 for Annual Summer School

Plans are in full swing for summer school work at Villanova. New courses have been added to the program of studies. Many well-known professors have been added to the staff.

Graduate courses will be given, leading to the degree of Master of Science, and Master of Arts. The special fields in which a student may major, are: Education, English, Latin, French, Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

Candidates for graduate degrees are requested to apply to the dean before registration and submit transcripts of undergraduate work.

Classes will begin on June 27 and continue to August 9. Registration for courses at the college will be held on June 25 and 26.

M'GRORY IS ELECTED JUNIOR CLASS HEAD

J. Dougherty, L. Shevland and J. McBrearty Also Chosen for New Officers

In a last minute coup, a bloc formed by the Business and Engineering Schools succeeded in electing Robert McGrory as president of next year's Junior Class. The elections for the presidency and the other class offices were held last Wednesday under the supervision of the Student Council.

C. and F. Student

McGrory is at present a sophomore in the School of Commerce at Finance. His home is in Trenton, N. J. His other rivals for the office of class president were William Sweeney, also of the School of Commerce and Finance; Charles Miller and Lawrence Shea of the Science School, and William Vaughn of the School of Technology.

The office of vice-president of the class went to Joseph Dougherty, a member of the Business School, while the positions of treasurer and secretary for next year will be filled by Laurence Shevland and John McBrearty, respectively. Both are students in the School of Technology.

James Downs, also a Commerce student, and Charles Kain and Stephen Miller of the School of Technology were elected to serve as members of the Student Council.

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS

There has been completed in front of the new Monastery, another improvement in the campus. The word, Villanova, has been lettered out of the lawn. In these letters will be planted flowers, which will greatly enhance the beauty of the campus, exposed to the view of passersby.

COLLEGE PRESENTS EXTRA-CURRICULAR AWARDS FOR MERIT

Formal Exercises to Be Held Thursday in Conjunction With Presentation

ZEIL AND GEIST HONORED WITH FIVE CERTIFICATES

Over 200 Students to Be Singularly Honored for Extra Activities

Over 200 students will receive second semester merit awards which will be presented Thursday of this week to those who have distinguished themselves in extra-curricular activities.

Receive Highest Number

Two senior students had the honor of receiving five awards, the highest number to be given for extra curricular activities by the college. They are Robert A. Geist, of the School of Science, and William F. Zeil, of the College of Arts. Both have held positions on the editorial staff of the VILLANOVAN.

These students must, at the same time, rate well in their studies and scholastic achievement. Poor chapel attendance or disciplinary difficulties will result in the deprivation of awards.

It is expected that Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president, will officiate in conjunction with the vice president and the deans of the various schools.

Zeil's activities include service on the Belle Air, the Catholic Press Apostolate, the Sanctuary Society, the VILLANOVAN and the Beta Gama and the Belle Masque chapters of the Literary Society. Geist won his for service in the Catholic Press Apostolate, the Foreign Relations Club, the VILLANOVAN, Lambda Kappa Delta fraternity and the Sanctuary Society.

Those who will receive awards

Continued on Page Seven

BAND WILL RECEIVE LETTERS THIS YEAR

Fr. Albers Reorganizes Group but Makes Strict Rules Regarding Awards

Next fall, when the football season reopens, the Villanova band will appear in a new and distinctive attire. Because last year's band made such a poor showing, Rev. B. M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president, has announced that letters and sweaters will be given to all members of the band who are in good standing and who show the desire to make the band a successful one.

In order to make the task more difficult for acquiring these awards, Fr. Albers will make it a point to see that all members attend every game and that they also partake in the numerous rehearsals before games. This will result in a large, well-drilled and well equipped band. All new candidates should report to Fr. Albers as soon as possible so that he may have an estimate of next year's band.

New Uniforms Will be Given

Next year will see the band attired in new uniforms and will thus make an appearance far superior to last year's. These new uniforms will be of the latest style and will in all probability be of a type far different from any other college's.

Fr. Albers has made up a list of those who are eligible for letters

Continued on Page Four

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the
Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DUGSEPH, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR R. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager

Associate College Editor — Edmond C. Malhame, '35
Associate Sports Editor — William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff
Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — Ralph Violetti, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers
Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chappie, '37 — John B. Geraghty, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marcouse, '35 — Anthony Catrambone, '36

Assistants to the Circulation Staff
Edward Kelly, '37 — Peter Faso, '36
Joseph Mele, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Zanni, '36
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Differ, '37
John Burke, '37 — Basil Dabrowski, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

Member of the Catholic School Press Association and National Scholastic Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - - - MAY 22, 1934

A NEW HOPE

IN OUR farewell to the class of 1934, we shall endeavor to avoid the conventional "goodbye, good health, and success." That phrase is already sincerely expressed from our hearts without further mention, but we have more to impart than stock well-wishes to the graduate. We offer him an optimistic outlook for the road that lies ahead so that he may find his place in the sun as a business or professional man. Undoubtedly, it has been his good fortune to spend the past year profitably in college while others have been job hunting. That employment and general business have shown a marked upward fluctuation and firms have laid up a stock of blue ink to replace the red of the past few years cannot be denied by even the most severe critics of our grat president. Thus, with these facts as a stimulus, this years' crop of college graduates have the comfort of looking toward the realistic dawn breaking over a new era which will fit the new candidates in the scheme of things. This is an effective antidote to the new candidates in the scheme of things. This is an effective antidote to the feeling that perhaps the furthering of professional careers by higher education, or four years of study to enter business, has been in vain. Had their less fortunate predecessors since 1929 been able to visualize this ray of hope, the morale of many of those whose matriculation from the country's universities has been comparatively recent, would have suffered less damage. When our Villanova men go into the world this June, the realization that there is a great captain at the helm of the nation will be more deeply imbued in their spirits. We feel certain that new blood like that of the Class of 1934 will circulate through the veins of the nation, and become a dominant factor in bringing back prosperity to send America to greater heights.

FOR A GREATER ALUMNI

PERHAPS TOO few of the members of the undergraduate body have realized what Villanova is doing to build up a strong national alumni association. Not only has the establishment of graduate clubs, in localities where there is a sufficient number of former students to have a representative group been encouraged, but the college has provided for numerous conclaves here to further the interests of the organization. The three-day get-together, starting Commencement Day, is an innovation for the group, and the graduating seniors can not be urged too strongly to remain for the celebration in order to fully appreciate this final link in the bonds that join a man to his college days.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

NOW that Vince Totin is to be graduated the question who shall succeed him as honorary porter of the dining room doors, arises. The unflagging assiduity with which Al Cerulo has attended the opening of these doors throughout the year makes an answer facile. Expressing the desires of the boarders, the key to "Gougers Gate" is made the possession of Friend Al. That he will be first at all openings of these doors be sure. A look at his past records will explain why for the trust.

This columnist has again exercised his peculiar talent for getting himself into trouble. An article written some weeks ago in which he, so unknightly as to caste derogative aspersions on the rights of four Georgian Court girls to break their Villanova Junior Prom dates, is his latest boomerang. Right in the neck, only after a keen whetting and a forceful return, abetted by a willing hand, lodged this scandaimonger's self turned against weapon. According to a letter received from the Court yours truly is laboring under false allusions and applying the same to print. Too much conjecturing and less factual representation seems to be his trouble. An inaccurate knowledge of whose hands this weekly falls into more nearly approaches his weakness. The scope of this paper positively staggers me!

The hot breath of scandal has again whispered to my ear the doings of one Bill Gough. His latest is a bet with the room-mate that on a certain date, by the beard of the prophet, a box of candy shall be forthcoming from her for whom the lovelight lies. Like a typical investor he has wisely hedged with another bet that in lieu of the candy there will, at least, be a letter explaining how come. 'S too bad this is the last issue of the school year. A report of the bet's denouement should be interesting.

Here is a tale that fairly exudes the aroma of bonnie Scotland and in its incredulity rivals the Loch Ness monster. It had its beginning a month and a half back when John Chapple had his hair cut. The tonsorial ministration requested and given was a closely cropped head. Now, after all that intervening time, John, in high dudgeon, storms the barber shop protesting his forgotten haircut wifs not as per order. In proof, a few straggly, ear-lapping hairs were exhibited. This was tantamount to saying, if the job was done right I wouldn't need a haircut for another couple of months!

"All good things must come to an end," "The best of friends must part" and "Absence makes the heart grow fonder," are a few of the proverbs most prominent in mind at this time. Little wonder! This, believe it or not, is my last contribution of the school year to the VILLANOVAN. True, there are no tears involved. No, it is not that lugubrious! Yet, there is a feeling of loss and, as the Church Fathers tell us, this is keener than pain of sense.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

AN article appearing in this column last week concerning the Jewish population in Peru has been unduly misinterpreted by a reader of this column as was revealed to us from an objection received in regard to the comment at the end of the excerpt. The comment in reality was a direct compliment to the Hebrew race because of their efficiency in all types of business venture. Where there is a small Jwish population a gentile may have a better opportunity for such an enterprise. Hence, that opportunity mentioned last week was, as explained, a rare chance. We hope that this explanation will convey what was actually meant.

• • •

This is one for the diary. The girls at Yanktown College in South Dakota issued an ultimatum forbidding dates during the week. The sensitive males retaliated by refusing dates on the weekend. We feel that the boys had a good excuse for not taking these unreasonable coeds to jolly times on the days between Friday and Monday.

• • •

From a Western college we hear that a certain co-ed collected pistols and guns because she wanted to have arms around her all the time.

• • •

Now that we are forgetting the thoughts which spring has conveyed to our credulous intellect, our memory is confronted with the annual pessimistic idea of examinations. Apropos to this subject, cribbing is once again scintillating. Cribbing was made compulsory in a quizz given recently in a University of Texas psychology class. Each student was directed to look at other papers, to compare answers, and to cheat in any way provided he did not talk. The purpose of the test was entirely experimental, the material having been covered previously. The results have not as yet been announced.

• • •

You can believe it or not. "College-bred refers to something which requires a fearful amount of dough, is seldom self-raising and usually proves to be nothing but a four year loaf.

The Junior Class of the University of Oregon has one day set aside each year to shine shoes on the campus for one dime. All other shoe shining parlors close for the day and lend their equipment to the "bootblacks."

Bing Crosby went out for football at Gonzaga.

The absence of any course in Humor in the curricula of American universities was one of the great tragedies in education.

• • •

This being the last issue for this term we take this opportunity in acknowledging the fact that the success of this column was primarily due to the cooperation given by the many colleges and universities who have sent their periodicals to us.

As We See It

THE CHANGING FRONTIER

IT HARDLY needs repetition that there is not, and cannot be, a real opposition between science and religion. But there undeniably has been, and still is, opposition between some scientists and some apologists. The field of controversy ranged chiefly through physics, biology, astronomy, anthropology; over the nature and self-sufficiency of matter, organic and inorganic evolution, primitive religions. Between science and religion there is a frontier region which is too often a battlefield. The field of contention is neither the indisputably authenticated truths of science, or the purely spiritual realities of religion; it is that twilight region between, where on the one hand plausible deductions, theories, hypotheses, assumed first principles, and pure guess-work, and on the other, pious belief, and traditional conservatism, have free rein.

In the eyes of the world, the boundary was pushed rather far into the erstwhile realms of religion toward the end of the last century. Many scientists felt convinced that matter not only explained itself, but everything else too. They knew just what it was, even if they didn't know all about how it acted. Materialism seemed vindicated; religion's doctrine of the intellectual soul, absolutely immaterial and immortal, was no more real than the bogey-man of our nursery days.

And then, of course, creation in six days went by the board bodily. The nebular hypothesis, or the planetesimal, took care of the formation of the earth along with all the heavenly bodies, from a primitive undifferentiated mass of matter. And evolution peopled the earth with increasingly complex forms of life, culminating in ourselves. Of course, when man had just evolved from the brute, he had no ideas of God or morality. These developed later in connection with his terror of natural phenomena he could not control or explain, and was foisted more and more firmly on him by priestcraft—until our own period of enlightened disenchantment.

Naturally the philosophy that accompanied such beliefs could only be unmitigated despair. We are automata on the stage of life, playing to no knowable audience, vanishing when our parts are said. The inevitable development of matter calls us into being for a moment, and then we are not, as before we had not been.

But now there has been a revolt against this ugly soul-killing monster. Men will even hope against reason, if they cannot hope with it. The line of battle has shifted, it is being pushed, and even pulled, back towards the scientific side. In many places it has changed to a peaceful frontier.

Scientists have come to realize the limitations of science (incidentally the last four words are the title of a very interesting book by J. W. N. Sullivan). The cute little billiard-ball atoms of the Victorians are now of purely historical interest. Evolution has been subjected to the searching scrutiny of reason and has considerably toned down its bluster; In fact, it has become a powerful ally of some apologists in their argument from design for the existence of God. Closer study of the races of men has revealed increasingly purer and more beautiful notions of God and morality as we ascend the scale of time.

For all the frantic negation of materialists, ideas and emotions have been found undeniably real. God, the soul, thought, will,—the reality of these has become increasingly generally admitted. Modern scientists have become humbler, modern apologists bolder. There has been a process of giving and taking on both sides that cannot but redound to the advantage of both.

---- Dial-Log ----

THE Studebaker Champions have returned to the airwaves with a new series featuring Richard Himber and his Ritz-Carlton Orchestra on the Columbia network, Saturdays from 9.30 till 10 p. m.

Jacques Renard leads a sixteen-piece band over the WEAF network on Sunday night in his Manhattan Merry-Go-Round. Listen at 9 p. m. for the former Junior Prom maestro.

Vivienne Segal, prominent vocalist and motion picture star, will be featured with Abe Lyman and his orchestra over both the Columbia and the National networks. The NBC program is known as Waltz Time and is heard Friday evening at 9 o'clock. The Columbia feature is titled "Accordiana," and can be heard Tuesday from 8.30 p. m. till 9.

The youngest radio star made his appearance on the Bill and Ginger program over the Columbia hookup. He was a month-old baby who merely "cooed and gurgled."

Fred Waring and the Pennsylvanians will inaugurate their 1934 vaudeville season in mid-May.

Since this is our last issue until ~~next fall~~ we give you a few good bets for dance music during the summer. Over Columbia, from the Steel Pier in Atlantic City listen for the "Dancing by the Sea" programs which feature some swell bands playing from that pier. The Casa Loma band will be heard from the the Glen Island Casino where they will shortly take up hteir summer residence. Keep tuning the seashore stations late in the evenings for many of the good vagabond orchestras including Lloyd Huntley, Mal Hallett, The Messner Brothers, Joe Haymes Will Osborne, Duke Ellington and many others.

For three years Hal Kemp has not heard another orchestra either in person or over the radio. This is the precaution that this most imitated of all orchestras takes to keep its original style.

Bing Crosby winds up his current season of radio programs on May 28. He'll resume for the same sponsor in September.

At Dartmouth, 2600 people at five dollars a couple, attended the Green Key Prom. The band was Glen Gray and his Casa Loma outfit. When Amherst announced that they had signed the same band the reservations poured in so fast that the Dorsey Brothers were also engaged and another building was used to take care of the overflow crowd. In Boston the band broke all-time records for both attendance and receipts.

Over the Coals

By DIM-BULB DANIEL

Did You Know That: For a change, I'll start off with a poem I wrote myself? "It was a beautiful morning in May. Good gosh, what a day. Get whiz, you bet, believe me, boy, I'll say"? Spring has finally hit "Bug Face" Vipe? At least something has to take the blame. "Wart Head" Marcouse says "From the speedway comes my stamina. From the skyways comes my style"? "Poor Pun" Grow is planning another tour? This time to his native land where it is rumored that he has a job winding up windmills? "Eucalyptus" Tronciletti won't stop wearing those baseball suits. Jelly Bean Sullivan swears by Lady Ester Face Cream, and Goody-goody Taylor still maintains his horse can run? Revolving Door DeLauro, the big gas and oil man from Chestnut Hill, was seen picking violets and primroses one Sunday? After Klass O'Connor looks ducky in hir new sun glasses? All he needs now is his sun-suit? Basket-Lunch Cottrell blushes,, oh, so furiously? Our song for the week is "Peepin Thru the Knot-Hole in Grandpa's Woodpile on Leg"? Hot Rudge Malhame is at his wits' end? (What, so soon?) Hot Box Hallahan was in dutch the other night? Cocoa Cocheo will soon star in M. G. M.'s new show, "I. Schnozzola"? Dizzy Ears Evangelist keeps playing pool at the wrong and most inopportune times? Lovely Lover Hart, the other Rosemont swain, not only can't get to first base, but can't find the ball park, 'tis told? Merry Mug Manion, the gray-haired gigolo, recently had to scrub floors? For what? you should know!

Pudgywudgy Foster wants to be a motorman so he can kick the gong around? They laughed when John "Roof Scraper" Mahaffey went over to play the piano but they got hysterical when he did? They were right, he couldn't lift it? About the well-known baloney about Goop McLoughlin spending the money on gas going to Glenside twice a week? Ding Dong Donahue will break down in August and get a date? Tony Zimkus doesn't like yours truly calling him "Zimpuss"? Lovely Arthur Hart has a back hand stroke like an unoiled barn door? After being invited to a party, Snake Bite Cox saw on the invitation "Gratis," and after refusing the invitation the following day was found unconscious beside a Webster Dictionary? Butter Fingers Harter went to the party? He knew what "gratis" meant? Fly-Catcher Tom Donahue, past political boss of the C. & F. school, is dividing his time between anybody he can get a date with?

This here part of the column is devoted to the Seniors? May they bless us for our kindness? Mickey Mouse Murtha is expected to become Henry VIII within the next 10 years? Rag Head Bill Hughes is becoming one of the bald-headed members of our coterie? Tear Bag Carl Kelly thinks he is hot turnips with that frizzle-headed chauffeur of his? Boat-Bottom Dwyer is now planning another four-year campaign for committee man in the 46th ward? Brain-Trust Bastian promises to discard that awful costume he wears to classes for Graduation Day exercises? Bandy-Leg Bobertz plans to get married after he graduates? But that is only one side of the story? Dime-a-Chance McGee was born in the year of the blizzard according to Dead-Pan Hurlburt? Chisel Head Randour eats basket-lunches in the woods? Jazz-Pants Liberman wants to be a Hey-Nonny boy? Wimpy McCall really likes hamburgers with pickle, onions and lettuce both? Beach Comber Conway is still looking for that personified rain-maker. Little-Hips Hurley is becoming jazz-mad from listening to Dirty-Dish Dart warble? Ice-Cube Cordiali claims Fierce-Face O'Prey can't dance? Peter Pan Peters has his heart set on being Mayor of 69th street? Herpicide Wronski got sore when Windstorm McFeeley gave him a comb for his birthday? Pullman Berth Redington loves to go around in revolving doors? Furnace-Face Feehery needles Bridget O'Flynn Crowley about his wonderful "gasaloon"? The former Fetlock Sholmes (Bill Holmes to you) is now afeared of being forced to grasp the dirty end of the proverbial pole? We come to the end of "Over the Coals" for this year? If youse guys didn't care for yours nick-names remember its all in fun? You silly fellows we'll be back in September?

ENGINEERS HOLD DANCE

Villanova's Engineering Society will hold its annual Spring dance on May 25th, at the Twentieth Century Club in Lansdowne, Pa. The music for the affair will be furnished by Stan Gallagher and his Orchestra. This will be a formal dance. The admission price is set at $1.50 plus tax.

Senior Business Students Intend To Take Up Various Occupations

By JOHN J. STELL

Graduating members of the School of Commerce and Finance are heeding the call of various professions. A survey recently conducted by the publicity department among the senior business students reveals that they intend to earn their livelihood in many callings.

One senior intends to enter the advertising field. Only one will continue his studies in accounting.

Five graduates of the Business School will become pedagogues while three more intend to teach and coach at the same time.

Law school will claim the greatest number of those who definitely expressed their field of labor. Ten seniors hope to earn their daily bread at the bar.

Wall Street investigations and losses in the market seem to have temporarily frightened Villanova's finance students, for only one has chosen to enter the brokerage business.

An occupation more to the liking of a mining engineer was chosen by one business man, who intends to refine precious metals after receiving his sheepskin.

Accountancy will benefit by five, and the insurance business will receive two. One senior expressed his desire to take graduate work in education and one more will become a salesman.

Four of the hopefuls have chosen secure and safe jobs for they are to enter their father's businesses. One husky hopes to remain in the public eye by playing ball for a living. Another expects to go into the clothing business. Still another intends to contact with Transcontinental and Western Air lines.

The remaining graduates of the School of Commerce and Finance do not have any definite plans but they all admit that they intend to work.

A similar questionnaire was presented in the other three schools on the campus, but the majority of the senior students in the College of Arts and the Pre-Medical School signified their intentions of continuing their education to enter a professional career.

Many students in the School of Technology have been employed on projects relevant to their studies during the summer vacation period, and expressed the hope of continuing their employment in the firms with which they have had some experience.

Among the noteworthy things discovered from the questionnaire is the fact that a minimum number of students will follow their fathers' footsteps, and the nearest thing to a "wisecrack" in the answers was a remark made by one student to the effect that he would like to be a good lawyer.

JERSEY CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTIONS

Butler Named to Presidency, Succeeding Tom McFeeley; Connell Is Secretary

Officers for the coming year were elected at the regular meeting of the North Jersey Club held last Tuesday night.

The new officers are, president, John F. Butler; vice president, Frank Connell; secretary, John Scalera and treasurer, Daniel Fitzpatrick. The retiring officers include, president, Thomas McFeely; vice president, Joseph Carroll; secretary, Daniel Jarvis, and treasurer, Thomas Delaney.

The club will be hard hit by graduation when the first three retiring officers and the following members will leave the organization; Joseph McKenna, Arthur Hart, Harry White, Arthur Lynch, James Migliore, Richard Willis, Robert Burke, retiring sergeant-at-arms, and Raymond J. Harter.

Plans are being made for a get-together of the club members and their friends on June 8 or 9. No definite arrangements have been made as yet, but the location and other details will be discussed within a few days. The committee in charge includes Daniel Harkins, chairman; Raymond Harter and Daniel Fitzpatrick.

At a similar meeting of the Wilkes-Barre Club, the following men were elected to hold office: President, Edmund Pisczek; vice president, Joseph Forkin; secretary, Hubert Gallagher and treasurer, John Delehanty. The following seniors received the club keys: Donald Redington, Francis Berger, William McGraw, James Gallagher, James T. O'Connell and Frank Kelly.

An Invitation for You

To Travel by Railroad

When you return next Fall—assuring you comfort with speed, your convenience with safety

At "College Special" Fares

SAVING YOU ONE-THIRD

The Railroads of the United States and Canada are continuing reduced round-trip fares three times a year from home to school and return for students, faculties and staffs of educational institutions.

Going and Return dates—

GOING TO SCHOOL	RETURNING FROM SCHOOL
Round-trip tickets may be purchased at Home Stations during any one of the periods named below:	Return portion of ticket may be used to Home Station during any one of the periods named below:
	Christmas 1934	Spring 1935	Close 1935
Aug. 25-Oct. 5, 1934	Dec. 10-25	Mar. 9-Apr. 20	May 15-June 30
Dec. 25, 1934-Jan. 10, 1935	.....	Mar. 9-Apr. 20	May 15-June 30
Mar. 15-Apr. 23, 1935	.....	.....	May 15-June 30

Going trip must begin on date ticket is purchased—limited to reach school station within ten days.

Return trip must begin on date of validation of ticket by railroad agent at school station—limited to reach home station within ten days.

Tickets good over same route both ways.

Stop-overs will be allowed in each direction.

Tickets good in coaches, also in Pullman cars, upon payment of regular Pullman charges.

Baggage will be checked under the usual regulations.

No certificate or other form of identification necessary.

TRAVEL BY TRAIN

ENGINEERING CLUBS CONDUCT ELECTIONS

Klekota Is Made President of P. K. P.; Donnelly Heads A. S. M. E.

The past week saw the election of officers for the various engineering organizations on the campus for the school year of 1934-35

All the organizations ended the year successfully, having accomplished the various activities they had planned under the leadership of the outgoing officers.

The engineering fraternity Phi Kappa Pi held their elections last Wednesday afternoon in the amphitheatre at which time the reins of presidency was given to John Kletkotka, a junior in the electrical department. Frank Rogers, '36, was elected treasurer and the position of secretary was placed in the hands of Thomas Fitzpatrick, '35. James Allen, '36, was made sergeant-at-arms and George Odewalt, '35, will represent the organization in the Student Council.

In the Villanova Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Martin Donnelly, '35, was elected president and Jack O'Hara, '36, vice-president. The combined position of secretary-treasurer was placed in the hands of George Hazzard, '35.

Guy Dolente, '35, was elected unanimously to the office of president in the Villanova Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. The office of vice-president was given to Charles Kain, '36. Daniel McGowan, '35, was successful in the election for secretary and Walter Coyle, '35, was elected treasurer.

In the newly organized chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, John Kletkotka, '35, was elected president. Edward Casey, '37, was elected vice-president and James McBrearity, '36, secretary. The position of treasurer was placed in the hands of Charles McGough, '35.

The moderators who have helped make the organizations become successful in their activities will again resume their office of counselor when the fall term begins.

BAILEY, BANKS & BIDDLE CO
Jewelers Silversmiths Stationers
Established 1832
1218-20-22 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia

DESIGNERS AND MAKERS
of the
1935 VILLANOVA
COLLEGE
CLASS RING

Also the Villanova
Miniature Ring

IN PARTING—
To The Class of '34

You have studied together . . . borrowed each other's clothes . . . shared four full years of work and play. And now, in parting, you hold high hopes of friendship continued in the years to come.

So it will be—if you make the effort. The barrier of miles and business obligations need make no difference to friendships today. By telephone you can always keep in touch. It's easy to arrange week-end reunions.

• • •

NOW—before YOU SAY GOOD-BYE

Make a list of your friends' home telephone numbers.

Then, when you telephone, just give the Operator the name of the town and number desired. That's how an inexpensive Station to Station call is made.

The cost is low—particularly after 8:30 P. M. Standard Time, when the Night Rates offer reductions of as much as 40%. To call 100 miles away then costs only 35 cents. Take advantage of this night-time saving.

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Band Will Receive Letters This Year

Continued From Page One

and sweaters this year. For those who have worked with the band for two years, minor letters will be given. The following will receive these letters: Howard Brennan, Edward Burns, James Downs, Edward Kiember, Lawrence Shea, Ruben Dierwechter and George Odewalt.

Received Lettered Sweaters

To those who have been in service for three years, a minor letter with a sweater will be awarded. Those who qualify for these are: Philip Algozzine, Thomas Darmody, Vincent Lamanna, Joseph Mihalcik, James Nulty, John Oriold, Joseph Sciuto, Henery Schappert and Rudolph Lopez. All members who have served with the hand for four years will be accredited with a major letter and sweater. William Burt, Joseph McKenna and John Steets will receive these awards.

College to Confer Honorary Degrees

Continued From Page One

prominent alumni, will be the recipient of another degree, that of Doctor of Laws, at the exercises. He earned his B. S. here in 1897 and two years later an M. A. was also conferred on him by Villanova.

In 1899 he was appointed to the faculty of Crosby High, Waterbury, and gradually worked his way up to superintendent of schools in that city after a number of years of faithful service in the field of education.

Eight persons, consisting of two members of each school on the campus, tried out for the honor of class valedictorian last night. William F. Zeil, of the College of Arts, was runner-up to Mr. Goggi.

Mr. Goggi's splendid discourse on "Loyalty" immediately won the favor of the judges, three professional men to whom the contestants were unknown.

Prof. Joseph T. Jonas, in charge of oratorical activities at the college, conducted the contest.

Here's why LUCKIES DO NOT DRY OUT

They Taste Better

Luckies are made of only the clean center leaves—the mildest, best-tasting tobaccos. And then, "It's toasted" for throat protection. Every Lucky Strike is round, firm, fully packed—no loose ends. That's why Luckies "keep in condition"—do not dry out. Luckies are always in all-ways kind to your throat.

"It's toasted"

✓ Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

Only the Center Leaves—these are the Mildest Leaves

The Cream of the Crop

They Taste Better

VILLANOVAN SPORTS

TRACK BOWLING BASEBALL SWIMMING

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

WE DEDICATE our last column of the 1933-34 school year to the many swell fellows who have helped in one way or another to make this school year an athletic success. Our thanks go to all the students for their cooperation with us and for the many good ideas that they have suggested for the betterment of the sports section of this paper.

Since it is our last chance to thank the seniors, here goes; we thank

JOHN HUGHES for his news from the football happenings and his great aid in the intra-murals; WHITEY RANDOUR for his many sterling performances on the gridiron every one of which has made excellent story material; VINCE ZIZAC for good line play and many wrestling tricks; TOM O'DONNELL for grand exhibitions in football and baseball; TOBY CAVANAUGH for winning many a ball game by his quarterbacking ability and smart playing on the diamond; DOM MARION for his moleskin activities and for taking good care of our hats and coats (for two bits) at all the gym activities; CHARLEY McGEE for a humorous incident in every ball game and CHARLEY HURLBURT for steady performances in football and baseball.

There are a lot of things about which the above mentoined men could be "razzed" if we were writing "Over the Coals" but we leave that in hopes that some of them were never mentioned in that column and are still unscathed.

We are also indebted to JOCKO HURLEY for leading the Wildcat basketballers through a most successful season and for his track work; BILL McGRAW for being a good associate manager of football; BILL CONWAY for his labors as basketball manager; STAN WRONSKI for being a good bald-headed baseball captain and a demon football coach of the 150s; BILL ORCUTT for being a good bald-headed tennis captain; ANY OTHER SENIOR who is bald-headed; BILL HINES for his good work on the first varsity swimming team; JOE BASTIN for his stadium managing and typical examples of collegiate dress; HENRY BOBERTZ for excellent track managing and many track points; JOE FENSTEMACHER for breaking some track records making for easier writing of headlines; JIM DOWNEY for a lot of points in swimming meets; SAM MILES for a lot more points in tennis; ED BURKE for his many points earned in golf and his many victories contributed to the Wildcat's cause; BILL BURT for scaling the heights in the pole vault events; JIM CARR for finally consenting to be tennis manager; LEN DI BERADINO for more track points; FRANK ESTRADA for more tennis points; ALL OTHER SENIORS for all other points. . .

Finally we appreciate the work of ALL OTHER SENIOR ATHLETES who by their efforts have given us something to write about and we hope it won't be taken amiss if we have failed to mention their name but this typewriter ribbon has done a good year's work and is just about ready for retirement.

Since the presenting of bouquets seems to be in order be it known that the COACHES have cooperated with us in a manner deeply appreciated as have the other members connected with athletics and publicity.

—V—

SINCE THIS is our last issue until next fall, we have included the final team standings in the varsity sports of the squads which have completed their schedules. The intra-mural champions are also officially announced.

The baseball team will not end its season until May 24 with Drexel acting as the final opponent.

Until we sit down at this old machine again let us take this opportunity to wish you all an enjoyable summer vacation.

WILDCAT BASEBALL TEAM GARNERS SIX; LOSES FIVE GAMES

Sophomore Pitchers Do Well; Seven Regulars Batting in .300 Circle

SKAFF HAS THREE HOMERS

Early in the spring the prospects for Villanova's success in intercollegiate baseball were not very bright. Tom O'Donnell was the only pitcher held over from the previous season, and those who were just coming up from the freshman squad were considered to be fair material, but none of them had been outstanding.

Villanova entered its first fray of the season against the Princeton Tigers at the latter's field. The 'Cats had been hampered in preseason practice by too much poor weather, and were too greatly handicapped to give a fair showing of their true ability.

Princeton outslugged Villanova to gain an eight to one decision.

For the second contest Villanova journeyed to Philadelphia to play the Pennsylvania nine. The Main Liners had been victorious over this opponent in the single game played in the two previous years and were optimistic about the present one.

The two teams played a two-two tie up until the seventh inning, then Skaff connected for a long home run. With this slim margin in so close a game victory seemed almost assured to the 'Cats. But such was not the case. With two men on the bases, Don Freeman (the "pretty-pretty" boy of the Penn campus, just ask their co-eds.) connected for a home run that definitely ended the game, and gave Penn a victory.

In the third game, contested with the Penn A. C. ball team, Villanova trailed until the ninth inning. Facing a four to one lead held by their opponents the 'Cats started a rally in the last half of the ninth; but the last desperate rally fell short by one run.

After losing the first three games of the season, the Main Liners journeyed to Bethlehem to engage Lehigh. They connected for twelve safeties, and were credited with a victory, six to three.

Ursinus also fell before the 'Cats, five to one. The West Chester game was Tom Collins' first start of the season, and he acquitted himself in fine fashion. He pitched Villanova to a shutout victory, six to nothing, and he also connected for three of his team's eleven hits.

Fordham, their next opponent, had gained a formidable reputation in the first six games of its season, and loomed as a difficult opponent on the 'Cats' roster. The Main Liners outhit the Rams and totalled up a four to one victory. Skaff connected for his second home run of the season, and Tom O'Donnell's pitching was of top-notch caliber.

The Albright game was an unexpected reverse, six to three. Collins also pitched the second game against Wst Chester, and, although hit freely, was credited with a ten to five win. Both Murphy and Skaff had home runs. It was in this game that Johnny Krajsa injured an ankle while trying to steal second base, and was forced to drop baseball for the balance of the season.

The Temple game was not an unexpected reverse, but nevertheless a bitter one. Temple piled up a lead of seven runs in the first inning, and after a change in batteries for the 'Cats, they garnered only one more marker. The final score was eight to two.

In the return game with Lehigh, the Main Liners released all the energy possible to bat out sixteen hits, ten of them being good for extra bases. The final score of that game was sixteen to five.

Varsity Baseball Batting Statistics up to May 19

Player	G.	A.B.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.	E.	R.B.I.	B.A.	F.A.
Skaff, lf, 3b	11	46	8	17	16	7	4	16	.369	.852
Collins, p	4	12	4	5	4	8	1	0	.417	.923
Lenzi, c, lf	10	41	9	15	72	9	4	5	.366	.853
Mahan, 1b	11	45	11	16	86	3	1	9	.356	.989
Murphy, cf	11	47	9	16	22	2	0	3	.340	1.000
Krajsa, c	4	9	2	3	11	2	0	1	.333	1.000
Hurlburt, rf	11	41	4	13	13	1	2	5	.317	.875
Cavanaugh, ss	11	46	3	13	17	20	6	6	.283	.814
Hurley, if	1	4	0	1	1	0	0	0	.250	1.000
Geraghty, 3b	9	30	4	6	17	21	2	4	.200	.950
Wronski, 2b	11	37	4	7	22	28	6	4	.189	.893
O'Donnell, p, lf	6	12	0	0	3	13	1	1	.000	.941
Vaughn, p	5	11	0	0	3	9	1	0	.000	.923
McGovern, p	2	4	1	0	2	3	0	0	.000	1.000
TOTALS	x	385	59	112	289	126	28	54	.291	.937
OPPONENTS	11	382	46	83	288	116	18	38	.217	.957
Villanova's scoring Surplus	x	3	13	29	1	10	10	16	.064	.020

Athletic Summary of 1933-34

Team	Won	Lost	Tied	Per Cent
Football	7	2	1	.778
Basketball	9	3	0	.750
Baseball	6	5	0	.545
Track (dual meets)	2	1	0	.666
Tennis	6	0	0	1.000
Golf	8	4	0	.666
Swimming	3	2	0	.600
Boxing	0	1	0	.000

Captains	Sports	Managers
George Randour	Football	John Hughes, William McGraw
Harold Hurley	Basketball	William Conway
Stanley Wronski	Baseball	James Fleming
Joseph Fenstemacher	Track	Henry Bobertz
James Elliott	Golf	Louis Marechal
William Orcutt	Tennis	James Carr

NOTE: The results of spring sports include up to Sunday, May 20. Baseball, tennis and track teams complete their schedules this week.

Varsity Trackmen Have Fair Season; Trounce LaSalle; Await TempleFoe

Smarting under the defeat handed them in the previous week, the Villanova harriers turned about and totally outclassed the strong track and field outfit from LaSalle College. The day was packed with thrills but only one record was broken, that being the pole vault record held by Carl Hickey. The latter surpassed his former record by nearly a foot. His former mark stood at 12 feet 2 inches but he erased that and replaced it with a leap of 13 feet.

Hickey Stars

Hickey was also victorious in the broad jump and in the high jump, thereby setting the pace for the rest of the 'Cats performers. Captain Fenstemacher and "Jumbo" Jim Elliot were the only other performers for the 'Cats who repeated their first place performances. The former has still to be defeated in the century and the furlong, while Elliott has not as yet taken any cinders in either the 440-yard dash or the 880-yard run, both his specialties. In winning the half-mile last Wednesday he came within a second's time of a new record; his time for the distance being 1 minute 59 seconds. This demonstration of speed and endurance was remarkable considering the fairly slow track under foot.

LaSalle showed an ace runner in the form of Joe Clark, who captured the mile and two-mile runs for the Explorers. He ran both races in an enviable fashion, not once altering his stride save at the finish when he gave forth the customary sprint. His only error was in starting the two-mile race a bit too fast, for after running the first mile in 5 minutes .05 seconds he was forced to slow down and finish with a 5 minute 30 second second mile, making the time for the entire route 10 minutes 35 seconds.

Three Clean Sweeps

Villanova made three clean sweeps during the entire meet, these being in the 440-yard dash, the broad jump, and in the high jump. Their total of first places was eight as compared to six for the visitors. The final score of the meet was counted at 78 for Villanova and 48 for the Explorers.

The 'Cat harriers wind up their 1934 season meeting the Temple Owls at the Temple stadium on the twenty-third of this month. The Owl team has had an enviable record for the past season meeting such strong teams as Pitt, N. Y. U., and C. C. N. Y. The whole outfit represents a strong and evenly balanced team which will afford the 'Cat harriers plenty of trouble.

The Villanova team has had a very successful year both in the cinders and on the board track. During the indoor season they ran against the cream of the East in meets held at West Virginia and at Washington, D. C., where the intercollegiates were held at Catholic University. In these meets the team was not fully balanced, nevertheless, they made a strong showing coming out close to the top. In the meets Captain Finstemacher and Jim Elliott placed consistently as they have done all the past season out of doors.

Standing to Date

To date the Wildcats have engaged in three dual meets and also the Penn Relays. They have two victories to their credit against the lone defeat handed them by the West Chester State Teachers. Their victories were over Rider College and LaSalle College, both having strong teams in the field and track events. The strength of the Main Liners lies in the running distances up to the half-mile. In the mile and two mile runs the 'Cats are rather weak but are not so weak they are not still formidable opponents. In the field events they are way above the average having sure point getters in the pole vault, high jump, broad jump, shot put and the discus.

The outlook for the Temple meet looks good at the present, and barring any accidents the Villanova team should prove more than enough for the Owls.

BASEBALL NOTICE

Any member of the varsity baseball team who is interested may inspect a complete statistics chart of the baseball season.

A lack of space in this issue has prevented them from being published this week.

FOOTBALL SECOND, TENNIS TEAM FIRST IN SEASON'S SCORE

All Villanova Teams Better the .500 Mark Except the Boxing Squad

GRID WINS OUTSTANDING

By WM. J. ALLEN

Once again Villanova's athletic teams have enjoyed a highly successful season. All of the teams representing regular sports at the Main Line institution won more of their contests than they lost. The only team that failed to have a heavy balance of victory was the boxing squad.

The boxers had their first year of intercollegiate competition, and lost their only set of bouts held this year. They were defeated by the Temple leather-pushers, winning only two events in an eight-scrap card.

Tennis Comes Up

The tennis team was in last place in last year's results but this year it has climbed to first place again to reassume the lead it held in 1932. In the six contests played this year, the "racqueteers" won every match. Ursinus, Bucknell, Drexel, West Chester and Juniata were the victims; the last named team being defeated twice.

The football squad again finished in second place, proving to be the most consistent sport aggregation on the campus. This marks the third straight year that they have finished in second place.

Losses Costly

They won seven, lost two and tied one. Bucknell defeated the 'Cats in a close 19 to 17 game that was lost in the last three minutes of the game. The tie contest with Ursinus was also lost to the 'Cats in the last few minutes of the game. The victories were earned over West Chester, Manhattan, Gettysburg, Temple, S. Carolina, Albright, and Rutgers.

The Manhattan game marked the largest score that had ever been rolled up over a Meehan-coached team. The South Carolina game marked the first time that a team from the North had ever defeated a South Carolina team on its home grounds. The Temple game marked the largest score that the 'Cats had ever rolled up against them, and it initiated "Pop" Warner into the "club." "Pop," it will be recalled, coached the Carlisle Indians when Villanova played against them in the years 1905 to 1911. The Main Liners' victory over Rutgers was also an added treat. It will be recalled that Rutgers was the only team to score against Princeton, the only undefeated team in the East.

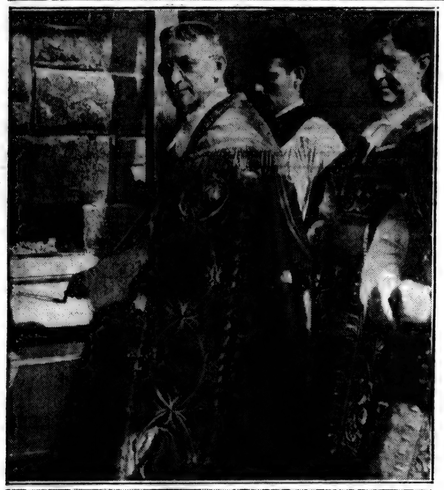
The basketball squad took third place in the year's sports with nine victories and only three defeats. The outstanding point in that record is the fact that the 'Cats defeated Temple in both games of the season; the first time that such a record has been accomplished for five years.

The golf and track teams tied for fourth place. The golfers won eight out of their twelve contests, and in this also was Temple defeated twice, both times by 6-0 scores. In their dual meets, the trackmen won two and lost one.

The swimming team, also in its first year of intercollegiate competition, won three of of its five contests. It is expected that this sport has been permanently established at Villanova, and Prof. Gill, the tank coach, has promised better schedules in forthcoming years.

The baseball squad dropped to last place by reason of six victories and five defeats. The entire squad, though, did well; and with the coming year's development in the sophomore pitching staff the 'Cats may confidently look forward to a very successful season.

PHOTO FLASHES OF CAMPUS EVENTS



MENDAL MEDALIST for 1934, Abbe Georges LeMaitre, eminnant Belgian priest-scientist, who received the distinguished award made annually by the college to a Catholic who has done outstanding work in the field of science (January 15).

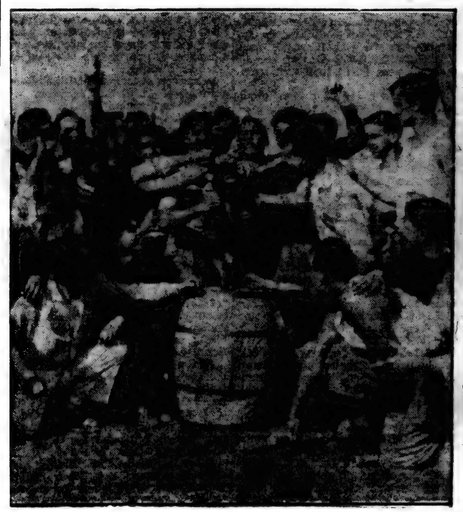
These pictures portray those people and events which have made history on the Villanova campus during the scholastic year of 1933-34. Many other highlights have occurred but lack of space will not permit the showing of these events.

CAGE CAPTAIN, John Shevlin, a junior in the School of Commerce and Finance, who was elected to lead Doc Jacobs' basketball squad during their ambitious campaign next season.

LEADS GRIDDERS, William H. Grimberg, star end of the Wildcat eleven, chosen by his teammates to pilot the 1934 edition of the football squad after a season of brilliant playing. He succeeded George "Whitey" Randour (December 7, 1933).

(Photo Courtesy Evening Ledger)

VICTORY SMILE of Walter E. Alessandroni, elected president of next year's senior class after defeating his rival for the office, William H. Grimberg. The new leader has been the center of the political maelstrom in the class of 1935 since entering Villanova (May 14).



SOPHS VICTORIOUS in their annual field day with members of the freshman class. Photo shows contestants after thrilling game with elusive greased pig. The match ended 46-30 in favor of the second-year men (November 1, 1933).

COLORFUL EVENTS at Villanova during the school year. Top picture shows Very Rev. Joseph A. Hickey, D. D., O. S. A., assistant general of the Augustinian Order, Very Rev. Mortimer A. Sullivan, O. S. A., provincial of the Order in this country, and Mr. Ralph J. Handron, O. S. A., participating in the colorful exercises of the laying of the cornerstone of the new monastery (October 19, 1933). Center photo shows the official opening exercises of Junior Week, while the bottom picture was taken in connection with the Mother's Day program, the first outstanding event of the third-year men's week (April 30).

CUTE CHORINES, at least that's what the four husky football players attempted to portray at the second annual production of the Turf and Tinsel show, "Let's Go Places," which was given for three consecutive nights in the college gymnasium. Pictured left to right are Carrol Cook, William Grimberg, Bernard Lee and Carl Hickey (April 23).

ALUMNI OFFICIALS EFFECT CHANGES IN WEEK-END PROGRAM

Most of Events Will Be Held on Campus; To Celebrate With Dinner Saturday

PRIZES TO BE PRESENTED

With a desire to have all of the events take place on or as near the campus as possible, a few changes had to be made in the plans for the first Villanova Alumni week-end, scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 7, 8 and 9.

Revised plans call for attendance at the commencement exercises in the gymnasium on Thursday afternoon, but instead of having "A Night in Heidelberg," as originally scheduled for the evening's entertainment, something new in the form of an open air smoker and "bull session," will take place.

Sport Card Arranged

Tennis, golf, and swimming comprise the card for the second day's activities. An all-day tennis tournament will be run off on the campus courts, while the golf enthusiasts will be engaged in a tournament on the Valley Forge links. Friday's events will be brought to a close with an alumni swimming meet in the college pool.

Three prizes will be given to the winners of the tennis tournament which is being conducted by Joseph D. Freney, '27.

Attractive Awards

Awards to be presented to the golf victors are: First prize for lowest gross score, a silver trophy; for lowest net score, a dozen golf balls. To the winner of a drawing among the four men having the lowest net score, a dozen golf balls will also be given. There will be also a consolation prize for the highest gross score. Albert C. Snyder, college bursar, is in charge of the golf tournament.

On Saturday morning, the golf and tennis finals will be held. In the early part of the afternoon, the baseball team of the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter will engage the New York Club.

In the later part of the afternoon, there will be a business meeting, a report by the alumni secretary, Albert C. Wagner, and the annual election of officers.

Dinner Scheduled

As a fitting climax to the week's festivities, a dinner will be held in the college refectory, Saturday evening. The assemblage will be divided up into four groups with the deans of the respective schools on the campus presiding over the particular delegation of graduates from their schools.

Heretofore, Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, dean of the Business School, has been the only member of the faculty who has held an annual gathering of his former students.

According to those in charge of the arrangements, invitation have been extended to Very Revs. Joseph A. Hickey, D. D., O. S. A., assistant general of the Augustinian Order, and Mortimer A. Sullivan, O. S. A., provincial of the Order in this country to attend the dinner.

CLUB IS FORMED

Wilkes-Barre Chapter of National Alumni Association Organized

In an election held May 11, by the newly organized Wilkes-Barre chapter of the Villanova Alumni Association, James Dever, '26, of Nanticoke, was chosen president.

Other officers selected are, vice-presidents, Hugh D. McGeehan, of Hazleton; Thomas F. Crannahan, '25, of Pittston, and Edward F. McGinty, '30, of Olyphant; Rev. John R. Cunningham, '27, of Scranton, chaplain; Joseph J. O'Donnell, '28, of Wilkes-Barre, financial secretary, and Francis T. Loughran, '27, recording secretary.

James J. More, '28, of Wilkes-Barre; Miles Bonner, '14, and Stanley A. Prokop, '31, of Lake Ariel, were named to the advisory committee. Another meeting of the club, the third in the short period it has been organized, is scheduled for tomorrow, May 23, at the Hotel Sterling in Wilkes-Barre. Harry Stuhldreher will be the guest speaker.

Wins High Award

(A. K. Staff Photo)

Joseph Cavaliere, freshman in the School of Science, was declared the victor in a Spanish contest conducted by Columbia University. The award, which was presented last week, consisted of a gold medal and a certificate.

Freshman Receives Testimony Medal

Continued From Page One

marvelous poise of his intellectual faculties."

He continued to say, "that no writer has ever shown a greater and more sympathetic understanding of human life; no one has ever brought the novel to a higher degree of perfection. While he was in prison during the Moorish War, he wrote his greatest masterpiece, Don Quijote Mancha. This immortal book, is, next to the Bible, the most often translated and most widely read book in the world."

In addition to the honor of being the recipient of this award, Mr. Cavaliere will have the distinction of receiving his diploma and medal at the commencement exercises next month.

Fr. Fresno stated that Mr. Cavaliere had made the most progress in his Spanish classes and that he deserved the award.

STUHLDREHER SPEAKS

An outline of the athletic program of Villanova, and what the college is doing to develop the physical activities of its students was the topic of an address given before the Young Men's Club of St. Nicholas Church in Passaic, N. J., by Harry Stuhldreher on Monday, May 14.

More than 600 persons heard the address, which was arranged by three graduates of Villanova, Timothy J. McCarthy, '28; John J. McDevitt, Jr., '28; Thomas J. White, '26; Albert S. Wagner, alumni secretary, directed the showing of the film, "College Life at Villanova."

FINAL ISSUE

Today marks the final issue of the VILLANOVAN for the present school year. While the staff has presented what they believe to be an excellent college weekly publication, they are, however, open to all constructive criticism that would make for a greater newspaper next fall. Suggestions should be written and the signature of the writer is requested.

Members of the present freshman class are urgently requested to fill petitions to join the staff when they return from their vacations in September.

For Your Tonsorial Necessities—

The Campus Barber Shop

Awaits Your Patronage

Popular Prices

Final Villanova Engineer Will Be Issued on Friday

Interesting Article on Zephyr to be Big Feature

DESCRIBES CAR

The final issue of the Villanova Engineer for the present scholastic year will make its appearance on the campus Friday and will be distributed to the engineering students at the regular time.

This issue climaxes the first year of existence for the Villanova Engineer which saw great changes for its betterment when its name was changed from the former name, The Owl. This will also be the ninth year that the School of Technology will be represented on the campus by an official publication.

This issue will contain many interesting articles for those interested in speed, power and electricity. "Th Mechanical Beetle," by Joseph Costigan, 5, will describe the newest racing car of Sir Malcolm Campbell, the British speed king. The car described will be the one in which the speed king hope sto attain a speed of three hundred miles per hour.

"Zephyr," by Alexander Lewis, 34, needs no introduction as its name speaks for itself. A most interesting story on the train of tomorrow, "The Burlington Zephyr," will be given, dealing with its construction and performance. Illustrations will accompany both of these stories.

Group pictures from the 1934 Belle Aire will accompany all the stories of the activities of the engineering organizations as well as the latest picture of the Villanova Engineer staff.

The General Electric news for this issue will deal with the world's largest astronomical mirror and telescope as well as a new type of automobile radio. An illustration of a huge pipe line, of which the diameter is as big as a house, which is being used in the construction of the Boulder Dam will also accompany the news.

The remainder of the magazine will be composed of the familiar "Cross Section" and "Collegiate World," together with a humorous poem entitled "The Higher Ups," written by John Ukleja, '34. The poem describes the various members of the engineering faculty.

E. Cadwalader, Inc.

Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies

6047 Market Street

Philadelphia

Phone Sherwood 1423

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits, Topcoats and Overcoats

$24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See

JIM ELLIOTT

Awards For Merit Given By College

Continued From Page One

for four activities include Walter Coyle, John Butler, Rodgers Hamel, William Hines, Charles Goggi, Edmond Kelly, Benedict Maloney and Robert McGrory.

Frank Conway, Anthony Catrambone, James Clark, John Barry, Albert Bartole, John Corkhill, John de Vine, Lawrence Doherty, two; John Barlow, Walter Coyle, four; John Butler, four; Pactrus Bannfilmiler, two; Michael Clavin, Roberts Bouson, two; Samuel Cape, Joseph Costigan, three; Thomas Dermody, Edmund Burke, Joseph Duffy, James Elliott, two; Donald Blanchard, two; James Downs, two; Joseph Arthur, two; Joseph Caulfeild, three; Albert Cerulo, two; Joseph Dunnigan, two; Eugene Barr, James Boyle, William Burt, two; James Carney, Robert Craig, two; William Devenney, Joseph Bigley, Frank Bigley, Martin Donnelly, Paul Barrow, Charles Betz, two; Edward Burns, William Cleary, John Cronin, John Dougherty, John O'Connor, Joseph Downey, Raphael De Uriarte, Leon Sienkowski, Paul Ball, John Burke, Arthur Differ, John Di Joseph.

James Fleming, Stanley Galazin, Robert Feniery, Robert Geist, five; John Hoey, two; Thomas Fitzpatrick, Rogers Hamel, four; William Hines, four; Carmen Giordano, two John Hughes, two; Raymond Harter, two Charles Goggi, four; William Gough, Aloysius Fitzpatrick, John Hoey, John Krajsa, John Kopcha, Arthur Lynch Leo Mooney, William Fath, Robert Guinnee, Daniel Jarvis, Daniel Murphy, Michael O'Meara, Edward Kilbane, two; Augustine Leotta, George Malhame, two; Joseph Medoff, Edward Ocsius, Edward Kelly, four; Benedict Maloney, four; Thomas Hughes, two; Robert McGrory, four; John Klekota, two; Joseph Mair, two; Harold McGrath, George Odewalt, Louis P. Marechal, two; Thomas Malcolm, Raphael Martinez-Alvarez, two; Stephen Kramer, two; William Levin, Joseph Mahalick, John Oriold, Joseph Kane, Joseph Kehoe, Harry Kornfield, Joseph Kelly, John McGee, two; Francis McNamara, John Lyons, two; Louis Marcotte, Frank McGinley, Daniel McGowan, Gerald Kunz, two; Philip Murray, two; Bernard LaRosa, John O'Hara, Samuel Miles, Nicholas Kotys, Joseph Lilly, two; Charles Miller, William O'Prey, William McDonald.

Stanley Lewandowski, John Laursonis, two; Robert McIntyre, Joseph Mele, John Mullen, John O'Connel, Joseph Linsainta, Frank O'Hara, George Schele, two; John Robinson, John Bell, two; Eric Storms, three; Henry Schappert, two; Donald Redington, two; John Strong, two; Frank Perri, Vincent Totin, Frank Rogers, Frank Scerca, Lawrence Stead, Miller Sullivan, Michael Tomasco, John Pickell, Edmund Piszek; Frank Romano, Edward Sullivan, Charles Stahlecker.

Edward Vaughn, William Zell, five; John Ukleial, James Walsh, three; Abraham Ulitsky and Anthony Zanni.

ARDROSSAN FARMS

"Certified Milk"

Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

Tower Theatre

69th St., Opp. Terminal

Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30

Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock

Saturdays and Holidays—Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.

Today

"Death Takes a Holiday"

with

Fredric March - Evelyn Venable

Wed. & Thurs.

"Lazy River"

with

Robert Jane, Jean Parker

Ted Healy

Fri., Sat. & Mon.

Warner Baxter in

"Such Women are Danger"

Anthony Wayne Theatre

Today

"LOST PATROL," with Victor McLaglen, Boris Karloff and Reginald Denny

Wed. & Thurs.

"Four Frightened People," with Claudet Colbert, Herbert Marshall and Mary Boland

Fri. & Sat.

"George White's Scandals," with Rudy Vallee, Alice Faye, Jimmie Durante, Cliff Edwards

Monday

"Gambling Lady," with Barbara Stanwyck, Joel McCrea

GARTLAND ELECTED LEADER OF L. K. D.

Bigley, Martyak, McLaughlin, Violetti and D'Alonzo Get New Pre-Med Posts

In the recent elections held by the Lambda Kappa Delta Fraternity, George D. Gartland, a junior in the Science School was elected president of the society for the scholastic year 1934-35.

Before the elections were held, Frank Ditchey, retiring president of the fraternity, reminded the members that it was their duty to pick a man who was capable of taking over such responsible duties. He furthermore told them that it was also necessary to leave college politics out of the elections and to disregard any member who desired to be nominated in a manner which was purely unsportsmanlike.

Joseph Bigley, sophomore in the Pre-Med School, was elected vice-president of the society. Gabriel Martyak, also a sophomore, was chosen to take over the office of treasurer. The task of being secretary was handed over to John McLaughlin, a freshman. Ralph Violetti was elected to represent the fraternity in the Student Council, and D'Alonzo will serve as sergeant-at-arms.

Due to the fact that no dinner dance will be held as formerly planned, a special meeting will be held today and the formal installation of the newly elected officers will take place. Mr. Ditchey will turn over his duties to the new president, who in turn will officially receive the new officers into the society.

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe

"College Tailor since 1925"

Have your garments cleaned, repaired and stored for the winter season at a reasonable price.

We congratulate the Class of '34.

F. COLADONATO

ARDMORE

A Warner Bros. Theatre

Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11

Today

Elissa Landi & Francis Letterer

in

"MAN OF TWO WORLDS"

Wed. and Thurs.

Otto Kruger

in

"THE CRIME DOCTOR"

Fri. & Sat.

Norma Shearer

in

"RIPTIDE"

Mon. & Tues.

Spencer Tracy

in

"THE SHOWOFF"

Seville Theatre

Today

"George White's Scandals," with Rudy Vallee, Alice Faye, Jimmie Durante, Cliff Edwards

Wed. & Thurs.

"As the Earth Turns," with Jean Muir & Donald Wood

Fri. & Sat.

"No More Women," with Edmund Lowe, Victor McLaglen

Monday

"Come On Marines," with Richard Arlen, Ida Lupino

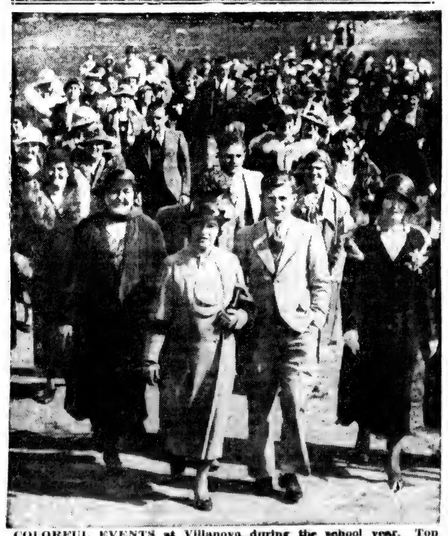
PHOTO FLASHES OF CAMPUS EVENTS

MENDAL MEDALIST for 1934, Abbe Georges LeMaitre, eminant Belgian priest-scientist, who received the distinguished award made annually by the college to a Catholic who has done outstanding work in the field of science (January 15).

These pictures portray those people and events which have made history on the Villanova campus during the scholastic year of 1933-34. Many other highlights have occurred but lack of space will not permit the showing of these events.

CAGE CAPTAIN, John Shevlin, a junior in the School of Commerce and Finance, who was elected to lead Doc Jacobs' basketball squad during their ambitious campaign next season.

LEADS GRIDDERS, William H. Grimberg, star end of the Wildcat eleven, chosen by his teammates to pilot the 1934 edition of the football squad after a season of brilliant playing. He succeeded George "Whitey" Randour (December 7, 1933).



COLORFUL EVENTS at Villanova during the school year. Top picture shows Very Rev. Joseph A. Hickey, D. D., O. S. A., assistant general of the Augustinian Order, Very Rev. Mortimer A. Sullivan, O. S. A., provincial of the Order in this country, and Mr. Ralph J. Handron, O. S. A., participating in the colorful exercises of the laying of the cornerstone of the new monastery (October 19, 1933). Center photo shows the official opening exercises of Junior Week, while the bottom picture was taken in connection with the Mother's Day program, the first outstanding event of the third-year men's week (April 30).

(Photo Courtesy Evening Ledger)

VICTORY SMILE of Walter E. Alessandroni, elected president of next year's senior class after defeating his rival for the office, William H. Grimberg. The new leader has been the center of the political maelstrom in the class of 1935 since entering Villanova (May 14).

SOPHS VICTORIOUS in their annual field day with members of the freshman class. Photo shows contestants after thrilling game with elusive greased pig. The match ended 40-30 in favor of the second-year men (November 1, 1933).

CUTE CHORINES, at least that's what the four husky football players attempted to portray as the second annual production of the Turf and Tinsel show, "Let's Go Places," which was given for three consecutive nights in the college gymnasium. Pictured left to right are Carrol Cook, William Grimberg, Bernard Lee and Carl Hickey (April 28).

ALUMNI OFFICIALS EFFECT CHANGES IN WEEK-END PROGRAM

Most of Events Will Be Held on Campus; To Celebrate With Dinner Saturday

PRIZES TO BE PRESENTED

With a desire to have all of the events take place on or as near the campus as possible, a few changes had to be made in the plans for the first Villanova Alumni week-end, scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 7, 8 and 9.

Revised plans call for attendance at the commencement exercises in the gymnasium on Thursday afternoon, but instead of having "A Night in Heidelberg," as originally scheduled for the evening's entertainment, something new in the form of an open air smoker and "bull session," will take place.

Sport Card Arranged

Tennis, golf, and swimming comprise the card for the second day's activities. An all-day tennis tournament will be run off on the campus courts, while the golf enthusiasts will be engaged in a tournament on the Valley Forge links. Friday's events will be brought to a close with an alumni swimming meet in the college pool.

Three prizes will be given to the winners of the tennis tournament which is being conducted by Joseph D. Freney, '27.

Attractive Awards

Awards to be presented to the golf victors are: First prize for lowest gross score, a silver trophy; for lowest net score, a dozen golf balls. To the winner of a drawing among the four men having the lowest net score, a dozen golf balls will also be given. There will be also a consolation prize for the highest gross score. Albert C. Snyder, college bursar, is in charge of the golf tournament.

On Saturday morning, the golf and tennis finals will be held. In the early part of the afternoon, the baseball team of the Philadelphia Alumni Chapter will engage the New York Club.

In the later part of the afternoon, there will be a business meeting, a report by the alumni secretary, Albert C. Wagner, and the annual election of officers.

Dinner Scheduled

As a fitting climax to the week's festivities, a dinner will be held in the college refectory, Saturday evening. The assemblage will be divided up into four groups with the deans of the respective schools on the campus presiding over the particular delegation of graduates from their schools.

Heretofore, Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, dean of the Business School, has been the only member of the faculty who has held an annual gathering of his former students.

According to those in charge of the arrangements, invitation have been extended to Very Revs. Joseph A. Hickey, D. D., O. S. A., assistant general of the Augustinian Order, and Mortimer A. Sullivan, O. S. A., provincial of the Order in this country to attend the dinner.

CLUB IS FORMED

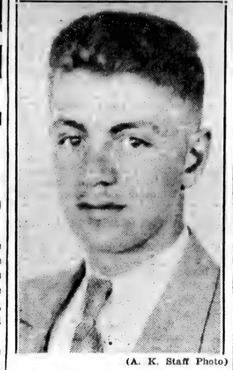
Wilkes-Barre Chapter of National Alumni Association Organized

In an election held May 11, by the newly organized Wilkes-Barre chapter of the Villanova Alumni Association, James Dever, '26, of Nanticoke, was chosen president

Other officers selected are, vice-presidents, Hugh D. McGeehan, of Hazleton; Thomas F. Crannahan, '25, of Pittston, and Edward F. McGinty, '30, of Olyphant; Rev. John R. Cunningham, '27, of Scranton, chaplain; Joseph J. O'Donnell, '28, of Wilkes-Barre, financial secretary, and Francis T. Loughran, '27, recording secretary.

James J. More, '28, of Wilkes-Barre; Miles Bonner, '14, and Stanley A. Prokop, '31, of Lake Ariel, were named to the advisory committee. Another meeting of the club, the third in the short period it has been organized, is scheduled for tomorrow, May 23, at the Hotel Sterling in Wilkes-Barre. Harry Stuhldreher will be the guest speaker.

Wins High Award



(A. K. Staff Photo)

Joseph Cavaliere, freshman in the School of Science, was declared the victor in a Spanish contest conducted by Columbia University. The award, which was presented last week, consisted of a gold medal and a certificate.

Freshman Receives Testimony Medal

Continued From Page One

marvelous poise of his intellectual faculties."

He continued to say, "that no writer has ever shown a greater and more sympathetic understanding of human life; no one has ever brought the novel to a higher degree of perfection. While he was in prison during the Moorish War, he wrote his greatest masterpiece, Don Quijote Mancha. This immortal book, is, next to the Bible, the most often translated and most widely read book in the world."

In addition to the honor of being the recipient of this award, Mr. Cavaliere will have the distinction of receiving his diploma and medal at the commencement exercises next month.

Fr. Fresno stated that Mr. Cavaliere had made the most progress in his Spanish classes and that he deserved the award.

STUHLDREHER SPEAKS

An outline of the athletic program of Villanova, and what the college is doing to develop the physical activities of its students was the topic of an address given before the Young Men's Club of St. Nicholas Church in Passaic, N. J., by Harry Stuhldreher on Monday, May 14.

More than 600 persons heard the address, which was arranged by three graduates of Villanova, Timothy J. McCarthy, '28; John J. McDevitt, Jr., '28; Thomas J. White, '26; Albert S. Wagner, alumni secretary, directed the showing of the film, "College Life at Villanova."

FINAL ISSUE

Today marks the final issue of the VILLANOVAN for the present school year. While the staff has presented what they believe to be an excellent college weekly publication, they are, however, open to all constructive criticism that would make for a greater newspaper next fall. Suggestions should be written and the signature of the writer is requested.

Members of the present freshman class are urgently requested to fill petitions to join the staff when they return from their vacations in September.

For Your Tonsorial Necessities—

The Campus Barber Shop

Awaits Your Patronage

Popular Prices

Final Villanova Engineer Will Be Issued on Friday

Interesting Article on Zephyr to be Big Feature

DESCRIBES CAR

The final issue of the Villanova Engineer for the present scholastic year will make its appearance on the campus Friday and will be distributed to the engineering students at the regular time.

This issue climaxes the first year of existence for the Villanova Engineer which saw great changes for its betterment when its name was changed from the former name, The Owl. This will also be the ninth year that the School of Technology will be represented on the campus by an official publication.

This issue will contain many interesting articles for those interested in speed, power and electricity. "Th Mechanical Beetle," by Joseph Costigan, 5, will describe the newest racing car of Sir Malcolm Campbell, the British speed king. The car described will be the one in which the speed king hope sto attain a speed of three hundred miles per hour.

"Zephyr," by Alexander Lewis, 34, needs no introduction as its name speaks for itself. A most interesting story on the trair of tomorrow, "The Burlington Zephyr," will be given, dealing with its construction and performance. Illustrations will accompany both of these stories.

Group pictures from the 1934 Belle Aire will accompany all the stories of the activities of the engineering organizations as well as the latest picture of the Villanova Engineer staff.

The General Electric news for this issue will deal with the world's largest astronomical mirror and telescope as well as a new type of automobile radio. An illustration of a huge pipe line, of which the diameter is as big as a house, which is being used in the construction of the Boulder Dam will also accompany the news.

The remainder of the magazine will be composed of the familiar "Cross Section" and "Collegiate World," together with a humorous poem entitled "The Higher Ups," written by John Ukleja, '34. The poem describes the various members of the engineering faculty.

Awards For Merit Given By College

Continued From Page One

for four activities include Walter Coyle, John Butler, Rodgers Hamel, William Hines, Charles Goggi, Edmond Kelly, Benedict Maloney and Robert McGrory.

Frank Conway, Anthony Catrambone, James Clark, John Barry, Albert Bartole, John Corkhill, John de Vine, Lawrence Doherty, two; John Barlow, Walter Coyle, four; John Butler, four; Paetrus Bannimiller, two; Michael Clavin, Roberts Bouson, two; Samuel Cape, Joseph Costigan, three; Thomas Darmody, Edmund Burke, Joseph Duffy, James Elliott, two; Donald Blanchard, two; James Downs, two; Joseph Arthur, two; Joseph Caulfield, three; Albert Cerulo, two; Joseph Dunnigan, two; Eugene Barr, James Boyle, William Burt, two; James Carney, Robert Craig, two; William Devenney, Joseph Bigley, Frank Bigley, Martin Donnelly, Paul Barrow, Charles Betz, two; Edward Burns, William Cleary, John Cronin, John Dougherty, John O'Connor, Joseph Downey, Raphael De Uriarte, Leon Bienkowski, Paul Ball, John Burke, Arthur Differ, John Di Joseph.

James Fleming, Stanley Galazin, Robert Feehery, Robert Geist, five; John Hoey, two; Thomas Fitzpatrick, Rogers Hamel, four; William Hines, four; Carmen Giordano, two John Hughes, two; Raymond Harter, two Charles Goggi, four; William Gough, Aloysius Fitzpatrick, John Hosey, John Krajsa, John Kopcha, Arthur Lynch Leo Mooney, William Fath, Robert Guinee, Daniel Jarvis, Daniel Murphy, Michael O'Meara, Edward Kilbane, two; Augustine Leotta, George Malhame, two; Joseph Medoff, Edward Ocelus, Edward Kelly, four; Benedict Maloney, four; Thomas Hughes, two; Robert McGrory, four; John Kiekota, two; Joseph Mair, two; Harold McGrath, George Odewait, Louis P. Marechal, two; Thomas Malcolm, Raphael Martinez-Alvarez, two; Stephen Kramer, two; William Levin, Joseph Mahalcik, John Oriold, Joseph Kane, Joseph Kehoe, Harry Kornfeld, Joseph Kelly, John McGee, two; Francis McNamara, John Lyons, two; Louis Marcotte, Frank McGinley, Daniel McGowan, Gerald Kunz, two; Philip Murray, two; Bernard LaRosa, John O'Hara, Samuel Miles, Nicholas Kotys, Joseph Lilly, two; Charles Miller, William O'Prey, William McDonald.

Stanley Lewandowski, John Laursonis, two; Robert McIntyre, Joseph Mele, John Mullen, John O'Connel, Joseph Linsalata, Frank O'Hara, George Schele, two; John Robinson, John Stell, two; Eric Storms, three; Henry Schappert, two; Donald Redington, two; John Strong, two; Frank Perri, Vincent Totin, Frank Rogers, Frank Scerca, Lawrence Stead, Miller Sullivan, Michael Tomasco, John Pickell, Edmund Piszek, Frank Romano, Edward Sullivan, Charles Stahlecker.

Edward Vaughn, William Zeil, five; John Ukleja, James Walsh, three; Abraham Ulitsky and Anthony Zanni.

E. Cadwalader, Inc.

Paints, Glass and Painters' Supplies

6047 Market Street

Philadelphia

Phone Sherwood 1423

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits, Topcoats and Overcoats

$24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See JIM ELLIOTT

ARDROSSAN FARMS

"Certified Milk"

Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

Tower Theatre

69th St., Opp. Terminal
Matinee Daily 1 to 4.30
Evenings—7 and 9 o'clock
Saturdays and Holidays—
Continuous 12.30 to 11.30 P. M.

Today
"Death Takes a Holiday"
with
Fredric March - Evelyn Venable

Wed. & Thurs.
"Lazy River"
with
Robert Jane, Jean Parker
Ted Healy

Fri., Sat. & Mon.
Warner Baxter in
"Such Women are Danger"

Anthony Wayne Theatre

Today
"LOST PATROL," with Victor McLaglen, Boris Karloff and Reginald Denny

Wed. & Thurs.
"Four Frightened People," with Claudet Colbert, Herbert Marshall and Mary Boland

Fri. & Sat.
"George White's Scandals," with Rudy Vallee, Alice Faye, Jimmie Durante, Cliff Edwards

Monday
"Gambling Lady," with Barbara Stanwyck, Joel McCrea

GARTLAND ELECTED LEADER OF L. K. D.

Bigley, Martyak, McLaughlin, Violetti and D'Alonzo Get New Pre-Med Posts

In the recent elections held by the Lambda Kappa Delta Fraternity, George D. Gartland, a junior in the Science School was elected president of the society for the scholastic year 1934-35.

Before the elections were held, Frank Ditchey, retiring president of the fraternity, reminded the members that it was their duty to pick a man who was capable of taking over such responsible duties. He furthermore told them that it was also necessary to leave college politics out of the elections and to disregard any member who desired to be nominated in a manner which was purely unsportsmanlike.

Joseph Bigley, sophomore in the Pre-Med School, was elected vice-president of the society. Gabriel Martyak, also a sophomore, was chosen to take over the office of treasurer. The task of being secretary was handed over to John McLaughlin, a freshman. Ralph Violetti was elected to represent the fraternity in the Student Council, and D'Alonzo will serve as sergeant-at-arms.

Due to the fact that no dinner dance will be held as formerly planned, a special meeting will be held today and the formal installation of the newly elected officers will take place. Mr. Ditchey will turn over his duties to the new president, who in turn will officially receive the new officers into the society.

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe

"College Tailor since 1925"

Have your garments cleaned, repaired and stored for the winter season at a reasonable price.

We congratulate the Class of '34.

F. COLADONATO

ARDMORE

A Warner Bros. Theatre
Matinee Daily 1.30 to 4.30—Eve. 7 to 11

Today
Elissa Landi & Francis Letterer
in
"MAN OF TWO WORLDS"

Wed. and Thurs.
Otto Kruger
in
"THE CRIME DOCTOR"

Fri. & Sat.
Norma Shearer
in
"RIPTIDE"

Mon. & Tues.
Spencer Tracy
in
"THE SHOWOFF"

Seville Theatre

Today
"George White's Scandals," with Rudy Vallee, Alice Faye, Jimmie Durante, Cliff Edwards

Wed. & Thurs.
"As the Earth Turns," with Jean Muir & Donald Wood

Fri. & Sat.
"No More Women," with Edmund Lowe, Victor McLaglen

Monday
"Come On Marines," with Richard Arlen, Ida Lupino

—INTRA-CLASS GAMES HELD IN BASEBALL

Freshmen Defeat Sophomores as Seniors Win Close One From Juniors

Following the suggestion of Harry Stuhldreher that the students of all four classes participate in baseball contests, the first intra-class baseball tourney got under way Sunday morning on the varsity field.

In the morning contest the freshmen met the sophomores in a spirited battle which terminated after six innings with the frosh out in front by the score of 5 to 3. In the contest played in the afternoon the third-year students fell before the potent bats of the seniors, the score at the close of the ninth standing at 8-4.

In the morning game the lowly frosh once again came forward and showed their supremacy on the diamond as they have done in the intra-mural league. Rodman, a newcomer to the yearling pitching ranks, hurled fine ball for the victors, allowing but six hits in as many frames. It was in the pinches that he pitched his best ball, time after time, putting down efforts made for a rally. The scintillating play of his teammates, however, is not to be forgotten. In the third canto Maximovitch rapped out a long triple to start what looked like a threatening rally. Rodman then fanned the next hitter and as Voran came to bat and subsequently filed up, Maximovitch was caught off third sack by Jack Stiles who was catching for the frosh. Christopher and Salo were the heavy stickers for the victors, each being cerdited with long triplea. The pitching of Maximovitch was good but in the pinches he wasn't able to hold the first year men down and their scores came in bunches.

Verbyla, twirling for the seniors, allowed the third year men but eight hits in the nine frames played, while his opponent on the mound, Shevlin, was nicked for only nine. The contest was won by the last year men by the score of 8 to 4.

Jack Shevlin's smoke ball failed to smoke for him and he was unable to pitch the practically airtight ball that he has pitched so far this year in the intra-mural contests. In the entire nine frames he only fanned two men while Verbyla whiffed four to better him by two.

AUSTIN LEADS INTRA-MURALS

Softball Standing Still in Doubt But Firemen Clinch Lead

With the final standing of softball still in doubt, Austin Hall seems to have clinched the victory in the intra-mural leagues for the 1933-34 season. Although there can still be ten points added and the other points for the remaining places it appears that because of the six-point lead the Austinites cannot possibly drop into second as they are well on the road for third place but may even finish in second.

Five points are given for third place and thos would give Austin 65 points. If Alumni should win they would receive ten points for a total of 64. No other team can challenge the Austin lead with the exception of Alumni.

Final Intra-Mural Standings

	Alumni	Austin	Day Hops	Fedigan	Mendel
Basketball	20	12	4	12	4
Football	10	7	1	3	5
(Both halves)
Volley Ball	10	3	1	5	7
Swimming	5	7	10	1	3
Track	1	10	3	7	5
Golf	3	7	10	5	—
Boxing	1	7	3	5	10
Baseball	4	7	1	4	10
Totals	54	60	33	42	44

NOTE: This does not include the final results of the Softball League.

Golf and Tennis Teams Conclude Very Successful Spring Campaigns

The Villanova golfers have finished another successful season, with twelve matches completed the Wildcats have won 8 and lost 4.

The season opened with the strong foursome from Boston College but the 'Cats handed the Beaneaters a six to nothing setback on their home course in St. David's. The team consisted of Jim Elliott, junior captain; DaveCragg at number two position; Jim McNerney in third spot, and Joe Duffy at number four.

This quartet started the first three matches of the season and in addition to their victory over B. C., they defeated Swarthmore College and lost a close match to the strong team representing Haverford.

Temple journeyed to the Main Lin. Open Course and were sent home on the short end of a six to nothing score. In this match Ed Burke replaced Joe Duffy at number four for the 'Cats and played in all the remaining matches during the fulfillment of the schedule.

Following the Temple contest, the Villanova foursome lost two straight. New Jersey Teachers and Delaware both downed the Blue and White in close matches.

Manhattan, Osteopathy and Temple, for the second time, added more tallies to the Villanova victory column. In the match against Osteopathy, Jim McNerney made the 1934 season a year to be remembered by scoring a hole in one on the ninth over the St. Davids course.

Villanova's undefeated tennis team continued on its winning rampage by defeating two more teams during the past week. The Blue and Whitenetmen downed Ursinus last Friday afternoon, 4 to 3, and Bucknell on Saturday, 5 to 2, on the Main Line courts.

The highlight of both matches was Steve Kramer's prodigious stroking which enabled him to continue the season unbeaten in both singles and doubles competition.

The Ursinus game was closely fought from start to finish and was not decided until the final doubles match, the last event on the program, was played. Both teams played hard, heads up tennis and it was only through a clean sweep in the doubles that a victory for Villanova was realized.

On Saturday, the Bucknell team was put to rout to the tune of 5 to 2. This contest was featured with four overtime matches under a blazing sun. However, the Villanova team held the upper hand throughout and there was no doubt as to the ultimate outcome.

In this meeting Bill Orcutt, Steve Kramer and Frank Estrada won their singles matches, while Sam Miles and Ed Malhame went down to defeat. Both doubles combinations of Miles and Orcutt, and Kramer and Malhame won their matches in extended sets.

By virtue of these two victories the Wildcat court representatives brought their season's victories to six consecutive wins.

"I THANK YOU—
I thank you ever so much—but I couldn't even think about smoking a cigarette."

"WELL, I UNDERSTAND,
but they are so mild and taste so good that I thought you might not mind trying one while we are riding along out here."

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Volume 7

n. 1-28

October 2, 1934 – May 21, 1935

VILLANOVAN

VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1934 — Price: Five Cents

Are You Keeping the Folks at Home In Touch With Your Activities By Means of an Occasional Letter

...RANCE
...D BAND
... GAME

...ds Initial
...n For
...oup

...EASED;
...TUDENTS

... Uniforms
...Proves

...tylish band
...nce Satur-
...e before a
...vation wor-
...ny orches-
...out on the
...ep and a

... in their
... were the
...sing their
...embers of

...ed the ini-
...eason, Fri-
... 21, when
...ped band
...nce in the

...ng to the
...d His Or-
...termission
...the college
...ion on the
... their re-
...dle of the
...ial music.
...tion from
...endered a
...luding the
...March of
... direction

... the con-
...re-season
... school a
... campaign
... began in
...e VILLA-
... brought
... untiring
...s J. Mel-
..., and the
... O. S. A.,
...lege and

...nior, and
...vided at-
...rience to
... school a
...od as, if
... Eastern
...d music.
...ccording

...Page Seven

A HIGH STEPPER

PIO GOGGI,
a sophomore in the School of Science, who, as drum major of the snappy new Villanova band, struts his stuff at the football games this fall.

3 MEMBERS ADDED TO SCHOOL STAFF

Rev. John Burns, O. S. A., Returns to Assume His Former Professorship

Few changes in the faculty mark the opening of the school year. They consist of the addition of the Rev. John J. Fitzmaurice, O. S. A., M. A., the return of the Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A., Ph. D., and a new teaching position for William Driscoll, '33, in the Arts and Science Schools.

Fr. Fitzmaurice will conduct some of the classes in French and Latin. He comes to Villanova from the Villanova Prep School in Ojai, Calif., where he was also engaged in teaching. Fr. Fitzmaurice will

Continued on Page Seven

...to Mark Home-Coming; ...cts About 800 Alumni

...anniver-
...ldrher's
...than 800
...sociation
...it game

...is year's
... trans-
...l Buck-
...ntersect-
...d White

... extend-
...ving re-
...rty-yard
...he Vill-

...ete the
...hia will
... Alumni
...Chateau
...e, Phil-
...ents in
...chestra
... been
...charge.
...nay be
... Alumni
...ttached

to the annual get-together when Very Reverend Joseph A. Hickey, O. S. A., Assistant General of the Augustinian Order delayed his return to Rome in order to be present at the old grads' reunion.

Albert C. Wagner, secretary of the graduate organization, announced that the election of officers will take place this June in conjunction with an innovation inaugrated last year at the Annutl Alumni weekend return.

Had Successful Term

Officers elected last year include: president, Honorable Charles D. McAvoy, '98, District Attorney and Democratic leader of Montgomery County. Mr. McAvoy is a well known figure in political and county affairs. He received his Master of Arts Degree from Villanova in 1901 and a Doctor of Laws degree in 1919.

His predecessor was John A. Freney, '29; vice president, William succeeds Phineas T. Vize, Jr., '23 of Brooklyn.

Under the regime of Mr. McAvoy, the Alumni is witnessing one of its best years and many social affairs are planned for the coming months.

Collegiate Rotogravure Featured by Villanovan

Beginning with today's issue of the VILLANOVAN, all students will receive a copy of Collegiate Digest, one of the latest features to be devoted to the presentation of college news in picture and paragraph. It will be distributed each time the newspaper at this institution is published during the current scholastic year. Nearly 200 college newspapares through out the country are member sof the association which is responsible for publishing this distinctively collegiate supplement. The VILLANOVAN has inuagurated this feature for the purpose of furnishing readers greater enjoyment, with an eye to advancing this newspaper another step in the direction of America's foremost student weekly.

RECTALOGUE BOOKS IN SCHOOL LIBRARY

Congressional System Adopted by College Officials; Begun During Summer

One of the outstanding improvements to be noted by the returning students is the work already under way in the college library.

Shortly after commencement, a truly mammoth task was undertaken in recataloging and reclassifying the library according to the Library of Congress System.

The average student can hardly appreciate how much care and work this undertaking involves. When it is realized, however, that fifteen workers have been engaged on this work full time all summer, and that from thirty to forty students will be engaged part-time on this work throughout the college year, a better idea of the size of the job can be obtained.

The administration of the college decided to undertake this task as a project under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration in order to provide part-time work and to insure that the college library might be brought up to date.

The Library of Congress System is meeting with universal favor not only in this country, but even abroad. For some years past under grant from the Carnegie Foundation, expert workers have been engaged in the Vatican Library at Rome, introducing the Library of Congress System and cataloging the vast resources of what is perhaps

Continued on Page Seven

FIRST ALUMNI MEETING HELD THURSDAY EVENING

Arrangements for Annual Football Banquet Discussed by Members; Freney Is Chairman

The Villanova Club of Philadelphia held its first meeting of the season last Thursday evening in the Penn Athletic Club . Dinner was served to thirty-five members. The guest of honor was Very Rev. Joseph A. Hickey, O. S. A., Assistant General of the Augustian Order. Jay Henry Korson, '31, was the chairman.

Plans were formulated for the annual banquet tendered to the football team. This affair will be held either during the second or third week in December at the Penn A. C. or Adelphia Hotel.

Since this is Coach Harry Stuhldreher's tenth season at Villanova, it is expected that this banquet will by far surpass all such previous affairs. Last year more than 300 were present at the dinner. The chairman of the function is Joseph D. Freney, '27.

The Villanova Club of Philadelphia will hereafter hold its meetings on the last Thursday of each month at the Penn A. C. The club plans to have someone from the college at every meeting. The members have full use of all the facilities of the Penn A. C. on that evening. Thomas J. McCoy, '29, is the president of the Villanova alumni of Philadelphia

George Malhame Appointed Editor of Senior Annual

TO EDIT BELLE AIR

GEORGE C. MALHAME,
a senior in the School of Arts, who has been placed in charge of the annual of the Class of '35

Joseph Medoff Chosen Business Manager of 1935 Book

TO NAME STAFF

George C. Malhame, a senior in the College of Arts, has been appointed editor-in-chief of the 1935 Belle Air, according to an announcement made by Rev. John T. McCall, O. S. A., faculty moderator of the annual.

Simultaneously with this appointment came the announcement that Joseph Medoff, a senior pre-medical student, had been appointed to serve in the capacity of business manager for the publication.

Plans Uncertain

The remainder of the staff will be appointed by the editor-in-chief.

Mr. Malhame is waiting until he organizes his group before formulating any definite plans concerning the motif of this year's book.

An idea of standardizing the cover which adorned last year's book is being considered. Last year's front page will be remembered as being graced with an engraving of the new monastery.

Malhame is not unfamiliar with the routine relevant to the office of editor-in-chief of the senior annual. He was a member of the editorial staff of the VILLANOVAN his freshman and sophomore years, and last year was associate editor of the Belle Air. He was likewise vice-president of his class during his sophomore and junior years. He has been a member of the Catholic Press Apostolate for three years, having been elected to serve as the president of the organization this year.

REV. JAMES HURLEY IS RETREAT MASTER

Services to Begin Thursday Morning for All Students; Mass on Friday

Villanova's annual one-day retreat will be held this year on October 4th. The services will be conducted by Rev. James Hurley, O. S. A., master of novices at the novitiate of Our Mother of Good Counsel, New Hamburg, N. Y.

Services for resident and day students will be conducted separately. The resident students will attend the opening talk tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. On the following day, the schedule for attendance at these services will be as follows: Resident students, Mass at 7 A. M., conferences at 9 A. M. and at 11 A. M. At 3 P. M. there will be Stations of the Cross, and the final service of the day will be a conference at 6:30 P. M.

Day students will attend Mass at 8 A. M., and conferences at 10 A. M. and at 12:30 o'clock noon. At 1 P. M. they will attend Stations of the Cross. The final service for the day students will consist of a conference followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 2:30 P. M.

On Friday morning Mass for all resident students will be celebrated at 7 o'clock and for the day students at 8 o'clock.

Breakfast for the day students

Continued on Page Seven

NEW ALUMNI SECRETARY

Joseph A. Hoenig, '34, Replaces Albert C. Wagner as Grad Officer

On Saturday the National Alumni Association of Villanova will be represented at the college by a new secretary who will take over his duties on that day.

Joseph A. Hoenig, '34, a graduate of the School of Commerce and Finance, has been appointed to relieve Albert C. Wagner, '32, who has held the post of alumni secretary for two years.

Mr. Wagner, a graduate of the Arts School, is relinquishing his position because he intends to study for his master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Hoenig is a resident of Albany, N. Y.

Progress ....

Library—The congressional system has been established.

VILLANOVAN office—The staff has moved to more spacious quarters in Room 119, Mendel Hall.

Business School Pie Shoppe — Louie has opened a subsidiary Pie Shoppe in the basement of the Business School.

Stadium Addition — Twenty-seven hundred new seats have been added to the stadium.

Training Quarters—New training table for the football squad has been established in the basement of the Monastery.

Priests' Dining Room—The partition has been removed, and the interior has been redecorated and repainted.

Fedigan Hall—New screens have been added throughout and the interior repainted.

Field Rolled—The field in front of the Gymnasium has been rolled, making an excellent parking place for the coming football season.

Sewer Renovation—The old sumppit in the rear of the C & F School has been removed.

Campus Entrance—The old walls at the entrance of the campus have been torn down and new ones erected. A new sign with "Villanova College" pointed on it has been placed at the entrance.

On behalf of the student body, the VILLANOVAN wishes to take the opportunity of expressing its sincere sympathy to John Klekotka, of the Senior class, on the death of his beloved father, Peter Klekotka, September 30. Funeral services will be held today.

Students!
Learn Your Cheers and Songs
For Game With
Western Maryland
Saturday, 2:30 P. M.

VILLANOVAN

Are You Keeping the Folks at Home
In Touch With Your Activities
By Means of an Occasional Letter

Vol. 7—No. 1 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1934 Price: Five Cents

NATTY APPEARANCE OF REVAMPED BAND MARKS FIRST GAME

Large Crowd Attends Initial Dance of Season For Benefit of Group

MEMBERSHIP INCREASED; INCLUDES 45 STUDENTS

West Point Type of Uniforms In Colorful Array Proves Distinctive

Villanova's new and stylish band made its formal appearance Saturday at the opening game before a vast crowd. Amid an ovation worthy of any great symphony orchestra, the band pranced out on the field with a snappy step and a catchy march.

Following the band in their march down the field were the proud "Frosh" witnessing their first college game as members of such an institution.

Over 500 people attended the initial dance of the social season, Friday evening, September 21, when the completely revamped band made its premier appearance in the college gymnasium.

Patrons enjoyed dancing to the music of Jack Delmar and His Orchestra. During the intermission they were entertained by the college band. From a V formation on the stage, they paraded to their respective seats in the middle of the dance floor, playing martial music. After a tremendous ovation from their guests, the band rendered a well-rounded program including the "Alma Mater" and the "March of the Wildcats," under the direction of Paul Teel.

College officials believe the constant practice during pre-season training has given the school a noteworthy band. The campaign for new uniforms, which began in the editorial column of the VILLANOVAN last year, has brought about results through the untiring work of the Rev. Charles J. Melchior, O. S. A., procurator, and the Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college and moderator of the band.

Martin Gill, Paul Melchior, and Paul Teel gave their undivided attention and musical experience to the band and promise the school a musical organization as good as, if not better than, any in the Eastern colleges, both in dress and music.

The uniform is styled according

Continued on Page Seven

A HIGH STEPPER

PIO GOGGI,
a sophomore in the School of Science, who, as drum major of the snappy new Villanova band, struts his stuff at the football games this fall.

3 MEMBERS ADDED TO SCHOOL STAFF

Rev. John Burns, O. S. A., Returns to Assume His Former Professorship

Few changes in the faculty mark the opening of the school year. They consist of the addition of the Rev. John J. Fitzmaurice, O. S. A., M. A., the return of the Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A., Ph. D., and a new teaching position for William Driscoll, '33, in the Arts and Science Schools.

Fr. Fitzmaurice will conduct some of the classes in French and Latin. He comes to Villanova from the Villanova Prep School in Ojai, Calif., where he was also engaged in teaching. Fr. Fitzmaurice will

Continued on Page Seven

Collegiate Rotogravure Featured by Villanovan

Beginning with today's issue of the VILLANOVAN, all students will receive a copy of Collegiate Digest, one of the latest features to be devoted to the presentation of college news in picture and paragraph. It will be distributed each time the newspaper at this institution is published during the current scholastic year. Nearly 200 college newspapares through out the country are member sof the association which is responsible for publishing this distinctively collegiate supplement. The VILLANOVAN has inuagurated this feature for the purpose of furnishing readers greater enjoyment, with an eye to advancing this newspaper another step in the direction of America's foremost student weekly.

RECTALOGUE BOOKS IN SCHOOL LIBRARY

Congressional System Adopted by College Officials; Begun During Summer

One of the outstanding improvements to be noted by the returning students is the work already under way in the college library.

Shortly after commencement, a truly mammoth task was undertaken in recataloging and reclassifying the library according to the Library of Congress System.

The average student can hardly appreciate how much care and work this undertaking involves. When it is realized, however, that fifteen workers have been engaged on this work full time all summer, and that from thirty to forty students will be engaged part-time on this work throughout the college year, a better idea of the size of the job can be obtained.

The administration of the college decided to undertake this task as a project under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration in order to provide part-time work and to insure that the college library might be brought up to date.

The Library of Congress System is meeting with universal favor not only in this country, but even abroad. For some years past under grant from the Carnegie Foundation, expert workers have been engaged in the Vatican Library at Rome, introducing the Library of Congress System and cataloging the vast resources of what is perhaps

Continued on Page Seven

FIRST ALUMNI MEETING HELD THURSDAY EVENING

Arrangements for Annual Football Banquet Discussed by Members; Freney Is Chairman

The Villanova Club of Philadelphia held its first meeting of the season last Thursday evening in the Penn Athletic Club . Dinner was served to thirty-five members. The guest of honor was Very Rev. Joseph A. Hickey, O. S. A., Assistant General of the Augustian Order. Jay Henry Korson, '31, was the chairman.

Plans were formulated for the annual banquet tendered to the football team. This affair will be held either during the second or third week in December at the Penn A. C. or Adelphia Hotel.

Since this is Coach Harry Stuhldreher's tenth season at Villanova, it is expected that this banquet will by far surpass all such previous affairs. Last year more than 300 were present at the dinner. The chairman of the function is Joseph D. Freney, '27.

The Villanova Club of Philadelphia will hereafter hold its meetings on the last Thursday of each month at the Penn A. C. The club plans to have someone from the college at every meeting. The members have full use of all the facilities of the Penn A. C. on that evening. Thomas J. McCoy, '29, is the president of the Villanova alumni of Philadelphia

George Malhame Appointed Editor of Senior Annual

TO EDIT BELLE AIR

GEORGE C. MALHAME,
a senior in the School of Arts, who has been placed in charge of the annual of the Class of '35

Joseph Medoff Chosen Business Manager of 1935 Book

TO NAME STAFF

George C. Malhame, a senior in the College of Arts, has been appointed editor-in-chief of the 1935 Belle Air, according to an announcement made by Rev. John T. McCall, O. S. A., faculty moderator of the annual.

Simultaneously with this appointment came the announcement that Joseph Medoff, a senior pre-medical student, had been appointed to serve in the capacity of business manager for the publication.

Plans Uncertain

The remainder of the staff will be appointed by the editor-in-chief.

Mr. Malhame is waiting until he organizes his group before formulating any definite plans concerning the motif of this year's book.

An idea of standardizing the cover which adorned last year's book is being considered. Last year's front page will be remembered as being graced with an engraving of the new monastery.

Malhame is not unfamiliar with the routine relevant to the office of editor-in-chief of the senior annual. He was a member of the editorial staff of the VILLANOVAN his freshman and sophomore years, and last year was associate editor of the Belle Air. He was likewise vice-president of his class during his sophomore and junior years. He has been a member of the Catholic Press Apostolate for three years, having been elected to serve as the president of the organization this year.

REV. JAMES HURLEY IS RETREAT MASTER

Services to Begin Thursday Morning for All Students; Mass on Friday

Villanova's annual one-day retreat will be held this year on October 4th. The services will be conducted by Rev. James Hurley, O. S. A., master of novices at the novitiate of Our Mother of Good Counsel, New Hamburg, N. Y.

Services for resident and day students will be conducted separately. The resident students will attend the opening talk tomorrow evening at 8:30 o'clock. On the following day, the schedule for attendance at these services will be as follows: Resident students, Mass at 7 A. M., conferences at 9 A. M. and at 11 A. M. At 3 P. M. there will be Stations of the Cross, and the final service of the day will be a conference at 6:30 P. M.

Day students will attend Mass at 8 A. M., and conferences at 10 A. M. and at 12:30 o'clock noon. At 1 P. M. they will attend Stations of the Cross. The final service for the day students will consist of a conference followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 2:30 P. M.

On Friday morning Mass for all resident students will be celebrated at 7 o'clock and for the day students at 8 o'clock.

Breakfast for the day students

Continued on Page Seven

Progress ....

Library—The congressional system has been established.

VILLANOVAN office The staff has moved to more spacious quarters in Room 119, Mendel Hall.

Business School Pie Shoppe — Louie has opened a subsidiary Pie Shoppe in the basement of the Business School.

Stadium Addition - Twenty-seven hundred new seats have been added to the stadium.

Training Quarters—New training table for the football squad has been established in the basement of the Monastery.

Priests' Dining Room— The partition has been removed, and the interior has been redecorated and repainted.

Fedigan Hall—New screens have been added throughout and the interior repainted.

Field Rolled—The field in front of the Gymnasium has been rolled, making an excellent parking place for the coming football season.

Sewer Renovation—The old sumppit in the rear of the C & F School has been removed.

Campus Entrance—The old walls at the entrance of the campus have been torn down and new ones erected. A new sign with "Villanova College" pointed on it has been placed at the entrance.

Detroit Game to Mark Home-Coming; Wagner Expects About 800 Alumni

To celebrate the tenth anniversary of Harry A. Stuhldrher's coming to Villanova more than 800 members of the Alumni Association will attend the annual Detroit game on October 20.

Marking an innovation, this year's homecoming day has been transferred from the traditional Bucknell feud to the colorful intersectional clash of the Blue and White with their mid-western foes.

Section Reserved

The graduates have been extended the privilege of occupying reserved seats between the forty-yard lines in the south stand of the Villanova cheering section.

To make the day complete the Villanova Club of Philadelphia will play host to the National Alumni at a supper dance in the Chateau Crillion, Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia. Special arrangements in the form of a well known orchestra and entertainment have been arranged by the officers in charge. Tickets for this function may be procured only through the Alumni office.

Added significance was attached to the annual get-together when Very Reverend Joseph A. Hickey, O. S. A., Assistant General of the Augustinian Order delayed his return to Rome in order to be present at the old grads' reunion.

Albert C. Wagner, secretary of the graduate organization, announced that the election of officers will take place this June in conjunction with an innovation inaugrated last year at the Annutl Alumni weekend return.

Had Successful Term

Officers elected last year include: president, Honorable Charles D. McAvoy, '98, District Attorney and Democratic leader of Montgomery County. Mr. McAvoy is a well known figure in political and county affairs. He received his Master of Arts Degree from Villanova in 1901 and a Doctor of Laws degree in 1919.

His predecessor was John A. Freney, '29; vice president, William succeeds Phineas T. Vize, Jr., '23 of Brooklyn.

Under the regime of Mr. McAvoy, the Alumni is witnessing one of its best years and many social affairs are planned for the coming months.

NEW ALUMNI SECRETARY

Joseph A. Hoenig, '34, Replaces Albert C. Wagner as Grad Officer

On Saturday the National Alumni Association of Villanova will be represented at the college by a new secretary who will take over his duties on that day.

Joseph A. Hoenig, '34, a graduate of the School of Commerce and Finance, has been appointed to relieve Albert C. Wagner, '32, who has held the post of alumni secretary for two years.

Mr. Wagner, a graduate of the Arts School, is relinquishing his position because he intends to study for his master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Hoenig is a resident of Albany, N. Y.

On behalf of the student body, the VILLANOVAN wishes to take the opportunity of expressing its sincere sympathy to John Klekotka, of the Senior class, on the death of his beloved father, Peter Klekotka, September 30. Funeral services will be held today.

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. ETELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARCHIAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DOGHERTY, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35 ..... Photographic Editor

Associate College Editor
Edmond C. Malhame, '35

Associate Sports Editor
William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35
James W. Keeley, '36
John J. Butler, '35
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36
Pio Gorgi, '37
John F. Chapple, '37
Phillip Murray, '37
Percy B. Frank, '35
Russel H. Marcouse, '35
Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Benedict Maloney, '37
John B. Geraghty, '37
Frank J. O'Hara, '37
Walter E. Alexandroni, '36
Anthony Catrambone, '36

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37
John Laurusonis, '35
Stanley Lewandoski, '36
Frank Alfono, '36
John Burke, '37
John Peter Faso, '36
Charles Belz, '37
John Mullin, '37
Anthony Zanni, '36
Anthony Differ, '37
Basil Dabrowski, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova, scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN

Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - OCTOBER 2, 1934

WILL THE CARNEGIE REPORT HAVE ANY EFFECT?

COLLEGE graduates have very little in the form of an effective education to show for their four-year effort and the money and pains spent on them in the course of it, if we are to believe the results of a survey recently completed under the guidance of the Carnegie Foundation. The results of a six-year test of classes in Pennsylvania colleges present a serious indictment of the American system of higher education. The questions used for the purpose were not of the ordinary examination type, but required from the student merely a "yes," or "no," or, as in the case of the vocabulary test, the underlining of a synonym to indicate his acquaintance with the world. The vocabulary test consisted of a list of 100 words in familiar use by educated people. The average senior in six representative institutions recognized only 61 out of the 100 words, the average freshman, 56—a gain of five words in three years. Other tests are supposed to have demonstrated in a similar manner the fact that students retain but little of what they learn. The blame for this condition is placed upon the credit system in use in American institutions of higher learning. Many subjects taken in college require only a scholastic year for completion and some are limited to a single semester. When the student passes the examination in such subjects, he immediately puts all thoughts of them aside and turns to the new ones. This is only natural. However, if the credit system were abandoned, and the criterion of a student's college career then became, not the information he might temporarily retain, but his ability to think with it thereafter, a sort of tutorial system would be required which would require time and money and would result in fewer graduates. This procedure, however, could not be used in America because of the enormous popular thirst for higher education which has brought about a mass production of approximately 300,000 graduates yearly. Since the tutorial system cannot be utilized because of the great number of students in this country and the additional money that would be required, another alternative would be to require seniors to take a comprehensive examination covering their four years' work before they could receive their degrees. This plan may be adopted in the future, both to decrease the number of graduates and to make a degree mean something.

STRIKE UP THE BAND

LAST YEAR the VILLANOVAN ran an editorial in these columns asking for a band truly representative of Villanova College. We remember only too well the bedraggled and inefficient group that was sent out on the field to add color and interest to the games and to render our Alma Mater. The "bus driver" suits, along with the inactive spirit of the members, made such a miserable appearance that even the freshmen, when asked, denied that that particular group came from Villanova. The college authorities realized the necessity and importance of a good musical organization. No doubt they realized it before our editorial, but were not, at the time, prepared to remedy the situation. This year, however, came the change. On September 21, Villanova College presented a new deal in bands. We now possess an organization comparable to any collegiate band in the East. The stylish West Point uniforms, together with the now proud and efficient spirit of the members combine to make it a true representation of what Villanova can offer. We extend our sincerest congratulations to those who have so diligently combined their efforts to produce something of which every son of Villanova may be justly proud.

THE NEW LIBRARY

OF THE many improvements noticed on our return to Villanova, there is none that affords greater pleasure than the new conditions found in the library. The iron railings that gave a prison-like appearance to its interior, and placed such a formidable bar between the student and the books, piled in neat rows on the shelves, have been removed. If these bars were not enough to destroy all desire to partake of the knowledge and enjoyment to be found between the covers of these volumns, there was also a notice which read: "No admittance to these stacks." Now it is possible to derive the fullest enjoyment that a library affords. Students are permitted free access to the stacks in order that they may browse around, and, from a casual reading of those books which they chance upon, select those which most appeal to them.

FRESHMAN REGULATIONS

WHAT HAS happened to that ancient custom of keeping the freshmen in their characteristic "regs" until after the Christmas holiday session? For some mysterious reason the yearlings have been permitted to act and do pretty much as they please. Upper classmen report that frosh have gone as far as battering their way into various methods of transportation to and from college, grabbing all the seats while their seniors have become veritable strap hangers. These and other abuses are allowed to arise because of the negligence of an indifferent Vigilance Committee. The time to start making the Freshman Class conform to rules laid down for their first semester in college is now. Otherwise, the use of "dinks," buttons, and various forms of freshman identification may as well be scrapped and they may as well go serenely along with the rest of the school without making any distinction of classes. The idea of marking a difference between first-year men and other undergraduates for the purpose of humiliation is ridiculous. The prime reason for the discrimination is to make the novice accsutomed to his new surroundings in the quickest and most friendly manner possible. Abuses of the system naturally defeat any advancement made toward the betterment of the Freshman Class, and unless the sophomores in charge are able to accomplish the purpose for which they have been organized, this paper is completely in favor of the abolition of all freshman regulations.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

SCHOOL HAS opened and am glad to be back," are words that might easily be elaborated into brimming pages. Since such an attempt would be beyond the confines of a paragraphical columniet—the same being reserved for the most descriptive feature writers—we wash our unmanicured hands of the whole matter. Then why was the subject brought up in one breath, only to be dismissed with the next? Don't know—unless it's to let off the bursting pressure with which such thoughts have filled the mind. But there's no need for apology when one considers all have been haunted similarly. How many letters have gone out from this campus conveying the same thought if not written in the identical words?—plenty. Yes, fellows, school has opened and all are glad to be back!

• • •

The romance of Bill Gough, to which many lines of this column in the goneby were devoted, happy to say, waxes merry. The spark has become e flame! But contrary to most cases wherein the germ of lovegitis quarantines one from his friends the desire to see more of them has grown with Bill. Readers of the society notices in the Woodbridge paper almost any week might read of one Mr. William Gough's short stay with one Mr. Joseph Dunnigan, of that city. Incidentally, or coincidentally as you will, Woodbridge is the fair town to which Bill's girl's folks properly pay their taxes. Not two birds with one stone, Billie?

• • •

Tony Sala, preparatory to the selection of transportation as his major subject, was making the usual inquiries of the prospective student. It came to pass that he pointed his interrogations at one transportation majorite. Said majorite, imbued with a deep sense of humor, and possessed of an opportunity to exercise this quality, snapped it up. Poor, gullible Tony was told and for a while believed that without a driver's license he couldn't take the course.

• • •

Are minor sports waning in popularity at Villanova? If one should take as an index the small turnout for the J. V. and 150-pound teams the answer would be yes. Why any able-bodied youth will turn his back on bone-strengthening, muscle-building, mind-training athletics is beyond comprehension. Such extra-curricular activities are the only supervised forms of exercise here at school. For one's own good they should be taken advantage of. This may sound Bernarr MacFaddenish but all and the same it's the truth. So why not come out for one of the teams today. It's really great fun.

• • •

Joe Murray, last Summer's idle matinee idol of the Atlantic City beaches, is furthering an acquaintance made at the shore with a local private school girl. Though in no sense a Gable or framed like a Weissmuller, Joe nevertheless was the most-sought-after sandfly of the season. As a heartbreaker he surpassed the fastidious Ned O'Neill. Wonder if Joe's power is to be found in a particular soap, mouthwash, or toothpaste.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

Recreation, revelry and romance, the three R's of vacation, have now been abandoned for the three R's of education. Our return has brought to us the traditional "frosh" with their regs, and the severe Vigilance Committee with their disciplinary and domineering attitude towards them. Much must be said about our ameliorated campus which has been the pride of the entire student body since registration.

• • •

For the benefit of those who have just entered may we mention that a certain insurance company policies to University of Missouri students insuring them against flunking course? The rates were not published, but a student who flunked could claim that amount of tuition for the course in Summer school. We are unable to direct you to an agent of this insurance company at the present time.

• • •

To the present conditions which have been noticed by all upperclassmen concerning homesick freshmen, a remedy for this ailment is being offered. A student at Lafayette College last year had his own airplane, which he kept at a local airport, to use in travelling to and from his home.

• • •

Whether economic conditions caused a group of coeds at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute in Auburn to can most of their food during the summer months is a question that we will not answer. However, as a result of their efforts $167 on their school expenses was saved by each. Propably they an "A" in home economics.

• • •

A new "seven wonders of the world" was listed at the University of Illinois by Prof. A. W. Nolan when he announced what he considered to be the outstanding wonders of the universe. He included in his list the discovery of the solar system; the law of moving bodies; the law of electricity; the law of electrical radiation; the law of electrical structure of the universe; the law of steam engines; and the law of life. If there are any more wonders please see the editor.

Home economics students at the University of Texas are offered a course in home designing. We wonder if the university is doing this to encourage or aid the student in a matrimonial tangle?

• • •

The life of a co-ed in Japan is one of loneliness. In all the universities of Japan there are only 35 women students. Perhaps we are exaggerating as far as loneliness is concerned.

• • •

As Barnum said, "a fool is born every minute," it seems that a certain co-ed from Smith College proved his saying correct. In order to raise money for her fare to a Princeton houseparty, the girl charged her friends 25 cents apiece to see her swallow a goldfish. Her friends now call her "Goldie."

• • •

A system whereby students are able to read more rapidly and improve their grades has been developed by Stanford University (Stanford, Calif) psychologists.

--- Dial-Log ---

Back again after a Summer spent in listening to some of the finest musical aggregations of national repute. Steel Pier in Atlantic City offered us just that.

Philadelphia, the city of neglected national orchestras, handed us a pleasant surprise on our return. None other than the Lombardos were in town. They were fulfilling a contract at the recently opened International Restaurant, and have met with much favorable comment.

Buddy Rogers and His Orchestra are signed to open there this week. It will mark his first Philadelphia appearance playing dance music.

Some time ago we predicted a bright future for the D'Orsey Brothers' Orchestra. Our predictions are materializing rapidly. Now with the addition of Bing Crosby's brother, Bob, they are gaining much applause. Their bid for the Junior Prom last semester received little consideration.

They are now on a regular schedule from Ben Marden's Riviera on the Jersey Palisades. Tune them in on Sundays and Tuesday at 11:30 P. M., on WJZ, and Thursday at the same time on WEAF.

Ray Noble is coming from merry old England to open the very exclusive Stratosphere Club, high atop the RCA Building in Radio City. His latest hit, "The Very Thought of You," was last month's best-seller in New York and Chicago.

Two new songs, "Blue Dawn" and "Rock Roll" will be introduced tonight at 9 o'clock over WABC by the Boswell Sisters. They will appear in the new Jack Benny picture, "Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round."

The new star of the Casa Loma Caravan program, Annette Hanshaw, takes her place among the radio singers of fame who are unable to read music. Her new job will be a difficult one under those conditions, for she will have to learn four song arrangements a week.

We feel that we cannot allow Tommy Tucker's signature, "I Love You," to pass without favorable comment. Tune in WJZ on Thursday afternoons.

Hollywood's sensation in dance bands, Ted Fiorito, was a bit of a disappointment to us. We had the good fortune to hear a "battle of music" between filmdom's Ted and Vincent Lopez, the St. Regis maestro, on the same stage. It is our humble opinion that Lopes and his boys were the winners.

In the first nation-wide hearing, Georgie Stoll and His Orchestra registered quite a hit. He appeared on the same program with Bing Crosby and the Boswell Sisters.

As We See It . . . Morro Castle

A Lesson

A FEW WEEKS ago the newspapers of the country were filled with vivid accounts of the recent Morro Castle disaster. Fire at sea has always been the dread of those who travel the highways of the deep. Modern science, however, has done much to lessen this threat; indeed, in some instances it claims to have eliminated it entirely. When then Death, despite the efforts of science, set his blazing fleet upon the deck of the ill-fated luxury cruiser and crushed to his bosom numbers of its passengers, it was to be expected quite naturally that newspapermen would snatch up eagerly all the details of the tragedy. Especially was it natural to expect this to be the case when all the circumstances enveloping the tragedy lent such a sinister aspect to the whole affair.

Right here, however, we are not concerned with the newspaper accounts nor with the broadcast of the court findings in the case, except in so far as the thought which we wish to convey hinges upon them. Nor do we presume to probe into the causes of the fatality. It is for the court to lay the blame, if there be any. Perhaps the whole was pure accident. What does concern us here, however, is the lack of a sense of duty and responsibility on the part of the officials and the crew which can be inferred from the accounts of the disaster. That is the lesson we wish to point out. Of very little use is it for mody of sea travel, or of anything else ern science to assure us of the safefor that matter, if there is lacking in officials and crew the sense of duty and responsibility, but the example of the Morro Castle is but an isolated one. The need of these two qualities is felt in every walk of life, every position of trust; it is necessary every moment of the day Nor is it something to be sought for without; it must be sought after and provided for right at home, that is, within our own inner selves. To train and develop in us this necessary sense is a [illegible] part of our education. At the [illegible] set of the scholastic year, [illegible] it is not at all out of place to set before the college man the lesson of the Morro Castle. That such a sense as that which we speak of is necessary for the truly educated man all will admit quite readily. We expect to find it in everyone with whom we deal, but how much more justly do others expect to find it in one who has been given the opportunity of developing four of the best years of his life to the task of being educated.

We must remember always that education is not confined to mere book knowledge; it is the drawing out and perfecting of all the powers of the will and intellect. While education is partly from without in the sense that professors, equipment, environment and so forth have a part in our training, it is much more from within. We must ourselves absorb and make our own what the college offers us; it is for us to develop all that within us which makes for true manhood. Obviously the development of a sense of duty and responsibility belongs to the inner side of our education. help us to acquire it, but we must Others may offer suggestions and do the greater part of the work ourselves.

We offer this lesson of the Morro Castle disaster at the opening of the school year not as something new or unusual. The lesson is such a common one that one is likely to pass over the need of it. It is always the common things of life the need and value which escape notice. Let this not be the case here. The lesson of the Morro Castle disaster is one that may well be learned by all.

SOCIETY PLANS RALLY

Plans for a regional rally to be held in the auditorium of the Commerce and finance building on Sunday afternoon, October 28, are now being drawn up by the members of the Holy Name Society of Villanova College.

Holy Name men from all the [illegible]hes along the Main Line are [illegible] invited to attend this exercise. A meeting will be held Thursday evening to discuss plans.

So What?

(By Philburt Cherryblossom)

If you dear undergraduates are still as dense as last year, you will not, perhaps, notice that the little of this terrifical column has been changed. The heading which appears so forlornly atop this chatter is the work of the entire staff. Three months were spent in its completion, and we hope you-all appreciates it.

Upon our return to scholastic haunts, our eyes were verily dazzled by the number of little blue bonnets perched upon the nether extremities of bewildered humans, speaking in the vernacular of the campus, called "Frosh."

These exiles of their native haunts hie us back to the days when we lived in perpetual horror of a free haircut. Those were the days when a vigilance committee was for the sole purpose of explaining to great length to these silly looking mortals, just how dumb they are. Not to urge them to wash every week.

This column is, of course, all in fun and it's just too bad if you can't take it. If you are absorbitionally incapacitated, remember, frans, we are armed.

Daoud, Loughlin, and O'Connell have been having a story time in selecting their final resting places. Previously they were perched on the top floor of Mendel, but complaints that Mallet-Head Doaud did his heart much good by bouncing decayed apples off the heads of Frosh, soon resulted in their departure. They are now in Austin on the first floor, where their only fun is bowling with fire-nozzles against radiators.

I enjoyed very much seeing thirteen Frosh helping one forlorn individual select his record on the machine. By the time they were through they lost the nickel. They'll learn, maybe.

I see that Peter Pan Gallagher still owns that turtle-neck horror. It really looks like he was thumped on the head with a polo mallet. At least something is responsible. No normal person would permit himself to look as though he were wearing a horse-collar. His roommate, too, with that colousy shirt and barber-pole tie is evidently being influenced by Pete's Esquirish attempts at fashionability.

Wart-head Marcouse is still with us. Russ, I believe a free breakfast is about to be offered. So stick around. Mocus still thinks about the time he was about to join the Holy Name for its breakfast, but he found out it costs a nickel a week.

Herpicide Carroll is still Jenkintown's Lovely Lover. He returned to our fold with the intent of cutting out social engagements and has done lousy so far. How about a few lessons, Greg? Ask him about the uses and abuses of Bon-Ami, if you want a laugh.

Books, Informally Speaking

BEHIND THE FRONT PAGE
By WILBUR FORREST

IN THIS exciting book, Mr. Forrest, a newspaper man of long and far-flung experience, gives to the lay readers views of big front-page news stories in the making letting them see the reporter called up by phone, and told to get ready to embark the next day for some far region where startling news is about to break, see him arriving breathless at his destination and getting into action the instant his foot is on the ground, watch him as he goes after and gets one after another of the threads of his story and weaves them together.

He tells in each one of his narratives, not only the essential features of the news story as it appeared at the time of the happening but also the story of how he went about the task of getting it. As he does all this rapidly and vividly and with a sure sense for the dramatic highlights, the result is very much as if he were living the whole affair over again, and taking the reader along with him.

Beginning with the story of how he was shot over to London on three days' notice in 1915 by the press association to serve as its assistant European manager, Mr. Forrest tells of Zeppelin raids on the British Capital, and the Lusitania disaster. Later happenings took him to Loland, to Mexico, to Paris when Lindbergh made his flight and into Manchuria when war threatened five years ago.

The author tells as sidelines to his chief narratives many tales of a sort that do not usually get at once to the public ear, for instance Lindbergh's landing at Le Bourget, how the author was under serious suspicion of wanting to kidnap the Kaiser and how frightened Wilhelm was in 1919 in his castle at Amerongen.

• • •

THE CASINO MURDER CASE
By S. S. VAN DINE

FOR ONCE, the character of Philo Vance, has forsaken his cloak of intellectuality, and does not place himself in the spotlight, as has formerly been the case. It necessarily follows from this, that there is provided for the reader a swiftly moving piece of literature.

The scenes of the story open and close in the Casino, an exclusive gambling establishment which is operated by Richard Kincaid, whose sister, Mrs. Anthony Llewellyn, is a social worker. The other members of the family are the son, daughter, and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Llewellyn.

Interest in the story is first aroused when Vance is informed of a coming tragedy, through the medium of an anonymous letter. Following closely upon this Lynn Llewellyn collapses at the Casino after taking a glass of whisky followed by one of water. Almost simultaneously, at home, his wife dies, and Amelia Llewelly becomes violently ill. Although all have been poisoned, Mrs. Llewellyn is the only one to die.

Immediately on being informed of the tragedies, Vance and District Attorney Markham and Detective Sergeant Heath, who have been completely won over concerning Vance's deductive powers, continue on their way, overcoming difficulties and arrive at the only logical conclusion.

In attempting to differentiate between all of Van Dine's works, in an endeavor to state which is the most interesting, we say, it is impossible.

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVA GRANTED FEDERAL RELIEF AID FOR STUDENTS

College Permitted to Employ 90 Persons for Coming Scholastic Year

MAXIMUM PAY TO BE $20; AVERAGE SET AT FIFTEEN

School Must Be Reauthorized Every Month to Continue Aiding Undergraduates

Villanova College has been authorized to employ 90 students under the Federal Emergency Relief Administration for the coming scholastic year.

The purpose of this government aid is not to help the college but to decrease the number of unemployed by aiding young men who are high school graduates and cannot obtain work to further their education.

State in Charge

The college applies for permission and authorization to employ students in this manner through the state. The appropriation is made to the state which then notifies the college.

At the end of each month the college hands in its payroll to the state office. Individual checks are made out to each student and are sent to the college in bulk. The school must be reauthorized at the beginning of each month to continue employing its students.

Regulate Hours

The maximum pay for an individual is $20 per month, while the average is $15. No student may work more than eight hours in any one day, nor more than thirty in any one week.

At least half of the total payroll must be paid to students who were not enrolled in any college on January 1, 1934.

Responsibility for the carrying out of the program is placed upon the president of the institution. He must name an appointment officer and a job planning committee. Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college is the appointment officer at Villanova, while the job planning committee is made up of Fr. Albers, Prof. Harry S. Buecheo, Philip A. Hart, president of the Bryn Mawr Trust Co., and Benjamin F. James, president of the Philadelphia-Weeks Photo Engraving Co., and former township commissioner of Villanova.

LITERARY SOCIETY IN FIRST MEETING

Freshman Debating Team Will Be Organized by Joseph T. Houseman, '32

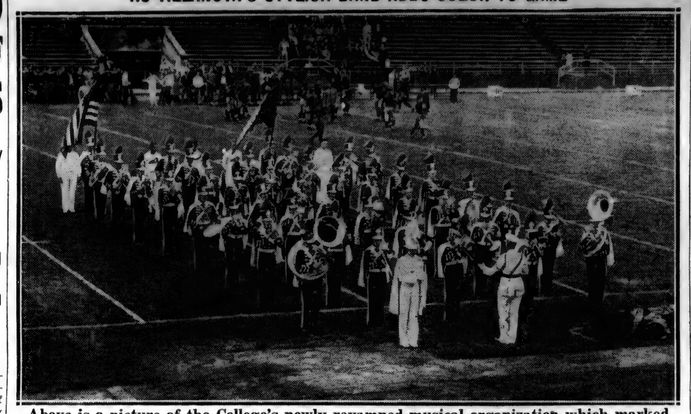
Prof. Joseph T. Jonas presided at the initial meeting of the Villanova Literary Society on last Tuesday night in the absence of Peter Kerr, newly-elected president of the organization.

The moderator of the society expressed his intention to produce two major productions during the present year. Just what they will be has not been definitely decided upon. Due to the faulty acoustics in the gymnasium which has been such a hindrance to the proper presentation of past performances, the society's advisor discussed the feasibility of the Commerce & Finance auditorium as a location for the next production.

Initiation of new members will be held tonight at 8:30 P. M. in room 204, Mendel Hall. Each aspirant will be required to present a skit of five minutes duration with the portrayal of at least two characters.

A separate freshman debating team will be formed under the capable direction of Joseph T. Houseman, '32. This junior debating team will carry on entirely separate work from the senior organization and those freshmen who show talent will later be placed on the official team after they have served their apprenticeship.

AS VILLANOVA'S STYLISH BAND ADDS COLOR TO GAME



Above is a picture of the College's newly revamped musical organization which marked the opening of the 1934 football season. It is under the capable direction of Paul D. Teel, who is ably assisted by Paul Melchior. Along with the band's excellent showing the Villanova warriors crushed the Ursinus Bears, 35-0.

COLLEGE TO OFFER RED CROSS COURSE IN LIFE SAVING

Joseph J. Linsalata Named Instructor of Newly Added Feature

OFFICIAL EMBLEM GIVEN

A complete course in the technique of life saving as compiled by the American Red Cross is now being offered at the swimming pool, free of charge, to all upperclassmen who have passed the physical examination.

This is the first time since the pool has been built that such instructions are available. Instructions will be given by Joseph J. Linsalata, a senior in the School of Commerce and Finance.

In conjunction with the life saving course all those who are unable to swim will be given instructions in swimming. Each student that takes advantage of this course will save the amount that these lessons would cost were they taken under the supervision of an athletic club or some similar organization.

Students in the class will be taught to disrobe underwater; how to break a front stranglehold; a back stranglehold; wrist grab; a double wrist grab; the breaking of two drowning persons in a stranglehold; front and back underwater approaches; surface approaches; retrieving of a fifteen-pound weight from water at least eight feet deep. Various carries will also be taught. These are the hair carry, cross-chest carry, tired swimmers' carry, saddleback carry; and fireman's carry. Also, there will be lectures given an camp and beach management.

Each student who passes the required qualifications will receive a pin and emblem which can be worn on a bathing suit.

More than fifty students signified their intentions of taking the course. Many more intend to enroll as soon as they pass the physical examination.

Freshmen will be given the opportunity to take this course in the near future. However, they are entitled to take swimming lessons.

The course which began yesterday will be given every day from one until six o'clock, and on Fridays from one until three-thirty. Instructions will be given on Friday evenings from seven unti lnine thirty and on Sunday afternoons from one until three thirty.

There will be two classes daily from one until three thirty and from that time until closing. Engineers will be given instructions after three thirty.

COLLEGE BARN BURNS DURING SUMMER RECESS

Fifty Tons of Hay and Farm Tools Destroyed by Blaze; Cellar Will Be Rebuilt

Fire, Villanova's constant enemy, visited the campus during the summer and added another college structure to its growing list. The school barn, situated on Ithan Avenue about 150 yards off the Lancaster Pike was destroyed on the morning of July 19.

Rev. Charles Melchior, O. S. A., procurator, estimates the loss at about $12,000.

The blaze was discovered at 4:20 A. M., and it is believed to have started shortly before that time. The watchman on his rounds inspected the building at midnight and again at 3 A. M. but he saw no trace of flames at that time. The exact origin has not been ascertained, although it is suspected that tramps were responsible.

Although horses were in the fields at the time, fifty tons of hay and some farm machinery was destroyed. The structure as a whole will not be rebuilt, but the fruit cellar will be reconstructed in time to take care of the storage of vegetables through the winter.

Large Group Attends Solemn Mass Opening Ninety-Second School Year

Before one of the largest groups of students in the history of the school, Villanova formally opened its ninety-second scholastic year Friday, September 21, with Solemn High Mass in the college chapel.

The Mass was sung by Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college as celebrant; Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice president, deacon; and Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., subdeacon; Rev. Francis J. Ludwig, O. S. A., acted as master of ceremonies.

Present near the Altar during the Mass were Very Rev. Joseph Hickey, O. S. A., D. D., assistant general of the Augustinian Order, and and Rev. Charles M. Driscoll, O. S. A.

Liturgical music was rendered by the members of the Scholastic choir. This well trained group performed excellently on this occassion.

Dr. Hickey, former president of the college, and who at the present time in his capacity as Assistant General of the Order directs its activities in English speaking countries, delivered the address.

In the name of the faculty of Villanova, he extended a cordial welcome to returning and new members of the student body, commenting on the pleasure this role gave him.

A parallel between the development of the United States and the development of the college was pointed out by Fr. Hickey. Wars, drought, depressions, hindrances of man and nature, have momentarily halted this country's growth, so to this institution has had obstacles of a similar nature, has overcome them to advance to its present state, with its large buildings and beautiful campus.

He urged those present to take every advantage of the splendid educational facilities offered by Villanova, to guard well against wasting time, to cultivate and perfect one's talents to the fullest extent, to prepare for the strenuous life that awaits the completion of the student's institutional studies.

Duty to those parents, relatives or friends, whose self sacrifice has made their stay at Villanova possible, was the next topic advanced in Fr. Hickey's discourse.

Absence of effort is likely to make students forgetful of the returns they owe their benefactors He urged them to keep always in mind, especially in these times, it is no easy task to provide the necessary financial support to enable one to receive a college education.

Continuing his talk, Dr. Hickey told how from its very founding, the aim of the Augustinian Order has been the highest development of the spiritual, mental, and physical faculties of man. Because this aim has been rigidly adhered to, the present members of the Order have the wealth of centuries of experience in achieving this ideal at their disposal to use for the guidance of the students of Villanova.

PHI KAPPA SOCIETY RESUMES ACTIVITY FOR PRESENT YEAR

Prominent Engineering Club Installs New Officers At First Meeting

KLEKOTKA IS PRESIDENT

Phi Kappa Pi, one of the foremost engineering societies, on the campus yesterday started active functioning for the school year 1934-35. The society held its first meeting of the year during the fourth period, which time was set aside for the members through the kindness of the dean of the engineering school.

John Klekotka is president of the organization.

The other officers that were installed were: Vice president, Frank Rodgers, '36; secretary, Thomas Fitzpatrick, '35; treasurer, James McBrearity, '36; sergeant-at-arms, James Allan, '36; and student council representative, George Odewalt, '35.

The vice-president, after a brief opening address, stated that the Owl Hop committee would be announced within the next week. A committee will be named to make plans for a smoker to be held at a future date. An athletic committee will also be appointed to take care of the sports tournaments which the society conducts every year.

This year a new committee will appear for the first time in the history of the organization. It will be called the publicity committee and will take care to see that the society is always kept in the headlines of the school news.

No plans have been made for the annual Owl Hop, but as soon as the committee is appointed definite steps will be taken to determine the date and make all the necessary arrangements.

The officer asked that all members be prompt in attending the meetings which are held weekly during the fourth period.

As was the custom last year, the organization will attempt to conduct a sufficient number of social affairs so that it will be able to present keys to the outgoing seniors in appreciation for the faithfulness these men have shown.

A. S. M. E. WILL MEET

Plans Will Be Made for Trips To Various Engineering Plants

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers, of which Villanova is a member, will hold a meeting in the near future and all members are asked to watch the bulletin board for a notice of the date.

Martin Donnelly, '35, is president, and George Hazzard, '35, is vice-president. At the first meeting, plans will be made for the trips to be made this year by the chapter to the various factories.

All Freshmen mechanical engineers who are interested in becoming a member should see either one of the officers or attend the first meeting.

HOLD FIRST MEETING

Members of the Student Council met last night after chapel for their first parley of the Fall semester. James Walsh, elected head of the group last term, presided over the organization.

HERTFELDER BROTHERS
TAILORS
Cothes the world well dressed
CLOTHIERS
Popular Prices
1635-1637 South St.
Philadelphia
Est. 1886 Bell Phone

SPECIAL OFFER!

ONE "Esquire" Genuine BRIAR PIPE
Light or Dark Finish Individually Boxed
and
Four 15c Packages
John Middleton's
CLUB MIXTURE
A Mild, Mellow Smoke
ALL FOR 89c
On Sale at PIE SHOPPE
Distributors for Products of John Middleton

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

A THREE months soft nap has lamed our brain to an even greater degree than usual but the cobwebs rapidly begin to clear as orders are shouted at us from everybody on this old campus connected with anything. Football is under way, intra-murals along the same line are receiving more and more comment, swimming, indoor track, and any other sport you can think of, and some that you can't, are all demanding and going to get, we hope, their just share of publicity. It may all sound a little bit complicated but what we are trying to get at is the fact that an awful lot of athletic events are taking place and this starts our efforts to bring you written accounts of them all. The opportunity is at hand for us to comment on things worthy of remarks so here goes:

Without a doubt the greatest improvement, although not strictly an athletic one, is the new and finer Villanova band. The music, appearance and marching have increased to a far greater degree than the most hopefuls had anticipated.

-V-

THE junior varsity and the 150-pound football teams are worthy of mention to the new men and the Sophomore class who were not eligible for these teams last year. Without much ballyhoo or publicity these two football teams have played good schedules for the past three years and although their records do not show many victories, their aim has been definitely accomplished. The enthusiasm unexcelled by any other campus activity.

As a typical example we recall the 150's trip to New Haven last season. All but about six members of the squad had accomodations provided for them through finances given by the school and naturally the best players were named for the journey.

Under normal circumstances those men named and only those would have packed their duds for New Haven. But such was not the case with these boys. rom the first day of practice this trip was the aim of the entire squad and now that the time had come, the regulars hated to see the disappointed half dozen left behind. Of their own free will every man chipped in and the necessary cash was provided for all to take the trip. It's a matter of history that the boys were beaten by the Eli lightweights but it was a tough struggle and the Blue and White representatives brought out the fight and good fellowship that is truly indicative of these two teams.

The junior varsity and the 150's need candidates this year more than ever before. Sophomores, juniors and seniors are all eligible and should report to coaches Skaff and Lenzi of the respective teams.

-V-

WE have cut this column short this week in order that we may print a schedule of our own and our opponents schedules. It has always been interesting to discuss comparative scores even though they are very unreliable, but many of our opponents schedules are interwoven and may give some indication of the oppositions' comprtative strength.

When the season is well under way, we will publish each week a brief account of how our future opponents have fared.

Western Maryland Presents Formidable Eleven

VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK BOWLING

Tuesday, October 2, 1934 Page Five

VILLANOVA WALLOPS URSINUS

W. MARYLAND OPENS '34 CAMPAIGN HERE ON THIS SATURDAY

Bill Sheperd Is Real Triple Threat at Right Halfback; Mergo Also a Star

USE THE WARNER SYSTEM

The University of Western Maryland will open its 1934 campaign at Villanova this Saturday. Dick Harlow, starting his tenth year as football mentor of that university, feels that he has a greatly improved squad this year, and that the loss of such stars as Sandusky, a tackle, and Dunne, a back, through graduation, will not be so keenly felt because of the wealth of second-year varsity men at his command.

Uses Warner System

Harlow uses the Warner system of play, with several adaptations to conform to his own ideas, and he has had great success with it. Many of his variations, of course, are introduced according to the particular opponent being played, but Coach Harlow is generally accredited as an outstandingly successful advocate of the Warner system.

Western Maryland had a good season last year, losing only three of its games. They were defeated by Duquesne, 13-0; Boston College, 12-8, and St. Thomas, 12-2. Victories were gained over Bucknell, 14-13; Loyola (Md.), 54-0; Georgetown, 20-0; Mt. St. Mary's, 7-0, and Maryland University by a large score.

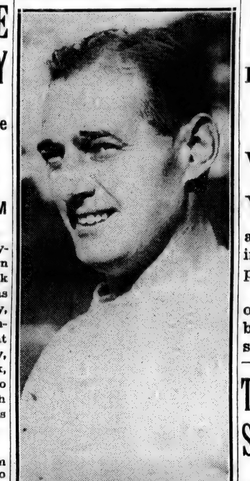
With such a difficult season as this, it might easily be said that they enjoyed a very good season.

Triple Threat Star

The outstanding star of the Western Maryland team is Bill Sheperd, a back. Dick Harlow, when speaking of him, said: "He is, without doubt, one of the greatest backs I have ever coached." Coaches are notoriously outspoken about their stars, especially at the end of the season, but the following paragraph will list a few of the reasons for such an inclusive statement.

Accordingto many coaches, football experts, and those "in the know," he is a real triple-threat man. Bucknell University, which played a real hard schedule itself, chose him as the best man in his position that they had faced all year, and finally, he averaged six and one-half yards every time he carried the ball last season.

Starts 10th Season



HARRY A. STUHLDREHER has been head coach of football since the fall of 1925. Since that time the Wildcat mentor's teams have compiled the remarkable record of 56 victories, 7 ties and 19 defeats.

BOWLING ALLEYS READY FOR USE

Billiard Room Also Opens Daily for Student Use at Lowest Prices

For the benefit of students who enjoy billiards and bowling, the college has afforded modern and well-equipped rooms in the gymnasium.

The billiard parlor and the bowling alleys will be open every afternoon between the hours of 1:30 and 5 P. M. To defray expenses there will be a small charge of 20 cents a cue per hour for pool and a fee of 15 cents per game for bowling.

The room set aside for billiards contains four regulation size tables capable of accomodating eight to sixteen players. The two bowling alleys, incidentally, have been renovated during the summer month and are now in perfect condition.

The hours designated for these two popular campus pastimes will probably be lengthened during the winter months.

'Cats Tally Large Score Over Scrappy Bear's Team

Patzsch, Kotys, Wetzler, Cook and McFadden Star on Offensive—Korchinski and Walsh Also Scintillate

VILLANOVA IS WELL BALANCED TEAM

VILLANOVA'S Wildcats, remembering the 7-7 tie gained by Ursinus in the closing minutes of last year's fray, and fully aware of the fact that they were facing a greatly improved team, entered their opening contest determined to prove their superiority.

Coach Stuhldreher sent his "big guns" and "little guns" on the field loaded for "B'ar" and, figuratively speaking, they brought home the bacon. The final whistle stopped the 'Cats' scoring spree at 35-0.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT STARTS MURAL RACE

Alumni Hall Defending Title Won in Matches Held Last Season

Intra-mural competition began last Friday at the Villanova courts when the tennis tournament got underway. Excellent weather and fast courts combined with the fine playing of the contestants added zest to the play.

The tournament which is run under the direction of Jack Hoey, the manager of intramural- sports, is highly organized this year.

Last year the tournament was won by Austin Hall.

All contestants should register with the prefect of their halls or with the student managers.

Elimination Contest

test will take place among all hall players until each hall has four finalists. These men will play off in the final tournament among the halls.

The contest will be run on the point system. The winner of the final round will receive ten points and the runner-up will be credited with six. The quarter-finalists and the semi-finalists will receive two and three points respectively.

During the Summer the Villanova courts were reconditioned. They were worked on for six weeks and many new improvements were added. The courts were graded and rolled. New markers were put in use and three new courts were added to the others.

Both Teams Take Defensive

The Main Liners first kick-off went out of bounds at about the thirty-yard line, but the second attempt was received on the ten-yard line by Davison and returned to the thirty-yard marker. After one line buck that netted six yards, Ursinus kicked to Kotys on the ten yard line. Nick reversed his field twice in an attempt to advance the ball, but was finally downed without gain.

Korchinski, tall right end for the 'Cats, immediately booted the ball from his own goal line to the invaders' forty-five yard stripe, and once again Davison returned the ball for fifteen yards before he was finally stopped. On the first play, Villanova was penalized five yards but in succeeding plays by Price and Bassman only three yards were gained.

Villanova got the ball on downs and tried two line plays before punting. The ball went high and short and was declared in play on the Main Liners' own forty-six-yard line. Ursinus lost four yards in the next two plays and Bokonski was elected to punt. The hurried kick was high and Kotys took the ball on his own twenty-yard stripe and advanced it ten yards.

Up until this time, both teams preferred to let the other take the offensive, and had contented themselves with "feeling-out" their opponents. But at this point, the Main Liners put on the first real drive of the game, which terminated in a fifteen-yard sprint for a touchdown by Kotys. In nine straight plays, the 'Cats marched from their own thirty-yard line to the other side of the visitor's goal line. Patzsch, Kotys, and Wetzler carrying the ball. Barney Lee came out of the line to convert the extra point.

Kotys received the kick-off on his own fifteen-yard line and returned

Continued on Page Six

Follow the Progress of Villanova's Opponents Through the Season With These Schedules

Villanova

Sept.	29	Ursinus
Oct.	6	West. Maryland
	13	La Salle
	20	Detroit
	27	*Bucknell
Nov.	3	*Boston College
	10	South Carolina
	17	*Manhattan
	24	*Temple

Bucknell

Sept.	28	xDavis-Elkins
Oct.	5	xP. M. C.
	12	*Duquesne
	20	*St. Thomas
	27	Villanova
Nov.	3	*Furman
	13	*W. and J.
	17	West. Maryland
	24	*Penn State
	29	*Temple

Ursinus

Sept.	29	Villanova
Oct.	6	*Penn
	13	St. Joseph's
	20	F. and M.
	27	*Dickinson
Nov.	3	Drexel
	10	*Muhlenberg
	17	Gettysburg
	29	*Albright

Boston College

Sept.	29	St. Anslems
Oct.	6	*Springfield
	12	Fordham
	20	*W. Maryland
	27	Providence
Nov.	3	Villanova
	17	Boston U.

*—Away games.
x—Night games.

Western Maryland

Oct.	6	*Villanova
	13	*Albright
	20	Boston College
	27	*St. Thomas
Nov.	3	*Catholic U.
	10	*West Chester State
	17	*Bucknell
	29	Mt. St. Mary's

South Carolina

Sept.	29	Erskine
Oct.	6	V. M. I.
	12	*xN. Carolina St.
	18	*xThe Citadel
	25	xClemson
Nov.	3	V. P. I.
	10	*Villanova
	17	*Furman
	29	W. and L.

*x—Away night games.

La Salle

Sept.	30	x*St. Thomas
Oct.	6	*Catholic U.
	13	*Villanova
	20	*St. Joseph's
	27	*West Chester
Nov.	3	Open
	10	*Albright
	17	St. Vincent's
	24	Mount St. Mary's

Manhattan

Sept.	22	St. Bonaventure's
	29	Clarkson
Oct.	6	Kansas State
	13	Georgetown
	20	Michigan State
	27	Catholic U.
Nov.	3	C. C. N. Y.
	10	Holy Cross
	17	Villanova

Detroit

Sept.	29	xCent. St. Tchs.
Oct.	5	xWest. St. Tchs.
	12	xW. and J.
	20	*Villanova
	26	xDuquesne
Nov.	3	Oklahoma A. and M.
	17	*Michigan State
	24	*Marquette

Temple

Sept.	29	V. P. I.
Oct.	5	xTexas A. and M.
	13	Indiana
	19	West Virginia
	27	*Marquette
Nov.	3	Holy Cross
	10	Carnegie Tech.
	17	Open
	24	Villanova
	29	Bucknell

PHYSICAL TRAINING COURSE FOR FROSH TO BE COMPULSORY

Swimming Training for All To Be Featured Once Each Week

FIVE GROUPS TAKE PART

Physical education for all freshmen opened its third season yesterday afternoon at the gymnasium. Under the supervision of William Cavanaugh this course is compulsory for all members of the incoming class and has become a necessary requirement toward graduation.

This training period will be held twice each week for each of the five groups into which the class of 1938 has been divided. One period will be spent teaching the art of swimming to all those who have not already acquired this almost essential activity, and the other will be devoted to organized forms of sport. The members of the Freshman Class who did not pass the physical requirements for swimming must attend two classes in the gymnasium. Those who already know how to swim will participate in races and other water sports.

Members of the incoming class who take part on any of the organized freshman teams will be excused from these classes during the season in which their chosen form of athletics takes place, but must enter physical education when their season terminates.

The instructors in charge of the various groups will be students especially trained in physical education work.

The following schedule has been arranged by the committee on physical education. On Monday at 1:30 P. M. the Science "A" group will have swimming and the Commerce and Finance group will have gymnasium work. At 2:30 P. M. the Engineers will have a period of swimming, followed by a period of gymnasium.

Tuesday's schedule lists the Arts students for swimming at 1:30. On Wednesday at the same time the Commerce and Finance students meet at the swimming pool. The second hour, begining at 2:30, finds Science "A" group in the gymnasium, and Science "B" group at the pool.

On Thursday at 1:30 the Arts men have gymnasium, and the week is completed by Science "B" meeting for gym on Friday at 2:30.

The "cut system" used in regard to regular classes will also be used in physical education. This training must be completed before graduation and any student who is overcut will be required to repeat the course.

JUNIOR VARSITY TO FACE BUSY SEASON

Lafayette, Rutgers and Penn Complete Short But Difficult Card

SQUAD NEEDS CANDIDATES

Frank Skaff, coach of the Junior Varsity, opened the season when about twenty candidates reported at the club's first meeting on Wednesday.

Equipment was issued after the inaugural session, and the workouts have been in progress since last Thursday. The J. V.'s share the gymnasium with the 150-pound team.

Coach Skaff faces a serious situation, caused by the graduation of his two star wingmen, Ed Ocelus and Paul McCarthy, and Right Guardsman John Corkhill. Frank will probably use Scheele, a Junior in the business school, for his right end, but is undecided as to left end and guard.

Henry Buzenski, outstanding triple-threat man, will bear the brunt of the attack. The Bambino plans to base the offensive work on this versatile ball-carrier. He will do most of the kicking, running, and passing, with "Pete" Banmiller holding down the job of clearing a path for Buzenski. Banmiller will emulate Schwartz, of Notre Dame.

In the Limelight

With a display of unveiled pride and yet not going beyond the border line of self assuredness, Bill Grimberg, captain of the 1934 Villanova gridiron machine, led his pack of snarling, spitting Wildcats against the scrappy Ursinus eleven from Collegeville, on Saturday, at the Main Line stadium. It was Bill's first treke onto the battlefield as captain of his college team, and with a sense of unmeasurable duty he went about the task of starting off the 'Cats' campaign on the right foot.

Our moleskin artists' very capable leader was christened William H. Grimberg twenty-two years ago at St. Benedicts, Pa., a small coal mining town in the outskirts of the "Smokey City," Pittsburgh.

After matriculating at a number of grammar schools, he finally settled down and completed his elementary schooling at Grass Flat, Pa. When his eight-year course terminated he enrolled as a freshman at Williamsport High where he was later to become one of the school's idols. Here Bill majored in athletics, so it appears, for he enjoyed four years as a regular on the football squad, the first years of which he cavorted in the backfield previous to his up-to-date permanent flank position on the line.

During his senior year at the institution he played on the State championship eleven which shared the laurels with Altoona High by virtue of an 0-0 tie at the playoff. After a sufficient breathing space following the football season, our hero upheld the pole vaulting honors of the school for three terms.

The winter months of his freshman year were busy ones for Bill as he was industriously getting in shape for the intra-mural boxing bouts. The battle for the 175-pound championship will be one that will always be remembered by the student body of Villanova at that time. In precisely thirty seconds, "Battling" Grimberg disposed of his opponent. The plaudits for our man of rising prominence now diminished slightly and for the remainder of the school year Bill restricted himself to his studies in C and F school and intra-mural sports. Freshman elections placed him once again in the spotlight. He was unanimously elected vice-president of his class.

Entering his second year of college, Bill overturned a few tables by smashing his way to the forward line of the Wildcats where he remained for the entire season as regular end. He was chosen by Gettysburg, Bucknell, and South Carolina on their All-Opponent teams. Following the gridiron season Bill acted as a member of the Student Council and was a member of the Fedigan Hall intra-mural boxing team. As in the previous year, the 175-pound boxing championship went with the artful fists of the stalwart Williamsport athlete.

Serving his third year as a member of the 'Cats football team Bill suffered his first major injury, a broken jaw. This was obtained during practice and prevented the presence of this valuable player on the field for the Rutgers and Temple games. Due to this injury he was unable to defend his boxing title which he had held for two years. At the Junior class elections Bill was elected treasurer of the Junior class.

Coach Stuhldreher Expresses Views On Current Wildcat Grid Situation

By HAROLD J. KEATING

Much haze and smoke, at this time, is surrounding the possibilities and prospects of the 1934 edition of the Villanova gridmen. The task of obliterating this pall of doubt will be cleared on November 24, when the curtain comes down on the season. However, fans want a fair idea of the Wildcat Wildmen.

Sees Stuhldreher

When attempting such a task, the first question is to discover who knows the answers. So after much pondering, the answer finally came, and this reporter travelled to the inner sanctum of Head Coach Stuhldreher, and herewith is put forth his thoughts on the possibilities of the football aggregation:

"As the situation stands now, the squad is industrious, alert, and active. Comparing the team with that of last year's the possibilities must be divided into two sections, the offense and the defense."

Much Improved Team

Continuing, Coach Stuhldreher said, "The defense against a running attack is good, but not quite as strong as last year. However, the defense against passes is better and likewise that against kicking is improved.

"In regards to our offense, the running attack is below that of the past year, but the passing attack, which we have stressed, is much stronger. This means that we have a better offense and a balanced defense.

"The players are continually on their toes and appear to be in much better shape than at the same time last year. This condition will, to a great extent, eliminate serious injuries."

The tentative backfield will consist of Henny Buzenski, Banmiller as blocking back, "Red" Violetti calling the signals, and Zimkus at full.

The line situation is uncertain. Anthony Cocheo, last year's center, will fight it out with Eiffel Perras, a varsity candidate last Spring. Hammel, a center last year, will be shifted to guard to hold down Johnny Corkhill's assignment. Jim Fleming will stick at right tackle, where he scintillated for two years.

The backfield listing is by no means definite. Ed Leahy and Jimmy Nulty are pressing Violetti for the quarterback berth. Frank Cook, former Penn Charter luminary, will be stepping closely on the heels of Tony Zimkus.

Last year's Frosh team has contributed Nick Genovese and Gene McAuliffe, two burly tackles, who will attempt to displace Fleming.

The J. V.'s list their traditional opponents in three games. Lafayette inaugurates the season with a game played on October 24 at Villanova. On November 9 the club travels to New Brunswick to meet the championship Rutgers J. V. Pennsylvania closes the season on November 15, with a game played at Villanova.

The meager number of candidates has discouraged Coach Skaff. A number of positions are open, and he has announced that the 'veterans' jobs are by no means assured. All upper classmen are eligible for membership in the squad and Skaff urges them to try out for positions.

LIGHTWEIGHT SQUAD BEGINS PRACTICE

Coach Lenzi's Hopefuls Show Great Enthusiasm In Opening Sessions

About thirty-five candidates reported to "Red" Lenzi, coach of the 150-pound team, when the club met last Thursday to open the season.

Coach Lenzi outlined several offensive plays which are to be the basis of the attack this year, based on the Notre Dame system devised by the late Knute Rockne.

Equipment was issued to the squad on Tuesday and practice was held at 3 o'clock on Wednesday, September 26. The practice grounds of the squad has been changed from the grounds in front of Austin Hall to the field in front of the gym.

The bulwarks of the squad this year will be Captain Walt Coyle, Vince Cavanaugh, Bill Gough, Joe Dunnigan, and Shewlin.

Captain Coyle played a consistently excellent game at end last year. His offensive game was the high spot of the games last year,

CALL ISSUED FOR SWIM CANDIDATES

West Chester and Osteopathy Again Scheduled; Albright Temple, Rider Newcomers

The second year of varsity swimming will open this week. The schedule is in the making, and the manager hopes to list meets with West Chester State Teachers, Osteopathy, Albright, Rider College, Swarthmore, and Temple. Negotiations are underway for a meet with the University of Pennsylvania, but nothing definite has been arranged.

Swimming is fast becoming a real varsity sport and it is hoped that an even greater number of candidates will turn out for this activity than last year. It is understood that there are many prominent swimmers in the freshman class, and these will compete at the coming practice sessions for the chance to fill the places of the few men lost through graduation. Practice will probably begin on Wednesday, October 3, at 4 P. M., under the guidance of Martin Gill.

First Team Success

Considering that the Spring of 1934 was the first varsity campaign, the team experienced phenominal success. The swimmers finished with a 600 per cent average, gaining three victories in five meets. Home-and-home meets were engaged in with West Chester Teachers and Osteopathy, while Hahnemann met the Wildcats but once.

John Strong, a Senior in the engineering school, was elected captain of this year's team by the letter winners of the former squad. In the past season, Strong was a consistent winner in the breast-stroke and 60-yard free-style swim and was anchor man on the relay team. He was the individual high-point scorer of the season.

Awards to Be Given

Those students who failed in the physical examination held last Thursday afternoon in the gymnasium because of some small skin ailment or other minor condition may receive treatment free of charge in the infirmary. When these minor ailments have been cleared up another physical examination will be given without charge. This is done so as to encourage the greatest possible number of students to take part in swimming and other water sports.

INTRA-MURAL GROUP BEGINS FOOTBALL

C. & F. and Mendel Day Hops To Be Represented In Sports Program

Intra-mural touch-football will get under full swing commencing with the second week in October. Along with intra-mural tennis, this mode of diversion will inaugurate the opening of organized sports activities for students not playing on varsity teams, for the 1934-'35 season.

Prior to last September, touch football was unusual on the campus. Since that time, however, it has gained popularity among Villanova students.

It is expected that two day-hop teams will be organized. One representing the Commerce and Finance school and the other to represent the Mendel Hall commuters. Last season the day-hops rounded together into one team.

Alumni won the honors in this particular sport last year. Austin, Mendel, Fedigan and the dayhops finished in the order mentioned.

The scoring system for intra-mural activities in general shall be:

Major Sports

First	10
Second	8
Third	6
Fourth	4
Fifth	2

Minor Sports

First	5
Second	4
Third	3
Fourth	2
Fifth	1

The major sports are football, baseball and tennis.

The minor sports are boxing, wrestling, swimming, golf and track.

Wildcats Wallop Ursinus Eleven

Continued From Page Five

it to the thirty-seven before he was downed. After an exchange of punts and several line plays by both sides, the ball was in Villanova's possession on its own five-yard line. Korchinski stood back in punt formation but Patzsch took the ball through left tackle for a two-yard gain as the first quarter ended.

Second Team in Action

The second quarter was uneventful as far as spectacular plays were concerned, but it did give the second team a chance to get in action. Coach Stuhldreher made the substitutions shortly after the start of the quarter, and the subs, though they did not score then, committed themselves very well. Cy McFadden replacing Patzsch at fullback, distinguished himself with his punting.

'Cats Score Three Times

In the third quarter, the Wildcats went to work in a grand style. Ursinus kicked off to Korchinski on the thirty-two yard stripe, and "Whitey" returned it to the forty-seven-yard marker. From that point Patzsch, Wetzler, and Kotys carried the ball over the goal line in just six driving plays, Nick dashing thirty-three yards to put the ball on the two-yard line and Patzsch taking it over. Once again Lee came out of the line to convert the extra point.

The 'Cats elected to receive, and the kickoff was returned from the ten-yard line to the thirty-eight-yard line. Wetzler made seventeen yards on the first play, and after a short off-tackle push that earned two yards, Wetzler made two more dashes, the first one good for thirteen yards, and the second for twenty-two, which put the ball on the eight-yard line. Patzsch bucked the line twice for four yards, and Kotys pushed it over on a left-end run.

Coach Stuhldreher put a whole new team on the field at one time, and Villanova elected to receive again. McFadden took the ball on his own fifteen-yard line and returned it to the forty. Cook and he then advanced the ball, in several plays, to their opponents thirty-two yard line.

Mahovich then completed a pass to Cook that gained seventeen yards, and Cook made nine yards on the next play. McFadden took it over from the two-yard line.

'Cats Score Again

Feeling that they had a more than comfortable lead, the 'Cats chose to play defensive football. After receiving the kickoff, McFadden punted to the Bears' fifteen-yard line. After two more plays, a blocked kick gave the 'Cats possession of the ball on their opponents' twenty-five. McFadden reeled off fifteen yards, but a penalty and scrimmage loss erased about eight yards. Cook threw a lateral pass to McFadden and the play made ten yards, Cook scored from the eight yard line in two plays. This time McFadden converted the extra point.

Villanova	Pos.	Ursinus
Korchinski	left end	Grenwalt
Michaels	left tackle	S. Levin
Blanchard	left guard	Grimm
Nowe	center	Rinehart
Lee	right guard	Costello
Cox	right tackle	R. Levin
Grimberg	right end	Bradford
Higgins	quarterback	Bonkoski
Cook	left halfback	Davison
Wetzler	right halfback	Bassman
Patsch	fullback	W. Price
Villanova	7 0 21 7—35
Ursinus	0 0 0 6—6

Touchdowns—Kotys, 2; Patzsch, McFadden, Cook. Points after touchdowns—Lee 2 McFadden, 2. Penalties—Villanova, 5 for 30 yards; Ursinus, 2 for 10 yards. Substitutions — Villanova: Cook for Wetzler, Walsh for Kotys, McFadden for Patzsch, Christopher for Higgins, Mahovich for Walsh, Sullivan for Cox, Johnson for Michaels, Higgins for Christopher, Cox for Sullivan, Wetzler for Cook, Patzsch for McFadden, Kotys for Mahovich, Cook for Wetzler, McFadden for Patzsch, Christopher for Higgins, Mahovich for Kotys, Goggin for Korchinski, Michaels for Johnson, Johnson for Michaels, Sullivan for Cox, Gaiazza for Nowe, Vidnovic for Blanchard, Fox for Grimberg, Foster for Lee, Stiles for Christopher, Walsh for Mahovich, Wrona for Cook, McDevitt for Galazin, Patzsch for McFadden, Loughlin for Vidnovic. Ursinus: Johnson for Grenawalt, Lamore for Bradford, Brandt for Davison, Calvert for R. Levin, Quay for Price, Harvey for Bonkoski, Kravitz for S. Levin, Santora for Grimm, Kwiecinski for Costello, Jakoma for Rinehart, Brandt for Santora, Bradford for Twomyoido, Wildonger for Lamore, Worster for Calvert, Johnson for Rinehart, Brandt for Jakoma, S. Levin for Kravitz, Gaumer for Bassman, Kwiecinski for Costello, Bassler for Quay, Gensler for Santora, Pancoast for N. Johnson, R. Johnson for Bradford, Michener for Levin, Calvert for Worster, Gill for Gensler, T. Price for Kwiecinski, Grimm for T. Price.

Officials: Referee—H. O. Dayhoff, Bucknell. Umpire—C. G. Eckles, W. and J. Head linesman—A. W. Thompson, Michigan. Field judge—L. R. Wallace, Washington College.

STATISTICS OF URSINUS GAME

Item	Villanova	Ursinus
Yards in Scrimmage	407	36
Forward Passes Tried	5	6
Forward Passes Made	1	2
Forwards Incomplete	4	4
Lateral Passes Tried	2	0
Lateral Passes Made	2	0
Yards on Laterals	17	0
Punts	12	14
Average of Punts	42	33
Yards of Punts	48	28
Kickoffs Returned Yards	101	37
Penalties in Yards	30	5
First Downs	17	3

Class of 1938 Given Impressive Welcome

FROSH IN PROGRAM HELD TO ACQUAINT THEM WITH COLLEGE

Prominent School Officials And Student Leaders Address New Men

STUHLDREHER STRESSES INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

Father M. Borromeo Delivers Discourse on Reading, Use of Library

A two-day program of activities designed to familiarize the incoming Freshman class with their new surroundings was held again this year. This plan worked out so well last semester the school authorities decided that it should be used each year. The exercises consisted by a number of speeches given by the school officials, members of the faculty and prominent upperclassmen. Amid the members of the class of 1938 in getting as much spiritual, mental and physical benefit as possible during their stay at Villanova. The speakers on the program were: Rev. E. M. Albers, O. S. A., vice president of the college; Rev. C. F. Brown, O. S. A., chaplain; Joseph Houseman, coach of the Freshman debating team; Walter E. Alessandroni, president of the senior class; James A. Walsh, chairman of the student council; Harry Stuhldreher, director of physical education; Louis Marechal, sports editor of the VILLANOVAN and Paetrus Dunmiller, editor-in-chief of the Villanova Engineer.

Fr. Albers gave the first speech on the program when he addressed the freshmen, Wednesday morning, September 19. He extended to the class a welcome to the college and pointed out to them the various opportunities that are in one's reach at Villanova. He said "We should be able to distinguish between good and bad. There are times when we should study and likewise there are times when some period must be set aside for relaxation. In other words we should balance our days as equally as possible."

Interviewed by Deans

On the same day the yearlings were interviewed by their respective deans and later they listened to a speech delivered by Sister M. Borromeo on "Reading and the Use of the Library." Sr. Borromeo gave the interesting facts on the value of a good library.

She urged the students to make use of books at every possible moment, literature being the background of every man's needs. She continued to say, "A great economic change is now taking place, and as a result, the most proper, available and least expensive manner to pass one's leisure time is by making use of the books which are at his convenience at the library."

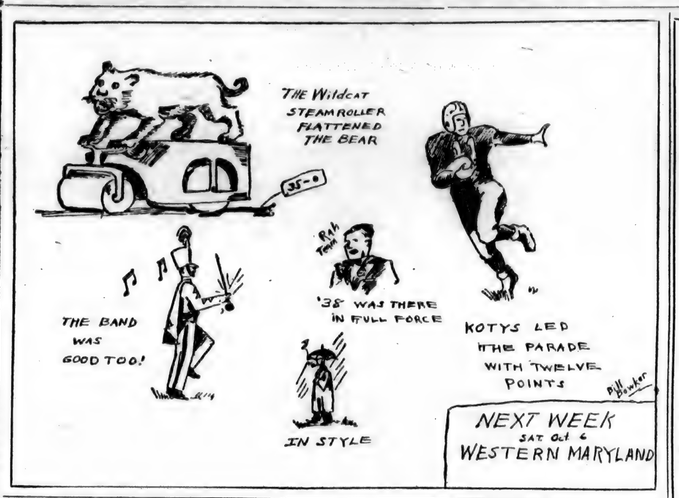
Sr. Borromeo believes many have the wrong idea of what constitutes Catholic literature. "A book is truly Catholic," she said, "if it is sympathetic with Catholic ideas and principles, and if the spirit pervading in accordance with the Catholic philosophy of life. If it should be a novel it does not paint a picture to glorify sin nor does it intend to accord strictly with the ideal situations in life."

Stuhldreher Talks

In a short talk given by Fr. Brown, the freshmen were warned not to overdo their extra-curricular activities and neglect their religious duties. Mr. Alessandroni also cautioned them to be careful with whom they make friends. The manner in which the student council acts as an intermediary between the student and the administration, was explained by Mr. Walsh.

Mr. Marechal and Mr. Banmiller then invited the freshmen to apply for positions on the VILLANOVAN and the Villanova Engineer.

Coach Stuhldreher in another of his fiery and interesting talks outlined his program for the year. He explained to the yearlings the importance of extra-curricular activity of the college, and especially impressed upon them the benefits that are derived from the field of sport. He stressed the point that intramural activities were instituted for the students, and they should support their respective organizations to boost up the competition to higher standards. He was emphatic regarding the need of good sound bodies to carry out the work that is cut out for the Frosh not only at Villanova, but also the work that will face them, in the later years of life.



Recatalogue Books In School Library

Continued From Page One

the world's most famous library. Many of the colleges of this country are now engaged in the recataloging of their libraries according to this system.

It is understood by officials that some neighboring colleges, notably Swarthmore, Haverford and Temple University are already engaged in this work.

The advantages of the new system of cataloging to the students will be great.

First of all, by being familiar with the working of their own college library, they can have the confidence of knowing that they will be more at home in most of the large libraries of the country.

Secondly, through the new system, all of the resources of the library will be available to the student. This will be a distinct help to students who are engaged in the preparation of papers and theses and to all who are doing research work of any type.

Books are indexed and cross-indexed to make available all of the various topics of which they may treat. Thus, for a particular book there may be as many as fifty to sixty reference cards.

As the work of recataloging goes on, many improvements in the arrangement of the library have already been made, and many more will be adopted before the work is completed.

While the recataloging of the library is in progress, the facilities of the library will be offered to the students. This will, of course, necessitate close cooperation of the students and strict attention to the rules that will be in force.

The library is in charge of the Rev. Dr. Francis E. Tourscher, O. S. A., and the work of cataloging is under the immediate supervision of Sister M. Borromeo, S. M., of Merion, Pa., who has had considerable experience in recataloging libraries. She is being assisted by Miss Carlin and other young ladies, and aided by a force of students who are employed under the part-time work sponsored by the FERA.

Rev. James Hurley Is Retreat Master

Continued From Page One

will be served in the college dining hall immediately after Mass.

It is earnestly requested by the chaplain that everyone attending the services receive the Sacraments.

All non-Catholic students will see the chaplain before the day of retreat.

Each student will be expected to hand in chapel attendance cards at all services.

For the convenience of all, confessions will be heard throughout the day.

Three New Members Added to Faculty

Continued From Page One

also be assigned to a rector's position in one of the freshman dormitories.

Familiar to the upper classmen, Fr. Burns returns to assume his former position as professor of history. During the past two years he has been assigned to the Augustinian Mission Band.

Mr. Driscoll, a graduate of Villanova and an instructor in the Engineering School, has been transferred to the Schools of Arts and Science.

NO CLASSES

There will be no class Thursday because of the annual one-day retreat.

Reorganized Band Marks First Game

Continued From Page One

to West Point regulations, and consists of a coat, hat, pants, and a dress cape. Made entirely of blue flannel trimmed in white, it presents a harmonious spectacle when assembled. On the side of the pants and on the sleeve of the coat are double white stripes. The coat is decorated with a fancy design with silver buttons on the front and the school seal on the left sleeve. A wide white belt is worn over the shoulders, crossing in front and hooked to another belt around the waist by a large silver buckle. A chest plate, also of silver, is fixed onto the belt, giving a military finish to the coat. Over the shoulders is draped a cape of blue, lined on the inside with white satin with letters V. C. in each corner.

To top off this splendid regalia, a high military hat is worn, fastened under the chin by a leather strap covered with small metal leaves and decorated on the front with a silver emblem with the word "Villanova" and a silver wildcat. On the top is a blue plume with a silver emblem protruding from the front of the hat. The drum major's suit is designed similarly to the regular band uniforms excepting that it is all white. The musical director is also attired in white but the design is more conservative.

The membership of the band, which now totals forty-five students, is much larger than in former years. The first practice was held September 5, and since then has been a daily occurrence. The band will appear this season better looking and more attractive than in the past.

STAFF TO MEET

A meeting of the entire VILLANOVAN staff will be held in Room 119, Mendel Hall, today at 1 P. M. All new candidates are requested to be on hand to receive their assignments and instructions concerning their stories.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Oct.
9—Mendel Day Hops vs. Austin
12—C. & F. Day Hops vs. Alumni
14—Austin-Fedigan, Alumni-Mendel
16—M. Day Hops vs. Fedigan
19—C. & F. Day Hops vs. Austin
21—Fedigan-Alumni, Austin-Mendel
23—M. Day Hops vs. C. & F. Day Hops
26—C. & F. Day Hops vs. Mendel
28—Austin-Alumni, Fedigan-Mendel
30—M. Day Hops vs. Alumni
Nov.
2—C.&F. Day Hops vs. Fedigan
4—Austin-Fedigan, Alumni-Mendel
6—M. Day Hops vs. Mendel
9—C. & F. Day Hops vs. Alumni
11—Fedigan-Alumni, Austin-Mendel
13—M. Day Hops vs. Austin
16—C. & F. Day Hops vs. Mendel
18—Austin-Alumni, Fedigan-Mendel
20—M. Day Hops vs. Fedigan
23—C. & F. Day Hops vs. Austin
27—M. Day Hops vs. C. & F. Day Hops
30—C.&F. Day Hops vs. Fedigan
Dec.
4—M. Day Hops vs. Alumni
7—C. & F. Day Hops vs. Mendel
11—M. Day Hops vs. Mendel

Notice to Freshmen

for Official College Pins, Banners and Stationery

Patronize

The PIE SHOP

ARDROSSAN FARMS

"Certified Milk"

Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

Also Complete Line of Personal Effects

Meet Your Friends at The Bryn Mawr Confectionery (Next to Seville Theatre)
Tasty Sandwiches
Luncheons-Dinners-Platters
Reasonably Priced
Music Free Dancing

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits and Topcoats $24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See JIM ELLIOTT Room 108, Fedigan Hall

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure $25 and up
All new styles now available!
Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

FOR EXPERT, CONVENIENT
Tonsorial Necessities
PATRONIZE
The CAMPUS Barber Shop
(New Staff)
Popular Prices

NEW LAUNDRY COMPANY, Inc.
A NEW LAUNDRY WITH SEVENTY-SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE
Baring and State Sts. Baring 5434

They are made that way—

Chesterfields are milder
Chesterfields taste better

Ripe home-grown tobaccos

We begin with the right kinds of mild ripe Domestic tobaccos. Then we age and mellow them like rare wines for flavor and taste.

Aromatic Turkish tobaccos

Next we add just the right kinds and the right amounts of Turkish tobaccos to give Chesterfield the "seasoning" that helps to make them taste better.

Blended and cross-blended

Finally we "weld" these tobaccos together the Chesterfield way—different from any other—to make Chesterfield a milder better-tasting cigarette.

On the air—

MONDAY	WEDNESDAY	SATURDAY
ROSA PONSELLE	NINO MARTINI	GRETE STUECKGOLD

KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
9 P.M. (E.S.T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK

It takes good things to make good things . . . there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Students! Help Keep the Campus Beautiful Don't Throw Papers and Waste on Grounds

VILLANOVAN

Everybody! Please Be Prompt For Holy Name Communion in the Chapel Sunday 8:30 A. M.

Vol. 7—No. 2 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1934 Price: Five Cents

FR. HURLEY SPEAKS AT ANNUAL RETREAT IN COLLEGE CHAPEL

Master of Novices at New Hamburg Novitiate Pleases Student Assembly

"MAN'S DOWNFALL CAUSED BY PERJURY," HE OPINES

Entire Undergraduate Body Receives Holy Communion At Friday's Mass

Under the guidance of Rev. James Hurley, O. S. A., New Hamburg, N. Y., Villanova's annual one-day retreat commenced last Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, for the resident students, and on Thursday morning for the day students. Holy Mass on Friday morning terminated the services conducted separately for each group.

Fr. Hurley is master of novices at the New Hamburg novitiate, Our Mother of Good Counsel.

Opening Exercises

Fr. Hurley opened the retreat Wednesday evening with a conference treating the essence of a retreat by contrasting it to any game in which obstacles have been placed that they may be overcome. He also asked everyone to imbue the spirit of the retreat within himself and in carrying out the retreat schedule quiet would be necessary for meditation.

In concluding Fr. Hurley summed his speech with the few impressive words, "Not my will but Thine be done." Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament followed.

On Thursday morning Mass was celebrated at 7 o'clock for the resident students and at 8 o'clock for the day students. Conferences were held alternately for each group in which Fr. Hurley dealt on the topic, "Love of God," stating the principles of Catholic action in relation to the spoken and written word.

"Perjury is one of the major causes of the present downfall of civilization," expounded the retreat master.

Urges Common Sense

The student body attended Stations of the Cross services in the afternoon, and the final conference in the evening. In this last exercise, Fr. Hurley defined Catholic Charity and humility and then showed how

Continued on Page Seven

Cheer Leaders in New Outfits Make Smart Appearance

Equipment Includes White Sweaters and Flannel Pants; Also New Megaphones

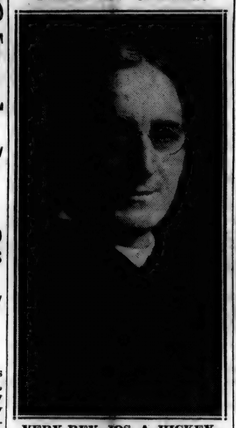
In order to keep in step with the newly-attired band, the cheer leading section has made progress along the same line, having received new outfits consisting of white sweaters and white flannel pants.

With the exception of the head cheer leader's, each sweater has a white V mounted on a blue megaphone. Distinction is accorded him by having a blue border on his sweater.

Five megaphones, approximately four and one half feet in length have been added to their equipment. They are of the latest design and feature perfect sound amplification.

This year's aggregation is composed of five men, with Frank M. Alfono, junior Science student, as head cheer leader. John Chapple, Eugene McAuliffe and Joseph McCabe, sophomore Commerce and Finance students, and Henry Morin, sophomore Arts student, are the other members.

BREAKFAST SPEAKER



VERY REV. JOS. A. HICKEY, O. S. A., D. D., Assistant General of the Augustinian Order of English Speaking Nations, who will address the Holy Name Communion Breakfast next Sunday.

DR. HICKEY HONORS HOLY NAME SOCIETY

Prolongs Villanova Stay To Address Members at Communion Breakfast

In order not to disappoint the Holy Name Society, Very Rev. Joseph Hickey, O. S. A., D. D., has decided to prolong his stay here at Villanova so that he might speak before the students at the Communion breakfast next Sunday morning.

New President

The initial meeting of the Holy Name Society last Thursday received strong support from the student body. A large enrollment of pledgees to the society gave indications that the freshmen are willing to participate in the rich spiritual benefits derived from the society and are ready to carry on the work of fostering its ideals.

Due to unforeseen obstacles, Charles B. Thiede, '35, will be unable to resume his duties as president of the Society. In his stead, Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., has appointed Thomas Malcolm, '35, as the president for the ensuing year.

Members of this society will receive Communion on the second Sunday of every month throughout the school year. On Oct. 14th, there will be a Communion breakfast held in the college dining hall preceded by the society's first Holy Mass.

A sectional rally of all parishes along the Main Line will be held at Villanova College on Sunday, Oct. 28th, at 2.30 P. M. All Holy Name members are expected to cancel previous engagements that they may participate in this public demonstration of their Faith.

VILLANOVAN Establishes Photography Department

Another step in the progress of the VILLANOVAN is the establishment of a new department, art and photography, under the editorship of Ralph Violetti, a senior in the Science School.

Mr. Violetti will have as his assistant, Pasquale Guarini, a sophomore in the Science School. He will have charge of the photography.

The art work will be taken care of by Marcel Cailliet, a sophomore in the School of Science, while William Barker, another sophomore, will do the cartoons. Mr. Cailliet has had some experience in this work, his drawings having been published in the Saturday Evening Post.

Eighteen Sets of Brothers Registered Here This Year

Recent Enrollment Statistics Reveal Fact; Points to Desire of Families to Have Kin Graduate From Villanova

BY HARRY PARKIN

Villanova, which has already attained an eminent position in the scholastic and athletic worlds, appears to be establishing a similar position in a field which is, as yet, unsung; namely that of being an institution for the higher education of every male member of the family. This conclusion can hardly be considered too extravagant when one considers that eighteen sets of brothers have registered here this year.

Among the resident brothers is Edmund and Henry Buzenski, both juniors in the School of Science. In the same school is Marcus Fath, a senior, whose brother William is a sophomore Artsman.

Many in C. & F.

In the School of Commerce and Finance, which has in attendance more brothers than any other school on the campus, are Alexander and Roxie Belli both freshmen; Charles Menapace a senior, his brother Francis being a freshman in Science.

The roll call in Engineering is answered to by Richard Foote a sophomore and his brother, Edward, a freshman; Joseph Delaney, a sophomore, whose brother, John, is a freshman in Arts; and by Joseph and Thomas Malcolm both juniors in the schools of transit and slide rule, respectively.

The School of Arts is represented by Edmond and George Malhame both of whom are seniors.

Among the day hopping Science men are junior Joseph Bigley, whose brother Francis is a senior Arts student; Nicholas Canuso a junior, whose brother Vito is likewise a senior in the Business School; and junior William and freshman George Keffer.

In the Business School are senior class president Walter and freshman Joseph Alessandroni; Joseph Donahue a senior, while his brother Paul is a junior in Engineering; Thomas a senior and Charles a freshman O'Connor; and sophomore Francis O'Hara, whose brother John is a junior Engineer.

As if to lend credence to the proverbial inability of brothers to agree in every respect, Francis Charamella is a non-resident senior in science, while his brother, Joseph is a resident freshman in engineering.

Troncelliti's Predominant

No consideration of this nature would be complete without giving particular mention to the clan of Troncelliti. Mario Troncelliti is a sophomore in science, his brother Fiorindo is a junior in commerce and finance, while their cousin Manrico is a sophomore in science. Edward Troncelliti, a cousin to the other three, is a freshman in the School of Science. Rumors have it from reputable authority that there are some three or four other Troncellitis being prepared for, what bids fair to be, the college of their forerunners.

CHOOSE BELLE AIR STAFF ASSOCIATES

Goldschmidt and Stell Named To Editorships; Keating Sports Editor

A tentative and incomplete list of the staff members for the 1935 Belle Air has been announced. As his immediate assistants, George Malhame, editor-in-chief of the senior publication, will have Lawrence Goldschmidt and John Stell. Goldschmidt will be managing editor of the annual, while Stell has been named college editor.

Joseph Mehoff, business manager of the yearbook will have Augus-

Continued on Page Four

PAPER TO GIVE STUDENT AWARD

Needy Man Interested in Journalism Benefits From Surplus Appropriation

It has been announced by the moderator of the VILLANOVAN, Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A., that beginning with the fall of 1935 there will be a new scholarship in force to be known as the VILLANOVAN SCHOLARSHIP. This scholarship, as its name implies, is sponsored by the college weekly.

In the beginning, it will have a yearly value of $50, but it is hoped that through the financial success of the VILLANOVAN, this amount may be increased year by year.

The scholarship is subject to the appointment of the president of the college, and all other things being equal, preference is to be given a young man with journalistic experience in high school, who needs the financial assistance which the scholarship affords. This scholarship will be held by the one to whom it is awarded for no more than four years.

MANY NEW EDITIONS PLACED IN LIBRARY

Greater Majority Deal With Technique of Finance; Educational Works

In an effort to keep Villanova students well-informed on current literature and various developments in the field of education, the college library is rapidly adding to its already extensive literary department.

More than 200 new volumes have been placed on the shelves since the opening of the school year, and many more are expected in the course of the next few weeks, according to officials.

Technical Books

The majority of the new books which deal with economic and financial technique include: The Social Trend, by Edward A. Ross; Applied Business Finance, by Edmond E. Lincoln; Economic Development of the United States, by Isaac Lippincott; Economic Principles, by Lionel Edie; Reading in Marketing, by Fred E. Clark, and Manufacturing Industry in America, by Malcolm Keir.

Organized Labor in American History, by Frank T. Carlton; Princi-

Continued on Page Four

ALUMNI ENTERTAINED

Wilkes-Barre Chapter Holds Supper Dance at Mayfair Club

Opening the new season in an auspicious manner, the Wilkes-Barre chapter of the Villanova Alumni Association entertained with a supper dance at the Mayfair Night Club, on the outskirts of Wilkes-Barre, Thursday evening, September 27.

Officers of this group are, James J. Dever, '26, president, and Francis T. Loughran, '27, secretary. Joseph P. Gibbons, '26, was chairman for this event. Announcement was made at the supper that the chapter is also planning an affair to take place the night of the Bucknell game.

'ENGINEER' EDITORS TO ATTEND PARLEY OF TECHNICAL GROUP

Paetrus F. Banmiller Represents Villanova at Terre Haute Convention

PUBLICATION FROM HERE MAY BE NAMED MEMBER

Campus Periodical Expected To Be Released Thursday; New Features

Once again the Villanova Engineer, the Campus publication in that field, has taken another step forward by sending two of its staff members to the convention of Engineering College Magazines' Association to be held in Terre Haute, Indiana, October 15-16.

The local publication had the privilege of being extended an invitation by the national chairman of the convention, thereby giving Villanova its first opportunity to represent its School of Technology at such an important event.

Paetrus F. Banmiller, '35, and another staff member will leave for the conclave Saturday. Banmiller, editor-in-chief of the magazine for a year, has once again taken over the reins of supervision.

Advertising Media

The main purpose of the association is to raise the standards of engineering publications throughout the country. It maintains definite standards with regard to literary and financial requirements. One of the main advantages of the association is that it assures national advertisers of the finest type of media for advertising in this particular kind of organ.

Only outstanding engineering periodicals that maintain these

Continued on Page Seven

LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS INITIATIONS

Junior Debating Team to Be Organized by Beta Gamma Chapter

Villanova's Literary Society held its semi-annual initiations at the first meeting of the Belle Masque Chapter on last Tuesday evening. As has been the rule throughout past years, all candidates for entrance were required to present from memory, at least five minutes of dialogue from some play of their own choice. However, due to the short notice given, the five freshmen and one sophomore, who presented themselves, were permitted to read from the play, "Politian," by Edgar Allen Poe.

Meet Next Tuesday

All those who appeared were tentatively accepted into the society with the understanding that they would, at the meeting of the chapter, next Tuesday, at 8.00 P. M., present themselves prepared to complete the initiation as prescribed in the by-laws of the organization.

Any other candidates for membership in that chapter will also be accepted for initiation at the meeting.

Provisional Acceptance

Those who were tentatively received into the Belle Macque were: Douglas Brockhurst, '37, Joseph O'Brien, '35, John W. Pillion, '34, John L. Simons '38, Emil Mathias, '38 and Joseph Toland, '38.

Contrary to the custom of former years, there will be no initiation for Beta Gamma aspirants due to the fact that a Junior chapter is being

They are made that way—

Chesterfields are milder
Chesterfields taste better

Ripe home-grown tobaccos

We begin with the right kinds of mild ripe Domestic tobaccos. Then we age and mellow them like rare wines for flavor and taste.

Aromatic Turkish tobaccos

Next we add just the right kinds and the right amounts of Turkish tobaccos to give Chesterfield the "seasoning" that helps to make them taste better.

Blended and cross-blended

Finally we "weld" these tobaccos together the Chesterfield way—different from any other—to make Chesterfield a milder better-tasting cigarette.

On the air—

MONDAY ROSA PONSELLE
WEDNESDAY NINO MARTINI
SATURDAY GRETE STUECKGOLD

KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
9 P. M. (E. S. T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK

It takes good things to make good things ...there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Students! Help Keep the Campus Beautiful Don't Throw Papers and Waste on Grounds

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 2 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1934 Price: Five Cents

Everybody! Please Be Prompt For Holy Name Communion in the Chapel Sunday 8:30 A. M.

FR. HURLEY SPEAKS AT ANNUAL RETREAT IN COLLEGE CHAPEL

Master of Novices at New Hamburg Novitiate Pleases Student Assembly

"MAN'S DOWNFALL CAUSED BY PERJURY," HE OPINES

Entire Undergraduate Body Receives Holy Communion At Friday's Mass

Under the guidance of Rev. James Hurley, O. S. A., New Hamburg, N. Y., Villanova's annual one-day retreat commenced last Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, for the resident students, and on Thursday morning for the day students. Holy Mass on Friday morning terminated the services conducted separately for each group.

Fr. Hurley is master of novices at the New Hamburg novitiate, Our Mother of Good Counsel.

Opening Exercises

Fr. Hurley opened the retreat Wednesday evening with a conference treating the essence of a retreat by contrasting it to any game in which obstacles have been placed that they may be overcome. He also asked everyone to imbue the spirit of the retreat within himself and in carrying out the retreat schedule quiet would be necessary for meditation.

In concluding Fr. Hurley summed his speech with the few impressive words, "Not my will but Thine be done." Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament followed.

On Thursday morning Mass was celebrated at 7 o'clock for the resident students and at 8 o'clock for the day students. Conferences were held alternately for each group in which Fr. Hurley dealt on the topic, "Love of God," stating the principles of Catholic action in relation to the spoken and written word.

"Perjury is one of the major causes of the present downfall of civilization," expounded the retreat master.

Urges Common Sense

The student body attended Stations of the Cross services in the afternoon, and the final conference in the evening. In this last exercise, Fr. Hurley defined Catholic Charity and humility and then showed how

Continued on Page Seven

Cheer Leaders in New Outfits Make Smart Appearance

Equipment Includes White Sweaters and Flannel Pants; Also New Megaphones

In order to keep in step with the newly-attired band, the cheer leading section has made progress along the same line, having received new outfits consisting of white sweaters and white flannel pants.

With the exception of the head cheer leader's, each sweater has a white V mounted on a blue megaphone. Distinction is accorded him by having a blue border on his sweater.

Five megaphones, approximately four and one half feet in length have been added to their equipment. They are of the latest design and feature perfect sound amplification.

This year's aggregation is composed of five men, with Frank M. Alfono, junior Science student, as head cheer leader. John Chapple, Eugene McAuliffe and Joseph McCabe, sophomore Commerce and Finance students, and Henry Morin, sophomore Arts student, are the other members.

BREAKFAST SPEAKER

VERY REV. JOS. A. HICKEY, O. S. A., D. D., Assistant General of the Augustinian Order of English Speaking Nations, who will address the Holy Name Communion Breakfast next Sunday.

DR. HICKEY HONORS HOLY NAME SOCIETY

Prolongs Villanova Stay To Address Members at Communion Breakfast

In order not to disappoint the Holy Name Society, Very Rev. Joseph Hickey, O. S. A., D. D., has decided to prolong his stay here at Villanova so that he might speak before the students at the Communion breakfast next Sunday morning.

New President

The initial meeting of the Holy Name Society last Thursday received strong support from the student body. A large enrollment of pledgees to the society gave indications that the freshmen are willing to participate in the rich spiritual benefits derived from the society and are ready to carry on the work of fostering its ideals

Due to unforeseen obstacles, Charles B. Thiede, '35, will be unable to resume his duties as president of the Society. In his stead, Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., has appointed Thomas Malcolm, '35, as the president for the ensuing year.

Members of this society will receive Communion on the second Sunday of every month throughout the school year. On Oct. 14th, there will be a Communion breakfast held in the college dining hall preceded by the society's first Holy Mass.

A sectional rally of all parishes along the Main Line will be held at Villanova College on Sunday, Oct. 28th, at 2.30 P. M. All Holy Name members are expected to cancel previous engagements that they may participate in this public demonstration of their Faith.

VILLANOVAN Establishes Photography Department

Another step in the progress of the VILLANOVAN is the establishment of a new department, art and photography, under the editorship of Ralph Violetti, a senior in the Science School.

Mr. Violetti will have as his assistant, Pasquale Guarini, a sophomore in the Science School. He will have charge of the photography

The art work will be taken care of by Marcel Cailliet, a sophomore in the School of Science, while William Barker, another sophomore, will do the cartoons. Mr. Cailliet has had some experience in this work, his drawings having been published in the Saturday Evening Post.

Eighteen Sets of Brothers Registered Here This Year

Recent Enrollment Statistics Reveal Fact; Points to Desire of Families to Have Kin Graduate From Villanova

BY HARRY PARKIN

Villanova, which has already attained an eminent position in the scholastic and athletic worlds, appears to be establishing a similar position in a field which is, as yet, unsung; namely that of being an institution for the higher education of every male member of the family. This conclusion can hardly be considered too extravagant when one considers that eighteen sets of brothers have registered here this year.

Among the resident brothers is Edmund and Henry Buzenski, both juniors in the School of Science. In the same school is Marcus Fath, a senior, whose brother William is a sophomore Artsman.

Many in C. & F.

In the School of Commerce and Finance, which has in attendance more brothers than any other school on the campus, are Alexander and Roxie Belli both freshmen; Charles Menapace a senior, his brother Francis being a freshman in Science.

The roll call in Engineering is answered to by Richard Foote a sophomore and his brother, Edward, a freshman; Joseph Delaney, a sophomore, whose brother, John, is a freshman in Arts; and by Joseph and Thomas Malcolm both juniors in the schools of transit and slide rule, respectively.

The School of Arts is represented by Edmond and George Malhame both of whom are seniors.

Among the day hopping Science men are junior Joseph Bigley, whose brother Francis is a senior Arts student; Nicholas Canuso a junior, whose brother Vito is likewise a senior in the Business School; and junior William and freshman George Keffer.

In the Business School are senior class president Walter and freshman Joseph Alessandroni; Joseph Donahue a senior, while his brother Paul is a junior in Engineering; Thomas a senior and Charles a freshman O'Connor; and sophomore Francis O'Hara, whose brother John is a junior Engineer.

As if to lend credence to the proverbial inability of brothers to agree in every respect, Francis Charamella is a non-resident senior in science, while his brother, Joseph is a resident freshman in engineering.

Troncelliti's Predominant

No consideration of this nature would be complete without giving particular mention to the clan of Troncelliti. Mario Troncelliti is a sophomore in science, his brother Fiorindo is a junior in commerce and finance, while their cousin Manrico is a sophomore in science. Edward Troncelliti, a cousin to the other three, is a freshman in the School of Science. Rumors have it from reputable authority that there are some three or four other Troncellitis being prepared for, what bids fair to be, the college of their forerunners.

CHOOSE BELLE AIR STAFF ASSOCIATES

Goldschmidt and Stell Named To Editorships; Keating Sports Editor

A tentative and incomplete list of the staff members for the 1935 Belle Air has been announced. As his immediate assistants, George Malhame, editor-in-chief of the senior publication, will have Lawrence Goldschmidt and John Stell. Goldschmidt will be managing editor of the annual, while Stell has been named college editor.

Joseph Mehoff, business manager of the yearbook will have Augus-

Continued on Page Four

PAPER TO GIVE STUDENT AWARD

Needy Man Interested in Journalism Benefits From Surplus Appropriation

It has been announced by the moderator of the VILLANOVAN, Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A., that beginning with the fall of 1935 there will be a new scholarship in force to be known as the VILLANOVAN SCHOLARSHIP. This scholarship, as its name implies, is sponsored by the college weekly.

In the beginning, it will have a yearly value of $50, but it is hoped that through the financial success of the VILLANOVAN, this amount may be increased year by year.

The scholarship is subject to the appointment of the president of the college, and all other things being equal, preference is to be given a young man with journalistic experience in high school, who needs the financial assistance which the scholarship affords. This scholarship will be held by the one to whom it is awarded for no more than four years.

MANY NEW EDITIONS PLACED IN LIBRARY

Greater Majority Deal With Technique of Finance; Educational Works

In an effort to keep Villanova students well-informed on current literature and various developments in the field of education, the college library is rapidly adding to its already extensive literary department.

More than 200 new volumes have been placed on the shelves since the opening of the school year, and many more are expected in the course of the next few weeks, according to officials.

Technical Books

The majority of the new books which deal with economic and financial technique include: The Social Trend, by Edward A. Ross; Applied Business Finance, by Edmond E. Lincoln; Economic Development of the United States, by Isaac Lippincott; Economic Principles, by Lionel Edie; Reading in Marketing, by Fred E. Clark, and Manufacturing Industry in America, by Malcolm Keir.

Organized Labor in American History, by Frank T. Carlton; Princi

Continued on Page Fo

ALUMNI ENTERTAINED

Wilkes-Barre Chapter Holds Supper Dance at Mayfair Club

Opening the new season in an auspicious manner, the Wilkes-Barre chapter of the Villanova Alumni Association entertained with a supper dance at the Mayfair Night Club, on the outskirts of Wilkes-Barre, Thursday evening, September 27.

Officers of this group are, James J. Dever, '26, president, and Francis T. Loughran, '27, secretary. Joseph P. Gibbons, '26, was chairman for this event. Announcement was made at the supper that the chapter is also planning an affair to take place the night of the Bucknell game.

'ENGINEER' EDITORS TO ATTEND PARLEY OF TECHNICAL GROUP

Paetrus F. Banmiller Represents Villanova at Terre Haute Convention

PUBLICATION FROM HERE MAY BE NAMED MEMBER

Campus Periodical Expected To Be Released Thursday; New Features

Once again the Villanova Engineer, the Campus publication in that field, has taken another step forward by sending two of its staff members to the convention of Engineering College Magazines' Association to be held in Terre Haute, Indiana, October 15-16.

The local publication had the privilege of being extended an invitation by the national chairman of the convention, thereby giving Villanova its first opportunity to represent its School of Technology at such an important event.

Paetrus F. Banmiller, '35, and another staff member will leave for the conclave Saturday. Banmiller, editor-in-chief of the magazine for a year, has once again taken over the reins of supervision.

Advertising Media

The main purpose of the association is to raise the standards of engineering publications throughout the country. It maintains definite standards with regard to literary and financial requirements. One of the main advantages of the association is that it assures national advertisers of the finest type of media for advertising in this particular kind of organ.

Only outstanding engineering periodicals that maintain these

Continued on Page Seven

LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS INITIATIONS

Junior Debating Team to Be Organized by Beta Gamma Chapter

Villanova's Literary Society held its semi-annual initiations at the first meeting of the Belle Masque Chapter on last Tuesday evening. As has been the rule throughout past years, all candidates for entrance were required to present from memory, at least five minutes of dialogue from some play of their own choice. However, due to the short notice given, the five freshmen and one sophomore, who presented themselves, were permitted to read from the play, "Politian," by Edgar Allen Poe.

Meet Next Tuesday

All those who appeared were tentatively accepted into the society with the understanding that they would, at the meeting of the chapter, next Tuesday, at 8.00 P. M., present themselves prepared to complete the initiation as prescribed in the by-laws of the organization.

Any other candidates for membership in that chapter will also be accepted for initiation at the meeting.

Provisional Acceptance

Those who were tentatively received into the Belle Macque were: Douglas Brockhurst, '37, Joseph O'Brien, '38, John W. Pillion, '38, John L. Simons '38, Emil Mathias, '38 and Joseph Toland, '38.

Contrary to the custom of former years, there will be no initiation for Beta Gamma aspirants due to the fact that a Junior chapter is being organized

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DIJOSEPH, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35 ..... Art and Photographic Editor

Associate College Editor: Edmond C. Malhame, '36
Associate Sports Editor: William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Flo Gozgi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marconnet, '35 — Anthony Catrambone, '36
Norton C. Paden, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — John Peter Faso, '36
John Laurusonis, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Frank Alfono, '36 — Anthony Zanni, '36
John Burke, '37 — Anthony Differ, '37
Basil W. Dobrowolske, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER Associated Collegiate Press — 1934 Collegiate Digest 1935 — MADISON WISCONSIN

Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - OCTOBER 9, 1934

WILL THE END OF PRICE FIXING BE THE SOLUTION OF RECOVERY?

FROM THE ringside of that 1933-34 battle of the century, featuring the NRA versus the nation's business interests, came a tumultous shout of capitalistic approval last week as Mr. Donald Richberg dealt what appears to have been a death blow to the famed screeching blue eagle, whose wings are said to have darkened the threshold of many a board of directors' room of the factories of the nation. One downtrodden little blue eagle was big enough to throw a scare into those big moguls of industry anent the subject of price fixing. Now that the end has come to the so-called boycott and the severing of the alleged red tape, which industry contended was strangling it to the point of forcing it to sound the proverbial death rattle, one speculates as to the outcome of this situation which has been in the process of experimentation for the past year and one-half. Mr. Richberg offers encouragement to those whose wailings have been the loudest with the statement, "How can individual freedom and the benefits of a competitive economy be retained if any organization (political or private) is authorized to dictate how much shall be produced and at what prices it shall be sold?" Thus with a few plain spoken words the new titular head of the NRA has apparently tried to meet industry's demands for permission to let prices normally govern themselves in a market of willing buyers and willing sellers. Of course, there are still impediments to the country's being able to start on the straight and narrow road to prosperity, such as important Supreme Court decisions, but with the Richberg statement bringing a definite end to Government supervision, it is up to those who have complained to prove to the country their protests are just by aiding employment and stepping up production to hasten recovery.

-- BUT NOT GOODBYE

IT IS generally conceded that a well-organized Alumni Association is a vital necessity to any large institution of learning. Its importance and usefulness is not limited to any one specific need. It serves a multiple of purposes which range from the defense of the institution (if occasion for defense arise), to the spreading of news to prospective students about what their Alma Mater can offer. In addition it is a means of keeping acquaintances alive. A few years ago Villanova had no organized alumni. The situation called for a remedy, so in 1932 definite action was taken. The office of Alumni Secretary was created on the campus and Albert C. Wagner, of that year's graduating class, received the appointment. Almost immediately he began his untiring and ceaseless efforts of organizing an active Alumni group. Reunions in form of meetings, dinners, balls, smokers, retreats, homecoming days, and many other types of social gatherings were planned under Mr. Wagner's efficient reign. Last week "Al" resigned from the task to which he had devoted two arduous years of constant, painstaking work. It is his desire to advance further in educational pursuits and will continue his studies at a larger institution. On the campus he has ever been a prominent figure, both as a student and as the Alumni representative. Ever willing to be of assistance to one and all, "Al" will be missed on the campus and on the Alumni staff. The VILLANOVAN, "Al," assures you that the sincere wishes of students, alumni, and college authorities, go with you because of the good you have done Villanova.

SHOW SOME SPIRIT

WITHOUT A doubt it is difficult to strive with the greatest effort and enthusiasm when the obstacles seem easy to overcome and the goal appears readily accessible. It is human nature to relax before easy opposition. This fact manifests itself every year during the early-season football games. The students, with the possible exception of the freshmen, respond to the efforts of the cheer leaders in a half-hearted manner and fail to "talk it up" with any show of spirit when Villanova takes possession of the ball or is in a tight spot. This condition is the result of the feeling that the first few games are set-ups. When the big games come along the enthusiasm grows and the concerted cheering increases in volume until it becomes a roar in the traditional game with Temple. This early-season lack of spirit and belief that the game will be easy often communicates itself to the members of the team. Last year the tie with Ursinus was caused by nothing but overconfidence. This Saturday's game with La Salle may be regarded by some students as a push-over. This is far from being the case, for the La Salle team is pointing for this meeting and will be out to make a name for itself by upsetting the Wildcats or by even holding them to a low score. It is up to the students to show by their enthusiasm that they want this game with this natural rival and they can best do this by learning the cheers and new song and by using them at all the games in the future.

ABOUT THE POOL

IT HAS long been the opinion of doctors and physical culturists that swimming is one of the most beneficial of exercises. It not only develops virtually every muscle in the body, but also affords one pleasure while participating in the sport. This distinguishes it from systematic exercises, which, if persisted in for a sufficient length of time, would accomplish the same results, but require a certain amount of will power and arduous labor in their performance. The college, recognizing those advantages which accrue to the student, has gone to considerable expense to give Villanova one of the finest pools of its kind in the country. Fresh towels, clean trunks, and adequate locker space are facilities available for every student. Yet with all these conveniences, it is deplorable to note the use made of the pool by those for whom it has been constructed. Since its opening, comparatively few undergraduates have visited the natatorium. It need not be mentioned that if there were no pool, or if swimming privileges were denied, a chorus of complaints would arise from the campus.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

THE WITTY notices and signs that time and again have adorned the bulletin boards of Austin Hall once more are being displayed. Austin Hall's 'Intra Mural Dick,' prominent pupil of last year's public eye, was made by just such publicity. So famed are these notifications that one often has to shoulder his way through a laughing mass of humanity, representative of all dorms, to read the comedy. The latest sign, in way of mock advertisement, reads, 'Capt. Jim Murphy eats at the Greek's.'

Joe Dunnigan is at odds with the Athletic office. Joe in fulfilling a contract to work at the ticket gate during last week's game became obliged of the Athletic Office to the sum of one buck. Non payment, at this late date, has left Joe with an itchy palm and crumbled thoughts of expenditure. He should not be piqued. For if he would be reminded, 'a dollar saved is a dollar earned' it will be plain to him how he shall have realized a hundred per cent profit on the deferred payment. By simple addition of the original dollar to the one earned from savings will give two frogs or an increase of one greenback. There, Joe, now aren't you glad you weren't paid right away?

Strange the names that circulate freely on the addressed envelopes of this country's daily mail. Testimony to this fact one reads in "Believe It or Not" and "Strange As It Seems" articles. Once I saw an envelope received by an amateur radio operator friend, sent by a foreign operator who having heard his code broadcast wrote to inform him of it. This operator friend, a resident of the World's Play Ground; was addressed as Mr. W. P. G. But this was trite after seeing Cave Scanlan's letter to, "Miss Mary Frances 'Punch' Kelly."

John Laurusonis, Fediganite, with an eye to the somewhat remote Senior Ball, has begun amassing the necessary wherewithal for it. A small savings box into which John dumps all his pennies will hold the nucleus of the sum to see his way clear. It's a swell scheme John. Now if you only have the will power to resist the attractions of the movies, the yearnings of the palate, and the touches of your friends that will arise at unappropriate moments when your only peculiar possessions lay dormant in a certain smudgy, collapsing box, everything will be jake.

COLLEGIATE NEWSREEL

NAZIISM seems to be an obstacle in the path of the senior honorary students at Temple University. Whether these prodigies favor this type of government or not seems to be implied in a motion taken at the last meeting of the Swatiska Senior Honorary Society which resolved that the name be changed because of the present significance of the title. Please submit suggestions to the secretary of the society as soon as possible.

• • •

To the yearlings who are skeptical about the value of a college education may we offer a bit of statistical information. Figures recently compiled by one of the leading insurance companies of the country in answer to the question, "Does College Pay," show the average high school graduate goes to work when he is eighteen years old, reaches his maximum earning power of $2800 a year when he is fifty years old and during his entire life he will earn approximately $88,000.

The college graduate does not go to work until he is 22 and reaches a maximum or $8500 per year at the age of sixty. His total life earnings will be $180,000 or $92,000 more than the high school graduate—$23,000 for each of the four years spent in college.

• • •

Chile offers a new idea to our politically minded Americans. In an effort to prepare the women of that country to vote for the deserving candidate, the University of Chile has inaugurated courses in public affairs. Now, dear readers suppose the professor is opposed to the present type of government?

• • •

What does this mean? In the Hobart Herald of Hobart College we read one headline which states, "Freshman Crush Rivals in Scrap." On the opposite side of this column we read another one 'Sophs Lick Frosh in Annual Scrap." Who was the victor in this scrap? Detective story enthusiasts please solve and send the solution to the editor.

The same college had a freshman enrollment of 107, and the total student body is 285. Our sympathies are extended to their vigilance committee and sophomores.

• • •

There may be something in the contention of a Columbia University professor that all schools should have courses in marriage, but we'd be sort of sorry for any poor girl who got an "A" in matrimony and never got a chance to practice it.

• • •

Stanford University can claim the honor of having a "State Stadium." It has been shown that the entire population of Nevada could almost be seated in that arena. The stadium with a state capacity.

• • •

Bucknell offers us this simile, "As careful as a nudist climbing a barbed wire fence."

--- Dial-Log ---

THE SEVENTH consecutive season of the nation's greatest organized course in the understanding of good music, the NBC Music Appreciation Hour, will be inaugurated under the baton of Dr. Walter Damrosch, dean of American conductors. More than 70 stations will combine to bring this program to all parts of the country each Friday at 11 A. M. to 12 P. M.

Mary Pickford, "America's Sweetheart," and a pioneer in pantomime, launches on a new venture as the romantic heroine of "The Church Mouse," the play in which the celebrated screen star comes to her many followers, this time by way of the ethereal, every Wednesday night over the NBC network. Three spacious rooms in her beautiful Beverly Hills home, "Pickfair," have been turned over to preparations for her new career. A home recording apparatus occupies one room where Miss Pickford plans to study the art of broadcasting.

That new song, "Say It," which Phil Harris's band introduced, is the creation of Buzz Adlam, a saxaphone player. He's the fellow who wrote "The House Is Haunted."

John B. Kennedy started his career as in interviewer; his first assignment being two condemned murderers. His list now includes men in all walks of life from Al Capone to the Pope.

Jolly Coburn and his orchestra returns to the air over the WJZ-NBC network every Sunday at 6:15 P. M., after an absence that dates back to the early days of radio. The management of the new Rainbow Room topping the RCA Building in Rockefeller Center has selected Coburn's orchestra to open their fashionable restaurant.

Sigmund Romberg conducts his business atop his West 55th street apartment house. In this studio-office is a grand piano, two desks, an organ, book cases for his 6000 volume music library, and several chairs and settees. Visitors are forced to tighten their belts in order to move around.

Many stars of Broadway and Hollywood will be on the ether starting October 14, presenting hour versions of celebrated plays. The first of these will star Miriam Hopkins and John Boles in "Seventh Heaven."

Ramona put in many years of study so that she might realize her life's ambition, that of playing Bach in salon recitals. Her popularity, oddly enough, has come through her rendition of "hotcha," tunes on the Paul Whiteman program over NBC networks.

As We See It...Soviet Victory

RUSSIA has gained a lap on all the nations of the world in her race for supremacy. That lap was gained at Geneva on September 18th when she was admitted to the League of Nations by an overwhelming majority, not, however, without a dissenting and determined minority. Right here we strike against a paradox of statesmanship, or call it what you will, it is something proving quite conclusively that if the world itself is not topsy-turvy, at least a goodly percentage of those who feebly endeavour to direct her destinies are. The avowed purpose of the League of Nations is to foster world peace while the avowed purpose of the Soviet Government is to foment world discord. Behold the marriage of opposites! Deadly enemies have clasped hands and the flimsy reasons given for the handclasp are "opportunism" and "practical politics." The point not to be forgotten, however, is that they are still enemies.

Before the Geneva delegates, Giuseppe Motta delivered a stirring address denouncing Communism in all its forms as an enemy seeking to throttle civilization. In the words of the Commonweal, that speech might well be called the swan song of western democracy. Forcefully did he expose the Soviet system; "Communism dissolves the family; it suppresses individual initiative; it abolishes private property; it organizes labor in forms that are hard to distinguish from forced labor," yet the vote admitting Russia was thirty-eight to three.

It is true that experiments in government that have for their object the betterment of the whole people are lawful; yet such an experiment as Russia is carrying on is not, for she is attempting to build on a denial of God and—what follows from this — a denial of moral law. In her social and political life she is definitely at odds with European culture and traditions. No expediency in world politics justifies this ignoring of that which is an utter negation of all that western civilization tenaciously clings to. By this compromise, the League of Nations forfeits the respect of millions of people and thus jeopardizes its very existence.

We cannot believe that Russia's promise to abandon her world revolution plan is sincere. Our own country is witnessing, to her surprise no doubt, the amazing grip Communism holds on the masses of her working people. "Red" agitators are responsible for many of our strikes and labor disputes. Too true are Motta's words: "In every sphere, religious, moral, social, political, this form of Communism is the most radical negation of our very vital substance." Russia far from loosening her grip on our civilization, will now expand her influence through her newly acquired prestige. She cannot do otherwise, for the spreading of the Communist gospel is one of the first laws of her nature.

The Soviet victory marks the triumph of expediency over right, a triumph made possible by the organic weakness of that culture which has for two centuries dominated Europe to a greater or lesser degree. The bourgeois class that rules Western Europe today is ignorant of obligations to anything beyond itself. It is its nature to be so. To the bourgeois government there can be no question of responsibility to the society it represents, no interest to be safeguarded but personal interest. Hence the futility of an appeal such as M. Motta's is based on the clear recognition of the duty of the state to protect the society of which it is the servant. The admission of Russia to membership in the League is additional evidence that the culture which lords it over Europe today is unfit for the task of government.

EVENING EXTENSION SCHOOL COMMENCES

Classes Again Held in Philadelphia at Hallahan Girl's High School

The Villanova College Evening School conducted by the Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., Dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, has opened for the second consecutive year in Philadelphia. Classes will be held in the Hallahan High School at 19th and Wood Sts.

So successful was its work last year that Father Bartley decided to make it co-educational this year. The regular night classes formerly held on the Villanova campus have been transferred to Philadelphia.

Enrollment Increased

Last year the school opened with a hundred and forty girls. They were made up of a group of High school graduates, teachers and women who wished to take college courses but otherwise could not.

This year, the second year of its existence, the enrollment increased to one hundred and ninety-five students. It is composed of a body of men and women whose ages range anywhere from eighteen to fifty.

College grade subjects are taught by faculty members of Villanova College under the supervision of Father Bartley.

Although a great many of its students are high school graduates, it is not an entrance requirement.

Registration Closed

All courses in the evening division had to be determined not later than yesterday. No new students will be permitted to register after that date, nor will those who have registered be permitted to change courses.

Those who are taking courses for credits will be held to regular attendance. Students who are absent more than three evenings during the first term will not receive credit in courses. For special cases of absentees in access of this number students will have to consult Fr. Bartley.

So What?

By WILBUR HONEYFUSS

Methinks there will be much war hereabouts in the form of a feud, suh, if the columnist who bats out that "You Ought To Know" stuff keeps putting the bee on my fran, Ned O'Nell. Last week, he averred that Joe Murray was aces as a heartbreaker, even surpassing Chisel Head, who no doubt, seems to me to be Romeo, par applesauce. When he springs the line on them, they swallow hook, line and sinker and then grab for the pole. And, friend, that is not all.

There is a certain guy, called by the name of Wrinklepuss Winterer in the Engineering School, of which guy I am very fond. As a goifer he is jolly well lousy, and in other departments he is likewise not much good. The funny part of this guy is that he carries his handkerchief in his back pocket, which, come to think of it, is a good place for it, too, but on the other hand, is dirt. So what?

Then there is another charming fellow, by the name of Gruesome Grewer, which guy is having terrifical trouble in getting out of this institution. First, an engineer, then a businesser, then an engineer and now an artsman. My stooge, Philbert Cherryblossom happened to hear over some conversation betwixt authorities about this here Grewer. One asked the other, how to graduate him. The other prof said, "Well, looks as if we'll have to blast."

Books, Informally Speaking

"Forty-Two Years in The White House" By IRWIN ("IKE") HOOVER

IKE" HOOVER was a kind of superior valet to nine men and a hero Harrison, Cleveland, Taft, Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, and—until his death last September, Franklin D. Roosevelt— comprised the nine. He knew all of them; he knew their habits and saw them all pass away. He, as chief usher at the White House, stayed through four decades. He observed the Presidents off parade. He recorded a thousand and one things which no one could have realized he was noticing. He wrote everything down — sometimes into packed, incisive articles, sometimes into pungent notes. In his lifetime he published none of them. But it's all here in this story as he wrote. The book becomes a family album, jammed with snapshots, portrait photographs and large group pictures. It is not made tracely with adulation nor dulled by excessive consecutiveness. Those who read some of the separate parts in the Saturday Evening Post will recall the many shorty, penetrating notations Ike Hoover made. "Coolidge had nothing to do with ladies." "Wilson had the greatest faith in the people, Hoover none at all." "Roosevelt (T. R.) seemed to be forcing himself all the time, acting, as it were, and successfully." "Wilson's intellect seemed to place him in class by himself."

The interesting climb of Hoover to the position of head usher at the White House is a very peculiar one. It seems that in May, 1891, an admiral sent him over from the Navy Department to help some electricians illuminate the White House for the Harrisons. The admiral, by the way, took one look at his initials and called him "Ike" which hase been his nick name ever since. The name stuck. Ike stuck too. He became the White House electrician. Taft made him chief usher. From the on he ran the place—and never failed to take notes on what was going on.

His point of view was seldom sterilized by dispassionateness. He formed judgments on everything from a personal line to international policy. Coolidge he disliked attentively enough to collect a new garland of tales of Calvinian parsimony. His admiration for Wilson flowers in new material on such points as the firing of Lansing, the break with the House, the last illness and deeper views of his private life that may alter the standard biographies.

He talks about Hoover with a candor calculated to give the former president something like retroactive sleepless nights. He fills out pages and pages of Washington gossip, of entertainments and other notable social functions. The theory that we have only one living ex-president because all presidents work themselves to death is not supported by Ike Hoover. Until the war began Wilson worked only three or four hours a day. Yet "Hoover worried more than any other President and really worked harder." "Harding spent the afternoons playing golf or resting at the Executive Offices."

the Wellman Process does this —

...it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler

In the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.

The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers.

...it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma

...it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler

...it makes the tobacco milder

...it leaves a clean dry ash —no soggy residue or heel in the pipe bowl

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

...in a common-sense package—10c

We wish in some way we could get every man who smokes a pipe to just try Granger

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

A. S. V. C. CALLS IMPORTANT MEETING

Conclave This Thursday Will Determine Future Status Of Organization

The Aeronautical Society of Villanova College will meet Thursday at 1.00 P. M. in Room 210, Mendel Hall, for the first time this year. The group was organized last year in order to further the interests of those students, interested in aviation, its practice and theory.

This meeting is being held mainly to determine whether there is sufficient interest in this phase of engineering, to warrant the continuation of the club on the campus.

Last year, the A. S. V. C. did much to increase the knowledge of its members through two very interesting functions. Its afternoon meetings were marked by talks given by members on various phases of aeronautic interest, either technical or narrative. Its evening meetings, held twice monthly, were the occasions for lectures by men prominent in Aeronautics circles. Open forums at these meetings proved to be of the greatest benefit to those in attendance.

The Aeronautics Society holds the unusual distinction of being the only club on the campus to have offices. Its period of trial, lasting approximately a year and a half has been most successful, and the number of membership alone will determine its place among the permanent organizations of Villanova College.

The society has facilities for the furtherance of these programs, as well as for tours of inspection to several of the many aircraft factories and airports throughout the surrounding country.

Mr. Johin Rogers, Superintendent of Mechanics of the Flying Dutchman Airport, Somerton, Pa., is willing and eager to continue his lectures, and other interesting speakers have been sought and obtained for the present year's program.

RELINQUISHES POST AFTER TWO YEARS

Staff Photo—Violetti

ALBERT C. WAGNER,
'32, who, as Alumni Secretary, played a prominent part in organizing the grads, resigned his post to continue studies for a master's degree. He has been succeeded by Joseph A. Hoenig, '34, Commerce and Finance, of Albany, N. Y.

ENGINEERS DISCUSS THIS YEAR'S PLANS

Entertainment to Be Featured At Bi-Monthly Meetings Of the Society

Plans were discussed for entertainment to be given at the two meetings every month by the members of the Villanova Chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. John Klekotka, the new president, welcomed the old members back and also asked them to aid the freshmen electrical engineers in becoming members.

Harry S. Busche, professor of electrical engineering in the School of Technology, will again act as moderator for the society. It was through his efforts that the local student branch was organized last spring.

Motion pictures of various phases of electrical engineering will be presented once a month and will be accompanied by a short talk by one of the members explaining the picture.

All candidates who wish to join this organization should see the president or one of the members of the membership committee which will be announced at the next meeting.

Choose Belle Air Staff Associate

Continued From Page One

tine Ranieri and Walter D'Alonso to assist him.

The photographic work of the publication will be under the direction of Francis Bigley, who has been appointed editor of that department.

Raphael Violetti will be art editor, while Louis D'Angelo will be snapshot editor.

William Walsh and Thomas Donahue are to be the copy editors. The circulation of the book will be managed by Albert Cerulo and William Gough.

Harold Keating has been appointed sports editor. Keating will have two assistants to aid him in his duties but they have not been named as yet.

Many New Editions Placed in Library

Continued From Page One

ples of Labor Legislation, by John B. Commons; Industrial System, by J. A. Hobson; Plain Talks on Economics, by Fabian Franklin; Effective Business Letters, by E. H. Gardiner and Robert R. Aurner.

State Government by Walter F. Dodd; History of Economic Progress in the United States, by Walter W. Jennings; My Forty Years in Politics, by William S. Vare; Federal Aid for Equalization Educational Opportunity, by Helen M. Muller; Business Law, by Thomas Conyngton and Louis O. Bergh; Industrial and Social History of England, by Edward P. Cheney.

The clean Center Leaves—these are the mildest leaves They Cost More

"It's toasted"

√ Your throat protection—against irritation—against cough

It's the taste that counts—that's why Luckies use only clean center leaves—for the clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better.

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

UNDOUBTEDLY, the biggest topic of conversation on the campus this week was the article published in the Saturday Evening Post last Tuesday entitled "Is the Notre Dame System Slipping?" As most of you know the affirmative writer was none other than Glenn S. "Pop" Warner, Temple coach. On the other side of the two-page "spread" was a big "No" next to a photograph of Harry Stuhldreher.

From the Villanova record during the past nine seasons under Mr. Stuhldreher we can easily see a great edge in favor of the Notre Dame system but in reading both sides of the article presented by authorities we attempted to learn about each from a view-point of men that really know.

Of course, any attempt on our part to criticize either article would sound ridiculous. but naturally, we formed our opinion after taking in both viewpoints.

Mr. Warner never condemns the N. D. system. It would be foolish of him to do so because of the many good teams in the past that had impressive records under this system. The incidentals mentioned in both articles such as sprinter's starts under one method and standing starts in the other, or any other minor points are beside the question. "Is the Notre Dame System Slipping."

There are as many teams today using this system as there were using it during Rockne's time. Because every football graduate from N. D. is not snapped up as in former times does not indicate a slip.

Warner himself admits that "Notre Dame-bred coaches" are still in demand but the signers are getting more "choosy." Naturally, schools demand coaches that have experience. Three years ago the Notre Dame system was increasing so much in popularity that experienced coaches were almost impossible to get.

* * *

Today this system is as strong as ever. Because its use is not increasing as rapidly as it was three years ago does not mean that it is necessarily "slipping." The N. D. system lives on, a product of and a tribute to Knute Rockne.

* * *

ANOTHER ITEM worthy of comment and interesting to most of the students is the whereabouts of various prominent members of last year's varsity aggregation. The first one coming to our mind is Vince Zizac, one of the Wildcats' outstanding tackles of last season. We talked to Vince long enough the other day to find out that he has transferred his football affiliations from the Chicago Bears to the Philadelphia Eagles.

Charley Brodnicki, the other stellar tackle of the 1933 team is tied up with the Brooklyn Dodgers. If a Brodnicki-Zizac battle were to take place on a local gridiron the tackle position would come in for some real publicity.

Although two years out of Villanova, many of us remember "Lefty" Reitz. "Lefty" was varsity baseball captain and member of the football and basketball teams. During the fall of his senior year, Reitz also found time to coach the 150's. What all this is leading up to is the fact that our old pal "Crooked Arm" is head coach of everything down at Baltimore U. We were glad for his sake that his team made such a good showing against Canisius two Saturdays ago.

Coming back to the 1934 crop, a newspaper clipping informs us that Tom O'Donnell, the ole right end, has taken over the coaching reins at Brown Prep.

Last but far from least, "Whitey" Randour continues to impress the football fans by his spectacular demonstrations with the Reading Keys.

'Toby' Cavanaugh, it is rumored, is going to be an "all sport" coach at some high school down in Jersey.

Continued on Page Six

La Salle Aggregation Looms As Difficult Foe

VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK BOWLING

Tuesday, October 9, 1934 Page Five

VILLANOVA-W. MARYLAND TIE

A Game Attempt to Gain Six Points for the Wildcats Fails

Courtesy Phila. Record

Above shows Nick Kotys, 'Cat halfback, stopped after a sixteen-yard march to the Green Terror's four-yard line. On two subsequent attempts the Villanova team was unable to score and finally lost the ball when an attempted place-kick failed.

MUDDY GRIDIRON HANDICAPS FOES IN HARD CONTEST

Kotys and Weisenbaugh Star On Offensive for Main Line Gridders

MICHAELS STAR IN LINE

HARRY STUHLDREHER'S 'Cats and Dick Harlow's Green Terrors battled to a scoreless tie Saturday afternoon on the college field, which more closely resembled a duck pond than a football gridiron.

Both teams came within scoring distance more than once, but the slippery oval and uncertain footing changed the picture several times when each of the teams appeared to have a victory within its grasp.

Exchange Punts

The Terrors took the opening kickoff on the 15 and returned it 13 yards. On the first play they punted to Kotys on his own 30-yard line and he returned it about two yards. Patzsch lost two at right tackles and Korchinski punted to the visitors' 30. A driving scrimmage play netted four yards and a punt put the ball on our own 30-yard line. Kotys fumbled the already mud-covered ball for a ten-yard loss and again Korchinski was called out of the line to put out of danger.

The ball carried to the Terrors' 32 and was returned for eight yards. They tried two running plays that gained only two yards and then punted to Kotys on his own 12. Nick dodged and twisted his way to the 25-yard line before being stopped, and in the next play he reeled off four more. Korchinski again came back to punt out-of-bounds on the visitors' 45.

'Cats Rally

Cook made five yards in the first play of the second quarter, and on the fourth down "Whitey" punted to the Dixies' 35. They made five yards in two line plays and then Mergo punted out-of-bounds on Villanova's 22. Villanova gained ten yards in an exchange of punts, and then began a determined, but futile, rush to the goal-line.

Kotys was stopped at the line on the first play, and then he broke loose for 18 yards, the longest single or team gain thus far in the game. Patzsch gained two yards in two tries, and then the Terrors were penalized five yards. An attempted forward pass to Cook was a bit wide of the mark, Joe Weisenbaugh lost a yard, and Kotys was stopped at the line. "Whitey" punted to the visitors' ten yard line and the ball was returned five yards. Mergo immediately punted to Kotys at the midfield stripe and he was stopped after gaining five yards.

Then Villanova started the only real drive of the game, coming all the way to the two-yard line before being stopped. Kotys lost a yard, Cook made three, Weisenbaugh cleared the ends in two plays for eight and ten yards. Kotys smashed the line for three, and then

Continued on Page Six

Marty Brill's Explorers Face Wildcats Saturday

Quaker City Eleven Has Remarkable Record Defeat St. Thomas, Deadlock Catholic U. Bahr, Lucas Outstanding

TUTOR STRESSES BLOCKING DRILLS

The time: Saturday afternoon, September 29. The place: Scranton, Pa. The occasion: St. Thomas, the home team, opposing La Salle College, the visitors. The dope: St. Thomas to win by two touchdowns. The result: La Salle wins, 7-0. Thus once again the dope bucket is overturned and the football-loving fans are stunned.

At the outset of the game no one conceded the visiting eleven more than the very remotest of chances of victory, yet the Explorers turned remoteness into a very realistic occurrence. They displayed crushing power in both line and backfield. Such is the story of their surprise win over the highly touted St. Thomas club.

C. U. Held

A subsequent trip to Washington, where the gallant Explorers encountered the Flying Cardinals from Catholic University. The Red Birds boast a highly capable combine of leather-toting artists as well as a hard-fighting forward wall. In the very short time of five minutes the home team pushed the leather across the final marker and it looked like an extremely bad day for the Quaker City eleven. However, the Brill stalwarts ended the march of the university team right there and in turn they showed the power of their line and backfield. A pass, Bahr to Kadalubosky, the latter a substitute end, proved to be the tying marker, for the Capitol City gridders were held scoreless throughout the remainder of the fray.

Thus in their two starts of the season the under-rated Brill-coached combine has proved more than a match for its opponents, St. Thomas, of Scranton, Pa., and the Catholic University Cardinals from Washington, D. C. In both contests the La Salle eleven was given but the slightest of chances to score, let alone win, over either of these teams, and yet in the first instance they not only scored but they triumphed, and in the second fracas they scored again and held the Red Birds to a 6-6 deadlock.

Hard Blockers

The visitors sport a hard-blocking team, especially the backfield. It is only too evident that they are the pupils of one of the greatest if not the greatest blocking back that ever donned moleskins, Marty Brill. It was at the South Bend institution, Notre Dame, that this mentor learned his blocking traits, and under none other than the great master, Rockne himself. So it is little wonder that his pupils should be well drilled in the art of knocking them down so that they stay down.

Lucas Is Quarterback

Ray Bahr at right halfback position throws passes with devastating accuracy, as was shown in the Catholic University game. Although their offense does not consist of an aerial attack, the Explorers have a good tosser of spirals in Bahr. Lucas, at quarter, directs the team with heady play, and Gallagher and Knox do the brunt of the ball-toting.

In all, the Quaker Cityites have a strong ball club and as it is the first official meeting of the two teams they are anxious to turn the tables on the 'Cats and upset the dope bucket for the third time this season.

WILDCAT YEARLINGS SEEKING CONTESTS

Kitten Eleven Has Strength Grooming Varsity Team; Missar Pivot Man

NYE GETS TACKLE POST

The freshman football squad, representing Villanova College this year consists of 31 hustling youngsters. The squad has been practicing over a period of 4 weeks.

For the past week, the frosh spent the time grooming the varsity eleven for its contest with Western Maryland. Although the "Kittens" were kept from scoring, the Varsity had no end of trouble in stopping them.

There have been efforts made to secure a tentative schedule for the "Kittens," but as yet no games are posted. There looms, however, the possibility of a contest with the Penn State Frosh in November.

Those who have shown themselves outstanding to date are: Missar, the pivot man, who hails from West Catholic of Phila.; Raimo, at fullback, who is a native son of Everett, Mass.; Sherlock and Stopper, dividing the left-halfback post, and Nye, playing tackle.

The rest of the squad consists of Andrako, Belli, Boester, Brand, Del Monico, Devaney, Dougherty, Egan, Ferry, Festa, Foley, Garbeck, Gino Hanley, Hanna, Marquette, McCarthy, McKenna, Meilus Mickelas, Olivari, O'Neil, Rizzo, Stoviak, Snyder and Thompson.

The yearlings are coached by George Jacobs, and in the event that no games are listed for this group, they will be groomed each week in Villanova's future opponents plays and in that manner they aid the varsity in working out defenses for the various tricks of their opposition.

'CAT LIGHTWEIGHTS INAUGURATE SEASON AGAINST LAFAYETTE

Team Handicapped by Loss Of Veterans; Late Drills Stress Blocking

SCHEDULE NOW COMPLETE

"Red" Lenzi's 150-pound team inaugurates its football season Wednesday, October 17, when Coach "Red" takes his lightweights to Easton, Pa., to pit them against a formidable Lafayette eleven. About 30 members of the squad, constituting three backfields and two lines, will take this trip.

During the last few days of practice, Coach Lenzi particularly stressed the necessity of blocking. He also differentiated between the legal and the illegal use of the hands.

Although refusing to disclose his starting team, saying that there are still eleven positions open, he has offered the following statement regarding his chances for the coming season. "Considering past performances of the veteran members of the team, I feel that we will have a successful season, despite the fact that several veterans did not deem it worth while to report this year. The new members of the squad look very promising and seem to possess those qualities that go to make up a winning ball club."

The complete schedule is as follows:

Oct. 7—Lafayette at Easton, Pa.
" 26—Princeton at Princeton.
Nov. 3—Manhattan at home.
" 9—Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.
" 16—Rutgers at New Brunswick.

JAYVEES' SCHEDULE LISTS FIVE GAMES

Scranton Junior College And West Chester Teachers Contests Added

With the addition of two more contests to the junior varsity schedule, it is expected that interest in this sport will take a great spurt. In the past seasons, the jayvees were shaded by the longer schedule of the 150 pounders, but now that Scranton Junior College and West Chester Teachers have been added, both teams are on a par.

Coach Frank Skaff is still badly in need of candidates for his team, but from the men already reporting, a fairly strong showing should be made. However, none of the positions are definitely filled and any new candidates will be given an opportunity to prove their worth.

The completed schedule is as follows: October 24, Lafayette J. V. at Villanova; November 3, Scranton Keystone Junior College at Scranton, Pa.; Nov. 9, Rutgers J. V. at New Brunswick, N. J.; Nov. 15, University of Pennsylvania J. V. at Villanova; Nov. 21, West Chester Teachers' College J. V. at Villanova.

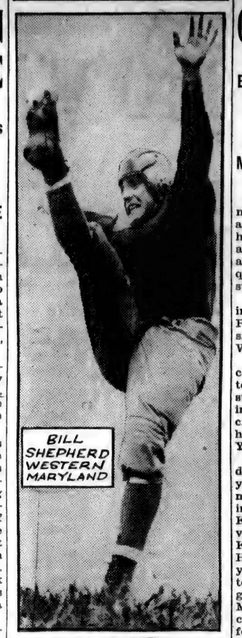
Sportorial

Continued From Page Five

WE ANXIOUSLY look forward to the game this Saturday with the La Salle College outfit. Although all those who claim to be "in the know" claim a big sweep for the 'Cats, the La Salle team is determined to avenge that close basketball defeat of last winter. Personally, we feel that the Villanova team will come out on the long end of a big score but according to reports from the Olney Ave. college, the boys up there are preparing for a real scrap. Marty Brill must have a real team judging from their victory over the scrappy St. Thomas eleven and their showing against Catholic U.

The Villanova-La Salle game will be the local athletic highlight on next Saturday and the La Salle team will be out to impress the spectators that they are really making a bid for big time football honors. The 'Cats will have a real chance to show a Philadelphia audience just what a good football team looks like.

Subdued



STAR'S AVERAGE TAKES SETBACK

Western Maryland Sensation Slackened in Ground-Gaining Spree

Many comments concerning the great ball-toting record of Bill Shepherd were heard throughout the stands last Saturday. Up to the Villanova game the Green Terrors' star back had lugged the pigskin 199 times in varsity competition and in that many attempts he had averaged six and a half yards on each try. His scoring average for each game amounted to almost ten points.

After a careful check on this gentleman's performance in the hectic game a compilation of his average reveals that Shepherd was temporarily slowed up. His ball-toting average, still not to be sneered at, shows a gain of three and a half yards in each attempt. Of course with the final game score at 0-0, his scoring spree received a severe jolt.

PICK TENNIS TEAMS FOR INTRA-MURAL GO

Elimination Contests Aid The Halls in Forming Their Court Representation

Intramural tennis is making fine headway at the Villanova courts now. The reconditioned courts have aided the play greatly.

Since the initial contests, which were held Friday, Sept. 28, great strides have been made toward the final tournament. This contest among the halls will start sometime this week. Many of the contestants have been eliminated through the contests which have been played during the past week.

All that remains now is for each hall to pick its team for the final tournament. Fedigan Hall has already done so and the Day Hop team is nearly completed.

The following men will battle for Fedigan, Collins, P. Kramer, Mihalcik, and Oshbar.

Fitzpatrick, Thorn, Allen, and either Shea or Troncelliti will try to win the crown for the train and trolley boys.

It is rumored that Krupa and Maloney will be the mainstays of Austin's offensive.

VILLANOVA RUNNERS GETTING IN SHAPE

Elliot Given Coaching Role; Indoor Campaign Listed; Al Kramer Counted On

MALONEY ADDS STRENGTH

Although no official announcement was made for indoor track and cross-country candidates, there have been quite a number of aspirants working out under the guidance of captain Jim Elliot, ace quarter-miler and cross country star.

Elliot has taken over the coaching reins, temporarily, because Bob Reagan, varsity track coach, is assisting Harry Stuhldreher with the Wildcat grid machine.

No definite word has been received as to who the cross-country team will meet, but there is a strong possibility of their competing in the classical intercollegiate cross country championship to be held at Van Courtland Park in New York.

Among the promising hill and dalers are: Ben Maloney, a second-year man, who captured the one mile and the half-mile runs in the intra-murals last year, and Alex Kramer from Macdonald, Pa., on varsity performer for two years. Kramer teamed with Elliot, Carl Hickey, and Joe Fenstemacher; last year's captain, to finish runner-up to Michigan State in the West Virginia University indoor meet at Morgantown last season, and is counted on to produce many points for the Wildcats.

For the indoor campaign, indications point to a small squad to carry Villanova to victory. More than likely they will compete for individual trophies rather than for team prizes. Some of the meets that they will participate in are, the Knights of Columbus, Millrose, and National A. A. U., all to be held at Madison Square Garden, the Boston A. A., the Seton Hall's Invitation, and the West Virginia Relays.

Elliot will compete in the "600" yards specials. The outstanding one of them is the K. of C. (Casey) 600.

'Cats' Meow

From the Sidelines:

The old 'cat finally worked its tonsils into another uproar and as a result we have another meow.

-V-

We are at the ball game, remember? It seems that our opponents are Western Maryland, known around Westminster, Md., as the Green Terrors.

-V-

The game is started. St. Louis 1, Detroit 0.

-V-

A girl named Emily in the row behind us just thanked her date for bringing her to the World Series.

-V-

Time out, man hurt. The announcement over the amplifiers says, "Daisy" Dean was hit on the head.

-V-

The game is half over already, we mean the Villanova-Western Maryland mud bath.

-V-

Emily's escort bought her a hot dog. She hasn't said anything for almost two minutes.

-V-

The second half is on and the Cardinals and the Tigers are in a deadlock, so are the Wildcats and the Green Terrors.

-V-

Joey Weisenbaugh just made a big gain for the Tigers, I mean the Wildcats.

-V-

Weisenbaugh made another big gain.

-V-

Gosh, he made another one.

-V-

If he does it again we will have to make ditto marks.

-V-

" " " " " "

-V-

Sway, sway, back and forth, mercilly we sway. Gee, the game is over.

-V-

It ended in a deadlock but there was almost a smile on our dizzy pan.

Penn 6, Ursinus 7

In the Limelight

"Gosh, Don, I run so fast sometimes, I can't breathe!"

Maybe that'll be a sideline on the "Gracie Allen" of the varsity squad.

An explanation is in order. "Gracie Allen" of the radio, you know, is always talking of her long-lost brother. "Gracie Allen," of the football bruisers is forever beefing of his brother at Pitt, in a voice that must come from his knees. Hence, after the three seasons of having to listen about "Heinie" doing this and that, the weary boys dubbed Jo-Jo Wiesenbaugh "Gracie Allen" in the hope of shutting him up.

P. S. It didn't work.

The muscle man hails from Tarentum, a little joint in up-country Pennsylvania. He landed there first sometime in the morning of March 14, 1911, much to everybody's amazement. Joe then vanished into the mists of obscurity until one day in 1925, to be exact, September 12, when he donned moleskins and presented himself to the coach in all the glory of his 145 pounds.

"I am an end," saith he.

"You're a halfback," quoth the mentor, "Our ends gotta be big, you squirt!"

"O. K.," replied our hero, and forthwith plants hisself in the backfield, from whence he has not stirred since.

Joe went—quite to town at dear ol' Tarentum, and after garnering three letters for holding down the h. b. post, he attracted the eye of a Kiski Prep lad, and in 1929, he found himself in the hallowed portals of Kiski, a prep school of high standing, both athletic and scholastic. He played football there for two years, gathering letters as he ran.

Then the fun began. He matriculated at Villanova in 1931, dragging his football monograms behind him. In frosh practice, he started on "Heinie, my brother at Pitt." The boys didn't mind it at first. But later - - ! Anyway, that '31 frosh team was a pip. Bernie Lee captained it, Charlie Cox, the wandering cowboy, and Harry Patzsch were but a few of the lads on it. Don Blanchard, Joe's roommate for three years, opened big holes for Mr. Wiesenbaugh to flutter through. He and the rest of the ballcarriers fluttered so well that the team, keeping up the tradition of frosh guts, was undefeated.

Joe graduated—to the varsity. He was transferred from a mere halfback to a great big fullback, just a mass of power. He and Harry Patzsch alternated at full during the season of 1932. Went swell, too. His soph year was pretty big. He came into the school as a V. C. s and he was elected frosh class treasurer. Jo-Jo had lotsa fun bossing the hapless frosh around, when the V. C.'s were really V. C.'s. He turned into a shining gigolo, pulling down jobs on the Frosh Frolic Committee and the Sophomore Cotillion affair. Quite a versatile young man, huh? There's something else funny about Jo-Jo; he studies like mad. The lights are on verra late in 108 Fedigan. That's Joe burning the midnight filament.

His junior year came around as they often do. Football again. Fullback crashing thru guard, slanting around end on a flipped lateral. Crossing the wide white stripe. Causing grief to the other guys. That was Joe in his junior year.

Joe reported for early practice this year. Had what seemed to be a great season. He looked at his best in the pre-season scrimmages. We had a perfectly clicking backfield—we had two perfectly clicking backfields, nobody could tell which four were the first squad. Villanova was priming herself for her annual battle with Ursinus. Joe and the rest of the boys were giving everything they had, Coach Stuhldreher was putting everything he had into them. Ursinus must be downed. 'Long about Wednesday, preceding the game, there was an intensive practice. The frosh were scrimmaging with Ursinus last year plays. Joe was in the second-ary position. The frosh lined up, the ball was snapped to a big slanting off tackle, he dashed across the line. Joe came up fast. Smack! They went down. Joe got up with a curious expression. His hand hung limply at his side. The knee had sounded. No more Joe for at least ten days. He had broken his hand.

Did you see Joe huddled on the bench during the Ursinus game, his hand a mass of bandages? Here's hoping we'll see you stepping out again, Joey.

Wildcats Tie Western Maryland

Continued From Page Five

passed to Cook on the five-yard line.

Field Goal Fails

The Main Liners' rooters cheered as one for a touchdown, and the air seemed electrified with intensity. Weisenbaugh drove through for three yards before being stopped. On the next play he fumbled the ball when hit, but recovered it on the five-yard line. On the next play he was again stopped at the line. At this point, Christopher, the 'Cats quarterback, decided to call for a field goal. Lee came out of the line for the try, and Christopher knelt to receive the pass.

The ball, muddy and elusive, came back just a little close, and it is the general opinion of many non-partisan observers, that even then Christopher should have been able to place the ball for the kick. But it eluded his eager grasp twice more before he was smothered under an avalanche of green-swathed players. Considering the playing conditions, the wet ball, and the high tension in which the sophomore quarterback was playing, it would best suffice to call it just "one of those things."

The fourth period was much the same, punts being the main point of play. Kotys, though, did dive a fine exhibition of broken field running with a 28-yard advance. And Joe Wiesenbaugh tore loose for two long runs, the first for 15 yards, and the second for nineteen yards.

Terrors Outplayed

The Main Liners outplayed the Terrors in every department of the game, gaining nine first downs to the visitors' three; all but one of them coming from straight running plays.

Deadlocked!

Villanova	Pos.	Western Maryland
Korchinski	left end	Gorski
Michaels	left tackle	L. Kaplan
Blanchard	left guard	B. Kaplan
Nowe	center	Lipski
Lee	right guard	Jones
Cox	right tackle	Lucci
Grimberg	right end	Blissman
Higgins	quarterback	McNally
Kotys	left halfback	Shepherd
Wetzler	right halfback	Ferguson
Patzsch	fullback	Draper

Villanova ..... 0 0 0 0—0
Western Maryland ..... 0 0 0 0—0

Penalties: Villanova, 4 for 25 yards. Western Maryland, 3 for 2[illegible]

Substitutions: Villanova—Cook for Wetzler, Weisenbaugh for Patzsch, Christopher for Higgins, Foster for Lee, Vidnovic for Blanchard, Cook for Wetzler, Weisenbaugh for Patzsch, Patzsch for Weisenbaugh, Christopher for Higgins, Walsh for Kotys. Western Maryland—Billman for Lassahn, Schweiker for Draper, Lassahn for Blissman.

Officials: Referee—J. T. Clinton, Yale. Umpire—L. V. Novak, Iowa. Head linesman—L. A. Young, Penn. Field Judge—F. R. Wallace, Washington College.

Statistics of the Game

Item	Villanova	Western Maryland
Yards in Scrimmage	143	79
Forward Passes Tried	3	3
Forward Passes Made	1	0
Forwards Incomplete	2	3
Yards on Forwards	17	0
Lateral Passes Tried	1	0
Lateral Passes Made	1	0
Yards on Laterals	6	0
Number of Punts	16	17
Yards on Punts	699	770
Average of Punts	44	45
Fumbles	3	2
Owl Fumbles Recovered	2	1
Opponents Recovered	1	1
Kickoffs Returned, Yds.	13	12
Yards Lost, Penalties	40	25
First Downs	9	4

ENGINEERING FRAT PLANS FOR OWL HOP AFTER TEMPLE GAME

[illegible]mes T. Nulty Appointed As Committee Head for Traditional Dance

EXACT DATE FOR SOCIAL NOT AS YET DETERMINED

[illegible]K. P. Intends to Introduce New Feature in the Form Of a Smoker

At an informal meeting of the [illegible]hi Kappa Pi, prominent engineering fraternity of the college, held during the past week, plans regarding the traditional Owl Hop were discussed. The exact date of the dance has not been determined but will be, most likely, in the very near future.

The president of the organization, John Klekotka, appointed the committee which has charge of the affair, and instructed them to make the necessary plans immediately. The committee is composed of James T. Nulty, '35, chairman; Charles McGough, '35, Joseph Costigan, '35, John Hallahan, '36, Thomas Fitzpatrick, '35, Lawrence Cleveland, '36, Frank Winterer, '37, John Hoey, '35, Gerald Kunz, '37, Joseph Dunigan '35, Joseph Shay, '37, and Aloysius Fitzpatrick, '37.

The society intends to introduce something new in activities to Villanova this year in the form of a smoker. The committee covering this function has been appointed and under their able guidance it is expected to be a great success on its initial tryout. The date and further details will be published as soon as they are available. The committee consists of the following: Joseph Mihalcik, '35, chairman; Joseph Costigan, '35, Walter Doyle, '35, Martin Donnelly, '35, Joseph B. Tofani, '35, John Schlotterback, '36, Gustavius Constantine, '36, Edward Casey, '37, and Michael McNerney, '37.

Following the custom of former years, the engineering group is preparing for a full schedule of athletic events. It is expected that the well balanced program of this year will exceed those of the past and afford the members of the society much interest. Although the committee in charge has not yet started making plans, they will most likely include tennis, swimming, track, and other enjoyable sports. Members of the fraternity who were appointed to run these activities are: Joseph B. Tofani, '35, chairman; Stephen Kramer, '35, Joseph Costigan, '35, Joseph Mihalcik, '35, Frank Rodgers, '36, Charles Cain, '36, Paul Williams, '37, Theodore Oshbar '37, and Joseph Shay, '37.

A new committee is making its bow into the organization this year. It has to do with the publicity end of the Phi Kappa Pi. The chief purpose is to keep the school posted with the events going on in the society. Harold D. McGrath is in charge of this department and with him is Joseph Mihalcik as assistant.

NEW BAND QUARTERS

Musical Organization Has Moved Equipment to Alumni Hall

Band headquarters have been changed from the basement of the new gymnasium to the old gymnasium in Alumni Hall.

Rooms 104 and 106 are the present equipment and dressing rooms, while in room 108 the new director of music has his office.

As the old headquarters under the stage of the new gymnasium were inadequate for the present needs of the recently reorganized band, the present offices were chosen.

NEW LIBRARY RULINGS

Room Diagram is Latest Feature To Aid Student Select Books

A new regulation in the library will require that each student sign his name to the charging system now being used. This system will act as a check for the librarian to determine the identity of a person in case of doubt.

Another feature to be inaugurated in the library, is a plan to aid students seeking books by means of a diagram of the entire unit which will mark the location of all the literature in the room.

Eight Students To Assist Dr. McHugh With Survey

An attempt to determine the solution of educational problems of grammar schools will be made through a survey to be conducted by the Pennsylvania Department of Education, under the guidance of Harlan Updegraff, director of the commission for study of educational problems in the State.

Dr. William H. McHugh, professor of education here, will begin a survey of Tredyffrin and Easttown schools this week with the assistance of eight Villanova College students. Their first step will be to trace the careers of all boys who were in the sixth grade in these schools in the years 1926 to 1928 inclusive.

In the survey the Villanova College students will examine the records of all these pupils who entered high schools in order to determine what their scholastic standing was and what kind of positions they now are filling.

Through this survey Dr. McHugh hopes to be able to gather some valuable information through which he may make certain recommendations to the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

Dr. McHugh has made a thorough study of educational problems in Pennsylvania. So extensive has been his research in this study that today he is considered one of the foremost authorities on education in the Commonwealth.

The work of the Villanova students is part of the part-time work program offered to college students by the State in conjunction with the Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

CAMPUS CLUBS PLAN FOR FALL SOCIALS

Organization Also Receives New Members at Initial Meetings of Year

Hubert W. Gallagher, a senior in the School of Commerce and Finance, was elected to the office of president of the Wilkes-Barre Club of Villanova, last Tuesday evening at the initial meeting of the organization, held in the amphitheatre in Mendel Hall.

Other students voted into office for the ensuing year are: Joseph T. Forkin, a senior in the School of Arts, vice-president; John Delahanty, a senior from the Pre-Medical School, treasurer, and William B. Cleary, a sophomore business student, secretary. Rev. Bernard McConville, O. S. A., was appointed moderator of the club for the scholastic year.

Discussion concerning a club dance to be given during the Christmas holidays met with enthusiastic comment. As yet, no definite plans have been made.

Although only eight members were in attendance, a larger membership is expected after the incoming freshmen of that city are admitted to the organization.

The North Jersey Club of Villanova held its initial meeting last Monday night. The club's president, John Butler, appointed a dance committee with Harold McGrath as chairman. Other committee members include Joseph McCaba, Daniel Fitzpatrick, John Scalera, Joseph Lyons, John Erbeck, Joseph Arthur, Benjamin Geraghty, and John Cronin.

The dance will probably be held after the Manhattan game. The location for the affair has not been definitely decided but several Newark hotels are being considered.

Applications for membership were voted upon and the following men were accepted: Joseph B. Dunigan, William J. Gough, Frank Willis, Robert McGrory, Robert Ford, William McGonnell, Arthur Meyer, Henry Morin, Arthur Carlton, Joseph Kuehns, Peter Acque, William Moroney, Joseph Hicks, and Joseph Caulfield.

ENGINEERING GROUP HAS FIRST MEETING

Freshmen Invited to Become Members; Prof. Morehouse Chapter Moderator

The Villanova Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers held its first important business meeting of the school year last Friday. At this meeting the freshman mechanical engineers were welcomed by the president, Martin Donnelly, '35, and were advised to become members of this organization as it would be of great benefit to them in their years at Villanova.

J. Stanley Morehouse, professor of mechanical engineering in the School of Technology, will again act as moderator for the society. He has done much to help this organization to become one of the foremost engineering societies on the campus.

This year a number of trips will be taken so that the members will be able to see the practical end of engineering which will help them while they are studying the theoretical side of their course. A committee will be named in the near future which will take care of these trips and it is hoped that the first excursion will be taken within a few weeks.

George Hazzard, '35, vice-president, has charge of the membership blanks and all those interested in joining should see him or any other member of the organization.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE PLANNED BY L. K. D.

Busy Social Year Is Expected; Business Aims Discussed at First Meeting

Extensive plans for a busy year both from a business and social viewpoint were discussed at the opening session of the Lambda Kappa Delta fraternity last week.

An intensive membership drive is planned among the members of the incoming Science group in an effort to make the society outstanding in campus circles.

Upperclassmen will remember the annual Lambda Kappa Delta Hop, the society's yearly social affair, as one of the outstanding college promenades. Each year this colorful affair is eagerly looked forward to, not only by the members of the association, but by the entire student body as well.

Officers elected last year who will guide the destinies of the fraternity include, president, George Gartland, '35; vice-president, Joseph Bigley, '36; secretary, John McLaughlin, '37; treasurer, Gabriel Martyak, '36; sergeant-at-arms, Walter D'Alonzo, '35, and student council member, Ralph Violetti, '35.

Fr. Hurley Speaks at Annual Retreat

Continued From Page One

a practical Catholic life should be lived with "common sense" and not mere emotion. "Be a Catholic champion; when you're tired, rise up and persevere," was his concluding statement.

Confessions were heard throughout the day and Mass was celebrated on Friday morning at 7 o'clock for the resident students and at 8 o'clock for the day students. All were enabled to receive First Friday Communion and to close the retreat successfully.

STUDENT STRICKEN

Charles Stotler, a freshman in the School of Science, was taken to a Philadelphia hospital yesterday morning, stricken with an attack of appendicitis.

DEAN WILL ATTEND STATE CONVENTION

Rev. J. C. Bartley, O. S. A., Represents College at Conclave in Harrisburg

Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., Dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, will represent Villanova College at the annual convention of the association of Liberal Arts Colleges of Pennsylvania to be held today.

This meeting will take place the day before the educational congress meets in Harrisburg.

Unifies Methods

Four years ago this association was founded to perfect the teachers training courses in the Liberal Arts Colleges of Pennsylvania. It sought to bring this about by unifying their aims, methods and ideals.

So that the teaching profession should advance, the association endeavored by similarizing and unifying the various curriculas, to prepare the students of the different schools and in like manner in the same materials.

After many different studies made by the association, it came to the very same conclusion. This proves the fact that the Arts Colleges of Pennsylvania are efficient teacher training schools for instructing pedagogues for teaching successfully.

Villanova has been a member of this association since the time of its founding. Fr. Bartley will strive to put into effect at Villanova any new ideas or theories which will be approved by this fourth annual meeting of the association of Liberal Arts Colleges of Pennsylvania.

'Engineer' Editors to Attend Parley

Continued From Page One

standards are considered as candidates for membership. The Villanova Engineer has progressed remarkably from its infancy and shows great prospects for further improvements. Editors of the publication hope that the men representing this college at the convention will complete the transactions for Villanova's membership in the association.

Outstanding Publications

Some of the outstanding engineering publications that the Villanova Engineer hopes to be associated with are Colorado Engineer, Cornell Civil Engineer, Iowa Engineer, Iowa Transit, Kansas Engineer, Kansas State Engineer, Pennsylvania Triangle, Marquette Engineer, Michigan Technic, Minnesota Techno-Log, Nebraska Blue Print, North Dakota State Engineer, Ohio State Engineer, Oregon State Tech. Record, Purdue Engineer, Rose Technic, Sibley Engineer, Tech Engineering News, Illinois Technograph, Wisconsin Engineer and Pennsylvania State Engineer.

tatives leave for the convention, the

A few days before the represen-Villanova Engineer will make its initial bow of the school year, 1934-35. This magazine made its first appearance in May 1933 after being reorganized. The Owl, its former name, was changed to the present title. The magazine steadily climbed the ladder of success, overcoming the difficulties in its way till this year when it again brings forth news of the School of Technology, and interesting articles written by its staff members. Coupled with this, every month are the humorous sections.

This year the magazine has achieved another success when it entered the field of national advertising.

Architecture Theme

The issue will be ready for distribution Thursday, bringing with it new and interesting articles. Architecture is the predominant theme in this issue.

The feature articles will be "Pictures in Concrete", by Robert Bouson, '35, and "Architecture and The National Housing Administration", by Thomas Darmody, '35. The former treats of the modern developments in the use of concrete for building construction. The latter will relate the position the well-known subject of architecture should have in the National Housing Administration.

Once again Cross-section will make its appearance under the pen of Thomas P. Fitzpatrick. The well-known "Collegiate World", by Joseph Costigan, '35, will again give the news from other engineering schools. The remainder of the current issue will be made up of the Sports section by Joseph Mihalcik, '35, and Alumni Notes by Charles A. McGough, '35.

SPECIAL OFFER

ONE "Esquire" Genuine BRIAR PIPE in Light or Dark Finish—Individually Boxed
• and •
TWO 30c Packages John Middleton's WALNUT BLEND Mild Pipe Tobacco
ALL FOR 89c
Free Delivery Anywhere in the U. S. Mail and Phone Orders Carefully Filled.
ON SALE AT PIE SHOP
Distributor for Products of JOHN MIDDLETON

Suits & Topcoats $15
Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.
WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE
900 SOUTH ST.
Our Only Store

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure
$25 and up
All new styles now available!
Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits and Topcoats $24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See JIM ELLIOTT
Room 108, Fedigan Hall

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

N. R. A. Courses Given in Many Large Universities

Sociology, Economics Gain in Popularity With Students

TO STUDY LABOR

By Associated Collegiate Press

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—A recognition by many of the Nation's institutions of higher learning of the interest their student bodies are displaying in the President's recovery program, including NRA, is shown by the tendency of colleges and universities to install courses on NRA, Code administration, and other parts of the recovery program in their regular curricula this Fall.

A larger enrollment in economics and sociology courses than at any time in history is being recorded by many colleges and universities, according to word reaching the Office of Education of the Interior Department.

New Courses Offered

While full details of the number of college courses on NRA are lacking, a typical example is a class on industrial organization to be offered at the University of California, dealing with NRA. Another is a course in the Business Administration School of Barnard College on the conduct of business under NRA. A phase of a public administration course at Princeton will deal at length with NRA, Executive Orders, and Codes.

During the past Summer the School of Public Affairs at American University, Washington, devoted part of its session to a study of NRA. Western Reserve University, Cleveland, conducted a course on current problems in labor and industry. Columbia University Summer School held sessions on "Economics of Recovery Administration." The University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, in a 2 weeks "round table," devoted some of its work to a discussion on NRA.

Graduate students at Columbia University Teachers College studied the educational possibilities of local NRA organizations using the Mount Vernon, N. Y., NRA organization as an example.

COLLEGE MEN TALLER

Minnesota Professor's Investigation Shows Height and Weight Results

By Associated Collegiate Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 8—College men and women are on the average taller than those young men and women who do not attend an institution of higher learning, it has been revealed here by Dr. Harold S. Diehl, of the University of Minnesota medical faculty, after an extensive investigation of the heights of more than 40,000 college students.

Dr. Diehl's studies indicated that college men attain a maximum growth in height several years earlier than men in the general population.

Temple University Professor Finds Infantile Remedy

Long Years of Research Bring About Vaccine for Inoculation

By Associated Collegiate Press

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—A Temple University scientist, and graduate of the Pre-Medical School at Villanova College, believes he has conquered infantile paralysis.

The man, who is ready to present a priceless vaccine to the world, is Dr. John A. Kolmer, widely-known pathologist and Professor of Medicine at the School of Medicine of Temple University.

Tried It Himself

Dr. Kolmer told of long years of research that culminated when he injected his vaccine into himself and a young woman assistant to determine its efficacy. The woman, who, with him, literally took her life in her hands, is Miss Anna M. Rule. The vaccine, which may some day drive infantile paralysis into the limbo of smallpox, contains a small amount of devitalized virus.

Exhaustive experimentation with monkeys preceded the human test. In the case of the animals, the vaccine rendered them immune to the disease—but there was still a chance that a numan being would contract the disease instead of being made immune to it.

A few months ago, Dr. Kolmer and Miss Rule inoculated themselves with the vaccine. Four times, at weekly intervals, it was injected. After six weeks there should have been set up in the blood stream sufficient resistance to create immunization. The next stage of the experiment then took place.

Tested Monkeys

A quantity of blood was tapped from the arms of Dr. Kolmer and Miss Rule. The specimens were placed in test tubes, together with portions of active virus. That combination was injected into the brain of a monkey, and the monkey remained healthy.

The explanation is that the blood of the human subjects had set up anti-bodies that killed the active virus.

Therefore, as Dr. Kolmer patiently explained to a group of curious, questioning writers, by inoculating a child with the vaccine, should that child contact polio germs, the anti-bodies so set up in his system will prevent infection.

Approximately 31,300,000 persons are attending school in the United States at the present time. The population of the United States is 122,000,000.

Collegiate Review

By Associated Collegiate Press

A ventilating system designed to change the air in the University of Iowa (Iowa City) Union every six minutes will be installed in the Cornhuskers' social center in the near future.

"I believe in youth. I believe that youth over the last ten years hasn't had a real chance," says Dr. Ralph D. Hetzel, president of the Pennsylvania State College (State College, Pa.)

Students poorly trained for a college career, and who do not wish to take work for a higher degree, have been enrolled in a special course designed to give them subjects that will be most profitable for them in their short stay in college at the University of Missouri (Columbia).

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

Beta Gamma Meeting .....204 Mendel Hall.....8:00 P. M.
VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting ....119 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

A. S. M. E. Meeting .....210 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.

THURSDAY

Band Practice .....Alumni Hall....4:00 and 7:00 P. M.
Aeronautics Society Meeting ....210 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.

SATURDAY

La Salle-Villanova Football Game .Stadium.....2:30 P. M.

SUNDAY

Holy Name Communion .....Chapel.....8:30 P. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting .....Amphitheatre.....11:40 P. M.
Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting ....106 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.

...and while we're talking about cigarettes

I don't suppose you were ever in a warehouse where they were storing hogsheads of tobacco. Anyway here's something interesting: Liggett & Myers, the people who make Chesterfields, have about 4½ miles of storage warehouses where they age the tobacco.

Down South where they grow tobacco folks say...

It's no wonder so many people smoke Chesterfields. The tobaccos are mild and ripe to start with, and then they're aged the right way to make a milder, better-tasting cigarette.

a good cigarette gives you a lot of pleasure—

Chesterfield

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

On the air—

MONDAY ROSA PONSELLE
WEDNESDAY NINO MARTINI
SATURDAY GRETE STUECKGOLD
KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
9 P.M. (E. S. T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Students! Welcome the Alumni Returning For Detroit Game Saturday in the Stadium - 2:30 P. M.

VILLANOVAN

Sophomores and Juniors! Student Council Elections Thursday at Noon Rear of Dining Hall

Vol. 7—No. 3 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1934 Price: Five Cents

RETURN OF ALUMNI WILL FEATURE GAME WITH DETROIT TEAM

Cheering Sections Reserved for Grads and Friends Here for Contest

DR. HICKEY WILL GREET HOMECOMERS AT REUNION

Supper-Dance to Be Held at Chateau Crillon After Football Fray

Celebrating the anniversary of Harry A. Stuhldreher's tenth year at Villanova College and as a part of the annual homecoming, more than 800 members of the Alumni Association will be present this Saturday when the Wildcats trot out to claw their opponents from Detroit.

All seats between the forty-yard markers in the south stand of the Villanova cheering section have been reserved for the graduates, their wives and their friends. The members of the Philadelphia, New York and Wilkes-Barre clubs will attend the game in a body.

Supper Dance in Town

After the royal battle the Alumni will be the honored guests of the Villanova Club of Philadelphia at a supper dance in the Chateau Crillion, Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia. Special arrangements for an orchestra and entertainment have been made by the officers in charge. Tickets for the affair may be purchased only at the Alumni office in Mendel Hall and the price of a pasteboard is $2.20. All the graduates have been invited.

In order to meet the older alumni, Very Reverend Joseph A. Hickey, O. S. A., Assistant General of the Augustinian Order, has delayed his return to Rome.

Titans Won Last Fray

This year's home-coming day has been changed from the traditional Bucknell clash to the mid-western opponent invasion. This bringing together of the leading exponents of the Notre Dame system of football should make the game very interesting, and it may be recalled how the Detroit team humbled the Wildcats two years ago with their passing onslaught.

Joseph A. Hoenig, '34, will replace Albert C. Wagner as Alumni secretary on Saturday. Mr. Wagner

Continued on Page Seven

DANCE CHAIRMAN

JOHN HOSEY, '37,
who heads the committee in charge of the Sophomore Frolic, Friday night in the college gymnasium.

INCREASE IN FROSH REGISTRATION HERE

Philadelphia Leads List Of Representatives; One Came From Hawaii

By CHARLES STAHLECKER

From the far off territory of Hawaii comes a member of the class of 1938, which is one the largest groups of Freshmen to enter Villanova in the past few years. This fact was revealed in the third annual survey of registration figures conducted by the VILLANOVAN recently.

Freshman registration totaled 244, or an increase of 31 per cent over last year's figures. A corresponding rise was felt therefore in each school on the campus, although the majority of first year men are enrolled in the Science and Technology departments respectively.

Philadelphia Leads

High schools in and about Philadelphia supply the greatest number of first-year men. The leading metropolitan institutions sending the largest groups are West Catholic High School, North Catholic High School, and St. Joseph's Prep, of Philadelphia, while Lower Merion High School accounts for a creditable number of Main Line entrants.

Enrollment statistics reveal the

Continued on Page Seven

ANNUAL SOPHOMORE FROLIC TO BE HELD ON FRIDAY EVENING

Second-Year Men Officially Open Social Season With Colorful Affair

ADMISSION TO BE $1.50; HOSEY HEADS COMMITTEE

J. Burke, Class President, Appoints 22 Members to Aid Chairman

Following the tradition established last year, by officially opening the social calendar of student dances with the Sophomore Frolic, the Class of '37 will hold this annual informal affair Friday evening from 9 P. M. until 1 A. M. in the college gymnasium. The Villanovans will furnish the music for the occasion.

Villanovans To Play

The purpose for having the dance on such short notice, is due to the fact that the social calendar towards the end of the school term is congested with dates. This conglomoration of socials usually hinders the success of such an affair.

This year the Villanovans will present an orchestra comprising of 12 pieces. This musical organization made such a remarkable improvement that they have been unanimously chosen this year to supply the dance rhythms. Along with their usual arrangements they will present several novelty numbers.

Committee Members

The president of the class, John Burke, appointed the following committees: Dance committee; John Hoesy, chairman; Francis Monahan, John Bruno, Robert Scott, Samuel Canelli, Paul Williams, Gerald Kunz, John Murphy, Dave Allingham and William Cleary. Thomas Kennedy will head the decoration committee and will have to assist him; Charles Bruno, Plo Goggi, John McManus, Henry Morin, Frank Sweeny, Arthur Cartien, Leo Schoppmeyer, John Burke and Larry Stead.

When Mr. Burke was asked to comment on the outcome of the dance he said: "If the enthusiasm shown by the student body is an indication of the success of the dance then I am sure the outcome will be very favorable. The Freshman class is to be congratulated on its wholehearted support and response. They will find the class of '37 ready to answer their

Continued on Page Seven

Class of 1936 Plans To Overshadow All Junior Celebrations

Group Agrees to Assessment of $15 Which Includes Blazer, Every Activity; New Entertainment Features Scheduled

AWAIT ADMINISTRATION'S APPROVAL

By JOHN W. HALLAHAN, JR.

JUNIOR Week of 1935 promises to break all precedent. The Class of 1936 has planned activities that will overshadow all previous attempts at successful third year festivities. The completion of the successful Sophomore Frolic last fall was but a prologue to a week of activity that was planned during the past Spring by the class officers and approved only last week at a meeting of the entire Junior Class.

Number of Socials

A Mother's Tea, Smoker, Farewell Dance, Dinner Dance, the Blazer Ball, are only a few of the highlights of a most complete program to be climaxed by a Junior Prom. Class officers predict it will make new history for Villanova social functions.

The president of the class, Robert McGrory, has every assurance that the week will be a complete success, because the class last Thursday, unanimously voted in favor of the program, as outlined by the president and moderator. This means that well over ninety percent of the entire class have already given their consent and that the remainder are expected by the group to accede.

Official sanction of the administration is awaited to complete the program.

In order to make the event a financial as well as a social success, there was a motion made and a written ballot taken that there should be a class assessment of fifteen dollars per member. As far as could be determined by the VILLANOVAN there is practically no objection to this fee.

Get Blazers

It is planned that the Juniors will be given their Blazers and that they will receive passes to every event to take place during the entire week. The complete schedule is of course tentative and it is expected that certain minor changes will be necessitated.

Junior Week will extend from May 6th until May 10th 1935. The festivities will be opened on Monday, with Mass for the entire student body followed by a sermon. A parade consisting of the Band, the Juniors, Seniors, Sophomores, and freshmen, will be formed.

The flag-raising will follow, and immediately afterwards there will be breakfast in the dining hall. The

Continued on Page Four

DR. HICKEY SPEAKS TO HOLY NAME MEN

Advocates Religion as Guiding Point in Students' Lives At Villanova

Speaking to members of the Holy Name Society at their first Communion breakfast of the current school year, Sunday, Rev. Joseph A. Hickey, O. S. A., D. D., Assistant General of the Augustinian Order for English speaking nations, cautioned them to make religion the guiding factor in their lives.

Introduced by Malcolm

The Society received the Holy Sacrament at the 8:30 Mass after which initial exercises for the year were held. Thomas Malcolm, newly appointed president of the organization introduced Dr. Hickey.

The necessity of a good religious life was pointed out by Dr. Hickey and he applied this thought in speaking of the life of the individual. He continued by saying the exemplary life of men who consecrated themselves to Catholic education is one that should be followed by students because of many spiritual benefits which may be obtained.

Cites Influence

He expressed the desire that Holy influence to move the entire student body toward virtuous development.

Frequent reception of the sacraments would aid materially in the development of civic and social

Continued on Page Seven

"Engineer" May Be Accepted at Tech Convention

Special to the VILLANOVAN

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 16—Prospects of the Villanova Engineer, School of Technology student-publication at that college, being accepted as a member of the Engineering College Magazines' Association, loomed probable at the outset of the closing sessions of today's national two-day conclave of the group of student editors.

Members of the association indicated that the Villanova publication would be accepted during the forenoon sessions along with the Washington State Engineer, New York University Quadrangle, and Arkansas Engineer.

Paetrus F. Banmiller, Villanova representative and editor of the engineering periodical on his college campus, was among the delegates from the Pennsylvania institution to this parley.

The main purpose of the association is to raise the standards of engineering publications throughout the country. It maintains definite standards with regard to literary and financial requirements. One of the main advantages of the association is that it assures national advertisers of the finest type of media for advertising in this particular kind of

College Postoffice Dates Villanova's Founding

By HARRY PARKIN

As intimately and as necessarily a part of college life as the tree-shaded walks of the campus, is a small, dingy room located in a narrow, squat building that fronts on the platform of Villanova railroad station. This is the Villanova post office.

It was in the year of 1843 that the scattered inhabitants of Villanova learned that the Federal Government had determined to build a post office in their community, and it was in the following year that the people of Villanova became possessed of a small but well constructed building, which was to be used in the capacity of a post office.

Weathers Age

Since that time however, Age has touched this little building and smeared it with the drab and dusty oils from her palette. But as if to compensate it for its former neatness, she has left it something of her own serenity and aloofness, so that garbed in the dignity of time, this forlorn little structure seems to challenge the innovations of a head-strong modernity, to disturb the placid course of its existence.

But how could one impress this place, when countless men who trod its floors have long since kept their trysts with death, and countless lives been changed by passing over its threshold? Even the atmosphere seems pregnant with the personalities that once lived there.

The small room that comprises the public portion of the post office, is poorly lighted by some three or four strongly screened windows. Between two of these windows is a large bulletin board, which holds the customary handbills regarding offenders against the United States Mails, and long, closely-printed sheets of regulations concerning all matter pertaining to the mails. Testimony of the attention given to the handbills is borne forth by the trivialities that some one has

Continued on Page Three

FAMOUS PREACHER DIES

Rev. John A. Whalen, O. S. A., Quietly Passes Away in Monastery

The Rev. John A. Whalen, O. S. A., one of the greatest preachers of the Augustinian order, died last Saturday evening in the Monastery. Father Whalen was formerly connected with St. Augustine's Church in Philadelphia and also taught for a time in St. Mary's Hall.

Father Whalen was born in Dublin, Ireland. He was invested with the white habit on February 2, 1881, and took his solemn vows February 2, 1882. He was ordained to the priesthood May 23, 1885, and, had he lived till next year, would have celebrated his fifty-first anniversary of his ordination.

Because of advancing age, Father Whalen has been stationed here at Villanova and was a familiar campus figure.

Besides being a famous preacher he has written several books on the subject of preaching.

Funeral services will be held today at Villanova.

Bucknell Special Will Carry Group At Nominal Price

As in former years, plans are being made to accommodate a large number of the student body for the football trip to Lewisburg, October 24, when the Wildcats engage in their annual tussle with the Bucknell Bisons.

Tickets will be sold for a round-trip to student fans and their friends at a cost of only $2.50. There will be a special train, leaving Villanova Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock and arriving at Lewisburg approximately 12:30 P. M. celebrated his fifty-first anniversary of his ordination. The band and rooters will travel together.

Luncheon on the outbound trip and dinner on the homeward trip will be served in the dining car for all those desiring the accommodation.

The train will leave for Villanova shortly after the game. They will be accompanied by the football team on the homeward journey.

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35.....Editor-in-Chief
HERBERT H. McINTYRE, '35.....Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35.....College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35.....Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35.....Feature Editor
JOHN C. DIJOSEPH, '36.....Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35.....Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35.....Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35.....Business Manager
PAUL BAIL, '35.....Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35.....Art and Photographic Editor

Associate College Editor: Edmond C. Malhame, '35
Associate Sports Editor: William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff
Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers
Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37
Ferry B. Frank, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marcouse, '35 — Anthony Catrambone, '36
Norton C. Paden, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff
Edward Kelly, '37 — John Peter Faso, '36
John Laurusonis, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Frank M. Alfano, Jr., '36 — Anthony Zanni, '36
John Burke, '37 — Anthony Differ, '37
Basil W. Dobrowolski, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER Associated Collegiate Press — 1934 Collegiate Digest 1935 — Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - - - OCTOBER 16, 1934

A NOTEWORTHY POLICY

TO whomever goes the credit for the adoption of a new policy in regard to the reduced rate for admission of children to football games we take off our hats. Daily newspapers last week carried in their advertisements for Villanova's game with La Salle College, a notice to the effect that children under 16 years of age would be admitted to the gridiron contests at a charge of twenty-five cents for seats in the end zones. Undoubtedly, the college is losing money in allowing seats to be sold at such a low rate, but we prefer to look at it from an altruistic point of view. Nothing makes a kid's heart more joyous than when he can be looking at a big sports contest from the inside instead of a peephole through the fence. So far this season the demand for the particular type of seats being sold to the children has been light. With the opportunity of seeing a college football game for only a quarter of a dollar, schoolboys are going to be saving all week to enjoy the privilege. Villanova is not only building up a cheering section and a group of potential members of the student body, but it is keeping youngsters off the streets and out of theatres where immoral pictures are being shown. We say "bravo" to this idea with the hope it will be continued as long as Villanova stands for clean sportsmanship.

WELCOME GRADS

WITH the Detroit-Villanova game the main event on their program, this Saturday will again see the Alumni returning to Villanova for their annual Homecoming Day. Once more they will meet former roommates, professors, classroom friends, etc. There will again be stories about the time when—, reminiscences of the doings in "Hogan's Alley," "Murderer's Row," and of the cornfield that grew into a football stadium. Many changes have occurred since then. Improvements have been made in lands and buildings, changes that will even be noticed by last year's graduates. However, they will find unchanged, that certain something which has endeared them to Villanova. The force which makes them glad to come back, which renders them eager to encourage younger friends to matriculate at Villanova. We mean the spirit of friendship which pervades the campus. A spirit inculcated in every Freshman class by the slogan, "get the hello habit." So to you Grads we extend the heartiest of greetings and hope your day will be a most pleasant one.

EUROPE'S CRISIS—OUR SECURITY

EUROPE is again in a state of apprehension and of watchful waiting. The assassination of King Alexander of Jugoslavia has brought to mind the parallel between Marseilles and Sarajevo. Everyone is asking himself if the effects of this latest murder will be similar to those of the slaying that occasioned the World War. There is, however, a difference between the two incidents. Although the nationality of the assassin has not been definitely determined, everything points to the fact that he was a Croatian subject of the king. A war should not result from the killing of a ruler by one of his own subjects, unless it be a civil war. Even if the killer was a Czechoslovakian, as was reported in some sources, there still should be no need for alarm, for Czechoslovakia is an ally of France and Jugoslavia in the Little Entente. Therefore the killing is again in the family. The assassination of Archduke Ferdinand of Austria was perpetrated by a Serb whose government was allied against the Central Powers. The murder of Dolfuss, an ally of Italy, by a putsch which resulted from German interference, was far more dangerous than the present situation. However, anything may result from the present tense state in Europe. In a continent where countries are no larger than some of our States and where all of them are crowded together, the people are continually looking for signs of trouble. The citizens of this nation should be grateful that their isolation and few neighbors make them more secure. This security can only be retained by the avoidance of "entangling alliances" of any kind and by strictly minding our own business.

A NEW FACTOR IN EDUCATION

ACCORDING to a news item released last week by the national press, the sound motion picture industry is about to undergo a very much welcomed change for the better. For four years William Fox fought through litigation the bankers who had taken away from him ownership of key patents on devices without which the sound recorded on film cannot be made or exhibited. Today Mr. Fox, having won the case in a court decision, stands on the threshold of a new career. He plans to oust the bankers from the industry, collect over $100,000,000 for the use made in the past four years of the patents, and, what is of more vital importance to the nation's welfare, he plans to make the motion pictures an influential factor in education, science and religion. One of Mr. Fox's ambitions is not to have his companies grant licenses to anyone who intends to produce pictures that would destroy the morals of the nation's youth or spread subversive propaganda against the constitution. This principle alone, if adhered to, will place him high in the esteem of the Decency Leaguers and respectable Americans and thus assure his future projects of success and approval. He hopes to aid in the education of America by changing the school system from one of books to one of study by sight and sound. Undoubtedly the new czar of filmdom realizes the present trend in American morals and being a man of prescience intends to use his newly acquired power to revert the impending total collapse of morality in modern youth. It is obvious that Mr. Fox has the necessary weapons to accomplish his task, and it is equally obvious that his task is difficult. We hope his name will go down in history not as a man who attempted a great good deed for mankind and failed, but as a man who succeeded in rendering an immortal service to humanity.

Campus Celebs - - - By Calliet

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

WHAT obviously appears to be the dream of every college student seems to be realized by the collegians of the University of Wisconsin. The broad-minded authorities of the school, in an effort to solve the age old problem of keeping the student body away from the cabarets and night clubs in "town," have permitted the sale of liquor, wine and beer in the campus clubhouse. The rathskeller is opened in the mornings, noon and night.

* * *

From authentic sources we hear that a professor of the University of South Carolina, while calling the roll for the first time that year, found that a number of his students had married during the summer. He scratched his head for a minute and then averred, "The next time any of you anticipate marrying, please let me know, I am a minister and need the business." He probably is wishing them a "very happy married life??"

* * *

Speaking on optimism, may we mention that a nine-year old boy in Philadelphia is selling the Temple University News and saving the pennies to pay his tuition at the same school in the future. Wanted: A young boy between the ages of 7 to 13 to sell VILLANOVANS.

* * *

The University of Michigan pumps 60,000 gallons of water every 24 hours on its football field to make certain it has plenty of green grass. Do they have a water meter or do they control the water supply?

* * *

Although more than 30,000,000 persons attend school in the U. S., it has been estimated that there are still more than four million illiterates in America. There we stand, despite the great efforts made to educate the people of the nation.

* * *

In the first intercollegiate football game in the history of the sport, American International College beat Conn. State 7 to 0. It probably wasn't such a bad game for the first time.

* * *

If you happen to be at M. I. T. sometime during the fall you will notice a great number of the students wearing cardinal and red neckties. According to the freshman regulations, all yearlings must wear ties of that color.

* * *

Extra! "Student sues Long Island U. for $25,000."

A student at that school is asking that amount because of damages sustained while taking a pre-medical course at the college. After he had been in the school for two years, he found that even with the four year course he would not be eligible for admission to medical school. The decision of the court favored the Alma Mater.

* * *

Two students at Gettysburg College own and operate a professional puppet show. They will produce their shows in high schools, colleges and before other organizations in that section of the country. Will those who are interested in the show business please note. (D. P.)

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

MAYBE the University of Illinois' royal welcome to their immortal hero of the gridiron, "Red" Grange, exceeded the one Austin Hall gave to Joe Bastian '34, upon his return to Villanova for the Western Maryland game. One thing sure, however, Grange was not any prouder or more pleased than fran Joe. As Joe closed the doors of Austin Hall behind him that memorable night, he looked up in amazement to see: Every Austinite to a man present and together with other dormsmen exhorting the hurriedly gathered frosh to augment their cheers of welcome to Joe, whom the deluded frosh believed to be an All American in '26. If Joe was startled it was as nothing compared to the feeling encountered when he beheld the black clad figure of the president making his way forward to shake hands and bid Joe welcome. A shower of water awakened Joe from lethargy. And with the fleeing form of the president, that of a frosh whose resemblance to Fr. Stanford is most striking, in undignified retreat the spell was completely broken. Such howls of glee, such fun—such a welcome!

* * *

Jerry McGrory has deserted the Georgean Court League for that of Rosemount. His newly found fem will make her first public appearance with Jerry at the Soph. Cotillion. And by the bye, we understand she can take the closeup test. So-o-oh, you're free to take a good look!

* * *

Everyone with his troubles has at one time or another been, figuratively, put up a tree. Few, however, have languished there literally. Tom Sheehan is one of the few. Moved by the spirit of the apple gathering season, Tom and a few of his pals were out divesting nearabout trees of their fruit. Shaking the fruit to the ground from up in the tree was Tom's job. It was in just such an act that friend farmer brandishing a shot-gun hove on the scene. Good friends taking to their heels left Tom perched in the tree to face the music, alone. (Here was one time the waiting for a trolley gag was outre.) What reasons Tom gave for being up in the tree are unknown. But you may be sure they were pips.

* * *

It has been my pleasure to sit in on many a conversation where the future was delightfully anticipated, whetting a keen thirst for the present to metamorphose into the past and thus—the future! Of the many, one last week concerning the hundreth anniversary of the college, 1942, home-coming day for every grad., was by far the most fascinating. What a happy day that would be! Greeting friends of seven different classes, the majority not seen since graduation swallowed them up. Great doctors, clever engineers, prominent teachers, renowned lawyers, successful business men, bankers, etc, etc. From the ends of the earth they shall come swelling the roads to Villanova. And while these thoughts were with us, all were conscious of a feeling within that our names might be among the honored ones who had faced the world successfully.

As We See It...Book Making

SAYS the sage Ecclesiastes: "Of making many books there is no end." This sentiment the sacred writer expressed some three thousand years ago, and yet it might very well be the ejaculation of any ordinary citizen of today. The provoking circumstances are very similar in each case. "Nothing under the sun is new, neither is any man able to say: Behold, this is new: for it hath already gone before in the ages that were before us."

Today we stand agape at the phenomenon of a thousand printing presses throughout the land spewing forth volume after volume of every conceivable kind. There are learned treatises and trivial fictions, heavy tomes, and neat monographs, biographies, autobiographies, memoirs, brochures of every description, poetic splurges and so on ad infinitum. And very many of these are attractive in their multi-colored livery. They are guaranteed to beam brightly amid the most sober surroundings. They are just the thing for the parlor cabinet where you are wont to entertain callers. One week's output will make you a very presentable and colorful library.

One, however, who is accustomed to take thought twice, would probably be unfeeling enough to probe beneath the iridescence of the literary stream, to seek an explanation of this prodigality of ink and paper. He stands, an inquisitor vile! But there is an explanation!

Here is Yokohoma Matsu who has lately been a recipient of a special revelation. His six-hundred page message to the world is cried for by a million mystics! Professor T. Horner Chadwick of State University has elaborated an excellent, practical moral system which, if adopted, will be the salvation of our social structure. He urges its adoption in a modest volume of five hundred leaves. It goes to four editions before mankind awakes to the fact that the new theory of Van Eck is far superior. Then there is Harvey Dale whose purpose in life is to entertain. At the cost of considerable perspiration he turns out one mystery thriller a week for popular consumption. And so on down the interminable list of "soi-disant" litterateurs, men and women who in their college days (and to the world's misfortune) broke into print in the campus publication and were thereby impelled to cultivate an evil genius.

Does the inquisitorial gentleman see the light?

Undoubtedly the literary deluge is a joking matter and must be taken as such by anyone given to reflection. It used to be that books were written because men had something to say. If that were true today rightly could our age be styled the paragon of ages in matters intellectual, for who has produced more books than we? Indeed, there are not wanting champions of twentieth century supremacy, but these zealots are taken seriously only by that mentality which accepts with sublime trust all that the Sunday supplement advances in its pages. Most emphatically are we behind many another century in thought! A large statement but not too hard to prove.

The reading public nowadays provides a luxurious living for many a man who by natural talent is better fitted for a peddler's career than a literary one. So long as he features the sensational, shall he ride on the crest of the wave, or so long as he is "novel." "Quid novi" was the watchword of the Areopagites, and the Areopagites have their counterpart in the would-be intellectuals of the day.

Expound some new doctrine and they will prick up their ears, like some faithful house-dog at the sound of their master's step. What wonder that we have books, and books, and books.

College Postoffice Dates From 1843

Continued From Page One

taken the time, but not much thought, to pencil on them.

Boxes Numerous

But the most interesting part of the post office is that portion that contains the so-called boxes. Tier upon tier they stand, as so many little glass fronted houses, and yet what a world of humanity lies locked in their narrow confines. How many hands have trembled as they spun those combination dials? How often has eager anticipation cursed a recalcitrant lock? How often has disappointment turned away from those empty little windows?

Do the mail clerks Jules, Jimmie or Owen ever stop during their sorting of the mails and conjecture about the people who write the letters that they handle so serenely? Do they ever think of the joy or sorrow, the pleasure or pain, the respect or contempt, the love or hatred; or of the whole gamut of emotions that are laid bare on the altar of paper, that is enclosed in those envelopes?

Some Are Amusing

From Jules was learned some of those amusing incidents, that place the victim in a sort of tragic position for the amusement of the bystanders. He told of the freshman's mother who returned to him with his laundry, as a sort of surprise, a jar of home-made preserves, the top of which being insecurely fastened came off during transit. The end of this story is left to your own imagination.

Jules likewise revealed the disposition of some of the "fanciful fairs" who insist upon sending their photographs to the boy-friend. Nine times out of ten it arrives with the glass broken.

The favorite extra-curricular pastime of the average undergraduate is evinced by the large number of postal cards that are sent to the radio broadcasting stations.

DIAL-LOG

VARIETY shows hold an important place in this year's radio presentations by the Columbia Broadcasting System. Sundays are especially rich in this type of program. At 5:00 p.m. is "Open House," a new series of programs featuring Freddy Martin as Maestro, musician and master-of-ceremonies. A novel feature of the series gives a "break" to promising performers presented as guest stars. Each week a different town is represented by a local act or performer never before heard on the network.

A favorite of last year, "The Big Show," is again heard at 9:30 p.m., every Monday over the CBS network. Songstress Gertrude Niesen is retained from last year; Block and Sully, proteges of Eddie Cantor, are the comedy stars; and Lud Gluskin and his Continental Orchestra supply the rhythms which for twelve years delighted dancers at fashionable European resorts.

A stellar feature on Fridays is the hour-long "Hollywood Hotel" from California with Dick Powell, Ted Fiorito, William O'Neal, El Brendel, Louella Parsons and film guest stars, at 9:30 p.m.

Raconteur Alexander Woolcott has returned to the microphone in a new half-hour series at 9:00 p.m., Sundays. He is supported by Robert Armbruster's Orchestra.

Ted Husing will broadcast the following football games on the 20th and 27th of this month. Fordam vs. St. Mary's, from New York on the 20th, and Army vs. Yale, from New Haven on the 27th.

"The March of Time," pioneer in the field of news dramatization, is searching once again for "ghost" voices of figures who have assumed recent importance in the current news scene. The radio impersonators chosen will be employed in the weekly broadcasts over WABC from 9:00 to 9:30 every Friday night. Auditions are now in progress to find realistic voice doubles for Theodore G. Bilbo, newly elected junior Senator from Mississippi, who has declared his purpose of becoming a second Huey Long, Upton Sinclair, former Socialist and Democratic candidate for Governor of California and Bruno Richard Hauptmann, suspect in the Lindbergh kidnapping case.

Bettina Hall, mezzo-soprano of the musical stage, and Jan Peerce, concert tenor, will be guest stars with Isham Jones and his orchestra, tonight at 9:30, over the CBS network.

Rutgers University has as one of their coaches none other than Ozzie Nelson the popular orchestra leader who appears on the same program with Joe Penner, the duck salesman, over the NBC network.

Ozzie was a four letter man at Rutgers, and was named on the All-Eastern football team when he attended school there. After his graduation he was head coach at a high school.

Buddy Rogers and Jeanie Lang are featured as the newest "sweethearts of the air" in the new Family Theatre series on Sundays at 7:00 p.m. They both sing and act leads in a script romance. Rogers' orchestra supplies the instrumental highlights, and the supporting vocalists are the Three Rascals, Jack "Screwy" Douglas, scat-singer, and Gene Conklin, tenor.

Will Rogers and Colonel Stoopnagle and Budd will be heard in alternating cycles of several weeks each. At present the cowboy humorist is heard every Sunday at 9:30 p.m. over the Columbia network.

A brilliant new Saturday feature is the 45 minute program of Roxy and His Gang at 8:00 p.m. Roxy is presenting many talented newcomers in the series, as well as a quartet, mixed chorus and a large concert orchestra.

Granger Rough Cut

"I'm glad I live in a country where a dime is money —and where I can get good pipe tobacco"

...in a common-sense package—10c

THE tobacco which we believe is best suited for pipes is used in making Granger Rough Cut.

It is made by the Wellman Process, and we believe that it will compare favorably with higher priced tobaccos.

We wish, in some way, we could get every man who smokes a pipe to just try Granger.

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL
—folks seem to like it

© 1934, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

BETA GAMMA GROUP INITIATES MEMBERS

Club Accepts New Aspirants at Initial Meeting of Organization

Initiations for admission of new members to the Beta Gamma Chapter of the Villanova Literary Society were held at the initial meeting of the organization on last Wednesday evening.

Each aspirant was required to present both sides of a debatable topic followed by a cross-examination by the members. A vote was then taken and the following men were admitted to the society; Charles Stahlecker, Victor Ash and Douglas Brockhurst.

It was announced that the varsity debating team will continue its membership in the league including such institutions as Temple, La Salle and the University of Pennsylvania.

A debate has also been scheduled with St. Thomas' College of Scranton, Pa. Teams representing California and Hawaii have also asked for contests.

Library Now Contains New Periodical Racks

Students desiring to read current opinions on topics of general discussion, will note the two new magazine racks in the library.

One stack includes technical works which are: Theatre Arts, Journal of Immunology, Engineering News Record, Federal Reserve Bulletin, Wood Preserving News, Vital Statistic Bulletin, Waterworks and Sewerage, Public Works, Industrial Gas, Roads and Streets, American Machinist, Magazine of Wall Street, Construction Methods, Engineering News Records, Civil Engineering.

Product Engineering, Concrete, Transaction of Mechanical Engineer, Journal of Accountancy, General Electric Record, Machine Design, Journal of Chemical Education, Amateur Radio, American Railroad in Laboratory, Power, Machinery, Heating and Ventilation, Electric Journal, Botonical Gazette, Power Plant Engineering, Business Week, Du Pont Magazine, Specialty Salesman Magazine, Balance Sheet, and Economic Review of Soviet Union.

Magazines on general topics include: Atlantic Monthly, Yale Review Quarterly, Harpers Monthly, Annals Monthly, American Review, National Geographic Magazine, Current History, Sign, Catholic School Journal, Literary Digest, Catholic Action, St. Anthony's Messenger, Readers Digest, Fortnightly Review, Truth, and National Student Mirror.

CORKILL IS ELECTED

Extensive Program for Frosh Team Planned by Prof. Jonas

Officers were elected at the third weekly meetings of the Freshman Debating Society held last Wednesday evening. Those chosen to hold post in the organization for the coming year are William Corkill, president; Robert Becker, vice-president; Joseph Feehan, secretary; Charles Stahmann, manager.

Plans for an extensive program with outside competition were outlined by Prof. Joseph T. Jonas, coach of the varsity team.

All Freshmen are invited and urged to join this society as it is open to all.

The next meeting will be held in Room 204, Mendel Hall, tomorrow, at 7:30 P. M.

TO CHECK COMPLAINTS

Under new powers given the student governing body by the administration, complainants may demand an investigation by the council into any matter pertaining to undergraduate activity.

Early Start Made By Juniors In Drive Towards Successful Progam

Continued From Page One

planting of the tree and ivy and the acceptance by the College will be the next event. Luncheon will be served in the dining hall.

At 1:00 P. M. there will be a welcome extended to the Mothers of the student body, followed by an inspection of the campus and a tea in their honor.

The evening of the first day will be the opportunity for a class smoker with the Juniors acting as the hosts to the Faculty. An entertainment will follow and refreshments will be served.

Tuesday of that week will be opened with a Mass in honor of the parents of the students.

New Dance Scheduled

The Farewell Dance, tendered to the Senior class, will take place in the evening from 9 until 12 midnight. This dance will be open to the Juniors and Seniors only.

Wednesday will be marked in the morning by a Mass for the deceased Faculty members. At 2:00 P. M. a Field Day will be staged, complete with prizes for the various sports. In the evening there will be a closed Dinner Dance for the Junior Class only.

Play Bucknell

On Thursday a Mass for deceased students will be celebrated. The Villanova - Bucknell baseball game will be played at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon. The traditional Blazer Ball will be held that evening from 9:00 P. M. till 1:00 A. M.

Closing day of Junior Week will begin with Mass for deceased parents and friends of the students. The Junior Prom, with all its splendor will be presented in the evening from 10:00 P. M. till 2:00 A. M. and this dance will be the formal closing of the week's festivities.

Committee Named

The Ring Committee appointed at the meeting of the class consists of John Henry and Nicholas Kotys, of the Commerce and Finance school; Anthony Zanni and Joseph Bigley, of the Science school; Edward Lahey and Raymond McGunnigle, of the School of Arts; Francis Rodgers and William Vaughn, chairman, of the School of Technology. Orders and deliveries of the rings are to be completed before the Christmas holidays.

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

SOMETIMES it appears that opportunity knocks at our door and we fail to recognize it until it almost knocks us down. Since the inception of this column we have always been on the lookout for any opportunity to give Villanova's name a boost along the athletic line and now a good thing is right on our old doorstep.

The Collegiate Digest, the picture section supplement appearing with this paper each week, is running an open student poll to choose an All-American football team through student votes. This digest is inserted in the better college papers from coast to coast and any recognition that a player may get through this medium would be notice nationally. YOU are an eligible voter in this contest and if you want to see players that you think are deserving on this team in the Fall it is up to you to voice your opinion.

Read the rules next to the blank. You are not obligating yourself in any way and there is nothing to pay or any similar catch as is the case in most affairs of this kind.

In order to encourage your opinion, this paper will send your vote to the digest without any bother on your part. All you have to do is fill in the blank and leave it on the sports desk in our office or merely stick it under the door. You know the best players on the Villanova squad, and you also know our best opponents; vote for these men for All-American honors.

-V-

THE PICTURE of the two huskies on this page will recall to mind the showing that these two lads made on our gridiron two years ago. Since that time the combination of Nott and Storrie has become one of the most famous passing duos in intercollegiate football.

Their combined play during the past two seasons was so outstanding that their teammates saw fit to elect them co-captains. Nott playing halfback does the flipping of the passes. He measures an even six feet and weighs about 185 pounds. He won varsity letters in 1932 and '33.

The other half of the captaincy, Paul Storrie, plays left end. Like Nott, he measures six feet and won letters in '32 and '33. He, however, tips the beam at 201 pounds.

For your benefit watch numbers 34 and 42. They caused a lot of trouble in 1932, but we hope that their brilliancy is dimmed on Saturday. The 'Cats need this victory.

-V-

LAST week we published a new system of scoring for the intra-murals. As you remember the activities were divided into major and minor sports. The major sports included all events in which there was an organized league and in which a schedule was necessary. Those sports in which tournaments were held, such as golf, tennis, boxing, etc., were considered as minors.

The condition however, has again been changed. The scoring system has been put back in its former status. Last year the intra-mural league final standing was not decided until the very last event was completed. In this manner interest was kept very much alive right up to the very end.

Austin Hall holds the crown. They earned 60 points with the second place outfit, Alumni, tagging right behind with 54 points. In third spot was Mendel hall with 44 followed by Fedigan with 42. Bringing up the rear was the Dayhops with 33 points.

Austin's win on the cinderpaths and six second places made up the majority of her points. Alumni won basketball, football and volley ball but folded up badly in the remainder of the sports. Dayhop victories in swimming and golf garnered the majority of their points but such a poor showing in all other events dropped the trolley boys into the chasm.

Another season has just started, everybody and every team starts out with a clean slate. You owe it to yourself physically and to the mural team which you should represent to take part.

Continued on Page Six

VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK BOWLING

Tuesday, October 16, 1934 Page Five

DETROIT NEXT FOR WILDCATS

LA SALLE VICTORS OVER MAIN LINERS IN ROUGH CONTEST

Stuhldreher's Gridders Fall; Brillers Get Verdict Of 13-6 Count

BRADLEY, BRENNAN STARS OF CONQUERING ELEVEN

Explorers Gain Six Pointers Through Fumbled Kick, Blocked Punt

Two weeks ago, September 30, the famed dope bucket was overturned at Scranton, Pa., when the fighting La Salle Explorers beat St. Thomas' College, 7-0. Not content with that, the Brillmen kicked aside the already overturned utensil by holding the Cardinals of Catholic University to a 6-6 deadlock the following week. But the greatest show of disregard for the age-old bucket was displayed when the aforesaid moleskin artists snipped off the dreaded claws of the Villanova Wildcats at the Main Line stadium last Saturday by a 13-6 count. In this encounter the good old bucket, the standby of all critics, authorities, and the like, was not only overturned and kicked aside—it was fairly disintegrated by the gridders from the Quaker City.

Fighting from inspired heights, the La Salle eleven bitterly ripped apart the stalwart line of the 'Cat combine, and time and time again nailed the fleet-footed backs for what proved to be the most vital losses of the day. It was this ability of the Brill linemen to crash through the opposing forward wall that gave them both their six-point markers, to one of which Joe Sciaretta added the extra point with a neat place kick.

The 'Cats' only tally came in the third period after a show of superior strength and speed. After Knox, of the Explorers, punted to midfield, the Main Liners' backfield of Cook, Weisenbaugh, and Patzsch carried the leather to the nine-yard stripe, from which point Nick Kotys carried it over.

About midway through the first quarter, Bernie Bradley, right guard of the visitors, raced down the field under Knox's punt to Kotys and so hurried the Villanova safety man that the leather eluded him after he had tipped it with outstreched hands and it bounced over the final chalk line. This same Bradley, without diminishing his mercuric dash, scurried over the goal line and pounced on the ball for the Explorers first score. Less than four minutes later Walt Korchinski, rangy Wildcat end, fell back in kick formation to boot the ball out of danger, but Captain Fritz Brennan, of La Salle, crashed through and knocked the pigskin out of the air and as it became a loose ball he pounced on it over the line making the second tally for the Quaker City team. Sciaretta's place kick, which was good for the first attempted extra point, went wide the second time, thus leaving the score for La Salle at 13, at which point it stood for the remainder of the fray.

Marty Brill's understudies then fought stubbornly to maintain their precious lead which they did with the exception of their only faltering moments in the latter part of the third period. The battle was one of the rough-and-tumble type from whistle to whistle with the intensity of the struggle reaching far

Continued on Page Six

Detroit Leaders Appearing Here Saturday

Douglas Nott (left), and Paul Storrie, co-captains of the powerful Titan team, who will lead their teammates on the Villanova gridiron this week. This duo has become known as one of the greatest passing combinations in intercollegiate ranks.

ADDED ENTHUSIASM IMPROVES JAYVEES

Coach Skaff Pleased at Big Increase of Squad, but Still Needs Players

With the increase in material and the fiery spirit now being shown, the Junior Varsity football team is rapidly rounding into shape. At present fundamentals are being stressed and only a few scrimmages have been held. However, new men are developing rapidly and are trying hard to win a position on the first team.

Jim Fleming, last year's tackle, has been shifted to right end and is showing up well in practice. Hoey, Shelley, Genovese and O'Connell are showing progress on the line and Henry Buzenski is doing some fine ball carrying.

Skaff Voices Opinion

Coach Skaff in discussing the situation said, "The big problem facing us this year lies in the backfield. The boys are showing a wonderful spirit and the squad as a whole is beginning to click. No positions have as yet been definitely filled and there is plenty of competition. I am very much encouraged by the increased turnout but we still need candidates. I feel that we will have a good line and if the backfield developes properly we should have a good club."

Skaff is being assisted this season by Johnny Shevlin, captain of the varsity basketball team.

Swim Schedule

The following hours have been designated for student use of the swimming pool: Mon., Tues., Wed., Thurs., 1 to 6 P. M.; Fri., 1 to 4 and 7 to 9.30 P. M.; Sat., 10.30 to 12 A. M.; Sun., 1 to 3.45 P. M.

The Saturday schedule will be lengthened after football season.

BOWLING TEAMS TO BE CREATED

Inter-Dorm Series Planned; Alleys Are Reopened Travers Directs

The bowling alleys in the gym, which have been closed for the last few weeks, were opened last Wednesday under the direction of "Pop" Travers. Several tournaments are to be held in the near future in order to create an interest in this most interesting indoor sport.

At the present time most of the students are out-of-doors playing touch-football, tennis and other sports. But when the weather gets colder it is expected that many more will patronize the bowling alleys.

In order to get the boys interested, Rev. Edward McKee, O. S. A., faculty advisor of intra-mural sports, plans to inaugurate a series of tournaments. There will, of course, be an inter-dorm championship, and perhaps an individual one.

BAND WILL APPEAR

Fair weather permitting, the band will make a gala appearance for the Alumni home-coming game with Detroit this Saturday.

DORAIS PRESENTS FORMIDABLE FOE FOR 'CAT ELEVEN

Hardest Opposition to Date Hits Local Gridiron for Alumni Day

NOTT, STORRIE STAR; ALSO ARE CO-CAPTAINS

Fordtowners Present One of Greatest Passing Pairs in Collegiate Ranks

University of Detroit's football team, with one of the best teams in the history of that school, will supply the opposition for the Villanova aggregation at the stadium, this Saturday.

Upon their last meeting, in 1932, the Titans returned home victorious by the score of 28-12. One of the outstanding players with the 'Cats' foe, at the time, was Douglas Nott, a stocky sophomore. This same sports figure returns Saturday, stockier and more dangerous than ever.

Are Co-Captains

Tagging along with Nott is Paul Storrie. These two are co-captains of the Lizzie-towners and they bear close watching. Nott fills the fullback post and Storrie scintillates at left-end. The secret of their strength lies in the passing attack developed around them, and their defensive ability.

However, Nott has been on the sidelines with a wrenched knee, received late in the first game played this season. Although the injury is not serious, the coach has put him through very little action, in order to save him for the more crucial contests. It is expected that he will start against the Wildcats.

Use Notre Dame System

The Titans use the Notre Dame system with slight modifications on the offense. Coach "Gus" Dorais, who was on the throwing end of the Dorais to Rockne passing combination of Notre Dame and which gained the limelight in 1913 when the great Army team was humbled by the obscure club from South Bend, Indiana, has been largely instrumental in making the modern open style of play popular.

Last year's records show the Red and White lost to Duquesne, but won its other contests. Teams like Marquette, Holy Cross and Michigan State were among the victims. To date, this year they have played three games all under the arc-lights and at home. The first two teams encountered served, as Dorais said, "to give him a knowledge of his own material." Substitutions were plenty. One team never played through the first half. The first of the opponents was Central State

Continued on Page Six

NO FROSH SCHEDULE

Yearlings Scrimmage Varsity Team in Opponents' Feature Plays

According to an official announcement, all plans for a freshman football schedule have been abandoned, at least for the present season. The yearlings will be used throughout the remainder of the season to scrimmage the varsity, and to drill them in plays featured by future opponents.

Whether or not a schedule for freshman football teams will be planned in the near future was not mentioned.

Intra-Mural Staff Chosen; Hoey Chairman For Season

Plans Donating Prizes to Victorious Teams; Father Stanford Trophy Included; To Follow New Point System

TOUCH FOOTBALL CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Under the guidance of a new intra-mural committee the 1934-35 campaign got off to a flying start last Saturday. John Hoey, newly-appointed chairman, aided by representatives Frank Neylan, Al Fitzpatrick, Jim Conroy and Jim Fleming touched off the fuse that started the opening contests, and mapped out an extensive program for the coming year.

Starting off with touch football and continuing on with swimming, basketball, boxing, golf, tennis and track, the competitors will never lack for want of action.

The tennis tourney originally scheduled to be run off during the early part of this month has been postponed until the Spring, but with football holding the spotlight at present it was a wise move on the part of the committee.

This intra-mural competition has become a major item in our extra-curricular activities and it is the desire of the committee to have as many students as possible take part. Harry Stuhldreher, Director of Athletics, is the father of this remarkabl plan at Villanova. The object of this plan is to give non-varsity performers an opportunity to show their wares in their own class, to promote sportsmanship, good will and to develop character.

At present Mr. Hoey is working on an idea whereby he will be able to secure prizes for the winners of the various sports. As it is there is only the Rev. E. V. Stanford Trophy to be presented to the team assembling the highest number of points. The point system will give the winner 10 points; runner-up seven points, third place will receive five points, fourth place three points, fifth place two points, sixth place, one point. All sports are to be classed as major ones, and any team that fails to play in at least half of the number of scheduled games, forfeits all their points.

All football games will be played on Austin Field. The week-day games will start promptly at 1:30 P. M.; while the Sunday games will get under way at 10:30 A. M. Games will be played on Mondays, Fridays and Sundays. The "dayhops" will participate on week-days. All teams are requested to be on hand and ready for action at the appointed time so as not to conflict with the other scheduled games.

With the addition of Mendel and Commerce and Finance "dayhops" the competition in the football division will be keener than ever. Last year Alumni Hall captured the gonfalon and with two weeks of intensive training under the watchful eye of "Iggy" La Rosa, they will make it plenty hot for the other aggregations. In the opening game of the season, Alumni, with Noonan on the passing end, and Dougherty on the receiving end, defeated Commerce and Finance "dayhops" by the score of 12 to 6. Dougherty accounted for both tallies—taking passes from Noonan and scampering twenty and thirty-five yards to the scoring station.

In their second start of the season the Colonels from the Old Fortress defeated Mendel Hall by a 6-0 score. An intercepted pass in the final quarter decided the fray.

Austin Hall, always a serious threat to would-be intra-mural inners, started its season off with a win over Fedigan Hall, another "bear" as far as threats are concerned. It was an intercepted pass in this fray also that won the contest. Previous to this marker the Fediganites had a precious 2-0 lead by virtue of a safety.

STATISTICS OF THE GAME

Item	Vill'n'a	La Salle
Yds., scrimmage	208	45
For. passes tried	21	1
For. passes made	3	0
For. incomplete	11	1
For. intercept'd by	0	2
Yds. on forwards	70	0
No. of punts	11	18
Yds. on punts	309	793
Av. of punts	28	44
Punts Returned	55	60
Fumbles	6	2
Own fumbles rec.	3	1
Opponents rec.	1	3
Kickoffs returned	76	8
Penalties	2	7
Yds. lost on pen.	25	75
First downs	15	2

LINSALATA CHOSEN SWIMMING MANAGER

Many New Candidates Report For Practice; Extensive Schedule Is Planned

Regular practice for the swimming team is under way, and all candidates, old and new are required to come out every day. Drills are held every afternoon, and those boys who have "labs" can practice from four to six o'clock. So far things are shaping up nicely, and all new aspirants are urged to try out. There is a special need of diving candidates.

For the first time in the history of the team, a senior manager has been appointed. Joseph J. Linsalata, School of Commerce and Finance, was appointed for the position. He is rapidly compiling a new schedule in which he hopes to list about twelve meets, all of which promises tough competition.

The team is quite fortunate in having a number of last season's veterans back this year. Captain John Strong, a senior in the School of Engineering, La Rosa, John J. Hosey, William Foley, and John O'Hara are among these men. Paul Loughlin, a member of the varsity football squad, and Walter L. Coyle, captain of the 150 lb. team are expected to join the swimming team after the football season is over.

There are a number of freshmen who have seen competition in high school or athletic clubs, who are now trying out for the team. Among these boys are Danny Hogan, who swam for Overbrook High and Penn A. C.; Bill Booth, captain of Simon Gratz High, and Toby Greco, teammates of Hogan at the same club. Bill Voehl, captain of Overbrook High, is another promising member of this group. Jim Cousart, and Donald Canter are also new aspirants to berths on the swimming team.

With the material left from last year's team and the new aspirants, the outlook this year is brighter than ever before. Coach Gill hopes to establish a real place for Villanova in swimming circles.

BIG IMPROVEMENT AMONG LIFESAVERS

Seventy Students Enroll for Instruction Under Joseph J. Linsalata

Recently organized by Joseph J. Linsalata, a senior in the Commerce and Finance School, the Villanova Life Saving Course under the auspices of the American Red Cross, is making great progress with the students.

Records show that seventy students have enrolled in the course, and an average of twenty applicants per day report for instruction. The instructor, Mr. Linsalata, is a licensed teacher of the A. R. C. Life Saving Corps.

Classes are held every week day from one to six in the afternoon. Dut to the great number taking the course, the period is divided into two sections, the first meeting from 1:30 to 2:30, and the second, a special section for engineers only, from 4:00 to 6:00 P. M.

There are no roll calls, attendance is not obligatory, being left up to the descretion of the individual. The course is so designed that one year may be taken for its completion. All students are eligible for enrollment.

Mr. Linsalata would like more upperclassmen to join the class. A great majority of freshmen are now listed.

In the Limelight

WHEN a lad has played almost every position on a football team except left end on the bench, he must have something. Ever heard of Carrol Cook? He's the bright and woolly lad of the 'varsity who cavorts so bravely on Saturday afternoons. He used to cavort pretty ruggedly up in Germantown last year, too.

When he was just a young lad, he was born in Philly. His extreme youth at birth was a surprise to everyone, himself most of all. He boasts of twenty-one summers, thus making his logical birth date sometime in the spring of 1913. He says it's around November 17, so we must be wrong. Maybe it's twenty-one winters.

After he left the Most Precious Blood grammar school, he entered Roman Catholic High, and unfortunately for the Cahillites, he and Catholic were at differences. He then transferred his affections to La Salle Prep, in the wilds of North Philadelphia. He put in a very big three and a half years up thar, and made his first big name for himself on the sport sheets. He joined up with the footballers in his second year and held down an end post. He tried his hands at the soft berth of tackle, which didn't last very long. In the Winter, Basketball played her siren song, and "Cookie answered the melody." Consider that he towers six feet two. Logically, he went out and garnered the job of tap-off man. He finished the season in a blaze of glory. Then, track. Weights and 220. He tried the discus and played the big time. And, as the climax, this man mountain superior joined up with the horse-hide tossers and held down the initial sack. First baseman Cook played the whole schedule and did in his soph year what most athletes don't do in four. A four sport man in one year is pretty good. What say?

He took his third assignment on the squad when he came back in his junior year. From end, he was transferred to the backfield, much to his delight. He says he was plenty sick of shoving 200-lb. tackles all over the terrain to let the pampered backfield roam through. And now he was in the pampered backfield. And did he roam! Again basketball. He never jumped so much in his life, except at last year's track meet with Rider College. The spectacle of "Cal" soaring over the bar at the height of five feet is something to be eternally remembered.

The next year in Prep, he ran the ball with great abandon, jumped huge distances in the ether in pursuit of the elusive basketball, and, giving up the diamond lads, devoted his failing energies to the 220 and heaving the weights with lotsa groans. Somehow, he got a dipioma, but me and the rest of us don't see when he had time to study.

A big break came to Villanova. The one and only Carrol Cook, former athletic luminary of La Salle Prep matriculated at the Main Line institution of learning. (Shades of the Rover Boys!) Played fullback on the frosh team.

Soph Year. Came in as a V. C. Enjoyed himself pretty well. Varsity fullback. Mostly blocking. The fullback's job in the Notre Dame system is no fun. Block, block, and the only time you carry the ball is on a spinner or a reverse. In the Spring, he heaved the discus.

Not a fullback, now. Changed to a halfback. A running back. Ball carrier. Cookie ripped off the tackle, thru centre and generally did himself up proud. Junior Prom Committee. Jazzed up in a blazer. Swell stuff.

Now he's still at halfback. Hope no one gets hurt. If they did, Cookie might be jammed in the breach. He'd make a good try at it, anyway.

Let's hope he even does better this year than he did last year. We have to have one All American on the squad, to keep up the tradition left by "Whitey" Randour last year. It might as well be "Cal."

LIGHTWEIGHT TEAM FACES LAFAYETTE

Outlook for Year Brighter; Jack Shevlin to Play; Lenzi Confident

With the opening game against Lafayette only a day ahead, the 150 lb. team's prospects for the coming season look brighter than ever. The squad has been strengthened immensely by the addition of Johnny Shevlin and Vince Cavanaugh to the backfield. Shevlin and Cavanaugh, both veterans reported to coach "Red" Lenzi last week, and will be ready for action when the whistle blows.

Shevlin, a senior in the engineering school, was an important factor in the lightweight's backfield last year. Cavanaugh was a consistant plunger throughout the season. Word has been received that Vince Lo Casale has also reported to coach Lenzi. Lo Casale was a three-year man at South Philadelphia High School. Although originally a fullback he has been shifted to guard in order to add strength to the line.

Other members of the squad who have shown themselves outstanding to date are: Barnes, Kapic, Rodgers, and Murphy, Backs; and captain Coyle and Shapiro, ends. The rest of the squad consists of Morin, Siebro, Ranieri, Caulfield, Joseph, Hands, Cailliet, Stead, Murray, Gough, Cotter, Covert, Allan, Carleton, Hennessey, Comlus, Eck, Tronceliti, Kaim, McHugh, Oveill, McKabe, Horn, Leone, Kennedy, Patrick, and McGee.

Although defeated by Lafayette last year 6 to 0, they expect to return victorious this season. The team is in perfect condition and boasts a good backfield and a strong forward wall. Center, however, is a little week on the defense, but Coach Lenzi will have everything tip-top by game time tomorrow.

The squad, about 30 strong, will lea Villanova tomorrow morning to engage the Lafayette lightweights at Easton.

For the past two years the Maroon eleven has turned back the Blue and White invaders but Coach Lenzi's men will do their best to open the season successfully.

TENNIS STOPPED BY RAINY WEATHER

All Halls but Austin Name Representatives; Finals Held Next Spring

Tennis intra-mural competition has been indefinitely postponed. Due to the inclement weather of the past few week-ends contests have been impossible. Since the opening contests of the murals on Friday, Sept. 28, the play advanced quite rapidly and a fine season was predicted.

During the following two weeks the elimination contests were run off and most of the halls picked their finalists. The tennis tournaments of the past few years have not been emphasized as much as this year's.

The tournament this season marks a new era in the tennis intra-murals. The contests have been highly organized and the increased popularity of the sport has been attributed to this fact.

Because of the great number of contestants and due to the close play of the men, the elimination contests took more time than was planned for them. Hard luck in the form of bad weather also followed the play and now cooler and windier days have necessitated a postponement of the contests. This was decided by Jack Hoey, manager of intra-mural sports.

The final tournament among the halls will probably take place some time next spring.

All the halls with the exception of Austin have picked their finalists. Next week there will be a few playoffs to decide the final team that will represent Austin. The playoffs will be Krupa vs. Alvarez, Malcolm vs. Shevlin, Loughlin vs. Bruno. Benedict Maloney in all probability will be number one man to represent Austin.

Alumni Hall has picked the following men to defend their title: Ferra, Megaro, Marquette, and Fraccia.

Dorias Presents Difficult Grid Foe

Continued From Page Five

Teachers College and the Tutors were humbled 28-0. Then Western State Teachers fell by the score of 25-7.

The Detroiters made it three straight last Friday when they turned back a fighting W and J eleven by a 12 to 0 score.

Lutze Runs Well

Dick Lutze, replacing Kadi at right halfback in the past games has shown himself worthy of recognition. His outstanding feature is in running the ball around the ends. He also merits watching as a passer.

One sophomore is listed in the entire starting lineup. Several of the veterans are playing in new positions. The new figure is Charles Payne, a halfback, who utilizes 202 pounds of brawn on opposing lines.

Weight Average High

The average weight of the team is 189 pounds. The line averages 193 pounds from end to end and the backfield tips the scales at 185.

With the exponent of the forward pass at its helm and the power and speed shown by the Titans of Detroit, it is more than likely that the visitors will supply thrills aplenty for the Villanova team and its supporters.

NEED TRACK MATERIAL

Lack of Freshmen Runners Hampers Plans of Coach Bob Reagan

Since the announcement of the regular fall training routine in last week's issue, few candidates have reported for the track team. It is the usual custom for the frosh to answer this call as well as the upper classmen, but this year finds the yearlings among the missing.

Many promising Harriers were found in last year's freshman class and it is hoped that within the next few days a number of first year men will report to the gym and commence training under Jim Elliot, ace middle distance runner, who is acting coach.

La Salle Victors In Big Football Upset

Continued From Page Five

up into the stands. The encounter was packed with thrills and climaxed by a mixmum of shiver-delivering plays on the part of the raging Wildcats. In the closing minutes they unleashed a wild barrage of aerial deception un .er the guidance of Chuck Malloch, sophomore back. He flipped several passes to Fox and Higgins which were good for substantial gains and it looked very much as though the home team was about to reel off a tying count. At this point Allison, substitute pivot man for the visitors, stole the limelight by breaking up a lateral pass formation which gave the ball to La Salle once more. It stayed in their possession then and it was thus the fracas ended.

If the forward wall, Charley Cox, who has been more or less the iron man of the year, together with Charley Nowe, at the pivot pos., played a bang-up game.

Explored

Villanova	Pos.	La Salle
Korchinski	left end	Comey
Michaels	left tackle	Dunn
Blanchard	left guard	Bonder
Nowe	center	Cappiello
Lee	right guard	Bradley
Cox	right tackle	Land
Fox	right end	Brennan
Higgins	quarterback	Lucas
Kotys	left halfback	Knox
Cook	right halfback	Ardito
Patzsch	fullback	Gallagher

Officials: Referee—R. L. Wie, Bowdoin. Umpire—C. N. Gault, Muhlenberg. Headlineman— W. L. Cornog, Swarthmore. Field judge—L. W. Jourdet, Penn.

La Salle	0	0	0	0	0—0
Villanova	0	0	0	0	0—0

Touchdowns: La Salle, Bradley, Brennan. Villanova: Kotys. Point after touchdown: La Salle, Sciaretta (placement kick).

Substitutions: Villanova — Weisenbaugh for Patzsch, Christopher for Higgins, Walsh for Kotys, Grimberg for Fox, Higgins for Christopher, Kotys for Walsh, Fox for Grimberg, Foster for Lee, McFadden for Weisenbaugh, Sullivan for Cox, Vidnovic for Blanchard, Sala for Korchinski, Patzsch for Weisenbaugh, Mahovlich for Walsh, Blanchard for Vidnovic. La Salle: McKernan for Dunn, Kabilubosky for Comey, Kudzin for Ardito, Sciaretta for Lucas, Bahr for Ardito, Allison for Cappiello, Comey for Brennan, Lucas for Sciaretta, Knox for Bahr, Ardito for Gallagher, Gregorski for Bonder, Marshall for Land, Gordon for Bradley, Botto for McKernan.

DISCUSS CURRICULA USED BY TEACHERS

Fr. Bartley Represents Villanova at Conclave of College Association

The Very Rev. Joseph T. Bartley, dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, who was a delegate at the Association of Liberal Arts Colleges of Pennsylvania, reports that discussions were held by the convention on reports submitted by various members on curricula best suited to the needs of teachers now in training at the various art colleges in this State.

The purpose of these discussions was to enable the reports to be criticized or approved by the whole association. These reports are based on research work which concerns itself with curricula covering the entire field of student training.

The problem of forming an adequate curricula consumes much time. Even though the work has been going on for more than a year it is not expected to be finished for at least another year. No matter how much work this entails, the research committee will continue until their assignment is finished.

Already a set of standards has been agreed upon for a method of teaching. It was received enthusiastically by the delegates who began to discuss it pro and con. As soon as the discussion is over, the set of standards will be put into effect by all the arts colleges of Pennsylvania.

Dr. James N. Rule, superintendent of education in Pennsylvania, presided over the meeting.

After a few more discussions, more or less minor in importance, the meeting was adjourned until early next October.

Dr. Hickey Talks To Holy Name Men

Continued From Page One

Name members would practice their religion, thus becoming the prime leaders, according to Dr. Hickey. It would also considerably help the promotion of Catholic principles, he believes.

Among those present at the breakfast were Rev. Charles Brown, O. S. A., moderator of the society, and college chaplain; Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A.; Rev. Joseph Dougherty, O. S. A., dean of the Science School; Rev. Bassillio Fresno, O. S. A.

Prefects Named

Although no business relevant to the organization was discussed at the meeting, prefects for the present year received appointments. Among those named to post were: J. Kevin Quinn, Robert McGrory, and Edgar H. Cottrell, representing the School of Commerce and Finance; Chester Gnieciedi, William Keefer, and William Dobrowolski, of the Science School; William Doyle, Carmen Giordano, and John Burke, College of Arts; W. Rodgers Hamel, Joseph Calcolm, and Arthur Carleton, School of Technology.

Duties of the prefects include the collection of dues and the keeping of their bands informed on activities of the organization.

GUILD HEAD NAMED

According to a recent announcement given by Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., chaplain, the headquarters of the newly formed Augustinian Seminary Guild will be situated here at Villanova with branches in all parishes served by the Augustinian Fathers, through-

HEADS OLD GRADS

CHARLES D. McAVOY, '98, United States District Attorney and president of the National Alumni Association of the college, who will greet the graduates returning for the annual homecoming Saturday.

Number of First Year Men Shows 31 Per Cent Increase

Continued From Page One

fact that close to 800 students are enrolled in the four campus schools. This represents a slight increase over the 1933-34 period. Villanova's large graduating class, coupled with the fact that many undergraduates entered professional schools account for the apparently small rise in student total recording.

Fifteen States Represented

Representatives of fifteen States, a national district, one national possession, and a foreign country make up the student body of Villanova. A very extensive territory is embraced, reaching as far West as Montana, from New Hampshire on the North to the island republic of Cuba on the South.

One student hails from the District of Columbia, while Cuba and Puerto Rico are represented by three and four native sons respectively.

Pennsylvania ranks first among the States with 45⅛ per cent of the total enrollment, followed by New Jersey with 12 per cent, and New York with 10½ per cent. These three proximate Commonwealths far outnumber all others in their representatives at Villanova.

Majority From East

Philadelphia is far in the lead of all other cities by amassing a total of 24½ per cent. The runnerup position once again went to New York City, which tabulated 2 per cent. Newark holds third place with 1¾ per cent. One and one-quarter per cent is credited to Lawrence, Mass., famous for its number of Villanova alumni, notwithstanding its great distance away.

According to statistical reports, the majority of students come from the Eastern portion of the United States. The following record gives the exact percentage of students, according to the various sections: Pennsylvania, 45¾ per cent; New Jersey, 12 per cent; New York, 10½ per cent; Massachusetts, 4½ per cent; Connecticut, 2½ per cent, while the remaining percentage is distributed among Maryland, Virginia, New Hampshire, Delaware, Illinois, West Virginia, Montana, Vermont, Rhode Island, Indiana, Washington, D. C., Puerto Rico, and Cuba.

The fact that this year's registration in the Freshman group showed a predominant increase seems to portend that Villanova will regain her maximum enrollment total which has been on the decrease since the economic situation hampered the college careers of many American youths.

Fourteen Tickets To Be Given For Social Functions

Complimentary tickets will be given to fourteen leaders of campus organizations for the coming social season. This list was compiled at the last meeting of the Student Council and has since been approved by Rev. Bernard Albers, O. S. A., in charge of student activities.

Heretofore there has been much controversy over who should receive, and who should not be given complimentary tickets to school functions. In order to remedy this situation Council thought it best to compile one official list.

The following individuals will be recipients of tickets: president of the Senior Class, president of the Junior Class, president of the Sophomore Class, vice president of the Senior Class, the chairman of the Student Council, and the vice-chairman of the Student Council, the secretary-treasurer of the Student Council, representatives of the two active fraternities, Lamda Kappa Delta, and Pi Kappa Pi; the director of publicity and the secretary of the Alumni Association. The editors of two of the college publications, the VILLANOVAN, and the Belle Air. The two elected members of the Student Council who are seniors will also receive tickets.

FORMULATE PLAN FOR ANNUAL HOP

Fraternity to Hold Dance on Eve of Owl Game; Arrange Smoker

Definite plans were formulated at the first meeting of the Owl Hop committee, of Phi Kappa Pi fraternity, held last Thursday. All the arrangements have not been completed, but the committee decided upon the date and place for the dance.

The social, which has been a tradition here, will be held November 23, the night before the Temple-Villanova football game. In previous years the dance was always held after the game, but the committee decided that there would be more spirit prevailing the night before, thereby affording the students an opportunity to join in the "Beat Temple" spirit.

As in the past, the dance will be held in the gymnasium which will be appropriately decorated for the occasion. Decorations have not been determined, but the committee plans to transfer it into a cozy and yet spacious ballroom. Many novelties and surprises are being planned by the men in charge of the dance.

The orchestra for the affair will be The Villanovans who presented their band so successfully at the last hop. The orchestra is rehearsing already for the occasion.

Members of the smoker committee held their first meeting last week to make arrangements for the fraternity smoker to be held in the near future as an introduction to freshmen engineers in order that they might witness the activities of the club and become acquainted with the members prior to their formal induction into the group next Spring.

This year the fraternity will hold different athletic events for its members and a committee has been appointed for this purpose.

chairman, has been appointed by Joseph T. Jones, M. D., professor of public speaking. The purpose of this committee is to invite outside speakers to address the assembly. It is the desire of the committee to have an outside speaker at least once a month.

SEMINAR COMMITTEE

The seminar for students of the School of Arts will be held the third period of every Thursday. As this seminar is scheduled for every student in the above mentioned school, attendance will be obligatory.

A committee, consisting of four students with a representative from each class and a senior as

Annual Sophomore Cotillion Friday

Continued From Page One

call for patrons at future entertainments."

Success Predicted

Mr. Hosey also believes the success of the Sophomore Hop certain. He declared, "The success of our dance depends not only on the Sophomores but also upon the entire student body. The subscription is reasonable, only $1.50 a couple."

The gym will be decorated with the false ceiling and the orchestra will be placed in a shell on the side of the floor under the balcony. Officials say the acoustic condition is better in this position. The floor will be done over with a preparation of corn meal and the dance committee expects it to be in good condition.

Alumni Return For Homecoming

Continued From Page One

is leaving his position to study for his master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania.

Will Not Elect

Instead of electing officers after the game, as was the case last year, the National Alumni Association has inaugurated a change by setting the date of the election for this coming June.

Last year Honorable Charles D. McAvoy, '98, United States District Attorney and Democratic Leader of Montgomery County, was elected president and under his guidance the Alumni is expected to witness one of its finest years especially in regard to social activities.

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits and Topcoats
$24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See JIM ELLIOTT
Room 106, Fedigan Hall

FOR EXPERT, CONVENIENT
Tonsorial Necessities
PATRONIZE
The CAMPUS Barber Shop
(New Staff)
Popular Prices

Meet Your Friends at
The Bryn Mawr Confectionery
(Next to Seville Theatre)
Tasty Sandwiches
Lunches-Dinners-Platters
Reasonably Priced
Music Free Dancing

NEW LAUNDRY COMPANY, Inc.
A NEW LAUNDRY WITH SEVENTY-SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE
Baring and State Sts.
Baring 5434

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

GLOBE
OFFICE FURNITURE CO.
We Buy and Sell New and Used Office Furniture Machinery Equipment and Safes
907 Walnut St.
PENypakr 0548

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure
$25 and up
All new styles now available!
Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

Suits & Topcoats $15
Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.
WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE
900 SOUTH ST.
One Only Store

it's different now
You're lucky! Going to college used to mean good-bye to home for months on end. Now, with the telephone, you can go home in an instant. Try it tonight — a telephone "voice visit" is next best to being there!
• Call 100 miles for 60 cents by Day Rate; for 50 cents by Evening Rate; for 35 cents by Night Rate. (Station to Station calls — 3-minute connections.)
The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

Intra-Mural Staff Chosen; Hoey Chairman For Season

Plans Donating Prizes to Victorious Teams; Father Stanford Trophy Included; To Follow New Point System

TOUCH FOOTBALL CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Under the guidance of a new intra-mural committee the 1931-35 campaign got off to a flying start last Saturday. John Hoey, newly-appointed chairman, aided by representatives Frank Neylan, Al Fitzpatrick, Jim Conroy and Jim Fleming touched off the fuse that started the opening contests, and mapped out an extensive program for the coming year.

Starting off with touch football and continuing on with swimming, basketball, boxing, golf, tennis and track, the competitors will never lack for want of action.

The tennis tourney originally scheduled to be run off during the early part of this month has been postponed until the Spring, but with football holding the spotlight at present it was a wise move on the part of the committee.

This intra-mural competition has become a major item in our extra-curricular activities and it is the desire of the committee to have as many students as possible take part.

Al Stuhldreher, Director of Athletics, is the father of this remarkabl plan at Villanova. The object of this plan is to give non-varsity performers an opportunity to show their wares in their own class, to promote sportsmanship, good will and to develop character.

At present Mr. Hoey is working on an idea whereby he will be able to secure prizes for the winners of the various sports. As it is there is only the Rev. E. V. Stanford Trophy to be presented to the team assembling the highest number of points. The point system will give the winner 10 points; runner-up seven points, third place will receive five points, fourth place three points, fifth place two points, sixth place, one point. All sports are to be classed as major ones, and any team that fails to play in at least half of the number of scheduled games, forfeits all their points.

All football games will be played on Austin Field. The week-day games will start promptly at 1:30 P. M.; while the Sunday games will get under way at 10:30 A. M. Games will be played on Mondays, Fridays and Sundays. The "dayhops" will participate on week days. All teams are requested to be on hand and ready for action at the appointed time so as not to conflict with the other scheduled games.

With the addition of Mendel and Commerce and Finance "dayhops" the competition in the football division will be keener than ever. Last year Alumni Hall captured the confalon and with two weeks of intensive training under the watchful eye of "Iggy" La Rosa, they will make it plenty hot for the other aggregations. In the opening game of the season, Alumni, with Noonan on the passing end, and Dougherty on the receiving end, defeated Commerce and Finance "dayhops" by the score of 12 to 6. Dougherty accounted for both tallies taking passes from Noonan and scampering twenty and thirty-five yards to the scoring station.

In their second start of the season, the Colonel from the Old Forge defeated Mendel Hall by a 6-0 score. An intercepted pass in the last quarter decided the fray.

Austin Hall, always a serious threat to would-be intra-mural winners, started its season off with a win over Fedigan Hall, another "bear" as far as threats are concerned. It was an intercepted pass in the final play that won the contest. Previous to this marker the Fediganites had a precious 2-0 lead by virtue of a safety.

STATISTICS OF THE GAME
Item	Vil'n'a	La Salle
Yds., scrimmage	208	45
For. passes tried	1	1
For. passes made	8	0
For. incomplete	11	1
For. intercept'd by	0	2
Yds. on forwards	70	0
No. of punts	11	18
Yds. on punts	309	793
Av. of punts	28	44
Punts Returned	55	60
Fumbles	6	2
Own fumbles rec.	3	1
Opponents rec.	1	3
Kickoffs returned	76	8
Penalties	2	7
Yds. lost on pen.	25	75
First downs	15	2

LINSALATA CHOSEN SWIMMING MANAGER

Many New Candidates Report For Practice: Extensive Schedule Is Planned

Regular practice for the swimming team is under way, and all candidates, old and new are required to come out every day. Drills are held every afternoon, and those boys who have "labs" can practice from four to six o'clock. So far things are shaping up nicely, and all new aspirants are urged to try out. There is a special need of diving candidates.

For the first time in the history of the team, a senior manager has been appointed. Joseph J. Linsalata, School of Commerce and Finance, was appointed for the position. He is rapidly compiling a new schedule in which he hopes to list about twelve meets, all of which promises tough competition.

The team is quite fortunate in having a number of last season's veterans back this year. Captain John Strong, a senior in the School of Engineering, La Rosa, John J. Hosey, William Foley, and John O'Hara are among these men. Paul Loughlin, a member of the varsity football squad, and Walter L. Coyle, captain of the 150 lb. team are expected to join the swimming team after the football season is over.

There are a number of freshmen who have seen competition in high school or athletic clubs, who are now trying out for the team. Among these boys are Danny Hogan, who swam for Overbrook High and Penn A. C.; Bill Booth, captain of Simon Gratz High, and Toby Greco, teammates of Hogan at the same club. Bill Voehl, captain of Overbrook High, is another promising member of this group. Jim Cousart, and Donald Canter are also new aspirants to berths on the swimming team.

With the material left from last year's team and the new aspirants, the outlook this year is brighter than ever before. Coach Gill hopes to establish a real place for Villanova in swimming circles.

BIG IMPROVEMENT AMONG LIFESAVERS

Seventy Students Enroll for Instruction Under Joseph J. Linsalata

Recently organized by Joseph J. Linsalata, a senior in the Commerce and Finance School, the Villanova Life Saving Course under the auspices of the American Red Cross, is making great progress with the students.

Records show that seventy students have enrolled in the course, and an average of twenty applicants per day report for instruction. The instructor, Mr. Linsalata, is a licensed teacher of the A. R. C. Life Saving Corps.

Classes are held every week day from one to six in the afternoon. Due to the great number taking the course, the period is divided into two sections, the first meeting from 1:30 to 2:30, and the second, a special section for engineers only, from 4:00 to 6:00 P. M.

There are no roll calls, attendance is not obligatory, being left up to the descretion of the individual. The course is so designed that one year may be taken for its completion. All students are eligible for enrollment.

Mr. Linsalata would like more upperclassmen to join the class. A great majority of freshmen are now listed.

In the Limelight

WHEN a lad has played almost every position on a football team except left end on the bench, he must have something. Ever heard of Carrol Cook? He's the bright and woolly lad of the 'varsity who cavorts so bravely on Saturday afternoons. He used to cavort pretty ruggedly up in Germantown last year, too.

When he was just a young lad, he was born in Philly. His extreme youth at birth was a surprise to everyone, himself most of all. He boasts of twenty-one summers, thus making his logical birth date sometime in the spring of 1913. He says it's around November 17, so we must be wrong. Maybe it's twenty-one winters.

After he left the Most Precious Blood grammar school, he entered Roman Catholic High, and unfortunately for the Cahillites, he and Catholic were at differences. He then transferred his affections to La Salle Prep, in the wilds of North Philadelphia. He put in a very big three and a half years up thar, and made his first big name for himself on the sport sheets. He joined up with the footballers in his second year and held down an end post. He tried his hands at the soft berth of tackle, which didn't last very long. In the Winter, Basketball played her siren song, and "Cookie answered the melody." Consider that he towers six feet two. Logically, he went out and garnered the job of tap-off man. He finished the season in a blaze of glory. Then, track. Weights and 220. He tried the discus and played the big time. And, as the climax, this man mountain superior joined up with the horse-hide tossers and held down the initial sack. First baseman Cook played the whole schedule and did in his soph year what most athletes don't do in four. A four sport man in one year is pretty good. What say?

He took his third assignment on the squad when he came back in his junior year. From end, he was transferred to the backfield, much to his delight. He says he was plenty sick of shoving 200-lb. tackles all over the terrain to let the pampered backfield roam through. And now he was in the pampered backfield. And did he roam! Again basketball. He never jumped so much in his life, except at last year's track meet with Rider College. The spectacle of "Cal" soaring over the bar at the height of five feet is something to be eternally remembered.

The next year in Prep, he ran the ball with great abandon, jumped huge distances in the ether in pursuit of the elusive basketball, and, giving up the diamond lads, devoted his failing energies to the 220 and heaving the weights with lotsa groans. Somehow, he got a diploma, but me and the rest of us don't see when he had time to study.

A big break came to Villanova. The one and only Carrol Cook, former athletic luminary of La Salle Prep matriculated at the Main Line institution of learning. (Shades of the Rover Boys!) Played fullback on the frosh team.

Soph Year. Came in as a V. C. Enjoyed himself pretty well. Varsity fullback. Mostly blocking. The fullback's job in the Notre Dame system is no fun. Block, block, and the only time you carry the ball is on a spinner or a reverse. In the Spring, he heaved the discus.

Not a fullback, now. Changed to a halfback. A running back. Ball carrier. Cookie ripped off the tackle, thru centre and generally did himself up proud. Junior Prom Committee. Jazzed up in a blazer. Swell stuff.

Now he's still at halfback. Hope no one gets hurt. If they did, Cookie might be jammed in the breach. He'd make a good try at it, anyway.

Let's hope he even does better this year than he did last year. We have to have one All American on the squad, to keep up the tradition left by "Whitey" Randour last year. It might as well be "Cal."

Dorias Presents Difficult Grid Foe

Continued From Page Five

Teachers College and the Tutors were humbled 28-0. Then Western State Teachers fell by the score of 25-7.

The Detroiters made it three straight last Friday when they turned back a fighting W and J eleven by a 12 to 0 score.

Lutze Runs Well

Dick Lutze, replacing Kadi at right halfback in the past games has shown himself worthy of recognition. His outstanding feature is in running the ball around the ends. He also merits watching as a passer.

One sophomore is listed in the entire starting lineup. Several of the veterans are playing in new positions. The new figure is Charles Payne, a halfback, who utilizes 202 pounds of brawn on opposing lines.

Weight Average High

The average weight of the team is 189 pounds. The line averages 193 pounds from end to end and the backfield tips the scales at 185.

With the exponent of the forward pass at its helm and the power and speed shown by the Titans of Detroit, it is more than likely that the visitors will supply thrills aplenty for the Villanova team and its supporters.

NEED TRACK MATERIAL

Lack of Freshmen Runners Hampers Plans of Coach Bob Reagan

Since the announcement of the regular fall training routine in last week's issue, few candidates have reported for the track team. It is the usual custom for the frosh to answer this call as well as the upper classmen, but this year finds the yearlings among the missing.

Many promising Harriers were found in last year's freshman class and it is hoped that within the next few days a number of first year men will report to the gym and commence training under Jim Elliot, ace middle distance runner, who is acting coach.

La Salle Victors In Big Football Upset

Continued From Page Five

up into the stands. The encounter was packed with thrills and climaxed by a mixmum of shiver-delivering plays on the part of the raging Wildcats. In the closing minutes they unleashed a wild barrage of aerial deception un the guidance of Chuck Mahovlich, sophomore back. He flipped several passes to Fox and Higgins which were good for substantial gains and it looked very much as though the home team was about to reel off a tying count. At this point Allison, substitute pivot man for the visitors, stole the limelight by breaking up a lateral pass formation which gave the ball to La Salle once more. It stayed in their possession then and it was thus the fracas ended.

In the forward wall, Charley Cox, who has been more or less the iron man of the year, together with Charley Nowe, at the pivot pos., played a bang-up game

Explored

Villanova	Pos.	La Salle
Korchinski	left end	Comey
Michaels	left tackle	Dunn
Blanchard	left guard	Bonder
Nowe	center	Cappiello
Lee	right guard	Bradley
Cox	right tackle	Land
Fox	right end	Brennan
Higgins	quarterback	Lucas
Kotys	left halfback	Knox
Cook	right halfback	Ardito
Patzsch	fullback	Gallagher

Officials: Referee—R. L. Fite, Bowdoin. Umpire—C. N. Gault, Muhlenberg. Head linesman— W. L. Cornog, Swarthmore. Field Judge—L. W. Jourdet, Penn.

La Salle	13	0	0	0	—13
Villanova	0	0	0	0	— 0

Touchdowns: La Salle, Bradley, Brennan. Villanova: Kotys. Point after touchdown: La Salle, Sciaretta (placement kick).

Substitutions: Villanova — Weisenbaugh for Patzsch, Christopher for Higgins, Walsh for Kotys, Grimberg for Fox, Higgins for Christopher, Kotys for Walsh, Fox for Grimberg, Foster for Lee, McFadden for Weisenbaugh, Sullivan for Cox, Widnovic for Blanchard, Sala for Korchinski, Patzsch for Weisenbaugh, Mahovlich for Walsh, Blanchard for Vidnovic. La Salle: McKernan for Dunn, Kablubosky for Comey, Kudsin for Ardito, Sciaretta for Lucas, Bahr for Ardito, Allison for Cappiello, Comey for Brennan, Lucas for Sciaretta, Knox for Bahr, Ardito for Gallagher, Gregorski for Bonder, Marshall for Land, Gordon for Bradley, Botto for McKernan.

LIGHTWEIGHT TEAM FACES LAFAYETTE

Outlook for Year Brighter; Jack Shevlin to Play; Lenzi Confident

With the opening game against Lafayette only a day ahead, the 150 lb. team's prospects for the coming season look brighter than ever. The squad has been strengthened immensely by the addition of Johnny Shevlin and Vince Cavanaugh to the backfield. Shevlin and Cavanaugh, both veterans reported to coach "Red" Lenzi last week, and will be ready for action when the whistle blows.

Shevlin, a senior in the engineering school, was an important factor in the lightweight's backfield last year. Cavanaugh was a consistant plunger throughout the season. Word has been received that Vince Lo Casale has also reported to coach Lenzi. Lo Casale was a three-year man at South Philadelphia High School. Although originally a fullback he has been shifted to guard in order to add strength to the line.

Other members of the squad who have shown themselves outstanding to date are: Barnes, Kapic, Rodgers, and Murphey, Backs; and captain Coyle and Shapiro, ends. The rest of the squad consists of Morin, Siebro, Ranieri, Caulfield, Joseph, Hands, Cailliet, Stead, Murray, Gough, Cotter, Covert, Allan, Carleton, Hennessey, Comius, Eck, Tronceliti, Kaim, McHugh, Oveill, McKabe, Horn, Leone, Kennedy, Patrick, and McGee.

Although defeated by Lafayette last year 6 to 0, they expect to return victorious this season. The team is in perfect condition and boasts a good backfield and a strong forward wall. Center, however, is a little week on the defense, but Coach Lenzi will have everything tip-top by game time tomorrow.

The squad, about 30 strong, will lea Villanova tomorrow morning to engage the Lafayette lightweights at Easton.

For the past two years the Maroon eleven has turned back the Blue and White invaders but Coach Lenzi's men will do their best to open the season successfully.

TENNIS STOPPED BY RAINY WEATHER

All Halls but Austin Name Representatives; Finals Held Next Spring

Tennis intra-mural competition has been indefinitely postponed. Due to the inclement weather of the past few week-ends contests have been impossible. Since the opening contests of the murals on Friday, Sept. 28, the play advanced quite rapidly and a fine season was predicted.

During the following two weeks the elimination contests were run off and most of the halls picked their finalists. The tennis tournaments of the past few years have not been emphasized as much as this year's.

The tournament this season marks a new era in the tennis intra-murals. The contests have been highly organized and the increased popularity of the sport has been attributed to this fact.

Because of the great number of contestants and due to the close play of the men, the elimination contests took more time than was planned for them. Hard luck in the form of bad weather also followed the play and now cooler and windier days have necessitated a postponement of the contests. This was decided by Jack Hoey, manager of intra-mural sports.

The final tournament among the halls will probably take place some time next spring.

All the halls with the exception of Austin have picked their finalists. Next week there will be a few playoffs to decide the final team that will represent Austin. The playoffs will be Krupa vs. Alvarez, Malcolm vs. Shevlin, Loughlin vs. Bruno. Benedict Maloney in all probability will be number one man to represent Austin.

Alumni Hall has picked the following men to defend their title: Ferra, Megaro, Marquette, and Fraccia.

DISCUSS CURRICULA USED BY TEACHERS

Fr. Bartley Represents Villanova at Conclave of College Association

The Very Rev. Joseph T. Bartley, dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, who was a delegate at the Association of Liberal Arts Colleges of Pennsylvania, reports that discussions were held by the convention on reports submitted by various members on curricula best suited to the needs of teachers now in training at the various art colleges in this State.

The purpose of these discussions was to enable the reports to be criticized or approved by the whole association. These reports are based on research work which concerns itself with curricula covering the entire field of student training.

The problem of forming an adequate curricula consumes much time. Even though the work has been going on for more than a year it is not expected to be finished for at least another year. No matter how much work this entails, the research committee will continue until their assignment is finished.

Already a set of standards has been agreed upon for a method of teaching. It was received enthusiastically by the delegates who began to discuss it pro and con. As soon as the discussion is over, the set of standards will be put into effect by all the arts colleges of Pennsylvania.

Dr. James M. Rule, superintendent of education in Pennsylvania, presided over the meeting.

After a few more discussions, more or less minor in importance, the meeting was adjourned until early next October.

Dr. Hickey Talks To Holy Name Men

Continued From Page One

Name members would practice their religion, thus becoming the prime leaders, according to Dr. Hickey. It would also considerably help the promotion of Catholic principles, he believes.

Among those present at the breakfast were Rev. Charles Brown, O. S. A., moderator of the society, and college chaplain; Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A.; Rev. Joseph Dougherty, O. S. A., dean of the Science School; Rev. Bassilio Fresno, O. S. A.

Prefects Named

Although no business relevant to the organization was discussed at the meeting, prefects for the present year received appointments. Among those named to this post were: J. Kevin Quinn, Robert McGrory, and Edgar H. Cottrell, representing the School of Commerce and Finance; Chester Ginieczki, William Keefer, and William Dobrowolski, of the Science School; William Doyle, Carmen Giordano, and John Burke, College of Arts; W. Rodgers Hamel, Joseph Calcolm, and Arthur Carleton, School of Technology.

Duties of the prefects include the collection of dues and the keeping of their bands informed on activities of the organization.

GUILD HEAD NAMED

According to a recent announcement given by Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., chaplain, the headquarters of the newly formed Augustinian Seminary Guild will be situated here at Villanova with branches in all parishes served by the Augustinian Fathers, through-

HEADS OLD GRADS

CHARLES D. McAVOY, '98, United States District Attorney and president of the National Alumni Association of the college, who will greet the graduates returning for the annual homecoming Saturday.

Number of First Year Men Shows 31 Per Cent Increase

Continued From Page One

fact that close to 800 students are enrolled in the four campus schools. This represents a slight increase over the 1933-34 period. Villanova's large graduating class, coupled with the fact that many undergraduates entered professional schools account for the apparently small rise in student total recording.

Fifteen States Represented

Representatives of fifteen States, a national district, one national possession, and a foreign country make up the student body of Villanova. A very extensive territory is embraced, reaching as far West as Montana, from New Hampshire on the North to the island republic of Cuba on the South.

One student hails from the District of Columbia, while Cuba and Puerto Rico are represented by three and four native sons respectively.

Pennsylvania ranks first among the States with 45½ per cent of the total enrollment, followed by New Jersey with 12 per cent, and New York with 10½ per cent. These three proximate Commonwealths far outnumber all others in their representatives at Villanova.

Majority From East

Philadelphia is far in the lead of all other cities by amassing a total of 24½ per cent. The runnerup position once again went to New York City, which tabulated 2 per cent. Newark holds third place with 1¾ per cent. One and one-quarter per cent is credited to Lawrence, Mass., famous for its number of Villanova alumni, notwithstanding its great distance away.

According to statistical reports, the majority of students come from the Eastern portion of the United States. The following record gives the exact percentage of students, according to the various sections: Pennsylvania, 45½ per cent; New Jersey, 12 per cent; New York, 10½ per cent; Massachusetts, 4½ per cent; Connecticut, 2½ per cent, while the remaining percentage is distributed among Maryland, Virginia, New Hampshire, Delaware, Illinois, West Virginia, Montana, Vermont, Rhode Island, Indiana, Washington, D. C., Puerto Rico, and Cuba.

The fact that this year's registration in the Freshman group showed a predominant increase seems to portend that Villanova will regain her maximum enrollment total which has been on the decrease since the economic situation hampered the college careers of many American youths.

Fourteen Tickets To Be Given For Social Functions

Complimentary tickets will be given to fourteen leaders of campus organizations for the coming social season. This list was compiled at the last meeting of the Student Council and has since been approved by Rev. Bernard Albers, O. S. A., in charge of student activities.

Heretofore there has been much controversy over who should receive, and who should not be given complimentary tickets to school functions. In order to remedy this situation Council thought it best to compile one official list.

The following individuals will be recipients of tickets: president of the Senior Class, president of the Junior Class, president of the Sophomore Class, vice president of the Senior Class, the chairman of the Student Council, and the vice-chairman of the Student Council, the secretary-treasurer of the Student Council, representatives of the two active fraternities, Lamda Kappa Delta, and Pi Kappa Pi; the director of publicity and the secretary of the Alumni Association. The editors of two of the college publications, the VILLANOVAN, and the Belle Air. The two elected members of the Student Council who are seniors will also receive tickets.

FORMULATE PLAN FOR ANNUAL HOP

Fraternity to Hold Dance on Eve of Owl Game; Arrange Smoker

Definite plans were formulated at the first meeting of the Owl Hop committee, of Phi Kappa Pi fraternity, held last Thursday. All the arrangements have not been completed, but the committee decided upon the date and place for the dance.

The social, which has been a tradition here, will be held November 23, the night before the Temple-Villanova football game. In previous years the dance was always held after the game, but the committee decided that there would be more spirit prevailing the night before, thereby affording the students an opportunity to join in the "Beat Temple" spirit.

As in the past, the dance will be held in the gymnasium which will be appropriately decorated for the occasion. Decorations have not been determined, but the committee plans to transfer it into a cozy and yet spacious ballroom. Many novelties and surprises are being planned by the men in charge of the dance.

The orchestra for the affair will be The Villanovans who presented their band so successfully at the last hop. The orchestra is rehearsing already for the occasion.

Members of the smoker committee held their first meeting last week to make arrangements for the fraternity smoker to be held in the near future as an introduction to freshmen engineers in order that they might witness the activities of the club and become acquainted with the members prior to their formal induction into the group next Spring.

This year the fraternity will hold different athletic events for its members and a committee has been appointed for this purpose.

chairman, has been appointed by Joseph T. Jones, M. D., professor of public speaking. The purpose of this committee is to invite outside speakers to address the assembly. It is the desire of the committee to have an outside speaker at least once a month.

SEMINAR COMMITTEE

The seminar for students of the School of Arts will be held the third period of every Thursday. As this seminar is scheduled for every student in the above mentioned school, attendance will be obligatory.

A committee, consisting of four students with a representative from each class and a senior as

Annual Sophomore Cotillion Friday

Continued From Page One

call for patrons at future entertainments."

Success Predicted

Mr. Hosey also believes the success of the Sophomore Hop certain. He declared, "The success of our dance depends not only on the Sophomores but also upon the entire student body. The subscription is reasonable, only $1.50 a couple."

The gym will be decorated with the false ceiling and the orchestra will be placed in a shell on the side of the floor under the balcony. Officials say the acoustic condition is better in this position. The floor will be done over with a preparation of corn meal and the dance committee expects it to be in good condition.

Alumni Return For Homecoming

Continued From Page One

is leaving his position to study for his master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania.

Will Not Elect

Instead of electing officers after the game, as was the case last year, the National Alumni Association has inaugurated a change by setting the date of the election for this coming June.

Last year Honorable Charles D. McAvoy, '98, United States District Attorney and Democratic Leader of Montgomery County, was elected president and under his guidance the Alumni is expected to witness one of its finest years especially in regard to social activities.

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits and Topcoats $24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See JIM ELLIOTT Room 108, Fedigan Hall

FOR EXPERT, CONVENIENT Tonsorial Necessities PATRONIZE The CAMPUS Barber Shop (New Staff) Popular Prices

Meet Your Friends at The Bryn Mawr Confectionery (Next to Seville Theatre) Tasty Sandwiches Lunches-Dinners-Platters Reasonably Priced Music Free Dancing

NEW LAUNDRY COMPANY, Inc.
A NEW LAUNDRY WITH SEVENTY-SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE
Baring and State Sts. Baring 5434

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

GLOBE OFFICE FURNITURE CO.
We Buy and Sell New and Used Office Furniture Machinery Equipment and Safes
907 Walnut St. PENypakr 0548

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure $25 and up
All new styles now available!
Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

Suits & Topcoats $15
Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.
WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE 900 SOUTH ST.
Our Only Store

it's different now
You're lucky! Going to college used to mean good-bye to home for months on end. Now, with the telephone, you can go home in an instant. Try it tonight — a telephone "voice visit" is next best to being there!
• Call 100 miles for 60 cents by Day Rate; for 50 cents by Evening Rate; for 35 cents by Night Rate. (Station to Station calls — 3-minute connections.)
The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania
No. 21

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

GREATER DEMANDS BEING CREATED FOR COLLEGE BRED MEN

Advantages of Liberal Arts Emphasized by Educator In Discourse

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S SINCERITY IS PRAISED

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Waterville, Me., Oct. 15. — The "braintrusters" of the present administration are creating an expanding demand for college-trained men in federal service, President Franklin W. Johnson, of Colby College told the students in his address at the opening assembly of the year.

The Colby head pointed out that "in the widening sphere of government regulation of banking and industry which is likely to continue, there will be an enlarged demand for trained and competent men."

Leisure Time

He stressed the claim that the liberal arts type of college had an indispensable function in training for professional schools, in providing a broad background which is essential for success in business or politics, and in stimulating the worthy use of leisure time.

"Another college year is opening in an atmosphere of uncertainty. If I read aright the signs of the times, we are rapidly breaking away from old-time political patterns. Policies and principles which have distinguished the two great parties have either become obsolete or have been taken over by them both. A new alignment seems imminent; on the one side, those who would move in the direction of radical change—on the other, those who would adhere to methods long tried and principles long established. By whatever names they may be called, we shall have a liberal and a conservative party. This sharp distinction is rich in possibilities for the future of our country," he said.

European Tendencies

"I do not see how one can fail to admire the courage and evident sincerity of the President. Neither can I see how one who views the rapid tendencies in Europe toward the establishment of autocratic power and the suppression of the individual, can fail to be filled with apprehension at the changes that have taken place in our own country. It is well for us to examine critically the New Deal while it is still operating under the Constitution.

"The Administration in Washington is relying in an unprecedented manner upon the ability of college-trained men to solve the perplexing social and economic problems of our current life. Disparaging reference to the Brain Trusters is frequently heard, but there can be no doubt that in the widening sphere of government regulation of banking and industry which is likely to continue, there will be an enlarged demand for trained and competent men. England and Germany have found this to be the case. Public service is likely to become a skilled profession for which the colleges will prepare.

"The colleges are thus called upon to perform an indispensable service, not only in the preparation of candidates for the professional schools, but in giving the fundamental training essential for success in the business and political world."

Dean Thomas Egan, S. J., of Loyola Laments Popular Educational Trend

By Associated Collegiate Press

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 15—Scoring schools for devoting too much energy to the gathering of information and too little to the producing of wise men and women, Dean Thomas A. Egan, S. J., of Loyola University, has advised his students not to be too anxious to fill their minds with facts.

"Facts are valuable," he said, "but above all things devote your time to mastering the cultural studies. When facts flit away, a void remains, but what you forget of culture dissolves into a residue of power that flexes toward the solution of every problem.

"Today we are marching under a self-styled banner of brains. Too long has the world hoped that a mechanized philosophy born of the overstressed dominance of the physical sciences over intellect would produce a rugged individualism that would somehow or other emanate in the socialized personality so necessary for society today."

Father Egan pointed out that now, as ever, the great problem is to maintain a balance between the rights of the individual and the rights of society. In almost every age, he said, one or the other is over-emphasized.

SLEEP AND LEARN

NEW YORK, N. Y. (NSFA)—Dr. Ralph R. Winn, City College of New York, instructor of philosophy, claims that the student who sleeps during lectures retains the greatest amount of information being disseminated.

Collegiate Review

By Associated Collegiate Press

Free dancing lessons were offered to Loyola University (Chicago) freshmen so that none of the newcomers would have an excuse for staying away from student social functions.

* * *

"The function of the liberal college is to give young people the enrichments of life out of which comes success. Because of the over-emphasis of the profit motive, students get the money perspective and are dissatisfied," says Dean Lewis H. Dirks, of DePauw University (Greencastle, Indiana).

* * *

Of the total of 1,046 applicants for admission to the St. Louis University Medical School, only 148 were allowed to register.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting ....119 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.
Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting ..210 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

A. S. M. E. Meeting .....210 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.
Belle Masque Meeting .....204 Mendel Hall.....8:00 P. M.
Junior Debating Society .....208 Mendel Hall.....7:30 P. M.

THURSDAY

Sophomore and Junior Student Council Elections .....Dining Hall .....1:00 P. M.
Band Practice .....Alumni Hall.....4:00 and 7:00 P. M.

FRIDAY

Sophomore Cotillion .....Gymnasium .....9:00 P. M.

SATURDAY

Detroit-Villanova Game, Homecoming Day, Stadium.....2:30 P. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting.....215 Mendel Hall.....11:40 A. M.

Fair enough—

FROM time to time we tell you facts about Chesterfield Cigarettes.

We say that Chesterfields are different from other cigarettes—that the tobaccos are different, the paper is different, and the way they are made is different.

Everything that modern Science knows about or that money can buy is used in making Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette—a cigarette that Satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them —that would seem to be fair enough.

Strictly on their merits

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

On the air—

MONDAY	WEDNESDAY	SATURDAY
ROSA PONSELLE	NINO MARTINI	GRETE STUECKGOLD

KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
9 P.M. (E. S. T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Sophomores! Student Council Elections Thursday at Noon Don't Forget To Cast Your Vote

VILLANOVAN

Bucknell Special Leaves 9 A. M. Saturday Follow the Team And Cheer Them To Victory!

Vol. 7—No. 4 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1934 Price: Five Cents

REPORT GIVEN BY PAETRUS BANMILLER AT CONCLAVE TODAY

'Engineer' Gets Full Membership in Technical College Magazines Association

VARIOUS POLICIES WERE TREATED AT CONVENTION

Statistics Determining Villanova's Rating Among Other Schools Clearly Shown

This morning during the second period, the entire School of Technology, both faculty and students, assembled in the Amphitheatre in Mendel Hall to hear Paetrus P. Baumiller, who represented Villanova College at the Fourteenth Annual Convention of the Engineering College Magazines Association, held this year at Terre Haute, Indiana, October 15-16.

Mr. Banmiller stated the Villanova Engineer was accepted to full membership in the Association, which is made up of 23 of the largest and most representative Engineering schools in the country. At the same time, the Washington State Engineer, The New York University Quadrangle, and The Arkansas Engineer were admitted.

Tells of Requirements

In telling of the business accomplished at the convention, Mr. Banmiller explained the Association's requirements with regard to advertising, circulation and editorials. He also showed that through membership in this organization, the Engineer can secure for itself, advertising on a national scale, which could not have been accomplished by any other means.

Collegiate Rating

Statistics showing Villanova College's engineering rating among other schools throughout the country, and in the Association, were discussed. From these figures, he declared that the School of Technology has an enviable record and that it is one which should be the pride of every student.

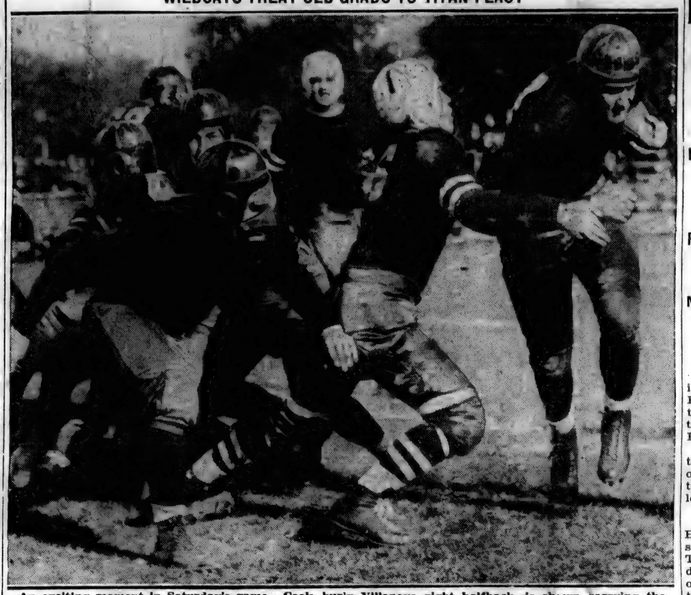
Continuing his remarks, Mr. Banmiller requested support of the publication and cooperation from the student body in order that the Engineer will improve year by year to further guarantee success to the School of Technology.

Present at Convention

Present at the convention were editors and business managers of the following publications: The Colorado Engineer, Cornell Civil Engineer, Illinois Technograph,

Continued on Page Seven

WILDCATS TREAT OLD GRADS TO TITAN FEAST



An exciting moment in Saturday's game. Cook, burly Villanova right halfback, is shown carrying the mail for a six-yard advance in one of the most thrilling contests ever played in the college stadium.
(See Page 5 For Complete Story.)

Successful Homecoming Held As 600 Grads Attend

Saturday's spectacular game, in which the fiery Wildcats clipped the wings of the flying wasps from Detroit, marked one of the most successful homecoming days that the Villanova Alumni have ever witnessed. Over 600 members of the various graduating classes attended the game in a body and joined in their voices to the lusty cheering of the rest of the student body.

Meet in Gym

Immediately after the game the grads assembled in the gym where a prize was awarded to one of the members who had come all the way from the Philippine Islands to witness and attend the Alumni festivities. James R. Kock, class of '16, won this award which is donated by Charles Laughlin, '23, for traveling greatest distance to attend the homecoming day.

Ending the day successfully the Alumni were the guests of the Philadelphia Alumni at the Hotel Adelphia in Philadelphia. A dinner dance and Jack Lynch's two hour floor show was enjoyed as a part of the entertainment.

Many of the grads came from distant places among them being Detroit, Buffalo, Rochester and New York. As a matter of fact they came from all parts, far and near.

McAvoy Here

Hon. Charles D. McAvoy, '98, District Attorney, Democratic leader of Montgomery County and President of the Alumni Association of Villanova, was the guest of Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O.S.A., president of the college.

Thursday evening, Harry Stuhldreher, football coach of Villanova, was the honored guest of the Penn A. C. at a dinner meeting which had one of the best crowds since its founding. Arrangements for the annual football banquet were discussed and the date set for December 13. Tickets may be obtained at the Alumni office in Mendel Hall for the price of $2.00.

Prominent among those who were present at the homecoming exercises were Thomas McCoy, '29, president of the Philadelphia chapter of the Alumni Association, and John J. Freney, '29, former national president of the Villanova College graduate body.

Albert C. Wagner, who recently relinquished his post of Alumni Correspondent, in order that he might continue studying for his Master's degree, was in attendance with his successor, Joseph A. Hoenig.

A large delegation of fans were present from New York City.

Sophomore Hop Opens Social Season; Villanovans Featured Entertainers

Dancing to delightful music, a crowd of more than 200 couples were gathered at the Sophomore Frolic presented by the Class of '37 in the college gymnasium, last Friday night.

Orchestra Pleases

Under the able direction of Paul D. Teel, the Villanovans supplied the melodies and proved also that they have an extensive repertoire. Considering the fact that they had little or no time to get organized, the Villanovans demonstrated that it was possible to present a formidable array of musicians on the spur of the moment. Intermissions were short and music plentiful from 9 till 1.

Despite the fact that the Sophomore Hop was put on almost spontaneously, the reward for the vigorous and enthusiastic efforts expended in its behalf by the committeemen and the class as a whole, proved worthwhile.

In a great part, the success of the frolic was due to the genuine cooperation received from the Freshman class. Practically all the newly-enrolled group exhibited a praiseworthy amount of spirit by their attendance.

Following in the footsteps of last year's class, the sophomores again opened the social calendar of the year by sponsoring this early season social. Authorization to run the dance was given by Rev. B. M. Albers, O. S. A. vice-president, in an endeavor to avoid conflicts at a later date.

Will Hold Hop

In past years it was traditional for the engineering fraternity to give the first dance of the season, after the Temple-Villanova game. The technology students will continue to hold the Owl Hop, on this date, according to school officials.

John Burke and John Hosey, president of the Sophomore class and chairman of the Frolic, respectively, manifested unusual ability in undertaking a task of such respon-

Continued on Page Seven

INFIRMARY SCHEDULE

Convenience of All Students Given As Reason for Change

In a recent announcement, Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., Infirmarian, stated that there had been a change in the hours during which the Infirmary would be open. The revised schedule is as follows: In the morning from 7:45 to 8:45, during the lunch hour from 12:30 to 1:30 and in the afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30. There will be a doctor in attendance daily at 4:30 P. M.

John T. Delahanty, a junior in the School of Science, will be in charge.

Holy Name Rally To Be Held Here Sunday Afternoon

Societies From Main Line Parishes Will Assemble In C. & F. Building

Plans for the Holy Name sectional rally to be held in the Commerce and Finance building next Sunday are nearing completion. All the Holy Name societies of the different parishes situated in the Main Line section will participate in this great demonstration of Catholic action.

To Give Benediction

Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be celebrated immediately after the meeting in the college chapel. Acolytes from St. Mary's Hall will assist at the services, and the organist also will be a seminarian.

If present arrangements are com-

Continued on Page Seven

JUNIORS ELECT RAY McGUNNIGLE

Elections Held Thursday In Rear of Dining Hall By Student Council

Raymond McGunnigle carried off the honors in the Junior class elections to select a Student Council representative to fill the unexpired term in that organization. The vacancy occured because of the failure of one of the class representatives, chosen last year, to return to school. Mr. McGunnigle is a junior in the School of Arts.

Eight men were selected as nominees for the elections, which were held Thursday in the rear of the dining hall. James Walsh, president of the Student Council, presided at the elections, and was assisted by Ralph Violetti and Augustine Ranieri.

As is the custom of the Council, no definite figures were released, but Council officers revealed that the balloting was close. Other nominees selected by the Juniors were: Joseph Bigley, Science; Arthur Noble, Arts; Charles Miller, Science; Florindo Tronceletti, Ernest Zaloom and John Erbeck, all representing the Commerce and Finance school.

RUN SPECIAL TRAIN FOR WILDCAT-BISON FOOTBALL CONTEST

Lewisburg Pilgrimage Leaves Campus Depot at 9 A. M.; Diner Attached

ROUND TRIP FARE $2.50; AVAILABLE AT BOOKROOM

Many Students to Attend; Game Admission Not Included in Fare

Following a precedent established in former years, the Pennsylvania Railroad has detailed a special train to carry Villanova rooters to the Wildcat-Bison encounter in Lewisburg this Saturday.

Tickets will be sold for a round trip to students at a nominal cost of $2.50. This is a great saving on the regular fare to the upstate college town.

Makes Stop Here

A special train will leave the Broad Street terminal of the Pennsylvania Railroad at 8:37 A. M. This will reach the Thirtieth Street depot at 8:41 A. M., the Fifty-second Street station at 8:48 A. M., and the Main Line stop at the Villanova depot at 9 A. M.

Students may board the train at any of the above mentioned stations. However, the Band and all the resident students making the trip will assemble at the campus station at 8:45 A. M.

A dining car will be attached to the Wildcat Special and anyone desiring to dine may do so either on the trip North or returning home. A special coach will be attached to

Continued on Page Three

NORTH JERSEY CLUB TO SPONSOR DANCE

Affair Following Manhattan Game Wil Be Held At Newark A. C.

According to chairman Harold McGrath, a senior in the School of Technology, the North Jersey Club's dance on Nov. 17 following the Manhattan game promises to be the organization's outstanding success to date.

The affair will be held at the Newark Athletic Club, Newark, N. J., and will feature the music of Andy Kress and his Crestmore Club orchestra. Mr. Kress recently concluded a highly successful summer engagement at the Avon Inn, Avon-By-The-Sea, as the October issue of the music magazine, "Metronome," will testify. He has one of the most popular bands in the Newark area and should prove a great favorite with those who enjoy the terpsichorean art.

Team Invited

There will be dancing from nine until one and dress will be semi-formal. The price of bids has finally been set at $2.50. All members of the football team have been invited and a large number is expected to attend.

The dance committee headed by chairman McGrath includes John Cronin, Daniel Fitzpatrick, John Erbect, John Scalera, Benjamin Geraghty, Edwin Riley, Joseph McCabe, Joseph Lyons and Edward Carlin.

At the meeting on last Thursday night the following men were admitted into the organization: Thomas O'Brien, Ralph Cost and Ignatius LaRosa.

Notices have been mailed to the alumni of North Jersey and all indications point to a strong support of the affair on their part.

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

GREATER DEMANDS BEING CREATED FOR COLLEGE BRED MEN

Advantages of Liberal Arts Emphasized by Educator In Discourse

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S SINCERITY IS PRAISED

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

Waterville, Me., Oct. 15 — The "braintrusters" of the present administration are creating an expanding demand for college-trained men in federal service, President Franklin W. Johnson, of Colby College told the students in his address at the opening assembly of the year.

The Colby head pointed out that "in the widening sphere of government regulation of banking and industry which is likely to continue, there will be an enlarged demand for trained and competent men."

Leisure Time

He stressed the claim that the liberal arts type of college had an indispensable function in training for professional schools, in providing a broad background which is essential for success in business or politics, and in stimulating the worthy use of leisure time.

"Another college year is opening in an atmosphere of uncertainty. If I read aright the signs of the times, we are rapidly breaking away from old-time political patterns. Policies and principles which have distinguished the two great parties have either become obsolete or have been taken over by them both. A new alignment seems imminent; on the one side, those who would move in the direction of radical change—on the other, those who would adhere to methods long tried and principles long established. By whatever names they may be called, we shall have a liberal and a conservative party. This sharp distinction is rich in possibilities for the future of our country," he said.

European Tendencies

"I do not see how one can fail to admire the courage and evident sincerity of the President. Neither can I see how one who views the rapid tendencies in Europe toward the establishment of autocratic power and the suppression of the individual, can fail to be filled with apprehension at the changes that have taken place in our own country. It is well for us to examine critically the New Deal while it is still operating under the Constitution.

"The Administration in Washington is relying in an unprecedented manner upon the ability of college-trained men to solve the perplexing social and economic problems of our current life. Disparaging reference to the Brain Trusters is frequently heard, but there can be no doubt that in the widening sphere of government regulation of banking and industry which is likely to continue, there will be an enlarged demand for trained and competent men. England and Germany have found this to be the case. Public service is likely to become a skilled profession for which the colleges will prepare.

"The colleges are thus called upon to perform an indispensable service, not only in the preparation of candidates for the professional schools, but in giving the fundamental training essential for success in the business and political world."

Dean Thomas Egan, S. J., of Loyola Laments Popular Educational Trend

By Associated Collegiate Press

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 15—Scoring schools for devoting too much energy to the gathering of information and too little to the producing of wise men and women, Dean Thomas A. Egan, S. J., of Loyola University, has advised his students not to be too anxious to fill their minds with facts.

"Facts are valuable," he said, "but above all things devote your time to mastering the cultural studies. When facts flit away, a void remains, but what you forget of culture dissolves into a residue of power that flexes toward the solution of every problem.

"Today we are marching under a sail-styled banner of brains. Too long has the world hoped that a mechanized philosophy born of the overstressed dominance of the physical sciences over intellect would produce a rugged individualism that would somehow or other emanate in the socialized personality so necessary for society today."

Father Egan pointed out that now, as ever, the great problem is to maintain a balance between the rights of the individual and the rights of society. In almost every age, he said, one or the other is over-emphasized.

SLEEP AND LEARN

NEW YORK, N. Y. (NSFA)—Dr. Ralph R. Winn, City College of New York, instructor of philosophy, claims that the student who sleeps during lectures retains the greatest amount of information being disseminated.

Collegiate Review

By Associated Collegiate Press

Free dancing lessons were offered to Loyola University (Chicago) freshmen so that none of the newcomers would have an excuse for staying away from student social functions.

* * *

"The function of the liberal college is to give young people the enrichments of life out of which comes success. Because of the over-emphasis of the profit motive, students get the money perspective and are dissatisfied," says Dean Lewis H. Dirks, of DePauw University (Greencastle, Indiana).

* * *

Of the total of 1,046 applicants for admission to the St. Louis University Medical School, only 148 were allowed to register.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting ....119 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.
Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting ...210 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

A. S. M. E. Meeting .....210 Mendel Hall.....1:00 P. M.
Belle Masque Meeting .....204 Mendel Hall.....8:00 P. M.
Junior Debating Society .....208 Mendel Hall.....7:30 P. M.

THURSDAY

Sophomore and Junior Student Council Elections .....Dining Hall .....1:00 P. M.
Band Practice .....Alumni Hall....4:00 and 7:00 P. M.

FRIDAY

Sophomore Cotillion .....Gymnasium .....9:00 P. M.

SATURDAY

Detroit-Villanova Game, Homecoming Day, Stadium.....2:30 P. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting.....215 Mendel Hall.....11:40 A. M.

Fair enough—

FROM time to time we tell you facts about Chesterfield Cigarettes.

We say that Chesterfields are different from other cigarettes—that the tobaccos are different, the paper is different, and the way they are made is different.

Everything that modern Science knows about or that money can buy is used in making Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette—a cigarette that Satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them —that would seem to be fair enough.

Strictly on their merits

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

On the air—

MONDAY WEDNESDAY SATURDAY
ROSA NINO GRETE
PONSELLE MARTINI STUECKGOLD
KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
9 P. M. (E. S. T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Sophomores! Student Council Elections Thursday at Noon Don't Forget To Cast Your Vote

VILLANOVAN

Bucknell Special Leaves 9 A. M. Saturday Follow the Team And Cheer Them To Victory!

Vol. 7—No. 4 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23, 1934 Price: Five Cents

REPORT GIVEN BY PAETRUS BANMILLER AT CONCLAVE TODAY

'Engineer' Gets Full Membership in Technical College Magazines Association

VARIOUS POLICIES WERE TREATED AT CONVENTION

Statistics Determining Villanova's Rating Among Other Schools Clearly Shown

This morning during the second period, the entire School of Technology, both faculty and students, assembled in the Amphitheatre in Mendel Hall to hear Paetrus F. Banmiller, who represented Villanova College at the Fourteenth Annual Convention of the Engineering College Magazines Association, held this year at Terre Haute, Indiana, October 15-16.

Mr. Banmiller stated the Villanova Engineer was accepted to full membership in the Association, which is made up of 23 of the largest and most representative Engineering schools in the country. At the same time, the Washington State Engineer, The New York University Quadrangle, and The Arkansas Engineer were admitted.

Tells of Requirements

In telling of the business accomplished at the convention, Mr. Banmiller explained the Association's requirements with regard to advertising, circulation and editorials. He also showed that through membership in this organization, the Engineer can secure for itself, advertising on a national scale, which could not have been accomplished by any other means.

Collegiate Rating

Statistics showing Villanova College's engineering rating among other schools throughout the country, and in the Association, were discussed. From these figures, he declared that the School of Technology has an enviable record and that it is one which should be the pride of every student.

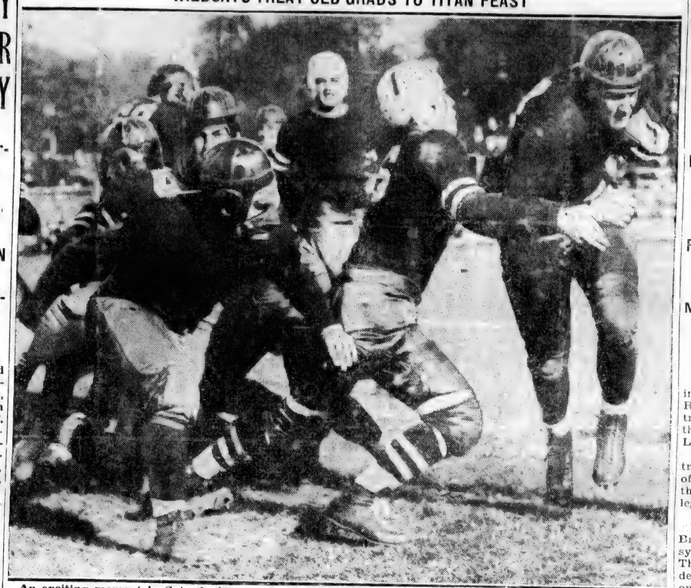
Continuing his remarks, Mr. Banmiller requested support of the publication and cooperation from the student body in order that the Engineer will improve year by year to further guarantee success to the School of Technology.

Present at Convention

Present at the convention were editors and business managers of the following publications: The Colorado Engineer, Cornell Civil Engineer, Illinois Technograph,

Continued on Page Seven

WILDCATS TREAT OLD GRADS TO TITAN FEAST



An exciting moment in Saturday's game. Cook, burly Villanova right halfback, is shown carrying the mail for a six-yard advance in one of the most thrilling contests ever played in the college stadium. (See Page 5 For Complete Story.)

Successful Homecoming Held As 600 Grads Attend

Saturday's spectacular game, in which the fiery Wildcats clipped the wings of the flying wasps from Detroit, marked one of the most successful homecoming days that the Villanova Alumni have ever witnessed. Over 600 members of the various graduating classes attended the game in a body and joined in their voices to the lusty cheering of the rest of the student body.

Meet in Gym

Immediately after the game the grads assembled in the gym where a prize was awarded to one of the members who had come all the way from the Philippine Islands to witness and attend the Alumni festivities. James R. Kocik, class of '16, won this award which is donated by Charles Laughlin, '23, for traveling greatest distance to attend the homecoming day.

Ending the day successfully the Alumni were the guests of the Philadelphia Alumni at the Hotel Adelphia in Philadelphia. A dinner dance and Jack Lynch's two hour floor show was enjoyed as a part of the entertainment.

Many of the grads came from distant places among them being Detroit, Buffalo, Rochester and New York. As a matter of fact they came from all parts, far and near.

McAvoy Here

Hon. Charles D. McAvoy, '98, District Attorney, Democratic leader of Montgomery County and President of the Alumni Association of Villanova, was the guest of Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O.S.A., president of the college.

Thursday evening, Harry Stuhldreher, football coach of Villanova, was the honored guest of the Penn A. C. at a dinner meeting which had one of the best crowds since its founding. Arrangements for the annual football banquet were discussed and the date set for December 13. Tickets may be obtained at the Alumni office in Mendel Hall for the price of $2.00.

Prominent among those who were present at the homecoming exercises were Thomas McCoy, '29, president of the Philadelphia chapter of the Alumni Association, and John J. Freney, '29, former national president of the Villanova College graduate body.

Albert C. Wagner, who recently relinquished his post of Alumni Correspondent, in order that he might continue studying for his Master's degree, was in attendance with his successor, Joseph A. Hoenig.

A large delegation of fans were present from New York City.

Sophomore Hop Opens Social Season; Villanovans Featured Entertainers

Dancing to delightful music, a crowd of more than 200 couples were gathered at the Sophomore Frolic presented by the Class of '37 in the college gymnasium, last Friday night.

Orchestra Pleases

Under the able direction of Paul D. Teel, the Villanovans supplied the melodies and proved also that they have an extensive repertoire. Considering the fact that they had little or no time to get organized, the Villanovans demonstrated that it was possible to present a formidable array of musicians on the spur of the moment. Intermissions were short and music plentiful from 9 till 1.

Despite the fact that the Sophomore Hop was put on almost spontaneously, the reward for the vigorous and enthusiastic efforts expended in its behalf by the committeemen and the class as a whole, proved worthwhile.

In a great part, the success of the frolic was due to the genuine cooperation received from the Freshman class. Practically all the newly-enrolled group exhibited a praiseworthy amount of spirit by their attendance.

Following in the footsteps of last year's class, the sophomores again opened the social calendar of the year by sponsoring this early season social. Authorization to run the dance was given by Rev. B. M. Albers, O. S. A. vice-president, in an endeavor to avoid conflicts at a later date.

Will Hold Hop

In past years it was traditional for the engineering fraternity to give the first dance of the season, after the Temple-Villanova game. The technology students will continue to hold the Owl Hop, on this date, according to school officials.

John Burke and John Hosey, president of the Sophomore class and chairman of the Frolic, respectively, manifested unusual ability in undertaking a task of such respon-

Continued on Page Seven

INFIRMARY SCHEDULE

Convenience of All Students Given As Reason for Change

In a recent announcement, Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., Infirmarian, stated that there had been a change in the hours during which the Infirmary would be open. The revised schedule is as follows: In the morning from 7:45 to 8:45, during the lunch hour from 12:30 to 1:30 and in the afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30. There will be a doctor in attendance daily at 4:30 P. M.

John T. Delahanty, a junior in the School of Science, will be in charge.

Holy Name Rally To Be Held Here Sunday Afternoon

Societies From Main Line Parishes Will Assemble In C. & F. Building

Plans for the Holy Name sectional rally to be held in the Commerce and Finance building next Sunday are nearing completion. All the Holy Name societies of the different parishes situated in the Main Line section will participate in this great demonstration of Catholic action.

To Give Benediction

Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be celebrated immediately after the meeting in the college chapel. Acolytes from St. Mary's Hall will assist at the services, and the organist also will be a seminarian.

If present arrangements are com-

Continued on Page Seven

JUNIORS ELECT RAY McGUNNIGLE

Elections Held Thursday In Rear of Dining Hall By Student Council

Raymond McGunnigle carried off the honors in the Junior class elections to select a Student Council representative to fill the unexpired term in that organization. The vacancy occured because of the failure of one of the class representatives, chosen last year, to return to school. Mr. McGunnigle is a junior in the School of Arts.

Eight men were selected as nominees for the elections, which were held Thursday in the rear of the dining hall. James Walsh, president of the Student Council, presided at the elections, and was assisted by Ralph Violetti and Augustine Ranieri.

As is the custom of the Council, no definite figures were released, but Council officers revealed that the balloting was close. Other nominees selected by the Juniors were: Joseph Bigley, Science; Arthur Noble, Arts; Charles Miller, Science; Florindo Tronceletti, Ernest Zaloom and John Erbeck, all representing the Commerce and Finance school.

RUN SPECIAL TRAIN FOR WILDCAT-BISON FOOTBALL CONTEST

Lewisburg Pilgrimage Leaves Campus Depot at 9 A. M.; Diner Attached

ROUND TRIP FARE $2.50; AVAILABLE AT BOOKROOM

Many Students to Attend; Game Admission Not Included in Fare

Following a precedent established in former years, the Pennsylvania Railroad has detailed a special train to carry Villanova rooters to the Wildcat-Bison encounter in Lewisburg this Saturday.

Tickets will be sold for a round trip to students at a nominal cost of $2.50. This is a great saving on the regular fare to the upstate college town.

Makes Stop Here

A special train will leave the Broad Street terminal of the Pennsylvania Railroad at 8:37 A. M. This will reach the Thirtieth Street depot at 8:41 A. M., the Fifty-second Street station at 8:48 A. M., and the Main Line stop at the Villanova depot at 9 A. M.

Students may board the train at any of the above mentioned stations. However, the Band and all the resident students making the trip will assemble at the campus station at 8:45 A. M.

A dining car will be attached to the Wildcat Special and anyone desiring to dine may do so either on the trip North or returning home. A special coach will be attached to

Continued on Page Three

NORTH JERSEY CLUB TO SPONSOR DANCE

Affair Following Manhattan Game Wil Be Held At Newark A. C.

According to chairman Harold McGrath, a senior in the School of Technology, the North Jersey Club's dance on Nov. 17 following the Manhattan game promises to be the organization's outstanding success to date.

The affair will be held at the Newark Athletic Club, Newark, N. J., and will feature the music of Andy Kress and his Crestmore Club orchestra. Mr. Kress recently concluded a highly successful summer engagement at the Avon Inn, Avon-By-The-Sea, as the October issue of the music magazine, "Metronome," will testify. He has one of the most popular bands in the Newark area and should prove a great favorite with those who enjoy the terpsichorean art.

Team Invited

There will be dancing from nine until one and dress will be semi-formal. The price of bids has finally been set at $2.50. All members of the football team have been invited and a large number is expected to attend.

The dance committee headed by chairman McGrath includes John Cronin, Daniel Fitzpatrick, John Erbect, John Scalera, Benjamin Geraghty, Edwin Riley, Joseph McCabe, Joseph Lyons and Edward Carlin.

At the meeting on last Thursday night the following men were admitted into the organization: Thomas O'Brien, Ralph Cost and Ignatius LaRosa.

Notices have been mailed to the alumni of North Jersey and all indications point to a strong support of the affair on their part.

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35.....Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35.....Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35.....College Editor
LOUIS P. MARESCHAL, '35.....Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35.....Feature Editor
JOHN C. DiJOSEPH, '36.....Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35.....Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35.....Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35.....Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35.....Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35.....Art and Photographic Editor

Associate College Editor: Edmond C. Malhame, '35
Associate Sports Editor: William J. Allen, '35

Associates to the College Staff
Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers
Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Gogni, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marcouse, '35 — Anthony Catrambone, '36
Norton C. Paden, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff
Edward Kelly, '37 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurasonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Differ, '37
Frank M. Alfano, Jr., '36 — James Boland, '38
George Fanning, '37 — Frank Megaro, '38
Harvey Davis, '38 — Louis D'Angelo, '35
Richard Kelly, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Louis Biester, '38 — John Scniera, '34
Basil W. Dobrowolski, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.
Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.
MEMBER Associated Collegiate Press — 1934 Collegiate Digest 1935 — MADISON WISCONSIN
Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - - OCTOBER 23, 1934

LITERARY ADVISER

CUSTOMS Bureau's censorship has in the past been subject to much criticism from the literati of America in regard to their decisions to admit and to reject books from other countries. It was only natural that there should be such criticism. One cannot expect those whose knowledge and background has been limited in the field of literature to pass intelligent judgment on the worth of a book. This is not intended as a denunciation of the ability of the customs collectors. We realize what a difficult task they had. They did their best in a position for which they were not sufficiently skilled.

Now with the appointment by the Treasury Department of Huntington Cairns, a Baltimore lawyer, as literary advisor attached to the Customs Bureau, it is thought such condemnation will not be forthcoming. Mr. Cairns is an authority on books. His known liberal viewpoint fits in nicely with his present position. Yet we feel the duties of the post preclude the absence of such dissension. It is impossible to please everyone, and it is not to be hoped that the new literary adviser will try to do so.

THE PRESIDENT ON EDUCATION

CALLING education the partner of government, President Roosevelt threw some light on the reasons for the establishment of the "Brain Trust" when he spoke at the College of William and Mary last Saturday on the occasion of his reception of an honorary degree of doctor of laws. Without specifically referring to the "Trusters," the President's speech was regarded as a defence of the professors and teachers whom he has called to service in his administration. Mr. Roosevelt cited the need for a broad, liberal and non-specialized education. He claimed that knowledge in one field is not enough, but that the purpose of a college education should be to train, not merely doctors, lawyers and business men, but broad-gauged men of the world for citizenship in a great republic. The majority of American colleges have recognized this need for men of liberal education, for practically every course, although pointing a student toward a definite profession, has subjects which do not pertain to that field, but which are intended to broaden the college man's viewpoint and education. The student who specializes in the subjects pertaining to one course has a narrow outlook. He has little knowledge of affairs outside his own profession and has a restricted field for conversation. Such a man can hardly be considered well prepared for citizenship in a great republic where a broad and liberal knowledge is necessary for a proper interpretation of events and the correction thereof by the use of the ballot. It is to be hoped that this non-specialized and liberal trend in education will continue in American colleges, for there is still much to be desired and we are much more specialized than European students.

IT'S UP TO THE BANKERS

FROM Francis M. Law, president of the American Bankers Association, comes the salient fact that bankers, marching on Washington for their 60th annual convention, are coming with an olive branch in their hands instead of fire in their eyes. Briefly they are prepared to tell business interests of their own increased confidence and to give assurance that it is now safe to go ahead with plans for the future. For the first time in many years they have chosen a political site for their convention in lieu of a financial one, thus signifying their intent to work with the present administration and declaring Government obligations to be sound. President Roosevelt, furthermore, has been invited to address the convention, which in view of present circumstances, it is almost certain he will accept. Mr. Law said that "business men are a conservative lot and want to know what the future holds in store before going into debt." Therefore, from the facts contained in the article, it can be seen that the bankers, forsaking their former attitude, have come to a realization, that some effort on their part must be essayed to move the tremendous amount of dormant capital, now lying in their vaults.

OUR POLICY

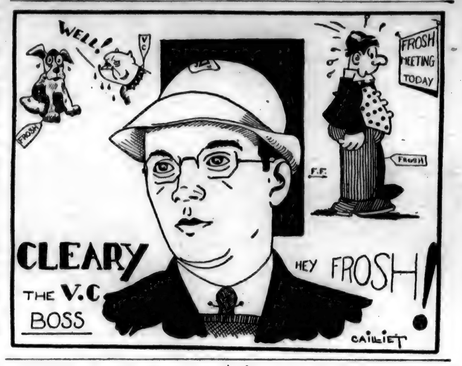
IT IS generally admitted that during one's college career he acquires all the manly virtues, and being a man falls within the category of one's ability to "take it." Frankly, it is a deplorable situation when a college newspaper is forced to remind its student readers of this fact. However, the editorial board of this paper finds it necessary to reiterate its policy of fair play because of an undercurrent of dissension expressed by an insignificant minority.

Never have we maliciously intended to defame anyone's character, nor have we purposely tried to cause embarrassment through columns of student comment. Anything ever written as a daring "expose" of the private life of any student here should be taken with the proverbial grain of salt, and accepted as a good sport should. We are neither interested in the private affairs of anyone here, nor do we ever intend to make it our business in the future. Thus with this explanation of our stand in regard to this situation, we hope the wrath of the campus "soreheads" will be appeased sufficiently to accept our profound apologies for anything directed at them with good intent or in jest. In the future, those who wish their names omitted from this publication or take exception to something which has been printed, should communicate with the editors directly. A campaign of complaints does nobody good.

ON TO BUCKNELL

THE coming of the Bucknell game this Saturday recalls to mind the tense rivalry that has existed between the Wildcats and the Bisons for many years. In the past when the contest was staged in Scranton, a large number of students were always on hand to cheer the Villanova eleven in its hour of need, and often the Wildcats needed the support that comes from a cheering section.

Campus Celebs - - - - By Cailliet



YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

THE parade of campus events flashed weekly on this screen of paper print, has resulted in much ribbing of the featured 'eventurers' by those who make up the audience that sit behind the brightlights. To turn the tables, and do a right about face with the spotlight would produce an uneasy feeling among the many smug and self-complacent jibbers there. By popular request of the Fedigan branch of the Actors' Guild we turn the spot on a chief offender, Jim Fitzpatrick. We can not offhand say of Fitz that Cupid's barb of love has pricked his heart. But this we can and do say: That Fitz has a steady, a culminating acquaintance of months, one whom he is pleased to escort to all dances, and who only Friday at the Sophomore Cotillion was seen in his arms wafting away on wings of music a la Villanovans. And with that, the curtain is rung down on this little expose. May there be no weeping and gnashing of teeth!

There should never be another game played without a rally beforehand. What happened on our gridiron Saturday is reason enough. Positively there is no question of doubt that the fine type of Villanova play exhibited there against Detroit was inspired by Friday's rally. We Villanovans want more of these rallies. We also wish Reds Bradley to be there to publicly put the hoodoo on our opponents. Last and foremost, we emphatically demand, order, command and coerce the presence of our coach for another of those great speeches which so pleasantly affect the tear bags. Yes there is nothing like a rally to bring out from hiding the stuff our team has. As to the game Saturday, there remains this conclusion: the better team won.

George Kennedy halfback on the 150-lb team may be troubled picking his way, as the saying goes, but when it comes to women he's an All-American. It was brought to our attention for the first time after seeing his blonde bit of eye easer at the game Saturday. We wonder the more now why George is so silent. Believe us he has sumpin to talk about.

A law of some sort should be legislated to keep free the names, deeds and actions of the greats of the past from the lowering and abusive vernacular of the present. Reference to these immortals of the goneby certainly deserves more respect than to be singled out as 'that guy Shakespeare' or 'this gink Browning.' John Alden 'went to bat' for 'Miles Standish, Edgar Allen Poe 'kicked the gong around,' and George Washington had a rather large 'schnozzle' are popular, irreverent descriptions of the times. Only in English cla s the other day a student explaining the purpose of John Smith's writings in America set it forth in these slangy words: 'To let the homefolks know how he was doin.' This isn't right and something must be done.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

WHETHER you heard of the "Villanova Dollar" or not, may we say that the students of Temple U. were finally convinced that they actually saved $1 for each contest between Villanova and Temple? President Charles E. Beury, of Temple U., emphatically and explicitly showed the dissenting student body that by resorting to this method there was a saving of 75 cents on each series played between the rival colleges. For further explanation on the dollar matter, call at the VILLANOVAN office.

• • •

A special dispatch from Cambridge, Mass., tells us that spinach is the most palatable vegetable of Harvard students. The universally known New England fish dinners and boiled dinners are rarely served because of lack of demand. Furthermore, the Boston baked beans and brown bread which are on the menu every Saturday are ordered by comparatively few. Do the Harvard students believe in "Popeye"? Hamburgers are served daily in the Pie Shoppe for the benefit of the "Wimpinites." See Louie.

• • •

It is deplorable to state this, but news is news. The University of South Carolina has dedicated a new stadium which eliminates the annoying glare of the sun. We wonder if the sun will annoy the South Carolina rooters from the South when we meet them November 10.

• • •

To break the monotony, we offer some collegiate humor. A student of Sweet Briar College recently contributed her aunt's picture in a contest sponsored by Ballyhoo. It was published—with comments.

• • •

Speaking of the weaker sex, here is one you will not forget. Washington College co-eds, after a smoky fight, were granted permission to smoke in classes. The next day several girls came to class smoking corncob pipes. The professor ordered that all windows be kept closed. Soon the girls, one by one, excused themselves hurriedly and informally. We offer our compliments to the wise professor, and to the girls—well, they are only girls.

• • •

The graduate manager of athletics at Fordham U. relates this story: A woman called one morning and asked for tickets. He in return told her that the only tickets he had left were for the lower stands and behind the goal posts. Naively, the woman queried, "Where are the goal posts?" Can you tell us why some women go to football games?

• • •

The length of a man's life can be accurately predicted by an examination of his eyes, Dr. Felix Bernstein, of Columbia University, maintains. It is done by testing the "accommodating power" of a person's eyes. Students can write to him and make arrangements for a test. Try it when in New York.

• • •

The University of South Carolina has dedicated a new stadium which eliminates the annoying glare of the sun.

As We See It .... College Days

Now that the bustling days of registration, arrangemeat of classes and general orientation are over, thousands of young Americans are settling down to the steady routine of college life. This time is ideal for quiet and serious consideration of the significance of our status as collegians.

We venture to say that a large percentage of those thronging the halls of learning have only a vague notion of what they are doing. Fascinated by the spectacle of buildings and classes, professors and books, and enticed by the prospect of participation in the social side of college life, students are too often so dazzled by these trappings of education that they cannot see its purpose. Many a man passes his collegiate days in a sort of trance, never once waking up to the real meaning of that mysterious process called "getting an education."

It is the mark of an intelligent man to set clearly before himself the goal of his endeavor in order to adopt the means best fitted to attain it. As a new scholastic year gets under way, then, we might consider with profiit what college is all about. The first and most obvious objective of the collegian is a certain proficiency in that which is the immediate object of his study, say engineering or business or the arts. There are, however, other and far more important benefits to be looked for as the fruit of the labor of these days. The college course is designed to aid the student in the formation of his character; to help him acquire the proper outlook on life; to exercise his mind in its God-given function of thinking. Of this latter we would say a few words.

To state that thinking men are few is to voice a truism. And the reason is apparent. Like any other faculty, the intellect must be exercised perseveringly if it is to remain a vigorous power. With vast numbers of men, mental exertion is a "malum vitandum." The college-bred man should never be among this number. He has advanced beyond the child's play of rote-memorization to the man's task of strenuous thinking. No matter what the object of his study may be, it is intended to call forth intense mental effort. The college student learns to mull over what is proposed to his mind, to wring from the material laid before him by books and professors the last iota of significance. He grows familiar day by day with the wonderful process of laying hold of the facts of experience and working them over until they become part of his own mental edifice.

The development of the whole range of intellectual powers entails much uphill work. There is little enjoyment, for the beginner, in any art. But as he learns to use all the amazing powers of his mind, the student will awake to a consciousness of the world of wonders that has lain hidden within him. Moreover, he will see new vistas opening out before him, for the thoughtful man possesses the "Open Sesame" to realms hopelessly beyond the reach of the unreflecting. The college student deriving this single advantage from his course will be in a position to lead an immeasurably fuller, richer life.

Run Special Train To Bucknell Tilt

Continued From Page One

the Villanova Flyer at Lewisburg and the team will make the trip homeward with the rooters. The section will leave for Villanova approximately one hour after the game.

The railway fare does not include the ticket for the game. Many were of the opinion that railroad accommodations included admission to the game. This is not so. Both tickets may be procured at the College bookroom.

If the spirit prevailing on the campus may be taken as a criterion, one of the largest rooting sections in the past few years will make the journey North for the annual clash of the Main Liners and their traditional rivals of the coal mine district.

Fashion Notes By Collegiate Digest

For Tails Only

The most exacting care for correct dress must be exercised when the college man is making preparations to attend formal affairs. For the truly formal occasion he must don full dress tails and not the "formal" dinner jacket.

It has long been the custom at many institutions that the tuxedo is the correct formal dress. The experts have long ago decreed that it should be worn only at the formal dinner, and if you are well Post-ed on what is correct attire you will not wear your tuxedo at the formal dance.

The white waistcoat should be worn with "tails", with the latest design in formal vests having no back and pointed ends. The lapels are cut square across the bottom, giving a "broadening" effect that is new and modern.

A la Airplanes

The days of the cutting wing collars seem to be passing rapidly, for the latest designs of formal neckwear are bringing into vogue a collar with a wide wing-spread which should prove more comfortable. The collar illustrated in the accompanying inset is one of the smartest of the new cuts, and the square-end tie worn with it gives it a truly modernistic appearance. The tie is white, of course, and should be tied with a small knot.

When it comes to the small accessories that must top-off the collegian's formal attire, care should be taken to purchase only those that are ultra-modern in design, and should include studs and cufflinks, watch chain, suspenders, socks, etc. More about these later.

DIAL-LOG

RADIO HAS supplanted the sugar-coated pills of wisdom and gramaphone to a very great degree, but a firm under the name of the Decca Corporation still feels that recordings are popular. So much so that they have hired the services of Ray Noble whose recordings were Victor's best-sellers, and the Casa Loma Orchestra which was Brunswick's most popular recording orchestra. This company has also secured the services of Bing Crosby, the Mills Brothers, the Dorsey Brothers, Victor Young and others.

At the Biltmore and on his broadcasts with Ruth Etting, Jimmy Grier is featuring his new vocal discovery, Pinky Tomlin, fresh from Arkadelphia, Oklahoma. Pinky looks so much like Kay Kyser that he can double for him, and as far as voice is concerned he is a potential Bing Crosby, Jimmy asserts.

If his doctor will guarantee to take out Bing Crosby's appendix around midnight on a Tuesday and have him on his feet again for his broadcast the following Tuesday, Bing is going to indulge in the operation as soon as he finishes his next picture, "Here Is My Heart."

Walter Huston, distinguished star of stage and screen, in his well remembered Broadway hit, "The Barker," will be the attraction at the third Lux Radio Theatre broadcast over the coast-to-coast NBC network on Sunday, October 28th, at 2:30 P. M. With Huston in the cast at the NBC Radio City studios will be Lee Patrick and Marjorie Wood, who appeared with him in the stage version of the play, and other well-known Hootlight and microphone performers.

Ed Wynn is honorary Fire Chief for so many fire departments throughout the country that he has to keep his insignias of office in a special trunk. The NBC comic has, nevertheless, a horror of fires and never under any circumstances rushes to a conflagration even in the capacity of a spectator.

Irvin Cobb, story teller and raconteur, became an overnight success when first introduced to radio listeners a few years ago. Already famed as a newspaperman, story writer, dramatist, and lecturer, his sugar-coated pills of wisdom and his homely American wit struck just the right note. The program is heard over NBC network every Sunday evening at five o'clock.

Phil Harris and Leah Ray, now occupied in making a mythical tour of America's best known campuses, will "visit" the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, and Princeton University. Harris intends to give his radio audience a sample of the gaiety which reigns in college towns the evening before a big football game. He will play a pre-game dance in tribute to the elevens of Princeton and Cornell on Friday, October 26th, at 9:00 P. M.

The Picken's Sister's first complete short "Good Luck and Best Wishes" is now being shown throughout the country. Patti Pickens, youngest member of the harmony trio, plays the ingenue lead.

With football in the air, an All-American selection is not far off. What do you think of this suggested All-American band, made up of orchestra leaders? The string section includes Victor Young, Joe Venuti, Georgie Stoll and Eddie South, with Paul Whiteman holding down the viola assignment. The saxophone lineup has Glen Gray, Isham Jones, Jimmy Dorsey and Adrian Rollini. The trumpeters are Henry Busse, Roy Fox, Red Nichols and B. A. Rolfe, the trombonists Tommy Dorsey, Jack Teagarden and Slim Martin, with the bass posts accorded to Don Bestor. At the pianos, Duke Ellington and Eddie Duchin would hold forth. Abe Lyman is assigned the drums and Eddie Peabody is given the banjo and guitar spot. The leader is Ben Bernie and the vocalist Rudy Vallee.

Annette Hanshaw's withdrawal from the Show Boat Program over the NBC network to join the Casa Loma Caravan on the CBS has led to an emotional crisis among the local employes in the NBC mail rooms. They're flooded with mail from Show Boat listeners who want to know why Annette's no longer heard on NBC, and somehow they just hate to send those letters over to CBS.

A man who has been smoking Granger for a long time said this:

"A package of Granger gives me and my old pipe about 9 hours of enjoyment.

"My pipe is about average size, and smoking it leisurely as I like to do, a pipeload of Granger lasts me about 25 minutes, and that means that I get about 21 good pipeloads from every package.

"Was there ever so much enjoyment for so small a cost?"

... in a common-sense package—10c

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL
—folks seem to like it

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Annual Survey Shows Four Freshmen Registered Here are 16-Years Old

Because of the almost unfailing interest that is exercised by the average adult in the matter of precocity, the VILLANOVAN conducts an annual survey to determine the past, from which one may conclude the future abilities of the members of the freshman class.

This survey has a twofold effect in that it not only affords some definite basis for judging the educational potentialities of the new student, but it also gives an insight into the aims and ideals of the individual.

Four Are Sixteen

Among the first year students who have matriculated at the college this year are four who come into the spotlight inasmuch as there is approximately two years difference between their ages and the ages of the other members of the same class. These four students are each sixteen years of age.

John Licha, who is the son of Mrs. Anita Licha, of San Juan, Porto Rico has registered as a member of the Class of 1938, in the School of Science. He graduated from Central High School in San Juan where he studied English for three years. Which language, due either to a particular aptitude or an unusual diligence, he has mastered so well, that he now speaks it with just that trace of an accent that most people find agreeable to the ear.

John does not intend to remain here for four years, but he expects to enter medical school just as soon as his credits permit.

To Villanova's distinguished School of Technology is entrusted the education of the other three students, all of whom are studying chemical engineering.

John L. Simons, the son of Edward J. and Genevieve Simons, who reside at 6221 Rising Sun Ave., Philadelphia, comes to Villanova as a graduate of Northeast Catholic High. During the interview John conducted himself with such modesty and gentlemanliness, that it was only by accident it was discovered that he has entered Villanova on a scholastic scholarship.

Edward J. Gornowski, whose father, Mr. Stanley Gornowski, lives at 615 So. Clayton St., Wilmington, Del., came to Villanova from Salesianum High School. He is studying chemical engineering because he believes that this field will offer him the opportunity to attain that modicum of success that most men desire.

Has Famous Name

Robert E. Lee, is the son of Mrs. Ella F. Lee, of 5549 Delancey St., in the city of Philadelphia. And while Bob has not divulged that he is related to that prominent figure in southern history of the same name, no reason is evident why he may not, some day, become as intimate and as interesting a figure in a different, and perhaps a little more humane kind of history, than this famous confederate general.

ELECT NEW OFFICERS

A. S. C. E. Group Names Gaetano Dolente President of Organization

At the opening meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers, held on last Monday, officers elected were: President, Gaetano Dolente; vice-president, Charles Dain; secretary, Daniel McGowan; treasurer, Walter Coyle. At present there is a total enrollment of forty members.

NEW MEN INITIATED INTO BELLE MASQUE

Excellent Performance Given By Group and Individuals In Tryouts

Initiations of candidates for the Belle Masque dramatic society last Wednesday, proved to be outstanding in the history of the organization, according to Joseph T. Jonas, moderator of the society.

Put On Skit

This was because of the splendid performance of a skit put on by a group and the remarkable talent of the individual tryouts.

The comedy related the dire conditions suffered by Jewish fliers in the Arctic after their plane was wrecked.

Those acting in the group were: Joseph Toland, captain; John Simons, doctor; John Pillion, mechanic; Emil Mathias, pilot and Douglas Brockhurst, radio announcer Pincus.

After the initiation, a vote was taken and the members accepted the following men into the society: John O'Brien, Edward Foote, George Mathews, Douglas Brockhurst, John Simons, Emil Mathias, John Pillion, Joseph Toland and Donald Shea.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of broadcasting plays over the air. The committee consists of John Butler, Joseph Carrol and George Malahane.

BAND AT BUCKNELL

The Villanova band will accompany the cheering section to Lewisburg on Saturday.

Administration Approves Plans For Activities of Junior Week of 1936

During the past week, the activity of the Junior class has been far from a standstill. The ring committee, of which William Vaughn is chairman, has been distributing cards among the third year men, on which they are asked to register either their approval or rejection of the project. They are also asked to note just what they can afford to pay for the rings.

Determine Number

It is expected that a poll of these cards will determine very exactly the number of rings desired as well as the average price to be quoted. Immediately upon counting the returns, bids will be requested and the contract awarded.

In previous years, the rings were an expense in addition to a very costly Junior Week. Since the financial burden has been placed at a minimum for the Class of '36, those in charge are looking forward to a greater number of rings ordered than was possible, heretofore.

As closely as could be determined without an exact count of the cards, the School of Technology is very nearly united in its approval of purchasing rings and receiving them before Christmas, as is the proposal.

Unanimous Approval

There are no changes, as yet, in the program for Junior Week, as it was published by the VILLANOVAN, last week. The administration has granted its approval to that outline, which is recorded as tentative. However, from personal contact with various members of the class, the juniors seem to be in complete accord with the approval of that list of events.

The officers and Moderator of the Class of '36 have requested that all Juniors submit any suggestions that they may have in mind, to those in authority, as it is through such mediums that the will of the class may be made known to those drawing up the plans for Junior Week. All such ideas will be greatly appreciated, and the third year men are urged by class officers to cooperate with their leaders in this manner.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting, 119 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting, 210 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

Beta Gamma Meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8:00 P. M.

THURSDAY

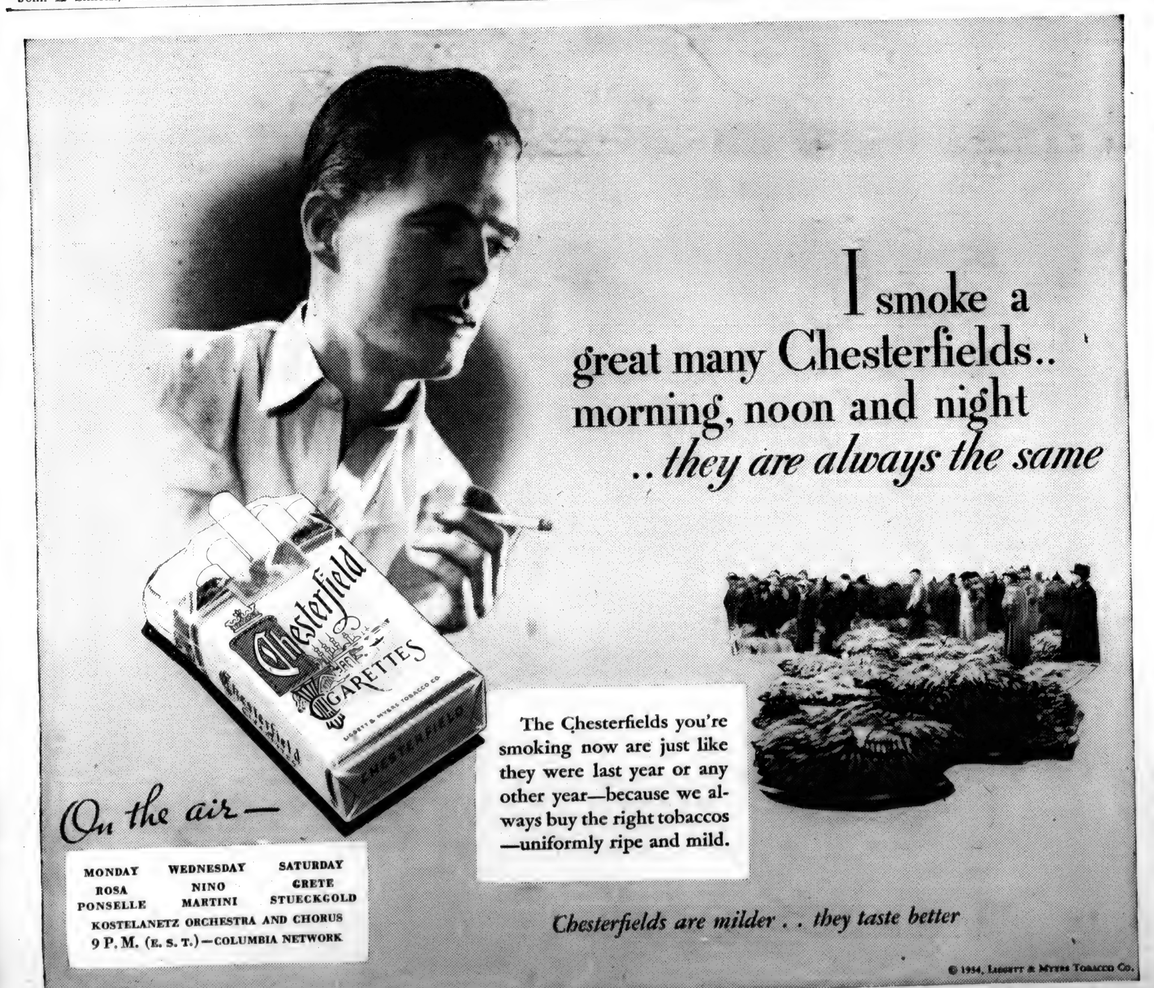
Band Practice, Alumni Hall ..... 4:00 and 7:00 P. M.
Sophomore Student Council Elections, Rear of Dining Hall .12:00 M.

SATURDAY

Special for Bucknell Game, Villanova Station ..... 9:00 A. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 11:40 A. M.
Swimming Exam., Natatorium, Gymnasium ..... 2:30 to 6:00 P. M.



I smoke a great many Chesterfields.. morning, noon and night ..they are always the same

The Chesterfields you're smoking now are just like they were last year or any other year—because we always buy the right tobaccos —uniformly ripe and mild.

Chesterfields are milder . . they taste better

On the air—

MONDAY	WEDNESDAY	SATURDAY
ROSA PONSELLE	NINO MARTINI	GRETE STUECKGOLD

KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
9 P. M. (E. S. T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK

© 1934, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

FOR the past few weeks we have been reading in the papers published along the Atlantic Seaboard about the formation of a football league among the so-called big time colleges in the East. Of course you know this conference is to include such teams as Penn, Yale, Princeton, etc. The league itself is still merely a conjecture and we have read articles by representative speakers from these schools against the idea but there is still a possibility that it may become a reality. Naturally, a league adds a great amount of interest to any sport and were these teams to organize they would steal a lot of the limelight from the other colleges in this section of the country.

Even were this plan never to become a reality it puts forward the idea that such a plan is a good one. Why then, we ask ourselves, wouldn't it be favorable if Villanova were to be a member of a similar conference? There are many teams in this part of the country that are as tough, if not more so, than the teams suggested by the newspapers for the "big eight."

The ideal plan would be a conference in which all of the teams were of equal strength but yet with few enough teams allied so that there would be openings on all the schedules for the listing of traditional rivals and one or two opening "set-ups." Allowing that the average college eleven plays nine or ten games each fall it seems logical that a league of six teams would be large enough for an interesting race.

It is not hard to find six good aggregations that are shunned by the "big timers" but in many cases could give their older brothers a hard battle.

Consider a league composed of any six of the following: Temple, Bucknell, Colgate, New York University, Western Maryland, Manhattan, Georgetown, Holy Cross, Villanova and West Virginia.

All these teams are recognized as good teams. Of course they all slip occasionally but there is no team in existence today that hasn't been the victim of an upset at one time or another.

Many of the above mentioned clubs would not join in a league and their reasons would be many, but what we are trying to convey is the fact that if such an organization could be formed it would help build up interest in college football in this section of the country to an even greater degree. It would especially help the above teams because they do not share in the glory that comes to the older established elevens because of their tradition and the game color that always seems to accompany this tradition.

Your opinion in the matter and the opinion of others will soon come to our attention as comments on most of the things published in this column usually do. From time to time we will let you know of the outcome. It is our hope to interview soon several people whose ideas really carry weight. We intend to get views from coaches of some of the above schools. Their opinions, favorable or not, will be interesting.

—V—

IN OUR wanderings the other afternoon we stopped to watch the jayvee footballers. The sight down there on the field reminded us of a little man with too much pep for his size. There should be more of him to show how peppy he really is. The junior varsity football squad with enough enthusiasm to spread over 45 men was manifest by less than half that number. Every man on the field was intent on his task. Each fellow seemed to be in the struggle with more than his share of effort but what was disappointing was the small number of men really taking advantage of the fine opportunity offered them.

The junior varsity football squad still needs candidates. If you are doubtful about reporting at this late date please don't hesitate. You owe it to yourself physically to get some exercise, this is an excellent opportunity. Take advantage of it while you may.

VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK BOWLING

Tuesday, October 23, 1934 Page Five

BISONS PRESENT STRONG FOE

Sophomore Flash in Surprise Run Against Detroit

Charley Mahovlich is shown above ripping off a long gain in the exciting Wildcat-Titan contest staged at Goodreau Stadium last Saturday. Mahovlich's several long runs demonstrated this newcomer's threatening ability and labeled him as one of Villanova's new future threats.

Titans-'Cats Deadlock 0-0 Aerial Attack is Stifled

Nott - Storrie Failed to Click as Expected; Villanova Shows Great Strength Against Heavier Team

BOTH TEAMS HAD CHANCE TO SCORE

By BEN MALONEY

Breaking up the famed passing attack of the University of Detroit, Villanova's gridders retrieved for themselves the right to cavort under the name of the Wildcats and not Pussycats.

Last Saturday at the Main Line stadium the Stubildreher felines held the highly touted Westerners to a 0-0 knot.

Both Had Opportunities

Both teams had scoring opportunities with the most likely chances for a score going to the Titans for they carried the leather to the 14-yard line in the first quarter and again they advanced it to the 8-yard line in the second canto of the contest. The home team reached the 12-yard stripe but there the ball fell into the possession of the Lions after four downs resulted in no score for the 'Cats.

During the first half Villanova was kept constantly on the defense and it was not until the latter part of the third quarter and the first part of the final frame that they were able to assume offensive tactics. The exchange of punts by Wetzler and Karpus in the third period enabled the home team to reach the boundaries of the scoring zone but then the attack died and once more the Dorais-coached eleven showed its great strength and withheld the rush.

Titans Threaten

It was likewise in the third quarter that the visitors made their best appearance. A pass, Karpus to Boglarsky, netted 20 yards and gave the ball to Detroit on Villanova's 25-yard line. Successive plunges by red-shirted players put the ball on the 8-yard stripe, but then the Wildcat line held and the Detroiters were forced to relinquish it to the fighting 'Cats.

Detroit displayed a team which was much heavier than that of their hosts which fact was only too evident from the statistics of the encounter. They outgained the 'Cats from scrimmage, 209 yards to 151, 90 of which was the result of ten completed passes out of a total of 25 thrown. The Titans also chalked up ten first downs to four for the Wildcats.

In the forward wall Paul Storrie, who shares the captaincy with

Continued on Page Six

STATISTICS OF THE GAME

	Detroit	Villanova
First downs	10	4
Yards gained, rushing	100	138
Forward passes	25	8
Forwards completed	8	1
Yards gained, forwards	105	14
Forwards intercepted by	3	5
Lateral passes	0	0
Laterals completed	0	0
Yards gained, laterals	0	0
Number of punts	9	12
*Distance of punts, yards	243	467
Run back of punts, yards	71	33
Fumbles	2	5
Own fumbles recovered	1	2
Penalties	3	4
Yards lost, penalties	15	20

*Those punts where ball was kicked.

NAME COLUMBUS U. ON BOXING ROSTER

Coach Joe Foley to Issue Call For Candidates In Near Future

Boxing, one of the newer additions to the Villanova sport roster, will embark on its second season in the near future under the guidance of Coach Joe Foley.

Already a match has been scheduled with Columbus University to be held in Washington, D. C., on February 9. Challenges also have been sent to the University of Pennsylvania, Temple and Ursinus.

Ring To Be Set Up

In the near future the ring will be set up on the stage of the gymnasium so that the candidates and members of the squad will have ample opportunity of rounding into shape.

Last season the boxers engaged in only one contest, this being with Temple. Because of their inexperience against outside competition the Wildcats suffered a setback but the showing made was far better than was expected.

Murals Will Be Held

Before boxing season gets definitely under way, the annual intramural affair will be held. Besides being considered as an intra-mural sport this tournament aids the coach in his selection of candidates for the varsity squad.

Coach Foley is a man well qualified to teach boxing, having aided in the development of Tommy Laughran and others prominent in the ring. Foley himself has competed in many amateur and professional ring encounters.

BUCKNELL ELEVEN ENTERTAINS 'CATS ON HOME GRIDIRON

Lewisburg Listed as Scene Of Contest as Tense Rivalry Is Resumed

MANY SOPHOMORE STARS IN OPPONENTS' LINE-UP

Experienced Backfield Set For Repeat Conquest Over Improved Wildcats

Remembering the 19-18 defeat suffered last season at the hands of the Bucknell Bisons, the Villanova grid warriors are determined to turn the tables this Saturday at Lewisburg.

The Bisons to date have engaged in four contests. Their season opened four weeks ago with a two touchdown victory over the representatives of Davis-Elkins. In their second encounter the team from Lewisburg met the powerful Pennsylvania Military Academy team and succeeded in holding the Cadets scoreless. The P. M. C. club has one of its best teams in recent years, tying Rutgers, 0-0, and trouncing West Chester Teachers by three touchdowns, besides their scoreless encounter with Bucknell.

Beaten By Duquesne

Duquesne, one of the leading teams in the East for the past several years gave the Bucknellians their first defeat in a game played at Pittsburgh on October 13.

For almost three periods the Bisons outplayed the Dukes in their night encounter but at the close of the third canto the Pittsburghers finally awakened to their task and on a sustained march from their own four yard line carried the ball to the Bucknell 4 where the Bisons made a desperate stand. With the opening of the final period the Dukes charged three times at the stalwart Bucknell line. It was not until the final down that the Duke's fullback dove over the squirming mass for the touchdown.

Dukes Score Twice

Later in the final period, as Bucknell unleashed a threatened aerial attack in an attempt to tie the score, Campbell, substitute halfback, intercepted one of Rhubright's many passes on the Bucknell 45-yard line and raced the remaining distance for the Duke's score.

The fourth game of the season was against the Scrappy St. Thomas eleven.

Endler Graduated

Endler, star Bison end, who blocked the kick against Villanova last year, will be among the missing, having graduated last June. However such stars as Rhubright, Reznichak and Sitarsky will again be in the opponents' lineup. The first two have been starting halfbacks in the first four games and Sitarsky holds down the quarterback post. On the line, Wilkinson is one of the familiar faces.

Second-year men have added great strength to the Bisons this season. Smith at halfback has been an outstanding performer and played brilliant football in the P. M. C. and Duquesne games.

Sophomore Stars

Green, another sophomore, is holding down one of the regular guard positions. His performance as a running guard has caused much favorable comment.

Villanova Lightweights Bow to Lafayette Rival

Leopard's Forward Passing Attack Directly Responsible for Both Touchdowns In Close Contest at Easton

WILDCAT LINE EXHIBITS STRENGTH

Lafayette's 150-pound footballers dimmed Villanova's hope for an undefeated season last Wednesday, when they turned back Coach Lenzi's team, 13-0, in a close game played on the Eastonians gridiron. An effective overhead attack was directly responsible for both touchdowns.

The Maroon running attack was stopped constantly throughout the entire game by the fast-charging Villanova line. Lafayette took to the air after an exchange of punts gave them the ball on the 'Cats' 26-yard line in the second period. Meckler, substitute left halfback for the Leopards, dropped back about ten yards and hurled a perfect pass to Patterson, who caught the ball on Villanova's ten-yard line and crossed the goal line without a hand being laid on him.

Punts 84 Yards

Lafayette's scoring position for the pass from Meckler to Patterson came about as a result of a punt by Massey, Maroon quarterback, that sailed over the Villanova safety man's head and covered a distance of 84 yards, the ball being downed on Villanova's five - yard line. Rogers, at left halfback for the Wildcats, was rushed in his kick and the ball went out of bounds on the 26-yard line. The forward pass accounting for the first tally followed.

Lafayette's second touchdown came in the third period. Second down, with the ball resting on Villanova's 17-yard line, Callender back at left half received a perfect pass from Patterson over the goal line. Patterson accounted for the extra point with a placement kick.

'Cats Repulse Maroon

In the opening stanza of the contest Lafayette was repulsed twice within the shadows of the goal posts. On the four-yard line with the ball in Lafayette's possession, the 'Cats twice held for a series of four downs and regained possession of the ball.

The Villanova lightweights gave one of the most impressive showings of any 'Cat 150-pound team in an opening game. Their play was spirited and the enthusiasm ran high throughout the entire fray. The nemesis was their inability to cope with the Eastonians forward passing system.

Patterson and Callender showed rare form for lightweight football players on the Maroon eleven, while Captain Walter Coyle, Vince Cavanaugh and George Kennedy were the standouts for the Villanova team.

The next contest for the Lenzimen will be played on October 26, when the Wildcat lightweights journey to Princeton in an attempt to turn back the strong Tiger team.

Maroon Passed

Villanova	Pos.	Lafayette
Cavanaugh	L.E.	Arnold
Gough	L.T.	Yeungling
Stead	L.G.	Schaeffer
Morin	C.	Mack
Kieffer	R.G.	Moyer
Carleton	R.T.	Gerhardt
Coyle	R.E.	Lessig
Murphy	Q.B.	Williams
Rogers	L.H.B.	Callendar
Kennedy	R.H.B.	Patterson
Barnes	Fullback	Dworsak

Villanova	0	0	0	0	0—0
Lafayette	0	6	7	0	0—13

Touchdowns — Patterson, Callendar. Point after touchdown—Patterson, placement. Substitutions—Lafayette, Markarian for Arnold, Martenson for Yeungling, Friedman for Schaeffer, McLane for Mack, Kiefer for Moyer, McInerny for Gerhardt, Hill for Lessig, Massey for Williams, Meckler for Callendar, Sausville for Patterson, Young for Dworsak; Villanova, Shapiro for Cavanaugh, Hennessey for Shapiro, Canfield for Stead, Wernsky for Kieffer, McCabe for Murphy, O'Neil for Rogers, Shevlin for Kennedy, McGee for Barnes. Referee, Reilly, Easton High. Umpire—Hill, Lafayette. Head linesman—Surran, Easton. Time of periods—12 minutes.

LAFAYETTE CONTEST WITH JAYVEES OFF

Game at Scranton Will Open Season For Skaffmen On November 3

Due to unforseen circumstances the junior varsity game between Villanova and Lafayette has been canceled. This cancellation was made official Thursday, October 18, by Mr. Lorenz, Director of Athletics at Lafayette.

At Lafayette the lighter members of the junior varsity squad are now playing 150 pound football. Due to the decrease in the J. V. team members it has been abandoned.

On November 3, the jayvees will journey to Scranton, Pa., to play Keystone Junior College. After this game the schedule continues as follows: Nov. 9, Rutgers J. V. at New Brunswick, N. J.; Nov. 15, University of Pennsylvania J. V. at Villanova; Nov. 21, West Chester Teachers College J. V. at Villanova.

RED CROSS EXAMS HELD THIS WEEK

Official Examiner to Test Three Candidates in Life Saving

Organized by Joseph Linsalata, a senior in the Commerce and Finance School, the Villanova Life Saving Course, sponsored by the American Red Cross, has made surprising progress to date.

Edward J. Gornowski, freshman in the School of Technology, who is an official American Red Cross Senior Life Saver and examiner, has been appointed by Mr. Linsalata to conduct the examination for those qualifying for the test.

The sponsors of the course here at Villanova would like to see more interest displayed by the upper classmen. Also at this time they extend their thanks to the freshman group for their interest shown. From all appearances the total of the combined efforts of the upper classes does not near that of the "frosh."

The following are now ready for the examination and will be tested this week: Donald Canter, William Hill, Louis Centrello. Others are being prepared for the test, which will be held next week.

VARSITY SWIMMERS ISSUE CHALLENGES

Hope to Arrange 16 Matches On Home and Home Basis With Eight Colleges

According to Joseph J. Linsalata, senior manager of the swimming team, negotiations are being made for meets with eight colleges. It is hoped that a home and home arrangement can be made with each school, bringing the total number of contests to 16.

Plans are being made for meets with Lafayette, Rider College, P. M. C., College of Osteopathy, Swarthmore, Albright, Franklin and Marshall and Johns Hopkins University.

A good number of last season's veterans have reported to Coach Martin Gill. Among these are included captain John Strong, John Hosey, William Foley, John O'Hara and LaRosa. The new candidates look very promising, and most of them have had experience in high school competition.

If coach Gill's swimming team has a successful season against such difficult opposition, and Mr. Gill is certain his aggregation will, Villanova will establish a high place for itself in swimming circles.

INTRA-MURALS GAIN HEADWAY; DAY HOPS LACKING IN SPIRIT

John Hoey May Call Meeting To Settle Conflicts Of Non-Residents

1933 CHAMPS LOSE GAME; FEDIGAN UPSETS ALUMNI

Austin Occupies First Place With Perfect Record Of Three Wins

Under the surveillance of Jack Hoey the 1934 intra-mural season has been set off to a flying start. To date six contests have been played and it was only last week that the season began. The same deep interest that has always been shown in past years is still evident among the students and the contest for the team championship looks this year to be one of the toughest seen here in quite some time.

Change Of Dates

Despite numerous changes in the schedule by chairman Hoey it is still evident among the Mendel Day Hops that the time or dates of their contests are conflicting with their studies. To relieve the situation he shifted the date of the games to Monday at the request of the Day Hops' representative, Al Fitzpatrick. The time for these encounters is set at 1:30 P. M., so as to leave as much time as possible for the Train and Trolley boys to return to their respective homes. If this plan does not work it will be necessary for a meeting to be called in order to determine a better time, if any, for the playoff of these games.

Afternoon Games

Meanwhile the afternoon games will be played on Mondays and Fridays at 1:30 P. M. with the regular Sunday games among the residents being held at 10:30 A. M. It is hoped that this arrangement will be suitable for the Day Hops and that in return they will show a better cooperative spirit.

Austin Assumes Lead

Austin Hall by virtue of two wins this past week assumed the lead of the league. The previously undefeated Alumni Hall team, last year's champs, bowed before the charges of the Fediganites and hence they hold down the second position in the ranks.

On Friday, Austin Hall played the C&F day hops and without too much trouble walked off with a 12-0 score in their favor. Jack Torpey and Dave Murphy tallied for the leaders. The day hops were hampered by the lack of players as only a handful turned out for the contest.

Mendel Still Losing

Sunday morning finds the four halls of resident students out for blood and this week was no exception. In the first game of the morning, Austin Hall ran roughshod, so to speak, over the Mendel representatives. The score at the terminus of the massacre was 24-6. The first year men seemed always to be on the wrong end of the breaks which occur in every game and it was thus that they fell in such ignominious defeat. They did however come to life in the last period and astound themselves as well as the rival Austinites by unreeling a very tricky pass play which resulted in their lone tally of the fray. Murphy, Travis, Shevlin, and Vaughn all crossed the final stripe for Austin.

Last Year's Champs Falter

In the other Sunday morning fracas, Jack Robinson of Fedigan Hall, very adroitly intercepted an Alumni Hall forward pass and before you could say "Jack Robinson" he had crossed into the promised land for the only score of the game. This was the first defeat handed the Colonels this year and as last last year's champs they certainly are smarting under the disgrace of it all and will be no outfit to meet this week for vengeance is only too sweet.

DEFERS CAGE PLANS

"Doc" Jacobs, varsity coach of basketball, will not have anything definite about Junior Varsity basketball until next week. He plans to call together all managers and coaches and map out an extensive training system.

In the Limelight

"When it's round-up time in Texas,
And the bloom is on the sage,
How I long to be in Texas
Out aridin' on the range."

SO HUMS a cowhand just a startin' his round of cowpokin', juss like ol' Chollie Cox, varsity tackle, when he plows head on into an opposin' line, quick as snuff. Yea, bo, Coxie has led a purty good life. Started out in Pittsburgh, went to Centralia, Kansas, in the heart of the range country, went on a trip to Arizona and finally wound up in the timber country of Minnesota.

Getting rid of our range accent, Charlie Cox started life in Pittsburgh in 1910. He stayed there in the Smoky City of Bill Grimberg until he was five. The Cox clan then trekked to Kansas where they settled in Centralia on a stock ranch. Then Charlie's life really began, and that's where he got those huge shoulders. Gosh, they look like the suspensor beam on a derrick. When he reached the ripe old age of six he was entered in the grammar school, and he divided his time between the Centralia school in Winter and the range in Summer. He had his own horse to which he would go in the corral and "hitch a rope to," then toss on the ol' saddle and go out and rope steers. For a build like his, we'd go out and rope steers, too. Or we might start off on cows, sorta easy-like.

Anyway, one Summer he and a soup pot and a couple of ranch hands took a seven hundred mile trip by pack horse to Arizona. They moseyed around there a bit, then started on the long trip home. About halfway back, one of the hosses busted a leg, and they had to shoot him (the hoss, not Chas). The rest of the ride was uneventful, so he says. After his return, he came way up to Greensburg, Pa. Pursuing his higher education, he went to high school where they had a four-year eligibility rule. Chas. played guard and tackle for the four years.

Villanova claimed his prowess in 1930. Played ball with the frosh first string, and one chill dusk, when the shadows clustered about the gym, Charlie came out of the building. He started across Lancaster Pike, when a sudden glare warned him. A screech of brakes, he dodged subconsciously, he wheeled about, then darkness. Hours later, he woke up in a cool, white bed in the Bryn Mawr Hospital. He wondered. A starched nurse told him he was hit by a speeding automobile driven by a gutless coward, a craven of drivers, the hit and run. He had a severe concussion of the brain, internal injuries and severe cuts. That was that. His football days were over. But the indominable spirit that he had built up in that body came through. In a few weeks he was out of the hospital, walking. He left Villanova in February of 1931. Up to the mountains he went to recuperate from the shock to his nervous system. He came down months later, a strong stalwart.

He returned to Villanova in the February of 1932. The rest is history. He made the varsity squad in '32, played regular in '33, but had a tough break. Up at Manhattan, Chick Meehan's boys weren't giving us any picnic. Charlie was in every play, playing great ball. Late in the game, he wasn't going so good. After being taken out, it was discovered that he had received a broken hand in the early moments of the game. We call that being pretty darn courageous.

He has played tackle all this season. Look for a big white 33 at the next home game. Watch him.

He expects to get a position teaching when he graduates. Teaching won't hold him. In about three years expect to see him as either a top-notch coach or a foreman on a ranch in the Southwest.

Fighting Wildcats Tie Detroit Foe

Continued From Page Five

Nott; Dan Barrett, and Clair Helmer were outstanding.

Mahovlich Stars

"Chuck" Mahovlich, of the Wildcats, was without a doubt one of the sensations of the afternoon. He starred both on the offense and defense. In the first period he provided the fans with a thrill by racing 40 yards from a fake kick formation. Then in the second period he intercepted a forward pass and reeled off 38 yards before he was grounded. Being only a Sophomore much is expected of him in the next two Stuhldreher campaigns.

Linemen Stand Out

On the line Charley Nowe, as pivot man, made tackles, intercepted passes, and made himself a general nuisance to the visitors. Johnson, Sala, and Cox were the other outstanding linemen on whom the Wildcats may well rest their glory for their brilliant work on the defense.

Grads' Surprise!

Detroit	Pos.	Villanova
Storrie	left end	Korchinski
Barrett	left tackle	Michaels
Andruskng	left guard	Blanchard
Metzger	center	Nowe
Burns	right guard	Lee
Heimer	right tackle	Sullivan
Boglarsky	right end	Grimberg
Jones	quarterback	Higgins
Lutz	left halfback	Mahovlich
Payne	right halfback	Cooke
Nott	fullback	Wiesenbaugh

Referee—A. W. Thompson, Michigan. Umpires—A. H. Sharp, Yale. Linesman—Harry Conover, Penn State. Field judge—J. R. Lehecke, Lafayette.

Detroit	0	0	0	0	—0
Villanova	0	0	0	0	—0

Substitutions: Villanova — Johnson for Michaels, Michaels for Johnson, Vidnovic for Blanchard, Wetzler for Cook, Kotys for Mahovlich, Christopher for Higgins, Fox for Grimberg, Sala for Korchinski, Blanchard for Vidnovic, Christopher for Higgins, Kotys for Mahovlich, Higgins for Christopher, Korchinski for Sala. Foster for Lee. Detroit—Karpus for Lutz, Baker for Barrett, Wiecozrek for Payne, Payne for Wieczorek, Wilson for Metzger, Skori for Nott, Lutz for Skori, Barrett for Heimer, Schroster for Burns, Ganey for Andruskng, Scanlon for Storrie, Nott for Payne, Andruskng for Ganey, Burns for Schroeder, Dukar for Barrett.

'Cats' Meow

Again we are at the sidelines. Villanova vs. Detroit. These guys are supposed to be able to pass. Whoa is us.

—V—

We're off, I mean the game is off, I mean started.

—V—

Pass, pass, anybody can see it's a pass. Everybody saw it was a pass. Charley Nowe saw it, too.

—V—

Villanova's ball. Credit Nowe with an interception.

—V—

Did you see Detroit No. 66. Wow, 234 pounds of fightin' Irish. His name is Helmer.

—V—

Oh, Helmer, there you go again.

—V—

Nott and Storrie are in there. They are the gent'mens that we have been reading about.

—V—

The new battle cry has risen. Notts to you.

—V—

The Chariers are having a big day. Cox is breaking through and Nowe is breaking 'em down.

—V—

It's long about the third quarter and about three quarters of the spectators have headaches from the sun's reflection on those Detroit players' pants.

—V—

Some of the interference came from Villanova men who interfered with further advancement of the ball.

—V—

The place is just loaded with Alumni and the south stands are bulging.

—V—

Just as the stands took their last bulge the game ended. Foster had a startled look on his pan when he intercepted that pass.

CHAPTER APPOINTS CHAIRMAN OF TRIPS FOR COLLEGE YEAR

A. S. M. E. Inaugurates Plans For Visits to Plants Of Various Industries

M. M. PRICE TO ADDRESS SOCIETY THIS EVENING

The bi-monthly meeting of Villanova chapter of The American Society of Mechanical Engineers was held last week at which time extensive plans were made for trips that the organization will take this year to the various places of industry.

B. Joseph Tofani, '35, was appointed chairman of the trip committee and will be assisted by a group to be named in the near future. Tofani said that this year the society will compile a list of places to be visited, covering almost every industry possible. Among the places that Mr. Tofani has on his list is the Stetson Hat Company, the Conowingo Dam Power Plant, and Radio City.

Speaks Tonight

Tonight the Philadelphia section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will present M. M. Price, District Manager for The Babcock and Wilcox Company, who will deliver a paper on "The Boulder Dam" with motion pictures and slides describing the general features of the project and particularly the fabrication and installation by his company of the steel penstocks and conduits.

Built Special Shop

In order to properly perform their work Babcock and Wilcox went to the trouble of constructing a specially designed shop where the steel sections of the pipe were fabricated, the largest of which were thirty feet in diameter made from two and seven eighth thick plates, weighing about 184 tons. Mr. Price will discuss the methods employed in welding, stress relieving and the fabrication of this pipe.

Those who wish to attend may have dinner at the club at 6:15 for which a nominal price will be charged. Many of the mechanical engineers from college will be attending and those who have not made their reservation are advised by club officers to do so now.

Holy Name Rally Sunday Afternoon

Continued From Page One

pleted it is the intention of the officials to have the college band make its appearance.

College officials, since the college is to act as host to the gathering, desire a large attendance of the student members of the society.

An introductory address will be tendered the gathering by Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., M. S., LL.D, president of the college.

The featured speaker of the occasion will be Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., dean of the School of Science.

Banmiller Reports At Conclave Today

Continued From Page One

Iowa Engineer, Kansas State Engineer, Marquette Engineer, Michigan Technic, Minnesota Techno-Log, Nebraska Blue Print, Ohio State Engineer, The Oregon State Technical Record, The Penn State Engineer, The Pennsylvania Engineer Triangle, The Purdue Engineer, The Rose Technic, The Sibley Journal of Engineering, The South Dakota State Engineer, Tech Engineering News, The Kansas Engineer, The Iowa Transit and the Wisconsin Engineer.

TREASURE INN
229 East Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, Pa.
DINE and DANCE
ORCHESTRA NIGHTLY — ELABORATE FLOOR SHOW
No Cover or Minimum Charge

Freshman Eye-witness of Disaster At Shore Resort, Aided in Rescues

By JOSEPH J. LINSALATA

While the rest of the world continues through the daily humdrum of life, one Freshman here still has a vivid recollection of the terrible marine tragedy of last month.

Freshman Sees Tragedy

He is James B. Cousart, of the School of Science, nephew of the Rev. Eugene A. Mauch, O. S. A., dean of the School of Arts, who diligently aided in recovering the corpses of the drowned victims.

Mr. Cousart was working during the Summer as a guard on the Seaside Park Beach Patrol, which is a short distance from the scene of the ill-fated luxury cruiser's resting place, on the strand at Asbury Park, N. J.

The morning after the disastrous ship fire the Seaside Park Beach Patrol went to Asbury Park to see the remains of the calamitous vessel. During its visit it was asked by the rescuing party to aid in the search for floating bodies.

Renders Aid

"For almost three hours I stood on a platform, which was on the side of the inlet between Manasquan and Point Pleasant, carrying the dead bodies which were handed to me by fishermen who had volunteered to go out to sea and pick up the victims of the catastrophe."

He declared that most of the bodies had only night clothes and many were scantily clad. "After I received the corpses from the fishermen I had to take them to internes in various ambulances," added the Frosh.

"Although it was the most horrifying and nauseating work I ever did, I would not fret if asked to do work of that nature in the event of another disaster," continued Mr. Cousart.

Notifies Beach Patrol

After the fishermen had handed him the rest of the drowned, Mr. Cousart went about a mile out from the shore where there were some rocks. While standing on the rocks he saw two bodies floating on the waves. These bodies were some distance from his position, which made it impossible for him to recover them. He notified the beach patrol, and they went out in a motor boat to retrieve the victims.

Mr. Cousart is a candidate for the swimming team, and is a competent swimmer.

TEACH DANCE STEPS TO FROSH STUDENTS

Feature Was Introduced Last Year to Assure Success Of Cotillion

By JOHN W. HALLAHAN, JR.

In the extreme right column of the last page of the VILLANOVAN last week appeared an innocent enough looking paragraph entitled "Collegiate Review." It contained a dispatch by the Associated Collegiate Press stating that there was a unique practice being resorted to by the Loyola University upper classmen in order that certain functions might be assured of being a social and financial success.

Aids Freshman

This very amusing and instructive custom was the giving of free dancing lessons to the Frosh, to make certain that there would be no excuse for missing the dances.

New as this may seem, to the class of '36 of Villanova College belong the honors of having inaugurated the practice in the Fall of 1933. The Sophomores at that time set themselves the task of producing a successful dance, and they depended upon the Freshmen class to aid them.

Free Lessons Given

There were the usual excuses of not knowing how to dance and of not being able to obtain dates for the affair. Nothing daunted the Sophs. They appointed a committee to see that all Fershmen desiring to attend the dance should receive lessons in the terpsichorean art gratis.

Moreover, there were other committees organized to make sure that there should be never a Frosh without a female companion for the occasion.

Then the long arm of the class of '36 reached out to all corners of Philadelphia and from its suburbs came the music of feminine voices granting assent. From far and near came the patrons and the Sophmore Frolic was a complete social and financial success.

The fame of that event became more and more widespread until just last week Mendel Hall once again heard the light steps of prospective dancers and optimistic teachers. And it has been rumored that there was many a fair damsel inveigled into attending the recent Sophomore Cotillion.

TO HOLD SOCIAL

Members of Mount Saint Joseph College Alumnae Association are sponsoring a card party and tea dance Sunday afternoon, October 28, in Fournier Hall at 2:30 o'clock. The social is open to young men and ladies. The tickets are 50 cents.

Club Makes Plans For Alumni Group At First Meeting

Members of the Albany club held their first meeting of the current year last week and officers were elected.

The meeting was presided over by Joseph Hoenig, temporary chairman. The officers elected were: Dominick Mauro, president; Walter Korchinski, vice-president; Philip Murray, secretary, and Eiffel Parras, treasurer.

Plans were discussed at the meeting for the organization of the club alumni in the capitol city. In this manner the activities of the club are expected to increase ten-fold.

The success of last year's intercollegiate dance will be remembered by all those who attended and plans are being laid for a more gala affair this coming year. Letters have been sent to Fordham, Holy Cross, and Niagara proposing a joint dance and on their acceptance further plans will be made.

Mr. Mauro, speaking for the club members said: "The policy of the Albany Club of procuring only the best for their entertainments will be pursued as usual for the coming year and promise that all social functions will surpass even those previously given.

BAND ON RADIO

The Villanova College band was heard on Sunday evening last, at 7:30 P. M. over Philadelphia's radio station WLIT. They offered a diversified program of well-known marches and college songs. Among those rendered was the Star Spangled Banner and our own Alma Mater. An excellent program, well presented and expertly played was the order of the evening.

E. Cadwalader
Incorporated
Paints, Glass, and Painters' Supplies
6047 MARKET STREET
PHILADELPHIA
Phone SHERwood 1423

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
All new styles now available!
Agents
JOHN BURKE
LAWRENCE SHEA

PEP RALLY HELD IN C. & F. AUDITORIUM

Students Manifest Spirit At Demonstration Before Game With Detroit

One of the finest spirited rallies ever staged at Villanova was held in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance building last Friday, the day before the Detroit game.

The team was cheered by the enthusiastic student body and encouraged by the fiery speeches. Jimmy Walsh, President of the student council, presided and introduced the various speakers.

Very Rev. Charles J. Melchior, Procurator, stressed the fact that a united school spirit must prevail throughout the entire student body to assure the team of a victory. He read a message from Dick Harlow, coach of Western Maryland, who praised the team and referred to them as the cleanest, finest spirited bunch of lads he ever encountered. Fr. Melchior reminded the team that whatever the outcome, the administration as well as the student body would back them up.

That one should be a good loser as well as a good winner was stressed by Rev. John O'Leary, O.S.A., in an inspiring speech.

"Reds" Bradley, a member of the 1930 football team, was also called upon for words of cheer. He will be remembered as a speaker at last year's Temple rally, and he expressed the desire of participating again this year.

Coach Harry Stuhldreher thanked the student body for their support and their ability to "take it." He commented on the fact that the larger the turnout at the games the greater the morale of the team.

Words of encouragement were given to the players by Graduate Manager of Athletics, Alexander Severance. He said that the midwest colleges held no hope of the victory Saturday but that it should upset the apple-cart and bring victory to Villanova.

Sophomore Hop Opening Social

Continued From Page One

sibility, and carrying it to the end, efficient in every detail.

Because of the loss of some of the false ceiling, it was necessary to do without that feature this year. However, the gymnasium was decorated in a smart manner with palms placed at intervals about the floor.

The orchestra was placed under the balcony on the side of the floor, where the acoustics are made better. The dance floor was done over before the affair and as a result was in excellent condition.

The sub-committees in charge of the affair were: Dance committee; Francis Monahan, John Bruno, Robert Scott, Samuel Canali, Paul Williams, Gerald Kunz, John Murphy, Dave Allingham and William Cleary. The Decoration Committee was headed by Thomas Kennedy and was assisted by Charles Bruno, John McManus, John B. Geraghty, Pio Goggi, John McManus, Henry Morin, Frank Sweeney, Arthur Carlton, Leo Schoppmeyer, John Burke, Larry Stead and Gene McAuliffe.

SPECIAL OFFER

ONE "Esquire" Genuine BRIAR PIPE in Light or Dark Finish—Individually Boxed • and •

TWO 30c Packages John Middleton's WALNUT BLEND Mild Pipe Tobacco
ALL FOR 89c
Free Delivery Anywhere in the U. S. Mail and Phone Orders Carefully Filled.
ON SALE AT
PIE SHOP
Distributor for Products of JOHN MIDDLETON

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

Suits & Topcoats $15
Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.

WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE
900 SOUTH ST.
Our Only Store

DANCE
Sponsored By The YOUNG DEMOCRATS OASIS BALL ROOM
East Lancaster Ave., Bryn Mawr
Friday Evening October 26, 1934
Music By Main Line Pennsylvanians
Dancing from 9 'til ?
ADMISSION - - 50c
OWEN MURRAY, Villanova Alumnus
Dance Chairman

GLOBE
OFFICE FURNITURE CO.
We Buy and Sell New and Used Office Furniture Machinery Equipment and Safes
907 Walnut St.
PENypakr 0548

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits and Topcoats
$24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See JIM ELLIOTT
Room 108, Fedigan Hall

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

'HELL WEEK' BANNED BY SOUTHERN CAL.

President Issues Edict to Stop Annual Hazing by Fraternities on Campus

By Associated Collegiate Press

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 22.—Paddling, tubbing, and "Hell Week," for long the bane of pledges to social fraternities at the University of Southern California, are to be no more following an official edict issued by President R. B. von Klein-Smid prohibiting hazing activities at school.

Protects Health

In a notice sent to all campus fraternities terming the practices as "indefensible in a college institution," Dr. von KleinSmid declared that the move was made to do away with all forms of physical punishment and hazing because "the University is obligated to protect the health and well-being of all students under its supervision."

Practices specifically prohibited by the edict include physical paddling, tubbing, exposure, deprivation of sleep, and any form of rough handling.

As a substitute for "Hell Week"—the period prior to initiation when pledges were required to do everything from acquiring a black cat with a white tail, to obtaining an autograph of the governor—a probationary week when the neophytes would do constructive work in and around the fraternity house after school hours, was suggested by the U. S. C. president.

Freshman 'Needles' T. C. U. Grid Coach At Practice Drill

Yearling's Jibe at Howard Grubbs Puts New Life In Sessions

By Associated Collegiate Press

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 22—Howard Grubbs, new freshman coach at Texas Christian University, is putting new life into his practice sessions.

Here's why. On the second day out, members of the squad were ordered to take a run around the field. Grubbs, only four years out of T. C. U. himself, looks no older than many of the men he coaches. He jogged along after his squad, watching the performance of the men. When the freshmen had completed the turn of the field, one of them pantingly observed to Grubbs:

"Say, Shorty, what position are you out for?"

Then, without waiting for a reply:

"Whatever it is, you'd better hustle a little or you'll get dropped from the squad!"

Novel System for Class Attendance Suggested by Dean at Westminster

By Associated Collegiate Press

New Wilmington, Pa., Oct. 22—Responsibility for class attendance at Westminster College has been placed squarely on the shoulders of the student in a new system suggested by Dean Alexander Burr and adopted by the faculty.

The new rules provide in the main that a student shall not be dropped from class because of absence alone, but absence which results in poor classroom work may be the cause for dropping.

Student Responsible

The regulations as adopted by the faculty are:

1. The responsibility for satisfactorily meeting the requirements for completing the work of any given course rests squarely upon the student.

2. It is assumed that each student will be present on time at each regular session of every course in which he is registered.

3. It is further assumed that each student will use due judgment in assigning time priority to various interests and activities.

4. No student will be barred or dropped from class for mere absence.

5. Any student may be barred or dropped from class when, in the combined judgment of the Dean of the College and the instructor involved, and for any reason, the said student fails to benefit by the work of the class or is a hindrance to the progress of others.

6. The instructor in charge shall take the attendance at the beginning of each session of a course.

7. The instructor shall make a complete weekly report of absences for each course, upon a blank to be provided, not later than the close of each academic week.

8. The college office shall tabulate the attendance reports and supply the deans with the attendance record of each student.

9. Absences from written examinations, announced at least two sessions previously, shall not be excused except by the Dean and then for most weighty reasons. Such excused absences shall be made up in a manner satisfactory to the instructor concerned and due credit given the student.

10. All other "make-up" work shall be entirely at the option of the instructor.

WHAT, NO SOLDIERS?

By Associated Collegiate Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22—The University of Minnesota, for the first time since its founding, this year started its academic year without compulsory military training.

Collegiate Review

By Associated Collegiate Press

Approximately 87 per cent of the colleges and universities of the United States are not broadcasting their football games this Fall.

Ohio University (Athens) officials have leased a hotel which is being used as a cooperative rooming house for 65 men students.

With the opening of its Fall term last month, Columbia University (New York City) started its 181st academic year.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (Boston) is the most expensive men's college in the United States — the minimum cost for Freshmen is $1080 per year.

Hulda Stettler, the canning champion of the United States, has enrolled at the University of Wisconsin (Madison).

A new geophysics course is being offered this Fall for the first time at the University of Texas (Austin). It will be taught by Dr. Arnold Romberg.

A course in modern history will be conducted at Smith College this year by Dr. Hans Kohn, doctor juris of the University of Prague.

The Federal Government is sending approximately 70,000 students through colleges and universities throughout the United States this year at a cost of more than $1,000,000.

Good Taste!

Luckies

Only the clean Center Leaves the mildest leaves

They Taste Better

The world's finest tobaccos are used in Luckies—the "Cream of the Crop"—only the clean center leaves—for the clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better.

"It's toasted"

Your throat protection—against irritation—against cough

Copyright 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Seniors! Please Cooperate With The Belle Air Staff By Returning Personals Early

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 5 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1034 Price: Five Cents

Students! On To Beantown! Encourage The 'Cats To Clip The Feathers Of The Eagles

PLANS FORMULATED FOR STUDENT BODY SPECIAL TO BOSTON

Tickets on Sale in Bookroom; None Available After Thursday Noon

TICKET TO GAME EXTRA; BOAT FARE COSTS $5.50

Entourage Leaves for Villanova Immediately After Fray; Arrives Sunday

Plans are being formulated to accommodate one of the largest Villanova rooting sections ever to make the annual trek north to witness the renewal of the traditional grid warfare of a fighting Wildcat eleven and a strong Boston College team on Saturday in the Hub city.

Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, anticipates a large turnout of local supporters. The ticket sale, which started yesterday in the bookstore and will continue until Thursday noon already shows a creditable number of undergraduates are anxious to accompany the Villanova pilgrimage.

Will Board Liner

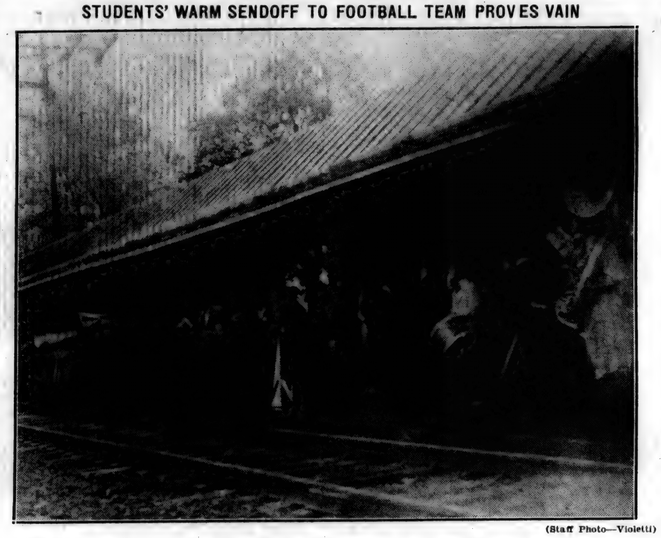
In New York the delegation will proceed to North River Pier No. 14, where the S. S. Priscilla, crack liner of the Fall River Steamship Co., will weigh anchor at 5 P. M. The following morning the boat docks at Fall River, Mass. Busses will transport the gathering to the B. C. stadium, about an hour's ride.

The admission charge to Saturday's encounter will be $1.10 for students and $2.20 for all others. Anyone desiring to take advantage of this student discount must purchase his ticket at the athletic department office before the beginning of the trip.

As soon as the contest is over, it will be necessary for those making the excursion to leave the Boston College field immediately, in order to make connections at Fall

Continued on Page Four

STUDENTS' WARM SENDOFF TO FOOTBALL TEAM PROVES VAIN



(Staff Photo—Violetti)

Picture shows the assemblage of several hundred members of the undergraduate body who gathered at the Villanova Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad to give the pigskin toters of the college a rousing bon voyage, last Friday morning, when the squad entrained for the lair of the Bucknell Bison. Villanova lost, 13-0.

PRESIDENT CHOSEN HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Fr. Stanford Elected Leader Of National Catholic Educational Association

Word has been received that Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., LL. D., president of the college, has been chosen chairman of a committee on organization for the College Department of the National Catholic Educational Association, at a meeting held in Chicago, October 15.

The appointment of this committee was determined at the June meeting of the N. C. E. A. held in Chicago. The selection of the members, however, was entrusted to a committee consisting of Very Rev. Samuel Knox Wilson, S. J., president of Loyola University, Chicago; Very Rev. Francis V. Corcoran, C. M., president of De Paul University, Chicago, and Rev. William F. Cunningham, C. S. C., of the University of Notre Dame, president of the College Department of the Association.

To Study Department Progress

The purpose of the committee is to study the question as to whether or not the College Department of the N. C. E. A. as now organized is in a position to achieve its purposes, and if not, to submit a plan of reorganization. The first meeting of the committee will be held in New York City. It is expected that a preliminary report will be ready for the meeting of the College Department at Atlanta, Georgia, late in January. The final report is to be

Continued on Page Four

ANNUAL FIELD DAY TO BE HELD THURS.

Duration of Regs May Depend On Result of Frosh-Soph Contest

Frosh and Sophs will meet in the traditional field day to be held Thursday morning. Rev. Francis Ludwig, O. S. A., moderator of the Sophomore Class, is in charge.

Sports Events

The program is planned to open at 10 o'clock Thursday morning with a sack race. Following this will be a "Rugby" game. The feature of the day planned is the annual greased pig race. The scene of action will then move to the golf course pond, where a tug of war will ensue. This will close the morning's program. In the afternoon, a touch football game will be played on Mendel Field.

The rules of the "Rugby" are simple. A football is placed in the middle of the field, the two teams are lined up on the goal lines and a whistle is blown. The teams then endeavor to put the ball across their opponents' goal line by any means.

Greased Pig Race

The greased pig race is equally simple. Upon the pig's release from a barrel, the teams try to secure a firm hold on the slippery porker.

Continued on Page Four

NO CLASSES THURSDAY

Because Thursday of this week, All Saints' Day, is a holy day of obligation, classes will not be held in any of the undergraduate schools on the campus. Resident students are requested by the Chaplain to attend Mass in college chapel at 8:30 o'clock. Classes will be resumed at the regular time Friday morning, and, as usual, double "cuts" will be given for all students who fail to return to school the day following a holiday.

'Cabaret Night?' 'Gosh,' Says Frosh; Faculty, 'Tsk, Tsk'

Authority Confirms Rumors Despite Surprised Attitude Of Campus Solons

Cabaret night at Villanova!

"Oh, yeah!" remarks someone at the suggestion.

"Tsk, tsk," is the only response the more dignified members of the faculty would give to even contemplating a project of this type.

Nevertheless, it's going to occur, and those who are still inclined to be skeptical should seek Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., chaplain, to learn further information on the affair.

Word leaked out from an authoritative source that Villanova students will be invited to attend one of the most unique functions ever presented on the campus, within a fortnight.

Ideal Location

But here's the payoff—the night club scene will be laid in none other than the traditional Pie Shoppe where the venerable "Louie" rules as major domo. Maybe "Louie" doesn't know anything about it yet, but he will after he reads this.

The person who requested his name be omitted as having given the information to the Pie Shoppe correspondent of the VILLANOV-

Continued on Page Four

RING COMMITTEE CONDUCTS POLL

Survey Reveals Nine-Tenths Of Juniors Will Purchase Class Insignia

Results of the poll conducted by the ring committee, among the members of the Junior Class, to determine the number of third year men who intend to purchase this article of jewelry, show that only fifteen of the approximately one hundred and fifty in the class have replied "no" to the query.

Bids have been received from several Philadelphia and New York firms. The price has not been settled as yet and the contract has not been awarded, but the committee is attempting to secure as reasonable a price as possible

WORK BEGUN TODAY ON SENIOR ANNUAL

November 15 Set as Deadline For Presentation of Senior Write-Ups

Work on the Belle Air, the annual publication of the Senior Class, will officially begin this afternoon when a meeting of the entire editorial staff will be called by the editor-in-chief, George Malhame.

The meeting will be held at 1 o'clock in the Belle Air office in Mendel Hall. The following members of the editorial staff are requested to attend: Lawrence Goldschmidt, John Stell, Lawrence Doherty, John Butler, Joseph Costigan, Paetrus Banmiller, John Shevland, Raymond McGunnigle, John DiJoseph, Raphael Alvarez, Pio Goggi, Harry Kornfield, Gabriel Martyak, Harold Keating, Edward O'Neill, John Hallahan, Francis Bigley and Louis D'Angelo.

Personals Being Written

It has been announced that the senior write-ups must be ready by November 15, as the photography for the annual is expected to be done much earlier this year. Slips have already been distributed to the seniors in order that they may procure the necessary material for their respective personals. The slips are so arranged that each senior may list his activities, and then give the data to one of his classmates who in turn will add the conventional laudation.

Contracts Awarded

The printing contract of the book has been awarded to the Clark Printing Co., of Philadelphia, while Zansky & Co., of the same city, will again attend to the photography work. The contract for the engraving has not as yet been awarded.

On behalf of the student body the VILLANOVAN wishes to express its sincere sympathy to Frank Wetzler, a Senior in the Arts School, on the death of his beloved father, Mathias Wetzler, on October 27. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

BETA GAMMA

A meeting of Beta Gamma will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, instead of tomorrow night.

P. K. P. WILL HOLD INITIAL SMOKER AT 8:15 THIS EVENING

Engineering Fraternity To Sponsor Entertainment In Business School

COACH STUHLDREHER WILL GIVE PRINCIPAL ADDRESS

Joseph Mihalcik Chairman Of Committee in Charge Of Arrangements

This year something new in the way of entertainment for its members has been planned by Phi Kappa Pi, sole engineering fraternity on the campus. True to its policy of seeing everything completed when something is started, the first smoker that has ever been held by the organization will take place tonight in the Commerce and Finance basement at 8:15.

Promotes Good Will

The fraternity has always desired to introduce the freshmen to the members prior to initiation night, which takes place in the Spring. This year a smoker was decided upon in order that the yearling engineers might meet the upper classmen and at the same time become acquainted with the activities that the club has planned for the coming year.

Club officers believe this procedure will be all the more reason why freshmen should not hesitate to become a member of this rapidly growing society. At the same time it will give the members an opportunity to get together at an informal affair and enjoy a night of entertainment with the engineering faculty.

Stuhldreher to Talk

Coach Harry Stuhldreher, who is celebrating his tenth year as mentor of Villanova's football team, will be the principal speaker of the evening. After his rousing and inspiring talks at all of the rallies

Continued on Page Eight

HOLY HOUR IS SET FOR THURSDAY EVE.

Devotion to Be Held in Conjunction With Night Prayer Service

The Thursday evening preceding the first Friday in each month, a Holy Hour will be conducted for the students in the College Chapel. This devotion will be held in conjunction with the service for evening prayers. Evenings on which the Holy Hour is conducted, evening prayers will be at 6 o'clock instead of 6:30.

Attendance Not Obligatory

Attendance at evening prayers is obligatory as usual on all students, but attendance at the complete Holy Hour is not obligatory. Students are free to leave the chapel at the conclusion of evening prayers, which will be said at the beginning of the Holy Hour.

The first monthly Holy Hour will be held on Thursday evening of this week, from 6 until 7 o'clock, and the devotions will be conducted by the Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A.

Opportunity for Atonement

It is believed by the chaplain that every student realizes his obligation to offer to God his worship, praise, thanksgiving, and atonement. The Holy Hour gives opportunity for the performance of these

Continued on Page Eight

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

'HELL WEEK' BANNED BY SOUTHERN CAL.

President Issues Edict to Stop Annual Hazing by Fraternities on Campus

By Associated Collegiate Press

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 22—Paddling, tubbing, and "Hell Week," for long the bane of pledges to social fraternities at the University of Southern California, are to be no more following an official edict issued by President R. B. von KleinSmid prohibiting hazing activities at school

Protects Health

In a notice sent to all campus fraternities terming the practices as "indefensible in a college institution," Dr. von KleinSmid declared that the move was made to do away with all forms of physical punishment and hazing because "the University is obligated to protect the health and well-being of all students under its supervision."

Practices specifically prohibited by the edict include physical paddling, tubbing, exposure, deprivation of sleep, and any form of rough handling

As a substitute for "Hell Week"—the period prior to initiation when pledges were required to do everything from acquiring a black cat with a white tail, to obtaining an autograph of the governor—a probationary week when the neophytes would do constructive work in and around the fraternity house after school hours, was suggested by the U. S. C. president.

Freshman 'Needles' T. C. U. Grid Coach At Practice Drill

Yearling's Jibe at Howard Grubbs Puts New Life In Sessions

By Associated Collegiate Press

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 22—Howard Grubbs, new freshman coach at Texas Christian University, is putting new life into his practice sessions.

Here's why. On the second day out, members of the squad were ordered to take a run around the field. Grubbs, only four years out of T. C. U. himself, looks no older than many of the men he coaches. He jogged along after his squad, watching the performance of the men. When the freshmen had completed the turn of the field, one of them pantingly observed to Grubbs:

"Say, Shorty, what position are you out for?"

Then, without waiting for a reply:

"Whatever it is, you'd better hustle a little or you'll get dropped from the squad!"

Novel System for Class Attendance Suggested by Dean at Westminster

By Associated Collegiate Press

New Wilmington, Pa., Oct. 22—Responsibility for class attendance at Westminster College has been placed squarely on the shoulders of the student in a new system suggested by Dean Alexander Burr and adopted by the faculty.

The new rules provide in the main that a student shall not be dropped from class because of absence alone, but absence which results in poor classroom work may be the cause for dropping.

Student Responsible

The regulations as adopted by the faculty are:

1. The responsibility for satisfactorily meeting the requirements for completing the work of any given course rests squarely upon the student.

2. It is assumed that each student will be present on time at each regular session of every course in which he is registered.

3. It is further assumed that each student will use due judgment in assigning time priority to various interests and activities.

4. No student will be barred or dropped from class for mere absence.

5. Any student may be barred or dropped from class when, in the combined judgment of the Dean of the College and the instructor involved, and for any reason, the said student fails to benefit by the work of the class or is a hindrance to the progress of others.

6. The instructor in charge shall take the attendance at the beginning of each session of a course.

7. The instructor shall make a complete weekly report of absences for each course, upon a blank to be provided, not later than the close of each academic week.

8. The college office shall tabulate the attendance reports and supply the deans with the attendance record of each student.

9. Absences from written examinations, announced at least two sessions previously, shall not be excused except by the Dean and then for most weighty reasons. Such excused absences shall be made up in a manner satisfactory to the instructor concerned and due credit given the student.

10. All other "make-up" work shall be entirely at the option of the instructor.

WHAT, NO SOLDIERS?

By Associated Collegiate Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22—The University of Minnesota, for the first time since its founding, this year started its academic year without compulsory military training.

Collegiate Review

By Associated Collegiate Press

Approximately 87 per cent of the colleges and universities of the United States are not broadcasting their football games this Fall.

Ohio University (Athens) officials have leased a hotel which is being used as a cooperative rooming house for 65 men students.

With the opening of its Fall term last month, Columbia University (New York City) started its 181st academic year.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (Boston) is the most expensive men's college in the United States — the minimum cost for Freshmen is $1080 per year.

Hulda Stettler, the canning champion of the United States, has enrolled at the University of Wisconsin (Madison).

A new geophysics course is being offered this Fall for the first time at the University of Texas (Austin). It will be taught by Dr. Arnold Romberg.

A course in modern history will be conducted at Smith College this year by Dr. Hans Kohn, doctor juris of the University of Prague.

The Federal Government is sending approximately 70,000 students through colleges and universities throughout the United States this year at a cost of more than $1,000,000.

Good Taste!

Luckies

Only the clean Center Leaves the mildest leaves

They Taste Better

The world's finest tobaccos are used in Luckies —the "Cream of the Crop"—only the clean center leaves—for the clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better.

"It's toasted"

Your throat protection—against irritation—against cough

Copyright 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Seniors! Please Cooperate With The Belle Air Staff By Returning Personals Early

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 5 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1934 Price: Five Cents

Students! On To Beantown! Encourage The 'Cats To Clip The Feathers Of The Eagles

PLANS FORMULATED FOR STUDENT BODY SPECIAL TO BOSTON

Tickets on Sale in Bookroom; None Available After Thursday Noon

TICKET TO GAME EXTRA; BOAT FARE COSTS $5.50

Entourage Leaves for Villanova Immediately After Fray; Arrives Sunday

Plans are being formulated to accommodate one of the largest Villanova rooting sections ever to make the annual trek north to witness the renewal of the traditional grid warfare of a fighting Wildcat eleven and a strong Boston College team on Saturday in the Hub city.

Rev. Bernard M. Albera, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, anticipates a large turnout of local supporters. The ticket sale, which started yesterday in the bookstore and will continue until Thursday noon already shows a creditable number of undergraduates are anxious to accompany the Villanova pilgrimage.

Will Board Liner

In New York the delegation will proceed to North River Pier No. 14, where the S. S. Priscilla, crack liner of the Fall River Steamship Co., will weigh anchor at 5 P. M. The following morning the boat docks at Fall River, Mass. Busses will transport the gathering to the B. C. stadium, about an hour's ride.

The admission charge to Saturday's encounter will be $1.10 for students and $2.20 for all others. Anyone desiring to take advantage of this student discount must purchase his ticket at the athletic department office before the beginning of the trip.

As soon as the contest is over, it will be necessary far those making the excursion to leave the Boston College field immediately, in order to make connections at Fall

Continued on Page Four

ANNUAL FIELD DAY TO BE HELD THURS.

Duration of Regs May Depend On Result of Frosh-Soph Contest

Frosh and Sophs will meet in the traditional field day to be held Thursday morning. Rev. Francis Ludwig, O. S. A., moderator of the Sophomore Class, is in charge.

Sports Events

The program is planned to open at 10 o'clock Thursday morning with a sack race. Following this will be a "Rugby" game. The feature of the day planned is the annual greased pig race. The scene of action will then move to the golf course pond, where a tug of war will ensue. This will close the morning's program. In the afternoon, a touch football game will be played on Mendel Field.

The rules of the "Rugby" are simple. A football is placed in the middle of the field, the two teams are lined up on the goal lines and a whistle is blown. The teams then endeavor to put the ball across their opponents' goal line by any means.

Greased Pig Race

The greased pig race is equally simple. Upon the pig's release from a barrel, the teams try to secure a firm hold on the slippery porker,

Continued on Page Four

NO CLASSES THURSDAY

Because Thursday of this week, All Saints' Day, is a holy day of obligation, classes will not be held in any of the undergraduate schools on the campus. Resident students are requested by the Chaplain to attend Mass in college chapel at 8:30 o'clock. Classes will be resumed at the regular time Friday morning, and, as usual, double "cuts" will be given for all students who fail to return to school the day following a holiday.

STUDENTS' WARM SENDOFF TO FOOTBALL TEAM PROVES VAIN

(Staff Photo—Violetti)

Picture shows the assemblage of several hundred members of the undergraduate body who gathered at the Villanova Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad to give the pigskin toters of the college a rousing bon voyage, last Friday morning, when the squad entrained for the lair of the Bucknell Bison. Villanova lost, 13-0.

PRESIDENT CHOSEN HEAD OF COMMITTEE

Fr. Stanford Elected Leader Of National Catholic Educational Association

Word has been received that Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., LL. D., president of the college, has been chosen chairman of a committee on organization for the College Department of the National Catholic Educational Association, at a meeting held in Chicago, October 15.

The appointment of this committee was determined at the June meeting of the N. C. E. A. held in Chicago. The selection of the members, however, was entrusted to a committee consisting of Very Rev. Samuel Knox Wilson, S. J., president of Loyola University, Chicago; Very Rev. Francis V. Corcoran, C. M., president of De Paul University, Chicago, and Rev. William F. Cunningham, C. S. C., of the University of Notre Dame, president of the College Department of the Association.

To Study Department Progress

The purpose of the committee is to study the question as to whether or not the College Department of the N. C. E. A. as now organized is in a position to achieve its purposes, and if not, to submit a plan of reorganization. The first meeting of the committee will be held in New York City. It is expected that a preliminary report will be ready for the meeting of the College Department at Atlanta, Georgia, late in January. The final report is to be

Continued on Page Four

'Cabaret Night?' 'Gosh,' Says Frosh; Faculty, 'Tsk, Tsk'

Authority Confirms Rumors Despite Surprised Attitude Of Campus Solons

Cabaret night at Villanova!

"Oh, yeah!" remarks someone at the suggestion.

"Tsk, tsk," is the only response the more dignified members of the faculty would give to even contemplating a project of this type.

Nevertheless, it's going to occur, and those who are still inclined to be skeptical should seek Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., chaplain, to learn further information on the affair.

Word leaked out from an authoritative source that Villanova students will be invited to attend one of the most unique functions ever presented on the campus, within a fortnight.

Ideal Location

But here's the payoff—the night club scene will be laid in none other than the traditional Pie Shoppe where the venerable "Louie" rules as major domo. Maybe "Louie" doesn't know anything about it yet, but he will after he reads this.

The person who requested his name be omitted as having given the information to the Pie Shoppe correspondent of the VILLANOV-

Continued on Page Four

RING COMMITTEE CONDUCTS POLL

Survey Reveals Nine - Tenths Of Juniors Will Purchase Class Insignia

Results of the poll conducted by the ring committee, among the members of the Junior Class, to determine the number of third year men who intend to purchase this article of jewelry, show that only fifteen of the approximately one hundred and fifty in the class have replied "no" to the query.

Bids have been received from several Philadelphia and New York firms. The price has not been settled as yet and the contract has not been awarded, but the committee is attempting to secure as reasonable a price as possible

WORK BEGUN TODAY ON SENIOR ANNUAL

November 15 Set as Deadline For Presentation of Senior Write-Ups

Work on the Belle Air, the annual publication of the Senior Class, will officially begin this afternoon when a meeting of the entire editorial staff will be called by the editor-in-chief, George Malhame.

The meeting will be held at 1 o'clock in the Belle Air office in Mendel Hall. The following members of the editorial staff are requested to attend: Lawrence Goldschmidt, John Stell, Lawrence Doherty, John Butler, Joseph Costigan, Pactrus Banmiller, John Shevland, Raymond McGunnigle, John DiJoseph, Raphael Alvarez, Pio Goggi, Harry Kornfield, Gabriel Martyak, Harold Keating, Edward O'Neill, John Hallahan, Francis Bigley and Louis D'Angelo.

Personals Being Written

It has been announced that the senior write-ups must be ready by November 15, as the photography for the annual is expected to be done much earlier this year. Slips have already been distributed to the seniors in order that they may procure the necessary material for their respective personals. The slips are so arranged that each senior may list his activities, and then give the data to one of his classmates who in turn will add the conventional laudation.

Contracts Awarded

The printing contract of the book has been awarded to the Clark Printing Co., of Philadelphia, while Zamsky & Co., of the same city, will again attend to the photography work. The contract for the engraving has not as yet been awarded.

On behalf of the student body the VILLANOVAN wishes to express its sincere sympathy to Frank Wetzler, a Senior in the Arts School, on the death of his beloved father, Mathias Wetzler, on October 27. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

BETA GAMMA

A meeting of Beta Gamma will be held this evening at 8 o'clock, instead of tomorrow night.

P. K. P. WILL HOLD INITIAL SMOKER AT 8:15 THIS EVENING

Engineering Fraternity To Sponsor Entertainment In Business School

COACH STUHLDREHER WILL GIVE PRINCIPAL ADDRESS

Joseph Mihalcik Chairman Of Committee in Charge Of Arrangements

This year something new in the way of entertainment for its members has been planned by Phi Kappa Pi, sole engineering fraternity on the campus. True to its policy of seeing everything completed when something is started, the first smoker that has ever been held by the organization will take place tonight in the Commerce and Finance basement at 8:15.

Promotes Good Will

The fraternity has always desired to introduce the freshmen to the members prior to initiation night, which takes place in the Spring. This year a smoker was decided upon in order that the yearling engineers might meet the upper classmen and at the same time become acquainted with the activities that the club has planned for the coming year.

Club officers believe this procedure will be all the more reason why freshmen should not hesitate to become a member of this rapidly growing society. At the same time it will give the members an opportunity to get together at an informal affair and enjoy a night of entertainment with the engineering faculty.

Stuhldreher to Talk

Coach Harry Stuhldreher, who is celebrating his tenth year as mentor of Villanova's football team, will be the principal speaker of the evening. After his rousing and inspiring talks at all of the rallies

Continued on Page Eight

HOLY HOUR IS SET FOR THURSDAY EVE.

Devotion to Be Held in Conjunction With Night Prayer Service

The Thursday evening preceding the first Friday in each month, a Holy Hour will be conducted for the students in the College Chapel. This devotion will be held in conjunction with the service for evening prayers. Evenings on which the Holy Hour is conducted, evening prayers will be at 6 o'clock instead of 6:30.

Attendance Not Obligatory

Attendance at evening prayers is obligatory as usual on all students, but attendance at the complete Holy Hour is not obligatory. Students are free to leave the chapel at the conclusion of evening prayers, which will be said at the beginning of the Holy Hour.

The first monthly Holy Hour will be held on Thursday evening of this week, from 6 until 7 o'clock, and the devotions will be conducted by the Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A.

Opportunity for Atonement

It is believed by the chaplain that every student realizes his obligation to offer to God his worship, praise, thanksgiving, and atonement. The Holy Hour gives opportunity for the performance of these

Continued on Page Eight

The VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35.....Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35.....Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35.....College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35.....Sports Editor
JOHN C. DiJOSEPH, '36.....Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35.....Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35.....Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35.....Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35.....Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35.....Art and Photographic Editor

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35
Edmond C. Maihame, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
John F. Chapple, '37 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — Frank J. O'Hara, '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marcouse, '35 — Anthony Catrambone, '36
Harold J. Keating, '35 — William J. Allen, '35
Norton C. Paden, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '37 — Anthony Ditter, '37
Frank M. Alfano, Jr., '36 — James Boland, '38
George Fanning, '37 — Frank Megaro, '38
Harvey Davis, '38 — Louis D'Angelo, '35
Richard Kelly, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Louis Biester, '38 — John Scalera, '34
Basil W. Dobrowolski, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN
Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - - OCTOBER 30, 1934

THE POLITICAL ART OF MUD THROWING

IT SEEMS, that at some time in the past it became the inalienable right of certain politicians to inveigh the reputations of those who are contending with them for public office. This trait is the more strenuously exercised when they can find little or no cause for complaint against the "platform" of their opponent.

We know of a no more prominent person, in whom this disagreeable characteristic is so finely developed as in the present Governor of Pennsylvania. For it was during the primary elections, that he could find no obloquy too insignificant to heap upon the person of David Reed, who was running against him for the Republican nomination to the United States Senate. Since then the Governor, having changed his political policies, has resorted to a similar sort of invective against the Democratic nominees for governor and senator.

While it is not our purpose to single out Mr. Pinchot personally as Pennsylvania's exemplar of political vituperation, nevertheless the widespread political practice of, what is known in common parlance as "mud slinging," cannot be too strenuously condemned. For it is indeed a rare occasion when a man, who is running for office, does not pass at least some disparaging remarks upon the mentality or personality of his opponent. The cynical are very apt to characterize this unpleasant condition in American politics, as being due to the fact, that we have too many politicians and too few statesmen.

ULTIMATUM FOR BANKERS

MR. ROOSEVELT in his speech before the American Bankers Association, placed particular emphasis upon the fact that the Federal Government does not intend to be influenced in its public expenditures by the bankers of the country. This tactful but non-the-less definite statement was construed by many to be akin to a public chastisement of the banking institutions, which, for the past few years, have attempted to control Federal expenditures by granting or refusing credit to the government. But, while the words of the President contained no definite threat, they implied, quite obviously, that the Government expects to continue its past policies, whether it meets with the approbation of the American bankers or not.

The present government stands, primarily, for the relief of the distressed and the speedy return of the country to economic normality. While some of its measures may not be consistent with sound banking principles, there is reasonable assurance that it is working in the right direction. It is an age-old maxim that a house divided against itself cannot survive. From this we may safely conclude, any attempt upon the part of the banking institutions of this country, to frustrate, either openly or subtly, the reconstructive plans of the Federal Government will redound to their own disadvantage.

THE LEGITIMATE THEATRE

DARK spots in various districts of many cities, places once ablaze with light, shortened seasons, lesser number of plays being launched, dwindling of box office receipts, such has been the lot of the theatre since '29. A victim of the depression? Yes! What individual or business has not in some way felt its effect? Yet the theatre cannot place the entire blame for its present state on the depression or the movies either. The disease that has brought about present conditions is the result of faults within the theatre itself. Evils which they have fostered and encouraged; evils of stupidity, avarice and snootiness. Their condescending attitude toward the playgoers, their high prices, and their policy of letting the ticket agencies have the best seats so they can charge still higher prices got by during prosperous years, but bred a resentment that took a depression to uncover. Do away with legal scalpers, give us good plays with carefully selected casts, plus reasonable admission prices and the theatre will not have to worry about its future. There are many, and the number is increasing, of those who would rather see flesh and blood portrayals of drama than exist entirely on a gelatine diet.

LYNCH LAW IS NO LAW

NEWSPAPERS throughout the land for the past few days have carried glaring stories of the latest episode of mob violence to take place in one of the Southern States of our country. Surely, in this land of the free and the home of the brave, one wonders whether America has reached that degree of civilization to which she aspires with great fervor. That stage is none other than is described in the immortal words of our Constitution, "Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Daring as the crime which the Negro in Mariana, Fla., committed, one cannot absolve the response of the mob to take the law in its own hands. Yet these people cannot be justified as having taken the "law"" in their own hands. Lynch law is no law. It is a form which breeds anarchy. To whomever the laxity of properly enforcing the statutes of the State of Florida may be attributed, should go the condemnation of a sorrowing nation. No remorse is felt for the victim who would probably have been given the death sentence through a speedy trial before a justice within the State, but for the people who openly took part in that crime of defying all God- and man-made laws. Theirs is the awful prospect of facing a Supreme Judge who at least will grant them a fairer hearing than they permitted an unfortunate and depraved human.

MAKING USE OF PROFITS

VENDING machines dispersed enough sweets to University of Pennsylvania students last year that a profit of $2000 was realized from the sale. The point to be noted here is that self-supporting students inspect the stands daily, collect the money, and replenish the stock. The profit from these stands is their salary. In times like the present, projects of this type at Villanova would help some of those who are badly in need of finances, and would give legitimate employment to men who are not too proud to work.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

A SENIOR group of business students dacussing what subjects they would drop for electives, if permissable, covered the entire gamut of requirements. Electives ranging from salesmanship to calculus were expressed as desirable substitutes. It took Ned O'Neill to burst their bubbles with his choice —interpretive dancing. Madame Rasche should hear of this! Wouldn't doubt but that she'd take him under her tutelage gratis.

Pete Kerr, a senior business man, was subjected to an operation on his sitter. Since then one never sees him without his trusty inflated rubber tube which he uses to make aforementioned sitter comfortable. The Kerr was absent from class the other day and upon the professor's query as to his whereabouts, Russ Marcouse nobly answered: "He couldn't come today, he had a puncture."

The junior varsity was scrimmaging Coach Skaff, as is the case when the signals are known by the defensive team, was calling the plays directly from huddle. The teams lined up. This time the offensive team was determined to open up a big hole for a resulting gain. Too often had their backs been stopped. Offensive guard Gene McAuliff, looking around in a manner that bespoke ignorance of the play, brought this rasping interrogation from the coach: "What's the mafter, Gene? Don't you know the signal?" In a confident tone, Gene made reply: "Sure I do. It's 34 play. Right through here!" After both teams picked themselves from the ground, where they had fallen convulsed with laughter; and when Gene promised to give no more plays away, another play was given.

Previous to the Bucknell game, there was some comment as to how the team would go to Lewisburg. One chap had heard they would go by Greyhound, and was telling a friend this. So you may the better understand his friend's reply an account of the trick knee of the star blocking back, Frank Wetzler, is necessary. This knee which has played such a noble part in Villanova victories, has the habit of popping out of place when bumped very hard, rendering Frank hors de combat, until snapped in place again. Good friend's retort (which Dave Murray, the bus agent, will resent) came: "No, they won't go that way. The bumping and jouncing would knock Wetzler's leg out of place!"

Several of Fedigan's "finest" are dashing about the campus trying to scrape up four bucks. Their plea is that they need it to make the Boston College trip. The inside on this story is coming to the front. The "finest" already have the necessary cabbage for the Boston caravan, they want the quartet of sheckels for a trip up to the Mounts Senior Prom on November 17.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

AT the University of Louisville a novel, instructive, and entertaining method of portraying to the masters of their gridiron how they played at the last fracas, has been introduced. This is accomplished by means of a movie shown every Friday at their weekly convocation. The student body is allowed to see this weekly presentation, also, without any admission fee. What would the students here think of the idea? It may happen some day.

• • •

Apropos of the present-day news in regard to the coming elections, an excerpt from the Minnesota Daily quotes a Michigan Congressman as saying that he deplores the poor quality of college liquor. The daily adds "that a poor college student cannot possibly hope to get the kind of stuff they serve to Senators at Washington." Remember this when voting next week.

• • •

Someone remarked about the name of this column. What do you think of these names: "Manhattan Cocktails," "Duke's Mixture," and "The Owl and the Oyster"?

• • •

The weekly jest from a university of the West: A history professor at one of the western colleges asked a blank freshman the location of the capital of the United States. Naively, the freshman answered: "That's a question for the Sceretary of the Treasury."

• • •

In a general investigation of reading done by undergraduates, conducted by Professor Atwood Townsend, of New York University, it was found that John Galsworthy's "Forsythe Saga" was the favorite. A complete volume of his works will be found in the college library for those who haven't read it.

• • •

Girls at Simmons College for Women, in Boston, are not allowed to tickle each other for fear they will go into hysterics, * Bostonians who are members of the student body here are admonished not to "date" any of these co-eds while in Beantown.

• • •

"Drowning," wrote a freshman at Alabama, "is the science of taking enough water into the lungs to keep from living." Thanks to De Paul University.

• • •

Here are some history boners from that department at the University of Kansas:

St. Bartholomew's Day—A massacre in which many Christians were killed by Catholics.

Predestination—What was going to happen to you after death, by Calvin.

Lindbergh was met with coursity in Paris.

• • •

Another old custom: Butler University co-eds were not allowed to belong to sororities, because the faculty suspected that one of the initiation rites was a kiss. The old fossils!

Campus Celebs - - - - By Cailliet

As We See It . . . Newspapers

THE chestnut-vendor at his curbside stand and the supercilious gentleman, who, in return for a certain large sum of the nation's currency will bestow a Rolls upon the client, have something in common. Usually they sell their products for more money than it costs them. And this is a truism in trade save where magazines and newspapers are concerned. These, by the working of modern business are an exception. The newspaper, which is sold for a few cents, regarded in itself, puts the publisher in the red. By a system of selling understandable only when certain facts are known, the ordinary publisher is content to offer his product on the street for far less than it costs to produce it.

For instance, consider that Sunday edition, that Sabbatical agglomeration which is offered for ten cents. The great sheaf of printed matter is turned out regularly and in huge quantities. A copy of the Sunday paper is an enormous thing. One's arms weary carrying it. The average buyer could not read all the matter in one issue even if he had nothing else to do and a week in which to do it. Aside from the assortment of articles, special features and addenda of the most varied sort, the edition is expanded beyond endurance by pages of advertisements. Truly the paper, particularly of a Sunday morning, has grown to enormous size.

The journal of the present time with its many departments and features only remotely associated with the newspaper would stun the old-time editor. The newspaper in its one-time size, make-up, and position has changed as completely as the scenes on the road since pa was a boy.

Why can a publisher sell his 20- or 30-page paper for such a price? One word gives the answer—advertising.

The paper of an earlier day carried ads, of course, but these were incidental. The news reports and the editorials were the backbone of the press. The advent of business on a colossal scale changed all this. When newspapers came under the spell of advertisement, the stage was set for a complete upheavel in newspaperdom.

We see the result. The press is not a venture, it is a business; a business closely dependent upon the fluctuations of trade and commerce.

But how did this factor, advertising, bring about the change? Naturally enough, advertising rates depend upon circulation. A large and specialized circulation can command much more favorable rates. The paper had to become more generally known. Here began the addition of new departments and features. The race for circulation figures called forth new and ingenious devices to attract buyers so that those high rates could be secured.

Today the newspaper needs a highly organized selling machine which admits no tampering. Guaranteed circulation must be maintained at all costs. The subordination of editorial policy and news items is evident. For better or worse, business rules the newspaper world today.

With the great increase in sales, inducing features, and advertising, the newspaper became a top-heavy thing. On days when advertising copy is scarce the paper must put out at a loss. It has come to this, that certain favorable days must tide over the lean issues. But if this is a precarious thing, the whole affair presents an even more striking picture. As it stands, the modern daily, particularly the metropolitan journal, can't readjust itself to new conditions. Circumstances which expanded the newspaper have vanished. New conditions demand reduced costs—and the paper is entangled in the mesh of shifting circumstances. Having accustomed the public to a certain type of newspaper, a type which is most offensive, the paper is helpless to change. The steady diminution of the number of papers in communities is one result. When advertising fails off the unnatural business must suffer. The paper which costs more than it sells for, becomes the consumer of profits. The disappearance of dailies formerly quite prosperous tells the story of the outcome of unnatural development.

Fashion Notes By Collegiate Digest

Rough and Ready

College men have turned from the smooth, sleek lines and cloths and are adopting with surprising celerity suits with a nonchalant hang of the coat, natural shoulders and soft rolled lapels. Many of the latest designs have the military satchel pockets, although this type is somewhat in the background as yet.

Fall stylists decree that the easy-fitting suits be of rough fabrics—with woolens predominating. With colder weather in the offing, the smart collegian will accept this mode as both stylish and practical. Fall showings throughout the country are featuring these new designs and cloths.

Penned Thoughts

By Ben Maloney

THE BAREFOOT GIRL

(With Apologies to The Barefoot Boy)

Shame on you my little girl,
Barefoot maid with sculptured curl,
With thy bright enameled toes,
And thy pale white powdered nose,
With thy lips redder still,
Kissed with Cotys at your will,
With the sunshine on your face,
Streaming through a gown of lace,
From my heart I give a groan,
It hurts...the artificial tone.

What care you for birds and bees,
Varied flowers and stately trees?
How the tortoise bears his shell,
How the Woodchuck digs his cell?
Daring gowns are what you crave,
Intriguing man soon your slave.
Sweet perfumes the senses stir,
You're most attractive in a coat of fur.

But stop to think how long you'll last,
You might go far, you'll travel fast.
Sooner or later my girl of affairs,
You'll limp into port like a ship for repairs.
And then you will see what little joy you've known,
You were naught but a queen without a throne.

DIAL-LOG

OSCAR BRADLEY is the latest big name of the musical stage to raise the baton for the microphone audience. He conducts the brilliant orchestral settings for Will Rogers' programs every Sunday night over the WABC-Columbia network. It is perhaps enough to say that Oscar Bradley directed the musical score of Victor Herbert's "Dream Girl" or that he was musical director of such productions as "Rio Rita," "Show Boat" and Ziegfeld "Follies."

Dwight Weist, who was recently called upon to impersonate Bruno Hauptmann in the CBS "March of Time," found himself in a position similar to the Federal agents before they tracked down the suspect. Weist knew all about the man's character as reported in the newspapers, but had never heard him speak. Recently he received a pass to the extradition hearing. After listening to the German speak he was amazed to learn that his impersonation was accurate so far as accent and intonation were concerned; only Hauptmann's voice was pitched higher.

Rudy Vallee and Eddie Peabody began their friendship under unusual circumstances. They were headliners six years ago at rival theatres in Brooklyn, when they first met. Rudy took the banjo wizard under his managerial wing and installed him at his Club Valee.

Ford Bond, NBC'S singer-composer-sports announcer, and the Landt Trio and White will be guests of Mary Small, the Little Miss Bab-O of the air, when her Surprise Party is broadcast over WEAF at 1:30 P. M. on Sunday, November 4.

Villanova boasts among its many graduates of fame none other than Elmer Feldkamp, saxophonist and baritone soloist in Freddie Martin's band. This is not the first contract that Feldkamp has fulfilled with a broadcasting orchestra over a national hook-up. He was the featured vocalist with Bert Lown and many others.

Here are some of the previous activities of NBC artists: Don McNeil comedian heard with Jane Froman and Frank Black's orchestra, was radio editor of a Louisville newspaper. . . . Dan Landt of the Landt Trio drove a truck in his home town of Scranton. . . . Barry McKinley, the Ohio baritone, was a tap dancer in musical comedy. . . . Jessica Dragonette received her first musical training at a convent, Georgian Court College, formerly the sumptuous mansion of Jay Gould.

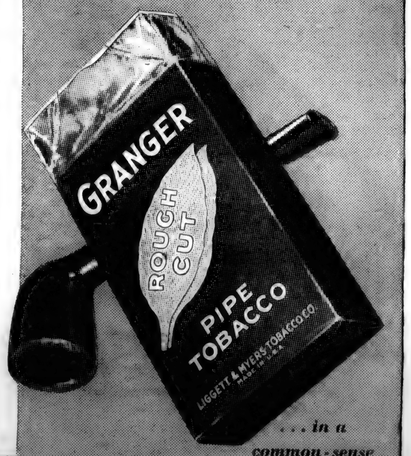
the Wellman Process does this —
..it makes the tobacco milder

In the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.

The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers.

...it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma
...it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler
...it makes the tobacco milder
...it leaves a clean dry ash —no soggy residue or heel in the pipe bowl

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.



...in a common-sense package—10c

We wish in some way we could get every man who smokes a pipe to just try Granger

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Plans Formulated For Hub City Trip

Continued From Page One

River for the return journey of the vessel.

Mass in New York

After the boat has docked in New York City early Sunday morning the delegation will proceed to historic St. Peter's Church in lower Manhattan, where Mass will be celebrated. After the Mass the group may spend the day in seeing the sights of the Eastern metropolis.

The outstanding attraction on the trip is the overnight sail to Boston on the sea-going liner. In addition to the outstanding cuisine of the Fall River Co., the assembly will have the privilege of dancing to the strains of a well-known musical organization, besides the numerous entertainment facilities featured by the line.

The entire Villanova band will make the jaunt to the Massachusetts metropolis and will serenade the passengers, both going and coming.

The scale of prices for the trip is as follows: Transportation from New York City to Boston, and return, $5.50. Transportation to Boston, from New York and return, with berth accommodations, two men to a stateroom, $6.50. Transportation, stateroom, two dinners, and two breakfasts, from New York City to Boston, and return, $9.00.

HEADS COMMITTEE

REV. EDWARD V. STANFORD, O. S. A., M. S., LL. D., president of the college, who has been appointed head of a group which will study the College Section of the National Catholic Educational Associtaion.

President Chosen Head of Committee

Continued From Page One

presented at the annual meeting of the association to be held in Chicago in April 1935. The College Department of the N. C. E. A. has a membership of about 125 Catholic colleges.

Large Personnel

The personnel of the committee of which Father Stanford is chairman, is as follows: Very Rev. Edward V. Cardinal, C. S. V., president of St. Viator's College, Bourbonnais, Illinois; Rev. W. F. Cunningham, C. S. C., University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.; Rev. J. T. Dillon, J. D., dean, St. Joseph's College, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Very Rev. Aloysius J. Hogan, S. J., president, Fordham University, New York; Mother Ignatius, president, New Rochelle College, New Rochelle, New York; Mother Mary Columkille, president, Incarnate Word College, San Antonio, Texas; Rev. Alcuin Tasch, O. S. B., dean, St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Penna., and Very Rev. Walter C. Tredtin, S. M., president, Dayton University, Dayton, O.

Parents Receive Monthly Reports On Student Chapel

Monthly reports on the chapel attendance of students by the college chaplain have become an innovation here in order to let the parents know more often how their sons are progressing religiously.

Parents are asked to send in replies commending Villanova's religious training or to suggest possible corrections, to aid the earnest work of the Augustinian Fathers of building the moral character of the students. Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., college chaplain, is pleased with the numerous replies he has already received and requests further cooperation on the part of all parents to express their suggestions or ideas toward the spiritual and moral uplife of their sons.

The perfect chapel record for monthly attendance includes a maximum of 18 evening services and three Masses, in addition to the obligatory Sunday offerings. For the one-day Retreat, the best attainable record is seven attendances.

Annual Field Day Set For Thursday

Continued From Page One

preferably around the body.

The Freshmen are confident of victory. To win means a considerable time taken off the period for which they have to wear the hated "regs." The spirit of the class is high, and they intend to have their full representation present.

Definite plans for the fray were not made up until last Friday. It is intended to hold a meeting of the Freshman class today to assure a number of first-year men being present.

The outcome of the meet will depend for the most part for how much longer the Frosh will wear their "regs."

College Will Hold Cabaret Nite Soon

Continued From Page One

AN even intimated that there would be free refreshments, free entertainment—wi'd singing—wi'd dancing wi'd no "strings" attached!

Better watch for further developments regarding this occasion, which promises to bring some of Broadway's greatest entertainers, combined with local talent, and credit this newspaper with chalking up another "scoop" (not Keating) to its credit.

Good Taste!

Copyright, 1934, The American Tobacco Company.

Luckies They Taste Better

The world's finest tobaccos are used in Luckies—the "Cream of the Crop"—only the clean center leaves—for the clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better.

"It's toasted"

√ Your throat protection—against irritation—against cough

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

THE wonderful showing of the Villanova team against the Detroit Titans did nothing to lessen the high opinion held by most of the students of the Mid-West eleven. To further make us realize the great strength of the Fordtowners we quote from an article written by Joe Davis, sports editor of the Detroit Varsity News.

Mr. Davis' article begins as follows: "University of Detroit's Titans are perhaps one of the luckiest college football teams in the country in that they are able to stage weekly scrimmage sessions with a professional team."

The article goes on to relate that an arrangement has been made between Coach Gus Dorais, of Detroit, and George (Potsy) Clark, coach of the Detroit Lions, of the National Profesional League, whereby scrimmage will be held once every week when the two teams are at home.

As most of you know the Detroit professionals are leading contenders for the honors in the western division of their league. To show you the strength of our past opponent, we again quote Davis' article concerning the outcome of the first scrimmage.

"First of all, the Titan passing attack proved difficult to solve, and Nott, Karpus, and Lutz completed several heaves to their mates which resulted in touchdowns. On the other hand the Lions' passing enjoyed no such success against the Titan defense. The professionals' power and reverse plays gave the Titans something to think about, however."

For a college team to score one touchdown against a professional team, no matter how it was done, would be considered as a rare fete, especially in this day of really high pro ball, but to read of the Lions scoring on "several heaves" makes one realize the really great strength that this college team must possess.

—V—

AGAIN we are asking you to cooperate with us by filling out the blanks provided by the Collegiate Digest in their attempt to pick an All-American football team by student vote. On the last page of the rotogravure section of this paper you will find the ballot.

In order to encourage your vote we have placed two ballot boxes at prominent positions on the campus. All you have to do is fill in the blanks with the men you think worthy of All-American recognition and deposit the slip of paper in these ballot boxes. We will collect them and see that they are mailed to the Collegiate Digest.

It is not necessary for you to name Villanova players, but if there are any that you think worthy do not hesitate to put in his name.

The ballot boxes have been placed outside of the dining hall and outside of the office of this paper. Fill out the ballot in pencil and sign your name and school at the bottom. Other schools in this vicinity are taking advantage of this opportunity. Don't let Villanova fall behind in this good opening for recognition.

—V—

WITH five New Englanders on the Villanova squad, it is evident that when our football team journeys to Boston on Saturday for the game with Boston College there will be determination in the minds of all, aided by stern determination in the hearts and minds of five.

The fact that Western Maryland, who was tied by the Wildcats on the muddy Villanova loam, defeated the Bostonians, 40-0, two weeks ago, does not give the Villanovans any overconfidence. They have not forgotten the 9-0 reverse suffered last year, nor do they have to be reminded that Fordham was lucky to gain a 6-0 win over B. C. three Saturdays ago.

The contest between the Eagle and the Wildcat will be football played as it should. In the past it has always been hard fought and very close. This year should be no exception. Follow the team to Boston; give them the support which they need and deserve.

Bucknell Slides to Upset Victory Over 'Cats

VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK — BOWLING

Tuesday, October 30, 1934 Page Five

'CATS FACE EAGLES SATURDAY

WILDCAT FUMBLES HELP BISONS IN WINNING, 13 TO 0

Villanova Is Outgained 3 to 1 As Bucknell Scores On Muddy Gridiron

LEE IS STAR IN LINE; MAHOVLICH ALSO SHINES

Smartly Drilled Felines Unable To Display Classy Running Plays

Fumbling themselves into defeat, Villanova lost a 13 to 0 upset at the hands of the Bucknell Bisons at the new Christy Mathewson stadium Saturday.

Old Man Football came to grips with Jupe Pluvius in the picturesque stadium in the hills of Lewisburg in a contest that saw the Bisons taking advantage of numerous mistakes on the part of Harry Stuhldreher's warriors.

It was Homecoming Day for the graduates of Bucknell and the faithful Alumni took home the fun from the Cat's hide in a hectic battle played under a blanket of rain, and then in the last quarter, snow.

Resnichak and "Stew" Smith, of the victors combined their various talents, and spelled defeat for the boys from Philadelphia. Smith, in the third quarter crossed the last chalk mark standing up after a determined Bucknell drive had taken the Bisons inside the 20-yd. line. Reznichak, in the last quarter, aided by several breaks that brought the ball to the one-yard mark, finally punctured the Villanova forward wall to end the scoring for the wintery afternoon.

Punt Runback Costly

The first score came about as the result of a Villanova punt by Wetzler. Although the pass from center was low, Wetzler managed to get off a beautiful 45-yard punt to Sitarsky who ran it back 25 yards and was chased out of bounds on Villanova's 21-yard stripe. Miller, Bison back, added five on the next play, and then Smith tore off 16 yards through right tackle for the first score of the game. Sitarsky added the extra point.

Fumble Leads to Score

The play worked to Bucknell's advantage as a Villanova back, unrecognizable because of a mud-splattered uniform and the falling snow, fumbled and Pethick recovered for the hometowners on the Wildcats' 14. The Villanova forward wall let Smith and Miller smare a first down on the 4-yard stripe, but then with their backs to the wall, held for three downs, but Reznichak slipped through for the second tally. The kick was wide and low.

Late Rally Falls

The Main Liners made their only rally at the end of the game when McFadden ripped off 18 yards and Jimmy Walsh threw a 20-yard pass to Emmerling, that advanced the pigskin to the Bison 30.

Bucknell outgained the Villanova team, having 140 yards to their credit as compared with 50 for the visitors. The hometown team made seven first downs to the Wildcats'

Continued on Page Seven

Outstanding Wildcat Lineman

CHARLEY NOWE, sensational center of the Villanova team, whose play has been the source of much comment during the past two seasons. Nowe is a senior and is playing his last season for the Stuhldreher-coached eleven.

STATISTICS OF GAME

	Bucknell	Villanova
First downs	7	3
First downs running	6	2
First downs passing	0	1
First downs penalties	1	0
Yards gained scrimmage	140	50
Yards gained passing	0	10
Yards gained penalties	35	15
Forward passes attempted	3	4
Forward passes completed	1	1
Forward passes intercepted	1	2
Forward passes incomplete	0	2
Average yardage of punts	30½	33½
Yards gained on punt returns	68	37
Fumbles	5	6
Own fumbles recovered	4	2

FOUR SWIM MEETS SET FOR TANKMEN

Five New Candidates Report To Coach Gill; Outlook For Season Is Bright

Joe Linsalata has made rapid progress in compiling the swimming schedule, by arranging definite meets with Lafayette, January 12; Swarthmore, January 19; Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, February 16; and Johns Hopkins University on February 22. All meets are to be held at home. The Johns Hopkins meet will be held in the afternoon as the basketball team is playing that night, while the remainder of the swimming meets will be held at night.

Meets Pending

Meets with the University of Delaware, Rider College, Manhattan, and Brooklyn College are probable, the latter two to be held in New York. Negotiations are under way for meets with West Chester State Teachers, and Turner's A. C., on the home and home basis. A practice meet will probably be held with the University of Pennsylvania some time in December.

New Men Report

The call for more candidates was answered by McKee, a member of the 150 lb. team, Frank and Thomas Cook, formerly of Penn Charter, Covert and Williams.

Coach Gill is calling a meeting of all candidates this Friday, at 7 P. M. at the pool. Dinner will be served to all the day-hop swimmers in the college refectory.

BASKETBALL SQUAD BEGINS PRACTICES

Nine Veterans Make Future Campaign Hopes Bright For Doc Jacobs

By EDWARD L. COLLINS

During the past week the varsity basketball men have been working out in the gym under the guidance of Johnny Shevlin, captain and star guard. Doc Jacobs, varsity coach, at present occupied with his duties as freshman football mentor, has entrusted Shevlin with the task of rounding the candidates into shape.

Getting off to an early start, the team expects to have one of the finest cage records in the annals of Villanova, and are going about their labor with the zest and pep of mid-season play.

Should Be Successful

Indications point to a successful season with the returning of nine varsity letter winners, six of whom are juniors. In addition to Shevlin, Johnny Barry, and "Pop" Travers, are the seniors who will play their last year under the colors of the Blue and White.

Ben Geraghty, from St. Benedict's, Newark; Mike O'Meara, ex-Northeast Catholic boy; Tommy Ryan, and Jack Robinson, both from Brooklyn Prep; Bill Sweeney, John Torpey, and Bill Farris, are the other members of the squad around whom Jacobs hopes to mold together a championship aggregation during the current campaign.

Geraghty Outstanding

Geraghty is expected to be the spearhead of the attack, being ably assisted by Shevlin and Torpey. Tommy Ryan is being groomed for a guard position, and in the role of substitute last year showed to great advantage.

All these boys have been drilling diligently and by the time the season rolls around they should be in the "pink." Bill Farris, who is one of the trainers for the football squad, will report for work at the close of the gridiron campaign.

New Men Report

Don Brennan and Harry McNally

Continued on Page Seven

BEAN TOWN ELEVEN GREATLY REVAMPED SINCE W. M. DEFEAT

Mentor Ousts Seven Regulars As Reserves Stand Out Against Rivals

STUHLDREHER'S COHORTS PREPARE FOR ENCOUNTER

Wildcats Defeated Last Year In Disappointing Fracas By Score of 9-0

Whether it was a case of soured spirit or still worse a case of inflation of the cranium that caused the Boston College Eagles to lose to Western Maryland by a score of 40-0 will probably never be solved by the majority of sports critics. However, the fact remains that the highly touted Bean Towners fell in ignominious defeat before the gridders from Baltimore, and had their great record as well as their decorum knocked for the proverbial loop.

Many Changes in Line-Up

Since their disastrous showing against the Southerners the pupils of Joe McKenney have suffered some very radical changes in their line-up. Seven regulars were replaced and four of their substitutes were former reserves.

Previous to the affair with the Green Terrors, Paul Toomey was third-string pivot man, but because of his outstanding defense play he was promoted to first string and has proved to be the most accurate passer of the lot. Joe O'Brien, another former reserve, is now cavorting at left wing after seeing service with the second stringers so far this season. Under the tutelage of End Coach Bill Ormsby he has outstripped the other candidates and earned his position in the first string forward wall.

Tackles Interchanged

Henry Ohrenberger and Ted Galligan, respective right and left tackles, had their positions interchanged so that now these huskies will be seen on the opposite side of the line. Playing as running mate to Captain Dave Couhig at guard will be Alex Pszenny, who replaced the veteran Dimmy Zaitz.

In all the Eagles present a well-balanced team of gridders who are rarin' to go whenever there is a football game to be had and the tougher the better is the motto of the taloned pigskin men of the Bean Town. Their ability as an imposing threat for any college shows itself in their record to date. In their

Continued on Page Seven

PASS RED CROSS TESTS IN RESCUE TACTICS

Emblems Awarded to Two Swimming Team Members, Hogan And Greco; Three-Hour Tests Given

Four more students passed life-saving tests at the college swimming pool during the last week. They are William Hill, Donald Cousard, Toby Greco, and Daniel Hogan. The latter two are members of the varsity swimming team.

The tests extended over a period of three hours, and included examples of all the difficulties in life-saving.

Princeton 150's Win, 13-0; J. V's. Bow by Same Score

Both Wildcat Minor Elevens Lose in Week-end Contests Played on Foreign Gridirons; 13 Point Nemesis in Both Games

CAPTAIN JIM FLEMING OUTSTANDING

Princeton's Strong Eleven Shows Veteran Strength In Beating 'Cats

The 13 to 0 jinx that has been hovering over the Villanova teams during the past weekend held sway in the 'Cat lightweight battle with the Princeton representatives last Saturday. This was the Villanova team's second straight defeat by this jinx score.

At the outset of the contest both teams seemed evenly matched and punted frequently but near the end of the first quarter the Villanova team marched from their own 20 yard line to Princeton's 20 but lost the ball on a fumble.

Attack Fails

In the second period by constant passes the Tigers took the ball to the 'Cats 10 and scored on three line bucks by Bob French, substitute half back. The try for extra point failed. In this same period the Villanova outfit launched another attack and after blocking a kick on Princeton's 40 yard line they carried the ball to the eleven but again a fumble prevented the score.

The constant substitutions sent in by the Tiger mentor and their frequent passes kept the Wildcats constantly guessing.

In the last canto the Orange and Black scored their second touchdown. French again carried the ball. Berger, substitute left halfback, made good his try for the extra point.

Villanova Improved

Coach Lenzi's team showed a marked improvement over their performance against Lafayette. Last year Princeton was rated as one of the best teams in lightweight circles and lost very few of the regulars through graduation.

For the victors, French and Williams stood out in the backfield, with Van Hart and Severance starring in the line. Wildcat honors went to Captain Coyle and Morin on the line and quarterback Dan Murphy and Joe Kapic.

Wildcats Threaten Locals But Fail to Tally in Three Attempts

CARNEYS POINT, N. J., Oct. 27. —The Villanova junior varsity football team opened its season against the local Y. M. C. A. eleven in an inauspicious manner, losing by a 13 to 0 score on the Carneys Point gridiron. The contest was a hard fought affair from start to finish but the locals took advantage of the breaks to push over two tallies.

In the opening period the Y. M. C. A. team carried the ball from its own thirty-yard line to the 'Cats' forty where a pass, Hocknell to Pollock, accounted for six points. Edie, a left halfback, added the extra point on a placement kick held by Keech.

'Cats Threaten

During the second and third periods the contest settled down to a see-saw affair with neither team able to tally. Villanova threatened twice in the third canto but when they seemed on the verge of scoring the New Jerseyites settled down and took the ball on downs.

The second touchdown resulted from a line buck by Murphy, substitute back, who plunged over from the four yard line. Edie failed in his attempt to convert the extra point.

With only a few minutes remaining, the Wildcats took to the air and made several successful gains but the opposition succeeded in breaking up the attack before the visitors came within scoring distance.

Gain First Downs

Neither team showed any outstanding strength but met on even grounds in every department. Villanova gained six first downs to the locals' five.

Hocknell and Edie played stellar roles for the victors, with Captain Jim Fleming, Buszinski and Flaherty showing good form for the Blue and White team.

Another Setback

Princeton's 150's		Villanova's 150's
Van Hart	left end	Shapiro
Curry	left tackle	Gough
Drummond	left guard	Caulfield
Coburn	center	Morin
B. Pyle	right guard	Keffer
Jesser	right tackle	Carlton
Severance	right end	Coyle
Williams	quarterback	Murphy
Landis	left halfback	Rogers
Deisinger	right halfback	Kennedy
Woodward	fullback	Fitzpatrick
Princeton 150's	0 6 0 7—13
Villanova 150's	0 0 0 0—0

Touchdowns: Princeton — French, 2. Points after touchdown—Berger. Subs: Princeton—Millinger for Severance, Fairchild for Coburn, Adamson for French, Fisher for Drummond, J. T. Pyle for Jesser, Vanscriver for B. Pyle, Fairchild for Coburn, Fisher for Drummond, Metcalf for Curry, Clark for Van Hart, Osgood for French, Adamson for Williams, Garrett for Landis, Deisinger for Woodward, Shepherd for Metcalf, Keet for Scovil. Villanova—Kapic for Fitzpatrick, Kain for Murphy, Leon for Rodgers, Shevland for Kennedy, Siebers for Morin, McGee for Kapic, Gough for Cotter, Hennessey for Shiparo, Rogers for McCabe, Caulfield for Stead. Officials: Referee — Brumbaugh. Umpire—Coffee. Linesman—Weiss. Time of periods 12 minutes.

Jinx Prevails

Villanova	Pos.	Carney's Point
Fleming	left end	Vincent
Hoey	left tackle	Warner
O'Connell	left guard	Crochit
Cocheo	center	Darus.
McAuliffe	right guard	Morien
Daoud	right tackle	Forik
Sheeley	right end	Pollock
Violetti	quarterback	Keeck
Flaherty	left halfback	Edie
Buzinski	right halfback	Chance
Perria	fullback	Hocknell
Villanova	0 0 0 0—0
Carney's Point	7 0 0 6—13

Touchdowns—Pollock, Murphy. Point after touchdown—Edie (1). Villanova substitutions—Fitzpatrick for Fleming, Cook for Flaherty, Hamel for Cocheo, Costa for O'Connell, Donahue for Costa, Carney's Point substitutions—Murphy for Chance, Burke for Morien, Smith for Crochit, Grance for Warner. Referee—Straughen. Umpire— Kramer. Linesman—Boggs.

ALL-AMERICAN VOTE

Ballot boxes have been placed outside the dining hall and VILLANOVAN office to receive your vote in the Collegiate Digest poll.

SPECIAL OFFER!

ONE "Esquire" Genuine BRIAR PIPE Light or Dark Finish Individually Boxed

and

Four 15c Packages John Middleton's CLUB MIXTURE A Mild, Mellow Smoke

ALL FOR 89c

On Sale at PIE SHOPPE

Distributors for Products of John Middleton

In the Limelight

By JACK GERAGHTY

To date, in the present scholastic year, the Limelight has featured football men from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and the wild and woolly West. But sit tight; here's a bird from Jugo-Slavia. Mebbe you did not know it, but that is the patria of Frank Wetzler.

In the cold, grey dawn of February 10, 1912, this moppet was born. Born in Philadelphia, too. But to get to the Jugo-Slavia part of it—After the war, you know—the World War, his people packed 12 trunks, kissed the neighbors goodbye, and sailed the ocean blue to the aforementioned place. They settled themselves about 50 miles from Belgrade, and Frankie went to school. The school was a dizzy place. It was a "gymnasium school." Neither he nor I know much about the joint, so we'll let it go at that.

The Statue of Liberty yelled at Wetz in 1924. He pricked up his ears, grinned, grabbed a boat, and here he is now.

Entering Northeast Catholic High, he diligently applied himself to his studies, like a good little child. Next year, he had put on a few pounds and reported out for football. Got a job on the team as a fullback and woke up a couple months later with a letter clasped to his bosom. Same thing happened next year. When his last year rolled around, he was elected captain. And so things go.

He arrived at Villanova in 1931. He joined up with the green-jerseyed frosh, and as JoJo and Harry were carrying the mail at fullback, Frank was placed at half. Things went grand for a while. The first game was with the strong Ursinus Frosh. Frank was in the starting lineup. After five minutes of the game, he was taking the ball off-tackle. Somebody bumped him, half a dozen guys piled on him, and he went out. He woke up as he was being carried off the field. After an examination, it was found that he had received a broken ankle. He came out of the hospital in a few days and used to go down to the field and watch the frosh sweat.

After the ankle healed, he reported to the varsity. He went through spring practice with a whole skin and, discarding moleskins, put on shorts and jersey. He was a shot-putter, no less. Went good and got another letter.

Next Fall, he had a steady job at half. Scored a goodly number of touchdowns, and carried on high enough to earn another letter. The following Spring, '33, was a bad two months for himself. First of all, he got knotted up by the calisthenics, then he hurt himself blocking. Then he got a charleyhorse. Then he banged up his nose. Finally he was dubbed "Collapsible" by the whole squad. After a few more bumps, the Spring was over, and "Collapsible" was safe. For a while, anyway. He heaved the shot some more, too. Had a gratifying number of firsts and hauled in another letter. Must have quite a collection by now.

Last year, he was varsity, alternating with Cal Cook. Nothing much happened to him last Spring except a skinned nose and another letter for track.

He's been starting back for these last games that he is to play. If you want to wish him luck, just don't call him "Collapsible."

P. S. By the time he gets outa here he will have collected seven letters. Quite a smooth record, I'd say.

'Cats' Meow

Somebody just had a brain storm and started a fire in the stands and another party has constructed a tent in the Bucknell stadium. All the comforts of home.

—V—

Heard in the press box. "Who intercepted that pass?" "No." "No what?" The boy means Nowe.

—V—

Allen, the demon statistician, is writing in a puddle. The boy is all wet.

—V—

The game ought to have been in the bag. But, as far as we know, it's in the bucket.

—V—

A fumble. Another one and still another. We are having a fumbling good time. Korchinski goes skiing on his puss, some fun, eh what?

—V—

Here comes the snow and there goes the ball game. One of the Smith boys scores.

—V—

A. Ryan says to Caroll that his girl is spoiled, but Herpy replies, "No, Al, it's just the perfume she uses."

—V—

Our heart's desire was not fulfilled; namely, to see Goggi take a header between the halves.

—V—

Becoming serious for a moment. The stadium is named after the greatest athlete ever produced in the town of Lewisburg. Christy Mathewson. Believe it or not, he is better remembered for his football prowess, than baseball.

—V—

The frolicking of the Bucknell Frosh between the halves brings back fond memories.

—V—

Michaels is going to get a cold for not wearing his hat, I betcha.

—V—

Oh well, all three Villanova teams get the whitewash by the same score, 13-0. Getting superstinkus?

FINAL REGISTRATION

Students in all schools of the college have a final opportunity to make their religious registration at the Chaplain's office tomorrow between the hours of 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning, and 1:30 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon. This information was required when members of the student body registered at the opening of sessions for the current semester.

Rev. Charles Brown, O. S. A., has repeatedly called for tardy registrants to come to his office, and has issued a warning to all those who fail to take advantage of the final privilege tomorrow, the punishment prescribed in the student rule book will be imposed.

JAYVEE BASKETBALL

Coaches and Managers Meet This Week to Plan Season

Within the next week or so a call will be issued for junior varsity basketball candidates. A meeting of the coaching staff and managers will be held during the coming week to formulate plans for the season.

Frank Skaff, present coach of the jayvee football team, will in all probability, act as coach of the basketball club.

FROSH CAGERS TO START

Following a meeting of the basketball coaching staff this week, the mentor of the yearlings will issue a call for all candidates.

Leads High Scorers

Bill Shepherd, Western Maryland halfback, is leading the country's college gridders in the high-scoring race. The Western Maryland flash, who was played to a standstill by the Wildcats, has already amassed a total of 71 points. Playing in four games he has scored nine touchdowns, kicked 11 points after touchdown, and put two field goals between the uprights.

Third in the scoring race comes Danny Testa, Temple's sensational back, who has earned 54 points. The Owl star, playing in five games, has tallied six times.

Smuckler, another Temple back, has scored four touchdowns and kicked nine extra points. Curran, of Boston College, is also rated among the leading scorers, gaining 24 points by virtue of four touchdowns.

share the fun

What if the fine points of football are lost on your parents? Invite them by telephone to see Saturday's game. The crowd, the color, the cheers and excitement will make their day on the campus an unforgettable holiday.

Call 100 miles for 60 cents by Day Rate; for 50 cents by Evening Rate; for 35 cents by Night Rate. (Station to Station calls—3-minute connections.)

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

Meet Your Friends at The Bryn Mawr Confectionery (Next to Seville Theatre)

Tasty Sandwiches Lunches-Dinners-Platters Reasonably Priced

Music Free Dancing

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits and Topcoats $24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See JIM ELLIOTT Room 108, Fedigan Hall

BOXING CANDIDATES TO START PRACTICE

Many Veterans From 1933-34 Aggregation Available To Coach Foley

In its second season at Villanova, boxing will begin with a definite routine commencing with the first week in November. With Joe Foley at the helm instructing all those who care to try out for the boxing squad, interest will most likely run high.

The varsity squad will begin preliminary practice Monday and with the setting up of the ring by November 12, the pugilists are expecting to get off to an early start.

Difficult Schedule

The schedule is not completed as yet, but the following meets are slated, Columbus University, at Washington, February 9, will be the opener, while Temple will be encountered at Mitten Hall, Penn, Ursinus, and Princeton will also supply opposition, but to date the location for these meets has not been selected. There has been much discussion concerning a match between the Wildcats and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology squad, but nothing definite has developed.

Many Veterans Back

There are eight divisions and each has at least one veteran from last season's team. The divisions and veterns of each are: In the 115-pound group, Tom Kennedy; in the 125-pound division, Jack Hasken; John Eck returns in the 135-pound class; Link Lenzi and Ray Murphy are in the 145-pound group; Mullins and Sheehan are back for the 155 - pounders; Middleweight Johnny Shevlin will participate in the 165-pound class; Grimberg and Sala are scheduled as light-heavyweights; while Cox, Michaels, Sullivan and Cook are listed as the heavyweights.

All candidates are to report to Joe Foley, in the gym, next Monday afternoon.

Beantown Eleven Greatly Improved

Continued From Page Five

first start of the season the Eagles ran through the St. Anslem's eleven 13-6. The following week they journeyed to Springfield, where they tangled with Springfield College. The outcome of this fray was slightly similar to their first encounter to say the least. In four periods of none too strenuous football the Boston College aggregation emerged the victors over their rivals, content with running up a 14-0 count.

Hold Rams

Fordham College, the bane of more than one institution here in the East, and for that matter several in the West, provided the next opposition for the McKenney boys. After two hours of one of the most bitterly fought football contests that has been seen on Eastern gridirons, the Fordhamites limped off the field triumphant indeed for the scoreboard showed six points in their favor whereas the home team of Boston held scoreless. But the fact that the Eagles had outplayed the winners was glory enough to forestall their defeat. The statistics showed that Boston College gained more yardage than the visitors, but it was one of those breaks that occurr in two out of every three football games, when someone relaxes in his vigilance for one brief moment, and it is then that the game is won or lost, that snatched the honor of a tie with the mighty Fordham Rams away from the King Birds. In an unguarded moment Joe Maniaci, stalwart Ram back, escaped would-be Eagle tacklers and scampered 64 yards for the lone tally, and it was in this manner that the strong Boston club lost its one chance for glory.

Terrors Triumph

Stalking into Baltimore the following Saturday as if in a daze, the King Birds had their feathers plucked as well as ruffled by the Green Terrors of Western Maryland. The final score of the slaughter was 40-0. Stalking out of town as silently as they came the Bostonians returned home and then the strife started. For one full week the team was lashed to fighting anger under the surveillance of Coach McKenney, so that when last Saturday's game with Providence College came about they were ready for blood. However, despite all attempts the Eagles could not seem to muster their real strength and Providence turned in a surprise victory.

JIM FLEMING IS JAYVEE CAPTAIN

Ex - West Catholic Gridder Elected Leader by Team At Meeting Thursday

Jim Fleming, three-year star lineman of the junior varsity football team, was elected captain for the current campaign by his teammates at a meeting of the squad held last Thursday.

Fleming is a former West Catholic High School gridder, where he earned the Burr insignia playing tackle. Besides his participtaion in football, Jim is manager of the varsity baseball team and Day Hop representative on the intra-mural athletic committee.

He is a senior in the school of Commerce and Finance and hails from Bryn Mawr.

Basketball Squad Begins Practices

Continued From Page Five

transfers from Fordham and Manhattan respectively, have been getting their eyes in shape, while Buck Taylor, Leo Shoppmeyer, and Pickle, the latter two members of last year's freshman team, have participated in the workouts thus far.

The opening game of the season pits the Wildcats against the strong Penn A. C. This club boasts of a number of ex-college stars, notably from Penn, and will give our varsity performers plenty of trouble. After a lapse of two weeks they will return to action against the St. John's College team from Brooklyn. This outfit defeated Villanova by the scant margin of two points in their meeting at Brooklyn last year. Incidentally, Buck Freeman, coach of St. John's, remarked that Ben Garaghty was the best player that had ever performed against any of his teams.

Face Tough Schedule

Then during the month of January the team will face its toughest opposition. Meeting Bucknell at Lewisburg, Dickinson at Carlisle, and returning home to face Western Maryland, Providence College, and George Washington.

SCHEDULE CHANGED FOR INTRA-MURALS

Mendel Dayhops to Play On Mondays and Tuesdays; C. & F. Dates Moved

Due to the number of students who were away at the Bucknell game, all intra-mural football games that should have been played Sunday, October 28, have been postponed to Monday, November 26.

At a meeting of the intra-mural commitee held last Friday, it was decided to have all dates for Dayhop games changed. The Mendel Dayhops are behind four games in their schedule, so that it will be necessary for them to play every Monday and Tuesday until the end of the season. The C. & F. Dayhops have had their games changed from Friday to Thursday, except the game scheduled for November 1, which will be played this Friday, because of the holiday and the Frosh-Soph field day.

All intra-mural football contests are expected to end the first week in December. Jack Hoey, chairman of the intra-mural committee, hopes to arrange for a series of volleyball contests, to be played in the old gym in Alumni Hall.

The two teams of Dayhops were seriously hampered by a lack of cooperation. It is hoped that the change in dates of the games on their schedule will make the contests more convenient and greater competition is expected.

Al Fitzpatrick, manager of the Mendel Dayhops, and Tom Kennedy, in charge of the C. & F. team, expect a greater response in answer to the change in schedules.

The complete intra-mural schedule will be published in next week's VILLANOVAN.

Down the home stretch during the month of February games with Duquesne U., Temple U., City College of New York, coached by the one and only Nat Holman; Albright College, and return engagements with Dickinson and Bucknell will be played.

Villanova's Future Opponents Fare Poorly Against Rivals; Temple Wins

In keeping with the constant upset policy that has dominated the current football campaign Villanova's future opponents have fallen right into line.

Boston College was downed by the hitherto almost unknown Providence eleven by the surprise score of 13 to 7. South Carolina, with victories over Erskine and V. M. I., dropped two straight games within six days, losing to North Carolina State and Clemson. The Clemson victory occurred last Thursday when the S. C. team bowed 19 to 0.

Manhattan Bows

Manhattan now has two victories and three defeats. Its weekend beating came as a surprise when Catholic University rolled up 31 points and kept the Gothamites scoreless.

Temple was the only future opponent that has yet to taste defeat and the only team on the Wildcat list that was not beaten on Saturday.

The Owls journeyed to Milwaukee and defeated the strong Marquette eleven, 28 to 6. Fifteen thousand people watched the Warner-coached eleven sweep to touchdowns in each of the four periods of play in Marquette's annual Home-Coming Day.

Testa Temple Star

Danny Testa, Smuckler, and Anderson carried the mail to gain the Temple touchdowns, and Smuckler booted four perfect extra points to reap the full benefit on the scoring points.

This Saturday, while the Wildcats are up in Boston tangling with the Eagles, South Carolina will engage Virginia Poly, Manhattan will tangle with City College of New York, and Temple will play the powerful Holy Cross team.

Past Opponents Better

Villanova's past opponents fared slightly better than those yet to be engaged. Ursinus tied Dickinson, and Western Maryland romped over St. Thomas, 20 to 0, as Bill Shepherd, the Green Terrors' star back, held the lead in the leading scorers' group by garnering eight points. Detroit bowed to Duquesne, 20 to 6, and La Salle continued on its merry winning way by nosing out West Chester Teachers by one touchdown.

ARENA

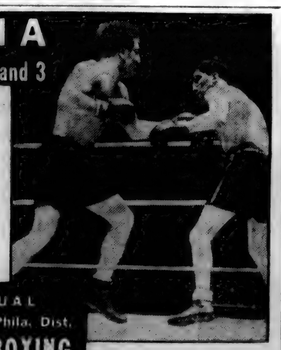
Oct. 30--Nov. 1 and 3

"Thrill - a - minute" bouts . . . action every second!

GET TICKETS NOW

TUESDAY AND THURSDAY 25c and 55c—no higher!

SATURDAY FINALS 25c—55c—75c—$1.10



6th ANNUAL Evening Ledger Phila. Dist.

AMATEUR BOXING CHAMPIONSHIPS

Tickets now on sale: Front Counter, Evening Ledger, 6th and Chestnut Sts.; Arena, 45th and Market Sts.; Wanamaker's; Gimbels; Spalding's, 1115 South 16th St.

Opens Cage Drills

JOHN SHEVLIN, captain of the varsity basketball team, who began practice sessions last week. In the absence of Coach Jacobs, Shevlin is supervising the practice drills.

SWIMMER INJURES ARM; COUSART PULLS TENDON

Crack 440 Man Hurt in Practice Will Not Resume Training Until Season Starts

Villanova's swimming team suffered a mild setback this week when Donald Cousart, star 440-yard man, pulled some tendons in his arm and will be forced to remain on the sidelines for some time.

This will interfere with his practicing with the team, but he will be back in shape again and ready to go when the swimming season opens.

Bucknell Upsets Wildcat Eleven

Continued From Page Five

3 and gained 35 yards in penalties to Villanova's 15.

Smith, Reznichak and Sitarsky gleamed for the Bisons while the work of Barney Lee and Mahovlich was commendable for the 'Cats.

The Bisons Bucked

Villanova		Bucknell
Sala	left end	Delaney
Michaels	left tackle	Bergkamp
Blanchard	left guard	Dobie
Nowe	center	McGaughey
Lee	right guard	Green
Cox	right tackle	Boiston
Grimberg	right end	Filer
Christopher	quarterback	Sitarsky
Mahovlich	left halfback	Reznichak
Wetzler	right halfback	Smith
Patzach	fullback	Miller

Bucknell 0 0 0 13—13
Villanova 0 0 0 0— 0

Touchdowns: Bucknell — Reznichak, Smith. Points after touchdown, Bucknell—Green (by placement).

Officials—Referee: W. D. Maginnes, Lehigh. Umpire: A. H. Sharpe, Yale. Linesman: J. C. Hennessy, Brown. Field judge: H. Springer, Penn.

Substitutions — Bucknell: First half, Rhubright for Reznichak; Pethick for Delaney, Wilkinson for Filer, Reznichak for Miller. Second half, Drayton for Doble, Delaney for Wilkinson, Filer for Pethick, Miller for Rhubright, Crouse for Green, Rhubright for Miller, Wilkinson for Delaney, Pethick for Miller, Green for Crouse, Miller for Smith, Dondeau for Green, Crouse for Drayton, Rosati for Bolston, Raymaley for Rhubright, Jenkins for Reznichak. Villanova: Emmerling for Wetzler, Korchinski for Sala, Cook for Emmerling, Wetzler for Cook, Vidnovic for Blanchard, Kotys for Mahovlich, Weisenbaugh for McFadden, Fox for Grimberg, Blanchard for Vidnovic, Emmerling for Wetzler, Sullivan for Cox, Johnson for Michaels, Foster for Lee, Grimberg for Fox, Galazin for Nowe, McFadden for Weisenbaugh, Higgins for Christopher, Walsh for Kotys, Goggin for Galazin, Loughlin for Korchinski.

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe

College Tailor Since 1925

Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.

Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure $25 and up

All new styles now available!

Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

Suits & Topcoats $15

Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.

WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE 900 SOUTH ST.

Our Only Store

ARDROSSAN FARMS

"Certified Milk"

Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

HERTFELDER BROTHERS

TAILORS

CLOTHIERS

Popular Prices

1635-1637 South St. Philadelphia

Est. 1886 Bell Phone

FOR EXPERT, CONVENIENT Tonsorial Necessities

PATRONIZE The CAMPUS Barber Shop

(New Staff)

Popular Prices

NEW LAUNDRY COMPANY, Inc.

A NEW LAUNDRY WITH SEVENTY-SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE

Baring and State Sts. Baring 5434

Weekly Seminar of Science School Features Stuhldreher as Speaker

Pre-medical students, at their weekly seminar meeting Thursday, were addressed by Harry Stuhldreher, head coach of the football team. Mr. Stuhldreher presented, as usual, one of his inspiring talks.

He opened his short speech by telling the science students that if he hadn't taken up the football profession, he would have been a doctor. He said: "At the present time, even under the regime of up-to-date and experienced medical men, there is a lack of medical attention. It seems that a great majority of medical men are out for the almighty dollar and not for humanity's sake!"

Medical Work is Mental

Leaving that point for the moment, the head coach explained to the future doctors that even though their work may seem to be manual in a way, it really is mental. They have little time to take care of the physical development of their own bodies and thus allow them to become sluggish and soft.

He made a comparison between the manual laborer and the ordinary business man. In this comparison he showed why a laborer has such a well developed body and why in the other case, it is not so. With this point in mind he turned his attention to former education facilities and present ones.

Hardships Endured for Education

He continued to say: "Each student here must realize what his parents are going through to give him a college education. We ought to look back for a moment and think of the hardships they had to undergo in order to receive this privilege. Some of them didn't even have the opportunity. Therefore, it is essential that you get everything that a college can offer you both physically and mentally. Be satisfied with yourself that you did your utmost to gain the advantages your school offers."

Adding more strength to his talk, he said, "Life is pretty tough, as perhaps many of you know, but those who think they they can take it easy while at school with the thought that when they get out they will bear down, are in for a disheartening surprise. That's impossible. There is always room for the good man no matter what field you enter."

Care of Body Necessary

In concluding his talk, Mr. Stuhldreher told the students they have a two-fold purpose in life, to keep their own bodies in good physical condition as well as those of others. He compared the medical man to a football coach, saying, "A coach never gets rich. He leaves that to someone else. He is just content with seeing young men and new blood grow before him. Their physical development to me is the same as a big contract to a business man. And that is the same with you men. Work hard and build up a reputation. That's what makes a doctor. With that distinction he can go ahead and enjoy prosperity."

CONFIRMATION HERE

Rt. Rev. Bishop of the Philadelphia Diocseses Gerald P. O'Hara, D. D., will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation today in the college chapel at 4 P. M. Among the students to be confirmed are five freshmen and one senior from the School of Science; three members of the Freshman Class in the School of Commerce and Finance.

P. K. P. WILL HOLD INITIAL SMOKER AT 8:15 THIS EVENING

Continued From Page One

P. K. P. officers think he can be counted upon to give another not only inspiring but also an interesting talk.

The fraternity's moderator, Rev. J. S. O'Leary, O. S. A., will be the second speaker of the evening. The Dean of the School of Technology, Carl T. Humphrey, will be called upon to say a few words, and his talks have always proved interesting at similar occasions.

Cigars and cigarettes will be supplied to all as well as light refreshments which are being planned by the committee in charge of the smoker.

Faculty Invited

The guests of honor that have been invited include Rev. E. V. Stanford, O. S. A.; Rev. E. M. Albers, O. S. A.; Rev. Charles A. Melchoir, O. S. A.; Dean Humphrey; Prof. William Barber; Prof. Henry Bueche, Prof. William Gorman, Prof. Joseph T. Jonas, Prof. August Kunzenbacher, Prof. Stanley Morehouse, Prof. Thomas McCormick, Prof. Francis Panepinto, Prof. William Siavin, Rev. John Vrana, O. S. A.; Rev. Charles Brown, O. S. A.; Prof. Edmund D'Ouville, instructor William Driscoll.

The committee that has been in charge of this evening's arrangements is Joseph Mihalcik, '35, chairman; Joseph Costigan, '35; Walter Coyle, '35; B. J. Tofani, '35; John Schlotterback, '36; Gustavius Constantine, '36; Edward Casey, '37; Michael McNerney, '37.

SCIENCE SCHOOL DEAN GIVES RALLY SERMON

Purpose and Ideals of Holy Name Outlined by Rev. Joseph A. Dougherty, O. S. A.

In spite of the inclement weather last Sunday a good number of Holy Name members from the Main Line parishes attended the rally held in the Commerce and Finance Auditorium. Donned in their West Point uniforms the college band led the procession from the chapel to the Commerce and Finance building and rendered several selections during the rally.

Very Rev. Bernard Albers, O. S. A., Vice President of the College, commenced the rally by welcoming the assembly of loyal Holy Name members and invited them to visit the college buildings after the rally.

Rev. John M. Fagan, O. S. A., pastor of St. Thomas of Villanova parish, then introduced the featured speaker of the program, Rev. Joseph M. Dougherty, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., dean of the School of Science.

Fr. Dougherty delivered a very stirring speech in which he defined the purpose of the Holy Name Society in relation to the reverence due to the Holy Name of Jesus. "How dare we use the name of Christ in vain when the very angels tremble at the sound of His Holy Name!" he stressed.

Continuing he showed how the principles of our materialistic world interferred with God's principles, especially ir regard to the "twin evils of birth-control and divorce," which the Catholic Church alone opposes so unflinchingly.

Arange Holy Hour For Thursday Eve.

Continued From Page One

duties of religion. It should appeal to all students because of the simple fact that the service is not obligatory.

Confessions will be heard during the Holy Hour. Students may profit by the time to prepare for the Sacraments of Penance and of Holy Communion, which they receive, ordinarily, on the first Friday of each month.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting, 119 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Lambda Kappa Meeting, 210 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Belle Masque Meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8:00 P. M.
Belle Air Staff Meeting, 51 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

Final Religious Registration, Chaplain's Office ... 9:00 to 12:00 A. M.
Band Practice, Alumni Hall ..... 7:00 P. M.

THURSDAY

No Classes, Holy Day of Obligation, Mass for Resident Students ..... 8:30 A. M.

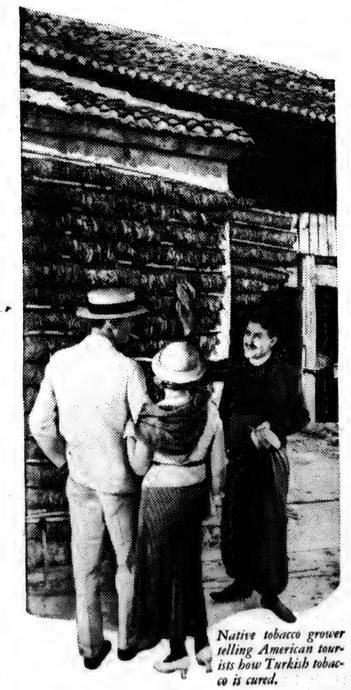
FRIDAY

Band Special (Bus) to Boston, Rear of Refectory ..... 12:00 M.
Villanova Special (Boat) to Boston, Pier 14, New York .... 5:00 P. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 11:40 A. M.
Swimming Exam., Natatorium, Gymnasium ..... 2:30 to 6:00 P. M.

Let's find out why Turkish tobacco is so important to a good cigarette



Native tobacco grower telling American tourists how Turkish tobacco is cured.

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna . . . in the fertile fields of Macedonia . . . along the shores of the Black Sea . . . grows a kind of tobacco that is different from any other tobacco in the world.

THESE Turkish tobaccos are the only tobaccos of foreign cultivation that are used to any great extent in making American cigarettes.

Turkish tobaccos are famous for their spicy aroma, and a blend of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco with our own home-grown tobaccos is better than any one kind used alone.

In Chesterfield we balance mild, ripe tobaccos grown in this country with just the right amounts of the right kinds of Turkish.

It is by blending and cross-blending these different tobaccos that we make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

Turkish tobacco hung in the open air to be cured.

On the air—

MONDAY ROSA PONSELLE — WEDNESDAY NINO MARTINI — SATURDAY GRETE STUECKGOLD

KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS

9 P.M. (E. S. T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 6 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1934 Price: Five Cents

EPSILON PHI THETA, ARTS SCHOOL CLUB, TO BE REORGANIZED

James Walsh Discusses Plans For Renewal of Activities With Vice-President

PROPOSED ACTION WAITS FOR COUNCIL'S DECISION

Formerly Sponsored Athletic And Educational Programs On This Campus

After three years of idleness the Epsilon Phi Theta fraternity, official organization of the School of Arts and Philosophy, will become active again.

James Walsh, a senior in that school, in conjunction with a large number of Artsmen, has discussed possibilities of reorganization of the club with Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice president of the College, and reports that the movement has his wholehearted approval.

Oldest Here

This fraternity is the oldest on the campus and was formerly the most active, enjoying great popularity and prestige with both the administration and the student body. Functioning athletically and educationally, i sponsored the spring boxing and wrestling bouts, promoted dramatics, procured noted lecturers from all paths of life, and held social affairs.

Gill President

Through unwarranted lack of interest, the organization demoralized into inactivity. No other reasons are evident except, perhaps, that officers for the school year 1932-1933 were not elected. The president for the term preceding that was Martin Gill, now a member of the faculty in the Arts and Science Departments. From information available, a more or less successful year was enjoyed by the then dwindling society.

A meeting of the entire School of

Continued on Page Four

Boston:

Villanovan Correspondent Goes A'Sailing — Finds "Fish Feeding" a Popular Sport — Discovers Post Caads.

The Boston Special started off with a card game. . .and we found out who was the world's biggest kibitzer. . .Flipping coins was also popular. . .too popular for some . . .the trip wouldn't have been complete if the bus hadn't had an accident. . .some of the fellows went to bed at 11 voluntarily, some were told to go and others didn't . . .Alessandroni got sick on a nickel rocket which made him feel like he was in a rowboat being tossed around on the crest of the waves. . .Gartland could tell about some interesting experiences. . . but he'd better be careful to pick his audience. . .Chinese poker was learned and not enjoyed by a few . . .Priscilla's hull revealed nothing but empty crocks. . .the barking dog incident put Claude LeDow & Co. on the run. . .but they got stopped. . .by a post that appeared unobtrusively in their path. . . Goggi's favorite pastime on board was also on deck. . .over the rail . . .yes, the fish were also disgusted. . .and then there was that 4:30 A. M. luncheon in the ship's kitchen. . .a couple of the boys quit

Continued on Page Three

ON TO NORTH JERSEY

(Staff Photo—Violetti)

HAROLD D. McGRATH, '35, chairman of the committee which is in charge of the dance sponsored by the campus organization from that section of the Garden State. The affair will be held in the Newark Athletic Club, Newark, Saturday night, November 17, after the Manhattan game.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR JERSEY SOCIAL

McGrath Optimistic Over Prospects of Coming 'Victory Dance' in Newark

Final arrangements were discussed for North Jersey Club's annual victory dance to be held in the Newark Athletic Club, Newark, N. J., November 17, following the Manhattan game, at a meeting of the organization on last Tuesday night.

Visits Club

Chairman Harold McGrath took the opportunity to visit the Newark club last weekend and declared the ballroom to be all that could be desired. He also added that the dance programs were being printed and vouched for the fact that they would be a "bit different."

A ruling was made at a previous meeting that all members must pay for their tickets by November 1. To date, practically every member has complied and this should assure a financial as well as social success.

Members were reminded that returns for all tickets must be made by Thursday, November 15, and that they should keep track of all the ticket numbers.

Results of Freshman Class Survey As Compiled by Alumni Secretary

Final tabulation of the Freshman Survey conducted by the Alumni Secretary were released recently.

Its purpose was twofold: To determine specifically the one outstanding factor in bringing Villanova College to the attention of the prospective student, and to find out the one characteristic of Villanova that appeals with greatest force to the prospective student.

Number Incomplete

The survey was conducted among 154 freshmen, who were divided into two classes, students at a distance, of whom there were 88; and local students, numbering 66. Nearly 100 first-year men failed to answer the questionnaire, or their answers were disregarded because of insufficient reasons.

Fifteen reasons were given in answer to the one outstanding factor in bringing the school to the student's attention and 16 for the characteristic that appealed with greatest force to the student.

After the answers were tabulated, they were given a certain weight. In this manner, the one reason receiving the greatest percentage was Catholic environment, which secured a weight of 88.3 per cent.

Next in line with a percentage of 83.6 was the reason given of superior courses offered by the school. Academic recognition which the college enjoys and the educational equipment of the college each were given an identical percentage, that of 83.1.

The fact that Villanova is a small college was a salient reason given by the incoming freshmen. It received a weight of 57.1 per cent. The attractiveness of the college campus was weighted at 61.7 per cent. A percentage of 43.5 was given as recommendation of a former student, and 51.3 per cent upon the athletic reputation enjoyed by the college.

Some Favor Alumni

The success of the Villanova alumni came next with a weight of 43.5 per cent, and "Sidelights of Villanova" received 50.6 per cent.

Continued on Page Seven

Inquiring Scribe Gets "Bum's Rush" For Investigation

Fr. Brown Remains Mysterious About Proposed "Cabaret Night"

By HARRY PARKIN

For those who have had the occasion to notice it, Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., has proven unusually elusive during the past week. A fact which is of peculiar significance, when one considers his customary familiarity with the student body.

Having failed to see him about the corridors, and repeated calls at his office having confirmed me in the impression of his sudden aloofness, I finally found him in the privacy of his own rooms on the fourth floor of Mendel Hall.

Shown Exit

Anxious to rush through the customary salutations and to arrive at the purpose of the visit, I was considerably irked by Fr. Brown's apparent indifference to discuss anything relevant to the much discussed entertainment. Some few minutes had elapsed, in the exchange of pleasantries, when I suddenly became aware of the fact that Fr. Brown, having already anticipated the purpose of my visit, was slowly leading me to the point where I should contemplate the pleasure of my call from the other side of his door, and be, accordingly, none the wiser for my visit.

I had no sooner realized his pur-

Continued on Page Seven

SOCIETY PRIMES FOR PLAY SEASON

Literary Group's Belle Masque Chapter in Offering This Month

Belle Masque chapter of the Literary Society announced it will inaugurate the dramatic season during the latter part of the month. The first performance, for which the group has already been priming, will probably take place on November 27.

Jose Licha, a candidate for the society, made the grade in an initiation held at the Belle Masque meeting last Tuesday night.

Now that the initiations are over the club is organizing speedily. It will be ready for a number of radio auditions in the very near future.

Word has come from Martin Donnelly, Corresponding Secretary, of the Belle Masque chapter of the Literary Society that he has been in communication with a number of prospective debaters.

Mr. Donnelly announced that there are debates pending with Swarthmore, Haverford, Price School and St. Mercey's College.

DIRECTS OWL HOP

(Staff Photo—Violetti)

JAMES T. NULTY, '35, who heads the committee in charge of the annual dance sponsored by Phi Kappa Pi, the fraternity of the School of Technology. The affair will be held in the college gymnasium on Friday evening, November 23, the eve of the traditional Temple fracas.

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR ENGINEER HOP

Villanovans Supplying Music For Dance on Eve Of Temple Game

As the time draws near for the annual Owl Hop of the Phi Kappa Pi engineering fraternity, the committee is rapidly completing final arrangements for the dance and all indications point to one of the most successful dances that the organization has ever conducted.

This year, contrary to previous customs, the dance will be held on November 23, the night before the Temple game, instead of after the fray. The change was due to the fact that the committee decided that there would be far more spirit the night before the game than there would be the next night. It was also found out that by holding it on Friday night the dance could run one or two hours later, whereas Saturday evening would demand the ending of the dance at midnight.

Novel Decorations

The hop will be held in the college gymnasium, which will be decorated for the occassion. The exact nature of the decorations is not known

Continued on Page Four

RING STANDARDIZED

Several Firms Asked to Send Agents to College for Interviews

Members of the junior ring committee held an important meeting Friday afternoon, to discuss the bids for rings. All bids have been received and several of the jewelers have been requested to send their representatives to the college for interviews.

The ring design has been standardized and will be identical to that used last year. The design includes a wildcat on one side, surmounted by the individual student's degree and school. On the other side will be the Villanova College seal, surmounted by the year of graduation and the motto of the college. There will be the usual stone mounted on the top surrounded by the words, "Villanova College, 1842."

The price and time of delivery are still undetermined and will depend upon the results of the interviews. However, great progress has been made and prices are expected to be quite reasonable. The rings will be procured before the Christmas holidays. A $5 deposit will be required in ordering the rings.

MANHATTAN GAME TO BE FINAL TRIP FOR FOOTBALL FANS

Encounter With Chick Meehan's 'Jaspers' Promises To Be Thrilling Fray

CHARTER SPECIAL BUSES FOR VILLANOVA ROOTERS

Large Number of Gotham Alumni, Residents Expected to Attend

One of the largest undergraduate groups ever to see a Stuhldreher-coached team on alien soil will be on hand when the Villanova Wildcats tackle the Jaspers of Manhattan College, in Brooklyn, Saturday, November 17.

Time for Lunch

According to present plans outlined by the administration, a special fleet of buses will leave the Villanova campus n back of the dining hall at 9 o'clock, Saturday morning, for the jaunt to Gotham. At 12:30 the entourage will arrive in Brooklyn, thus allowing the student rooters ample time to have luncheon and go sight-seeing previous to the game.

Immediately after the game the Villanova assemblage will leave for home and arrive on the campus about 9:30 P. M.

Band to Play

In the initial encounter of the teams last year, many Villanova rooters were in the stands. Because a representative number of undergraduates hail from the environs of Manhattan, it is expected that last year's totals will be doubled. A creditable number of alumni have signified their intention of being present and from all indications the team should have ample moral and vocal support.

The Villanova College band will make its third trip of the year from the campus and vie with the

Continued on Page Four

PHI KAPPA SMOKER IS GREAT SUCCESS

Get-Together Was Planned to Acquaint Frosh Engineers With Fraternity

For the first time in the history of the organization, Phi Kappa Pi, the Engineering School's fraternity, conducted a smoker last Tuesday evening in the basement of the Commerce and Finance Building.

Welcome Freshmen

In order that the Freshmen engineers might meet the upper classmen and also become acquainted with the activities of this rapidly growing society, a smoker was suggested and with this idea in mind the committee in charge carried out their plans successfully.

The affair was opened with the singing of "College Days," followed by a few opening remarks from the president and master of ceremonies, John Kiekotka, '35, who welcomed the guests of honor and also the members and Freshmen engineers.

Stuhldreher Speaks

The guest speakers of the evening were then presented. Coach Stuhldreher spoke first and praised the members for the activities they are promoting. He said that the engineers are to be compilmented for the course they are taking as it is four hard years of study, but

Continued on Page Four

VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35.....Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35.....Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35.....College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35.....Sports Editor
JOHN C. DIJOSEPH, '36.....Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35.....Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35.....Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35.....Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35.....Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35.....Art and Photographic Editor

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35
Edmond C. Malhame, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Ferry B. Frank, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marcoune, '35 — Anthony Catrambone, '36
Harold J. Keating, '35 — William J. Allen, '35
Norton C. Paden, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Differ, '37
George Fanning, '37 — James Boland, '38
Harvey Davis, '37 — Frank Megaro, '38
Richard Kelly, '38 — Louis D'Angelo, '35
Louis Biester, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Blasi W. Dobrowolski, '37 — John Scalera, '34

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN
Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - - NOVEMBER 6, 1934

WITH THE DAWN OF ANOTHER ARMISTICE DAY ARE WE NEARER PEACE?

NEXT Sunday marks the 16th anniversary of the Armistice of the World War—that war to end wars. But, as a nation, can we honestly say we have achieved the much-desired peace which we have set as our goal? Time heals many wounds and in 1934 we find the world going at a feverish pace in the race for greater navies and armies. Europe at this very moment seeths with excitement as a faint spark of war is being nourished in the Balkans and the Saar territory.

Francis G. Smith, Jr., editor of the Daily Princetonian, and president of the Association of College Editors, has taken a step forward to insure the people of this nation that America's youth must be heard before any one will be permitted to even dare to broach the despicable subject. In a letter to William Randolph Hearst, Mr. Smith demands the answer to a series of nine questions, concerning international preparedness, from the publisher whose tremendous influence has been exercised over readers throughout the length and breadth of this great nation. Says Mr. Smith, "It is for US, the generation of young Americans who might have to fight another war if William Randolph Hearst happens to be wrong, if 'preparedness' does not preserve peace."

It is a grave topic to consider, but it is at least the duty of every young man in this country, both to his loved ones and himself, to kneel in prayer next Sunday and beseech God to preserve this land of ours from the horrors of another war.

ENTANGLEMENTS ABROAD

THE capacity of American industrialists for becoming entangled in commercial disputes with foreign governments, is only equalled by the celerity with which they apply to their own Government to extricate them from their difficulties. This tendency is excellently exemplified in the present complaint, which certain oil companies are desirous of having the State Department lodge with Tokio, regarding the setting up of an oil monopoly in Manchukuo.

Whether we wish to ackunowledge the fact or not, there is, at the present time, a great deal of enmity between Japan and the United States, which an indiscretion on either side is apt to precipitate into open hostilities. All of which is completely aside from the fact that the Government has no right to place in jeopardy the lives of its citizens. It seems illogical to protect the capital that sees such little use or need for itself at home, that it must go traveling into foreign lands.

It is almost amusing to note the almost colossal assurance with which these same oil companies expect the Government to preserve for them their foreign investments, when they have consistently denounced it for its regimentation and interference in private business

EXERCISE YOUR FRANCHISE

THIS is election day for the majority of the States of our great republic. Candidates for Governorships, Congress and other offices are being voted upon from one end of the country to the other. How many of those who are casting their votes today are college students and graduates? It is an undeniable fact that the young men of today are the ones who will shape the destinies of our country tomorrow, and the college men should be in the forefront of the younger generation. Therefore, every collegian who has attained his majority should cast his vote at every possible opportunity. It is this franchise which makes our country a democracy, wherein the people have a voice in the government. If this voting right is not exercised, a citizen is not only failing to take advantage of one of his greatest privileges, but he is also neglecting his duty. The greatest grumblers against any administration are often those who did not bother to vote. If they are asked why they did not vote in order to bring about the defeat of the party with which they are dissatisfied, they usually and truthfully reply that their one vote could not have changed the situation. But a combination of all the votes of these grumblers who didn't bother to go to the polls might very easily have changed the result. It is the duty of every citizen to exercise his franchise at every opportunity, and it is to be hoped that the college men, who should be vitally interested in the affairs of the day and ready to take their rightful place in society, will not fall into that state of indifference and indolence which keeps so many people away from the polls.

THE SAAR PLEBISCITE

JANUARY 13, 1935, residents of the Saar territory, now being ruled by the League of Nations, will vote to decide whether the Saar shall remain under its present rule, unite with France, or reunite with Germany. Because of rich deposits of coal and ore, this land would be of great value to either France or Germany for wartime purposes. An evidence of the importance of the coming plebiscite is seen in daily dispatches from the countries involved. France is preparing to send troops into the territory, ostensibly to preserve peace during the balloting. At present that nation is seeking the support of England and Italy, as co-signatories to the Locarno pact, for this move.

Grave accusations are being hurled at Germany. From the Saar comes word of fraudulent registrations. Experts placed the largest possible total of registrants at a little less than 300,000, but instead of that figure, the final tally disclosed some 520,000. Obviously in the light of the above conditions, the Saar is not ready to exercise its privilege. The future peace of Europe depends too much on the outcome of this vote for it to be held as presently scheduled. It would be foolish optimism to expect France, in case the Saar decides to reunite with Germany, to be satisfied that it was an honest expression of the will of the Saarlanders. The same goes for Germany in the event the Saar becomes a part of France. The best solution would be to postpone the plebiscite until a calmer situation prevails in Europe.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

SOCIOLOGY class! The prof's piercing eyes scanning the faces of the class have come to light upon the physiognomy of one Jimmy Walsh. A tell-tale dilation of the optics show they have found fair game for a question. "Which is it, a lack of morality, or a lack of intelligence that accounts for the practice of cannibalism among the savages, Walsh?" Walsh permits seconds to pass into eternity as the brain strives to solve the dilemma. Just as it seems his silence, usually an admission of not knowing, must demerit him, came this prompt from the hinterland of the room, "Neither. A lack of food!" True, Walsh was not saved. But as all good heroes should do, went down with a smile on his face.

One morning, for reasons of his own, Ed Cottrell wished to rise early. His roommate, Ed Kelly, an early riser, was indelibly impressed the preceding night with the idea —a new one with Cottrell. Not a mattress was to be left unturned to accomplish this gargantuan feat. The crack of dawn, a mere crackle to slumbering Ed, awakened him not. As usual, Kelly was up and about while honest folks slept. When Cottrell, after rubbing the last piece of sleep from his eyes, saw the hour hand on his clock several inches south of the proposed awakening mark, he was duly piqued. "Why didn't you call me at the time I asked you?" queried Ed on seeing his roommate. "I did," answered Kelly. "Did I answer?" asked wee foot. "No!" replied Kelly. Thus was solved the mystery of the sleeping beauty.

Jim Elliot, as football trainer, does his work well. As campus representative for the Coleby Tailoring Company, he is better. His enthusiasm for Coleby's clothes borders on fanaticism. Not since Charlie McGee, the "Regal's for a dime man," has there been a salesman like Jim, whose very name is regarded as synonymous with the product he represents.

The engineer's smoker, Tuesday night, was a big success. Despite the two songs Al Fitzpatrick rendered — meaning to tear apart — it was an affair which any school on the campus might well be proud to give. Such get-togethers within the environs of levity have many good effects. Here, away from the serious routine of classwork, one sees in his neighbor of the classroom a side never before appreciated. Here, one can openly consider the worth of his course, to nod of acquiesence. Here, one is among many with the same ideas of the pursuit of a livelihood, which is very reassuring. Most of all, goodwill towards one's school, and its student body, is attained. Would that all schools of the campus had the fraternizing spirit of the engineering group!

No three names on one class roll are so soul-harrowing to the profs as those of this triumvirate: Marcouse, Keeley and Einhorn. They are the unholy three of the classroom, born impediments to pedagogy. One teacher refers to Marcouse as one of the sins that cries to heaven for vengeance.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

IT has been the contention of the majority of people who come in contact with football stars that as far as scholastic ability is concerned, such a faculty is not possessed by them. On behalf of the gridiron heroes, it has been shown by statistics that more than 60 former college football heroes are now presidents of colleges and universities in the United States. Will the gridders please note.

• • •

Want "ad" in the University of Iowa Daily: "Wanted—Burly, beauty-proof individual to read meters in a sorority house. We haven't made a nickel in two years." Oh! the poor girls.

• • •

Professor Groves, of the University of North Carolina, says that within ten years all schools and colleges will carry courses leading to an education for marriage. That is not applicable to us so why be alarmed or interested.

• • •

Stepin Fetchit, colored film star, noted for his lackadaisical manner, is a college man. St. Joseph's College, Alabama. Education is another mystery.

• • •

Whether this action constituted a feud is left entirely up to the readers of this column. Harvard abolished Yale locks from its dormitories, whereupon Yale blacklisted the Harvard classics. Now the telephone company makes Harvard dial E-L-I (Eliot) Exchange.

• • •

For those seniors who possess a little domestic ability (Dish Washing) we suggest this topic for a thesis. A co-ed at the University of Chicago was granted a degree after she submitted a thesis on four ways to wash dishes.

• • •

Time off for the weekly jest: Dumb Co-ed—"I see the nudists are going to give in." Disgusted Student—"How do you mean?" Co-ed—"I saw a sign down town today that said, 'Ready-to-Wear-Clothes'."

An addition: Papa—"Say, Abraham, vot do you tink of this new idea of founding a New Jerusalem?" Frosh from N. Y. U.—"Oi, it's foolishness papa. Ain't ve still got New York?"

• • •

Continued from last week: For the first time since Texas Christian University was founded 70 years ago, jazz-dancing is to be permitted. Previously, promenades were allowed in which the young men were permitted to walk to and fro on the library lawn with their partners, under the close scrutiny of stern chaperones.

• • •

Speed and streamline forward passes. Pete Butler, of Colorado Teachers College, caught his own forward pass and scored a touchdown against Colorado College (1930). We'll prove it.

• • •

Our freshmen should consider themselves lucky. Hazing took a violent turn at Tremont College, a small western institution, when first year men were tossed bodily into a huge tub containing ripe tomatoes, garlic and rotten eggs.

Campus Celebs - - - - By Cailliet

As We See It . . . Collegians

WE COLLEGIANS are soft. We think we mean a great deal in the grand scheme of things but we don't. As far as most worthwhile things go, we all add up to cipher.

The preceding generation has chucked its birthright for a mess of pottage, and we've got the mess. Look at this cock-eyed world of ours politically, economically, socially, or religiously—and it's still a mess. To hear our elders bemoaning the flightiness of modern youth is to laugh. They've given us all kinds of insane "isms" and expect us to retain complete sanity. Mature and learned university professors use the public press to expound crazy theories and expect the expoundees to have common sense. To the older generation we owe no apologies.

But nevertheless we are soft. In our own hearts we must admit the college man of today should be made of sterner stuff. Our country is beset by every kind of evil from chronic economic dyspepsia to chilblains induced by small time political skull-duggery and we don't even bother to find out what's going on, much less worry about it.

Our man Josephus, the country's voice in Mexico, has set the Catholic Press howling for his head by boosting the Calles anti-religious education there At this writing Mr. Roosevelt still has his fingers in his ears. Recall or no recall it was pretty raw of Daniels. But of course it all happened two or three months ago, so what with the football season starting and all, its hard to keep up interest. That's why we are a meaningless lot.

Time was when the universities and colleges were hotbeds of all kinds of political intrigue and your student was a fellow who, taken collectively, could rock nations, and did. There were evils, and plenty of them, about the situation, but shades of Patrick Henry, the boys were at least interested! !

An English sheet brings the news that the dear old Britishers claim that since Americans are disgusted with American rot they also have the privilege of becoming disgusted with American rot. So the Legion of Decency is going strong on the Merrie Isle. Not only that, but it appears that these Englishmen live in all kinds of outlandish places, so the dogs of movie war are barking in unheard-of quarters. In South Africa, for instance, they know all about the movement even down to such particulars as Cardinal Dougherty's ban, and they're looking to their own guns by way of preparing to snip off smutty shows as they come along. Collegians here, however, are still seen at the more vehement vehicles which can't make the most brond-minded white list in the world. Thus the college man.

We haven't any political or economic opinions. We aren't interested. We are graduated and we go home and vote for intellectual giants and morons, rascals and honest men—all with the same cheerfulness, providing they are on the party ticket.

Whether we like it or not the nation's future depends on us; its youth. And we don't even know the score yet. David in his youth had the courage to tackle Goliath, with faith that God would pull him through. It was later in life that he slipped. Solomon in the glory of young manhood did great things for God and his nation. It was in his old age that he became foolish.

Now is the time to be alive with faith in God and love of Him! Now is the time for patriotic zeal and devotion to the Motherland which needs all the courage and hope her youth can give her! Now is the time, and we just don't bother!

Correspondent Goes On Broadcast Jamboree

Continued From Page One

ahead of the horse race racket. . . Callaghan had quite a time in Boston. . . he was told about the game on the way back. . . B. C. had the frost. busy watering the field Saturday. . . cards couldn't be bought in Boston, but 'caads' were available.

Penned Thoughts

By Ben Maloney

RENAISSANCE

On the road I went a touring,
A long and lovely drive;
For Mother Nature is so alluring,
When goodness sakes alive!

Roaring towards me came a motor car,
All shiny, new, and bright;
Attracting people near and far,
It really was a sight.

And to this day the people say,
I gave an awful wail;
For its rounded snout, tail end smoothed out,
Reminded me of a snail.

If such it is, I've no other course,
I know what I'll do by jigger;
I'll go to the country and buy a horse,
At least it will keep its figure!

EVERYBODY COMES TO HIM

"When I git big," said Johnnie Jones,
"I'm gonna be a porter.
Some day I'll meet a purty girl,
And very soon I'll court her."

"When I grow up," cried Tommy White,
"I'm sure to be a preacher.
And when you come to marry her,
I'll be there to greet yer."

"As fer me," vouched Billy Finch,
"I think I'll be a showfur.
I'll drive ya on the honeymoon,
All married people go fer."

"I'll tell ya what I'm gonna be,"
Piped little Jimmie Round.
"An undertaker you'll all come to,
When ready fer tha ground."

DIAL-LOG

By LOUIS MARECHAL

THAT ever popular number, "Tiger Rag," which jazz dilettantes credit as a composition to the members of the original Dixieland Jazz Band and described as America's first authentic jazz number, is nothing but "Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home?" a Southern folk song, itself inspired by "Come Home Bill Bailey," an English folk song which can be traced back several hundred years.

Don't miss B. A. Rolfe's early morning dance programs on WEAF —NBC at 7:45 A. M. each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, beginning November 6. Rolfe will announce his own programs.

Daytime hours will be the field for the next battle of the networks. CBS and NBC have their choice evening spots sold to sponsors, so they are both turning to the problem of developing daytime audiences. We can expect in the very near future to have the daytime programs equaling the evening broadcasts.

Another addition to the early morning broadcasts will be Eddie East and Ralph Dumke, one-time Sisters of the Skillet, but now bearing the new billing of "The Early Birds." They are to be heard weekly from 7:45 to 8:30 A. M., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday.

Ray Noble's first Paramount assignment is to do the music for "Lady, Beware." So far, Noble has been unable to secure permission from the musician's union to play over the etheral waves.

They will be supported in the programs by a brilliant group of musical stars. Helen Gleason, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be the featured soprano of the program, and Frank Parker, popular radio tenor, will be the male soloist.

It seems a shame that a program with so many stars as are presented on the Camel Caravan should be as mediocre as it sometimes turns out to be. Annette Hanshaw is considered one of the smoothest rhythm singers on the air. Glenn Gray is one of the best, if not the best dance band on the air. Walter O'Keefe and his aides provide pleasant humor throughout the program and Ted Husing's sports comments are interesting, but it still sometimes falls into the class of mediocrity. Why? We have asked several who are a bit disappointed in the program. In every case the answer has been the poor and uninteresting presentation of advertising.

The latest humorous programs which have swept the campus are the political broadcasts. Students of public speaking have shed tears along with the tears of those heard over the air, but the students tears came from laughter.

If the movie, "Thin Man," can be held up as a criterion, the appearance of Myrna Loy and William Powell on Friday with Ted Fiorito should be a swell program. The Columbia network will air this feature at 9 P. M.

The Gumps, cartoonland's most famous family, will come to life in a new radio series to be heard over the Columbia network five times a week. The series started yesterday and will be heard from 12:15 to 12:30 P. M.

WJZ at 3 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons provides a smooth brand of dance music for those who like to hear it in the daytime.

If you want to hear some of the latest dance recordings, listen at 12 o'clock to WIBG. The records are of the best, but we can't hand the announcer any bouquet. An occasional comment on his part would be humorous, but his constant chatter almost kills the program. The funny part about the whole thing is that when people send in criticism of any kind that is not favorable, the announcer, Livesy by name, calls the critic "narrow-minded" and "ignorant." Scoop Keating, prominent local jazz bug, sent adverse criticism to the announcer and was he mortified when Livesy called him an "ignorampus."

Granger Rough Cut

"Why—I don't believe I have used a pipe cleaner in three or four weeks

Granger leaves no gum in the bowl of my pipe —or moisture in the stem. It burns down to a clean dry ash."

In the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.

The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers.

... it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma
... it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler
... it makes the tobacco milder
... it leaves a clean dry ash —no soggy residue or heel in the pipe bowl

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

... in a common-sense package—10c

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL
—folks seem to like it

© 1934, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Final Plans Made For Engineer Hop

Continued From Page One

as yet, but the committee assures all those attending a surprise with the artistic and odd designs of the interior effects. The false ceiling will be erected and with the other trimmings that the committee has in mind the gymnasium will be transformed into a ballroom atmosphere.

The orchestra will be the Villanovans, who are well known for their previous performances at all the other college functions held in the gymnasium. The band is rehearsing already, and will be prepared to play the latest tunes of the day and will present some novel arrangements.

Posters and floaters are being printed and will be displayed on the campus as this paper goes to press. They will be unique in their design and with the publicity that they will bear it is hoped that this year's dance will be successful from every standpoint.

Tax $1.50

The subscription for the dance will be within the means of all the students as tickets will be sold at $1.50. This year something new in the way of selling tickets has been established. Every man selling five tickets or more will receive a ten per cent reduction on his own ticket for every ticket that he has sold.

The committee arranging the plans for the dance is composed of James T. Nulty, '35, chairman; Charles McGough, '35; Joseph Costigan, '35; John Hallahan, '36; Thomas Fitzpatrick, '35; Lawrence Shevland, '36; Frank Winterer, '37; John Hoey, '35; Gerald Kunz, '37; Joseph Dunnigan, '35; Joseph Shay, '37 and Aloysius Fitzpatrick, '37.

Manhattan Game Final Grid Trip

Continued From Page One

crack organization of musical talent representing Manhattan.

Price Uncertain

No definite decision as to the price of the round trip has been announced, although it will range from $2.50 to $3.00. This includes transportation direct to the vicinity of Ebbets' Field, Brooklyn, and return.

Joseph A. Hoenig, alumni secretary, stated that because of the low transportation cost, and also because of the greater added convenience afforded to those who are expecting to attend the game, a large number of old grads from this section will be present at the encounter, in order not to be outdone by the strong Gotham delegation.

Epsilon Phi Theta To Be Reorganized

Continued From Page One

Arts and Philosophy will take place sometime this week for the purpose of reorganization if the Student Council approves the proposed action at its meeting tonight. Mr. Walsh, who is president of the advisory group, will make the motion in favor of the Epsilon Phi Theta revival.

Artsmen are requested to watch the bulletin boards for the date and place of the meeting as they are not yet determined. If prompt reestablishment is made it is more than probable that some social function will be sponsored by the fraternity this year.

ENGINEERS' FRAT SETS KEY PLANS

Committee Is Appointed To Secure Bids on Awards For Senior Members

Plans were formulated at the last meeting of Phi Kappa Pi, engineering fraternity on the campus, for the keys that are awarded each year to the outgoing seniors who are in good standing.

Immediately the president, John Klekotka, '35, announced the committee to secure bids and to award the contract to the company submitting the best bid. The committee will consist of the following members: Daniel McGowan, '35, chairman; Paetrus Banmiller, '35, Thomas Malcolm, '35; Walter Weiss, '36; James Doherty, '36; Joseph Carroll, '36; and John Guinee, '36.

New Policy

In previous years the keys were awarded to the seniors at the close of the school year, but after some discussion at the last meeting it was decided that immediate action would be taken and the insignias would be given to eligible seniors as soon as they are secured. It is possible that the fourth year men will receive the awards before or shortly after the Christmas holidays.

Phi Kappa Smoker Is Great Success

Continued From Page One

some day they will be able to sit back feeling that they did their best. Rev. John S. O'Leary, O. S. A., the moderator, then told those present that none of them knew what God has planned for them, but urged them to take advantage of all the knowledge that they can obtain outside of their engineering curriculum. He told the men to be prepared for anything and with that view in mind they should conduct themselves accordingly through their four years at Villanova.

Dean Favors Activities

The dean of the school of technology, Carl T. Humphrey, also addressed the guests, urging them to continue to be as active as they have been and they will always have the engineering faculty to advise them and aid them in carrying out the club's plans. He requested the members to become acquainted with the non-members and to give them a helping hand in whatever way possible.

After the addresses the refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches and coffee an all those present were supplied with cigars and cigarettes. The smoker was concluded with impromptu entertainment by some of the members.

The committee in charge of the smoker was composed of Joseph Mihalcik, '35, chairman; Joseph Costigan, '35; Walter Coyle, '35; E. J. Tofani, '35; John Schlotterback, '36; Gustavius Constantine, '36; Edward Casey, '37, and Michael McNerney, '37.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting, 210 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Belle Air Staff Meeting, 51 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Student Council Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 7:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

Beta Gamma Meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8:00 P. M.

THURSDAY

A. S. M. E. Meeting, 213 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Band Practice, Alumni Hall ..... 4:00 and 7:00 P. M.

FRIDAY

VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting, 119 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Swimming Team Meeting ..... 7:00 P. M.

SATURDAY

Villanova-South Carolina Game, Stadium ..... 2:30 P. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 11:40 A. M.
Red Cross Life Saving Examination ..... 2:30 - 6:00 P. M.

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

AT LAST the fruits of our column of two weeks ago concerning the formation of a football league are beginning to ripen into interesting discussion.

Although Professor Philip O. Badger, chairman of the University Board of Athletic Control at New York University, is not in favor of the idea, his comments should prove interesting. Professor Badger's statement reads as follows:

"I am not in favor of the proposal, but at the same time I wish to congratulate the sports editor of the VILLANOVAN upon his able presentation of the matter. The problem is so complex that it is practically impossible to deal adequately with it in a short statement. From time to time similar proposals have been made here in the East involving various sets of colleges and universities.

"The more successful intercollegiate athletic conferences or leagues in this country have been made up of colleges and universities of similar type and composition. I am thinking particularly of the Western Conference, where practically the entire membership is made up of State universities with similar educational standards and background. It is interesting to note that athletic participation in these conferences includes other sports as well as football. In the group of colleges and universities proposed by the VILLANOVAN there is such a wide variety of interests and conditions represented in the various colleges and universities proposed that I believe the formation of a successful conference or league would not prove practicable.

"I doubt whether the formation of a conference or league would tend to increase attendance and interest in the game. It seems to me that any successful team will arouse interest regardless of conference membership. When a member of the Western Conference has a so-called 'unsuccessful season' in football the same attendance problem is faced as is experienced by non-conference teams.

"I think it is true that the formation of a conference would stimulate newspaper publicity, but I feel that already the newspapers, possibly in response to the demand of readers, are developing types of publicity relating to football which have very little if any real value. For example, I have in mind the compilation of 'Leading Scorers,' which has made its appearance in many papers in the last few years. The formation of a conference must almost of necessity call for some considerable expense in the maintenance of supervisory and administrative machinery. The football situation at any one institution changes from year to year. Membership in a conference would tend to lessen the opportunities to draft schedules directly fitting these changing conditions and quite obviously would restrict the scheduling of any considerable number of games outside of the conference membership."

(Signed) PHILIP O. BADGER,
Chairman, University Board of Athletic Control.
October 31, 1934.

—V—

FROM the same school comes a favorable comment from the sports editor, Lee Kanner. Mr. Kanner secured Professor Badger's statement, but his ideas as an undergraduate fit in more with your commentator's viewpoint.

We quote a paragraph from Kanner's "Sport Whirl":

"Professor Badger may be right, but since I am privileged to air my own views on the subject, I think that such a league would prove beneficial to the dying spirit among the colleges minus the Harvard and Yale traditions. It is only human nature to become excited over some sort of race, and a race for a football championship, no matter how strong the teams contesting, would be a thrilling spectacle to watch, and would draw the crowds."

In an article on an entirely different topic, Mr. Kanner brings out exactly the idea that has caused me to suggest such a league. He is

Continued on Page Six

Final Minute Rally Wins for Boston College

VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK BOWLING

Tuesday, November 6, 1934 Page Five

GAMECOCKS TO BATTLE 'CATS

EAGLES' TALLY IS THRILLING CLIMAX TO CLOSE CONTEST

Frank Wetzler's Punting Is Great Aid on Defensive To Faltering Wildcats

B. CURRAN OUTSTANDING IN EAGLE BACKFIELD

'Cat Line Makes Sensational Stand in Last Period Touchdown Drive

NEWTON, Mass., Nov. 3 — The Eagles of Boston College swooped down on the bruised and battered Villanova Wildcat in the closing minutes of a thrilling fray to eke out a one touchdown win before 8000 thrilled spectators on Alumni Field today.

Brilliant punting by Frank Wetzler enabled the Wildcats to stay on even terms with the B. C. team throughout three quarters of the game but a 30-yard pass from Quarterback Bernie Moynahan to fleet-footed Ferdenzi proved to be the beginning of the end for the Stuhldreher eleven. The pigskin rested on the Eagles' 43-yard line when the quarterback of the home team faded back and tossed a long spiral to the speedy Ferdenzi. With the ball firmly tucked in his arms and no opposing players between him and the goal line a score seemed inevitable but Frank Foster, substitute Villanova guard, running as though his life depended on it hurled himself at the would-be scorer and forced him out of bounds on the 15-yard stripe.

'Cats Rally

The 'Cats settled down to prevent a score. With only a few minutes remaining to play two line bucks were stopped almost without a gain. On the third down, Ferdenzi took the ball for a first down to the Wildcats' five.

"Hold 'em Villanova" screamed the loyal band of rooters that had journeyed up to the Hub for the exciting contest. Across the field the Boston College cheering section demanded a touchdown.

Line Holds

Three plays netted the locals four of the necessary five yards for the score. On the last down, Curran took the ball and attempted to throw himself over the heap for a touchdown. Referee Kelly threw his hand aloft and sent a dagger of disappointment through the hearts of the Villanova players and rooters.

Convinced that Curran had not actually crossed the line, Eddie Michaels, sensational Villanova tackle, compained that it was not until the referee jumped into the pile up that Curran crossed the line but the touchdown was allowed. After the 'Cats' star lineman had bandied a few words with the opposing players, Coach Stuhldreher withdrew him from the game.

Extra Point Fails

The try for the extra point was blocked by two charging Villanova linemen.

After the kick-off, the Wildcats took to the air in a last attempt to score. Three first downs in a row were accomplished in this manner for a net gain of 47 yards but the

Continued on Page Six

Vote Today

A ballot box has been placed outside the VILLANOVAN office to receive your Collegiate Digest Votes in their All-American contest. Give Villanova's stars the break they deserve. Include them in your selection.

These votes will be mailed to the Collegiate Digest by this paper.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR BASKETBALL

Junior Varsity and Frosh To Have Strenuous Court Campaigns

By EDWARD L. COLLINS

At a meeting of the college basketball authorities on last Wednesday, managers and coaches were appointed for the junior varsity and freshman teams.

The honor of directing the destinies of the freshman aggregation has been placed on the shoulders of Alexander Severance, graduate manager of athletics, and the managerial duties have been entrusted to Ray Murphy, a sophomore from Boston. Frank Skaff, at present coaching the jayvee football team, will also be head man of the court combination, with Eugene McAuliffe handling the managing end.

To Call Candidates

Both managers have been working hard in securing the best talent available for the two combinations. They will issue a call for candidates probably the latter part of this month, and from all indications prospects will be very bright.

Basketball will be put on a higher plane this year than ever before, and with the three organized college combinations in addition to the splendid intra-mural schedule, the school will be "basketball conscious."

Task Is Difficult

Skaff, who will succeed Tom McFeeley as head coach of the jayvees, has a tough problem on his hands. With the loss of Bob Feehrey the mainstay of last year's team, Skaff will have to scour the whole campus to find a man of Bob's ability. "Buck" Taylor, captain of this year's club, will try to make the fans forget Feehrey and

Continued on Page Six

S. Carolina Aggregation Is Next Foe at Stadium

Southerners Determined to Win Decisive Game; Each Team Holds One Victory In Two Games Previously Played

HAVE WON FOUR OUT OF SIX STARTS

BY JACK GERAGHTY

WHEN Captain Tom Craig leads his South Carolina Gamecocks against Villanova next Saturday, the 'Cats will face a versatile and well-balanced club, equal to the team that beat the Wildcats two seasons ago.

The Southern invasion will mark the third in a series of contests between the two colleges. The first game at Villanova was won by the Gamecocks by the score of 13-0. Last year, led by the great "Whitey" Randour, the Northerners went south to lick the boys from Dixie, 13-6. The third game will be a decisive one.

Stress Teamplay

South Carolina presents an all-around team that lacks any individual stars, but makes up for the lack by its consistent play. The Gamecocks have not had as good a season as was expected. They opened their season with a victory over Erskine, 26-0. And they followed by defeating V. M. I., 22-0. North Carolina State, coached by Hunk Anderson, eked out a last-minute victory by the score of 6-0. The Citadel, a military college, fell before the Gamecocks by 20 to 6. One of the big games of the season was lost to Clemson at the State Fair Grounds by a 19-0 tally. V. P. I. was met in Columbia last Saturday, resulting in a South Carolina victory to the tune of 20 to 0.

Tom Craig, who played a scintillating game at end last season, is the Carolina captain. In the early games, Craig was shifted to tackle, but he will be wingman for the Villanova game. Freeman Hunkey, the alternate captain, holds down the left tackle position.

All Carolinians

The team is composed almost entirely of native South Carolinians. The present indication is that there will be but one out-of-state man in the starting lineup. He is Dean Fowble, a guard built on the lines of Frank Foster.

Billy Laval, who has been the Carolina coach for all of the Birds games with Villanova, is still at the helm. His coaching staff is unchanged except for the addition of Curran Hughey, a stellar player against Villanova in 1932.

The Gamecocks plan to leave Columbia on Thursday evening and will arrive in Philadelphia at about noon on Friday, in time for a pre-game workout on Friday afternoon. The squad will consist of about 30 players accompanied by Dr. R. K. Foster, the athletic director, and the coaching staff.

Randour Remembered

Villanova and made a most pleasant impression in Columbia last year, according to the South Carolina "Gamecock," and everywhere fans were high in their praise of the team. Continuing, the "Gamecock" says that Randour played an excellent game, and throughout the rest of the season, his work was followed with admiration.

"Last year, the game was played

Continued on Page Six

DETROIT IN TITLE FRAY

Play Michigan State Nov. 17 For Wolverine Championship

An open date faces the University of Detroit this Saturday as the Titans rest in preparation for the important game with Michigan State at East Lansing on Nov. 17. This respite should be all in favor of Detroit since the Spartans will be meeting the powerful Syracuse eleven.

For the first time in nineteen years the championship of the State of Michigan will hinge on the Detroit-Michigan State game. The Spartans eliminated the University of Michigan, perennial titleholders, in a 16-0 victory early in the season.

MERMEN CONTINUE DAILY PRACTICES

Manhattan, Delaware, Rider Definitely Scheduled For 1934-35 Season

Although the Villanova swimming team has been practicing only a month, the outlook for the coming season is very bright. Many of the candidates are last season's veterans and the new ones are pushing the veterans hard to hold thir positions.

Three new definiate meets have been arranged with Manhattan College, University of Delaware, and Rider College. The first two will give the mermen a chance to journey away from home, and the last-mentioned will be at home.

A few of the candidates have not been able to practice as yet because they are holding down positions on the various football teams at present. Among these are McKee and Coyle, of the 150-pound team, and Paul Loughlin, a member of the varsity.

All Future Opponents Triumphed By Large Scores Last Saturday

The outlook for the Villanova team's future became darker over the weekend when all three of its future opponents turned in impressive victories over strong opponents.

South Carolina turned in an impressive victory over Virginia Poly by running up three touchdowns.

Makes Long Run

Manhattan trounced C. C. N. Y. by a 21 to 0 score. Whalen, the Jaspers' fleet-footed left halfback, intercepted a pass on his own goal line and dashed the entire length of the field to account for one of the tallies. It was the longest run of last Saturday's long list of football games.

Temple, the season's final opponent, defeated the strong Holy Cross eleven by two touchdowns. The Owls unleashed almost every trick known to the game and many of their plays almost completely bewildered their powerful New England opponent.

Past Foes Divide

Of the past opponents, Ursinus played a deadlock with Dickinson, Detroit lost to Oklahoma A. & M. in a surprise 19 to 6 contest. Bucknell downed Furman scoring three touchdowns and adding one extra point. Western Maryland continued to be undefeated and unscored upon by nosing out Catholic University 2 to 0.

La Salle did not play but will meet Albright College next Saturday.

Lightweights Triumph Over Manhattan 13-0

Lenzi-Coached Eleven Plays Brilliant Ball

Captain Coyle Scores First Touchdown On Pass From Dan Murphy; Shevland Tallies On Wide End Run in Thrilling Game

WILDCATS WIN FIRST GAME SINCE '32

By JOHN PILLION

Enraged by two previous defeats, the Villanova 150's overwhelmed Manhattan by the score of 13-0, in the Villanova stadium last Saturday afternoon.

From the outset it appeared as if Villanova would be on the long end of the score, when the final curtain was dropped. In the first quarter Villanova marched to the Manhattan five-yard line in a series of line plays followed by a long forward pass, Murphy to Rogers. However Rogers attempt for a field goal was blocked by Palermo, who with Hayburne remained a bulwark on the defense for the Jaspers, smothering play after play.

Coyle Scores

For the reat of the first period and part of the second the teams fought on even terms. Late in the second quarter one of Murphy's passes found its way into the open arms of Frank Rogers. On the next play Murphy once again faded back and this time the pigskin was caught by Coyle on Manhattan's ten-yard line from where he easily romped across the goal line for Villanova's first touchdown.

Coach Lenzi started the second half with his subs and the Green and White, led by Captain Brondhurst, started a march toward the Villanova goal line and had succeeded in advancing to the 'Cats' 20-yard line before the first-string men could be rushed back into the fray. Early in the third stanza Kain flipped a short pass to Shevland, but a fumble wrecked the scoring chance and gave the ball to Manhattan.

Shevland Tallies

Late in the final period the last score was hung up by the Blue and White when Rogers ripped off 15 yards outside tackle and two plays later on a long end run Shevland crossed the final white marker to make the score 12-0. McGee converted the final point by a rush, and when the last whistle shrilled the score still remained 13-0 with the ball on Manhattan's 35-yard line.

Joe Caulfield and Bill Cavanaugh starred on the defense for Villanova and made possible the first 150 victory in two years.

Lineup:

Manhattan	Pos.	Villanova
Kozimplik	L. E.	Hennessy
Little	L. T.	Gough
Ryane	L. G.	Caufield
McCoy	C.	Monocal
Palermo	R. G.	Stead
Gudelski	R. T.	Cavanaugh
Mepbyrne	R. E.	Coyle
Dunphry	F. B.	Shevlin
Stone	L. H.	Rogers
Broadhurst	F. B.	Fitzpatrick

Time of periods: 12 minutes. Touchdowns: Villanova. Points after touchdown: Villanova. Substitutions: Villanova—Kain for Murphy, Kapic for Fitzpatrick, Fitzpatrick for Kapic, Murphy for Kain, Siebers for Menocal, Carlton for Cavanaugh, Kain for Murphy, Menocal for Siebers, Ziek for Coyle, O'Neil for Rogers, Shapiro for Hennessy, Leone for Shevlin, Wriski for Stead, Murray for Gough, Kain for Murphy, Shevlin for Leone, Hennessy for Shapiro, Stead for Wriski, Gough for Murray, Cavanaugh for Carleton, Magee for Fitzpatrick, Rogers for O'Neil, Coyle for Ziek, Murphy for Kain, Siebers for Menocal.

Manhattan: Johnston for Little, O'Brien for Dunphry, Mecchio for Rynne, Casey for Broadhurst, Doyle for Gudelski, Little for Johnston, O'Riley for Kozimplik, Broadhurst for Casey, Dunphry for O'Brien, Rynne for Palermo, Gudelski for Little, O'Brien for Byrnes, J. O'Brien for Broadhurst, O'Neill for Heyburn, Hughes for Kozumplik, Casey for Byrnes, Maloney for Little, Kenley for McCoy, Mecchio for Rynne, Tyler for Casey.

Closing Rally Wins for B. C.

Continued From Page Five

final whistle sounded ending the fray.

Up until the final minutes of play the contest had been a see-saw affair. Boston College had threatened twice in the first two periods, one threat coming to the Villanova 25-yard line and the other to the 29, but both were halted when the Wildcats realized that they were almost with their backs to the wall.

Villanova Threatens

In the second period the visitors seemed bent on scoring when they carried the ball from their own 20 to the Boston College 37 but here the B. C. team held and the 'Cats lost the ball.

B. Curran played brilliantly for the home team as did Ed Driscoll who substituted for R. Curran at the beginning of the second quarter.

Villanova's stalwart on the defensive was the great kicking of Frank Wetzler and the brilliant line play of almost the entire forward wall with the exception of two sustained drives in the first and second periods.

Eagles Screamed

Villanova	Pos.	Boston Coll.
Saka	Left end	Furbush
Johnson	Left tackle	Ohrenberger
Vidnovic	Left guard	Coultig
Sullivan	Center	Donahoe
Lee	Righ guard	Feeney
Cox	Right tackle	Ryan
Fox	Right end	O'Brien
Christopher	Quarterback	Moynahan
Mahovlich	Left halfback	R. Curran
Wetzler	Right halfback	J. Curran
Wiesenbaugh	Fullback	Ferdenzi
Villanova	0 0 0 0—0
Boston College	0 0 6—6

Touchdown—R. Curran. Substitutions—Villanova: Michaels for Johnson, Korchinski for Saka, Kolyn for Mahovlich, Cox for Sullivan, Goggin for Korchinski, Blanchard for Vidnovic, Johnson for Michaels, Grimberg for Fox, McFadden for Wiesenbaugh, Higgins for Christopher, Foster for Lee, Emmerling for Wetzler, Fox for Grimberg, Michaels for Johnson, Wetzler for Emmerling, Patzsch for Wiesenbaugh, Vidnovic for Blanchard, Emmerling for Wetzler, McFadden for Patzsch, Johnson for Michaels. Boston College—Driscoll for R. Curran, Moynahan for Fleherty, Carosell for Ferdenzi, Owens for Coultig, Tottolini for J. Curran, Galligan for Gilman, Dominick for Ohrenberger, Anderson for O'Brien, Mahoney for Furbush, Zaitz for Pzenny, Twomey for Donahue, R. Curran for Driscoll, Ferdenzi for Caroselli, Coultig for Owens, J. Curran for Tottolini, Gilman for Galligan, Ohrenberger for Dominick, Owens for Coultig, Keaney for Owens, Caroselli for R. Curran, Furbush for Mahoney.

Officials: Referee—D. J. Kelly, Springfield. Umpire—G. H. Lowe, Lafayette. Field judge—T. A. Scanlon, Fordham. Head linesman—A. V. Bratt, Tufts. Game starts at 2 P. M.

Plans Completed For Basketball

Continued From Page Five

Dart, the outstanding performers of last year.

Danny Murphy, ex-West Philly boy, and Mooney, both from last year's squad, will give Taylor plenty of support in the offense, while Frank Willis, Shelley and Catrambone, other insignia winners, will return for another season of play.

J. V. Expects Improvement

In six engagements last year the squad came out on the long end only twice, while losing four times. But with brighter prospects this year the jayvees hope to surpass that mark and aim for an undefeated season.

With the graduation of Bunny Galazin, Leo Schoppmeyer, Monahan, Pickel, and McCabe, to the Sophomore Class, Coach Severance will have to round up a bunch of incoming freshmen to carry on the strenuous schedule that is being prepared for them. Although participating in but six games the team showed to advantage. They will be battling with the varsity men for vacant positions. With several promising freshmen in school, Severance will work them plenty in an effort to place a fast five on the floor.

In the Limelight

WHEN you hear the siren and bell...," it'll probably be Don Blanchard, falling through the mattress in Fedigan. Don, we must have you know, is the one and only Villanova Fireman.

Don's consuming passion is to chase fires. When he gets outa here, he's going to hook up with his dad and sell fire engines, life-nets, and such. That's a nice, flaming career for a promising young man.

On the morning of December 2, 1912, Don beheld his first natal day. In other words, he was born on December 2, 1912. Coupla weeks later and he'd have been a nice Christmas present for his proud parents. He was raised on a farm near Worcester, Mass, home of shoes and Holy Cross College. In a few years, the family moved to Boston, the home of you know what.

The Chief went to Boston College High School, where he spent four years learning how to block. Also, in chronological order, he was center on the football team, captain and left defense on the ice hockey team, outfielder on the ball club, and bounced the shot in track. Between times, he went to classes and absorbed considerable "booklarnin'."

Every Summer, he went out to the farm, got up at 5 o'clock, milked numbers of cows, piloted things, and pitched hay. That suntanned complexion is a result.

Villanova in '31.

On the frosh team of that year, about which reams of copy have been pounded out, he was changed from his center post to guard. He played every game, and acquired his trick shoulder. That's the shoulder that went out in the La Salle game.

Next year, he had a big program. In football he was first-string guard, which paved the way for a big accomplishment; he's the only senior on the squad who has started every game since his first year on the varsity.

Later in the season, he was the big factor in starting the wrestling team. Nothing much was heard of it the first year, but he opened the way for what may prove to be a fairly important sport in future years. Spring and track came around on the run, and Don, garbed coyly in shorts and jersey, incidentally showed to gaping followers the best physique on the campus, puttputted the shot on a number of rides.

During the season of 1933, he was shifted to center for the first three games. Somebody was hurt, and Don was jerked out of a pivotman's job to guard again. He came through with a bang.

Wrestling began to develop into something, and Don was unanimously elected to captain the embryo squad. They had no meets, but his men captured the intramurals for their respective halls.

After this, the annual show was given by the Turf and Tinsel, and Don, the Tarzan of the campus, was plastered with goo and shoved into the chorus, where he flung his legs for the glory of Villanova and the gate receipts.

He was elected president of the Varsity Club. During this season, he has gone great at guard. Played nearly 60 minutes each contest, and is as near to an iron man as could be expected.

Lotsa luck with the fire engines, Don.

S. Carolina Next Foe at Stadium

Continued From Page Five

on the old State Fair grounds, but when Villanova comes to Columbia again, the setting will be Carolina's handsome new steel and concrete stadium, dedicated at the second game of the season

"We look forward with great pleasure to our trip to Villanova," Dr. Foster said. "We were treated with every courtesy on our visit there two years ago, and we have enjoyed to the fullest our relations with Villanova. It was fine to have Villanova as our guests in Columbia last year, and it is good that once more, Carolina can play up there."

The Gamecock's lineup will consist of: Craig, left end; Gaffney, left tackle; Watson, left guard; Stroud, center; Fowble, right guard; Huskey, right tackle; Rowland, right end; Mauney, quarterback; Alexander, left halfback; Clary, right halfback; Brown, fullback.

Sportorial

Continued From Page Five

discussing the student hopes of N. Y. U. playing Yale or Harvard. To quote him concerning these teams: "Let me remind you students with high aspirations that there is not the slightest possibility of meeting Yale or Harvard, since they fear us and have nothing to gain by a game with us."

This is exactly the condition of almost all the teams that I have suggested for the league. All are good teams, but the "big timers" fear them and have nothing to gain by playing them.

POOL OPEN SUNDAY

The Villanova swimming pool will be open on Sunday afternoons from 1:30 to 3 P. M. Dayhops and boarders who have passed the physical tests are eligible for admittance.

BUZENSKI STARS AS J. V.'S FALL BEFORE SCRANTON ELEVEN

Skaffmen Outplay Upstaters But Drop Hardfought Game By Score of 15-0

BREAKS AGAINST KITTENS

Buzenski's 35-Yard Pass To Joe Shelley Is Feature Of Game

Special to the VILLANOVAN

LA PLUME, PA., Nov. 3.—Villanova's junior varsity football team travelled here today to meet their second consecutive defeat. The score was 15-0, administered by the strong Scranton-Keystone Junior College.

The contest was a hard fought affair from start to finish but the locals took advantage of the breaks to win the ball game.

'Cats Gain

In the opening period Villanova steadily marched up to the S-K 11-yard line after receiving the kickoff on their 34. Here the Scranton team held Villanova after two line bucks and two passes failed. From then on the contest was even up until the upstate eleven got the ball on Villanova's 35 on a fumble. The period being almost over, Keystone could not be stopped and steadily marched to Villanova's 12 yard line, where Seamans scored from an off tackle thrust.

In the second period Seamans also added three points by a field goal from the 37 yard line.

In the final quarter Rodriguez, Keystone's stellar left-half, scored on a right-end run with a beautiful 29 yard open field sprint.

Punts Plentiful

Although meeting with their second straight defeat, the J. V.'s outplayed the keystone in every department, Villanova had 11 first downs to Keystone's 5 and averaged 47 yards each kick to Keystone's 35. The J. V.'s were also vastly improved in their passing attack and they successfully completed one for 35 yards when Buzenski heaved one to Joe Shelley.

The outstanding players for Keystone were: Captain Owens, Rodriguez and seamans, while Buzenski, Cocheo and Whelan starred for the J. V.'s.

Villanova	Pos.	Scranton Keystone Jr. Col.
Doug	L. E.	Decker
Fleming (Capt.)	L. T.	Stanton
Donahue	L. G.	Baniones
Hamil	C.	(Capt.) Owens
Cochea	R. G.	Baer
Whelan	R. T.	Mackey
Shelley	R. E.	Young
Violetti	Q. B.	Seamans
Buzenski	L. H. B.	Rodriguez
Cook	R. H. B.	Thomas
Flaherty	F. B.	Mulford
Villanova J. V.	0 0 0 0—0
S. K. Junior College	6 3 0 6—15

Touchdowns—Rodriguez, Seamans. Field goal—Seamans (drop-kick). Villanova substitutions—Dougherty for Shelley, Perras for Flaherty, Foley for Dougherty, O'Connell for Hamil, Shelley for Flaherty for Cook, Hallahan for Perras. S. K. Jr. College substitutions—Chase for Decker, Engle for Thomas, Phillips for Baer, White for Mackey, Ferguson for Seamans, MacFarland for Mulford.

Referee—Gokie. Umpire—Cohen, Stroudsburg. Head linesman—Duffy.

SHEPHERD FALTERS

Western Maryland Ace Is Blanked As Terrors Triumph, 2-0

Because Western Maryland was held without a touchdown in their close contest with Catholic University, Bill Shepherd, sensational back of the Green Terrors, relinquished his lead in the race for high scoring honors last Saturday.

Art Strutt, speedy Duquesne fullback, plunged over four times in the West Virginia Wesleyan game, to bring his scoring total up to 79 points. Shepherd remained at 71.

In fifth position of the leading eastern scorers was Danny Testa, Temple star, with 54 points.

Smuckler, of Temple, also rates high among the scoring aces, having garnered 35 points in six games.

Sandbach, of Princeton, is leading the country in scoring points after touchdowns, having booted 14 single-pointers.

Curran's hotly contested touchdown in the Boston College game Saturday gave him a total of 30 points, enabling him to list among the leaders.

TRACK CANDIDATES IN DAILY WORKOUTS

Graduation Robs Cinder Path Squad of Quintet of Outstanding Stars

Candidates for the varsity track team are continuing to hold daily workouts on the stadium cinderpath. A few promising middle distance runners have been discovered, and it is hoped that these men will have developed sufficiently by the opening of the indoor season, to help fill the gap left open by graduation.

The newcomers displaying the best form so far are Ben Maloney and Fritz Monahan, both sophs, miler and quarter-miler respectively. Much in the way of point-getting is expected of this pair, particularly the former. Ben first attracted attention in the intra-murals last spring. Representing Mendel Hall, he literally ran away from the field in the mile and half-mile events.

Jim Elliot and Alex Krammer, quarter-milers, and Carl Hickey, pole vaulter and broad jumper, are holdovers training daily. Jimmie Walsh and Eddie McDevitt, football men, are expected to bolster the team considerably in the sprints. All of these men are lettermen with the exception of McDevitt.

Nevertheless, the team will have to do its utmost to make up for the loss of a good many stars by graduation. Captain Joe Fenstemacher and "Jocko" Hurley, sprintmen; Bill Burt and Mike Tomasso, pole vaulters; and Jim Downey, middle distance runner, are gone.

GOLF ASSISTANT WANTED

Any freshman or sophomore interested in becoming assistant manager of golf should report to Louis Marechal on Friday in Room 119, Mendel Hall

Inquiring Scribe Gets "Bum's Rush" For Investigation

Fr. Brown Remains Mysterious About Proposed "Cabaret Night"

Continued From Page One

pose than I, with a sudden contempt for the niceties of polite conversation, and urged on by a desperation born from the fear of frustration, blurted out, somewhat wildly I fear, that I should appreciate a statement concerning the Cabaret Night entertainment which he is arranging.

Question Unanswered

If you have ever found it necessary to seek information or assistance from Fr. Brown, you need hardly be told, that he is always the personification of kindliness and helpfulness. Which was all the more reason for my surprise, upon this occasion, to find him using all the verbal dexterity, to which man is heir, in order to avoid a direct answer to my questions.

I was beginning to fear that for all my persistence, my questions were about to go unanswered, when by some quirk of fate, or perhaps what is more likely, his good nature triumphed over his desire to remain silent, and prompted him to give me a few facts concerning Cabaret Night, which will be held in the Pie Shoppe.

Date Determined

Next Saturday evening, about 8:30 and 9 o'clock, will see a type of entertainment that bids fair to be an innovation in collegiate circles. Unfortunately we have been unable to ascertain the exact form that this musical will take, although a reputable authority has informed us that it will include a number of songs, skits, monologues, and dances, which should prove a delightful source of novelty and amusement to all those who attend it. Refreshments will, most likely, be served after the entertainment.

Still in Quandary

As the Pie Shoppe has a rather limited capacity, it is recommended that they, who are desirous of joining in the merry-making, should arrive early in order to select their places.

And we are still wondering what it's all about.

MISSIONARY CONDUCTS HOLY HOUR DEVOTIONS

Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A., Delivers First Sermon in Series Of Winter Season

Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A., conducted the first in a series of Holy Hour devotions, in College Chapel last Thursday night.

In his sermon, Fr. Burns treated the presence of Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament. Developing his topic, he stated that the real presence of Our Lord, is an indication of His love for mankind.

After the sermon popular hymns were sung by the assembled students.

Attendance at Holy Hour is compulsory on the part of every resident student. Services will be held at the same time on successive evenings before the First Friday of each month, throughout the school year.

A. S. V. C. TO MEET

Future Program to Be Discussed By Aeronautical Organization

Although there have been no definite developments in the reorganization of the Aeronautical Society, the officers and moderator have decided to hold an informal evening meeting in the near future, at which the fate of that club will be determined.

It is expected by officers that the A. S. V. C. will be continued, and its program for the ensuing year will be well-filled. There have been many connections made between the officers and well-known authorities in this field. John Rogers is expected to resume his evening lectures, which, last year, were beneficial to all who attended.

Before the meeting is announced, there will be developments in the outline for the season, and the complete schedule will be announced at that time. Bulletin boards will carry further announcements.

How Those Freshmen Did Grunt and Groan at Tug O' War

(Staff Photo—Violetti)

This "orderly" arrangement of things was snapped by the photographer during the rope-pulling contest, one of the events of the annual Soph-Frosh field day exercises. Shortly after this picture was taken, the stout-hearted yearlings got "even" with their second-year contemporaries and dragged them through the chilling waters of the college lake. The Frosh won glorious victories throughout the day.

Sophs Receive Icy Bath From Fighting Freshmen

History was made at the annual Soph-Frosh Field Day last Thursday, when the second year men went down to ignominious defeat at the hands of the yearlings. Officers of the losing group attributed the humiliating results to the small number of their classmen who took part in the fray.

Rugby Contest

The Frosh outnumbered their opponents by not less than 10 to one and still there was witnessed a hard fought field day. In the face of such great odds, the Sophomore Classmen got first blood. The opening event on the program, was a game of rugby. Dividing the Frosh into sections, Fr. Ludwig blew the starting whistle and the event was started.

Frank Monaghan, '37, made the first kick-off. A beautiful placement sailed far over the heads of the crowded opposition, to be followed up very closely by the one and only score made by the upperclassmen throughout the day.

Oliver received the second boot, but was tackled near centerfield. Both teams were knotted in one mobile mass, through which Stopper, another Frosh representative, finally wriggled his way, the ball clutched firmly in his arms. He struggled to his feet and ran, almost unmolested, through the remaining Sophs for first score for the Class of '38.

Play was opened for the deciding period, and the Frosh resorted to a sleeper play. There was no kick. Ryan, a freshman, reached the ball well in advance of any other player. He grasped it and threw a lateral to Paul Kerrigan. Kerrigan threw off several pursuing Sophs and again crossed the goal for the final point.

Porker Lost

Now, with the Frosh well in advance, the greased pig was to be led on the field. But where was the pig. Well, he just wasn't to be found. Rumor has it that "Louie" had decided to have pork for dinner and the Pie Shoppe refrigerator was to be replenished with fresh meat. But that is rumor, and the more logical solution, to the spectators, is that the Sophomores had planned to paint the poor animal as a Freshman and parade him through Bryn Mawr.

However, all this did not help amuse the spectators, nor did it appease the now gory appetites of the lower-classmen, so a tug-o'-war was in order.

Sophs Take Dive

After much fussing from both sides of the pond, the Frosh decided to have it over with, and proceeded to give one hefty pull, and Johnny Chapple took the plunge. A more perfect dive has never been witnessed. His team mates soon followed him and the fight was started in earnest.

The Sophs protested and the day seemed just right for another "America's Cup Race." However, they might have saved themselves a second ducking and the cameramen quite a bit of film had they not tried and failed to hold their juniors once again.

The lower classmen were then out for real blood, and a small riot ensued. Every second-year-man was thrown bodily into the mucky water.

Play Touch Ball

The afternoon session was to include a touch football game and the greased pig race. The football tilt was run off as per schedule, without any particular excitement. It was a very close game with the score tied, nothing to nothing at the end of the first half. The third period saw the only touchdown of the game, with a beautiful pass completed to McKenna, who dashed the remaining distance for the seven pointer.

After this lone count, the fight again developed into a passing tournament, neither side coming within striking distance. The game ended with the Frosh victors, 7 to 0, and the Field Day was awarded to them without any protest.

Although the pig had been found, the race was called off and the pig spared. "Louie" did not get the pork, however, and it is understood that the chase may take place during the half period of the South Carolina football game.

Secretary Releases Results of Survey

Continued From Page One

A weight of 23.4 per cent was given by students who came to Villanova upon the recommendation of a priest. A visit of a representative of the college to the high school, the motion picture, "Life at Villanova," and "because a member of your high school class intended to go to Villanova," were each given a weight of 15.6 per cent.

The fact that there is no examination required for entrance to Villanova was given a weight of 13.6 per cent. Previous attendance by a brother was given by the freshmen with 9.7 per cent.

The VILLANOVAN was listed next with a weight of 9.7 per cent. Remoteness from home, a rather vague reason, was given a weight of 6.5 per cent. Previous attendance by the student's father was last on the list with a weight of 1.9 per cent.

Fashion Notes By Collegiate Digest

Company Tenshun!

Military pockets with deep side vents give the new sport coats a truly "West Point" touch, and the trend toward over-plaid cloth designs with large checks adds a bit of a Scotch atmosphere to them. Added to the wardrobe of the well-dressed collegian, they provide him with a neat classroom attire that goes well with gray flannel slacks. Practical to the 'nth degree, it is meeting with wide acceptance on college and university campuses from coast to coast.

One of the most desirable features of this sport coat is that it is extremely comfortable for classroom wear, as it does not fit so snugly that it hampers the freedom of the arm and shoulder movements. And of course it gives the wearer that certain feeling of "infashion" that makes him sure of the correctness of his dress. You can't go wrong on this one.

A Weighty Subject

With the current trend toward "weighty" lines in suit design, shoe stylists have brought out footwear that exemplifies the desire for heavier looking things. Good, heavy grain brogues with blucher fronts are first choice on the majority of the campuses, and the acceptability of these shoe designs is growing with the spread of the tweed clothes of "heavy" cut.

Just in case you're following the dictates of Old Man Dress, and want to join his new alphabet (but non-governmental) association—B.D.F. (Be Dressed Fashionably)—you will have to obey the clause in its constitution which directs all members to adopt brogues (speaking of shoes only).

WHAT PRICE ILLITERACY?

Although more than 30,000,000 persons attend school in U. S., it has been estimated that there are still more than four million illiterates in America. There we stand, despite the great efforts made to educate the people of the nation.

Suits & Topcoats $15
Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.
WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE
900 SOUTH ST.
Our Only Store

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure
$25 and up
All new styles now available!
Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

Belle Air Book Store
Villanova, Penna.
Please send ..... Souvenir Booklets of Villanova College @ 35 cents each, postpaid. Enclosed please find $ ..... in stamps, check, or P. O. order.
Name _____
Street and No. _____
City and State _____
(Advertisement)

Suits and Topcoats $24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See JIM ELLIOTT
Room 108, Fedigan Hall

RED CROSS EXAMINATIONS

Tests will be given at the college pool every Monday for those desirous of winning the Red Cross emblem for life saving.

150 AND J. V.'s TO PLAY

Both Teams in Away Games On Friday; Rutgers, Penn Opposition

On Friday afternoon, the Villanova 150-pound footballers and junior varsity teams will engage Penn and Rutgers respectively.

The lightweight contest will be played in Philadelphia against the representatives of the Red and Blue. Last year Coach Lenzi's team tied the Quakers in a close scoreless tilt played at the Villanova stadium.

The junior varsity team lost their 1933 encounter with the Rutgers eleven by a 6-0 score.

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

MACHINE INVENTED FOR GROUP VOTING

Dr. Nevil M. Hopkins Builds Electrical Device Allowing Immediate Tabulation

By Associated Collegiate Press

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 5—The quick collection and tabulation of votes will be made possible in the future by the use of the "televotes," an apparatus for electrical voting, its inventor, Dr. Nevil M. Hopkins, former lecturer at New York University, claimed here in demonstrating his new device.

Wide Scope

The apparatus devised by Dr. Hopkins is so arranged as to make voting entirely secret, as well as permitting of voting by large audiences simultaneously. He even envisions large audiences, in theaters and other gathering places, voting at one time on some national question. The results would be tabulated by some central agency set up for that purpose.

Each person in the audience would be equipped with a small push button with which he would record his vote. This button would be connected to a resistance circuit.

Special Occasion! Water Boy's Kin Comes to Detroit

Coach Dorais' Son Demands Annie Oakley for Guest To Titan Game

By Associated Collegiate Press

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 5 — Like all coaches, "Gus" Dorais, of the University of Detroit, is driven nearly mad by requests for passes during the football season. Not the least of his demands come from his own two sons, Tommy and Billy, who are the most popular boys in Detroit when football holds sway. But the blow-off came the other day when Tommy put the bee on his father for a couple of tickets, after he already had acquired a handful.

"Aren't you going a little strong on these complimentary tickets?" asked the senior Dorais, "You know we have to save a little space in the stadium for the pay customers."

"I know, Pop," replied Tommy, "but you see this is a special occasion. You see the water boy's brother is in town."

Nation-Wide Campaign Inaugurated By Dr. Winn of City College, N.Y.

By Associated Collegiate Press

NEW YORK CITY, Nov. 5—A nation-wide campaign for revision of the present-day educational system has been launched here by Dr. Ralph B. Winn, of the College of the City of New York philosophy department.

Lack of Sincerity

Claiming that education has not made any progress for so long that it has become "irrational and obsolescent," Dr. Winn proceeded to decry the fact that nobody seems to be making a "sincere and serious" study of educational problems with the intent of suggesting really valid changes which will make of education a "useful and pleasurable activity," not a "mere formality of collecting credits and points."

He asked a curriculum that "prepares us for life, by revealing its deeper significance and value; that gives us a better understanding of self, society and the world." He claimed that one of the purposes of higher education should be "the building of leaders in every branch of human endeavor."

He asserted that the present system of education is not fulfilling any of the purposes nor is it yielding any worthwhile return; that "a little job in a department store or at a gasoline station" is not an adequate of sufficient compensation for the additional time devoted to learning.

Friendly Cooperation

Dr. Winn believes that the administration, the faculty, and the students of schools should meet in friendly discussion to work out a satisfactory program which would fulfill all the requirements he gave and remove all the vices he cited.

He wants to eliminate cramming and the waste of time and to substitute therefor a program that will develop the mind, character and taste. He wants to eliminate quantity in education and the educated and to have instead quality in both. Educational institutions are, he claimed, "capable of great contributions to science, the arts, and humanity," if they make proper use of the "facilities they possess for study and research."

STUDIES FLY TRAITS

By Associated Collegiate Press

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 5—To most people a fly is nothing but a pest without the slightest redeeming quality to justify its existence, but to some scientists the little fellow is quite an aid in carrying out research investigations.

In the genetic laboratories of the University of Southern California, Prof. Catherine Beers is studying the hereditary traits of thousands of flies—flies smaller than the ordinary household variety, but boasting the formidable name Drosophila pseudo obscura — in an effort to add to the world's knowledge of heredity.

MOUNT ST. JOSEPH'S TO PRESENT SENIOR PROM

Crestmore Club Orchestra to Play; North Jersey Club to Have Same Band at Newark Dance

Mount St. Joseph's College Seniors inaugurate their social season on November 16, the date set for their annual Senior Promenade. The music and entertainment will be supplied by Andy Cress and the Crestmore Club Orchestra from Newark, N. J.

Cress and his band have received much favorable comment from those who have heard him and the same orchestra has been engaged for the North Jersey club dance to be held the following night in Newark.

The tax for the Mount affair has been set at $4.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 7 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1934 Price: Five Cents

DR. THOMAS F. SHEA, JEFFERSON, SPEAKS TO SCIENCE GROUP

Professor of Neuro-Anatomy At Phila. School Gives Interesting Lecture

BRAIN AND INTELLIGENCE DISCUSSED BY PHYSICIAN

Future Doctors Urged to Put Aside All Fears of Medical Schools

Dr. Thomas F. Shea, member of the faculty of the Jefferson Medical School and professor of Neuro-Anatomy, addressed pre-medical students last Thursday morning at the weekly science seminar. Rev. Joseph A. Dougherty, O. S. A., Dean of the School, introduced Dr. Shea to the assembled students.

Opening his lecture by urging the science men to banish all fear of Medical School, which seems to be embodied into most students entering graduate schools, he said: "I can say, without any doubt, that every student before me now is in a tense fear of medical school—a fear which is born or instilled into every pre-medical student—that he will not be able to make the grade at a medical school. Forget all about it."

Praises Catholic College

"For instance the Catholic colleges here in Philadelphia. Villanova, La Salle and St. Joseph's, have sent outstanding men to Jefferson, and above all, very few, and by few I mean four or five, have been flunked out. Now that goes to show you that we don't flunk them out, unless absolutely necessary.

"As for religion, no partiality is shown, whether the men be Jews, Protestants or Catholics. That point is very important. Most students think that some medical schools favor Jews, and others some other religion. That is not so at Jefferson."

Lectures on Intelligence

Dr. Shea then started the main part of his lecture which was entitled "Intelligence." He opened his discussion of the brain by pointing out to the science men, the relation between the weight of the brain in regard to the degree of intelligence it contained. According to the Doctor's statement, the size of the brain has no relation whatsoever with the amount of intelligence a person has.

He continued with his lecture by relating a humorous incident. He said: "Once there was a student at

Continued on Page Four

GAMECOCKS TRAMPLED BY WILDCATS IN THRILLING CONTEST

Photo shows McCrady, South Carolina back, crashing through tackle for a first down during the game played here Saturday. The contest marked the last home game of the current season for Villanova. The Stuhldreher-coached team gained a glorious victory over a team scheduled to beat them, winning by the one-sided score of 20-0. (Complete story on Page 5.)

GOTHAM GAME LURES LARGE DELEGATION

Band to Leave Saturday Morning for Manhattan Contest, 8:00 A. M.

One of the largest delegations of students ever to travel to New York to see a Villanova team in action is expected to attend the Manhattan game, Saturday, at Ebbet's Field, Brooklyn.

The college band will leave from Alumni Hall, in busses, at 8:00 A. M., and the student body making the trip will leave also in busses at 9 A. M., which will be waiting for them at the rear of Mendel Hall.

To Serve Luncheon

Arrangements have been made for a luncheon to be served to the band members upon their arrival in the metropolis. After the meal they will travel to the scene of battle.

As is the custom, entertainment will be furnished to those attending, by the band, between the halves of the contest.

Immediately following the game, both students and band will board

Continued on Page Seven

"Streamline Stiff" Startles Staffs' Stolid Stoicism

VILLANOVAN Writers Experience Throes of Undertaking Profession

By HAROLD J. KEATING

In addition to my two pet ambitions, which I have yet to accomplish, they being to throw an egg into an electric fan and call my girl friend's father "Butch," I never wanted to mess with persons who have completed their span of life, commonly known as "stiffs."

Some Service

The Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., however, apparently recognizing the fact that I was useful for little else, pressed me into service with two other unfortunates known as Lou Marechal and Bill Keffer, to perform some task or other of which we had no knowledge.

Being a simple hearted fellow and always ready to please, I was led by a gentleman in sombre raiments to a gloomy looking conveyance parked behind Mendel Hall. This vehicle, I found out (later), was called a hearse.

Our only task was to carry an unknown deceased person to the anatomy lab, which, if you are up on your Villanova, is on the third floor.

Some Weight

Now this in itself, this carrying of 100 odd pounds, up three floors, is a monumental endeavor in itself, but it was not until I was handed one corner of a hideous looking

Continued on Page Seven

JERSEY MEN TO GIVE GAY VICTORY DANCE

Team Will Be Guests at Post-Manhattan Game Social In Newark, N. J.

As a final climax to the Manhattan-Villanova football game, the North Jersey Club of Villanova College will present its annual Fall dance that night at the Newark Athletic Club in Newark, N. J. The main attraction will be the Crestmore Club Orchestra, under the direction of Andy Kress, whom the club has been fortunate in engaging.

Chairman Harold D. McGrath announced that everything has been done in order to make the dance an outstanding social success by acquiring a wonderful ballroom and a marvelous orchestra for the football rooters.

Club Easily Accessible

After a great deal of deliberation and correspondence with the various hotel managers, the committee decided upon the Newark Athletic Club. It is in the heart of Newark and is easily accessible as all means

Continued on Page Seven

PLANS FORMULATED IN PREPARING FOR ANNUAL PEP RALLY

Those Prominent in Athletic World Are Expected To Attend Event

FINAL ARRANGEMENT SET FOR BIG DEMONSTRATION

Bonfire Will Be Set Off After Speeches in Commerce Auditorium

Following the precedent set in former years, the Student Council is formulating a gigantic pep rally to take place on the eve of the Temple grid battle.

With the intention of setting an example for future committees, council has issued invitations to prominent men in the athletic world, and have also included other well-known personages. However, the names of the latter are being closely guarded by the members of the inner sanctum.

First One Effective

Once before, during the current football year, a rally was held, that taking place before the Homecoming Day of the Alumni, on which day the Wildcats battled with the highly touted Detroit eleven. The success of this affair was clearly seen as the 'Cats held the Titans to a commendable scoreless stalemate.

Acting in place of James A. Walsh, gridiron star and president of the Student Council, will be Walter E. Alessandroni, Senior class leader, who will act as master of ceremonies.

For the first time since the Temple-Villanova rivalry was inaugurated there was probably no other year in which Harry Stuhldreher's minions have been so completely the underdog as the present season.

List Speakers

It is with this idea in mind that council intends to stage one of the mo successful rallies in the history of Villanova. Such speakers as Head Coach Harry Stuhldreher, Line Coach Bob Reagan, Frosh Coach George "Doc" Jacoba, and Harvey Harman, Penn tutor, have been asked to address the assembled throng. "Reds" Bradley will, of course, be included among the talked for the night. Bradley, it may be mentioned, holds the record for successful speeches, for he has never orated on the eve of a battle that Villanova has lost.

Several prominent reporters are in line for the night, among them being Eddie Walsh, Stan Baumgart-

Continued on Page Seven

Arts Students Hear Local Educator Discuss Teaching System of Today

An interesting and timely discourse on educational systems, old and new, was presented to the students of the School of Arts, in the weekly seminar of that school last Thursday by Wilmer J. Groff, principal of the nearby Berwyn school. Because of his many years of experience as teacher, principal, and supervisor of public schools, Mr. Groff was well qualified to speak on the subject of educational systems.

Taught at 17

Mr. Groff began his teaching career at the early age of 17, when he taught in a local country school of one room. Since then his rise and success as a teacher have been steady. Later he attended West Chester Normal School and then the University of Pennsylvania, where he received his bachelor's degree.

In his opening remarks, Mr. Groff pointed out the pleasures obtained from teaching school. "If you are interested in the work," he said, "you can't give it up." He then contrasted the educational system of the present-day with that of a generation ago. The modern teacher is better qualified to teach than his predecessor, he believes.

Thirty years ago no preparation beyond a normal school education was required of the teacher. Aspiring instructors who passed an examination were given a teacher's certificate with which they were allowed to practice their profession. Today, the prospective teacher is required to take a certain number of required courses in the field of education before he is allowed to teach.

The speaker explained how poor facilities hampered education in the old country school. The rural in-

Continued on Page Four

Notice

For next week only, the VILLANOVAN will NOT be issued to members of the student body on Tuesday. A special pre-Temple game edition will be distributed Friday, November 23, in order to assist the Student Council in preparing for the greatest pep rally in the history of the college. Newspapers containing pictures and lineups of both teams will be distributed to all attending the celebration. The paper will resume regular publication starting Tuesday, November 27.

Success Marks First Cabaret Night; Pie Shoppe Re-echoes 'Clog' Steps

By LOUIS MARECHAL

The long awaited and deeply mystifying "Cabaret Nite" has finally come and gone. The Broadway talent and the local Al Jolsons, Eddie Cantors and Joe Penners were presented in Father Brown's best and only "Great White Way Revue."

It all began with the Pie Shoppe jammed with a capacity crowd and several hanging on the rafters. One of the country's best known and most popular dance bands started the proceedings. Glen Gray and His Casa Loma Orchestra set the hundreds of feet tapping immediately after somebody dropped a nickel in the electric orthophonic.

The first to arouse the applauding tendencies of the assembled thousands was John Bresnahan giving his version of a story similar to the three trees which are "there, there and there," except that three lovely ladies were substituted, "one thin, one fat and one—well—you know." The musical accompaniment for each was supplied by Walt Szewczk on a violin, Frank Bowen on his sax and Ray Gomes on the clarinet.

Al Fitzpatrick followed with "Abdul The Bulbul Ameer," "Violets," and a really terrific rendition of "Heat Wave." This made the perspiring onlookers shed their coats and practically rock Mendel Hall.

Art Noble and Lou DeAngelo waxed "Valleeie" with several popular songs that held their popularity with the audience even after they were finished. Iggy La Rosa went to town on "The Darktown Strutters Ball" and "St. Louis Blues." Any members of Darktown would have paled had they been present.

A clever rendition of "Radio

Continued on Page Four

VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELI, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
JOHN C. DiJOSEPH, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35 ..... Art and Photographic Editor

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35
Edmond C. Malhame, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Gozgi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — Walter K. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marcouse, '35 — Anthony Castrabonne, '36
Harold J. Keating, '35 — William J. Allen, '35
Norton C. Paden, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurinonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Differ, '37
George Fanning, '37 — Louis D'Angelo, '35
Harvey Davis, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Richard Kelly, '38 — John Scalera, '34
Basil W. Dobrowolski, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN

Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - NOVEMBER 13, 1934

THE UNDERDOG IS OUT TO UPSET THE WISEACRES' DOPE

TEN short days will bring us to the eve of that traditional game with Temple University. Although this will be only the seventh meeting between the Wildcats and the Owls, the series has attracted wide-spread interest, and the games draw capacity crowds. It has been customary in the past to hold a rally here at the college the night before this fracas with our Philadelphia rivals. The Student Council is very commendably planning to continue the custom. This year the rally should be the greatest ever held at Villanova, and Council should try to set a mark at which all future student governing bodies can aim. More than ever before a mammoth affair is necessary. Temple's team has compiled a marvelous record to date, while Villanova's Wildcats, because of injuries and various other troubles, have not exactly had a season that can be boasted about. The 'Cats have usually gone into the Owl battle as the underdogs and this time they will be conceded barely a fighting chance to win. Temple's footballers will not only be out to avenge the crushing defeat dealt them last year by Villanova, but will also desire to keep their record clean. The Student Council must do its utmost to secure prominent speakers for the rally, and with the aid of the Vigilance Committee in charge of the Freshman Class, the materials for a huge bonfire must be collected.

In order to assist in arousing interest for the affair, the VILLANOVAN will postpone its regular issue of next Tuesday and will bring out a special issue on the day before the game. This edition will contain pictures and lineups of both teams, in addition to special feature stories and articles on the contest.

It is the duty of every student to be present at this rally, for only whole-hearted interest and cooperation will accomplish the purpose for which it is being held—to beat Temple.

BABE STEPS IN

FOR months the State Department has been trying with all the means at its command to stem the rising tide of Japanese hostility. The American Embassy in Tokio, under the leadership of Ambassador Joseph Clark Grew has been peppering the Foreign Office of that nation with formal notes and informal memoranda in regard to Manchukuo, oil and naval power. All this to no avail. Japanese antagonism toward this country continues. Under the leadership of their military and naval leaders, the United States is represented as an ogre determined to crush the Japanese at the earliest opportunity. So great is the oratorical ability of these men that they have inflamed the feelings of their fellow citizens to fever pitch against everything American, that is, everything but baseball, and Babe Ruth. Last week in Tokyo, 100,000 fans lustily cheered the Babe and the rest of the traveling Major League baseball players. The Ginza, Tokyo's famous thoroughfare, looked like any main street in this country on July 4, with its display of Stars and Stripes. The enthusiasm of Japan's greeting to our players, and more especially to the Bambino, can be better attested by the crowds which have attended all their games. It is too much to hope that Babe will change the attitude of the Japanese to this country, but we believe that he will aid greatly in bringing about a cessation of their hysteria, and effect a calmer frame of mind in which topics of such world-wide importance may be more wisely considered.

A VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

IN ONE of the most successful off-year elections ever held in the United States, President Roosevelt and his New Deal swept the country at the polls last Tuesday, and for the first time in our history, the President of our Nation strengthened his control of Congress. In off-year elections, the control of the party in power is usually weakened, but the approbation given Roosevelt in the Democratic upset last week, marked him as one of the most successful leaders in recent years. Stepping into office while the country was in the throes of depression, Roosevelt, armed with more powers than any preceding President, has waged a remarkable battle amid the ruin and chaos willed to him by his predecessors. Difficult and drawn out, the fight is slowly being won by the man who was accorded the most inspiring vote of confidence at last Tuesday's elections. Rock-ribbed, Republican Pennsylvania was swept into the hands of the New Dealers. The stronghold of the G. O. P. party, the Keystone State felt the effect of Roosevelt's magnetic personality and startled the most optimistic Democrats. "A chicken in every pot," "rugged individualism," "two cars in every garage," and "prosperity is just around the corner," have been supplanted by "As Right as Roosevelt."

GIVE TILL IT HURTS

AS OFTEN as we have heard this phrase, we do not believe it has ever possessed so poignant a meaning as it does today. With all the hundreds of thousands of people on relief rolls in our various large cities, it is only by such an organization as the Welfare Federation that these people may receive the bare necessities of life, when the municipal agencies have fallen far short of their goal of aiding the needy. With the blase, or sophisticated element, disbelieving the testimony of the various organizations of relief, it is our opinion that only such an organization with so great an experience record can do what is necessary. Even though money and labor should happen to be wasted, this fact should not stand in the way of those who are in a position to donate money, services, or supplies to the Federation. To quote the governmental agencies of national industrial recovery—"We do our part." To practice charity toward our neighbor is one of the greatest manifestations of the true American spirit. Your neighbor may need aid — GIVE TILL IT HURTS.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

DROLL ambiguities of tongue and pen have amused before. Few have been so convlusing as one neat unassuming notice seen on the Science Bulletin Board last week. The sign read: Seniors will find their bones in the Anatomy Lab.

What ears, here on the campus in particular, have not been filled to overflow with such statements as: "The coach must be plenty disgusted with his players," or "I bet Stuhlie could strangle so and so for his boners in Saturday's game"? If there are any such ears that have not been accordingly filled, we may blame it to the gods of chance; not to a lack of loose tongue clairvoyants. In the hopes of discouraging future mind-reading of this type, a true picture of the situation is attempted. Mr. Stuhldreher is not disgusted with, or harboring thoughts tantamount to an infraction of the Fifth Commandment as regards the fogthall team. This isn't being psychic. There are his own words at a team meeting which paraphraseed, aver: "This is the gamest team I have ever seen. One that refuses to quit in the face of persistent hard luck. It is to be praised." After this, who will deny that the faults of commission are greater than those of omission?

Jack "Robbie" Robinson and Harry "Burrhead" McNally have gained for themselves, by their wizardry at cards, particularly contract, new nicknames. The new monikers which apply and should stick are respectively "Rothstein" and "Back to Back Schultz."

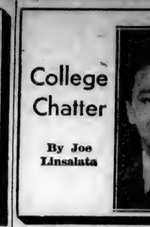
What would be the Greek's without its gigolos? What would be Rubinoff without his violin, or vice versa? What would be Bing Crosby without the mole in this throat? Perhaps the questions are too hard. Then, here's an easy one. What would be Chez Vous without "Red Eck"—oft-referred to as Lord John Eck? You say it wouldn't be the same place! Result of I. Q., 100 per cent.

Loud voices in the hallway raised in argument; the prominent use of the words "Law of Supply and Demand," marked it as one of an economical turn. Louie Daoud's love of argument wrenched him from the monumental task of shaving to be placed in the thick of the discussion. With a well-lathered face and razor in hand he dominated the situation. Too late to get in on the argument was Paul Loughlin who, rushing up, asked the last straggler, Louie, "What about the Law of Supply and Deman?" Louie without so much as a turn of the head returned to the unfinished task of shaving with the curt reply: "Nothing excepting I just repealed it!"

Three local "fantastic trippers" are set to strut their stuff up at the Mount on Friday night. The only drawback is the fact that two tuxs are ripped and one was caught in the rain. To make matters worse, the "dress-up suits" are at a premium.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata



THERE HAS always been a great deal of uncomfortable confusion during registration in regard to sleeping quarters for the upper classmen, as an excerpt from the DePaul University weekly newspaper relates. A male student at the University of Minnesota found his name a constant source of confusion to the faculty. He name was Marion. The limit was reached when he received a letter from the dean of women inquiring about his rooming situation, she of course thinking than he was a woman. He answered in these words: "Dear Deanie: I am rooming over in the men's dorm, and the boys are just darling. (Signed) Marion."

• • •

Italian students seem to take championship awards as mere tokens of achievement without any material value in so far as utility is concerned. At Syracuse, in a wild period of barter, one of them traded a large silver medal for the cross-country championship of his nativ land for one Frosh cap. With the price of silver at such a high price it seems that this advocate of Fascism did not study finance. Maybe he received a psychic income!

• • •

While on the subject of peculiar names may we mention that A. Frosch is a member of the Freshman class at Temple University?

• • •

Why soap manufacturers are faced with dire problems: The directors of Oxford University once voted not to install baths because the students who occupied the dormitories attended college only eight months in a year. Towel supply companies were also affected. What happened to the plumbers that year?

• • •

Will parents please pay special attention to this! ! ! The La Salle Collegian reports that American parents pay $19,000,000 a week to send their offspring to college. One billion, five hundred and fifteen million represents the amount spent in c[illegible] by parents. This does not include the amount of money spent by the Government to educate its future citizens. Education is an expensive necessity which is realized only by the minority.

• • •

Collegians at the University of California have resorted to kidnapping in an effort to be assured that the particular party they are supporting during the student election will be elected. In an effort to prevent such political tactics, the students who are running for offices are heavily guarded by police to protect them from being kidnapped by opposing forces.

• • •

Our weekly jest from another place: Fresh Soph—Why are three-fourths of the typists in business offices women? Timid Soul Frosh—I guess it's because men like to feel that there is at least one class of women to whom they can dictate.

• • •

"And what," asked a professor of economics, "is a vicious circle?" "A bull session," came the reply from the back of the room.

Campus Celebs - - - - By Cailliet

As We See It . . . Virtue Outmoded

By HARRY PARKIN

IT HAS BECOME the fashion, in recent year, among certain effete intellectuals, who take considerable pride in consiging themselves as the advocates of free thought in the country, to scoff at those virtues which mankind has always held as being most conducive to his spiritual and physical well being. They inform us, with a certain air of lordliness, that honesty, chastity, truthfulness, and, in fact, all the virtues which man has come to esteem, are only so many high-sounding but empty phrases, that a few unscrupuplous men have forced upon society in order that it may be a more tractable prey to their schemes. Men are hypocrites, they continue, who are constantly prating of the need for righteousness, but rarely, if ever, practice it. In fact, man can find no words too strong to recommend to his fellowmen, that which he never does himself. With these and a hundred other catch phrases which have been coined with an eye more toward plausibility than truthfulness, they condemn us for the stupidity that prevents us from realizing the monstrous trickle that is being played upon us.

So long as man is composed of a physical as well as spirtual element, we can expect a constant warfare between the two. And the depth to which the one will degrade him will only be proportional to the height to which the other will exalt him. It is certain, for example, that no one makes such good resolutions as the sinner in his moments of repentance, or can be more impressed by the horrors of his situation—should this disposition become, instead of a transient sorrow, a fixed purpose to reform, there will be no one so capable of appreciating the beauties of a life of virtue as he, who has known the vicissitudes of vice.

It is not unusual to find a person, who is a sound believer and lover of virtue, practicing the contrary, but his failure to practice what he knows to be right is hardly sufficient evidence for us to assume that his convictions are an imposture because he fails to pattern his life after them. In fact, we should prefer such an individual to one who makes no pretentions to virtue, but who outwardly recommends and practices the opposite, for the former has at least an appreciation of virtue, while the latter has neither a conception of nor capacity for understanding it.

It is as difficult to be aware of the benefits to be derived from a life of virtue, without sooner or later becoming imbued with the desire to attain them, as it is for an indecent man to associate with respectable ones, without being influenced to change his own.

These people may rail against honesty, chastity, and truthfulness as long as they wish, but the actions which these virtues typify have been the guide to humanity's conduct for so long that they are now proof against the maledictions of the world. While the faith that generations of men have had in their ultimate value is enough to recommend them to the most skeptical of mankind. But I am inclined to believe that all of this raillery is done more for the purpose of convincing their own doubtful minds than it is to deliberately recommend evil.

GLEE CLUB REORGANIZES

Villanova's Glee Club is in the process of reorganization. Yesterday the initial tryouts of candidates was held in the gymnasium. Paul D. Teel, director of the band, will be in charge of the club, and Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., is moderator. Inasmuch as at least 40 members are required for a first-class organization, all candidates are urged to hand their names to Fr. Brown immediately, as many more are needed.

Fashion Notes By Villanova Finest

PLAIDS REPLACE? CAMEL HAIR

Styles may come, and styles may go . . . but the fashion set with the coming of the camel hair polo coat still seems to be with us. At least fashion experts in the style centers of the east have not forsaken the polo coat design in the Fall's offerings of top-coats.

They have placed the camel hair cloth in the background, and are now putting into competition with it smart overplaid and checked fabrics that have the texture, softness and comfort of camel's hair and yet inject a new and effective freshness which has already been received with increased favor among collegians.

PAGE MR. FIELDS

The one-piece cap, despite the fact that it may look like something that is designed for a W. C. Fields golf act, has "caught" with the well-dressed collegians—that is, for campus and aports wear. It has that certain rakishness that appeals to many, and its comfort and convenience add greatly to its appeal.

This new head-piece (we've christened it "Field-piece") is seen about so many of the campuses that if you haven't adopted it yet you better rush out and pick one up immediately. Laying all of the descriptive phrases aside — you should get this one.

IT STILL SNAPS

Following the natural greyish, green, tan coloring of covert, and modeled in a tapered crown that is worn without dents, this new model hat features the more or less conventional snap brim. Goes nicely with covert top coat.

Penned Thoughts

By Ben Maloney

EXCELSIOR

TACT — Intuitive appreciation of what is fit,
HUMOR—Disposition of mind often called wit;
FAITH — Firm belief and implicit trust,
HONOR — Feelings upholding that which is just.
COURAGE—Intrepid spirit, signs of mental strength,
PERSEVERANCE — Will undaunted through trials of great length;
CHARACTER — Presenting the highest and noblest of qualities.
MORALS — Conduct superb when above frivolities.
These are the virtues for which we should strive,
To be master of all while we are alive;
And thus set an example so that after we're dead,
The world will pursue the life that we lead.

VILLANOVAN MEETING

All members of the VILLANOVAN staff are earnestly requested to present themselves at a meeting to be held in Room 119, Mendel Hall, opposite the book store, at 1:00 P. M., Friday.

DIAL-LOG

By WALTER E. ALESSANDRONI

SONGS WRITTEN and arranged by Ray Noble will be included by Paramount in "The Big Broadcast of 1935." Noble writes both words and music for his songs and ib probably the only lyric writer in the world who is a graduate of Cambridge University.

The Decca Corporation scores again...they have secured the services of Annette Hanshaw to join the list of stars who will make recordings for them. We hear many comments about the high salaries that many radio artists command. Annette is one of these stars, but before we criticize her employers for paying such a large salary let us take a look at just two of her expenditures. She spends $165 a week for song arrangements and now that she must appear before an audience in her broadcasts she must purchase two new evening gowns a week.

Claude Hopkins, who is back at Rossland after a record-breaking dance tour which kept him off the network all Summer, is now heard over WABC-CBS Mondays at 12:30 A. M., and on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturdays at 1 A. M.

The name of Gordan Jenkins does not stand out amongst the radio stars of fame but nevertheless he is a very important figure. He is the singing coach and arranger for Bob Crosby and makes orchestra arrangements for Isham Jones and Rudy Vallee. He formerly coached and arranged for Mildred Bailey.

Suave Adolphe Menjou and Verree Teasdale, Hollywood's latest famous bride and groom, will enter the Hinds' Hall of Fame to co-star in a one-act drama over an NBC-WEAF network on Sunday, November 18, at 10 P. M.

Menjou and his wife wil face the microphone in a radio adaptation of Michael Arlen's short story, "Salute the Cavalier." Jimmie Grier and His Orchestra will supply the musical interludes.

Filling a want often expressed by dancers to radio music, the three-hour "Let's Dance" porgram will furnish the home dancing parties with a full evening's dance music without a turn of the dials.

Three orchestras will play favorite rhythms of dancers in the East, Middlewest, South, and Pacific Coast so that each section of the country from New York to Hollywood will find music to its liking. This program will come over the NBC-WEAF network on Saturday evenings. East of the Rockies the program will be broadcast from 10:30 P. M. until 1:30 A. M.

There is a 15th musician in the Casa Loma Orchestra now, Art Ralston, who was formerly with Henry Busse. He is the fifth member in the saxophone section, but will specialize on the oboe and bassoon. Glen Gray, who also swings a mean bassoon, opines that it is not the vibration which drives the average oboe or bassoon player crazy, but the never-ending suspense after he blows in each note, wondering what's going to come out of the other end.

... in a common-sense package—10c

In the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.

The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers.

... it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma
... it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe — burn slower and smoke cooler
... it makes the tobacco milder
... it leaves a clean dry ash — no soggy residue or heel in the pipe bowl

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

CONCERT FOR YOUTH PRESENTS RECITAL

Academy of Music to Be Scene Of Second Musicale In Orchestral Series

The second Concert for Youth, November 14, by the Philadelphia Orchestra, will present a varied program of classical music, interpretive dancing, and songs by the audience.

Tickets Reasonable

As usual the occasion will take place in the Academy of Music at 8 P. M., under the direction of Leopold Stokowski, the famous conductor. The age limit for attendance at these recitals is from 13 to 25. The tickets range from 25 cents to $1.

The program will include a world premiere, a symphony by William L. Dawson, of Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala. In addition will be heard Borodin's overture to "Prince Igor," Debussy's "Danse Sacre and Danse Profane," Tschaikowsky's "Overture of 1812," and the "Bolero," by Ravel. The songs to be sung by the audience are Schubert's "Serenade," and "Glory to Isis," from "Aida."

Another feature, new to youth concerts, will be a group of folk dances to be done in native costume. These will be representative of Bavaria, Poland, and Ukrainia. The third group mentioned are descendants of the original Cossacks.

Students wishing to attend are urged to purchase their tickets as soon as possible as there is a great demand for them. They are on sale at Presser's Music Store in Philadelphia.

Science Men Hear Dr. Thomas F. Shea

Continued From Page One

Jefferson who measured the intestines of several carcasses of both male and female type, and found out that on the average, female intestines are about three inches longer than those of the males. Then he also computed that a male's brain is larger than the female's—that is, on the average. So I came to the conclusion that woman has more guts than brains."

Age Destroys Mentality

The Doctor then continued with his lecture. He told the pre-medical students that the parietal lobe is the great perception organ of the brain. It receives such sensations as heat, cold and touch. He made his point clearer by showing the students where this section of the brain was located by drawing it on the blackboard and then pointing it out on a human brain which he had taken with him from Jefferson. Continuing along this line he discussed the various sensations that are characteristic of the brain.

Age Affects Brain

He went on to say that, "Age destroys mentality and brain intelligence. I once knew a doctor who was one of the greatest surgeons that ever lived. He died at the age of 95. After his death, I removed his brain and surely enough the brain had disintegrated somewhat, as a result of age. Now just one more thing before I close. The neuro-vascular blood supply regulates in some degree the intelligence of a person. This is very important, for if all the poisons were removed from the system and a good blood supply insured, the intelligence of that person would be improved."

In concluding his lecture on neuro-anatomy, Dr. Shea urged the students to go to Jefferson, and assured them that an excellent study in not only his own course but in all the others would be obtained.

Educator Speaks To Arts Students

Continued From Page One

stitution usually consisted of one room in which were held classes for the entire student body. The salary of the country school teacher was very meager, and he considered himself fortunate if he received more than $40 a month. Only in rare cases was a teacher given more than that amount.

Mr. Groff concluded his talk by explaining the duties of a principal, showing how discipline and scholarship were maintained. At the conclusion of his talk he answered questions put to him by his audience.

BELLE AIR PHOTOGRAPHY TO BEGIN NOVEMBER 26

Return of Senior Personal Writeups Expected as Soon As Possible

All Senior write-up blanks which were distributed for the purpose of procuring the necessary data for the Senior "Personals" must be in the editorial offices of the Belle Air as soon as possible. They were originally due on or before November 15, but at the present time circumstances demand that they be handed in immediately.

Photography work on the publication is to be started this month, according to an announcement issued by Francis P. Bigley, photography editor. November 26 has been tentatively set as the date when the Seniors and faculty members of the Arts and Pre-Medical Schools will be photographed. Dates for the photography of the Seniors and faculty members of the Engineering and Business Schools will be announced later.

FROSH TO START

The first call for Frosh basketballers has been issued. All interested should report to the gymnasium today.

ENGINEER SOCIETY PLANS FOR TRIPS

Extensive Program Includes Several Large Plants In Phila. District

An extensive program of trips was started Friday, November 2, by the Villanova chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. The company of C. Shmidt & Sons was the first place visited by the group. The trip was very well conducted and the members were given permission to visit all parts of the plant.

Expect Big Year

After such a splendid start, the chapter, which has an enrollment of about 40 members, is anticipating the most successful years in its history. Many trips have been planned for the future. Among this list are the Keystone Cement Company, the Brill Car Company, and the Edward G. Budd Company. These three names serve as an example of the type of trips that are being secured through the efforts of the committee.

Another activity planned by the chapter is one in the way of talks to be given by men of the engineering world on topics pertaining to present-day methods and practices.

This year the various engineering organizations of the campus have inaugurated a system of cooperation which should prove very beneficial to all of them. It consists of entertainment in the way of slides and moving pictures, to be given on successive Mondays, at which all are invited to attend.

First Cabaret Nite Proves Successful

Continued From Page One

Static" was supplied behind a screen by Joe Toland, Johnny Pillion, Emil Mathias, Johnny Simons, and Frank Durkin.

As they spun the dials, Doctor I. Backem, Prof. J. B. Butternose, Jean De Gestion, Mam Gracknames and Bull Stone were heard "coming over the various wave lengths" discussing the "horrible treatment" of the Frosh (now extinct). Since last Saturday afternoon they have been Freshmen.

The police of several of the surrounding townships were on hand to see that the performers were not required to answer too many encores, according to the child labor laws, and the evening came to an enjoyable ending with refreshments.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Belle Air Staff Meeting, 51 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

Belle Masque Meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8:00 P. M.

THURSDAY

Band Practice, Alumni Hall ..... 4:00 and 7:00 P. M.

FRIDAY

VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting, 119 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Swimming Team Meeting, Natatorium, Gymnasium ..... 7:00 P. M.

SATURDAY

Band Special Leaves for Manhattan Game, Alumni Hall .. 8:00 A. M.
Rooters' Special Leaves for Manhattan Game ..... 9:00 A. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 11:40 A. M.
Red Cross Life-Saving Examination, Natatorium, Gym 2:30-6:00 P. M.

ON SALE AT PIE SHOP
Distributor of Products

JOHN MIDDLETON

AFTER

Mammoth Temple Rally and Bonfire

Friday Night
November 23

Phi Kappa Pi Presents The Owl Hop

Music by Villanovans

Tax $1.50

Rally 8.00 P. M. C & F Auditorium

Bonfire 9.30 P. M. Parking Lot

Dance 10P.M.--2A.M. Gymnasium

South Carolina Eleven Downed by 20-0 Score

VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK BOWLING

Tuesday, November 13, 1934 Page Five

FELINES SEEK WIN SATURDAY

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

THE LIST OF critics of our proposed football league is rapidly on the increase. The latest to add his voice is our ole friend and colleague, Herby Good, sports editor of the Main Line Daily Times.

"We're for that idea 100 per cent. We've hinted that we'd like to see Villanova in a league for some time. In fact, we're almost convinced that it is the only thing which will place the local college in its desired position in collegiate ranks.

"We believe a league would provide a stimulant in interest among the fans here and give the players an added incentive which they now lack.

* * *

"It's a known fact that players will put more into a game if they know a certain position or championship is at stake. And they get more enjoyment out of playing league games than just a schedule of games that have little or no importance attached to them.

* * *

"There often has been talk of a league such as Mr. Marechal suggests, but nothing has ever been done about it. What we need now is not someone to go around talking and saying it's a great idea, but someone who will ACT, who will take the initiative and attempt to bring it about.

"How about it?"

The paragraph above in bold fype brings out the primary reason for the formation of the conference. We have had a lot of comment, some favorable and some not so favorable. All is interesting to read and, without a doubt, the idea has some good and some bad points. Of course, we think the good far outshines the bad. Next week we will attempt to get a statement from our own director of athletics or coach.

* * *

ONE OF THE most humorous and yet surprising careers of any prominent American has been that of Huey Long. Through his unreasonable political maneuvers he has been able to keep himself on the front page of the papers throughout the country, but last week we noticed that Huey is also coming in for his share of column inches on the sports pages.

The latest pet that has come under his wing is the football eleven representing Louisiana State University. Several weeks ago, the Kingfish loaned the necessary cash to any one who wanted it in order that the Louisiana followers could journey with the team to see the Vanderbilt game.

* * *

Now Huey is tired of hearing the critics discuss which is the better football team, Alabama or Minnesota. The "silly Senator" is positive the Louisiana Tigers are the cream of the crop.

"To prove it," Huey says, "we'll play each at any place they pick the same week. We will play 'em both the same day, or even better than that we'll play each of them at the same time.

* * *

"We'll even go further than that. We will let them pick any eleven of the L. S. U. squad and we will play them with those left, provided they will leave us with four backs."

Maybe Villanova could use such a rooter whose remarks about the team would be publicized as much as Huey's.

* * *

A BIT OF disappointment to the well wishers of the junior varsity football team is the attitude that the players have recently taken, according to a statement issued by Coach Skaff. Frank is one of the most sincere coaches on the campus and it is regretable that his squad has recently taken an indifferent attitude.

This indifferentism has been the cause of the delaying of the Rutgers game and it is hoped that by taking this drastic step, Coach Skaff will impress on the players that they have not been giving the cooperation and fighting spirit that is necessary for the success of the team.

WETZLER BRILLIANT AS 'CATS REGAIN WINNING STRIDE

Stuhldrehermen Triumphant In Final Home Contest Of Current Season

NICK KOTYS SCORES TWO ON RIGHT END SWEEPS

Line Shows Great Strength With Nowe and Michaels In Leading Roles

After six weeks of disheartening football in which time they were defeated thrice and held to scoreless ties in two encounters, the Villanova Wildcats finally showed their claws again and figuratively tore the feathers off the South Carolina Gamecocks last Saturday at the Main Line stadium. When the final whistle blew, ending the fray, it was a sadly battered band of Southern huskies that tropped off the field on the short end of a 20-0 score.

Clicking to perfection in both defense and offense tactics the 'Cats consistently held the whiphand throughout the tussle and they outgeneraled and outrushed their heavier opponents who were not able to tote the leather past the midfield stripe. It was only on two occasions that the visitors had possession of the ball in Villanova territory and both these instances followed hurgled punts. However, once within their own part of the playing field the 'Cats' defense became still more rigid and the scoring ef-

Continued on Page Six

STATISTICS OF THE GAME

	Villanova	S. C.
First downs	14	6
Yards gained rushing	176	148
Forward passes, tried	8	14
Forward passes, completed	2	4
Yards gained, forwards	23	34
Forwards intercepted	3	0
Lateral passes	2	0
Laterals completed	2	0
Yards gained, laterals	26	0
Number of punts	8	10
Average distance of punts (yards)	31	32
Runback of punts (yards)	49	12
Fumbles	5	3
Own fumbles recovered	4	2
Penalties	1	1
Yard lost (penalties)	5	5

SKAFF POSTPONES TILT WITH RUTGERS

Game Scheduled for Nov. 9 Moved Up to Nov. 23; Squad Lacks Interest

A postponement of the Junior Varsity game with Rutgers, which was to have taken place last Friday, November 9, at Rutgers, has been officially announced by Coach Frank Skaff.

The reason for this postponement as given by the coach is lack of cooperation on the part of some of the players in attending practice and lack of enthusiasm on the part of the team as a whole.

Coach Skaff stated that "I am not entirely satisfied in the manner and attitude of the boys on the J. V. squad. For this season I deemed it necessary to postpone the Rutgers game of November 9 to November 23. Unless the boys take the right attitude and show more spirit I do not doubt that we will close our season without a victory."

To date the squad has not had what might be termed a successful season by any means. Last week the Junior 'Cats went down before the Scranton-Keystone Junior College to the tune of 15 to 0.

Tense Action as Wildcats Regain Winning Streak

Picture shows mad scramble that followed a fumble by Harry Patzsch during the first half. The ball was recovered by a Villanova player and the Wildcats continued on their march for a touchdown. The Wildcats came out of their losing slump and conquered the Southerners by a 20 to 0 score.

Manhattan Team Primed To Avenge 1933 Defeat

Return of Carrol Cook and Harry Patzsch Expected to Put Stuhldrehermen at Top Of Power for Game in Brooklyn

GALLAGHER STAR ON JASPER ELEVEN

By NORTON PADEN

ON SATURDAY next, Nov. 17, the Villanova Wildcats will journey to Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N. Y., to again do battle with Manhattan.

The return of Harry Patzsch and Carrol Cook to the 'Cat's backfield will brighten the prospects of the game immeasurably. The loss of these two players due to injuries weakened the team in the last two clashes.

TEMPLE VICTORS OVER CARNEGIE

Future Foes' Showing Last Saturday Bodes Ill For 'Cats

The Manhattan Jaspers served notice that they are primed for the Villanova game by holding the highly rated and greatly favored Holy Cross eleven to a 12 to 6 score. Trailing by 12 to 0 in the last period, they finally scored when Lyons, right end, blocked a punt and fell on the ball in the end zone.

Temple continued its winning ways by brushing aside Carnegie Tech by the one-sided score of 34 to 6. Led by Horace Mowrey and Dave Smuckler, brilliant Soph backs, their brushing offensive drives made the game a runaway. Temple showed itself to be one of the most powerful teams in the East and served threatening notice of her power to her future foes.

'Cats Won in 1933

Last year's game with the Jaspers resulted in a win for Villanova with the final score standing 47 to 0. It is hoped that this win will be repeated though this result is doubtful due to the strong team that Manhattan has this season.

Manhattan broke its losing streak on November 3 when it defeated the City College of New York by the score of 21 to 0. Previous to this game they had lost three consecutive game to Georgtown, Michigan State, and Catholic University.

Jaspers Triumph

To offset these defeats the Jaspers won from St. Bonaventure, 6 to 0, defeated Clarkson Tech to the tune of 19 to 7, and draw with Kansas State, 13-all.

Manhattan's coach, Chick Meehan, is hopeful for the outcome of this game with the 'Cats and is looking forward to ending the season successfully with a win over Villanova.

Whalen, the Jasper's left halfback, will bear watching during next Saturday's game. During the C. C. N. Y.-Manhattan game he intercepted a pass on his own line and ran the length of the field through the entire opposing team to account for one of the touchdowns.

Locals Falter

Due to many unhappy circumstances, the 'Cats have not clicked as well as they did last season, losing to La Salle, Bucknell, and Boston College. Along with these unhappy events Villanova tied Western Maryland, and a strong Detroit eleven, who were favored to win. A decisive win in the first game with Ursinus brings the record up to date.

The tie with Detroit has pepped up the hopes of the Villanova rooters for they found out what the team could do when really hard pressed. In the same manner Manhattan held a stronger team from Kansas to a 13 to 13 game, thus surprising the most optimistic Jasper rooters.

Gallagher Outstanding

Gallagher, a 200-pound triple-threat backfield man, will probably keep Stuhldreher's boys very busy on the 17th, and Le will undoubtedly knock the breath out of more than one lineman.

With its present record, Villanova is pointing towards Manhattan believing that the defeat of this team will aid the 'Cats to regain in some measure their standing in the sport circles of the East.

CALL FOR BOXERS

The first call for boxing candidates has been issued. All interested should report to Coach Joe Fogley, at the gymnasium, after 2:30 P. M

CONCERT FOR YOUTH PRESENTS RECITAL

Academy of Music to Be Scene Of Second Musicale In Orchestral Series

The second Concert for Youth, November 14, by the Philadelphia Orchestra, will present a varied program of classical music, interpretive dancing, and songs by the audience.

Tickets Reasonable

As usual the occasion will take place in the Academy of Music at 8 P. M., under the direction of Leopold Stokowski, the famous conductor. The age limit for attendance at these recitals is from 13 to 25. The tickets range from 25 cents to $1.

The program will include a world premiere, a symphony by William L. Dawson, of Tuskegee Institute, Tuskegee, Ala. In addition will be heard Borodin's overture to "Prince Igor," Debussy's "Danse Sacre and Danse Profane," Tschaikowsky's "Overture of 1812" and the "Bolero," by Ravel. The songs to be sung by the audience are Schubert's "Serenade," and "Glory to Isis," from "Aida."

Another feature, new to youth concerts, will be a group of folk dances to be done in native costume. These will be representative of Bavaria, Poland, and Ukrainia. The third group mentioned are descendents of the original Cossacks.

Students wishing to attend are urged to purchase their tickets as soon as possible as there is a great demand for them. They are on sale at Presser's Music Store in Philadelphia.

BELLE AIR PHOTOGRAPHY TO BEGIN NOVEMBER 26

Return of Senior Personal Writeups Expected as Soon As Possible

All Senior write-up blanks which were distributed for the purpose of procuring the necessary data for the Senior "Personals" must be in the editorial offices of the Belle Air as soon as possible. They were originally due on or before November 15, but at the present time circumstances demand that they be handed in immediately.

Photography work on the publication is to be started this month, according to an announcement issued by Francis P. Bigley, photography editor. November 26 has been tentatively set as the date when the Seniors and faculty members of the Arts and Pre-Medical Schools will be photographed. Dates for the photography of the Seniors and faculty members of the Engineering and Business Schools will be announced later.

FROSH TO START

The first call fo. Frosh basketballers has been issued. All interested should report to the gymnasium today.

ENGINEER SOCIETY PLANS FOR TRIPS

Extensive Program Includes Several Large Plants In Phila. District

An extensive program of trips was started Friday, November 2, by the Villanova chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers. The company of C. Shmidt & Sons was the first place visited by the group. The trip was very well conducted and the members were given permission to visit all parts of the plant.

Expect Big Year

After such a splendid start, the chapter, which has an enrolment of about 40 members, is anticipating the most successful years in its history. Many trips have been planned for the future. Among this list are the Keystone Cement Company, the Brill Car Company, and the Edward G. Budd Company. These three names serve as an example of the type of trips that are being secured through the efforts of the committee.

Another activity planned by the chapter is one in the way of talks to be given by men of the engineering world on topics pertaining to present-day methods and practices.

This year the various engineering organizations of the campus have inaugurated a system of cooperation which should prove very beneficial to all of them. It consists of entertainment in the way of slides and moving pictures, to be given on successive Mondays, at which all are invited to attend.

First Cabaret Nite Proves Successful

Continued From Page One

Static" was supplied behind a screen by Joe Toland, Johnny Pillion, Emil Mathias, Johnny Simons, and Frank Durkin.

As they spun the dials, Doctor I. Backem, Prof. J. B. Butternose, Jean De Gestion, Mam Gracknamee and Bull Stone were heard "coming over the various wave lengths" discussing the "horrible treatment" of the Frosh (now extinct). Since last Saturday afternoon they have been Freshmen.

The police of several of the surrounding townships were on hand to see that the performers were not required to answer too many encores, according to the child labor laws, and the evening came to an enjoyable ending with refreshments.

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Belle Air Staff Meeting, 51 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

Belle Masque Meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8:00 P. M.

THURSDAY

Band Practice, Alumni Hall ..... 4:00 and 7:00 P. M.

FRIDAY

VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting, 119 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Swimming Team Meeting, Natatorium, Gymnasium ..... 7:00 P. M.

SATURDAY

Band Special Leaves for Manhattan Game, Alumni Hall .. 8:00 A. M.
Rooters' Special Leaves for Manhattan Game ..... 9:00 A. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 11:40 A. M.
Red Cross Life-Saving Examination, Natatorium, Gym 2:30-6:00 P. M.

ON SALE AT PIE SHOP
Distributor of Products
JOHN MIDDLETON

Science Men Hear Dr. Thomas F. Shea

Continued From Page One

Jefferson who measured the intestines of several cadavases of both male and female type, and found out that on the average, female intestines are about three inches longer than those of the males. Then he also computed that a male's brain is larger than the female's - that is, on the average. So I came to the conclusion that woman has more guts than brains."

Age Destroys Mentality

The Doctor then continued with his lecture. He told the pre-medical students that the parietal lobe is the great perception organ of the brain. It receives such sensations as heat, cold and touch. He made his point clearer by showing the students where this section of the brain was located by drawing it on the blackboard and then pointing it out on a human brain which he had taken with him from Jefferson. Continuing along this line he discussed the various sensations that are characteristic of the brain.

Age Affects Brain

He went on to say that, "Age destroys mentality and brain intelligence. I once knew a doctor who was one of the greatest surgeons that ever lived. He died at the age of 95. After his death, I removed his brain and surely enough the brain had disintegrated somewhat as a result of age. Now just one more thing before I close. The neuro-vascular blood supply regulates in some degree the intelligence of a person. This is very important, for if all the poisons were removed from the system and a good blood supply insured, the intelligence of that person would be improved."

In concluding his lecture on neuro-anatomy, Dr. Shea urged the students to go to Jefferson, and assured them that an excellent study in not only his own course but in all the others would be obtained.

Educator Speaks To Arts Students

Continued From Page One

stitution usually consisted of one room in which were held classes for the entire student body. The salary of the country school teacher was very meager, and he considered himself fortunate if he received more than $46 a month. Only in rare cases was a teacher given more than that amount.

Mr. Groff concluded his talk by explaining the duties of a principal, showing how discipline and scholarship were maintained. At the conclusion of his talk he answered questions put to him by his audience.

AFTER

Mammoth Temple Rally and Bonfire

Friday Night
November 23

Phi Kappa Pi Presents The Owl Hop

Music by Villanovans

Tax $1.50

Rally 8.00 P. M. C & F Auditorium
Bonfire 9.30 P. M. Parking Lot
Dance 10P.M.--2A.M. Gymnasium

South Carolina Eleven Downed by 20-0 Score

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

THE LIST OF critics of our proposed football league is rapidly on the increase. The latest to add his voice is our ole friend and colleague, Herby Good, sports editor of the Main Line Daily Times.

"We're for that idea 100 per cent. We've hinted that we'd like to see Villanova in a league for some time. In fact, we're almost convinced that it is the only thing which will place the local college in its desired position in collegiate ranks.

"We believe a league would provide a stimulant in interest among the fans here and give the players an added incentive which they now lack.

* * *

"It's a known fact that players will put more into a game if they know a certain position or championship is at stake. And they get more enjoyment out of playing league games than just a schedule of games that have little or no importance attached to them.

* * *

"There often has been talk of a league such as Mr. Marechal suggests, but nothing has ever been done about it. What we need now is not someone to go around talking and saying it's a great idea, but someone who will ACT, who will take the initiative and attempt to bring it about.

"How about it?"

The paragraph above in bold fype brings out the primary reason for the formation of the conference. We have had a lot of comment, some favorable and some not so favorable. All is interesting to read and, without a doubt, the idea has some good and some bad points. Of course, we think the good far outshines the bad. Next week we will attempt to get a statement from our own director of athletics or coach.

* * *

ONE OF THE most humorous and yet surprising careers of any prominent American has been that of Huey Long. Through his unreasonable political maneuvers he has been able to keep himself on the front page of the papers throughout the country, but last week we noticed that Huey is also coming in for his share of column inches on the sports pages.

The latest pet that has come under his wing is the football eleven representing Louisiana State University. Several weeks ago, the Kingfish loaned the necessary cash to any one who wanted it in order that the Louisiana followers could journey with the team to see the Vanderbilt game.

* * *

Now Huey is tired of hearing the critics discuss which is the better football team, Alabama or Minnesota. The "silly Senator" is positive the Louisiana Tigers are the cream of the crop.

"To prove it," Huey says, "we'll play each at any place they pick the same week. We will play 'em both the same day, or even better than that we'll play each of them at the same time.

* * *

"We'll even go further than that. We will let them pick any eleven of the L. S. U. squad and we will play them with those left, provided they will leave us with four backs."

Maybe Villanova could use such a rooter whose remarks about the team would be publicized as much as Huey's.

* * *

A BIT OF disappointment to the well wishers of the junior varsity football team is the attitude that the players have recently taken, according to a statement issued by Coach Skaff. Frank is one of the most sincere coaches on the campus and it is regretable that his squad has recently taken an indifferent attitude.

This indifferentism has been the cause of the delaying of the Rutgers game and it is hoped that by taking this drastic step, Coach Skaff will impress on the players that they have not been giving the cooperation and fighting spirit that is necessary for the success of the team.

FELINES SEEK WIN SATURDAY

WETZLER BRILLIANT AS 'CATS REGAIN WINNING STRIDE

Stuhldrehermen Triumphant In Final Home Contest Of Current Season

NICK KOTYS SCORES TWO ON RIGHT END SWEEPS

Line Shows Great Strength With Nowe and Michaels In Leading Roles

After six weeks of disheartening football in which time they were defeated thrice and held to scoreless ties in two encounters, the Villanova Wildcats finally showed their claws again and figuratively tore the feathers off the South Carolina Gamecocks last Saturday at the Main Line stadium. When the final whistle blew, ending the fray, it was a sadly battered band of Southern huskies that tropped off the field on the short end of a 20-0 score.

Clicking to perfection in both defense and offense tactics the 'Cats consistently held the whiphand throughout the tussle and they outgeneraled and outrushed their heavier opponents who were not able to tote the leather past the midfield stripe. It was only on two occasions that the visitors had possession of the ball in Villanova territory and both these instances followed hurried punts. However, once within their own part of the playing field the 'Cats' defense became still more rigid and the scoring ef-

Continued on Page Six

STATISTICS OF THE GAME

	Villanova	S. C.
First downs	14	6
Yards gained rushing	176	148
Forward passes, tried	8	14
Forward passes, completed	2	4
Yards gained, forwards	23	34
Forwards intercepted	3	0
Lateral passes	2	0
Laterals completed	2	0
Yards gained, laterals	26	0
Number of punts	8	10
Average distance of punts (yards)	31	32
Runback of punts (yards)	49	12
Fumbles	2	3
Own fumbles recovered	1	2
Penalties	3	1
Yard lost (penalties)	5	5

SKAFF POSTPONES TILT WITH RUTGERS

Game Scheduled for Nov. 9 Moved Up to Nov. 23; Squad Lacks Interest

A postponement of the Junior Varsity game with Rutgers, which was to have taken place last Friday, November 9, at Rutgers, has been officially announced by Coach Frank Skaff.

The reason for this postponement as given by the coach is lack of cooperation on the part of some of the players in attending practice and lack of enthusiasm on the part of the team as a whole.

Coach Skaff stated that "I am not entirely satisfied in the manner and attitude of the boys on the J. V. squad. For this reason I deemed it necessary to postpone the Rutgers game of November 9 to November 23. Unless the boys take the right attitude and show more spirit I do not doubt that we will close our season without a victory."

To date the squad has not had what might be termed a successful season by any means. Last week the Junior 'Cats went down before the Scranton-Keystone Junior College to the tune of 15 to 0.

Manhattan Team Primed To Avenge 1933 Defeat

Return of Carrol Cook and Harry Patzsch Expected to Put Stuhldrehermen at Top Of Power for Game in Brooklyn

GALLAGHER STAR ON JASPER ELEVEN

By NORTON PADEN

ON SATURDAY next, Nov. 17, the Villanova Wildcats will journey to Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, N. Y., to again do battle with Manhattan.

The return of Harry Patzsch and Carrol Cook to the 'Cat's backfield will brighten the prospects of the game immeasurably. The loss of these two players due to injuries weakened the team in the last two clashes.

'Cats Won in 1933

Last year's game with the Jaspers resulted in a win for Villanova with the final score standing 47 to 0. It is hoped that this win will be repeated though this result is doubtful due to the strong team that Manhattan has this season.

Manhattan broke its losing streak on November 3 when it defeated the City College of New York by the score of 21 to 0. Previous to this game they had lost three consecutive game to Georgtown, Michigan State, and Catholic University.

Jaspers Triumph

To offset these defeats the Jaspers won from St. Bonaventure, 6 to 0, defeated Clarkson Tech to the tune of 19 to 7, and draw with Kansas State, 13-all.

Manhattan's coach, Chick Meehan, is hopeful for the outconie of this game with the 'Cats and is looking forward to ending the season successfully with a win over Villanova.

Whalen, the Jasper's left halfback, will bear watching during next Saturday's game. During the C. C. N. Y.-Manhattan game he intercepted a pass on his own line and ran the length of the field through the entire opposing team to account for one of the touchdowns.

Locals Falter

Due to many unhappy circumstances, the 'Cats have not clicked as well as they did last season, losing to La Salle, Bucknell, and Boston College. Along with these unhappy events Villanova tied Western Maryland, and a strong Detroit eleven, who were favored to win. A decisive win in the first game with Ursinus brings the record up to date.

The tie with Detroit has pepped up the hopes of the Villanova rooters for they found out what the team could do when really hard pressed. In the same manner Manhattan held a stronger team from Kansas to a 13 to 13 game, thus surprising the most optimistic Jasper rooters.

Gallagher Outstanding

Gallagher, a 200-pound triple-threat backfield man, will probably keep Stuhldreher's boys very busy on the 17th, and i.e will undoubtedly knock the breath out of more than one lineman.

With its present record, Villanova is pointing towards Manhattan believing that the defeat of this team will aid the 'Cats to regain in some measure their standing in the sport circles of the East.

TEMPLE VICTORS OVER CARNEGIE

Future Foes' Showing Last Saturday Bodes Ill For 'Cats

The Manhattan Jaspers served notice that they are primed for the Villanova game by holding the highly rated and greatly favored Holy Cross eleven to a 12 to 6 score. Trailing by 12 to 0 in the last period, they finally scored when Lyons, right end, blocked a punt and fell on the ball in the end zone.

Temple continued its winning ways by brushing aside Carnegie Tech by the one-sided score of 34 to 6. Led by Horace Mowrey and Dave Smuckler, brilliant Soph backs, their brushing offensive drives made the game a runaway. Temple showed itself to be one of the most powerful teams in the East and served threatening notice of her power to her future foes.

CALL FOR BOXERS

The first call for boxing candidates has been issued. All interested should report to Coach Joe Foley, at the gymnasium, after 2:30 P. M.

Tense Action as Wildcats Regain Winning Streak

Picture shows mad scramble that followed a fumble by Harry Patzsch during the first half. The ball was recovered by a Villanova player and the Wildcats continued on their march for a touchdown. The Wildcats came out of their losing slump and conquered the Southerners by a 20 to 0 score.

Lightweights Bow to Pennsylvania; 19-13

Belated Passing Attack Fails Villanova Eleven

O'Neill's Passing Is Great Aid in 'Cats' Scores

Wetzler Brilliant As 'Cats Triumph

Continued From Page Five

Displaying a brilliant, though belated, passing attack, the Villanova 150's lost to Penn by the score of 19 to 13 at Franklin Field last Friday before a crowd of 2000.

Villanova lost the toss and Penn elected to receive. Fernandez, flashy Quaker quarter, guided his team through two successive first downs to midfield, where Villanova braced.

In the second half, both teams ran wild. Penn went straight down the field from their own 30 for a touchdown when Berry, Penn fullback, plunged over the last stripe. Upon receiving, Villanova pushed up to the Penn 50, where a pass tossed by Murphy was intercepted by Blaisdell. Penn tried to pass, but Morin intercepted on the Kittens' 35. The Villanova blocking on Leone's 20-yard dash off tackle was superb, man after man went down, and it was only because Mingey, playing the opposite end came up from behind that the tackle was made.

Then Penn was presented with a six-pointer on a silver platter. Rogers, 'Cat halfback, went around end, and was going places when two Penn men hit him at once. The ball was knocked straight up in the air and Fernandez, coming up fast, caught it on the fly and lit out for the goal line, 60 yards away. With not a Villanova man near him, he tore over the stripe. Berry converted the extra point. The other Penn tally came as a result of a pass to Darell from Fernandez. That put the Blue and White on the sick end of a 19-0 score. Ned O'Neill then appeared on the scene and he immediately started to do things. A pass to Leone put Villanova on the Penn 39. O'Neill to Hennessy to the 20, O'Neill to Coyle, good for seven yards. Cain got loose off tackle and was brought to earth just inches away from a score. Leone tried the last dive but it didn't work. O'Neill took a deep breath and slammed across. Leone's try for point failed.

Some more passes by O'Neill brought the Kittens within the danger zone. Villanova went across with a first down with goal to go, and Leone slanted off tackle and took it across. In the try for point, the pass from center prevented Leone from kicking, so he grabbed the ball and dove through a mass of Penn men for the extra point as the game was over.

Penn Points Win

Villanova	Pos.	Penn
Hennessey	left end	Mingey
Gough	left tackle	Nash
Caufield	left guard	Ferguson
Morin	center	Simonds
Stead	right guard	O'Neill
Cavanaugh	right tackle	Boenning
Coyle	right end	Townsend
Murphy	quarterback	Fernandez
Rogers	left halfback	Helme
McGee	right halfback	Petit
Kapic	fullback	Berry

Touchdowns—Penn: Berry, Darrel, Fernandez. Villanova: O'Neill, Leone. Points after touchdowns. Penn: Berry; Villanova, Leone. First downs: Penn, 16; Villanova, 9. Substitutions—Penn Chambere for Petit, Deitz for Simonds, Curtis for Boenning, Darrel for Chambere, Boenning for Curtis, Blaisdell for Darrell, Winoker for Nash, Hughes for Helme, O'Denning for Berry, Simonds for Deitz, Clements for O'Neill, Kosek for Simonds, Wheller for O'Denning, Knecht for Blaisdell, Hockenburg for Townsend, Nash for Winoker, Clement for Kosek.

Villanova: Leone for Kapic, Seibers for Morin, Cain for Murphy, Fitzpatrick for McGee, Reagan for Stead, Murphy for Cain, Menocal for Seibers, McGee for Fitzpatrick, Morin for Menocal, Stead for Reagan, Horn for McGee, O'Neill for Rogers, Cain for Murphy.

Sweet Victory

Villanova	Pos.	S. Carolina
Sala	left end	Craig
Michaels	left tackle	Gaffney
Blanchard	left guard	Watson
Nowe	center	Strond
Foster	right guard	Fowble
Cox	right tackle	Huskey
Fox	right end	Rowland
Christopher	quarterback	Mauney
Kotys	left halfback	Alexander
Wetzler	right halfback	Robbins
Patzsch	fullback	McDougall

Score by periods:

South Carolina	0	0	0	0	—0
Villanova	6	7	0	7	—20

Touchdowns—Kotys, 2; Emmerling. Points after touchdowns—Lee, 2 (placement kicks. Substitutions: Villanova—Lee for Foster, Grimberg for Fox, Higgins for Christopher, Walsh for Kotys, Korchinski for Sala, Vidnovic for Blanchard, Emmerling for Wetzler, Wiesenbaugh for Patzsch, Foster for Lee, Fox for Grimberg Mahovlich for Kotys, Johnson for Michaels, Goggin for Korchinski, McFadden for Wiesenbaugh, Gainain for Nowe, Loughlin for Cox. South Carolina—Brown for McDougall, Yonce for Alexander, Robelot for Huskey, Craft for Rowland, McCrady for Robbins Yonce for Mauney, Stokes for Strond, Turner for Fowble. Referee—W. D. Maginnis, Lehigh. Umpire—A. W. Thompson, Michigan. Head linesman—G. W. Hoban, Dartmouth. Field Judge—H. Springer, Penn.

In the Limelight

"When I was at Canonsburg...," and something good is sure to come out whenever Maestro Patzsch enunciates those words. No kiddin', he was really a king big shot in high school. Gentle reader, looky here a bit and you'll see why.

The starting point of anything logical is the beginning, so let's get to his beginning. He began on June 30, 1912, and is the only football player on record who didn't move eight or ten times before he was in the limelight. Harry started life in Canonsburg, Pa., and didn't stir one foot out of the joint until the Fall of '31.

Something big is coming, so nang on to your ears. Nick Kotys, who played against the Patzsch person in the good old high school days, told everybody who would listen about Harry's doings at dear ol' Canonsburg. He went out for football and immediately started doing this: On defense he played end or tackle; on offense he played fullback, but he called signals from the fullback position which makes him a quarter fullback, or something. And besides doing all that, he was captain in his Junior year. He said that he played two years tackle and two years fullback. Somebody's crazy.

Then he was a shining light on the track team and played guard on the basketball team. He was president of the Freshman and Sophomore classes, and played on the same football team, incidentally, as Charlie Nowe, varsity center, and Bernie Lee, demon placekicker. Nick said in deepest confidence that Harry's high school coach said that he possessed all the qualifications that go to make up the ideal football player—brains, weight, speed, perception, and "guts." Harry has all of these, and that's why he played 'most all of the South Carolina game.

When the Frosh team assembled in '31, Harry was in the backfield, doing the single and sole job of fullback on offense, backing up the line on the defense. A nice, easy season. College football was soft.

Sophomore year was Harry's banner year. With Jojo, Harry crashed and bucked through struggling guards and generally flattened them out. The Temple game in '32 was the peak of the season. Villanova, going in as underdogs, had him as starting fullback. Rain had slowed down the Notre Dame system, and the situation was not well in hand. Late in the game, with the score at a blank, the 'Cats took to the air, took to the ends, fought through the guards, and finally wound up on the Temple one-yard line, third down, goal to go, and the game almost over. Teams lined up, Cavanaugh barked signals, and Gezzer wafted the ball obliquely back to Patzsch who picked up his feet and slammed over the final white stripe. Barney Lee calmly booted the extra point and the game was 7-0 with the 'Cats on top. They made sure they stayed there, too.

Last year saw Harry as quarter for the first few games, but he was shifted that way back. Villanova needed his ball-carrying.

Turf and Tinsel, Student Council, and intra-murals occupied him during the Winter. He was picked as All-Intra-mural guard for Fedigan, and during the soft ball season he held down the mound.

This year he started almost every game, alternating with Jojo Wiesenbaugh. Watch him go against Temple!

'Cats' Meow

Victory, sweet victory has come again and at last.

—V—

The Seniors shed buckets of tears. It was their last game in the good ole Villanova stadium.

—V—

Three people came just to see the pig race that was supposed to be held between the Sophs and the Frosh.

—V—

Six thousand people were disappointed that the porker never showed up.

—V—

The grass in front of the players' benches will get a chance to grow until next year. Many a coach has had a meal from those two grass plots.

—V—

The stadium looked like Notre Dame's on Friday. Three complete squads held workouts.

—V—

Those interested had another chance to get a look at Bill Shepherd. The W. M. boys were limbering up for their 35 to 12 romp over West Chester.

—V—

With a South Carolinian "out cold" after a terrific line buck, a loyal Villanova adviser rose to his feet shouting "sleeper.

—V—

Nowe's shouts of "Mauney back" was a big help to players and spectators alike.

—V—

Try as they might the Southerners never wiped that grin off Wetzler's face.

—V—

If it's not one thing its the same thing. Manhattan held Holy Cross to a 12 to 6 count and those Owls continued to send out warning signals by beating Carnegie Tech 3 to 6.

TWO PASS TESTS

Redmond and Canter Enrolled Senior Red Cross Life Savers

Last Monday at the Villanova pool, two Freshmen, Thomas Redmond and Donald Canter, completed the requirements of the life-saving course, and were enrolled as Red Cross senior life savers. Of the two, Redmond received the highest rating.

The examiner who gave the test was Edward Gornowski, an authorized Red Cross examiner, who is a Freshman is the School of Engineering.

This course is open to all those who have passed their physical examination and everyone who is interested is urged to take advantage of this course.

Examinations will take place every Monday afternoon in the pool from 1:30 on.

TOURNEY POSTPONED

Mild Weather Causes Re-Scheduling of Bowling Contest

The bowling tournament, originally scheduled to be run off the early part of this month, has been definitely postponed until a later date.

Continued good weather has held outdoors those who ordinarily bowl, and the alleys have been comparatively quiet for this time of year. However, with the return of cold weather, interest in this popular sport will be revived rapidly.

The alleys are open every afternoon for the enjoyment of the students, and anyone interested in the forthcoming contest is offered a splendid chance of getting in shape. The exact date of the tournament will be announced later.

STRUTT LEADS SCORERS

Duquesne Ace Leads W. Maryland Sensation by Four Points

Bill Shepherd, sensational Western Maryland back, continued on his scoring rampage by adding four touchdowns and five extra points to his already high total in the Terrors' game against West Chester last Saturday.

Art Strutt continued to lead the scorers by adding the same number of touchdowns to his total against Oklahoma Aggies. Strutt is now four points ahead of Shepherd.

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits and Topcoats $24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See JIM ELLIOTT Room 106, Fedigan Hall

there's nothing to stop you

Of course, you could take Bill's sister to the Home Game and Dance — or what's-her-name, the professor's daughter. But how much better to telephone the Girl Back Home and invite her! The cost is trifling if you take advantage of the low Station to Station Night Rates.

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

You Can Beat Manhattan!

BUT you can't beat the IMPERIAL for hotel value in New York. So, if you're heading for Manhattan, for the Big Game, make this distinctive hotel your headquarters.

ROOM and BATH $2.50 single $1.50 double

1 Block from Penn Station — Central to the Stadium — 3 minutes from Times Square, Theatres, and Night Clubs!

HOTEL IMPERIAL

32nd STREET & BROADWAY

NEW YORK CITY

RELATIONS SOCIETY BEGINS ACTIVITIES FOR PRESENT YEAR

Rev. John J. Fitzmaurice, O. S. A., Will Direct Organization; Discusses World Affairs

CLUB SEEKS CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT MEMBERSHIP

Successful Assembly of Entire Association Was Held Last Year at Bucknell

The Foreign Relations Society has begun organization for the current school year under the direction of Rev. John J. Fitzmaurice, O. S. A. There have been two meetings during the past week and the club is already in full action.

Retain Memberships

Membership in the Carnegie Endowment Fund has been sought and is practically assured. Also membership in the "Intercollegiate Model League of Nations" will be continued. These two organizations have been functioning in conjunction with one another to produce an annual assembly of the League at some large university.

Last year the Villanova chapter of the League was invited to attend the meeting of the assembly at Bucknell. Representatives of the Villanova Foreign Relations Society who attended found the event of intense interest and of great educational value. Practically every college or university of the East was represented. Villanova was teamed with Vassar.

Solicit O'Sullivan

Research work will be carried on through three fertile channels, the Congressional Library, Washington; the Free Library of Philadelphia, and the Library at Villanova. Jermiah O'Sullivan, Ph. D., will be solicited to give private seminars on the history of world affairs.

Several members of last year are again interested in the society and many new names have been added. The membership, which is as yet incomplete, is as follows: Peter P. Kerr, Joseph Arthur, John DiJoseph, John W. Hallahan, Jr., and Martinez-Alvarez.

Meet at State

It is expected that rapid developments will take place, and several representatives will probably be sent to the first convention of the year, which is to be held at Penn State College on the 23d and 24th of this month. Later in the Spring there is to be the regular annual meeting of the League and it is almost definite that Villanova will send its society to this assembly.

Regular meetings of the club will be announced in the near future. These will take on the form of small League assemblies. The current problems of world affairs will be brought up, investigated, and reported on by the individual members. They will be opened then to general discussion and the opposite sides defended exactly as they are in the world League of Nations.

The society will have its own reference library and assembly rooms and the members may expect to gain much valuable information as regards just what is taking place in the diplomatic veins of international relations. In addition to this educational development will be the better knowledge and understanding of the methods and functions and actual procedure of the World Court and League of Nations.

ENGINEERS TRAVEL

Visit Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, to See New Exhibit

Yesterday the Villanova Chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers visited the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia. The purpose of the trip was to see the new exhibition that has been introduced there. It is called the House of Wonders.

This House of Wonders has been in exhibition at the Chicago World Fair, and at the closing of the fair it was transferred to the Philadelphia institution.

The purpose of the trip is to familiarize the engineers with the type of work that is being done in their particular field. It will help to show them the connection between their work here and the work they will be required to do after they graduate.

Special Talk Tonight

The Rev. Elbert Gay, C. M., formerly of Cristobal, Canal Zone, will deliver a lecture tonight in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance Building at 6:30 o'clock. Fr. Gay's topic will be "Life Among the Lepers." Slides will be used to illustrate the talk.

This lecture will take the place of the regular evening chapel service and chapel cards will be collected before Fr. Gay's talk.

LITERARY SOCIETY PLANS FOR DEBATE

Beta Gamma Decides Team To Represent Villanova In Forensic Engagement

Progress marked the doings of the Literary Society during the past week.

Wednesday night Beta Gamma held reading of one of the questions for debate during the 1934-35 season. The question to be debated is, Resolved: That the shipment of arms and munitions be prevented between nations.

Beta Gamma opens its intercollegiate season against Swarthmore College, Thursday, November 22. The armament question is the topic for debate. R. Martinez-Alvarez, Peter Kerr, and Francis Bigley will defend the negative side for Villanova.

On the evening before the Swarthmore debate there will be a formal debate between two teams consisting of members of the society. The affirmative will have Martin Donnelly, Roberts Bouson, and John Hallahan to represent it, while the negative side will be the same team that will debate Swarthmore.

Belle Masque chapter of the Literary Society is rapidly rounding into shape for its November 27-28 performance of "Gun-Shy," a modern play. At a meeting last Thursday night a reading of the manuscript took place and the latter part of the performance amused the members present.

The cast has been selected, and this evening at 8 o'clock there will be a rehearsal of the play.

Characters for "Gun-Shy" are: John Hallahan, John Simmons, Joseph Toland, John Chappel, William Doyle, William Fitzpatrick, George Mathues, George Malhame, and Raphael Martinez-Alvarez.

Plans Formulated For Mammoth Rally

Continued From Page One

ner, Joe Tumelty, Herby Good, and Ross Kauffman.

At the conclusion of the talk, which will be held in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance Building, the assemblage will proceed to the field across from the gymnasium, where a mammoth bonfire will be set off.

Following the bonfire the annual Owl Hop will be conducted in the gymnasium to complete the celebration.

STUDENT NOTICE

Attention has been called to the fact that students residing in Mendel Hall are beginning to complain of the noise created at night by those frequenting the Pie Shoppe.

Pierre's

The Place to Go

DINNERS SERVED IN RESTAURANT

(As Low as 65c)

Dancing	Floor Show
BILLY HAYS & His Orchestra	Twice Nightly 7 P. M. 11 P. M.

Pierre's

On 69th St.

Spanish Club Reorganizes Tonight; Father Fresno Named Moderator

Tonight at 7 o'clock marks the reopening of the Spanish Club of Villanova College. This organization made it first appearance on the campus last year. Under the guidance of moderator Rev. Basilio Fresno, O. S. A., professor of Spanish in the Arts School, the club proved to be successful.

At the first meeting of the club this year to be held in the amphitheater, all members are urged to be present. Fr. Fresno again will undertake the capacity of moderator, and the same officers will preside. Raphael Martinez-Alvarez is president; Peter P. Kerr, vice president; Bernard La Rosa, secretary; Edward Michaels vice secretary and George Fox is treasurer.

After the great success experienced by the lub last year which included the winning of a medal by one of the members in a contest held among various schools, it is expected that the club activities will be of great interest during the present year.

Jersey Club Gives Gay Victory Dance

Continued From Page One

of transportation are at hand for those attending the dance. The ballroom is large and is equipped with an unusual dance floor. It is of dolomite construction, thereby allowing the dancers the greatest enjoyment possible. The ballroom will be adequately decorated for the occasion with banners and pennants, together with the lighting effects that are being arranged by the committee.

To Feature College Songs

This year the committee was successful in engaging Andy Kress and His Crestmore Club Orchestra. This band has just completed an engagement at one of the leading seashore resorts in New Jersey and is playing for the annual Senior Promenade of Mount St. Joseph's College Friday night. One of the feature attractions will be the orchestra's own arrangement of the three college songs, "The Alma Mater," "The March of the Wildcats," and "College Days."

A special feature of the dance will be the novel dance programs that have been selected as well as a conglomeration of balloons that will float down from the ceiling during the medley of the college songs. A few other surprises that the committee will not reveal have been arranged.

Football Team Guests

As in the past years, the football team will be the guests of the club at the dance and it is hoped that Coach Harry Stuhldreher as well as other prominent guests will attend.

The affair will be held from 9 till 1, thereby giving all those attending ample time to arrive there after the game. The dress will be semi-formal and the subscription will be $2.50.

The committee that has charge of the social is composed of Harold D. McGrath, chairman; John Erbect, Daniel Fitzpatrick, Benjamin Geraghty, John Scalera, Edward Carlin, John Cronin, Edwin Riley, and Joseph McCabe.

Duke University SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

DURHAM, N. C.

Four terms of eleven weeks are given each year. These may be taken consecutively (graduation in three years) or three terms may be taken each year (graduation in four years). The entrance requirements are intelligence, character and at least two years of college work, including the subjects specified for Grade A Medical Schools. Catalogues and application forms may be obtained from the Dean.

NEW LAUNDRY COMPANY, Inc.

A NEW LAUNDRY WITH SEVENTY-SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE

Baring and State Sts. Baring 5434

ARDROSSAN FARMS

"Certified Milk"

Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

Gotham Game Lures Large Delegation

Continued From Page One

busses again, to be taken to the Capitol Bus Terminal, situated at 51st St. and Eighth Ave., New York City. The bus terminal is in easy access to the more important objects of interest to those who wish to view the marvels of the Gotham city.

Students and members of the band will board the busses again for the return trip to Villanova at 8:30 P. M.

Low Travel Cost

Transportation costs for the round trip for the contest is set at $3. Cost of tickets to the game has not been determined as yet, but tickets are now on sale in the athletic office in the gymnasium.

Bus tickets may be purchased at any time after 12:30 P. M., from Dave Murphy, Room 244, Austin Hall.

It has been announced by the Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice-president of the college, that many reservations have been made for the game

Alumni Plan Trip

A great number of the old grads have requested reservations for transportation and, under such circumstances, it is to the advantage of every student expecting to attend to purchase his transportation tickets as soon as possible. This reminder might also be considered regarding the purchase of tickets to the game.

Meet Your Friends at The Bryn Mawr Confectionery (Next to Seville Theatre)

Tasty Sandwiches Luncheons-Dinners-Platters Reasonably Priced

Music Free Dancing

Streamline Stiff Startles Staffmen

Continued From Page One

oblong black bag, open at both ends, that something started banging against my ribs.

To make things worse, Marechal got the bright idea to hum a funeral dirge (he can't sing), and Keffer let out a groan, the like of which Dante never dreamed. I was told later that my face, such as it be, was the composite picture of all the misery of the ages, with all the sufferings of mankind since Adam, written upon it. Beads of perspiration of such size that a goldfish could have been at home in any one of them dotted my forehead. My condition was made even worse as we passed various members of the student body, resplendent in their ignorance of the torments to which we were subjected.

If I ever carried a dead weight, that was the time. The tragi-comedy reached its zenith when we arrived at the laboratory. The nerveless undertaker and the nervous Marechal, lifted the corpse, after it was unwrapped, upon the dissection table.

The story ends here. But I still maintain that I am not responsible for the door I broke getting out, nor the broken flooring upon my arrival on the first floor. It is now three days since this experience, and, although I am hungry still, there is little chance of my eating.

SENIOR PROM AT MOUNT

For only $4, devoted terpsichoreans may attend the Senior Promenade at Mt. St. Joseph's College this Friday night, at which affair Andy Cress and his Crestmore Club Orchestra, of Newark, N. J., will

GO BY BUS

TO MANHATTAN

$3.00 ROUND TRIP

Leave Campus 9:00 A. M.

SEE DAVE MURPHY

244 AUSTIN

UPPER DARBY LOAN SOCIETY

LICENSED PAWNBROKERS

Money Loaned on DIAMONDS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY AND ALL MERCHANDISE OF VALUE

Highest Prices Paid for Old Gold

Bargains in Diamonds, Watches Jewelry, Luggage, Etc.

UNREDEEMED PLEDGES AT GREAT SAVINGS Weekly Payments Accepted

6934 MARKET ST. Upper Darby Bou. 3119

FOR EXPERT, CONVENIENT Tonsorial Necessities PATRONIZE The CAMPUS Barber Shop (New Staff) Popular Prices

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe

College Tailor Since 1925

Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.

Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure $25 and up

All new styles now available!

Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

TREASURE INN

229 East Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, Pa.

DINE and DANCE

ORCHESTRA NIGHTLY — ELABORATE FLOOR SHOW

No Cover or Minimum Charge

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

NATIONS RE-ARMING WRITES PROFESSOR

Dr. A. J. Pearson, Drake University, Touring Europe Observes World Political Situation

By DR. ALFRED J. PEARSON

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 12—Last year the world spent approximately four and one-half billion dollars on armaments. The race for increased armaments is on among all the larger nations. They are obsessed with it. It has become a mania with them. In their madness they are headed for the abyss. This year the total expenditure for the same purpose will be over five billion. Nothing but a fundamental change in their attitude, a complete change of heart, will save them and civilization from complete ruin.

Italy Will Arm

Mussolini rattled the sabre at Bologna some weeks ago. In a public address he declared with customary vehemence that "Italy will arm. Italy must be prepared not for the war of tomorrow but for the war of today." This is in defiance of a deficit in the Italian treasury of 550,000,000 lire and despite the fact that maximum taxation in Italy has already been reached. And only recently Mussolini made the further statement that boys are to be given military training from the age of eight years.

The Italian government is now resorting to cuts in wages and the reduction of salaries for the purpose of reducing the cost of production. By this means, Mussolini hopes to counteract the unfavorable trade balance. This wage reduction is lowering still further the standard of living.

Armament Expenditures

The expenditures for the Italian navy for the next five years, beginning 1935, have been increased 480,000,000 lire and for the strengthening of he air fleet the sum of 1,000,000,000 lire has been appropriated.

In this connection it is significant to note that on June 5, 1934, the French Chamber of Deputies approved the government's budget calling for 3,000,000,000 francs to strengthen the national armaments.

On July 19, 1934, Mr. Baldwin, acting Prime Minister, announced that in the next five years Great Britain will spend $100,000,000 in adding 41 new squadrons containing 460 fighting planes to its air fleet.

German Budget Increased

Germany has recently increased her budgetary armament 33 percent. The women, by a recent edict, are relegated to the home, there to raise large families. For what? Apparently for purpose of war. Teachers in the common schools are ordered by the government to impress upon their pupils that they must "build themselves physically to be militant members of a militant people." Chairs of the Science of War have been estab ished in some of the leading universities of Germany.

The Hitler Jugend is a glorified boy scout movement organized along military lines with all the attractions of uniforms, military bands and insignia of rank.

In our own country 64 cents of every dollar paid in taxes goes for wars past, present, and future.

The Soviet Union is feverishly building airplanes. She is drilling both men and women for military service. The U. S. S. R. has a trained army of 3,500,000 men and on short notice can put into the field 18,000,000 men. Japan knows this and is working day and night to keep up the race. In Europe every ninth man wears a uniform. On June 11, 1934, the disarmament conference adjourned after two and a third years of fruitless work.

The slogan among the nations seems to be that the cannon must be fed, even if the people have to starve.

There is, however, a glimmer of hope. Germany if offered parity in arms with other nations, will come back to the League of Nations. The Soviet Union has been admitted as a member of the League. America now seems to be in a mood to work in closer cooperation with it. This might be the beginning of a New Day.

We have our military attaches and our naval attaches in our legations and embassies abroad. The time has come when every nation should have also a peace attache whose special business would be to study the problems of the relation of nations from the viewpoint of peace, which hitherto all nations have studied and approached from the viewpoint of war.

It is for the students of all countries to study the questions of war to bring about a change in the attitude of all nations. I am not advocating pacifism, or that any one nation should disarm unless other competitive nations do the same. If intelligent men and women will lay aside their prejudices and extreme nationalism, they should be able to come to some understanding that will save civilization and keep us out of the jungle. It is up to the students of America to take the lead in this matter of such momentous importance.

LECTURER PRESENTS HISTORY OF MUSIC

Eminent Composer Pays Tribute to Oliver Shaw, Stephen Foster

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 12.—"America is too heterogeneous to produce a music which would reflect ethnologically the United States," declares John Tasker Howard, eminent composer, author and lecturer at Brown University.

"We cannot order the national in music in the same way that we order a suit of clothes," he declared, pointing out the racial mixture which this nation is. What we should aim for, he asserted, is a contribution to the musical literature of the world.

Traces History

Tracing American music from the revolutionary period when it was fundamentally English and French in character, Howard alternately described trends and played representative selections to illustrate his points. Advocates of national music, he observed, are seeking melody arising from the soil. Eighteenth and nineteenth century composers who attempted to create a national music did so by portraying in sharps and flats the life of the Indian, the negro, the pioneer and the cowboy. Conscious effort in this direction is practically futile, the speaker declared.

George Gershwin came in for praise from Howard, who seemed to prefer his musical comedy compositions to his more serious works. Gershwin went from Broadway to the concert hall by dint of his ambition, and according to the speaker, the effort was noteworthy. Howard described his jazz efforts as "real and alive." Most jazz, however, did not meet with the approval of the authority who said that it was too standardized. He further declared that the rhythm was monotonous.

Howard paid tribute to Oliver Shaw, blind Rhode Island composer, Stephen Foster, author of "Oh, Suzanna," and "My Old Kentucky Home," Edward McDowell, styled as "rugged individualist" of the nineties, and Ethelbert Nevin, who "dealt with the artificial but not in an artificial manner."

Collegiate Review

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

DePauw University (Greencastle, Ind.) will be host to members of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, when that organization holds its silver anniversary convention there October 19-21.

Leonid Kreutzer, eminent European pianist, will be presented in series of three recitals this Winter at New Jersey College for Women (New Brunswick).

"Unless business starts up, government credit must crack under the cost, which is twice the cost of subsistence relief," says Dean Wallace B. Donham, of the Harvard (Cambridge, Mass.) Business School.

Florida Governor, David Sholtz, officially proclaimed this week as "University of Florida week." Programs will be held throughout the state to acquaint citizens with the work of the university students and staff.

Fair enough—

WE tell you that Chesterfield Cigarettes are made of mild, ripe tobaccos. We've told you about the paper—that it's pure and burns right, without taste or odor.

We have said that Chesterfields are made right. The tobaccos are aged, then blended and cross-blended, and cut into shreds the right width and length to smoke right.

These things are done to make what people want—a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better—a cigarette that satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them—that would seem to be fair enough.

Strictly on their merits

the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Lineups and Pictures of Both Teams Featured on Pages 4-5

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 8 VILLANOVA, PA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1934 Price: Five Cents

Editorial

We Are With You, Win or Lose

TOMORROW, Villanova's battle-worn gridmen, after a season that has known the nectar of victory, the gall of defeat, and the tasteless beverage of neither, will face their final and most strenuous contest. But does it mean that because Temple has enjoyed one of the most glorious football seasons in the history of that institution we at Villanova are seized with fear? The nullification of these sentiments will be proved tonight when the greatest pep assemblage of students and well-wishers of the team in more than a decade pay homage to a mighty Villanova eleven, and tomorrow afternoon, when the gridders swing into action FOR ANOTHER VICTORY!

Temple's childish bits of horseplay, including the hanging of their school flag on our own campus, the painting of walls and fences in the vicinity of this college, and the cowardly insults to the captain of the football team by the use of anonymous letters through the mail will all be answered by administering ANOTHER stinging defeat to the Owls. The football men here know that the student body is backing them with unfailing loyalty, WIN or LOSE.

But somehow, we know the team just won't let us down. Go to it, gang!

How Rival Coaches Veiw Tomorrow's Annual Fray

The following was written specially for the VILLANOVAN by Glenn S. Warner, nationally known head football coach at Temple University.

"Temple has had a more consistent team than Villanova and I believe Temple's record is the better of the two teams. However I witnessed last year to what supreme heights the Villanova team rises in this annual game and therefore past records do not mean much. Villanova has played some very fine football this year and has shown remarkable improvement in the last two games.

"Temple has improved much over last year while Villanova looks to be about the same strength as shown against Temple last year. On the records of the two teams, Temple should be the logical favorite but I regard the game as an even proposition. The breaks are likely to decide the outcome."

Coach Harry Stuhldreher wrote for the VILLANOVAN:

"All you have to do is to beat Temple to call the season a success." If I hear this statement once more I may be of the same mind. It is a great feeling, however, for our loyal followers to express this thought, and you can rest assured that we will try to do just that.

"Never before in this annual series have the odds been so one-sided. We are all aware of Temple's prowess in every department of play. They have a go-getting team that is well-manned in every position. The results of their games so far prove this assertion.

"But as far as I can remember, only eleven fellows can play at the same time, and a Villanova team has never reached the point of being afraid of any past Temple teams. We don't care about records at this stage, and I can guarantee that Temple will have known at the final whistle that they were in a mighty tough ball game.

"I hope our boys do themselves justice, and to do this it will have to be over their heads. It has been done before, and let's hope for a pleasant repetition."

Temple Captain Considers 'Cats Strongest Opponents

Pete Stevens, Temple University grid captain, writes: "I consider Villanova as our strongest opponent, regardless of previous team records. Each year finds this game one of the outstanding in the East, and we are expecting this next game to follow suit.

"So I reiterate, we are expecting as great a game as Villanova ever put up against Temple, and it will be our hardest game."

From Campus to Stadium

Ro students at Villanova will have little trouble in reaching Temple Stadium if they do not have private automobiles at their disposal. David Murphy, a senior, whose headquarters is Austin Hall, and campus representative of the Greyhound Bus Company, has arranged for riders to the football contest. Information concerning the time of departure and fee, may be obtained from Mr. Murphy.

Wildcat Leader Believes His Team Will Upset Owls

Bill Grimberg, Villanova football captain, says: "The Temple game is on the lips of every student but, as always, it is soundly lodged in the mind of each and every player. There is no doubt in my mind that every player has that cherished ambition to knock the mighty Owl off his perch. We will throw everything we have at them and some things we don't have.

"Do I think we have a chance of beating Temple? You bet we do, or we wouldn't play! I don't say we will beat them, but don't forget it has been done before. So why not again?"

Pep Rally, Dance Tonight

BIG DEMONSTRATION TONIGHT WILL MARK ANNUAL PEP RALLY

Torch Parade Will Be Featured After Conclusion of Indoor Meeting

OUTSTANDING ATHLETES INVITED TO BE PRESENT

Field Opposite Gym Scene of Fireworks Display and Bonfire

By HARRY PARKIN

Time worn halls of Villanova, that have so often reverberated to the jubilant shouts of victory, or the hushed, disconsolate voices of defeat, are now echoing with the voices of a new spirit. It is the spirit of determination; the spirit of a fixed resolve; the spirit that leads to victory.

Honor Team

Tonight at 7:45, in the Commerce and Finance Auditorium, will be held one of the largest and most spectacular rallies that has ever been conducted in the history of the school. It has been arranged by the Student Council in order that every member of the student body may demonstrate his confidence in the team and assure it of his whole-hearted support by his presence at the rally.

In the place of James Walsh, Chairman of the Student Council and stellar gridman, Walter Alessandroni, President of the Senior Class, will introduce the speakers, who will comprise some of the most outstanding and notable figures in the athletic world.

Bradley Billed

The speakers will include Head Coach Harry Stuhldreher, Line Coach Robert Reagan, Harvey Harman, Penn mentor, Stan Baumgartner and Eddie Walsh, both of whom are sports writers for a prominent Philadelphia daily, and William (Reds) Bradley '31. The latter holds the unusual distinction of being Villanova's omen of good fortune, for he has yet to speak at

Continued on Page Eight

ENGINEERS PRESENT COLORFUL OWL HOP

Annual Affair Will Climax Preparations for Temple Grid Battle

By H. D. McGRATH

Final plans have been made for the climax to the rally and bonfire tonight when the Villanova engineering fraternity, Phi Kappa Pi, will present their annual Owl Hop to be held in the gymnasium. The music will be furnished by the well known Villanovans and dancing will be from ten till two.

Special Decorations

The gymnasium will be decorated for the gala occasion with its false ceiling and dim lights which the engineers have been planning. The orchestra will be on the side of the floor in a decorated booth. Palms and other appurtenances will lend a hand in making the gymnasium

Continued on Page Eight

Wildcat Footballers Picked as Underdogs In Seventh Owl Game

Forecasters Give Villanova Small Chance To Conquer Strong Temple Outfit in Annual Traditional Gridiron War

BLUE AND WHITE IN LAST CONTEST

By HAROLD J. KEATING

VILLANOVA'S Wildcats, despoilers of many a Temple record and many a Temple hope in the six years of their vivid football fued, enter the Templar's Stadium tomorrow armed with a prayer.

A mighty Temple juggernaut, mightier because of the memory of that singing 24 to 0 setback handed them by Villanova last year and egged on by visions of the Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl, whose shadows are discernible over the nest of the most powerful Owl ever to perch on the dome of the Broad Street institution, will trot to their respective places at 2:00 P. M., and line up against the weakest Villanova team to face them during the tenure of their rivalry.

This Villanova eleven, which in the past two weeks has marched merrily on its way to the Temple encounter with a pair of triumphs over South Carolina University and Manhattan College, will play the part of the full-fledged underdog.

Unheard of Before

The same Villanova eleven, whose backs just last Saturday boomed holes in a highly touted Jasper forward wall, knocked off much yardage on off tackle plays and end runs, then as a diversion took to the air and soared over the heads of Meehan's men to half a dozen touchdowns, will more a rival for the third time this year that is a pre-game favorite.

The dynamic backs of Pop War-

Continued on Page Five

Student Opinions On Game's Outcome Favor 'Cat Gridmen

Thomas Fitzpatrick—Senior Engineer.

"I think we're going to be beaten rather badly, because we haven't played teams of the calibre of Temple's opponents. Comparative records are also very discouraging."

William Doyle—Senior Arts.

"I have great confidence in the belief that our Villanova team will beat Temple regardless of the previous records of the teams."

Thomas Hughes—Senior Business.

"The usual psychology will be present, whereby Temple will fear Villanova as in former years. This will be a great factor in bringing victory to the Wildcats."

David Shapiro—Senior Science.

"If Villanova scores the first touchdown, we will win, because the morale of the team will not stand to lose if once in the lead."

Charles Kain—Junior Engineer.

"I think that Temple is going to win, but not by a big score, for Villanova always plays their best game against the Owls, so that previous records do not mean anything."

Continued on Page Eight

Quickest Routes to Temple Stadium By Both Automobile and Street Car

Below, are given the best routes both by automobile and street-car, to get to Temple Stadium, Vernon Road and City Line, Phila. These routes have been compiled by the VILLANOVAN, for those who are not familiar with the streets of the Quaker City.

By machine:

For those who will leave for the game from the central part of the city, two routes may be taken. The more direct route, if taken, is to proceed north on Broad Street to its end, then turn left to Cheltenham Ave., continue on Cheltenham Ave., to Vernon Road, and the parking ground adjacent to the Stadium. Another route may be taken, which though longer can be covered in less time. Go out the Parkway to the East River Drive, in Fairmount Park, then continue on the Drive, to the Wissahickon Drive (joins East River Drive at Ridge Ave., and City Line). Continue to the Lincoln Drive, to dead end and turn right to Germantown Ave., double car-tracks, bear right again, and at the first traffic light, turn left (Mt. Airy Ave.), then follow till you come to the Stadium.

The latter route is suggested as being the most desirable, for the reason that the heavy traffic encountered on Broad Street, is avoided.

Those from South Philadelphia, will proceed north on Broad Street to City Hall, and then take their choice of ways marked out above.

From West Philadelphia, the route as suggested, is over Girard Avenue, cross the Schuylkill River Bridge and at the first semaphore signal turn left down the hill, and at the bottom bear to the right. From that point, follow the route marked out above, concerning the Wissahickon Drive, etc.

For the students and the other followers of the team, use Montgomery Ave., to City Line Ave., then bear left and continue on City Line till Ridge Ave. (double car-tracks) is reached. From there

Continued on Page Eight

VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35.....Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35.....Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35.....College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35.....Sports Editor
JOHN C. DiJOSEPH, '36.....Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35.....Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35.....Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35.....Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35.....Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35.....Art and Photographic Editor

Associates to the College Staff

Lawrence J. Doherty, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
James W. Keeley, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35
Edmond C. Malhame, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marcouse, '35 — Anthony Catrambone, '36
Harold J. Keating, '35 — William J. Allen, '35
Norton C. Paden, '37

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Differ, '37
George Fanning, '37 — Louis D'Angelo, '35
Harvey Davis, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Richard Kelly, '38 — John Scalera, '34
Basil W. Dobrowolski, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Assistant to the Business Staff
Wm. B. Cleary

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN

Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

FRIDAY - - - NOVEMBER 23, 1934

THE ALUMNI FOOTBALL BANQUET

IN A LITTLE less than three weeks the Villanova Club of Philadelphia will hold its annual football banquet in one of the spacious and ornate rooms of the Penn Athletic Club, on Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia. This affair has now assumed a traditional importance among Villanova men, and even outside followers of Wildcat teams have attended in large numbers. This is testimony of the enjoyable nature of these events in the past. The coming dinner promises to exceed in attraction all previous affairs. Not only are those in charge working to exceed in attraction all previous affairs. Not only are those in charge working diligently to insure a successful outcome, but the happy combination of two important anniversaries in Villanova's football history should bring about the largest gathering ever present at the Philadelphia Club's event. We refer to the fact that this present team is the fortieth outfit to carry the Blue and White colors on the gridiron and this is the tenth year of Harry Stuhldreher's reign as coach. We think it appropriate, therefore, that for these reasons alone, as many students as possible should attend the banquet. We believe it would be the best way of showing the esteem in which we hold our team and coach by having a representative number of students present at the affair. This should not be very difficult, for in regard to the financial tax involved, there is a special rate for students.

HELP BEAT TEMPLE

TONIGHT the pre-Temple game celebration will be opened by the mammoth pep rally to be held in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance Building under the direction of Student Council. This affair, which is scheduled to start at 7:45 P. M., will be one of the greatest rallies ever held at Villanova for an athletic event. Prominent men from the athletic and newspaper world have been engaged to speak in order to assist in arousing the enthusiasm of the student body and the spirit of the team for this important game with the Owls. Such enthusiasm and spirit are necessary, for never before in the 'Cat-Owl series have the wearers of the Blue and White been given less of a chance to win. Following the indoor celebration, there will be the gigantic traditional bonfire. Every student should make it a point to be present at these pep producers in order to do his bit in showing the members of the team that they have the united support and confidence of the entire student body. Otherwise the rally will fail to accomplish the purpose for which it is being held to humble the mighty Temple outfit.

Following the rally, the Villanova Engineers will hold their annual Owl Hop which has become a traditional feature of the Villanova-Temple feud. This dance is always a successful and enjoyable affair, and furnishes an ideal means of completing an evening of enthusiasm and celebration.

Learn These Cheers

SONGS

ALMA MATER
By Al Dubin and Joseph Burke
Villanovva College Anthem

1

When the twilight shadows gather
Out upon the Campus green,
When the blue and purple night,
Comes stealing on the scene
Loyal sons of Villanova
Sing a hymn of praise
To our dear old ALMA MATER
And our College days.

2

Villanova, Villanova
When we leave our shelt'ring walls,
We shall leave an echo ringing
Through your treasured halls
We will leave an echo ringing
In the silent night
While our memories are singing
Of the Blue and White.

3

When the last big game is over
And the last roll call is heard
When the oldest pedagogue
Has had his final word
We shall come to ALMA MATER
In our dreams again
With a prayer for Villanova
And a sweet amen.

THE MARCH OF THE WILDCATS
By Carmen Giordano, '36

March, you Wildcat—march right on,
We are out to win the day.
We'll march straight through to victory
So onward let us go—Rah! Rah!

Let us fight, fight, fight, fight
Villanovans one and all,
Join to sing a praise to ALMA MATER
Hail, Blue and White.

HAIL, VILLANOVA!
Frank A. Schimpf, Jr., '14
Timothy Spillane, '13

Villanova, dear White and Blue
With loyal hearts we sing thy praise
We'll all be true;
Alma Mater, thy magic name,
Spurs us on with a courage new
Guiding us in what e'er we do,
Enduring be thy fame.

Chorus

Hail, all to Villanova
Hurrah for the White and Blue
Cheer, boys, cheer the flag that waves
Glorious in our view,
Come and join in a resounding
Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!
We'll all be true to Villanova
And the old White and Blue. Hurrah!

CHEERS

RAH! RAH! LOCOMOTIVE

(Very slowly) Rah-Rah-Rah-Rah Vil-La-No-Va Yea, Team
(Slowly) Rah-Rah-Rah-Rah Vil-La-No-Va Yea Team Fight
(Little Faster) Rah-Rah-Rah-Rah Vil-La-No-Va, Yea Team Fight-Fight-Fight-Fight
Fight (drawn out)
Team Fight (quickly).

INDIVIDUAL YELL
Rah-Rah (player's name)

TOUCHDOWN YELL
Yea (player's name)
Touchdown-Touchdown-Touchdown!
Yea- Touchdown!

CHEERS

LONG CHEER
Villanova (drawn out)
Villanova (drawn out)
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!
Rah! Rah! Rah! Rah!
Villanova (drawn out)
Yea Team

WILDCAT YELL
Yeow(drawnout)—Wildcats
Fight—Fight—Fight

RAH—TEAM—RAH
(Very slowly) V-I-L-L-A-Rah-Rah-Rah
(Slowly) N-O-V-A-Rah-Rah-Rah
(Little Faster) Vil-la-No-va
(Quickly) Rah Team Rah.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

ALL eyes are for the sports pages in this pre-Temple game edition. Small interest this column has on the eve of the classic of the year, the Villanova-Temple football game. Who tonight cares what so and so did or did not do? There is just one concern and that is the beating of Temple on the morrow. That our team can and will accomplish this newspaper upset there is no doubt. Best of luck, you Wildcats!

Lanky Bill Sweeney, performing one of the corporal works of mercy in visiting Ed Sullivan at the Bryn Mawr Hospital, had brought with him a radio to help Ed in whiling away dull hours. Accosting an interne, Bill disclosed the purpose of his visit—to see Ed Sullivan. The interne with a significant glance at the radio in Bill's arms, and unmindful that he had not assured the addressor that he could "see" Sullivan queried, "D.C. or A.C.?" Now Bill is not an electrical engineer and wouldn't be expected to know about the flow of current. So there is some excuse for his reply of "No, I just want to 'see' Ed Sullivan."

The Merry Go Round program, which offers the very best in dance records, daily on WDAS, is a popular one with the students. To this station one may send friendly letters telling just how much he enjoys the hour, giving a short history of himself and requesting that a favorite record be played. Like all good things it sometimes is taken advantage of. Why only last week on this hour a letter was read over the air which told of its author's desire to hear a Bing Crosby number and how the same person had scored twice against South Carolina. This, in the vernacular, was a "rosie." How Nick Kotys must have blushed to hear the announcer in a fatherly tone tell what great pleasure it would have given him to view the spectacle and then going on to say, "and here, Nick, is your Bing Crosby record."

Reflex action affects us in many strange and somewhat varied ways. The sight of vermin to some people results in a shudder. Others go into a cold shiver on hearing a scraping sound. Still others have a wave of nausea on viewing blood. Then, there is Dan Fitzpatrick of the 150 lb. football team, who automatically goes into a limp at the beginning of that team's season. This peculiar reflex is so pronounced with Dan that as a consequence he is called "gimpy." Since it is a reflex action, being unconsciously executed, Dan is not to be held responsible—this is plain from physiology. But all sciences have their skeptics. In this case, there is Louie Daoud, who maintains that the limp is an act plotted, directed and enacted by Dan himself.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

LO and behold! what now? A co-ed has applied for membership in the University of Minnesota boxing class—and after careful thought the coach decided that he would offer a "brawn" course for women if enough of them desired it. Maybe Coach Foley can introduce a boxing course at Rosemont College in an effort to instruct these timid co-eds the art of manly defense. The art of throwing rolling pins, will be offered at a certain unknown college to all the fair ones who voice dissention in pugilistic art.

• • •

"Catch the Rat and receive a free ticket to the Military Ball," is what the committee in charge of this function at the University of Minnesota are telling the student ed to attach dance tickets to the body. The committee have purposenecks of five white mice which will be released at strategic points on the campus. Pet shops in the vicinity rented many trained cats.

• • •

A student union grill room has been opened at McGill University, Montreal, where men and women may gather for dancing whenever they desire. "Stag" parties have been planned for special occasions. Louie should try this in his Pie Shoppe sometime when it is visiting day.

• • •

Although many college boys still remain Republicans, it seems that the Democrats have converted more than a few collegians. The Republican Party was formed on the campus of Ripon College in Wisconsin 80 years ago.

• • •

Maybe she was just an absentminded blond? At the University of Utah a sweet young co-ed tripped lightly up to the library desk and asked for a book entitled "Horses' Oats." After quite a delay and much discussion, it was determined that the young lady wanted "Horace's Odes."

• • •

Now we cite one about an absent-minded professor. A faculty member at Franklin and Marshall reported the theft of his car to the local police when he failed to locate his automobile after an eleven o'clock lecture. A check up showed that he had walked to class that morning. Well! what more would you expect.

• • •

The Arkansas State College "Herald" contributes this bit of news. There are now over 400 bicycles at Smith College, Northampton, Mass. They have become such a menace that the student government association is forming special traffic rules.

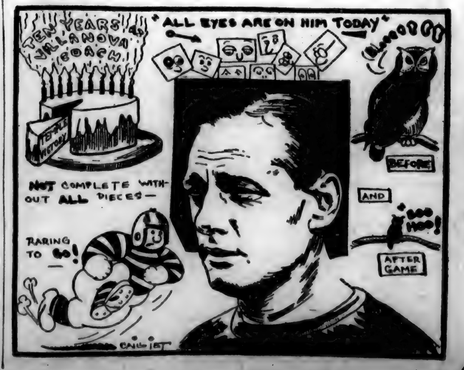
• • •

Xavier University, Louisiana, is the only Negro Catholic university in the United States. A record enrollment is reported this term, the largest in the history of the school. Among the departments of the university is a School of Negro Hierotdy, inaugurated last year.

• • •

Maybe Jo-Jo knows this one. The names, addresses and telephone numbers of all Co-ed Frosh at Pitt can be bought for 10 cents.

Campus Celebs - - - - By Cailliet



As We See It . . . . Good Humor

By HARRY PARKIN

THERE are few characteristics that so readily recommend a man to the attention of his fellows as does good humor, for it sets him aside as a person of wit and understanding—a person who is neither given to a cynical condemnation of the foibles of humanity, nor to gross and vulgar jibes upon the misfortunes of his associates. He is a sought after and inestimable adjunct to any social gathering, for he can always stand a witticism at his own expense as well as turn the barb of ridicule away from his own person by joining in the merriment—he is usually the individual who glosses over the banalities of someone else, or takes the sting from an inapt remark by some well turned phrase. In general he laughs rarely so hard as when he laughs at himself.

We are, unfortunately, not born into the world with a supply of good humor, which, if properly husbanded, will be sufficient to carry us through life without any further additions to it; but we must, on the contrary, so guide and study our humors that we will ultimately gain complete mastery over them. For no man has yet acquired a sense of humor who has not delved down into the recesses of his own nature and brought forth from their entrenchments all of his fostered foibles, passionate follies and habitual absurdities, which by custom he has come to consider as peculiar to himself and paraded them like Chaucer's Canterbury Pilgrims in procession along the high road of his own criticism.

Although every age has its own particular affectations and unaccountable perversities, the one folly that seems common to all ages is that of egotism, and it is a never ending source of surprise that men will so diligently continue in this character, in spite of the satires and lampoons that have been heaped upon it since men have learned to write. But there is nothing so conducive to its eradication in an individual as his realization of its absurdity. For no one can long continue an egotist who has learned to consider his own frailties as a source for amusement.

Throughout life it is the petty and seemingly inconsequential vexations that try a man's spirit to the point of breaking; because the major problems, once the shock of their arrival has been withstood, can usually be tolerated by the cultivation of a sort of Jobian stoicism. But it is the constant and recurrent frustration of our desires in the smaller things that gradually piles up against the flood gates of our mental composure until the pressure, becoming too great, they finally burst through our resistance and drive our whole nervous system berserk. So that the man who cultivates good humor until it has become such an intimate part of his nature that fate for all her ironical gestures cannot disturb the even tenor of his disposition, except, perhaps, to provoke him to laughter at her whimsicalities, will be best able to cope with the misfortunes to which man seems so peculiarly to be heir.

Some astute individual has said that man struggled long and laboriously through the miasmatic swamps of animalism until he finally learned to laugh, and then he became akin to the gods. This statement cannot be too strongly recommended to the attention of practically everyone, and in particular to those people who are in the habit of making a fetish of all their neurotic dispositions.

Just In Case

By Quintuplets Honeypuss

Having much prospicience, which means foresight, just in case the Villanovas have a job put on them tomorrow, I am very much prepared to offer challenge to the Temples to a post-season (or Posts' Bran) game. It is, perhaps, a trifle whippy but I here now predict that many of my stillwarts will be half-American soon.

By the by, I intend to wage much warfare with Popper Warmer's footballers, such as they be. The team which I am about to offer is composed, contained, and incorporated of the following at their respectful stations.

The line, and what a line, is as this: Inner Tube Kerr, right back; Hot Fudge Malhame, right turn; Cocoapuss Cocheo, right away; Dead Pan Sylvester, scenter; Ding Dong Kapic, left out; Banana Legs Kletkotka, left turn, and Galleghar, left hand. Which, as you can see, is quite a forward wall. Very much dependance is hereby placed Seven Jackasses to prohibit the Temples from gaining more than 50 yards at a time.

The backfield. The pride of Bryn Mawr. The toast of every cup of tea. All-the-way-back, played by Jitter Bug Keeley. A fast punning back and just plain dynamite. Not-quite-all-the-way-back scintillated at by Lunch Room Gordesky. A triple sweat man good in all the compartments of the game. Lamp Post Fittipolidi, plays pretty-far-back; Well known for playing in the C & F building; Quite ripe Tronciletti, of the Marion variety, is stationary at quarter-of-the-way-back.

This contest will be played in the Mendel Hall auditorium!

PICTURES FROM LIFE

The illustration of the Wildcat and the Owl pictured on the front page of this issue was drawn from life by Viro Magro, freshman in the science school.

Penned Thoughts

By Ben Maloney

THE WILDCAT AND THE OWL.

Annually 'bout this time of year,
In weather fair or foul;
The people come from far and near,
To see the Wildcat and the Owl...

Wage a battle fierce and long,
Deadly bitter to the end;
With each showing feelings strong,
It doth spice to the watching lend.

For always the Wildcat and the bird,
Have greatest enemies been;
'Tis the keenest rivalry has e'er occurred,
For neither will give in.

Of six games played there are four,
That the feline hath on his side;
In one he held the lower score,
And in the other the match was tied.

This seventh encounter 'tween these two,
Will bring added joy or sorrow;
Which one shall be happy, which one blue,
We all will know tomorrow.

DIAL-LOG

Walter E. Alessandroni

UNDER normal condition we would mention some new programs that are about to begin their air appearance or some changes that are about to be made but just to be different, this week we will start with a little dirt from here and there in radio circles.

Here we go. Joe Penner's real name is Joseph Pinter but worse yet, Ben Bernie should autograph Benjamin Anselowitz to your dance programs but still worse would be Isadore Lahrheim on theater signs instead of Bert Lahr.

To the young ladies who read this column it will be a disappointment to know that Phil Baker, like Bing Crosby, has taken to wearing a toupe. We are sorry to tell you this if you didn't know that Bing was partially bald.

Connie Boswell is supposed to be the only woman that always sits down when she sings. This includes Helen Morgan too because she sometimes stands up and gives the piano a rest but you can't prove either of these statements by us.

In answer to a lot of inquiries asking whether or not Peter Van Steeden went to Villanova, we can now answer definitely "no."

The announcer on the afternoon programs featuring Chickie Webb and his band is one of the very few on the air that can really drop his formality before the "mike." Most listeners could stand a lot more like him.

Jack Benny, who averages twenty cigars a day never smoked until a few years ago when he impersonated a cigar-totting, debry-hatted detective in a stage play.

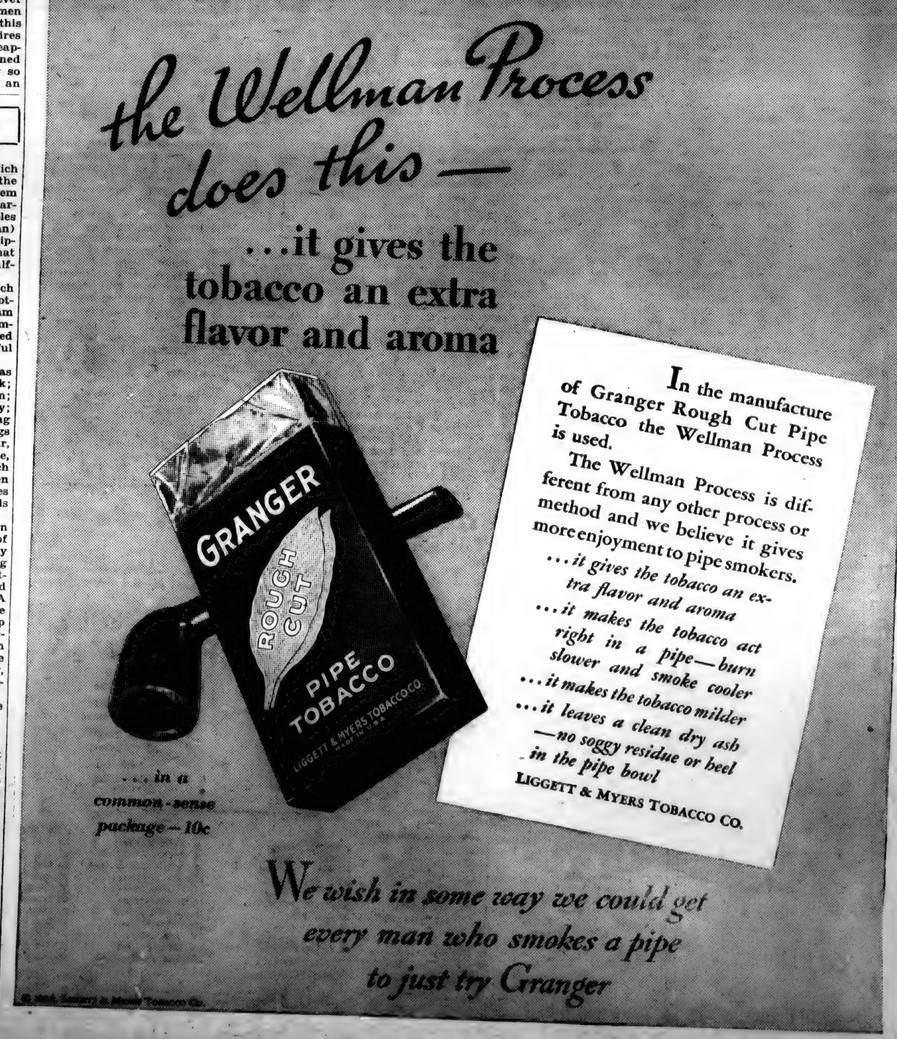
Although Rudy Vallee has not received overwhelming applause on any of his attempts to become a star in the cinema field, nevertheless, we have received information that he is to make a picture in England.

Bob Crosby, discussing the difference between his brother Bing's voice and his own, put it this way, "Listen in tonight and you will see that my voice is much deeper, a lot smoother and doesn't sound half as good."

Casa Loma, Inc., has secured an injunction against Henry Biagini restraining him from billing his band as "Henry Biagini and his Casa Loma Orchestra" and thereby trading on the reputation of Glen Gray's cooperative outfit. Biagini was once with Casa Loma, but left when the going got tough. After this, the boys incorporated and now they share and share alike.

Ethel Barrymore, hailed by many as the First Lady of the American theatre, will make one of her infrequent radio appearances and will star for the first time in a full length air drama in the Lux Radio Theatre on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. She will play the titled role in "Mrs. Daniels Defense."

Chic Sale, famous comedian and vaudeville headliner, will come to the microphone to present a character monologue entitled "He Knew Lincoln" over the NBC-WEAF network Sunday at 10:00 p.m.



VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK BOWLING

Page Four Friday, November 23, 1934

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

THE day for the game of games for the followers of both Villanova and Temple is almost at hand. All we have heard since last Saturday is "I think we will. . ." "it looks bad for us this year. . ." "Warner must have some team up there. . ." and similar expressions of doubt, hope and confidence.

The VILLANOVAN has interviewed the football players and all express the old fight that has always been the big factor in Villanova triumphs over Temple. The rooters can be sure that the players will give all that they have to bring victory. Interviews with coaches present a gloomy outlook as statements from most coaches usually do.

Tonight the student body has its chance to show the players and the coaches that they intend to support them tomorrow. The students don't consider the Villanova team the "under dog" and their spirit will prove that statement tomorrow when they follow the team to Temple stadium. WE HAVE DONE IT BEFORE AND WE CAN DO IT AGAIN, VILLANOVA WILL BEAT TEMPLE TOMORROW.

Season records have meant nothing in the past six games with the Owls and most every Villanova supporter feels that there is no reason for them to be of particular significance now.

The following statements by coaches Jacobs and Regan and Graduate Manager Severance express opinions that are interesting but nothing definite can be learned from any of them.

George "Doc" Jacobs, iron man of the Villanova coaching staff, who lends a guiding hand to the freshman football, varsity basketball, and varsity baseball squads, is eagerly looking forward to the Temple game. When not taken up too much by his coaching activities Doc keeps a weather eye on the activities of the 'Cats' opposing teams. About the outcome of the Temple game, Doc will not state definitely, but he says: "It's going to be a tough game. Temple is haeding for the Rose Bowl, so they say. You can't tell who is going to win until the 60 minutes are over. I feel sure the boys will do their best."

"Temple will meet a fighting and aroused Villanova team this Saturday afternoon. The Wildcats have gone into previous games rated as the underdogs but have emerged victorious. I look for history to repeat itself this weekend," thus stated Alexander G. Severance, graduate manager of athletics, when interviewed this week.

Robert P. Reagan, line coach of the Villanova varsity, expressed his opinion on the outcome of the annual tilt with Temple as follows:

"It's going to be a hard game. If we can hold the score down to 30 points, I'll be satisfied.

"I'm sure the boys will play a good game as long as they can last."

SERIES STANDING

Cats vs. Owls

Villanova		Temple
0	1928	0
15	1929	0
8	1930	7
7	1931	13
7	1932	0
24	1933	0
61		20

Villanova: Won 4, Lost 1, Tied 1.

VILLANOVA SET FOR TEMPLE

FOURTEEN SENIORS ENTER FINAL GAME IN COLLEGE RANKS

Seven First-String Players Are Among Those to Be Lost By Graduation

OUTLOOK FOR '35 IS DIM

Tomorrow's game with Temple University, a contest that has been eagerly awaited by the players and followers of both teams all during this season, will present fourteen of Villanova's stalwart gridders in their final appearance in collegiate football circles.

Captain Bill Grimberg, a scrappy end from Williamsport, Pa., will lead the 'Cats on the field in their greatest game of the year. Despite his serious injury before the Temple game of last year, which kept him out of the last two games, Bill began this season in fine shape. Disappointed in his desire to play against Temple last year, he now is doubly desirous to do his part.

Another departing star is Charley Nowe. "Buster" is a first rate center in every respect, and his fine defensive work has been outstanding in every game this year. This game will conclude three full campaigns for our "Representative" from Washington.

Harry Patzsch and Joe Wiesenbaugh, star full-backs of the Main Line team, will also be among the departing luminaries. Because of a serious hip injury received in one of the early games of the season, Harry was in the line-up but very little until two weeks ago. Joe has been carrying most of the work in that position during Harry's absence where, in the usual order of things, they share the job together.

Don Blanchard, another rock in the 'Cats' forward wall, will also be playing in his final game. He has been an iron-man so far this year, even though somewhat handicapped by injuries. Don enjoys

Continued on Page Eight

Villanova
35	Ursinus	0
0	Western Maryland	0
6	La Salle	13
0	Detroit	0
0	Bucknell	13
0	Boston College	6
20	South Carolina	0
39	Manhattan	0
100	Opponents	32

Temple
34	V. P. I.	0
40	Texas A. and M.	6
6	Indiana	6
28	West Virginia	12
28	Marquette	6
14	Holy Cross	0
34	Carnegie Tech	6
184	Opponents	37

Scribe Thinks It's Temple's Year; Owls Imbued with Rose Bowl Spirit

By PHIL DARROW
Sports Editor, Temple News

A week's rest has put the Temple gridders in the best condition of the season for their annual battle with their traditional rivals, the Villanova Wildcats, tomorrow afternoon at the Owl stadium.

Now the only undefeated major team in the East, the Owls are looking forward eagerly but not too confidently to the fray.

Wary of 'Cats

Several times the Cherry and White had an undefeated team but it remained for the Wildcats to blemish the record and send the Owls' colors dragging in the dust.

However, this year, students and Alumni alike, feel that it is the Temple year. The Warnermen have displayed magnificent football in every one of their games to date, with the exception of the Indiana fray, and will be on edge for the game. But the old "Villanova jinx," which has brought horror to the Temple rooters, still hovers in their midst.

Best Jinxes

But the Owls have conquered most of their jinxes this year and stand ready to battle and conquer this biggest one. They have beaten down the jinx of being unable to win three straight games, they have also won away from home, the first time since Warner assumed the reigns here, and they handed Carnegie Tech the first licking the Tartans have ever received at the hands of a Temple team.

The Cherry and White has a squad of men who are young and do not know what it is to lose. Whereas last year, when a team got the jump on the Owls, it was curtains. This year, however, the Owls are fighters and will be difficult to beat.

Rose Bowl Spirit

At Temple, the students are imbued with the Rose Bowl spirit and the players seem to have caught the fever so the Wildcats can expect plenty of opposition Saturday.

The lineup at this time is uncertain. Lloyd Wise, who has been playing great ball this year, may start at end but it is not definite as he has a bad knee. In case he does not start, Jim Baker, a sophomore, will take his place.

Who will start at the other end is a toss up. Joe Zanin and Elmer Anderson, a couple of veterans; and Army Ippolito, a fast-traveling sophomore, are the candidates for this job.

Russell and Zukas Start

Jim Russell and Johnny Zukas, two veterans of last year's battle, are sure starters at tackle with sophomore Bill Docherty sure to see some action.

Johnny Boyd at one guard post and Frank Schaeffer or Stan Gurzynski at the other should give the Villanova guards a very busy afternoon. Boyd one of the iron men of the squad, having played the entire Marquette and Holy Cross games with a broken toe.

Stevens at Pivot

Captain Pete "Skipper" Stevens will be at the pivot post. Pete is the inspiration of the team and without him the squad would be practically a chicken without a head.

Dave Smukler, the power-crashing fullback, has the fullback position clinched. Smukler is only a sophomore and already has gained considerable attention throughout the country for his ability to punt, pass and carry the ball.

'CATS UNDERDOGS AGAINST TEMPLE IN ANNUAL GAME

Continued From Page One

ner's warriors, employing such subterfuges as laterals, double laterals, reverses, double reverses, spinners and deceptive forwards, will pit their skill against a Villanova band whose only claim to fame this season has been their ability to take it, and dishing it out when the going was toughest.

Smuckler Threat

The Temple Tornado, the Broad Street Back-buster, Dynamite Dave Smuckler "the man who will make Warner forget Nevers," will be the center of attraction for the majority of fans. To the select few, who understand their football, hiding in the overshadowing bulk of the mighty Smuckler, is Warner's ace in the hole.

Horace Mowrey, the mercury footed zephyr, is the lad most likely to spell defeat for the Villanova cohorts. Not since the days of our own swivel-hipped speed merchant, Whitey Randour, who galloped hither, thither and over the opposing goal lines to bring fame to himself and his mates, will addicts of the Villanova-Temple feuds see such lithe grace as exhibited by the flashy Temple back.

Mowery Dangerous

Pushed into the background by the deeds of Smuckler, Mowrey is considered by many to be the spear-head of the Cherry and White attack. One-hundred and sixty-seven pounds of agility, the Spring City youth is serving his first year on the varsity.

Undoubtedly, Smuckler is the salient feature of Warner's attack. The titanic fullback handles the ball on almost every play, and from him proceeds the deceptiveness of the Temple ball-toters. From Smuckler comes the unexpected and to Smuckler goes the glory, which the Gloversville, N. Y. boy undoubtedly deserves.

Probable Lineup for the Seventh Annual Villanova-Temple Classic

TEMPLE		VILLANOVA
	Left End 34—Wise	Right End 45—Grimberg Captain
	Left Tackle 22—Russell	Right Tackle 33—Cox
Left Half 26—Mowrey	Left Guard 3—Boyd	Right Guard 35—Lee
	Center 27—Stevens Captain	Center 37—Nowe
Fullback 29—Smuckler / Quarterback 4—Frey	Right Guard 23—Schaefer	Left Guard 42—Blanchard
Right Half 36—Testa	Right Tackle 37—Zukas	Left Tackle 13—Michaels
	Right End 35—Zanin	Left End 19—Sala
		Right Half 21—Wetzler
		Quarterback 6—Christopher / Fullback 24—Patzsch
		Left Half 11—Kotys

Temple Squad

1 Elmer Anderson	15 Joseph Egan	27 Peter Stevens
2 James Baker	16 Stanley Gurzynski	28 John Stenik
3 John Boyd	17 George Paul	29 David Smukler
4 Glenn Frey	18 Amedio Ippolito	30 Daniel Testa
6 Chas. Kemmerer	19 Edward Kus	31 Edwin Walker
7 William Davidson	20 Maurice Liston	32 Robert Young
8 John Konopka	21 Chester Messervey	34 Don Watts
9 Richard Landis	22 James Russell	34 Lloyd Wise
10 Wilfred Bongsderff	23 Frank Schaefer	35 Joseph Zanin
11 Roy Lorenz	24 Thomas Miller	36 Harry Zastrow
12 Ellis Martin	25 Edward Montgomery	37 John Zukas
14 William Docherty	26 Horace Mowrey	38 John Hartman

Villanova Squad

3 Frank Foster	26 George Fox	44 Carroll Cook
6 William Christopher	27 John Goggin	45 Wm. Grimberg
10 Joseph Wiesenbaugh	29 Walter Korchinski	46 John Stiles
11 Nicholas Kotys	31 Stanley Galazin	49 John Johnson
13 Edward Michaels	33 Charles Cox	52 Paul Loughlin
14 George Wrona	36 Bernard Lee	60 Cyril McFadden
16 Edward Deasy	37 Charles Nowe	61 Edward McDevitt
19 Anthony Sala	40 Milan Vidnovic	62 James Walsh
21 Frank Wetzler	41 Richard Emmerling	63 John Higgins
24 Harry Patzsch	42 Don Blanchard
28 Charles Jakovitch	43 Edward Sullivan

'Cat and Owl Warriors Who Battle Tomorrow

VILLANOVAN

FOOTBALL SWIMMING TRACK BOWLING

Page Four — Friday, November 23, 1934

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

THE day for the game of games for the followers of both Villanova and Temple is almost at hand. All we have heard since last Saturday is "I think we will. . .," "it looks bad for us this year. . .," "Warner must have some team up there. . ." and similar expressions of doubt, hope and confidence.

The VILLANOVAN has interviewed the football players and all express the old fight that has always been the big factor in Villanova triumphs over Temple. The rooters can be sure that the players will give all that they have to bring victory. Interviews with coaches present a gloomy outlook as statements from most coaches usually do.

Tonight the student body has its chance to show the players and the coaches that they intend to support them tomorrow. The students don't consider the Villanova team the "under dog" and their spirit will prove that statement tomorrow when they follow the team to Temple stadium. WE HAVE DONE IT BEFORE AND WE CAN DO IT AGAIN, VILLANOVA WILL BEAT TEMPLE TOMORROW.

Season records have meant nothing in the past six games with the Owls and most every Villanova supporter feels that there is no reason for them to be of particular significance now.

The following statements by coaches Jacobs and Regan and Graduate Manager Severance express opinions that are interesting but nothing definite can be learned from any of them.

George "Doc" Jacobs, iron man of the Villanova coaching staff, who lends a guiding hand to the freshman football, varsity basketball, and varsity baseball squads, is eagerly looking forward to the Temple game. When not taken up too much by his coaching activities Doc keeps a weather eye on the activities of the 'Cats' opposing team. About the outcome of the Temple game, Doc will not state definitely, but he says: "It's going to be a tough game. Temple is heading for the Rose Bowl, so they say. You can't tell who is going to win until the 60 minutes are over. I feel sure the boys will do their best."

"Temple will meet a fighting and aroused Villanova team this Saturday afternoon. The Wildcats have gone into previous games rated as the underdogs but have emerged victorious. I look for history to repeat itself this weekend," thus stated Alexander G. Severance, graduate manager of athletics, when interviewed this week.

Robert P. Regan, line coach of the Villanova varsity, expressed his opinion on the outcome of the annual tilt with Temple as follows:

"It's going to be a hard game. If we can hold the score down to 30 points, I'll be satisfied.

"I'm sure the boys will play a good game as long as they can last."

SERIES STANDING

Cats vs. Owls

Villanova		Temple
0	1928	0
15	1929	0
8	1930	7
7	1931	13
7	1932	0
21	1933	0
61		20

Villanova Won 4, Lost 1, Tied 1.

VILLANOVA SET FOR TEMPLE

FOURTEEN SENIORS ENTER FINAL GAME IN COLLEGE RANKS

Seven First-String Players Are Among Those to Be Lost By Graduation

OUTLOOK FOR '35 IS DIM

Tomorrow's game with Temple University, a contest that has been eagerly awaited by the players and followers of both teams all during this season, will present fourteen of Villanova's stalwart gridders in their final appearance in collegiate football circles.

Captain Bill Grimberg, a scrappy end from Williamsport, Pa., will lead the 'Cats on the field in their greatest game of the year. Despite his serious injury before the Temple game of last year, which kept him out of the last two games, Bill began this season in fine shape. Disappointed in his desire to play against Temple last year, he now is doubly desirous to do his part.

Another departing star is Charley Nowe. "Buster" is a first rate center in every respect, and his fine defensive work has been outstanding in every game this year. This game will conclude three full campaigns for our "Representative" from Washington.

Harry Patzsch and Joe Wiesenbaugh, star full-backs of the Main Line team, will also be among the departing luminaries. Because of a serious hip injury received in one of the early games of the season, Harry was in the line-up but very little until two weeks ago. Joe has been carrying most of the work in that position during Harry's absence where, in the usual order of things, they share the job together.

Don Blanchard, another rock in the 'Cats' forward wall, will also be playing in his final game. He has been an iron-man so far this year, even though somewhat handicapped by injuries. Don enjoys

Continued on Page Eight

Villanova		Temple
35	Ursinus	34	V. P. I.
0	Western Maryland	40	Texas A. and M.
6	La Salle	6	Indiana
0	Detroit	28	West Virginia
0	Bucknell	28	Marquette
0	Boston College	14	Holy Cross
20	South Carolina	34	Carnegie Tech
39	Manhattan
100	Opponents	184	Opponents
		0
		6
		6
		12
		6
		0
		6
		37

Scribe Thinks It's Temple's Year; Owls Imbued with Rose Bowl Spirit

By PHIL DARROW
Sports Editor, Temple News

A week's rest has put the Temple gridders in the best condition of the season for their annual battle with their traditional rivals, the Villanova Wildcats, tomorrow afternoon at the Owl stadium.

Now the only undefeated major team in the East, the Owls are looking forward eagerly but not too confidently to the fray.

Wary of 'Cats

Several times the Cherry and White had an undefeated team but it remained for the Wildcats to blemish the record and send the C wls' colors dragging in the dust.

However, this year, students and Alumni alike, feel that it is the Temple year. The Warnermen have displayed magnificent football in every one of their games to date, with the exception of the Indiana fray, and will be on edge for the game. But the old "Villanova jinx," which has brought horror to the Temple rooters, still hovers in their midst.

Best Jinxes

But the Owls have conquered most of their jinxes this year and stand ready to battle and conquer this biggest one. They have beaten down the jinx of being unable to win three straight games, they have also won away from home, the first time since Warner assumed the reigns here, and they handed Carnegie Tech the first licking the Tartans have ever received at the hands of a Temple team.

The Cherry and White has a squad of men who are young and do not know what it is to lose. Whereas last year, when a team got the jump on the Owls, it was curtains. This year, however, the Owls are fighters and will be difficult to beat.

Rose Bowl Spirit

At Temple, the students are imbued with the Rose Bowl spirit and the players seem to have caught the fever so the Wildcats can expect plenty of opposition Saturday.

The lineup at this time is uncertain. Lloyd Wise, who has been playing great ball this year, may start at end but it is not definite as he has a bad knee. In case he does not start, Jim Baker, a sophomore, will take his place.

Who will start at the other end is a toss up. Joe Zanin and Elmer Anderson, a couple of veterans; and Army Ippolito, a fast-traveling sophomore, are the candidates for this job.

Russell and Zukas Start

Jim Russell and Johnny Zukas, two veterans of last year's battle, are sure starters at tackle with sophomore Bill Docherty sure to see some action.

Johnny Boyd at one guard post and Frank Schaeffer or Stan Gurzynski at the other should give the Villanova guards a very busy afternoon. Boyd one of the iron men of the squad, having played the entire Marquette and Holy Cross games with a broken toe.

Stevens at Pivot

Captain Pete "Skipper" Stevens will be at the pivot post. Pete is the inspiration of the team and without him the squad would be practically a chicken without a head.

Dave Smukler, the power-crashing fullback, has the fullback position clinched. Smukler is only a sophomore and already has gained considerable attention throughout the country for his ability to punt, pass and carry the ball.

'CATS UNDERDOGS AGAINST TEMPLE IN ANNUAL GAME

Continued From Page One

ner's warriors, employing such subterfuges as laterals, double laterals, reverses, double reverses, spinners and deceptive forwards, will pit their skill against a Villanova band whose only claim to fame this season has been their ability to take it, and dishing it out when the going was toughest.

Smuckler Threat

The Temple Tornado, the Broad Street Back-buster, Dynamite Dave Smuckler "the man who will make Warner forget Nevers," will be the center of attraction for the majority of fans. To the select few, who understand their football, hiding in the overshadowing bulk of the mighty Smuckler, is Warner's ace in the hole.

Horace Mowrey, the mercury footed zephyr, is the lad most likely to spell defeat for the Villanova cohorts. Not since the days of our own swivel-hipped speed merchant, Whitey Randour, who galloped hither, thither and over the opposing goal lines to bring fame to himself and his mates, will addicts of the Villanova-Temple feuds see such lithe grace as exhibited by the flashy Temple back.

Mowery Dangerous

Pushed into the background by the deeds of Smuckler, Mowrey is considered by many to be the spear-head of the Cherry and White attack. One-hundred and sixty-seven pounds of agility, the Spring City youth is serving his first year on the varsity.

Undoubtedly, Smuckler is the salient feature of Warner's attack. The titanic fullback handles the ball on almost every play, and from him proceeds the deceptiveness of the Temple ball-toters. From Smuckler comes the unexpected and to Smuckler goes the glory, which the Gloversville, N. Y. boy undoubtedly deserves.

Probable Lineup for the Seventh Annual Villanova-Temple Classic

TEMPLE		VILLANOVA
	Left End — 34—Wise	Right End — 45—Grimberg, Captain
	Left Tackle — 22—Russell	Right Tackle — 33—Cox
	Left Guard — 3—Boyd	Right Guard — 35—Lee
	Center — 27—Stevens, Captain	Center — 37—Nowe
	Right Guard — 23—Schaefer	Left Guard — 42—Blanchard
	Right Tackle — 37—Zukas	Left Tackle — 13—Michaels
	Right End — 35—Zanin	Left End — 19—Sala
Left Half — 26—Mowrey		Right Half — 21—Wetzler
Fullback — 28—Smuckler	Quarterback — 4—Frey	Quarterback — 6—Christopher; Fullback — 24—Patzsch
Right Half — 30—Testa		Left Half — 11—Kotys

Temple Squad

1	Elmer Anderson	15	Joseph Egan	27	Peter Stevens
2	James Baker	16	Stanley Gurzynski	28	John Stonik
3	John Boyd	17	George Paul	29	David Smukler
4	Glenn Frey	18	Amedio Ippolito	30	Daniel Testa
6	Chas. Kemmerer	19	Edward Russ	31	Edwin Walker
7	William Davidson	20	Maurice Liston	32	Robert Young
8	John Konopka	21	Chester Messervey	33	Don Watts
9	Richard Landis	22	James Russell	34	Lloyd Wise
10	Wilfred Bongsderff	23	Frank Schaefer	35	Joseph Zanin
11	Roy Lorenz	24	Thomas Miller	36	Harry Zastrow
12	Ellis Martin	25	Edward Montgomery	37	John Zukas
14	William Docherty	26	Horace Mowrey	38	John Hartman

Villanova Squad

3	Frank Foster	26	George Fox	44	Carroll Cook
6	William Christopher	27	John Goggin	45	Wm. Grimberg
10	Joseph Wiesenbaugh	29	Walter Korchinski	46	John Stiles
11	Nicholas Kotys	31	Stanley Galazin	49	John Johnson
12	Edward Michaels	33	Charles Cox	52	Paul Loughlin
14	George Wrona	36	Bernard Lee	60	Cyril McFadden
16	Edward Denny	37	Charles Nowe	61	Edward McDevitt
19	Anthony Sala	40	Milan Vidnovic	62	James Walsh
21	Frank Wetzler	41	Richard Emmerling	63	John Higgins
24	Harry Patzsch	42	Don Blanchard
25	Charles Jabosilich	43	Edward Sullivan

'Cat and Owl Warriors Who Battle Tomorrow

Cat and Owl Stars Ready For Grid Game Tomorrow

Daniel Testa—The best blocking back in the squad. Also an excellent ball carrier, especially in the open field. Was one of the leading ground gainers for the team in 1932 and 1933. Was considered "most valuable back" in 1933 by Pop Warner.

Peter Stevens—Pete is playing another position for the third straight season. He started his sophomore year as a tackle, was shifted to fullback where he finished out the season. He was rated as the regular fullback in '33.

John Zukas—Is playing his third year with the squad. Was a regular last season. Is big, but possesses speed. Has the ability to become an outstanding tackle. Home, Coaldale, Pa.

John Stonik—Was bothered with a leg injury for two seasons and the handicap has prevented his progress. Divided the fullback chores with Stevens, a resident of the same town as Johnny's. Has been shifted to left halfback because of his drive in the open.

John Boyd—Is one of two Philadelphians in the squad. Is short and stumpy, but can pull out of his holes as fast as guard in the squad. Has been an excellent reservist for two seasons and may come into his own this year.

Don Watts—Was regular quarterback last season, his first year of varsity competition. He has been moved to right halfback, where Warner and Charley Winterburn, backfield mentor, believe Watts will show to advantage.

James Russell—Is a product of Peddie Institute, Russell came through with a fine performance last year when he was a sophomore. Fast and shifty, Jimmy also has a large pair of hands.

Frank Schaefer—After a year at end, a post he never played before last season, Schaefer, a Philadelphian, is back at guard, mainly because of his speed which asset Pop Warner demands. Is smart and knows the game. A junior.

Joseph Zanin—Stepped right in last fall and nabbed himself a starting berth at right end. Came through with fine work in nearly every game. Is rugged, hard tackler and can get down under punts.

Glenn Frey—Was the most consistent punter on the squad last season, averaging close to 47 yards for the campaign. Was used at left halfback in '33, but now is back at quarterback.

David Smukler—Was the outstanding player for the freshman team last fall. He displayed ability in every department of backfield play, but his line crashing was best. Is fast and shifty for a big man, is a better-than-average punter and passer. May be held back by inexperience, but is bound to be a star of the first magnitude before long. Also plays basketball. Home, Gloversville, N. Y.

Charles Mahovlich, who has stood out among the best in his first season states about beating Temple, "It's been done before and can be done again."

George Fox, sophomore end, who will play his first game against Temple states, "We have had our share of bad breaks so far."

Bill Christopher, stellar sophomore quarter-back, says, "They can't stop everything."

Eddie Sullivan, rangy tackle of the Wildcat eleven set for his last appearance against the Owls expresses his sentiments, "It's a shame to ruin their record but Villanova needs that victory badly."

Ed Michaels, sensational guard and All American timber, says, "Temple has a fine team but this year, as was the case last year, the Wildcats will win again."

Johnny Goggin, playing in his last contest against the Owls says: "It's my last appearance against Temple, and I hope we carry on our series of wins."

Walt Korchinski, stellar punter who drops back from end to kick, says, "If we're right, we'll win."

Charlie Cox, the wanderin' cowboy who brings grief to offensive ends, comments ambiguously: "Looks like bad news."

Milan Vidnovic, playing in his second Temple game, says: "Villanova will be in the right frame of mind and that means victory."

Don Blanchard doesn't seem to know what's coming, for he merely says, "It's just another game!"

Harry Patzsch, fullback for three years against Temple, and scorer of the deciding tally in the '32 Villanova win over Temple, says: "In 1932, we went over to Temple as underdogs and we came through with a 7-0 win. We beat them last year, and there's no reason why we shouldn't repeat this year, Smukler or no Smukler."

Frank Wetzler, modest and unassuming, says, "I do my talking after the game and not before."

Charley Nowe rambling pivot man remarks, "It's my last game and it's going to be a satisfactory one."

Frank Foster, (the mite who made good) states, "The Owls will only have eleven men on the field so that makes it even."

Joe Weisenbaugh, bullet-like fullback of the 'Cats, declares, "Temple will know they have been in a ball game if we play the brand of football of which we are capable."

Nick Kotys, sensational left halfback getting his first crack at the Owls vouches, "We'll give them PLENTY."

Tony Sala, young sophomore end ventures to say, "Temple has had an undefeated season so far this year but they meet us tomorrow."

Barnie Lee, veteran guard of three seasons and sure fire pace kicker, offers just four little words, "We're going to win."

CAGERS PRACTICE

Frosh Courtmen Hold Initial Workout; Coached by Graduate Manager Severance

The Freshman basketball squad held its initial workout on Monday, Nov. 19. The first year court men this year will be coached by Al Severance, who is also Graduate Manager of Athletics. Among the frosh candidates are many high and prep school stars from all over the East.

The J. V. courtmen have not been called together as yet, but Frank Skaff, now J. V. football coach, intends to post a call shortly after the close of the gridiron campaign. "Bucky" Taylor, star of last year's five is the captain, and he holds high hopes for the success of his team.

Extensive schedules are being arranged for both these teams, but there is nothing definitely known about them yet.

VILLANOVA ROMPS OVER JASPER FOE SCORING AT WILL

Long Runs Aided by Sparkling Team Play Crushes Manhattan Eleven

Spectacular long runs and brilliant team play featured the overwhelming defeat of Manhattan by a revigorized Villanova eleven last Saturday at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn. Almost 15,000 people saw the Wildcats display brilliant offensive drives time and again and pile up 39 points, meanwhile holding the Jasper eleven at bay.

The climax of the scoring plays was a sensational 65-yard sprint by Stiles after he had intercepted a Manhattan forward pass. The other scores were made as the result of a lateral from Kotys to Patzsch from the eleven yard line, a short plunge by Patzsch, a thirty-yard pass from Higgins to Fox and twenty-five and 68-yard runs by Mahovlich.

The Villanova team displayed almost unlimited power in every department of the game. The forward wall played sterling ball from end to end and the backs provided almost flawless interference. At times the Meehan-coached eleven put up stubborn resistance but their performances were not consistent and it was not long before the Wildcats again held complete sway.

In the third period the Stuhldreher-men displayed their most sensational brand of ball and ran up three touchdowns with scarcely two minutes of play separating each score.

The Wildcats scored three of a possible six points after touchdowns. Lee added one and Charley Cox accounted for two.

VILLANOVA (39)		MANHATTAN (0)
Sala	L. E.	Moran
Michaels	L. T.	Buckley
Blanchard	L. G.	Wheeler
Nowe	C.	Gannon
Cox	R. T.	Selck
Lee	R. G.	Murray
Grimberg	R. E.	Loyola
Christopher	Q. B.	Hoysak
Kotys	L. H.	Whalen
Wetzler	R. H.	Barkaus
Patzsch	F. B.	Welch

SCORE BY PERIODS

Villanova	7	13	19	0—39
Manhattan	0	0	0	0—0

Touchdowns—Patzsch 2, Fox, Mahovlich 2, Stiles. Points after touchdowns — Lee (placement), Cox 2 (placements).

Substitutions—Manhattan: Gallagher for Moran, Byrne for Barkaus, Bartell for Wheeler, Wheeler for Murray, Moran for Gallagher, Pike for Selck, Taber for Whalen, Moser for Wheeler, Downey for Byrne, Cryzler for Welch, Murray for Bartell, Selck for Moser, Welch for Cryzler, Barkaus for Downey, Byrne for Barkaus, Bartell for Murray, Downey for Byrne, Whalen for Taber, Cryzler for Hoysak, Moser for Buckley. Villanova: Higgins for Christopher, Foster for Lee, Korchinski for Sala, Vidnovic for Blanchard, Walsh for Kotys, Fox for Grimberg, Wiesenbaugh for Patzsch, Emmerling for Wetzler, Stiles for Higgins, Loughlin for Cox, Galazin for Nowe, Johnson for Michaels, McFadden for Wiesenbaugh, Mahovlich for Walsh, Goggin for Korchinski, Denny for Fox, Cook for Emmerling, Cox for Loughlin, Korchinski for Goggin, Wiesenbaugh for McFadden, Stiles for Christopher, Loughlin for Cox, Denny for Fox, Emmerling for Cook, McFadden for Wiesenbaugh, Higgins for Stiles, Goggin for Korchinski, Walsh for Mahovlich, Nowe for Galazin, McDevitt for Higgins, Wrona for Emmerling, Blanchard for Vidnovic, Galazin for Nowe.

In the Limelight

By JACK GERAGHTY

FLASH: BUS NOWE is sporting a beautiful shiner as a result of a collision with the Manhattan Express last Saturday. This makes the umpteenth time he's been given gratis in four years of Villanova ball.

One stormy night, when the wind was whipping the skirts of the gals 'way up around their ankles, a visitant arrived at the Nowe home on the hilltop of Mollenaur. The hour was 12:20 and the night was cold, being on the 4th of December, which, by the way, is Aunt Mamie's birthday. Only she wasn't born in 1912. The visitant stayed many years, and as the family got used to him around the house, they called him Charley, because he told them that was his name.

The cute little shaver finally started growing a beard, so they gave him a pair of long pants and sent him to high school. First, he went to Westinghouse High where he set himself at tackle. A dramatic situation. The big game with Covina High. The stands filled with screaming millions. The kickoff, Ahhhh! Westinghouse plows through, but where is the sturdy center? Alas, he's curled up under the goal posts with a busted underpinning. "Who'll I put in at center," cries the coach, gnawing his fingernails and spitting out the seeds. Then up and spake a stalwart from the depths of the blanket. Who is this hero? It is Freshman Nowe, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. "I will play at the pivot post for the honor and glory of dear old Westinghouse!" And that, my little cabbages, is how Charles (Bus to you) Nowe became one of the greatest centers to wear the uniform of Villanova.

Then he went to the prep school of the '34 varsity (most of 'em, anyway), Canonsburg High. There he met up with the hero of the school, a person named Patzsch, some other fellow that could placekick pretty well, Bernie Lee, and with those two and Nowe the team was made. With Nowe playing backback, center and tackle; Lee at guard, tackle and end, and Patzsch playing quarterback, fullback and defensive tackle, the team was just about made. Of course, there were a couple of other fellows on the field, but they really didn't matter. They playing together for seven years, all told, and they'll be together for the last Temple game tomorrow.

When Bus and the other two reported for the Frosh team of '31 (Rah, Rah) the center situation was very much overcrowded. Johnny Mahaffey, Bus and a large number of other blokes all had the idea that they were just put in this little green world for the exclusive purpose of playing first string center on the famous Frosh team of '31 (Hats off, boys!) so nobody got a smell at the job. Bus was right up in the backs, though.

Next year, the one lone remainder of the Frosh center army was Mr. Nowe, so he must have been good. Marty Gezzer and Bus alternated at the middle of the thin green line. That year, Temple was gently chastised to the tune of 7-0. Chas. was in it.

Last year, Bus was varsity, first string, big shot center and official iron man of the squad. Temple was ploughed under the sod, way down 24 feet to nothing.

Nineteen thirty-four is Bus' last year in the Blue and White. He's started every game and played 60 minutes of almost every game. He is the most consistent player on the squad, and the individual whose game is the feature of the team. Wish him lotsa luck in the last game of his career.

His intimates call him Peter, but the college calls him swell!

POOL TO CLOSE

The swimming pool will not open tomorrow afternoon because of the playing of the Temple game.

TICKET SALE TO END TODAY

The sale of student tickets for the Temple game ends today at 12 o'clock noon. After that time students must pay full price.

FULL DRESS
...and...
TUXEDOS
Rentals at Reasonable Rates
All Accessories
RENT YOUR FORMAL OUTFIT FROM Neubauer's
1035 WALNUT ST.
Open Evenings by Appointment
PEN. 5533

Pierre's
The Place to Go
DINNERS SERVED IN RESTAURANT
(As Low as 65c)
Dancing BILLY HAYS & His Orchestra
Floor Show Twice Nightly 7 P. M. 11 P. M.
Pierre's
On 69th St.

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

E. Cadwalader
Incorporated
Paints, Glass, and Painters' Supplies
6047 MARKET STREET PHILADELPHIA
Phone SHERwood 1425

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25 and up
Also Real Tailored Suits
Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

ON SALE AT PIE SHOP
Distributor of Products
JOHN MIDDLETON

UPPER DARBY LOAN SOCIETY
LICENSED PAWNBROKERS
Money Loaned on
DIAMONDS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY
AND ALL MERCHANDISE OF VALUE
Highest Prices Paid for Old Gold
Bargains in Diamonds, Watches Jewelry, Luggage, Etc.
UNREDEEMED PLEDGES AT GREAT SAVINGS Weekly Payments Accepted
6034 MARKET ST. Upper Darby Bell. 3119

Joseph A. Hoenig
Alumni Secretary
Editor

ALUMNI NEWS

Villanova College
Alumni Association
108 Mendel Hall

Thru the Years

1934

Joe Peters sends in a new address. Mail will reach him at 427 Washington Avenue, Albany, N. Y.

Joe Bastian, Ambassador at Large for the Class of 1934, is very busy these days organizing an Albany Chapter of the Alumni Association.

Robert Craig is attached to the United States Naval Air Service at Pensacola, Fla. Bob's flying course will keep him busy for two years.

C. Eric Storms is associated with the Wood Aerial Photography Company operating out of Chattanoga, Tenn.

Francis J. McNamara is employed in the testing laboratory of the Sun Oil Company in Philadelphia.

Leo Cordiali and his associate Lou Abbate paid Alma Mater a visit a few weeks ago. Leo is in business with his Dad in Palmer, Mass. Lou is attending Fordham Law School.

Arthur Hart is giving Harvard a real break by his attendance at Law School sessions.

Bob Lehrfeld is learning the gold refining business from the bottom up. He was seen proudly displaying a handful of blisters earned in his father's establishment.

Chase Riley and Bill Conway are both attending St. John's Law School.

Paul V. Barrow is associated with a firm of Consulting Chemists in Philadelphia.

John "Keener" Graham is with the Atlantic Refining Company at Franklin, Pa. His new address is 13th Street, Franklin.

Carl G. Kelly is employed in the auditing department of the Department of Agriculture in the Nation's Capitol. His Washington address is 1401 Columbia Road, N. W., Washington.

Jack Nichols, one of our best correspondents, has a new address in Gotham. Mail will now reach him at 870 W. 181 St.

1933

Joseph Heide is working at Ticonderoga, N. Y. Joe is engaged in unearthing Indian remains at this historic point.

Charles Antonaccio is teaching book-keeping in Lincoln High School, Jersey City.

Emil Reitz, one of Villanova's stellar athletes has been rewarded for his prowess on the field by being appointed Head Coach of the University of Baltimore football team.

John Scuderi is attending the Loyola University Medical School in the Windy City.

James "Brad" Schuyler is a second year man in the medical school at Georgetown University.

Gerald Dolan, Andrew Donnelly, Joseph Galia, Bill Iacobellis and Joseph Kalna are representing Villanova in the Medical School of Temple U.

1932

Al Wagner, Alumni Secretary, is attending Pennsylvania's Graduate School, where he is specializing in Sociological work.

George H. Pickett is with the New York State Highway Department.

Martin L. Gill, Jr., and William Driscoll are back at Alma Mater again this year. Marty is Instructor in English and Bill is instructing in Science and Mathematics. In addition Marty performed all the announcing on the Stadium public address system.

Milton Kellem's orchestra is being featured by the Columbia Broadcasting System from the Du-Pont Grill at Wilmington, Del.

Leonard Crowe's address is 1916 Euclid Avenue, Schenectady, N. Y.

Ralph Lanciano, Harold Libby and Salvador Meshon are enrolled in the Medical School of Temple University.

1931

Art Harkins is becoming a fixture at St. Bonaventure's College. Art is teaching business subjects and also is coaching football and basketball.

"Clete" Gardner is turning out some swell football teams at St. Augustine's High in San Diego, California. His team-mate Tommy Morgan also boasts of an enviable record at St. Cecilia's High in Englewood, N. J.

Joseph J. Morrison and Angelo Papa are enrolled in the School of Law at Georgetown.

Louis Buzaid, Irvan Boucher, Thomas Connelly and Hugh Dougherty are in their last year at Temple Medical School.

STUDENT TICKETS

By special arrangements with the committee in charge of the Annual Reunion and Football Banquet, a limited number of student tickets has been procured. These tickets are specially priced for students in order that they might attend the Testimonial Dinner to Coach Harry A. Stuhldreher. The price to students will be $1.50, a reduction of $.50.

NEW YORKERS HOSTS TO FOOTBALL CROWD

Gay Reunion Held for Rooters After 'Cat-Manhattan Grid Contest

With hundreds of Villanova alumni and rooters in attendance, the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York was the scene for joyous celebration of the "Wildcats" decisive victory over the Manhattan College "Jaspers" last Saturday.

The jubilant rooters began arriving at the hotel at about the same time that New York papers headlined the story of the Villanova victory. By nine o'clock the beautiful Spanish Grill Room of the Vanderbilt was crowded. Alumni were conspicuous at nearly all the tables. Joe Moss and his N. B. C. orchestra provided music for dancing.

In addition, entertainment, as only New Yorkers know it, was furnished the assembled guests. The festivities lasted until nearly two in the morning. Even at that late hour, a goodly number of happy Villanova rooters were still in the festive mood.

The turnout for the affair was due, without a doubt, to the locale. No better hostelry could have been chosen for the affair. The arrangements made by the New York Club have been the subject of discussion for the past week, and all alumni and Villanova rooters have been feverish in their praise of the affair.

Congratulations are due to John J. McDevitt, President of the New York Club and his Committee for their adept handling of the affair. All who attended expressed their thanks to the club for the very pleasant reception accorded them.

1930

Ensign Slayton is the guiding hand of the Villanova Club of Rochester.

Joseph K. Ash of Phoenixville is teaching Accounting, Banking and Secretarial studies at St. Joseph's College, Emmitsburg, Md.

George Hoffbauer is working for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in New York City. George has been married since February 17th, 1934.

Joseph A. Caltagirone is now a full-fledged barrister having successfully passed the Pennsylvania State Bar Examination. Congratulations are in order for Joe.

1929

Bernard J. Owczyowsky, M. D. announces the opening of his office for the practice of medicine in Arnold, Pa.

John A. Freney is a very busy man these days. In addition to his own Real Estate and Steamship business he is also serving on the Grand Jury. John has yet to miss any function that is in any way connected with Villanova.

1928

George J. Mallen, Esq., was elected to the State Legislature by the largest proportional margin of any Republican in Philadelphia. Congratulations are in order for George.

Jack McDevitt is still with the Public Service of New Jersey and is the guiding power of the Villanova Club of New York.

1927

Albert W. Brown, M. D., announces the opening of his office at 51 Penn Boulevard, East Lansdowne, Pa.

J. Francis Yake, Jr., is enrolled at Dickinson College.

1926

J. J. Bartley is associated with M. L. Root, Inc., food brokers of Philadelphia.

1924

Elmer Feldkamp is vocal soloist with Freddy Martin's orchestra, and may be heard Sundays at 5 P. M. over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

1923

William H. Horn has advanced to the Presidency of a Surgical Supply house in Philadelphia.

Joseph Maleady communicated with the office some time ago in reference to the Manhattan game. Joe expressed sorrow at having missed the Detroit game but promised to be on hand for both the Manhattan and Temple tussles.

1922

John J. Burns, M. D., is on the Staff of St. Mary's Hospital in Philadelphia.

Albert D. Breslin promises to be on hand for the Temple game. Who would miss that game Al?

1917

James Malone is Superintendent of Water Works at Lancaster, Pa.

This Month We Honor:

Honorable Charles D. McAvoy

Mr. McAvoy was graduated from Villanova with an A. B. degree in 1898. Continuing his studies he was the recipient of a master's degree in 1901. At this time he left Villanova and embarked upon his chosen career of law, in which profession he has been most successful. His accomplishments in the field of law reflect great credit on Villanova, and the Alumni Association, of which he is president, is justly proud in having such an illustrious man at its helm.

Mr. McAvoy served as United States District Attorney from March, 1920, to July, 1921, in the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. He is a prominent Democrat in both State and National circles. He took an active part in the Democratic National Convention in 1932 and aided considerably in gaining support for the present incumbent of the presidency of the United States. On September 13, 1933, he was appointed by Roosevelt to his former post as United States Attorney. He has held this post under two Democratic Presidents, Wilson and Roosevelt, and is generally believed to be the only man to be so honored. Mr. McAvoy was honored by his Alma Mater in June, 1919, when he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Rochester Club Organizes; Sends Letter to Secretary

The following letter was received from Charlie Kunz, and tells in two paragraphs the story of the newly-organized Villanova Club of Rochester. (New England Alumni Attention).

Dear Joe:

I don't suppose it is a break of etiquette to omit the "Dear Mr. Hoenig," even though we haven't had a formal introduction. So we shall let the salutation go at that. Last winter it was decided by a group of Villanovans to form a local club. All the alumni were polled and found to be in favor of such action. A sausage roast was scheduled for June, and it was here that plans for official organization were made. You know the rest of the story. The Club has been organized and is going strong.

A mid-season Card Party is to be held at the home of Joe Bedard in Pittsford, N. Y. this Saturday evening. (Nov. 17). A very large crowd is expected. Of course the big affair of the year will come off during the Xmas holidays, but there are no definite plans as yet.

I promised to send a little news, so here goes a few items. JOE WINKLER, '31, started work the first of November for the American Can Company in Geneva, N. Y. Things look good for Joe. MR. & MRS. ENSIGN SLAYTON, '30, are now playing Daddy and Mother to a baby girl. No, it's too early to try for a date. Have to wait for eighteen or nineteen years.

TOM BRIEN, '31, was married about the middle of August. The bride's name——MISS FRANCES LAYS.

Well, I think you have a little munch over for the present, so will close with best wishes.

Sincerely,
CHARLIE KUNZ.

Annual Football Dinner Marks Two Anniversaries

PHILADELPHIA CLUB HOST TO PROFESSOR

Rev. John S. O'Leary, O. S. A., Is Guest of Organization At Regular Meeting

On Thursday evening, November 15, the Villanova Club of Philadelphia played host to Rev. John S. O'Leary, O. S. A., faculty member of Villanova College, at its monthly meeting at the Penn A. C. The gathering, preceded by a dinner in the Grill, was well attended. However, the attendance was composed mostly of the older members. Members of the younger classes were in the minority.

Fr. O'Leary, in his talk thanked the Philadelphia Club for the work they are attempting to do in face of seemingly insurmountable difficulties. The fiery orator struck a keynote when he suggested that the talks to be given at subsequent meetings be instructive to the attending members. His theme was built around Conwell's famous speech, "Acres of Diamonds." The analogies drawn by the priest were striking and all who were fortunate enough to hear him left the meeting with what Fr. O'Leary termed an "open mind."

Discuss Banquet Plans

The business of the meeting was concerned solely with the annual football dinner in honor of the gridiron squad. Joseph D. Freney, Chairman of the dinner, disclosed all plans that have been adopted and urged all members to aid in making this year's banquet the best and greatest attended of all previous dinners. A great deal of discussion regarding the patron lists, testimonials and the other strategic components of the dinner of this type was entered in, with Matthew A. Lynch, Edward Casey and the President, Thomas J. McCoy giving valued suggestions.

The meeting was adjourned at approximately 10:30, and all members dispersed to enjoy the many and diversified features of the club's headquarters.

40th Blue and White Team; Tenth Year For Stuhly

TICKETS ARE $2.00

Thursday evening, December 13, at seven o'clock, the annual Football Dinner sponsored by the Villanova Club of Philadelphia, will be held in the Penn Athletic Club in Philadelphia.

Anniversaries are always occasions of celebration. With the advent of this football year there came also two Villanova anniversaries. The nineteen thirty-four football season marks the fortieth year of participation in the great American game by teams carrying the Blue and White of Villanova.

Indeed few colleges in this vicinity can boast of such a record in the sport as that enjoyed by Villanova.

Furthermore, it was just ten years ago that the famed member of the gr[illegible] Four Horsemen backfield of Notre Dame, Harry Stuhldreher, came to Villanova as head coach of football.

Certainly there is no need to stress further the causes of real celebration that are Villanova's at this time. Forty year's activity in football and the ten year's tenure of Coach Stuhldreher are in themselves sufficient.

In order that tribute be properly paid to the anniversaries, the Philadelphia Club was unanimous in its decision to make the 1934 dinner a testimonial to Coach Stuhldreher and his fine team. And it is felt that no other word need be spoken to loyal alumni and students in asking their patronage and attendance at the dinner on the 13th.

For over a month numerous groups have been working under the supervision of Chairman Joseph Freney, '27, in order that nothing may be left undone to make the affair the finest in the history of Villanova. As usual the speakers will be drawn from the ranks of prominent sportsmen and men interested in Villanova. And, as in the past, everyone who attends is sure to enjoy himself to the utmost. Our invitation is extended to everyone and his friends. The price is $2.00 a plate—come one, come all.

Marriages

1931

O'KEEFE—MOTHERSHEAD

Ellen Virginia Mothershead, daughter of Mrs. Garret Lewis Mothershead, to John Augustine O'Keefe, M. D., Friday, October 5, 1934, in the City of Washington.

FLYNN—SCHUENEMAN

Audrey Helen Schueneman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo A. Schueneman, to James P. Flynn, Jr., October 20th, 1934 in Chicago. Mrs. Flynn is a graduate of Rosemont College. Mr. Flynn is employed by the Chicago Board of Trade.

1930

McMANEMIN—ECKSTEIN

Miss Helen Eckstein to Joseph C. McManemin, July 28th, 1934. Mr. McManemin is employed by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

1929

RUDOLPH—HETTRICH

Agnes Cecilia Hettrich, daughter of Mr. Andrew J. Hettrich to William Vincent McKean Rudolph, M. D., August 27th, 1934 at Lansdowne, Pa. The couple are at home at 161 West Plumstead Avenue, Lansdowne.

1911

Horacio G. Arrieta visited Villanova on November 3rd for the first time in over twenty years. Horacio is Head of Inspectors for the Liquor Department of the Republic of Cuba. His two brothers Victor and Armando are also holding responsible positions. Victor '09, is connected with Loew's Theatre in New York, while Armando '30, is Chief of the Baggage Department for Pan-American Airways. Horacio's address is Calle 17-57, entre J y I, Vedado, Havana, Cuba.

1929

THORNTON—DEVINE

Miss Constance Devine to Harry E Thornton, November 10th, 1934, at New Brunswick, N. J.

1927

BARON—OBERHOLZER

Miss Marion Anna Oberholzer, sister of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Oberholzer, to Mr. Augustus Andrew Baron, Jr., Saturday, November 17th, 1934 at Philadelphia, Pa.

1926

ROMBAUT—SCHERER

Miss Gertrude Veronica Scherer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Scherer, to Mr. Paul Bernard Rombaut on November 27th, 1934 at the church of the Immaculate Conception, Rochester, N. Y.

BUCKLEY—PURPLE

Miss Hazel Purple, daughter of Mrs. Ida Purple of Elmira, N. Y., to Frank J. Buckley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Buckley of Williamsett on November 3, 1934 at St. Ann's Church, Elmira. Mr. Buckley is employed by the City of New York Park Commission in the capacity of Civil Engineer.

DEATHS

Michael J. Gallagher, '25, October 17 New York City.

Frank J. Connery, father of Edgar J., '25, October 23, Philadelphia.

Thomas A. Lally, father of Thomas A. Jr., '28, October 15, Jersey City.

John J. Crane, father of Thomas F., '28, November 3, Girardville, Pa.

Engineers Present Colorful Owl Hop

Continued from Page One

a ballroom of beauty and coziness.

The Villanovans, who have played for other college functions, have been rehearsing for the past month and will present their own arrangements of the latest songs, together with the numerous novelties that they have planned, among them the college tunes.

Select Programs

Attractive dance programs have been selected by the committee under the leadership of James Nulty, '35, and numerous other surprises are in store for those who attend.

The dance will be held immediately after the bonfire and with this "Beat Temple" atmosphere the committee expects the dance to live up to its success of former years.

Dancing Longer

This year the social is being held the night before because of the spirit that has been aroused over this important gridiron battle and dancing will be able to continue longer than on a Saturday night.

Tickets have been on sale for the past two weeks and all indications point to a successful affair. The price of a subscription is one dollar and fifty cents and the dress is semi-formal.

Tonight Will Mark Annual Pep Rally

Continued From Page One

a Villanova rally that has not been followed by the team's success.

An innovation to Villanovan rallies will be the torchlight parade, which will be held immediately after the indoor meeting. It will start outside the auditorium and proceed along the winding walks of the campus until it reaches the parking field opposite the gymnasium.

Pyro Technic Display

Under the direction of James Kuehna a veritable galaxy of fireworks will be set off which will illumine the entire country-side. Following the fire-works will be the bonfire, which is expected to exceed in size of any other fire that has been built at a rally. And as the dying embers throw their last fitful flames into the surrounding gloom, the Villanovans will swing into the first number of the traditional Owl Hop.

Quickest Routes By Auto, Trolley

Continued From Page One

follow plan outlined for those who will leave from West Philadelphia, namely Wissahickon and Lincoln Drives, Allens Lane, Germantown Ave., and Mt. Airy Ave., to the scene of the fray.

By street-car:

From City Hall, and South Philadelphia take the Broad St. Subway to Olney Ave., then transfer to Route 6 trolley-car, to the game. (When paying a fare on Broad St. Subway, ask for a transfer, which is to be used on Route 6).

For West Philadelphians, take Market Street Subway Elevated train to the 15th St. station. Get off here, and ascend the stairs and cross to City Hall, then go through the archway and down the stairway marked NORTH. The route to be followed from there is the same as that marked above.

From Villanova, use the Philadelphia and Western to 69th St. Terminal and then follow the way marked for the other routes.

Note:—When paying fare ask for a Broad St. Subway exchange ticket. At time of boarding the subway, hand cashier your exchange and ask for a transfer, to be used on Route 6, which you will get at the northern terminal.

Student Opinions On Game's Outcome Favor 'Cat Gridmen

Continued From Page One

Albert Ryan—Junior Arts.

"I think we will beat them because Villanova has a couple of good ball games left. The breaks have been against us so far, but now the law of averages must play for us."

George Schelle—Junior Business.

"Villanova will very probably beat the Owls, but by a small margin. Man for man, the Wildcats are superior, and team-work as shown in the last few games will be the deciding factor."

Albert E. Welsh—Junior Science.

"Because of the fact that Villanova always plays a superior game against Temple, if Temple does win it will be one of their hardest won victories of the year."

Francis Wixted—Sophomore Science

"I'm afraid we are going to be taken, but hope that it will be reversed. It's between Michaels and Smukler."

John F. Burke—Sophomore Arts.

"Villanova will at least hold Temple. I think it will be a scoreless tie, because of the good showing that we have made in the last three games."

Ted Goumy—Sophomore Business.

"We'll win because we have the fighting spirit to pull us through."

Francis Winterer—Sophomore Engineer.

"When I bet a buck last summer I thought Villanova was going to win. Moreover, we haven't been beaten by more than two touchdowns yet this year, and the team certainly will keep Temple within those bounds."

Thomas Kelly—Freshman Engineer

"If the team plays like it has in the Detroit, South Carolina, and Manhattan games, it has a good chance of beating Temple."

Edward J. Shevlin—Freshman Arts

"I think Villanova has a good chance to win. Because of their performances of past years, they seem to have a jinx on Temple."

Louis Biester—Freshman Business.

"The score will be 13 to 7 in favor of Villanova. The factors in determining that score will be the over-confidence of the Temple team and Stuhldreher's psychology."

James A. Keegan—Freshman Scien James A. Keegan—Freshman Science.

"I hope that we beat them, even against the odds that seem to be opposing us now, such as injuries, etc. However we came through before and if we get a break we will win this game."

Fourteen Seniors Enter Final Game

Continued From Page Five

the distinction of having started every game since he joined the varsity three years ago.

Frank Wetzler and Carroll Cook, both at right-half, will also draw the curtain on brilliant careers. Both of them are Philadelphia boys, and both have been real stars in our gridiron firmament for two seasons.

Jimmy Walsh, another fast-stepping back, who has excelled in safety work and line-cracking, although he has seen but little service thus far in the year it is hoped that his ability will be capitalized on the morrow.

The loss of Barney Lee and Charley Cox from the forward wall will leave two more vacancy worries for Coach Stuhldreher next season. Both are veterans in their respective duties as guard and tackle, and Barney has also distinguished himself by kicking extra points.

John Goggin, Frank Foster, and Paul Loughlin, and Ed. Sullivan, four linemen, will also end their collegiate football careers with this game. Although they may not have starred as brightly as others on the team, they have been good players for three years, and when they enter the lists tomorrow they will be as determined to earn a victory as any others in the squad.

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits and Topcoats

$24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See

JIM ELLIOTT

Room 108, Fedigan Hall

—you might say there are few things that cost so little and give so much

They Satisfy

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 9 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1934 Price: Five Cents

FOREIGN RELATIONS SOCIETY TO SHARE IN CARNEGIE FUND

Endowment Provides Library of Thirty-Five Books On World Affairs

MEMBERSHIP RENEWED IN NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Villanova Chapter to Attend Model League of Nations Annual Parley

The Foreign Relations Society held another short meeting during the latter part of last week, and great progress was reported by Rev. John Fitzmaurice, O. S. A., and the club's temporary secretary, Raphael Martinez-Alvarez.

Among the most important announcements was the reading of a letter of acceptance into the Carnegie endowment fund. This means, in brief, that the organization has reached the top of the ladder, which it has been climbing since its founding several years ago.

Receive Carnegie Aid

The Carnegie endowment fund has been established for the benefit of such organizations as this, and these societies are permitted to draw from this fund their various expenses, incurred in the pursuance of their objectives. In short, the Fund will pay all necessary expenses to the conventions and assemblies of the Model League of Nations, as well as equip the individual society with a large and efficient library of literature on the topics of world court discussion and world affairs.

Books Donated

The Villanova Society has already received about thirty-odd volumes from the Fund and this is within three weeks of its proposal and one week of its entrance into membership. It is understood that from time to time this library will be increased in order that the society may keep itself well posted on the current events of world interest and that its members may find themselves sufficiently well informed on the subjects.

It was unfortunate that the society did not have its proposal for membership in the office of the Fund several weeks earlier, for it was found that acceptance in the Fund was too late to draw an expense allowance for the convention of the Model League of Nations which was held this past week-end at Penn State College.

To Attend Parley

However, a place will be reserved in the Assembly held annually in the spring of each school year. For this assembly, which usually takes

Continued on Page Four

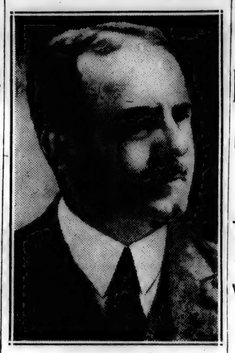
Photography Work On Senior Annual Begun Yesterday

Personal Write-Ups Must Be Returned Immediately By Class of '35

All Seniors are urged to hand in their personal write-ups for the Belle Air immediately. They were originally due on November 15, but a time extension was granted, inasmuch as the majority of the class did not have their write-up blanks completed.

The photography work on the annual began yesterday. A photographer from Zamsky Studio was in the reception room of Mendel Hall to photograph all Seniors. The fee was $1. Those Seniors who had their pictures taken yesterday insured the fulfillment of their orders for extra pictures before Christmas.

COLLEGE TRUSTEE DIES



Courtesy Evening Public Ledger

PHILIP A. HART,

president of the Bryn Mawr Trust Company, who passed away Sunday night at Brier Crest Lodge Hotel, Brier Clift, N. Y., a victim of heart disease. He was for many years prominent in the affairs of Villanova.

PHILIP HART DIES; VILLANOVA TRUSTEE

Prominent Main Line Banker Warmly Praised by President of College

Philip A. Hart, one of the trustees of Villanova College, and president of Bryn Mawr Trust Company, died Sunday night at Brier Crest Lodge Hotel, Brier Clift, N. Y., a victim of heart disease. He was 62.

Received Degree

Mr. Hart, who for many years has been prominently active in the affairs of the college, was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the 1933 commencement exercises. He made his home at 1009 Old Lancaster road, Bryn Mawr.

Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of Villanova, issued a statement to the VILLANOVAN yesterday expressing sorrow at Mr. Hart's passing. He said, "Mr. Philip A. Hart has been a distinguished leader in his community, a most conscientious and conservative banking official, whose guidance has always inspired trust and confidence in the institution over which he presided.

"He has rendered inestimable

Continued on Page Seven

Phi Kappa Pi Fraternity Presents Annual OwlHop; Financial Success

Members of Phi Kappa Pi, engineering fraternity, conducted their annual Owl Hop, in the college gym Friday night and brought to conclusion the mammoth demonstration of pep, staged on the eve of the traditional Temple-Villanova football feud.

It is the opinion of all those who attended the affair, that it was the most colorful of any function which the engineers have presented, to date. All through the four hours that the event was in progress, a feeling of relaxation, after the tension of the previous few hours of the pep rally pervaded the atmosphere.

Music Delights

The Villanovans, campus musical organization, furnished delightful music, to which the gathering of dancers warmly applauded.

The excellence of the musical contributions came as a surprise to many, because of the fact, that in the past the presentations of the organization have been mediocre. This is the result of a revamping of the entire group.

Decorations Gay

The gaily decorated Gym, with its false ceiling, dim lights, and the novel arrangement of the orchestra, all aided in making the affair the success that it was.

From an authoritative source, has come the information that the affair was also a success financially.

This year a precedent was established by presenting this social event on the eve of Villanova's annual gridiron contest. In other years, it has been held after the game.

Committee Members

The committee in charge consisted of James T. Nulty, chairman, Charles McGough, Joseph Costigan, John Hallahan, Thomas Fitzpatrick, Lawrence Shevland, Frank Winterer, Joseph Dunnigan, Joseph Shay and Aloysius Fitzpatrick.

N. C. E. A. COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR REORGANIZING

Presidents of Outstanding Catholic Colleges Invited To Submit Reactions

TO HOLD GROUP PARLEY FRIDAY IN 'SHORE RESORT

Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., Villanova President, Will Preside

(By N. C. W. C.)

Plans of the organization committee of the college department of the N. C. E. A., for the grouping together of Catholic colleges in four regional units, are meeting with an enthusiastic response from the Catholic colleges of the country.

Committee Convenes

This was revealed today by the Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college and chairman of the committee.

The organization committee recently held its first meeting in New York at the Hotel Roosevelt. A constructive plan of reorganization was agreed upon.

The presidents of the Catholic colleges of the country, 150 in all, have been invited to submit their reactions on the regional plan of reorganization. From all sections of the country the chairman of the committee is receiving letters indorsing the regional plan.

Parley Friday

A meeting of the Catholic college representatives in the Eastern region has been called by the chairman of the committee at Atlantic City, Friday, to discuss the preliminary report of the committee. Similar meetings are being planned for the South, the Middle West, and Far West.

In addition to Fr. Stanford, other members of the committee include:

Very Rev. Edward V. Cardinal, C. S. V., president, St. Viator College, Bourbonnais, Ill.; Rev. Wm. F. Cunningham, C. S. C., University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Ind.; Rev. J. T. Dillon, J. D., dean, St. Joseph's College, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Very Rev. Aloysius J. Hogan, S. J., president, Fordham University, New York; Rev. Alcuin Tasch, O. S. B., dean, St. Vincent College, Latrobe, Pa.; Very Rev. Walter C. Tredtin, S. M., president, Dayton University, Dayton, Ohio; Mother Mary Columkille, president, Incarnate Word College, San Antonio, Tex.

Dave Smukler Runs Wild As Temple Triumphs, 22-0

Owls Win Traditional Contest to Take Second Game in Seven-Year Series; Break Three-Year Jinx of Wildcat Gridmen

MICHAELS STAR IN DEFENSIVE PLAY

By HAROLD J. KEATING

In the greatest individual display of football ever witnessed in Temple's concrete crater, Dave Smukler, sophomore battering ram, added a 22 to 0 defeat to Villanova's 1934 football trail Saturday.

Philadelphia's No. 1 football fray became firmly entrenched in the hearts of the football addicts. The Quaker City throng, 40,000 strong, clicked the turnstiles to see these natural rivals oppose one another in a savage fray that brought joy to Owl rooters who have bided their time three years to see the Cherry and White emerge triumphant over Villanova.

It was a valiant band of moleskin warriors that stood face to face with the greatest team to represent the Templars Saturday, and it was a game team that went down to defeat at the hands of one who lived up to all expectations, Dave Smukler.

Smukler, the greatest Owl gridder of all time, towered over his rivals in one of the cleanest displays of modern football ever to grace the Temple gridiron.

Smukler Was On Spot

Put on the spot by advance publicity and the ambush prepared by Stuhldreher's stalwarts, the titantic Temple tornado boomed his way through the forward wall of Villanova's valiant linemen, passed over their heads and crossed the final chalk mark in the second chapter from the 26-yard line and then later added a field goal to bring the score to 9-0, to end the first-half scoring.

Smukler's tally came as the result of a determined drive starting on the Wildcats' 45-yard line and culminating four plays later in Temple's first touchdown since 1931. Dave boomed a hole through the Villanova forward wall for six yards, added five more at center, slipped off end for eight and then circled the opposite end for 26 and a score. His second miss in 16 extra-point attempts left the 'Cats trailing, 6 to 0.

Shortly after, standing on the 'Cats 24-yard line, Dave lifted the pumpkin over the crossbars for three points, bringing the score to 9-0.

Stevens Makes Steal

The first five minutes of the second half spelled defeat for the Villanova cohorts. On the second play of the third quarter Captain Pete Stevens, who had played bang-up ball during the game, stole the pigskin from Nick Kotys, of Villanova, on the visitors 15-yard stripe. The mighty Smukler in two plays made it first down on the Wildcats' 4-yard line, Mowrey added another two and then Watts circled the flank for the second touchdown of the eventful day. Smukler again booted the point for a sixteen point lead.

Continued on Page Five

PHILA. CONCERN TO MAKE JUNIOR RINGS

Third Year Men Assured Of Quality Insignia at Low Cost by Eby Co.

At the last meeting of the ring committee of the Class of '36, it was announced that the contract this year for the Juniors' insignia, had been awarded to the Samuel Earle Eby Company, of Philadelphia.

Well Known

This concern has a wide reputation for the workmanship and quality of their products, and in order to prove the merits of the rings, are willing to have them assayed by the United States Government.

Prices vary, depending upon the content of gold desired. The cost of the ten karat, ten pennweight ring is set at $11.85, and for the ten karat, twelve pennweight ring at $13.75.

Choice of a stone is optional and at extra cost to the purchaser.

For those students who wish to

Continued on Page Seven

Observe Holiday

In keeping with the President's proclamation, classes will not be held Thursday of this week, Thanksgiving Day. Students are reminded by college authorities that all absences incurred on either Wednesday or Friday of this week will count double "cuts" as is customary on the campus on all days before or after holidays. Because Student Council has asked for a longer Christmas holiday vacation, college authorities have found it necessary to hold class Friday.

EPSILON PHI THETA SELECTS OFFICERS

Former President of Society Addresses Arts Group At Mendel Hall Meeting

Definite steps were taken in the reorganization of Epsilon Phi Theta, fraternity of the School of Arts and Philosophy, at a meeting that school during a recent seminar period.

Recalls Activities

At the request of James Walsh, temporary chairman of the gathering, Prof. Martin Gill, '32, a member of the faculty and former president of the fraternity, addressed the group and spoke at length on the activities of the Arts organization in past years. He recalled, in particular, its sponsorship of the boxing bouts which were held in the Stadium on a certain moonlight night in the Spring of each year.

In addition to the College contestants, the Club also featured exhibitions oy professional fighters from the Philadelphia area. The bouts were well attended and this annual athletic program was quite popular with the students. The fraternity was equally as active in many other fields and, since it is the oldest organization of its kind on the campus, Mr. Gill expressed the hope that it would resume its rightful place among the societies of the College.

Urges Enthusiasm

He placed the responsibility for the future success of the club upon the under-classmen and urged all of them to take an active part, reminding them that the failure in the past was due, mainly, to a lack of interest.

At the conclusion of Mr. Gill's most interesting talk, Prof. Joseph T. Jonas suggested that the frater-

Continued on Page Seven

VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the

Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35.....Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35.....Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35.....College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35.....Sports Editor
JOHN C. DIJOSEFH, '36.....Copy Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35.....Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35.....Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35.....Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35.....Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35.....Art and Photographic Editor

Associates to the College Staff

James W. Keeley, '35 — John J. Butler, '35
Edmond C. Maihame, '35 — Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Bihlmeier, '37
Pio Gogg, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
Phillip Murray, '37 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Russel H. Marcouse, '35 — Anthony Catrambone, '36
Harold J. Keating, '35 — Norton C. Paden, '37

Assistant to the Business Staff

Wm. B. Cleary

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Charles Betz, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — John Mullin, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — Anthony Differ, '37
George Fanning, '37 — Louis D'Angelo, '35
Harvey Davis, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Richard Kelly, '38 — John Scalera, '34
Basil W. Dobrowolski, '37

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova: scholar, athlete, gentleman—

LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
HADSON WISCONSIN
Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - NOVEMBER 27, 1934

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST REPLIES TO THE EDITORS

SHORTLY before the nation observed Armistice Day, during the early part of the current month, the VILLANOVAN, in conjunction with the Association of College Editors, an organization which is exceedingly important in its scope, published an editorial commenting on an open letter which was being sent to William Randolph Hearst, newspaper publisher. The subject matter being considered was "Internationalism vs. Nationalism."

Mr. Hearst saw fit to answer the A. C. E. open letter on the front pages of his chain of newspapers throughout the nation in an editorial labelled, "Internationalism and Nonsense." His remarks are as follows:

"Acting as President of the Association of College Editors, Francis G. Smith, Jr., editor of the Daily Princetonian, addressed to William Randolph Hearst and gave out for general publication an open letter containing nine complicated questions regarding internationalism and disarmament.

"The letter said that the questions had been prepared in England, by Sir Norman Angell, the pacifist author and 'probable winner of the Nobel Peace Prize for this year, to be answered by Lord Beaverbrook, owner of the London Daily Express.

"Because of the laborious nature of the questions, Lord Beaverbrook declined to answer them.

"I AM happy to learn that Mr. Norman Angell is a 'probable Nobel Prize winner,' but I have not been overwhelmingly impressed by actual prize winners—as far as their political sagacity is concerned.

"Because of which (and irrespective of which), I do not feel obligated to answer categorically disingenuous, specious questions propounded on the recognized 'Have you stopped beating your wife? . . . answer yes or no' basis.

"Nevertheless, I have no objection to stating clearly and comprehensively my beliefs as to what constitutes visionary and what practical and patriotic internationalism.

"I personally believe in nationalism AND internationalism, each in its proper place.

"I BELIEVE in benefiting all the people of the earth, whenever and wherever we can do so WITHOUT SACRIFICING THE INTERESTS OF OUR OWN PEOPLE.

"I believe in promoting the public welfare, but I do not believe it necessary in doing so to be entirely indifferent to the needs of my own family and associates.

"I believe in loving my neighbor as myself, but I have not yet reached the point where I am ready to sell all I have and give every precious personal and national possession to covetous neighboring nations who desire them but do not deserve them.

"I BELIEVE in good faith and common honesty among individuals and also among nations.

"I believe in honor among thieves.

"I believe that honest debts should be paid and a word of honor respected among peoples and politicians, even when dishonesty and dishonor are momentarily profitable.

"Pledges must not be given unless they are to be observed; obligations cannot be contracted unless they are to be discharged.

"Business cannot be conducted unless the names on notes and bonds are valid and honored.

"International relations can never be maintained on a friendly basis or even on a business basis if all men are liars and all nations repudiators of debts and duty.

"I believe in peace and in all sane measures to promote peace at home and abroad and among nations—BUT PARTICULARLY AT HOME.

"I BELIEVE that the best way to insure peace at home is to keep out of wars abroad and out of unnecessary international complications which may lead to war.

"I believe in disarmament when nations are willing to disarm.

"I believe in sustained efforts to persuade nations to disarm.

"But I do not believe that a rich and envied country like our own should place itself in the position of a shortsighted and misguided nation like China, and leave itself open to attack and exploitation by other nations which are ambitious, unscrupulous, and ARMED.

"I believe in abandoning our military forces when our people can be safely and surely defended without them.

"I believe in abolishing the police force when there are no longer criminal elements to necessitate it.

"Sincerely yours,

"WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST."

BUSINESS WITHOUT SUPERVISION

SOME time ago President Roosevelt, in answer to much pressure placed upon him by many prominent business men and organizations, decided to lift temporarily many of the restrictions placed on business by the NRA. The argument used by these groups and individuals was, and still is, that business confidence has returned, recovery has definitely started, and that the codes as originally laid on commerce and industry are a hindrance rather than an aid to recovery. They also argued the expense necessarily entailed in the enforcement of the codes was too much of a drain on business and prevented many efforts toward improvement measures. In other words they wanted the President to reverse his idea and strive for recovery first and commercial and industrial purification later.

Mr. Roosevelt has partially acceded to their demands; he has done away with many code provisions that have proved particularly obnoxious to business concerns. It is in the nature of an experiment to see if business can govern itself. From observation the experiment seems to be a failure. Many concerns have rushed back into their previous unethical practices. Employers have demanded longer hours and an unproportional increase in work from their employes. Disastrous price-cutting is being resorted to, disastrous in the main to employes who soon may find their wages cut. It seems that business needs to be again reminded that, economic teachings to the contrary, ethical practices play a definite part in business recovery.

NEW STATE CONSTITUTION

AT LAST those newly elected members of the official family of this Commonwealth have seen fit to set up a committee to replace an outmoded Constitution. It is for this reason that the people of this State are now rejoicing upon their foresight on November 6, 1934. At last we have hopes of complete eradication of Statutes dating from 1794. No more Blue Laws, so obnoxious, to the more liberal of our people.

It is not our intention to express views which in any way might be construed as being radical. However, it would seem fitting to show some bit of agreement upon the decisions made by our Governor-elect.

Wise selection of the proper grades of, and methods of, taxation upon personal income, with exemptions to the less fortunate of our citizens, old age pensions, and consolidation of city and county governmental agencies will proclaim to the people the support which they expect from those they have placed in power. Perhaps the most looked for reform is that which is planned to cut down, to a great degree, the wanton waste existing in separate governments of those cities and counties, which could very esaily be combined, with a resultant increase in efficiency of management.

It is an encouraging fact to note that the wishes of the people are at last to be manifested. It is also worthy of note to mention that the proverbial "campaign promises" are on the verge of fulfillment.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

AND SO one quarter ends and another one begins. The ball of the scholastic year, 1934 1935, is well on its way. Hope that it will pick up momentum and fly past today and tomorrow burns in every breast. Such long and lean looks the student body is wearing! One would think they had not eaten in weeks. Roast turkey, cranberry sauce, mince pie, and all the other savory victuals connoting that last Thursday in November, Thanksgiving Day, have possessed the students' minds as completely as goods taken by a sheriff for arrearages. All have developed one-track minds, their only thought concerns this one great meal of the year. And here is a helpful hint apropos of the day: "It isn't the way one eats that matters; it's the quantity."

* * *

In expectation, yea, hopeful expectation, that Temple students would attempt to wreak their usual pre-game mischief on the walls and pavements of the school some hundred students last Thursday night religiously kept vigil. The trumped-up experiences of those individuals, who had chased Temple men or in turn were the fugitives, had all the watchers on edge. It got so that at the sight of one's shadow one would cry out for deliverance from the hands of Temple. Two outpost guards, "Tex" Riley and "Burrhead" McNally seeing shadowy figures in back of the C & F Building called to them to halt and give the countersign. For an answer they got the bird and a long chase which brought them pantingly on the other side of the railroad bridge. The figures had vanished! After much peering the pursuers started to retrace their steps only to be stopped abruptly by a "Yea Temple" and the movement of forms toward them. It looked as if the Temple-Villanova battle sans stadium, sans referees and sans spectators was about to begin. As it was, there was nothing but laughter. For the shadowy forms were those of frosh.

* * *

A new feature of the Pie Shoppe this year is its novel floor show. Here daily the talented ones of the school perform. This unique show differs from all others in that it runs smoothly without the aid of klieg lights, greasepaint, and remuneration to entertainers. With the first dropping of a coin in the orthophonic begins the show. On all sides rise up dancers and singers, some of their own volition, more under the guidance of the hands of those onlookers who won't take no for an answer. Everybody laughs and is happy—even maitre d'hotel, Louie.

Frank Skaff, coach of the J. V. team, should be glad that the football season is over for his squad. His team suffered one setback after another this year. Some campus wits had opined that the J. V.'s were striving to outstrip Knox College, the possessor of the longest uninterrupted losing streak in football. It was a joke for some but Frank viewed it in the converse light. He put every thing he had into the team. That it did not reap the harvest is culpable to a great lack of material and cooperation.

* * *

We could hardly close the football season without tendering to Frank Cornely, Pennsylvania Railroad Passenger Agent, a vote of thanks for the very efficient service he has given us on our trips.

* * *

Returning from New York Sunday night, via a Pittsburgh excursion, a ticket for which was procured from a porter, was an interesting experience. The coach in which we rode might have belonged to a trans-European flyer, so un-American were its occupants. One companion called it the Moscow Express. The car was thick with foreign featured people, indefinably garbed, all conversing in an alien tongue and eating their fill of thick sandwiches and a variety of fruit. The picture belied the newly restricted emigration laws. After a weekend in New York with its Park Avenue Brummels and Fifth Avenue ladies, it certainly was a striking contrast and most impressive.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

ROSE BOWL, Sugar or any other kind of Bowl is the end of every good football team, but the last kind of Bowl is what the unfortunate team gets. An insertion in the St. Bonaventure weekly tells us that 800 pounds of rye grass have been sown in the Rose Bowl in preparation for the Tournament of Roses game, January 1.

* * *

New from Scotland divulges another one of their famous racial traits. In Scotland, university students are fined for cutting classes. At Christmas, each year, the money collected is used to buy a gift for the president. Last year he received a stick of chewing gum. This year there is no fund as yet.

* * *

He waited 46 years for his varsity letter, this patient athlete. In recognition for his services on the baseball field 46 years ago a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan received his award. What perfect annals at that school.

* * *

The art of staying married is a new course offered to the student body at Butler University as a sequel to their course on marriage. Some one said a bachelor is the professor.

* * *

Of course, there is always a funny regulation. A Dennison University regulation reads: "The student may be reinstated only if absence is caused by long illness or death. Hem! So they have a school for the dead ones!?

* * *

Soo—ooo-o, Ed Wynn, hysterical radio fireman, thinks he could define College Bred. His definition reads: "A chunk of dough with plenty of crumbs and crust mixed together to make a good loaf." Maybe he didn't go to a good college, the big lug. What will our parents say?

* * *

Rosemont College should try this one. A "widows' club" has been formed at Northwestern. It is composed of that group of girls whose sweethearts do not attend school. All members wear yellow ribbons to signify that they do not care to have dates. Wouldn't the "Greeks" look nice if the Ramblers did this.

* * *

Co-ed thumbers at the University of Georgia have been given a "break." A move has been started at that university to obtain free transportation service for co-eds following an edict by the authorities which prohibits them from hitch-hiking after 6 P. M.

* * *

Every day in the week is Sabbath somewhere. On Monday, the Greeks go to church; Tuesday, the Persians, Wednesday, the Assyrians; Thursday, the Egyptians; Friday is the Turks' turn; Saturday, the Jews, and Sunday, the Christians. Thanks to the Boston College Heights.

* * *

It may be true. Ask Walt Alessandroni. A politician is a man who stands for what he thinks others will fall for. Many things are spoken without any truth.

* * *

The Catholic University says that every man has his price, every coed her figure.

* * *

We wonder what the enrollment is at this institution? Excuses for cuts are not required at the University of Kansas because the maintenance cost of the absence file in the dean's office was too expensive.

* * *

Three hundred Senior women at the University of California rated a boy that never had dated a college girl as the best "date" on the campus. Why believe the testimony of the ones involved?

* * *

In the Boston College "Heights" an attempt to define freedom is made. Determinist will please see the editor for the correct interpretation. "Freedom is an elusive status which all men crave. Speeches, books, blood, sweat, curses, prayers, and revolutions, all have been employed in the hope of its attainment. But, like other objects of men's desires, freedom is an end whose attainment involves implications, inconviences, confusion, and chaos."

As We See It . . . . Wit

By HARRY PARKIN

THE ONE accomplishment that most men, sooner or later during their lives, wish to be possessed of it wit—that keen, mirth-provoking, mental agility which will permit them to see the incongruity of a statement or situation before others do, and then to suddenly bring it to their attention in all its amusing aspects by means of some trenchant and original phrase. The lack of wit is, perhaps, never more regretted than when we are the unwilling subject or unintentional cause of an action which places us in a position wherein we become a source of amusement for other people by the attention that is called to our condition by a witty expression from some one of the group. It is then, while writhing in the throes of our mental and verbal incoherence and chaffing inwardly at the ludicrousness of our position that we are prepared to sell our birthright for the ability to exicate ourselves with a pungent bit of phraseology which will lead to the consternation of our tormentor. But it not infrequently happens that upon those rare occasions when fortune unloosens our tongue and permits us to deliver an unusually clever retort our feeling of accomplishment is short-lived, for the witty person, being seldomly nonplussed for more than a moment or two and, generally, delighting in the opportunity to display his ability at bantering, will, very shortly, have us so overcome and chagrined at our deficiency in this respect that we will be only too glad to yield him the field.

In itself, wit consists in a quick perception for unusual and amusing contrasts, and the ability to call them to the attention of other people by means of terse, compact, and apt expressions. In short, it is a sort of supersensotiveness for the comical. It does not, however, consist in the constant repetition or phrases that have long since lost any claims that they may have had to wit. For a witticism, depending as it does upon the element of surprise, loses all of its flavor when the listener is already familiar with the association that is about to be made.

Whether or not one is able to develop wit in his own person has always been a much mooted question for there are some who insist that it is a kind of inexplicable visitation that comes and goes without any effort on the part of the receiver; while others are as equally assertive in attributing its acquisition to a persistent and systematic study. But, in any event, it is unquestionably true that some men are better equipped by nature for its exercise than are others. Aside from these considerations we are of the opinion that punning, which is the wit of words, can be, to a large extent, cultivated by anyone who wishes to take the time to familiarize himself with the more remote meanings of words, so that he can change their meaning from that which was originally intended in such a manner as to provoke surprise at the different interpretation.

A witty person, in spite of his tendency to be a constant source of amusement to his associates, should never fail to remember, particularly if his wit is of the type which depends for its drollery upon someone else's discomfiture, that those who laugh the most heartily at his jibes are generally wondering when they shall be his next subject and they are more than likely to conclude that it is safer to forego the pleasure of his company if they will thereby be spared the pains of his comedy. For none of us are anxious to be the victims of ill-timed satire, and he who possesses any subtlety of wit will gain nothing but opprobrium by its thoughtless and indiscriminate use. So that the person of wit and discrimination can do nothing better than show himself well disposed toward his company and use his abilities to bring someone of the gathering to the attention of the others, in a manner that will redound to that one's credit, and the wit will soon learn that he has gained a friend as well as promoted the general harmony of the group.

Fashion Notes By Collegiate Digest

Utility Exemplified

Despite the fact that it originally came from the country, the covert cloth top-coat has captured the fancy of the fashion experts as well as the well-dressed collegians. Nothing is smarter for wear with tweed or rough fabric suitings. The coat should be modelled with natural lines that give the appearance of ease and comfort, and to this should be added a fly front and four rows of stitching at the bottom and cuffs. This latter detail, originating as a protective measure, adds the final touch that makes this model truly distinctive.

Replacing Waistcoats

With the acceptance of the sleeveless slipover sweaters for wear as a waistcoat, the knitted waistcoat has made its appearance in a flair of popularity that is sweeping campuses from coast to coast. Following the Tattersall check in pattern, it features flaps on the lower pockets as well as smooth flat brass buttons.

ORGANIZATION MEETS

There will be an important meeting of the entire membership of the Spanish Club today at 1:00 P. M., in the Amphitheatre, in Mendel Hall.

Penned Thoughts

By Ben Maloney

MEOW!

Women hate your furry coat,
On your bad points love to dote;
They rant and rave to the skies,
We know they envy your amber eyes.

And all your gentle fluffiness,
Arouses in them stiff huffiness;
They wish they had your graceful walk,
About your soft voice they'll always talk.

They despise your seeming so at ease,
It's in their nature to plague and tease;
Yet what would they do alone in the house.
If you weren't there to catch the mouse?

Your purr is always of the softest tones,
Their reply inevitably moans and groans;
Whether or not you're in the way,
With a cry of impatience you're chased away.

Poor little feline! butt of feminine abuse,
You will always have me for affection profuse;
We'll ignore their ridicule right to the end,
They're jealous, that's all my furry friend.

DIAL-LOG

By LOUIS MARECHAL

Ted Husing, the picker of long shots, will announce his seventh All-Radio football team, picked from the squads he has seen in action this Fall during the Camel Caravan broadcast on the nation-wide Columbia hook-up tonight. Extra time will be allotted on the program for Husing who will reveal his honor roll for each position, selected from the following teams: Cornell, Fordham, Washington and Jefferson, Pittsburgh, Navy, Notre Dame, Yale, Army, St. Mary's, Illinois, Ohio State, Princeton, Duquesne, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The newly formed American broadcasting system is doing its best to keep itself on a plane with the two already well-established networks. Sleepy Hall and His Orchestra is the latest addition to their ranks. He got over the hoarseness he acquired watching the Saint Mary's game two Saturday's ago. His explanation on the air failed to satisfy hundreds of Crosbyans who tied up the CBS switchboard long after the broadcast had been completed.

The three C's on WJZ on Friday afternoon at 4:30 present an enjoyable 15 minutes for those who like their type of music.

Phil Harris continues to please with his visits of the various college campii. Most of his listeners miss the Three Ambassadors, though.

For the early risers who like phonograph records we recommend WCAU from 7 to 7:30, then switch to WIBG, WDEL or WTEL. The WCAU announcers of late have been inserting too much comment for those who prefer the records.

The program of Plantation Echoes is rapidly becoming one of the campus favorite broadcasts. Willard Robinson's band presents a smooth rhythy style and his modern dance arrangements can't be beat. Mildred Bailey's rendition of "Gettin Sentimental Over You" is topped only by the Dorsey Brothers' brass arrangement of the same piece.

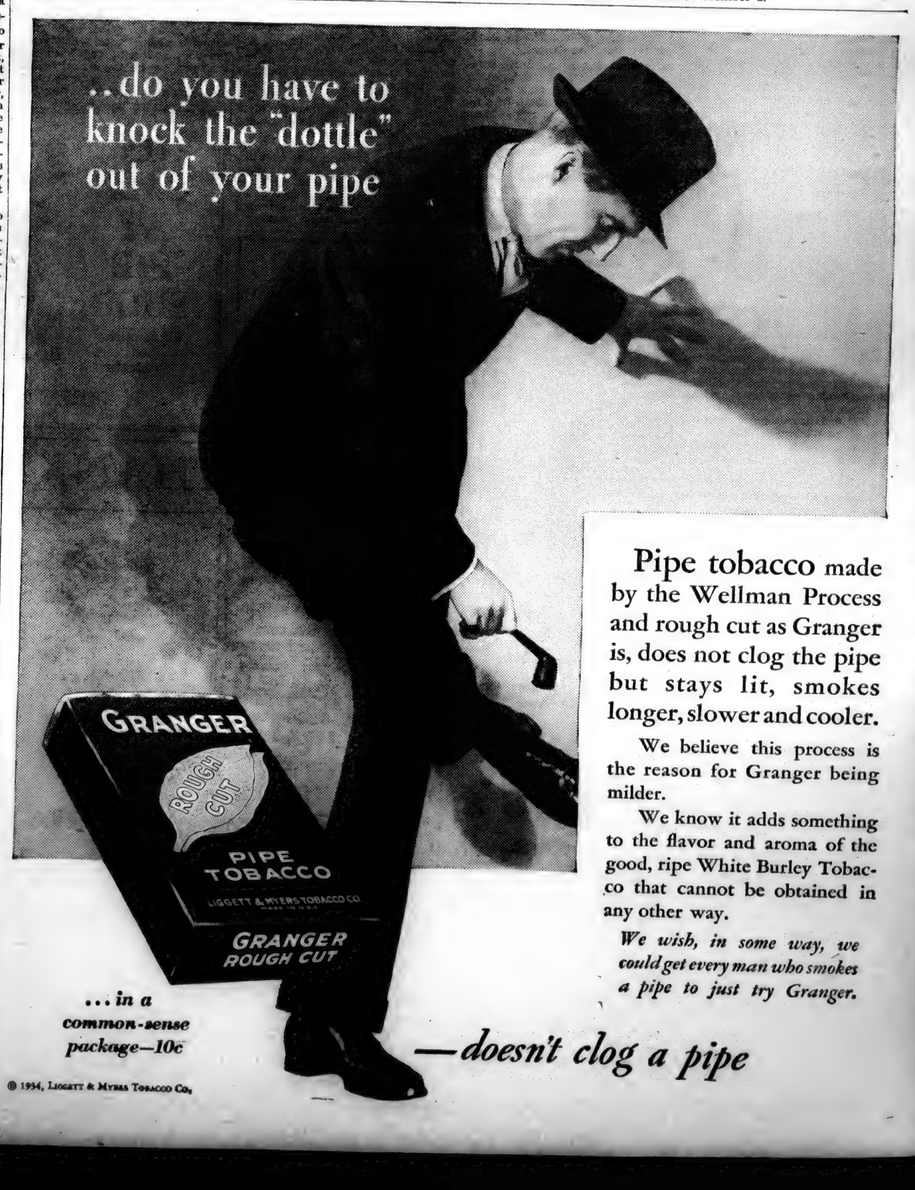
You can hear the Plantation Echoes program on Monday, Wednesday and Friday over WJZ at 7:15 p. m.

Stoopnagle and Budd, although very funny at times, can't ever fill the spot left vacant on that Sunday night program which used to star Will Rogers.

For those who enjoy Duke Ellington, he can be heard in Philadelphia all this week. Barney Rapp and his New Englanders are also appearing in town.

Isham Jones is also due in Philly for a one day engagement, Thanksgiving night.

Kel Murray, Xavier Cugat, and Benny Goodman will all be present with their orchestras in Radio City each Saturday night to provide the music for radio's first three hour dance program which will begin on December 1.



Pipe tobacco made by the Wellman Process and rough cut as Granger is, does not clog the pipe but stays lit, smokes longer, slower and cooler.

We believe this process is the reason for Granger being milder.

We know it adds something to the flavor and aroma of the good, ripe White Burley Tobacco that cannot be obtained in any other way.

We wish, in some way, we could get every man who smokes a pipe to just try Granger.

... in a common-sense package—10c

—doesn't clog a pipe

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

FOREIGN RELATIONS SOCIETY TO SHARE IN CARNEGIE FUND

Continued From Page One

place at some large university in the United States, it will be possible to draw from the Carnegie Endowment Fund all expenses for the Villanova delegation.

Membership in both the Carnegie Fund and in the Model League of Nations is considered to be an honor and a privilege, for it means recognition of the success of the efforts of the Villanova Society. It is also a great benefit both to the chapter itself and to its members and indirectly to Villanova College, through its representation among the major colleges and universities of the world in an organization which trains and educates college men and women to a degree impossible without the combined assemblies of these delegations to the League.

The Foreign Relations Society has not as yet any private rooms and has been meeting in Fr. Fitzmaurice's suite in Mendel Hall. All future meetings, until further announcement, will also be held therein. The library which has been received is also to be found there and these volumes are open to all members for examination at any time.

Membership, although almost complete, is still open to the students and they are invited to submit their own proposal for admission in the society. The society is now composed of about ten men, whereas its benefits could very easily be opened to many more. Anyone interested in joining the organization may see any member or may personally approach Fr. Fitzmaurice. There are no dues, as the Carnegie Endowment Fund takes care of all expenses.

JERSEY CLUB GIVES SUCCESSFUL DANCE

Rhythms of Andy Kress' Club Orchestra Delight Many At Newark A. C.

The sparkling dance rhythms of Andy Kress and His Chestmore Club Orchestra, in the beautiful main ballroom of the Newark Athletic Club combined to make the North Jersey Club's victory dance on last Saturday night a week the most enjoyable affair held by that organization.

The attendance was not quite as large as was expected due to the absence of the football team and some of the usually active alumni, but those who were present unanimously acclaimed it as the club's most entertaining function to date.

Feature College Songs

The special arrangements of the college songs, numerous novelty numbers, unusual lighting effects and the release of many colored balloons were but a few of the surprise features which went toward making the affair a memorable one. The blue and silver programs were attractive with the listing of the dance numbers in an entirely new vein.

The members of the dance committee were: Harold McGrath, chairman; John Cronin, John Erbect, John Scalera, Benjamin Geraghty, Edward Carlin, Edwin Riley and Joseph McCabe.

CLUB PLANS SOCIAL

Wilkes-Barre Society to Give Xmas Dance in Hotel Sterling

The Wilkes-Barre Club of Villanova College is completing arrangements for its annual Christmas dance to be held in the beautiful Crystal Ballroom of the Hotel Sterling on the night of December 26. In conformity with the club tradition, the organization is assuring its patrons that this year's affair is to be one of the outstanding events of the Yuletide season.

It has been the custom in the past for the club to offer very attractive and unique favors at its functions. The committee in charge of this dance promises that this year will not witness a deviation from this custom, but on the contrary, plans are being formulated to uphold this precedent.

The co-chairmen, William Cleary and Joseph Forkin, are being ably assisted by Charles Betz, John Delehanty, John Dempsey(John Noll, and Gabriel Martyak.

CONNECTICUT CLUB PLANS TWO DANCES

Annual Election of Officers Held by New England Group At Initial Meeting

Early last week the Connecticut Club took up the reins for the present year. Many activities are planned for the various seasons to come, among which are to be at least two vacation dances.

The most important business of the first meeting, held last Tuesday, was the election of club officers. Those who were elected to lead the organization for the year 1934-35 are as follows: Lawrence Shea, junior Pre-Med, president; Benedict Maloney, sophomore Artsman, vice-president; Frederick Mott, sophomore Business student, secretary; and Edward Lahey, junior Artsman, treasurer. With the exception of Frederick Mott, who hails from New Haven, all the elected officers are natives of Waterbury, Connecticut.

Plan Annual Dance

Elaborate plans are under way to make their annual Christmas dance the finest ever given, and it is expected that complete arrangements will be furnished far enough in advance to assure the greatest success, both socially and financially.

Another of the many major activities, which will be undertaken, will be the joining in the intercollegiate dance, which has become one of the feature social events of the New England States. Over thirty-five Catholic Colleges band together annually to make this affair one of the largest of its kind.

Events such as these show the progress that has been made by the members of the club since its comparatively recent origin in 1930. Its membership at Villanova now numbers about twenty-five and just recently three men from Hartford were admitted to membership in the club. They are: Theodore Goumy, Eugene Sweeney and Richard Foley, all of the Commerce and Finance school.

Belle Masque Chapter to Present Three-Act Stage Play in January

"Gun Shy," a three-act play by Homer Little and Myer Jo Closser, will be presented sometime during the month of January, by the Belle Masque chapter of the Villanova Literary Society. The presentation was originally scheduled to take place November 26 but it had to be postponed due to various reasons.

According to an announcement made by Prof. Joseph T. Jonas, moderator of the society, the play will be enacted in the Commerce and Finance Building, where a suitable temporary stage will be erected in the auditorium.

The members of the society feel that the acoustics of the gymnasium would be a handicap to the performance, and have decided to stage their initial offering next year in the auditorium of the Business School.

The cast as announced for the comedy follows: Hiram Hall, Aloysius Fitzpatrick; Zoe Drake, John Butler; Ann, George Malhame; Babs Walker, Joseph Linsalata; Mr. Drake, oJseph Toland; Bonaparte, R. Martinez Alvarez; Lenny, William Doyle; Fergus, John Simons; Birbal, Troy Parks.

HEAD COACH SPEAKS

Benefits of Athletics to Youth Of Nation Is Stressed

Head Coach Harry Stuhldreher, last Sunday presented an address on the Horn and Hardart Kiddies' Hour radio program to the members of the younger generation.

Mr. Stuhldreher, expressed in a very clear and vivid manner, the status of a football coach in the past, and in the present.

Continuing his discourse he brought out the benefits to be derived by the youth of the nation from participation in athletic endeavors.

In clarifying his remarks, Mr. Stuhldreher said, "Nothing bothers me quite so much as to see a lazy individual letting himself go to waste because he doesn't care to get out of a slow walk. You must remember that in playing games you are doing just what your parents want you to do. From their many experiences they know what is good for you, and with the knowledge that you are on the school field or on the corner lot, they are satisfied that you are in good company."

STUHLDREHER ADDRESSES SHORE HOLY NAME GROUP

Fr. O'Leary Also Speaks; Advantages of Athletics Stressed In Talk

In an address given at the first Communion-breakfast of the Holy Name Society of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Atlantic City, N. J., Head Coach Harry A. Stuhldreher showed clearly the close relation existing between church work and work on the football field.

Continuing his topic, Mr. Stuhldreher brough out the fact that the effect of athletics upon the youth of the nation tends to spread the strength of Catholicism among the ycunger element and gives the child an interest in the church thereby keeping him off the streets.

Rev. John S. O'Leary, O. S. A. professor of mathematics at Villanova, also addressed the gathering.

The remarks of both speakers were enthusiastically received by the gathering which was composed of both young and older men.

WONDERS HOUSE VISITED BY CLUB

Electrical Engineers View General Electric's Exhibit At Franklin Institute

The House of Wonders, General Electric's exhibit in the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, was the place visited by the Villanova Chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers last week. This attraction was on show for two years at the Chicago World Fair. At the close of the fair this Summer the exhibit was transferred to the Philadelphia Institution, where it was open to the public for two weeks.

The members of the society were accompanied by Harry S. Bueche, Professor of Electrical Engineering. Besides the House of Wonders, the group also visited the rest of the Museum which is entirely devoted to scientific exhibits.

After leaving the museum the group made a visit to the home of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in Philadelphia, and there heard a lecture given by Professor Swann of Swarthmore. The subject of his talk was cosmic rays.

CLUB PLANS SOCIAL

A feature of this year's holiday season will be the dinner-dance given by the Albany Club. This gala event will be held in one of the leading hotels of the capital city. The music for the affair will be rendered by the hotel orchestra and the subscription will be very nominal.

Mr. Mauro, the president of the organization, has a very able committee in charge of the arrangements an an enjoyable time is assured to all those attending. As in the past the alumni are expected to help make the affair a success and it is hoped they will be present en masse.

ON SALE AT PIE SHOP

Distributor of Products

JOHN MIDDLETON

Suits & Topcoats $15

Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.

WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE 900 SOUTH ST.

Our Only Store

Pierre's

The Place to Go

DINNERS SERVED IN RESTAURANT

(As Low as 65c)

Dancing	Floor Show
BILLY HAYS & His Orchestra	Twice Nightly 7 P. M. 11 P. M.

Pierre's

On 69th St.

JEANNETT'S

Bryn Mawr Flower Shop

Floral Ideas For All Occasions

Specializing in Corsages

Member Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association

823 LANCASTER AVE.

Bryn Mawr 570

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

TUXEDOS

FULL DRESS TO HIRE

Suits Delivered & Called For City & Suburbs

MEISEL'S MEN'S SHOP

4244 Lancaster Ave., Phila.

Hart & Hall, Inc.

825 LANCASTER AVE.

BRYN MAWR, PA.

Insurance

A. Beardsley & Son

INTERIOR PAINTING EXTERIOR

1217-N-11TH ST.

PHILADELPHIA

CONNELLY'S

69th & MARKET STS.

To The STUDENTS FACULTY RELATIVES and FRIENDS of VILLANOVA COLLEGE

Mary M. McGarvey

1141 LANCASTER AVE.

ROSEMONT

THE ROSEMONT SHOP

M. BUTEN & SONS

PAINTS - - GLASS

Free Delivery, City & Suburbs

6926 Market St. Blvd. 994

REPAIRING REMOUNTING

JAMES J. McCAFFREY

DIAMONDS WATCHES JEWELRY

602-604 Victory Building

1001 CHESTNUT STREET

Phone Walnut 6727 Philadelphia, Pa.

Mention the VILLANOVAN

LOUIE and The Pie Shoppe

CONNELLY'S Main Line Florist

1226 LANCASTER PIKE

ROSEMONT

Flowers For All Occasions

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Belle Air Staff Meeting, 51 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

Belle Masque Meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8:00 P. M.

THURSDAY

No Classes, Thanksgiving Day.

FRIDAY

VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting, 119 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Swimming Team Meeting, Natatorium, Gymnasium ..... 7:00 P. M.

MONDAY

A. I. E. E. Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 11:40 A. M.
Glee Club Meeting, C. & F. Auditorium ..... 4:00 P. M.
Red Cross Life-Saving Exams., Natatorium, Gym .. 2:30 - 6:00 P. M.

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

WELL, the long awaited Temple game is over. No one is to blame for the defeat, it just wasn't in the cards. Everybody connected with Villanova did all that they could but one miracle man seemed to be too much. Of course it's a hard pill to swallow and nobody feels worse about it than the players who really had to take the dose. They did all they could and nobody can do any more.

As Mr. Stuhldreher said before the game, "I hope the boys do themselves justice, and to do this it will have to be over their heads." It's a rare and momentous occasion when a team plays way over its head, and no rare and momentous occasion occurred last Saturday.

Although the student body will not have a chance to prove it, they are still sticking behind the Blue and White gridmen and if the 'Cats had another game they would be there in force to urge them on to victory. It takes a real sportsman to lose gracefully. The Villanova players and followers certainly deserve this title.

—V—

IT IS interesting to note that Villanova has volunteered to organize an ice hockey team to participate in the Ice Gymkhana and Mardi Gras to be held at Philadelphia's Arena on December 7. The carnival is to be held for charitable purposes and will be a grand show for lovers of the speedy winter sports. Not since the winter of 1931-32 have the Wildcats been represented in hockey circles. Up to that time Villanova had one of the best rink teams in eastern intercollegiate circles. Because of the mildness of the winter seasons it was deemed advisable to disorganize the sextet and devote the financial backing necessary for the sport to some other line of athletic endeavour. Now the college authorities feel that interest may be revived in this sport.

If the student body wants this speediest of games to prosper here at Villanova it is up to them to support the team either by trying out for the squad or attending the hockey matches. A call for candidates will be issued immediately and frequent practice will be held to get ready for Swarthmore on December 7.

Don Blanchard is the only remainder from the 1931-32 team. In all probability Blanchard will take charge of the team and if he manifests the same spirit and fight that he has shown during his football career, the ice hockey team should develop into one of the top notch sports at Villanova.

—V—

NOW WITH the completion of the gridiron schedule all eyes turn toward the basketball outlook. Coach Jacobs has a large squad of tried and proven players. Taking in the future as a whole, the season should be one of the most interesting in Villanova's long cage history. That the 'Cat quintet should be good is a foregone conclusion.

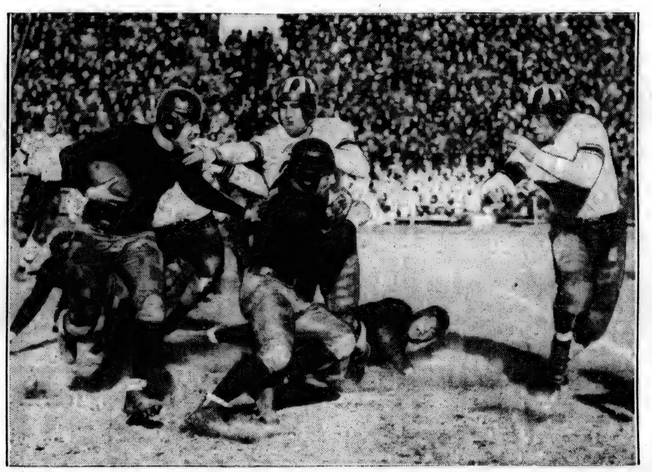
The schedule would provide a hard year for any team. Basketball teams with the reputation of St. John's, Bucknell, Duquesne, Penn A. C., Temple, C. C. N. Y., and George Washington are not to be taken lightly. Fifteen games have been definitely carded and the possibilities of three more are bright.

Captain Johnny Shevlin has been holding informal workouts for all available members of the squad. Starting this week, Coach Jacobs will take over the reins and every candidate will let out another notch of his best style in hopes of securing a regular berth for the opener with Penn A. C. on December 14.

The schedule has listed most of the games at home or in Philadelphia only two being played outside of the city. The team journeys to Lewisburg to meet Bucknell in the third game of the season and to Carlisle for the Dickinson fray on January 16.

VILLANOVA BOWS TO TEMPLE

One of the Few Gains Garnered by the Wildcats



This action picture shows Nick Kotys, left halfback of the Blue and White, on an end run during the Villanova-Temple game last Saturday in the latter's stadium . Dave Smukler, sensational fullback of the Owls, is the player in the extreme right of the photo. Courtesy Evening Bulletin

SMUKLER'S POWER PROVES DOWNFALL OF FIGHTING 'CATS

Owls' Victory Is Second Win In Seven Contests With Main Line Foe

Continued From Page One

Following the kickoff, Villanova failed to gain and Wetzler kicked to Frey, who carried the ball to the Owls' 36. Mowrey sped around end for 39 and a first down on the Blue and White 25-yard marker. Smukler and Testa failed to gain but on the third play Watts forwarded to Mowrey over the Villanova goal line.

From the opening kickoff Temple climbed on the band wagon, being driven by Smukler and proceeded to show their opponents the reason for their undefeated season. For the first quarter with a stiff wind at their backs, the Blue and White aggregation held off the vicious smashes of "The Mountain That Walks Like a Man."

Public opinion labeled the ball game as one of the cleanest and most hard fought. Despite the tension put on the players by the importance of the fray only 45 yards in penalties was inflicted on both teams.

Villanova backs, time and again, failed to penetrate the Owl line and with the exception of Joe Wiesenbaugh, who in his four years at Villanova has always had a flair for the spectacular, were stopped shortly after they crossed the line of scrimmage.

Weisenbaugh shook loose from the flock of Owls in the waning minutes of the contest, and sprinted up the sidelines for 41 yards. Of the seven Blue and White mail toters, Weisenbaugh, by virtue of his spine-tingling escapade, led in yards gained with a total gain of 35 yards. Mahovlich was next with 12 yards, 10 for Patzsch and five for Cook.

To get back to Smukler, Big Dave gained 152 yards, while losing only nine in 29 attempts, an average of five yards per attempt. Mowrey had 80 to his credit, Frey had 10 and Testa 3. Watts was the only Owl gridder to have a minus average, whereas three Villanova backs lost more than they gained. Smukler handled the ball on 90 per cent of the plays, made one-third of the tackles and tossed every Owl pass except one while he was in the game.

Temple made 16 first downs to 3 for Villanova, two of which came as the result of penalties. 317 yards were garned by the victorious gridmen with 90 on the credit side of the losers. Five Temple passes out of 18 attempts went for a net gain of 64 yards, whereas the five tried by Villanova failed, four grounded and one intercepted. Villanova punters pulled a surprise on their rooters by smaring a higher average on their punts than Temple. Fifteen Blue and White punts traveled for an average of 34 yards, while 4 Owl boots were good for an average of 22 yards.

Fourteen Villanova gridiron warriors bade farewell to Stuhldreher's football machine. The position of right guard in the Wildcat forward wall stood out throughout the afternoon, being taken care of by Barnie Lee and Frank Foster. Lee was one of the few Villanova gridsters effective against Smukler and wrote a glorious final chapter in his Villanova gridiron memoirs. Foster, the mighty mite, also scintillated in this position after replacing Lee. Michaels and Cox also starred.

BASKETEERS FINISH INFORMAL PRACTICE

Strenuous Workouts Commence as 'Doc' Jacobs Takes Reins; Hard Schedule Listed

Friday the varsity basketball squad ended two weeks of informal practice under the tutelage of Jack Shevlin, captain of this year's quintet. Commencing yesterday the hoopsters began the task of assuming the aggressive roles which they will pursue for the remainder of the season. Up until that time the practice had consisted of merely dribbling, passing and handling the ball. Now that Doc Jacobs is back at the helm, after his duties as freshman football coach have come to a close, things are beginning to take on a serious aspect.

From all indications the 'Cats should be represented by a formidable team this year even more so than that of the last season during which but three games were lost as against a dozen wins. However, there will be need of this strength, for in addition to such strong teams as Duquesne, St. Johns, of Brooklyn, Dickinson and others, the varsity has booked Providence College and City College of New York. The former is a big enough attraction in itself but in C. C. N. Y. Villanova has chosen as one of their opponents the team that has had one of, if not the most enviable record in court history for the past five years. The boys from Gotham always turn out the strongest team in the East in collegiate circles and booking them is no little task.

Ben Geraghty, the sophomore flash of last year, will in all probability lead the Wildcat attack this campaign, very ably assisted by Captain Jack Shevlin, stellar guard. Jack Barry and Pop Travers are two seniors who will end their court career at Villanova this year

Continued on Page Six

'CAT-OWL STATISTICS

	Temple	Villanova
First down	16	3
Yards gained from scrimmage	317	90
Yards lost, scrimmage	49	64
Forward passes	18	5
Passes completed	5	0
Passes completed, yards	64	0
Passes grounded	11	4
Passes intercepted by	1	2
Punts	4	15
Total yardage on punts	172	516
Average yardage on punts	22	24
Punts returned by	6	0
Punts returned, yards	117	0
Penalties, yard	25	20
Kickoffs	5	1
	for 265	for 117
Kickoffs returned by	1	2
Kickoffs, returned, yards	5	36
Fumbles	1	4
Own fumbles recovered	1	3
Opponents' fumbles recovered	1	0

ICE HOCKEY CLUB TO REORGANIZE

Swarthmore Will Be First Opponent in Charity Ice Carnival

Villanova will inaugurate the 1934 ice hockey season with a match with Swarthmore College as a feature of the Mardi Gras and Ice Gymkhana to be held on Friday, December 7th, at the Arena, 46th and Market Sts., Philadelphia.

The lineup for the 'Cats is not definitely decided upon, but several stars of the '31 team and a number of freshmen will be on the squad. Swarthmore has had a championship hockey club for a number of years, and a fast match is anticipated.

The probable Villanova players will include Don Blanchard, the only member of the '31 team; Tom Sheehan, and the rest of the squad will be composed of freshmen.

The Mardi Gras will present a galaxy of stars, including Irving Jaffe, the world's champion skater and winner of three Olympic championships. He will attempt to break the standing speed record and also to ring up a new 500 metre record.

The first Philadelphia exhibition of curling will be given by the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Curling Clubs. This game is a popular sport in Scotland.

JAYVEES BEATEN BY RUTGERS IN FINALE

Passing Attack Responsible For 'Cat Defeat; Skaffmen Bow to Pennsylvania

Opening up with a brilliant passing attack in the first half, the Junior Varsity team of Rutgers defeated the Wildcats Friday in the Main Line stadium by a score of 12 to 0.

Rutgers Passes Click

Unable to gain consistently through the line the visitors took to the air. Placed in a scoring position early in the first quarter when they recovered a Villanova fumble, Rutgers tallied on a long pass into the end zone. The try for a placement failed. The second score came in the second period when the New Brunswick team again completed a long pass and crossed the goal line for the final tally of the contest.

Villanova came back in the second half and presented a defense that checked their opponents at every turn. Hoey, Cocheo and Parres were outstanding and consistently crossed the line to break up Rutgers' plays. Buzenski starred at halfback, and proved his worth on both offense and defense. The 'Cats failed to threaten seriously, however, and were unable to score.

'Cats Bow to Penn

Villanova played host to Penn's Jayvees on November 15 and the visitors turned back the 'Cats by a score of 31 to 0.

Rutgers J. V.		Villanova J. V.
Koechiein	left end	Fleming
Shearer	left tackle	Hoey
Acquilla	left guard	Costa
Morris	center	Parres
Enberg	right guard	Cocheo
Brown	right tackle	Whalen
Lundwall	right end	O'Connell
Maddox	quarterback	Violette
Algair	left halfback	Buzenski
Steele	right halfback	Flaherty
Jeffards	fullback	Miholcik

'Cats Prepare for Second Boxing Season

Mural Tourney Planned; Practice Sessions Open

Good Prospects for Current Campaign In Ralph Cost, Mike Delmonico And Jack Robinson

SPORT INCLUDED IN INTRA - MURALS

By EDWARD L. COLLINS

Starting his second season as coach of the boxing team, Joe Foley will endeavor to place the school in the limelight. Incidentally, this is only the second year of boxing in the history of the school. Mr. Foley, with the help of the proper authorities, will attempt to put boxing on a plane that will compare with the leading intercollegiate teams.

Boxing Shunned

When interviewed, Mr. Foley said: "For some unknown reason boxing has been shunned to the background. The College authorities have the idea firmly imbedded in their minds that boxing will never go!" When I say go, I mean that insofar as financial and scholastic gain is concerned. Needless to say, there is a prospective gold mine along the Main Line."

The Pennsylvvania Interscholastic Athletic Association held a wrestling tourney at Allentown last March. The returns from this meet greatly enriched the association's treasury. Mr. Foley intends sponsoring a boxing tourney along similar lines. Working in conjunction with the Suburban Conference authorities he hopes to make it an annual affair.

As far as scholastic returns are concerned, I need only to cite the remarkable teams of Notre Dame. Many outstanding teams were, and still are produced there, and the high school and prep school students flocked to the institution in droves.

Boxing Pays

Pennsylvania, Rutgers, Princeton, Penn State and Lehigh among many others have made boxing more than pay for itself. Penn State alone draws from three to five thousand spectators at their boxing meets. Situated in the Nittany Valley, the Lions draw from all over Center County and its vicinity. At the Palestra, Penn's boxing palace, the Quakers play to nearly three thousand PAID admissions at every engagement. One could go on for hours describing the conditions at the respective colleges. There is no reason whatsoever, why the team cannot participate in meets with the leading boxing teams and build up a reputation for the College to uphold.

The writer contented himself by asking a few students, freshmen in particular, what they thought of "The Manly Art of Self-Defense at Villanova College." Among the remarks were such, "I think it should be compulsory because one never knows when he will be called upon to defend himself." Another said that his athletic endeavor would be confined chiefly to boxing. Aside from school work he intended to participate in boxing and to set his heart on making a letter. And many other favorable comments were heard.

Outstanding Frosh Boxers

Who could ask for better prospects? The Freshmen Class possesses some very clever boys—that is as far as boxing is concerned. For instance there is Ralph Cost, 135 lbs. from Rutgers Prep. Fighting under the colors of Scarlet and Black, Ralph carried off the lightweight title in the New Jersey Prep Schol division. Mike Delmonico, a strapping 190 lb. youth from the mining town of Hazleton, will afford plenty of competition for the heavyweights. Mike is also a freshman football player of note. Valley Forge Military Academy, Wayne, Pa., has sent us Paul Kerrigan. Tipping the scales at 158, Paul will have to shed at least seven pounds to get in the welter class. Besides the above mentioned youngsters the team will have an outstanding performer in Jack Robinson. 'Robby," a junior from New York, has accomplished more than his fellow students think him capable of doing. Possessor of the School Metropolitan light-heavyweight championship, "Robby" after a lapse of two years from the squared circle will attempt to regain the form that made him the terror of New York. He has even gone so far as issue a challenge to anyone his weight — give or take two pounds.

To Conduct Intramural Tourney

Last year most of the varsity boxers were products of the interclass ranks. It is from this group that many potential champions are uncovered, and Mr. Foley and the Intra-Mural Committee are going to put on an elimination program to determine the outstanding candidates. Each hall will have a team represented in the 'murals and the team carrying off the bunting will be well rewarded. It is the wish of the coaching staff that more under classmen take part in boxing. It is the wish of the coaching staff that more under classmen take part in boxing. Anyone desirous of using the facilities can do so by reporting to Mr. Foley in the gym any afternoon after 2:30.

LIGHTWEIGHT TEAM COMPLETES SEASON

Lenzi Calls Year a Success; Rogers Gains Captaincy For 1935 Season

By NORTON PADEN

A 20 to 0 defeat at the hands of a powerful Rutgers 150 pound eleven closed the season for Lenzi's minions last Friday at the Villanova Stadium. The juggernaunt from the banks of the Raritan overwhelmed a plucky Wildcat aggregation and sent their hopes crashing to oblivion.

Last year at New Brunswick Rutgers accounted for a defeat when the 'Cats lightweight division went down before them to the tune of 12 to 0. This defeat last year spurred Lenzi's boys on in an attempt to offset this by a win this season but their plans were frustrated when they journey to Easton to combat a formidable Lafayette eleven. Here their hopes of an undefeated season were shattered when they were turned back by the score of 13 to 0. The inability of the lightweights to cope with Lafayette's aerial attack accounted for the setback.

Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania were met next with subsequent defeats. The Tiger game ended up with a score of 13 to 0 with Princeton on the long end of the total. At Pennsylvania a brilliant passing attack between O'Neill and Leone accounted for two touchdowns made by Villanova but they were finally beaten when the U. of P. pushed across three tallies.

Manhattan was played the week before the Penn tilt and Lenzi's boys came through. The final score 13 to 0 in the 'Cats favor was accomplished when the passing attack worked to perfection. Due to two previous defeats the lightweights were filled with fight and they swamped the Jaspers before they could get their attack under way.

With the final game the 'Cats closed a very successful season, according to Coach Lincoln Lenzi. Coach Lenzi expressed his opinion of the season as follows:

"I believe the season was a success considering the circumstances we had to contend with. I say this because we really fulfilled the purpose of having the ball club here." In explaining this last statement "Link" said that the real purpose behind the 150 pound club was to get the interest of the boys centered on something tangible.

"As long as the boys came out and worked hard I consider the season a success," Coach Lenzi continued.

In speaking of the juniors who played this year, "Link" said "The lads who will graduate this June have the qualifications necessary to be successful in any phase of life. They really have the fight and guts' because they fought an uphill battle all season."

In the Limelight

By JAMES W. KEELEY

We have before us, gentlemen, (Villanova hasn't gone co-ed yet) one of those big, silent, handsome exhibits of Down East manhood. None other than Edward D. Sullivan, commonly known by any one of two or three humorous appellations. For our own purposes we call him "Big Ed," or "Sull," "Old Pappy," and in last resort, Moose." "Sull" was born September 8, 1912, at an early age. Looking at him now it is almost impossible to figure this out. The first time he opened his huge optics he saw that he was located in Fitchburg, Mass. Since he was born in '12, and this year is 1934 A. A., we have finally advanced the theory that "Old Pappy" is 21 years of age. Horrors! However, old as he is, he is still an older member of the younger generation.

Since both he and his parents deemed it advisable that he obtain an education, he trundled off to grammar school. The name of this primary institution of learning will have to be listed among the missing.

From this pillar of education he next betook himself to Fitchburg High School. Besides absorbing all there was to be absorbed, in the field of the intelligentia, our hero also distinguished himself upon the gridiron and the cinderpath, showing his heels to more than a few of the best of the representative stars of the district. In his senior year, his football mates elected him captain of the team.

Even after high school, he was still ambitious with regard to education, so entered Hebron Academy, continuing his feats in the athletic world. After spending the time required, he got out of there, too.

"Big Ed" came all the way from his native town to this massive pile of stone structures in the fall of 1931 to receive a "kollitch edumacashun." Our hero had a secondary reason for coming here, namely, to show the followers of the Wildcats, how the facts, singularly and collectively, of the opposition should be doused in the mire.

Somehow or other, he was able to carry out his schedule as planned.

Following 1931, came 1932, and sophomore year. Here it was, that "Sully" distinguished himself upon the gridiron. He displayed a stellar brand of line play which has featured his endeavors ever since and up to the present date.

"The Moose" is known to all of the students, even to the lowest of the lowly Frosh for his ambling walk and ready smile. He's a great GUY.

Believe it or not (a la Ripley), but the "Man of a Thousand Names" is a one woman man. His one and only actress heart-throb is none other than the famous Annie Oakley.

Fancy that!

MERMEN HOLD PRACTICE TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS

Informal Sessions Come to Close As First Meet Approaches; Coach Gill Confident

Formal swimming practice will begin this evening at the pool under the direction of Coach Martin Gill. Up until today the practice has been merely informal every day but from now on regular sessions will be held each Tuesday and Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The squad has reached its full strength and a most successful season is expected. To the Philadelphia Turngemeinde mermen goes the distinction of being the 'Cats first opponents. This meet will be held December 8.

A full schedule will be announced next week, but it is practically a certainty that the splashers will engage in meets with the College of Osteopathy of Philadelphia, Johns Hopkins and others of the same calibre.

ATTENDANCE LACKING IN RED CROSS TESTS

Several Applicants Prepared To Take Examination For Award

It is requested of all those who have signed up for swimming instruction to report more often. Although about 150 men have signed, all have not as yet reported.

Red Cross examinations are held every Monday and instruction is given every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 1 to 6 P. M.

The following are ready to take their Red Cross examinations: Frank Volz, Ward Scanlan, Albert Laun Durkin, Reuben Masters, James Cost, Norton Paden, Joseph Canuso, Fitzpatrick, William Deery and James Onishick.

VARSITY HARRIERS COMMENCE DRILLS

Lettermen and Newcomers Requested to Attend Daily Workouts

Now that the football season has come to a close, Bob Reagan will turn his attention to the formation of another formidable track squad. A formal call for candidates will be issued in the near future and it is expected that a goodly number of runners will respond to the call as the indoor season gets under way shortly after the Christmas holidays.

Among the veterans of last year's team are Jim Elliot, ace middle distance man; Alex Kramer, also a middle distance runner; Jim Walsh, George Wrona, sprint men; Carl Hickey, high and broad jumper; Frank Wetzler, Ed Sullivan and Don Blanchard, weight men; Carroll Cook, Bill Sweeney in the field events, and Charley Kane in the distance runs. However, Coach Reagan has a wealth of material from last year's freshmen.

Fritz Monahan, speedy sophomore, showed the mentor that he had a world of speed in the intramurals last spring. The St. Clair High School boy turned in very fast times for the century and the 220-yard dash, despite a muddy track. In both he proved himself the class of the field.

Sophs Look Good

Two other members of last year's freshman class that will bear watching this season are Joe Shea, former Lower Merion star, and Ben Maloney, speedy distance man from Waterbury, Conn. Shea ran second to "Big Ed" Sullivan in the 440-yard dash in the intra-murals of last year, while Maloney ran as he pleased to lead the pack in the half and one-mile runs. Of these three newcomers much is expected by Coach Reagan in both the indoor and outdoor campaigns.

As usual the team will be entered in the West Virginia indoor relays and if they make good there it is more than likely they will show their wares in New York City at the K. of C. meet.

Basketeers Finish Informal Practice

Continued From Page Five

along with Shevlin. Barry has been a mainstay at one of the forward posts for three years. Pop broke broke into the limelight last year as a substitute.

Jack Torpey and Bill Sweeney will be jumping it out again this year for the tap position as was the case last year with the former having the edge. Mike O'Meara, Tom Ryan, Bill Farris, and Jack Robinson make up the remainder of last year's combine.

Among the newcomers to the varsity are Don Brennan and Harry McNally transfers from Fordham and Manhattan, respectively, and Leo Schoppmeyer and Pickle, of last year's freshmen hoop team.

Penn A. C. affords the first competition for the 'Cats, December 15. Then follows a short interval for the Xmas recess and then the hoopsters meet St. Johns of Brooklyn, which team eked out a two point victory last year. From then on the squad meets Bucknell, Dickinson, Western Maryland, Providence, George Washington, Temple, and C. C. N. Y.

'Cats' Meow

Thousands of eyes popped as the Villanova band strutted out on the field. Wouldn't recognize the old boys would you? Yessir, who said clothes don't make a difference?

—V—

Warner the wily has a great fullback this year.

—V—

Flash. . . .Smukler misses place kick on the kickoff. . . .Ball misses bar by inches.

—V—

Korchinski punts 90 yards. . . . A regular sou-wester blowin' folks, a regular sou-wester.

—V—

The Red Bradley jinx is broken! Whatsa matter Red? Didja lose the ole rabbit's foot?

—V—

A member of the weaker sex sitting behind the writer queries, "What's that big elephant doing out there with the rest of those fellows?" Hey, Dave, have a peanut!

—V—

In all fairness to Dave Smukler we must say he's a great ball player. Just a bit of advice David. Don't let old age creep up on you before you leave Warner's loving arms. Remember Dave, Thorpe couldn't run when he was sixty, but he still played.

—V—

Villanova 0 — Temple 22!

—V—

One consolation is that we still have top score over them. 'Member last year it was 24-0.

—V—

Smukler makes four yards off tackle. . . .Smukler goes over for a first down. . . .Smukler fades back and kicks a long high one far down the field. . . .Smukler. . . . Say who is this guy Smukler?

—V—

Just a great big BOY who loves to play football according to Pop Warner. But to his lesser intimates he's just a great big bull who ought to be out playing alongside of Bronko Nagurski.

—V—

Flash. . . .Villanova makes first down in final period after a beautiful forty yard dash by Joe Welsenbaugh.

—V—

Last year it was Temple U. versus Whitey Randour. This year it was Villanova College versus Dave Smukler. I say, Pop, are ya listenin' huh?

—V—

Rumors have it that his honor Smukler travels with a circus during the Summer months and is part of a tumblers act. More than once in the course of his act he supports his co-performers at different angles on his burly frame a la Sampson. This was only too evident as he carried the Cats from one end of the gridiron to the other.

ANNUAL PEP RALLY PROVES SUCCESSFUL; BIG CROWD ATTENDS

Harvey Harman and Lou Young, Penn, Among Speakers; Fr. O'Leary Features

WILDCAT COACHES GIVE USUAL INSPIRING TALKS

Traditional Mammoth Bonfire Held in Parking Lot Opposite Gymnasium

As a fitting climax to the pregame spirit and activities which had pervaded every nook on the campus, Student Council, under the leadership of James Walsh, its chairman, sponsored a gigantic rally and bonfire last Friday evening. The rally, which was conducted to further instill spirit into the members of the football team and student body in general, was held in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance building.

The fact that the 'Cats did not clip the Owls' wings, cannot be used as a proximate standard of the success of the rally. The hall was filled with surging humanity; students, faculty members, wisps of femininity—all well-wishers of the team—were present in full force in one corner.

To the left of the platform was an effigy of Davey Smukler, the Gloversville Goliath, bearing the inscription, "Let's Hang Tempie." On the other side of the platform, some members of the band, along with Iggy La Rosa, managed to keep things in some sort of order and provided entertainment until the rally formally began.

The rally was scheduled to start at 7:45, but it was about 8:30 when Walter Alessandroni, president of the Senior Class and acting master of ceremonies took up his gavel. With a few incidental intrusions of some of the illiteratti and a attendentized cachinnation of a fowl, which was judiciously timed, Mr. Alessandroni introduced the speakers.

The speakers heard during the course of the evening included James "Reds" Bradley, Lou Young, Al Severance, Bob Reagan, Harvey Harman, Rev. John O'Leary, O. S. A., Rev. Charles Melchoir, O. S. A., and Harry Stuhldreher.

Young, former director off Athletics and head coach of football at the University of Pennsylvania, stressed the importance of a fighting heart, which according to him is 75 percent of the battle.

"Never say you were beaten by a Temple team", was the keynote of "Reds" Bradley's speech. Incidentally, until this year's game Bradley had the unique distinction of being a victory speaker, that is, the team was always victorious on the following day.

Harvey Harman, head coach of football at the University of Pennsylvania, injected a vein of humor into the proceedings as he related some football anecdotes.

Fr. O'Leary, as usual, gave one of his fiery talks, ending with the hope that he would get a piece of the goal post.

Coach Stuhldreher in his talk said that the team had never been at such a keen edge, and that Temple would know that they had been in a football game before the afternoon had elapsed.

After the speeches, the crowd went enmasse to the field opposite the gymnasium where a huge bonfire construction was erected. The fire was ignited by Bill Grimberg, captain of this year's footballers. The crowd lingered around for a while, then slowly departed, some going to the annual Owl Hop which was being held in the gymnasium, while the others wended their way home. Thus ended the rally of the SMUKLER-VILLANOVA game.

TESTA MAKING SEVEN YARDS FOR TEMPLE IN ANNUAL THRILLER

The right halfback of the Owls is off for a short gain against Villanova in the traditional battle waged in the stadium of the Philadelphia institution last Saturday. Forty thousand people, the largest crowd ever to witness a game on the Cherry and White field, saw Temple take its second victory from the Main Liners in the seven-game series. Courtesy Evening Bulletin

GLEE CLUB CALLS FOR MORE MEMBERS

Meetings of Group Are Held Weekly; Certificates Of Merit to Be Givevn

In an effort to promote an extracurricular activity for students who possess vocal talent, the Glee Club, which has met with great enthusiasm in past years, is now being reorganized under the tutelage of Paul D. Teele. The membership is open to all students who desire to participate in singing.

During former years the Glee Club gave concerts in various cities, entertaining at college and parish social functions. These concerts were made possible, however, only through a large membership in the club and enthusiastic support of the student body.

Support Lacking

It is evident by the attendance at the initial meeting that the support is not as prevalent this year as it has been in previous years. This may be on account of the fact that the club has but recently been reorganized. The group meets every Monday in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance Building at 4 P. M. It is expected by Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., the moderator of the Glee Club, that at future meetings there will be a large turn-out of students. All those who appear will be tentatively received into the organization.

In addition to the apparent advantages of the club which its members derive, certificates of merit will be awarded at the end of the term to all participants.

Epsilon Phi Theta Selects Officers

Continued From Page One

nity propose Prof. Gill as Moderator of the organization.

New Leaders

The election of officers was then held and the following men were chosen: President, James A. Walsh; Vice-president, Rafael Alvarez; Secretary, Benedict Maloney; Treasurer, Charles Stahlecker.

In addition to his new office, Mr. Walsh also holds the position of President of the Student Council and is a member of the varsity football team.

May Hold Social

Before concluding the meeting, President Walsh informed members that he had already interviewed the Vice-president, Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., and had received permission for the club to hold a dance in the near future provided that its reorganization plans were carried out in a suitable manner.

Phila. Concern To Make Junior Rings

Continued From Page One

have their rings before the Christmas vacation period, it was advised that an order be placed with a member of the ring committee on or before last Friday.

A deposit of $5.00 is required to be placed with each order.

ADDRESSES SOCIETY

James Dougherty, Layman's Association Secretary, Speaks to Holy Name Group

Perhaps the most interesting talk yet given by any layman to the Holy Name Society of Villanova was given recently by James Dougherty, secretary of the Layman's Retreat Association of Malvern, Pa.

Mr. Dougherty opened his speech by telling the Holy Name men that it was very gratifying to see a group of college men turn out in such large numbers to follow up the work of the Holy Name. He related several amusing incidents that had happened to him while working for the society.

Concluding, Mr. Dougherty made an appeal to the students to continue their fine work with the society and to remember that this society is at the present day making the lives of many people more pleasant than it had previously been. He also invited the students to attend any of the retreats that are given at Malvern.

Philip Hart Dies; Villanova Trustee

Continued From Page One

service to the officials of Villanova College as friend, advisor, and trustee.

"I sincerely mourn his passing."

Born September 28, 1872, at Bryn Mawr, he was schooled at Lower Merion High School and Pierce School of Business Administration, Philadelphia, and has been engaged in the banking business since 1889.

Trustee 10 Years

In addition to being a trustee of the college for the past 10 years, Mr. Hart was president of Rosemont Building and Loan Association, vice-president of Bryn Mawr Community House Association, and president of Bryn Mawr Building and Loan Association.

He was a director of the Beneficial Saving Fund Society and of the Bryn Mawr Hospital and a member of the Hart and Hall Insurance Company.

Besides being past Grand Knight of the Philadelphia Council, Knights of Columbus, Hart was on the board of directors of St. Davids Golf Club and a member of the Manufacturers Club and the Lower Merion Kiwanis.

He is survived by his widow, Anna, two sons, Clyde and Philip A. Hart, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Joseph J. Derham, of Rosemont.

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits and Topcoats $24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See JIM ELLIOTT
Room 108, Fedigan Hall

FOR EXPERT, CONVENIENT
Tonsorial Necessities
PATRONIZE
The CAMPUS Barber Shop
(New Staff)
Popular Prices

NEW LAUNDRY COMPANY, Inc.
A NEW LAUNDRY WITH SEVENTY-SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE
Baring and State Sts.
Baring 5434

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25 and up
Also Real Tailored Suits
Agents
JOHN BURKE
LAWRENCE SHEA

UPPER DARBY LOAN SOCIETY
LICENSED PAWNBROKERS
Money Loaned on
DIAMONDS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY
AND ALL MERCHANDISE OF VALUE
Highest Prices Paid for Old Gold
Bargains in Diamonds, Watches Jewelry, Luggage, Etc.
UNREDEEMED PLEDGES AT GREAT SAVINGS Weekly Payments Accepted
6934 MARKET ST. Upper Darby Bou. 3119

it's a small world after all!
Cheer up, old man, even if you can't eat turkey at home this year. Thanksgiving will still be cause for thanksgiving if you join the family circle by telephone!
• Call 1,000 miles for $2.00 by Station to Station Night Rate after 8:30 P.M.
Pennsylvania

'Cats Prepare for Second Boxing Season

Mural Tourney Planned; Practice Sessions Open

Good Prospects for Current Campaign In Ralph Cost, Mike Delmonico And Jack Robinson

SPORT INCLUDED IN INTRA - MURALS

By EDWARD L. COLLINS

Starting his second season as coach of the boxing team, Joe Foley will endeavor to place the school in the limelight. Incidentally, this is only the second year of boxing in the history of the school. Mr. Foley, with the help of the proper authorities, will attempt to put boxing on a plane that will compare with the leading intercollegiate teams.

Boxing Shunned

When interviewed, Mr. Foley said: "For some unknown reason boxing has been shunned to the background. The College authorities have the idea firmly imbedded in their minds that boxing will never go!" When I say go, I mean that insofar as financial and scholastic gain is concerned. Needless to say, there is a prospective gold mine along the Main Line."

The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association held a wrestling tourney at Allentown last March. The returns from this meet greatly enriched the association's treasury. Mr. Foley intends sponsoring a boxing tourney along similar lines. Working in conjunction with the Suburban Conference authorities he hopes to make it an annual affair.

As far as scholastic returns are concerned, I need only to cite the remarkable teams of Notre Dame. Many outstanding teams were, and still are produced there, and the high school and prep school students flocked to the institution in droves.

Boxing Pays

Pennsylvania, Rutgers, Princeton, Penn State and Lehigh among many others have made boxing more than pay for itself. Penn State alone draws from three to five thousand spectators at their boxing meets. Situated in the Nittany Valley, the Lions draw from all over Center County and its vicinity. At the Palestra, Penn's boxing palace, the Quakers play to nearly three thousand PAID admissions at every engagement. One could go on for hours describing the conditions at the respective colleges. There is no reason whatsoever, why the team cannot participate in meets with the leading boxing teams and build up a reputation for the College to uphold.

The writer contented himself by asking a few students, freshmen in particular, what they thought of "The Manly Art of Self-Defense at Villanova College." Among the remarks were such, "I think it should be compulsory because one never knows when he will be called upon to defend himself." Another said that his athletic endeavor would be confined chiefly to boxing. Aside from school work he intended to participate in boxing and to set his heart on making a letter. And many other favorable comments were heard.

Outstanding Frosh Boxers

Who could ask for better prospects? The Freshmen Class possesses some very clever boys, that is as far as boxing is concerned. For instance there is Ralph Cost, 135 lbs. from Rutgers Prep. Fighting under the colors of Scarlet and Black, Ralph carried off the lightweight title in the New Jersey Prep Schol division. Mike Delmonico, a strapping 190 lb. youth from the mining town of Hazleton, will afford plenty of competition for the heavyweights. Mike is also a freshman football player of note. Valley Forge Military Academy, Wayne, Pa., has sent us Paul Kerrigan. Tipping the scales at 158, Paul will have to shed at least seven pounds to get in the welter class. Besides the above mentioned youngsters the team will have an outstanding performer in Jack Robinson. "Robby," a junior from New York, has accomplished more than his fellow students think him capable of doing. Possessor of the School Metropolitan light-heavyweight championship, "Robby" after a lapse of two years from the squared circle will attempt to regain the form that made him the terror of New York. He has even gone so far as issue a challenge to anyone his weight — give or take two pounds.

To Conduct Intramural Tourney

Last year most of the varsity boxers were products of the interclass ranks. It is from this group that many potential champions are uncovered, and Mr. Foley and the Intra-Mural Committee are going to put on an elimination program to determine the outstanding candidates. Each hall will have a team represented in the 'murals and the team carrying off the bunting will be well rewarded. It is the wish of the coaching staff that more underclassmen take part in boxing. It is the wish of the coaching staff that more under classmen take part in boxing. Anyone desirous of using the facilities can do so by reporting to Mr. Foley in the gym any afternoon after 2:30.

LIGHTWEIGHT TEAM COMPLETES SEASON

Lenzi Calls Year a Success; Rogers Gains Captaincy For 1935 Season

By NORTON PADEN

A 20 to 0 defeat at the hands of a powerful Rutgers 150 pound eleven closed the season for Lenzi's minions last Friday at the Villanova Stadium. The juggernaut from the banks of the Raritan overwhelmed a plucky Wildcat aggregation and sent their hopes crashing to oblivion.

Last year a New Brunswick Rutgers accounted for a defeat when the 'Cats lightweight division went down before them to the tune of 12 to 0. This defeat last year spurred Lenzi's boys on in an attempt to offset this by a win this season but their plans were frustrated when they journey to Easton to combat a formidable Lafayette eleven. Here their hopes of an undefeated season were shattered when they were turned back by the score of 13 to 0. The inability of the lightweights to cope with Lafayette's aerial attack accounted for the setback.

Princeton and the University of Pennsylvania were met next with subsequent defeats. The Tiger game ended up with a score of 13 to 0 with Princeton on the long end of the total. At Pennsylvania a brilliant passing attack between O'Neill and Leone accounted for two touchdowns made by Villanova but they were finally beaten when the U. of P. pushed across three tallies.

Manhattan was played the week before the Penn tilt and Lenzi's boys came through. The final score 13 to 0 in the 'Cats favor was accomplished when the passing attack worked to perfection. Due to two previous defeats the lightweights were filled with fight and they swamped the Jaspers before they could get their attack under way.

With the final game the 'Cats closed a very successful season, according to Coach Lincoln Lenzi. Coach Lenzi expressed his opinion of the season as follows:

"I believe the season was a success considering the circumstances we had to contend with. I say this because we really fulfilled the purpose of having the ball club here." In explaining this last statement "Link" said that the real purpose behind the 150 pound club was to get the interest of the boys centered on something tangible.

"As long as the boys came out and worked hard I consider the season a success," Coach Lenzi continued.

In speaking of the juniors who played this year, "Link" said "The lads who will graduate this June have the qualifications necessary to be successful in any phase of life. They really have the fight and guts' because they fought an uphill battle all season."

In the Limelight

By JAMES W. KEELEY

We have before us, gentlemen, (Villanova hasn't gone co-ed yet) one of those big, silent, handsome exhibits of Down East manhood. None other than Edward D. Sullivan, commonly known by any one of two or three humorous appellations. For our own purposes we call him "Big Ed," or "Sull," "Old Pappy," and in last resort, Moose."

"Sull" was born September 8, 1912, at an early age. Looking at him now it is almost impossible to figure this out. The first time he opened his huge optics he saw that he was located in Fitchburg, Mass. Since he was born in '12, and this year is 1934 A. A., we have finally advanced the theory that "Old Pappy" is 21 years of age. Horrors! However, old as he is, he is still an older member of the younger generation.

Since both he and his parents deemed it advisable that he obtain an education, he trundled off to grammar school. The name of this primary institution of learning will have to be listed among the missing.

From this pillar of education he next betook himself to Fitchburg High School. Besides absorbing all there was to be absorbed, in the field of the intelligentia, our hero also distinguished himself upon the gridiron and the cinderpath, showing his heels to more than a few of the best of the representative stars of the district. In his senior year, his football mates elected him captain of the team.

Even after high school, he was still ambitious with regard to education, so entered Hebron Academy, continuing his feats in the athletic world. After spending the time required, he got out of there, too.

"Big Ed" came all the way from his native town to this massive pile of stone structures in the fall of 1931 to receive a "kollitch edumacashun." Our hero had a secondary reason for coming here, namely, to show the followers of the Wildcats, how the facts, singularly and collectively, of the opposition should be doused in the mire.

Somehow or other, he was able to carry out his schedule as planned.

Following 1931, came 1932, and sophomore year. Here it was, that "Sully" distinguished himself upon the gridiron. He displayed a stellar brand of line play which has featured his endeavors ever since and up to the present date.

"The Moose" is known to all of the students, even to the lowest of the lowly Frosh for his ambling walk and ready smile. He's a great GUY.

Believe it or not (a la Ripley), but the "Man of a Thousand Names" is a one woman man. His one and only actress heart-throb, is none other than the famous Annie Oakley. .

Fancy that!

MERMEN HOLD PRACTICE TUESDAYS AND FRIDAYS

Informal Sessions Come to Close As First Meet Approaches; Coach Gill Confident

Formal swimming practice will begin this evening at the pool under the direction of Coach Martin Gill. Up until today the practice has been merely informal every day but from now on regular sessions will be held each Tuesday and Friday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

The squad has reached its full strength and a most successful season is expected. To the Philadelphia Turngemeinde mermen goes the distinction of being the 'Cats first opponents. This meet will be held December 8.

A full schedule will be announced next week, but it is practically a certainty that the splashers will engage in meets with the College of Osteopathy of Philadelphia, Johns Hopkins and others of the same calibre.

ATTENDANCE LACKING IN RED CROSS TESTS

Several Applicants Prepared To Take Examination For Award

It is requested of all those who have signed up for swimming instruction to report more often. Although about 150 men have signed, all have not as yet reported.

Red Cross examinations are held every Monday and instruction is given every Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 1 to 6 P. M.

The following are ready to take their Red Cross examinations: Frank Volz, Ward Scanlan, Albert Laun Durkin, Reuben Masters, James Coat, Norton Paden, Joseph Canuso, Fitzpatrick, William Deery and James Onishick.

VARSITY HARRIERS COMMENCE DRILLS

Lettermen and Newcomers Requested to Attend Daily Workouts

Now that the football season has come to a close, Bob Reagan will turn his attention to the formation of another formidable track squad. A formal call for candidates will be issued in the near future and it is expected that a goodly number of runners will respond to the call as the indoor season gets under way shortly after the Christmas holidays.

Among the veterans of last year's team are Jim Elliot, ace middle distance man; Alex Kramer, also a middle distance runner; Jim Walsh, George Wrona, sprint men; Carl Hickey, high and broad jumper; Frank Wetzler, Ed Sullivan and Don Blanchard, weight men; Carroll Cook, Bill Sweeney in the field events, and Charley Kane in the distance runs. However, Coach Reagan has a wealth of material from last year's freshmen.

Fritz Monahan, speedy sophomore, showed the mentor that he had a world of speed in the intramurals last spring. The St. Clair High School boy turned in very fast times for the century and the 220-yard dash, despite a muddy track. In both he proved himself the class of the field.

Sophs Look Good

Two other members of last year's freshman class that will bear watching this season are Joe Shea, former Lower Merion star, and Ben Maloney, speedy distance man from Waterbury, Conn. Shea ran second to "Big Ed" Sullivan in the 440-yard dash in the intra-murals of last year, while Maloney ran as he pleased to lead the pack in the half and one-mile runs. Of these three newcomers much is expected by Coach Reagan in both the indoor and outdoor campaigns.

As usual the team will be entered in the West Virginia indoor relays and if they make good there it is more than likely they will show their wares in New York City at the K. of C. meet.

Basketeers Finish Informal Practice

Continued From Page Five

along with Shevlin. Barry has been a mainstay at one of the forward posts for three years. Pop broke broke into the limelight last year as a substitute.

Jack Torpey and Bill Sweeney will be jumping it out again this year for the tap position as was the case last year with the former having the edge. Mike O'Meara, Tom Ryan, Bill Farris, and Jack Robinson make up the remainder of last year's combine.

Among the newcomers to the varsity are Don Brennan and Harry McNally transfers from Fordham and Manhattan, respectively, and Leo Schoppmeyer and Pickle, of last year's freshmen hoop team.

Penn A. C. affords the first competition for the 'Cats, December 15. Then follows a short interval for the Xmas recess and then the hoopsters meet St. Johns of Brooklyn, which team eked out a two point victory last year. From then on the squad meets Bucknell, Dickinson, Western Maryland, Providence, George Washington, Temple, and C. C. N. Y.

'Cats' Meow

Thousands of eyes popped as the Villanova band strutted out on the field. Wouldn't recognize the old boys would you? Yessir, who said clothes don't make a difference?

—V—

Warner the wily has a great fullback this year.

—V—

Flash. . . .Smukler misses place kick on the kickoff. . . .Ball misses bar by inches.

—V—

Korchinski punts 90 yards. . . A regular sou-wester blowin' folks, a regular sou-wester.

—V—

The Red Bradley jinx is broken! Whatsa matter Red? Didja lose the ole rabbit's foot?

—V—

A member of the weaker sex sitting behind the writer queries, "What's that big elephant doing out there with the rest of those fellows?" Hey, Dave, have a peanut!

—V—

In all fairness to Dave Smukler we must say he's a great ball player. Just a bit of advice David. Don't let old age creep up on you before you leave Warner's loving arms. Remember Dave, Thorpe couldn't run when he was sixty, but he still played.

—V—

Villanova 0 — Temple 22!

—V—

One consolation is that we still have top score over them. 'Member last year it was 24-0.

—V—

Smukler makes four yards off tackle. . . .Smukler goes over for a first down. . . .Smukler fades back and kicks a long high one far down the field. . . .Smukler. . . . Say who is this guy Smukler?

—V—

Just a great big BOY who loves to play football according to Pop Warner. But to his lesser intimates he's just a great big bull who ought to be out playing alongside of Bronko Nagurski.

—V—

Flash. . . .Villanova makes first down in final period after a beautiful forty yard dash by Joe Weisenbaugh.

—V—

Last year it was Temple U. versus Whitey Randour. This year it was Villanova College versus Dave Smukler. I say, Pop, are ya listenin' huh?

—V—

Rumors have it that his honor Smukler travels with a circus during the Summer months and is part of a tumblers act. More than once in the course of his act he supports his co-performers at different angles on his burly frame a la Sampson. This was only too evident as he carried the Cats from one end of the gridiron to the other.

ANNUAL PEP RALLY PROVES SUCCESSFUL; BIG CROWD ATTENDS

Harvey Harman and Lou Young, Penn, Among Speakers; Fr. O'Leary Features

WILDCAT COACHES GIVE USUAL INSPIRING TALKS

Traditional Mammoth Bonfire Held in Parking Lot Opposite Gymnasium

As a fitting climax to the pregame spirit and activities which had pervaded every nook on the campus, Student Council, under the leadership of James Walsh, its chairman, sponsored a gigantic rally and bonfire last Friday evening. The rally, which was conducted to further instill spirit into the members of the football team and student body in general, was held in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance building.

The fact that the 'Cats did not clip the Owls' wings, cannot be used as a proximate standard of the success of the rally. The hall was filled with surging humanity; students, faculty members, wisps of femininity—all well-wishers of the team—were present in full force in one corner.

To the left of the platform was an effigy of Davey Smukler, the Gloversville Goliath, bearing the inscription, "Let's Hang Temple." On the other side of the platform, some members of the band, along with Iggy La Rosa, managed to keep things in some sort of order and provided entertainment until the rally formally began.

The rally was scheduled to start at 7:45, but it was about 8:30 when Walter Alessandroni, president of the Senior Class and acting master of ceremonies took up his gavel. With a few incidental intrusions of some of the illiterati and a attidentized cachinnation of a fowl, which was judiciously timed, Mr. Alessandroni introduced the speakers.

The speakers heard during the course of the evening included James "Reds" Bradley, Lou Young, Al Severance, Bob Reagan, Harvey Harman, Rev. John O'Leary, O. S. A., Rev. Charles Meichoir, O. S. A., and Harry Stuhldreher.

Young, former director off Athletics and head coach of football at the University of Pennsylvania, stressed the importance of a fighting heart, which according to him is 75 percent of the battle.

"Never say you were beaten by a Temple team", was the keynote of "Reds" Bradley's speech. Incidentally, until this year's game Bradley had the unique distinction of being a victory speaker, that is, the team was always victorious on the following day.

Harvey Harman, head coach of football at the University of Pennsylvania, injected a vein of humor into the proceedings as he related some football anecdotes.

Fr. O'Leary, as usual, gave one of his fiery talks, ending with the hope that he would get a piece of the goal post.

Coach Stuhldreher in his talk said that the team had never been at such a keen edge, and that Temple would know that they had been in a football game before the afternoon had elapsed.

After the speeches, the crowd went enmasse to the field opposite the gymnasium where a huge bonfire construction was erected. The fire was ignited by Bill Grimberg, captain of this year's footballers. The crowd lingered around for a while, then slowly departed, some going to the annual Owl Hop which was being held in the gymnasium, while the others wended their way home. Thus ended the rally of the SMUKLER-VILLANOVA game.

TESTA MAKING SEVEN YARDS FOR TEMPLE IN ANNUAL THRILLER

The right halfback of the Owls is off for a short gain against Villanova in the traditional battle waged in the stadium of the Philadelphia Institution last Saturday. Forty thousand people, the largest crowd ever to witness a game on the Cherry and White field, saw Temple take its second victory from the Main Liners in the seven-game series. Courtesy Evening Bulletin

GLEE CLUB CALLS FOR MORE MEMBERS

Meetings of Group Are Held Weekly; Certificates Of Merit to Be Givevn

In an effort to promote an extra-curricular activity for students who possess vocal talent, the Glee Club, which has met with great enthusiasm in past years, is now being reorganized under the tutelage of Paul D. Teele. The membership is open to all students who desire to participate in singing.

During former years the Glee Club gave concerts in various cities, entertaining at college and parish social functions. These concerts were made possible, however, only through a large membership, in the club and enthusiastic support of the student body.

Support Lacking

It is evident by the attendance at the initial meeting that the support is not as prevalent this year as it has been in previous years. This may be on account of the fact that the club has but recently been reorganized. The group meets every Monday in the auditorium of the Commerce and Finance Building at 4 P. M. It is expected by Rev. Charles J. Brown, O. S. A., the moderator of the Glee Club, that at future meetings there will be a large turn-out of students. All those who appear will be tentatively received into the organization.

In addition to the apparent advantages of the club which its members derive, certificates of merit will be awarded at the end of the term to all participants.

Epsilon Phi Theta Selects Officers

Continued From Page One

nity propose Prof. Gill as Moderator of the organization.

New Leaders

The election of officers was then held and the following men were chosen: President, James A. Walsh; Vice-president, Rafael Alvarez; Secretary, Benedict Maloney; Treasurer, Charles Stahlecker.

In addition to his new office, Mr. Walsh also holds the position of President of the Student Council and is a member of the varsity football team.

May Hold Social

Before concluding the meeting, President Walsh informed members that he had already interviewed the Vice-president, Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., and had received permission for the club to hold a dance in the near future provided that its reorganization plans were carried out in a suitable manner.

Phila. Concern To Make Junior Rings

Continued From Page One

have their rings before the Christmas vacation period, it was advised that an order be placed with a member of the ring committee on or before last Friday.

A deposit of $5.00 is required to be placed with each order.

ADDRESSES SOCIETY

James Dougherty, Layman's Association Secretary, Speaks to Holy Name Group

Perhaps the most interesting talk yet given by any layman to the Holy Name Society of Villanova was given recently by James Dougherty, secretary of the Layman's Retreat Association of Malvern, Pa.

Mr. Dougherty opened his speech by telling the Holy Name men that it was very gratifying to see a group of college men turn out in such large numbers to follow up the work of the Holy Name. He related several amusing incidents that had happened to him while working for the society.

Concluding, Mr. Dougherty made an appeal to the students to continue their fine work with the society and to remember that this society is at the present day making the lives of many people more pleasant than it had previously been. He also invited the students to attend any of the retreats that are given at Malvern.

Philip Hart Dies; Villanova Trustee

Continued From Page One

service to the officials of Villanova College as friend, advisor, and trustee.

"I sincerely mourn his passing."

Born September 28, 1872, at Bryn Mawr, he was schooled at Lower Merion High School and Pierce School of Business Administration, Philadelphia, and has been engaged in the banking business since 1889.

Trustee 10 Years

In addition to being a trustee of the college for the past 10 years, Mr. Hart was president of Rosemont Building and Loan Association, vice-president of Bryn Mawr Community House Association, and president of Bryn Mawr Building and Loan Association.

He was a director of the Beneficial Saving Fund Society and of the Bryn Mawr Hospital and a member of the Hart and Hall Insurance Company.

Besides being past Grand Knight of the Philadelphia Council, Knights of Columbus, Hart was on the board of directors of St. Davids Golf Club and a member of the Manufacturers Club and the Lower Merion Kiwanis.

He is survived by his widow, Anna, two sons, Clyde and Philip A. Hart, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Joseph J. Derham, of Rosemont.

ARDROSSAN FARMS
"Certified Milk"
Healthy, Vigorous Ayrshire Cows Produce Most Digestible Milk

UPPER DARBY LOAN SOCIETY
LICENSED PAWNBROKERS
Money Loaned on
DIAMONDS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY
AND ALL MERCHANDISE OF VALUE
Highest Prices Paid for Old Gold
Bargains in Diamonds, Watches Jewelry, Luggage, Etc.
UNREDEEMED PLEDGES AT GREAT SAVINGS Weekly Payments Accepted
6934 MARKET ST. Upper Darby Bou. 5119

NEW LAUNDRY COMPANY, Inc.
A NEW LAUNDRY WITH SEVENTY-SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE
Baring and State Sts. Baring 5434

COLADONATO Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats Made to Your Measure
$25 and up
Also Real Tailored Suits
Agents JOHN BURKE LAWRENCE SHEA

FOR EXPERT, CONVENIENT
Tonsorial Necessities
PATRONIZE
The CAMPUS Barber Shop
(New Staff)
Popular Prices

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure
COLEBY TAILORING INC.
Suits and Topcoats
$24.75
Store at 57th and Market Sts.
See
JIM ELLIOTT
Room 108, Fedigan Hall

it's a small world after all!
Cheer up, old man, even if you can't eat turkey at home this year. Thanksgiving will still be cause for thanksgiving if you join the family circle by telephone!
• Call 1,000 miles for $2.00 by Station to Station Night Rate after 8:30 P.M.
The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

PURDUE PROFESSOR PICKS BEST BOOKS

Lists 20 Outstanding Pieces Of Historical Literature; Published Recently

By Associated Collegiate Press

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Nov. 26—The best books in history, all of relatively recent publication have been selected by Prof. Louis M. Sears, of the Purdue University faculty. The list selected by Prof. Sears follows:

"Freedom of the Mind in History," by Henry Osborn Taylor. "Studies in the History of Mediaeval Science," by Charles Homer Haskins; Science and Thought in the Fifteenth Century: Studies in the History of Medicine and Surgery, Natural and Mathematical Science, Philosophy and Politics," by Lynn Thorndike. "The Heavenly City of the Eighteenth Century Philosophers," by Carl L. Becker.

"The History of British Civilization," by Esme Wingfield-Stratford. "History of England," by George Macaulay Trevelyan. "Historical Trials," by the late Sir John Macdonnel, K. C. B. "Queen Elizabeth," by J. E. Neale. "Elizabeth and Essex, a Tragic History," by Lytton Strachey. "The Origins of the World War," by Sidney Bradshaw Fay.

"What Me Befell: the Reminiscenses of J. J. Jusserand." "Mary Baker Eddy: The Truth and the Tradition," by Ernest Sutherland Bates and John W. Dittmore. "The Epic of America," by James Truslow Adams. "Life and Labor in the Old South," by Ulrich Bonnell Phillips. "The Tragic Era: The Revolution After Lincoln," by Claude G. Bowers.

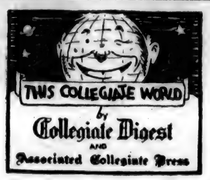
Hopkins Announces Emergency Relief For College Men

By Associated Collegiate Press

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 26—Financial aid for 94,331 students in 1,466 colleges and universities in the United States and possessions will be provided by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration during the present school year, Administrator Harry L. Hopkins has announced. These students will receive a monthly allotment of $1,414,940.

Each college president is held responsible for the program in his administration, and students will be employed in socially-desirable work on and off the campus. On the campus they will be engaged in research, clerical, office, library, museum and laboratory work, while off the campus activities include community education, health, and welfare projects.

The selection of students to receive aid is to be from among those who without this help would be unable to attend or remain in college. The quota for each college is 12 per cent of the enrollment as of October 15, 1933. A student is permitted to earn as much as $20 a month, but the allotment of funds to each college will be on the basis of $15 a month for each of 12 per cent of its enrollment of full-time students.



Sherman Finger is making a name for himself at the University of Minnesota in the field of track. His fame has spread wide and far, and finally they heard all about him at Alabama Polytech, with the result that they invited him to become their football coach!

"I would be dubious about my standing in the South, with my name," was his refusal.

"Mister," came the reply, "just march through Georgia, that's all we ask—just march through Georgia!"

* * *

News item: "Professor McDougall told the delegates: 'I regard animal behavior as tending toward goal seeking'."

The professor, being a Scottish sage of learning, is not accustomed to spending his Saturday afternoons at football games, as American professors do, or else he would have said: "I regard goal-seeking as animal behavior."

* * *

Mysterious are the ways of the electorate, but not half so mysterious as the ways of the trustees of the University of North Dakota. They allow student publications to run advertisements for pipe tobacco and cigars, but nary an ad for a cigarette company!

Ted Husing Picked Colgate to Win; Jingle Telegram Brings Bet Offer

By Associated Collegiate Press

HAMILTON, N. Y., Nov. 26—Previous to the Colgate-Ohio State game, Ted Husing, sports announcer, in his radio talk picked Ohio State to win. An hour later a rhythmed telegram appeared from Colgate reading this way: "My Dear Ted Husing: As to your choosing that Colgate will be Losing We Have One Hundred Dollars We Are Not Using, and if You Surmise Your Prediction is Wise, Fork Up Your Hundred and We'll Take Youse Guys. (Signed) The Beta House, Colgate University.

Husing wired back this jingle: "As To Your Pleading That Colgate Will Be Leading, I Have a Hundred I'm Not Needing. I fear That the Betas will Soon Lose Their Status as Prognosticatahs. Please Let Me Know, And I will Forward the Dough. (Signed) Ted Husing.

"Hundred Coming, Keep Wires Humming With Disastrous News Ohio's Succumbing," taunted Colgate. Husing, wiring the money, advised:

"I Tell You This to Bring You Pain, The Beta's Bet will be Husing's Gain. I'm sorry My Football Erudition Will Cost You Most of Next Term's Tuition.

The game was played. Colgate lost 10 to 7. A few minutes later Husing received this gay surrender: "Congratulations. You Broke The Bank. As Prognosticatahs We Are Rank." (Signed) The Betas.

Collegiate Review

By Associated Collegiate Press

Prof. A. M. Webb, Duke University (Durham, N. C.) professor of Romance Languages, has recently received the distinction of being named "Officer d'Academie," an honorary degree conferred by the minister of public instruction of France.

The University of Missouri (Columbia) has received an invitation from the U. S. S. R. to be represented on the occasion of the honoring of Prof. Alexis Bellavsky, who has been professor of electrical engineering at Novocherkassk since 1910.

The Webster chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity, has been transferred from the Chicago Law School to Loyola University (Chicago.)

Approximately one-third of the 1487 students enrolled at Wellesley College (Mass.) are seeking ways to earn a part of their college expenses.

Indiana University (Bloomington) has added a course in rhythmic dancing to its physical training curriculum.

Cornell University (Ithaca, N. Y.) has a total of 145 students from 37 foreign countries enrolled in its classes this fall.

Freshmen at Lehigh University (Bethlehem, Pa.) have a higher intelligence than last year's freshman class, according to results obtained from a recent psychological test.

Tobacco.. there are just as many kinds as there are kinds of folks

A bale of aromatic Chesterfield Turkish tobacco.

Mild ripe home-grown tobacco used in Chesterfield Cigarettes.

long · short · thick
heavy · dark · light
all kinds and styles

. . . but it takes mild ripe tobacco—Turkish and home-grown—to make a milder better-tasting cigarette.

. . . and that's the kind you get in every Chesterfield package.

Down South in the tobacco country, where they grow and know tobacco—in most places Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette.

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 10 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 4, 1934 Price: Five Cents

ADVANCEMENT SEEN TOWARD EDUCATION AT 'SHORE CONCLAVE

Catholic Learning in This Country to Benefit From N.C.E.A. Reorganization

COMMITTEE CHAIRMANED BY VILLANOVA PRESIDENT

More Than 60 College Presidents, Deans Attend Group's Discussions

By N. C. W. C.

Atlantic City, N. J.—An important movement in the interest of Catholic Higher Education in the United States has just been launched at a session of Presidents and Deans of Catholic Colleges from the Eastern States. The meeting, which closed here at Haddon Hall Hotel Saturday, was called to consider plans for the reorganization of the College Department of the National Catholic Education Association.

Over sixty Presidents and Deans from thirty-three Catholic Colleges were in attendance.

President In Charge

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Organization Committee of the College Department, N. C. E. A. and was presided over by Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., President of Villanova College and chairman of the committee.

Enthusiastic approval was given to the proposal to form four regional units within the College Department of the N. C. E. A. Various speakers hailed this plan of reorganization as a New Deal, long overdue, for the Catholic Colleges of the country. Regional meetings were stressed as the most practical way to bring about closer cooperation between catholic college educators in coping with the many perplexing problems confronting them.

Plan Merger

A plan to merge both the executive and accrediting committees of the national organization into one smaller committee having the services of a paid executive secretary was approved as a move towards greater efficiency.

The Chairman reported that arrangements are already under way to hold a similar meeting for the southern colleges at Atlanta, Ga., in January. Meetings are also planned for the middle west and the far west before the national organization convenes its annual meeting in April at Chicago.

The following Catholic Universities and Colleges were represented

Continued on Page Four

PRESIDES AT MEETING

VERY REV. EDWARD V. STANFORD, O. S. A., LL. D., president of the college, and chairman of the Organization Committee of the College Department of the National Catholic Educational Association, who had charge of the meeting of the presidents and deans of the Catholic Colleges of the East, held at Atlantic City, N. J., last Friday and Saturday.

WILKES-BARRE CLUB PLANS GAY FROLIC

Dance to Be Conducted In Cabaret Style; Forkin, Cleary Committeemen

With the holiday season less than three weeks away, members of the Wilkes Barre Club of Villanova are anxiously looking forward to the annual Christmas week social to be held this year at Hotel Mallow Sterling, in the upstate city.

Plans for a special cabaret night will be a feature of this dance to which members of Wilkes Barre's social set flock every year. In addition to the large number of active members who plan to attend the dance, committeemen in charge of the affair have received a number of communications from alumni who have signified their intentions of being present by asking for advance reservations.

Several orchestras are being considered for the affair, but Hubert Gallagher, president of the campus organization, is holding his decision in abeyance until the club decides which band can furnish the best possible entertainment for the holiday party.

In conjunction with the affair, members of the club will fete seniors of the group at a dinner party preceding the dance. Keys, on

Continued on Page Seven

FOREIGN RELATIONS TAKES ON NEW LIFE UNDER ENDOWMENT

Members Prepare to Present Papers on League of Nations' Background

SPEAKERS WILL ADDRESS BODY ON CURRENT TOPICS

Section of Library Reserved To House Literature For Members' Use

Members of the Foreign Relations Society have been quite active, since their entrance into the Carnegie Endowment and Model League of Nations two weeks ago. At their last meeting, Friday, it was decided that each member should undertake to investigate and report on some phase of the background of the League of Nations.

Map Europe

Volunteers offered to take the various subjects as suggested by the moderator, Rev. John Fitzmaurice, O. S. A., and write short theses on the work. It was also proposed that a map of present-day Europe should be revamped, in

Continued on Page Four

SECOND CABARET SHOW SET FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

Entertainment Promises to Surpass That of Previous Presentation; Tap DancersFeatured

By JACK GERAGHTY

Gigolo's of Louie's Kozy Korner in the basement of Mendel will go to town in the new, gigantic, colossal December edition of the Pie Shoppe Gambols when the talented entertainers of Villanova College strut their wares in the entertainment line next Friday night.

The show put on by the smoothies a few weeks ago will go out and hide in hole when the stars ooze out on the boards to amaze the gaping assemblage of cheering students with a dazzling array of artistic harlequinade and susurrating tonic solfas. In other words, the new guys are going to throw a pretty nifty show with lotsa bellylaffs and stuff.

No line can be gotten on the embryonic Broadway luminaries, but they'll be verra swell, so the boys in the know say. Louie had best get some kinda ventilation in the joint, or the smoke from the fumes will be so fogiferous as to exclude from the visual capacities of the audience the scintillating performances of the aspiring entertainers.

Tap dances are supposed to be a feature of the new production. Some lads were overheard to the effect that the shoe shine gentleman will be one of the star attractions. They'd do well to keep the Engineers outa this thing; you know what they did to the last one? You know me, Al.

SENIOR PHOTOGRAPHY

Fourth-Year Men Must Go To Zamsky Studios for Sittings

The photographer from Zamsky studios was again in the reception room of Mendel Hall yesterday to photograph seniors for the Belle Air. Last week about fifteen seniors presented themselves to be photographed.

According to Francis Bigley, Photography Editor of the annual, yesterday marked the last appearance of the photographer on the campus. All seniors who have not as yet been photographed, will have to go to the studio in Philadelphia if they wish to have their pictures in the year book.

RECEIVES PROMOTION

(Staff Photo—Violetti)

JAMES W. KEELEY, senior in the School of Commerce and Finance, who has been named to the position of Associate College Editor of the VILLANOVAN. He has been a member of the staff of the weekly paper of the college for three years.

KEELEY RECEIVES STAFF PROMOTION

Named Associate College Editor for Meritorious Work On Student Weekly

Breaking a precedent of years long standing, editors of the VILLANOVAN today announce the appointment of James W. Keeley, senior in the School of Commerce and Finance, to the post of Associate College Editor of this newspaper.

This decision was made by the editorial board after it had been pointed out that Mr. Keeley has faithfully served the paper during his three years as a staff writer. Last Spring when the new staff of the publication assumed its duties, the new associate editor was named to the post of one of the feature writers.

This is the first time in the history of the newspaper that a major appointment has been made in midterm. It has been an unwritten law on the publication that all editorial board appointments must be made before Easter Monday when a new staff takes over the college paper for one year.

PIE SHOPPE IMPASSE SOLVED BY AUTHORITIES

Council Puts Controversy Over Use Of Tables by Lunch-Carrying Students Before Officials

Last week the placing of a few notices in the Pie Shoppe which read to the effect that day students carrying their luncheon were not permitted the use of the tables from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. caused considerable disturbance and hard feelings between its management and the undergraduates concerned.

It seems that those who bring lunch use nearly all the table space before the customers have finished buying theirs who consequently have no place to sit down. Another notice read that "coffee trade" of the former was not solicited. The controversy reached the point of a partial boycott of the Pie Shoppe by a large number of the student body.

This boycott continued for only twenty-four hours when Louis Ciamachela, manager of the popular rendezvous, decided to take the matter up with the Student Council. That organization has discussed the situation with Rev. Bernard M. Albers, O. S. A., vice president of the college.

Authorities yesterday sanctioned council's posting of notices to the effect that students who carry lunches are requested not to use the lunchroom tables between the hours of 12:30 to 1 P. M.

PHILADELPHIA CLUB READY FOR ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET

Penn Athletic Club Will Be Scene of 11th Testimonial Grid Dinner

FORTY YEARS FOR 'CATS IN COLLEGIATE RANKS

Coach Stuhldreher Will Mark His Tenth Season as Head Mentor at Villanova

Villanova's annual tribute to its gridiron stalwarts, the football banquet, sponsored by the Villanova Club of Philadelphia, will be held this year at Penn Athletic Club, Rittenhouse Square, Philadelphia, Thursday evening, December 13.

The annual testimonial dinner is held each year at the close of the football season in honor of the eleven and its coach. This year marks two milestones in the Blue and White gridiron warfare. Head Coach Harry Stuhldreher is celebrating his tenth year as mentor of the Wildcats and the team itself marks its fortieth year in intercollegiate competition.

Successful Record

Officials here believe Mr. Stuhldreher's tenure has been a successful one. Coming to the Main Line institution when the record of the Wildcats had fallen to its lowest ebb, he inaugurated a system which culminated in Villanova's emergence as a first class eleven.

To pay homage to the man possessing such a record is the purpose of the alumni testimonial, and the alumni secretary feels that no other word need be spoken to loyal alumni and students in asking their patronage and attendance at the dinner.

By means of this annual assembly the graduates salute each Wildcat team, whether its deeds have been mighty or not so luminous. It is a token of recognition of the Villanova spirit which accompanies each Blue and White eleven in victory and defeat. Although the record of this year's team was only mediocre, nevertheless it carried on the tradition of fighting spirit characteristic of Wildcat combinations of yore.

Prominent Speakers

Numerous groups have been working for the past month under

Continued on Page Seven

Lack of Interest Proves Drawback To Glee Club

Many More Members Needed; Rehearsals Held Every Monday Afternoon

Lack of interest among the student body is proving a serious drawback to the advancement of the newly reorganized Villanova glee club.

The total membership of the choral society has mounted to 22 voices, but this number is appreciably lower than the accepted standard of such organizations.

Faculty moderator, Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., has attempted divers methods to induce the student body to take part in this activity, but cooperation has not been forthcoming since its inception. Paul D. Teel, maestro of the Villanova band and the school dance orchestra has been placed at the helm of the club and will direct, compose and arrange its activities.

Rehearsals are held on Monday afternoon each week at 4 o'clock in the Commerce and Finance auditorium.

Definite Dates Set for Initial Offering of Belle Masque Group

Plans to construct a special stage in the auditorium of the School of Commerce and Finance are being formulated by members of the Belle Masque Chapter of the Villanova Literary Society.

The group whose first dramatic presentation of the school year is scheduled to take place Thursday evening, January 10, and Saturday evening, January 12, are busy rehearsing for the stirring comedy, "Gun Shy."

Light Comedy

Cleverly depicting the character of a young man who doesn't care for big game hunting, the authors, Homer Little and Myer Jo Closer, have packed a side-splitting presentation into the three act farce.

The action of the play is concerned with Junior Drake's unwillingness to go to Africa to hunt lions with his father. While he is planning some means of evading the situation, a lion escapes from a nearby circus, and the youth's father goes out to hunt for it.

Unfortunately for Junior, portrayed by John W. Hallahan, Jr., the King of the Jungle crosses his path, and he is forced to capture it. However, the play ends happily as the hero marries a girl who writes books on big game hunting.

Feminine Roles

One of the outstanding features of the presentation will be the casting of students here in female roles. The dainty feminine parts in the play have been assigned to George Malhame and Joseph J. Linslata, VILLANOVAN columnist.

Others in the cast of the production coached by the organization's

Continued on Page Four

VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the

Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DJOSEPH, '36 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES W. KEELEY, '35 ..... Associate College Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35 ..... Art and Photographic Editor

Associate to the College Staff
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Gorgi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Russel H. Marcouse, '36 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Norton C. Paden, '37 — Anthony Catchumbone, '36

Assistant to the Business Staff
Wm. B. Cleary

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Basil W. Dobrowolski, '37
John Lauriaonis, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — John Mullin, '37
George Fanning, '37 — Anthony Differ, '37
Harvey Davis, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Richard Kelly, '38

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
SOCIETY OF COLLEGIATE JOURNALISTS
Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - DECEMBER 4, 1934

A COLLEGE PROFESSOR TURNS IDEALISTIC

A RECENT Associated Collegiate Press dispatch to the VILLANOVAN concerns itself with the views of Dr. Tyler Dennett, president of Williams College, in regard to FERA aid for students. Characterizing such aid as "little less than deplorable," Dr. Dennett goes on to state his objections to this financial help. They are in brief: it would inflate the annual budget of college finances; the professional fields are at the present time overcrowded; it should be given only to the student who can successfully meet high scholastic requirements such as the FERA does not, and cannot require.

While President Dennett refers in particular to the college of which he is the head, we realize that he also states these objections as a general criticism of Federal relief to needy students of any college. We therefore beg to differ with the learned doctor, and in his own words characterize such an attitude on the part of an American college head as "little less than deplorable." We cannot meet his first objection. We are not familiar with financial planning as employed by colleges and universities. But does Dr. Dennett mean that because the professional fields are at the present time overcrowded, that learning should remain stagnant; that one who earnestly desires knowledge in a specialized field should be prohibited from seeking Federal help in order to pursue the necessary studies, because there is no assurity that he will be immediately employed upon graduation? If this is admitted, the Doctor's vision is not as strong as one would expect. True, the professional fields are overcrowded, but they are certainly not congested with scholarly, skillful and morally responsible men.

We concede the fact that Dr. Dennett's third objection is formidable, when he opposes Federal relief on the ground the student does not have to meet high scholastic requirements. Yet he fails to consider other factors. He has not taken into consideration outside influences that may affect one's high school rating. One may possess a high degree of native ability, yet have its progress hampered by forced remunerative employment during high school years. The conclusion to be drawn from this is that Dr. Dennett favors abolition of our democratic system of learning in favor of the ancient idea of education for a few.

CAN IT BE—BE—BE, CAN IT REALLY, REALLY BE?

GERTRUDE STEIN, who has the unusual distinction of being the ne plus ultra of verbosity and literary inanities, is afflicted with one of four peculiar maladies, according to an editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

This will hardly come as a surprise to anyone who has heard Miss Stein lecture, or who has attempted to wade through the verbal intricacies of one of her books.

According to medical authorities, her senseless style of writing and speaking is caused by such a gruesome disease as Pallilalia, something that sounds as though it may fit the occasion. In her system, they likewise tell us, we are as likely as not to find the germs of verbal perseveration, or perhaps echolalia, or even some fugitive trace of verbigeration. All of which the layman understands as readily as he does one of the patient's poems.

LEGALITY OF T. V. A.

THE recent refusal of Federal Judge Grubb to dismiss a petition for injunction against the Tennessee Valley Authority has been construed to be a well directed step toward the curtailment of the right of the Federal Government to enter into the field of industry in direct competition with privately operated businesses.

The public need hardly be informed this injunction originated and why it is being so vigorously prosecuted. For with the establishment of a Federally owned and operated electrical power station, those utility corporations which have acquired the habit of exploiting their users, through monopolies which they hold on power production plants, will be faced with the immediate necessity of reducing their rates and thereby revealing the fact that their profits have been in excess of that required for normal operation; or they will continue their exorbitant rates and take the chance that the Government will not build a power station in their locality, in order that the public will be permitted to purchase electricity at a price commensurate with its production.

It has likewise been advanced that the low rate of taxes which this project pays because of the fact that it has been financed with public funds, will be the only means by which it can sell electricity at a lower rate than do the utility companies.

Any one who uses this argument as a basis for preventing the Federal Government from operating an electrical plant for the benefit of the people in the surrounding territory is either aware of its falsity or unmindful of the fact that the public utility corporations of Pennsylvania, which have NEVER paid one cent of taxes since their conception, fail to make any effort to allow their users to derive any financial benefits from the privileges which they enjoy.

A LONG-FELT NEED

SO MANY requests have been directed to the editors of the VILLANOVAN asking them to speak in behalf of general washroom facilities that we note a long-felt need in these columns. For years, the day students' lavatories in Mendel Hall and in the School of Commerce and Finance have not been equipped with paper towels. While this is only a trivial thing, it does help to make for comfort. We feel sure that if the authorities consider the overhead too great for the school year, students would be willing to support the project if vending machines which dispensed towels for a nominal sum were installed.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

SOME mischievous scamp in some unknown manner for no good reason made off with the English papers of Business IV. It seemed like a practical joke. But after the prof. inexorably demanded new papers from all, the act took on the proportions of arson, kidnaping, selling military plans to the enemy, matricide or any of the other loathing crimes that rankle and reek. Allowing five minutes for the venting of the class' feelings during which such metaphorical terms as rat, snake, and viper predominated, the class was brought to order for the purpose of formulating and executing methods that would bring the scoundrel to heel with the missing papers. There were suggestions and suggestions for which there were vetoes and vetoes! Up until "Link" Lenzi spoke his pretty piece, non-action reeled in the balance. "Link" had the key to a speedy recovery of the papers. It was all bound up in the word "middle-man." This, strange to relate, was greeted with looks of askance. Can you quite picture a medical group perplexed by the mere mention of therapeutics." Such a situation would be analagous then, to matters as they were at the time Lenzi spoke of "middle-man," the open sesame to the mystery. After Link's explanation it was all too simple. The culprit was to give the papers to Link, the middle-man, who in turn would restore them, sub rosa, to the prof. Discountenancing quips that Link might have to do a left to right hand juggling of the papers,. since none were free of surveillance and Link might as not be the purloiner, the class duly inaugurated him as class middle-man.

• • •

A Villanovan without a nickname is like a Prussian general without a handlebar mustache. But just as there are Prussian generals, sans sweeping mustaches, now and then a Villanovan, like an eighth wonder, anomalously appears without the benefit or disencumbrance, as you prefer, of a nickname. Such was the case of Dave Allingham until the boys one night, in a bountiful mood, gave him a moniker, By dropping the 'Alling' in Allingham, the boys arrived at the new name of "Ham." This moniker, however, is not to be construed in any way as being the partner of that autocrat of the breakfast-table, egg. No reflections whatever!

• • •

The 150-lb. football players are mighty proud of their successful season. Now that they have tucked away the moleskins for another year, they have been talking voluminously on the possibilities of a little celebration. All are agreed that it is a swell idea. But where to hold the affair? What's the matter with "Vipe" Fittipoldi's house? Nothing in the world from the way all took to the suggestion. In saying all, I mean all but Fittipoldi. But what is Vipe's negative where a quorum or majority is into the affirmative? According to parliamentary procedure, it is nothing! Fully aware of the Vipe's utter disregard for the binds of convention, I would say without hesitancy, that it is everything and that if a celebration is to be had, another place than the Vipe's had better be found.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

IF you would be given another opportunity to vote for the President of the United States, for whom would you cast your vote? Roosevelt or Hoover? A vote was recently taken at Yale University to determine whether or not a student would now have voted for Roosevelt or Hoover. There was a slight majority in favor of Hoover. Republicans still predominate on the American Campuses, don't you think? Ask the campus politicians.

When trying to be brief it seems that slang is preferable. In a history examination at the University of California students were asked to state the contents of the Monroe Doctrine in the fewest possible words. The prize answer was "Scram Foreigners!" Ask Lenzi for his colloquial vocabulary.

During the Army-Harvard classic it was very "wet." After the game which was played in Cambridge the caretakers retrieved 1546 empty liquor bottles from underneath the seats. Of these, 782 were discarded on the Harvard side and 764 on the Army side.

Harvard University owns enough football equipment to outfit 6000 men. It isn't the uniforms that make the team.

In this case beer acts as an incentive to collect. A Syracuse freshman who spent a year in Germany brought back the report that the alumni at Heidelburg receive free beer once a week if they pay their rent.

Hitler should have Huey Long helping him to furnish the comic relief in the German Drama.

A rumor went out at the University of Oregon that nudist colony pictures would be shown in the assembly. The entire student body showed up, but to their dismay found that all the orchestra seats were occupied by the conventional faculty members. Well—they were just curious.

If you flunked any subjects the last quarter, here are the reasons as compiled by a dean at the University of Nebraska—love, ignorance and faculty intelligence.

A humorous relief for those who are bored (in math class). Prof: Why did you sign your paper Mae West? Frosh: 'Cause I done 'em wrong! This happened at Rosemont College.

How would you like to meet Miss Major? Oh! the dirty rat. A rat that has learned to do tricks is the proud possession of the psychology departmento f the University of California. It has been named "Miss Major." "Fritz" Cook, how would you like to meet her?

Ask the janitor, he knows. Questioned as to whether he preferred a blonde or a brunnette as his ideal type, the janitor at St. Mary's University favored neither. "Hair don't cook," was his decision.

Four-fifths of the girls who attend colleges are enrolled in co-educational institutes.

Campus Celebs - - - - By Cailliet

As We See It.....On Acting

By HARRY PARKIN

I DO not believe that there is any art, providing, of course, that it can be called an art, which so readily lends itself to everyone's expression, as does acting. It is usually prompted by an individual's desire to identify himself with someone, whom he holds in particular regard, or whom he considers a sort of epitome of social behavior.

The more observant we are of human nature, particularly when it is engaged in the pleasantries of social intercourse, the more convinced we become that there are many people who delight in acting parts which are contrary to their dispositions and experience. We should, however, hesitate to attribute hypocrisy to every mannerism that has an air of artificiality about it, for there are not a few people who, being by nature and by inclination of an agreeable temperament, put on more from timidity than a sense of superiority, a reserved mien when they are among strangers. But the postures and gesticulations of some people are so obviously the raiment of the moment that it has been found necessary to characterize such insincerities as affectations; while in others the acting is of such a subtle disposition and has been so studiously made a part of their actions, that we experience considerable difficulty in determining their real inclinations and thoughts. In fact humanit so consistently indulges its fancy for acting that we are, to use a rather trite aphorism, refreshed by the sincerity of someone who acts as he wishes and speaks as he thinks.

At times it is almost amusing to notice the rapidity with which those people, who are accustomed in the seclusion of their homes to indulge all their petty whimsicalities, hasten to put on the garb of congeniality just as soon as they step outside their front doors. This unpleasant characteristic of certain individuals is usually the principal reason why the average family fails to be impressed by the sudden success of one of its members. For they, because of their intimate association with him, are fully aware of the extent to which his success is due to his own ability and to what extent it is due to the vagaries of fortune.

The palpable veneer with which many people clothe their actions is attributable, in many instances, to the fact that they have literally lifted many of the unnatural expressions, stilted gestures or exaggerated pronunciations from the person of some cinema star who has captured their imagination, and then attempt to parade their ill fitting garments in an environment that make them nothing short of ludicrous. But the outstanding fault of such mimicry lies not so much in unskillful imitation as it does in the inability to determine when such mannerisms can be exercised.

It cannot be considered unusual to find the affectations, and in some cases the vices or virtues, of the current screen actors repeated in the lives of the people who derive so much enjoyment from their performances. But it is most unfortunate that the medium, which is so arbitrarily considered by many people to be the criterion for manners, should so completely lack the qualities for which it is esteemed. For the motion pictures, depending as they do upon a direct appeal to the emotions rather than the intelligence of the audience, find it necessary to highly exaggerate and overact every part in order that they may be certain of their impression.

The danger of all such efforts at mimicry is found in the possibility that the individual may prove so excellent a mimic that it will be at the expense of his own personality and very shortly degenerate into a distorted reflection of someone else who may well be superior to him in nothing but acting.

POSTPONE TRIPS

It was decided at the latest meeting of the A. I. E. E., that there should be a tour of inspection made during this week, to some plant, as yet undetermined. Although there was to have been a motion picture presentation, the society was forced to forego this interesting feature until a date sometime after the Christmas holidays.

Penned Thoughts

By Ben Maloney

HIS GRACIOUS GIFT

Of all the gifts the Lord does give,
O'er which our thoughts do lightly leap;
The least cherished in this life we live,
Is His gracious gift, the gift of sleep.

To heroes, courage, whate'er might befall,
A poet's pen praise doth reap;
Whether ppets or heroes His gift to all,
In His gracious gift, the gift of sleep.

This world is full of dreary noises,
Of fortunes lost, the mourners weep;
And given to hush the wailing voices,
In His gracious gift, the gift of sleep.

And when a friend has passed away,
Beside his grave, bear up, don't weep;
For the Lord has brought to him to stay,
His gracious gift, the gift of sleep.

• • •

? ? ?

What do the wild sea waves say
As they come pounding in to shore?
What do the foamy breakers say
Each one followed by more?

Some claim they tell the tale,
Of sloops and schooners bold;
Others say they heard them wail,
About barges slow and old.

But as for me on any day,
I listen to the salty brine;
I'd bet my hat they always say,
"Come in the water's fine."

DIAL-LOG

By WALTER E. ALESSANDRONI

LEGENDS multitudinous have been circulated in the past few years concerning the Mills Brothers ever since they sprang into prominence with their distinctive radio programs. These controversies have reached such proportions that we feel an authoritative statement should be made in this column.

Gossip has it that the Mills Brothers have white chauffers for their four Lincoins; that John Mills died last year and a substitute has assumed his name; that the other three boys aren't even cousins; and that they spend money like drunken sailors.

For the record, let it be said that the four of them own one Lincoln, which they bought second-hand and drive themselves, and that John Mills is very much alive and about to become a father.

The four boys ARE brothers, now aged 20, 21, 22, and 23, and by far the greater proportion of the money they have earned nestles in a Cincinnati bank. They pay themselves surprisingly small salaries and the remainder of their earnings goes into a trust fund.

Dubious glances are cast in Ray Noble's direction by suspicious guests at Hollywood parties who refuse to believe that he is the famous British composer-conductor-arranger.

Joey Nash, vocalist heard with Richard Himber over the NBC network had to go to a hospital a few months ago. When he came out he was so deaf he couldn't hear himself sing or the orchestra behind him. Because of a perfect sense of pitch, he was able to continue his radio work. Today his deafness is gone.

Georgie Stoll, whose band is heard with Bing Crosby has written a new rhumba called "What Does Malaika Like?" Your guess is as good as ours.

Harry Reser and his orchestra, for many years one of radio's most celebrated bands, will return to the air with Peg La Centra, diminutive contralto and Ray Heatherton, popular young baritone. This new series of popular music by Reser will be inaugurated over WABC-NBC network on Sunday, December 9, at 4:30 p.m., and will continue every Sunday afternoon thereafter.

The Fleischman Yeast Hour with Rudy Vallee seems to have lost much of its popular appeal since Lou Holtz, comedian extraordinary, has left the program.

A popular question for debate at the present time is the effect that the loss of Eddie Cantor will have on the Chase and Sanborn program.

Curtis Arnall, as the 25th Century hero, "Buck Rogers," pilots space-ships, rockets and other high-speed projectiles of the future in his radio role. In real life, however, he doesn't even drive an automobile.

Yesterday Philadelphia's new station, KYW, started its career in the Quaker City. This new station will carry all the NBC Red Network features. WLIT-WFI will now join WJZ for the presentation of many of its best features. KYW comes in on the air between WCAU and WIBG and can be heard clearly at all times. Its opening feature yesterday morning was the almost forgotten "setting-up exercises." More could be accomplished by people tapping their feet to victrola record music.

Editor's Mailbag

To the Editor:

It was with a great deal of pleasure that I read the November 23d issue of the VILLANOVAN. It has improved immeasurably since my college days and in my opinion compares favorably with any college weekly in the East.

To those of us who worked on the sheet in the days when it was printed in blue type (1929), it is heartening to know that our poor efforts have really culminated in a fair-class college organ. My congratulations and best wishes.

Very truly yours,
EDWIN J. LOVATT, '30

Folks seem to like it

yes, and here's why—

We know that smoking a pipe is different from smoking a cigar or cigarette . . . and in trying to find the tobacco best suited for pipes . . .

We found out that the best tobacco for use in a pipe grows down in the Blue Grass Section of Kentucky, and it is called White Burley.

There is a certain kind of this tobacco that is between the tobacco used for cigarettes and the kind that is used for chewing tobacco.

This is the kind of tobacco that we use, year after year, for Granger Rough Cut.

We got the right pipe tobacco, made it by the right process . . . Wellman's Process . . . we cut it right . . . rough cut.

The big Granger flakes have to burn cool and they certainly last longer, and never gum the pipe.

. . . in a common-sense package—10c

the pipe tobacco that's MILD
the pipe tobacco that's COOL
—folks seem to like it

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

ADVANCEMENT SEEN TOWARD EDUCATION AT 'SHORE CONCLAVE

Catholic Learning in This Country to Benefit From N.C.E.A. Reorganization

COMMITTEE CHAIRMANED BY VILLANOVA PRESIDENT

More Than 60 College Presidents, Deans Attend Group's Discussions

Continued From Page One

at the Atlantic City meeting: St. Anselm's College, Manchester, N. H.; St. Bonaventure's College, St. Bonaventure, N. Y.; Canisius College, Buffalo, N. Y.; Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.; Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pa.; College of St. Elizabeth, Convent Station, N. J.

Fordham University, Fordham, N. Y.; St. Francis College, Loretto, Pa.; Georgian Court College, Lakewood, N. J.; St. John's University, Brooklyn, N. Y.; St. Joseph's College for Women, Brooklyn, N. Y.; St. oJseph's College, Philadelphia, Pa.; St. Joseph's College, Princeton, N. J.; LaSalle College, Philadelphia, Pa.

Manhattan College, New York, N. Y.; Marymount College, Tarrytown, N. Y.; Mercyhurst College, Erie, Pa.; College Misericordia, Dallas, Pa.; Mt. St. Joseph College, Chestnut Hill, Pa.; Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md.; College of St. Rose, Albany, N. Y.

College of St. Vincent, New York, N. Y.; Nazareth College, Rochester, N. Y.; College of New Rochelle, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Niagara University, Niagara, N. Y.; College of Notre Dame of Maryland, Baltimore, Md.; St. Peter's College, Jersey City, N. J.

Rosemont College, Rosemont, Pa.; College of the Sacred Heart, Manhattanville, N. Y.; Seton Hall College, South Orange, N. J.; St. Thomas College, Scranton, Pa.; Villanova College, Villanova, Pa.

RADIO CITY VISIT PLANNED BY A.S.M.E.

Will Be Included in Program Being Arranged for Two-Day Trip to New York City

Tentative plans were made at the last meeting of the Villanova Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for a two-day trip to New York City to attend a convention of mechanical engineers.

The exact number of members that will make the trip is not definitely known at the present time but it is hoped that a good representation will make the trip.

Those making the trip will have the cooperation of the Dean and professors of the School of Technology. The members will leave Wednesday morning and will return Thursday night.

The exact nature of the program is not definitely settled. Present plans call for a visit to Rockefeller Center where the members will be conducted through the various departments including the mechanical equipment and the air-conditioning unit as well as the broadcasting studios and other interesting parts.

Those making the trip will have the privilege of inspecting the largest liner that travels between New York City and Bermuda when they will be taken aboard the Empress of Bermuda. They will be conducted through the various parts of the ship including the engine rooms and its interesting layout.

A demonstration of the X-raying of welds will be shown to the members Thursday afternoon when a special demonstration will be given for them in Long Island City. If possible a trip will be made to the Standard Oil plant in Linden, N. J., where gasoline and various other petroleum products are manufactured.

HAS NEW DUTIES

REV. JOSEPH C. BARTLEY, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., Dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, and of the Summer and Extension Schools, who was recently appointed assistant librarian of the college.

FR. BARTLEY MADE ASS'T. LIBRARIAN

Appointment Temporary Until Congress System Is Placed In Working Order

Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, has recently been appointed assistant librarian of the college library. The appointment at present is a temporary one. Fr. Bartley will hold his post until the newly installed Library of Congress system is put in perfect working order.

Interested in Work

Fr. Bartley, because of the time he spent and the research work he performed in the Congressional Library in Washington in doing his graduate work, became intensely interested in the college library and desired to make it the most outstanding feature of the school

With this end in view, he advocated the installation of the system now being put into operation. Once the Library of Congress system is in perfect working condition, Fr. Bartley intends to start a campaign to "sell" the library to the faculty and students. He will assemble a list of the books dealing with each professor's subject and present it to him with the request that each faculty member draw up up a list of the books which he would like added to the library.

Will Add Books

When these books have been added, the library will be well on the way to becoming one of the best in this section.

Fr. Bartley believes that the position of librarian should be a full-time job, in order that the man in such a post may be able to be present at all times and have a complete knowledge of the library for the assistance of students and others seeking information and doing research work. His appointment is regarded as temporary, since his positions as dean of the Commerce and Finance School and of the Summer and Extension Schools make it impossible for him to devote the necessary time to the library.

FOREIGN RELATIONS TAKES ON NEW LIFE UNDER ENDOWMENT

Members Prepare to Present Papers on League of Nation's Background

SPEAKERS WILL ADDRESS BODY ON CURRENT TOPICS

Section of Library Reserved To House Literature For Members' Use

Continued From Page One

order to show the gradual development of this map from that of 1914. The development of war propaganda was another topic suggested.

The most important development at the meeting was the setting of a definite date for the regular assemblies of the society. They will be held on Wednesday afternoons from 4:30 until 6:00 P. M. in the Lounge room in Mendel Hall.

Lectures will be given at these meetings by men well versed in the matter of world affairs. The prepared theses will be delivered and the men cross-questioned on the subjects of their choice.

Follow Outline

These informative talks will follow a definite outline, already prepared, which by the end of the year will leave the members in possession of quite extensive knowledge of world questions and their background.

It was further decided that all literature in the form of books will be kept in a special private section of the Library, which will be available only to members of the campus Society. All other matters, such as pamphlets, will be held for the present in Fr. Fitzmaurice's suite, Mendel Hall.

To Attend Meetings

There have been no further developments in regard to the activities of the Model League of Nations, since the assembly was held last week-end at Penn State College. Villanova was not represented at that meeting. However the local chapter will attend all subsequent assemblies under the auspices of the Carnegie Fund.

Several new members have been admitted, and the society is now composed of over ten men. This will tend to increase the amount of interesting information that can be covered during the year and has been taken into consideration in assigning topics to be discussed at the local assemblies.

Trace News Story

A matter of particular interest that was discussed in short detail at the important meeting last Friday, was the development of war propaganda and the making of news. It was explained how one newspaper quoted another, and still another sheet quoted the second one, each time exaggerating the story until finally the first paper quoted the same bit of news now magnified to such an extent that the editor himself did not even recognize his own story.

The making of news was brought out clearly by an example of the editor of a Paris newssheet, who found that he was still lacking a story for his paper after the deadline had been reached. He set to work and typed off a tale, purely fictionary, of a large nudist colony on the outskirts of Paris. His story spread like wildfire and soon became the prime news story of the hour.

Suits & Topcoats
$15
Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.

WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE
900 SOUTH ST.
Our Only Store

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Belle Air Staff Meeting, 51 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

Beta Gamma Meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8:00 P. M.
Model League of Nations Meeting, Lounge, Mendel Hall ... 4:30 P. M.

THURSDAY

Epsilon Phi Theta Meeting, 104 Mendel Hall ..... 10:45 A. M.
Student Council Meeting, 210 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Holy Hour, Chapel ..... 6 to 7 P. M.

FRIDAY

Mass, Chapel ..... 7:00 A. M.
VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting, 119 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Cabaret Night, Pie Shoppe ..... 8:00 P. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 11:40 A. M.
Glee Club Meeting, C. & F. Auditorium ..... 4:00 P. M.
Red Cross Life Saving Exams, Gym ..... 2:30 to 6:00 P. M.

A. S. C. E. Meeting Arranges Visits To Local Plants

Parley Will Be Held To Determine Members Who Make Trips

Thomas Darmody was appointed chairman of the committee for the arrangement of trips, and William Munroe was made a member of the same committee at the regular bimonthly meeting of the A. S. C. E., last Friday in Room 210, Mendel Hall.

A trip to the Lanston Monotype Machine Company was suggested and approved by the members, and it was agreed that the inspection tour should be made, subject to the approval of the company, this Friday. John W. Hallahan, Jr., was appointed to make arrangements with R. D. Schaeff, Chief Inspector for the Philadelphia district of the company.

The Lanston Monotype Machine Company is the only plant manufacturing such machines in the eastern part of United States. A later meeting was called to determine more exactly the number of members who are going to make the tour.

It was further decided that this would be the last trip before the Christmas holidays. During the next year the Society expects to inspect the Baldwin Locomotive Works, as well as a Sewage Disposal Plant and seevral highway construction projects.

PRIEST'S KIN DIES

Funeral Services Held for Aunt Of Rev. Robert Sullivan, O. S. A.

Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated last Friday morning in the church of St. Vincent de Paul, Germantown, for Miss Mary F. Reilly, aunt of Rev. Robert Sullivan, O. S. A.

Dates Determined For "Gun Shy" Show

Continued From Page One

Moderator, Prof. Joseph T. Jonas, are: Aloysius J. Fitzpatrick, John Butler, Joseph Toland, R. Martinez Alvarez, William Doyle, and John Simons.

Tickets for the production will be sold to students for a nominal sum. This is the first time the club has been actively engaged in dramatic presentations on the campus in two years. They were seen here last in a series of one act plays presented in the college gymnasium.

they're quite mistaken

Many people think it's expensive to telephone far away friends. Actually few pleasures cost as little. You can call 100 miles for 35 cents; 300 miles for 80 cents; 1,000 miles for $2.00 by Station to Station Night Rates (effective after 8:30 P. M. Standard Time).

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

Fashion Notes
by Collegiate Digest

Short Collars Again

This year designers have created shirts with collars that have rounded points, instead of the square point of last season. We believe that this new design eventually will become as popular as the button-down oxford and tab collars. The new collar is designed to be worn with a pin.

The broadcloth shirt with a woven British stripe, tailored to fit the lines of the body, is one of the more popular of the new pattern designs in shirts. Shaped shirts have banned forever the ill-fitting nightgown type with the Buster Brown blouse. Button point, tab and regulation collars are still good, but the more style-conscious of the college men are wearing the rounded point collars.

A Smooth Note

Perhaps the only smooth note in the fashion picture for fall is the foulard handkerchief in colorful madder patterns. They should grace the breast pocket of every smart suit as a fitting complement to the much favored rep stripe and print ties, which, while they should show some relation to the coloring, need not be governed in selection by too close matching.

In contrast to the smooth handkerchiefs, wool knit and crocheted ties in solid colors and horizontal stripings are again making their appearance. Regimental and club stripes, in positive, gay colors, are much in vogue, and help brighten up the ensemble.

HERTFELDER BROTHERS
TAILORS
Go through the world well dressed
CLOTHIERS
Popular Prices
1635-1637 South St.
Philadelphia
Est. 1886 Bell Phone

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

IMMEDIATELY with the ending of the football season everybody's thoughts turned to the schedule of the Wildcats for next season and the team outlook.

We have learned from the best authority that there will be a big surprise in the football schedule for the next few years. Most of us have heard all kinds of rumors, but the rumor stage is nothing new. Every year the student body passes through that stage.

However we can promise that the new schedule will bring delight to many followers. "No one expects a complete revision but one or two new names will cast an interesting light on the future football outlook.

Next week in this paper, we hope to publish the football schedule for 1935. Another surprise may be in store with the listing of several games for 1936.

-V-

AN interesting note is the formation of the ice hockey team for the charity ice carnival to be held at the Philadelphia Arena on Friday night. The sextet will play Swarthmore, one of the best ice hockey teams in this part of the country.

The Villanova team is, in the real sense of the word, a student activity. It is coached by students and run by the students. The fellows who are undertaking to present this team before a large gathering at the Arena are deserving of your support. They were given only two weeks to organize and two opportunities to practice. Only one veteran from the 1932 team remains. Practically no one has the necessary equipment. Truly the outlook is not very bright but all concerned realize the necessity for a good team. The crowd will be a critical audience and the opposition will be difficult.

The student body should do their best to attend this event and encourage the team by their cheers. The prices are reasonable and the funds are devoted to a good cause. It is your duty to be present.

-V-

TOOKING back over our opponents for the past season, the tie between two of the best comes as quite a surprise. Temple 0, Bucknell 0. Smukler, Temple's bid for All-American honors was stopped by the fighting Bison team. To most of us who watch closely the Wildcat opponents, the Temple-Bucknell tie comes as something of an upset.

Western Maryland continued on its rampage and ran up 26 points against the representatives of Mt. Saint Mary's. Ursinus playing one of its jinx teams, turned the tables and downed Albright, 13 to 7.

La Salle continued on its merry way and ended the season a week ago last Saturday with a triumph over Western Maryland's last opponent. Detroit had a good season but did not live up to the expectations held for them.

Manhattan had a very poor season. Victories over St. Bonaventure, Clarkson and C. C. N. Y. and a tie with Kansas could not offset defeats at the hands of Villanova, Georgetown, Michigan State, Catholic U., and Holy Cross.

South Carolina wound up its year with a defeat at the hands of Washington and Lee. The Columbians bowed by a 14 to 7 count.

-V-

LHE All Opponent team chosen by the Villanova players can be found in the opposite column. The selection of three Western Maryland players for the first team shows the high regard that the Wildcats hold for the Terrors. Temple's three is to be expected. Remember, those selections are made from one game performances. Season exhibitions are not considered.

Dave Smukler gave one of his most brilliant performances of the season against the 'Cats and deserves the post, as does Shepherd, of Western Maryland. The backfield would give the Associated Press team a good battle. The linemen have speed, power, and, in most cases, played heady ball against the Villanova eleven. Many of the men who received honorable mention have brilliant season records and compare favorably with the first team.

VILLANOVAN

BASKETBALL SWIMMING BOXING BOWLING

Tuesday, December 4, 1934 Page Five

ALL-OPPONENT TEAM CHOSEN

Official Villanovan All-Opponent Team

Player	Position	School
Gorski	end	W. Maryland
Gaffney	tackle	S. Carolina
Kaplan	guard	W. Maryland
Stevens	center	Temple
Bradley	guard	La Salle
Duker	tackle	Detroit
Anderson	end	Temple
Shepherd	back	W. Maryland
Nott	back	Detroit
Smith	back	Bucknell
Smukler	back	Temple

HONORABLE MENTION: Backs—Sitarski, Bucknell; Curran, Boston College, and Mauney, S. Carolina. Ends—Boglarsky, Detroit; Delaney, Bucknell; Storrie, Detroit. Tackles—Bolston, Bucknell; Barrett, Detroit, and Helmar, Detroit. Guards—Bonder, La Salle, and Pzenny, Boston College. Center—Stroud, S. Carolina.

J. V. BASKETBALL DOUBTFUL AS FROSH SESSIONS CONFLICT

Frosh and Varsity Use Floor; No Time Left for Jayvees; Night Practice Possible

LARGEST FROSH SQUAD

Severance Coaching Freshmen; Schedule Incomplete; Good Season Expected

By NORTON C. PADEN

Due to conflicts with the practice periods of the Frosh, the outcome of junior varsity basketball competition is doubtful. The Freshmen, coached by Alexander Severance, hold their practice sessions from 2 to 3:30 P. M. At this time the varsity takes over the floor and goes through its paces till after 5. This arrangement leaves little or no time to the Jayvees unless they practice at night.

This team, coached by underclassmen, is entirely separate from the varsity and is composed of men who do not play with the varsity and are good basketball material nevertheless.

McFeely Coaches '34 Squad

For the season of 1933-34, the team was coached by Frank McFeely, who built up a good squad considering the material at hand. After a few weeks of practice the team was ready to take on opposing teams.

Their first game was played at the Palestra in Philadelphia against the junior varsity of the University of Pennsylvania. The Kittens' inability to get the range of the baskets lost to Penn, 33 to 18. Penn A. C. presented a formidable team next and they took Villanova's measure 24 to 17.

Penn then was played in a return match and though the kittens had greatly improved they again took it on the chin losing 38 to 26. The Haverford Aces, a club team, broke the jayvees' hearts when they defeated them 31 to 29. The final game of the season was played against Banks College and proved to be the best game of the season. The 'Cats rallied in the last few minutes to win by 6 points. The final score was 32 to 26.

Team Improved

Although their average was poor in the beginning of the season the men improved greatly and were playing very good ball at the end of the season.

Frank Skaff, coach of the junior varsity football team, will lend a guiding hand to the Kittens' basketball endeavors if there is to be a squad this year. The jayvee

Continued on Page Six

LIFE SAVERS ENTHUSIASTIC TEN RECEIVE EMBLEMS

Novices Asked to Join Classes; Instruction Continuing

During the last two months the American Life Saving classes have been continuing with a very enthusiastic group of potential lifesavers. Under the tutelage of Linsalata and Gornowski, who is also the official examiner, more than ten students have successfully passed the required training and have received the official emblem.

New students are accepted in the class at all times. Those who are interested but did not register, report to the swimming pool any afternoon for immediate instruction.

J. V.'S END SEASON WITHOUT A VICTORY

Skaff Satisfied With Team's Showing in Face Of Obstacles

A 12 to 0 defeat at the hands of an inspired team from Rutgers marked finis to what proved to be a disappointing season for the charges of Frank Skaff. The jayvees have found the sledding pretty tough this year and although they gave the game all they had, they were not able to chalk up a win.

Bow To Y. M. C. A.

Opening the season against Carney's Point Y. M. C. A. at Carney's Point, N. J., the 'Cats suffered a 13 to 0 setback. The contest was a hard fought affair but the locals took advantage of the breaks to push over two tallies.

Coach Skaff next took his boys to the Keystone Junior College where the gridders of that institution turned back the Main Liners 15 to 0. Pennsylvania then sent her jayvees to Villanova, and with a well balanced attack they proceeded to roll up a score of 31 to 0. Villanova fought grimly, but the perfection of Penn's running and passing attack proved too much.

Rutgers Wins

Rutgers, visiting the Main Line stadium, lost no time in launching a passing attack that quickly netted two touchdowns, and ruined the hope of the 'Cats of ending the season with a win.

Skaff, in commenting on the season, said, "I suppose I should be disappointed for not winning any games while in charge of the junior varsity this year. On the contrary, however, I am thoroughly satisfied with the splendid showing the boys made throughout the season. Their reaction under trying conditions and in the face of ever present obstacles, made it a pleasure to be associated with them. The purpose of football has been fulfilled in every respect, and fine sportsmanship has predominated. I will look back with pride in the years to come to that great gang of fellows who represented the junior varsity squad which I coached."

TENNIS SET TO MUSIC

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

New Wilmington, Dec. 3—Tennis balls are being hit to music in the Westminster College gym classes for women. Miss Nandeen Love, director of women's athletics, has organized a co-ed class in tennis fundamentals, and in order to develop rhythm in the various strokes is using victrola record music.

For service strokes, Miss Love explains, six-beat rhythm is best, so two measures of waltz music are necessary for each stroke. Actual improvement in service and strokes by those who are in the tennis-to-music class would indicate that this is one of the better methods of learning tennis fundamentals.

TERRORS SCHEDULED ON COURT ROSTER

W. Marylandd Quintet Added To Wildcat List in Home Game on Jaonuary 16

A determined and enthusiastic group of candidates for the varsity basketball team opened their strenuous practice yesterday under the guidance of "Doc" Jacobs. The squad of ten men have already started scrimmage, and will open the season on Friday, December 14, with the Penn Athletic Club five here on the home floor.

Western Maryland Added

Western Maryland has been added to the schedule, making fourteen games to date, but it is hoped that more teams will be listed before its completion. The team opens its college competition with Bucknell, January 15, at Lewisburg. They then meet Dickinson, away, and the first home game is with Western Maryland on January 18. Duquesne, George Washington, City College of New York and Albright are other teams definitely listed.

The team has progressed rapidly. Ben Geraghty, one of the outstanding stars of last season and leading scorer is expected to shine again this year. John Shevlin, captain, played brilliantly last year, and is the spearhead of the attack.

Robinson has improved greatly in his floor work and passing. He is cutting faster and playing a better brand of ball in every way. Ryan is coming fast and is expected to fill one of the starting places on the team.

Coach Jacobs is looking forward to a tough season, but hopes to come out successful. With the material in hand and the steady improvement, things look pretty good for the future.

PLAN GRID ELECTIONS

Six Juniors Eligible for Gridiron Captaincy; Voting Expected Soon

Although no official announcement has been made concerning the date of election for captain of Villanova's 1935 football team, the VILLANOVAN learned this morning from an authoritative source that the selection of William Grimberg's succesor may be made by the varsity squad tomorrow.

Many men are eligible for the captaincy, including Eddie Michaels, Johnny Huggins, Walter Korchinski, Nick Kotlys, Milan Vidnovic and Johnny Johnson.

All these men have played brilliant football during the past season and will receive consideration from their voting teammates.

Ice Hockey Practice

The second practice of the ice hockey team will be held at the Arena, 46 and Market Sts. at 11 p. m. Thursday night. All candidates are requested to report.

WESTERN MARYLAND AND TEMPLE TEAMS EACH PLACE THREE

Kaplan, Green Terror; Owls, Stevens and Smukler Are Unanimous Choices

BRILL PUPIL SELECTED

Detroit Titans Land Berths; Duker and Nott Awarded Positions on Eleven

By BEN MALONEY

Winding up a rather disappointing grid campaign a week ago Saturday, the Villanova Wildcats hung up their moleskins for the 1934 season. For fourteen men the fray with Temple was the last one of their collegiate career. Following a record of three wins, two scoreless ties, and four losses, the 'Cats and their mentors Harry Stuhldreher, Bob Reagan, and "Doc" Jacobs have chosen their All Opponent team for the past season. This team was chosen according to the outstanding performances shown against the Wildcats this fall.

Ends Chosen

At the wing positions the honors go to Gorski of W. Maryland and Anderson of Temple. These two wingmen were two of the hardest men to gain ground around that the Villanova gridders met this year. Both are fast and shifty as well as deadly tacklers.

Duker of Detroit and Gaffney of South Carolina, two gigantic tacklers, were the popular choice of the 'Cats as being the most capable of showing sterling performances at the tackle posts. Having a world of power in their immense frames, their positions are deadly nemeses for charging backs.

By unanimous vote, Kaplan of W. Maryland was chosen as one of the guards. A rock on the defense and a bone crusher on the offense, he is a player worthy of bolstering almost any line here in the East. At the other guard post, Bradley of La Salle college gets the verdict. As a protege of Marty Brill he is a credit to that mentor's teachings. He is big, strong and fast as well as a fine blocker and a sure tackler.

Stevens Pivot Man

Another unanimous choice went to Pete Stevens three year veteran pivot man of the Temple Owls. Stevens who plays a roving center position has proved an invaluable aid to these Owls for his three seasons as center guardian of the forward wall. He is a vicious tackler, keen blocker, and a great diagnoser of plays. A smart ball player,

Continued on Page Six

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT TO COMMENCE SOON

Cold Weather Increases Interest In Bowling And Billiards

Now that the cold and wet weather has set in, the billiard room in the gym has become a recreation center for a great number of students. In view of this increasing interest, plans are being formulated for a tournament. In order to give the fellows time to brush up on their game and to allow them to practice training their form, the tournament will not be able to get under way until after the Christmas holidays.

ADVANCEMENT SEEN TOWARD EDUCATION AT 'SHORE CONCLAVE

Catholic Learning in This Country to Benefit From N.C.E.A. Reorganization

COMMITTEE CHAIRMANED BY VILLANOVA PRESIDENT

More Than 60 College Presidents, Deans Attend Group's Discussions

Continued From Page One

at the Atlantic City meeting: St. Anselm's College, Manchester, N. H.; St. Bonaventure's College, St. Bonaventure, N. Y.; Canisius College, Buffalo, N. Y.; Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C.; Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pa.; College of St. Elizabeth, Convent Station, N. J.

Fordham University, Fordham, N. Y.; St. Francis College, Loretto, Pa.; Georgian Court College, Lakewood, N. J.; St. John's University, Brooklyn, N. Y.; St. Joseph's College for Women, Brooklyn, N. Y.; St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia, Pa.; St. Joseph's College, Princeton, N. J.; LaSalle College, Philadelphia, Pa.

Manhattan College, New York, N. Y.; Marymount College, Tarrytown, N. Y.; Mercyhurst College, Erie, Pa.; College Misericordia, Dallas, Pa.; Mt. St. Joseph College, Chestnut Hill, Pa.; Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md.; College of St. Rose, Albany, N. Y.

College of St. Vincent, New York, N. Y.; Nazareth College, Rochester, N. Y.; College of New Rochelle, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Niagara University, Niagara, N. Y.; College of Notre Dame of Maryland, Baltimore, Md.; St. Peter's College, Jersey City, N. J.

Rosemont College, Rosemont, Pa.; College of the Sacred Heart, Manhattanville, N. Y.; Seton Hall College, South Orange, N. J.; St. Thomas College, Scranton, Pa.; Villanova College, Villanova, Pa.

RADIO CITY VISIT PLANNED BY A.S.M.E.

Will Be Included in Program Being Arranged for Two-Day Trip to New York City

Tentative plans were made at the last meeting of the Villanova Chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers for a two-day trip to New York City to attend a convention of mechanical engineers.

The exact number of members that will make the trip is not definitely known at the present time but it is hoped that a good representation will make the trip.

Those making the trip will have the cooperation of the Dean and professors of the School of Technology. The members will leave Wednesday morning and will return Thursday night.

The exact nature of the program is not definitely settled. Present plans call for a visit to Rockefeller Center where the members will be conducted through the various departments including the mechanical equipment and the air-conditioning unit as well as the broadcasting studios and other interesting parts.

Those making the trip will have the privilege of inspecting the largest liner that travels between New York City and Bermuda when they will be taken aboard the Empress of Bermuda. They will be conducted through the various parts of the ship including the engine rooms and its interesting layout.

A demonstration of the X-raying of welds will be shown to the members Thursday afternoon when a special demonstration will be given for them in Long Island City. If possible a trip will be made to the Standard Oil plant in Linden N. J., where gasoline and various other petroleum products are manufactured.

HAS NEW DUTIES

REV. JOSEPH C. BARTLEY, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., Dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, and of the Summer and Extension Schools, who was recently appointed assistant librarian of the college.

FR. BARTLEY MADE ASS'T. LIBRARIAN

Appointment Temporary Until Congress System Is Placed In Working Order

Rev. Joseph C. Bartley, O. S. A., Ph. D., S. T. L., dean of the School of Commerce and Finance, has recently been appointed assistant librarian of the college library. The appointment at present is a temporary one. Fr. Bartley will hold his post until the newly installed Library of Congress system is put in perfect working order.

Interested in Work

Fr. Bartley, because of the time he spent and the research work he performed in the Congressional Library in Washington in doing his graduate work, became intensely interested in the college library and desired to make it the most outstanding feature of the school

With this end in view, he advocated the installation of the system now being put into operation. Once the Library of Congress system is in perfect working condition, Fr. Bartley intends to start a campaign to "sell" the library to the faculty and students. He will assemble a list of the books dealing with each professor's subject and present it to him with the request that each faculty member draw up a list of the books which he would like added to the library.

Will Add Books

When these books have been added, the library will be well on the way to becoming one of the best in this section.

Fr. Bartley believes that the position of librarian should be a full-time job, in order that the man in such a post may be able to be present at all times and have a complete knowledge of the library for the assistance of students and others seeking information and doing research work. His appointment is regarded as temporary, since his positions as dean of the Commerce and Finance School and of the Summer and Extension Schools make it impossible for him to devote the necessary time to the library.

Suits & Topcoats $15

Excellent Values for your Fall Wardrobe.

WORLD EXCHANGE CLOTHING HOUSE 900 SOUTH ST.

Our Only Store

WEEKLY CALENDAR

TODAY

Lambda Kappa Delta Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Belle Air Staff Meeting, 51 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.

WEDNESDAY

Beta Gamma Meeting, 204 Mendel Hall ..... 8:00 P. M.
Model League of Nations Meeting, Lounge, Mendel Hall .. 4:30 P. M.

THURSDAY

Epsilon Phi Theta Meeting, 104 Mendel Hall ..... 10:45 A. M.
Student Council Meeting, 210 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Holy Hour, Chapel ..... 6 to 7 P. M.

FRIDAY

Mass, Chapel ..... 7:00 A. M.
VILLANOVAN Staff Meeting, 119 Mendel Hall ..... 1:00 P. M.
Cabaret Night, Pie Shoppe ..... 8:00 P. M.

MONDAY

Phi Kappa Pi Meeting, 215 Mendel Hall ..... 11:40 A. M.
Glee Club Meeting, C. & F. Auditorium ..... 4:00 P. M.
Red Cross Life Saving Exams, Gym ..... 2:30 to 6:00 P. M.

FOREIGN RELATIONS TAKES ON NEW LIFE UNDER ENDOWMENT

Members Prepare to Present Papers on League of Nation's Background

SPEAKERS WILL ADDRESS BODY ON CURRENT TOPICS

Section of Library Reserved To House Literature For Members' Use

Continued From Page One

order to show the gradual development of this map from that of 1914. The development of war propaganda was another topic suggested.

The most important development at the meeting was the setting of a definite date for the regular assemblies of the society. They will be held on Wednesday afternoons from 4:30 until 6:00 P. M. in the Lounge room in Mendel Hall.

Lectures will be given at these meetings by men well versed in the matter of world affairs. The prepared theses will be delivered and the men cross-questioned on the subjects of their choice.

Follow Outline

These informative talks will follow a definite outline, already prepared, which by the end of the year will leave the members in possession of quite extensive knowledge of world questions and their background.

It was further decided that all literature in the form of books will be kept in a special private section of the Library, which will be available only to members of the campus Society. All other matters, such as pamphlets, will be held for the present in Fr. Fitzmaurice's suite, Mendel Hall.

To Attend Meetings

There have been no further developments in regard to the activities of the Model League of Nations, since the assembly was held last week-end at Penn State College. Villanova was not represented at that meeting. However the local chapter will attend all subsequent assemblies under the auspices of the Carnegie Fund.

Several new members have been admitted, and the society is now composed of over ten men. This will tend to increase the amount of interesting information that can be covered during the year and has been taken into consideration in assigning topics to be discussed at the local assemblies.

Trace News Story

A matter of particular interest that was discussed in short detail at the important meeting last Friday, was the development of war propaganda and the making of news. It was explained how one newspaper quoted another, and still another sheet quoted the second one, each time exaggerating the story until finally the first paper quoted the same bit of news now magnified to such an extent that

A. S. C. E. Meeting Arranges Visits To Local Plants

Parley Will Be Held To Determine Members Who Make Trips

Thomas Darmody was appointed chairman of the committee for the arrangement of trips, and William Munroe was made a member of the same committee at the regular bimonthly meeting of the A. S. C. E., last Friday in Room 210, Mendel Hall.

A trip to the Lanston Monotype Machine Company was suggested and approved by the members, and it was agreed that the inspection tour should be made, subject to the approval of the company, this Friday. John W. Hallahan, Jr., was appointed to make arrangements with R. D. Schaeff, Chief Inspector for the Philadelphia district of the company.

The Lanston Monotype Machine Company is the only plant manufacturing such machines in the eastern part of United States. A later meeting was called to determine more exactly the number of members who are going to make the tour.

It was further decided that this would be the last trip before the Christmas holidays. During the next year the Society expects to inspect the Baldwin Locomotive Works, as well as a Sewage Disposal Plant and several highway construction projects.

PRIEST'S KIN DIES

Funeral Services Held for Aunt Of Rev. Robert Sullivan, O. S. A.

Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated last Friday morning in the church of St. Vincent de Paul, Germantown, for Miss Mary F. Reilly, aunt of Rev. Robert Sullivan, O. S. A.

Dates Determined For "Gun Shy" Show

Continued From Page One

Moderator, Prof. Joseph T. Jonas, are: Aloysius J. Fitzpatrick, John Butler, Joseph Toland, R. Martinez Alvarez, William Doyle, and John Simons.

Tickets for the production will be sold to students for a nominal sum. This is the first time the club has been actively engaged in dramatic presentations on the campus in two years. They were seen here last in a series of one act plays presented in the college gymnasium.

the editor himself did not even recognize his own story.

The making of news was brought out clearly by an example of the editor of a Paris newssheet, who found that he was still lacking a story for his paper after the deadline had been reached. He set to work and typed off a tale, purely fictionary, of a large nudist colony on the outskirts of Paris. His story spread like wildfire and soon became the prime news story of the hour.

they're quite mistaken

Many people think it's expensive to telephone far away friends. Actually few pleasures cost as little. You can call 100 miles for 35 cents; 300 miles for 80 cents; 1,000 miles for $2.00 by Station to Station Night Rates (effective after 8:30 P. M. Standard Time).

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania

Fashion Notes by Collegiate Digest

Short Collars Again

This year designers have created shirts with collars that have rounded points, instead of the square point of last season. We believe that this new design eventually will become as popular as the button-down oxford and tab collars. The new collar is designed to be worn with a pin.

The broadcloth shirt with a woven British stripe, tailored to fit the lines of the body, is one of the more popular of the new pattern designs in shirts. Shaped shirts have banned forever the ill-fitting nightgown type with the Buster Brown blouse. Button point, tab and regulation collars are still good, but the more style-conscious of the college men are wearing the rounded point collars.

A Smooth Note

Perhaps the only smooth note in the fashion picture for fall is the foulard handkerchief in colorful madder patterns. They should grace the breast pocket of every smart suit as a fitting complement to the much favored rep stripe and print ties, which, while they should show some relation to the coloring, need not be governed in selection by too close matching.

In contrast to the smooth handkerchiefs, wool knit and crocheted ties in solid colors and horizontal stripings are again making their appearance. Regimental and club stripes, in positive, gay colors, are much in vogue, and help brighten up the ensemble.

HERTFELDER BROTHERS

TAILORS

CLOTHIERS

Popular Prices

1635-1637 South St. Philadelphia

Est. 1886 Bell Phone

Sportorial

By Lou Marechal

IMMEDIATELY with the ending of the football season everybody's thoughts turned to the schedule of the Wildcats for next season and the team outlook.

We have learned from the best authority that there will be a big surprise in the football schedule for the next few years. Most of us have heard all kinds of rumors, but the rumor stage is nothing new. Every year the student body passes through that stage.

However we can promise that the new schedule will bring delight to many followers. No one expects a complete revision but one or two new names will cast an interesting light on the future football outlook.

Next week in this paper, we hope to publish the football schedule for 1935. Another surprise may be in store with the listing of several games for 1936.

-V-

AN interesting note is the formation of the ice hockey team for the charity ice carnival to be held at the Philadelphia Arena on Friday night. The sextet will play Swarthmore, one of the best ice hockey teams in this part of the country.

The Villanova team is, in the real sense of the word, a student activity. It is coached by students and run by the students. The fellows who are undertaking to present this team before a large gathering at the Arena are deserving of your support. They were given only two weeks to organize and two opportunities to practice. Only one veteran from the 1932 team remains. Practically no one has the necessary equipment. Truly the outlook is not very bright but all concerned realize the necessity for a good team. The crowd will be a critical audience and the opposition will be difficult.

The student body should do their best to attend this event and encourage the team by their cheers. The prices are reasonable and the funds are devoted to a good cause. It is your duty to be present.

-V-

TOOKING back over our opponents for the past season, the tie between two of the best comes as quite a surprise. Temple 0, Bucknell 0. Smukler, Temple's bid for All-American honors was stopped by the fighting Bison team. To most of us who watch closely the Wildcat opponents, the Temple-Bucknell tie comes as something of an upset.

Western Maryland continued on its rampage and ran up 26 points against the representatives of Mt. Saint Mary's. Ursinus playing one of its jinx teams, turned the tables and downed Albright, 13 to 7.

La Salle continued on its merry way and ended the season a week ago last Saturday with a triumph over Western Maryland's last opponent. Detroit had a good season but did not live up to the expectations held for them.

Manhattan had a very poor season, Victories over St. Bonaventure, Clarkson and C. C. N. Y. and a tie with Kansas could not offset defeats at the hands of Villanova, Georgetown, Michigan State, Catholic U., and Holy Cross.

South Carolina wound up its year with a defeat at the hands of Washington and Lee. The Columbians bowed by a 14 to 7 count.

-V-

THE All Opponent team chosen by the Villanova players can be found in the opposite column. The selection of three Western Maryland players for the first team shows the high regard that the Wildcats hold for the Terrors. Temple's three is to be expected. Remember, those selections are made from one game performances. Season exhibitions are not considered.

Dave Smukler gave one of his most brilliant performances of the season against the 'Cats and deserves the post, as does Shepherd, of Western Maryland. The backfield would give the Associated Press team a good battle. The linemen have speed, power, and, in most cases, played heady ball against the Villanova eleven. Many of the men who received honorable mention have brilliant season records and compare favorably with the first team.

J. V. BASKETBALL DOUBTFUL AS FROSH SESSIONS CONFLICT

Frosh and Varsity Use Floor; No Time Left for Jayvees; Night Practice Possible

LARGEST FROSH SQUAD

Severance Coaching Freshmen; Schedule Incomplete; Good Season Expected

By NORTON C. PADEN

Due to conflicts with the practice periods of the Frosh, the outcome of junior varsity basketball competition is doubtful. The Freshmen, coached by Alexander Severance, hold their practice sessions from 2 to 3:30 P. M. At this time the varsity takes over the floor and goes through its paces till after 5. This arrangement leaves little or no time to the Jayvees unless they practice at night.

This team, coached by underclassmen, is entirely separate from the varsity and is composed of men who do not play with the varsity and are good basketball material nevertheless.

McFeely Coaches '34 Squad

For the season of 1933-34, the team was coached by Frank McFeely, who built up a good squad considering the material at hand. After a few weeks of practice the team was ready to take on opposing teams.

Their first game was played at the Palestra in Philadelphia against the junior varsity of the University of Pennsylvania. The Kittens' inability to get the range of the baskets lost to Penn, 33 to 18. Penn A. C. presented a formidable team next and they took Villanova's measure 24 to 17.

Penn then was played in a return match and though the kittens had greatly improved they again took it on the chin losing 38 to 26. The Haverford Aces, a club team, broke the jayvees' hearts when they defeated them 31 to 29. The final game of the season was played against Banks College and proved to be the best game of the season. The 'Cats rallied in the last few minutes to win by 6 points. The final score was 32 to 26.

Team Improved

Although their average was poor in the beginning of the season the men improved greatly and were playing very good ball at the end of the season.

Frank Skaff, coach of the junior varsity football team, will lend a guiding hand to the Kittens' basketball endeavors if there is to be a squad this year. The jayvee

Continued on Page Six

LIFE SAVERS ENTHUSIASTIC TEN RECEIVE EMBLEMS

Novices Asked to Join Classes; Instruction Continuing

During the last two months the American Life Saving classes have been continuing with a very enthusiastic group of potential lifesavers. Under the tutelage of Linsalata and Gornowski, who is also the official examiner, more than ten students have successfully passed the required training and have received the official emblem.

New students are accepted in the class at all times. Those who are interested but did not register, report to the swimming pool any afternoon for immediate instruction.

VILLANOVAN

BASKETBALL SWIMMING BOXING BOWLING

Tuesday, December 4, 1934 Page Five

ALL-OPPONENT TEAM CHOSEN

Official Villanovan All-Opponent Team

Player	Position	School
Gorski	end	W. Maryland
Gaffney	tackle	S. Carolina
Kaplan	guard	W. Maryland
Stevens	center	Temple
Bradley	guard	La Salle
Duker	tackle	Detroit
Anderson	end	Temple
Shepherd	back	W. Maryland
Nott	back	Detroit
Smith	back	Bucknell
Smukler	back	Temple

HONORABLE MENTION: Backs—Sitarski, Bucknell; Curran, Boston College, and Mauney, S. Carolina. Ends—Boglarsky, Detroit; Delaney, Bucknell; Storries, Detroit. Tackles—Bolston, Bucknell; Barrett, Detroit, and Helmar, Detroit. Guards—Bonder, La Salle, and Pzenny, Boston College. Center—Stroud, S. Carolina.

J. V.'S END SEASON WITHOUT A VICTORY

Skaff Satisfied With Team's Showing in Face Of Obstacles

A 12 to 0 defeat at the hands of an inspired team from Rutgers marked finis to what proved to be a disappointing season for the charges of Frank Skaff. The jayvees have found the sledding pretty tough this year and although they gave the game all they had, they were not able to chalk up a win.

Bow To Y. M. C. A.

Opening the season against Carney's Point Y. M. C. A. at Carney's Point, N. J., the 'Cats suffered a 13 to 0 setback. The contest was a hard fought affair but the locals took advantage of the breaks to push over two tallies.

Coach Skaff next took his boys to the Keystone Junior College where the gridders of that institution turned back the Main Liners 15 to 0. Pennsylvania then sent her jayvees to Villanova, and with a well balanced attack they proceeded to roll up a score of 31 to 0. Villanova fought grimly, but the perfection of Penn's running and passing attack proved too much.

Rutgers Wins

Rutgers, visiting the Main Line stadium, lost no time in launching a passing attack that quickly netted two touchdowns, and ruined the hope of the 'Cats of ending the season with a win.

Skaff, in commenting on the season, said, "I suppose I should be disappointed for not winning any games while in charge of the junior varsity this year. On the contrary, however, I am thoroughly satisfied with the splendid showing the boys made throughout the season. Their reaction under trying conditions and in the face of ever present obstacles, made it a pleasure to be associated with them. The purpose of football has been fulfilled in every respect, and fine sportsmanship has predominated. I will look back with pride in the years to come to that great gang of fellows who represented the junior varsity squad which I coached."

TENNIS SET TO MUSIC

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

New Wilmington, Dec. 3—Tennis balls are being hit to music in the Westminster College gym classes for women. Miss Nandeen Love, director of women's athletics, has organized a co-ed class in tennis fundamentals, and in order to develop rhythm in the various strokes is using victrola record music.

For service strokes, Miss Love explains, six-beat rhythm is best, so two measures of waltz music are necessary for each stroke. Actual improvement in service and strokes by those who are in the tennis-to-music class would indicate that this is one of the better methods of learning tennis fundamentals.

TERRORS SCHEDULED ON COURT ROSTER

W. Marylandd Quintet Added To Wildcat List in Home Game on Jaonuary 16

A determined and enthusiastic group of candidates for the varsity basketball team opened their strenuous practice yesterday under the guidance of "Doc" Jacobs. The squad of ten men have already started scrimmage, and will open the season on Friday, December 14, with the Penn Athletic Club five here on the home floor.

Western Maryland Added

Western Maryland has been added to the schedule, making fourteen games to date, but it is hoped that more teams will be listed before its completion. The team opens its college competition with Bucknell, January 15, at Lewisburg. They then meet Dickinson, away, and the first home game is with Western Maryland on January 18. Duquesne, George Washington, City College of New York and Albright are other teams definitely listed.

The team has progressed rapidly. Ben Geraghty, one of the outstanding stars of last season and leading scorer is expected to shine again this year. John Shevlin, captain, played brilliantly last year, and is the spearhead of the attack.

Robinson has improved greatly in his floor work and passing. He is cutting faster and playing a better brand of ball in every way. Ryan is coming fast and is expected to fill one of the starting places on the team.

Coach Jacobs is looking forward to a tough season, but hopes to come out successful. With the material in hand and the steady improvement, things look pretty good for the future.

PLAN GRID ELECTIONS

Six Juniors Eligible for Gridiron Captaincy; Voting Expected Soon

Although no official announcement has been made concerning the date of election for captain of Villanova's 1935 football team, the VILLANOVAN learned this morning from an authoritative source that the selection of William Grimberg's successor may be made by the varsity squad tomorrow.

Many men are eligible for the captaincy, including Eddie Michaels, Johnny Huggins, Walter Korchinski, Nick Kotys, Milan Vidnovic and Johnny Johnson.

All these men have played brilliant football during the past season and will receive consideration from their voting teammates.

Ice Hockey Practice

The second practice of the ice hockey team will be held at the Arena, 46 and Market Sts. at 11 p. m. Thursday night. All candidates are requested to report.

WESTERN MARYLAND AND TEMPLE TEAMS EACH PLACE THREE

Kaplan, Green Terror; Owls, Stevens and Smukler Are Unanimous Choices

BRILL PUPIL SELECTED

Detroit Titans Land Berths; Duker and Nott Awarded Positions on Eleven

By BEN MALONEY

Winding up a rather disappointing grid campaign a week ago Saturday, the Villanova Wildcats hung up their moleskins for the 1934 season. For fourteen men the fray with Temple was the last one of their collegiate career. Following a record of three wins, two scoreless ties, and four losses, the 'Cats and their mentors Harry Stuhldreher, Bob Reagan, and "Doc" Jacobs have chosen their All Opponent team for the past season. This team was chosen according to the outstanding performances shown against the Wildcats this fall.

Ends Chosen

At the wing positions the honors go to Gorski of W. Maryland and Anderson of Temple. These two wingmen were two of the hardest men to gain ground around that the Villanova gridders met this year. Both are fast and shifty as well as deadly tacklers.

Duker of Detroit and Gaffney of South Carolina, two gigantic tacklers, were the popular choice of the 'Cats as being the most capable of showing sterling performances at the tackle posts. Having a world of power in their immense frames, their positions are deadly nemeses for charging backs.

By unanimous vote, Kaplan of W. Maryland was chosen as one of the guards. A rock on the defense and a bone crusher on the offense, he is a player worthy of bolstering almost any line here in the East. At the other guard post, Bradley of La Salle college gets the verdict. As a protege of Marty Brill he is a credit to that mentor's teachings. He is big, strong and fast as well as a fine blocker and a sure tackler.

Stevens Pivot Man

Another unanimous choice went to Pete Stevens three year veteran pivot man of the Temple Owls. Stevens who plays a roving center position has proved an invaluable aid to these Owls for his three seasons as center guardian of the forward wall. He is a vicious tackler, keen blocker, and a great diagnoser of plays. A smart ball player,

Continued on Page Six

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT TO COMMENCE SOON

Cold Weather Increases Interest In Bowling And Billiards

Now that the cold and wet weather has set in, the billiard room in the gym has become a recreation center for a great number of students. In view of this increasing interest, plans are being formulated for a tournament. In order to give the fellows time to brush up on their game and to allow them to practice training their form, the tournament will not be able to get under way until after the Christmas holidays.

Boxers Schedule Pennsylvania and Temple

Rutgers, Columbus U. and Ursinus Also to be Met

Ring to Be Erected Soon in Gymnasium For Daily Workouts of Candidates; Fifty Men Report to Coach Foley

DIFFICULT SCHEDULE TO TEST 'CATS

By EDWARD L. COLLINS

The varsity boxing team under the tutelage of Joe Foley has secured five definite engagements with intercollegiate competitors, while tentative meets are under consideration with three other leading universities.

Temple On Roster

Temple University, one of our outstanding rivals in the athletic curriculum, will be the leading opponent. The Owls were the only regular scheduled outfit on last year's schedule.

One of the best teams in the East, and a member of the Eastern Intercollegiate Conference whose membership consists of Duquesne U., West Virginia U., Bucknell, and Carnegie Tech, the Owls went through the season with the loss of only one dual meet. Indeed, the Wildcats will have to be at their best in order to take the Broad Streeters.

During the height of the Winter the gym will fairly sizzle with action. The boxers of Rutgers will invade the Main Liners' palace and will present a formidable array of ficticuffers. Pennsylvania, always a contender for Intercollegiate honors, will come to blows with the Villanova boys during the latter part of January. With many returning lettermen, the Quakers' hopes will be greatly enriched for a successful campaign.

Cats to Invade South

Columbus University of Washington, D. C., will play host to the Villanova's band of boxers on February 8th. The Cats will invade the South for the first time in history. The Capitol city aggregation were leading contenders for the Southern Conference title, held last March in College Park, the home of Maryland University.

The fifth member on the schedule is Ursinus College from Collegeville, Pa. The Bears always have a team worthy of note. This is exemplified by their showing in the Eastern Pennsylvania Conference. The meet with the Bears is definitely scheduled and will come off in the last week in February.

With the completion of the layout due before the first of the year, Villanova will emblazon the name of the college through the country. That the Wildcats will have plenty of publicity, especially in the East, is shown by their scheduling of the leading boxing teams in this sector.

Large Response Given

Since the last issue, when a formal call was issued for candidates, Foley has been working like a trojan. Some fifty hopefuls answered Foley's call.

The ring will be erected on the stage of the gym during the course of a week, and with the pulleys and punching bags now ready for use, the boys should round into shape with the utmost rapidity. It is the desire of the coaching staff to work with the underclassmen in hopes of uncovering some prospects who will serve for three years.

VARSITY SWIMMERS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN

Turngemeinde Tankers First On Villanova's List; Meet Saturday

After the final formal practice held last Friday night, Coach "Marty" Gill has selected a strong swimming squad to represent Villanova College in the "tank."

The mermen open the schedule with Philadelphia Turngemeinde this Saturday night at Philadelphia.

Events Listed

Events listed are the 440 yd. relay; 500 and 100 yd. free style swim; the 220 and 440 yd. free style; 200 yd. breast stroke; 150 yd. back stroke, and diving. No predictions are forthcoming concerning the result of this meet; but the success of the swimmers this Saturday may bear greatly upon the record of the season.

The Turngemeinde is noted for its strong swimming teams and has produced many of the best swimmers in the east. The Wildcat mermen will meet some of the stiffest opposition of the season in this meet.

Schedule Is Difficult

The swimming schedule is rapidly being completed and the Wildcats will face some of the best collegiate opposition.

Villanova is expected to present formidable foe to all the opposition and the squad is strong in most events. Captain Johnny Strong of the Wildcats has been practicing daily as have been the other candidates. All are expected to be at the top of physical condition and hopes are high for a victory in the opening meet.

Return Football Togs

All members of the 150-pound and Junior Varsity football teams are asked to return all football equipment to the gymnasium immediately.

Starts Drills

COACH GEORGE JACOBS, head mentor of the varsity basketballers, has started his drills after completing his job as coach of the freshman football team.

ICE HOCKEY TEAM STARTS PRACTICE

Candidates Should Report To Student Coaches as Soon As Possible

The Villanova ice hockey team will make its initial performance of the 1934-35 season Friday night at the Philadelphia Arena. The ice quintet has been organized specially for the charity event held this night and no attempt has been made to form a regular schedule.

'Cats Played In '32

Ice hockey was last played by a Villanova team in 1932 when the 'Cats played a five game schedule. The season opened with Haddonfield A. C. and Villanova came out on the long end of a 4 to 0 score. Two consecutive games were played with Swarthmore A. C. and both resulted in defeats for the Main Liners.

Penn Athletic Club met and downed the 'Cats in the closets game of the season by a 2 to 1 score. The season ended with a 6 to 4 victory over the Boonton sextet.

Blanchard Only Veteran

The only surviving member of the ice aggregation is Don Blanchard, varsity football star and to him has been entrusted the development of the new team. Only two practice sessions will be held and both workouts will have to be most strenuous if the team is to present any attack against the strong representatives of Swarthmore College.

The initial practice was held on the Arena ice on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. The second session will be Thursday night at 11 p.m.

John Higgins and Blanchard have issued a call for all candidates and anyone interested is urged to report to either of these two men immediately. The match will be part of a large and interesting ice carnival to be held Friday night, December 7, beginning at 8:30.

All Should Attend

For the students who wish to compete and do not possess the necessary skates or equipment, provisions may be made whereby it can be borrowed for the event. A large crowd is expected and it is imperative that Villanova make a good showing.

Tickets for the event may be purchased at the Arena. Prices range from 50c to $1.00.

In the Limelight

FOR the past three years, the right side of the Villanova line has been darn near impregnable (impassable, folks), due to the stellar playing of the constant roomie team of Charlie Cox and Barney Lee. Chas. has already been in the colyumn, Barney doesn't want to be in it, and that seems to be that. But Barney has to be in it, 'cause there are millions upon millions of peoples who are simply dying, my dears, to hear what there is to hear about the curly-locks dropkicker.

Barney is about the most self effacing person on the campus, and it's tough there aren't more like him. No kiddin', all the information he would give out was the date of his birth. Waddyuh gonna do with a guy like that?

Here's what he said. "I was born on October 25, 1912, in Canonsburg, Pa. I played ball with Nowe and Patzsch. I came to Villanova in '31." And that's all he said. He's a swell guy, even if he is so modest.

"I played ball with Nowe and Patzsch." Here's how he did it. For four years, Barney played first string guard and sometimes played at tackle. He kicked all the points after touchdown that Canonsburg ever made. Patzsch held the ball and Barney booted it over. He was a trick, though. You've never seen him kick a point with his headgear on, have you? Well, you won't. Thass his trick.

Then he worked on a dam in the summer of '31, to get tough for "Doc" Jacobs. He got plenty tough. He's stayed that way. During his first year, he played first string frosh guard through five games and was elected captain of the yearling eleven. And following up his high school days, he was dropkicker for the squad. More about that drop kicking later.

During the winter, Barney played basketball in the intramurals, and then for the frosh team he played guard. Next year, he knocked off a post on the jayvees and has held the job ever since. Last year he was chosen All Intramural Guard for Alumni, which Hall won the intramural crown.

Football was by no means neglected by the boy. He showed his stuff to Coach Stuhldreher and thef ollowing fall, he and his inseparable roomie, the wandering' cowhand, alternated with the first stringers, Milne and Blanchard. Lee kept up with Cavanaugh in the extra pointers in the meantime.

In '33, the guard team of Cox and Lee was screwed up. We were in a bad way for a couple husky tackles, so Chas. was shifted from guard to tackle right beside Barney, and did they go! Every night, they'd practice blocking with the bedpillows. The biggest news is yet to come. Out of fourteen tries at point, this curlyheaded demon lifted THIR'TEEN right between the uprights! And that's going some.

This year, the poor guy didn't have any chance to equal that, but in the games that Villanova has played this year, Barnie has converted about seven tries out of ten.

All-Opponent Team Chosen by Varsity

Continued From Page Five

he is a valuable addition to any coaches squad.

Among the backs we find Bill Sheperd, W. Maryland, Smith of Bucknell, Doug Nott of Detroit, and Dave Smukler of Temple. Shepherd is running neck and neck with Strutt of Duquesne for high scoring honors in the East, Smukler is the modern Nevers or Thorpe according to Warner who coached both of these famous ball toters, and Smith and Nott are two very good ball players each in his own particular branch of the play.

Shepherd has all that it takes to make a good halfback. He has speed, power and deception. Also, he is a mighty fine kicker and passer as well as a smart ball player.

Bison Back Picked

Smith of Bucknell is perhaps one of the deadliest blocking backs that the 'Cats encountered this year. When not toting the ball himself he clears a path large enough for a fleet of cars to go through. Then with the pigskin under his own arms he can wade through opposition of the very best.

Nott, Detroit's great passing back, who with Storrie of that same institution, have made history by their great passing combination, is one of the greatest marksmen in that particular respect of the game. Besides his aerial ability he is a kicker of note and a hard running back.

Smukler Unanimous

To Dave Smukler went unanimous choice as fullback. Considering his performance against the 'Cats it is easy to see how he gained undisputed possession of the fullback berth. Smukler stands for just what every coach dreams of in regard to a perfect back. He can run, pass, kick and block better than any man the Wildcats have faced this season, or for that matter, a good many seasons. He is a powerhouse in the attack and a Gibraltar on the defense.

To form this team, each Wildcat player of the past season was solicited for his choice of All Opponent team. The players receiving the most votes received the berths and the remainder received honorable mention.

Frosh Basketeers May Replace J. V.'s

Continued From Page Five

squad will become a reality if practice sessions can be arranged to the satisfaction of both coaches.

Practice has been already called for the Freshmen team and a great number of men have reported. This looks very encouraging to Coach Severance for the more enthusiasm the men have, the better will be the prospects for the coming season.

Lose, Win Three

Last season the Frosh had an average of .500, winning three games and losing three. This team also had a student mentor, being coached by Art Lynch, a senior business man, and he did a great job of it.

In their first game, the Frosh broke up a long winning streak of the Temple Freshmen. This game was run as a preliminary to the varsity game and resulted in a one-point victory for the Kittens. It was rated as one of the most exciting games played in the gym. A return match with Temple resulted in another close game but the Kittens were finally defeated by a close score.

Ursinus Beaten

Ursinus and West Chester were met and subsequently defeated, but in the return matches the Frosh were defeated by close scores.

To date the Frosh schedule has not been tabulated but contacts have been made with quite a few teams. The Kittens will play in preliminary games to the varsity contests as well as in many outside games. High school varsity teams as well as other Freshmen teams will form the nucleus of the competition. It is expected that a few clubs will also challenge the Frosh.

With the largest squad in many years reporting for practice, Coach Severance is sure that the outcome of the present season will be favorable.

Makes Long Run

The longest run of the Turkey Day football contests was made by a substitute back of the Lebanon Valley eleven in the closing minutes of their game with P. M. C. It was the first time this season that the Cadets goal line has been crossed.

Three Villanova Grid Opponents Among Narion's Undefeated Teams

Outstanding among the opponents of the Villanova eleven during the past season stands the squads representing Temple, Western Maryland, and La Salle. These teams rank among the 19 collegiate aggregations that remain undefeated throughout the land.

Terrors Head List

Western Maryland leads the Villanova opponents with eight victories and one tie, that being a nothing-nothing encounter with the Wildcats. On the strength of this record, the Green Terrors have been invited to play a New Year's Day game in he South with the Miami University team. The plans have not been definitely settled as yet, but it is reported that the Harlow-coached team has the inside track.

The outstanding performer of the Western Maryland team was Bill Shepherd, who led the country's scorers with a total of 133 points for the season.

The Temple team entertained high hopes for a bid to either the Rose Bowl or the Sugar Bowl. All hopes for a Rose Bowl invite faded last week when the University of Alabama eleven received the invite. It is expected that a formal announcement of the Sugar Bowl selection will come this week. The Owls remained undefeated, but had their record marred by two ties. The first was a 6-6 affair with Indiana. After their gruelling contest with Villanova the Owls seemed to lack the power to score against Bucknell and a 0-0 draw resulted.

Although Smuckler was considered the outstanding player of the team, Danny Testa led the Owl scorers, having a total of 60 points. Second in the Owl's scoring was Don Watts, who accounted for 30 points.

La Salle, another opponent, played sensational ball during the entire season under the guidance of its coach, Jaceb Brill. Catholic University was the only team able to stop the brilles on their merry winning way. In a hotly fought contest at the Capital City neither team was able to tally. With the exception of Villanova and Catholic University, all other of the Brillers' opponents are not considered as Class "A" teams.

The only other team in this section of the country that did not feel the pangs of defeat was the Pennsylvania Military ,College eleven under the tutelage of Coach Judd Timm. The Cadets boasted an uncrossed goal line until the final minutes of their last game of the season, when a substitute halfback of Lebanon Valley intercepted a Cadet pass on his own goal line and raced the entire length of the field for a score.

The P. M. C. team has been listed by Temple for a game next season and is one of the Owls' new opponents along with Vanderbilt and Center College.

ANTHONY S. GADEK GIVES ADDRESS TO TECHNOLOGY GROUP

Speaker Is Public Works Commissioner at Perth Amboy, New Jersey

EXPANSION IN FIELD OF SEWAGE DISPOSAL SHOWN

Encouraging Outlook for Graduates and Advantages Of College Education Stressed

Members of the School of Technology, were addressed recently by Anthony S. Gadek, Jr., Commissioner of Public Works, Perth-Amboy, N. J.

Mr. Gadek was the guest of Very Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college.

Local Influence

The purpose of Mr. Gadek's message to the group was to encourage those who might have become discouraged upon the dismal outlook which will confront them upon their graduation. It was, however, his primary motive to leave the gathering with the impression that, "The college, in its tremendous power for good, and in its essence, is a place where spirit grows by mysterious contact with spirit. Greater than buildings, equipment, large student bodies or great athletic victories, are the fine student personalities, to be enjoyed. Colleges everywhere are a harbor for them. And Villanova is fortunate indeed for harboring many of them.

Mr. Gadek's secondary motive was to explain to the audience great expansive potentialities which are possible in the fields of Mining and in Sewage Disposal, so that there may be a greater preservation of the nations rivers and their tributaries.

Mr. Gadek not only occupies the position of Commissioner of Public Works at Perth-Amboy, but is also a member of the New Jersey State Highway Commission in the Condemnation Department, a graduate of Catholic University of America, taking his degree in Philosophy and Law; is a former instructor at Baltimore City College, Baltimore, Md.

CONTINUE HOLY HOUR

Devotions Scheduled for Thursday Night in Observance of First Friday

This month's Holy Hour will be held on Thursday evening in the college chapel, between 6 and 7 p. m. o'clock. It is in keeping with the schedule, set up at the beginning of the current scholastic year, that devotions be held on the eve of the first Friday of each month.

Prayers will consist of the public recitation of the Rosary, followed by public exposition of the Most Blessed Sacrament, together with a talk to be delivered by Rev. Francis X. Conn, O. S. A.

Students are expected to attend the exercises, but may leave, immediately before the sermon. However, the chaplain expects the students to manifest an attitude of interest, and meditation.

Confessions will be heard throughout the entirity of the exercises.

Philadelphia Club Set for Banquet

Continued From Page One

the supervision of chairman Joseph Freney, '27, to make this gathering outstanding in alumni affairs. Prominent speakers drawn from the ranks of foremost sportsmen and individuals interested in Villanova will attend the affair.

Price to the banquet is $2.00 per plate ,but by special arrangement with the committee in charge, the price to students is $1.50.

Tickets may be procured at the office of the alumni secretary, Room 108, Mendel Hall.

TREASURE INN
229 East Lancaster Ave., Ardmore, Pa.
DINE and DANCE
ORCHESTRA NIGHTLY — ELABORATE FLOOR SHOW
No Cover or Minimum Charge

American Academy to Hold Meeting In Philadelphia Hall December 6, 7

By HAROLD J. KEATING

The annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science will be held Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8 in the Witherspoon Auditorium, Juniper and Walnut Streets, in Philadelphia.

Because it is felt that this conference may be of great value to the students of the college, the Rev. Edward V. Stanford, O. S. A., president of the college has arranged for tickets admitting the bearer to all sessions. They may be secured at the office of the President.

These discussions dealing with topics of interest to college men have been divided into six sessions, morning, afternoon, and evening of the two days allotted to the meeting.

Headed by Ernest Minor Patterson, Ph. D., of the University of Pennsylvania, who holds the office of President of the organization, the conference will open Friday morning with the topic, "The Issue Today."

The general theme of the meeting will be on the subject of the "Relation of Government to Economic Life." Friday morning's subject will be subdivided into "The Clash Between New and Old Social Systems," by Lewis Corey, author of the "Decline of American Capitalism." William Hard, of Washington, D. C., will be heard next on the theme, "Priming the Business Pump," and will be followed by Raymond G. Swing, a member of the Board of Editors of The Nation on "The Shift in Economic Power." This conference will begin at 10 A. M. All talks will be delivered under the five-minute rule.

The second session beginning Friday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. will be presided over by W. Logan MacCoy, of Philadelphia, and will have as its subject, "The Relation of Government to Economic Security." "What Price Insecurity" will be delivered by Eric H. Biddle, Executive Director of the State Emergency Relief Board in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Talks on the same subject will also be given by Isador Lubin, United States Commissioner of Labor Statistics, of Washington, D. C., and Louis Waldman, chairman of the Socialist Party of New York State.

At 8:15 P. M. Friday, the third session will be held presided over by George H. Huston, of Philadelphia, on the subject, "Government and Economic Life," addresses being given by John Spargo, of Old Bennington, Vt., and Donald R. Richberg, General Counsel of the NRA at Washington, D. C.

The second day of the conference will open the fourth session on the subject, "The Relation of Government to Labor Disputes." This topic will be subdivided into speeches by Sumner H. Schlichter, of Harvard University, on the subject, "The Government and Collective Bargaining." This subject will also be the theme of I. M. Rubinow, of Cincinnati, Ohio. "Labor Demands a Definite Government Policy Regarding Labor-Capital Relations" will be delivered by Emil Rieve, president of the American Federation of Hosiery Workers of Philadelphia and Robert L. Lund, chairman of the Board of the National Association of Manufacturers, New York City.

"Government in Its Relation to Industry" will be the topic of the fifth session, Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 P. M. "What Can Government Do to Increase Employment" will be delivered by Virgil Jordan, president of the National Industrial Conference Board of New York City and "Government in Its Relation to Industry" will be heard from by both Samuel O. Dunn, chairman, Simmons-Boardman Publishing Corporation of New York City, and Thomas J. Watson, president of the International Business Machines Corporation, also of New York City. "The Need for More Government in Business" will be delivered by Harry W. Laidler, executive director of the League for Industrial Democracy, of New York City.

The conference will be closed Saturday evening with the sixth session beginning at 8:15 P. M. on the general theme of "The Proper Functions of Government." The "New Deal and Economic Liberty" will be delivered by A. A. Berle, Jr., Chamberlain of the City of New York and associate professor of law at Columbia University, and the closing address will be given by Sir Wilmott Lewis, of Washington, D. C., on the subject of "The Interplay and Equilibrium of Government Powers."

PADDY GREENE DIES; OLD BALL PLAYER

Big League Player of 30 Years Ago Was Villanova Alumnus

Special to the VILLANOVAN

Patrick J. Greene, better known as "Paddy" Greene, famous as catcher for the Philadelphia Nationals and the New York Americans more than 30 years ago, died at his home, 98 Ocean St., in his 60th year. He had been ill for some time.

Born in Dogtown, as South Providence was known to old-timers years ago, Greene was well known as an amateur and semi-professional catcher. He went to Manhattan College and later transferred to Villanova, where he completed his education and became famous as a baseball and football star.

From Villanova he went to the Philadelphia Nationals. After serving with Philadelphia, Greene was sent to the Baltimore Orioles, and when New York broke into the American League he was obtained for that club and served under Clark Griffith, who managed the old New York Highlanders, some time known as the Hilltoppers. Later the Highlanders and Hilltoppers became known as the Yankees.

After winding up his big league career as a catcher and third baseman, "Paddy" played a couple of years with Albany in the old New York State League. He also played in the New York-Pennsylvania League and the Canadian League.

Mr. Greene, after retiring from baseball, became a cigar salesman. He also worked in several cigar stores in Providence. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Hildegarde (Danis) Greene, and one sister, Mrs. Catherine Tully, of Medford, Mass. He was a member of Providence Lodge of Elks and at one time was a member of the United Commercial Travelers. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Wilkes-Barre Club Plans Gay Frolic

Continued From Page One

which the club's insignia is engraved, are presented to all outgoing members.

William Cleary and Joseph Forkin are in charge of arrangements for this year's celebration.

Pierre's
The Place to Go
DINNERS SERVED IN RESTAURANT
(As Low as 65c)
Dancing — BILLY HAYS & His Orchestra
Floor Show — Twice Nightly — 7 P. M. — 11 P. M.
Pierre's
On 69th St.

FORMER STUDENT DIES

John DeVirgillis, '34, Phila. Alumnus, Succumbs to Heart Attack

John DeVirgillis, class of '34, died last Tuesday evening, at his home in Philadelphia. His death was caused by heart disease.

Although he had been ill with a slight attack of influenza, about a week prior to his demise, he had fully recovered and his illness did not in any way cause his death.

After his graduation from Villanova with a B. S. in Biology, DeVirgillis was admitted to Temple Medical School.

PINOCHLE PLAYERS IN BATTLE OF WITS

Engineering Fraternity Members Continue to Tourney's Semi-Final Round

John Klekotka, president of the Engineering Fraternity, Phi Kappa Pi, upon being requested to divulge the results or at least the progress of the Pinochle tournament now being sponsored by the organization, finally granted an interview.

Although he was reluctant to talk on the subject, he did however announce that the final stages of the tilt are practically at hand. Through their ability at the age old German pastime, Blaesi Tofani and Robert McGowan and the other team, Stephen Kramer and Joseph Dunnigan, have reached the semi-finals and are expected to conclude the play-off before this week is over.

By way of passing, it might be mentioned that Mr. Klekotka also suggested the possibility of a dinner-dance to be held by the Fraternity soon after the return from the holidays. This is as yet unofficial and may be taken only for its face value. The club, however, has planned great things for its current season. All of this is of above and has the same unofficial course from the same source as the value.

PLAN ALBANY SOCIAL

During the Christmas holidays the Albany Club of Villanova will hold its annual dinner dance at one of the leading hotels in Albany, N. Y.

To date the inter-collegiate dance plans have not materialized but the Villanova branch of the collegiate Albany clubs is awaiting answers from the various Albany clubs.

Subscription for the dance will be $3.00 and the alumni are expected to be present in full force.

Meet Your Friends at
The Bryn Mawr Confectionery
(Next to Seville Theatre)
Tasty Sandwiches
Lunches-Dinners-Platters
Reasonably Priced
Music — Free Dancing

Sky Flashes

Editor's Note: (In the interest of furthering aeronautics among college men, the VILLANOVAN with this issue inaugurates a new column for aviation enthusiasts. Although it is not planned as a regular weekly feature, interesting sidelights on aviation will be cheerfully accepted to continue this column if enough interest is manifested by the student body.)

By JOHN W. HALLAHAN, JR

From Washington will come the majority of our reports, and from this source comes the first flash. Almost all airlines, this Fall, discarded their former 'planes and are now operating air monarchs that have speeds in excess of 200 miles per hour. These companies are now offering such inducements to their patrons as berths for night flights, sound insulated cabin walls, and pre-cooled and pre-heated air in the passenger compartments.

These increased speeds are considered a great achievement of the aircraft manufacturing industry, and have been accomplished practically without the addition of higher powered engines. Due to such improvements and refinements as retractable landing gear, and the use of metal covering on parts of the wings, the drag has been so materially decreased that in some cases the speed of the planes have been more than doubled.

* * * * *

While flying speeds have been thus increased, landing speeds, which so often contribute to the cause of accident, have been lowered to an extent where the plane is assured of safe landing. Aeronautical experts have busied themselves with this phase of flying development with quite complete success. The newer ships of the air are equipped with wing flaps, which are no more than air brakes, and better designed craft, which allow for a greater range of speeds.

The airline is becoming more and more conscious of its patrons and they are becoming more active in their support of the transport. A few years ago, it was considered the height of flying comfort to relax in a reclining chair with a magazine and a good view of the country, but now it is possible to order lunch in the plane, and sleep at night in berths, much the same as those of a finely appointed Pullman car. In the plane, the lower berth is placed but a few inches above the floor, and the upper is low enough to share a portion of the window.

COLADONATO
Tailor Shoppe
College Tailor Since 1925
Handles anything that can be cleaned, dyed or repaired. It is not how cheap, but how good.
Suits and Topcoats
Made to Your Measure
$25
and up
Also Real Tailored Suits
Agents
JOHN BURKE
LAWRENCE SHEA

UPPER DARBY LOAN SOCIETY
LICENSED PAWNBROKERS
Money Loaned on
DIAMONDS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY
AND ALL MERCHANDISE OF VALUE
Highest Prices Paid for Old Gold
Bargains in Diamonds, Watches Jewelry, Luggage, Etc.
UNREDEEMED PLEDGES AT GREAT SAVINGS Weekly Payments Accepted
6934 MARKET ST. Upper Darby Bou. 3119

ON SALE AT PIE SHOP
Distributor of Products
Purex
VITA-CURED BOWL
JUICES CAN'T SOAK IN $1
NON-POROUS LINING
CAN'T GET STALE
JOHN MIDDLETON

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

Columbia Dean Advocates Advanced School of Education for Graduates

By Associated Collegiate Press

New York City, Dec. 3—Creation of a new school at Columbia University Teachers College, to be known as the Advanced School of Education, where an "educational elite" could be trained to provide leadership in American education as West Point and Annapolis provide trained leadership for the army and navy, is advocated by Dr. William F. Russell, Dean of Teachers College, Columbia University, in his annual report.

Dean Russell suggests the raising of an endowment fund of $3,000,000, the income of which would be used in setting up this new school so that graduate students would receive advanced training without cost. Only the best men and women of the country, selected through a process of rigid examinations, would be admitted. Once the student enters, however, he will be guaranteed economic security and given a position for life.

Modelled On Paris School

Pointing out that he is patterning his proposals upon the Ecole Normale Superieure school of Paris which he visited last spring, Dean Russell reports that he feels confident that a similar school can be set up at Teachers College. As at the Ecole Normale, stringent examinations would eliminate the mediocre students, leaving as graduate students the best minds that this country can offer.

Dean Russell states further that, following the French plan, the Advanced School of Education could be established on the model of the Ecole Normale, with the rest of Teachers College, Columbia University, Union Theological Seminary, the Julliard School and other institutions in the same relationship to it as the University of Paris is to the Ecole Normale.

Thus, he explains, while it would be necessary to have a place for the students to gather and to work, a library and adequate laboratories, no exclusive faculty would be needed, as professors in Teachers College could be assigned for full or part time.

Study In Three Departments

"Young graduates of highest promise could be retained on three year terms to work with these students," the report continues. "The students could spend their time anywhere in the University, and if deemed wise, at the Sorbonne, University of London, Harvard, Yale, Chicago, the Brookings Institution, or anywhere else.

The Advanced School of Education, as recommended by Dean Russell, would be composed of three departments: Educational Research, Practical Science, and Professional Education. The offerings of the Advanced School would be limited, as is the case at the Ecole Normale to perfecting the scholarship, research and professional abilities of its students. Courses offered elsewhere would not be duplicated.

In outlining further his belief in the advisability of this new school, he writes: "If you can assure the ablest students of a permanent post for life, you can attract thousands to turn their hopes in your direction. If, in addition, you can eliminate the economic barrier, by providing all expenses over a period of years, you can be assured that the ablest will take the examination."

COLLEGE POETRY SHOWS PROMISE

Average Age of Students Is Most Conducive to Verse Writing

By Associated Collegiate Press

Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 3 — "The poetry produced by American college students today is more disciplined and promising than it ever was in the past," Mr. Louis Nntermeyer, famed anthologist and poet, told a university student journalist recently.

"The collegiate age, 18 to 20, is that period of life most conducive to writing poetry," he said, with his mouth full of cake. "Then, the emotions are most alive, and the impulse to write and express oneself is almost second nature.

"There is much surprisingly excellent verse emanating from university writers, too—even in the accepted, orthodox forms such as sonnet. Of course the vivacity of youth always seeks expression in sheer radicalism, unrhymed, heretical."

"In advising young poets I should urge: experiment, experiment, experiment!" said the author smiling at his Boswell, "Try all the forms, especially those you don't like. Improve your taste and technique; above all, serve an apprenticeship in structure-craftsmanship, not trying to spin an epic at 21. At that period the philosophy and emotions are not sufficiently tried to be interpreted."

"It seems quite possible," writes Deane W. Malott, of the Harvard University business school, "that a new demand is coming from within banking for trained and alert young men to fill its positions of ultimate responsibility."

But—

If the young men are alert, they will want to hear from James P. Warburg, of the Bank of Manhattan.

"Banking," said Mr. Warburg to a group of college students, "as a business career, is dead."

* * *

Even O. O. (Odds) McIntyre, Broadway columnist, has yielded to the sentiment against radical activities in colleges. In his crisp way he says: "Time to give some of the radical eastern college professors the bum's rush."

* * *

New York state hasn't given them the bum's rush yet, but they have passed a special law requiring all teachers in the state schools to take an oath of allegiance to the Constitution. No doubt that raises a problem for the political science teachers, many of whom honestly feel, and say so, that the Constitution is cracking up.

* * *

There can't be so much to the insistent remark that college students are a bunch of slightly pink pacifists. As evidence, we point to the football slogans of Nebraska and Minnesota universities, respectively:

"Pulverize the Panthers."

"Mangle Michigan."

Michigan students protested against the last one. "Wouldn't 'Maltreat Michigan' have been sufficient?" they inquired.

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits and Topcoats

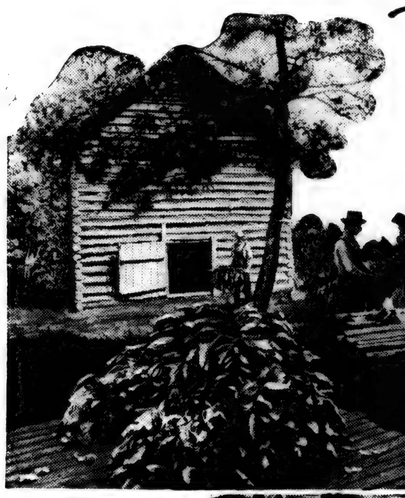
$24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See

JIM ELLIOTT

Room 108, Fedigan Hall



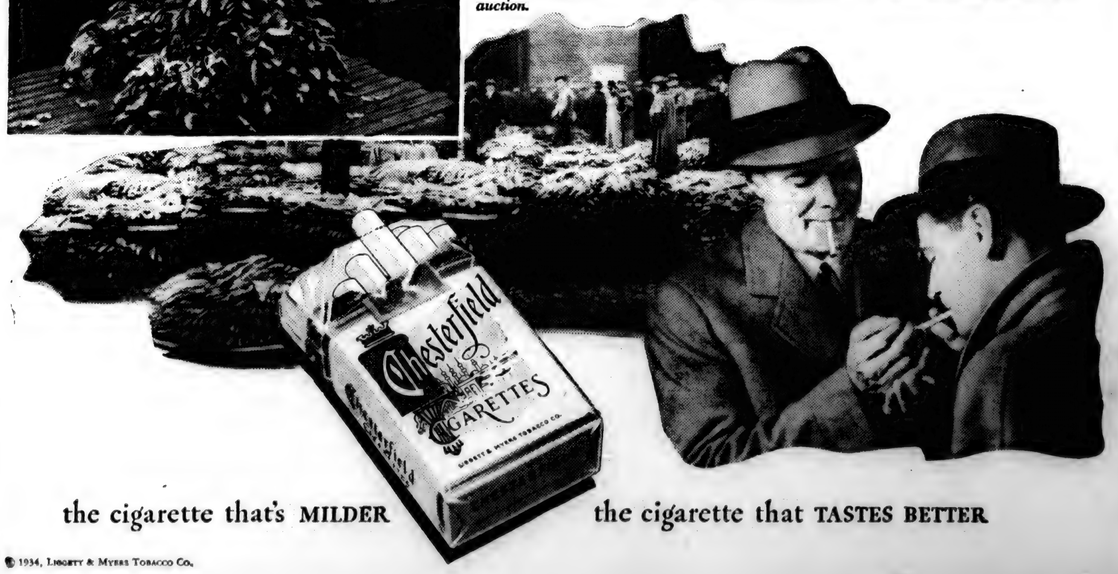
They ought to know—

MANY men of the South have been "in tobacco" for years—growing tobacco and curing it—buying it and selling it—until they know tobacco from A to Izzard.

Now folks who have been in tobacco all their lives, folks who grow it, know there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco.

Harvesting tobacco and packing it in the barn for curing—and (below) a scene at a Southern tobacco auction.

And down in the South where they grow tobacco and where they ought to know something about it—in most places Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette.



the cigarette that's MILDER

the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 11 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1934 Price: Five Cents

Penn A. C. to be Scene Of Villanova Football Feast

Recipient of Annual Award to Outstanding Alumnus Veiled in Secrecy; Stuhldreher Will Be Honored on 10th Anniversary

TOASTMASTER SECURES SPEAKERS

By HAROLD J. KEATING

VILLANOVA'S eleventh annual football dinner, in honor of its gridiron stalwarts, will be held Thursday night in the ballroom of the Penn Athletic Club, in Philadelphia.

Staged by the Villanova Club of Philadelphia, the banquet has a threefold purpose this year with the pigskin squad heading the list, the tenth anniversary of Harry Stuhldreher as head football mentor of the Blue and White and the annual award of the club to the school's outstanding alumnus.

Third Annual Award

Veiled in secrecy, the recipient of the award will not be disclosed until the night of the dinner. This will be the third award since its inception, the late Charles J. McGeehan, former graduate manager of athletics starting the procession and being followed last year by J. Stanley Smith, Philadelphia attorney.

The mystery surrounding the individual has been established as one of the terms of the awards. Selected by a specially appointed committee, the recipient himself will not be aware of the honor conferred upon him until Thursday.

Honor Stuhldreher

Coach Harry Stuhldreher will be honored upon the completion of his tenth season as tutor of the 'Cats. This honor is fitting as Harry came to Villanova when the gridiron status was at the lowest ebb in years.

The banquet will also mark the fortieth season of intercollegiate competition of the Main Liners on the greensward.

Numerous outstanding speakers have been secured by Martin J. Gill, who will act in the capacity of toastmaster for this year's function. John H. Neeson, president of the Notre Dame Club of Philadelphia, has been invited to the feast

Continued on Page Seven

CAMPUS CLUBS PLAN CHRISTMAS DANCES

Connecticut, Wilkes-Barre And Albany Groups Will Hold Functions

During the holidays, three of the campus clubs of the college will hold their annual Christmas dances in their respective home towns. These organizations are the Wilkes-Barre, Connecticut and Albany clubs.

Kearney's Orchestra

The Christmas Dance of the Wilkes-Barre Club of Villanova will be held Christmas night, at the Hotel Sterling in Wilkes-Barre. Scintillating music will be furnished by Will Kearney's Society Orchestra. Novel favors will be presented to each feminine guest. Diverting from the policy of former years, the dance will start at ten o'clock and continue until the wee hour of 2:00 A. M.

This year's dance promises to be an outstanding affair due to the untiring efforts upon its arrangements by Joseph Forkin and William Cleary, co-chairmen, and their committee.

Unusual Ballroom

Members attending the dance will be dazzled by an unusual ballroom in that it is completely encased in mirrors. Decorations will be seasonal, namely, smilax or boxwood. Grouped in the ballroom and on the mezzanine will be tables arranged to accommodate a large party.

Among the hard working committee members are included John Delahanty, Gabriel Martyak, John Noll, Charles Betz, Paul Milanow and John Dempsey.

According to William Cleary, co-Chairman, all former students from Villanova College from Luzerne and Lackawanna counties can be counted upon for their presence.

Plans for the annual dance given

Continued on Page Four

BELLE AIR WORK MAKES PROGRESS

Photography Sittings And Personality Write-Ups Lack Response

Work is progressing rapidly on the senior annual, the Belle Air, according to an annnouncement by George C. Malhame, editor-in-chief of the publication. A general working model, or dummy outline of the edition, has been in the process of completion and needs only a few finishing touches to round it out. Many of the features have already been written, and this department of the annual periodical seems to be running ahead of schedule.

In contrast to the active efforts of the staff there seems to be apparent lack of student cooperation in the personality write-ups. To date only a negligible number have been returned. Seniors are urged to remedy this situation and hand in their finished contributions as soon as possible. This will greatly aid the staff and expedite the publication of the annual.

Because of the poor turnout on the last day stipulated for the sittings, another day has been tentatively set after the Christmas holidays. If present plans are carried out this will positively mark the last appearance of the Zamsky representative on the campus. All those failing to take advantage of this later date will be required to travel to downtown Philadelphia for the sitting.

This year will mark a continuance of the policy adopted by the administration last year of granting each member of the student body a copy of the publication.

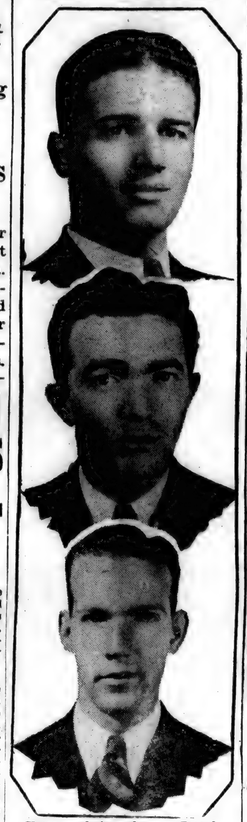
AUDIT TO BE MADE

Student Council Requests Balance OfBooks of Class of 1935

At the last meeting of the Student Council, held in Mendel Hall, Thursday, it was brought out that the Council expected to replace this custom, by having Masses said here at Villanova, for the intention of the deceased persons. The reason for the suggested change, was given because of the fact that often times there is great difficulty in having the pledgees fulfill their promises.

At the same time, a resolution was adopted to have an audit made of the books of the Junior class of last year. The reason for this is to enable the Senior class to know the state of their financial standing.

DIRECT YULE SOCIALS



Upper photo shows Joseph Sciuto, chairman of the Lawrence Club's Christmas social; center photo, Joseph Forkin, chairman of the Wilkes-Barre Club's Yule frolic; lower photo, John McGrath, chairman of the Connecticut Club's holiday ball.

APPEAL FOR MEMBERSHIP IN CHORAL GROUP MADE

Lack of Support May Cause Campus Glee Club To Disband

Although numerous appeals have been made to the student body, Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., the moderator of the Glee Club, is forced to admit that these appeals have resulted in anything but a stimulus to the enlargement of the membership of the Glee Club.

At a meeting of the club on Dec. 7, it was clearly understood that the support of the student body was still lacking. In its present state, with the small membership, the club is unable to function properly. Unless the club receives this much needed support, it is inevitable that it will be discontinued.

In this final appeal, the students are again asked to get behind the club—to give it their whole-hearted support.

Patrick Henry
William J. McKeon
Henry S. Morehouse

On behalf of the student body, the VILLANOVAN wishes to take this opportunity to express sincere sympathy to Professors William C. A. Henry and J. Stanley Morehouse, and Director of Publicity, Raymond J. McKeon, on the deaths of their beloved fathers during the past week.

Alessandroni Announces Committee for 1935 Prom

Senior Class President Lists Names of 30 Persons Who Will Be Formally Invited To Serve in Coveted Positions

ASK REFUSAL OF COMPLIMENTARIES

WALTER E. ALESSANDRONI, president of the Senior Class, has given exclusive permission to the VILLANOVAN to publish today names of those who have been selected members of the Senior Prom Committee. Thirty students, the largest number ever chosen to serve in a group of this kind, will be formally invited by Mr. Alessandroni to accept the coveted positions.

Simultaneous with the announcement of the tentative list of persons he had chosen for membership in the highly selective group, the leader of the 1935 class announced that those accepting the appointments tendered them would be expected to reply to him in writing by Thursday noon of this week. Letters of acceptance must contain the committee member's willingness to serve the class without receiving a complimentary ticket for his work.

Foresees Revenue

With this innovation, Mr. Alessandroni expects to bring more than $100 revenue into the class treasury by doing away with the traditional complimentary list. The free ticket list of the student council will be the only exception to this order.

Although no definite plans have been made regarding the outstanding social function on the campus during the school year, the initial meeting of the committee is expected to take place sometime this week. Edmond P. Reilley, School of Commerce and Finance, and editor of the VILLANOVAN, was named chairman of the senior group.

Defer Date

Because of the few days remaining before the Christmas vacation of the student body is officially begun, leaders of the graduating class believe it would be unwise to hold the function in January. Thus they expect to urge the committee to defer plans for a specific date until after the first week of the coming year, and to stress the importance of holding the social on one of the Friday evenings in February or Friday, March 1.

One of the plans of the Senior leader is to have the price of admission at a lower rate than in pre-

Continued on Page Four

Proposed Group

Paetrus Banmiller, Walter Coyle, Gaetano D. Dolente, James F. Nulty, Thomas Malcom, and Philip J. DiGiacomo.

John J. Fralinger, Frank Wetsler, Albert Cerulo, and Virgil M. Cortese.

Alexander Philips, Joseph G. Mele, Ralph Violetti, Richard Bruno, Martin J. Nichols, Stephen Chiarello, and Louis Lipshutz.

John Goggin, Vito F. Canuso, Charles Nowe, Harold J. Keating, John J. Stell, John Krajsa, Thomas O'Connor, Joseph Linsalata, Harry Patzach, Lincoln Lenzi, Perry B. Frank, Edward J. O'Neill, and Edmond P. Reiley, chairman.

EPSILON PHI THETA LAYS SOCIAL PLANS

Arts School Organization To Hold First 1935 Dance Janauary 11

Members of Epsilon Phi Theta fraternity will hold a dance January 11, according to an announcement made by President James A. Walsh at a meeting of the Arts School during the seminar period on last Thursday morning.

Moderate Charge

The social will be held in the Collegn Gym with the Villanovans furnishing the music. Bids have been tentatively priced at $1.50.

There will be an important meeting of the newly reorganized club today in the Amphitheatre at 1.00 P. M. Final arrangements for the affair will be discussed and all members are urged by Mr. Walsh to be present.

Open New Year

Epsilon Phi Theta is the oldest organization of its kind on the campus and was one of the most popular and active clubs at Villanova. With this, the first school affair of 1935, the fraternity will attempt to regain its former prestige and position after a three-year period of inactivity.

The dance committee, headed by Edmond C. Malhame, includes William Walsh, Joseph Forkin, Frank Chardo, Laurence Goldschmidt, John Butler, Thomas Whelan, John DiJoseph, Daniel Murphy, Charles Stahlecker, Frank Neylon, William Corkill, John Burke and Francis Monahan.

EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE

John J. Stell, College Editor, is editor-in-chief for the current issue of the VILLANOVAN. Acting sports editor is Ben Maloney, and assistant editors are James W. Keeley, and Harold J. Keating.

Registrar Leaves For Novitiate Of Charity Sisters

Miss Helen Heffernan Quits Position as Dean's Aide To Enter Convent

Reports from the office of the Dean of the School of Arts and Philosophy is that Miss Helen M. Heffernan, for seven years the College Registrar, will leave tomorrow for Baltimore, Md., where she will enter the Novitiate of the Sisters of Charity.

In addition to being the College Registrar, Miss Heffernan has also held the position of secretary to the Dean of the School of Arts and Philosophy for the same number of years.

Her duties began first under Rev. Howard A. Grelis, O. S. A., formerly Dean of the Arts School and Director of Studies. Miss Heffernan at present holds the same position under Rev. Eugene A. Mauch, O. S. A., who is the present Dean and Director of Studies. Her resignation goes into effect tomorrow and as yet no one has been appointed to succeed her.

Miss Heffernan will be greatly missed by the many friends she has made within the student body and college administration authorities.

Interesting Sidelights on Other Colleges

Columbia Dean Advocates Advanced School of Education for Graduates

By Associated Collegiate Press

New York City, Dec. 3 Creation of a new school at Columbia University Teachers College, to be known as the Advanced School of Education, where an "educational elite" could be trained to provide leadership in American education as West Point and Annapolis provide trained leadership for the army and navy, is advocated by Dr. William F. Russell, Dean of Teachers College, Columbia University, in his annual report.

Dean Russell suggests the raising of an endowment fund of $3,000,000, the income of which would be used in setting up this new school so that graduate students would receive advanced training without cost. Only the best men and women of the country, selected through a process of rigid examinations, would be admitted. Once the student enters, however, he will be guaranteed economic security and given a position for life.

Modelled On Paris School

Pointing out that he is patterning his proposals upon the Ecole Normale Superieure school of Paris which he visited last spring, Dean Russell reports that he feels confident that a similar school can be set up at Teachers College. As at the Ecole Normale, stringent examinations would eliminate the mediocre students, leaving as graduate students the best minds that this country can offer.

Dean Russell states further that, following the French plan, the Advanced School of Education could be established on the model of the Ecole Normale, with the rest of Teachers College, Columbia University, Union Theological Seminary, the Julliard School and other institutions in the same relationship to it as the University of Paris is to the Ecole Normale.

Thus, he explains, while it would be necessary to have a place for the students to gather and to work, a library and adequate laboratories, no exclusive faculty would be needed, as professors in Teachers College could be assigned for full or part time.

Study In Three Departments

"Young graduates of highest promise could be retained on three year terms to work with these students," the report continues. "The students could spend their time anywhere in the University, and if deemed wise, at the Sorbonne, University of London, Harvard, Yale, Chicago, the Brookings Institution, or anywhere else.

The Advanced School of Education, as recommended by Dean Russell, would be composed of three departments: Educational Research, Practical Science, and Professional Education. The offerings of the Advanced School would be limited, as is the case at the Ecole Normale to perfecting the scholarship, research and professional abilities of its students. Courses offered elsewhere would not be duplicated.

In outlining further his belief in the advisability of this new school, he writes: "If you can assure the ablest students of a permanent post for life, you can attract thousands to turn their hopes in your direction. If, in addition, you can eliminate the economic barrier, by providing all expenses over a period of years, you can be assured that the ablest will take the examination."

COLLEGE POETRY SHOWS PROMISE

Average Age of Students Is Most Conducive to Verse Writing

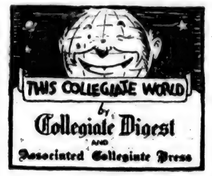
By Associated Collegiate Press

Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 3 — "The poetry produced by American college students today is more disciplined and promising than it ever was in the past," Mr. Louis Nntermeyer, famed anthologist and poet, told a university student journalist recently.

"The collegiate age, 18 to 20, is that period of life most conducive to writing poetry," he said, with his mouth full of cake. "Then, the emotions are most alive, and the impulse to write and express oneself is almost second nature.

"There is much surprisingly excellent verse emanating from university writers, too—even in the accepted, orthodox forms such as sonnet. Of course the vivacity of youth always seeks expression in sheer radicalism, unrhymed, heretical."

"In advising young poets I should urge: experiment, experiment, experiment!" said the author smiling at his Boswell, "Try all the forms, especially those you don't like. Improve your taste and technique; above all, serve an apprenticeship in structure-craftsmanship, not trying to spin an epic at 21. At that period the philosophy and emotions are not sufficiently tried to be interpreted."



"It seems quite possible," writes Deane W. Malott, of the Harvard University business school, "that a new demand is coming from within banking for trained and alert young men to fill its positions of ultimate responsibility."

But—

If the young men are alert, they will want to hear from James P. Warburg, of the Bank of Manhattan.

"Banking," said Mr. Warburg to a group of college students, "as a business career, is dead."

* * *

Even O. O. (Odds) McIntyre, Broadway columnist, has yielded to the sentiment against radical activities in colleges. In his crisp way he says: "Time to give some of the radical eastern college professors the bum's rush."

* * *

New York state hasn't given them the bum's rush yet, but they have passed a special law requiring all teachers in the state schools to take an oath of allegiance to the Constitution. No doubt that raises a problem for the political science teachers, many of whom honestly feel, and say so, that the Constitution is cracking up.

* * *

There can't be so much to the insistent remark that college students are a bunch of slightly pink pacifists. As evidence, we point to the football slogans of Nebraska and Minnesota universities, respectively:

"Pulverize the Panthers."

"Mangle Michigan."

Michigan students protested against the last one. "Wouldn't 'Maltreat Michigan' have been sufficient?" they inquired.

Men's Clothes Made-to-Measure

COLEBY TAILORING INC.

Suits and Topcoats

$24.75

Store at 57th and Market Sts.

See

JIM ELLIOTT

Room 108, Fedigan Hall

They ought to know—

MANY men of the South have been "in tobacco" for years—growing tobacco and curing it—buying it and selling it—until they know tobacco from A to Izzard.

Now folks who have been in tobacco all their lives, folks who grow it, know there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco.

And down in the South where they grow tobacco and where they ought to know something about it—in most places Chesterfield is the largest-selling cigarette.

Harvesting tobacco and packing it in the barn for curing—and (below) a scene at a Southern tobacco auction.

the cigarette that's MILDER the cigarette that TASTES BETTER

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

Vol. 7—No. 11 VILLANOVA, PA., TUESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1934 Price: Five Cents

Penn A. C. to be Scene Of Villanova Football Feast

Recipient of Annual Award to Outstanding Alumnus Veiled in Secrecy; Stuhldreher Will Be Honored on 10th Anniversary

TOASTMASTER SECURES SPEAKERS

By HAROLD J. KEATING

VILLANOVA'S eleventh annual football dinner, in honor of its gridiron stalwarts, will be held Thursday night in the ballroom of the Penn Athletic Club, in Philadelphia.

Staged by the Villanova Club of Philadelphia, the banquet has a threefold purpose this year with the pigskin squad heading the list, the tenth anniversary of Harry Stuhldreher as head football mentor of the Blue and White and the annual award of the club to the school's outstanding alumnus.

Third Annual Award

Veiled in secrecy, the recipient of the award will not be disclosed until the night of the dinner. This will be the third award since its inception, the late Charles J. McGeehan, former graduate manager of athletics starting the procession and being followed last year by J. Stanley Smith, Philadelphia attorney.

The mystery surrounding the individual has been established as one of the terms of the awards. Selected by a specially appointed committee, the recipient himself will not be aware of the honor conferred upon him until Thursday.

Honor Stuhldreher

Coach Harry Stuhldreher will be honored upon the completion of his tenth season as tutor of the 'Cats. This honor is fitting as Harry came to Villanova when the gridiron status was at the lowest ebb in years.

The banquet will also mark the fortieth season of intercollegiate competition of the Main Liners on the greensward.

Numerous outstanding speakers have been secured by Martin J. Gill, who will act in the capacity of toastmaster for this year's function. John H. Neeson, president of the Notre Dame Club of Philadelphia has been invited to the feast

Continued on Page Seven

CAMPUS CLUBS PLAN CHRISTMAS DANCES

Connecticut, Wilkes-Barre And Albany Groups Will Hold Functions

During the holidays, three of the campus clubs of the college will hold their annual Christmas dances in their respective home towns. These organizations are the Wilkes-Barre, Connecticut and Albany clubs.

Kearney's Orchestra

The Christmas Dance of the Wilkes-Barre Club of Villanova will be held Christmas night, at the Hotel Sterling in Wilkes-Barre. Scintillating music will be furnished by Will Kearney's Society Orchestra. Novel favors will be presented to each feminine guest. Diverting from the policy of former years, the dance will start at ten o'clock and continue until the wee hour of 2:00 A. M.

This year's dance promises to be an outstanding affair due to the untiring efforts upon its arrangements by Joseph Forkin and William Cleary, co-chairmen, and their committee.

Unusual Ballroom

Members attending the dance will be dazzled by an unusual ballroom in that it is completely encased in mirrors. Decorations will be seasonal, namely, smilax or boxwood. Grouped in the ballroom and on the mezzanine will be tables arranged to accommodate a large party.

Among the hard working committee members are included John Delahanty, Gabriel Martyak, John Noll, Charles Betz, Paul Milanow and John Dempsey.

According to William Cleary, co-Chairman, all former students from Villanova College from Luzerne and Lackawanna counties can be counted upon for their presence.

Plans for the annual dance given

Continued on Page Four

BELLE AIR WORK MAKES PROGRESS

Photography Sittings And Personality Write-Ups Lack Response

Work is progressing rapidly on the senior annual, the Belle Air, according to an annnouncement by George C. Malhame, editor-in-chief of the publication. A general working model, or dummy outline of the edition, has been in the process of completion and needs only a few finishing touches to round it out. Many of the features have already been written, and this department of the annual periodical seems to be running ahead of schedule.

In contrast to the active efforts of the staff there seems to be apparent lack of student cooperation in the personality write-ups. To date only a negligible number have been returned. Seniors are urged to remedy this situation and hand in their finished contributions as soon as possible. This will greatly aid the staff and expedite the publication of the annual.

Because of the poor turnout on the last day stipulated for the sittings, another day has been tentatively set after the Christmas holidays. If present plans are carried out this will positively mark the last appearance of the Zamsky representative on the campus. All those failing to take advantage of this later date will be required to travel to downtown Philadelphia for the sitting.

This year will mark a continuance of the policy adopted by the administration last year of granting each member of the student body a copy of the publication.

AUDIT TO BE MADE

Student Council Requests Balance OfBooks of Class of 1935

At the last meeting of the Student Council, held in Mendel Hall, Thursday, it was brought out that the Council expected to replace this custom, by having Masses said here at Villanova, for the intention of the deceased persons. The reason for the suggested change, was given because of the fact that often times there is great difficulty in having the pledgees fulfill their promises.

At the same time, a resolution was adopted to have an audit made of the books of the Junior class of last year. The reason for this is to enable the Senior class to know the stats of their financial standing.

APPEAL FOR MEMBERSHIP IN CHORAL GROUP MADE

Lack of Support May Cause Campus Glee Club To Disband

Although numerous appeals have been made to the student body, Rev. Charles P. Brown, O. S. A., the moderator of the Glee Club, is forced to admit that these appeals have resulted in anything but a stimulus to the enlargement of the membership of the Glee Club.

At a meeting of the club on Dec. 7, it was clearly understood that the support of the student body was still lacking. In its present state, with the small membership, the club is unable to function properly. Unless the club receives this much needed support, it is inevitable that it will be discontinued.

In this final appeal, the students are again asked to get behind the club—to give it their whole-hearted support.

Patrick Henry
William J. McKeon
Henry S. Morehouse

On behalf of the student body, the VILLANOVAN wishes to take this opportunity to express sincere sympathy to Professors William C. A. Henry and J. Stanley Morehouse, and Director of Publicity, Raymond J. McKeon, on the deaths of their beloved fathers during the past week.

DIRECT YULE SOCIALS

Upper photo shows Joseph Sciuto, chairman of the Lawrence Club's Christmas social; center photo, Joseph Forkin, chairman of the Wilkes-Barre Club's Yule frolic; lower photo, John McGrath, chairman of the Connecticut Club's holiday ball.

Alessandroni Announces Committee for 1935 Prom

Senior Class President Lists Names of 30 Persons Who Will Be Formally Invited To Serve in Coveted Positions

ASK REFUSAL OF COMPLIMENTARIES

WALTER E. ALESSANDRONI, president of the Senior Class, has given exclusive permission to the VILLANOVAN to publish today names of those who have been selected members of the Senior Prom Committee. Thirty students, the largest number ever chosen to serve in a group of this kind, will be formally invited by Mr. Alessandroni to accept the coveted positions.

Simultaneous with the announcement of the tentative list of persons he had chosen for membership in the highly selective group, the leader of the 1935 class announced that those accepting the appointments tendered them would be expected to reply to him in writing by Thursday noon of this week. Letters of acceptance must contain the committee member's willingness to serve the class without receiving a complimentary ticket for his work.

Proposed Group

Pactrus Banmiller, Walter Coyle, Gaetano D. Dolente, James F. Nulty, Thomas Malcom, and Philip J. DiGiacomo.

John J. Fralinger, Frank Wetzler, Albert Cerulo, and Virgil M. Cortese.

Alexander Philips, Joseph G. Mele, Ralph Violetti, Richard Bruno, Martin J. Nichols, Stephen Chiarello, and Louis Lipshutz.

John Goggin, Vito F. Canuso, Charles Nowe, Harold J. Keating, John J. Stell, John Krajsa, Thomas O'Connor, Joseph Linsalata, Harry Patzsch, Lincoln Lenzi, Perry B. Frank, Edward J. O'Neill, and Edmond P. Reiley, chairman.

Forseces Revenue

With this innovation, Mr. Alessandroni expects to bring more than $100 revenue into the class treasury by doing away with the traditional complimentary list. The free ticket list of the student council will be the only exception to this order.

Although no definite plans have been made regarding the outstanding social function on the campus during the school year, the initial meeting of the committee is expected to take place sometime this week. Edmond P. Reiley, School of Commerce and Finance, and editor of the VILLANOVAN, was named chairman of the senior group.

Defer Date

Because of the few days remaining before the Christmas vacation of the student body is officially begun, leaders of the graduating class believe it would be unwise to hold the function in January. Thus they expect to urge the committee to defer plans for a specific date until after the first week of the coming year, and to stress the importance of holding the social on one of the Friday evenings in February or Friday, March 1.

One of the plans of the Senior leader is to have the price of admission at a lower rate than in pre-

Continued on Page Four

EPSILON PHI THETA LAYS SOCIAL PLANS

Arts School Organization To Hold First 1935 Dance Janauary 11

Members of Epsilon Phi Theta fraternity will hold a dance January 11, according to an announcement made by President James A. Walsh at a meeting of the Arts School during the seminar period on last Thursday morning.

Moderate Charge

The social will be held in the Collegn Gym with the Villanovans furnishing the music. Bids have been tentatively priced at $1.50.

There will be an important meeting of the newly reorganized club today in the Amphitheatre at 1.00 P. M. Final arrangements for the affair will be discussed and all members are urged by Mr. Walsh to be present.

Open New Year

Epsilon Phi Theta is the oldest organization of its kind on the campus and was one of the most popular and active clubs at Villanova. With this, the first school affair of 1935, the fraternity will attempt to regain its former prestige and position after a three-year period of inactivity.

The dance committee, headed by Edmond C. Malhame, includes William Walsh, Joseph Forkin, Frank Chardo, Laurence Goldschmidt, John Butler, Thomas Whelan, John DiJoseph, Daniel Murphy, Charles Stahlecker, Frank Neylon, William Corkill, John Burke and Francis Monahan.

EDITOR FOR THIS ISSUE

John J. Stell, College Editor, is editor-in-chief for the current issue of the VILLANOVAN. Acting sports editor is Ben Maloney, and assistant editors are James W. Keeley, and Harold J. Keating.

Registrar Leaves For Novitiate Of Charity Sisters

Miss Helen Heffernan Quits Position as Dean's Aide To Enter Convent

Reports from the office of the Dean of the School of Arts and Philosophy that Miss Helen M. Heffernan, for seven years the College Registrar, will leave tomorrow for Baltimore, Md., where she will enter the Novitiate of the Sisters of Charity.

In addition to being the College Registrar, Miss Heffernan has also held the position of secretary to the Dean of the School of Arts and Philosophy for the same number of years.

Her duties began first under Rev. Howard A. Grelis, O. S. A., formerly Dean of the Arts School and Director of Studies. Miss Heffernan at present holds the same position under Rev. Eugene A. Mauch, O. S. A., who is the present Dean and Director of Studies. Her resignation goes into effect tomorrow and as yet no one has been appointed to succeed her.

Miss Heffernan will be greatly missed by the many friends she has made within the student body and college administration authorities.

VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35 ..... Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35 ..... Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35 ..... College Editor
LOUIS P. MARECHAL, '35 ..... Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35 ..... Feature Editor
JOHN C. DUGGETH, '35 ..... Copy Editor
JAMES W. KEELEY, '35 ..... Associate College Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35 ..... Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35 ..... Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35 ..... Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35 ..... Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35 ..... Art and Photographic Editor

Associate to the College Staff
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stablecker, '37
Pio Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Russel H. Marcouse, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Norton C. Paden, '37 — Anthony Catrambone, '36

Assistant to the Business Staff
Wm. B. Cleary

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Basil W. Dobrowolski, '37
John Laurusonis, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
Stanley Lewandoski, '35 — John Mullin, '37
George Fanning, '37 — Anthony Differ, '37
Harvey Davis, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Richard Kelly, '38 — Louis D'Angelo, '35

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GODREAU

Subscription—$2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
HARRISON WISCONSIN
Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - DECEMBER 11, 1934

WAR CLOUDS HOVER OVER THE LITTLE ENTENTE

RUMBLINGS of cannon silenced by the declaration of the Armistice of the great World War over 16 years ago are now being felt throughout Europe as the Little Entente of the Balkans seethes with hate. Yesterday's news wires bristled with the message that Jugoslavia would take "direct action" unless the League of Nations holds Hungary guilty of the charge of harboring assassins of the late King Alexander.

The paradox of the whole situation came when Jugoslavians deported Hungarians from within the confines of the former's borders. Any student of political history will have little difficulty in remembering that the little district of Sarajevo, now part of Jugoslavian territory, was the beginning of a great controversy which brought about the "War to end Wars." Those very persons who are being exiled to Hungary are in reality being sent from their home lands. It was only by an arbitrary geographical allocation that the people were transferred from the rule of Hungary to the rule of Jugoslavia by the treaty of Versailles.

Here is one opportunity for the League of Nations to show what really can be done. For years it has been the object of great derision among the nations of the world. Now when a situation as serious as this arises, immediately the entire world looks to the peaceful little spot in Geneva, Switzerland, and humbly prays that this austere body of men will be able to solve the grave question by diplomacy rather than by the clank of the sword and the boom of the gun.

The world still remembers the awful circumstances connected with the tinderbox which ignited the spark of the last holocaust of nations. Surely none but the group of fanatics preaching the doctrine of coercion rather than the waving of the olive branch could desire another devastating war. It seems to all fair-minded persons that those instigators of strife would be better fodder for the firing squads than the would-be assassins for whom they are searching.

FOR A MERRY CHRISTMAS

WITH Christmas holidays only a fortnight away, it is natural for all students' thoughts to turn homeward to parents, sweethearts, relations, yuletide spirit, temporary employment and whatnot. Whatever this festive occasion may hold in store, we sincerely rope that it will be a period of great rejoicing. But, in your spirit of revelry, it is well to pause for a moment and reflect what it may mean to others.

Remember, the birthdate of the Man of Sorrows may have little significance to the poor and unfortunate. Throughout the length and breadth of this great land there are many in these times depending on the touch of human kindness to brighten their Christmas spirit by the thoughtful gifts of food, warm clothing, and toys for their pitiful children.

Certainly the man who sits down to a sumptuous Christmas dinner will enjoy it more, if he has given thought to his less fortunate neighbor through donations to his local charitable enterprises or who has personally taken interest that at least one family will be provided for on Christmas Day.

PARDON MY SOUTHERN DRAWL

AN election unique in the United States political history will be held this Friday, when the South will vote on whether to continue under the Bankhead Act. It will be unique because there will be no campaign orators, and it will probably score a new low in stupid referendums. The election will be conducted by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, and is, as we said before ostensibly to determine the fate of the Bankhead Act. Its real purpose, however, is an attempt by Mr. Wallace to answer critics of his cotton restriction program. Mr. Wallace purports to hold up the election returns, if they are favorable, as a justification of his policies.

Now it would be foolish for anyone to expect anything but a result in favor of retention of the Bankhead Act. It would require a complete turnover in human nature for any other outcome. Put yourself in the position of the Southern planter and ask yourself how you would vote. Under the restriction program he finds that the price of cotton has risen from 6c per pound to more than 12c per pound, and, better yet, he receives 3½c per pound rental on past average yield of acres left unplanted. Obviously there is but one answer, an emphatic yea for the Bankhead Act.

If Mr. Wallace can show that the total in dollars and cents of consumer buying has increased proportionately to the increase in the price of cotton, and can show by factual evidence, that the loss of our foreign markets is the result of causes other than our own decreased production he will be doing more to quiet adverse criticism.

MESSING WITH BUSINESS

IN AN address before a group of business men in Philadelphia, Rodger W. Babson said that business is definitely on its way toward recovery, and that prosperity will return more speedily if the Government will stop "messing" with it. All of which comes to us in the nature of a surprise, for we had already concluded that everyone is now well aware of the fact that the primary purpose of the Government is to protect the rights of the citizens; which lays upon the Government the moral obligation of "messing" with business so long as it refuses to grant to its employees the rights which their status as individuals entitles them to.

If the Government does not assure its citizens of an adequate means for their bodily support, as well as safeguard their natural rights, then there is little purpose for its existence. Thus those who wish to make the working man solely dependent upon the whimsicalities of his employer, are defeating the real purpose for which the Government was established.

Many business men would have us believe the N. R. A. was established for their ultimate ruin, but if they wish to treat their employees with the common justice which every man is entitled to they will find nothing in the Code that is inconsistent with sound economics.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

The bulkiest letter received on the campus this scholastic year went to Johnnie Goggin. Its envelope admirably disproved that the container need not always be as large in cubic space, as the contained. Unable to wheedle from Johnnie the essence of its six written pages, temporized by closely examining the envelope. Its postmark showed New Haven, and the fine flourish of its address auspicioned a feminine author. Such suspicions of gender were confirmed by the printed letters S.W.A.K., which stood out like bas-relief. To save much wear and tear on the brain tissues and, at the same time, not to give Johnnie completely away, interpret 'S. W. A.' as "Sealed with a' holding the last letter 'K' in abeyance. At any rate, Johnnie must now be ranked with those other receivers of voluminous epistles Ben Geraghty and Bill Gough.

The imposing Commerce and Finance building in its day has served, incidental to the inculcation of knowledge, in a variety of capacities. To what use it was put the other diem, only goes to show at what length students will go for a laugh. Hang on, gentle reader, here comes the unravelling! This edifice of erudition, garaged an automobile—an Austin! True the owner had no part in it. His help was not needed. Ten pair of hands capably lifted or trundled the vehicle as steps or level ground dictated. Though the architect might justly decry such a prank as a desecration it nevertheless was very funny. No doubt, it will bring many a chuckle when Villanova men sit down in reminiscence.

Cabaret Night, last Friday, was a a smashing success. Tap-dancing, singing, reciting, ukelelee playing, joke telling and the other forms of entertainment offered were greeted with demonstrative approval. After the floor show was officially closed by the genial master of ceremonies, Jack Robinson, who, by the bye, acquitted himself honorably, the boys put on the feed bag gratis. It was a great get-together and with apologies to Bing Crosby for plagiarism "thank Fr. Brown for a lovely evening."

"To make the Villanovan," as the saying goes, is nothing so unusual as many, notably Hubert Gallagher, will testify. To make the Rosemount paper, especially when you have masculine appellation, is not quite as cut and dried. Not that there should be much blowing of horns at such an achievement—simply, that it is not everyone who can make interesting news for an entire college of girls. So—Tom Kennedy, as a seven day marvel we behold you!

The origin of the slang expression "nuts" has been traced to the Medieval days, according to a columnist in the Gleaner (Nazareth College in Rochester, N. Y.) In the Medieval times, during the courtship of two young people, the young man was invited to dinner. If the girl did not like him she would place a dish of walnuts before him after the meal. Hence the current expression.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

JAZZ! Where did this word originate? A Princeton professor finally traced the origin of this word to the slaves of the West Coast of Africa. It took him three years to track down the origin of this noun which plays an important part in the life of the average American today. The word comes from the Creole patois as a synonym for "hurry-up." This discovery discredits the belief that the word originated in the name "Chas" a mythical Negro orchestra leader in New Orleans. Of course Keating never heard of the word??

* * *

A professor of economics in an Eastern University was rather indignant when he arrived late and found that the class had walked out, for "they could easily see I was coming because my hat was on the desk." A strange sight greeted him t' next day upon his entrance to the classroom. The room was empty except for a hat on every desk. The members of our faculty have lockers for their hats.

* * *

A member of the Ruf Nex Club of Oklahoma A. & M., was recently made a Knight of Salivary as a result of a spitting contest in which he was the victor. He holds the world record for expectorating, spitting 21 feet and six inches. Tom Cook at one time was able to broad jump that far, he never tried his ability at the other sport.

* * *

Who said that football players were rough? According to Heidelberg College's head football coach it seems that they are just plain overgrown and overtrained boys. At the annual freshman-sophomore ba; rushes he prohibited them from participating because "they're to. rough for football players."

* * *

Those who are disciples of Hal Simms or Culbertson should take a post graduate course at Purdue. At this university a course in Bridge is being offered to the student body. Evangelist will probably enroll next year.

* * *

After receiving the quarterly reports, the student body will agree with this analysis of the average college professor. Dr. R. Bruce Raup of Colorado University says that the average college professor can't think clearly; he is unable to analyze problems thoroughly and logically: he is a "yes-man;" he does not know anything about political, social and economic problems. . . and he cares less. Ask Fittipoldi for his analysis of a college professor?

* * *

Gambling in the university district in Seattle is said to cost students and other suckers nearly $3 a week. Will Danny Hogan our frosh mathematician compute the a .ount lost by Bill Voehl.

* * *

At a convention held at Lawerence College, Ted Shawn explained the dance. He said "the dance is like a tree with luxuriant foliage on one side, and only a few twigs on the other." The feminine side of the dance was likened to the luxuriant foliage, and the masculine side was represented by the twigs. Canuso gave his interpretation of the dance last Friday.

Campus Celebs - - - - By Cailliet

As We See It . . . . . Depression

By HARRY PARKIN

THE nation-wide economic depression, which we are now undergoing, has, it is believed, begun to loosen the "stranglehold" which it has had upon the industries of this country. It is the fervent wish of everyone that such is the case, but whether our economic situation is being improved or not, its ultimate conclusion will find many people unchanged by its trials and stresses.

There are, very probably, some people who have been only slightly or not at all, affected by the present depression. These people, it would be found if a survey were made of their lives, have either trained themselves to fit positions of economic necessity, or have curbed during the years of plenty the extravagant foibles with which so many of us seem to be afflicted. Therefore by their former prudence they are now enabled to withstand the present want.

The end of this depression will find some individuals with a life so blighted that they will be many years effacing its memory. Others will continue to practice the prudence and frugality forced upon them by circumstances, while still others will have used their period of hardship as an occasion for personal betterment. In brief, they will face the matter squarely and seek within themselves for those things which have caushed them to be one of those who are so severely paying the penalty. In this respect their present deprivations will be beneficial, in that it will afford them the time necessary for a close examination of their mental makeup. Through this examination, they will be able to eradicate those things which are detrimental to their economic as well as mental stability. Let us sincerely hope that there will be more in this last category than the law of averages warrants.

All those who are financially or mentally harassed by this depression, should seek the internal rather than extxraneous causes of their difficulties. When they have found them, they might rebuild their scheme of life accordingly so that their enjoyment of the prosperity that must ultimately come will be less orgiastic because it will be tempered with the serenity of applied expexrience.

Fashion Notes By Collegiate Digest

Black to Blue

If you have tucked away your black dinner jacket or tails away for the year, you had better get them out right now and make all of the use you can of them, for they will undoubtedly be "out" next season. And this recommendation is brought on by the fact that custom tailors are now designing an increasing number of formal suits in cloth of midnight blue, rather than in the conventional black. This new fabric color has proven popular because it appears blacker than black itself when seen under artificial light, while black itself tends to turn a bit greenish under artificial light.

In Overcoats, Too

In Overcoats, Too

And to go along with the dark blue dress suits, fashion experts have partially abandoned the over-emphasized Chesterfield in favor of the guard's model in fine dark blue chinchilla or other soft-textured materials. The coat worn by the English Regimental Guards was taken as a model for this coat, which features the pleated back and the button placing that gives that smart chesty effect. This coat will serve either for dressy "occasions" or for actual formal wear—in other words, you should abandon the comfortable polo coat when you really want to be well-dressed.

It's Doublebreasted

With the tail coats returning as the correct thing to wear at the strictly formal occasion, the double-breasted dinner jacket is assuming a much more important place in the male's wardrobe. This should be worn with the turned down collar and pleated soft shirt. Comfort seems to be the keynote of the new dinner wear, and its formality is becoming more and more informal.

More Stripes

To add the finishing touch to your modern ensemble, it is decreed that six and three ribbed hose must be worn. This type of hosiery brings an elasticity in construction that results in a close fit around the ankles, along with the assurance that they will stay put at all times.

Penned Thoughts

By Ben Maloney

ONE BY ONE

One by one the sands are flowing,
In life's hour-glass so small;
Some are coming, others going,
No need to grasp them all.

One by one our duties beckon,
We must put our strength to each;
On the future we'll ne'er reckon,
Till we learn what these can teach.

One by one our griefs approach us,
We must face our armed foe;
Lest a braver one reproach us,
For flinching as we go.

One by one without regretting,
We must pass dull hours dread;
Take them without forgetting,
Just what joys have gone ahead.

All these links make up God's token,
We reach Heaven one by one;
Bear them lest the chain be broken,
Ere your earthly journey's done.

FR. BURNS ON AIR

Speaking on the topic "What Price Civilization," Rev. John F. Burns, O. S. A., prominent author, playwright, and professor of history at Villanova, was heard in an interesting discourse Sunday evening at 9:30 o'clock over radio station WFI, Philadelphia.

DIAL-LOG

By WALTER E. ALESSANDRONI

MUCH comment was manifested when Eddie Cantor bid farewell to his radio audience last week, for it was supposed to mark his last appearance over the ether waves.

Eddie Cantor will return to the air over the Columbia network however, in a new series to begin February 3. Rubinoff, violinist and conductor will support him on these Sunday night programs.

The "Two Doctors" of the "Laugh Clinic" . . . otherwise known as Pratt and Sherman . . . will introduce a fresh brand of nonsense in a new WABC daytime show each Tuesday from 10:30 to 11:00. They will be supported by Al Roth's orchestra.

Temperature has created an unusual condition in the Columbia studios. Several of the artists have discovered that they do their best work at certain thermometer points. They have been so insistent on this matter that CBS has a special department to properly adjust the heating apparatus to their individual wants.

For a good Monday morning program listen in over WABC at 11:15. Fats Waller, the Harlem singer of torrid tunes, is heard on this new morning "spot."

The musicians in Don Bestor's orchestra have never been present for the rehearsal of Jack Benny's script. The music is rehearsed at a different hour because Benny wants the laughs from the musicians to be genuine and spontaneous.

With the publication in sheet music form last week of four of the original numbers which Sigmund Romberg has composed for the Swift Hour broadcasts, Romberg has announced a policy of allowing unrestricted use of the music he contributes to the program after he has had the opportunity to repeat it once.

The Himber programs of melody have proved so popular in the East that the sponsor has inaugurated a similar series for the West.

Lowell Thomas' rural retreat in the Berkshires consists of 350 wooded acres on which the NBC news commentor conducts a profitable fur farm.

Mr. Thomas has the original charter to the land signed by no less a personage than King George III himself.

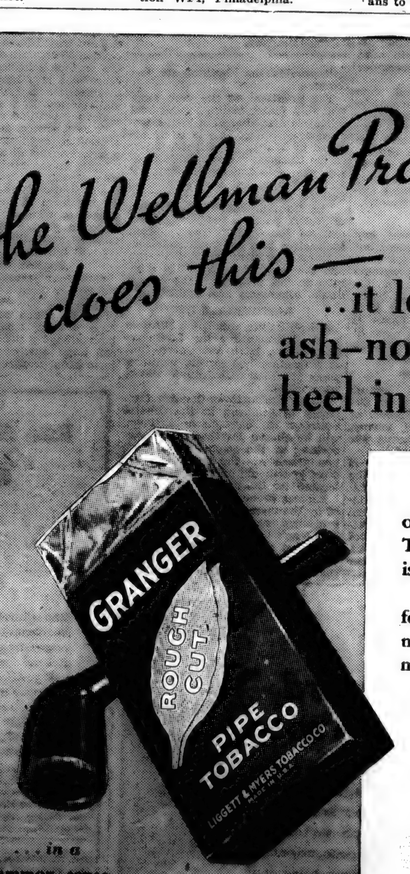
Larry Taylor and the Three Dominoes, popular singers from the motion picture theatre, will come to Little Miss Bab-O's Surprise party to sing for the radio audience over NBC on Sunday, December 16, at 1:30 p.m.

Dor Bestor's eight-year old daughter, Mary Ann, will be featured in the Metropolitan Opera this season. She will be the youngest member of the company, playing juvenile parts.

Speaking of young stars brings to mind the popular Pickens Sisters, Patti Pickens, the youngest of the trio, and only 16, will play the ingenue lead in their next Broadway production, "Thumbs Up."

the Wellman Process does this —

..it leaves a clean dry ash–no soggy residue or heel in the pipe bowl



. . . in a common-sense package—10c

In the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco the Wellman Process is used.

The Wellman Process is different from any other process or method and we believe it gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers.

. . . it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma
. . . it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler
. . . it makes the tobacco milder
. . . it leaves a clean dry ash —no soggy residue or heel in the pipe bowl

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

We wish in some way we could get every man who smokes a pipe to just try Granger

© 1934, Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

VILLANOVAN

Published Weekly by the Students of Villanova College

EDMOND P. REILEY, '35.....Editor-in-Chief
ROBERT H. McINTYRE, '35.....Managing Editor
JOHN J. STELL, '35.....College Editor
LOUIS P. MARSCHIAL, '35.....Sports Editor
HAROLD J. KEATING, '35.....Feature Editor
JOHN C. DUGGER, '35.....Copy Editor
JAMES W. KEELEY, '35.....Associate College Editor
JOSEPH J. LINSALATA, '35.....Exchange Editor
JOHN F. O'CONNELL, '35.....Columnist
EDGAR H. COTTRELL, '35.....Business Manager
PAUL BALL, '35.....Circulation Manager
RALPH VIOLETTI, '35.....Art and Photographic Editor

Associate to the College Staff
Harold D. McGrath, '35

Staff Writers

Carmen Giordano, '36 — Charles E. Stahlecker, '37
Pio Goggi, '37 — Benedict Maloney, '37
Perry B. Frank, '35 — John B. Geraghty, Jr., '37
Russel H. Marcoux, '35 — Walter E. Alessandroni, '35
Norton C. Paden, '37 — Anthony Catrambone, '36

Assistant to the Business Staff
Wm. R. Cleary

Assistants to the Circulation Staff

Edward Kelly, '37 — Basil W. Dubrowolski, '37
John Lamusonis, '35 — Charles Betz, '37
Stanley Lewandowski, '35 — John Mullin, '37
George Fanning, '37 — Anthony Differ, '37
Harvey Davis, '38 — Thomas O'Brien, '38
Richard Kelly, '38 — Louis D'Angelo, '35

Faculty Adviser—Rev. Edward B. McKee, O. S. A.

This paper is dedicated to one of the finest men who ever entered Villanova; scholar, athlete, gentleman—
LEO GOODREAU

Subscription $2.00 per year.

Entered as second-class matter at the Villanova Postoffice, December 27, 1928.

MEMBER
Associated Collegiate Press
1934 Collegiate Digest 1935
MADISON WISCONSIN

Member of the Catholic School Press Association.

TUESDAY - - - DECEMBER 11, 1934

WAR CLOUDS HOVER OVER THE LITTLE ENTENTE

RUMBLINGS of cannon silenced by the declaration of the Armistice of the great World War over 16 years ago are now being felt throughout Europe as the Little Entente of the Balkans seethes with hate. Yesterday's news wires bristled with the message that Jugoslavia would take "direct action" unless the League of Nations holds Hungary guilty of the charge of harboring assassins of the late King Alexander.

The paradox of the whole situation came when Jugoslavians deported Hungarians from within the confines of the former's borders. Any student of political history will have little difficulty in remembering that the little district of Sarajevo, now part of Jugoslavian territory, was the beginning of a great controversy which brought about the "War to end Wars." Those very persons who are being exiled to Hungary are in reality being sent from their home lands. It was only by an arbitrary geographical allocation that the people were transferred from the rule of Hungary to the rule of Jugoslavia by the treaty of Versailles.

Here is one opportunity for the League of Nations to show what really can be done. For years it has been the object of great derision among the nations of the world. Now when a situation as serious as this arises, immediately the entire world looks to the peaceful little spot in Geneva, Switzerland, and humbly prays that this austere body of men will be able to solve the grave question by diplomacy rather than by the clank of the sword and the boom of the gun.

The world still remembers the awful circumstances connected with the tinderbox which ignited the spark of the last holocaust of nations. Surely none but the group of fanatics preaching the doctrine of coercion rather than the waving of the olive branch could desire another devastating war. It seems to all fair-minded persons that those instigators of strife would be better fodder for the firing squads than the would-be assassins for whom they are searching.

FOR A MERRY CHRISTMAS

WITH Christmas holidays only a fortnight away, it is natural for all students' thoughts to turn homeward to parents, sweethearts, relations, yuletide spirit, temporary employment and whatnot. Whatever this festive occasion may hold in store, we sincerely rope that it will be a period of great rejoicing. But, in your spirit of revelry, it is well to pause for a moment and reflect what it may mean to others.

Remember, the birthdate of the Man of Sorrows may have little significance to the poor and unfortunate. Throughout the length and breadth of this great land there are many in these times depending on the touch of human kindness to brighten their Christmas spirit by the thoughtful gifts of food, warm clothing, and toys for their pitiful children.

Certainly the man who sits down to a sumptuous Christmas dinner will enjoy it more, if he has given thought to his less fortunate neighbor through donations to his local charitable enterprises or who has personally taken interest that at least one family will be provided for on Christmas Day.

PARDON MY SOUTHERN DRAWL

AN election unique in the United States political history will be held this Friday, when the South will vote on whether to continue under the Bankhead Act. It will be unique because there will be no campaign orators, and it will probably score a new low in stupid referendums. The election will be conducted by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, and is, as we said before ostensibly to determine the fate of the Bankhead Act. Its real purpose, however, is an attempt by Mr. Wallace to answer critics of his cotton restriction program. Mr. Wallace purports to hold up the election returns, if they are favorable, as a justification of his policies.

Now it would be foolish for anyone to expect anything but a result in favor of retention of the Bankhead Act. It would require a complete turnover in human nature for any other outcome. Put yourself in the position of the Southern planter and ask yourself how you would vote. Under the restriction program he finds that the price of cotton has risen from 6c per pound to more than 12c per pound, and, better yet, he receives 3½c per pound rental on past average yield of acres left unplanted. Obviously there is but one answer, an emphatic yea for the Bankhead Act.

If Mr. Wallace can show that the total in dollars and cents of consumer buying has increased proportionately to the increase in the price of cotton, and can show by factual evidence, that the loss of our foreign markets is the result of causes other than our own decreased production he will be doing more to quiet adverse criticism.

MESSING WITH BUSINESS

IN AN address before a group of business men in Philadelphia, Rodger W. Babson said that business is definitely on its way toward recovery, and that prosperity will return more speedily if the Government will stop "messing" with it. All of which comes to us in the nature of a surprise for we had already concluded that everyone is now well aware of the fact that the primary purpose of the Government is to protect the rights of the citizens; which lays upon the Government the moral obligation of "messing" with business so long as it refuses to grant to its employees the rights which their status as individuals entitles them to.

If the Government does not assure its citizens of an adequate means for their bodily support, as well as safeguard their natural rights, then there is little purpose for its existence. Thus those who wish to make the working man solely dependent upon the whimsicalities of his employer, are defeating the real purpose for which the Government was established.

Many business men would have us believe the N. R. A. was established for their ultimate ruin, but if they wish to treat their employees with the common justice which every man is entitled to they will find nothing in the Code that is inconsistent with sound economics.

YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

By Jack O'Connell

The bulkiest letter received on the campus this scholastic year went to Johnnie Goggin. Its envelope admirably disproved that the container need not always be as large in cubic space, as the contained. Unable to wheedle from Johnnie the essence of its six written pages, temporized by closely examining the envelope. Its postmark showed New Haven, and the fine flourish of its address suspicioned a feminine author. Such auspicions of gender were confirmed by the printed letters S.W.A.K., which stood out like bas-relief. To save much wear and tear on the brain tissues and, at the same time, not to give Johnnie completely away, interpret 'S. W. A.' as "Sealed with a' holding the last letter 'K' in abeyance. At any rate, Johnnie must now be ranked with those other receivers of voluminous epistles Ben Geraghty and Bill Gough.

The imposing Commerce and Finance building in its day has served, incidental to the inculcation of knowledge, in a variety of capacities. To what use it was put the other diem, only goes to show at what length students will go for a laugh. Hang on, gentle reader, here comes the unravelling! This edifice of erudition, garaged an automobile — an Austin! True the owner had no part in it. His help was not needed. Ten pair of hands capably lifted or trundled the vehicle as steps or level ground dictated. Though the architect might justly decry such a prank as a desecration it nevertheless was very funny. No doubt, it will bring many a chuckle when Villanova men sit down in reminiscence.

Cabaret Night, last Friday, was a a smashing success. Tap-dancing, singing, reciting, ukelelee playing, joke telling and the other forms of entertainment offered were greeted with demonstrative approval. After the floor show was officially closed by the genial master of ceremonies, Jack Robinson, who, by the bye, acquitted himself honorably, the boys put on the feed bag gratis. It was a great get-together and with apologies to Bing Crosby for plagiarism "thank Fr. Brown for a lovely evening."

"To make the Villanovan," as the saying goes, is nothing so unusual as many, notably Hubert Gallagher, will testify. To make the Rosemount paper, especially when you have masculine appellation, is not quite as cut and dried. Not that there should be much blowing of horns at such an achievement—simply, that it is not everyone who can make interesting news for an entire college of girls. So Tom Kennedy, as a seven day marvel we behold you!

The origin of the slang expression "nuts" has been traced to the Medieval days, according to a columnist in the Gleaner (Nazareth College in Rochester, N. Y.) In the Medieval times, during the courtship of two young people, the young man was invited to dinner. If the girl did not like him she would place a dish of walnuts before him after the meal. Hence the current expression.

College Chatter

By Joe Linsalata

JAZZ! Where did this word originate? A Princeton professor finally traced the origin of this word to the slaves of the West Coast of Africa. It took him three years to track down the origin of this noun which plays an important part in the life of the average American today. The word comes from the Creole patois as a synonym for "hurry-up." This discovery discredits the belief that the word originated in the name "Chas" a mythical Negro orchestra leader in New Orleans. Of course Keating never heard of the word??

* * *

A professor of economics in an Eastern University was rather indignant when he arrived late and found that the class had walked out, for "they could easily see I was coming because my hat was on the desk." A strange sight greeted him t' next day upon his entrance to the classroom. The room was empty except for a hat on every desk. The members of our faculty have lockers for their hats.

* * *

A member of the Ruf Nex Club of Oklahoma A. & M., was recently made a Knight of Salivary as a result of a spitting contest in which he was the victor. He holds the world record for expectorating, spitting 21 feet and six inches. Tom Cook at one time was able to broad jump that far, he never tried his ability at the other sport.

* * *

